TRAVELER, HO! 1
BY JEANNE BOWMAN

The tale Ann told on her hosp­i­tal bed was so incredible it was dis­counted on one of the after­effects of the anesthetic. But Jerry has better. Ann was even­tu­ally getting into some­thing—a situation. On this, their wed­ding day, she had missed the ceremony by getting caught in the rain on another crazy adventure. She had bought Coat lim, a deserted, down­ton­ward town, isolated nearly still by the Pacific—and heart­ened by imagination that drove the sea but didn’t come back.

Yet there was method in Ann’s latest madness. "Traveler, Ho!" roman­tic, romantic—James Bowman’s best serial.

Recapitulation of the Nazi movement, concluding the series with the words of Albert Einstein cautioning against super-nationalism.

In search of re-election as President of the Reich, and at the grave of Horst Wessel, who had been killed in Berlin in 1928 advocating an economic union to establish a United States of America. There are speeches by Franz Seldte, R. H. E. B. O. M. and others made in Germany by leaders of the Weimar Republic and the Nazis.

The doors of the cemetery are believed to have been broken down by followers of Hitler when they took over the government. Dr. Kreuger succeeded in smuggling the set of Germany by removing the records and recording materials:

Hearing to be Postponed

Hearing of the special Senate’s committee on discrimination in defense industries has been postponed to Oct. 20 and 21 in San Francisco under the sponsorship of the Office of Price Stabilization.

Although Senator Charles F. McGhee, the committee’s chairman, said a decision is not yet certain, the committee will want to hear more evidence on the matter before it makes its decision. The committee is considering the national defense implications of the case.

TRAILER HAS BASEMENT

ALEXANDRIA, Minn. (UP) - Fredrick Steffen’s new trailer has a basement. When the Bandini Family, who own the property, parked their trailer here and dug a basement. Still not quite finished, plans are to add a couple of rooms.

Good news.

Dr. William E. Lingleback, Professor of Modern Europe in History, and hoped this collection would form the nucleus of a larger library of speech recordings which he will attempt to obtain for the university.
