AIR OF RESUMPTION OF U. S.-JAPAN TALKS TODAY
Noted After Four-Day Lapse: FDR to Warm Springs

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 — It was announced last night (Nov. 25) that war-time relations between the United States and Japan are being resumed after a four-day lull.

It was revealed that the abrupt change was not a result of any innovation in the war-time relations between the two nations. The change was made to meet the needs of the nation.

The change was made in the interests of the nation.

The change was made to meet the needs of the nation.

The change was made to meet the needs of the nation.

The change was made to meet the needs of the nation.

CONVERSATION

(DON ROBINSON, 10)

TODAY and TOMORROW

No matter how much we argue, no one's getting anywhere. That's the way it is. Freedom of the seas, says the President. "And why not?" asks the President's Secretary. "Freedom of the seas, says the President. "And why not?" asks the President's Secretary. "Freedom of the seas, says the President. "And why not?" asks the President's Secretary. "Freedom of the seas, says the President. "And why not?" asks the President's Secretary. "Freedom of the seas, says the President. "And why not?" asks the President's Secretary.
