AN AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

EDITOR BULLETIN:— At different times in the past few years the matter of establishing an Agricultural College (either wholly or partly supported by the Government) has been mooted in the newspapers of this city.

A place is needed where young men with the proper qualifications can obtain a practical education in agriculture and horticulture, together with a sufficient knowledge of botany to enable them to intelligently and successfully pursue whichever branch they have been taught, as a vocation in life.

I have often thought that the Trustees of Kamehameha School were in a position to add these branches of study as an auxiliary to the manual training of the school.

With the necessity of diversified industries comes a demand for men trained to the cultivation of the soil—practical, energetic, experienced men. Men who have learned to love their vocation by reason of their familiarity with its requirements and the assurance of success that is guaranteed them on this account. Have we such men to-day?

We have flooded the country with "cheap" labor until there is a surfeit of it. The money and time wasted in showing them how to work and hiring lunas to force them to do it would be a big balance to the credit of any scheme such as Mr. Oleson's proposition would embrace, but the very euphoria that has been instrumental in forcing on the community this anomalous condition of the labor market has stood in the way of any advancement of the agricultural instincts or inclinations of the native Hawaiians and has always been a bar to the introduction of intelligent white labor.

Considering the amount of money that has been made in the sugar industry during the past sixteen years, it seems strange that none of the men who were prospered so exceedingly have as yet given this matter of educating at least a portion of our youth to a practical knowledge of the business the attention it deserves.

I know there are quite a number of young men who have grown up on sugar plantations and have a fair practical knowledge of the conduct of plantations as they are now being run, but practical cane culture and sugar making form a science which, it is safe to say, there are not fifty men in the Hawaiian Islands to-day who thoroughly understand.

The experience of the past has been very expensive to many in the line of fruit-growing, etc., as well as cane culture, because so very few of us have had a practical education in the line of work which we have taken up. The money thrown away every year in fruitless experiments would thoroughly equip and support an institution of the kind required and it is the plain duty of the government to foster every endeavor to place our minor industries on a paying basis. This can best be done by establishing one or more schools as suggested at the commencement of this article.

A grant of aid to the Kauai Industrial school, Hilo Boarding school and similar institutions throughout the group with a view to their taking up these branches in a practical way would advance matters considerably, but a trained corps of practical men familiar with the work and having the requisite facilities and permanently located in some eligible place on this island, is what we really require. I hope to see this matter discussed more fully before the Legislature meets.

"I have just recovered from a second attack of the grip this year," says Mr. Jas. O. Jones, publisher of the Leader, Mexico, Texas. "In the latter case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and I think with considerable success, only being in bed a little over two days, against ten days for the first attack. The second attack I am satisfied would have been equally as bad as the first but for the use of this remedy, as I had to go to bed in about six hours after being 'struck' with it, while in the first case I was able to attend to business about two days before getting 'down.' 50 cent bottles for sale by all dealers. $500 REWARD!

SOME irresponsible rascals have circulated what purports to be clippings from the New York Herald of January 25, 1892. The article slanders the NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY and is probably the cowardly work of competitors. All steamers crossing the bar will stop at a safe distance from the Dredger and give one blast of their whistle which will be answered by a single blast from the Dredger, to be followed by three blasts from the Dredger when the passage is clear and they can proceed.

Daily Bulletin

Pledged to neither Sect nor Party, But established for the benefit of all.

FRIDAY, MARCH 18, 1892.

An article in "Diversified Industries" on the "Sweet Potato" begun to-day seems to be one of the most important in the series.

The BULLETIN is somewhat handicapped to-day by the absence, owing to sad bereavement, of its regular staff local and shipping reporter, and this with an eventful holiday to report. A substitute for the absent reporter was not obtained till a late hour. Readers will please pardon any observed deficiencies.

The suggestion of a correspondent that aid should be given to the various schools that combine industrial with intellectual education, in order to enable them to afford instruction in scientific agriculture by competent teachers, is worthy of consideration. Lately an agricultural professor recommended by the United States Secretary of Agriculture passed through Honolulu to take a position as instructor under the Government of Queensland. As most of the wealth of this country must continue to be derived from the soil, there is no more important question than that of agricultural development to enlist public consideration.

Messrs. C. & Sherman, of Alexander, Texas, write us regarding a remarkable cure of rheumatism there as follows: "The wife of Mr. Wm. Pruitt, the Postmaster here, had been bed-ridden with rheumatism for several years. She could get nothing to do her any good. We sold her a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and she was completely cured by its use. We refer any one to her to verify this statement." 50 cent bottles for sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Agents.

BRILLIANT STATE BALL.

Her Majesty Gives One of the Grandest Entertainments on Record.

Perfect Arrangements--Beautiful Decorations--Refreshments--Rank and Fashion in Great Concourse.

Since Iolani Palace was built it has never been the scene of a more brilliant entertainment than that given by Queen Liliuokalani last night. It was a magnificent closing of a popular holiday-keeping.

Besides the rank, beauty, fashion and manhood of the community, in large representation, there was the added brilliancy of the naval uniforms of the United States and Great Britain.

Elaborate and elegant preparations had been made by the officials of the Household for the event. The point of reception of guests was with advantage changed from the front entrance of the Palace to the entrance to the Chamberlain's office. This afforded easy access to more spacious and more comfortable quarters than the main floor of the building contains, also enabled guests to prepare themselves for presentation without having to press through throngs of earlier comers before revising their toilets.

A canopy was placed over the reception portals, and on passing beneath it the guests were conducted—ladies to large apartments on the left, gentlemen to the spacious outer offices of the Chamberlain on the right. Drapery of red, white and blue bunting, trimmed with wreaths, lined the corridor leading from the dressing room to the staircase.

Her Majesty informally received the guests in the throne room. This always beautiful apartment was in all the glory of a flood of electric light from the magnificent crystal chandeliers. Great banks of flowers were placed at the base of the large mirrors, while trailing vines were tastefully disposed along the walls overhead. The hallway was gorgeously decorated with stands and pots of plants and flowers. There were beautiful arrangements of flowers on the grand staircase, at the head of which was an unweathered deck, bearing the initial letter of "Aloha," on the dais in the throne room, in front of which the Queen stood bowing her welcome to the guests in promenade, were placed a tabu stick and large kahilis.

Music for the dancing was played by the Royal Hawaiian Orchestra, stationed at the rear of the hall, conducted by Prof. Berger. The band of the U. S. flagship San Francisco occupied a platform off the back veranda, playing selections between dances. Dancing was conducted in both the throne room and the state banquet hall.

About midnight the Queen, leaning on the arm of Admiral Brown, led the way to the refreshment luncheon in the front yard. His Excellency Gov. Cleghorn conducted Mrs. Judd, Prince Kawananakoa was the escort of Mrs. Brown, and so on, but the seating at Her Majesty's table was not in anywise official but purely informal.

A plank walk led from the Palace entrance to the lanai, which is the structure erected for Her Majesty's Accession Day luau. The building was gay with flags and brilliant with electric light. There was a choice layout of edibles, substantial as well as delicacies. After the supper dancing was resumed, the remainder of the order occupying a couple of hours.

Major Robertson and Her Majesty's staff are worthy of all praise for the excellent management of so grand an entertainment. Her Majesty is to be congratulated on the signal success of her first state ball.

A DOUBLE SHUFFLE.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—Recently what purports to be Ka Leo's English page is devoted to fomenting discontent and feeding the depraved appetite of a certain few foreigners here who hanker after the government flesh-pots. The matter furnished by Ka Leo for this section of the discontented is intended to lead them to watch and pray for a chance to cut throats, or, at the very mildest, to put guns to their shoulders and make ready; that is really what the English teachings of Ka Leo amount to. But how about the Hawaiian portion of Ka Leo? Ah! quite another picture. Here we fail to find a word favoring annexation or a republic, and the native reader of Ka Leo is in blissful (?) ignorance of the fact that the editor and quondam patriot-statesman is playing the part of low trickster in such double-dealing. John E. Bush is well aware of the fact that he dare not talk annexation or republicanism before an audience of his countrymen, for fear of being thrown out of the nearest window. Yet this man, who would pose as the philosopher, guide and friend of his people, is willing to lie by misleading strangers on a matter of such momentous consequence as the truth about the national sentiment among Hawaiians.

HAWAII.

ANTI-ANNEXATION.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—On looking over the columns of the Advertiser a few days ago, I noticed a letter proposing a newspaper discussion on the advisability of establishing a republican form of government for these islands and then annexation. In the issue of same paper dated 15th inst., there is a letter headed "Salvation in Annexation" signed by "Zero," but it reads as if it emanated from the same pen as former one. No doubt "Zero" has a perfect right to his opinions and to express them if he chooses, but when he makes the statement that "the prevailing sentiment of both natives and foreigners is for annexation," he asserts what he cannot substantiate; the opinions of a few disappointed politicians, chronic growlers and thwarted traitors cannot be accepted as the opinion of the whole population.

And pray where does the salvation of the country come in? Is a republican form of government the panacea for all the ills that afflict this lovely country? I think not, for it's more costly, more corrupt and certainly opens more doors for speculation than a liberal monarchy.

As to cost, if Zero will read statistics showing cost of the French and American republics compared to the cost of monarchical Great Britain he will find honestly seeking the truth acknowledge the superiority of the latter. I must only refer him to the daily American press of the present time to prove the corruption and uncertainty of a republic. He will learn there that merchants are afraid to launch out until it is known which party is to govern; consequently money is scarce and the mass of the people suffer.

Of course as a republic anyone will have a chance to be elected President. That merely depends on purse and party independent of character, and the fortunate one elected by the two P's may retire at the end of his term on a small fortune saved from the pay, etc., of his office.

As I understand Zero, it is the planters who are to reap the greatest benefit from this political change; the country and common people only from the super-abundance of these barons as in the good old English days. I wonder if it ever occurred to Zero that this little Kingdom and always was the home of the Hawaiians before the sugar barons were heard of; that they are here to stay unlike the foreigner who merely gets all he can, then quits to more congenial climes. This being so the Hawaiians and they only have the right to say under what form of government they will live. If these few sore-heads object, they have the privilege of returning to the country of their choice, and it is not likely the natives will lose much sleep in mourning the exodus.

Zero's remarks about royalty are too puerile to notice. They merely expose his ignorance and his nationality.

ROYALIST.

WHALING MISHAP.

A fatal mishap occurred with the American whaling bark Andrew Hicks while off the equator. That vessel arrived here yesterday with 70 barrels of sperm oil. At the place mentioned the vessel loitered for a while. The steerer in one of the boats darted his lance into the animal. Immediately on feeling the iron the great creature gave a mighty lurch, turning completely over. Its huge bulk struck the boat and demolished it, its occupants being thrown a struggling group into the water. Edgar R. Davis was killed and Chas. Tripp severely injured.

"August Flower"

Mr. Lorenzo F. Sleeper is very well known to the citizens of Appleton, Me., and neighborhood. He says: "Eight years ago I was taken sick, and suffered as no one but a dyspeptic can. I then began taking August Flower. At that time I was a great sufferer. Everything I ate distressed me so that I had to throw it up. Then in a few moments that horrid distress would come on and I would have to eat and suffer again. I took a little of your medicine, and felt much better, and after taking a little more August Flower my dyspepsia disappeared, and since that time I have never had the first sign of it. I can eat anything without the least fear of distress. I wish all that are afflicted with that terrible disease or the troubles caused by it would try August Flower, as I am satisfied there is no medicine equal to it."

THE REGATTA.

Yacht Hawaii Wins the First-Class Race, Edith L. the Second, Sinette the Third.

Siding Seat Heaps Taken by the Myrtle Boat Club, Stateman Seat by the Honolulu Harbor Boat Boys.

Pearl Harbor as a place for public aquatic sports was happily inaugurated yesterday. The Oahu Railway and Land Company provided the prizes, made all preliminary arrangements, and then gave the program into hands experienced in the Honolulu Rowing and Yachting Association's events of late years to be carried out.

Kamehameha III. and St. Patrick's Day has never been enthusiastically, although often generally observed—the observance being dependent on whether any public amusement was provided. Hon. J. A. Cummins, who has a joint interest with Hawaii's former king and Ireland's patron saint in the day, has sometimes made the day "go" with horse races. This year the railway company has made such a happy holiday of it, with the kindly co-operation of the clerk of the weather, that the result will probably be a fixture of the day as one of our most esteemed and longed-for holidays. If Kamehameha's name should grow rusty through the influences of Bush's republicanism, or the memory of St. Patrick become spoiled by the introduction of snakes and toads, then we can change the name to Pearl Harbor Day and make it the chief regatta day of the year. That a fair inauguration of a new series of March 17ths was accomplished yesterday is attested in the first place by the carrying of two thousand people by the railway to the pearly shores. The trains carried the people down Lehua avenue to near the starting point of the races. The Myrtle Boat Club entertained their friends at their camp, while the general public took picnic baskets along, or else depended on the refreshment booth where a good lunch was served at a moderate price.

The judges of the regatta were Hon. C. B. Wilson, Mr. W. M. Giffard and Capt. J. A. King, who called in Capt. Griffith of the barkentine S. G. Wilder to assist them in watching the races. Messrs. Jos. Hubash and W. F. Love were time-keepers. The O. R. & L. Co.'s steamer Frolic was the judge's cruiser, Dr. Troussau also kindly assisting with his naphthalene launch Annie, on board of which he had a party of friends, including Dr. Henri McGrew, Mons. Vizzavonna, Mr. W. W. Hall, Capt. Griffith and the BULLETIN representative, to view the yacht races.

FIRST RACE. Race No. 1 was the first-class yacht race. Only two of the yachting fleet were in it—the Hawaii, entered by L. A. Thurston, and the Healan, by F. M. Hatch. Mr. Thurston had with him a crew consisting of Edward Damon, G. Wilder, T. Hobron, Fred. Wundenberg, Arthur Brown, Hugh Gunn and Dr. Baldwin. Mr. Hatch was assisted by Judge Dole, Cecil Brown and Frank Brown.

The course was as follows: Starting from a line drawn in extension of the Pearl City wharf, down the main channel, to the mouth of the harbor, near the reef, tacking around the stake boat; thence up the main channel to the Honolulu Loch, up the Honolulu Loch and tacking around a stake boat at the head of this Loch opposite Robinson's landing; thence out of the Honolulu Loch up the main channel, passing between Ford's Island and the Manana Peninsula, to the windward of Ford's Island; thence down the channel lying east of Ford's Island making a circuit of Ford's Island; thence to the point of commencement.

The start was made at 10:12:30, that being the Hawaii's time in crossing the line. The Healan crossed 1 minute and 40 seconds later. In rounding the first stake boat the Healan was three minutes behind her rival, and a mishap in rounding the stake boat put her still farther in the rear, she having carried away her flying jib. Still she made a gallant effort to retrieve the misfortune, but without avail.

There was nothing exciting in the race, however, as there being a steady trade wind throughout, there was nothing but straight navigation in the issue. Still, it was a pretty race with some elements of the picturesque thrown in. One thing that added zest to it was the frequent going into hiding of the yachts behind the headlands and Ford's Island, as the gallant crafts speared over the sinuous course, which is estimated at about 19 miles.

The Hawaii made a beautiful finish in 2:45:54 at 12:51:19. The Healan came in at 1:4:3 in 3:0:58, or 11 minutes and 4 seconds uncorrected time behind the winner.

SECOND RACE.

In the second race, for second class yachts, there entered the Edith L., by Alex. Lyle, and the Kaulani, by Heil Kapu—the former a catboat, the latter a sloop, and the K. about half as big again as the E. L. The course was the same as in the first race, with the trip up the Honolulu Loch omitted. It was a close and pretty race from start to finish. What the little boat lost in sailing power she gained in facility of direct sailing on tacks.

The Kaulani crossed the line at 10:32:18, the Edith L. 39 seconds later. As the Edith L. finished at 12:54:53—only 37 seconds behind the Kaulani—she won the race by two seconds without regard to tonnage allowance. The Edith L.'s time was 2:22:16.

THIRD RACE.

This was for third-class yachts, open boats under 18 feet length. First prize, $20; second prize, $10. Entered—Linnie B., by W. G. Singlehurst; Sinette (entered as Unknown), belonging to Dr. H. McGrew, entered by H. E. Walker; Paauu, by H. P. Roth; Pauloa, by Heil Kapu.

The course was simply the tail end of the other yacht races—from starting point to windward of Ford's island, round the island and to the starting point. A pretty start was made, the Pauloa crossing the line first, with the Paauu and Sinette second and third respectively. Only the Pauloa and Sinette finished. The latter early in the race had overhauled her rival, and throughout showed herself a daisy traveler. She is a boat that was sold off the barkentine W. H. Dimond some time ago. The Sinette won in 1:26:46, beating her rival the Pauloa by four minutes twenty seconds.

SIX-OARED BOATS, sliding seats. Entered—Kaulani, by Kaulani Boat Club; Stranger, by Myrtle Boat Club; Myrtle Boat Club's Alice M., by Alex. Lyle.

The course was from the judge's flagboat direct to a stake at the head of Waipio Loch and return. The Stranger did not answer the calling bomb. As each boat had a turning stake for itself, there was little or no preference of positions, but the Myrtles having won the toss took the inside.

The Alice M.'s crew consisted of O. Sorenson stroke, Wm. Armstrong, Geo. Angus, W. Harris, Henry Giles, Ruby Dexter bow, Arthur Wilder coxswain.

The Kaulani's crew were Kubio (Prince Kalaniana'ole) stroke, Nohola, J. Lane, S. Mahaulu, David Aua, A. S. Mahaulu bow, J. A. Thompson coxswain.

It was a following race for the Kaulani all round, the Myrtles taking the lead and easily holding it throughout. The time made by the Alice M. was 22:39, being 12 seconds better than her opponent.

FIFTH RACE.

SIX-OARED BOATS, stationary seats. This was transposed with the four-oared sliding seats on the program. Entered—Kapiolani, by A. L. C. Atkinson, coxswain, with the following crew of Honolulu harbor boat boys: Kala stroke, Apaki, Manuela, Pakala, Pinao, Ekela bow.

San Francisco, by U. S. F. S. San Francisco bluejackets: Fraser coxswain, Anderson stroke, Lorchenbaum, Straw, Aiken, Sears, Tollerpen bow.

Kanoelani, by Kaulani Boat Club; Kubio coxswain, Paha stroke, Onaona, Kahema, Kaahani, Kikala, Kema bow.

The Kapiolani was inside, the Kanoelani outside, the blue jackets between. Atkinson's crew got away leading at an easy stroke of about 36 to the minute, while the other native crew were pumping themselves out at the frantic rate of 44. The San Francisco made a game but futile attempt to overtake the Kapiolani. Heroes of several victories over American, British and other crews elsewhere though the S. F. crew were, they had not a boat that other things being equal could be conceded to win against the Kapiolani.

The course was that of the six-oared boats doubled, or a distance of six miles. It was covered by the winning Kapiolani in the good time of 45 minutes 44 seconds, the San Francisco failing by 43 seconds, and the Kanoelani being distanced.

SIXTH RACE.

FOUR-OARED SLIDING SEATS. Entered: Alice M., by Myrtle Boat Club; M. B. C.'s Alf. Rogers, by Alex. Lyle; Kaulani, by Kaulani Boat Club. Alf. Rogers crew—O. Sorenson stroke, W. Armstrong, Geo. Angus, H. Giles bow, A. Wilder coxswain. Kaulani crew A. S. Mahaulu stroke, Nohola, S. Mahaulu, J. A. Thompson bow, Prince Kalaniana'ole coxswain.

Alice M. crew—Chas. Crane stroke, Christian Conradt, W. Harris, Ruby Dexter bow, J. L. Torbert coxswain.

The Alf. Rogers pioneered a procession all the way round, the Kaulani a gallant but hopeless second. Winning time 22:42, the Kaulani's being 3:39 longer, with the Alice M. guarding the rear 5 seconds behind.

SEVENTH RACE.

FOUR PADDE CANOES. Entered: Akala, Kaunahoa and Puakalehau. It was a humorously exciting race as canoe races always are. Akala won by 2 seconds ahead of Puakalehau, the third being distanced.

The railway people represented by Superintendent W. G. Ashley had an elegant collation, in which chicken, egg salad, Woodlawn Dairy butter, and a varied line of beverages figured, served on a hanging table in the cabin of the Frolic. Besides the judges and press men, several young people and a number of special guests were entertained at the Frolic some and festive board.

While the Hawaii was cruising on the course—of which coxswain Fraser complains so bitterly elsewhere—she grazed the side of the Frolic and took Mr. Gunn aboard on the fly therefrom, the transfer being made as neatly as bags of mail are picked up by moving trains in the States. The Hawaii made a dent in the iron side of the Frolic, but Commodore Ashley said it was only an acci dent. There were loud calls for Hassinger, but the famous punster was not within hail.

Mr. J. W. McDonald was captain of one of Mr. Joseph Tinker's vapor launches, and in his cruising gave many a one a jolly ride on the wave. The Myrtle Boat Club had a large barge with awning crowded with ladies and children.

Great credit is due to the Kaulani Boat Club for the part it had in making the regatta go. Organized only ten months, and its crews in the races having only practiced four weeks, it evinced meritorious pluck in coming to the line, then contesting the honors foot by foot, and when all was over carrying themselves with as cheerful a demeanor as if they had won all the cups.

When the yacht races were nearing a finish, the yacht Helene came sailing majestically into the harbor, presenting a beautiful spectacle. She had on board His Excellency Sam. Parker, Hon. W. G. Irwin, Hon. Paul Neumann, Mr. Fred. Whitney, Mr. Lanz and others.

Nearly the last of the holiday-keepers managed to crowd into a large train for Honolulu leaving the Peninsula shortly before 5 o'clock. A few stragglers waited for a later train that had to make the run to Ewa Mill before returning.

A number of cyclists took the road for Ewa. Among the number was the "lightning ace," who didn't lose an ounce by the exertion. There was not a note of disappointment with the day heard in all the train chatter of the home-coming throng.

Have you ever heard of the Seven Southernland Sisters who are celebrated for their long tresses of beautiful hair. They say this unusual growth was induced by using a hair tonic which they discovered and are now selling to those less fortunate. They also found trouble with dandruff, as we all do more or less. Their Scalp Cleaner removes all such deleterious matter. We've these and Hal's, Mrs. Allen's, Barry's, Triophorous, Carbolineum, Kim & Quinine and others.

DIVERSIFIED INDUSTRIES.

THE SWEET POTATO.

The sweet potato belongs to the convolvulus family and has been assigned to different genera by various botanical writers, but the most recent accepted botanical authority calls it Ipomoea Batatas, of Lambeck. Its native country is uncertain, whether East Indian or American. While the sweet potato will grow in northern latitudes and will produce tubers in the summer season, it can only reach perfection and be grown profitably in warm climates. The sweet potato will grow, thrive, and mature, despite of the driest and hottest weather, and there is scarcely any other esculent that will do this under a burning sun and torrid atmosphere.

Until within three or four years past the value of the sweet potato as a crop has not been fully realized or appreciated, and the requisites for its proper production and cultivation less understood than any other crop of like importance. But it is rapidly being demonstrated that it is the most valuable of all the root crops and its culture is receiving largely increased attention.

The Charleston News recently referred to the sweet potato as follows: "We have always been of opinion that the great value of the sweet potato crop in the Southern States and elsewhere was not duly appreciated and sufficiently utilized. Root crops are always more prolific than grain crops. They exhaust the land less and give more in return for labor and manure. Of course they are not as nutritious, pound for pound, as grain, but in great increase of material they yield more nutrition to a given quantity of land, than any of the cereals. Irish potatoes, turnips, beets, carrots, both in Europe and in our Northern States, are all justly prized as the most valuable of farm crops. The sweet potato is superior to them all as food for man and beast. It may be used for all the purposes to which the others are applied, and for many others besides. In the fresh state, just out of the ground, it makes an excellent substitute for arrow-root by grating the pulp into water and allowing the starchy matter to subside. As a vegetable it is a favorite on every table, cooked in a great variety of ways. As a dessert, it makes better pudding or pie than the pumpkin. It is good food for stock of all kinds--horses, cattle, sheep and hogs. Our best Southern varieties will probably soon become a very important article of export to the Northern States and to Europe. A well-seasoned potato, baked slowly, as it should be, is ready more a fruit than a vegetable. The time will come when they will be prepared in this way, and by being put up in sealed cans and by other modes of conveyance, will become an important article of trade. They are putting up cans already in some parts of the country."

VARIETIES: There are many varieties of the sweet potato possessing widely different qualities according to soil and climate. Which particular variety will be best suited to a given locality, can only be ascertained by experimental culture. The "Haver," "Yellow Nansomond" and "Southern Queen" are considered among the best grown in the Southern States. There are other varieties known as the "yam family of sweet potatoes." Of these the leading varieties are "Yellow Pimento," "White Brazilian," "Red Bermuda," "White Bermuda," "Red Spanish," "Mexican" or "Bahama Yam." Varieties that have been imported from Peru are "Porto Viejo," large, sweet and abundant; skin, dark red; flesh, deep pink. "Boea Sagarto," sweeter and better flavor; skin, light pink; flesh, yellowish white. "Nina," still better; skin and flesh, yellowish white.

There are about thirty marked and permanent varieties in New Zealand. Some are red-skinned, some purple, and others white. Tubers have been widely distributed from there over Europe and the West Indies.

SOILS AND MANURES: A sandy and loamy soil and a warm climate are the conditions most favorable to the sweet potato. It will grow in other soils if not too cold or heavy and will produce fairly good crops, but it is as well established fact that a sandy loamy is the best, and produces the finest of sweet potatoes.

Well rotted stable manure, pulverized and spread broadcast, is the best and cheapest fertilizer. Wood ashes is considered by some to be the best and most enduring fertilizer. The farmers of the Southern States also use the superphosphate line, bone meal, ammoniated bone, wood ashes, and potash, which give satisfactory results.

PROPAGATION:--The sweet potato is propagated by planting layers or slips from the mature vines, or by sprouts or "draws" from the seed. The former method is that usually practiced in these islands, but it is not the approved method in other sweet potato growing countries, nor is it as satisfactory or prolific in its results. The writer has experimented with both methods near Honolulu and has found that the seed sprouts produced larger, more luscious, and more abundant tubers.

To prepare a seed bed, select a good warm spot and dig out a pit about twelve inches deep and in length and width according to the quantity wished to be bedded. Then fill the pit nearly to the top with dry stable manure; then throw on earth to the depth of four inches; smooth this and place on the potatoes evenly but do not let them touch. Then cover with earth or sand about four inches deep. The seed potato must be sound and of good size. In about five weeks from the putting down of the bed, the shoots will be about three or four inches high, and may be drawn carefully, one at a time, with the right hand, the left hand holding the ground firmly, to prevent the potato from being disturbed or drawn up. There will be a second and third growth of sprouts for a couple of months following.

CULTIVATION:--Both the hill and the ridge system have their advocates, but the preponderance of testimony seems to be in favor of the ridge. Deep cultivation is not necessary and the ridges should not be thrown up too high and should be about three feet apart. Planted 18 inches apart, there would be 9600 plants to the acre. The sets from the seed bed should be dipped in a thick paste of manure and earth mixed with water when planted, set deeply so as not to cover the bud, watered, and the soil pressed firmly around each one. They should be watered again the next evening. Further cultivation should be with a hoe or rake to keep the weeds down. When the vines are full grown and begin to meet, they should be broke loose from the ground and drawn together to prevent rooting down.

In the Southern States tubers are bedded about the first of April, planted from the middle of May to the first of June, and harvested about the middle of October. The yield varies from 75 to 300 bushels according to soil, locality, and cultivation. The average may be placed at 150 bushels. According to United States laws a bushel of sweet potatoes is 55 lbs.

The growing crop does not need much irrigation, for it has been observed "that land on which corn is apt to burn badly is best for sweet potatoes, and that hot dry summers, in which other crops fail, serve to develop this esculent in size, and in all its sweetness and fine flavor."

COMPLAINT OF A COXSWAIN.

EDITOR BULLETIN:-- Regarding the regatta of yesterday, the 17th, I have a few words to say in the name of our crew and for myself. We don't want to say that it was not a fair race, and we don't want to kick about the few dollars we lost, because that did not amount to much. There is one thing I want to bring to the attention of the sporting people of Honolulu, and that is the act or trick of Mr. L. A. Thurston of the yacht Hawaii during our race with the kanaka boys. For over a mile that gentleman gave us the wash and dead water of his yacht, and that just at the time when we were gaining rapidly on the Kapiolani. I don't know that gentleman--if gentleman he may be called--but that act put him far beyond that line in my eyes, although I am only a common bluejacket. If that gentleman had bet any amount of money on the Kapiolani, I wish him luck to his gain.
