Shriners Hustling Already To Get Mystic Pilgrims To Hawaii

EARLY WORK TO SECURE BIG SUCCESS

The Bulletin has waked up the Promotion Committee a little. Substantial endeavor is already manifest in the matter of getting a pilgrimage to Hawaii next May of a goodly number of the great convention of Ancient and Arabic Nobles of the Mystic Shrine to occur at Los Angeles.

Dr. M. E. Grossman, Potentate of Aloha Temple, Honolulu, having returned from the Niagara council of the Shrine fired with the idea of giving Hawaii the benefit of a Shrine visit and the Shriners the pleasure of a trip to these islands, will be supported by the Hawaii Promotion Committee in his plans to get a crowd here

Captain Morse Has Sailed His Last Voyage—Another Death On British Vessel

INVESTIGATION MADE BY SUPERVISOR MOORE

With her flag flying at half mast, mourning the death of her captain, the British bark Lord Templeton arrived in port today docking at the Irmgard wharf at 1:30 o'clock. The Lord Templeton made the voyage from Newcastle with a cargo of coal in 48 days. Captain Morse, master of the bark, left the Lord Templeton in Newcastle, on June 19 and passed through here, on the Sierra from the Colonies. On the 17th of July his death occurred in San Francisco. For sometime he had been in failing health. Captain Morse was the father of C. P. Morse, local freight agent for the American-Hawaiian S. S. Co.

He is succeeded in command of the vessel by Captain Sladen, who joined at Newcastle. Captain Sladen was formerly a mate in the same vessel.

The bark mourns another death. On the 23rd of July, one day after leaving port, an American boy, Manner, fell from the main-top gallant yard and received frightful injuries, from which he died two hours later. Manner was a stowaway, but had been set to work when he was discovered. He had many friends among the crew and his death

A Custom-Tailored Suit Ready To Wear

It's just as easy, sir, to do skillful cutting and fine-hand tailoring, on standard measurements, as on special measurements. It's only a question of DOING IT, and

SITUATION IN ORIENT

RECENT OBSERVER SUMS UP CONDITIONS

WEISSBERGER GIVES REASONS FOR RUSSIA'S DEFEAT — THE CZAR'S THRONE IS TOTTERING.

Incompetence, over-confidence, lack of true patriotism, and finally mutiny — these are the causes summed up by a recent observer of Oriental conditions to explain the helplessness of the Russians before the Japanese soldiers.

The observer is Josef Weissberger, representative of an American importing company. Mr. Weissberger arrived on the Mongolia today from the Orient, and was seen by a Bulletin reporter on the deck of the liner. A Bohemian by birth, Weissberger is a bohemian by taste and calling. His travels have led him from Ceylon to Manchuria and he has visited practically every seaport in the Orient during the last few years. He was personally acquainted with many of the commanders and other officers of the Russian naval vessels recently destroyed by the Japanese fleet, and has seen something of the men captured by the Japanese in the big naval fight.

"No wonder the Russians could not win," says Weissberger. "The officers and men were incompetent. The officers could not drill the men properly, even if they had wished to. The Russians on the war vessels were so ignorant that they could not use their guns. They could not care for the vessels properly."

No sense of patriotism inspired the Russian rank and file. They were driven to their work. They had no thought of dying for their country, no patriotism. They fought because they had to.

It is not generally known in the outside world how widespread was the mutinous feeling among the Russian soldiers. Not only on the naval vessels, but even among the land forces. At first it broke out with little restraint. The men did not care whether they died or not. I know that the majority of prisoners taken in the naval battle begged their captors to let them stay in Japan. They did not wish to return to Russia. No one can blame them.

Japan is a powerful nation now. Her progress has been wonderful. The time is not far distant when America will have to fight for her commercial supremacy. Japan will surely win against Russia. There is absolutely no hope for Russia. It is a question of time—and a short time.

If there is no hope for Russia in Manchuria, there is little more at home. With revolt, riot, uncertainty, anarchy around him, the Czar is no longer "ruler of all the Russias." The throne is tottering, and with revolution at home and defeat abroad, Russia's situation is certainly not to be envied."

The American bark James Nesmith, Captain Warner, arrived in port this morning from Newcastle with a cargo of coal. The vessel was 53 days from the coal-port and had a pleasant and uneventful voyage.

WEEKLY CROP REPORT

WATER INCREASE ON MAUI ALMOST SUSPENDS PUMPING

EARTHQUAKE FELT IN KONA WEATHER STEADILY WARM, FAVORABLE CANE CONDITIONS.

Section Director A. McC. Ashley of the Weather Bureau reports on weather and crops throughout the Territory for the week ending August 5, as follows:

The weather has continued steadily warm during the past week, with moderate trade winds. In Hawaii, the rainfall has been quite heavy in the Hilo and Kona districts, and moderate rains have occurred in all other sections of the island except Kau. In Maui, the precipitation has been heavy in the mountains and exceptionally so over the windward slope of Haleakala, while the lower levels to leeward have continued dry. Heavy showers have also occurred over windward Oahu, and moderate showers in eastern and northern Kauai.

Growing cane made good progress during the week under the generally favorable weather conditions. In the Hilo district of Hawaii, upper cane lands were too wet for cultivation, and conditions were rather too moist for young cane although highly beneficial for 1906 crop cane; weeds also grew rapidly. The condition of cane in the north Kohala district of Hawaii and the Kipahulu district of Maui was much improved by the more favorable weather, although more rain would still be welcome in the former section.

In portions of the Kau district of Hawaii high trade winds had a drying effect. In Maui, there was a considerable increase in the supply of water in the plantation ditches, permitting the almost entire suspension of pumping. Leafhoppers are causing damage in northern Kauai. Pineapples continue to ripen rapidly in all sections. The transplanting of rice continues, and the patches already set out are in good condition. Coffee is ripening in all sections, and picking has begun in Kona, Hawaii. Pastures in most leeward sections need rain badly, but those in the lower levels of Kona, Hawaii, have improved greatly during the past week.

A sharp earthquake shock was felt in Kona, Hawaii, about 8:30 p. m. of the 2nd instant.

REMARKS BY CORRESPONDENCE ISLAND OF HAWAII.

Kaumana—Weather continues rainy and sultry, and in consequence upper lands are too wet for cultivation; growing crops making good progress; pastures and grazing stock in good condition; stripping and harvesting cane.—J. E. Gamaleison.

Hilo—Warm and showery weather all week; total rainfall, 2.68 inches.—L. C. Lyman.

Papaikou—Weather just right, and all crops doing well; weeding, stripping and cultivating cane.—John T. Moir.

Pepeecko—A little more rain than necessary for young cane, but crop cane being benefited by it; weeding, hoeing and fertilizing cane.—Jas. Webster.

Hakalau—Warm, moist weather very favorable for growing crops; planting and harvesting cane.—Geo. Ross.

Laupahoehoe—Showery and sultry weather all week; all crops making very rapid growth.—E. W. Barnard.

Ookala—Warm and showery weather continues, with stronger winds than during the preceding week; stripping and hoeing cane.—W. G. Walker.

Kaauhau—Warm and moist weather good, but more abundant rainfall would impede cane growth.—W. O. Taylor.

Kohala—Continued warm weather; more than an inch of rain fell during the past week and has greatly improved conditions.—Dr. B. D. Bond.

Niuli—Warm and showery weather favorable for growth of both cane and weeds; hoeing, replanting, cultivating, plowing, harrowing and stripping.—Bob Hall.

Kohala—Weather conditions fairly good, but more abundant rainfall would impede cane growth.—W. O. Taylor.

Kohala Mission—Continued warm weather; more than an inch of rain fell during the past week and has greatly improved conditions.—Dr. B. D. Bond.

Kamuela—Moderate temperatures and very light showers during entire week.—Mrs. E. W. Hay.

Puuwaawaa—Heavy fog during first part of week, with a refreshing rain on Thursday.—Robert Hind.

Honokaa—Weather during the past week has been unusually wet, and pastures on lower lands have responded finely in consequence; coffee crop ripening rapidly.—F. R. Greenwell.

Kealakekua—Abundant rains and very warm nights; a quite heavy earthquake shock, direction or transmission east to west and duration about three seconds, at 8:30 p. m. of 2nd.—Rev. S. H. Davis.

Kealakekua—Sultry weather and good rains during week; live stock doing well; a sharp earthquake shock about 8:30 p. m. of 2nd, and another about 8:00 a. m. of 3rd.—Robert Wallace.

Naeahu—No rain this week, but crops look well and are growing rapidly.—G. G. Kinney.

Pahala—Another hot, dry week, with high trade winds which are parching all vegetation.—H. D. Harrison.

Kapoho—Weather very warm, with abundant moisture and fresh winds.—H. J. Lyman.

ISLAND OF MAUI.

Kipahulu—Weather greatly improved, with daily showers and light winds; plowing land; planting and stripping cane.—Andrew Gross.

Hana—Weather fine and warm with light showers, but more rain needed.—N. Omsted.

Nahiku—Several heavy rains during week, amounting in all to 6.50 inches.—C. O. Jacobs.

Huelo—Light showers at night during early part of week and a heavy rain on night of 1st; all plantation irrigation ditches running full capacity; stock of all kinds looking well.—W. F. Pogue.

Peahi—A very wet week here, with variable winds.—Geo. Groves.

Hauku—Fine weather for agricultural operations of all kinds; pineapples ripening very rapidly, and canning of the fruit is in full swing; pastures have been freshened by the rains of the week; grazing stock doing well.—D. D. Baldwin.

Paia—Weather warm, with increased cloudiness and light showers; plenty of water from ditch supply.—J. Jones.

Kahului—Warm weather all week.—R. W. Filler.

Puunene—Warm weather, with good rains at ditch heads and only one station pumping; 1906 crop cane growing fast; planting for 1907 crop proceeding rapidly.—J. N. S. Williams.

Walikuku—Weather cloudy and oppressive with light winds; considerable rain at water heads, and ditches and streams running full; setting out rice plants; fruit scarce.—Bro. Frank.

Kihel—Weather very warm and dry, with high northeast winds during latter half of week; rains have fallen to windward, but much more rain would be beneficial; pastures around here all dried up; planting, plowing and cultivating cane.—James Scott.

Olowalu—Weather warm, with heavy northeast winds during fore part of week followed by steady rains on the mountains; weeding and fertilizing cane; plowing and planting.—George Gibb.

ISLAND OF OAHU.

Maunawili—Weather has been warm, with an abundance of rain amounting in all to 2.66 inches during week; coffee doing very well, and pastures in fair condition.—John Herd.

Waimanalo—Weather very warm all week, with .75 inch of rain.—A. Irvine.

Sisai—Weather very dry and hot, and crops suffering for want of moisture.—Wm. Weinrich, Jr.

Waianae—The weather remains unchanged here; dry and warm.—F. Meyer.

Ewa—Weather very warm and dry during week.—Ewa Plantation Co.

Wahiahu—Week dry, with moderate temperatures which have retarded the ripening of pineapples; season now at its height, and an exceptionally fine crop will be secured; original estimate of cannery will be exceeded at least one-third; pastures getting a little dry again.—B. O. Clark.

ISLAND OF KAUAI.

Eleale—No change from conditions of preceding week; weather still dry and warm.—McBryde Sugar Co.

Koloa—Weather continues warm; first part of week comparatively dry, but good showers fell during first three days of August, amounting to .92 inch.—P. McLane.

Lihue—Cloudy during first part of week with clear, hot weather during latter part; .39 inch of rain; conditions average for growing crops.—F. Weber.

Kilauea—Continued warm weather, with some light showers; weather conditions very favorable for cane, but leafhoppers are plentiful.—L. B. Boreiko.

Washington, July 13.—In view of the President's praise of the executive methods of General Leonard Wood, there is little room for doubt that the next Army order to be issued will be one detaching General Wood from his division and detailing him for duty on the isthmus.

Officers of the Army already serving in connection with the canal who are still in Washington are united in the belief that the man whose good military and sanitary work in Cuba called forth praise will be made supervising chief of labor on canal construction. All Army men are not fond of the General personally, but they will be one in hailing the appointment of the Army man who will see that things are done—come fight, flood or fever.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 8, 1905.

That great battle scheduled to come off a few days ago has resolved itself into a London bluff.

"What is the use of continuing the war?" That's so, what is the use from a Russian standpoint.

Speaker Knudsen may soon be considered as among the Gubernatorial possibilities. He is about to take the first step.

The Friend says that the calm after the political storm is pronounced. Its feelings might compare with those of a richly spanked child.

If Manila makes such a howling success of entertaining the Taft party as Honolulu did, the howl will come after the party has departed.

"The Enlisted Men of Camp McKinley" should disabuse himself of the idea that anonymous communications will be published in the Bulletin.

What Hawaii needs is a full-fledged booster campaign that will secure confidence and enthusiasm at home. It is certain to have the same effect abroad.

If there is a difference of $55.00 a month against the system, it would be natural for the taxpayers to vote in favor of using the $55.00 per, without the system.

Trent had an opportunity to get the record of every man on the pay roll. He let it go because he is not the Grand Jury and the Board of Supervisors, so the Advertiser says.

Passing peace commissioners of Russia might take notice that Hawaii can take care of a good number of Russian peasants if they now find no satisfactory haven in the lost Manchurian fields.

The Promotion Committee finally waked up in dealing with the Shriner question. But that is no reason why the Promotion Committee program can't be further reorganized to secure the best results.

Cure For The Blues

ONE MEDICINE THAT HAS NEVER FAILED

Health Fully Restored and the Joy of Life Regained.

When a cheerful, brave, light-hearted woman is suddenly plunged into that of misery, the BLUES, it is a sad picture. It is usually this way; She has been feeling "out of sorts."

Mrs. Rosa Adams

are being taken up and made to bring forth fruit by hard-working Flins. Some day Hawaii will also discover that there is no occasion for abandoning any line of agricultural work that promotes home-building.

The Chamber of Commerce, about to hold its annual meeting, has an ample opportunity to deal with the Promotion Committee problem in a manner that will prove that the Chamber is neither asleep nor indifferent to the advantages to be gained by enthusiastic promotion of tourist campaigns.

AN IMMIGRATION CONFERENCE

What shall we do to be saved, is a cry that goes up from Hawaii every time the immigration question is discussed. The man who doesn't like the Oriental wants to be saved from the hordes he thinks he sees flowing over him. The man who wants labor, and must have it in order to carry out his economic plans, is equally distressed. And there you are.

There are always all kinds of remedies suggested, by all kinds of men. People of Hawaii however are not the only ones interested in immigration, nor the only ones working for a solution that shall accomplish the best results for the development of the country. Hawaii doesn't always realize this and in many instances fails to draw the attention it might by not keeping in active touch with what others are doing.

But she doesn't get "all right" and hope vanishes; then come the brooding, morbid, melancholy, everlasting BLUES.

Don't wait until your sufferings have driven you to despair, with your nerves all shattered and your courage gone, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. See what it did for Mrs. Rosa Adams, of 819 12th Street, Louisville, Ky., niece of the late General Roger Hanson, C.S.A. She writes:

"I cannot tell you with pen and ink what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered with female troubles, extreme lassitude, 'the blues,' nervousness and all-gone feeling. I was unable to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it not only cured my female derangement, but it has restored me to perfect health and strength. The buoyancy of my younger days has returned, and I do not suffer any longer with despondency, as I did before. I consider Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a boon to sick and suffering women."

If you have some derangement of the female organism write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice.

"What percentage of European immigration remains in the ports of arrival such as New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore?

"What practical method can be devised of distributing immigration, especially for agriculture, to points where it may be needed?

"What further methods can be devised for improving the conditions, both of housing and employment, of aliens congested in large cities?

"What will be the effect of the distribution of large numbers of immigrants in the South upon the problem of industrial education and social betterment of the negro race?

"Should the exclusion of Chinese coolie labor be made more rigid, and should it be extended to Japanese and Korean labor?

"How shall the admission of exempted classes of Asiatics, such as scholars, merchants and tourists be regulated?

"In fact, any topic related to immigration and its effect upon our natural life and industries that the conference wishes to consider may be included in its proceedings?"

Possibly the Governors of Territories are not included in the invitation list. Certainly Hawaii should be heard from in this national conference which may have a direct bearing on legislation at the coming session of Congress.

Jim Hill Is Again Buying Railway Stock

New York, July 12.—When Wall street closed today it was reported and generally believed as the result of a revival of the action of the stocks affected that James J. Hill, associated with certain local banking interests, had purchased the Union Pacific holdings of Great Northern and the Northern Pacific. The report gained seeming confirmation by the upward jump of Northern Pacific during the day.

Four years ago Union Pacific interests sought the control of Northern Pacific, causing the famous panic of May 9, 1901, when "Nipper" stock sold for $1,000 a share cash. Then followed the long litigation over Northern Securities, the liquidation of which was opposed strongly but unsuccessfully by E. H. Harriman and his associates.

It is estimated that at least $150,000,000 is involved in Mr. Hill's reported coup of today. The Union Pacific holding of Northern Pacific preferred was estimated at $40,000,000 par value; $200 a share or $80,000,000. Its "Nipper" holdings were figured at $25,000,000 at $200 a share, or $75,000,000. These estimates are conjectural.

The Union Pacific issued $90,000,000 Oregon Short Line participating bonds to finance its holdings of Northern Pacific.

The general impression in Wall street is that Union Pacific will be greatly benefited by the transaction.

It was also reported that the Northern Pacific directors would shortly declare an extra dividend in "Nipper" stock, consisting of 50 per cent in script and 20 per cent in cash.

The Adventure of the Solitary Cyclist

No. 4 of the Series

"Sheridan, however, that the situation is a little strained."

"Our young friend seems to be getting into deep waters," said Holmes thoughtfully as he finished the letter. "The case certainly presents more features of interest and more possibility of development than I had originally thought. I should be none the worse for a quiet, peaceful day in the country, and I am inclined to run down this afternoon and test one or two theories which I have formed."

Holmes' quiet day in the country had a singular termination, for he arrived at Baker street late in the evening with a cut lip and a discolored lump upon his forehead, besides a general air of dissipation which would have made his own person the fitting object of a Scotland Yard investigation. He was immensely tickled by his own adventures and laughed heartily as he recounted them.

"I get so little active exercise that it is always a treat," said he. "You are aware that I have some proficiency in the good old British sport of boxing. Occasionally it is of service; today, for example, I should have come to very ignominious grief without it." I begged him to tell me what had occurred.

"I found that country pub which I had already recommended to you notice, and there I made my discreet inquiries. I was in the bar, and a garrulous landlord was giving me all that I wanted. Williamson is a white bearded man, and he lives alone with a small staff of servants at the hall. There is some rumor that he is or has been a clergyman, but one or two incidents of his short residence at the hall struck me as peculiarly uneclesiastical. I have already made some inquiries at a clerical agency, and they tell me that there was a man of that name in orders whose career has been a singularly dark one."

"The landlord further informed me that there are usually week end visitors—a warm lot, sir—at the hall, and especially one gentleman with a red mustache, Mr. Woodley by name, who was always there. We had got as far as this when who should walk into the hall, and dismounted from his machine. For some minutes I could see him standing among the trees. His hands were raised, and he seemed to be settling his necktie. Then he mounted his cycle and rode away from me down the drive toward the hall. I ran across the Heath and peered through the trees. Far away I could catch glimpses of the old gray building, with its bristling Tudor chimneys, but the drive ran through a dense shrubbery, and I saw no more of my man.

However, it seemed to me that I had done a fairly good morning's work, and I walked back in high spirits to Farmham. The local house agent could tell me nothing about Charlton Hall and referred me to a well known firm in Pall Mall. There I halted on my way home and met with courtesy from the representative. No, I could not have found Charlton Hall for the summer. I was just too late. It had been let about a month ago. Mr. Williamson was the name of the tenant. He was a respectable, elderly gentleman. The polite agent was afraid he could say no more, as the affairs of his clients were not matters which he could discuss.

Mr. Sherlock Holmes listened with attention to the long report which I had given him by asking questions? He had a fine flow of language, and his adjectives were very vigorous. He ended a string of abuse by a vicious backhander, which I failed to entirely avoid. The next few minutes were delicious. It was a straight left against a slugging ruffian. I emerged as you see me. Mr. Woodley went home in a cart. So ended my country trip, and it must be confessed that, however enjoyable, my day on the Surrey border has not been much more profitable than your own."

The Thursday brought us another letter from our client.

"You will not be surprised, Mr. Holmes," said she, "to hear that I am leaving Mr. Carruthers' employment. Even the high pay cannot reconcile me to the discomforts of my situation. On Saturday I came up to town, and I do not intend to return. Mr. Carruthers has got a trap, and so the dangers of the lonely road, if there ever were any dangers, are now over."

"As to the special cause of my leaving, it is not merely the strained situation with Mr. Carruthers, but it is the reappearance of that odious man, Mr. Woodley. He was always hideous, but he looks more awful than ever now, for he appears to have had an accident, and he is much disfigured. Let him lie; we can't do him any good, but we may save her from the worst fate that can befall a woman."

"So I trust, Watson; so I trust," said Holmes gravely. "There is some deep intrigue going on round that little woman, and it is our duty to see that no one molests her upon that last journey. I think, Watson, that we must spare no effort to run down together on Saturday morning, and make sure that this curious and inclusive investigation has no untoward ending."

I confess that I had not up to now taken a very serious view of the case, which had seemed to me rather grotesque and bizarre than dangerous. That a man should lie in wait for and follow a very handsome woman is no unheard-of thing, and if he has so little audacity that he only dared not address her, but even fled from her approach, he was not a very formidable assailant. The ruffian Woodley was a very different person, but except on one occasion he had not molested our client, and now he visited the house of Carruthers without intruding upon her presence. The man on the bicycle was doubtless a member of those weekend parties at the hall of which the publican had spoken, but who he was or what he wanted was as obscure as ever. It was the severity of Holmes' manner and the fact that he slipped a revolver into his pocket before leaving our rooms which impressed me with the feeling that tragedy might prove to lurk behind this curious train of events.

A rainy night had been followed by a glorious morning, and the health covered countryside, with the glowing clumps of flowering gorse, seemed all the more beautiful to eyes which were weary of the duns and drabs and slate grays of London. Holmes and I walked along the broad, sandy road, inhaling the fresh morning air and rejoicing in the music of the birds and the fresh breath of the spring. From a rise of the road on the shoulder of Crooksbury hill we could see the grim hall bristling out from amid the ancient oaks, which, old as they were, were still younger than the building which they surrounded. Holmes pointed down the long tract of road which wound, a reddish yellow band, between the brown of the heath and the budding green of the woods. Far away, a black dot, we could see a vehicle moving in our direction. Holmes gave an exclamation of impatience.

"I have given a margin of half an hour," said he. "If that is her trap she must be making for the earlier train. I fear, Watson, that she will be past Charlton before we can possibly meet her."

From the instant that we passed the rise we could no longer see the vehicle, but we hastened onward at such a pace that my sedentary life began to tell upon me, and I was compelled to fall behind. Holmes, however, was always in training, for he had inexhaustible stores of nervous energy upon which to draw. His springy step never slowed until suddenly, when he was a hundred yards in front of me, he halted, and I saw him throw up his hand with a gesture of grief and despair. At the same instant an empty dogcart, the horse cantering the reins trailing, appeared round the curve of the road and rattled swiftly toward us.

"Too late, Watson; too late!" cried Holmes as I ran panting to his side. "I found that country pub which I had already recommended to you notice, and there I made my discreet inquiries. I was in the bar, and a garrulous landlord was giving me all that I wanted. Williamson is a white bearded man, and he lives alone with a small staff of servants at the hall. There is some rumor that he is or has been a clergyman, but one or two incidents of his short residence at the hall struck me as peculiarly uneclesiastical. I have already made some inquiries at a clerical agency, and they tell me that there was a man of that name in orders whose career has been a singularly dark one."

"Holmes sprang into the dogcart and sprang down from the cart.

"You're the man we want to see. Where is Miss Violet Smith?" he said in his quick, clear way.

"That's what I'm asking you

SHRINERS TO TAKE OTHERS INTO FOLD

Aloha Temple has sent forth its call to the Nobles of many Shrines and it hopes to hear from them. The invitation is couched in the classic phrases of Alakazam, but every Shriner knows what it means.

The program for the semi-annual ceremonial session of Aloha Temple has been issued and the last page of the profusely decorated document publishes the following, "To The Nobility."

From the mid-Pacific, half-way between the ancient founders and the modern supporters of the Mystic Shrine, Aloha Temple sends greetings and offers prayers for continuing peace and blessing until the Day of the Faith:

And aside from the ultra-oriental, and in order to further contribute to the many pleasures awaiting the Children of the True Faith who meet in Imperial Council at Los Angeles on May eighth and ninth of next year, Aloha Temple extends an earnest and sincere invitation to all of the Nobility to include a trip to the Hawaiian Islands in next Summer's Itinerary of pleasure.

In contrast with the sweltering heat and choking dust of New York; the River and Beef Trust odor of Chicago, and the caloric atmosphere of San Francisco, we will deliver, f. o. b. Honolulu, a climate so soft, soothng, temperate and enticing, that a summer in Genoa, Italy, would remind you of a winter in Pole Point, Manitoba; an air so free from foreign substance that even the hardy germ of Hay-fever starves to death in a short week, a

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE

First Circuit, Territory of Hawaii. At Chambers: In Probate. In the Matter of the Estate of F. J. Wilhelm, deceased. Order of Notice of Hearing Petition for Allowance of Final Accounts. Distribution and Discharge. On reading and filing the Petition and Accounts of W. W. Harris, Administrator of the Estate of F. J. Wilhelm, wherein he asks to be allowed $3903.53 and charges himself with $6222.22, and asks that the same may be examined and approved, and that a final order may be made of distribution of the property remaining in his hands to the persons thereto entitled, and discharging him and his sureties from all further responsibility as such Administrator. It is ordered, that Monday, the 18th day of September, A. D. 1905, at ten o'clock a. m., before the Judge of said Court at the Court Room of the said Court at Honolulu, Island of Oahu, be and the same hereby is appointed as the time and place for hearing said Petition and Accounts, and that all persons interested may then and there appear and show cause if any they have, why the same should not be granted, and may present evidence as to who are entitled to the said property. And that notice of this Order, in the English language, be published in the Evening Bulletin, newspaper printed and published in Honolulu, once a week, for three successive weeks, the last publication to be not less than two weeks previous to the time therein appointed for said hearing.

Letters will be at once addressed to the steamship companies seeking the most reasonable terms for a party, say, of 250 people. Every effort will be made to have arrangements satisfactory not only as to the coming here, but as to the getting back. Sometimes difficulty concerning return accommodations is experienced. It is appreciated that, in order to encourage a good pilgrimage, visiting Shriners must be assured satisfactory return accommodations. Therefore, not only are reduced rates to be considered but the matter of definite return is one to be carefully settled and this, with other matters looking to the complete success of the pilgrimage, cannot be looked after too soon. The idea is to so arrange the transportation feature that visiting Shriners can by local Shriners be absolutely guaranteed the knowledge that they will be returned to the mainland in a manner and at a time suiting their convenience, and that they will run no risk of being detained here longer than they desire through lack of accommodations on the steamships.

The whole business is being conducted from a Shriner standpoint, the Promotion Committee contributing all possible assistance.

The divorce case of Lulu Johnson vs. Chas. Johnson is being heard before Judge Robinson today.
