City Shows Respect To Memory Of H. Alexander Isenberg

THE LATE H. A. ISENBERG

Today Honolulu shows its respect to the memory of the late H. Alexander Isenberg, one of its foremost men of affairs who, in the best of life and with so much to live for, passed away in New York yesterday afternoon after a brief illness.

Throughout the city flags are flying at half mast, houses which had ample opportunity of knowing virtues of the departed through constant business relations with H. Hackfeld & Co., of which Mr. Isenberg was the head, showing their respect and regret in the lowered colors.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon all the banks closed their doors. Early in the morning a notice to the following effect could be seen at every bank entrance: "This bank will close today at 1 p. m. in respect to the memory of the late H. A. Isenberg."

The headquarters of sugar plantation agencies also closed their doors for the same sad reason.

The flag of Hackfeld's was half-masted this morning and the German flag floated at half-mast over the Consulate. The doors of H. Hackfeld & Co. were closed all day, the great entrance to the marble rotunda at the corner of Fort and Queen streets being draped heavily in black.

Yesterday afternoon, when it was known that Mr. Isenberg was dying, there were many callers at Hackfeld's and at the German Consulate, Mr. Pfotenhauser acting as Consul, expressing concern as to the condition of Mr. Isenberg and earnest hopes for his recovery. Heads of business houses, members of the diplomatic corps and citizens generally called at the Hackfeld building this morning to extend their sympathy.

Last night the Hawaiian band gave no concert at Emma square, those who went to hear the music being informed that on account of the death of Mr. Isenberg, the concert would not be given.

H. Alexander Isenberg, after a six days' illness with pneumonia, died in the City of New York late Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Isenberg and their two children were with Mr. Isenberg, the Isenbergs having reached New York from Germany, on their way home to Honolulu, early last week. Mr. Isenberg, it is believed, took a heavy cold crossing the Atlantic and was stricken with pneumonia.

H. Hackfeld & Co. of this city, of which firm Mr. Isenberg was vice president and managing director, was constantly kept informed of his condition during his brief illness. The last cable received yesterday, as noted in yesterday's Bulletin, held out no hope of recovery.

The Isenbergs left Honolulu eight months ago on a visit to Germany. H. A. Isenberg, manager of the house of Hackfeld here and German Consul Hawaii, was born in Bremen, Germany, January 17, 1871, and came to Honolulu about eleven years ago. He was made managing director of H. Hackfeld & Co., Ltd., in 1900, in the absence of Mr. J. F. Hackfeld, Mr. Isenberg holding the title of vice-president.

As German Consul he entertained, both in his consular and private capacities, in a lavish manner. In 1897 Mr. Isenberg married Miss Virginia Dulsenberg of San Francisco, daughter of Chas. A. C. Dulsenberg, the first German Consul of San Francisco, who arrived there in 1849. Mr. Dulsenberg was one of San Francisco's leading business men.

The late Hon. Paul Isenberg, formerly president of H. Hackfeld & Co., Ltd., who died in 1903, was H. A. Isenberg's father. The deceased leaves surviving him, besides his wife and two children, the Hon. D. P. R. Isenberg, a half-brother who was president of the Hawaiian Senate last session; and Mrs. Dora Isenberg, a half-sister, residing at Lihue, Kauai. In Germany he has three sisters and two brothers. One of his sisters was married at Bremen, four days before his departure for Honolulu.

Mr. Isenberg opened his business career with H. Hackfeld & Co., going through every clerical position and finally becoming the head of the establishment.

Man Here Discovered Girl's Body

San Francisco, November 6.—Milton Andrews is wanted for the murder of Bessie Bouton at Colorado Springs, also for murderous assault in Berkeley.

When Edwin Hooper, at present at work in the von Hamm-Young Co.'s garage, read the above cable in the local papers, he was reminded of a gruesome incident of over a year ago. A year ago last October Mr. Hooper was stopping at the Hotel Alta Vista, Colorado Springs.

He had been there some little time, long enough to become acquainted with the doings of one Milton Franklin, alias Milton Andrews, and a girl who went by the name of Mrs. Milton Franklin.

The couple were quarrelling frequently. One night they went up Cheyenne Mountain, so the neighbors said, and Franklin returned alone. In any event three days later Edwin Hooper, now in Honolulu, and two others found the body of the woman on the mountain. She had been shot in the head. Money and jewelry, the latter very valuable, were missing. The night she was last seen, Franklin, who was something of a high-liver and, as Hooper remembers him, usually arrayed in yachting costume, cleared out with the woman's trunks.

It was some time before the identity of the murdered woman was discovered. The teeth were finally sent to Cincinnati, Ohio, and there identified, by the gold fillings, as those of Bessie Bouton.

Hooper says when he and his companions found the woman's body it was covered with leaves. Franklin, alias Andrews, was suspected of the crime and the search for him has been a long one.

Hooper says he has been informed that the alleged murderer was not long ago in Honolulu.

JAPANESE WORKING FOR COUNTY IN THE PARK

A Japanese is working in Kapiolani park and drawing his wages from the County. For this numerous Hawaiians and other citizens are complaining and it is said that at tonight's meeting of the Board of Supervisors the matter will be brought up.

It is supposed that none but citizens be given employment on County work.

Judge Dole's jury this afternoon returned a verdict of guilty in the case of First Mate Boyd of the Manga Reva, charged with assault and battery on a sailor, named Johnson.

A new city delivery car for the Wells, Fargo Express Co. has been put into use on the street railway.

Nance O'Neill To Stop Here On The 28th. For One Performance

MANAGER MCKEE RANKIN FLIES THROUGH

McKee Rankin is flying through Honolulu hearing the good news that Nance O'Neill is following this way from the Colonies, due to hit Honolulu with her company of sixteen players on the 28th instant, three weeks from today.

Rankin is manager and everything else at the head of this well remembered talent and he has, during his brief stop in this city today, engaged the Opera House for a matinee performance by the famous Nance, while her ship is in port, to start promptly at noon on the 28th.

It is several years since the O'Neill charmed Honolulu audiences and all will be eager to see her again. The O'Neill company has made a great success in the Colonies, playing to crowded houses for fourteen weeks in the big cities of Australia, Sydney, Melbourne and others, and five weeks in Auckland and elsewhere in New Zealand.

Here, at noon, on the 28th, "The Fires of St. John," by Sudemann, author of Magda, will be presented, a strong and renowned production.

From Honolulu the O'Neill Co. goes to San Francisco, to fill a lengthy engagement there, thence they will tour to Boston.

In July next they will be back again this way, it is hoped to spend a few days in Honolulu at least, then to play in Yokohama, Kobe, Nagasaki, Shanghai and other leading cities in the Orient, going on to Batavia, Singapore, Colombo, and doing eight weeks in Calcutta.

Mr. Rankin has not played here for seven years, just after annexation. He was here four weeks at that time. In addition to knowing many people here Mr. Rankin is a great admirer of Honolulu. Since playing here he has been all over the world, some parts more than once.

Mr. Rankin has a wonderful memory for faces and names. This morning he met Tom Wall, whom he had not seen for seven years. Mr. Rankin recognized Mr. Wall at once, and recalled his whole name in an instant. "Well hello there, Tom Wall," he said, "how are you?" And then the two entered into a discussion of themselves, where they had been and also a little "shop talk" thrown in.

Mr. Rankin's home is in Boston, although he is seldom there. He is a great traveler. One year from now Nance O'Neill and company are booked to show at Calcutta, on a tour of India and the Orient.

Nance O'Neill has many friends here, having gone to school with a number of Honolulu women when all were girls. The last thing she said to Mr. Rankin at Auckland was "to be sure and try to arrange a morning performance at dear old Honolulu." Mr. Rankin assured her he would try, he did and succeeded. The matinee will begin at 12 o'clock noon of November 28. Nance O'Neill and company of sixteen are now playing Auckland. They will arrive on the Sonoma on the 25th for just one performance.

Wooden-Legged Sailor, Says Maling, Was Ordered To Dance

FESTIVE TIMES ON BOARD MANGA REVA

The trial of Joseph Boyd, the second mate of the Manga Reva, who is charged with assault and battery on two sailors, Wm. Johnson and Harry Kia, continued this morning before Judge Dole. Yesterday the prosecution's witnesses told the good old story of drunken mates knocking down sailors with belaying pins. Today the defense had its innings in which the vessel's mates endeavored to depict a sailor's life on shipboard as one idle rosyate dream of happiness.

This morning United States District Attorney Breckons closed the case of the prosecution. W. T. Rawlins, who appeared for the defendant, immediately made a motion to dismiss the case, claiming that the Court had no jurisdiction, as the vessel, when the alleged assaults were committed, was lying at Kaaanapali, 500 yards from shore and was inside the three-mile limit. He claimed that the Territory and not the United States had jurisdiction. Breckons opposed the motion, and, after authorities had been quoted by both sides, it was finally denied.

Herbert Jones, the first mate of the Manga Reva, who has also been indicted on a charge similar to the one against Boyd, was the first witness for the defense. He said that he had never seen Boyd hit any of the sailors. He blamed the crew for most of the trouble, especially Johnson, who, by the way, wears a wooden leg.

The crew, he said, consisted of Hawaiians and Porto Ricans. They were continually wrangling, but the mates could not understand the languages they used, so that they did not know what their rows were about. Sometimes they pulled each other's hair. On June 17 the wrangling became so bad that Jones told Boyd to separate the men into three groups, placing one on the poop, one on the main hatch and one on the forward hatch. Boyd did as he was told and the men obeyed, with the exception of Johnson, who did not want to climb up on the poop when Boyd wanted him to go. Boyd tried to load Johnson by the arm, but the sailor said: "I am stubborn; I by both sides, it was finally denied."

What Japanese Think Of Attacks On Rev. Dr. Kincaid

BILIOUS WRITER AND JAPANESE LABORERS

The Yamato Shimbun, one of the Japanese papers of the city, prints in its English section the following comment on the work of the editor of the Advertiser:

The writer in the Sunday Advertiser who regularly writes on current topics under the nom de plume of "The Bystander" in yesterday's letter, in speaking of the utterances of Dr. Kincaid and Mr. Cooper in the States, broke loose in such sweeping and hysterical denunciation of the gentlemen named as would indicate that he needs to go to a Sanitarium to restore his mental equipoise. This Don Quixote of the Press speeds his most venomous shafts at the Rev. Kincaid, pastor of the Union Church. He says not a word in regard to the truthfulness of Dr. Kincaid's statements as to the exodus of Europeans and the alleged cause of it, to wit: the placing of capable Asiatics, particularly Japanese, in the positions of skilled labor, which those Europeans might have filled. He says, "Dr. Kincaid has often thrust a knife into the sides of those who fed him." The inference is that a preacher is bound to set forth only the views of those who pay his salary. The Bystander is also, in a manner, a public character, would he have us to understand that his opinions are made to order, pressed out by a tailor's goose, to suit the views of those who feed him?

Of late years it has been complained that the American pulpit has lost its power, and it has been said that it was subservient to the money power in the church. The Bystander would seem to suggest that it ought to be the intellectual and moral slave of those who feed the occupant.

The time was when the American pulpit was regarded as a citadel of free speech and courageous Christian citizenship; but it seems to be held now that it can only be the mouthpiece of vested and sordid interests.

We have been taught to look upon the freedom and the press and pulpit as one of the glories of American history. It is an ominous sign when it is badly contended that the pulpit and, inferentially, the press are and of right ought to be simply the mouthpieces of the plutocracy. Such a conception of these great offices will reduce preachers to puppets and editors to penny-a-liners. If a procession of such men is to be made here we think, the way he is going, that the "Bystander" ought to lead it.

We, and we believe we are not the only ones, are somewhat weary of the "Bystander"; but we are charitable and prepared to give a cordial welcome to anything from him which has a little more of intellectual sweetness and light than he has indulged in lately, meanwhile, he would, for his own peace of mind, urge him to lay aside the vinegar cruet and take an occasional drink of Lemmo.

We do not wish to be understood as agreeing with Dr. Kincaid, but when there is such diversity of opinions and the sensibilities of different classes and nationalities are involved it is good public policy to avoid unnecessary bitterness and the denunciatory speech of a curb-stone harangue.

The Bystander lets the Hon. H. E. Cooper off easily. He is only "surprised"; but from what he does write he is evidently disappointed that he has not been able to advise Mr. Cooper what to say at Washington. Doubtless, Mr. Cooper will consult him when he returns.

Whatever may be said about Japanese skilled workmen here, it ought to be borne in mind that the Europeans encouraged them to come here and they have been pushed ahead into many places they did not originally come to seek or fill. They exercise here the same liberty of movement that is open to Europeans in Japan.

There is a large Japanese element in the Territory, some of which will doubtless be permanent, and we would deem it unfortunate if they were driven to act as a unit. Japanese naturally divide on questions of public policy and differ as to the proper course to be pursued.

It is greatly to be desired that the Japanese who are coming into citizenship should exercise that same freedom of opinion they are accustomed to display, and divide according to their preferences among the contending parties here. We firmly believe they will do this and they are certain to do so if met half way and treated in a conciliatory rather than threatening manner. For those who make their home here the best interests of the Territory will be a matter of primary consideration.

Many of the Japanese laborers would be content as such, but when an employer sees their capabilities and invites them to fill positions of larger responsibilities we do not see that they are to blame for going it. People who do not like it ought to reserve their fire for those who invite them; for the Japanese, at any rate, are polite enough to accede to a request when they are perfectly able to do so.

FIGHT FOR TARIFF

Denver, Oct. 24.—At a special meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce this afternoon the chamber authorized the drafting of a call to be sent to the commercial bodies and members of Congress, as well as the Senators of all the best sugar raising States in the West, for a convention to protest against the reduction of the tariff on sugar.

The convention will meet some time within a month at the Chamber of Commerce in this city, and the following States will be asked to send representatives: Colorado, New Mexico, Nebraska, Kansas, Wyoming, Michigan, Utah and California.

S. F. Smith, secretary of the Wichita (Kas.) Chamber of Commerce, and E. J. McVann, general manager of the Omaha Commercial Club, who are in attendance, promised the support of Kansas and Nebraska respectively, and said their States would send delegates.

RETURNING FROM TRIP AROUND THE WORLD

After a trip around the world lasting 17 months I. Bacon, a member of the firm of the Bacon Realty Co., of Louisville, Ky., arrived yesterday on the S. S. China and will remain in Honolulu three or four weeks. Mr. Bacon has visited Switzerland, Italy, Egypt, Palestine, India, Burma, Ceylon, Singapore, Java, China, the Philippines, England, France, Japan and many other places.

On the 23d of last month Mr. Bacon witnessed the Imperial naval review in Tokio bay near Yokohama. Nearly 120 boats of the Japanese navy took part in the review. Nearly every other nation in the world was represented by battleships flying code flags. With almost every color imaginable displayed the sight was a most beautiful one. The battleship "Wisconsin" represented the United States and our navy. At night the hundreds of boats were illuminated with thousands of incandescent electric lights from the top masts to the water's edge. Mr. Bacon says that as a general rule the people of Japan are satisfied with the terms of peace between their country and Russia. All seem glad that the war is over.

CITY MEN AS COWBOYS.

C. H. W. Norton returned Saturday from the Lilehua ranch. A. S. Brown got back yesterday. The two spent a week on the range the guests of Arthur Jones, manager of the ranch, acting, they say themselves, as scrub cowboys. Cattle were roped, branded and turned loose and it is said the real cowboys had a better time watching the amateurs at work than they have had for some time.

TUESDAY NOVEMBER 7, 1905

Endicott is all right. Hawaii has now to prove itself in the same class.

Roosevelt has given up further calling upon Russia for greater consideration of the Jews. Once was enough.

Nance O'Neil calls us "Dear old Honolulu" and we like it. But she might not approve should we respond with "Dear old Nance".

This is the day when great municipalities of the nation determine whether they shall be delivered into the hands of the grafters.

One of the Japanese papers says the Japanese laborers were brought here by the Americans and Europeans. And there is no denying it.

Still there are autocrats of wealth who strive to convince themselves that crowds of London poor singing the Marseillaise is not significant.

Rear Admiral Endicott has started the ball rolling. Now it is up to Hawaii to get behind as a unit and get the appropriations through Congress.

King Edward is to confer the Order of the Garter, whatever that may be upon the Mikado. What he means to say is "You're all right old boy Shake."

Revolutionists give notice that a period of quiet will prevail. If it didn't, they should be put down as revolutionists with no other glory in mind than bloodshed.

Any business man must realize that Hawaii can't afford to have tourists kept away, even if our business men have to build an independent steamer to get them here.

Senator McCandless' protest to the President is another way of saying that he intends to hoe his own row in his candidacy for Delegate. Not the Administration row.

The anti Brown Knockers would show equal sense if they charged Judge Whitney with being in league with the gamblers because his cooks indulge in the game.

Workmen hew to the line. That is just the reason why Honolulu should have a definitely outlined park system. If the public spirit of the place applies to anything better than patch work.

It doesn't make much difference whether Keolani or the Supervisors rule the police of Hawaii. There is always a representative of the Smith family to give advice and admonition on the side.

It is not the happiest condition imaginable for either side, when the night before the election, followers of both Schmitz and Partridge are confident of victory. It means that neither has a complete grasp of the situation.

Mr. Wight is a careful student and his assurance that there is no danger from the Philippines very gratifying. That is all the more reason why extra effort should be made to obtain 100,000 European immigrants and 100,000 tourists for Hawaii. Then Hawaii will be proof against any ordinary dangers from Philippine competition or any part of the Orient.

Honolulu with a locally owned steamer will not be incurring any of those lines now touching at this port. It will be merely a case of Honolulu looking after itself at a point where it has been forgotten or neglected by outsiders.

THE LATE H. A. ISENBERG

Seldom if ever in its history has Hawaii suffered such irreparable loss in the ranks of its young men as within the last comparatively few months. The sudden death of H. A. Isenberg is the latest in the list of young men, with every promise of a bright future for themselves and a credit to community in which they lived, who have been struck down as by the hand of an unkind fate.

The common sentiment that "he had everything to live for" is the immediate thought of those who knew Mr. Isenberg intimately or as a man prominent in public life. He not only had all the heart could wish in home and its surroundings, but his career opened before him with a multitude of good things to be accomplished in which he must be an active and in many instances a controlling factor.

Mr. Isenberg was a good citizen. Intensely loyal to his Fatherland, he was no less enthusiastic in promoting the welfare of Hawaii. The tribute of respect which Hawaii pays his memory and the sympathy extended to his family is the sincere expression of a community which knew him well, so well that the loss seems personal.

DISTRIBUTING IMMIGRANTS

To assist in ending the undesirable situation created by immigrants flocking to the crowded cities rather than into the country districts where they are needed, the Italian-American Agricultural Association has been formed in New York under the direction of Right Rev. Donaventure F. Broderick. The plan which this association forwards is timely from every standpoint, and should be of especial interest in Hawaii, where the chances of securing a share of the immigrant travel are being seriously discussed.

In outlining his views Bishop Broderick says there is a widespread discontent among the immigrants arriving. This is a new thought. The general impression prevails that the discontent is all on the side of present residents of the country. The immigrants, no states, land in the cities and there they remain to additionally crowd an already overpopulated district.

SUZZANE ON TRUTH

Editor Evening Bulletin:—I was out of town over Sunday but I am told that the morning "veal-on-the-brain" referred to my letter as wit. It's awfully mistaken. The name expresses a daily truth, so I am told by the readers of the paper. Your sporting event was what interested me especially. What great respect and Christian fellowship the Methodists must have for Rev. Kincaid when they let his constant defamer into the pulpit. Back in Indiana we would call that like a soccer cat in a parlor.

Hastily yours, SUZZANE DINNERBOILER.

Honolulu, Nov. 7, '05.

A SIGNIFICANT MOVEMENT

[Minneapolis Journal.] Co-operation instead of competition as the proper relation of one church denomination to another is to be emphasized at a great convention to be held in New York City Nov. 15. This convention will represent twenty-six different denominations and 17,000,000 communicants.

The effect of this conference upon the interests of the church at large cannot be other than important, perhaps momentous. The substitution of co-operation for competition, of community of interest—if we may borrow a phrase from commercial life—for rivalry amounting sometimes to jealousy cannot but magnify greatly the effectiveness of all religious effort.

It need not be expected that denominational lines will be wiped out. It is not desirable that they should be. It is inevitable that men should differ in minor matters of religious belief and as to forms and methods of church organization and government, but it is deplorable that men desiring and working for substantially the same end should deprive themselves and their cause of the advantages of combination and co-operation, when such combination and co-operation may be effectively employed.

The denominational zeal which has often overshadowed every other consideration in religious activity is largely responsible for the existence in many communities of a state of competition and rivalry between weak and struggling churches which has not only minimized the results, but provoked if not justified much of the criticism and unfriendly judgment of the church.

Already there is a tendency away from this condition of rivalry toward one of co-operation, manifesting itself not only in the combination—the amalgamation, so to speak—of struggling churches in the smaller towns into one or two large and effective organizations, but the same spirit is exhibited in the disposition of the large churches in the cities to so order their mission work and to so establish their outposts as not to interfere unnecessarily with fields already occupied by other churches holding to the same essentials in belief.

This movement toward greater harmony and concord of action is in keeping with that now general anticipation and desire among the churches for a revival of religious zeal, and is calculated to contribute materially to its realization. It is a get-together movement in which minor differences and relatively unimportant interests will become subordinate to the one great purpose of bringing men to look upon things of time and eternity according to their true relative importance.

GOVERNOR CARTER

PAYS

TRIBUTE TO ISENBERG

Governor Carter today expressed his deep appreciation of the loss to the community in the death in New York of H. Alexander Isenberg, feeling that a man of such great usefulness, breadth of mind and noble spirit was a citizen whose going out from the life of the islands is a sad blow to all.

The public spiritedness of the late Mr. Isenberg impressed the Governor as it made itself felt with a host of others.

Beyond the deep regret felt by the Governor and shared by the community generally, Mr. Carter and Mr. Isenberg were close personal friends.

Before Mr. H. A. Isenberg, with his wife and two children, left for Europe eight months ago, Mr. and Mrs. Carter and Mr. and Mrs. Isenberg had often talked of the prospect of taking the trip together, and they planned many pleasant incidents for the journey, discussing the glories of the Alps, and the beauties of the Swiss lakes, and the mysteries of the Black Forest, Mr. Isenberg promising that, if they all went together, he would, through the influence of his connections in Germany, secure the privilege of showing his friends portions of the Black Forest not usually granted to the public to view.

The Isenbergs kept up correspondence with the Carters during the former's European sojourn, sending many picture postal cards, hinting at the pleasures of the trip.

When Governor Carter tendered his resignation as Governor of the Territory the late Mr. Isenberg was the first Hawaiian abroad to cable the Governor, urging him to reconsider his action.

Governor Carter last night cabled Mrs. Isenberg at New York, expressing the sympathy of Mr. Carter and himself in the great affliction and also expressing the community's sense of loss.

FISHERMAN ATTACHES SCHOONER CONCORD FOR DAMAGES

Tsunekichi Matsuno, a Japanese fisherman, this afternoon filed a libel in admiralty against the schooner Concord, through his attorney, J. J. Dunne. The libellant shows that at 2 a. m. on August 27 his boat was anchored on fishing grounds south of Oahu. A look-out was kept and his light was burning clearly. At this time the Concord ran into the boat capsizing it and throwing Matsuno and his gear into the sea. It is alleged that the collision was due to the negligence of the men on the schooner.

The libellant shows that prior to the accident he earned $60 a month by his boat. He asks for $100 damages for his illness which ensued his being thrown into the water, $9 for doctor's bills, $92.30 for implements and gear lost, $100 for permanent depreciation of his boat, $25 for repairs to same, and $60 for earnings lost, making a total of $368.30 for which he asks judgment. He also asks for an attachment against the schooner.

proportionately in a gas range than in a coal range. Furthermore, the baking should be done in TIN PANS, not sheet iron nor agate. The iron absorbs the heat, and is more liable to burn at the bottom and sides before the baking is done. You may not have noticed this in using the coal range, but the heat of the gas range oven is much more intense and direct.

USE RUBEROID ROOFING

RUBEROID roofing has been the standard of roofing quality for many years. It excludes cold, draughts and dampness and, containing no tar, does not melt from sunheat. Furthermore, it requires no experience to apply. A hammer and a pair of hands are the only requirements.

It is the most durable roofing on the market and lasts indefinitely with but ordinary attention.

Avoid imitations and accept no roofing which does not bear the registered trade mark "RUBEROID," stamped on the under side of every strip, every four feet, throughout the roll.

OLD CHINESE GIVES

THANKS TO

MARK ROBINSON

Old Ah Sen, a Chinese 69 years of age, is a happy Celestial. He sought the Bulletin office this morning with the request that through the press the world be made aware of the generosity of his benefactor, Mark Robinson.

Ah Sen says he has worked for Mr. Robinson over 20 years, around the yard and one way and another; that when he was sick, Mr. Robinson took care of him; when he was hungry, Mr. Robinson filled him; when he was "broke," Mr. Robinson gave him money; and, crowning joy to old Ah Sen's happiness, now he is too old to work, Mr. Robinson has given him $75 to go home to China, where the veteran Celestial has a wife and children. Ah Sen goes home in the Siberia.

will not go." Jones then had a couple of the sailors carry him bodily up on the poop, where he was deposited.

Breckons on cross-examination elicited from Jones the information that the crew was a very poor one. None of the men were sailors and although they had all signed articles to go to New York in the vessel, Jones did not like the idea of having such a crew.

Still, said Jones he and Boyd instructed the men in their duties in a gentle and kindly manner, there was no swearing at them, they were allowed to stay on deck and they had three meals a day. Jones was especially emphatic regarding the meals. The men in spite of all this refused to do their duty and when the vessel arrived at Honolulu, they left the vessel. Jones could give no reason for their leaving in spite of their good treatment, except that probably they were discouraged because they could not learn to be sailors.

Breckons at this time sprang an unexpected trump on Boyd, asking him

He had not testified, at the preliminary examination before the United States Commissioner, that the charges made by the sailors against Boyd were practically true. Jones denied having made any such statement.

Boyd on the stand told much the same story as Jones, describing the pleasant existence of the sailors in such glowing colors, that Breckons was led to ask the question if everything was not as pleasant as on a Sunday school picnic. The witness was somewhat taken aback at the suggestion and admitted that "it wouldn't be just that way on board a ship."

United States Commissioner W. B. Maling was called as a witness by Breckons. He had already once started Boyd on the way to punishment by committing him, but, like an avenging angel, he still lingered in his wake and again made his contribution against Boyd. Maling said that at the preliminary hearing before him Jones had said that charges made by the sailors against Boyd were true with the exception that their description of the assaults was somewhat exaggerated. Rawlins on cross-examination tried to make Maling relent a little, but he was inexorable.

"Did Jones say anything about any assault on Johnson?" asked Rawlins finally.

"If Johnson is the wooden-legged man, he did," said Maling. "Jones said he told Boyd to make the wooden-legged man dance, and to kick him if he didn't."

With this the case was closed and Breckons began his argument to the jury, which will continue this afternoon.

John Frank, Jr., a young man employed by Hackfeld & Co., was arrested today on a charge of drunkenness. William R. Later Mr. Sims went to the Police Station with the intention of swearing out a warrant charging Frank with assault and battery. He changed his mind and the boy was arrested for being intoxicated.

HALEAKALA TRAIL

Walluku, Maui, Nov. 4.—It will be of general interest to the people of the Islands to learn that the Haleakala trail is now completed to the top of the crater. And what has hitherto been a somewhat difficult trip is now made easy to any one who can ride horseback. From any part of central or west Maui one may drive to Olinda, which is but eight and one-half miles from the top of the crater. Even a stranger may now ride to the Catholic Church at Makawao and from that as a landmark follow the finger posts to the top and not be under the necessity of taking a guide.

Contractor J. Duggan of Honolulu had the contract to open the trail, cleared out the loose stones and cut and cleared away the bush to a width of twenty feet. The finger boards are set one-fifth of a mile apart and give the distance on each.

And in between each finger board post is a plain guide post so that any one should find his way without difficulty.

S. R. Dowdle is collecting funds for the repair of the stone house built at the top of Haleakala by Hon. H. P. Baldwin and it is predicted that he will meet with no difficulty, securing the required funds and soon have the house in good repair. Little Flea Cave, however, is near the top and provides ample shelter for all who may wish to make the trip.

JUDGE FINES HIS COOK.

Some weeks ago Judge Whitney's Chinese cook was arrested together with a number of others on a charge of gambling. Judge Whitney did not discharge the man in the Police Court—he fined him—but he did dismiss him from his services. Another Chinaman cook was employed. Yesterday the new cook was one of a bunch caught gambling and faced his employer in the Police Court. The Judge will probably use his power again and fine the cook and then discharge him.

VIEWS OF HARRIMAN BAY REVEALS RELIGIOUS FACTOR OF THE ORIENT

JAPAN IS THE DOMINANT FACTOR OF THE ORIENT

San Francisco, Oct. 26.—President E. H. Harriman arrived yesterday from the Orient on the steamship Siberia. He and his family and Miss Roosevelt and party did not land in the city, but were taken direct from the Siberia to Oakland Mole, where they started at once for New York.

Mr. Harriman was accompanied by Mrs. Harriman, his daughters, Misses Cornelia, Mary and Carol, and his young son, Roland. When the quarantine officers had finished their inspection of the vessel the tug Golden Gate ran alongside with a number of officials of the Harriman lines who had come out to meet their chief. Among them were Julius Kruttschnitt and J. C. Stubbs.

The railroad magnate handed the following statement to the representatives of the press who met him on the steamer:

"I was interviewed when last in San Francisco and either misquoted or misunderstood, and therefore request that you will publish this statement in the exact language in which I give it. "Our visit to the Orient has been one not only of much pleasure to us all, but interesting and instructive. We were treated by all classes, especially in Japan, with the utmost courtesy and consideration. While our visit was solely for rest and recreation, we were enabled to learn many things which will help in our future relations. These considerations were extended to us from all sides, and mainly because we were Americans representing American interests. The Government and the Bank of Japan especially gave us opportunities for seeing and learning much which we could not have done otherwise. We visited many of the important points in Japan, went thence to Dally and Port Arthur, had a few days in Peking and returned to Japan via Korea.

"Japan is working out her own destiny. Her people are intelligent and active, the Government is well organized and alive to the interests and working in close alliance with the people, and will continue developing the commercial welfare of the whole country.

"China is beginning to wake up and will probably open herself, which awakening has been brought about by the development of railroads constructed during the last six or seven years. Were it possible for that country to organize and the people to work together, as has been the case in Japan, the future development might be quick and phenomenal. She is, however, learning from Japan, and it is said that there are in the schools and universities in Japan upward of five thousand Chinese students, two thousand of whom are sent and expenses paid by the Chinese Government.

"Korea is still a problem and her destiny will probably be worked out by the aid of Japan. My opinion is that the Japanese are the dominant factor in the Orient and that there will be a large future development, though not immediate, and if the United States is to participate therein to any extent it will have to be by co-operation between its statesmen and those representing its business interests and by close commercial alliance with the Japanese."

DREDGER PUMPS LITTLE OF EVERYTHING FROM HARBOR

A new industry has been created among the natives since the dredger Pacific started to work in the harbor. Hundreds of barrels of mud from the bottom of the bay are pumped through a 26-inch pipe line every day and dumped into a hole near the Immigration station. Mixed with the mud are a thousand and one things that have been thrown overboard from ships or from the wharves. And besides there are articles too numerous to mention that have been lost in the harbor and remained in the mud for years and years, perhaps more than half a century.

The natives gather up all of these things that are of any value. Bones by the wagon load have already been thrown out, besides tons after tons of coal. The bone is used for fertilizing purposes. The coal is of no value commercially but does to cook with. After being in the water it loses its real usefulness. With spades, rakes and shovels these men work every day like beavers, each one watching eagerly for something to come from the immense pipe that might be of the least usefulness.

Everything imaginable may be seen among the refuse. Old and new coins are found occasionally. Tin cans are in profusion. In addition there are old shoes, scraps of iron, lead, pipe, chains, rocks and in fact everything, the accumulation of years, that will sink below the surface of the water. It is figured that enough old coal will be taken from the harbor during the work to fill an ordinary sailing vessel.

Among others picked up yesterday by the Pacific's cutter was a large piece of chain formerly attached to some ship's anchor. When it struck the pump which turns at the rate of 200 revolutions a minute, the chain coming in contact with the machinery made a horrible grating sound. Men on the boat rushed from the hold thinking perhaps the noise was the warning of an explosion about to take place. But the excitement was all over in a second and the anchor chain together with its course through the 1000 feet of pipe. As it was forced through it could be plainly heard scraping and dragging along the bottom of the pipes. Finally it landed at its destination and within a few seconds was the property of an alert native. Within an hour the old fashioned anchor chain that had probably done duty in the old whaling days was sold to a junk dealer. After years of uselessness lying idly in the bay mud it will probably be sold to a foundry, melted and cast into some kind of a form and again enter upon a field of usefulness.

BRYAN WANTED TOGO'S CHAIR

Yokohama, Oct. 27.—If Japanese newspapers were correctly informed Mr. W. J. Bryan, who by his eloquence and his personality created such a favorable impression in Tokio, would have become the central figure in an affair calculated to effectually mar his fair fame. On the occasion of the Shinto ceremonial in Ueyco Park to celebrate the Empire's naval triumph, Admiral Togo occupied a war-stool (shogi), which had been used for a similar purposes centuries ago, and had been handed down as an heirloom in the Ogasawara family, that family alone being authorized to officiate at the ceremony. It is alleged that Mr. Bryan came up from Yokohama to attend the fete, and the idea occurred to him that it would be agreeable to sit in a chair of such good omen. No objection was raised to his doing so, though the act was not in the best taste. But—so the story runs—Mr. Bryan then signified his desire to carry away the shogi. To that the Japanese objected, as the stool had a certain sanctity in their eyes, and was moreover a valued heirloom of the Ogasawara family. Mr. Bryan then offered to pay any price demanded for the article, but that did not at all facilitate the transaction. The owners replied that the stool was not for sale in any case. Exactly what then happened the tale does not tell, but the reported sequel is that the Japanese handed over the stool to Mr. Bryan. This incident appears to have produced a very bad impression according to the newspapers reporting it, but we believe the whole story to be a fabrication with just the grain of truth which renders some rumors so pernicious. There was a chair in question, but it was not the Ogasawara stool, nor any stool having a sacrosanct character. It was simply a common chair, one of many ordinarily standing in the salon of the Suiyoken restaurant at Ueyco. Admiral Togo happened to occupy it during some stage of the celebration, and Mr. Bryan, attaching a value to the article for the same of that incident in his history, desired to become its possessor. Possibly the restaurant folks who owned the chair were glad to give it gratis to the distinguished American, but however that may be, the offer of money under such circumstances loses all its offensive character and becomes a proper and comprehensible transaction. We should not allude to the matter at all had not experience taught us the danger of allowing such stories to remain uncontradicted even for a moment.

can stand up against her in a sea action. About 11,000 tons of armor will be built into her hull, and the Dreadnought will be driven by turbines at twenty knots speed. For the first time on record on a battleship the officers' quarters will be placed forward, the designer's chief difficulty being to provide accommodation for the nine hundred officers and men, owing to the great demands on her space made by ammunition, storage of coal, etc. She will carry 500 tons of projectiles for her main guns, 200 tons of cordite charges, 200 tons of stores, 2,500 tons of coal and guns to a weight of 600 tons without mountings. She is designed to be a floating fortress of the most formidable type.

CROP AND WEATHER REPORT FOR LAST WEEK

Local Office, U. S. Weather Bureau, Honolulu, T. H., Nov. 6, 1905. GENERAL SUMMARY.

During the past week low night temperatures have been quite general, but the days have continued moderately warm. Considerably less rain has fallen during the preceding week, being confined largely to eastern and southern Hawaii and eastern Maui. Conditions are becoming very dry again in many leeward sections.

Young cane is generally reported as in good condition and growing nicely, but in windward Hawaii would be benefited by less rain and more sunshine. In the windward districts of Hawaii, weeds continue to be very troublesome, and in some sections it has been impossible to keep them down, owing to shortage of labor. A decrease in the amount of water available for irrigation purposes is noted in central and windward Maui. The condition of cane in the Kau district of Hawaii has been much improved by good showers during the week. Tasselling of 1906 crop cane is becoming general, especially in Maui and Kaula. A marked decrease in the activity of leafhoppers is reported. Young pineapple plants are in good condition, and the harvesting of a small quantity of advanced pines of the winter crop is in progress at Haiku, Maui. The picking of coffee and the harvesting of second crop rice are proceeding rapidly in all sections. Windward pastures are in good condition, but practically all leeward pastures need rain, especially in the lower levels.

Will Be World's Greatest Battleship

London, Oct. 28.—The keel-plate of the Dreadnought, which is to be the most powerful battleship in the world, has been laid at Portsmouth. Her displacement will be 18,000 tons. She will be armed with ten 12-inch guns of the latest type, each capable of throwing a 950-pound shell a distance of twenty miles, with a muzzle velocity of upward of 2,500 feet a second. Her striking power will be as great as any three battleships of ordinary type at such a range as that at which the engagement in the battle of Tsushima, Straits, for no other warship hitherto has mounted more than four 12-inch guns, so there is nothing afloat that

She left her docks at the Oceanic wharf shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon. Among the passengers was McKee Rankin, the actor. More than 5000 bunches of bananas were loaded onto the boat this morning for San Francisco commission house. She will also carry a cargo of rice and coffee from here. The Sierra carries mail for the States.

WAIMEA AGAINST LIQUOR LICENSE

The Treasurer has received an application for a fourth class liquor license water below the dam and near Co. at Waimea, regarding the issuance of which there will probably be a hot fight among Waimea residents. With the application came a letter from a resident stating that the majority of the adjoining property owners would send a protest against the issuance of the license. In addition to this County Attorney Willard this morning sent a wireless message to the Treasurer stating that a protest of voters would be sent him in the near future, and asking that the issuance of the license be held up until it had been received. Treasurer Campbell states that in such matters he is always willing to wait until everyone interested has had his say.

Yamasaki, a Japanese living in Aia lane, went "fishing" Sunday. In spite of the fact that it was Sunday, Yamasaki, however, did not go fishing for fish; he fished for his neighbor's chickens; and, furthermore, he caught one, a rooster. And in turn his neighbor, Tang Poy, caught Yamasaki. The Jap had a fishing line and hook baited with a fat-looking cockroach. This he threw toward Poy's chickens and Poy's rooster grabbed it. The rooster raised a disturbance, as roosters will. Poy heard the noise, saw the chicken with the end of a string in his mouth and Yamasaki pulling on the other end. Finally it broke and the Plymouth Rock escaped. Poy called a policeman and the Japanese was arrested. He will be charged with cruelty to animals. The rooster with the hook in his mouth and a string attached to it is being held at the police station as evidence.

The Treasurer has received an application for a fourth class liquor license water below the dam and near Co. at Waimea, regarding the issuance of which there will probably be a hot fight among Waimea residents. With the application came a letter from a resident stating that the majority of the adjoining property owners would send a protest against the issuance of the license. In addition to this County Attorney Willard this morning sent a wireless message to the Treasurer stating that a protest of voters would be sent him in the near future, and asking that the issuance of the license be held up until it had been received. Treasurer Campbell states that in such matters he is always willing to wait until everyone interested has had his say.

The MICROBE'S DINNER HOUR

A microbe sat on a King street sign. And wagged his tail with an air of indignity.

"Mother!" he said, and his voice was glad. "Come, take a taste of this health food."

"You pickle ad. has a dainty spice, And Yum Yum biscuits, I'm sure are nice—"

"But, son be temperate while you dine And keep away from that Flintkote sign."

"It's tough as steel and will crack your teeth Has none of the sap that makes microbe beef."

Thus the tiny bugs, like grownup folk Learned to respect Bird's Rex Flintkote.

"LINK" MCCANDLESS SAYS PROTEST IS MATTER OF DUTY "I considered it my duty, as a representative of the people," said Senator L. L. McCandless this morning, "to protest to the President against the Governor's reduction of the loan authorized by the Legislature, from $1,300,000 to $750,000. I know that the majority of citizens agree with me. The Governor has no right to attempt to act over the wish of the people as expressed in the acts of the Legislature."

LIUT. SLATTERY GETS THREE NEW BEACONS Lieutenant Slattery this morning received cable advices from Washington authorizing the erection in these islands of three long-needed beacons, one on the southernmost point of the island of Kaula, one on the extreme western point of the island of Hawaii and one at the leper settlement on Mo'loka'i.

This will be good news to inter-island and navigators. Lieutenant Slattery recommended the above in a letter written on October 2nd and the authorities have acted quickly. Captain Simerson of the Mauna Loa was one who urged the necessity of the new lights.

KINAU AND MAUNA LOA SAIL AT SAME MOMENT At exactly the same moment, a few minutes after 12 o'clock, today the steamers Kinau, for Hilo and way ports, and the Mauna Loa, for Kona and Kau, started on their journey, backing into the bay side by side and both starting for the channel, the Kinau in the lead, at the same time. The Kinau had an unusually large list of passengers aboard. Many of them are going to the volcano. The Mauna Loa also had a good crowd. A large crowd witnessed the departures.

LICENSE CLERK INSPECTS MAUI License Clerk Gustave M. Rose has returned from a trip of three weeks on Maui, spent on a tour of inspection of licenses of various kinds. He met with considerable success, collecting about $1100 on different licenses, such as salmon, tobacco, lodging house and other kinds, outside of liquor licenses, which were either delinquent or new. He also made an inspection of the liquor licenses finding everything in that connection in pretty good shape. He will make similar trips to Kaula and Hawaii in the near future.
