

WHEN THE British freeze Japanese credits

LOCAL FREEZE PROBLEM NOW BEING FACED

POSTMASTER GENERAL INTERVIEWED BY MAINICHU REPORTER

The freeze of Japanese government credits by the U.S. government has been of concern to the American people. The freeze is expected to have a significant impact on both the Japanese and American economies. The freeze could potentially disrupt trade relations and could lead to an economic crisis in Japan.

OLOA BOY SCOUTS AND GIRLS SCOUTS

The Boy Scouts and Girls Scouts of Oloa Districts have been active in community service. They have been involved in various projects, including environmental conservation and community outreach.

ROBERT CLARKE OF THE Hilo Post No. 1 was unanimously elected for the position of Commander of the Department of Hawaii for the 22nd annual convention.

Japanese in Continuous Trade Growth

The trade volume between Japan and other countries continues to grow. Despite the freeze in Japanese credits, Japanese companies are still able to maintain their trade with other nations. The growth in trade indicates the importance of maintaining trade relations.

Linguists are seeking to teach foreign languages in schools in order that the young may be prepared for international relations. The teaching of foreign languages is used extensively in the Pacific area, and it is advisable to turn over their holding to Indo-China.

It scarcely needs reiteration there exists a common basis for the maintenance of peace and friendship with the United States and Canada. Japan is bound by very close friendship as their connecting line.

The American government has not unduly hampered them. The United States and Canada are the best customers of Japan, it was said, of "unlimited opportunity." But it has been receiving demands that the United States and Canada demand have been issued from Washington tomorrow, it being declared that the United States and Canada demand have been issued from Washington.

The Japanese agreement for the purpose of the French-Indo-China occupation of French Indo-China will not transfer large forces to Indo-China. The occupation of French Indo-China is the first step toward the promotion of Japanese economic and political influence.

For Instructions

TOKYO, July 26 — In order by President Roosevelt's executive order, the following freezing some assets in the United States.

WASHINGTON, July 25 — In an order by President Roosevelt tonight simultaneously here and at Hyde Park, all Japanese credits in the United States were declared frozen tonight.

The freeze of all of China's funds in the United States was granted by President Roosevelt, under the terms of the recently issued freezing orders. The purpose of the freezing is to prevent the misuse of assets which may have come under Chinese control during the past few years and which may be used to promote Japanese expansion.

Honolulu To Welcome Six Treasury Officials

Honolulu is expected to welcome six Treasury officials from the United States, who will visit for the purpose of discussing economic aspects.

Bertov suggested that the economic policy of the United States and Canada be directed toward the preservation of the international situation. Bertov suggested that the economic policy of the United States and Canada be directed toward the preservation of the international situation.
One morning, Mrs. Rebecca (Bob) Schreiber, a famed murderess, awoke to find her husband dead in bed. Mrs. Schreiber was in California, 760 miles away, and her husband was 25 miles away in Illinois. The phone call was relayed by the telephone company, and Mrs. Schreiber was informed of her husband's death. A witness, who had seen the body, stated that Mrs. Schreiber had been in the house at the time of the murder. A medical examiner ruled that Mrs. Schreiber had been the victim of a heart attack.
