Quinn Introduces Senate Bill Giving Supervisors Necessary Power

TWENTY-FIRST DAY.

Honolulu is to have Sunday amusements if a bill introduced in the Senate this morning by Senator Quinn becomes law. Senator Quinn's bill is drawn to amend the existing statute regulating entertainments and athletic sports on Sunday by placing the control in the hands of the boards of supervisors to be governed by such ordinances as they may enact.

such regulations and ordinances as may be enacted by such board of supervisors. Section 2. This Act shall take effect from and after the date of its approval. When the Senate conveyed this morning notification was received from the office of the Secretary of the Territory that the Governor had signed the bill appropriating $115,000 for the reconstruction of the Judiciary building; the bill relating to prison inspectors and their responsibilities, and the bill carrying a limitation as to the time of presenting warrants on the Territorial treasury.

KONA-KAU ROAD INTERESTED IN BILL ALLOWING TERRITORY TO GUARANTEE BOND INTEREST

The identity of the interests behind the bill introduced in the House yesterday, under the terms of which the Territory may guarantee interest on bonds of railroads built to develop farming communities in the islands, was learned today to be the backers of the Kona-Kau railroad.

Under which the guaranty of bonds is to be made, but legally through the further provision giving the Supreme Court original and exclusive jurisdiction of cases arising from the construction or operation of the road.

GIRL WANTS THOUSAND A MONTH

Miss Beatrice Campbell Tells Court $600 Is Not Enough.

A request for an increase of monthly allowance from $600 to $1,000 is contained in a petition that has been submitted to Judge Robinson of the Circuit Court by Miss Beatrice Campbell. Judge Robinson heard the statement in the case this morning but took no action on the application for the increased allowance.

Robert Shingle is now the guardian of Miss Campbell's estate while Col. Sam Parker is guardian of her person. It is stated that there will be well defined opposition to the granting of the increased allowance asked on the ground that $600 a month should be sufficient for the wants of a girl who is not yet of age.

The second floor has very attractive features of rooms for women and children. A special room is to be devoted to the needs of the young.

"Mikado" Revived On Gorgeous Scale; Performance Is Clever

Local Amateurs Delight Big House With Capable Cast and Chorus.

"The Mikado" played in Honolulu many years ago by local amateurs, was given a gorgeous revival last night in the Hawaiian Opera House, on a scale that makes the occasion one of the leading social and theatrical events of the season.

Richard Kipling stage director, and W. R. Hughes, musical director, have done wonders with the local people, aided the capability of the people they worked with. The cast and chorus worked with astonishing smoothness; there was little halting for cues, and the "business" was fairly good. In one respect the production was superb,—that of costuming. The Japanese costumes were a lot of latent theatrical talent.

WRECKED OFF MEXICAN COAST AFTER LEAVING HONOLULU

Schooner W. R. Hume Has Passed to Davy Jones Locker—Steamer Mauna Kea Here With Freight from Hawaii and Maui—Transport Logan Will Bring Enlisted Men and Quartermaster Supplies—Rate War Carried to Washington.

The little American schooner Willie R. Hume which sailed from Honolulu the latter part of December, after having completed the discharge of a goodly shipment of lumber, is now declared a total wreck off Tobolobampo, on the lower Mexican coast.

Such is the information contained in advices that have been received by shipping men at this port.

According to late reports the W. R. Hume had arrived at Puget Sound on January 3rd.

Captain McKenzie was her master at the time of her last visit to Honolulu. He was rated as a capable navigator and possessed a wide circle of friends at the port.

The W. R. Hume has made frequent trips between Astoria, Puget Sound and the Hawaiian Islands. The Hume sailed from Grays Harbor on January 27th with a shipment of lumber and supplies for Guaymas, Mexico, and nothing has been heard of her until the report of the wreck received here by the last mail.

The Hume has a capacity of 589 tons net, 184 feet long, 29 feet beam and 14 feet 6 inches depth of hold. She carries a crew of ten men. J. Jensen, of San Francisco, is managing owner.

Seattle May Be Battle Ground. The prediction is freely made that Seattle may be the battle ground for the settlement of the present rate war existing between coast steamship companies in the slashing of tariffs on freight and passengers.

It is stated by some shipping men who claim to know that the cutting of rates can not continue much longer. The American-Hawaiian and Pacific Mail have been involved in a war with the California and Atlantic. It is stated that A. S. Chesbrough left New Orleans for Washington, where a conference is to be held which it is believed will result in action by the Government to settle the trouble.

This conference will be attended by the Secretary of War, Vice-President Drake of the Panama Railroad and Steamship Company, R. P. Schwerin of the Pacific Mail, A. S. Chesbrough of the California and Atlantic, and President Dearborn of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company.

Bates, who has just returned from Los Angeles, says the shippers there did not take kindly to the proposition of the Pacific Mail to discriminate against Los Angeles with a cut rate of $6 from that port, while it was offering to take cargo from San Francisco for $5, and that the result has been that the independent line has been getting more business from Los Angeles than before the cut was instituted.

Word was received from Seattle and Portland that the chambers of commerce of those cities had sent telegrams to President Taft similar to that sent by the New Orleans Progressive Union.

Buford Said Bringing Cement. A large quantity of commissary stores which had been loaded into the United States army transport Buford for Honolulu were at the last minute removed to lighters and transferred to the Pacific Mail liner Manchuria which arrived here some days ago.

The troops that were to have left San Francisco for the islands in the Buford are now said to be coming down here by the Logan that is due to arrive here perhaps Monday afternoon.

This will give the Logan a record crowd of passengers. As far as Honolulu the Logan will carry 16 companies of troops and the cabin passengers will have to be satisfied with limited accommodations. As the Logan is also carrying the baggage and regimental equipment of the Honolulu troops, the troopship's capacity will be tried to the limit.

The order sending the Buford to China has been expected for some time. This is the second time that the transport has been sent on a similar errand of mercy, and then, as now, Captain Hall was in command of the ship.

Chehais Sighted Sequoia. While the long passage made by the American schooner Sequoia to the coast has caused no particular alarm, nevertheless a report from the master of the Chehais who sighted the schooner was received with much gratification at Aberdeen upon the arrival of the latter vessel. The Chehais is now enroute from the Washington port to Hilo with a full shipment of lumber.

Fifteen Days Was Going Some. A fifteen day passage recorded against the barkentine Irongard which has just arrived at San Francisco from Mahukona is considered by local shipping men as a good one for this time of the year. The vessel discharged lumber and general at the Hawaii port.

Wireless for P. M. Persia. Upon arrival of the Pacific Mail steamer Persia at San Francisco, that vessel will be fitted with wireless telegraph apparatus in all respects of the same potentiality as the installations on other vessels operated by the Pacific Mail Co.

Barkentine Coronado Has Sailed. Among the windjammers that are reported to have left the Pacific coast for the Hawaiian Islands is the barkentine Coronado. This vessel sailed from San Francisco yesterday with a cargo of merchandise and supplies.

Ritnet Enroute from California. Advice to the Merchants' Exchange announce the sailing of the America bark R. P. Ritnet from San Francisco on Thursday. This vessel is expected to make a fair passage down to Honolulu.

Canadian Mail Reached Destination. Mail that was dispatched from Honolulu on March 1st by the Canadian-Australian liner Moana, arrived at Vancouver on last Thursday according to cables received here.

The barkentine S. G. Wilder with lumber is reported to have sailed from Everett, Washington, yesterday with destination as Hilo.

HAWAIIAN ISLANDS—Molokai Island, SEELY side—Kamalo Reef Gas Buoy, No. 1, reported extinguished, March 7, was relighted March 9, 1911.

PASSENGERS ARRIVED

Per stmr. Mauna Kea, from Hilo and way ports, Mar. 11.—C. Shelock and son, Mrs. M. Blanchard, Mrs. M. Sherman, T. C. Becker and wife, P. Stock, W. S. Crafts, W. D. Dewolf, C. J. Price and wife, C. E. Mrs. Alexander G. M. Robertson, wife of Hawaii's new chief justice, is like Mrs. Taft in that she cares more for home life, for her music, her books and the family circle, than for society, although she is one of the recognized leaders. Mrs. Robertson is an accomplished musician, both on the piano and vocally, having a splendid contralto voice. Her position in society did not prevent her from taking part in the charity performance of "The Mikado" last night as a member of the very capable chorus.

COMMISSION TO

LOOK AT TAXES

House Resolution Would Start Expert Investigation of Taxation.

Twenty-First Day. The House had little business today and adjourned shortly after 11 o'clock until Monday morning.

The feature of this morning was a joint resolution introduced by Sheldon of Kauai for the formation of a tax commission of public officers. The commission is to consist of the president of the Senate, speaker of the House, chairman of the ways and means committee of the Senate and chairman of the finance committee of the House, acting with the treasurer of the Territory.

The commission is to investigate the system of revenue and taxation in the Territory, their operation and effect and, if necessary, plan general revision of the laws. The report is to be submitted to the Governor not later than January 1, 1913. Appropriations to be made to defray the expenses of hiring legal counsel.

Another resolution, introduced by Yates, calls upon the public lands committee of the House to investigate the use of water from Waiohinu springs by the Hutchinson Sugar Plantation Company, the resolution declaring that the plantation has appropriated water for its own uses to the detriment of residents of Waiohinu, Naeahu and Honouliuli. The resolution asks the committee to report on whether the company has a franchise by which it gets the water, and whether it is discriminating in the sale of water to plantations.

WILLARD MAY FLY AT HILO SOON

Is Coming to Hawaii Next Month and Could Aviate There.

HILO, Mar. 10.—Again there are arrangements under way for a flying machine exhibition to be given in Hilo. While Felix Brughell and John O'Rourke failed a few months ago in getting Aviator Mars to come here, they seem at least to have become known in the aviation world as patrons of the new sport, for the latest bid for a visit comes from the aviator himself, through his manager.

The aviator who wants to take a flyer in Hilo is Charles F. Willard, one of the best-known American aviators. His manager has written Mr. Brughell, offering for a certain stipulated amount to give exhibitions, extending over two days, in Hilo. The manager writes that Willard is planning to take a trip to the Islands during April, and that he will be willing to fly in Hilo about April 22.

Brughell and O'Rourke are both anxious to give the Hilo public a chance to see a flying machine in action, but they feel that it will be impossible to make the affair a paying venture unless it can take place on some big holiday, when the population on the plantations in the vicinity of the city may be drawn upon to fill the seats. For this reason they have written to Willard, stating to him that in case he will make a flight here on or about the Fourth of July, they are willing to do business with him. They hope that he will be able to connect in which case they will make every arrangement to give the public a good show.

KAU'S LAND MEN MAY BE HEARD FROM

* Kau homesteaders are likely to figure in the Legislature next week if current reports are true. * It is anticipated that a resolution will be put before the Senate or House calling on the Commissioner of Public Lands to explain why he has not opened certain homesteads in the Kau district. The claim is also made that there are certain lands in the district not leased but appearing on the map as public lands, that are being used by one of the plantations. * Kau has always been a center for difficulty over land matters and it is anticipated that Dr. Thompson and his associates will soon come to the front. * * * * *

MAYOR GIVEN JOY WAGON

Two thousand dollars, all in real money has been voted by the City and County fathers for the purchase of a giddy red automobile which has been on exhibition at the Schuman Garage.

The Supervisors will have the machine at their beck and call. The big red wagon will serve to annihilate distance when the County fathers believe an invasion of the rural districts is imperative. Heretofore Mayor Fern has been allowed an expense account to cover the rental and maintenance of an auto. The cost has mounted to figures pretty sizeable and as a matter of economy it is believed that the money paid out monthly in rental would better apply to payment on the machine.

The city fathers harkened to appeals from a dozen residents in Nuuanu Valley and near Laimai who ask that 250 feet of roadway be made passable. The road committee will look into the matter.

Mrs. Anna C. Dale, President of the Humane Society believes that the city fathers should contribute $800 a year to the support and maintenance of the organization.

JOHN LANE FOR ELECTED OFFICER

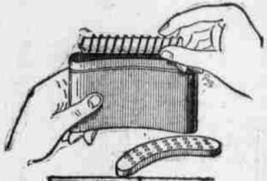

Ex-Senator John Lane, who was the author of the present city and county law and fought it through the Legislature, is opposed to any radical change in the form of the law.

Mr. Lane believes that the law is a good one and has worked well. He is disposed to oppose the measures that would shear the mayor of some of his authority. Under no circumstances would he support any of the bills that were proposed at the recent hearing of the Judiciary committee.

"What they should do is follow out the plan of the original draft of the law," said Mr. Lane. "All this contest is over the road supervisor. Under the bill, as first introduced, the supervisor of the roads was made an elective office, on a par with the county auditor, assessor and the other. If they will carry out that feature of the original bill as I put it before the Legislature that amended and passed it, the whole system will work out right. I would have this authority away from the mayor only by the Legislature in the hands of the people."

The only modern, safe, effective and sensible substitute for the antiquated Hot Water Bag.

No water to heat—no rubber to rot. Will last for years. The Warmer is made of metal heated within one minute by the lighting and insertion of a paper tube containing a blazeless, smokeless and odorless fuel generating a uniform heat which lasts over two hours at a cost of less than one cent. It is curved to fit any portion of the body and held in place by means of a bag and belt allowing the wearer to move about at will.

AS A PAIN KILLER

The Welkom Warmer has no equal. It can be put into constant action and is indispensable in cases of rheumatism, lumbago, neuralgia, sciatica, cramps, etc.

By placing the Warmer on the affected part the heat being dry, not moist, bakes out the cold. Physicians say that the moist heat of the hot water bag will not cure but aggravate the ailments above mentioned.

HOW TO USE SCHOOLHOUSES

At the recent meeting of the National League of Municipalities in Buffalo the subject of public uses of the schoolhouses was generally discussed, and the uses which the different speakers pointed out as feasible and desirable were little short of amazing. That discussion disclosed a score of ways in which school buildings might serve the public that pays for them, whereas, according to custom, they have served the public in but one way.

To give a few examples, it was held that the schools could just as well be used for lecture rooms in university extension courses, saving all expense of rent, and giving the people of every city the wider benefit from their state universities. It was pointed out, again, that every schoolhouse might be made a branch library, thus often solving a rather knotty problem as to meeting the expense of adequate library buildings. Again, it was suggested that each school building might serve to accommodate speakers and audiences participating in a school-lecture course similar to that conducted every winter season in the city of New York. Justice Hughes and Mayor Gaynor suggested that the schoolhouses would make excellent polling places in every city, thereby saving to a municipality like Buffalo, the sum of $7500 annually, while such use would tend to bring the parents and school children into closer relation, and would put the children themselves into closer contact with public affairs—a fact of no mean educational value.

All this sentiment moves in the right direction. There is no reason why every municipal, or rural community for that matter, should not make this larger and more beneficial use of its schoolhouses; no reason why the various communities should not convert them into easily available centers for moral, social and physical educational purposes.

There is every reason why Hawaii in providing its new schoolhouses should build large structures centrally located, that will not only accommodate more children and allow a higher grading of the school courses but also furnish a pleasant assembly place for the people of the community for entertainments and social functions.

HOW WISCONSIN LEGISLATORS PLAN TO REACH MORE PEOPLE THROUGH NEWSPAPERS

Evidently appreciative of the value of the press as the means of disseminating agricultural information to the people, a resolution has been offered in the Wisconsin Legislature to provide for the use of the newspapers of the State in circulating information provided by the Extension department of the University of Wisconsin. This scheme is now in operation with great success in the State of Texas.

The bill directs that the committee on education devise a scheme of education through the newspapers and report at this session a bill for such a process, such a scheme to be devised as to entail an expense of not over $100,000 annually.

Another important bill before the Legislature of the same State is one providing for the increase of the income and building funds of the university by increasing the present two-sevenths of a mill tax to three-eighths of a mill and restoring to the university the permanent improvement fund of $200,000 a year, that sum having been reduced two years ago to $200,000.

It is interesting to note what this leading institution of the middle west is doing and the cordial support of the people of the State in its work. Every community that makes any pretensions to being progressive can hardly do better than adapt Wisconsin's ideas to its own conditions. The University of Wisconsin stands as the leader of the land grant colleges in fulfilling to the greatest extent the requirements imposed upon it under the Morrill act of 1862. This is the act under which the establishment of the College of Hawaii was made possible. Not only has the University of Wisconsin maintained most excellent departments of agriculture and the mechanic arts but for the last decade or so it has been zealous in bringing its advantages and opportunities to as many of the citizens of the commonwealth as it could by well directed efforts prevail to take advantage thereof. It is distinctively the people's college and the wise officials of the institution are anxious to continue its work to the great advantage of the people and to the development of the state itself. While there are now over 4,000 students regularly enrolled in the several departments of the university, it is reaching out to help through its extension department perhaps hundreds of thousands more. It is seeking to keep the whole agricultural people of that great state informed of the latest discoveries and results of investigations in the realms of this great science, teaching principles of co-operation and economy in the buying of necessities and selling of farm products, urging seed improvement and better breeding of stock, in short, seeking to imbue the rural sections of the State with the necessity of getting the most out of life and the most out of the land they cultivate.

How then can the great work of this institution be better furthered than by securing the support of the newspapers? Bulletin upon bulletin may be printed and circulars without number be distributed but however extensive may be the mailing lists of these it unquestionably comes back to the fact that fewer people by far are reached by them than could be the case through the columns of the daily or weekly press of the State.

To secure the support of the newspapers it is proposed that the matter be put up to them on the commercial basis. The fact is evidently appreciated that the papers are not entirely philanthropic institutions; that they as well as every legitimate enterprise in that State, are in business for what profit there is to be secured therefrom.

Instead of asking them to publish the findings of the investigations conducted by the State experiment station and the results of the work carried on in all departments of the university, it is proposed that the State through the officials of this institution, buy space to advertise these conclusions among the people in the State and thus made acquainted with most modern methods, be enabled to proceed upon their work to the greater advantage of themselves and their State. Get all the farmers to grow two ears of corn where but one grew before and it takes no great amount of figuring to estimate the increased value of the aggregate crop. What, it may be asked, has led to the advance in the size of the crops in that State as well as in other States of the Union? The demonstration by the experts of the best methods of propagation and the dissemination of that knowledge by the verbal or printed word.

While extension work in agricultural lines is carried on by means of numerous traveling schools of agriculture, demonstration work and farmers' institutes held frequently and over wide areas of the State, it comes right back to the principle that the most far-reaching and effective results are to be obtained through the medium of the printed page.

While the circular and the bulletin may answer a certain definite purpose to this end, it is generally recognized that the secular press is to be preferred as the method of disseminating information of the most value to the general public.

While we do not imagine that the press of the State of Wisconsin stands in any different relation to this great university than is the present attitude of the Hawaii press to the College of Hawaii and the experiment station of the Federal and Territorial government, it is evident that the Solons of the Wisconsin Legislature recognize the fact that more far-reaching results in the advancement of the State can be obtained by adopting business methods for a purely commercial proposition. They are honest as well as progressive. They see that they have no more right to expect free promotion from the newspapers than to call for free fertilizer, free corn, free plows, free cattle and free merchandise from any other business enterprises. The resolution referred to suggests the investigation of a method by which more people can be reached and spurred on to accomplish greater results.

As the reformer and the worker in the moral vineyard solicits the support of the newspaper in reaching more people than ever get within sound of his voice, so the earnest expounder of new methods of growing crops or breeding cattle, can accomplish greater results by appealing to the readers of the daily or weekly paper.

It is not to be supposed, either, that the newspapers of Wisconsin have turned a deaf ear to the exploiting of new methods and dissemination of general information originating from the university. They have doubtless stood ready at all times and will remain so whether the measure proposed becomes a law or not to freely give column after column to the matter of higher education or efficiency of the farmer or mechanic—the producer in any line. Doubtless there, as in Hawaii, the leading papers, like the Evening Bulletin, make special efforts to get into close touch with the workers in the advance movement for bettering the condition and increasing the output of the farms and the profitable conduct of the same.

J. Pierpont Morgan is named by the George Washington Memorial Association at New York as the donor of a gift of $100,000 to the funds of the association. The money, which came unsolicited, will go toward the building fund for the erection of a $2,500,000 memorial to Washington in the capital.

OUR VOLCANO IS BEST ON EARTH

Dr. Perin Says We Are "Sugar Dippy," But Why Not Advertise Kilauea.

"It is the most wonderful thing I have ever seen," said Dr. Perin, the noted palmist from New York, who returned today from Hilo, where he visited the volcano. "You have the greatest attraction on earth.

"I am, however, at a loss to comprehend why the world does not know of this greatest of craters. People spend millions to go to Naples and get a glimpse of Vesuvius, which, to my mind, is only a baby compared to your crater. There you have a peak giving you a lot of smoke and some few sparks, while here one sees a lake of fire, a phenomenon which no one would believe unless he sees it.

"Somebody should start something and advertise this volcano properly, and you would have a tremendous influx of tourists. There is perhaps one in five thousand that knows about your volcano. I would suggest that you organize a stock company for the purpose of advertising this wonderful spot. A railroad could be built running close to the crater, and with the aid of the newspapers in the States and the proper publicity on the various steamers, it would be the greatest success and everybody would receive their money's worth. And just think what this would mean to Honolulu.

"You people here are sugar dippy. Of course, I don't blame you. You have a wonderful and profitable industry—perhaps the greatest—but with your volcano you would attract the wealthy tourist, who would come here and spend his money and perhaps invest in land or interest himself in other industries.

"You have something great to attract the entire civilized world, so why not do it?"

MIKADO REVIVED ON GRAND SCALE

The young ladies who acted as ushers and program-pages did not appear as advertised in kimonos but all were in white and this lent a pretty effect.

The stage setting was unusually beautiful, a woodland scene, with climbing vines and flowers everywhere, and when the gaily-gowned actors and actresses came on the stage and the chorus assembled, the ensemble was striking. The feminine division of the chorus, is made up of a number of pretty Honolulu girls who really performed well, while the singing of the male division was easily one of the best things in the whole production.

Stage Director Kipling got his cast working nicely by hour after hour of hard work and even before the foot-lights last night there were no hitches. "The Mikado" gives little opportunity for "starring," Gilbert and Sullivan always working for clever combinations rather than for individual effects, and James D. Dougherty, as Nanki-Poo, the son of the Mikado, and Mrs. Merle M. Johnson, the girl with whom he is to live, have little chance for displaying themselves. The "starring" parts lack both in situation and in dialogue, and the librettist uses broad comedy effects touched off by the grotesque to get the laughs. The chorus merely sings. The girls' chorus was drilled by Mrs. W. R. Hughes. Mr. Dougherty has little to do as the son of the Mikado except to look like a sad and sorrowful youth and to make pretty speeches, while Yum-Yum has only to sigh and accept the speeches and make a few in return. These parts, however, were well carried out. Mrs. Johnson had one or two chances to sing and was applauded.

George A. Brown, as the Mikado, appears only for a few moments in the last act, to roar officially and sit in the chair of state. His brief appearance gave him a chance to sing and his voice was easily the best of the evening.

It fell to Ted Vaughan, as Koko, David W. Anderson as Pook-Bah, and Mrs. Chester J. Humm, as Katisha, an elderly lady, to produce the broad comedy parts, and the three of them worked with a spirit and a comedy capacity that is beyond ordinary amateurs. Indeed, Mr. Vaughan is a former professional, and he made Koko the big hit of the evening, riotously funny and keeping up a continual performance of grotesque but ridiculous antics. Stage training showed in every move he made. David W. Anderson, as the man with more titles than Superintendent Campbell, made another hit, while Mrs. Humm outdid herself in the kind of part that Gilbert and Sullivan developed the elderly female who sighs for some one to love her, and her enthusiasm she threw into the part was very good. She showed bravely entirely unbecomingly by daub-

Wonderful Praise Accorded Peruna the Household Remedy

Mrs. Maria Goertz, Orienta, Oklahoma, writes:
"My husband, children and myself have used your medicines, and we always keep them in the house in case of necessity. I was restored to health by this medicine, and Dr. Hartman's invaluable advice and books. People ask about me from different places, and are surprised that I can do all of my household work alone, and that I was cured by the doctor of chronic catarrh. My husband was cured of asthma, my daughter of earache and catarrh of the stomach, and my son of catarrh of the throat. When I was sick I weighed 100 pounds; now I weigh 140.

"I have regained my health again, and I cannot thank you enough for your advice. May God give you a long life and bless your work."

ing her face into a horrible shrew's countenance, and when she and Ko-Ko got together, they made a notable pair.
Mrs. Alice Hayward and Mrs. Samuel Wright Tay, sisters of Yum-Yum, completed the feminine division of the cast. Mrs. Hayward got much applause for her pretty interpretation of the part, which gives more opportunities than that of Mrs. Tay.

Clarence Waterman, a noble lord, had only a few lines to speak, but they were well done, while Alapai Smith and Eaton Magoon, as umbrella-bearer and sword-bearer respectively, were necessary cogs in the machine.

There is a matinee this afternoon and another performance tonight. The seat sale for both is heavy, and after the good performance last night, the houses should be sold out.

The list of patronesses last night was as follows:

Mrs. W. F. Frear, Mrs. S. Damon, Princess Kawannanon, Princess Kulanianole, Mrs. J. McGrew, Mrs. W. R. Castle, Mrs. B. F. Dillingham, Mrs. W. C. Cowles, Mrs. S. M. SUNDAY OPENING OF THEATRES

House Bill No. 46, relating to the recording of certain instruments and designed to safeguard the recording of mortgages, passed third reading with a unanimous vote.

House Bill No. 76, appropriating money for wharves at Mahukoua and Hanalei, passed third reading on the following vote:

Ayes—Kalama, Fairchild, Pali, Kaleloa, Quinn, Baker, Hewitt, Makiikan, Robinson and Brown.

Noes—Judd, Cecil Brown, Chillingworth.

The judiciary committee reported favorably on House Bill No. 8, making deputy sheriffs ex officio deputy sheriffs of their respective counties. As it came from the House the bill referred only to the South Hilo and Wai-luku districts, but the committee recommended amendment to make the bill apply generally. The bill was passed on second reading with the adoption of the report of the committee.

House Bill 71, a freak measure preventing attorneys from sitting on the boards of supervisors, was tabled on the adoption of the judiciary committee's recommendation.

House Bill No. 99, accepting a marriage certificate as prima facie evidence of marriage, passed on second reading.

SPRING SUIT LINE SELLS

An especially attractive and stylish stock of men's suits recently received by the Clarion promises well to attract the store selling record for any shipment received since the management of Mr. J. O. Cooper.

The suits are of those two well known standardized lines, the Alfred Benjamin and the Collegian. This is recommendation enough, to assure the suit lines a ready sale, but in the style selection something has been secured that makes them appeal particularly to the Honolulu taste.

Mr. Cooper is not backward about stating that he attributes much of the present prosperity of the Clarion to the fact that he concentrates his advertising in the Evening Bulletin.

Chief Thurston reports that the fire department has responded to five calls during the month. The property loss is estimated at about $2000, which had been covered by $10,000 insurance.

COUNTY LAW CHANGES

policy of the Board be less likely to radical changes every two years, which is most undesirable.

3. The Chairman of the Board should be elected every two years, as Chairman and Executive Officer of Board and County. In other words, the Chairman would be the Manager or Superintendent of the County and he, together with the four members would constitute the County's Board of Directors. Under the present method, the Board is the Board of Directors of the County. It directs its various subordinate superintendents or heads of departments, once each month, at its stated monthly meetings, dissolves itself and leaves no head of affairs until its next stated meeting, or when it may call itself together in special session. Is it possible for any business organization to be successfully carried on under this method or system? Imagine a sugar plantation being carried on without a definite date for the taking effect of any new legislation in regard to the Counties adopted by the Legislature that met in the previous February, and the County officers running for election would know what would be expected of them and what their responsibilities would be, before they took office, instead of being elected first, and having their duties altered and amended afterwards, as at present. This would moreover give the voters a chance to give their undivided attention to the election of their County officers, and their undivided attention to the election of their Territorial representatives. The question of expense may be raised. The cost of a special County election for Maui County would not exceed $2000.00, this amount could be saved or wasted in one month by a competent or incompetent Board of Supervisors hence the cost of an election for County officers in the County of Maui would be rather an incentive than otherwise to elect a competent manager and Board of Supervisors.

4. Change the election of County officers from November, at the time of the general election, to May. This would mean the present Board remaining in office until July 1st, 1913. Terms of office for County officers would then be from July to June inclusive instead of January to December, inclusive, as at present. This would bring the fiscal year of the Counties to correspond with that of the Territory. It would also give a definite date for the taking effect of any new legislation in regard to the Counties adopted by the Legislature that met in the previous February, and the County officers running for election would know what would be expected of them and what their responsibilities would be, before they took office, instead of being elected first, and having their duties altered and amended afterwards, as at present. ed to the Hawaiian Historical Society, ample space being given for the society's uses, including space for its valuable and unique collection of prints, ancient letters and other matter not in the bureau of archives.

A broad lanai overhangs the front, and it can be thrown into one large room with the rooms for the women and children. There is also an auditorium on the second floor.

According to the Kohala Midget, Miss Mary Kaiwi and Willie Kalli were married on March 8.

On Wednesday evening, March first, Miss Mary Hoomanawanui and Mr. Henry Weeks were married by Dr. Baker, at the home of Mr. Weeks. The brother of the groom and the sister of the bride stood with them under an arch of asparagus fern and white geraniums. It was a very pretty wedding and many guests were present. They go to housekeeping in a few days in a new house that Mr. Weeks has built for his bride.—Kohala Midget.

Follow This Rule In Getting Boys' Clothes

Look for the makers' label and see if it bears the mark "XTRAGOOD".

That name means best clothes just as sure as two and two make four.

XTRAGOOD clothes have never failed to give twice the wear, twice the satisfaction, twice the value of any other kind.

Why? Because there's double the care taken to make them perfect. Cloth, style, fit, tailoring—all are combined to a degree that makes XTRAGOOD clothes supreme.

THE AUTOMOBILE ON MAUI; A GREAT FIELD FOR FUTURE

Mauilians Want a Phrase That Will Give the Island Fame for Its Virtues—With Development of Roads Cars Will Follow.

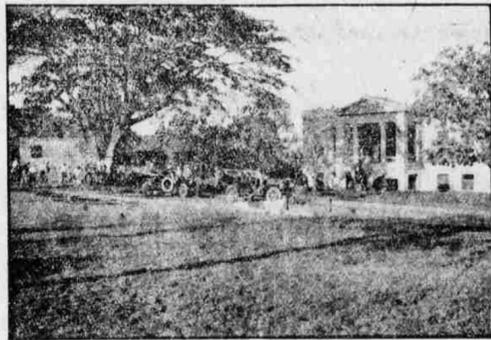

Maui—the first Pacific Island with a steam railroad and a telephone—will soon be the first in number of automobiles, compared with population. If its residents continue to acquire them as in the past. Stand at the Maui Hotel corner in Wailuku and the stranger will be more impressed with the passing of autos than on the busiest corner on Market street in San Francisco.

Everyone—and that means everyone of all races, excepting only the field laborers, seem to own some kind of a "machine," and many an auto owner is only a year or two graduated from the field laborer class.

Purely for Pleasure.
The prosperous own an automobile as a matter of course, and in almost every section in the Hawaiian Islands, but so many who cannot be so classed own one on Maui that the inquisitive visitor cannot help but be exempt from the personal income tax, boasts of having bought a car for $75 that he can drive at the rate of thirty miles an hour. He fails to state how much it cost him to put it into running order and keep it so, but it must have been considerable, judging by the way he severely criticizes a certain auto repair shop.

Jingle of Real Money Heard.
The coming of the automobile to Maui has been beneficial in a way. It has meant the loosening of money that formerly, figuratively speaking, only packed the bottoms of old socks. Money circulates more freely now on Maui than for years. The automobile business is now an island industry. Small it is true, but one in which real currency is used and not the draft and credit system of the sugar industry. There are at least one hundred men on Maui whose only work is the driving, caring for or the look for an explanation. Ask an auto owner, one in moderate circumstances, whose car is not in the rent service, how he justifies an expenditure of several hundred dollars, perhaps thousands, for something that is purely a luxury and he will answer, "One has to have some fun some way."

And that is the usual answer. Your Mauilian considers an automobile a means of pleasure and whatever his financial standing in the Central Island, he purchases with a lump sum the pleasures of a year or two to come, with as little thought of self-condemnation as the Honolulu working man who once a week takes his family to a fifteen cent show.

Being so, second-hand cars are not a drug in the Maui auto market. There is always a purchaser for a second-hand car, when the more prosperous decide to get a later and more expensive model.

One young man whose income must repairing of the automobile. Their salary paid weekly is enough to cause the jingle of real money heard now on Maui in mid-month between plantation pay-days.

Some Facts Prove Statements.
Neither is this all due to a pencil-suffering from auto-suggestion, as evidence thereof, note: Kershner, the vulcanizer, is opening a branch in Wailuku, equal to the Honolulu home place with every promise of a prosperous Maui business. Dan Carey, the horseshoer of island fame among horsemen, has overcome the aversion of a real horseman to automobiles to such an extent that his blacksmith shop has become a pretentious automobile garage, where skilled mainland mechanics are kept busy with the inflow of damaged automobiles. Finally, remember that automobile salesmen find Maui a fine market for their automobiles. Schoening, of the von Hamm-Young Company, is doing a big business on Maui, although he is in competition with the Kahului R. R. Co. that has added a car agency to their other merchandise lines.

Brought Good Roads.
From this influx of automobiles has come good roads. Roads that are next to none on the other Islands in quality. Oiled roads in good part, as Ben Lyons, defeated candidate for supervisor, will call to your attention. His defeat has made him a bit pessimistic as to the rewards a county office holder may expect from the voter. But his pessimism is not of the querulous, complaining brand. It is nearer the thought of a philosopher who takes the public for a subject, for he will laugh when he tells you, "See those oiled roads. Well, I helped get those for Maui. You know what they did to me last November." He and John Quinn of Oahu road fame ought to prepare a thesis on "Road building and the rewards of the voting public."

Railroad Uses Auto Trucks.
Automobiles as an addition to the rolling stock of a railroad were first used a few years ago in Nevada at the time of the last big gold discovery. Now the Kahului railroad is using automobile trucks to reach sections not spanned by rails. Three trucks as long as the largest freight car are kept continually on the go between Kahului and distant camps carrying merchandise orders. These trucks were put to a particular use during the recent reign of the Board of Health on Maui. Lumber for the erection of detention camps in isolated spots was needed and the need was an immediate and imperative one. The trucks carried the lumber to the spots selected for the camps and did it so quickly that the efforts of the big force of house builders was greatly augmented.

Island Health Saved by Cars.
Even the checking of the Maui epidemic owes its part to the automobile. For besides the work done by the trucks was the rapid means of transportation given patients, nurses, doctors and Board of Health officials by the lighter road machines. To this portion of Maui residents the automobile is not merely a "joy machine." This it may be at times for them, but they know that its quick covering of country roads served them as nothing else could check the spread of a contagious disease.

Maui's Coming Metropolis.
Kahului—the principal Maui seaport—as an island geography might state, is not the Kahului of five years ago. Changes there caused by the construction of commodious buildings makes it a new town in appearance. The old camp of the railroad employees has been supplemented by rows of neat cottages on the Wailuku and Pannene roads. The erection of buildings for the bank and railroad offices as well as the Pinnac store adds a decided city appearance to their island seaport. The latest building is a new railroad station that has been occupied only the past five months. Sensible, the approach to this station has been barred by a great white picket fence so only one entrance is possible. This fence extends for a city block on either side of the rails running past the station and will undoubtedly prevent many accidents to children and others who would use the tracks

Bad Wreck Recalled.
Carefulness of the Kahului R. R. Co. in guarding against accidents is not a matter of new policy; it is the carrying out of a policy established thirty years ago following the only bad wreck in the history of the road.

License Inspector Fenner when reminiscence the other night recalled this wreck. He was an employee of the railroad at the time, then sometime in the '80's. At that time there were no passenger coaches and the passengers were carried in the freight cars. The road up to Wailuku is up a steep grade and a car will run by gravity from Wailuku almost to Kahului reaching a speed at one point of fifty miles an hour. On the day of this wreck three women and their children were passengers and when the train arrived at Wailuku, the engineer answered the signal of an outsider and pulled the coupling pin, disconnecting the engine and cars before they were properly blocked. There were no brakes on the freight cars. The cars started to roll down the hill carrying the passengers to almost certain death, as another train was on its way up from Kahului. The engineer tried to catch the cars but it was useless. The speed of the freed cars was too much for that of the engine. The cars ran into the up-coming train and one woman and her two children were killed, while another and her child were terribly injured. The only one of the women to escape was the wife of the engineer and a passenger on the train. When the cars started down the hill she tossed out her six months old child and then jumped.

The policy of prevention of accidents was put into effect shortly after this. The first inauguration was a sliding switch at the top of the steepest grade which, if not pulled down, will shut all cars into a sand bank. This switch is still used today, trains from Wailuku all slowing up while a brakeman runs ahead and "holds down the switch."

Landlocked Harbor.
There are a number of people on Maui who believe that the United States Government intended to build a landlocked harbor at Kahului instead of the breakwater. On the Paia side of Kahului there is a big tract of land occupied by fish ponds. Some of these ponds are said to be thirty feet deep and the material beneath and surrounding of a kind that could be easily dredged. Here, so report goes, is where the harbor was to have been made. These ponds were to have been dredged out and an entrance cut from the sea to the excavation. That the plan was abandoned was due to the trouble of getting the railroad moved which runs makai of the ponds. An engineer on Maui is authority for the statement that this landlocked harbor would have cost the government less than the two breakwaters that are to be built, excepting the expense that would have been incurred in condemning and purchasing the land occupied by the fish ponds and the railroad.

An electric light plant is to be built between Kahului and Wailuku, the company having a franchise for the whole of Maui excepting the district of Lahaina. The Mauilian optimist tells you that it will be only a few years until two towns will be connected by a street car line and that the now vacant, unfillable sandhills will be covered by city residences. Doubting or believing this, there is some reason today for a visiting former resident to Kahului to inquire "where is the postoffice?" the true question indicator of any city's growth.

Mauilians Want Praise Phrase.
Mauilians will never admit it to a stranger, but among themselves there is often a confession that what Maui needs, is a nickname or a phrase

PRIZES FOR SCHOLARSHIP

Mr. Supe, writing a communication to the Bulletin, expresses the desire that some one offer a prize for good scholarship in the public schools of the Territory. He says that prizes have been given for the best cabbages, and so forth, but not for those most proficient in their studies.

The Bulletin has awarded prizes for the best gardens kept and vegetables produced by the children of the public schools. It is now ready to satisfy the demand for scholarship prizes.

The Bulletin will give prizes for scholarship totaling one hundred dollars to be apportioned, twenty-five dollars for each County and awarded to the pupils in the public schools of each County showing the highest standard of scholarship.

The Bulletin will give twenty-five ($25) dollars as a prize for the pupils of the public schools of the island of Oahu, fifteen ($15) dollars to be awarded the pupil having the highest standing, five ($5) dollars to the second best, and five ($5) dollars to the one holding the third position. The award will be made on the record presented to the editor of the Bulletin by the Supervising principal.

The same offer is made to the children of the public schools of the County of Kauai, the County of Maui and Molokai, and the County of Hawaii.

The award will be made at the close of the present school year. The only condition made by this paper is that the children of the schools any of whose pupils may try for the prize shall send to the Bulletin for publication a record of the names of the children on the honor roll of the school, if such a roll is kept, and this honor roll shall be sent to the Bulletin as it is made up, usually at the end of each month. This is done with the purpose of making the public acquainted not only with the prize winners but with the children who are hard workers and take pride in standing among the first members of their respective classes.

worthy in its praise of Maui. Like the small boy among his fellows of nickname fame and none for him, Maui feels slighted every time Hawaii is referred to as the "Big Island," Kauai as the "Garden Island," Oahu as the "Capitol Island," and Maui as just plain Maui. Molokai alone is free from this Maui envy.

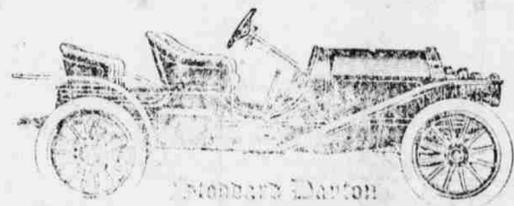

"Model Maui."
One resident has selected the name to give Maui fame along with her sister islands. For brevity alone the chosen name would recommend itself to an advertising man. It is "Model Maui." When it was pointed out to this ardent Maui promotionist that dictionaries define model as "an imitation of the real thing," he willed it'll do till we go back to the States."

not in the name's favor. He pointed out in return that model in the general accepted meaning of the word meant something for others to pattern after. Continuing he claimed that Maui was a model the other islands should pattern after, as regards good government, good citizens, good roads, good dwellings for laborers, good hospitals and what not all good.

This man's utterances and opinions are those of many Mauilians. Others may not be so emphatic in claiming goodness for everything on Maui but the spirit of loyalty to the island is always evident. Less frequent than on any of the islands do you hear dictionaries define model as "an imitation of the real thing," he willed it'll do till we go back to the States."

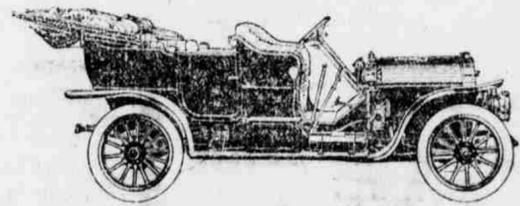

Some other point is not the life mecca of your true Mauilian; Maui is the permanent place in his mind; so assured of a livelihood from some position, well housed, even though the home is corporation owned, he merely mortgages his incoming salary for a year or two, or three, and buys an automobile to enjoy life on the Model Island.

Hilo Shipping.
The American schooner Minjoro is listed as the only deep-sea craft at Hilo and is taken on railroads for Redondo. The American-Hawaiian freighter Arizona called on Wednesday evening for Salina Cruz taking 12,200 tons sugar from the various island ports of call.

ADVOCATES PRACTICAL INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION

Principal Edgar Wood of the Normal School was the principal speaker of the evening last night at a meeting of the Men's League of Central Union church. His subject was "Industrial Education," and the speaker paid particular attention to the classification of schools, the training in each division from primary to college, and the kind of work that should be done in each.

He declared that the best kind of industrial work is that done under similar conditions to those the pupil must face in life when he or she has finished school and applies the education to practical things.

He offered the following proposed school classification:

Kindergarten, elementary (six years), intermediate industrial (2 years), trade (4 years) and then college. Under this classification the student experiences life itself and not merely a preparation for it; he deals with the concrete and reaches from the known into the realms of the unknown, thereby learning the direct and necessary things of life first. The schools in the proposed grouping should have in them all the elements of the life about us so that the student who is about to launch into his life career will not be wholly ignorant of the existing conditions.

HAWAIIAN COMMERCIAL ENDS WEEK VERY STRONG

Repeated demands for Hawaiian Commercial forced that stock up on the market yesterday afternoon, and this morning at the session of the Honolulu Exchange it was reported at 27 1/2, with three blocks of 25, 25 and 25 shares sold at this price. This was about the only feature of a quiet day, the week ending with the market firm but comparatively little trading, although the volume for the week was heavy. The big sale of Hawaiian Commercial, one block of 1500 shares changing hands, was the feature of the week.

Ewa closes the week strong at 29.62 1/2, while 28 is asked for Oahu with no buyers.

Attorney J. A. Magoon, representing Mrs. C. E. Cummings, a property owner on King street, near the fertilizer works, asks for monetary consideration in the transfer of certain desired parcels of land necessary for the widening of the street. An effort has been made to acquire the land other than by the payment of cash. Mayor Fern suggested that the board take steps to effect a settlement.

RECREATIONS

THE SAVOY

Go to the Savoy tonight and become acquainted with the merits of two of the latest entertainers in the line of vaudeville. Jourdan and Gervaise are very charming in operatic presentations, adding to their delightful method and manner the attraction of good scenery, specially made for them, and elegant costumes. They are full of the elevating influence of master voices, and Jourdan can sing "Torcedor" with a vim that takes you to the bull-fight and at the same time stirs you with the energy of the passion expressed in the words of the classic song. Gervaise, a beautiful woman and a splendid actress, is exciting intense admiration.

BIJOU

A tremendous crowd, more than the seats would accommodate, besieged the Bijou last night to enjoy the Columbian and the sensations of amateur night. The Columbians drew rounds upon rounds of applause, appearing in musical phantasmagoria, a bewitching Indian dance with special scenery, comic sketches and individual performances which were thoroughly handled and pleasingly presented. Caro Miller showed himself to be a singer of extreme versatility, as well as an actor of large understanding. Claire and Ruth Miller captivated with their magic scene of alternating light and darkness, pretty as summer lightning flashes in a sylvan glade. Baby Marilyn, in La Paragay dance, added another victory to her already long list of triumphs. Lew Pistel was funnier than usual, even if everybody didn't laugh at once, and Heath got off several nifty songs.

THE EMPIRE

The Piccaninnies are the treat for the children this afternoon at the matinee at the Empire. Reginia Reed and her little darkey charges are on the boards and on the lips of the public; for everybody is talking about them. EASTERN MAN SPEAKS FOR COOK

One of the strongest endorsements that a public man could receive is given to Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the Arctic explorer, who is to speak in Des Moines next Thursday evening at the Auditorium, under the auspices of the Press Club of Des Moines, says a paper of that city. The endorsement is from the pen of Captain Thomas F. Hall of Omaha, Neb., who is the author of a book soon to be published giving a critical review of the polar claims of both Dr. Cook and Commander Peary. Captain Hall will say in his book:

"Cook's narrative has been before the public for nearly two years. It has been subject to the most minute scrutiny that invention, talent and money could give. It is today absolutely unscathed. Not one item in it from beginning to end has been truthfully discredited. It stands unimpeached. Mud enough has been thrown. Bribery and conspiracy have done their worst. A campaign of infamy has been waged and spent its force, but not one solitary sentence has been proven wrong. Musk ox fakes, starved dogs, fictitious astronomical or other calculations may have some effect on popular opinion, but they have none on actual facts. They do not budge the truth a hair's breadth, and they do not make history. Cook's claim to the discovery of the North Pole is as sound and valid as the claims of others, or the achievement of anyone preceding him in the Arctic or the Antarctic."

FIGHTS THIS EVENING BEST EVER; FOUR BOUTS AT NEW ORPHEUM

FINK

YOUNG GANS

Three of the men who will appear before fight fans this evening.

Twenty-eight rounds of scrapping are scheduled at the New Orpheum this evening by Promoter Nigel Jackson, and that should be enough for the most blood-thirsty fan, especially in view of the men who will step into the squared circle and whose reputations for getting into the game strongly are well known.

The Main Event.
There is more interest in the Fink-Harding go than in any scrap which has been pulled off in Honolulu for many months, and in many ways it is a stronger drawing card than the fight with Fink and Armstrong would have been.

This is not saying that Armstrong would not put up a good fight with the big marine, but as Harding was knocked out in the first round the last time he went up against Fink, the fans would like to see him go the whole distance this time.

There has been a great difference of opinion among those who saw the short fight last month on the relative merits of the two scrappers, and many believe that Harding is capable of handling out some hard jolts if he looks out for that left leg of Fink's.

The fight while it lasted on the former occasion showed that Harding was quick on his feet and was something of a whirlwind fighter in comparison with Fink, who is of the slower sort.

If Harding can keep away from that knock-out punch of his adversary for a time he may succeed in putting the marine out of business.

Fink has shown what he can do in the ring here, and he put up some games fights against Bauersecks a few months ago, when the crowdman played horse with him for several rounds each time, but never secured a knockout.

Fink squared all that up on December 29, when he knocked out the man from Schofield, after the crowdman had tried to play horse with him again, but to no avail.

The marine can take a lot of punishment, and even if Harding can keep up his whirlwind fighting for five or six rounds he must get in a terrific punch to put his man out of business.

First Fight.
Herrigan and Melnott are the first two men to step into the ring tonight, and they will furnish the fans their first taste of fighting by going over the course for four rounds.

Both these men will make 128 pounds ring-side, and they should put up a lively scrap while it lasts. This being the first one of the evening, it is up to the youngsters to put up a good fight, if only to keep the large number of fans in a good humor for the other and longer fights which are to come a little later.

Second Go.
Probably as much interest centers in the second go this evening, for both the fighters are known to all the fans. Simmons of the Thetis, although only a youngster, has lots of admirers, and Young Gans is known to all the Ho-

Saturday Fights.
Herrigan vs. Melnott—Four Rounds, Weight 128 Pounds.
Simmons vs. Young Gans—Six Rounds, Weight 121 Pounds.
Sarconi vs. Denton—Eight Rounds, Weight 135 Pounds.
De Mello vs. West—Six Rounds, Weight 155 Pounds.
Main Event.
Fink vs. Harding—Ten Rounds, Weight 148 Pounds.

luluhi fans who have followed the light game during the past two years. Simmons has put up several good fights here, and although on more than one occasion he has been matched with a man who was larger and a more experienced fighter, the youngster has always been game and fought from the time the gong sounded the opening round till the finish of the go.

Young Gans is so well known here that any introduction would be out of place. The sports all know him and his style of fighting and know that he will do good work in the ring tonight.

Third Bout.
From a six-round affair, the third event this evening has been raised to eight rounds, and over this route Bugler Sarconi of the marines and Denton of the artillery will take their course.

This event, being the main one before the real go of the evening, should be a corker from the start. Denton has not fought much in Honolulu, but the times the fans have seen him they have seen that he goes into the game to fight, and that is all they ask of any man.

Sarconi has been fighting here for some time, and he is a quick scrapper. When the spectators think that the bugler is all in, then he comes into the game for fair and generally succeeds in doing things to his opponent.

Event Canceled.
These bouts will give the fans twenty-eight rounds of fighting this evening, if all the bouts go to the limit, and although one-go, between De Mello and West, has been canceled, the lengthening of another bout has given about the same number of rounds; enough, anyway, for the fans who want to get to bed some time before the dawn tomorrow.

Start Early.
It is the plan of the promoter to start the fights early, in order to finish up in good time, and so the first event will be put on as near 8 o'clock as it is possible.

The sports want to get in early if they wish to see the whole of the evening's entertainment, for it will be a good one in any event, and those who see the whole of the bouts will surely go away satisfied.

WHAT CURLEY SAYS OF GOTCH

Hack's Manager Gives Out a Few Statements on the Wrestler.

Jack Curley, who is manager for George Hackenschmidt, may come to Honolulu within a short time, according to the information contained in a private letter received from him recently.

Curley may be going to take a trip around the world with his big wrestler, or he may be traveling for pleasure alone, but he has the following to say about Gotch, over his own signature in some press agent stuff he got out on the mainland within the past few weeks:

"Just before Jack Johnson 'doped' James J. Jeffries and thereby spoiled an already arranged tour of the world, featuring two world's champions—James J. Jeffries and Frank Gotch—the latter announced his positive retirement from the mat game.

"No one has a right to question the motive of Gotch's retirement. We were all asked to accept Gotch's sincerity and I for one, as manager for George Hackenschmidt, have taken Gotch at his own word and I am more than willing to permit Gotch to stay retired.

"Contrary to many predictions the wrestling game did not die a natural death and the game did not follow Gotch into retirement on a farm. I signed George Hackenschmidt while over in Europe, and secured the 'Russian Lion' after several other American managers had failed in the attempt to bring him over to this country. Since Hackenschmidt's arrival we have religiously respected Gotch's wishes to stay in retirement and again and again on our tour have said nothing but kind things of the retired champion.

"Gotch himself, while publicly sticking to his announced retirement, has several times hinted at re-entry, or at least newspapers have quoted him in that way. And as a spectator to a few Hackenschmidt's matches he has added to the gossip that his departure from the game was only temporary. At different times local promoters of the various Hackenschmidt matches have announced that Gotch would attend the shows, and a promoter at Des Moines, thinking he was doing something great, announced a few days before the show that he had chosen Frank Gotch to referee the Hackenschmidt match. Of course, such a thing would be impossible, and in my opinion, it was a joke to even mention such a thing.

"In a letter to me, Frank Gotch complains bitterly and tells me that I have no right to use his name and that such work must stop. And Gotch adds that 'I mean this,' with a suggestion in his sentence that the hangman's noose awaits me or solitary confinement in a deep dark dungeon for life if even another such story appears.

"To me it sounds like the biggest compliment that Gotch could pay me. For he acts as though I control the power of the press and can censor the news of the day to suit myself. I am sorry to say that such is not the case.

"But I do want to state publicly that I do not think Gotch's name is necessary to fill the houses that Hackenschmidt is billed to wrestle in. I am sure that the vast crowds come to see Hack wrestle and not in hopes of seeing Gotch in a seat watching the show, nor in any other way. I insist that Hack is the card and the people come to see him.

"But I wish to add that we have taken Gotch at his own word. He says he is retired and we are willing to let him stay retired. Hack is not challenging him and it is against our

GLYSMIC CUP FOR LOCAL GOLFERS

Given By Water Company and On Exhibition at Hall & Sons at Present.

All golfers in Hawaii will be interested in the cup which is offered by the Glysmic Water Company and now on display in the window of E. O. Hall & Son, as this cup will probably be offered to the golfer in the Territory making the best score during a period of several months.

Through their distributors, Theo. H. Davies & Co., the bottles of this famous water, which was used by Jeffries when he was training to meet Johnson, have given the cup to be competed for by members of the different golf clubs in Hawaii.

The cup stands fourteen inches high and is one which any golfer might be proud to possess as a reward of his prowess on the links.

Nothing has been settled as yet as to how the cup will be competed for, and suggestions are asked by the agents of the company as to how best the end sought may be obtained.

It is planned to have the competition open to all golfers in the Territory, whether members of any club or not, the winner to be the player who turns in the lowest score after a run of several months.

The play should go on for the remainder of the year, once or twice a month, it is proposed, and the low man at the end of that time will be the winner.

This is only a suggestion by those giving the cup, and suggestions from all golfers are asked in order that rules for the play may be formulated satisfactory to all players.

CHINESE GAMES ON TOMORROW

Baseball and Soccer at Old League Grounds in Aid of Famine Sufferers.

Tomorrow afternoon the old league grounds at Moiliili will be the scene of two athletic contests, both being played by Chinese boys, and the proceeds will be used for the relief of famine sufferers in north China.

Starting at 1:30, there will be both a soccer game and a baseball game, and both will be well contested.

The soccer game will be between teams of the Hawaiian Chinese Soccer Association and the Chinese Athletic Union, the teams being recently formed and this being the third game they have played.

Soccer has taken a strong hold in Hawaii, as it has on the mainland, and teams are being made up of many boys in all parts of the city and in the schools to try out this game.

The two Chinese teams were formed after the close of the regular series of soccer games played by the league teams, and both are developing some strong players.

The second event of the afternoon is a baseball game between Chinese Athletic Union and Chinese Students' Athletic Union, and both these teams are capable of putting up a fast brand of baseball on the diamond.

The last time they met was on Chinese New Year's Day, and the game that day was one which was satisfactory to every fan on the bleachers and in the grandstand.

The lineups for both games are as follows:
Soccer Game.
C. S. A.—G. Chang, rf.; Tom, lf.; Harry von Sun (captain); H. James, cf.; H. Lee, ph.; Chun, rw.; Henry Lee; W. Sam Kahalawai; L. B. Akana; H. Henry Lum; C. Frank Kahala; subs, Akau, Ki Tong and Ken Yap.

The explosion of a saluting charge of a gun on the U. S. gunboat Dolphin, now at Port-au-Prince, Hayti, caused "extensive superficial burns" to two of her crew, according to a telegram received by the Secretary of the Navy February 9 from Lieut.-Commander George W. Laws, commanding. An eye of one of the men was injured, and this seemed to be the most serious result of the accident. For the purpose of meeting the needs of the injured the Dolphin immediately left Port-au-Prince for Guantanamo, Cuba.

The Glysmic Cup, offered by the Glysmic Water Company, through its distributors, Theo. H. Davies & Co., should be one for which the golfers of Hawaii ought to strive hard to win. It is likely that all devotees of the game will have a chance to try for it.

The boy scouts, under command of Sergeant Camp of the Marines, will take a hike this afternoon from Emma street to Punchbowl, and there will be shown how to form a camp. The hike starts at 2 o'clock.

Chinese day tomorrow at Moiliili, when soccer and baseball will be played for the benefit of the starving in China. There should be a good crowd there, for the games will be worth while.

Do You Want Long, Heavy Hair?

Then treat your hair well. See that it is properly fed. Growth of every kind demands proper food. Starved hair splits at the ends, turns prematurely gray, keeps short and dry. Then feed your hair. Feed it with proper food, a regular hair-food. Feed it with Ayer's Hair Vigor. Thus help nature all you possibly can toward giving you rich, heavy, luxuriant hair. Ask your doctor about your hair and about Ayer's Hair Vigor. Follow his advice.

TRACK MEET ON TODAY

Kams and Puns at Alexander Field Will Try Conclusions This Afternoon.

During the afternoon today the boys of Kamehameha and Punahou are trying conclusions in the events of the track and field, and the meet will bring out the best athletic talent in each of the schools.

The meet between the two schools is being held at Alexander Field, at Punahou, and although the Kam team is handicapped by several of its members being on the sick list, yet those present will do all possible for their school in bringing away the greatest number of points which they are able.

At both schools the boys have been going some hard work, and the meet today will assist in the elimination process and size-up of the men where by the best for the different schools can be picked to form the strongest team possible.

One week from today the triangular meet between Punahou, College of Hawaii and Kamehameha will be held for the championship of the year, and in preparation for that big event the smaller meets are being held first.

At Alexander Field the boys under the direction of Coach Ricker have been worked out consistently, and at Kamehameha, Captain Winters, military instructor, has assisted in the training of the boys who will represent the school.

DOTS AND DASHES.

This afternoon at 4:30 at Central Grammar School, the Y. W. C. A. girls will play basketball with a team from McKinley High School. The girls are taking a lot of interest in the game, and a regular series of games between different schools may be arranged soon.

The Glysmic Cup, offered by the Glysmic Water Company, through its distributors, Theo. H. Davies & Co., should be one for which the golfers of Hawaii ought to strive hard to win. It is likely that all devotees of the game will have a chance to try for it.

AUTOS AND AUTOISTS

VON HAMM-YOUNG CO.

ASSOCIATED GARAGE.

The von Hamm-Young Company received on the Manchuria two new types of 1911 Stoddard-Dayton cars, which have been greatly admired. These cars are both of the Model M type, one a 5-passenger touring car and the other one a 4-passenger roadster. These cars, though lower priced than former Stoddard-Daytons, have all the elegance and dashing appearance of the highest class cars.

On this car the Stoddard-Dayton Company has adopted the famous Renault type of motor, with cylinders cast en bloc. It is a four-cylinder, 4-cycle engine of 4 inch bore and 4 1/2 inch stroke. The length of the stroke secures a well recognized advantage of increased power, higher efficiency and greater economy. This motor easily develops 20 h. p. and is built so simply that very little can get out of order. The frame construction of this Stoddard is of pressed steel, heavy gauge, channel sections wide and deep; wonderfully rigid; front springs semi-elliptic and rear springs 3/4 elliptic, just sufficient to pick up jolts and jars but not so springy as to keep one going up and down.

These new Stoddard-Daytons have been the center of attraction at the von Hamm-Young salesrooms during the week. Already one order for same make has been looked for shipment to Hawaii.

Stevens Sold.
During the week Dr. J. S. McGrew purchased of the von Hamm-Young Company a fine 5-passenger Stevens-Duryea touring car. A Stevens used for a year or two is still far superior to any medium priced new car and will therefore bring better price second-hand than many other cars represented here. Dr. and Mrs. McGrew are very much pleased with their purchase and pronounce the Stevens to be a very satisfactory and comfortable riding car.

Buys a Buick.
Mr. C. C. Bitting has purchased from the von Hamm-Young Company a pretty little Buick runabout. The Buick is still a general favorite as is shown by another sale of a 4-cylinder Buick touring car to Messrs. Littleton and Perkins, who intend to put this car into the rent service between Honolulu and Watertown.

Cadillac to Maui.
On the steamer Claudine the von Hamm-Young Company shipped a 4-passenger Cadillac demi-tonneau to their representative, C. J. Schoening, on Maui, who has booked this car for a prominent business man.

Overland.
A torpedo body Overland car was bought by Mr. A. R. Coyne of the Coyne Furniture Company. This is the first automobile purchased by Mr. Coyne and means another addition to the ranks of automobilists.

Hupmobiles.
On the Lurline the von Hamm-Young Company expect to receive several Hupmobiles, which will in all probability be snapped up as soon as they arrive, as the demand for this popular little car is getting greater every day.

Business in the sales department of the von Hamm-Young Company has been good, a number of important sales of high class cars are being negotiated and will be closed before the beginning of next week.

ARMY AND NAVY NOTES.

Official and unofficial reports which have reached the Navy Department during the past few weeks indicate that the manning of the men behind the guns in the U. S. navy is far more superior to that of the other navies of the world than is generally supposed. This subject has been thoroughly investigated abroad, not only by naval attaches, but through other sources, and the reports are interesting in the extreme. The maximum range in the navies of other countries is about 7000 yards, according to these reports, which have been carefully compiled and submitted to the Secretary of the Navy. In the U. S. navy the average range is about 10,000 yards, and the maximum is 12,500.

There is no truth in a rumor from Santiago, Chile, that the battleships Iowa and Oregon are to be sold to Peru. Vessels to be sold must first be condemned as unfit for use by the navy, and must then be offered at public auction, the guns and ammunition and all warlike equipment first being removed from the hull. The Oregon has just been put in first-class condition, and the Iowa, though not of the latest design, still is regarded as an excellent ship for the second line of defense.

The steamship Alliance, which left New York February 4 for Colon, reported by wireless at 4 o'clock February 9 that the scout cruiser Birmingham had reached the British bark Cathness-shire, Captain Halford, which grounded on a reef off Walling Island, one of the Bahamas, and was taking off her crew. The U. S. collier Mars, which reached Guantanamo, Cuba, on February 6, sighted the Cathness-shire in distress, but her draft was too deep to allow her to go to the bark's assistance.

During the past week business at the Associated has been increasing steadily. In fact it has shown a steady growth ever since the management was taken over by Frank E. Howes, and the results of the week are fine sales and deliveries of cars, besides a large increase in the amount of work being done by the repair department.

More car owners are bringing their machines to the Associated Garage every day for general repairs or merely for washing and looking over so that the mechanical force has had to be increased and an extra man engaged for the washing work.

The Hudson.
The Hudson 33 is the car most talked about in the city now, the 1911 model being such an easy riding machine and having such speed and power is commends it to every motorist who has once looked into its possibilities and tested its merits.

The Hudson is conceded to be the best medium priced car on the market this year.

Best in Territory.
Yesterday Mr. Francis Gay of Kauai took delivery of the finest and most luxurious motor car on wheels in the Territory of Hawaii, a seven-passenger, 6-cylinder Pierce-Arrow. The top on this car is especially built for service in the tropics, where so many tops grow seedy looking within a short time after they are put in commission, and it is so strongly built and lined that there are no cumbersome straps in front to obstruct the view.

An electric system furnishes lights for all lamps except the large front ones, including dash lights, and the air pump on the engine which works so successfully on all Pierce cars to inflate the tires and is especially appreciated.

The engine is self-starting, and in fact every imaginable contrivance and luxury is embodied in this car.

ARMY AND NAVY NOTES.

The following tentative schedule for the work of the Atlantic fleet for the coming summer was announced by Rear-Admiral Richard Wainwright, U. S. N., and for operations, Navy Department, on February 8, 1911. The vessels of the fleet will leave their respective "home" yards about May 1 and proceed as follows:

First Division—Base on Narragansett Bay; operate between Cape Cod and New York.

Second Division—Base on Hampton Roads; operate between New York and Southern Drill Grounds.

Third Division—Base on Pensacola and Key West; operate in Gulf of Mexico. This division will arrive at Pensacola by May 7, and the Lhasa will proceed to New Orleans, arriving by May 10, for the purpose of making a trip up the Mississippi River as far as Natchez.

Fourth Division—Base on Cape Cod Bay; operate north of Cape Cod.

About July 1 the divisions will visit ports on the Atlantic coast to be designated later to spend the Fourth of July. The four divisions, together with the armored cruisers (Fifth Division), scouts and torpedo fleet, will rendezvous about July 6, probably in Cape Cod Bay, for fleet exercises during July and August.

On July 1 the New Jersey, Maine, Missouri, Ohio and Utah are scheduled to join the fleet, and the twenty-one ship fleet organization will become effective.

The rowing regatta of the Atlantic fleet, which ended on February 5 at Calmanero, Cuba, furnished any amount of good sport, and there were numerous contestants. One hundred and sixteen crews were entered for the silver cups. The crew of the battleship Georgia carried off the battleship cup, the most coveted international trophy, by winning the event for racing cutters, distance three miles. The Jamestown Cup, for cutters manned by commissioned officers, distance one mile, was won by the crew of the Kansas. The Louisiana's crew won the Duncan Cup, for cutters, in the mile race. The Havana Cup, for gigs, two miles, was captured by the Mississippi, which also won the San Pedro Cup for sailing launches, two miles; the Dunlap Cup, for cutters, manned by marines, and the Pensacola Cup, for cutters and whaleboats, two miles, and dinghies, one mile. The Kansas crew won the Belmont Cup, for cutters, manned by first enlistment men, and the Drexel Cup, for cutters, two miles, manned by engineers.

In 1910 the Cunard company carried across the Atlantic 36,148 first-class passengers, 23,511 second and 129,876 third, the respective increases over the previous year being 2346, 800 and 15,656. The first-class passengers constitute a record for the company.

The "June Bug," the first aeroplane to make an official flight in this country, has been donated to the Smithsonian Institution at Washington by its builder, Glenn H. Curtiss. The latter first used it in the initial aeroplane contest July 4, 1908.

Germany will establish a record this year by launching six new Dreadnoughts. Up to now no more than five of these monster ships have been launched by any one country in one year.

WORLD DOINGS OF AVIATORS

AVIATOR HARMON AND ROUTE ACROSS ISTHMUS OF PANAMA HE WILL ATTEMPT TO TAKE IN AEROPLANE

Clifford B. Harmon, the celebrated aviator, has completed his plans for attempting the hazardous venture of flying in an aeroplane from Colon across the Isthmus of Panama—from ocean to ocean. He started from New York today on the steamship Mallice with all his apparatus and assistants. His report will have important influence in determining the attitude of Congress toward fortifying the Panama Canal as his course takes him over the big ditch. Experts say aviators could destroy any fortifications erected at the canal by means of dropping bombs from the sky. The topography of the land over which Harmon will fly is such as to produce cross currents, and eddies in the lower strata, these currents paralleling the configuration of the land and being atmospheric disturbers for at least 150 feet above the earth. Therefore, in order to gain the more constant air the aviator should attain a height of from 450 to 550 feet as soon as practicable after the launching, an altitude greater than would be necessary under normal conditions in the United States. By the time the navigator is over Gatun, six miles from the starting point, he should be at least 350 feet up, and above the famous Culebra cut, three-fourths of the distance between Colon and Panama, he will have attained his greatest height. Of course it is feasible and may be found desirable to go much higher, but the altitude mentioned will be sufficient for the aviator to discern the Hargraves box kites and flags which it is proposed to distribute along the routes—kites to indicate the route and flags to mark available spots for landing in case the motor goes wrong. A kite placed above Gatun dam will be readily discernible from the ship at the start. Kites also are to be flown above Bohio and Tabernilla.

ARMY AVIATOR DOES BIG STUNT

Carries Message When Impossible For Others to Cover the Ground.

The War Department was kept busy early in February declining all sorts of offers from aviators. It seems as if every man in the country who either owns an aeroplane, or expects to do so, during the past few days has offered to patrol the Mexican border for the War Department. If the services of every aviator who volunteered had been accepted the heavens along the Mexican border would soon be filled with aeroplanes, or the ground in that vicinity strewn with the wrecks of flying machines. Very wisely the War Department decided to put this matter entirely under the supervision of Lieutenant B. E. Foubis, who is at San Antonio with the only aeroplane owned by the government. It is understood that the State Department, as well as the War Department, feared that a large force of civilian aviators on the border might involve this government in international complications with Mexico.

Unless the aviators were under the command of Lieutenant Foubis they would be very apt to fly over into Mexico. There they might be captured and spies, and it would be very difficult for the government to extend to them the protection which is asked by every American citizen who gets into trouble in a foreign land. It is feared by the officers of the War Department that some of the amateur aviators may become so enthusiastic that it will be necessary to take steps to restrain them.

But, despite all this confusion, advice were received at the War Department of a flight which was made by Henry S. Harkness which is regarded as a demonstration of the availability of aeroplanes for war purposes. On Wednesday, February 8, Brigadier-General Allen, chief signal officer, received a telegram from D. C. Collier, president of the Aero Club, announcing that Mr. Harkness had

FLIES TO WARSHIP AND MAKES STOP

Glenn Curtiss Tells of Flight to the U. S. Cruiser Pennsylvania.

Under date of February 17, Glenn H. Curtiss made the following report to the press from San Diego on his flight to the cruiser Pennsylvania and back, after alighting in the water and being hoisted on board the ship: "With the assistance and co-operation of the commanding officer of the First Division of the Pacific fleet and the officers of the armored Pacific cruiser Pennsylvania in particular, I was able today to demonstrate one of the most important things involving the usefulness of the aeroplane in the navy.

"Using a hydro-aeroplane of my recent development I flew from North Island to the armored cruiser Pennsylvania, landed alongside and was hoisted aboard. After a brief stay, I was hoisted overboard and rose from the water and returned to Aviation Headquarters on North Island. This feat was undertaken in order to further the interest of the Navy Department in the adaptability of the aeroplane to navy uses, and in the opinion of the officers who witnessed it, it was successful.

"In making the test I used an experimental machine fitted with the same type of float and hydro-surfaces used in my successful water flights, with the exception that I had placed the propeller in front of the planes instead of behind, as in the case of the standard Curtiss machine. This was purely an experiment, as my best water flights have been made in a standard Curtiss machine with the use of the water floats instead of the wheels used on the land flights.

"I found that the machine used today was not well adapted to the work. In other words, the fixing of the pro-

WASHINGTON SOCIETY WOMEN NOW HOPE TO START FLYING

ARE BANDING TOGETHER FOR A SCHOOL OF THEIR OWN WITH INSTRUCTORS SKILLED IN SCIENCE OF AVIATION.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—First of all the women of fashion to take to aeroplanics as a sport, Washington society leaders are planning to lead the world as "high flyers," in the literal sense. The thrill attendant on sailing through the air has fascinated Washington mondaines, and in order to indulge in it to their hearts' content they are going to establish a school and obtain instruction in the science of operating machines. The school may become an actuality some time this spring, and after a course of lessons missy confidently looks forward to becoming a skilled "sky pilot" and taking a three or four mile "fly" every morning before breakfast.

The leaders of the movement are Viscountess Benoit d'Azay, wife of the naval attaché of the French Embassy, witty, breezy and enthusiastic as a schoolgirl; Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, who retains the girlish vivacity and daring of her "Princess Alice" days, and Miss Gladys Hinckley, by many considered the handsomest unmarried girl in society, who is "in" for all that which makes for good, thrilling sport, be it hunting or careening around the Washington Monument in an airship. Many others are interested in the movement, and the school promises to be a general success.

Even now the question of proper dress for aeroplanics is engaging the minds of maids and matrons who plan to take the course of instruction. Each woman will be a law unto herself, for a time at least, until fashion prescribes a costume which all will adopt. Will it be like riding dress, motoring dress, or will Dame Fashion actually evolve an entirely new costume for a sport which marks the final evolution of human travel? None of the sponsors of the new school is yet prepared to answer that; they prefer instead to dilate on the pleasures in store for those who learn to operate their own machines.

The Viscountess d'Azay, one of the best all around sportswomen in society, is no novice to the pleasures of the aeroplane. Already she has made flights with French aviators, and in this country has been the companion of Claude Grahame-White in a flight. For the daring young Parisienne air travel has no terrors, and the Viscountess is consequently one of the most enthusiastic of all the smart set in her eagerness to begin to fly her own machine.

For Mrs. Longworth the sport has always had an irresistible fascination. Even in the early days of aeroplaning, when the Wright brothers, pioneers in the field of aeroplanics, were making their flights over at Fort Myer and all the world flocked to see them, Mrs. Longworth's motor was always to be noticed on the days when there was to be a flight, and it required a determined stand on the part of Representative Nick Longworth to restrain his wife from trying a flight with one of the inventors. Aeroplaning was looked upon then, even by the most daring, as something to be attempted only by those whose attachment to the attractions of this good old world were of the slightest. Yet Mrs. Longworth found promise of pleasure in the thought of trying the difficult and dangerous sport. The Wright brothers are said to have been much relieved when Mr. Longworth refused to consent to his wife's giving their machine a trial. But time has changed the public attitude, and it is believed that general Nick Longworth himself will not be averse now to taking an occasional turn in the air.

In St. Petersburg, Paris, London and other capitals the smart sets have shown a certain inclination to take up the sport, but never have these ultra fashionables made definite plans to engage in it as the Washington women have. Hence the Washingtonians are a bit "cocky" at having come first into the fascinating field.

FLIES 493 MILES IN FAST TIME

PARIS.—Two brilliant performances in aviation were accomplished recently. Capt. Bellanger, one of the most expert army aviators, started on a 500-mile flight from Vincennes to Bordeaux, 350 miles, descending twice to replenish his gasoline. He renewed his flight the next day and traveled the 143 miles from Bordeaux to Paris in 115 minutes, without alighting. In all he flew 493 miles in 7 hours, 14 minutes.

Aeroplane Carries 1050 Pounds. At Pau, where many flying men are gathered, Le Martin broke all passenger carrying records. He took seven persons with him on a flight of more than a mile at an altitude of 13,000 feet. The total weight carried was 1050 pounds.

Bleriot built the monoplane to carry four, but four more, one a woman, were crowded in it. A man was strapped to a board running to the tail of the machine. The flight was made without hitch. The plane, fitted with 100 horse-power motor, is intended for war purposes.

Le Martin says he is certain he can carry nine passengers on this machine and will make the attempt in a few days.

Until Le Martin's feat, Roger Commer, another Frenchman, held the best passenger carrying record. With six passengers, Commer, January 28 last, flew from Douzy to Romilly and return, a distance of sixteen miles.

Passengers Astride Runners. Then, too, there was not room for all the passengers. Two sat astride the plane's runners.

Henry Farnam held the record for 1910. He carried five passengers twice around the aviation field at Chalais, France, on November 3d.

Army horses figured in the Denver horse show held in the week of January 16-21, occupying a prominent place in the program. Lord Oulley, writing in the Denver Post, said that the army horses were a much larger and stronger class than those of the year before.

WEEK OF LIVELY SOCIETY DOINGS

GOVERNOR and Mrs. Frear entertained at dinner Tuesday, complimentary to Mrs. Adams of Chicago, Ill., and Mr. Ray Stannard Baker, the renowned lecturer. "Arcadia," the beautiful home of Governor Frear, was filled with choice cut flowers and potted plants. Dinner was served at seven o'clock. The dozen covers were marked with appropriate and artistic place cards. Among those present were Governor and Mrs. Walter Frear, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. F. R. Day, Doctor and Mrs. Hobdy, Mr. and Mrs. Herick Jewett Lowrey, Mr. and Mrs. Griffiths and Major Benson.

Captain and Mrs. Walcutt's Supper. Following the Regimental hop at the Field Barracks Captain and Mrs. Jewett entertained at their charming quarters Saturday evening. The affair was given in honor of Colonel Goldman's daughter, who has been visiting the Walcutts for the past six weeks. Formal invitations were not issued for this affair, the keynote of the entertainment being informality, thus making it particularly enjoyable. The supper was served at a long flower bedecked table. Chafing dishes, which are conducive to sociability, formed a prominent part in concocting the delicious viands that were served. Among those present were Captain and Mrs. Walcutt, Lieutenant and Mrs. Parker, Miss Goldman, Lieutenant Quekemyer, Lieutenant Hoyt, Lieutenant Sheridan, Lieutenant Winter, Lieutenant Sheridan, Lieutenant Dorsey Rodney and Lieutenant Doak.

Mrs. Putnam's Bridge Luncheon. The pretty and attractive home of Captain and Mrs. Putnam at Fort de Russy was the setting for a beautifully arranged bridge luncheon that was given by the latter. Pale pink begonias and maidenhair fern ornamented the exquisitely appointed table. The guests of honor were Mrs. Watkins, wife of Lieutenant Watkins, and Miss Goldman, a popular Army girl who has been the guest of Captain and Mrs. Walcutt at Lilehua. The hostess and her guests are enthusiastic bridge players. At the termination of the delicious repast tables were arranged in the flower bedecked drawing room and this interesting pastime was indulged in. Mrs. Watkins possessed the highest bridge and was awarded a beautiful Japanese vase. Mrs. George Cleveland Bowen of Fort Shafter won the second prize, a tall brass vase. Among those who enjoyed Mrs. Putnam's hospitality were Mrs. Watkins, Mrs. Goldman, Mrs. Ross Kingsbury, Mrs. George Cleveland Bowen, Mrs. Willis, Miss Cowles and Miss Stephens.

The Gerrit Wilders to Return. The Gerrit Wilders, who have been taking a trip around the world are on their way home, and will arrive in Honolulu sometime in April. From last advices they were in the city of Panama. Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Wilder are social leaders in Honolulu, and will be given a warm welcome by the smart set of this city.

Major and Mrs. De Witt's Dinner. Major and Mrs. De Witt of the Fifth Cavalry entertained at dinner. Yellow was the color scheme, chosen for this delightful affair. Coropis banked in the center of the table, combined with maiden hair produced an effective decoration. Tall silver candelabra, with fluffy yellow silk shades, lent added beauty to the decorations. After dinner Major and Mrs. De Witt and their six guests attended the hop that was given that evening by the officers of the post. Among those who partook of this host and hostess hospitality were Captain and Mrs. Walcutt, Lieutenant and Mrs. Stewart, Miss Goldman and Lieutenant Hoyt.

Mrs. Samuel Baldwin's Luncheon. Red carnations and maiden hair ferns were extensively used at the luncheon that was given by Mrs. Samuel Baldwin Wednesday afternoon. This affair savored of an informal nature, only old friends of the guest of honor were invited. Covers were arranged for six. Among those present were Mrs. Samuel Baldwin, her guest of honor Miss Helen Hobron, Miss Muriel Howatt, Miss Juliette Atherton, Miss Cordelia Gilman and Miss Prat.

Mrs. James Hough's Dinner and Theatre Party. Mrs. James Hough gave a theatre party last evening to witness the Mikado. Prior to attending the theatre, Mrs. Hough entertained at dinner at the Moana Hotel. The decorations of pale pink begonias proved very effective. Silver candle sticks containing candies and shades matched the dainty floral piece. The dinner was served in the main dining room. Those present were Mrs. James Hough, the Misses Hough, Miss Helen Hobron, Miss Katherine Stephens, Mr. Percy Cleghorn, Lieutenant Vaughn, Mr. Arthur Cleghorn, Mr. Ed Hedeman and Lieutenant Barrell.

Mrs. Foster's Bridge Party. A coterie of Army folk enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Foster on Friday afternoon when she entertained in honor of Miss Goldman. The artistic home of Major and Mrs. Foster at Lilehua was beautifully decorated with palms, hanging baskets of maiden hair fern, and trailing nasturtiums in variegated colors. The first prize was won by Mrs. Faulkner and consisted of a Canton salad bowl. The consolation was a Japanese print and was awarded to Mrs. Rodney. The guest prize, a pongee embroidered shopping bag, was greatly appreciated and admired by Miss Goldman who was the motive for this charming affair. Shortly before five o'clock delicious refreshments were served in the dining room. The highly polished table from which these delicious viands were served, was covered with dollies of Cluny lace. Mrs. George Brydges Rodney poured the tea. A pleasant hour of conversation was spent over the teacups. Among those present were Mrs. Foster, Miss Goldman, Mrs. De Witt, Mrs. Walcutt, Mrs. Koester, Mrs. C. Sidney Haight, Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. Hanson, Mrs. Seales, Mrs. Rodney, Mrs. Foerster, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Winna, Mrs. Gergory, Mrs. McClure, Mrs. Orton, Mrs. Dockery, and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Jewett Lowrey's Reception. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Jewett Lowrey will give a large reception on Tuesday evening, March the twenty-eighth, in honor of their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Dwight Lowrey, who will arrive on the Wilhelmnia, March the twenty-first, from their honeymoon. This event will be one of the most brilliant affairs of the season. The invitations have not been issued, but will be sent out on the first of the week.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Parker's Dinner. Lieutenant and Mrs. Dockery, Lieutenant and Mrs. Morrison, Captain Forsythe and Lieutenant Phil Sheridan were the dinner guests of Lieutenant and Mrs. Parker Saturday evening. The predominating colors for this enjoyable affair were red and green. A large reed basket, in a dull red brown, occupied the center of the table, and was filled with searlet carnations and lace ferns. The handle was ornamented with a large bow of green silk illusion. The place cards were cleverly executed, portraying water color scenes. The four corners of the table were ornamented with candelabra, ornamented with red silk shades, made to represent flowers. The bon bons, favors and the different courses were in green and red.

Miss Cordelia Gilman's Luncheon. Miss Helen Hobron was the incentive for an exquisite luncheon that was given Thursday afternoon by Miss Cordelia Gilman. Pink and green was the decorative scheme. Clusters of pink begonias and maiden hair fern formed the center piece. Dainty sprays of these flowers were strewn over the damask cloth. The place cards were hand painted and tied with pink satin ribbon. Those numbered among Miss Cordelia Gilman's guests were Miss Helen Hobron, Mrs. Samuel Damon, Miss Juliet Atherton, Miss Edna Curtis, Miss Sila Pratt, Miss Marjorie Gilman, Miss Muriel Howatt, Miss Dorothy Wood, Miss Irma Ballentyne, Miss Florence Gurry, and others.

Lilehua Bridge Club. The Lilehua Bridge Club was entertained by Mrs. Orton Wednesday afternoon at her home at Schofield Barracks. At the conclusion of the game, delicious refreshments were served. The dainty young hostess dispensed delicious tea from her attractive tea table. Among those who attended this delightful affair were Mrs. Foster, Mrs. De Witt, Mrs. Walcutt, Mrs. Koester, Mrs. Hanson, Mrs. Seales, Mrs. Winna, Mrs. Haight, Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Gregory.

Miss Rycroft's Luncheon. The decorations for the luncheon given by Miss Sophia Rycroft Saturday were both beautiful and unique. In the center of the circular table was placed a tall "silver sword." This plant was a perfect specimen. The long fronds of silver fell in graceful sprays over the beautifully appointed table. This rare plant flourishes and thrives in the crater of Haleakala. With the exception of one other country, this beautiful and artistic plant does not grow in any other clime. Travelers have been known to journey thousands of miles to see this wonderful production of nature, as the silver sword is considered much rarer than orchids. The table from which the luncheon was served, was arranged on the lanai, midst a bower of ferns. Suspended overhead were large baskets of growing maiden hair fern. The railings of the veranda were banked with these ferns. Tall tropical palms were artistically placed around the lanai. The luncheon was given in honor of Miss Gladys Rycroft, a sister of the hostess. This charming young girl will become the bride of Mr. Gemma on April the fifteenth. The favors and place cards carried out the pre-nuptial idea at this affair. Among those present were Miss Sophia Rycroft, Miss Gladys Rycroft, Mrs. Walter Emory, Mrs. Erdman D. Baldwin, Mrs. Alan Bottomley, Mrs. Willie Campbell, Mrs. Frank Winter, Miss Jordan, Miss Irene Aiken, Miss Queenie Jordan, Miss Mary Catton, and others.

Mrs. Edward Timberlake, wife of Captain Timberlake, has been very ill at her home at Fort Ruger. Mrs. Timberlake was stricken with ptomaine poisoning Saturday, and for twenty-four hours the doctors were quite alarmed. This young society woman is up and around, but owing to her weakened condition has been obliged to cancel her numerous social engagements for the past week.

SOCIAL SET SEES "MIKADO" GIVEN

A LARGE and fashionable audience greeted the presentation of the Mikado last night at the Royal Hawaiian Opera House, and was unstinted in its applause. From the rising of the curtain until the final scene, was one success following another. Those who had charge of the different characters of the production performed the work so well, that different phases of the work blended into a finished whole, which made the production a success. Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hughes and Mr. R. Kipling cannot be too highly commended for the result of their work produced last night, all those have worked hard, and can feel justly proud of their efforts. The music of the Mikado is too familiar with Honolulu people to go into detail—it is entirely and pretty, and after leaving the Opera House last night the writer was haunted with the sweet melody of this beautiful opera. To the entertainment committee we doff our hats, especially to Mrs. Augustus Murphy and Mr. George A. Brown, who have been most arduous in their efforts, to promote the success of this undertaking. Mrs. Merle Johnson as Yum-Yum was a sweet winsome lass, one would not know from her work last night, that it was her initial bow before any audience. Mrs. Johnson has a sweet and high soprano and her acting was graceful and easy, particularly in the duet with Nanki-Poo, she simply covered herself with honors that a professional might well envy. Mrs. Alice Hayward as Pitti-Sing was a most charming and clever actress, she possesses the ease and grace on the stage, that one rarely finds in amateur; in fact, Mrs. Hayward is one of the cleverest amateurs ever seen in Honolulu. Her work with Pooch-Bah was indeed good, she has a keen sense of humor and uses it. Mrs. Samuel Wright Tay as Peep-Boo had the small part of the three maids, but the little she had to do was so well done, that one cannot say too much in her favor. Mrs. Tay took the part less than a week ago owing to Miss Robertson's inability to continue rehearsals. She was more or less familiar with the part having done it before in Los Angeles. Mrs. Chester Hume was a great surprise to Honolulu, she has exceptional talent, was in excellent voice and was very vivid, her make up was a huge success, we can hardly comprehend the change that grease paint accomplishes. Her work with Ko-Ko was finished and she well deserved the rounds of applause that she received. Mr. George A. Brown as the Mikado was splendid, his bearing was dignified and stately, his acting was superb—it is a part that could easily be overdone, but in Mr. Brown's hands it was as clean and clever as a professional's. Mr. Brown's voice is rich and full, and from the applause he received, it is evident that he will be called on many times in the future for his plain that he is a mighty clever amateur. Mr. Dougherty as Nanki-Poo needs no introduction to a Honolulu audience, for he has always been accommodating in taking part in everything given from grand opera down to minstrel shows, and every time has covered himself with glory. His solo "A Wandering Minstrel" was splendidly done and would do credit to any professional, his work with Yum-Yum and also with Katisha was indeed excellent, and brought him the rounds of applause that he justly deserved, his wonderful tenor has never been heard to better advantage. Mr. David Anderson as the babe taking Pooch-Bah was great, he is naturally disfigured and possesses a fine carriage, so it was no trick at all for him to impersonate Pooch-Bah. His facial expression is enough to keep one in spasms of laughter, the manner in which he addresses the three little maids as "young persons" is a laugh creator, his long drawn out notes where Nanki-Poo thanks him, hoping it will end his life, is among the funniest things in the opera. Mr. "Ted" Vaughan's part as Ko-Ko that him to perfection, his acting is that of an old hand at the business, with perfect care he keeps the audience intensely amused, his local song "I've Got Him On My List" simply brought down the house. Mr. Vaughan is especially clever and while this is his first public appearance in Honolulu, he has been heard by some of the townfolk, he has assisted at the different club smokers, and Jinks, and Ted is always greeted with pleasure, his humble attitude toward the Mikado is very funny. Mr. Clarence Waterman as Fish-Tush has a small part, but what is the difference when it is as well done as Mr. Waterman's did it, his song was good, and he was in excellent voice. Alapaki Smith as the umbrella carrier of the Mikado was very funny, his flirting with the girls was well done. Eaton Magoon as the sword bearer of Ko-Ko was good, it was only a walking part but he sustained the part well. Too much praise cannot be given the chorus whose work was excellent and as well done as any chorus ever heard in Honolulu, every one put their best efforts forward and they can feel justly proud of their singing, dancing and acting. Without the orchestra the Mikado would be nothing.

Mrs. Alice Hayward, Pitti-Sing.

ing, the gentlemen who comprise this part of the opera production did their utmost to make it the artistic success that it was. The Humane Society will realize a neat sum of money, they intend working extensively among the poor children for their betterment. What nobler work than the care and thought of our helpless little ones and the poor dumb brutes. The Mikado will be given again this afternoon for children and this evening for those who were unable to hear the opera last night. It is well worth the price of admission and it is hoped that packed house will greet these two performances. In the boxes last night were the Richard Cooks in one, the Ewa box was occupied by Mrs. Howard's party; the upper left hand box by Mr. and Mrs. J. Smith of Fargo, South Dakota; the lower box Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. Williamson; long one was occupied by Judge and Mrs. Dale and a party of friends, long two by the beautiful Princess Kawannakoa and her friends. Tonight Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dillingham, Princess Kalaniano'le and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Damon will occupy the boxes. The entertainment committee feel much gratified and wish to thank the Honolulu public for the interest and patronage they have shown in this entertainment. The committee wishes also to state that they feel keenly the omission of Mr. James Holt's name on the program. Mr. Holt possesses a splendid tenor voice, and is always an acquisition to any entertainment. The following young society girls served as usherers: Miss Jessie Kennedy, Miss Violet Makoe, Miss Hattie Lucas, Miss Helen North, Miss Muriel Howatt, Miss Mary Lucas, Miss Minna Ber-

Cast and Chorus of "Mikado" and Scene In Opera

Mr. and Mrs. Klump Entertain.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Klump were host and hostess at a delightful weekend party at their suburban home at Kohala. Among their guests were Rear-Admiral and Mrs. Cowles, General and Mrs. Maccomb, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ivers, Major and Mrs. Samuel Dunning, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Francis Dillingham, Mrs. Adams of Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Selden Kingsbury, wife of Judge Kingsbury of Maui, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Kiebaun, Miss Edith Cowles, Mr. and Mrs. McAwee of Hudson, N. Y., Mr. Gaylord, Mr. Humbert, Mr. Harbour Lathrop, and others.

Young Society Girl Visiting in Honolulu.

Miss Helen Hobron, whose engagement to Mr. E. A. Jones, Jr., was recently announced, arrived on the Manchuria and is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Baldwin at their Nuuanu Valley home. Miss Hobron is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hobron, who were former residents of Honolulu. Miss Hobron's grandparents were among the pioneers of Hawaii-land. They formerly occupied the beautiful residence on Nuuanu and Bates street—now the home of Mrs. John McCandless. Miss Hobron was a small child when her father and mother left for California, the former deciding to take up a permanent residence there on account of ill health. They have a beautiful home in Berkeley, and Mr. Thomas Hobron is a capitalist of that city. This young girl is closely connected with many of the leading and prominent families of these islands. This alone would give her social distinction irrespective of the charm of manner of this young debutant, making her a social favorite wherever she resides. Many plans are being formed for the entertainment of this visitor.

Lt. and Mrs. Willis' Dinner.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Willis, who have taken up a permanent residence at the Courtland, entertained at that popular family hotel Thursday evening. This affair was given in honor of Captain and Mrs. Frederick Ramsey and Lieutenant Frederick Kilgore. Scarlet carnations were used profusely as a decoration.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith's Dinner.

Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith entertained informally, complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Haneberg. Covers were laid for eight, the color scheme being red and green. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Haneberg, Miss Muriel Howatt, Miss Goldman, Doctor Alfred Wall and Mr. George Denton.

Captain and Mrs. Faulkner's Dinner.

Captain and Mrs. Faulkner entertained at their attractive quarters at Leilehua Thursday evening. Violets and pink begonias formed the floral decorations. After dinner bridge was indulged in until a late hour. Among those present were Captain and Mrs. Faulkner, Major and Mrs. DeWitt, and Captain and Mrs. Keester.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Faxon Bishop's Dinner.

One of the most elaborate dinners of the week was given Wednesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. E. Faxon Bishop. Purple orchids decorated the beautiful table. Quantities of these incomparable flowers were used, and so skilfully arranged that they presented the appearance of growing. The chandelier was trimmed with green tulle and smilax, streamers of the former were carried to the corners of the table and knotted in graceful bows. Strands of the smilax were thrown over the tracery of greenery in a promiscuous fashion. Those present at this delightful affair were Admiral and Mrs. Cowles, their house guest, Mrs. Selden Kingsbury, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Macfarlane, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Kiebaun, and Mr. Edward Tenney.

Colonel Wheeler, the commandant of Leilehua, was the guest of Major and Mrs. Winslow at their attractive home at Waikiki. The Colonel is a great social favorite in Honolulu and when he is in town his friends vie with each other to entertain him. This is not only confined to the Service set, for he is equally popular with the town folk as well. Colonel Wheeler spent Saturday and Sunday with the Winslows.

The second prize was a heavy tray of beaten brass. Mrs. Putnam was the fortunate winner of this trophy. They are so charmed with Honolulu and their present abode that they will not visit Judge and Mrs. Kingsbury until some time in April. Mrs. Frederick Kingsbury was a room-mate of Mrs. Will Whitney, wife of Judge Whitney of this city. It is needless to state that they are indulging in reminiscences of their college days that is proving enjoyable to both.

Mrs. Watkins, wife of Lieutenant Watkins, has been the house guest of Captain and Mrs. Putnam of Fort de Russy for the past ten days. Mrs. Watkins is an exceedingly beautiful woman and is very popular among the Service set. It is to be regretted that ever since the arrival of Lieutenant Watkins he has had special engineer duty near Wahiawa. Owing to that fact very few of the Honolulu society folk have been able to become acquainted with this interesting couple.

Doctor Alfred Wall has recently purchased a seven-seated Pope-Hartford automobile.

Monday Lieutenant Sheridan of the Fifth Cavalry motored to town to meet some friends on the transport Sherman.

Monday Mrs. Thomas Wall entertained informally at luncheon. The decorations were double purple violets. Those present were Mrs. Thomas Wall, Miss Davis, Mrs. Gignoux, Mrs. E. E. Paxton, Mrs. Fred Smith, and Miss Goldman of San Francisco.

This function was in the nature of a luncheon. The color scheme was pink. The eight covers were designated by beautiful hand colored place cards. These cards were especially beautiful, being bordered with tiny pink roses. The name of each guest was lettered in gold in Old English lettering. The circular table was covered with an exquisite cloth of Cluny lace. A tall cut glass vase, filled with Katherine Mermet roses graced the center of the table. The numerous courses that were served contributed to the color scheme of pink. This luncheon will be entered on the social calendar as being one of the most beautiful and elaborate affairs of the week. Miss Davis, who is an extremely pretty girl, wore a beautiful gown of pale pink peau de crepe, with pearl trimmings. Drink Beer for Safety

Water may be pure or impure ---it is impossible to tell by merely looking at it.
 But there is no question about the purity of a good beer---like PRIMO or MUENCHENER type.
 These beers are made from pure artesian water, boiled, and thoroughly filtered.
 The beer is sterilized and pasteurized, and is the safest beverage you can drink.

U. S. Health Officer Tells How To Prevent the Cholera

"It is safest to drink only boiled water. As a precaution the Superintendent of Public Works has issued orders for the use of artesian water as preferable where possible. Beer ought to be a safe drink to people who use alcoholic beverages, since it is sterilized. Some folks appear to think that water taken after a drink of whiskey is rendered safe by the whiskey. Well, a little water actually mixed with the whiskey before drinking might be affected that way, but water is one of the sources of danger unless it is artesian water."

Edison Amberola Phonograph

The Amberola is the newest member of the Edison Phonograph family. It is a work of art both in appearance, and in performance.

The Amberola is a greatly improved Phonograph. Its horn and mechanism are enclosed in a handsome cabinet, which also includes drawers for holding 100 records.

It can be had in several finishes of oak and mahogany, to match any room of woodwork. It is a most attractive piece of furniture and a credit to any drawing-room or music-room.

It has a number of special features—features not found in other Edison Phonographs. These include a larger new style reproducer, giving a reproduction of unusual volume and richness of tone.

Another new feature is that the record, in addition to revolving, also advances to meet the reproducer, which remains stationary. This feature makes it possible to have a rigid horn. In other Edison Phonographs the reproducer moves across the face of the revolving record, and to get the best results a swinging horn is necessary.

In the Amberola the horn is turned back and then downward under the mechanism, the music coming out through the lattice-covered opening in the front of the cabinet. The Amberola is always ready for use. Place a record on the mandrel and start the motor. No other motions are needed.

The Amberola has a newly designed motor of much greater power than that in any other phonograph. It will play five Amberol Records with one winding. It also has an automatic stop and a combination starting lever and reproducer lift. The Amberola will play both Standard and (two-minute) and Amberola (four-minute) records. The new reproducer makes it easy to change from one to the other. This change is made without removing the reproducer from the arm. The Amberola will be wanted by every owner of any other kind of Edison

Phonographs and by those who have delayed getting a phonograph because they objected to the exposed horn. Simultaneously with the introduction of the Amberola, there has been put out a series of Grand Opera Amberol

Records made by such famous stars as Leo Slezak, Riccardo Martin, Florentino Constantino, Blanche Arndt, Adeline Angelini and others. Ask for a catalogue of Edison Grand Opera Records and get some of them to play on your Amberola.

MANY SEEKING FRANCHISE NOW

Hilo Has Several Ambitious Promoters of Street Car Lines.

(Special Bulletin Correspondence.)
HILO, March 6.—If there is today a man, woman or child in Hilo who is not seeking a street railway franchise from the legislature, such individual is a rarity worthy of preservation in the Bishop Museum.

The franchise craze has struck Hilo full tilt, and the good citizens are acting like the babies with the patent food; they simply must have it.

So far, to the writer's knowledge, there are three different sets of promoters in the field, and there is no telling how many more will join the merry race before the season is over.

The first real blow was struck by Editor Connors of the Herald, who, together with W. H. Johnson, the principal owner of that paper, is seeking a franchise for a railway, light and power company. The bill providing for such a franchise was introduced in the senate by Makekani last week.

It cannot be ascertained here what capital is behind this concern. Johnson stated, in answer to a question in this regard, that Connors had told him that there was plenty of capital, Honolulu and Hilo money both, behind the measure. He could not say who the capitalists in question were. However, he was ready in every respect to give full information about the terms of the franchise.

Lyman After Another.

Norman Lyman is another franchise seeker. He had the idea of seeking a franchise in his head for some time prior to the opening of the season, but had not intended to take any definite action towards getting his bill introduced until the news of the Connors-Johnson bill made him decide to get busy right away, and last week he went to Honolulu double quick to get his bill introduced.

The Lyman bill, according to the best information obtainable on the subject, proposes a street railway franchise only, and does not ask for the right to sell power and light. It asks to cover more ground than does the Connors-Johnson bill, particularly in the direction of Puna and Kaunama. It does not ask for tax exemption, but proposes to give a certain percentage of the gross earnings (probably 5 per cent) to the County. The company also binds itself to maintain arc lights on the corners of the streets of Hilo at its own cost. The life of the franchise will be 25 years, and it is stipulated that work must be begun within two years after Congress has approved of the franchise, and that the company must have in operation five miles of line within a year after work has been commenced. It is not known what capital there is behind Lyman, but it is stated that in case he cannot secure local capital he figures on securing funds from Chicago through his uncle from that city, who recently visited here.

Finally A. M. Cabrinha and his friends are after a franchise.

"The crowd which had introduced a bill for a franchise last Monday is not my crowd," said Cabrinha last week. "I have nothing to do with Connors and Johnson, and I know nothing of the franchise they are after. I have had absolutely nothing to do with them in regard to the proposition.

"Is it not true that you are trying to get a franchise, and that you intend to build a road, if you are successful in the legislature, through the means of Seattle capital?" Cabrinha was asked.

Cabrinha expressed his surprise that the writer should have obtained information in regard to his venture and the employment of capital from Seattle. He admitted frankly, however, that it was true that he was figuring on working with capital from the mainland, in case he secured a franchise.

"To tell you the truth, neither I nor my local associates have any more capital in the proposition than will be necessary for us to be officers of the corporation, though I will possess full power of attorney to act for the mainland capital which will represent. Our bill will be introduced in the House within a week, and then I shall be glad to let the public know all about it. I am seeking the franchise, and associated with me are a number of other Hilo men, that is, men from the Hilo district.

"The franchise which we are seeking in considerably more comprehensive than that which was asked for already. It is our intention to provide for a system which will give the development of the city, which is bound to come. Thus we plan to build a line as far as Honolulu gulch, and, furthermore, to have a branch of this line run up the Kaiwili road, a distance of about a mile and a half. This branch we plan to construct right away, in case we land the franchise, as there is a big population up the Kaiwili road, and a line reaching it would pay right from the start.

And many a poor but honest man is poor because he is honest.

HILO MILLING OVER FRANCHISE

(Special Bulletin Correspondence.)
HILO, March 6.—Resolved, that this meeting favors the granting of a street railway franchise for Hilo, provided the public interests are properly safeguarded. Further, that the legislature be requested to defer action on any bills that may be presented in respect to such franchise until the public of Hilo shall have had an opportunity to examine such bills.

The above is the text of a resolution which was adopted last Friday evening at a public meeting called by the Hilo Labor Union to discuss the matter of street railway franchises, which was precipitated by the introduction of the Connors-Johnson bill in the house last week.

Deputy County Attorney Heen, who is the alleged advisor of the Union, investigated the calling of the meeting. It was plain that he represented certain interests, and that he wanted to have passed a resolution, prepared in advance, expressing a public desire for a street railway, and ending right there. He would, however, not say in whose pay he was.

The meeting was well attended, but was not a public meeting in the real sense of the word, as only a few non-members of the Union attended. Among these were J. A. Scott, D. E. Metzger, Terry, Johnson, Pomeroy, Weight, McNeil, Porphyres, Vicars, Conrad and others. The outsiders were, however, treated with every courtesy, and were given every privilege in discussing the matter.

Oliva said he favored the granting of a franchise, and outlined the advantages of rapid transit. Paahao said the discussion was out of order, as the minutes of the previous Union meeting had not been read. He wanted the matter postponed. After some further talk a motion by Bohnerberg, that the discussion be proceeded with, carried.

W. H. Johnson said that he had had information from Honolulu, which made him believe that the bill which had already been introduced provided for five cent fares in a radius of two miles from the postoffice, with half fare for school children, and free trips for policemen, firemen and mail carriers in full uniform when on duty. He understood also that where the roads were less than 18 feet in width, the line must be built outside of the roadway. He thought it was a good proposition for Hilo. It would give much work, and would help to build up the city and the outlying districts.

Paahao recommended to defer action, as he did not think the Union should rush blindly into such an important matter. He suggested that Ewaliko and Heen be appointed a committee to obtain copies of all the bills relating to franchises, and that they lay them before another special meeting.

This did not suit Heen's book a bit, and he fought it strenuously. The meeting had been called, he said, not to discuss any particular bill, but to ascertain whether the public wanted rapid transit.

There was another bunch of discussion, when Ewaliko said that he was not opposed to rapid transit, but he was doubtful about endorsing a bill the contents of which he did not know, and he thought it would be better to defer action until more definite information had been obtained. It was foolish to be too hasty and endorse anything in the dark, and he did not want to lead the Union into error.

Terry wanted the meeting to discuss the bill relating to the minimum wage of road laborers, but it was decided that this was a matter for the Union, and not the general public, to discuss, and the meeting at last adjourned.

MEXICO IS ARENA FOR BOXERS NOW

According to a Los Angeles dispatch, Louis Blot, the visiting San Francisco promoter, has plowed up new ground in the Queensberry field. Permission to hold boxing bouts on Mexican soil has been granted the northern man. Tia Juana, the bleak little border town of bulling fame, is the site selected by Blot to hold finish contests, and his plans are to give but three or four battles a year, confining himself to world's championship events only.

"I hadn't intended to go before the public for a few weeks yet, but I guess there's no harm now in admitting the facts," says Blot in the dispatch quoted.

"I had a Wolgast-Moran contest in mind when I went to Mexico, but since landing the permit I have been figuring on both a Johnson-Kaufman and a Johnson-Langford match.

"With my permit in hand, my capital banked and my plans for a big arena perfected, I feel safe in saying that I can be ready to open in Tia Juana with a fight on July 4."

SCREEN MARKET IS NEW MANDATE

Health Board Takes Action On Inspection Trip Yesterday.

Yesterday was a day of action with the Territorial Board of Health, definite orders being decided upon for the screening of all stalls in the fishmarket, the filling of the four acres of cholera-infection source in the Kewalo district, the moving of the Iwilei dump and the request upon the county Board of Supervisors for the adoption of a poi ordinance that will assure the adequate protection of this important food from infection and the consequent spreading of disease.

This was the net result of the day's work, but the action in each case was taken only after careful consideration, a meeting of the health board being held in President Mott-Smith's office before the trip of inspection that resulted in the passing of the motions that carry out the plans of sanitation.

Those present at the meeting and the inspection trip were President Mott-Smith, Chief Sanitary Officer Pratt, Dr. Bobly, Dr. Baldwin, Attorney-General Lindsay, Dr. Marshall, U. S. M. H. S.; Mr. Charlock and D. Kalaoukalanui Sr.

Hobby for Screens.

At the meeting Dr. Holsby was one of the strongest advocates of screening the fishmarket.

"In my opinion," said Dr. Holsby, "the fishmarket at the present time is nothing less than a clearing house for cholera germs. It should be screened. To screen the market in its entirety simply and not the individual stalls would make a fly-trap out of it."

Dr. Baldwin declared that he considered the market in its present condition a constant menace to the health of the community, stating that while it had been cleaned thoroughly, the flies were a constant source of danger.

The defunct city and county ordinance was then read for information, and the members of the board agreed that the fishmarket must be screened immediately. Having decided that much, the board concluded that it was a good idea to be right on the ground, so automobiles were taken for what Dr. Holsby described as a "clearing-house for cholera germs."

A stop was made en route at some property belonging to the Kaplalani Estate on upper Fort street, on what is known as "Corkscrew Alley."

The property proved to be a cluster of ancient houses, without sewer connection, and in a generally bad and dilapidated condition.

After inspection, President Mott-Smith put the motion to the effect that the Kaplalani Estate be notified to make proper sanitary connections to the property or have the poverty-stricken tenants vacate immediately. The motion was carried unanimously, and the board then went to the fishmarket.

After an inspection that showed the flies covering meats and fish in clouds, the board gathered in one corner of the market and the motion was put and also carried unanimously, to the general effect that each stall must be screened within a period of ten days.

The decision to wipe out the Iwilei pineapple dump is based largely upon the recommendations of the Federal physicians, who declare it to be a menace.

The filling in of the four acres of cholera-form breeding ponds in Kewalo is considered absolutely essential, and if the owners are not able to do the work the Territory will undertake it.

The work of the board yesterday resulted in the formation of a definite and city-wide campaign and will be pressed vigorously.

According to a cable sent to the War Department from Manila February 1, 1911, by Governor-General Forbes of the Philippines, the eruption of the Taal volcano and the accompanying tidal wave killed 700 persons in the town of Talisay, Batangas Province. The War Department received a report from Delegate Apacible, representing Batangas in the Philippine Assembly, who says 5000 families have been ruined by the disaster.

The earthquake shocks have been slightly perceptible in Manila, Governor Forbes reports, but they have caused no damage. Since the first disturbance the seismograph of the Manila Observatory recorded the unprecedented number of 714 shocks up to 3:45 p. m., February 1. The Philippine authorities are face to face with the absolute necessity of adopting relief measures, as the falling mud and lava destroyed the crops within a considerable radius of the volcano. The Red Cross Society in the islands is taking steps to aid the sufferers. Prompt measures have been taken by Governor-General Forbes for the relief of the natives. Officers of the constabulary say that the eruption was violent and followed by a tidal wave affecting the shores of the lake. Doctors were sent to the scene of the disaster and the constabulary has maintained order. A joint committee of the Philippine Legislature has voted $2500 to aid the sufferers. The country around the lake is covered with mud and ashes. Governor-General Forbes said he had sent launches, a detachment of the army burial corps, and a detachment of the bureau of health and a supply of provisions. Colonel William C. Rivers, assistant chief of the constabulary, has been placed in charge of all relief work.

OFFER LANGFORD $5,000 TO FAKE

Deliberate charges that Al Kaufman wanted Sam Langford to lay down twice, once in Frisco and again in the proposed fight between the pair in this city some months ago, and that Langford left town because he felt he would be double-crossed, is the latest tale to see the light of day, says a Coast paper.

The sponsor for this story is none other than Bob Deady, at that time handling the lumbering Californian, Deady, bearing the reputation of a square sport and an honest man, became incensed when he heard that Kaufman was "knocking" him along the burlesque circuit.

The big chap is out with a burlesque company, and he has been making quite a reputation in one-word monologues. He could not keep his thoughts to himself, and in an unwise moment started the hammer work on his former manager.

Agreed to Go Along Easy. This tale brought to Bob did the trick. Another chapter is added to the ill-smelling stories of local fighting and fighters.

"Langford agreed to go along easily with Kaufman in that fight," said Deady today. "Al asked him to do so, and Sam agreed. Now, however, Sam got wise that Kaufman was going to double cross him and he jumped the town."

That's the whole story of that affair. Langford got all the panning, but Kaufman deserved some of it, too. "Kaufman offered Sam $5000 when Al was in Frisco if the black would let him go the limit. Joe Woodman was wise to it, but the first I knew of it was when Woodman came and put me on. Langford tipped his manager to this, Langford doing business with Kaufman direct and not through Joe as usual."

According to the pretty little scheme that Al had mapped out, Woodman and myself were not to be tipped, but Sam was to get the five thousand plunks, and both fellows were going to keep their mouths shut about the whole business.

That made me hot under the collar. I went right up to Mr. Kaufman and told him that if he didn't fight on the level I would chuck him overboard and then expose the whole rotten business. Then Kaufman wanted to double-cross Langford and slip one over, but I would not stand for it. Then he called the fight off, saying to me he would not try any such funny business as that again.

Wanted to Stay. "Then came the fight which was to be held in this city. Kaufman went through with a similar proposition to Sam, and they agreed to go through along with an easy affair, and Kaufman was to hand over a bunch of money to the backer for allowing him to stay."

I tipped Woodman before the fight was announced that Kaufman might try another piece of funny business, and while Joe and I watched him about every minute, he got the word through without our knowing it. In fact, it was a week after that I learned about it. Harry Edwards smelled a rat, too.

"He got all the bunch, Woodman, myself and the two fighters and referee, and told us that he had suspicions. He also said that if the fight looked the least bit off color he was going to have the third man in the ring stop the fight."

"Kaufman was willing. He had trained to the minute with the intention of putting over one on Sam and double-crossing him. Langford had not trained. He quit, jumped the town and took the whole blame; that was the whole inside of that matter."

"I've handled a lot of good men in my time, and that is the first time one of them tried to make me look crooked. Now let Kaufman deny that."

LOOKS GOOD FOR BIG ADVANCE IN PRICE

I have only a few thousand shares of Lakeview No. 2, and when that is sold, the price will doubtless advance to one dollar par. My price is still fifty cents. Don't get left. Do it now. J. OSWALD LUTTED, 1139 Fort St.

PLUMBING INSPECTOR DID PLENTY BUSINESS

Building and Plumbing Inspector Mielstein has reported to Mayor Joseph J. Fern that his department during the month of February received 65 plans, granted 65 permits, accepted 64 plans, made 123 inspections, looked over installation of 212 fixtures and received $108 in fees.

Michigan failed to connect with a football game with the Orange and Black, according to the schedule of Princeton, which has been made public. One thing can be said about the sons of Nassau. They have gathered about as classy a list of games as is possible to find in the East, and had Princeton garnered games with Penn and Michigan would have had the greatest list which any college compiled. The Red and Blue will have to hustle a bit if Penn wishes to compete with Yale, Harvard and Princeton.

SOCIETY BROWN AND TAN PARLOR COLORS

The millinery opening of the Milton and Parson's parlors in the Elbe building proved to be a point of much interest to quite a large number of ladies today. Shortly after the parlor doors were opened early this morning, the ladies began entering; admiration of the copies of the latest Paris styles led to many purchases, an indication that the Honolulu ladies find the selection of hats a most satisfactory one.

From the brown and tan tones of the distinctive color scheme of the window decoration of the parlors, the viewers' sense of sight is struck with the various colors of the present style of hat trimmings, as one enters. Within one finds that brown and tan has been used exclusively for the parlor furnishings, as well as for window decoration, and that it serves well to set off the more striking colors of the hats.

The new parlors are more like the better parlors of San Francisco after which it is patterned. The idea of "shop" is submerged by arrangement and decoration. The partition running through the parlor is of stenciled burlap in which the color tones of brown and tan are cleverly carried out as on the display tables and other furniture.

The turban style of hat is seemingly dominant, although large and small hats of several different shapes are evidences, that selections are not confined to any single style.

Friends of Mrs. Milton and Miss Parsons sent them a basket of violets, a vase of carnations and another of chrysanthemums this morning.

There will be music at the parlors this afternoon from 2 until 5 p. m.

Among the many brides and grooms who have found Honolulu an ideal "honeymoon land" this season were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Burnett of Los Angeles, who were passengers by the last Sierra. Their wedding took place a few weeks ago in Pomona, California. Dr. Robert J. Burdette, the famous writer-lecturer-clergyman, who visited Honolulu a year ago, performing the ceremony. Mrs. Burnett was, before her marriage, Miss Grace Shoemaker. Mr. Burnett, who is a cousin of Mrs. Sidney M. Ballou of Honolulu, is the manager of the outside operations of the Pacific Electric Railway of Los Angeles. While in Honolulu Mr. and Mrs. Burnett were guests at the Moana Hotel.

Mr. Fred C. Nash, manager of the Pasadena Grocery Company, was among those visiting Honolulu during the recent layover of the S. S. Sierra, and was so much pleased with Honolulu that he plans to have Mrs. Nash and a girl friend make the trip shortly after his return.

Mr. and Mrs. Harsha of Chicago are among the visitors to Honolulu this winter, and are guests at the Young. Mr. Harsha is here on a business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey and daughter of Seattle are among recent arrivals in Honolulu and are staying on Emma street.

Among the charming new service people who may be expected by the next transport are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sidney Hill of San Diego, who will be an acquisition to the younger set of Honolulu. Mrs. Hill has a charming voice, and for several years has been the leader of St. Paul's choir in San Diego. Mr. Hill has been head of the construction department at Fort Rosecrans for several years, and great regret is felt in the City of the Southern Bay at the departure of this popular young couple.

Cable News THE MEXICAN SITUATION

(Associated Press Cable.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 10.—It is rumored here that the real object of the American demonstration of armed force on the Mexican border is to show Mexico that the United States will not permit the granting on the part of Mexico of any naval station privileges on the Pacific Coast to any power other than America.

Japanese Are Meant.

CITY OF MEXICO, Mar. 10.—The rumor that it is the intention of Mexico to grant any concessions to the Japanese government in the way of privileges to establish a naval station in Lower California, or the privileges of transporting supplies over the Isthmian Railroad in time of war, is vigorously denied by Minister Croel of the Department of Foreign Affairs. The minister declares that the rumor, said to be in circulation in Washington and believed to be the reason for the mobilization of the American army, is without foundation.

Mexico Resents Interference.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 10.—That Mexico will resent the intervention of the United States, or any other country, in relation to the present revolution, on the plea that armed interference is necessary for the protection of the property or the persons of foreigners, is the statement plainly made tonight by Ambassador de la Barra of Mexico.

The envoy declares that Mexico herself is fully competent and willing to protect all interests within her boundaries, and neither desires nor will brook interference.

IS CONVICTED OF POSTOFFICE FRAUDS

SEATTLE, Mar. 10.—Hilman, who was under trial for postoffice frauds, was today convicted on thirteen counts in the indictment found against him.

A DAINTY TOILET ARTICLE.

Every lady who desires to keep up her attractive appearance, while at the theater, attending receptions, when shopping, while traveling and on all occasions should carry in her purse a booklet of GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL BEAUTY LEAVES. This is a dainty little booklet of exquisitely perfumed powdered leaves which are easily removed and applied to the skin. It is invaluable when the face becomes moist and flushed and is far superior to a powder puff as it does not spill and soil the clothes.

It removes dirt, soot and grease from the face, imparting a cool, delicate bloom to the complexion. Sent anywhere on receipt of Ten Cents in stamps or coin. F. T. HOPKINS, 37 Great Jones street, New York.

The Military Academy appropriation bill was favorably reported to the House.

SAYS DOG FACE EXPRESSES MOST

And She Painted Many Human Faces In Honolulu Too!

Mrs. Rosa Hooper, who, as Mrs. Plotner, came to Honolulu, painted many miniatures and portraits here and was prominent in many social events, has created a sensation in New York by declaring that a dog's face is more expressive than that of a human being. The New York Journal in its breezy little way has the following feature story, written by "Ethel Wrenn," on Mrs. Hooper:

"Don't think for an instant, my dears, that the aforesaid expression signifies the presence of the hydrophobia germ in my system, or that I am becoming a fit subject for an asylum. Nothing of the kind. That is simply dog language (I learned it at the show this week, for 'three cheers,' and the doggy cheers are for Mrs. Rosa Hooper.

"Mrs. Hooper is entitled today to many loud and vociferous 'woofs,' or cheers from the dog tribes, especially the ugly members, for in addition to being a wonderful painter of miniature portraits for the fair sex, she has recently announced her intention of devoting much of her work of putting 'man's most faithful companion' on the canvas.

"Listen to what she says about the ugly members of the dog family, and, incidentally, to her daring opinion of the handsome man.

Likes Ugly Dogs.

"I like dogs; especially ugly ones," she says. "I think the face of an ugly dog expresses a great deal more character than that of a handsome man."

"Shade of Beau Brummel what think ye of that?"

"The other day I saw the ugliest dog that, I think, was ever born. He was a bulldog, a blue ribbon winner and sold as a rock. But what a face. Great jaws and an under jaw that stuck out like the ram of a battleship; sharp, terrifying teeth that protruded from between his lips, with the tip end of a blood-red tongue wedged between them; and a contour of head that bespoke the brutal nature and viciousness of the fighting instinct within him.

"Yet, when the dog's master told me not to be afraid, as the dog was gentle, I patted the animal on the head, while chills of fear crept up and down my spine. But instead of the snarl and snap of teeth that I half feared, Mr. Bulldog snuggled his scarred head under the palm of my hand and tried to give my fingers an affectionate lick!

"When I visited Mrs. Hooper, in her apartment in this city, I told her of my experience.

"That's exactly what I refer to," she exclaimed. "You know the ugly bulldog can fight if he wants to, and that he has great strength and courage. Yet he is also the gentlest of dogs, and his face, I repeat, expresses much more character than that of the vain man, for all handsome men are vain, and also some that are not handsome."

Her Art Career.

"It was a new way to look at a dog, and also at a man, and although the comparison was somewhat startling, it was nevertheless interesting.

"Then Mrs. Hooper, who is a Western young woman, told me of the wonderful stag hounds that are on her mother's ranch in San Mateo, Cal.

"It was on my mother's ranch that I got to know and love dogs," she said.

"Tell me about yourself," I asked.

"When did you begin to study art?"

"When I was twenty years old," she answered, "and that was ten years ago. There were six children in our family, but I am the only one who turned to art. I surprised my father, Major William B. Hooper, of San Francisco, but when he found out that I was really in earnest he sent me to Dresden, where I studied under Otto Eckhardt.

Paints Many Dogs.

"Afterward I went to Paris and studied until I was ready to take commissions. On my return to my own country I won the prize at the Seattle exposition. I painted the only existing miniature of President McKinley, and I painted others for Mrs. Collis P. Huntington and Mrs. Henry Huntington. I also made miniatures of Mrs. George Polk and her daughter.

"But tell me," I interrupted, "how did you come to take up the painting of dogs in miniature?"

"Well, it started with those stag hounds on my mother's ranch that I told you about," said Mrs. Hooper. "They were such beautiful animals that purely for my own amusement I made a miniature of one of them. This gave the idea that those with pet dogs would like to have portraits of them, and so I started.

"I have painted Mrs. Pat Campbell's pet dog and other famous animals and have orders for many more.

"So doggies all, especially you ugly fellows, lift your muzzles and howl forth a cheer for Mrs. Rosa Hooper, your champion.

"Woof! Woof!"

The man who pays the piper never realizes how much he has danced.
