PHORCED PHORACING

Successful Raids by General Scissors.

The most expensive Legislature in the world is that of France, which costs annually £720,000. The Italian Parliament costs £86,000 a year.

All the Chinamen in the United States came from one of the eighteen provinces of the Celestial Empire—most of them from one corner of that province.

Assuming the working age to be from twenty to sixty years, and counting only male workers, 440 persons in this country live on the labor of every 100 workers.

The Russian city of Baku, on the western coast of the Caspian Sea, is called by the natives the "town of fire." It is the greatest petroleum center in the world. The site upon which it is built—as, indeed, the whole Caspian Sea—rests upon naphtha.

Edinburgh has 20,000 cows, while Dublin comes next with 11,000, and London stands third with a population of 8,000.

Ostrich eggs weigh 3lb or 3½lb, and, though rather strong when boiled, make an excellent omelette—for a large family.

The greatest depth in the Atlantic has been found about 100 miles north of the island of St. Thomas, where soundings of 3,875 fathoms were obtained.

Country roads in China are never bounded by fences, but are entirely undefined. While the farmer has a right to plough up any road passing through his farm, drivers of vehicles have an equal right—and they exercise it—to traverse any part of the country at large.

A foreign correspondent calls attention to the statistics of suicides in the German army as illustrating more vividly than words could the intolerable horrors of the iron discipline of German militarism.

Street-cars conductors in Berlin have to work long for very little money. They are on duty 18 hours a day, and their daily pay is about 2s 8d.

The Sultan of Turkey has 300 wives; the King of Dahomey, 250; the Shah of Persia, 400; the King of Siam, 600; the King of Ashantee, 3,000; and the Emperor of Morocco about 6,000.

Australia first exported wool to England in 1811. The amount was 167lb. Now it is a good deal over 3,000,000lb yearly, worth more than £11,000,000.

The greatest depth of ocean yet sounded is 4655 fathoms off the north-east coast of Japan. One of 4,575 has been taken south of the Madrones in the Pacific.

Banana juice is said to make an admirable indelible ink, in the case of fruit thoroughly decayed of a bright carmine colour.

Appendicitis, the medical term for inflammation of a small intestinal appendix, the use of which no one has been able to discover, has become so common that physicians are advocating its removal from all infants as a preventative measure, like vaccination.

A dogs' tailor flourishes in Paris. This tailor is a woman, and in her reception rooms Prince Bow-wow has rugs, water bowls, and biscuit jars to refresh him during his trying on processes. Here are the daintiest water-colour books to choose from, and anything from seal-skin to chamois is provided.

PROGRESS.

The Life of the Land is Established in Righteousness.

HONOLULU, JAN. 13, 1894.

A CRY FOR HELP.

Wanted an Able, Industrious Lobbyist.

The Star is again the object of our most sincere sympathy. We can hardly restrain our tears when we listen to the pitiful whine which goes forth from its columns, because the Royalists have a "strong lobby" in Washington, and the P. G. in spite of its numerous ambassadors have nobody who can take up the fight for the Hawaiian oligarchy—beg pardon democracy as the paper calls our present regime. It is of course of no use for us to proclaim that Messrs. Parker and Peterson, whose intentions we happen to be in a position to know, have only gone to San Francisco and that the sole object of their journey was to endeavor to make certain negotiations which finally would help to entirely extricate Mr. Parker from his financial difficulties. If they succeed both gentlemen will return to Honolulu on the 27th inst. per steamer Australia. Mr. E. C. Macfarlane went to San Francisco, because his physician strongly advised him to go, he having been suffering from a very severe attack of asthma, and la grippe and it has been ascertained before that a change of climate is the best remedy to relieve his suffering. Mr. Macfarlane's poor health would simply prevent him from the exposure connected with a journey across the American continent at this time of the year. Mr. Ashford finally went to San Francisco on certain legal business which could not very well be transacted through letters and he will return by the China due here on Feb. the 7th. Of course the Star is in a very pessimistic mood at present and we don't expect that the soothing syrup which we have endeavored to administer will have any effect whatsoever. The medicine which the ambitious Star editor desires is outlined by the following "warning" editorial: "If there was ever the need of able experienced industrious politicians at Washington in behalf of the Hawaiian democracy that needs exists now in a supreme degree."

And Christian brethren do you realize who the especially able, experienced and industrious politician is whom the editor of the Star has in view? It is the, not-to-be, Councillor Walter G. Smith of Cornell, Tompkins County, Ithaca, San Francisco, Lower California, and Honolulu. Of course we all know that the ambitious gentleman was not in the country when the revolution took place—but what of it? He has gathered so much information from Dr. McGrew and Mr. Emmeluth, and the shopkeepers, and item makers around town that he actually imagines that he was here himself, and feels perfectly competent to tell the Senate all about it. Let us hope that the Provisional Government will see its way to send Mr. Smith as envoy (very) extraordinary to Washington, and we predict that his "enemies" in the San Francisco Examiner or in the Rochester Advertiser will die with envy especially when he shows himself in all the splendor which a Hawaiian diplomatic uniform will cast over his rotund form. How refreshing to learn from the editor that the regular representative of the P. G. Mr. L. A. Thurston will hardly be permitted by his private business to stay in the American capital. Ye Gods and very small fishes! and to that man the taxpayers pay $6000 a year besides incidentals and travelling expenses both ways. Mr. Hastings who was shipped to Washington, because he was supposed at one time to have mixed drinks with some senator or politician is passed by as being of no use whatever. Poor Alexander who has been lying himself black in the face to serve the desperate cause of the P. G. is told that he neither by nature or inclination is a worker in the lobby, and therefore cannot be depended on while the genial Popcorn who went over to impeach Cleveland has only reached Boston at which place he was taken with cramps and lost all ambition to tell Gresham about Bunker Hill or Cleveland about the choice of Jones of "either liberty or death."

The only hope left is the virtuous and honest Colonel Spalding, but, says the Star, what the dence can he do against the sugar trust? We might tell the Smith come-lately that the peculiar financial tactics of Colonel Zacharias are just such as might gain him, the confidence of the sugar trust, but if that combination leave their safes open, we doubt very much that the gallant colonel will lose much time in fighting them, but rather adopt his old methods and get one more mamahi plantation. As a matter of fact has it ever occurred to the able, experienced and industrious politician who is endorsed by the Star quartette of directors that both the "powerful lobby" of loyalists as well as Mr. Thurston and the able etc. politician to be sent to Washington would arrive there more than one day behind the fair. Our impression—and the Star knows that Sereno Bishop says that we are remarkably well informed—is, that the Hawaiian question is a thing of the past as far as Congress is concerned. The Democratic party votes in the House of Representatives, we predict were solid as usual and endorsed President Cleveland—as usual. We also dare to prophecy that by this time the mind of the American people and the columns of the American press are overful with the tariff and nothing but the tariff. The Hawaiian question has done very well as a cause on which the Republican party could make an attack on the Democrats, but, after all, the question was too unimportant to make it a ground for a decisive battle. The Hawaiian skirmish is over. The Republican either retreated or were routed after having fired out their guns, and let loose their steam; the real battle will take place on a different ground and that will be the tariff—a question which raises numerous points of vital interest to the American nation as a whole. But, if our predictions turn out rightly, or wrongly, we believe, it the duty of the P. G. not to neglect any opportunity, and by shipping Mr. Walter G. Smith to Washington and let him down easy in the role of a special commissioner the powers that be will make a great political stroke and relieve themselves (and Emmeluth) of much present annoyance and much future trouble.

Plantation Labor.

The "Advertiser" is now booming a scheme of flooding the country with the Chinese as laborers. That was of course what could be expected from the organ of the family compact. The check which Asiatic immigration received in 1890 from the National Reform Party had to be swallowed by the missionary clique, but they have constantly been using their brains to devise means which again would enable them to run their sugar plantations on starvation rates for their laborers and assist them in running out of the country every white mechanic and bread earner who neither would, nor could, submit to the rates of living—or rather dying—which competition with the Chinese cheap labor would bring about.

The Advertiser prates about the free labor which Hawaii could obtain if the American flag waved from Hawaii to Niihau. Nonsense neighbor, you don't want free labor in Hawaii nei, who will dare come forward and tell us that the field-labor on our sugar plantation is fit for men of the Anglo Saxon race? Who dares to propose to offer to free Americans the chance to Slave under our broiling sun and perform the work which is done by Chinese, whose nature and constitutions adapt them for it and to whom the stern and hard necessity of entering, from their birth, the battle, in which the fittest survives, is the hard and unmerciful taskmaster and trainer? The Advertiser tells us that in two years 9000 Japanese labor contracts will expire and it hopes that many of the freed laborers will re-contract. That shows better than anything else the desire on the part of the Reform party and the sugar planters to have free labor in Hawaii nei. We hope that every Japanese whose contract expires will remain a free man and work on the best terms obtainable either by the day or month and become good and useful citizens of our country. By saving and frugal living, natural to their bringing up, and customs the Japanese will soon save enough to start farms of their own, and then the day may come when Hawaii can boast of an industrious and desirable class of citizens, who will, to the utmost, develop the resources of these fertile isles. But of course the "Advertiser's" friends may not be able to collect from 40 to 60 percent dividends annually. In regard to the registration of the Chinese we fully agree with the morning paper. It has been a surprise to us that the Provisional Government have not long ago passed the Registration act which through a misunderstanding on the part of the Hawaiians into which they were wilfully led by the so-called, more intelligent, white brother, was defeated in the last Legislature. But we believe in making the Registration of citizens general and not confined to a single race and class. Let every man register himself. It will be a measure of extreme benefit to the country—and it will enable us to see who Mr. McStocker's 7,000 members of the annexation club really are. As far as further importation of Chinese is concerned, we believe with Mr. Emmeluth that the government should go slow. The leading members of the Secret League the Schutzen Verein, and even the A club have all been known as members of the Anti-Asiatic League, and as they are the only authority which Mr. Dole remembers (his memory is poor) existing trouble might arise. Take warning gentlemen and, in this case, at least, listen to the Anti-Chinese tinker.

Rev. Hyde's Christianity.

Rev. Charles M. Hyde, in a letter written from Honolulu to the New York Independent says: "Let no one heed the whining complaints about the disregard of indefeasible hereditary rights of selfish misrule and social degeneration. The new Hawaii has her face turned to the light from heaven that shines for all. Her ear is attuned to the call of God's providence to come up higher and look abroad. Her hands are ready for the labor now devolved upon her of laying deep in political righteousness the foundation of a new social order. Let it rise, and be all that human nature should be, a temple in which to consecrate all work, all hopes, all life to the service of God in the development of a regenerated humanity, through the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, source and outflow of all that is noble, lovely, and good in any man, or any race."

This has a pretty sound, but to our minds religious reform, the foundation of which is laid in disregard of the principles of justice and of the people for whose benefit the reform is intended is neither good Christianity nor enlightened policy.—Lynn Press.

Mr. Stevens' Explanation.

Ex-Minister Stevens made a speech to a Boston audience yesterday evening. Mr. Stevens had a good deal to say about the incontestable virtues of the American flag, about the heroes who sleep in the Southern graves and about other matters of more or less general interest. But touching the real point at issue in the Hawaiian controversy he was as silent as a Tammany organ on the defeat of Maynard. Mr. Stevens announced dramatically that at least three questions "appertain to our interest in Hawaii." "There is the question of Christian civilization," he said, "there is the question of American future power in the Pacific and the third involves the issue of responsible Government under the American flag, in harmony with pledged American faith."

It is almost unnecessary to point out again that in dodging the main question Mr. Stevens does not strengthen his case. Christian civilization is highly desirable, but the Minister of the United States is not expected to enforce it at the point of the bayonet. The matter of American power in the Pacific does not justify a policy of land grabbing without provocation and without reasonable justification. And there is nothing in the "logic of American history" or in American precedent to call for the seizure and annexation of territory 2,000 miles distant from the nearest point on the American continent. An appeal to a "jingo" spirit that may at times agitate the American breast is successful only so far as it is evasive of the real merits of the issue, and as it deceives the man who has a sort of flamboyant enthusiasm which he takes for patriotism. As he comes to his proper senses and looks at the matter calmly, he finds under all this confusing rubbish about the flag and heroes and American power and Christian civilization, the pertinent question: Was the power of the United States employed without authority and without justification?

In one proposition Mr. Stevens is right. The Hawaiian question is not a party issue and properly cannot be made one. All jingoes are not Republicans and all Republicans are not jingoes. Doubtless Mr. Stevens believed that in acting in conjunction with the insurrectionists he would be sustained by the administration and endorsed by the American public. He counted on the first flush of "jingo" enthusiasm and not on the sober second thought that would follow the calm and logical presentation of the facts. This is what apparently is rattling Mr. Stevens and leading to his public utterances of so much that is irrelevant and foreign to the question.—Kansas City Star.

Editor K'Smith.

The announcement of President Cleveland's Hawaiian policy has brought out, in full force, the grumblers, growlers, kickers, who make up the small army of disappointed, office-seeking editors, and for the next few weeks they will heap vituperation and reproach upon the head of our worthy President. Poor Grover! It is a blessing that his shoulders are broad. Were they not he would be unable to bear up under the weight of the maledictions that daily are called down upon him by those disgruntled "moulders of public opinion," who fain would return from the innocuous desuetude to which they were consigned by Honest Grover's sound judgment.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

Biased.

Mr. Thurston, representing the Hawaiian provisionals at Washington, is a very interested witness. His statements are diametrically against those of members of the committee of safety, and opposed to the evidence of members of Dole's cabinet. His being a minister, accredited by a concern which represent little beside its own personnel, does not necessarily make what he says either truthful, or impressive if true.—Chattanooga Times.

Undo the Wrong.

The poor lie that Mr. Blount examined no men connected with the provisional government, in his investigations, at Honolulu, is all along of the course pursued toward the gentleman, from the day he was named as special commissioner. The annexationists, here and there, simply sought to break him down in public confidence and esteem, and they stopped at nothing that promised success in the business. But his report vindicates itself and its maker. He has been thorough and impartial; and he has shown that the provisional government was the result of a conspiracy between a few wealthy and ambitious citizens, denizens and aliens, and the minister resident, representing the United States. Members of the provisional government were examined, and made this perfectly plain. The fellows who sought to overthrow the monarchy were nearly all official beneficiaries of that government, who thought they could get more out of a new regime than was for them in the existent order. They represented little besides themselves and their ambitions. They are not bad men, as men go, but they have resorted to the most arrant deception to carry their point. All this knavery, all the ludicrous cowardice of the junta called "the committee of safety," all the rascality of Stevens and his nasty treachery, would be hidden from the light, had the annexation scheme succeeded. We say they are not peculiarly bad, because we see they have done very much as most revolutionists have done in the past; but the United States owes it to itself to clear its skirts of complicity in this movement. It can only do this by undoing what was accomplished Jan. 14, 1893, by a gross misuse of its diplomatic influence and its military power, at Honolulu. This should be done, though it required ten times the force to restore the status quo ante, that was unlawfully used to produce that condition.—Chattanooga Times.

LOCAL NEWS.

What is so rare as, an answer to Juon?

P. G. band plays at Emma Square this afternoon.

A little over a month between now and the 17th of March.

No signs yet of the bark Martha Davis due here from Boston.

The U. S. S. Mohican is now fully due from San Francisco.

The Central Union Church will be open for visitors to-morrow.

The Emmes' property was withdrawn from sale. Too many bidders.

The bark Albert is liable to show up now at any moment from the Coast.

Sunday service will be held at the Roman Catholic and Anglican Cathedrals to-morrow.

The Government buildings now look as though the Provisional Government had been lately using balls of twine.

The Hawaiian Electric Light and Power Co. hope to make the initiatory start, this evening, of a long uninterrupted run of their works.

Over three thousand of bunches of bananas were carried forward by the Monowai. W. G. Irwin & Co. shipped 5649 bags of sugar. The domestic value of the cargo from here, was $22,008.

The outside walls of the palatial residence of the late Princess Ruth on Emma Street, now owned and occasionally occupied by Mr. C. R. Bishop, are receiving a much-needed cleaning and repairing.

Beautiful weather to-day. Happy would Honoluluites be if politics was not a disturbing element.

Elder Clapp will hold forth to Latter Day Saints at Mililani hall, rear of the Hawaiian Opera House to-morrow at 11:15 a. m., and 7:30 p. m.

The correspondents were supplied with copies of the latest phase of that "Damnable Plot," and the HOLOMUA issue was entirely exhausted.

Saturday's should be enjoyed by excursion trips, over the Oahu Railway to Remond Grove, Pearl City and to the great Ewa sugar plantation and mill.

Mr. L. J. Levy, the auctioneer sold, on Thursday a piece of land, situated in an alley off Fort street, belonging to the Mariano Comacha estate for $1,050.

The funeral of the late F. S. Pratt will take place from his residence at Punchbowl street, corner Palace Walk at 2:30 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

Who has Mrs. Vina King killed that the 'Tiser' should call her a "colored murderess?" Vina will be apt to "put a head" on the maker of that line if she interviews him.

The manner of presentation of the King woman's case in the Police Court yesterday afternoon was more of a persecution than a prosecution. The testimony of Washington, the man hit, would not have held the woman.

The charge of embezzlement against Richard Day has been not prosed by consent of the party most directly interested in the property lost. It is hoped that the experience will make him a less ardent annexationist.

The exhibition given at the Yokohama Bazaar of the usefulness and good qualities of the Walcott premium knife was very satisfactory and as a result, many of the handy articles disappeared in the depths of pockets of appreciative customers. A few left.

Mr. H. E. Padgett who has had the superintendence of the steam-plows at Ewa Plantation is off for a short vacation which he intends to make good use of by a trip around Oahu and have a look at other plantations and their methods.

A stray dog, looking much the worse for lack of care and attention called at the HOLOMUA office lately and intimated his objections at not receiving a personal notice. The disreputable look of the cur, he having been engaged in some kind of a shindy, induced the advice that he go to some park and hide himself. The advice cost nothing but it was taken. Great is the HOLOMUA.

National Band Concert.

The instrumental concert given by the Hawaiian National Band at the Hawaiian Hotel on Thursday evening last, was a grand success in every particular. The weather was truly Hawaiian; air cool, wind light, sky unclouded. An Oriental cast of character was given the entertainment by the location of the bandmen in the beautiful bandstand which ornaments the grounds and the many colored incandescent lights added interest to the occasion. The various pieces were well performed many of them being encored. Over three thousand people were on the grounds and even many prominent P. G.'s acknowledged that "music hath power to soothe the savage breast" and graced the performance with their presence.

A dogs' tailor flourishes in Paris. This tailor is a woman, and in her reception rooms Prince Bow-wow has rugs, water bowls, and biscuit jars to refresh him during his trying on processes. Here are the daintiest water-colour books to choose from, and anything from sealskin to chamois is provided.

For Sunset City.

The pleasing and artistic vocalists the Misses Albu, have finally decided to leave for the Golden Gate as their presence is there required amid the other attractions of the Midwinter Fair, at Sunset City, at the end of February. They will leave by the Australia, Feb. 3rd. Their genial manager, Mr. M. L. M. Plunkett, had intended and much desired to return to the Colonies to attend to pressing business but his presence was demanded as a necessity by the Misses Albu and Mr. Plunkett will accompany the ladies to the Coast, on the same steamer.

From Hilo.

The Kinau arrived this morning from windward and brought a large number of passengers. Deputy-Attorney General Wilder, Messrs. Creighton, Doyle, Kane, and other gentlemen who have attended the session of the Circuit Court in Hilo returned to town. A number of cases were tried before the Circuit, mainly consisting of violations of the liquor law. The most prominent case before the jury was the case against one A. Bortfelt who was charged with assault with a deadly weapon (a pistol) on a Japanese laborer. Although the defendant admitted the assault and the Japanese is crippled for life the Hilo jury saw fit to render a verdict of not guilty. Of course a poor Asiatic laborer has very small chances against a haole plantation luna. Another case which gained some notoriety was against Antone Sarrao who was charged with larceny of $1,500 from his brother. Although the evidence was very strong the Hilo jury also saw fit to acquit this defendant. It might be worthy of notice that the prosecuting witness is a Catholic Portuguese while the defendant is one of the newly made Protestant Portuguese. The weather on Hawaii is reported as being extremely wet. The Volcano is now very quiet.

Mr. Stevens' Unruly Tongue.

A guardian should be appointed for the mouth of ex-Minister Stevens. One with ordinary discretion even would have saved him from some of the more obvious absurdities characterizing his speech at West Somerville, Mass., lately. "Not a 'hand,' he said, to show that Queen Liliuokalani's government was devoid of support, "was lifted in defense of the semi 'barbarian throne when it fell." What then were the United States marines landed for! Did the provisional government lie when it asked that they be sent ashore to protect life and property, and otherwise maintain order? If it did not lie some hand, lifted "in defense of the "semi-barbarian throne," must have been visible or imagined, and only their presence in the government building stayed the feared, or threatened, blow. But was not that using United States troops to overthrow "the semi-barbarian throne?"

But this is not all. To the suggestion that the Hawaiians be permitted to vote on the question of annexation Mr. Stevens raises a cloud of formidable objections, the chief being that "it was first made by the British minister at Honolulu, a Tory "in his political views," and afterwards supported by the lottery and opium rings and the Canadian Pacific railroad as an effective "method of defeating annexation." That a Tory, who is supposed to be an enemy of democratic institutions, should suggest a universal ballot of the people to settle an important question is indeed remarkable; but it is to be regarded as an unanswerable objection to such a method of settlement! Certainly Americans, who resort to it constantly, ought not.

Is not the other branch of Mr. Stevens' objection to this method of settlement even more important? If it is true that the Hawaiians cannot be trusted to vote on the question of annexation because they would be corrupted by the lottery and opium rings and the Canadian Pacific Railroad, what assurance have we that they can be trusted to vote uninfluenced on other questions that would come up after annexation? Simply the floating of "the flag of" the United States unmolested over the "Hawaiian Islands" would not work any such sudden and complete moral regeneration that they could be depended upon to scorn bribes. For a long time to come they would be as idolatrous and corruptible as the annexationists charge that they are now. Were they to fall under the influence of such unscrupulous fellows as Stevens, it is not unjust to infer from our experience with carpet bag rule in the south, they would be worse, even than they are. In view of a possibility of this kind, may the certainty, if Stevens' imputation upon the Kanaka character is just, is not annexation to be condemned and opposed? A few more deliverances like these from Mr. Stevens will leave no doubt, in the minds of the annexationists even, as to how this question should be answered. —Rochester Advertiser.
