EVENING BULLETIN

3:30 O'CLOCK THE HOME PAPER IS THE BULLETIN EDITION

¶ Almost nine out of ten experienced advertisers, making up a list of news papers for a publicity campaign, aim to use the paper in each city recognized as the leading home favorite. ¶ There is a logical reason for this preference. ¶ Clean, home newspapers, that go home and stay there, have the confidence of their readers at all times and naturally offer the first introduction for an advertised article. An Old Policy Is

What Gives Hawaii

An Insurance Row

STATEMENTS OF GALT AND WICKETT

The Treasurer is at present investigating the New York Life Insurance Co. on account of certain facts which have been laid before the Insurance Commissioner.

Complaint was made to the Treasurer, who made inquiry at the Attorney General's Department. An opinion rendered stated that the Treasurer had a right to investigate the matter. There has been no move made to revoke the license of the company.

J. R. Galt, manager of the Hawaiian Trust Company, speaking of the matter this morning, said: "A client of ours held a policy in the New York Life Company, on which he had made a loan several years ago under the loan feature of the policy. He borrowed money of the company after the manner outlined in the policy. Since then this man has become our client and placed all his property in our hands under a power of attorney.

"In making an adjustment of the loan there was a conflict of figures between the local agency and the home office. It ended up in our taking the matter up with the home office direct. We made some criticism of the loan value but admitted we had never seen the policy and asked for a copy of it.

"Later the New York Life sent out another policy. They said they had made a new one in the place of the old and the new one had a more liberal loan value. We asked for the old policy or a copy of it, so as to determine for ourselves whether it was better or not. They wrote back that they had destroyed the old policy. We then placed the matter before the Insurance Commissioner here. We have taken no further steps."

"Then the destruction of the old policy is the meat in the cocoanut," remarked the Bulletin man.

"That's it exactly," responded Mr. Galt. "We are acting for our client and we must protect his interests. We try to do that for all our clients."

"We will let our competitors throw the mud, while we continue to do the business," said Cashier F. A. Wickett of the New York Life Insurance Company to a reporter of the Bulletin this morning, in answer to the charges just preferred by the Hawaiian Trust Company, Ltd., agents for the Prudential Insurance Company, against the New York Life.

"I was very much surprised that any such method should be taken to discredit the New York Life. We have every faith in the justice of the insurance department here. The New York Life has nearly $4,000,000 of insurance in force in these Islands; having done $643,000 in 1903; $1,126,000 in 1904; and about $1,000,000 so far this year. Among the policy-holders are the substantial and representative people of the Islands. Unless the New York Life did business in an absolutely straightforward and open manner, we would not have this remarkable record.

"The total business of the New York Life for 1904 was over $300,000 more than the amount done by all of the other companies combined in the Territory of Hawaii. We are perfectly willing to stand on our merits."

TREASURER CONFERS

WITH

NEW YORK LIFE MEN

Treasurer Campbell, Insurance Commissioner Smithies, Deputy Attorney General Prosser and F. S. Wickett of the New York Life Insurance Co. this morning held a conference in the Treasurer's office in regard to the complaint made against the New York Life by the Hawaiian Trust Co. in behalf of one of its clients.

"The complaint states that the New York Life destroyed an original policy without the consent of the policy holder," said the Treasurer after the conference was over. "And that they rewrote the policy under their new form, giving to the policy increased loan value over the old one. The New York Life people claim that the new policy is the same as the old one in every way, except that its loan value has been increased. While this would be an advantage, the policy holder has only got the New York Life people's word for it. He wants to get back the old policy to see whether it is really better or worse than the old one."

The Treasurer stated that he had taken the matter up but as to what steps he would take he would not say.

Deputy Attorney General Prosser represents his department in the case.

Sheriff Made Report To Adams On Vida Assault

SUPERVISOR DID NOT FILE THE STATEMENT

TOWNSEND HAS TO EARN HIS PAY — DEVAUCHELLE SAID TO BE WORKING FOR HENRY.

Sheriff Brown reported in writing to E. R. Adams, chairman of the Police Committee of the Board of Supervisors in regard to the incident of Henry Vida striking one Townsend in the former's office at the police station, but, for some reason, Adams refrained from or neglected to present this report when he brought up the matter of the assault at last night's meeting of the Board of Supervisors.

Sheriff Brown was seen this morning, the affair having been made public through the Supervisors' meeting, and was asked for a statement in regard to the case.

I sent a report to Mr. Adams, chairman of the Police Committee of the Board of Supervisors," said the Sheriff. "In effect, I stated that the story in the Advertiser had been very much exaggerated; that I had cautioned Vida that there must be no repetition of such an occurrence as that of taking chastisement into his own hands. I asked that the whole matter be investigated by the entire Board of Supervisors.

"Now that a special committee has been appointed to investigate, I shall await their findings and abide by their decision."

Asked as to who, if anybody, was paying Townsend, alleged to have said things to Vida to cause him to strike him, Sheriff Brown said he did not know. It is the general impression among the police that Townsend is in somebody's pay to spy on the police department, hence the question to the Sheriff.

Officer Joe Dias informed a Bulletin reporter this morning that he had been present at the strenuous Vida-Townsend interview. Dias' version of the affair is as follows:

Vida called Townsend into his office and asked him why it was he was circulating false stories about him; why he was trying to put up a job on him; Townsend said he was doing nothing of the kind. Vida told Townsend he lied. Townsend then said that he was paid and he had to do something to earn his money. Vida, neglecting to ask Townsend who paid him, gave him a slap with the palm of his hand and told him to get out of the office. He

Sherman Searched

By U S. Marshal

For Counterfeiters

QUARTERMASTER WATCHING FOR BAD MONEY

United States Marshal E. R. Hendry and U. S. District Attorney W. R. Breckons this afternoon boarded the U. S. A. transport Sherman at the Naval wharf, as the result of cable instructions from Washington, to search the vessel for any sign of counterfeiters or counterfeit paper money. Hendry held a warrant for the arrest of one particular man.

The Sherman was scheduled to sail for San Francisco at 3 o'clock this afternoon and the U. S. Marshal lost no opportunity to hurry work in the matter of investigation. But few people aboard the vessel knew what was up, or realized that the big transport might be delayed in getting away through any such business as a hunt for counterfeiters. When the newsboys reached the wharf shortly before 2:30 o'clock with Bulletins containing the exclusive news of the presence of counterfeiters aboard the boat, of cabled instructions to the local Federal authorities to investigate, folks on the transport began to fear that the vessel might be detained. U. S. Marshal Hendry was pointed out by Honolulu people saying good-bye to friends and a little tremor of excitement ran through the crowds on the Sherman's decks.

A Bulletin reporter interviewed the U. S. A. Quartermaster aboard the Sherman. The quartermaster stated that he also had received word from Washington to look out for counterfeiters aboard. He knew there were counterfeiters on the ship and that bad paper money was ready for circulation here, but he had taken every possible precaution to keep any of the fake money from getting ashore. He added that he did not know whether the boat would be detained after 3 o'clock, that depended on the result of the examination.

The Federal authorities naturally endeavored to keep the proceedings as quiet as possible.

Honolulu banks have a sharp eye open for counterfeit bank notes. The Federal authorities have notified all local banks to look out for bad paper money from the United States transport Sherman, now in port.

Inquiry of the various banks this morning brought out the information that no fake bills had been accepted, but cashiers, always wide awake for crooked coin and sham banknotes, were today particularly careful, having received warning from the United States Government officials, who are watching certain folks, it is said, aboard the Sherman.

The bad paper money is said to consist mainly of tens and twenties, notes of the National Bank of Washington and the Western National Bank of San Francisco.

The banks visited refused to say anything of advices received from the Federal authorities, though one bank intimated that another local bank had puts its fellow banks wise to the proposition, the one bank having received advices from San Francisco about the same time that the local Federal authorities received instructions from Washington to look out for the supposed counterfeiters aboard the Sherman.

It is not supposed, however, that any counterfeit bills would be presented at the banks. If any effort were made here to pass the paper the attempt would probably be made among the Chinese and Japanese smaller merchants.

Counterfeiters have been operating for some time with more or less success in the Philippines, and it is supposed that the Sherman is carrying much of the crooked paper.

PERRY'S INSINUATION ROUSES PETERS' INDIGNATION

After a long fight on technical points the stage in the Takada murder trial was finally reached this afternoon when the defendant's plea was taken. Judge Perry, counsel for the defendant, argued on his motion to quash the indictment and was opposed by Deputy Attorney General Peters. The court ordered the motion to quash stricken, whereupon Perry entered a demurrer, which was overruled.

The indomitable Perry still kept up the fight, making a motion to discharge the defendant. He said that in passing he would call the court's attention to the fact that in the original indictment several erasures had been made and words written over these places. Additions had also been made, and he could not tell when and where this had been done.

Peters' ire was roused by this remark. He rose and said with considerable force that Perry ought to know his rights in the matter. If he wanted to intimate that he (Peters) or anyone else connected with the Attorney General's Department had made the changes, he should put himself on record as making the charge.

Perry withdrew his remark and went on to argue that when Tadata's case was continued for the term last time the defendant was not present and the order was therefore not proper.

Peters answered by quoting the Supreme Court decision in the Ferris case wherein Perry himself held that the presence of the defendant in such a case was not necessary. The court overruled the motion.

Perry instructed the defendant not to answer when the court asked him for his plea. Takata obeyed and on motion by Peters a plea of not guilty was entered.

PUBLIC EXAMINATION

Supervisor Lucas states that the investigation of the Vida-Townsend affair in the police station, Vida's alleged assault on Townsend, will be held openly in the Board of Supervisors' meeting room, perhaps tomorrow evening. The press will attend. The investigating committee consists of Messrs. Moore, Lucas, Cox and Adams.

Jeffs Wins Damage Suit Against Rapid Transit

Judge De Bolt this morning rendered decision in the damage suit brought by Harold Jeffs against the Rapid Transit & Land Co., giving the plaintiff judgment for $100 with costs. The case was taken before De Bolt on an appeal by defendant from the judgment by the District Court giving Jeffs damages in the sum of $100. Judge De Bolt's decsion reads in part as follows:

"After considering all the evidence introduced both for the plaintiff and the defendant, I find the facts proven to be as follows: On February 28th, 1904, the day previous to the occurrence of the facts on which this action is based, the defendant corporation, in connection with its street railway system in Honolulu, began the operation of a street car line on Beretania street, running from Alapai street south to Keeaumoku street; that this new line was physically connected with a line on King street by rails and overhead wires along Alapai street; that, while the line on Alapai street was complete in all respects, it was not used to convey passengers, but only for the purpose of switching cars; that the distance from King street to Beretania street, along Alapai, is about 750 feet; that, at the time covering the facts involved in this action, the defendant had not established a transfer point at King and Alapai, but the plaintiff had no notice or knowledge as to this fact, one way or the other, this being the first time he had occasion to ask for a transfer at this point. That at about 1 p. m., on February 29th, 1904, the plaintiff entered a south-bound car of the defendant on King street at the corner of Bethel, took a seat and paid his fare, intending to ride to his home on the corner of Beretania and Keeaumoku streets for lunch; that the most direct line to his home was along King, Alapai and Alapai street that on approaching Alapai street the plaintiff asked the conductor for a transfer to Beretania street. the conductor answering: 'Beretania?' the plaintiff responding: 'Yes;' whereupon the conductor punched the transfer, tore it off and gave it to the plaintiff. The car now having stopped, the plaintiff alighted therefrom, walked up Alapai street to where a Beretania street car was standing on Alapai and entered this car. That very soon after the car started the conductor came along and the plaintiff handed him the transfer, he looked at it and said, 'Where did you get this?' Plaintiff explained to him that he 'just got it from the King street line.' The conductor then said: 'This is no good; you have got to pay again or get off the car.' Plaintiff again explained to the conductor that he just got the transfer. But the conductor said that did not make any difference, that he must pay again or get off. After some further words between them, the plaintiff further testifies that 'he stood right there and compelled me

TONIGHT'S LECTURE

There is every indication that Odd Fellows Hall will be crowded to the doors this evening when Dr. Frederic Bell commences his lecture on "Love, Courtship, Marriage and Divorce."

The very favorable impression created by Dr. Bell while in Honolulu insures a large audience tonight and then the lecture itself is one of exceptional interest to all sorts and conditions of men and women. It deals with subjects of vital importance to the happiness and welfare of mankind and throws much valuable light on the marital problem.

At the close of the lecture twelve ladies and gentlemen from the audience will be invited to step up on the platform and Dr. Bell will demonstrate through the science of phrenology how inharmonious marriages are contracted and then pair off the subjects harmoniously.

The very interesting subjects dealt with in the lecture will be discussed along rational lines and the lecture promises to be exceptionally interesting.

Dr. Bell's third and final lecture will be delivered in Odd Fellows Hall a week from tonight and will undoubtedly be the most enjoyable of the whole series. Dr. Bell himself admits that it is the best bunch of entertainment in his extensive repertoire.

The title of the last lecture will be, "A Merry Heart Doeth Good Like Medicine, or Fun Better Than Physic."

WEEKLY CROP AND WEATHER REPORT

Local Office, Weather Bureau,
Honolulu, T. H., October 9, 1905.
GENERAL SUMMARY.

Seasonable temperatures have prevailed during the past week in most sections; and although the weather has continued unsettled, considerably less rain has fallen than during the preceding week. In Hawaii and Maui, the precipitation has been confined chiefly to windward districts; in Oahu, abundant showers have fallen over the central plateau; in Kauai, a heavy rain occurred in the Puna district at the beginnings of the week; in all other portions of the Group, comparatively dry weather has obtained since last advices.

Conditions have been generally favorable for growing cane, and on account of the diminished rainfall have improved considerably in windward districts so far as field work in the plantations is concerned. In the Kau district of Hawaii, young cane is again being set back by dry weather and accompanying high winds. Cane is also in need of rain in southern Kauai. Planting for the 1907 cane crop was finished during the week at Kipahulu, Maui. Pineapple plants are doing nicely in all sections, and some advanced fruit of the winter crop is beginning to show signs of approaching maturity in central Maui. Coffee is ripening fast and picking is progressing rapidly in both windward and leeward Hawaii; in windward Oahu, however, very dry conditions have entirely checked the ripening of the berries. Pastures need rain in the Kau district of Hawaii and portions of Kauai, but elsewhere are in good condition. Sisal and second crop rice are doing nicely. Young rubber trees in the Nahiku section of Maui are growing rapidly, but the ground is still very wet and conditions are therefore rather unfavorable for field work.

SHERMAN FROM MANILA

The United States transport Sherman is at Navy wharf, having arrived from Manila at 8 o'clock last night. She sails for San Francisco at 3 o'clock this afternoon, but it is not expected she will carry any mail, as the American Maru, due today, will arrive there first.

Lieut. Col. W. F. Tucker, Pay Department, is the senior officer aboard. There are aboard 95 first cabin passengers; 129 second cabin passengers, 247 enlisted men (army and navy) in the steerage, 56 discharged soldiers, 60 civilians, 20 general prisoners; ship's officers, crew, etc., are 189 all told, making a grand total of 711 persons aboard the Sherman. This number also includes ten stowaways.

'Tis Dirty Politics

Says Lucas Of Criticism Of Police

BLANKET WARRANT TEST SQUABBLE

The Board of Supervisors will thoroughly investigate the admitted striking of a man by Deputy Sheriff Henry Vida in the latter's office in the police station.

Supervisors H. T. Moore, Jack Lucas, Andrew Cox and E. R. Adams are appointed to examine into the matter and report at the next meeting of the Board.

Adams brought up the matter last night at the Supervisors' meeting and a warm discussion followed. It was the opinion of most of the Board that Vida did a great wrong in using his private office as a place of punishment for attempted blackmail, if the assertion in regard to attempted blackmail have any truth in it. Townsend is the man who was assaulted by Vida, though the Supervisors last night paid little attention to his name, preferring to refer to him indirectly. Lucas took it for granted that the blackmail story was true and got very excited in referring to Townsend. Adams started in with a motion that Vida be suspended thirty days, but warmed to the blackmail supposition as Lucas' eloquence melted the atmosphere.

Eugene Devauchelle, about whom the Advertiser this morning spins a story of alleged police coercion, was present at the meeting, sitting like a knot-on-a-log. If he had a complaint to make to the Board he lacked the courage to speak.

Captain Parker of the police sat alongside Devauchelle. Sheriff Brown sat the other end of the room and faced them both.

Chairman Geo. W. Smith, Supervisor-at-large E. R. Adams, Supervisors H. T. Moore, Frank Archer, Andrew Cox, Road Superintendent Sam Johnson, Sheriff A. M. Brown, County Attorney E. A. Douthitt, Deputy County Attorney F. W. Milverton, Acting Fire Chief Deering, Auditor Jas. Bicknell, County Clerk D. Kalauokalani, Jr., Stenographer Aea, Clerk Buffandeau, Henry Birbe, Police Captain Parker and Eugene Devauchelle were present at the conclusion of the reading of the minutes. Supervisor Lucas dropped in later.

Clear Deck for Action.

Routine matters were disposed of, some salary and material and supply demands were handled.

Salary due "Rex" Hitchcock, $10, approved and ordered paid.

Material and supplies, $41, account of County Treasurer, ordered paid.

Material and supplies, account Auditor, $198.55, approved and ordered paid.

Material and supplies, account County Clerk, $317.86, approved and ordered paid.

Material and supplies, account County Attorney, $63.25, approved and ordered paid.

Committee on Roads, Bridges and Parks: Mr. Adams, Supervisor Lucas being absent, reported for this committee.

Supervisor H. T. Moore dared to suggest, for the saving of time, that, inas much as these demand reports and resolutions are printed in blank and are in substance all the same, that the reading of the amounts and the accounts under which they came would be sufficient. The Chair thought the body of each resolution to appropriate money should be read, but advised the Clerk to read them as quickly as possible.

The following amounts were approved and ordered paid:

Material and supplies, keepers of parks, $51.55.

Road department, $2,667.

Road material and supply, Waialua, $254.50; Koolauloa, $192.86; Koolaupoko, $74.71.

Committee on Police: Material and supplies, $616.58, approved. Detective expenses amounted to only $11.50.

Committee on Fire Department: All material and supply demands were passed last week.

Committee on Sanitation and Health: Material and supply demands, garbage department, $416.63; approved.

Pay for Seagirt Men.

Moore wanted to know if J. Gouveira, who went to Seagirt as a marksman, was to receive pay for the time he was absent. Gouveira was a laborer in the garbage department. Moore was willing that he be paid. Sam Johnson and Cummins and others paid monthly salaries had their pay continued.

"No reason to make fish of one and fowl of another," said the Chair.

"I move he be paid with the rest," said Lucas.

Unanimously carried.

One salary demand, garbage department, $61.69, was approved.

Committee on Public Improvements and Electric Light: $747.83, general expenses, electric light; approved.

Police and Fire Alarm System, material and supplies, $99.65; approved.

Adams and Moore wanted time to report on their consultation with the Territorial Auditor as to new warrant forms, covering the exigencies of garnishee proceedings.

The County Attorney's appointment of Criminalogist Lake to assist him in the preparation of criminal cases was unanimously approved by the Board, Adams recommending such action.

The report of the Chair, the County Attorney and the County Auditor on the condition of cash in the County Treasury, exclusively published in the Bulletin recently, was read and approved by the Board as a whole.

Trent Makes Request.

A letter from Treasurer Trent was read. Trent asked for an increase in the salary of his clerk, Manly Hopkins, clerks in other offices having been read.

"Shall we consider it now or refer it to the Expenditures Committee?" asked the Chair.

"Settle it now," said Adams.

"I don't believe it is fair to pay $150, for a clerk when we give poor laborers but $1.50 per day," said Lucas.

"We should pay some attention to this request," said Moore; "Trent would not ask for this unless the man deserved it."

"Why, the County Clerk only gets $125," said Lucas; "he does a great deal more work than the Treasurer's clerk."

"The Treasurer's clerk doesn't do half the work," said Adams. "A lot of work has been forced on that office by the Treasurer. If we get to issue blanket warrants, when that question is settled, there will be 500 warrants less per month to handle than there are now. If we win our point and get the blanket warrants there will be much less work."

The communication was placed on file without action, Moore voting against this death blow.

L. A. Thurston wrote to ask for street sweepings for Kapiolani Park. It was decided that the Park Commission could have all the sweepings it wanted if it would haul them from South street where they would be left for the Park Commission.

Waikiki Road Bad.

Thurston also drew attention to the bad condition of Waikiki road near Kapiolani Park. He thought a strip of grass down the center of the road, with trees in the strip, for beautification purposes.

Referred to Committee on Roads and Bridges.

"It's a question of money," said Adams.

"We'll get to it in time," said Lucas.

Lodging House Licenses.

Territorial Treasurer Campbell wrote the Board that the Treasury had nothing to do with issuing or rescinding lodging house licenses, calling attention to police regulations in the premises. The Board had written the Treasurer to rescind the lodging house of an alleged gambling house on King street, near Liliha.

The matter was referred to the Police Committee.

Chang Chow prayed the Board for an appropriation for Chinese interpreter in police court.

County Attorney E. A. Douthitt spoke on this point. There were but sixty dollars per month, he said, appropriated by the Legislature to cover the pay of Korean, Hawaiian, Chinese, Portuguese, Spanish, Japanese and all other interpreters.

Sheriff Brown said he had two police officers who acted as Chinese interpreters for the department, but defendants had a right to object to police officers acting as interpreters.

"Would $50 per month cover the Chinese interpreter?" asked Lucas.

"I think so," said Douthitt.

"Then how about these other interpreters? Each one will be coming up for an appropriation."

The matter was referred to the Expenditures Committee.

Gambling Ordinance.

Adams moved that the rules be suspended for the third reading of his ordinance on gambling, recently published in the Bulletin. Rules suspended and the proposed ordinance read in full.

Ordinance passed.

Lucas gave notice of an ordinance in regard to cemeteries, suggested by President Pinkham of the Board of Health.

Lucas wanted his proposed automobile ordinance deferred for further preparation. He was granted further time.

The Chair reported that the clothes spitting ordinance had been printed in English, Hawaiian, Chinese, Japanese and Portuguese newspapers.

County Attorney's special deputy, H T. Lake, was voted a salary of $75 per month.

Before the vote was taken Lucas wanted to know whether Lake was under the Sheriff or the County Attorney; would his duties conflict with the work of the police department. Douthitt said he would co-operate with the police that was what he was appointed for.

Moore's Suggestions.

Several special constable commissions were approved.

Moore had a request from Bellina who has a ranch in Palolo. The Territorial land office in disposing of certain land had disposed of a road also. He wanted the road cleared of lantana and glue bushes.

Referred to the Roads Committee.

Moore suggested that storm traps be used on Hotel street. The gutters were unhealthful.

Archer didn't see why money should constantly be appropriated to clean up after a lot of Orientals on Hotel street.

"We all know that's the part of town where disease starts," said Moore.

"Chase them out," said Archer.

"We can't do that," said the Chair; "this is a matter of public health. If any epidemic starts the Board will be severely criticized for any neglect."

The Vida Incident.

Adams referred to a newspaper story about a police officer taking a man into his office and striking him. Sheriff Brown had admitted it. Henry Vida had so far admitted the incident as to say he had slapped the man. Vida had said, said Adams, that the man had practically tried to blackmail him.

Adams declared that no police officer had a right to take a man in his office and strike him. Every citizen had a right to protection. On Vida's own admission, the offense had been committed, in anger, without much forethought.

Would Suspend Vida.

Adams moved Vida's suspension for thirty days.

Cox thought it should be deferred. If the man had been assaulted, he could take the matter to court; he had his remedy at law.

Lucas had the following to say: "Mr. Chairman, if I was a member of the police and a man came to me and tried to blackmail me, I'd break his damned neck. As I understand it, this man was attempting to blackmail the police, I think Mr. Vida should be paid $50 extra for acting as he did. He should have broken the blackguard's damned neck. I'm sick and tired of the way things are going. I'm heartily ashamed of the whole business. I think we should be ashamed of the way things are going. There's a lot of dirty politics in this. It is high time it was stopped."

Favors Reprimand.

Adams—"I understand that blackmail was the proposition, but the question to be considered is that Vida took the man into his office and there struck him. If Vida had taken him outside, that would have been a different matter. I think we should reprimand Mr. Vida."

Moore—"From the character of the man, who is an ex-jail-bird, who has been used as a spy, who has been convicted of crime—such men should not be recognized in spy work and reports on County officers. We should have Sheriff Brown's recommendation."

Archer—"I think Cox's idea is good. We should defer the matter. Vida has not been proved guilty before the court."

Lucas—"I'd like to hear what Brown says."

The Chair's Opinion.

The Chair—"A police officer is a guardian of the public peace. He should be an example to all citizens ("Very true," interpolated Adams.) Had Vida, as Mr. Adams suggests, taken the reprobate into the street, it might have been all right. But Mr. Vida took him into the Sheriff's office. ("A poor, incapable creature, according to the Advertiser story," said Lucas.) Now, if it is the sense of the Board that a committee be appointed, an investigation should be made of the whole matter."

"Mr. Vida did not take the man into the Sheriff's office," said Sheriff Brown.

"Well, into the Deputy Sheriff's office," said Smith.

Before Whole Board.

Moore suggested that Vida be called and the man he assaulted be called before the whole Board for an examination.

Lucas strenuously declared that an examination by a committee was all that was necessary.

The Chair referred the entire matter to the Police Committee with the addition of Supervisors Moore and Lucas, so the special committee consists of Adams, Cox, Moore and Lucas.

Dangerous Bridge.

Lucas drew attention to the condition of the Vineyard street bridge, saying Acting Fire Chief Deering said an engine was likely to go through into the river, running to a fire some day. Lucas will report on the cost of repair at the next meeting.

Lucas also suggested a system of two weeks per year holiday, with pay, for members of the fire department. He will put the matter in the form of a resolution for next meeting. Adams thought the police should also have holidays.

Blanket Warrant Fight.

Deputy County Attorney F. W. Milverton read the following correspondence on the blanket warrant controversy:

Honolulu, October 9, 1905.

Mr. F. W. Milverton, Deputy County Attorney, Honolulu.

Dear Sir: Your statement in regard to an understanding with me, contained in yours of the 7th inst., is absolutely incorrect, and I had almost said that you know it to be incorrect. You surround yourself with so much technicality, and are so clever in maintaining your own views, and fearful in entertaining those of others, that I am almost inclined whenever I have communication with you in the future, to do so only in the presence of a stenographer and two witnesses.

ELECTRICITY

Of all the power developed by steam in Honolulu 80 per cent. is used to drive shafting and belting—dissipated, wasted, before the work of the machine begins. Think of it! All the money paid for the coal which makes that wasted part of the power, might as well be thrown into the sea for all the good it does. With electric power, you use what you need, when you need it, where you need it. A turn of the switch puts it there. Have you learned to be power-wise?

The sugar market is advancing with the hesitancy of a scorched cat constantly on watch for another blast from Paris.

After killing a number of people the latest disorders in Moscow have been quieted by the forces of the Little White Father.

Such a politeness as sweetens the waters of flowing language, when anyone connected with the sugar industry addresses the Japanese.

Friends of Togo seeking a taste of real life for him, should transform Japan into a Republic and run Togo as a candidate for most any elective office.

Payment of any number of hundred dollars to Japanese laborers for injuries is all right. Is it to be presumed that the citizen-laborer must go to court to get his?

If Supervisor Lucas is not careful, his associates will provide a phonograph horn with which they'll connect an outer chamber and Jack when he promises to sputter.

Should there be others whom Supervisor Adams doesn't like more heartily than Sheriff Brown or Treasurer Trent, they must be outside the ranks of County officialdom.

Charles Hughes of New York is a wise man. He prefers the glory of work in an insurance investigation to the meteoric joy of being a candidate for, though not Mayor of New York.

Why, Hawaii would hardly be up-to-date if something were not doing in the way of a mainland life-insurance muddle. But politicians look on with steadily saddening mien. They haven't been threatened with anything from insurance companies that could get them into trouble.

WHAT THE PHILIPPINES WANT

Brief reference has been made in this paper to the editorial demand of Manila papers for "Free Trade Plus Chinese Labor." This is what has been expected. The trail of the arguments is time-worn.

Immediately the visiting Congressmen of the Taft party began to promise free trade for the Philippines one of the Manila papers remarked that it was well "that we begin to consider just what free trade will mean to these islands." After deliberating a while, it discovers that free trade will do much but not everything. The paper asks whether the islands are in a position to benefit by free trade. Also whether, given a market, the farmers and producers will respond to it.

Then comes a quotation from one of the leading Spanish papers of the city of Manila which says: "But in order to raise the products which the world needs, products which it will buy from us if we have them, we must have sufficient labor to cultivate the land."

Thus the Philippines begin to look the gift-horse in the mouth before it has been handed over. The native for whom this free-trade campaign was started, prefers, so it is said, the labor of mechanical trades and on second thought there do not appear to be any farm laborers, anyway.

The American paper comes to the rescue by asking, "How can we profit to the full by the open door to home markets?" And at once is "thrown back on the problem of labor." The only solution in sight from the observation of the Manila authority is the "temporary admission of Chinese or some other coolie labor—restricted and safe-guarded in every possible way."

Hawaii is not surprised at this turn of the situation. It is just what was and may be expected. The method of the campaign to land the prize is however interesting if not novel. Coolie labor like the woodchuck has got to come according to the Manilaite. Two essentials are put forward as means to the end. "The demand for such labor must come from the Filipinos themselves" and a campaign of enlightenment must be carried on "among the people, chiefly the labor unions, at home." To further the last necessity it is proposed that the Philippines government "have another visiting delegation from the United States at our expense—the United States labor union leaders."

It is highly proper that Hawaii should follow closely the workings of the Philippine mind, on this matter of free trade. It is also within the bounds of common sense and decency that Hawaii should join the forces that vigorously protest against the Philippines being given all the special favors in the category, before reaching the point where they do anything but add to the trouble and expense of the national government.

Taft said free trade with the Philippines was demanded in order to put the native to work. "We don't want no work," is the prompt and not unexpected answer that is implied in the immediate demand for Chinese or other coolie labor.

Taft has declared the administration policy on the question of Chinese labor for Hawaii. Therefore Hawaii has a right to demand that Taft shall also declare an administration policy of "no Chinese" for the Philippines—provided the basic policy of a "fair deal" has not been deserted by the administration.

KNOCKERS' COMPACT LABORS

Supervisor Lucas, who sometimes says things in terms more picturesque than elegant, has publicly asserted that the powwow over the local police situation and alleged gambling is nothing more or less than "dirty politics."

The work of the Knockers' Compact in this connection has been such that the community is quite ready to agree with Supervisor Lucas' conclusion regardless of his method of putting it.

The whole campaign is hatched and fed by a tremendous desire to "get at" County Sheriff Brown, not to stop gambling.

The result is that Honolulu keeps up its reputation for the promotion of the campaign of the hammer.

There is no division of progressive public opinion on what is being sought nor is there any doubt of the evil being done with no compensating good, by the Knockers' Compact.

SUSSANNE AGAIN

Editor Evening Bulletin:—I notice that your morning paper does not suggest that the hackmen that are being robbed and ruined in Honolulu are any different from the hackmen we have in Indiana. It now turns to the police. I hope you will pardon my frequent reference to Indiana but up where I came from the city fathers don't supply the police with rubber nipples and nursing bottles in place of night sticks and strong right arms.

Perhaps I ought not to meddle in your affairs but really I can't help it. I've read so much of your literature about what a nice place this is and I no sooner get here than I find what you call a Knockers' Compact working day and night to do up anybody and the town too.

We do some funny things and have some funny people back in Indiana but some of your folks here are lungpuddle skihoodle snorters. That's what we'd call them.

Yours truly,
SUSSANE DINNERBOILER.

did not knock Townsend down. Townsend got out.

Deputy Sheriff Vida said today that he wished to make no statement of the affair until he appeared before the investigating committee.

In reference to the morning paper's story on Eugene Devauchelle's alleged attempted coercion by the police, the Sheriff says: "There was no coercion. I called Devauchelle into my office and asked what he was hanging around for. It had been reported to me that he was spying in the employ of William Henry or the Advertiser. I told him that if he wanted to find out anything he could come to me and ask all the questions he wanted. I didn't want him hanging around the office. He said he was not in the employ of Henry or the Advertiser; that such a statement was false."

GOVERNOR DENIES HE INTENDS TO CALL EXTRA SESSION

A prominent politician and member of the Legislature stated today that the Governor was contemplating calling an extra session of the Legislature for the purpose of considering the Loan Appropriation Bill. While under this bill the sum total of $1,377,000 was appropriated, the Governor authorized a loan of $750,000 only, necessitating the slashing of the bill to a very great extent. The Governor announced that the loan money would be spent on the general appropriations for all the Islands, amounting to $861,160, while the specific Island items would be cut out. The report now has it that he will call an extra session of the Legislature in order that the people can have their say in the matter.

A Bulletin reporter this morning caught the Governor as he was passing through the Secretary's office to the executive chamber, and asked him if he could ask him just one question, to which the Governor consented:

"I want to ask you, Governor, if you are considering calling an extra session of the Legislature for the purpose of considering the Loan Bill?" asked the reporter.

The Governor thought for a moment.

"I am not," he finally answered.

"Is there any possibility or probability of you calling an extra session for that purpose?" persisted the reporter.

"That is another question," retorted the Governor. "You only asked for one."

"Well, I consider that this one is incorportaed in the same general question," said the reporter.

"No, it is not," retorted the Governor. "You have not kept your word. You only asked for one question."

JEFFS WINS DAMAGE SUIT

to get off the car.' There were other passengers aboard and the plaintiff, in his testimony says: 'I felt very much humiliated and ashamed to be put off the car like that, and I felt much mortified, and I still feel very sore about it. I think it was a shame to put a man off the car like that, after I had explained everything to him as near as I could and I told him how it was, and he insisted that I get off.'

"The transfer, as shown by the conductor's punch marks, correctly indicated the date and time of day; and, presumably, the destination of the plaintiff. The punch mark in the blank space on that part of the transfer ticket where the names of other destinations or transfer points were printed could have been made, as it seems to me, for no other purpose than to indicate the destination of the passenger. If such was not the purpose, why then was this blank space punched and none of the others? If we only consider this for a moment and read the transfer ticket in the light of all the surrounding facts and circumstances, particularly the facts that the Beretania street line was only opened the day before, that plaintiff asked for a transfer to Beretania street, and that the conductor answering said 'Beretania?' and immediately punched the ticket, tore it off and gave it to him, the conclusion above suggested would seem to necessarily follow. 'The face of a passenger's ticket is not the sole criterion of his right of passage.' (46 L. R. A. 614).

"The names of the points of transfer as then existing by direct order of the defendant corporation were printed at the bottom of the transfer ticket in the following order, the last space, as already mentioned being left blank, namely: Liliha St., Fort St. N., Fort St. S., Alakea St. S., Punahou, Waialae. None of the names of the printed points of transfer were punched; but the blank space, as already stated was punched by the conductor. Nothing, as it seems to me, could have been more reasonable or natural than for the plaintiff to have accepted this transfer and present it as he did, in the full belief that it was genuine and what it purported to be. There was no reason why passengers should not be transferred at this point. The transfer ticket gave plaintiff, no notice of any error or ommission, or of the failure of any duty on the part of the conductor. It was apparently correct, and to all intents and purposes, just what plaintiff asked for. The terminus of the Beretania street line was near by on Alapai street, in plain view of a passenger alighting from a King street car, just where one would naturally expect a transfer point to be, and where the convenience of the public requires it. The line was new and only the defendant corporation know whether it was to be made a connecting line or not, with King street, and transfers to be issued from one line to the other. If, as a matter of fact, the company had expressly declared this to be a transfer point, the ticket in question would have answered the purpose. The plaintiff acted in good faith, and he was free from any fault or negligence. And, as it appears to me, there can be no question but that the plaintiff was "upon a continuous trip, . . . and transferring from one car to another, upon a connecting line within the limits' prescribed by the statute, and that, under the circumstances of this case, he was entitled to a transfer ticket without the payment of an extra fare upon the lines of this railway.'

"Regarding the testimony in this case, I wish to say that the plaintiff's manner and appearance while upon the witness stand thoroughly convinced me that he was testifying truthfully.

"Upon the acceptance of the transfer by the plaintiff the contract between himself and the defendant was complete. The defendant, through no fault of the plaintiff, wrongfully refused to perform its parts of this contract, that is to carry the plaintiff to his destination on the Beretania street car.

"I therefore, find for the plaintiff and assess his damages at the sum of $100 for which sum, together with costs, judgment may be duly entered in his favor and against the defendant."

FEDERAL GRAND JURY RETURNS SEVERAL INDICTMENST

The Federal Grand Jury worked again today, having a session from 10 a. m. until noon. It had already returned the following four indictments:

Yokichi Iwagoe, a Japanese from Hawaii, charged on two counts with having on August 5 been carrying on the business as a brewer and the business of a retail liquor dealer without having the necessary licenses.

Charles Kratchman, charged with having on May 8 smuggled 200 cigars, worth $15, ashore from the transport Logan.

Robert Parker, the storekeeper of the Pacific Mail steamship Manchuria, charged with having on September 8 smuggled a bolt of silk, worth $20.

Hajuma Mura, a Japanese, charged on two counts with having on September 14 carried on the business of a distiller, and with having a still in his possession without having a license.

Besides the above the Grand Jury has already handled a couple of other cases. A large number of witnesses of various business, sex and nationality are at present flooding the main hall in the Judiciary building awaiting their turn to be called before the inquisition. The cases to be handled seem to be mostly in the line of peonage, counterfeiting, smuggling and liquor selling and manufacturing. There seems to be no probability of the jury's looking into the matter of the alleged local trusts.

KALIHI RESIDENTS CALL FOR IMPROVEMENTS

Residents of Kalihi turned out in goodly numbers last evening to the first regular meeting of The Kalihi Improvement Club, held at M. J. Borges' store, corner of King and Kamehameha IV Road. The place was filled to overflowing, calling for the securing of a larger hall for future meetings.

P. F. Ryan was appointed president, M. F. Peter secretary and five vice-presidents completed the list of officers.

Committees were appointed to confer with proper owners and holders with reference to the needs of Kalihi, principal among which are lights and repairs to Kamehameha IV Road, which is in a deplorable condition, despite the fact that a large appropriation was made for this, also a water main from Rose street to Kamehameha IV road, several families having to pipe from five to six hundred feet to reach the present main.

PAY PATIENT DEPARTMENT
THE QUEEN'S HOSPITAL PAY PATIENT DEPARTMENT offers superior accommodations and attendance for pay patients both in ward and private rooms. The recent "Pauahi Annex" addition to the Hospital with its modernly equipped Operating Room, Sterilising, Aesthetic and Bathrooms, also portable baths, afford an up-to-date service in every respect, with Resident Physician, staff of trained Nurses, &c., also an Elevator Service. The following are the rates, which include all charges for ordinary medical cases if in charge of the regular Hospital Physicians and Surgeons:
Private Rooms . . . . . $2.50 to $3.50 per diem
Ward Patients . . . . . $1.50 per diem
Practicing Physicians are invited to place patients in the Hospital either in ward or private rooms, such patients to remain under the care of their own Physician, subject to the Rules of the Hospital; such patients will, however, have to pay their own Doctor.
Applicants for admission to the Hospital must furnish the Superintendent a surety for Hospital charges, or else pay two weeks in advance, which must be renewed every week thereafter. In Surgical cases a charge of from $5.00 to $10.00 is made for use of Operating Room and materials. Surgeons are invited to use the Operating Room of the Hospital under the above specified rates, and arrangements for hours can be made with the Superintendent.
Persons desiring admission to the Hospital should apply to the Superintendent, on the premises, Punchbowl and Miller Streets.
For further information or reference apply to the Superintendent Physician and Resident at the Hospital, GEO. W. SMITH, ESQ., Secretary (Benson, Smith & Co.); or E. F. BISHOP, Treasurer (C. Brewer & Co.).

BOARD OF HEALTH'S PROPOSED CEMETERY LAWS

The following ordinance, proposed by President of the Board of Health Pinkham, is in the hands of the Supervisors for consideration:

Section 1. From and after the passage of this ordinance, no cemetery or cemeteries shall be established within the County of Oahu, T. H., without the consent and approval of the Board of Supervisors for said County.

Section 2. Any person, association or corporation, desiring to establish a cemetery within the County shall submit a full description of the metes, bounds and area of said proposed cemetery, together with a map of the grounds and proposed improvements thereon. Also a copy of proposed rules and regulations governing such proposed cemetery. Also a prospectus of the financial status of the proposed cemetery.

Section 3. It shall be unlawful to establish a cemetery within the County of Oahu on land not absolutely owned in fee simple and free from debt. It shall be unlawful to mortgage or place any liens whatsoever on any proposed cemetery within the County of Oahu.

Section 4. Every cemetery, hereafter established in the County shall make provision by the establishment of a perpetual and properly guarded fund for the perpetual care of said cemetery, and, said fund shall be ample to maintain said cemetery, including every lot and grave therein, in good order.

Section 5. Any person, association or corporation, or the officers thereof, violating any section of this ordinance, shall be fined in a sum not exceeding $1,000.

Don't Crv Fake

The mere mention of "hair remedy" throws some men into a fit of unreasonable incredulity. It is true that before the microbe origin of baldness was discovered that most hair remedies were worthless, but not many of them were designedly so. Chronic baldness is incurable, but its forerunners, dandruff, itching scalp and failing hair, can be cured by stopping the microbic growth with Newbro's Herpicide. It prevents reinfection. Money back if unsatisfactory. Delightful hair dressing. Stops itching of scalp instantly.

PUPILS AND PHOTOGRAPHY

The story of Photography was told by Prof. Ludovico Hart before a very good audience at the Punahou Preparatory Hall last evening. Prof. Hart traced the history of photography from the earliest period and then gave a brief description of the various processes that have been developed for producing pictures and printing them. The wonderful utility of photography was dwelt upon in impressive detail. The educational side of photography is the main idea of his work and there can be no doubt that he has the right of it on his side at the outset.

After giving a three-quarter hour talk on photography and photographs Prof. Hart devoted the rest of the evening to a stereopticon demonstration of how photography in connection with the stereopticon can be used with wonderful profit to the old and young alike. He believes that every educational institution should have its stereopticon and make greater use of photography in bringing the pupils in closer touch with all lines of their study. His arguments are negatived only by the schools that have not the price of purchasing and maintaining such paraphernalia.

The barkentine Archer, 13 days from Honolulu, and the bark Mohican, 26 days from Honolulu, arrived in San Francisco yesterday. The bark Kaiulani also arrived, being out 19 days from Honolulu. The Archer's passage is the best sailing record made in the month of September of any previous year.

FIGHT FOR LICENSE

Matsuura has filed his second application with the Treasurer for a fourth class license for a saloon in Waialua, his first application having been refused on account of a protest by residents of Waialua. Matsuura's new application is accompanied by a petition asking that the saloon be established. There are 119 signatures on the petition and 113 on the protest, some residents having signed both documents. The Treasurer has taken no action in the matter as yet.

TROY GIRLS STRIKE

Troy, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Troy, the collar and shirt town of the world, is in the throes of a strike, affecting the industry which has made it famous. The starchers, women who take care of the laundering of the millions of collars, shirts and cuffs that go out labeled "Troy, N. Y.," decided several months ago that they were not being paid enough and that the machines which the manufacturers had installed were unsatisfactory. Consequently they served notice on the proprietors, and, failing on an agreement, walked out and are still out. The girls say that they cannot earn fair wages under the machine system.

During the early weeks of the trouble there was a considerable lack of harmony that resulted in situations approaching the riot stage. Girls were attacked on the streets by strike sympathizers and on one occasion a street car was held up and an employe of one of the shops was severely hurt. Hat pins were used and clothes were torn from the victims.

The manufacturers have been firm in their attitude and three separate injunctions from the Supreme Court have been granted. In each case the members of the Starchers' Union are restrained from picketing and intimidating employes of the shops.

MISS MOLLY ELLIOT SEAWELL, NOVELIST.

Miss Molly Elliot Seawell, who has made a name as a successful novelist, is a niece of ex-President Tyler and makes Washington her home. A number of years ago her novelette "The Sprightly Tale of Marsac" won a $3,000 prize in a short story competition conducted by the New York Herald. Her first story, "Little Jarvis," won a prize of $500 offered by the Youth's Companion.

DICTATES OF FASHION

A smart every-day waist, which is of white wool albatross, continues through a red and white plaid braid, a sort of continuity of costume, for the skirt is entirely of red and white plaid wool. A highly ornamental yoke effect is outlined by the braid, the same design and plain bands appearing upon the sleeves.

Parisians cling to the fine French voile. Those of Rob Roy plaids in cream and Alice blue and magenta and white are charming. The chemisette and long sleevelets in white, with high soft belts of crushed leather in ivory white are smart accessories to such frocks. This tone of white prevails on most of the gowns.

In silks, to be made up for separate blouses to be worn with street costumes, handsome plaids are being shown, and will find favor with many. In some of these the plaids run bias. Nearly all combinations of colors are shown, and when the leading color matches the material of the coat, or approximates it, these plaids are especially desirable. These blouses are of course, made up comparatively plain, the plaids being in themselves sufficient decorations. For school girls they are particularly suited.

The bishop sleeve is seen on some of the new wraps and in fact a loose flowing effect of sleeve and mantle combined seems to be one of the characteristics of the newest model. In heavy silk it does look very much like a bishop's robe and is not ungraceful in cloth. It is certainly original and now that women are learning to wear these loose garments they do not seem so ungraceful as they did (the garments, not the women); but there would seem to be an unnecessary amount of material used in such mantles, for it is necessary to have a great deal of material in order to carry out the fashion as it is intended.

A tiny ivory fan is the latest form of Parisian fancy and girls are hunting their family archives through to find those that were fashionable seventy years ago. Parents are presenting their daughters with monogram fans. A girl carries a small silk fan of the folded variety and is in the habit of opening it and laying it on her lap, and in the middle of the fan her name will be seen most exquisitely presented on specially wrought lace. Another idea is a blue linen fan with a monogram in the center of it embellished with a little circle of green leaves. The appearance is very much as though it were a medallion set into the fan. And still another fan is made of taffetas, with a worked medallion in the middle and a lace ornament at each side.

KITCHEN POINTERS

Pudding bags should be made of heavy jean.

Never wash raisins that are to be used in sweet dishes. It will make the pudding or cake heavy.

Hot soda dissolves the grease that sometimes lodges in the sink pipes, removing it and the unpleasant odor which it causes.

A few drops of glycerin put in the fruit jars the last thing before sealing them helps to keep preserves from molding on top.

Rancid butter, boiled in water with a pinch of charcoal, will be divested of its rancidity and may be used for cooking purposes.

Silver should not be put in woolen bags as the sulphur in this cloth tarnishes the metal and neither should rubber be placed near silver.

The addition of lemon juice to the water in which rice is boiled will increase the whiteness and the grains will readily separate thus treated.

Mix fine sawdust with glue to a stiff paste for filling nail holes or cracks and the patch will hardly be discernible, especially if the sawdust is of the same wood that is mended.

Always keep a jar of cracker dust on hand for breading or else save up all pieces of bread and once a month dry them in an open oven, then place them in a bag and pound until fine.

A saucepan in which rice, oatmeal or anything sticky has been cooked, may be very easily cleaned by putting in a cupful of ashes when you take it off the fire and then fill with water.

The custom of brushing a tablecloth instead of shaking it, as formerly, has two good points. It does not scatter the crumbs abroad, but collects them tidily. And it does not crumple the cloth, which was sadly mussed at the long time method of cleaning the table.—Chicago Daily News.

HAIR GROWN BY LIGHT

Philadelphia, Sept. 11. — Surgeons treating a case of lupus at the Polyclinic Hospital by means of the Finsen rays have grown upon the patient's head, a septuagenarian and bald for forty years, a crop of hair that is as fine and lustrous and black as that upon any youth of twenty.

The surgeon who has been foremost in treating the case and who is a well-known specialist in diseases of the skin, said tonight:

"It is true that under the influence of the Finsen rays there has appeared a growth of hair upon affected patches The patient had been suffering from lupus for the treatment of which the Finsen apparatus was used. The lupus patches were on the forehead and there was spotted baldness. As the treatment progressed and the patches improved in condition a new growth of hair was observed. This growth grew stronger until it is now nearly normal."

RIGHT IN CHICAGO.

"Some day," said the dreamer, "we may see patrol wagons on wings."

"In that event," replied the buffoon boarder, "I know the class of police men they will carry."

AUSTRIA HUNGARY ROW

MARK TWAIN'S STORY OF CAUSES THAT CREATE IT

HALF A DOZEN NATIONS COMPRISE AUSGLEICH-HATE EACH OTHER AND LOVE NONE. PARLIAMENT.

TROUBLE IN HUNGARY.

Budapest, October 9.—The Diet assembles tomorrow. The political situation is chaotic. It is rumored that General Ferjervary is to be premier. There is a report that it is planned to impeach the cabinet.

Austria-Hungary's present political troubles are the subject of a great many news dispatches, editorial paragraphs and magazine articles. With a wise, upright and tranquil old ruler, with a well-found people, the respect of its neighbors, and a government ideal in the abstract, Austria-Hungary is almost continuously in the throes of a civil crisis.

In any reliable work of reference one may find informing essays upon this interesting country, but it remained for Mark Twain to illuminate the subject in Harper's. He spent several months at the capital a few years ago and observed at short range the processes attendant upon or incident to administration. There exists a political condition unlike anything else of the sort in the world. Perhaps the most glaring or faulty thing about it is the enormous expenditure of energy or effort and the small return of result.

The monarchy consists of a coalition or merger of more than half a score of nations, with the strongest in numbers failing to comprise one fourth of the whole. While most of these elements or factors regularly oppose the government, each one is as well arrayed against the other. This makes impossible either a harmonious union or a satisfactory disunion. Alliances are but temporary, no matter what the object of them. The Jews are a steady target, the language controversy is ever at white heat, socialism is active. The bond of these grouped nations is called the "Ausgleich." It is a series of provisions of confederation subscribed to in 1861 and subject to amendment every ten years. The disturbances of the day over there are preliminary to the forthcoming reconsideration of the "Ausgleich."

In Vienna there are a number of publications that would be newspapers but for the intervention of the censor. This official and his assistants glance through the prints after the editions are ready for distribution and eliminate all the "good stuff." When they get through with a sheet it looks like a Hawaiian Territorial official's account of his stewardship boiled down for the Governor's report. This thing alone would subtract not a little from the popularity of any state.

The Parliament of Austria-Hungary is housed in one of the most sumptuous edifices in Europe and the body is composed of a larger proportion of university men than any other legislature. Nearly all the members, be they professional politicians, priests, mechanics or tradesmen, are "doctors"—and they must earn their degrees over there. Just why these men do the seemingly unaccountable things they do is a problem very likely for both the student of the mind and the student of the political trend of the era. Their conduct is deeply interesting, but it is almost sad to note that there are produced neither great men nor great measures.

In 1897 the government resorted to the use of soldiers to remove the representatives of the people from the halls of legislation. Revolution did not follow then. Therefore resistance to authority can scarcely be crystallized at this time. People who will tolerate what they submitted to in 1897 will never revolt. No doubt the spirit of patriotic resistance is there, but organization is impossible.

It was in the parliament place at Vienna that the house held a session of two days and a night, in the course of which Dr. Orton Lecher actually occupied the floor and actually spoke for twelve consecutive hours. The "Ausgleich" was under consideration. Of course Dr. Lecher's address was prolonged for the particular purpose of obstructing proceedings. Nevertheless this man for twelve hours addressed himself strictly to the subject before the house. He did not resort to the reading of books or newspapers but merely from notes argued clearly and forcefully upon the numerous questions involved. He was allowed but a single rest of five minutes and his refreshment of three glasses of wine, four cups of coffee and a glass of beer.

It was at this long session that the chair, conniving with others, declared a new rule on debate adopted by a standing vote—when everyone was standing and shouting. The presiding officer blandly explained that the ayes and noes could not be taken as usual on account of the confusion. Asked if he really proposed to claim that the rule had been passed, the president replied: "Yes — and unanimously." Shades of Czar Reed!

The remarks indulged in during debate by the deputies of Austria-Hungary will make a rather clear showing of their insanity in public affairs.

Wolf (indicating the president)—There sits a man to whom a certain title belongs.

Wolf (to Dr. Lueger)—Please, betrayer of the people, begin.

Wohlmeyer (to Wolf)—You Jew, you. (Wolf is anti-Semetic, but voting with them on a trade.)

Mayreder (to the president)—You have lied. You conceded the floor to me; make it good or you have lied.

Vielohlawek (to Wolf)—You belong in a gin-mill.

Prochazka—In a lunatic asylum, you mean.

Strohbach (to Wolf)—Contemptible cub—we will bounce thee out of this.

Lueger—And these shameless creatures are the leaders of the German people's party.

Glockner (to the president)—Leave! Get out!

Schrammel—Religion has no proper place in the public schools.

Gregorig—How about free love?

Leuger—The honorless party would better keep still here.

"Political mountebaun."

"Drunken clown."

"Blatherskite."

"Blackguard."

"Scoundrel."

Perhaps there will be an entirely new Ausgleich—or none at all, after the aged king-emperor passes away.

BY AUTHORITY

At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Oahu, Territory of Hawaii, held on the 3rd day of October, A. D., 1905, in their office, McIntyre Building, the following ORDINANCE was duly passed by the said Board.

ORDER NO. 3.

REGULATING THE SPRINKLING OF CLOTHES.

The People of the County of Oahu do Ordain as follows:

Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons, ironing or performing any act, in the laundrying of clothing of another, or in the laundrying of clothing for hire, within the County of Oahu, to spray any article so laundered with liquid sprayed or projected from the mouth of said person or persons, or to direct or permit any person in his employ to so spray such article so laundered.

Section 2. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than Five Dollars, nor more than Twenty-five Dollars and in case such fine is not satisfied by immediate payment thereof the person so fined shall be committed to prison for the nonpayment of the same and the time of such imprisonment shall be deemed to discharge the same at the rate of One Dollar per day.

Section 3. This Ordinance shall take effect from and after its passage and publication.

Attest:
(Sgd.) D. KALAUOKALANI, JR.,
Clerk, County of Oahu.

Approved:

DR. CHARLES FLESH FOOD

APPLIED AS A COLD CREAM ACTS AS A MEDICINE.

Wherever applied, its healing and nourishment is instantly absorbed by the pores. It strengthens and builds up the tissues underlying the skin and Firm, Healthy Flesh is the result.

DR. CHARLES FLESH FOOD is no new experiment. It has been in use for more than fifty years and during that time thousands of women and men have used it with entire satisfaction.

That it is not to be classed with "Cold Creams" and other things of like superficial potency is proved by the fact that it is prescribed by leading physicians and used in hospitals for the nutrition of invalids whose stomachs are too weak to digest food.

DR. CHARLES FLESH FOOD should be used by every woman who has the least desire to be attractive. It is the only preparation that will round out hollowed, thin cheeks or scrawny neck with Firm, Healthy Flesh and Remove Wrinkles from the face and hands, no matter how deep the furrow.

FOR DEVELOPING THE IMMATURE BUST or to make the breast firm, large and beautiful nothing can equal it. To prevent the breasts from shrinking, after weaning baby, mothers should always use DR. CHARLES FLESH FOOD. It will also restore a bosom to its natural contour and beauty lost through nursing and sickness.

ON SALE AT ALL DRUGGISTS.

SPECIAL OFFER. The regular price of DR. CHARLES FLESH FOOD is $1.00 a box, but to introduce it into thousands of new homes we have decided to send Two (2) boxes to all who answer this advertisement and send us $1.00. All packages are sent in plain wrapper, postage prepaid.

FREE. A Sample Box—just enough to convince you of the great merit of DR. CHARLES FLESH FOOD—will be sent free for 10 cents, which pays for cost of mailing. With this sample we will also send you our illustrated Book, "Art of Massage," which contains all the proper movements for Massaging the face, neck and arms and full directions for developing the bust. IED BY CAPT. TURNER

OLD COMMANDER OF THE W. G. IRWIN QUELS BLAZE

INCIDENT IN OLD PEOPLE'S HOME THAT RECALLED YOUTHFUL VIGOR—FIVE YEARS AT THIS PORT.

San Francisco, Sept. 24.—Captain H N. Turner, a member of the Old People's Home and formerly commander of the brig W. G. Irwin, organized an impromptu fire battalion at the home yesterday morning, when the boiler exploded and the basement took fire. Although he is in his eighty-fourth year and each of his fire laddies is past four score, he succeeded in getting a stream of water on the fire before the city's fire fighters arrived on the scene.

The explosion, which occurred at 6:30 o'clock in the morning, was caused by the backfiring of the oil furnace in the boiler which supplies the steam heat for the home. The 120 old people in the building were dressing for breakfast at the time and rushed into the corridors in considerable excitement. Acting Superintendent G. W. Beatty went about the halls and succeeded in quieting them before a panic occurred. At the same time, Harry Wood, the engineer, shut off the oil feed as well as the gas and electricity, in this way preventing a second explosion.

But Turner had fought fires at sea beyond the call of fire engines and hose carts. He took charge of the affair, and, with the assumption of authority, the vigor of his youth returned. His order to "man the pumps" was as promptly and as implicitly obeyed as any command he ever gave on the deck of the crack sugar packet W. G. Irwin, when she was a new ship in the early 80's, and making clipper time between here and Honolulu.

Old Men as Firemen.

Captain Turner's assistants in the fire fighting were Robert Treutiger, aged 82 years, and George Scott, aged 80 years. Between them they got the hose down from the hook where it was coiled on the wall and, crawling on their hands and knees through the smoke, they wormed their way into the engine room and had a stream of water on the flames, to their infinite delight, a good five minutes ahead of the department.

When Engineer Harry Wood returned to the engine room after turning off the gas and electricity he found the aged firemen in full charge. "As I groped through the dense smoke I stumbled over something on the floor of the engine room," he said. "It was Robert Treutiger, lying flat on the floor and clinging to the nozzle of the hose for dear life. The old man, with his long white beard, in the flickering light of the fire, shrouded in smoke, was a weird sight."

When the department came Captain Turner surrendered his brief authority and became once more a "member of the home."

When seen yesterday afternoon he would not say much about the fire, but told, with a quiet twinkle in his eyes, that they had got a stream on the fire before the regular firemen came. He said: "I had command of the W. G. Irwin from the time she was built in 1881 until 1886. That was the last time I went to sea, with the exception of the voyage I took down to Tahiti to bring up the City of Papeete."

That the damage from the blaze was insignificant is due to the old men's work. But it will take a week to repair the heating plant, and in that time the members of the home will have to warm themselves before the open fires in the grates in the parlor and library.

'TIS DIRTY POLITICS

I am too busily engaged with other matters to enter into a discussion with you even if I were inclined to do so as to what we tentatively agreed to do in the matter of the blanket warrant test. Suffice to say that your statement is absolutely incorrect, and I shall wait your carrying out of our tentative agreement the time only mentioned in my letter of the 7th.

Yours respectfully,
(Signed) E. B. McCLANAHAN.

Honolulu, October 9, 1905.

E. B. McClanahan, Esq., Attorney at Law, Honolulu.

Dear Sir: I am in receipt of your grossly insulting, discourteous and coarse letter of even date in the matter of the blanket warrant controversy. It does not seem to me to be such a letter as would ordinarily emanate from the office of one who has a proper regard for the ethics and courtesies commonly indulged in by attorneys who have any regard for the dignity and standing of their profesion.

In my communication to you, I stated in I think a fair and courteous manner what the arrangement was between us, according to my understanding. I do not believe the language I used was particularly "technical" or capable of more than one construction.

I should be pleased to have you point out wherein your understanding differs from mine with regard to the matter, so that this office might, if it be a minor difference, be able to waive it, and thus arrive at some definite, conclusion, but until you do so, I shall certainly be at a loss to understand what called forth your remarkable letter. An early reply will greatly oblige.

Yours truly,
FRED W. MILVERTON,
Deputy County Attorney, County of Oahu.

To Defend Trent.

County Attorney Douthitt reviewed the history of the argument and the following resolution, introduced by Adams, was then adopted:

Resolved, That the efforts of the County Attorney's department to obtain a proper adjudication of the so-called blanket warrant, be approved, and in the event of Treasurer Trent agreeing to pay the Frazee warrant for the purpose of having the blanket warrant question tested, and in the further event of any proceedings being instituted by E. B. McClanahan, based on Trent agreeing to pay the warrant, the County Attorney be authorized to defend such proceedings on behalf of Treasurer Trent without cost to the Treasurer.

The Board then adjourned subject to the Chair's call.

If you stop to figure out where the true economy in paint buying comes, you'll soon see that the best paint is cheapest. Two-thirds the cost of painting is the labor. It costs just as much to put on poor paint as it does good paint—more in fact because the poor paint doesn't work so easily. But the poor paint won't last as long; it makes you repaint sooner.

Even the apparent saving in cost per gallon is eaten up by the fact that it takes more gallons of the low priced paint.

The truest economy is good prepared paint.

RIDE THE ZEBRULA

Young people with an aloha for a ride on the back of the patient donkey will have their desires catered for to the full at St. Clement's church fair which commences on Friday next.

All the fast, pedigreed donkeys in town including the noted zebrula have been cornered for the great event and will be stabled in the rectory grounds during the fair. Donkey riding promises to develop into quite a fad among Honolulu's young haut ton.

The book stall will be a novel feature of the fair, and here the best of reading matter may be obtained at a surprisingly nominal cost. If the joys and delights of your own library have become exhausted, by all means visit the bookshop at the fair and replenish your shelves with volumes that read and look exceedingly well.

In this connection scrapbooks for children will be displayed and already some very fine specimens have come to hand.

The ice cream palace, which will be conducted on an elaborate scale, will be managed by Mrs. Anna Wright and the art booth will be presided over by Mrs. C. R. Hemingway.

The guiding stars of the fancy table will be Mrs. Layard, Mrs. Rycroft and Miss Maud Kinney.

Frank Fisher was this forenoon found guilty of keeping a disorderly house in Kakaako by the following jury: M. Brasch, D. L. Akwai, Farm Cornn, H. B. Saylor, W. T. Raposo, Fredk. Turrill, Geo. W. Macy, S. W. Crook, Ulysses H. Jones, Thos. Jones, W. T. Schmidt and A. F. Cooke.

Judge Robinson sentenced Fisher to ten days imprisonment with costs, which, as Fisher has no money, will amount to about 35 days in prison. The lightness of the sentence was occasioned by the fact that Fisher has been in custody almost ten months awaiting his trial.

SUES ON REGO NOTE

James Wakefield, trustee, has filed suit for foreclosure of mortgage against Henry J. and Mary Ann Spalding. The complaint shows that on March 26, 1903, the defendants gave M. A. Rego a promissory note for $800 payable in two years, which was later on assigned to Wakefield. Rego, it will be remembered was the postmaster at Koloa, who in order to make good the amount of his embezzlement of Government funds assigned most of his property to Wakefield. Property consisting of 3.21 acres at Kahaluu, Koolaupoko, Oahu, was mortgaged as security for the loan.

BORN.

MORGAN—In Honolulu Oct. 9th, 1905, to Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Morgan, a daughter.

Court Camoes No. 8110, A. O. F., will hold a "Grand Carnival of Fun" this evening, to celebrate its attainment of the "200 mark." Fifteen candidates will be made acquainted with the mysteries of Ancient Forestry on this occasion. Visiting brethren are cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. A. F. Johnson, who arrived on the last Manchuria to visit her daughter, Mrs. Charles Bon, suffered a paralytic stroke on Sunday and is not expected to live.

Boyce: Here is a story about a man who was stranded on a hidden bar. Joyce: What's the trouble; was he pitched in a speak-easy?

ROOM FOR POSTOFFICE IN McCANDLESS BLOCK

McCandless Brothers have offered the postoffice two big rooms in their new building to be built on King and Bethel streets. The plans are drawn, but the department has not yet signified whether it will accept the new quarters.

The new building will cost $45,000 and will be two stories, of unfaced stone. It will be constructed to carry a third story when necessary.
