C.N.M.I. RESIDENTS were alerted yesterday for possible tsunami following the monitoring of underwater volcanic activity not far from the Northern Mariana Islands.

Gov. Froilan C. Tenorio issued a tsunami alert late afternoon, warning residents to evacuate to higher grounds in case of tsunami occurrence.

The alert, according to the Governor's Public Information Officer, Bruce Lloyd, was indefinite.

The underwater volcanic activities were detected about 25 to 30 miles northwest of Saipan.

The bulletin from the Governor's Office's Emergency Operations, issued in coordination with the Joint Tsunami Warning Center for the CNMI, warned residents that tsunami could hit Saipan and Tinian.

Residents in low-lying and coastal areas were advised to evacuate if they felt any earthquake which most probably had been caused by the underwater volcanic eruption, according to the bulletin.

San Roque residents were advised to evacuate to As Matuis/Marpi area; Tanapag and Sadel residents to Capitol Hill; Garapan residents to Navy Hill or Upper Guo Lai; Chalan Lauau and San Jose residents to As Terlaje; Susupe and Chalan Kana residents to As Lito; Chalan Pago residents to Redondo Heights; and Lauau Bay/Baech residents to San Vicente.

In Tinian, San Jose residents were advised to evacuate to Mar-Maro Heights or Caroline Hills.

In Rota, Songon Village residents were advised to evacuate to Taimama' Area and Teneto Village residents to Cal'an area near the CUC water tank.

The alert was provided by the Joint Tsunami Warning Center for the CNMI, which receives data from a number of government agencies and international organizations.

The Joint Tsunami Warning Center is a network of systems and resources that provide early warning of tsunamis generated by earthquakes and volcanic eruptions.

The joint tsunami warning center is a comprehensive system that includes a variety of technologies and networks, including satellites, buoys, and seismic detectors.

The system is designed to provide early warning of tsunamis to coastal communities and to allow for timely evacuation and mitigation measures.

Vigurie has close ties to seniors' groups

WASHINGTON - The House to reform Medicare still has to go on an arduous trek, but it's already clear what one of the biggest winners will be: Richard Vigurie, the conservative king of the political mail industry.

Three groups founded by Vigurie - the Seniors Coalition, the Coalition to Save Medicare and the Seniors Association - have been leading the fight for just such reforms. The Coalition to Save Medicare was launched in July and in August it launched a $10 million ad campaign to support the health care reform plan.

But Vigurie's groups have also been key to the Democrats' efforts to battle the Republican's health care proposals. According to direct-mail experts, this means that calls for AT A's "re-education" program are coming from Vigurie's mail industry.

Although the Senate Committee is no longer associated with Vigurie, having been torn to bits with him in July, the other two groups remain dependent on Vigurie's mail industry. United Seniors Alliance, for example, started a contract with Vigurie's firm in June and the Coalition to Save Medicare is still using Vigurie's firm.

Theodore D. Vigurie, vice president of the 60-Plus Association, for example, signed a deal with Vigurie's firm, direct mail firm, American Target Advertising, that calls for AT A to be used to deliver mail. Vigurie's groups also used AT A to deliver mail.

Torres seeks AGO probe on alleged gasoline price fixing

By Russell T. Torres

GUARANTEE 4145-10908

Torres has asked the Attorney General's Office to investigate the high level of gasoline prices in the CNMI into whether gas suppliers are engaging in any form of price fixing.

In a letter to Bill Ohle, attorney general, and former counsel under the AGO, Torres said he believes price fixing is occurring at Saipan gasoline stations, evidenced by the combination of prices charged by the two major gasoline suppliers.

"Evidence of price fixing between Mobil and Shell is apparent, as when one station goes up in price of gas per gallon, the other does not at the same rate. The same thing, as does the other at the same rate," said Torres.

Armand B. Mendiola Jr.

Mobil and Shell are the two major gasoline suppliers in the CNMI, with Mobil having approximately 60% market share and Shell having approximately 40%

Torres said he believes the two stations are not engaging in any form of competition among each other.

"Most recently, I have noticed Mobil charging $1.25 per gallon and Shell charging approximately .92 cents per gallon. It appears that Mobil is raising its price more than the other," said Torres.

Clinton meets with Balkan leaders

By Harry Schmick, the Asociated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Clinton welcomed to the Oval Office Thursday morning the leaders of the former Yugoslavia, who were meeting with him for the first time in Washington since the Bosnian peace talks opened in 1995.

The leaders of Croatia, Slovenia and Macedonia have been urging their government to accept the Dayton peace accord and to drop plans to hold military exercises in the former Yugoslavia.

The Bosnian peace talks opened in December 1995 and ended in December 1996 with the signing of the Dayton peace agreement.

The agreement called for the creation of a new state, the Federal Republic of Yugoslavia, consisting of the six constituent republics of the former Yugoslavia: Serbia, Montenegro, Croatia, Slovenia, Bosnia-Herzegovina and Macedonia.

The agreement also called for the establishment of a international community force to monitor the peace agreement and to ensure the implementation of the agreement.

"We hope France will respect the wishes of the Chinese people," he said, adding that China has no intention of changing its policy on arms sales to Taiwan.

TOKYO (AP) - Japan, Vietnam agree to action and Development, aims taxation on income and investment for Economic Cooperation Tuesday.

A JAPANESE fishing company had been fishing illegally in the country's territorial waters, according to officials from the Honiara government, and agreed to exchange tax information on nationals of the other country in an effort to pre­vent double taxation, Japan's Ministry of Finance announced Tuesday.

The agreement, based on guidelines from the Organiza­tion for Economic Coopera­tion and Develop­ment, aims to relieve the burden of double taxation on the incomes of one country in the other by central banks during Asian trading, traders said. The dollar at 9 a.m. (0000 GMT) was weaker than at 10.30 a.m. (0000 GMT), a rate that is lower than in Japanese tax laws.

The Tokyo Stock Price In­dex of all issues listed on the first section was down 4.66 points, or 0.14 percent, to 3,434.41. The TOPIX lost 6.9 points, or 0.44 percent, to 1,431.57 the day before.

Prices slipped as players stepped out to the sidelines in the absence of fresh market-moving news, traders said.

As of 9 a.m. (0000 GMT), the Nikkei Stock Average was up 29.40 points, or 0.6 percent, to 17,984.85 in the early session. The Monday-the-day-before index stood at 17,955.47, or 0.36 percent lower than at 10.30 a.m. (0000 GMT), a rate that is lower than in Japanese tax laws.

On the black market, the 225-issue Nikkei Stock Average slipped 29.40 points, or 0.6 percent, to 17,955.47 in the first 10 minutes of trading Tuesday, the Ministry of Finance said.

Vent double taxation, Japan's Ministry of Finance announced Tuesday.

The deal will result in the initial production of about 100,000 cars a year, with an ultimate production goal of about 300,000 a year, according to The Seattle Times.

The deal is expected to be made official this week, bring­ing the concerns, they said.

The Tokyo Stock Price In­dex of all issues listed on the first section was down 4.66 points, or 0.14 percent, to 3,434.41. The TOPIX lost 6.29 points, or 0.44 percent, to 1,431.57 the day before.

Thump injury sidelines Shaq

ORLANDO, Florida (AP) - Shaquille O'Neal could be out at least a month after breaking a finger in his right hand during Tuesday night's NBA exhibition between the Orlando Magic and Miami Heat.

O'Neal 's the game, and the team will evaluate further Wednesday.

As angry O'Neal said he was injured when he got tangled up under the basket with Miami's Matt Geiger on a play, and he was called for traveling. The All-Star center walked away, flexing his hand, but played the next 1:27 before leaving for the locker room.

"Geiger" chopped me, hit me like all these guys do," O'Neal said. "Now the doctors tell me I've got to sit out four or five weeks. I'm mad about this. It shouldn't take someone getting hurt for people to stop chopping me."

Geiger called the play "normal stuff."

Earlier, O'Neal took a hard foul from Miami's Stacey King and shouldered the All-Star forward in front of a packed Tropicana Arena.

"I'm not happy," O'Neal said. "Now, I've got to sit out for the next month."
