MONDAY, JAN. 29, 1894

Minister Willis's method of putting the matter of restoration to the Queen implied that she was to be restored to more power than she had lost. Her answer was very much in keeping with the question.

It would have been time enough for Mr. Wilson to take charge of the rehabilitation of this nation when he was called upon so to do by the people. His action should not be regarded as affecting the rights of the nation, however, being entirely a private matter between himself and Minister Willis.

They answer nothing—the P. G. journalists. Let them show the essential difference between the blood-thirsty and violent spirit displayed on their own side ever since the revolution, and that shown in the Queen's calm appeal to the laws and her constitutional advisers as her answer to the question of an amnesty. Until they do this much clearly to the disadvantage of the Queen, it does not lie with them to denounce her for a cruel barbarian.

What would be important to those who have sympathized with the cause of the crown and constitution on principle to know, is whether the Queen would have made an effort, in the event of restoration, to gather around her again the false counselors who led her into trouble last January. There are one or two names at least in the lists of her chosen ones furnished in Minister Willis's despatches, whose owners are under strong suspicion of having done their best to provoke the revolution.

An apology has been tendered to Consul General Mills of the United States by the Advertiser for its recent insulting references to him. The same paper calls on the Star to go and do likewise. It seems to have been the studied aim of the P. G. press to get the Government into quarrels with the representatives of other countries. Let us hope that the honest confession of the Advertiser betokens either a better frame of mind on the part of the sinner or else the application of discipline to its organ by the Government. Anything, so that the disgraceful if not dangerous business may stop.

Letters will be found in this issue from two of the gentlemen favored with mention in a despatch of Minister Willis. It appears that C. B. Wilson, the Marshal deposed by the revolutionists along with the Queen and her Ministers, gave Mr. Willis a paper containing a program to be carried out when the United States restored the monarchy. Attached to the program were lists of names, partly selected by Mr. Wilson, of persons to be called in special and general councils for straightening up things generally as a preliminary to a permanent reorganization of the kingdom. These facts are all that our readers require for a proper understanding of the letters in question.

Cabinet Ministers don't like to be "fired" in Tonga any more than in Honolulu. Lately the King dismissed Premier Geo. W. Tukunipo and colleagues, in favor of Rev. Shirley Baker, who was "a stormy petrel" in the politics of Tonga a few years ago. After the dismissal of the Ministry one of the members insulted the king and fired three shots at him as he passed in a boat, but the next morning the Minister called upon the king and made an apology, which His Majesty graciously accepted and the matter ended there. Baker is a Methodist missionary. One of his sons was killed in the midst of political riots in Tonga when his father was running the country before.

Miss Rose Albu's little speech in the Opera House on Saturday evening ought to have good results beyond the occasion whereon it was uttered. People who attend public concerts and entertainments ought not to disturb either the singers and players or the rest of the audience. It may be consolation for those who may feel hurt in this instance to know that the Prince of Wales and party were hissed by an audience and roasted in the London papers for loud conduct in their boxes one night. The offense is of a kind with the misconduct of boys at open air band concerts here, about which complaints have often been sent to the local papers. For those who were not hit Saturday night, the incident was a keen diversion. Miss Rose Albu is generally admired for her pluck in striking out as she did against the annoyance.

Senator Turpie's speech on the Hawaiian question on 11th inst. was misrepresented on the telegraph wires. He denounced the interference in Hawaiian affairs inaugurated by Stevens, and advocated abandoning the whole question where it now stands. Then he took up the style of Stevens' letters and speeches since he left Hawaii. His "coarse and callous iteration" of his abusive epithets toward the Queen were referred to with indignation. No inference, Mr. Turpie declared, need be resorted to for a just estimation of the minister who indited despatches of that fashion and tenor. The official character was self-depicted, self-described. Who, he asked, would attempt to touch, or mar, or amend that full-length, faultless portrait of the international spy, ingrate, and outlaw—drawn in all the dark profusion of its native hues?

Disclaimer by Mr. Neumann

EDITOR BULLETIN:—The issue of the Star of Saturday contains an interview between Chas. B. Wilson and the U. S. Minister. That Mr. Wilson handed me a copy of his pronouncement is true. It was first handed to me after Mr. Wilson's interview with Minister Willis. I have never approved the document, but consigned it, as it deserves, to oblivion. I cannot conceive the reason why Mr. Wilson brought this emanation to me. I can, however, make a shrewd guess predicated upon the fact that Mr. Wilson stated that I had seen and approved it at a time when I had not seen it or known anything about it.

I thank Mr. Wilson for suggesting my name among others who were to be drawn into consultation, but decline to be drafted. The Queen honored me with employing me as her representative at Washington, where I have endeavored to do my duty. With that fulfillment, aside from my sentiments in favoring the cause of the Queen and of the native Hawaiians, my duty ended. I do not favor the proposition embodied in Mr. Wilson's manifesto, irrespective of the source from which it emanated. Neither Mr. Wilson nor any one connected with him in this affair is entitled to speak for me, and I decline to act as sponsor for his scheme, if it originates from some one, other than himself. If his propositions owe their being to his own conception, I make my refusal more emphatic. To avoid any wrong inferences I repeat that I have not been consulted in this matter, and had I been consulted I should have refused to endorse or aid or abet Mr. Wilson's proposed proceedings in any way.

Yours respectfully, PAUL NEUMANN, Honolulu, Jan. 29, 1894.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—The "triangular duel" between the two organs which respectively champion the American League and the conservative wing of the P. G., and also the original Annexation Club which objects to all the government offices being wholly reserved as demanded for the American League, promises to be interesting. It must have been a relief to the government to receive the promise of the Schutz League, that they had decided not to dictate to the government, and this assurance will no doubt secure for the twenty policemen who constitute about the entire membership of the League, an increase of pay in addition to the content of Robinson Hall. The division of the spoils as far as the American League is concerned will be a simple affair, inasmuch as there will be no division outside of the League, and the few "Dietchers" in the police will soon find that there are some Americans unprovided for. The army and the police combined is a power that the P. G. are likely to hear from.

"Fling Away Ambition." EDITOR BULLETIN:—I see that Mr. C. B. Wilson has selected me as a member of his Council—to be. Will you kindly allow me space to state that Mr. Wilson was never authorized to use my name in the connection referred to, nor have I been made aware of his intention to do so. I am not in politics just now, but I suppose I ought to feel very proud on account of the "check" attached to my name—and yet I don't. Ta-ta! THOS. R. LUCAS, Honolulu, Jan. 29, 1894.

Hawaiian Hardware Co., Ltd

Saturday, Jan. 27, 1894.

The introduction by us of a full line of the Standard Manufacturing Co.'s enamel goods was a business stroke that tends to debilitate the nerves of the ordinary Honolulu business man and paralyze his muscularia, while to us it is a mere nothing; the goods are so well known in the United States and are in such general use there that with our handling we will bring them so prominently before the people here that in a short time no one will feel that they can rest well without first having had a bath in a Standard Manufacturing Co.'s enamel tub. We expect also, to make the enamel laundry tubs so popular that the annoyance of lost clothes at the hands of the Chinese washman will be entirely obviated. While these enamel goods are an innovation here they have been used in the United States for a number of years and have always given satisfaction; in every hotel or private residence the architects include in their specifications the goods by these manufacturers and it will soon be the custom here.

We have had a letter from a prominent ranch man on one of the other islands to the effect that the locked fence is the strongest he has ever seen and asks for an estimate on material enough to construct ten miles of it. You will understand by this that the locked fence is growing in popularity every day and that our prophecy that the entire group will ultimately be surrounded by it is sure to be fulfilled. There is no reason why it should not be. Every man who builds anything, no matter what, gets what is the cheapest provided it is, at the same time, superior to another article of the same description. In the case of the locked fence the builder gets for less money a fence superior in every respect to any other method of building. In this country where wood is almost as scarce as gold pieces the locked fence is additionally valuable.

The dinner table of to-day depends as much for admiration upon the character of the china and glassware as upon the edibles. We have convinced nearly every one on the islands that Haviland China is art itself in the matter of table decorations, and our method of selling it makes it as cheap as ordinary white china. Every one knows, in buying a conventional set of decorated china, that when one piece is broken it cannot be replaced except at a very heavy expense in having the broken piece replaced by one decorated especially for you to match the set. In Haviland China, when bought from us, if a piece is broken in any way you can get a duplicate at any time at the same rate you paid for a dozen pieces. We always have duplicates in stock, a convenience not only in cases where pieces are broken but for persons who do not wish to buy a full set at one time. You may buy a single cup and saucer and let it be the foundation for a set of two hundred pieces. These are among the advantages offered purchasers of Haviland decorated china. Another article in demand for table use and decoration is cut glass. We have a very careful selected assortment of this ware which we are offering at rather low prices considering the quality.

We have all sorts of stones for sharpening cutting tools from the coarse grindstone mounted in a frame to the Frank Walcott emery file, but we have never seen anything that gives such general satisfaction as the latter. With it you can sharpen anything from a scythe to a lady's pen knife, and we sell them for fifty cents each. Mail orders will receive prompt attention.

WHY LUCOL

IS THE BEST

PAINT OIL.

Dries perfectly solid inside of twenty hours. Forms a durable and elastic, not a brittle coating. Retains its gloss longer than any other oil. Resists the action of acids and alkalis better than any other oil. Flows freely from the brush without running and spreads well. With the addition of Litharge, yields a hard surface, suitable for floors, steps, etc. Mixes readily with pigments ground in oil in paste form. Brings out the real shades of the colors and keeps them unaltered. Is a solvent for the most delicate of the new coal tar colors. Added to varnish greatly improves the working of the varnish. Does not darken white lead or any delicate colors. Has greater body than any other oil. Requires one-third less pigment than any other oil. Can be added to linseed oil and it will greatly improve the linseed. Can be thinned with turpentine. By actual tests, has outlasted the best linseed oil. Therefore, is the best paint oil ever manufactured.

Direction for Use.

Use LUCOL in every respect in the same manner as you would linseed oil, with the single exception that you may add fully one-quarter more LUCOL to the same quantity of pigment than you would of linseed. In using metallic, Venetian red, the ochres, and other dry pigments, it is advisable to mix up the paint at least one day before it is to be used, then add a third more LUCOL, and the paint will be found to cover well and have a good gloss. NEVER USE JAPANS. Where hard surfaces such as floors, steps, etc., are required use litharge only, never use Japans. LUCOL MIXES WITH VARNISHES and assists their working and improves their appearance BUT THEY SHOULD BE USED SAME DAY THEY ARE MIXED, otherwise the gum of the varnish may be precipitated or the mixture curdled. The addition of from 1/4 to 1/2 of LUCOL to varnishes does not reduce their lustre nor retard their hardening and drying and it prevents their cracking.

A Follower of the Grip.

The persistent cough which usually follows an attack of the grip can be permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. W. A. McGuire of McKay, Ohio, says: "La Grippe left me with a severe cough. After using several different medicines without relief, I tried Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which effected a permanent cure. I have also found it to be without an equal for children when troubled with colds or croup. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

"DEAR OLD JACK."

The Funeral of a Well-known and Popular Hawaiian.

In using the above head-line the thoughts and heartfelt sympathies of every resident of Honolulu are probably voiced.

One of God's gentlemen has gone to his rest. His lovely nature has left a lesson for all. All can think of his sweet voice, now hushed in eternity, and all may learn of his meekness and lowliness of heart, and ponder well their lessons.

Among the many touching features connected with the obsequies of "Jack" Ailau, probably nothing was more effective than the scene at 10:30 o'clock of Saturday evening. The Quintet and Kawaihau clubs had sung at intervals many of his favorite songs. At that hour they arranged themselves around his bier and sang in sweet but hushed voices the beautiful Hawaiian hymn of the dead, "Auwe, Auwe," and then with the sad "aloha" they left him whom they mourned to the silent watchers by the dead.

Sunday morning dawned and with it came some of the most beautiful floral offerings, until the room where the body lay was a mass of flowers. These were photographed by the kindness of J. J. Williams. At 2:10 p. m. His Lordship the Bishop of Honolulu, assisted by Rev. V. H. Kiteat, commenced the beautiful service of the Anglican Church (of which "Jack" was a member) in the Hawaiian language. Two hymns were sung and then the corpse was taken to its last resting place in Nuuanu cemetery, preceded by the Hawaiian National band, who played solemn music all the way. At the grave the last rites were finished, the last sad hymn was sweetly sung. The band played "A Land that is fairer than day," and there amid a profusion of flowers was left "dear old Jack." The Quintet club sang at the grave.

Through the care of W. F. Reynolds, all the proceedings were conducted with comfort and quiet dignity.

The pall bearers were: Cain D. Wiloiaki, Joseph Aea, Joseph Heleluhe, Kemalia Kalia, David L. Kalawala, Joseph Kookahana, Robert Kapua and Thomas A. Kalama. The funeral was largely attended.

JUDICIARY NOTINGS.

Two Wills Admitted to Probate—Bankrupt Without Assets.

Judge Whiting has ordered that the will of the late Robert Gray be admitted to probate, and that letters testamentary issue to James Louzada McLean, the executor named in the will, under bond of $1000 without surety.

At the Clerk's office this morning only two of the creditors of G. W. R. King proved their claims, which amounted to $22.40. No assignee was elected, as nobody can be found to incur the expense. There is neither real nor personal estate, while the debts in the bankrupt's petition amount to $2859.21.

In the matter of the estate of Maurice Goldberg, deceased testate, Judge Whiting to-day admitted the will to probate and appointed T. C. Porter and E. D. Tenney executors under $15,000 bond. Hatch for the petition.

This afternoon Judge Whiting resumed the hearing of the equity suit for cancellation of a deed of C. K. Kapaeili vs. S. M. Kanakani et al. Castle for plaintiff; Achi for defendants.

WHO'S THE SAVAGE.

"Peaceable" and "Forgiving" Expressions of P. G. People.

There has been so much talk in the annexation clique camp about the Queen being savage, etc., the following conversations will probably interest not a few.

On a tramcar Friday evening a member of the Cabinet and a member of the Advisory Council were on their way to the meeting of the American League. One was heard to say: "We'll have to do away with her. We'll get some of the American League to do it."

The same (Friday) afternoon an ex-member of the Advisory Council and a member of a mercantile house were overheard in conversation. One said, "The best we can do is to get rid of her."

All the persons referred to in the foregoing were present at the meeting of the American League on Friday evening, and it is reported that the matter of doing away with the Queen was considered. Three other persons in town were mentioned as prospective victims. The question may be asked, "Who is the savage?"

Bags Not Tons.

Our Spencerville correspondent, who furnished an account of the working of the mill there last week, writes:

"You have the thanks of many here for so kindly inserting my hastily pencilled notice of last week. There is an error in the paper statement of considerable magnitude, but it would have been obvious to your readers who are up in sugar matters. The paragraph has it '16,000 tons' which should have been 16,000 bags with a total weight of 2,159,275 lbs., or more than 1079 tons. The gentleman whose ability and industry produce so gratifying a return is Mr. Innes, who is well known to be one of the best sugar boilers on these islands."

Vivas and Ferreira in Trouble.

J. M. Vivas and Frank Ferreira will appear before the District Court to-morrow morning to answer to a charge of violating Sec. 1, Chap. 48, of the laws of 1886, by being found unlawfully on the premises of another on the night of the 21st inst. The warrant alleges that defendants were found on certain premises at Palama, owned by a Scotsman, who is married to a Portuguese woman. It is alleged that they were seen by the proprietor of the premises and chased off.

ALBU FAREWELL CONCERT.

Meets Goodly Patronage Miss Rose Albu Makes a Speech.

There was a nearly full house, excepting in the galleries, Saturday evening at the farewell concert to the Misses Albu. Many prominent residents and naval officers were in the audience. The inauguration of the electric lights in the Opera House was a complete success. They made the whole interior brighter than day. Never were the Misses Albu in better voice, and their classical selections were all encorored bringing the ladies out in their delightful ballad-singing.

Prof. Berger and Mr. Heitman gave duets on piano and violin with great acceptance. Mr. Wakefield appeared in two of his always relished baritone solos, and received recalls. Mr. Voight, an amateur who is here on a holiday from official duties in Wyoming, played finely on the zither, winning a hearty encore.

An incident not on the program occurred just at the close of the concert. The Misses Albu were singing "Ye banks and braes," when Miss Rose suddenly stopped, and nudging her sister got her to do likewise. Prof. Berger ceased playing the piano, having nothing to accompany. The silence was broken by the younger sister addressing some group in the audience about as follows: "Your talking and laughing is very distressing to us, and we cannot sing unless you cease. If you do not like our singing, you are at liberty to retire from the hall." A great calm ensued and the concert was soon ended in peace.

A Favorite Remedy for La Grippe.

"During the epidemic of la grippe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy" took the lead here and is much better liked than other cough medicine."

H. M. Bangs, druggist, Chatsworth, Ill. The grip is much the same as a very severe cold and requires precisely the same treatment. This Remedy is prompt and effectual and will prevent any tendency of the disease toward pneumonia. For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

Chronic Headache Cured—Weak Lungs Made Strong and Well.

"For years I had sick headaches every day, and I also had very weak lungs. Since I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, I have been entirely cured of headaches, and my lungs are strong and well. Friends often say 'How well you're looking.' I tell them it is due to Hood's Sarsaparilla. I am small in stature—never weighed over 100 pounds before taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and at the time I began taking it I had run down to 75 pounds, but now I weigh 111½. My friends thought I would be dead long ago, but I am perfectly well. I am unable to express my thanks for the good Hood's Sarsaparilla has done me." Mrs. C. B. Curd Oakland, Cal.

National Cane Shredder

PATENTED UNDER THE LAWS OF THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.

THE UNDERSIGNED HAVE BEEN APPOINTED SOLE AGENTS FOR these SHREDDERS and are now prepared to receive orders. The great advantages to be derived from the use of the NATIONAL CANE SHREDDERS are thoroughly established and acknowledged by Planters generally.

The large number of Planters using them in the United States, Cuba, Argentine Republic, Peru, Australia and elsewhere, bear witness to the above claim.

The use of the SHREDDER very largely augments the quantity of cane mill can grind (25 to 50%), also the extraction of juice (5 to 12%). It is a great safeguard, making known at once the presence of any piece of iron, stakes from cars, or anything which would be liable to damage the mill, and allowing ample time to remove same before damaging the mill.

The SHREDDER is very strongly made, and from the manner of its operation it cuts or tears these pieces of wood or iron without often breaking the SHREDDER; and if anything breaks, it is simply some of the knives or cutters, which can be quickly and economically replaced. The SHREDDER, as its name indicates, tears the cane into shreds of varying lengths, perfectly opening it and allowing the mill to thoroughly press out the juice without requiring the immense extra power necessary to grind or crush the whole cane. The SHREDDER spreads the shredded cane uniformly and evenly to the mill rolls, and does away with the necessity of spreading the bagasse by hand between the mills, where regrounding is in use. No greater amount of boiler capacity is required to operate the SHREDDER than that which was sufficient for the installation of our SHREDDERS, enabling any competent engineer to successfully install and start them.

In ordering SHREDDERS from us, please send small sketch, showing the diameter and width of the mill roll, with which SHREDDER is to be connected, also the side (either right or left hand as you face the delivery side of the mill), upon which the mill engine is located, also the height from floor line to center of front mill roll shaft, and distance center this shaft to front and of bed plate. These SHREDDERS are now being used by the Hilo Sugar Co. and Hilo Mill, Kohala, where they are giving great satisfaction.

Prices and further particulars may be had by applying to a hitherto unsuspected niche of her soul there stood clear and distinct an image—an image of a very ordinary mortal, not the Parian marble of her fancy, but of crudest clay—and that its name—oh, the pity of it! its name was Love—and that it had been placed there to remain forever and aye, beyond all mortal power—beyond her will even—to remove it, and she had felt suddenly a keen pain at the knowledge—a consciousness that the ideal was an unworthy one, that it prosaged grief and disappointment for the future.

All this she saw and felt vaguely as in a dream, though she could not clearly express it in speech. A strange, half defined belief in the power of the dead to guide the living, partly mystic, partly Christian, dominated her spirit and led her to say to herself: "Perhaps mother is near and warning me." And the mother had been at rest in the little church yard on the outskirts of the town for twelve years.

At the foot of the table sat Jean, the eldest of them all, upon whom had devolved all the household cares and responsibilities after her mother's death.

The constant supervision and watchfulness that she had been obliged to exercise during that period had given her a matronly air and the staid and sober expression of her face, together with the quaker-like simplicity of her apparel, still more enhanced her matronly appearance.

She had had a little romance of her own while still in her teens, but realizing the responsibility that had descended to her after the mother's death, she asked her suitor to wait at least a year. This he readily promised, but after six months had passed by, with man's common perfidy he broke his troth and wedded another.

If Jean suffered any heart pang she was borne in silence and with fortitude, and the only noticeable effect was an added gentleness to her character and a yet stricter attention to duty.

She managed to find time to edge in a little useful reading every day in spite of her multitudinous household anxieties, and had stored her mind with valuable knowledge, so the whole family had acquired the habit of saying whenever any vexing question arose, "I'll ask Jean."

The one absent member of the family, Joseph, a man of twenty-five years, had married and removed to a distant city—but of him more anon.

Some Clever Dogs.

Notwithstanding the doubtful statement of Liebitz that he heard a shepherd's dog utter no fewer than thirty words, it may be asserted that no quadruped has been taught to talk any language spoken by man. Certain learned dogs have been taught a kind of speech, but this consists merely of differentiated tones of the bark. Prof. Benedon, of the University of Louvain, had a dog which could accompany with his voice a tolerably complicated air played on the piano. Another dog belonging to a different man could sing in unison an air of "La Favorita" when a contralto friend guided him the key notes.

Sir John Lubbock has succeeded in training his dog to distinguish a card with "water" on it if he wants water, one with "food" if he wants food, and so on. The dog soon learned to distinguish the blank from the written one; then he learned to attach an idea to some of the letters and was finally able to fetch to his master the card which corresponded to his wish. To get a single meal he had to fetch some eighteen or twenty of these cards. He made no mistakes.

It may further be interesting to note that Josephus thought that several of the lower animals could speak before the fall, and to this day many of the natives of South Africa believe that the baboons can talk.

How to Cure La Grippe.

About a year ago I took a violent attack of la grippe. I coughed day and night for about six weeks. My wife then suggested that I try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. At first I could see no difference, but still kept taking it, and soon found that it was what I needed. If I got no relief from one dose I took another, and it was only a few days until I was free from the cough. I think people in general ought to know the value of this remedy, and I take pleasure in acknowledging the benefit I have received from it.
