PROGRESS DAWNING IN CHINA.

A China paper received by last mail contains the English translation of a memorial addressed by the Governor of Kiangsu to the Throne on the subject of railways. It is a very interesting document. The Governor introduces his arguments for railways by saying China now finds herself in a different position toward the world from any which she has occupied during the last four thousand years. To return to her old isolation would be now a hopeless task for China, the memorialist observes, and referring to the "spirit of the age," he says that of material results thereof she has already equipped herself with four: steamers, telegraphs, machinery, and schools of technical education. "According to Western views," says he, "steamers, railways and telegraphs form a triad, the omission of one member of which goes far to nullify the advantages conferred by the other two. The three are inseparably connected in the Western mind as the conquerors of time and space, the benefactors of peoples, and the enrichers of states. To say that China should go without railways while England, France and Russia have them, simply shows ignorance of what is going on in the world around one."

The Governor outlines a complete railway system by which they should be able to send troops, money, etc., anywhere in their Empire within ten days, and besides that, he adds, "we shall be able to found prosperous colonies, in these outlying regions, of people who in China are only a starving proletariat and a source of trouble to the Government, but who once transplanted thither will be able to find a fruitful field for their now unemployed labor, and will turn the desert into a garden." The memorialist replies to a plea for renewed attention to the Grand Canal by citing the difficulty of keeping it clear from silting, and urges a railway line as an alternative route of transport. He describes the grounds of opposition to railways, showing some of the very same objections that were used to defeat them in England when first projected, namely: "It takes away our livelihood," "It knocks down our houses," "It desecrates our graves," "It will give foreigners all the up-country profits as well as what they have got out of our lands already." It is recommended that the development of a national railway system should be gradual, and that it should be done wholly with Chinese capital and, as far as possible, by Chinese hands. "The help of foreigners will indeed be necessary in this way—as professors and instructors in the arts of making engines, rails, etc., from whom the bright intelligent youths of China will rapidly acquire what they have to teach; we shall thus in a few years have a railway staff complete, from the highest to the lowest members, without the need of looking to foreign nations for any assistance whatever."

In conclusion the Governor says: "I can appreciate the opposition of officials of Peking to railways. When I was an official of Peking I considered machinery, steamers, telegraphs, railways, as matters of very secondary importance. But since I came to Loochow, and became an eye-witness, close at hand, of the gigantic changes that are going on in the conditions of life, the conviction has been forced upon me that the judicious introduction of railways will be of benefit to China, and I have felt it my duty to express myself thus plainly upon the subject. While some of my remarks will be considered to be those of an innovator, I hold to the two good old conservative principles—economy, and regard for the people's feelings—which are so honored by our revered sovereign."

The whole memorial exhibits that "spirit of the age" to which it appeals. Coming from a high official and addressed to the highest of the Empire, it is a promising sign for the future of China. With the progressive yet cautious policy recommended put into effect, the results to China can only be imagined, but are certain to be stupendous in internal development and civilization and in the relations of the "Middle Kingdom" with the rest of the world.

PRESS CENSORSHIP.

EDITOR BULLETIN.—We notice an article in Tuesday morning's F. C. A. signed "Citizen," advising the Police department to hire an extra translator if necessary, to translate seditious publications from the Hawaiian papers and save perhaps future trouble or another insurrection. Now, Mr. Editor, would it not be better to find out the cause of these insurrections and seditious publications and rectify that if possible? Would it not be better than building forts and arsenals, suppressing a free press, increasing the police force, etc.

If it goes on this way, what will become of our economical reform government. Mr. Citizen, we don't think it necessary.

ANOTHER CITIZEN.

STICK TO PLAIN FACTS.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—Exaggerated statements injure more than benefit any cause, however just and good the cause may be. A writer in the BULLETIN of Oct. 2nd, who signs himself "Anti-Chinese," and whose cause is indicated by the signature, adds no strength to that cause by such a statement as the following: "Children of Hawaiian and Portuguese parents sicken and die in this town for the want of proper sustenance," simply because it is exaggerated. Indeed, I believe it to be positively untrue, at least in so far as Hawaiians are concerned; for notwithstanding a long residence in the country, regular intercourse with all classes of the native people, and an intimate alliance with the race, I have never seen nor heard of children sickening and dying for want of proper sustenance, unless perhaps the "proper sustenance" was not administered because of ignorance on the part of parents or because of their neglect to supply it—never because it was not procurable. If "Anti-Chinese" has had a different experience from mine, I shall feel obliged if he will specify cases and inform me where these unfortunate children are to be found. Unless and until he does this I shall continue to believe that his statement is untrue. Moreover, if he will point out any such needy cases I and others will cheerfully contribute for their relief. R. L.

RIGHTS OF NATIVES.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—In your paper of last Wednesday I notice that the Rev. Mr. Bishop is still harping on his favorite theme—the necessity of eliminating the natives from the governing power of the country. He says in effect that the right to govern was inherited by the alii more by the foreigners than the natives. How? By cajoling, bullying and bribing the natives to part with their birthright and by using superior civilization and knowledge to induce them to part with their possessions. He says further: "One hard and formidable fact is that the haoles have come here with their immense wealth and civilization—that they are obliged to hold and exercise a full voice in governing the country." Will Mr. Bishop kindly enumerate a few of the men who brought great wealth to the country? With the exception of Mr. Claus Spreckels I do not know of another one of our rich men who has not acquired his riches in the same way in which they inherited the right to govern. And now, as to his aloha for "these too magnanimous, too trusting people." If he would have us really believe that he is sincere in his professions of love and sympathy for the native Hawaiians, why did he seek to degrade them in his famous address before the Social Science Association, by gratuitously publishing to the world the fact that not more than 5 percent of the whole native Hawaiian race was free from syphilitic taint? Does he know it from personal examination? Did he intend to gain for the natives a good name among residents of other countries to whose knowledge such statements must come? FACTS.

IF YOU WANT A SITUATION, advertise in the "Daily Bulletin."

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS.

Sir Henry Loch, on the arrival of the S. S. Zealandia on Saturday, was received by Hon. S. M. Damon at the wharf and conveyed in carriages to the Pali. Meantime Col. Macfarlane, H. M.'s Chamberlain, waited upon His Majesty and informed him of Sir Henry's arrival, whereupon His Majesty immediately ordered the royal band to serenade the distinguished guest at the Hawaiian Hotel, and arranged for Sir Henry and party to be presented in the evening. At 9:30 a private presentation took place, at which Major Woodhouse, H. B. M.'s Commissioner and Sir Wm. Wiseman, Bart., assisted. At 10:30 Sir Henry and party, accompanied by Col. Macfarlane, drove to the steamer and embarked for their voyage to Australia. Sir Henry and Lady Loch were especially delighted with the band and charmed with the scenery on the way to the Pali. Lady Loch is a sister to the Earl of Clarendon, and her sister is the wife of Lord Lytton, English Ambassador to Paris, who was the former Viceroy of India.

The Hon. A. York, who accompanies the party, is a cousin of Lady Loch, and is Esquire in Waiting to Queen Victoria. He is of the Royal Household, and was the companion and friend of Prince Leopold (the Queen's fourth son) up to the time of his death; he is an especial favorite of the Queen.

The Hon. Mr. Cavendish, also of the party, is a brother of Lord Chesham, and his sister is the Duchess of Westminster.

Capt. Keith Falconer is Aid-de-Camp to the Governor, whose father is a brother to the Earl of Kintore, the present Governor of South Australia.

Sir Henry Loch, as stated in a former issue, is the new Governor of Cape Colony, having been promoted from the Governorship of Victoria, Australia.

A COFFEE PLANTATION.

We were out on Sinter's coffee plantation a few days since and were surprised to see what he had done. In less than a year he has cleared in the heavy forest 10 acres of land and set out over 9,000 coffee plants. He has done all the work himself, and it shows up well. The first planted coffee trees show a growth of from 10 inches to 2 feet, and look thrifty. The only blight we could discover was where the coffee had been planted under kukui trees and since they have been cut down the coffee is recovering from the blight. By the second year from now there is but little doubt that many of the trees planted will commence to bear. This "ax" soil seems to be the home of the coffee and we hope that in a few years there will not be only 10 acres but 10,000. The labor of clearing is comparatively little. And it will be necessary to let most of the ohia trees stand for shade to the plants. [Hilo Record.]

OAHU EVANGELICAL ASSOCIATION.

The island Association of Hawaiian churches continued its sessions in Kaunakapili Church yesterday afternoon and evening. A committee was chosen to visit Kaneohe, and assist them in securing a pastor. One candidate for the theological school presented himself, and a committee was appointed to inquire into his character and qualification. The evening was devoted to prayers and exhortations from the various pastors and delegates.

After the usual devotional service the business of the Association was resumed this morning. Reports were read from Kawaiahae Church, Rev. Dr. Schneider and Rev. Dr. Beckwith gave brief addresses of fraternal greeting. Statements were made in regard to the progress of Christian work among the Chinese, Japanese and Portuguese. The Moderator, Rev. S. Kapu, was called home by the tidings of a sudden death in his family, and Rev. E. S. Timoteo was chosen Moderator pro tem. Rev. J. Waiannau gave an account of his efforts to raise money on the other islands towards paying off the debt of Kaunakapili Church. Rev. W. B. Oleson interested the Association in his address on Christian education, especially in connection with the Kamehameha Industrial and Preparatory Schools, and its bearings on Hawaiian independence and the perpetuity and progress of the Hawaiian race. The right only must and will triumph here as elsewhere. Those who believe in Christ and His Divine word must trust each other, and so help forward the sure victory of Christian love in the universal welfare of the whole brotherhood of humanity. Different members of the Association expressed their regret that all the Government school teachers were not interested in the moral and religious life of the children. But it was acknowledged that one great evil that ought to be remedied was the indifference of Hawaiian parents themselves, and Hawaiian pastors also.

A LARGE party went on a railway excursion to the end of the track beyond Moanalua on the invitation of Mr. B. F. Dillingham this afternoon. The object is a trial of the new cars, and, if everything works well without "hot boxes," it is probable that a moonlight picnic party will take a special train to Moanalua this evening.

WORK on Mr. A. L. Smith's new building on Fort street, is somewhat delayed on account of waiting for bricks. Mr. Harrison the contractor has several thousand on the W. S. Bowne, which will be unloaded in a day or so, and then the building will be pushed along rapidly. The second floor joists are being placed in position.

THE BULLETIN SUMMARY for this week contains no less than forty-six columns of local, island and other news. In order to meet the much increasing demand for this favorite epitome of Hawaiian news, an extra edition has been printed. Be sure and send a copy on the City of Peking next week to your friends abroad.

ANCHIE Sinclair, who graduated from Oahu College at the close of the last school year in June, has successfully passed all of his entrance examinations to the medical department of Glasgow University. Miss May Dillingham, who graduated from the College in June, 1888, has also successfully passed her examinations to enter Wellesley College, and has been received into that institution. Both are to be congratulated upon their success.

A NATIVE paper of Japan says that drafts of revised treaties with Hawaii and Peru have been agreed upon. It says further, "In Hawaii's case we are in a position to say that the negotiations have entailed no trouble of any sort, as the Hawaiian representative has always believed, and has succeeded in inspiring his Government with the same belief, that Japan is fully worthy to be treated as a civilized Power." Mr. R. W. Irwin is the diplomatic representative of this country at Tokio.

AN ELEGANT AFFAIR.

Reception and Dance on the Japanese War Vessel Hi-yei.

In response to invitations a large number of our prominent society people and visiting naval officers were present at a reception and dance on board H. I. J. M. ship Hi-yei yesterday afternoon. It was given by the captains and officers of H. I. J. M. ships Hi-yei and Kongo. The invited guests as they arrived at the boat landing were taken out to the Hi-yei in a steam launch and several large boats manned by Japanese sailors. On boarding the vessel the guests were received by Mr. Taro Ando, the Japanese Consul-General, and introduced to Captain S. Matsumura, of the Hi-yei, and Captain K. Samejima, of the Kongo. The decorations on board the line vessel were on a scale of unusual magnificence. On the main deck a platform had been built and was covered with canvas. All around and overhead were flags of all nations. At one end of this temporary dancing room was a Japanese and Hawaiian flag and the word "Welcome." A mass of foliage on which hung Japanese lanterns occupied a prominent position at the other end. The stairways leading to the poop were draped with flags. From the poop a nice view was obtained of the scene in the dancing room. The poop itself was most artistically decorated with flags. On one side was a representation of a miniature Japanese tea garden which attracted much attention. At the foot of the stairs where the visitors were received, stood a diver's outfit, which caused considerable amusement. The full effect of the superb decorations was strikingly unique.

The Royal Hawaiian band occupied a position on the main deck and played for dancing. Neat programmes were issued containing twelve dances. A large number of these present, including several of the Japanese officers, joined in the dancing which was kept up with spirit until after 5 o'clock.

During the afternoon the visitors were invited to partake of a most elegant and bountiful lunch served in the officers' quarters. There were salads of all kinds, meats, cakes, candies, fruits, lemonade, ice cream, etc. On the tables were huge bouquets of flowers, and some of the cakes were handsomely decorated on top with the words, "H. I. J. M. Hi-yei, October 2, 1889." Those who did not dance strolled around the vessel, which was as clean as a new pin, or entered into social conversation. A number of the ladies were presented with souvenirs of Japanese art. One amusing feature was the waiters who were attired in Japanese theatrical costumes. The whole affair was extremely enjoyable and those who gave it are to be congratulated upon its success.

Among those present were: Hon. A. S. Cleghorn, His Honor Chief Justice Judd, Their Excellencies Jona. Austin, Minister of Foreign Affairs; S. M. Damon, Minister of Finance; I. A. Thurston, Minister of Interior; C. W. Ashford, Attorney-General, and Mrs. Ashford; Mr. Justice and Mrs. McCully, Mr. Justice and Mrs. Bickerton, Hon. W. G. and Mrs. Irwin, Viscount Torii, Sir William Wiseman, Bart., and officers of H. B. M. S. Caroline; Capt. A. Clark, and officers H. B. M. S. Epiegle; Capt. J. G. Green and officers U. S. S. Alert; Com. H. W. Lyon, and officers U. S. Nipic; Capt. C. Young, of the Yamashiro Maru; Hon. J. L. Stevens, U. S. Minister Resident; Major J. H. Wodehouse, H. B. M.'s Commissioner, and Mrs. Wodehouse; Mons. G. B. d'Anglade, French Commissioner; Senhor Canavarro, Portuguese Commissioner, and Mrs. Canavarro; Mr. Taro Ando, Japanese Consul-General; Mons. Bellaguet, French Chancellor, Capt. H. W. Mist, R. N., and Mrs. Mist; Mr. F. A. Schaefer, Consul for Italy; Mr. H. F. Glade, Consul for Germany, and Mrs. Glade; Col. G. W. Macfarlane, H. M.'s Chamberlain, and Mr. J. W. Robertson, Vice-Chamberlain; Mr. Goo Kim, Assistant Chinese Commercial Agent; Mr. C. Afong, Hon. Henry Waterhouse, Revs. C. M. Hyde and S. E. Bishop and others.

No little amount of trouble appears to have been experienced in transporting Chiarini's elephants to Nakasueo, where the circus is now performing. In taking them over the bridges at Sanchoue, Manache, the bridges began to creak and it was only by the most strenuous exertions of the staff and of the spectators that they were landed safely. Considerable damage, however, was done to the bridges, the supports having suffered the most, and vehicular traffic across has since been suspended. —Japan Gazette.

New Free Tontine Policy

OF THE Equitable Life Assurance Society OF THE UNITED STATES

A SIMPLE PROMISE TO PAY.

[From the NEW YORK TIMES, June 22, 1889.]

The Equitable Life Assurance Society has adopted a new form of policy which, like a bank draft, is a simple promise to pay without conditions on the back.

[From the CHICAGO INVESTIGATOR.]

Always on the alert, and ever anxious to give the public the most advantageous contract in life insurance, the Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York has, in the past, made many advances on old methods, and has been the means to liberalize life insurance in a greater degree, perhaps, than any other organization. It is not at all surprising, therefore, that this great company now comes before the people with a new contract, the like of which has not before been known in life insurance.

[From the KENTUCKY REGISTER, Richmond, Ky., June 28, 1887.]

The Equitable Life Assurance Society has, in the past, done more to create and maintain confidence in life insurance than any other company. Consequently its business is larger than that of any of its competitors. Furthermore, it has now taken a step which practically sweeps every objection of the character referred to out of the way. The result, undoubtedly, will be that thousands of men who have heretofore lacked confidence in life insurance, will examine the new policy offered by the Equitable, and assure their lives forthwith.

[From the BOSTON POST.]

This company has done more than any other to simplify the assurance contract, and to maintain public confidence in life insurance.

[From the PACIFIC UNDERWRITER, San Francisco, July 1, 1889.]

The Equitable has already established a world-wide reputation for liberal dealings with its policy-holders and for its prompt settlement of all legitimate claims against it, and this new policy cannot fail to enhance its reputation for enterprise and progressiveness in dealing with the subject of life insurance.

members, it is expected that residents of Honolulu who desire to avail themselves of its privileges, and all who feel an interest in maintaining an institution of this kind, will put down their names and become regular contributors.
