Enough of Stevens.

John L. Stevens, late Minister to Hawaii, has issued, in the form of a manifesto, certain "remarks" of his made at two public meetings.

The purpose of this utterance is to show that Blount was all wrong in his course, that he did not get at the facts or try to get at them, that the policy of Stevens was the policy of the former Cleveland Administration, and much else to like effect.

The trouble with all this is that Stevens is a thoroughly discredited witness and that the country is tired of him. It has been shown conclusively not only that he abused his powers as Minister, for filibustering purposes, but that he deliberately deceived the Government he represented, and that his course was emphatically disapproved by the Administration that appointed him.

Whatever opinions men may hold with respect to the varied aspects of the Hawaiian question, the country is of one mind in feeling that it has had quite enough of this untrustworthy jingo ex-Minister who could not tell the truth even in his official reports to a Secretary whose immediate subordinate he was.

The most becoming thing that John L. Stevens can do is to keep quite.—New York World.

Trials of a Kentucky Minister.

In speaking of a well known minister who was until not very long ago pastor of a large congregation in this city, the Louisville Cour. Jour. says: A member of that church said yesterday: "Few people knew what he suffered. He was the nearest approach to Job that I ever saw. The newspapers might have had a great sensation out of one of his trials. Though one of the best known preachers in Louisville, considering his stay here, his wife was a morphine eater. On one occasion when he had to go to church to marry a young pair his wife locked him in his room. He finally succeeded in climbing through the transom and arrived at the altar after keeping every one waiting for nearly half an hour.

"She often looked him up to try to keep him from preaching, and her treatment of him was often too in human to be described. Yet with all that a complaint never left his lips, and he performed his religious duties under a mental agony that few are called on to fear. She took an active part in the church societies and not until about the time of their departure was her terrible habit known outside the family. Her children were often beaten like animals. I know these things to be facts, and if the names were divulged it would thrill
the city with astonishment."

A CHECK-MATE!

To the "Beheading" Fake!

The "New York World" Moves and Wins.

The Queen's True Decision

An Expose of How Political Capital is Made.

DISHONEST "ADVERTISER" AND "STAR."

The following is a copy of the answer forwarded by Her Majesty to Minister Willis as Her decision in regard to proposed amnesty. It speaks for itself and bears evidence of being suppressed from publication in the San Francisco Republican papers.

To His Excellency, Albert S. Willis, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary;

Since I had the interview with you this morning, I have given most careful and conscientious thought as to my duty, and I now of my own free will give my conclusions.

I must not feel vengeful to my people. If I am restored by the United States I must forget myself and remember only my dear people and my dear country. I must forgive and forget the past, permitting no punishment of any one, but trusting that all will hereafter work together in peace and friendship for the good and glory of our beautiful and only happy land.

Asking you to bear to the President and the Government he represents a message of gratitude from me and from my people and promising with God's grace to prove worthy of the confidence and friendship of your people.

I am etc.

LILIUOKA'ANI.

The general public must not forget that "beheaded" is a word that the Queen could not have used in her interview with the American Minister and there is no proof that he wrote such word in his dispatches. Hawaiian law does not provide for beheading and Hawaiian custom has never been charged with it. The punishment belongs to the "advanced" civilization classes.

Hawaii in Politics.

The Republican members of the Senate are making more deplorable spectacles of themselves on the Hawaiian question than the Populist members did recently on the silver question.

It is, of course, a game of politics, only. The Republicans howl for information, which they know has not come to the State Department, and accuse the President of secrecy, of insulting Congress by concealing facts and so forth and so on, when every fact regarding the situation in Hawaii that has reached Washington is ready and in the possession of Congress, while the President has promised to present further information in a special message as soon as he receives it himself.

It is almost inconceivable that gray haired Senators, such as Hoar and Sherman, should indulge in such child's play. The only conclusion to draw from their foolish attack on the President is that the Republican leaders are much poverty stricken in the matter of political capital.

MINISTER WILLIS and MINISTER DOLE.

Some Withheld, But Desired, Explanations.

LATEST DEVELOPMENTS.

Washington, Jan. 20. — The President, in a brief note of transmittal, today submitted to Congress the latest correspondence relating to Hawaii. It comprises some brief notes of Minister Willis to Secretary Gresham, which are unimportant, but the chief features of it are the letters which passed between Minister Willis and President Dole, in one of which the Minister complains of the utterance of Dole, as reflecting on the President of the United States, and a letter from Dole in which he specifically inquires if Willis' instructions authorized the use of force. Both these matters appear to have been settled by the receipt of the last message of the President to Congress and the last instructions of Gresham to Willis.

The most important part of the correspondence consists of a long letter from Willis to Gresham, containing inclosures of the correspondence between Dole and himself. The letter to the Secretary says, under date of January 5, 1894.

"On Wednesday, the 27th ult., at 12 p. m., the steamship Oceanic arrived, with newspapers containing the President's special message in full, together with instructions to Blount and myself. The message was reproduced in the afternoon papers, under conspicuous headlines. At 4 p. m., the same day, I received four pages of a closely written letter, which I enclose, from Dole, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, asking to be informed, with the least delay, whether you (I) held instructions to enforce your policy with the use of arms in any event.

"The information desired, although fully embodied in the President's message, might be asked for, and except for the remarkable statements contained in the letter would have been promptly and satisfactorily given in a few words. Confident that the charges, so surprisingly and unjustly made, could not be sustained, an answer (herewith enclosed) was on the following (Thursday) morning sent to Minister Dole, asking that they be made more direct and specific.

"Friday morning, the 20th ult., I received another letter from Dole (herewith inclosed), in which he says: 'The special message of the President of the United States has rendered any further correspondence on the subject of my letter of the 27th of December unnecessary, as the message satisfactorily answers the question; but, he added, if you still desire the specifications requested, I will be ready to furnish them.'

"The instructions of the President to me have been strictly followed, or if departed from at all it has been in favor of the beneficiaries of our wrong-doing. I felt, therefore, that the statements contained in the letter of Dole of the 27th ult. were directed, not at me personally, but at the President, and should be qualified or absolutely withdrawn.

"Believing from the high character and sense of justice of Dole, if he re-examined his letter, such would be the result, I wrote him the note, which I inclose. This note was delivered at his residence on the night of the same day (Friday, December 29th), upon which his second letter was received. Having no answer up to Sunday night, December 31st, and having occasion to communicate with his colleague, Damon upon another matter, I called his attention to the failure of Dole to reply to the note, which I explained to him was written with no unfriendly purpose, but was, as itself declared, 'for the best interests of all.' He informed me 'the Advisory Council met the next day at 12 o'clock, and he thought the subject would then receive attention.'

"At 3 p. m. that day, Jan. 1, I received a letter from Hon. S. B. Dole, herewith inclosed, in which he states: 'It was not my intention to withdraw any of my letters.' This, of course, left every charge and statement in full force as of that date.

"Believing these charges, whether so intended or not, reflected very unjustly upon the President, whose agent I was, at 6 p. m. on the same day (Monday January 1st) I replied in the inclosed letter, asking that the desired specifications be furnished at the earliest convenience.' Up to this hour, (Friday, Jan. 5th) no reply has been received to this request, nor have I any intimation when one may be expected.

"My request for the specifications has been in the hands of the Minister of Foreign Affairs since Monday, Jan. 1st, at 5 o'clock. I had hoped to receive it in time to answer by the steamer Peking, leaving today at 2, and especially as Thurston and Hatch, the late vice-president of the Provisional Government, leave to-morrow on the Australia for the United States. This delay in answering is a great surprise and regret.

"I am fully prepared to show that every step taken by the representatives of our Government has been in the direction of peace and good order. On the 13th of November, as is well-known here, the greatest excitement prevailed in the Executive building. The military forces were increased in numbers, and volunteer companies were ordered on duty at night. These preparations were due, not to any fear of American intervention but, as Damon, the Minister of Finance, called officially to explain, resulted from the apprehensions of many citizens, mostly women and children that as the following day was the birthday anniversary of King Kalakaua, large numbers of natives from adjoining districts would be here and an outbreak might occur.

"Very respectfully,

"ALBERT S. WILLIS."

Chicago, Jan. 19.—Minister Lorrin A. Thurston, from Honolulu, passed through the city en route to Washington this morning. He says he bears important dispatches from his government to the United States government.

In reply to a question Thurston said: "When I left Honolulu one week ago last Saturday Minister Willis was still persona grata, and I can add there never was nor will be a contemplated movement on the part of President Dole and the Government to furnish Willis with his passports. The United States is not liable to be sued for damages by the deposed Queen. She never will be restored.

Montreal, Jan. 20.—The organization of a force in Canada to help restore Liliuokalani has been brought to the attention of the Dominion government. Adjutant-General Powell declares that it would be the duty of the Government to stop the outfitting of the expedition. That is of course, but the more serious question is whether the Dominion government would do its duty in the premises. The scheme does not seem at present to be very formidable, but it may grow. If such a project in connection with Royalist plots in Hawaii were to develop any serious menace to the Provisional Government of Hawaii, British and Canadian governmental opposition might prove perfunctory.

The Royalists of Hawaii are still making confident statements that Liliuokalani will be restored. Reverting in a quiet way for Liliuokalani is said to be going on at Haverhill, Mass.

Secretary Carlisle, it is said, has announced there is no prospect that the United States revenue cutter Corwin will again be sent to Honolulu with dispatches for Minister Willis.

San Francisco, Jan. 20.—Among the Monowai's passengers was C. W. Ashford, an attorney, who with his brother, Volney V. Ashford, has been prominent in the islands for some time. In fact the two have been in the front ranks of every insurrection, sometimes being for and sometimes "agin" the Government, was approached for an interview, and although his answers were courteous enough they could be simply boiled down to evasions of the questions. Mr. Ashford said that his trip to America had no political significance, but that he had come up for his health. As to whether he would go to Washington he did not know.

T. J. King, who has spent the last twelve years in the islands, was not so reticent. Referring to Ashford, he said that gentleman between his boil and the Provisional Government was having a very unpleasant time.

"What would have been the effect if Minister Willis had endeavored to restore Liliuokalani by force?"

"That black woman," said he, "has all the blood-thirsty instincts of her cannibal ancestors, and I think nothing would delight her more than to go back to the ways of life and religion that prevailed in the Hawaiian Islands sixty years ago. 'Blood would have been shed as sure as fate, and more blood than persons in the United States have any idea of. The members of the Government and their adherents have staked all on this hazard, and they do not intend to lose any trick whatever."

Probably the most notable arrival in Washington to-day was ex-Minister Stevens, who represented this country at Hawaii under the Harrison administration. Stevens is here to testify before the Senate Foreign Affairs Committee.

John Slaghtery, one of the victims of the Provisional Government poisoning, who was brought here from Honolulu for treatment and taken to St. Luke's Hospital, is convalescent. A very dangerous operation was performed on him by Drs. Kenyon, Dodge and O'Connell, which turned the tide of fate in his favor.

The Hawaiian ship Hawaiian Islands, with coal from Newcastle, arrived Jan. 18. She reports a narrow escape from over heated coals December 28th, when twenty-two degrees above the equator and fifty-three days out.

San Francisco, Jan. 19.—The Midwinter Fair Congresses will be inaugurated Jan. 26 at the Grand Opera House. Resolved that the Hawaiian Islands should be annexed to the United States will be the subject for debate. General W. H. L. Barnes and Irving M. Scott will maintain the affirmative, and Rabbi Jacob Voorsanger and Colonel John P. Irish will argue the negative side. Three judges will be selected, one from the Supreme Bench, one from the Circuit Court and one from the Superior Court, to decide the question on the merits of the arguments put forth.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Lieutenant-Commander Swineburne of the cruiser Boston was the only witness before the Senate sub-committee on the Hawaiian question today. He is the officer who had command of the American troops in Honolulu at the time of the revolution, and his testimony is considered important, as attached. He was questioned concerning the time of landing, the location of the troops in Arion Hall and the time of surrender of the Station House. It is understood that Swineburne admitted that a more fortunate selection could have been made and said he had, previous to the landing, advised that some other place be chosen. And also that the Police Station was surrendered several hours after the landing of the U. S. forces.

Washington, Jan. 15.—The Hawaiian investigation by the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations made little progress today. Chairman McCreary of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs and Representatives Holman of Indiana conferred this morning as to a proposition which would be submitted to Congress for the solution of the Hawaiian problem. After the talk McCreary said: "The solution to the question will undoubtedly be ready to submit to the House before January 29th."

New Haven (Conn.), Jan. 17.—The Yale Hawaiian Club held its annual meeting this evening. The organization consists of members of the University who are natives of Hawaii. There are about twenty Hawaiians in Yale. Harvard, Princeton and Columbia were represented at the dinner. Dean Francis Wayland of the Law school responded to the toast, "President Dole every Inch a Man." A. C. Alexander spoke on "President Cleveland's Administration: Fools Rush In Where Angels Fear To Tread." Frank P. Hastings, Secretary of the Hawaiian Legation at Washington, spoke on "The Situation at the Islands."

Honorable Mr. Blount.

Senator Hoar is generally amusing in debate, but was never more amusing than when he said lately that of the three hundred-odd cases of appointments of diplomatic commissioners by the President, without the consent of the Senate, only twenty or thirty were exactly like the appointment of Blount. Twenty or thirty will do. The fuss made over Blount's appointment and about the use of the word 'paramount' in defining in his authority is as childish as most of the other talk in this affair. No rational man will deny that under all circumstances of the case when Mr. Cleveland took office—the haste with which the treaty was sent to the Senate, the pains taken to prevent the Queen's side being heard, the distance of the islands, and the multitude of rumors about what had happened—the proper course for him was to make further inquiry into the facts. When he selected Mr. Blount, no one questioned Mr. Blount's competency in any respect. His report has put our Minister Stevens and the insurgents in the wrong, and has therefore set their friends in this country raging like angry fishwives. The insurgents now see their mistake. They see they ought to have risen against the Queen without Mr. Stevens' help or connivance, and have overthrown her in a stand up fight, and proclaimed themselves an independent republic if they had succeeded. Their position then before the world would have been unimpeachable, and President Cleveland would have had no right to investigate them; and they could have based their government on anything they pleased—men, cattle, sugar, or bananas. But they did not want to expose themselves to the Queen's bullets, and therefore got Stevens to lend them the United States marines; and when the Queen gave way to the United States, they hurried to Washington to get themselves into the Union, not foreseeing that this move would expose them to unpleasant inquiries, and would throw the ægis of the Constitution over the brown men whom they are trying to disfranchise on account of race and color. They now say they are "Americans," and the only "respectable" people on the island, but this is what the Southerners said in the reconstruction period, and what they said when the force bill was passing in the House. How did Reed meet this, and Lodge, and Hoar, and Frye, and the Tribune, and the whole Republican phalanx? We could, if we chose to give the space to it, dig out from their speeches some sad passages about the denial of the suffrage to poor colored men by respectable and rich whites, and yet the native Hawaiians are far more civilized than the negroes of the South, for they have had diplomatic relations and made treaties.

Washington, Jan. 17.—The Hawaiian investigation by the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations made little progress today. Chairman McCreary of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs and Representatives Holman of Indiana conferred this morning as to a proposition which would be submitted to Congress for the solution of the Hawaiian problem. After the talk McCreary said: "The solution to the question will undoubtedly be ready to submit to the House before January 29th."

New Haven (Conn.), Jan. 17.—The Yale Hawaiian Club held its annual meeting this evening. The organization consists of members of the University who are natives of Hawaii. There are about twenty Hawaiians in Yale. Harvard, Princeton and Columbia were represented at the dinner. Dean Francis Wayland of the Law school responded to the toast, "President Dole every Inch a Man." A. C. Alexander spoke on "President Cleveland's Administration: Fools Rush In Where Angels Fear To Tread." Frank P. Hastings, Secretary of the Hawaiian Legation at Washington, spoke on "The Situation at the Islands."

Washington, Jan. 17.—Lieutenant-Commander Swineburne of the cruiser Boston was the only witness before the Senate sub-committee on the Hawaiian question today. He is the officer who had command of the American troops in Honolulu at the time of the revolution, and his testimony is considered important, as attached. He was questioned concerning the time of landing, the location of the troops in Arion Hall and the time of surrender of the Station House. It is understood that Swineburne admitted that a more fortunate selection could have been made and said he had, previous to the landing, advised that some other place be chosen. And also that the Police Station was surrendered several hours after the landing of the U. S. forces.

DEAD.

"Jack" Ailau Dies in San Francisco.

The sad news was received by the steamer Australia this morning of the death of Mr. John Ailau on the 17th inst. at the Grand Hotel in San Francisco. The deceased was a well known resident and an universal favorite in all portions of the "Paradise of the Pacific," esteemed for his, always prominently present, truly Hawaiian characteristics of equable temper and obliging disposition and also his musical ability. "Jack" Ailau as he was always called and by which familiar and friendly call he was best known; was a member of the "art preservative" being an experienced type-setter. He was always a favorite amongst strangers and many such who are now in distant lands will remember with pleasure the now dead "Jack" Ailau. The body, by the kindness of Mr. Charles Wilder, was embalmed after death and was forwarded hither by the Australia. The bereaved and loving wife also arrived. The funeral will take place from the family residence Kaku street to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

FOR SUNSET CITY.

Hawaiian Views to be Exhibited.

Mr. Thos. W. Hobron, the energetic local agent of the Hawaiian exhibit at Sunset City in San Francisco, has arranged for the forwarding of a large number of photograph views, taken by order of the Government, for exhibition thereat. The views are indicative of the civilized Hawaii of today and of which but few people, even amongst newspaper men, abroad have any actual knowledge. The public buildings, Fire department and many private residences have been taken and the selection for presentation has been well made and reflects credit alike upon the aiders as well as the operators in the obtaining.
