CLOSURE OPPOSED AND PROTESTED BY PEOPLE MARCHED

TOKYO, Nov. 19—Premier Tojo, in a statement closing ceremony of the extramural conference of the and the Special Conference of the National Traders, expressed concern about the treatment of both issues by their deputies as having fulfilled their national faith in the upholding of the national polity.

Despite the shortness of the meet, the Prime Minister has proposed a national holiday as the most effective means to bring about a national-mindedness.

The Prime Minister is now considering the possibility of promoting the involvement of the national polity.

Five Sino Delegates To Confab in Tokyo

KANAYAMA, Nov. 21 — It was announced yesterday evening that five Sino delegates will be dispatched to the “East Asia Development Congress” at Shanghai by the next train. The conference will be held on Sunday, November 30th to Tuesday, December 2nd.

The delegation will include Chen Chuan, managing director for China’s National Action League, and Chiang Ching-kuo, president of the Chinese People’s Political Consultative Conference.

BIBLIOGRAPHY OF JAPANESE MATTERS IS SOUGHT BY JACL

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19—With the purpose of compiling a bibliography of Japanese matters in English, the JACL in every chapter of the national body of the Japanese American Citizens League was solicited to send in the catalog of books in Japanese concerning the study of such matters.

The completed bibliography will be published in 1944 as a long-awaited second edition of the JACL’s 1938 catalog of books.

The comprehensive being compiled by the JACL and many other organizations will be available to all American citizens.

10:00 DECREASE IN JAPANESE SKOOLS NOTED

A 10:00 decrease in the number of Japanese schools attended by children in the Territory was reported by the Department of Education for this year as well.

Since last year’s figure of 10,000, the total of schools, classes, and pupils has decreased to 1,000. The number of pupils in the old schools that are in session has also decreased.

Two schools closed their doors during this fall and they are nowclosing their doors.

The decrease in the number of Japanese schools is due to financial difficulties and the number of young people has also decreased in Japanese schools as well.

Noriyuki Hayashi, the JACL’s leader, displayed his determination to continue his efforts in this direction.

ADVANCED UNIVERSITY STUDY FOR JAPANESE STUDENTS

JAPAN—Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr. of New York, a member of the Board of Trustees of Princeton University, has recently indicated his intention to advance university study for Japanese students.

A committee of experts has been formed to discuss the feasibility of this plan.

The committee will consider the possibilities of establishing such a plan and report on its findings to the Board of Trustees.

THE DEDICATION OF THE NEW TRADE SCHOOL

The dedication of the new trade school in Hilo marks a new phase of educational advancement in the area. The new school, which was previously a small training facility, has been finally completed. We express our profound gratitude to all the members and others who made it possible. But we must not forget the funds for the modernization of the school, which was provided by the city, whose financial help will largely depend on the success of the institution in the future. We, therefore, sincerely hope that the effort which is being made will make a good showing and receive a full support of our community.

On the occasion of the cornerstone dedication ceremony, Senator V. A. Caravello skillfully listened: “The success of the new trade school is going to depend largely upon the enthusiasm and persistence you people are going to put into your work, coupled with the patriotism and the financial assistance which will be provided by the taxpayers of this area. The taxpayers of this area are going to have to be kept informed about the progress of the school and to see that it is properly financed.”

The school which is being built is designed for the training of skilled artisans in hand and brain. But a training for self-respecting individuals with intelligence and culture, is desired. Such a school shall not be mere apprenticeship, but a method of obtaining a genuine culture, which could reflect upon the community.

We are happy to announce that the training of the new Hilo trade school is a step forward towards that end.

THE HOUSE OF HAZARDS

—by Mae Arthur

“WE’RE IN THIS FIGHT TO THE Finish,” said Ann, filling a tube of Hungary’s famous “Red Pill.” The two women were poised on the balcony of their Fifth Avenue hotel. Ann was dressed in a spare, tailored suit; Hungary, in a flowing white robe. They were drinking tea, cigarettes in hand.

“Ann, you never know when you might need a Red Pill,” Hungary said, with a smile. “They’re great for a quick pick-me-up.”

Ann snorted. “I prefer my coffee, thank you.”

“Coffee? That’s for the gullible,” Hungary said. “Red Pills are the real thing.”

Ann laughed. “Maybe so, but I don’t want my blood sugar skyrocketing.”

“Red Pills don’t do that,” Hungary said. “They’re just a natural way to boost your energy.”

Ann sighed. “I guess you’re right.”

“I’m always right,” Hungary said, with a wink.

They paused for a moment, savoring the moment.

“I was telling you earlier about my trip to Europe,” Hungary said. “It was amazing. I saw so many interesting things.”

Ann nodded. “Yes, I’m sure it was. I wish I could have gone with you.”

“Next time,” Hungary said. “We’ll go together.”

Ann smiled. “That would be great.”

They finished their tea and cigarettes, and Hungary left to attend to her patients. Ann remained on the balcony, lost in thought.

“Red Pills,” she thought to herself. “I wonder if they’re as good as they say.”

She reached for a Red Pill, and popped it into her mouth. She felt an immediate burst of energy.

“I’ll have to try them again,” she thought. “They really do work.”

She smiled, and headed back inside.

The Honolulu professional ring’s present-day most formidable fighter is without question of a doubt Yoshibo Yatsuyama, the Japanese knockout artist. Yoshiba has knocked out ten consecutive opponents, Gene Espinosa, two weeks ago has already been working to prepare for such a big game in 1943.

If Espinosa is successful, it will be a double main event which very likely be held against either Gris Crispin or Adolph Samuels. If present plans materialize, a double main event will very likely be held at the University of Hawaii.

President Ford Price announced yesterday that the Next place is held by Clark Webber, was a staunch booster of this game personally. Grayson, since being a guest at the University of Hawaii, received a wire from Grayson asking for his presence at the game.

Grayson’s proposal was accepted, and Searle’s reply.

The second score came in the first half of the game, and once in a play off 6-6.

This game will be played under the new setup. He will be represented by the Wreckers of both clubs. Clarence Wilson and Zuppke are represented. Wilson was told to take a second period when halfback Shiigi passed to Hoxie Nagami who caught the ball, bringing it to their 10-yard line. Hoxie Nagami ran the ball to the 5-yard line where he was brought down by the back, dusk and two ends.

Defensive pressure brought the ball back to the 1-yard line when they kicked the ball. Shiigi was good making the score 10-0.

The second half of the game was played in a stand still twice, once in the third period when they kicked the ball away from the stage for a tally when he picked up the ball.

The visitors from the University of Illinois hold the record of 14-10-3 at the University of Hawaii in a season.
