Captains Penhallow and Goodman of the schooners Alice Cooke and Robert Lowers respectively have made a wager that whoever gets over to San Francisco first, leads for Honolulu, the other going to Newcastle for coal. Both schooners left this afternoon.

The Paradise Paint Co. furnished the Midwinter Fair buildings with over 500,000 feet of their P. & B. Roofing, requiring over 40 miles of material. Messrs. W. G. Irwin & Co., Ltd. are sole agents for this company and carry a stock of their roofing, building papers and compounds. See advertisement in this paper.

Senior Captain Andrews cornered four Chinese last night with one tin of opium and several liechee nuts containing the drug. The latter were found in crevices made in two logs of wood. So ingenious was the hiding place that the pot from Makau had great difficulty in unearthing the drug. The Chinamen will offer a defense on the 8th inst.

J. W. Luning caused the issuance of a penal summons yesterday afternoon requiring the attendance of J. A. Magoon in the District Court to-morrow morning to answer to a charge of assault and battery. Luning complains that he was assaulted without the slightest provocation in his office by Magoon, while the latter claims Luning attempted to shoot him.

ONE FA AT WAIKIKI.

The Bank Raided and the Banker Sent to Jail.

R. C. Clark, a Japanese, was found guilty in the District Court this morning of assisting and maintaining a lottery game known as cho fa, during one month past, but more particularly on January 30th, at Waikiki. Two witnesses testified to having played the game at Clark's bank and lost in every case. They finally decided to inform on defendant and on Tuesday last gave information to Captain Andrews of the existence of the bank. Andrews gave witnesses $1 with which to corner the Jap. The man succeeded and Clark was landed behind prison bars.

The evidence was so conclusive that defendant offered no defense. He was sentenced to be imprisoned at hard labor twenty days and pay costs of court.

Ah Po, a Chinese storekeeper, arrested yesterday in the immediate vicinity of Clark's cho fa bank, for the same offense, was more fortunate. After evidence had been taken in his case, the judge found it insufficient, and Ah Po was discharged.

LOSS OF THE C. R. BISHOP.

The Steamer Goes Bang-up on the Rocks of Kauai.

The steamer Iwanai arrived from Nawiliwili at 8 o'clock yesterday evening with the bad news that the steamer C. R. Bishop, of the I. I. S. N. Co.'s fleet, had gone on the reef between Hanalei and Nawiliwili and was a total wreck. None of the crew or passengers were reported to be lost, but the cargo was partly destroyed by water.

The C. R. Bishop was in command of Mate Andrews, Captain Le Claire being laid up with sickness. She left here at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon for Nawiliwili, Hanalei and other places with a cargo of general merchandise. About 2 a. m. on Wednesday, the Bishop was steaming along when suddenly she grounded on the rocks. The shock was so sudden and unexpected that before the bell could be rung to back, the Bishop was stuck fast. Every timber in her shivered with the vibration. The night was dark as pitch and the outline of the headland was but dimly visible.

Seeing that there was no hope of getting off, Andrews despatched a message to Captain Freeman of the Iwanai, at Nawiliwili. Captain Freeman did all he possibly could to assist the Bishop, but his efforts were unavailing. It was finally decided that the Iwanai should carry word of the mishap to Honolulu, and the steamer arrived last night as mentioned.

The Iwanai left again for Nawiliwili to finish discharging her cargo at 11 o'clock last night, after delivering the message.

The Bishop lies in about three feet of water on a rocky coast, so that there is no possibility of her ever getting off again except in wreckage. There was a strong sea running at the time she struck, which carried her completely on the reef. Her sides are stove, her masts are loose and her hold is water-logged.

Captain Campbell, Superintendent of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Co., was seen this morning, as to his opinion of the wreck. The captain said: "There is no hope of getting her off again. She is a total wreck. I know the coast well, and know just exactly where she is lying. The reef along that coast is very dangerous, and being on the weather side of the island there is absolutely no hope. No blame is attached to Captain Andrews, as many a seafaring man would probably have made the same misjudgment as he did under the same circumstances. Andrews was master of the C. R. Bishop on one trip, and on several occasions took schooners to Laysan Island and back. He was regarded as a capable man, fit to command the C. R. Bishop."

Captain Campbell will leave on the steamer James Makee at 4 o'clock this afternoon to inspect the wreck and dispose of the cargo at auction on Kauai.

The C. R. Bishop was of 14276 tons, and was built by Hall Bros. of Port Blaker, Washington. She came here in command of Captain Melander on August 29, 1880. It was the Bishop which went in search of the missing men of the Hawaiian bark Lady Lamson some time ago. About a month ago she was taken on the Marine Railway, and on examination it was found that only a sheet of copper had prevented the Bishop from foundering on a recent voyage to Laysan Island. She was then thoroughly repaired and recuperated.

A Red-Letter Day for Hilo.

The gifted and charming vocalists, the Misses Albu, have postponed their return to San Francisco and have returned to leave for the Volcano next Tuesday. Hilo will be cheered up by the exquisite vocalization of the talented young ladies, for it is the intention of Mr. Plunkett, who will accompany the artists, to give a concert on the Saturday prior to the departure for Honolulu.

JUDICIARY JOTTINGS.

Excerpts from Papers on File This Day.

In the case of John F. Bowler vs. E. C. Macfarlane and others, the plaintiff by his solicitor, Paul Neumann, has filed the following replication:

"Now comes the plaintiff herein, John F. Bowler, and says his bill is true and the separate answer of the defendant J. J. Sullivan is not true, and that he is ready to prove and join issue on the said answer."

Wm. O. Smith petitions the Circuit Court to appoint him guardian of John and Frank B. Caswell, aged 19 and 17 years respectively, and living in San Francisco. Petitioner states these minors have estate in Honolulu inherited from their grandmother, Elizabeth C. Bolles, of whose will he is executor, and he is related by marriage to the minors.

Wm. O. Smith files his accounts and asks for his discharge, as executor of the will of the late W. P. Kahale of Wailuku. Receipts $1584.56, expenditures $1585.07, leaving 51 cents due the executor.

Yim Quon files his account as administrator of estate of Yim Yon. Receipts $268.75, expenditures $2322.44, leaving a balance of $3263.31. The hearing of the Banning estate was adjourned over this afternoon, to allow Messrs. Hatch and Allen to attend the Councils.

An Honest Medicine

Rheumatism Cured—Health Built Up. Mr. Churchill, formerly of Churchill & Taylor, surveyors and civil engineers, Mt. Vernon, Washington, writes: "I was afflicted with rheumatism for many years. When I came here I began to be afflicted all over with rheumatism."

Rheumatism And also pains in my back and a general feeling of being unwell. My business takes me out in the elements all the time, and I found myself unfit for work. Reading an advertisement of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and learning also that the medicine was compounded in my own State of Massachusetts, I concluded this may be an honest medicine. I took it and am so much improved that I am out in all weathers and travel all day with no fatigue and no need of medicine. To any one that feels bad all over, I say take Hood's Sarsaparilla. It has cured me." R. H. Churchill, Mt. Vernon, Wash.

THE UNDERIGNED HAVE BEEN APPOINTED SOLE AGENTS FOR these SHREDDERS and are now prepared to receive orders.

The great advantages to be derived from the use of the NATIONAL CASE SHREDDER are thoroughly established and acknowledged by Planters generally.

The large number of Planters using them in the United States, Cuba, Argentine Republic, Peru, Australia and elsewhere, bear witness to the above claim.

The use of the SHREDDER very largely augments the quantity of cane the mill can grind (25 to 30 %), also the extraction of juice (8 to 12 %).

It is a great safeguard, making known at once the presence of any pieces of iron, stakes from cars, or anything which would be liable to damage the mill, and allowing ample time to remove same before damaging the mill.

The SHREDDER is very strongly made, and from the manner of its operation it cuts or tears these pieces of wood or iron without often breaking the SHREDDER; and if anything breaks, it is simply some of the knives or cutters, which can be quickly and economically replaced. The SHREDDER, as its name indicates, tears the cane into shreds of varying lengths, perfectly opening it and allowing the mill to thoroughly press out the juices without requiring the immense extra power necessary to grind or crush the whole cane. The SHREDDER spreads the shredded cane uniformly and evenly to the mill rolls, and does away with the necessity of spreading the bagasse by hand between the mills, where regrinding is useless. No greater amount of boiler capacity is required to operate the SHREDDER than that which was sufficient for the mill, for the above reasons. We furnish full working drawings for the installation of our SHREDDERS, employing any competent engineer to successfully install and start them.

In ordering SHREDDERS from us, please send small sketch, showing the diameter and width of the mill roll, with which SHREDDER is to be connected, also the side (either right or left hand as you face the delivery side of the

The Prize Awarded!

Anheuser-Busch Brewing Co. Wins the Prize at the World's Fair with their "EAGLE" Brand Beer

St. Louis, Oct. 28, 1903. Messrs. MacFarlane & Co., Ltd., Honolulu, H. I.

Dear Sirs:—We have mailed you a copy of the Globe-Democrat announcing the great victory won by the Anheuser-Busch Association with their "EAGLE" Brand of Beer.

Signed: ANHEUSER-BUSCH BREWING ASSOCIATION.

(Special Despatch to Globe-Democrat.)

WORLD'S FAIR, CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 28.—No award has ever been made so gratifying to St. Louis people and so justly merited as the one given to-day by the Columbian jury of the World's Fair, consisting of connoisseurs and chemists of the highest rank, to the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association. By methods of unrivalled business enterprise, and by using the best material produced in America and Europe, including corn and other adulterants or surrogates, the different kinds of the Anheuser-Busch beer have become the favorites with the American people, and have now conquered the highest award in every particular, which had to be considered by the Columbian jury. The high character of the award given to-day by the jurors will be better understood when it is known that the different beers exhibited by the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association had to compete with hundreds of the most excellent products of other brewers. The fact that no other concern has received so many points for the various essential qualities of good beer, confirms anew the firm's reputation as the leader of all American beers, and Mr. Adolphus Busch can feel proud over this result so justly merited.

The above is a fac-simile of the Label of the "EAGLE" Brand which took the Prize.

In ordering this Beer be sure to ask for the "EAGLE" Brand.

Seek or Avoid Perspiration.

The health code of the average Italian may be summed up in two maxims, "Seek perspiration when ill," and "Avoid perspiration when well." As illustrative of their horror of perspiring an incident occurred a few weeks ago in Florence. An English lady was walking down the Lung Arno, when she missed her purse. The suspicious movements of a man in front made her hasten her footsteps and boldly demand the stolen property.

Too amazed to refuse, the thief actually handed over the purse before starting off at a good, round pace. Indignant at such brazen robbery, the lady stopped an elegantly dressed gentleman and in excited tones began to pour out her grievance. Merely waiting to hear "That man stole my purse," the gallant Italian rushed at the thief, who promptly took to his heels. As cross streets are scarce on Lung Arno they had a good run ere the thief could dodge his pursuer. The afternoon sun of a late spring day did not help the polite Florentine to keep cool, so, red-faced and out of breath, he slowly turned back to meet the English lady with profuse apologies.

"Madam, I am very, very sorry. I did my best, your purse is gone."

"Oh, no," she replied sweetly. "I have my purse. I got it back from the man."

"Got your purse back! Per Bacco! What did you want then?"

"Want? Why, I want justice."

It was too much, even for proverbial Italian urbanity, and almost choking with sudden wrath, he gasped out: "Justice! To think I should have run myself into a perspiration for justice!"—Kate Field's Washington.

Evil Nautical Omens.

Mermaids work dire mischief, whether in the shape of the famous Lorelei of the Rhine or as frequently seen by sailors, and are sometimes regarded as the sign of coming disaster. Naturally many terrible accidents have followed the discovery of one of these beautiful creatures, and as people are always waiting to put cause and effect together, the result has been this belief.

A sailor always regards the presence of a shark about a ship a most fatal omen to the sick on board. Ghosts of all sorts and kinds prefer traveling by water to almost any other mode, and our own Cotton Mather tells us of a specter that visited a colonial ship, carrying off in a ghostly canoe seven of the crew at a time. He also says: "Many persons who have died at sea have been seen within a day of their death by friends at home."

There is a superstition that a ship no longer seaworthy, just before breaking up between the strains of wind and wave, has been known to give forth wailing sounds like moaning. The sailor cannot account for this, but he knows too well its import, and loses heart at the melancholy sound. This is also noticed with a "ghost" whose name is "whore" one of the characters is made to say, "A ship which is about to sink makes her lamentations just like any other human being."—Boston Transcript.

Self-Denial of the Indian.

The Indians are a patient and clanish people; their love for one another is stronger than that of any civilized people I know. If this were not so I believe there would have been tribes of cannibals among them. A white people have been known to kill and eat their companions in preference to starving, but Indians—never. In times of famine the adults often denied themselves a fair meal in order to make the food last as long as possible for the children, who were not able to bear hunger as well as the old. As a people they can go without food much longer than any other nation.

I once passed through one of these hard springs when we had nothing to eat for several days. I well remember the six small birds which constituted the breakfast for six families one morning, and then we had no dinner or supper to follow it. What a relief that was to me, although I had only a small wing of a bird for my share. Soon after this we came to a region where buffaloes were plenty, and we soon forgot all the suffering we had just gone through.—St. Nicholas.

Much Like a Man.

The Kulu Kamba is more like a human being, according to Professor Garner, than any other animal. The principal difference between the physical organization of a human being and a gorilla, according to the same authority, is that the spine of the gorilla is not so regularly jointed as that of a man, some of the joints having seemingly gone into partnership. The difference, or to put it more fully, the distinction, between the chimpanzee and the Kulu Kamba is still a matter of conjecture, Professor Garner says, as he does not possess a skeleton of the Kulu Kamba. Skeletons of gorillas and chimpanzees are the same to him as a varied collection of pipes are to some men, and he expects to be just as well supplied with the inaccurate results of his researches some day. Having been in Africa on scientific exploration but, he naturally intends to go again. The African fever seldom leaves a man upon whom it has once taken a grip.—Pull Mall Budget.

How to Cure La Grippe.

About a year ago I took a violent attack of la grippe. I coughed day and night for about six weeks; my wife then suggested that I try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. At first I could see no difference, but still kept taking it, and soon found that it was what I needed. If I got no relief from one dose I took another, and it was only a few days until I was free from the cough. I think people in general ought to know the value of this remedy, and I take pleasure in acknowledging the benefit I have received from it.
