COURSES AND FACULTY

The instructional staff of the Evening Session is composed of regular members of the University faculty supplemented by a few other instructors who have been engaged because of their ability in special fields.

The courses are of the same standard and quality as those offered during the day session and are fully credited as residence work toward a degree. They are not classified as extension courses.

CLASSIFICATION OF STUDENTS

For the purpose of clarifying the student's own position, as well as his duties and privileges as a student in the Evening Session, the following classification is made: (1) Unclassified students; (2) Special students; (3) Auditors.

Unclassified Students: To be admitted as an Unclassified Student a person must ordinarily have met the regular entrance requirements for Freshman standing.

Persons of some maturity, ordinarily at least 21 years of age, who have had experience that manifestly prepares them for college work, may be given entrance credit for such work. Just what forms of work will be given credit and just how many credits will be granted cannot be stated in advance, but each case will be passed upon individually.

Admission as an Unclassified student is in no case permitted as a means of avoiding compliance with the requirements laid down for Regular students.

All Unclassified students who are avowed candidates for a degree or who feel that they may at some future date become candidates for a degree will be assigned an advisor, who will assist them in selecting their courses of study and otherwise direct them as need shall arise.

All other Unclassified students may have the assistance of an advisor if they so desire.

All Unclassified students who have already been admitted to the University shall, when they next register, indicate whether they are or at some future date expect to become candidates for a degree.

Special Students: Persons who are unable or who do not care to meet the regular University entrance requirements may be admitted as Special students, provided they appear to be qualified to carry on the course or courses desired. Special students attend classes, do all the prescribed work in the courses for which they are registered, but do not receive University credit for work done.

Special students who satisfactorily complete a series of related courses may be granted a certificate stating the nature and amount of the work so completed. Information relative to the related courses leading to certificates may be secured from the Executive Officer of the Evening Session Committee. Unclassified students may also make application for certificates.

Auditors: Auditors are persons who attend certain courses as listeners. They do not participate in classroom discussion, are not expected to do the work prescribed for Unclassified and Special students, and do not receive credit. Persons desiring the privilege of attending classes as Auditors make application to the Registrar at the time of registration. If the application is granted, the Auditor will be issued an auditor's card which must be signed by the Executive Officer of the Evening Session. Auditors pay the regular registration and tuition fees.
