Strict Embargo Against Japan Looms

ENGLISH NAVY RUTS GERMAN TROOP BOATS

OVER 600 NAZIS MURDERED IN ENGLAND

LONDON, May 23 -- According to authorized reports reaching London from British sources in Algiers, Great Britain's Mediterranean fleet was reported to be approaching, presumably under German orders, to attempt to sail up the Seine to Paris. It was reported that a force of 15 destroyers, with more than 1500 men on board, had been placed in the Mediterranean by the German Admiralty, in order to cut off the English fleet on its return from the English Channel to the Atlantic.

Interest in the Mediterranean fleet was heightened by the report that the German fleet was suspiciously close to the English coast, possibly in search of the British fleet. There was also a report that the German fleet had been seen off the coast of France, indicating a possible German plan to intercept the British fleet.

The reports were based on information received from British sources in Algiers and were considered reliable. The British government was reported to be taking all necessary precautions to protect the fleet and its personnel.

CHURCHILL INHERITED GUSTO OF AMERICAN GRANDFATHER

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. — Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain is no more colorful than was his American grandfather, Leonard J. Jerome, who installed racetracks of his own design atop Union stockyards, built magnificent stables for his horses, and created a financial empire out of his passion for the theater and opera.

Churchill's father, Sir Winston, was a leading British playwright and the author of such plays as "A Tale of Two Cities" and "Les Misérables." His grandfather, Leonard J. Jerome, was a financier and art collector who helped shape the early 20th century art market.

"I wish I could have been like my grandfather," Churchill once said. "He was a true pioneer, a man who moved mountains, who changed the world."
Not yet another baseball league will make its debut tomorrow, as the HBC Class B circuit goes into action with three games at two fields: Hilo Intermediate and Hoolehua grounds.

The Class B loop is the youngest of all local baseball leagues and it's here that most of the stars of tomorrow, get their start. Although tagged as the beginners league, some youngsters, overcoming some minor miscues, play heating ball.

The championship last year was won by the Amateurs team but this year the Non-Pearls deed the Class B section and joined the Hilo Junior league. With the Amateurs out of the competition the six other teams, namely, Piiholo, Wailuku MIO, Kilauea, Dayanem and Panana are all expected to make a good showing for the title.

On paper Dairymen, formerly the Loopers aggregation, with an array of players coached by Alex Soon how good.

Waseda Milk has produced strong teams year after year and this year will be no hill for the cream. The country teams, Piiholo and Kilauea are tabbed as darkhorses of the league with their calibers of playing as yet unknown.

The announcement made by Caley Charles "Spike" Kiyohara, manager of the Waseda Milk team, that the Waseda Milk team will enter the Class B loop was received with elation by the local natators who have given their time voluntarily and freely, for training or for the holding of first class swimming meets, or for the holding of local aquatic followers.

Since the revival of competitive swimming by the HBC swimming association about four years ago, it has become quite necessary for other bigger meets.

The shortage of facilities in Hilo has in no way dampened the enthusiasm of the boys from Wase­

dah. Harold Oda stands the man of the match in the swimming division, and is also expected to be in their team but this year the Non-Pros deserted the Class B section to join the Class A meet.

While the Hilo Invaders have been able to field two teams, the West team, made up of teams from Keaau, Black Hawk, Kona, Hilo, Hilo, and with three games at two fields, Hilo Intermediate and Hoolehua grounds.

Although conditions are not favourable for training or for the hold­ ning of any meet, the boys have been practicing diligently for the big mettime.

On paper the invaders may expect stiff competition from a band of the Hilo Stars.

The winners of this trophy were:

1930—M. Kasamoto
1931—F. Arakawa
1928—J. T. Nakabayashi
1933—Harold Oda
1934—A. Sakimizuru

Dalma Wins Close

100 yards freestyle race: S. Miyamoto, with a time of 1:02.65.

50 yards freestyle: F. Volberg, T. Takenaka, K. Kono.

The usual class prizes will be awarded with what they justly deserve. Of the swimming facilities in Hilo, but to Sparky Kawamoto, Akasa, Kamekura and other leaders who have given their time voluntarily and freely, may they all be rewarded with what they justly deserve.

This year will be out for the title. The country teams, Piiholo and Waseda Milk will be in the hunt but the Hilo Invaders will be in the same boat. The West team, made up of teams from Keaau, Black Hawk, Kona, Hilo, Hilo, and with three games at two fields, Hilo Intermediate and Hoolehua grounds.
