The Schoolma'am's Raise.

Year by year, and day by day,
She lieved in hope of higher pay.
She saw the city prosperous grow,
She saw the schoolhouse overflow
With hosts of children large and small;
And patiently she taught them all.
And as the season swiftly flew
She sometimes taught their children, too.
Through weary months of busy days.
The schoolma'am hoped
to get a
raise!
She did all that a woman could;
Her arguments were sound and good.
She drew petitions up, so fine
That all the people ran to sign.
The Common Council all agreed
That she should have it, yes, indeed.
The Board of Education made
Long, smiling promises of aid,
While out of all the tangled maze
The schoolma'am hoped
to
a
raise!
At last it seemed the way was cleared;
At last the needed funds appeared.
But still the Board could not decide
Just how these funds should be applied.
Raise by experience? Or by grade?
So still they wavered and delayed;
They weeded out a girl or two
Who didn't have enough to do;
These surely were the halcyon days.
The schoolma'am hoped
a
raise!
But weary decades came and went,
Until her faithful life was spent;
And now across her lonely grave
The long green grasses gently wave.
Her tombstone, in its ancient place,
Stands up, yet lies upon its face,
For though it says she has gone higher,
I know her soul must still aspire,
And lingering, long for Gabriel's days,
When every schoolma'am gets a
raise!

FLORENCE MAY ALT.

The World-Reformer and His Wife.

Said Farmer John to Joiner Ned:
"Come put a back door on my shed."

Said Joiner Ned to Farmer John:
"I cannot put your back door on.
The Guild I'm interested in
For the abolishment of sin,
Meets at my house this very day,
And so I cannot get away."

"Well, after you've abolished sin
Come down to morrow and begin;
I want that back door in my shed,"
Said Farmer John to Joiner Ned.

"To-morrow, neither, can I come,
The Friends of the Millennium
Meet at the house of Deacon Kent,
And I am first Vice-President."

"Well, then, next Wednesday, without doubt,
When your millennium's started out,
Just let it take its course and spread,
And put that back door in my shed."

"I read an essay Wednesday, John,
Before the Culture Club, upon
'The Easiest Method to Restore
Our Long-lost Eden Here Once More;'
To foster peace, abolish war,
And render virtue popular."

"Well, get your Eden here all right
By sundown, prompt, next Wednesday night;
And then, next Thursday morning, Ned,
Come put that back door on my shed."

"The Anti Hunger Club convenes
Next Thursday, down to Hiram Green's,
And I have promised to orate
On how to crush and extirpate
Man's tendency for fish and meat,
His grovelling desire to eat."

"But won't you come down, by and by,
We'll say two year from next July?
You'll have your various schemes put through,
You'll have the universe built new;
Come down, then, with your tool-kit, Ned,
And put that back door in my shed."

"I think," says Ned, "I'll take that chance
If you will pay me in advance;
For my wife says that we've no meat
And flour in the house to eat;
This cash may save domestic strife
And kind of pacify my wife."

Residing in Honolulu

MONDAY, JULY 22, 1894.

PUNAHOUIANA.

Oahuloa, Oa Oa a Mau Oa.

A subscriber remarked that he read the resolution of the Oahu College published by us on Saturday, and thought they were fake resolutions, probably the clever work of our office devil. We admit that it is hardly conceivable that ten or more hard-headed men could produce such a mushy composition.

The first resolution leaves the impression that Miss McLeod was the only complainant, when the fact is that Professor Lyons, Messrs. Dodge and Crockett, Mrs. Dodge and Misses Snow and Brewer are complainants, and several pupils are witnesses to the charges preferred against Hosmer. Surely such tried and trusted teachers as the complainants are must have had good grounds for the charges they have made.

One of the Trustees who called upon the complainants for the purpose of inducing them to withdrew resignations, and joined in a love feast with the offending President, said, in his usual puerile way: Just think how we have in our political work to swallow our spittle and work for party. How absurd it would be for us to resign everytime we were offended. The ass could not discern the difference between politics and morals; that in his politics principles were very rarely involved, while in the work of the teacher and moralist principles were always to be considered. All honor is due the faculty of the college for the stand they have taken.

The Trustees seem to have fallen down and worshipped Baal at the eleventh hour. The first set of resolutions voted on were in effect that the charge had not been sustained, and upon a vote being taken the Trustees present tied. How could the five Trustees who refused to say that the charges had not been sustained vote for the resolutions which prevailed? They lacked the courage of their convictions and cried for peace. It remains for the parents and guardians of the youth committed to the care of Hosmer to take up the work that the trustees have failed in. The young people should be withdrawn. Fortunately the High School, under Mr. M. M. Scott's direction, is to be started at once and with a strong corps of teachers will afford as good, if not better, opportunity for sound education as Oahu College has.

Our resolutions about Punahou College on Saturday are accurate and absolutely correct. Many people want to know how, when, where, and why we got them. Those questions remain unanswered. The other newspapers couldn't and didn't get them. We did. We published them and the public has read them. That is all THE INDEPENDENT cares for.

Professor Lyons, Messrs. Crockett and Dodge, Mrs. Dodge and Misses Snow and Brewer have resigned from Oahu College. The attempt to smooth matters over between Mr. Hosmer and the teachers failed and the college has lost the most valuable members of its staff. But it still has Hosmer and a mysterious scandal.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

The engrossing business, like most of the expenditures of this Government, comes out of the general pocket. Yet the amounts claimed are so large that even the Attorney-General has taken a tumble and wants the printers to do the work. What is the matter? Does he share in the profits of a printing office? Or has he only a "down" on the engrossers? Or is it really that he wants to save some more money to spend on spies?

The Minister of the Interior and his associates know well that the building of the conglomerate erection round the pumping plant on Beretania street by day labor is a flagrant violation of the law. The law requires every expenditure of over $500 to be put up to public tender in open competition. This was so made to prevent just such gentlemen as the present Superintendent of Public Works and his Minister from running things by day labor at an expense and in a way to suit themselves. Better, Mr. Minister, you let your Superintendent of Public Works go, and let the mechanics of the town have a show to compete, and you will gain support and give the country an honest job for less money.

A written decision of the Supreme Court has set its seal of approval on the correctness and elegance of the following sentence in English: "The question has never been squarely raised heretofore." What would the learned Chief Justice consider slang after that?

Representative McBryde wants education paid for before military. Is he a survival of the monarchy, or does he simply want, as we do, this Government "to be the best Hawaii ever had?" In the meantime it looks as if he wasn't in accord with the Attorney-General and others who wish the reverse.

The Advertiser wants the missionaries to dig—out of their own pockets—to prevent the desecration of the Sawbath by the military going camping and shooting on that day. Can it be? Must we pay to prevent the breaking of that Sawbath by the working man which we only break through our Chinese cooks and hostlers? Never! There is a Legislature. Let them enact laws providing nobody can do anything on Sunday till he has first received a certificate he has attended service on that day and that secondly he has enough money to hire other people to do it for him. Selah!

And so the Advertiser has found out that Great Britain isn't stealing Venezuela and cutting up didos over Curtis Lyon's remarkable survey maps. Good Heavens! Wasn't the lion's tail twisted enough? Couldn't we get up some more encomiums in the U. S. press on our vigilance and extended knowledge of survey and other missionary matters here? Couldn't we help along the cause of annexation and spurn the British lion some more, in the style of the early twenties and thirties, when the missionary first arrove on these paradises for their sons? No, because, unfortunately, Sir Vincent Barrington, "a representative Briton of Venezuela"—whatever hybrid that may be—won't have it. And so Curtis and his maps subside, and the Advertiser takes back water, and the Venezuelans and the British go on just as if the Advertiser and Lyons had never existed.

Our attention has been called to the fact that the non-publication of the Supreme Court decision in the recent Wailuku water rights controversy is solely to reasons of expediency and economy. The decision will be published in Vol. 9 of the Supreme Court decisions which is now in the hand of the printers and which shortly will be issued. The decision to which we have referred on several occasions is very lengthy and its publication in a newspaper would cause an unnecessary and unwarranted expenditure. THE INDEPENDENT desires to state that our repeated requests to see the decision referred to published were not caused through any ill-feeling or to cast unjust reflections on the Supreme Court. The decision is of vast importance, it has created great dissatisfaction amongst the contestants and we believe it is open to criticism by legal and lay men alike. For those reasons we were impatient to have the decision in full; now we are perfectly ready to wait until volume 9 is issued and obtainable.

The special session of the Legislature has been together for one month. When, under the monarchy, was less work done, more bills revised, referred and rejected during this short month? Besides passing appropriations of money that does not exist, for objects that are not needed, the Legislature has done absolutely nothing. A regular session is supposed according to the constitution to last two months only. How long is the term of a special session?

When the Constitution was made it was intended that the Executive should have, as in England and her colonies, full control over all money bills and all expenditures of money. The present Senate and even the House seem to think very differently. They have simply mauled the proposed Appropriation bills into such shape that "even their own mother wouldn't know them." And the police department seems to be the the cause of most of it, as also does Mr. Rowell's department, which seems to excite frantic enquiries as to its want of preparation of every kind of information which the Legislative wants and the public needs.

The Advertiser once said "Prices rule men not principles." It now insults the Conservative party in England by levelling them down to a similar standard to that practised by the Castle combine. In relation to home rule it says they will change their minds and bring in such a bill and then it says quoting from the N. Y. Nation: "Of course their home rule bill would be safe and honorable, of a kind to bind the empire together, and not the mad revolutionary thing that the Gladstonians had affrighted the country with. Fair names and grave excuses could easily be found in plenty if a political exigency should compel the Conservative leaders to take to blessing what they had been banning for ten years."

"Bill Smith" has revived the Kerosene Oil Bill. Is there any other corpse he wants to tackle He thinks because years ago oil under a hundred degrees was taken out, and we didn't have any big fire till 1886, Chinatown is always going to be so. There was a Volunteer Fire Department then, Billy.

One of the most remarkable features in the present conduct of government business is the fact that the employee must spend his money only in certain stores. Boots, clothes, anything in fact, in no case can be of such fine quality or such low price except where the luna orders. But, unfortunately, some of the men are married. And their wives want to choose their own emporiums to deal with. And they do To what small tricks are our rulers descending when they force a man to spend his hard earned money and have his little savings discounted in this way. Finance, isn't it?

It cannot be denied that the war cloud which hangs over the world at present is getting darker and darker. It is a historical fact that the end of each century has always been fraught with bloodshed and strife, internally as well as externally. The great powers of Europe today are making and unmaking alliances of all kinds. The fact is that diplomacy to-day is using every means to postpone the day when the crash must come and gain time for the different countries to prepare themselves for the gigantic struggle which will and must take place before the present generation dates its letters in the year 1900. Turkey is threatened from all sides. The Russian bear is extending his claws and licking his bloodthirsty tongue towards the East and South in anticipation of gain. The passive and cold brother nations who inhabit the Scandinavian peninsula are now glaring ferociously ready to spring at each other's throats. Germany, under its impetuous, indiscreet imperial master, is drifting into the deceptive maelstrom of conquest, and war, in which all past experience, all knowledge gained through the horrors of war are forgotten, and where only false sentiment and sham patriotism are ruling.

And while the giants get ready for the great war their leaders have realized one thing, and that is, that no army will have a show, no militia a chance, except provided with the indispensable bicycle. And no wonder that the monarchial countries of Europe prefer the "Monarch" to any other kind, and supply their "wheeling cavalry" with that favorite brand.

We have watched proceedings in the great countries with a great deal of care, and we have secured the sole agency for Hawaii of the Monarch Cycle. We have realized that, not alone a large stock is necessary, but that a workshop, in which all needed repairs can be done is in the interest of our patrons, and we have established one above our stores on Fort street. This "bicycle infirmary" will attend to any "sickness" which the wheel may meet through accident or lack of care. Our prices are far below veterinary figures. We fix the Monarchs sold by us at cost price if ever they should need it. We have everything on hand and have secured the services of a most experienced bicycle man, whose work we guarantee.

As the bicycle is not only of advantage in war but love, we wish to call the attention of the young boys and girls who have to spend their vacations in Honolulu, that we have wheels just suitable for them. If daddy can't send them to the country for a trip—or buy them a bow-wow—let them ask him for a Monarch. It will give more pleasure and last much longer than even a volcano trip.

The different wise men of the Legislature who shipped last week for their homes on the other islands have returned to town.

Major and Mrs. Wodehouse and Misses Wodehouse, Governor Cleghorn and Minister Castle and family will leave in the Warrimoo.

This is the last week of N. S. Sachs' Clearance sale; last week for bargains; don't miss this opportunity of getting goods at reduced prices. *

One of the usual fights over water between Chinese and natives took place at Nuuanu last Saturday. No serious injury was done, and an arrest made.

The concert to be given at Kaumakapili in the 30th inst. for the benefit of the destitute families of the political prisoners should have a full attendance.

The farewell of the Rev. L. E Schneider preacher at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday was attended by a large audience. The reverend gentleman will leave by the Mariposa.

Allan Hutchinson left on the Australia for a two-weeks' trip to San Francisco to get sittings from C. R. Bishop for a bust to be placed in the Kamehameha Schools.

The Matilda did not get away on Saturday. Some of the crew got a spree and were locked up. The men were released yesterday and the vessel departed in the morning.

Dr. Herbert's front yard was used by a drunken Hawaiian on Saturday as a bed. The man was removed by a policeman. The doctor shouldn't make his lawn look so inviting.

The new woman intends to abandon "fuss and feathers." She won't do it if she calls at the store of L. B Kerr and inspects his selected stock of Feathers, Flowers and Hats. *

A native woman was thrown out of her brake on Beretania street on Saturday evening. She was not seriously injured. A passer by stopped the horse and prevented a run away.

Company D defeated comapny E at the target shoot last Saturday. The score was 406 to 400. A banquet was given in the evening by the defeated team under the supervision of caterer Chapman.

Ladies cry for it, girls demand it and the little kids howl for dresses of Silk Striped Challies. There are still some yards left of this fashionable material at the store of L. B. Kerr on Queen street. *

The marriage of Miss Myra Mott-Smith and James B. Thomas was solemnized at the residence of the bride on Nuuanu street by the Rev. Alex. Mackintosh on Saturday last. Only the immediate family party was present.

The Sons of St. George will hold one of their usual pleasant socials at their hall on Fort street, on Monday evening, July 22. Tickets (limited in number to fifty) to admit lady and gentleman $1, are to be had at the Golden Rule Bazaar. *

Man—depraved man—now wants to be well-dressed. Let him go down to Queen street and select a piece of goods intended to make a most becoming and fashionable suit and his object is gained. L. B. Kerr furnishes the material. *

Mrs. Frank Krueger was hit in the face by a foul ball at the baseball game last Saturday. The ball went over the wire netting and struck the lady in the face. Mrs. Krueger received a very painful bruise and was compelled to return home at once.

Several yachts were cruising around Saturday and Sunday. The yachtsmen claim that they were shark fishing but as no sharks were caught it is difficult to understand how they know it. Thurston, Hatch, Jack Atkinson and other diplomats were among the fishermen. The Bonnie Dundee was the best as usual.

A. V. Gear met with a painful accident on Saturday while riding his bicycle. The handle bar slipped and Gear was thrown to the ground. He fortunately caught on his hands and thereby escaped, more serious injury but his hands were badly lacerated by the pebbles on the road.

CRAW FISHING.

Judge Kalua of Maui Is an Expert.

Among the many peculiar actions of the Dole administration since the Stevens-Wilts combination put them in power, none has been more surprising than the appointment of John W. Kalua as Circuit Judge for Maui.

The gentleman in question is well-known to all Kamaainas. He is also well-known to Mr. Dole, and especially to Attorney-General Smith. Even Minister Castle knows him pretty well, and A. F. Judd simply cannot be told anything new about his "colleague" on Maui.

The kamaainas know John as a hail fellow well-met; a hospitable friend and an eloquent, fiery demagogue, faithful to no party and not over scrupulous in his political affiliations. The officials above named know him as a——but why go on? Suffice that they know him and considered him the most proper, most suitable and very best man to hold the most important office on Maui in the gift of the Government. THE INDEPENDENT believed that it knew—with and without the blue ribbon as circumstances may call for—but according to latest reports we now know him as a full-fledged crawfish.

The learned judge had been unable for some time to show his authority, and like all little tyrannical souls he revolted. On July 6th he wanted to get rid of his clerk, Mr. G. Armstrong, an old and respected gentleman, who has served as clerk of the Court with Geo. Richardson, A. N. Kepoikai and Kalua. Mr. Armstrong needs no endorsement. He was simply the victim of Kalua's inclination to boss—nobody who knows Kalua will admit that he knows anything about the clerk's business—and a job had presumably to be given to some pet of the judge, with or without the blue ribbon.

Well, on the 6th Mr. Armstrong found on his desk a written notification from the Circuit Judge, in which he was told that from the end of the month his services would not be required. Mr. Armstrong, who is a staunch supporter of the Government, and who has many friends on Maui did not let the grass grow under his feet, and on the 11th of July the pressure of the citizens' guard on Maui and of the Honolulu Government had become sufficiently strong to force the independent judge to do the crawfish act and withdraw his request of resignation. It is due to the judge to say that he did'nt like it worth a cent, but he now admits that he doesn't own the world altogether.

But, says our correspondent, there was a disagreeable result to the humiliation of His Honor. After having recalled his letter to Armstrong he fortified himself sufficiently, and then proceeded, escorted by the Rev. Kapu, to Kula where he attended the wedding feast at David Edredge's house. The ride was long and dry. The judge felt small, when he departed from Wailuku, but he grew bigger and bigger the closer he came to his destination in Kula. After having got the dust out of his throat he felt once more like a king of Maui, and even Baldwin, his main proprietor, would have been snubbed if he had been around. He wasn't, though, so the great judge proceed to snub the "governor" of Kahoolawe. He assumed the attitude of a certain Honolulu colonel and threatened the "governor" with arrest because he looked like a demnition royalist (hic). The "governor," whose vocabulary has not been diminished through his stay at Kahoolawe, used it to the fullest extent, and finally invited the judge to step outside and have a judicial head put on for once. The court capitulated immediately and instead of entering into a cold clammy fisticuff apologized and crawfished into more hot—pleasant gin.

And this is the way in which Maui has gained a craw-fish. Long live the Republic and its servants!

An Excursion.

Niu is a most beautiful place and has been the scene of many an excellent and most enjoyable picnic. The excursion to this haven of repose was enjoyed by a number of gay boys and their friends yesterday. The party secured many fish and more crabs and returned to town in time for morning prayers. Richard is himself again, says Bill Shakespeare and we also.

One more game and the Unknowns become the champions of the season.

ED. THE INDEPENDENT:—

F. E. Willard in the course of her article in the Advertiser headed "Society and Society Woman" says: "The time is coming when receptions will bring the rich and poor side by side, and no drawing room will be too fine for the honest workingman and his family to enter, that they may greet the princely friends who have loved them and sought for them that justice, which is the highest form of philanthropic endeavor." Yes, that time may come when all parties are dead and their souls migrated to the planet Venus, there to dwell forever! Miss Willard, must be getting on the brink of her dotage. TEMPERATE.

Don't Talk to the Baby.

"What, not talk to my baby!" exclaimed the young mother, who sat holding her three-months old baby, and chattering to it with the fond foolishness of which young mothers are capable.

"No, my dear; don't talk to him so much, not nearly so much," replied the older woman. "Dear as he is, you must not forget how delicate in every way a tiny baby is."

The young mother was sobered but not convinced. "How can it possibly hurt him?" she asked. "He cannot understand me, and I do so love to see him smile and answer my talk with his happy look."

"Which proves that he does understand, and in his way replies to your loving talk: and it is that which is the strain. You take beautiful care to feed the baby with the greatest exactness and to keep him clothed daintily and comfortably, and that is right. His brains, however, are just as weak and undeveloped as is his body. What his small mind needs most is rest, and when you talk to him the tax on his mentality is beyond its strength. It is like hurrying the unfolding of a rose by pulling the leaves of the bud apart.

"Of course all babies are not so sensitive, but I know of a little six-months baby, a little girl, who has been very ill of serious brain trouble wholly brought on by the continued attentions of a large and admiring circle of friends proud of an unusually bright baby. Another baby girl of eighteen months began to droop, apparently for no reason; nothing helped her, though much was tried. The puzzled physician instituted careful inquiry, and found that she had been coaxed to dance a little each day, because 'it was so cute to see her.' An immediate stopping of the practice, with rest and quiet, restored her to health again. A young babe cannot be kept too much like a little animal, let him sleep and eat, and eat to sleep again, keeping him in cool, well ventilated rooms, and not too much in strong light, either of the sun or artificial light.

"Be advised early and let your baby alone. Let him grow naturally and not by any forcing process. One more don't. Don't send him to ride on noisy streets, under the elevated roads, or along the trolley or cable lines. Those are not nerve-soothing places for an outing to an adult, much less to a tender, delicate baby."—N. Y. Times.

Sans Souci.

The most lovely spot on Oahu is Sans Souci. This favorite seaside resort, which has been immortalized by the pen of Robert L. Stevenson, who resided there for months, is only four miles from Honolulu and within easy reach of the tramcars. The surroundings and bathing at this famous resort are superior to anything found in the Hawaiian Islands. Cottages and board can be obtained on easy terms. The table set by the manager is better than any offered here at other hotels. For picnics, bathing parties and outings the best accommodation can be secured by giving notice to the manager.
