There is nothing better than a "Cleveland" nothing quite so good, and with the further improvements made in the three vital parts, the Tire, the Rim, and the Bearings—it is now simply unchallengeable and unapproachable. Should a puncture occur by any unusual chance, the outer cover can be slipped from the rim, the inner tube repaired, and the wheel be running again inside of five minutes. 1894 is a "Cleveland" year!

WAIKAEAKUA NOTICE

ALL PARTIES DESIRING TO GO TO WAIKAEAKUA FAIR on Mauna Kea are hereby requested to obtain a Permit

COMPLETE SATISFACTION.

Plaintiff in the Slander Suit Will Take No Further Action.

The following document speaks for itself. It has been filed in the Clerk's office with the papers in the case of Ralph R. Foster vs. Captain H. M. Hayward, and is addressed to Judge Whiting, who presided at the trial of the case.

"The undersigned, composing the jury that rendered a verdict for defendant in the suit of Ralph R. Foster vs. Captain H. M. Hayward on the 2d inst., deem it a matter of justice that we now make to you the following statement:

"The suit was an action for defamation of character, based on the charge that Captain Hayward had made statements reflecting on the character of Miss Foster, the plaintiff's adopted daughter, and her relations with the plaintiff. The jury found that the defendant did not make the defamatory statements. That was the only question before us, and we thought we had no right to add anything else to the verdict. But we desire to hereby express our unanimous opinion that absolutely nothing appeared at the trial to show that there is or has been anything wrong in the relations between the plaintiff and his adopted daughter; on the contrary, the question was not raised at all, as both Captain Hayward and his counsel expressly stated that they raise no question as to the good character of Miss Foster."

This document is signed by E. F. Bishop, as foreman, and is concurred in by his other eleven colleagues. This declaration of the jury the plaintiff regards as a complete vindication and will take no further steps in the matter.

CAPTAIN McNEILL'S GOAT.

Arrested for Not Having Fifty Dollars.

Captain McNeill of the barkentine S. G. Wilder was the owner of a goat when he left here last trip for the Coast. It was given to him by a native working on the city front. The skipper kept good care of the billy and when the S. G. Wilder arrived yesterday the animal was still on board. Shortly after the vessel docked the goat walked ashore and was arrested by a Customs officer. The man was asked what he was going to do with it. He answered that he was going to lock it up. "What for?" was then asked. "Because he hasn't got 50." The goat had not been returned to the vessel this morning. "Billy" will probably be released like Nigel Jackson, because the goat is a native of the Hawaiian Islands.

SEMINARY CLOSING.

Kawaihauo Girls Give Their Friends a Good Treat.

The closing exhibition of the Kawaihauo Seminary was held in the Kawaihauo church yesterday evening, before a fairly large audience. The front of the choir was decorated with flowers and evergreens, and underneath was the greeting, "Aloha Oukou a Pau." The Hawaiian orchestra, under Prof. Berger, opened the program with an overture. The singing of the girls was much admired, and the piano solos were fairly rendered. The compositions were up to the standard. One on "The Higher Education of Hawaiian," was well conceived. A recitation, "Ki tum tiddy-tdy" by little Helen Desha created roars of laughter, and she was deservedly applauded. "Daisy Time" (arranged by Miss L. B. Davidson), was acted and sung by a number of young girls in characters. This was particularly good, and the faces of the audience wreathed with smiles as each one came to the front to deliver her part. The singing was exceptionally fine. The hoop drill by fourteen little girls was neatly executed. The evening's program ended with "Aia Hiki Mai" and "Ua Like no a Like." The exhibition closes this term's work at the Seminary and in a few days the schoolhouse, which has been for the past nine months alive with feminine gab and laughter, will be a gloomy looking structure.

Saturday, June 2, 1894.

Section 2 of Article 14 of the Constitution may have been considered the "one thing needful" by those who prepared the draft, but it may not meet the views of a majority of the delegates. To the man up a tree there is no apparent reason why John Doe, who carried a musket at the time of the revolution or has supported the government by display of arms or the frequent use of his tongue or pen, should be accorded special privileges not enjoyed by his neighbor, Richard Roe, who said nothing and sawed wood. "Substantial Service," as we take it, means membership in any of the military organizations. It may be construed, also, to include the men who were temporarily employed in some departments of the government and who supported it at so much per diem. It seems that this section can be abused without limit to the detriment of men, who, while not actively engaged in the formation or support of the government, have contributed to its support by the payment of taxes. As an offset to the Kanaka vote the Constitution of 1887 granted unusual facilities to agents; by that same token, the Constitution of 1894 grants similar privileges for the same purpose but with different qualifications. That of 1887 gave the right of suffrage to a number of people who settled here and bought or leased lands and built homes; the Constitution of 1894 takes the right from many of them unless they take an oath to oblige their allegiance to their native land. If John Doe, who owns $200 worth of unencumbered property, may vote and hold his allegiance to the governments of the United States or Europe, there is no reason why Richard Roe, who pays taxes on from one to twenty thousand dollars worth of property, should not enjoy the same right. The man who owns property on the Islands has a greater interest in maintaining good government than he who can pack all of his belongings in a grip sack and take a vessel for God knows where. Let the voting franchise be given only those people who become actual citizens and who possess the necessary qualifications other than those prescribed under the head of "Special Rights of Citizenship." Open this door and the Special Right clause will be abused to as great an extent as in granting the privileges of the Convention to certain persons who had not won their spurs as the law directs. Speaking of privileges reminds us. The brig "W. G. Irwin" brought us Oil Stoves without number, all sorts and conditions and enough to supply every voter, male or female, on the Islands. Oil stoves are a convenient article and no home is complete without one, the high price and difficulty of obtaining alcohol makes the oil stove necessary for heating water in the night in case the baby has a little colic. The justly celebrated Keystone Beater has made its third appearance on our shelves and this time in sufficient quantity to supply all demands. For quick beating of eggs or the preparation of fruits for dessert the Keystone Beater has no equal. We have another invoice of Pansy Iron stoves to take the place of those sold since the arrival of the Australia. If you want a really good high grade stove at bed rock prices now is the time to get it, and the Pansy is the style you want. It burns wood or coal and in economic quantities.

FOURTH OF JULY.

Sub-Committees are Formed for the Day's Celebration.
The Fourth of July Committee met yesterday evening to further arrangements for the celebration of the Glorious Fourth. The offer of the O. R. & L. Co. to hold the picnic and exercises at Remond Grove was declined with thanks. After considerable discussion on the question of a fitting celebration of the day the matter was further continued until a future meeting. The following committees were appointed: Salutes—J. H. Fisher; literary exercises and music—Prof. M. M. Scott, H. F. Wickham, Dr. C. B. Wood, J. B. Atherton and P. C. Jones; decoration—Geo. C. Stratmeyer, W. P. Boyd, L. T. Kenake, J. S. Martin, J. V. Simonson; sports—J. W. Jones, T. B. Murray and F. B. McStocker; grounds—C. B. Ripley, J. N. Wright and L. C. Able.
Post Office Changes.
Radical changes in the Post Office are completed excepting the finishing touches. The Postal Money Order and the Postal Savings Bank branches are removed to upstairs, a new stairway on the Bethel street side having been built for public use. There are counters to be divided along the middle with a rail, for the convenience of people doing business in those branches. Down stairs a doorway has been cut on the Merchant street side where the natives' general delivery wicket was. This wicket and adjacent boxes have been shifted round and are now reached from within an alcove made by the opening of this doorway. The accommodations for the natives are thus increased. Opposite the new opening is a door leading to the new staircase within the building. The removal of the Money Order and Savings Bank branches upstairs will be a great relief to the public pressure at both the general delivery and the receiving windows on the ground floor. Whatever inconvenience may be felt in going upstairs at the first will probably soon wear off with business men, who will see the advantages of having the pressure in all the branches subdivided throughout the building. Hitherto most of the valuable space upstairs has been lying wastefully idle. Postmaster-General Oat is doing all he can to increase the efficiency of the postal service.
While in Topeka last March, E. T. Barber, a prominent newspaper man of La Cygne, Kan., was taken with cholera morbus very severely. The night clerk at the hotel where he was stopping happened to have a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and gave him three doses which relieved him and he thinks saved his life. Every family should keep this remedy in their home at all times. No one can tell how soon it may be needed. It costs but a trifle and may be the means of saving much suffering and perhaps the life of some member of the family. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

Mechanics' Home, corner Hotel and Nuuanu street. Lodging by day, week or month. Terms: 25 and 50 cents per night; $1 and $1.25 per week.

Mr. Hayne arrived at the Pacific Mail wharf just five minutes late, the vessel having severed connection and being in tow of the tug Eleonora. The would-be passenger drove to the boat landing and secured a boat. He was rowed to the vicinity of the Spar buoy, but the vessel was far out to sea.
One of the graduating essays delivered last night at the closing exercises of the Kawaiahaeo Seminary was in Hawaiian without translation. For a school whose curriculum is in the English language this seems rather odd of the way, especially as the Hawaiian delegates to the Constitutional Convention have declared English to be the language of the future here, and have dispensed with even the reading of the minutes in Hawaiian for their own benefit.
Dr. Talmage's Address.
Those who heard Dr. Talmage yesterday will be glad to see a verbatim report of his address in this paper. It was taken stenographically by our own reporter. Extra papers may be obtained at this office.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

Eighth Day.
FRIDAY, JUNE 8.
The Convention was opened with prayer by Chaplain Waiamau at 9:30, President Dole in the chair.
Coun. Allen submitted a proposition for the stenographer, to transcribe his notes within 25 days of the close of the Convention, for the lump sum of $750 for the whole work.
Min. Damon spoke of the value of having the debates recorded.
Min. Smith moved that the expenditure be authorized.
Coun. Emmeluth was not in favor of such a large expenditure for the work to be done. The same prices for any kind of work could not be got to day as were obtainable a few years ago. Seven hundred and fifty dollars for 60 days' work was a little too stiff for him.
Coun. Ena said they had consulted experts including Mr. Mills, U. S. Consul-General, who had been a stenographer for the U. S. State Department, and the latter said $45 a day would not be too much for the work.
Min. Smith urged the value of a complete record of discussions for the courts when they came to construe the Constitution as showing the intent of the authors in different provisions.
The motion carried.
A petition from Chinese merchants and other residents was read, praying for equal rights to that nationality in the matter of privileges of citizenship.
Del. Baldwin moved to refer the petition to the Committee on Legislation.
Del. Vivas moved to lay it on the table.
Del. Ables supported the amendment. The matter might as well be settled there and then.
Coun. Ena considered it would be discourteous toward those people to table their petition.
Del. Vivas asked to add to his motion, "to be taken up with the franchise on third reading."
The motion to refer to committee carried.
Del. Carter said that at an earlier day he had proposed a resolution asking for a report from the Minister of Interior on the details of the late election so as to guide members in deciding on the merits of cumulative voting. He was a little surprised at the curt resolution given to that resolution, but as there was much inquiry for the same information by piecemeal, on the part of members and the public, perhaps the resolution might prevail now. He therefore moved that the resolution be taken from the table and considered.
The document could not be found.
Coun. Tenney thought all papers should be kept in the hall, and if the Secretary had not a proper receptacle he should be provided with one.
Min. Smith promised that the information required would be forthcoming in a day or two, and moved the order of the day.
Del. Carter pressed for a vote on his resolution, which being put was carried.
The Convention went into committee of the whole, Coun. Ena in the chair, for the further consideration of the Constitution.
ARTICLE 37.—THE LEGISLATURE.
The Legislative power of the Republic is vested in a Legislature, and subject to the limitations herein provided, an Advisory Council.
The Legislature shall consist of two houses, styled the Senate and the House of Representatives, which shall organize and sit separately, except as otherwise herein provided.
The two houses shall be styled "The Legislature of the Republic of Hawaii."
Coun. Tenney moved to strike out all the words after "Legislature" in the first paragraph.
Coun. Emmeluth moved to strike out the article and substitute the following: "The Legislative department shall be vested in a Senate and a House of Representatives, to be called The Legislature of the Republic of Hawaii."
Min. Smith referred at length to the great usefulness of the Privy Council under the old order, in meeting such emergencies as pestilence suddenly entering our bounds. Something ought to be provided to afford legislative power to assist the Government between the biennial sessions of the Legislature. Some contended instead for annual sessions of the Legislature.
Min. Damon supported the amendment of Coun. Emmeluth. There seemed to be a tendency in this Constitution to take power from the people and concentrate it in the hands of the Executive. His experience of some years past induced him to take this stand. The granting of legislative powers to the Advisory Council would end in the military's controlling of this country. It was too serious a matter to place with the Advisory Council the discretion of deciding what is sufficiently great an emergency for it to take legislative powers upon. If the emergency is great enough for the voting of public money, it is great enough to have the Legislature called to consider. He was at the very least opposed to giving the Advisory Council greater power than was held by the old Privy Council.
Pres. Dole would like the movers of the two amendments to give their reasons. They were working in the dark.
Coun. Emmeluth said his reason was that he believed in leaving with the people all the power that God and the conditions allowed. It seemed to him this Constitution conferred almost despotic power on the Executive.
Del. Carter withdrew his second from Coun. Emmeluth's amendment.
Coun. Tenney said he was opposed to the Advisory Council because there was too much centralization of power in Honolulu being enacted. The temptation for the Advisory Council to legislate on trivial matters would be too great. It would be a dangerous condition of things for the republic. If there arose an emergency that the Executive felt too serious for itself to handle, then it was a case for calling upon the representatives of the country.

Del. Carter thought his own amendment covered all the present necessity for that of Coun. Emmeluth. His position was that he believed in having an Advisory Council, but he did not wish to see this Article hampered with a provision giving the Advisory Council legislative power. He thought there were sufficient checks elsewhere in the draft to avoid the abuse of power feared by Coun. Tenney.
Del. Baldwin was hardly prepared to vote on this question to day. He therefore would move to refer the Article to the Committee on Legislation. He did not agree with Mr. Carter, as he did not believe in giving the Council power to make and change laws or appropriate money.
Pres. Dole thought members were working in the dark. They should keep Art. 78, relating to the Advisory Council, in sight. He moved in amendment that the Article in hand be deferred to be considered Art. 78. Carried.
ARTICLE 38.
No person shall sit as a Senator or Representative in the Legislature, unless elected under and in conformity with this Constitution.
Passed.
ARTICLE 39.—SUPREMACY OF JUDGE OF QUALIFICATIONS OF MEMBERS.
In case any election to a seat in either House is disputed, and legally contested, the Supreme Court shall be the sole judge of whether or not a legal election for such seat has been held; and, if it shall find that a legal election has been held, it shall be the sole judge of who has been elected.
Pres. Dole said the general rule had been to make legislatures the judges of qualifications of their own members. Yet the tendency of human nature was to be led by interest, and he believed this provision to remove such questions from the arena of party interest was a distinct step in advance. He instanced the Hayes-Tilden contest in the United States, where every member of Congress voted according to his party's interests.
Vice-President Wilder And the judges too.
Pres. Dole—Yes, and the judges.
Del. Carter favored the provision, relating what he had heard from statements in Washington on the subject. This country had been fortunate in having its judges hold themselves aloof from party politics.
Coun. Emmeluth (with voice)—That is a question to my mind.
The Article passed.
ARTICLE 40.—BURDEN OF PROOF OF ELIGIBILITY.
In case the eligibility of any person to be a Senator or Representative, or an elector of Senators or Representatives, is questioned by any legal voter, before any Court or tribunal having authority to consider such matter, the burden of proof shall rest upon the person whose eligibility is so questioned to establish his eligibility.
The unsupported statement or oath of the person whose eligibility is so questioned shall not be deemed sufficient to shift the burden of proof; but he shall show by other evidence, to the satisfaction of the Court or tribunal, that he is eligible.
Passed.
ARTICLE 41.—DISQUALIFICATIONS OF LEGISLATORS.
No member of the Legislature shall, during the term for which he is elected, be appointed or elected to any office of the government except that of President or Minister of the Departments of the Government.
Min. Hatch moved to add to exceptions Justices of the Supreme Court and Judges of the Circuit Court.
Min. Smith supported the amendment. It was almost necessary in view of the large proportion of lawyers generally found in the Legislature.
Del. Robertson moved to strike out all the words after "President." The Senate was a small body of only fifteen members, and the ministerial position was a temptation to be removed from their eyes.
Coun. Tenney seconded this amendment. The desire for ministerial position on the part of a great many members of the last Legislature was one chief reason for the instability of one Ministry after another.
Chairman Ena objected to the reference to members of the last Legislature as personal to some members of the Convention.
Coun. Tenney would except members of this Convention from his remarks. (Laughter.)
Del. Robertson's amendment was in favor of Del. Robertson's amendment.
Coun. Allen moved to pass the article as in the draft.
Pres. Dole believed that it was desirable to remove all of the element of political reward possible from the Legislature. He did not coincide with the argument of material for members of the bench being made too limited by excluding members of the Legislature. In the small legislative bodies being created it was not likely that all the lawyers of ability would be found. The position of Senator was itself honorable enough to be its own reward. As to Del. Robertson's amendment to shut out members from Cabinet positions, that stood on a different footing. It might be very desirable, in the event of a change in the Ministry, to have Senators or Representatives of ability and experience to enter the Cabinet. He did not think personal ambition was the main cause of the troubles last session, but rather the struggle of different parties for supremacy in the administration.
Del. Baldwin favored the present draft. It was natural that members of the Legislature of known capacity should be the material for ministerial positions when a change happened.
Min. Hatch did not see inconsistency between the two amendments. He would be willing to support Del. Robertson's amendment as to Ministers. It was the aim of this Constitution to prevent the Legislature's spending its time in fighting over the party control of the Cabinet. There was scarcely anything that could be enacted better calculated to carry out this intention than by excluding members of the Legislature from eligibility as Ministers. He was willing to confine the exceptions to the President and members of the Judiciary. There had been no evil results from allowing members of Congress to be made judges in the United States. Senator White had just been appointed to the Federal Supreme Court. In the case of a lawyer fit to be a judge, there was a pecuniary sacrifice in giving up his practice to take the position. In answer to a question he would limit the exceptions to members of the Judiciary.

Del. Robertson was willing to compromise by accepting the amendment of the Minister of Foreign Affairs. There were only three members of the Supreme Court and they were appointed for life.
Min. Smith suggested changing to "a Justice of the Supreme Court" instead of "Justices."
Coun. McCandless was opposed to excluding Cabinet members. He cited the British practice, also the freedom of the President of the United States to choose his Cabinet wherever he pleased.
Min. Hatch's amendment prevailed.
Del. Carter moved to strike out "or" between "President" and "Minister." Carried.
Del. Robertson moved to insert a comma after "President." Carried.
The section passed as amended.
ARTICLE 42.—DISQUALIFICATIONS OF GOVERNMENT OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES.
No person holding office in or under or by authority of the Government, including Notaries Public and Agents to take acknowledgments, nor any person in the receipt of pay or emolument from the Government, nor any contractor with, nor employee of the government, shall be eligible to election to the Legislature or to hold the position of an elected member of the same.
Coun. Young thought the Article shut out most men engaged in any mechanical employment in the country.
Pres. Dole said it only shut out those who were at the given time Government contractors. It would scarcely exclude the member of a corporation.
Vice Pres. Wilder, on being informed that it shut out any successful bidder for Government work or supplies, said the Article would exclude every business house in town at certain times. He moved to strike out the clause, "nor any contractor with."
Del. Carter said a business house was not a contractor all the time. He regarded the provision as a wise one.
Min. Damon believed there would be no difficulty in a member getting a straw man to make the contract. This would defeat the intent of the provision, and he did not believe in cumbering the constitution with ineffective provisions.
Del. Vivas moved to strike out notaries public and agents to take acknowledgments, also "nor contractor with," and "nor any contractor with." He regarded the exclusions in question as injustice to poor men in town and country.
Del. Lyman seconded Del. Vivas' amendment. He regarded lawyers in general as being just as much beneficiaries of the Government as notaries public.
At 12 m. the committee took recess till 1:30.
Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage called on the Queen at Washington Place yesterday and had quite a pleasant interview with Her Majesty. The reverend gentleman expressed himself very much pleased and highly delighted with the visit.

National Cane Shredder

PATENTED UNDER THE LAWS OF THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS

THE UNDERSIGNED HAVE BEEN APPOINTED SOLE AGENTS FOR these SHREDDERS and are now prepared to receive orders. The great advantages to be derived from the use of the NATIONAL CANE SHREDDER are thoroughly established and acknowledged by Planters generally.

The large number of Planters using them in the United States, Cuba, Argentine Republic, Peru, Australia and elsewhere, bear witness to the above claim. The use of the SHREDDER very largely augments the quantity of cane the mill can grind (25 to 50%), also the extraction of juice (9 to 12%). It is a great safeguard, making known at once the presence of any pieces of iron, stakes from cars, or anything which would be liable to damage the mill, and allowing ample time to remove same before damaging the mill. The SHREDDER is very strongly made, and from the manner of its operation it cuts or tears these pieces of wood or iron without often breaking the SHREDDER; and if anything breaks, it is simply some of the knives or cutters, which can be quickly and economically replaced. The SHREDDER, as its name indicates, tears the cane into shreds of varying lengths, perfectly opening it and allowing the mill to thoroughly press out the juices without requiring the immense extra power necessary to grind or crush the whole cane. The SHREDDER spreads the shredded cane uniformly and evenly to the mill rolls, and does away with the necessity of spreading the bagasse by hand between the mills, where regrinding is in use. No greater amount of boiler capacity is required to operate the SHREDDER than that which was sufficient for the mill, for the above reasons. We furnish full working drawings for the installation of our SHREDDERS, enabling any competent engineer to successfully install and start them.

In ordering SHREDDERS from us, please send small sketch, showing the diameter and width of the mill rolls with as you favor it, on the left side of the mill, upon which the right engine is located, also the height from floor line to center of front mill roll shaft, and distance center this shaft to front end of bed plate. These SHREDDERS are now being used by the Hilo Sugar Co and Hilo Mill, Kohala, where they are giving great satisfaction.

Oahu Railway & Land Co.

OFFERS THE PUBLIC

Another Great Opportunity

To Secure Homes in One of the Most Delightful Localities to be

of the Pacific.

As a healthy resort Pearl City has already established an enviable reputation. Many good citizens in this community have experienced the wonderful effect produced by a few days sojourn in that dry, cool atmosphere, and give grateful testimony to the relief they have almost instantly gained from severe and long-continued attacks of asthma. Physicians acquainted with the climate of Pearl City recommend it as a natural sanitarium.

THE WATER SUPPLY IS AMPLE!

And can be increased to meet the needs of a population equal to the largest city in the world.

Prof. A. B. LYONS of Oahu College is our authority for stating that the water supply is the purest yet discovered in this country.

Special Inducements to Early Settlers:

For ninety days from date we will sell LOTS ON SPECIAL TERMS favorable to bona fide settlers. For a term of three months from date, lumber and all building materials will be supplied, and delivered at Pearl City at much lower price than ever before obtained.

For further particulars, call at this office or on any of the lumber dealers in this city. Those who now own lots as well as those who propose to become residents of that growing city, will do well to embrace this opportunity. Those who avail themselves of this offer, within the time named, will be entitled to, and will receive the following benefits:

For a term of ten years, this Company will carry such residents and their families from Pearl City to Honolulu in the morning (arriving a little before seven o'clock), and from Honolulu to Pearl City in the evening (leaving Honolulu a little after five o'clock), for ten cents each way, a rate less than one cent per mile. The rates on all other passenger trains running during the day or night will be 1 1/2 cents per mile first class, and 1 cent per mile second class.

A good school is about to be opened in the Peninsula, in the fine, large, new school-house erected by Mr. J. T. Waterhouse. Residents living at Pearl City heights, (above Pearl City station) and those having homes on the Peninsula, will be allowed to ride free on regular trains between Pearl City station and to and from the Peninsula.

Those who want to continue to send their children to schools in Honolulu, can have transportation on all regular trains to and from Pearl City, for the purpose of attending school, at five cents each way for each pupil. This is equal to 21 to 26 miles ride for ten cents.

Equal inducements for those desiring to secure homes in this country have never before been offered to the public.

This Company has been requested from abroad to name the price of all their land and in that locality.

Should a clearance sale be made to a syndicate, no opportunity, like the present would again occur for the purchase of homes at Pearl City.

is the best week. Of all the afternoons of the week this is the best afternoon. We are at the very acme of history. It took all the ages to make this era. I pitch my tent toward the sunrise. The mightiest agencies for making men better are now on foot. The most popular institution in the world to-day is the church. The most popular book in the world to-day is the Bible. The most popular name on earth to-day is Jesus. Ten thousand men would die for him when one would die for anybody else. The gospel of Christ to-day is making mightier strides than it has in all times of past history. The kingdoms of this world are becoming the kingdoms of Christ. This religion sometimes under the title of the gospel and sometimes under other names is going from conquest to conquest.

In London I received a telegram from Mr. Gladstone saying, "Come to Hawarden." I went there and was going through the park with Mr. Gladstone. I was running more than walking, for though Mr. Gladstone had celebrated the day before his 75th birthday he was as fleet as a deer, so that instead of a walk we were on a run. While we were going up and down the park of Hawarden they pronounce it Harden over there. Mr. Gladstone said to me, "Don't you think some people have a wrong religion in their heads and a right religion in their hearts?" He said, "I have no doubt of it," and he gave me an illustration from a country (Africa) where we are going now. He spoke about a recent war there and he said: "After this war was over Lord Napier and I were walking along this path, and he told me there had been a soldier who had his leg broken in the war. There was difficulty in moving him but they decided they would bring him along anyway. Lord Napier offered a woman at a town they reached ten times the money she would have got ordinarily if she would take care of the cripple and nurse him. She said, 'No, I will not take care of this man for this money, but if you will leave him here I will take care of him for the love of God.'" Mr. Gladstone said, "Don't you think that was religion?" And I said, "Yes, that is good enough religion for me." This old book sets forth a theory by which the whole world is to be evangelized and saved by the most illustrious being that ever lived on earth, who said he was to be lifted up not to drag but to draw all men to him. We may resist argument, we may resist almost any human force, but the force of kindness none of us can resist. If I were going to put this whole book in one word if I were asked to express the entire word of God in one word if I were asked to put the whole system of Christianity in one word I do not know what word you would select, but I would select the word "mercy." I will tell you what the word mercy means. When a man goes wrong it is out with him from the house of God, out with him from the house of society. That is the mercy of the world. But the mercy of God you can always tell, because it tells a man who has gone astray to come back. If a man goes only a few miles away God calls him to come back. When he goes ten thousand miles away God thunders, "Come back!" The world's mercy to woman is still worse. When a woman goes astray she is cast out, everybody is done with her. How different was the conduct of Jesus when they brought a woman to him to condemn. With one stroke of the baton of sarcasm he cut them through from scalp to heel. "Let him that is without sin cast the first stone at her." What we most want is the mercy of God and what we most need to show toward others is mercy. How can we expect the mercy of God unless we show mercy to others? You be hard on others and others will be hard on you. You will be measured with your own yardstick.

Some years ago and immediately after the death of Alexander H. Stephens, Governor of Georgia, one of the best men the world has ever seen or will see I was sent for by telegram to take part in the obsequies. When I was waiting in the room for the services to begin a Southern man said to me: "I overheard a conversation between Governor Stephens and his secretary when the Governor was dying. I overheard the Governor saying to the secretary: 'You bring me that old letter from that old colored woman in the penitentiary. She has been there long enough.' 'Wait till tomorrow,' said the secretary, 'you are too sick now, wait till tomorrow.' 'No,' said the Governor, 'I will see to-morrow; they always say Governor Stephens will get well, but Governor Stephens will not get well this time.' 'Well, if you are going to pardon anybody, pardon this distinguished person. Look at these influential names on his petition.' 'No, that man has plenty of friends, but this poor woman has no friends. Bring me that yellow letter.' And it was brought to him, with pen and ink, and he was braced up in his bed, and he wrote on the back of that old letter 'Pardoned,' Alexander H. Stephens, Governor of Georgia.' And then he died." I would rather die that way than go up in a chariot of fire. The dearest word in my vocabulary is mercy, and that word is going to conquer all nations. It is going to undergird and over-arch and reach across the diameter and round the circumference of the earth.

Summer before last I was in Moscow, Russia, and I was looking at the nine hundred guns. They were the guns of Napoleon; he left them in the snows of Russia. I saw on every gun the letter "N," "N," "N," for Napoleon. As I was looking at them I was very much impressed and I went up into a tower 200 feet high, and on each floor there were bells large bells and small bells, bells of soft sound and of loud sound. I went up among those bells until I got to the top floor, and it was sunset, and all those bells began to ring, and they were joined by the bells of 1400 towers in Moscow—in many ways the most impressive city in all the earth. Some of those bells gave a soft tinkle of sound, a sweet tintinnabulation. Then there were other bells that gave boom after boom. There were sounds of those bells so sweet, so gentle, so soft, so loud, so awful. Some seemed to rattle and burst and melt and die. As I listened to those bells I saw all those 1400 towers ablaze with sunset. Next day I said to the Czar, "I saw Moscow burn." He asked what I meant and I told him that when Napoleon saw Moscow burn he did not see so brilliant a sight as I did. There were roofs of gold, walls of malachite, pillars of porphyry, balustrades of topaz; all the colors of art and nature, the blue of the summer sky, the emerald of the richest grass, the gleam of the tossing seas. I tell you it was too much for human eyes to see or for human ears to hear. The bells of the millennium will ring in not sunset but sunrise—from the domes of all the towers, from the domes of all the cathedrals, from the domes of all the cities, from the domes of all the nations—bells, bells, bells.

I am proud to be so ably interpreted by this brother. If he comes to Brooklyn and stands in my pulpit I will not be able to put his words so well in my language. (Laughter.) I am very grateful to him and I am very grateful to all these citizens—it is really a personal compliment for which you have my gratitude. The only way I can return your kindness is by asking you to come and see us. Come to New York, come to Brooklyn, come to my house—but don't all come at once. (Laughter.) The hour approaches for the steamer to sail, at 5 o'clock I must be gone. Between this and that it will be a great happiness to shake hands with as many of you as care to shake hands with me. I believe in shaking hands, there is a gospel in shaking hands. It is very important that we appoint a place for meeting again. Two persons may part and say we will meet in such a city, New York or London or some place in this earth. Without appointing a place and time they would probably never meet each other again. And so now we part I appoint a place for meeting. I cannot appoint a time but I can certainly appoint a place. The place shall be the shining gates of heaven. It is impossible for me to appoint a time and say we shall meet then, but I appoint a place—the shining gates of heaven—our souls emancipated, our troubles all over, our sorrows all forgotten—on the east three gates, on the north three gates, on the west three gates, and we will meet at one of these gates and meet our part again. Meanwhile I ask that you pray to God, who holds the winds and the waves, that he be merciful to me and my son who is traveling with me, that we be returned safe to our home, and I will pray for you and whenever I go I will tell the people what a great and a glorious and a pleasant place is Honolulu. (Applause.)

After the singing of a hymn Dr. Talmage pronounced the benediction in an impressive manner, his "Amen" coming out like the explosion of a bomb. The greater part of the congregation fled past the platform and shook hands with the famous preacher, Chief Justice Judd briefly introducing the people to him as they came along.
