BUSINESSMEN FIND CITY NEEDS URGENT

BELT ROAD WORK PROVING COSTLY

Protest Is Cabled To Capitol

Emphatic protest against the proposed modification of the Federal quarantine regulations affecting Hawaii, and the consequent opening of this port to grave danger of yellow fever, was cabled to Washington this afternoon by the Civic Federation. The cabled protest followed a largely attended meeting of the federation held at noon in Public Service Association headquarters, at which Dr. W. C. Hobdy presented a resolution that was ordered cabled entire to the national capitol.

The danger of the yellow fever menace was emphasized strongly in a vigorous speech by Dr. Hobdy and the meeting was unanimous in its protest. When the resolutions were presented, W. R. Castle seconded them and J. Green also seconded. Dr. Hobdy after reading the resolutions declared that Honolulu will be in peril from yellow fever every month of the year and that an epidemic here would injure the city and Territory beyond computation.

By vote of the meeting the following resolutions were ordered cabled, to be followed by letters to the secretary, Judge S. M. Ballou, representative of the sugar planters, and a letter also to Delegate Kuhio:

Whereas, the stegomyia calopus is the sole means of communicating yellow fever, and

Whereas, this mosquito is universally distributed throughout this city, and

Whereas this port is, on account of its latitude, infectible with yellow fever throughout the entire year, and

Whereas, because of these facts, an epidemic of yellow fever would be more lasting and more distructive to us than to any other city in the United States, therefore,

Be it resolved, that the Honorable, the Secretary of the Treasury be requested to enforce at this port the "special regulations on account of yellow fever" (U. S. quarantine regulations, Oct. 1910) that are prescribed for and enforced at the various mainland ports along the Gulf of Mexico.

TWO ARRESTS FOR POOR POI

Two more Chinamen were arrested this morning on warrants sworn out by the food commissioners department in connection with the selling of poi that did not come up to the standard.

As was stated in the Bulletin yesterday afternoon the commissioner was working on some samples and the arrests are the outcome of his investigations.

BAND AT YOUNG ROOF GARDEN

The Territorial band under the leadership of Captain Berger, will give a moonlight concert at the Alexander Young Hotel roof garden this evening.

Captain Berger has selected a pleasing program of melodies for the delectation of those who attend this concert.

The Hawaiian Women's club will meet at the home of Mrs. H. J. Auld, at 7:30 Friday evening.

CITIZENS CALLED TO COOPERATE IN HEALTH CAMPAIGN

"The demand for improving sanitary conditions emphasizes the necessity of responsible citizens taking a greater interest in politics and of turning out at the next election and seeing that honest and competent men are put into office who will properly and judiciously expend the public funds. It is useless to sit back and talk about the error of ever instituting county and municipal government here. * * * The only sensible plan will be to improve present conditions by seeing that the proper men are put into public office."—President Spalding of the Chamber of Commerce.

Sanitary conditions in Honolulu are such as to demand adequate action from the next Legislature, and to prepare for such action the citizens of Honolulu must go to the polls and send good men into office.

This is the declaration made by President E. I. Spalding of the Chamber of Commerce this morning, as the result of the first "seeing Honolulu" trip, made by business men yesterday afternoon under escort of officials of the Board of Health.

President Spalding said this morning that a great amount of additional sewerage must be put into the district west of Nuuanu street, and that the board, handicapped now by lack of any funds whatever with which to meet the demands for health protection, must be furnished means to carry out its plans for improvement. He emphasizes that it is up to the voters of Honolulu to see that the best men possible are put in charge of spending the public money, and that the public works of the city must be looked after intelligently.

In the party that made the tour yesterday were President Spalding, B. F. Dillingham, W. G. Smith, A. N. Campbell, G. P. Wilder and George W. Smith, escorted by President Pratt of the Board of Health, Dr. Shepherd, Secretary Mott-Smith, Senator A. F. Judd and Chief Sanitary Inspector Charlock. Dr. Pratt was the official guide of the party, and some of the things he showed the business men opened their eyes.

"The trip brought forcibly to our attention the insanitary conditions existing in various parts of the city and which are menaces to the health of the people," said Mr. Spalding. "We were particularly impressed with the large amount of wet lands lying only a few minutes' walk or ride from the postoffice and the heart of the city.

SUPERVISORS' LATEST ORDER IS CLEAN FOOD BEGINNING SATURDAY

Another ultimatum has been handed out by the supervisors on the troublous question of making conditions sanitary at the public market.

This time it is an announcement that dealers not only at the market but all over the city generally must prepare to keep meat, fish, fruits and vegetables clean beginning with Saturday morning next, or suffer the consequences. It is hinted that as an alternative to obeying the law, arrest and possible trial before the courts of justice is in store for offenders.

As stated some time ago, the supervisors have given up the idea of trying to make the dealers screen all of the foodstuffs displayed for sale, and will impose only the one condition that food must be kept clean and free from flies. Whether this is done by screens, electric fans or ti-leaves waved by Oriental arms is left to the discretion, energy and financial means of the dealers, but the supervisors say that they will make the dealers keep the flies off or go to jail.

Supervisor Frank J. Kruger, chairman of the health committee of the board, and Supervisor McClellan made a tour of inspection of the various shops the other day and were astonished to find out that the dealers had been given no notice that they must keep their food free from flies.

"It looks as if the inspectors have not tried to carry out orders, and unless they show signs of getting busy, we are going to make a shake-up," says Supervisor Kruger. "Beginning next Saturday morning, the dealers must obey the law or we will have them arrested."

Tomorrow evening at a meeting of the board an ordinance making it obligatory to keep meat and fish free from dirt and flies is to be introduced. It is one of the long series of like bills that have been drafted, talked over and some of them passed.

COUNTRY SCHOOLS OVERFULL, DOUBLE SHIFTS ARE WORKING

Conditions of overcrowding in the schools are gradually being settled up, according to Superintendent of Public Instruction Willis T. Pope, who, with City Engineer Guy Gere, paid a visit to most of the important outside centers yesterday.

In several instances an attempt will be made to carry through this year with the buildings they have at hand and by working a double shift. That is to say, one teacher will use a classroom in the morning with one set of children and another will occupy it during the afternoon with another set. Plans will be drawn up for the new buildings that are wanted, and the whole matter put up to the city fathers to thrash out.

At the Kiolani school there is a hospital building that can be turned to account. It has three or four rooms and will take up all the overflow. Conditions at Pearl City are good. There is no overcrowding and matters will go along smoothly.

At Waipahu the situation is bad. They have one class being held out under a tree, two more along the verandas, and another class is working in a room in a private house. Although conditions are bad there, Mr. Pope has decided that it would only be folly to ask for any more rooms to be built. This has been done on two occasions before, with the result that when school started again there had been such an increase in the number of pupils that the accommodation was not nearly large enough.

As an alternative he has arranged

Strike Is Near On R. R.

(Associated Press Cable.)

NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 28.—Officials of the Harriman line have refused the demands of the affiliated shopmen's unions and a great strike seems inevitable. G. W. Kline, international president of the blacksmiths, says that the shopmen will strike Saturday and Monday and that 35,000 carmen, machinists, blacksmiths and sheet metal workers will be involved. Seven thousand special police are being sworn in on the Pacific division of the lines and stockades are being put up in various cities.

PRATT WILL REPORT TO HEALTH BOARD TODAY

Regular routine matters and President Pratt's report as to the work that has been done during the week will be the main matters to come up for consideration by the members of the Board of Health at their meeting this afternoon.

This will be the usual weekly meeting of the board, and there is practically nothing new to come up before it with the exception of some endorsements of petitions for relations of people sent to Molokai during the past week to go down there as helpers.

No report has been heard from Chief Inspector Bowman of Hawaii, but President Pratt expects to hear by the mail Saturday. Mr. Bowman's wife died last week and he thinks that this has naturally upset his plans. He hopes then to have some definite information as to the cause of the outbreak of typhoid on the Big Island.

Robert B. Marshall, chief geographer of the geological survey, was appointed chairman of the American delegation to the geographic congress to be held in Rome.

A verdict that August Jacobson did not commit suicide but was brutally murdered was signed by the coroner's jury. The body of Jacobson, a New Sweden, Maine, farmer, was found behind his house on the morning of June 12.

The Denver Board of Supervisors have voted to erect a monument in honor of Ralph Johnstone, the aviator who was killed at the meet at Overland park Nov. 17th last.

Mrs. Russel Sage is to be requested to pay an inheritance tax on all her Minnesota lands, held under contract of sale, amounting to nearly $600,000.

CHARGES MADE AGAINST FREAR ARE HELD SECRET

Delegate Kuhio's open declaration of war upon Governor Frear and the exclusive announcement in the Bulletin yesterday that written charges have been laid before the Secretary of the Interior by the Delegate, were the principal topics of conversation among business men and politicians today, and on all sides it is agreed that Kuhio and the Governor are in a finish fight.

Beyond confirming the Bulletin's dispatch from its Washington correspondent, announcing the fact that the charges have been formally made, the Delegate declines to discuss the matter at all. He would not consent to make public the nature of the charges.

It is said that one of the charges has to do with the Governor switching money from a fund specifically appropriated for one purpose by the Legislature to another fund, and another with administering the land laws to benefit the wealthy class, but no confirmation of this can be secured.

Governor Frear this morning also refused to talk about the matter. He says he has not received a copy of the charges and knows nothing about their nature.

The Republican Territorial central committee, it was learned this morning, will take no hand in the matter now, but it is more than probable that it will be discussed yet. Chairman Cooper said this morning that the committee will eventually have to take cognizance of the row between the two party leaders, but that nothing will now be done. The relations between Kuhio and the committee have not been entirely close of late, and it is stated that the committee was not apprised in any way of the Delegate's preparations for a fight.

It is political gossip that at least one of the Oahu Senators knows a good deal about the charges, but this has not been given full confirmation.

Governor Frear said today that he has no knowledge of any Federal agent here investigating conditions, but, on the other hand, Republican leaders intimate that the agent is now busy and that he is a member of the Department of the Interior.

RAPID TRANSIT MAMMOTH ENGINE INSURES MORE POWER AND SERVICE

Awaiting but a comparatively few finishing touches and a proper adjustment of bearings, a mammoth new engine which for the past four months has been under installation at the power plant of the Honolulu Rapid Transit Company, is about ready for service.

Manager C. G. Ballentyne under whose general supervision the powerful piece of machinery has been installed with the assistance of Chief Engineer Robert Menaugh of the plant, will breathe a sigh of relief when the big engine is "turned over" for the first time either this evening or tomorrow.

Manager Ballentyne predicts that with all parts adjusting themselves and working down smoothly, the new engine can safely be placed in regular service by the middle of October.

A visit to the Rapid Transit power house this morning showed the new Hoover, Owens and Rentschler, Hamilton Corliss engine receiving touches here and there and resplendant in shinging paint.

Means a Fifty Per Cent Increase in Power.

"The installation of this new engine means a fifty per cent increase in power," stated Manager Ballentyne to a Bulletin representative. "Our old plant, and one that is now supplying the system with power consists of three engines of 340 horse power each or a total of 1020 horse power. These machines are commonly known as the tandem compound type, that is, one cylinder is located behind the other. The new engine which we hope very soon to have in commission is better known as a cross compound type of machine.

"Against a plant with a 1020 horse power, we have in the new engine 1500 horse power, or an increase of fifty per cent over the the present installation. The new engine is not only capable of taking care of the line load itself but will insure at least fifty per cent increase over the present car service

"It is the intention to make the new machine the main station engine. The old engines to be held in reserve and as an auxiliary to the plant.

"The new boilers two in number, are of the Sterling Water Tubular

W. R. CASTLE HITS ONE NAIL

W. R. Castle hit one nail squarely on the head at a meeting of the Civic Federation today discussing the modification of the Federal quarantine laws by which Honolulu is threatened with yellow fever infection from the coming here of Japanese liners from the Central and South American coasts.

"In view of what I have heard here today," said he, "I feel like abandoning my attitude on the suspension of the coastwise law, for it's our Japanese friends that have put up this job on us, and there's no question about it."

Mr. Castle may be looked for now as an advocate of maintaining the coastwise laws.

KOREAN IS NOT GUILTY

After a retirement of half an hour, the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty in the case in which a Korean named Chane Ik Hai was charged with murder before Judge Henry E. Cooper in the criminal court.

The trial has lasted for several days, and over twenty witnesses were examined. City Attorney John W. Cathcart prosecuted for the Territory, and Attorneys Lorrin Andrews and Dickey appeared on behalf of the defense.

Governor Frear stated this morning that the matter of the Waihole water rights question would be finished in a few days. He took the matter up this morning and will go right through with it.

Belt Road Figures High

Oahu's first belt road section is going to cost a fortune. In fact, it is so costly that local contractors say the bids should be readvertised because the county cannot afford to spend roughly $16,000 a mile on its roads.

Bids were received by the belt road commission up to noon today on the Heeia beach five mile strip. The bids were not opened until two o'clock this afternoon but after they were all in the contractors got together and told what each had bid.

Here they are:

Honolulu Construction & Draying Company	$109,250
Hustace-Peck Company	83,700
E. P. Chapin	91,462
Theo. Bauman	88,950
L. M. Whitehouse	93,518
Duncan & Hardy	85,594
Lord-Young Co.	79,710
John Wilson	79,367

The Honolulu Construction company offers to complete the work by January 31, 1913, Lord-Young Company by September 1, 1912; Chapin, for the Concrete Construction company, by October 31, 1912; Duncan & Hardy in 225 days; Bauman by September 30, 1912; Whitehouse by October 31, 1912, and Hustace-Peck company by July 1, 1912.

The commission opened the bids in the mayor's office at 2 o'clock. Two of the bids were quickly rejected, not being accompanied by certified checks as required by the commission, the bids rejected being those of Duncan & Hardy and the Hustace-Peck company.

Marston Campbell moved that Wilson's bid be accepted as the lowest, but there was no second to his motion.

E. J. Lord drew attention to the fact that the bid of the Lord-Young company offers to complete the work in three months' less time than Wilson, and stated that this should be considered in awarding the work. After a little discussion the commission went into a long executive session.

ORDER STOPS TIMBER CUTTING

An injunction has been issued by Circuit Judge S. B. Kingsbury of Maui staying the cutting of timber woods by the present lessees of the Ahupuaa of Waiohuli and Keokea, Maui. According to report today, about 16,000 acres of the lands are overgrown with kiewa trees. It was on account of the cutting of these kiawe trees that Eleanor M. Wilcox and other prospective homesteaders brought the suit in the Second Circuit Court.

A few weeks ago Charles Wilcox, auditor of the county of Maui, came down to Honolulu and retained Lorrin Andrews as attorney for the future homesteaders of the lands. Andrews, after consulting the law, prepared the papers, and last Tuesday A. Murphy, his law partner, went to Wailuku and filed the papers in Judge Kingsbury's court.

This morning Andrews received a wireless from Attorney Murphy that Judge Kingsbury had signed the order.

The land in question was leased to William Cornwell on January 12, 1891, and the lease will expire on the last day of October. After that the land will go into the possession of the homesteaders.

After a chase which started in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., two men who gave their names as Ignatz Divack and Dominick Goslenski, were arrested by the police at Milwaukee, charged with forging a large number of checks.

The hearing of the evidence in connection with the murder charge against the Korean Chan Ik Hai is expected to finish up sometime during today. The defendant will finish giving his testimony this morning. Yesterday he stated that he saw the deceased fighting with Yee Man Jo.

HARDWICK DOES NOT BLAME SUGAR TRUST

SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 13.—The high price of sugar is not the result of manipulation on the part of the American Sugar Refining Company, but is the direct result of lack of production of raw sugars, according to Congressman Hardwick, chairman of the Congressional committee investigating the so-called sugar trust.

"The fact that the Federal Sugar Refining Company, the opponent of the alleged sugar trust, has been putting up the price of its product to a figure even greater than that of the American Sugar Refining Company shows that the increased cost is from a lack of production," said Hardwick today.

"While my committee will investigate the added cost of sugar when we meet again in October, I have no idea that we will find it comes from the efforts of the 'trust' to make the people pay more for sugar than it is worth. The Cuban crop is short, the European beet sugar crop is short and so is the American beet sugar crop. It is natural that there should be an advance."

About eighty per cent. of the votes of the Federation of Illinois Central Employes have been received by the federation, and 75 per cent. favor a strike.

The Burley Tobacco crop of Kentucky, which last year was estimated to be 300,000,000 pounds, will not amount to more than 50,000,000 this year, it is believed.

THE AMERICAN-HAWAIIAN LINE ACQUIRE TWO MORE VESSELS

The Old Reliable Myra, Once a Familiar Figure In the Pacific, To Fly the New House Flag—Mongolia Due This Afternoon—Honolulan and Santa Rita Depart From the Port—Several Inter-Island Steamers Sail Tomorrow—Sierra in the Morning.

Business with the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company is said to have increased by leaps and bounds within the past twelve months, necessitating the acquirement of additional tonnage.

Word has been received here that the American-Hawaiian has closed a deal whereby the well known steamship Melville Dollar, one of the famous "Dollar Line" boats will soon fly the American-Hawaiian house flag.

The big steamship company is also reported to have secured a charter in the old familiar steamship Lyra, which for years was a factor in Pacific shipping and on more than one occasion, visited Honolulu during the stirring time following the American occupation of the Philippines.

For some time the Lyra, together with the Hyades, now a Matson freighter, and the Pleiades were operated by the Boston Tow Boat Company in a freight service between Seattle, Tacoma and Japan and the Philippines.

With the addition of the Melville Dollar and the Lyra, the American-Hawaiian will have a fleet of vessels in the Pacific second to none. This company have at least ten large freighters in the Western ocean. The Melville Dollar is a three thousand ton vessel while the Lyra is rated at nearly six thousand tons. The latter steamship has been engaged in a service on the Atlantic and is to be brought around within a very short time.

News has been received that the California-Atlantic Steamship Company has increased its service to handle the increasing offerings of freight between this coast, New York and the middle west.

It has chartered the steamer Portland in New York and will bring it to the coast, the steamer Tampico, which is now loading in San Francisco, and the steamer Seward. The latter was chartered from the Alaska Steamship Company. The Portland has a cargo capacity of 3500 tons, and the Seward about 4500 tons.

Transport Dix Departs for Manila.

The United States army transport Dix with several hundred horses and mules was dispatched for Manila by the way of Guam at nine o'clock this morning. The departure of the Dix was attended without any undue excitement though several attempts were made by the stowaway gentry to gain the decks of the vessels and a free passage to the Philippines.

Schooner Searles Is Ready for Sea.

The lumber brought to the port in the American schooner Robert Searles has been discharged and that vessel has been hauled to the quarantine wharf for a fumigation. The vessel is being made ready for sea and it is the intention to dispatch the Searles for Puget Sound this afternoon. The vessel will sail in ballast.

Manchuria Here This Afternoon.

To last accounts the Pacific Mail liner Manchuria from Hongkong via Japan ports should arrive off the harbor at four o'clock this afternoon and be alongside the Alakea wharf by six o'clock if all goes well with her many passengers on board. The vessel is to discharge 1250 tons Oriental cargo. About sixty passengers have been booked for the Coast in the vessel which is expected will sail for San Francisco on or about ten o'clock tomorrow morning.

Sierra Report.

S. S. Sierra, at Sea, Sept. 21, 1911 8 p. m.—528 miles from port, 78 cabin passengers, 20 steerage passengers, 147 sacks mail and Wells Fargo Express matter. Will be off port early Friday morning. Will dock at the Oceanic dock, foot of Fort street.

Mail to Await Sierra Mails.

The Inter-Island steamer W. G. Hall will be held for dispatch for Kauai ports until Friday evening at five o'clock pending the arrival of the Oceanic liner Sierra from San Francsico with later mainland mail and express matter.

Mauna Loa Taking Large Cargo.

There is a large cargo going into the Inter-Island steamer Mauna Loa for dispatch at noon tomorrow, calling at Kona and Kau ports on Hawaii. The vessel will depart with a fair list of cabin and deck passengers.

Payne Talks of New Liners.

Keen interest is attached to the promises made by Manager W. T. Payne, of the Pacific service of the Canadian-Pacific Steamship Company who in an announcement made at Yokohama, Japan, among other things has this to say concerning the new liners now ordered for the Pacific.

"The Canadian Pacific officials have contemplated for some time past, changes to improve our trans-Pacific service," he said. "The increase in freight and passenger traffic, even during the last few months, has made imperative the securing of increased transportation facilities.

"Plans which have been under advisement for some time resulted recently in the awarding of contracts to the Fairfield Shipbuilding Company, of Glasgow, one of the famous firms along the Clyde, for the immediate construction of two new boats for the Canadian-Oriental trade.

"The vessels, which will also be known as "Empress," are specified as boats of about 15,000 tons register; they will be 570 feet long and have a speed of eighteen knots.

"In size a trifle larger than the Atlantic "Empresses," they will have accommodation for 200 first-cabin passengers and 6,000 to 17,000 tons of freight each. The engines will be of 16,000 to 17,000 horse-power, and the fuel used will be oil, although coal-burning equipment will be installed for emergency use. The new liners will materially decrease the running time from Vancouver to Yokohama.

"A feature of the saloon accommodation will be the size and equipment of the state-rooms, none of which will contain more than two berths. Several will be fitted with only one berth, and there will also be suites on the vessels for private parties. There will also be increased protection of the shelter and promenade decks against wind and spray."

The new Pacific "Empresses" while of 500 tons more register than the Atlantic "Empresses" will be the same length as the Empress of Ireland Empress of Britain. These vessels are 573 feet long, with a beam of 65.6 feet. The largest steamer now in the trans-Pacific trade is the Minnesota, of the Hill Line, which is of 13,324 tons register. This vessel is slow in comparison with the present "Empress" steamers, however. The "Empresses," which have been in service for over two decades, have been found too small in their freight capacity for the trade, their carrying power being small.

MME. HARRISON MAY SING HERE

Mme. Leonore Gordon Harrison, who made a hit here at the Bijou and the reputation of one of the most pleasing sopranos heard in a long time, may appear in a local concert. She has recently returned from a visit to the volcano, and while in Hilo gave two concerts, assisted by a number of Hilo people in the chorus. Both concerts were great successes.

Mme. Harrison will remain in Honolulu for several days before leaving for the Coast, and during that time will probably appear in some of the songs that have made her famous.

Frank Mauratz, a young Japanese, who was caught at Rockaway beach after a chase that lasted nearly four years, was sent back to Greeley, Colorado, to stand trial for murder.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound Railway has declared a dividend of 2 3-10 per cent. upon the common stock.

George H. Stoops, who for the last 18 years had written a letter every Friday to his aged parents, is dead at Waynesboro, Pa.

REPORT TODAY ON FRUIT FLY

Several important matters are to come up before the meeting of the board of agriculture and forestry to be held at three o'clock this afternoon in the Senate chamber. The special committee who had charge of the investigation of the Mediterranean fruit fly question are to bring in their report on the matter and further consideration is expected to be given in connection with the offer of Eben Low to run about 100 brood mares on the island of Kahoolawe.

The committee who are to report on the fruit fly are reticent as to the nature of their report stating that it will be given out at the meeting today. It is understood, however, that the matter was brought before the Governor yesterday and that he was made cognizant of all the facts they have been able to get hold of.

The matter of Eben Low being allowed to run about 100 brood mares on the island of Kahoolawe is the result of the trip which the Governor and the Land Commissioner have just returned from. The idea is that the mares will spread the algaroba seeds and that they will not do much damage. Low also wants to run about two or three hundred goats for a meat supply. In consideration of these things he is to do certain work for the government such as keeping the records of the rain gauges that were established there and doing other work in connection with the reclamation of the island.

If the board grant the request this afternoon they will be going right back on the action they took in the matter some time ago when it was first brought up before them. At that time they turned it right down.

AIR BRAKES IN GENERAL USE

It is the intention to install air brakes on all double truck cars operated by the Honolulu Rapid Transit company according to Manager C. G. Ballentyne, who announced this morning that at a meeting of the directors of the transportation company, the placing of air brakes was authorized on all large cars operated by the company.

This order means that in addition to King street-Waikiki line, the Hotel street-Kaimuki line and the Beretania-Punahou lines will each be provided with cars fitted with the more speedy and powerful brake.

The air brake which has now been in service on the King street line has been found quite satisfactory. It is said to meet with favor from the motormen while the patrons of the line are assured of a greater degree of safety through its installation on the cars.

TWO BIG EXTRAS ARE ANNOUNCED

Oahu and Honomu directors have decided on big extra dividends, announcement of which was made this morning at the session of the local exchange.

Oahu Sugar company will pay forty-cent extras on October 15, November 15 and December 15, in addition to the twenty-cent regular monthly dividend, bringing the total up to 18 per cent for the year.

Honomu announces a special dividend of $3 on October 5 in addition to the regular of $1.

The dividend announcement stimulated Oahu's stock sales today, stock selling between boards up to $32.50, an advance of half a point. It is considered probable now that the sugar company will finance its plans for the big Koolau irrigation tunnel by a special water company.

It was a slow day generally on the stock market with a little stronger demand than yesterday.

CONFESSES, HE BURNED AUTO.

George Spencer, a local chauffeur, this morning in police court pleaded guilty to a charge of malicious injury, the case being that of the burning of the Cummins touring car, which was mortgaged to the von Hamm-Young company. The case is a peculiar one. Spencer is said to have stated in a confession that the car was burned for the insurance.

The National Waterway Commission decided to explore the route of the proposed canal from Toledo, O., via Fort Wayne, Ind., to Lake Michigan, beginning about November 1st.

with the teachers to double up for this year and do the best they can. He will have plans made for a 12-room school and see if they can not get this put through by next year.

At Ewa the city authorities are arranging for an extra room by fitting up what is a sort of basement so that the extra number can be taken care of.

There is pilikia at Waialua, and the teachers and pupils will have to divide up into shifts there. Arrangements are being made to house 100 of the children in a hall that is close by. This is owned by a hui of natives and they are willing to rent it to the city authorities.

Although the Boys' Industrial School does not come within the scope of the county, they paid a visit there and found that everything was going along well. M. N. Johnson, with two assistants under him, has charge of the educational department and the boys are being looked after in good style. The boys have started on the excavations for the new buildings, and they are also getting the rock crusher which was sent out there into working order. There will be three schoolrooms working during the session, and the benches for one of these are being made in the carpenter's shop that is attached to the institution.

At Kahuku the school building can only accommodate half of the number who want admittance, and the system of double shifts will be worked. A request will also be made for a new building of about six or eight rooms. There is ample land for it to be erected on.

UCHIDA NOT COMING HERE

That Viscount Uchida, the retiring Japanese ambassador in Washington, now Japanese minister of foreign affairs, will not pass through this port is the emphatic statement which Consul-General Uyeno made this morning. Viscount Uchida has already sailed from Seattle for Tokio, Japan, where he will assume the arduous duties of minister of the foreign office.

Consul-General Uyeno was surprised to read in the local newspapers that Viscount Uchida had sailed from San Francisco en route to Japan. He cabled to San Francisco, and as a result of his inquiry received a cable that the new minister of foreign affairs had left Seattle for Japan. The mixup arose evidently owing to an erroneous cablegram.

Uyeno stated also that he received a personal letter from Viscount Uchida saying that he would leave from Seattle.

The House passed a bill authorizing the use of a site on a government reservation in New York harbor for the erection of a bronze statue commemorating the American Indian.

RAPID TRANSIT MAMMOTH ENGINE

variety of 420 horse power each or 840 horse power combined against 750 horse power of the present battery. The boilers are equipped with superheating tubes which will not only provide absolutely dry steam but increase the temperature from eighty to one hundred degrees."

According to Manager Ballentyne, to take care of the increase in temperature it has been found necessary to install an entirely new main steam line of larger capacity. The old boilers are to be connected up with the header later to be removed. All valves, tees fittings of the new line are of cast steel while flanges are of wrought steel, there being no cast iron used in the construction of the steam line.

Engine a Monster.

A brief inspection of the new engine will hardly give one an adequate conception of the mass of steel, iron and brass used in its construction.

A powerful fly wheel weighing one hundred thousand pounds can be driven at a speed of eight revolutions a minute. The engines have a stroke of sixty inches, diameter of high pressure cylinder 28 inches, diameter of low pressure cylinder 56 inches, diameter of fly wheel 20 feet, crank pin dimensions are 10½ inches by 10½ inches, cross head pin dimensions 9½ inches by 9½ inches, main bearing 22 by 40 inches, greatest diameter of shaft at seat of fly wheel 24 inches and this shaft is 21 feet in length.

There is a big auxiliary equipment including a thirty inch inlet Cochrane Oil Separator which is guaranteed to leave not more than ⅛ grain per gallon of oil in the condensed water. There is a Wheeler Admiralty Retangular Surface Condenser containing 2945 square feet of cooling surface and 155 square feet of heating surface.

A Wheeler, Edwards vertical air pump with tail pump attached is also included in the new plant as well as a reheating receiver which is claimed to be the only one installed in the Territory.

This apparatus takes exhaust steam from the high pressure cylinder and reheats it before it enters the low pressure cylinder adding materially to the efficiency of steam entering the cylinders.

Many Safety Appliances.

Appliances to insure the safety of employes have been incorporated in the construction of the new plant. A quick closing valve placed between the steam line and the throttle valve will close automatically thus shutting off all steam from boilers to engine in case that anything goes wrong with the plant, such as the breaking of a governor belt or in event the engine was exceeding a normal speed of eighty revolutions a minute In ordinary cases where such appliance is lacing, it is necessary for an engineer to reach the throttle as quickly as possible, doing so very often at the risk of his life. The installation of the automatic valves obviates the necessity of the engineer at the throttle in a time of danger. All boilers are also equipped with La Grande quick closing valves in case there is a disturbance of five pounds either side of the valve in steam pressure thus saving a fireman the necessity of attempting to close steam valves in case of urgent need.

Where the Juice Comes From.

A General Electric generator with a capacity of 1000 kilowats is directly attached to the shaft of the engine. It is known as the direct current interpole type.

According to rough estimates from Manager Ballentyne, the cost of the new equipment including engine, auxiliaries, generator, switch board, steam line and boilers is approximately ninety thousand dollars.

NOTED SURGEON HERE SOON

Governor Frear received word yesterday that Surgeon H. B. Carter was expected to leave the Coast not later than October 3. In all probability he will catch the Siberia, arriving here on October 10.

Surgeon Carter comes here to act in an advisory capacity to the health department and for sanitary matters generally.

Charles A. Stanton Says Much Interest in 'Frisco In Local Investments.

Charles A. Stanton of the Kaimuki Land Company, says that he can sell half a million dollars worth of real estate in Honolulu within the next year if he were to go to San Francisco and boom it.

"That's how much interest there is in Honolulu and how much confidence San Franciscans have in its future," he says. "They think that the opening of the canal is going to make this city grow faster than any city on the Pacific, and people who are watching the situation believe it, too.

"Every class of Honolulu real estate is in demand. Of course there is always a big demand for beach property, in fact, more of a demand than a supply, but all kinds of residence property is wanted. I believe San Francisco people would invest in residence property here quicker than in their own city.

"Rolph's election is the salvation of San Francisco. It means a tremendous increase in investment and a renewal of all kinds of business. Outside capital will come to San Francisco now with confidence."

SIERRA BRINGS FEW PASSENGERS

The Oceanic steamship Sierra left San Francisco with many empty cabins judging from the wireless report received this morning at the office of C. Brewer and Company.

The unpleasant spectacle of a fine American liner with accommodation for two hundred and twenty-five first class passengers, steaming in the direction of Honolulu with but seventy-eight passengers is one which should serve to convert the most case hardened advocate of coastwise suspension to the error of his way.

The Sierra is due to arrive at her wharf by seven-thirty tomorrow morning. No statement is given concerning the amount of freight for discharge at this port. In addition to 78 cabin the Sierra is reported as bringing 20 steerage passengers. A mainland mail of 147 sacks is due to arrive by the vessel. The Sierra was 528 miles off the port at eight o'clock last night.

Honolulan Away for Island Ports.

Nearly four thousand tons cargo will be discharged at Hilo from the Matson Navigation steamer Honolulan which sailed for the big island at noon today. Two thousand tons freight has been removed from the vessel during her stay at Honolulu. The Honolulan is to sail for San Francisco on Oct. 3rd.

The deer, not the dreamer, breaks
The baleful spell
Which binds with iron hands the earth
On which we dwell.
—Charles Kingsley.

You must have the Bulletin to get the news. The Bulletin gave the people the first and exclusive news on the charges against the Governor by Delegate Kuhio. Getting the news and getting it first is one of the many good reasons for the universal comment that "the Bulletin is the best newspaper in town." Popular and influential with the people, it is naturally a superior medium for progressive business men who advertise.

"SEEING HONOLULU" IS TO BELIEVE.

If you had any lingering doubt of the educational business value of the Bulletin's scheme for "seeing Honolulu" with the health officers as guide and counsel, we would urge that you read the remarks published in this issue of the members of the Chamber of Commerce who spent two hours yesterday afternoon getting acquainted with some facts regarding conditions in the city.

"Seeing is believing" for the busy man of mature years as well as the small boy, and now that the movement toward acquaintance with home surroundings has begun, it should not be considered complete till at least every member of the business organizations has "seen Honolulu."

The practical result of one of these trips is that every right-minded man becomes an aid to the health authorities. He can see what should be done for the protection of the homes of the city, and when the workers of the health department speak to the public on subjects of sanitation, he knows what they are talking about and seconds the motion.

He also knows that all the improvements, pressing though they may be, cannot be made at once. But the man who has been on a "seeing Honolulu"trip is in a position to help intelligently when a timely opportunity offers.

President Spalding of the Chamber of Commerce sums up the duty of the citizen when he says that the conditions one encounters on one of these trips should inspire every man to become an active member of the forces at work to place capable, and reliable men in office.

There's great work to be done in Honolulu and a "seeing Honolulu" trip is a splendid reminder. Take one. The guides and the transportation are at your disposal.

Honolulu has had an awfully dull summer as regards local excitement. It is now about to make up for lost time.

The reported promise of Ray Stannard Baker to hand Hawaii a hot one is something like the charges of the Delegate. We can speak better when all the facts are known.

Delegate Kuhio is very likely to make a favorable impression on the President if it be found that he, an annexed American, has become the most radical American of them all.

What difference does it make who "wrote the charges." President Taft and Secretary Fisher will be guided by the degree of success with which the charges are refuted. They won't go off on tangents.

Admiral Cowles yesterday received officially the information regarding the coming of the fleet in November. This was given to Bulletin readers through our Washington correspondent's cable two weeks ago.

Governor Frear will be like a fighting man with a crippled foot if it be true that he did actually resign on account of the appointment of Judge De Bolt and that the President said he could suit his own convenience.

President Spalding hits the nail on the head when he says that NOW is the time to begin work for a Mayor and Supervisors and elective officers generally who have the capacity to handle present day problems of Honolulu.

We congratulate Mr. Castle on his decision to abandon his position in opposition to the coastwise shipping law. We trust that he will remain in this particular condition of abandonment and bring others with him into the American fold.

If the fruit fly has been the final straw to break the back of the opposition to free garbage for Honolulu, it has not been without some good to Honolulu, though the end would have been more satisfactory if reached by some other means.

Any fool can find enough to complain of and criticise in Honolulu. The men of the hour are the broad-minded citizens who get in and help to make this a better city, who are ready to work with the people as well as tell them what to do.

This contest over the Governorship will of course supply the excitement and create some hard feeling. But it should not be allowed to retard the progress of the work toward making Honolulu a better and a healthier city. Governors are incidental to the affairs of great moment in this Territory.

That was an epoch-making decision of the Supreme Court dealing with the law regarding license fees. Aside from its legal technicalities it shows that the day of policy decisions has passed. That is, decisions are not made to fit with executive policies because someone believes that everything will go to pot if the executive is not upheld.

Germany has decided to accept the latest terms suggested by France. Viewed from a distance this causes one to believe that the failure of the crops in Germany had more influence on the world's affair than is represented by the high price at which the sugars of Hawaii are marketed. Few nations can afford to go into battle when there is serious distress in the homes of the people. Therefore it may be that the pleasant duty of going to war has been handed over to Italy.

San Francisco demonstrated at the primaries what it can do when it once sets itself to the task of redeeming itself. The result is proof of the old saying that government is exactly what the people make it. San Francisco has not gained such a great number of better citizens in the last few years. The average citizen has merely been aroused to do his full duty. The "good citizen" is, in nine cases out of ten, the man to hold responsible for the McCarthys and the Reufs and officials of that ilk who could never show their heads above water if every man entitled to a vote did his duty.

TO OAHU.

Jest a wearyin' fer you—
All the time a-feelin' blue;
Wishin' fer you, queen Oahu.
Wondering, always wondering when
I can start fer home again;
Restless—don't know what to do—
Jest a-wearyin' fer you,
Love Oahu.

EVENING SMILES

Titled noblemen generally fall in love with American heiresses on account of the good figures they have—in their bank books.

"Your honor," began the plaintiff in the divorce suit, "I married a count last summer in New York."

"Divorce denied!" exclaimed the judge. "The judgment of this court is that you shall continue to live with him. The woman who marries for a title is not entitled to a divorce!"

The men who don't get home till three o'clock in the morning, have overlooked a good excuse. Why don't some of them tell their wives that they were drawn on a jury?

CITIZENS CALLED TO COOPERATE

"The trip emphasized the need of a great deal of additional sewerage. We had brought to our attention also the plan of the health authorities for the construction of streets through the wet lands as a sanitary measure.

"It is evident that to condemn these lands would cost a large amount of money, but the health authorities think that when the streets are put through the lands will be in demand for residence purposes and will be filled up."

"Does this seem practicable to you?" Mr. Spalding was asked.

"Yes, I think the plan is a good one and believe it can be carried out," he said.

Nuuanu Stream Road.

"During the trip there was brought to our attention the plan for a road along Nuuanu stream from School street bridge to the Nuuanu bridge, which would make a splendid scenic feature for the Diamond Head side of the stream. This plan was talked over, I remember, by the Central Improvement Club when I was president of the organization, and I believe it should be carried out, both as a sanitary and a scenic improvement measure.

"We found that, generally speaking, no conditions exist that would call for an alarmist outcry, but, on the other hand, the conditions are such as to be a very serious possible menace.

"Very bad, although not emergency, conditions exist in the section from the asylum through to King street, where there are narrow, winding lanes, dwellings all along the way, and the district generally is in a poor sanitary condition, particularly as to sewerage. There is an immense amount of wet farming land here.

"We went to the old Iwilei stockade, and found the necessity for an adequate sewer system there very urgent. At high tide the large cesspool overflows, and I understand that there is not sufficient fall for sewage discharge without pumping.

"Another bad spot frequently traveled over is at the corner of King and Beretania streets, where, owing to some defect in the sewer, it has overflown and the sewage is running by tenement houses.

Funds Urgent Need.

"The whole proposition comes down to a question of finances for bettering the conditions. The entire scheme to be carried through requires a large amount of money. I inquired as to the plans and found that the health officials are not prepared with definite figures and that an estimate only can be given. I should say that half a million dollars at least will be required to carry out the plans for this part of the city, and this is simply a guess.

"The situation is this: Unfortunately the board has no money whatever available at present for carrying out any of these plans. The $1,500,000 from the bond sale, as I understand it, can only be used for cerain specific purposes—the waterworks, certain street improvements and other things, in which these plans are not included. Consequently these trips and visits of business men are undertaken at present in the way of a campaign of education information.

Call to Citizens.

"Together with educational and all other demands for urgent purposes on our revenues, the demand for improving sanitary conditions emphasizes the necessity of responsible citizens taking a greater interest in politics and of turning out at the next election and seeing that honest and competent men are put into office who will properly and judiciously expend the public funds. We have recently had an object lesson in the election of Mr. Rolph, and as someone has said, 'There are more decent men than blackguards in any community, but it has to be an emergency to bring the decent men to the polls.'

"I believe that emergency has arrived in Honolulu.

"It is useless to sit back and talk about the error of ever instituting county and municipal government and complicating the form of government here. The facts are that we have got the county and municipal government and we can apparently only change it now by the extreme measure of sacrificing our right to self-government and accepting government by commission, and the only sensible plan will be to improve present conditions by seeing that the proper men are put into public office."

What Another Man Saw.

"As soon as I had looked over the first place we visited, I said 'I'm convinced right now,' and the rest of it was more of the same thing. All we need to discuss now as far as I am concerned is how to do it." This is what A. N. Campbell said this morning when talking of his "Seeing Honolulu" trip with President Pratt of the Board of Health.

"I feel that any business man who can make the trip that we did and not be satisfied that a great deal of work needs to be done and should be got at as soon as possible—well, there must be something the matter with him.

"Of course, it is a big proposition draining all these lands and opening up the streets, but it must be done. That's obvious. They can count me in to support the program for a safer and more sanitary Honolulu."

Improvement Noticed.

George W. Smith, who was for many years a member of the Board of Health, and especially during the cholera and plague times, said last evening: "I found the situation a thousand per cent. better than it used to be in the old days when we first began to clean up, but, of course, there is a great amount of sanitation work to be done in that district and we are on the right track. It all takes time, community support and money. I shall support sanitation work in the present and future as I have tried to do in the past. Honolulu has a big problem on its hands, and we must all work together in working it out."

Dr. Pratt, president of the Board of Health, was very favorably impressed with the outcome of the trip taken yesterday afternoon, when the sanitary commission of the Chamber of Commerce visited some of the problems in sanitation under the guidance of the members of the health department.

"I think from what I could gather yesterday," he said this morning, "that those who went on the trip yesterday will be able to realize the need for the opening of new streets through some of the wet land cultivation. A trip of this sort will also put them in much closer touch with the whole of the problem."

The tour of the party took in Waikahalulu, which, although it is a beautiful place, is also a very insanitary one. President Pratt showed the members of the party the map and pointed out the proposed new road that is required through there. Camp Three at the rear of Frog lane was inspected, and went into the question of the taro land.

Several other of the more or less important places were passed en route, and the members of the party went home with a new idea as to the problems on sanitation in Hoonlulu.

The Merchants' Association directors may be taken on tour tomorrow.

ARMY TO NUMBER 89,000.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 19.—The United States army during the next fiscal year will number approximately 89,000 officers and men.

Secretary of War Stimson and Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army, before starting on their Western inspection tour, fixed the total strength of the army in making up their estimates. Their plans contemplate an increase of 4000 men. At present the army numbers 76,954 enlisted men, 5732 Philippine Scouts and 5003 commissioned officers.

During the extra session of Congress there were thirty-five presidential nominations which failed of confirmation by the senate. Three nominations were rejected.

VOLCANIC COLLAPSE AT TANNA.

Some excitement was occasioned at Tanna, in the New Hebrides, while the island steamer Makambo was there, owing to a volcanic collapse. The natives were greatly alarmed, as the southeastern side of the volcano had fallen in and broken the crater, which had never been known to be active within the memory of the oldest resident. Several passengers from the Makambo went to the summit and had a look down it. This greatly relieved the fears of the natives. Before, however, the Makambo left the anchorage it was active again. Arriving back at Vila on July 19 last, the Makambo left the same day for the northern group, and returned to Vila on the 13th.

Land—Puupueo
Manoa Valley

The leading home-builders are buying their homestead lots in the suburbs. There are reasons why—health, mainly; then more beautiful surroundings; then more room about the house and no more of that "cooped-up" feeling that comes with living in the trickly-settled parts of town.

We are offering lots in the land of PUUPUEO varying in area from a half acre up to any size you may suggest, and ranging in price from $1300.00 up—according to the size of the lot you may select.

These lots have all the advantages of a downtown location, with the added features of a lower temperature, beautiful view, best of neighbors and no unsightly part of the city to travel through on your way to and fro.

FOLLOW THE LEADERS! and secure a piece of property that is steadily advancing in value and at the same time giving you an opportunity of living in the best part of the city.

Let us show you that this is true.

HUNDRED THOUSAND CASES PINEAPPLES

The largest shipment of preserved pineapples to leave the Hawaiian Islands in one bottom will be taken by the American-Hawaiian freighter Arizonan when that vessel finally clears the last port of call for Salina Cruz, on the Isthmus of Tehuantepec.

One hundred thousand cases of canned pineapples will be loaded into that vessel at three ports in these Islands. Eighty-eight thousand cases will be supplied at Honolulu, and the Arizonan is to remain here until Monday discharging the three thousand tons of general cargo brought from the mainland and taking on the large quantity of pines.

The shipment is valued at about $350,000, according to figures at present prevailing in the local market.

The Arizonan is to call at Port Allen and Kahului for the remainder of the pineapples as well as shipments of sugar.

The freighter is expected to get away with over nine thousand tons of sugar in addition to the record-breaking consignment of pineapples.

General Freight Agent Morse stated this morning that the Arizonan would also receive quantities of honey, wool and other lines of Hawaiian products.

The pineapples are billed for points covering most every portion of the globe. The shipments intended for Europe will be left at Tehuantepec, there to be transhipped to vessels belonging to Spanish, Mexican, German, Frence and Holland lines. The American-Hawaiian has a large list of connections at Puerto Mexico, the eastern terminus of the Tehuantepec railway.

The Arizonan was an early arrivel this morning with a quantity of mainland freight, a portion of which left New York the latter part of July and the first of August. The steamer called at several coast ports for additional cargo, and arrived here with merchandise and shipments of flour, beer, feed stuffs and machinery.

Captain Nichols reports a pleasant passage down from Seattle.

The steamer Claudine of the Inter-Island fleet is one of several vessels on the berth for dispatch tomorrow. The steamer will sail at five o'clock for Maui and Hawaii ports with a big cargo and a number of passengers.

KAMS ARRANGE COLOR SERIES

Third Teams Meet In Ball Game Tomorrow On the School Grounds.

The Kamehameha students will turn to baseball and soccer for the next two months, followed by a track meet in December. The tri-color series will open tomorrow afternoon on the school grounds, when the third teams of the Blues and Whites will tackle one another in a baseball game.

E. Noah has been appointed captain of the Blues, William Apau of the Blues and H. Godfrey of the Reds.

The three captains got together last night and chose members from the whole school. Each of the captains has fifty-four members on his list, and from this he is to select his team. There will be three teams of each color, and each team is to play the others twice, once in soccer and once in baseball.

It was decided that all baseball games should consist of six innings only. This was arranged on account of the limited time for play. The Blue and Red third teams will meet in the first soccer game this term on Tuesday afternoon. The new boys will be given a chance to learn the game. The first teams will be the strongest, and as all three are evenly matched, there should be some hot contests.

The color series idea is a good one, as it will give the different captains a chance to pick out good material. Since the school does not take up the intercollegiate game this year, the boys will be kept in good condition by pulling off such a series of games.

The faculty baseball team will be in readiness soon to play any of the class teams, and then there will certainly be music in the air.

The Whites have the best chance of capturing the baseball series, as the first team has a strong battery and infield. W. Kamaiopili will do the twirling, with Joseph Kauhi at the receiving end, while Captain Apau will cover second, Keliialii short and F. Shipman third.

The Reds have a good bunch of track men and are going to celebrate their victory when the meet is won in a big luau. The White team should prove a strong opponent in both track and soccer contests, as it has the strongest men in the field events. As a whole, the series should prove of some benefit, and all the students will have a chance to get into the game.

The interclass games are to be played on Wednesdays and Fridays, and a meeting will be called soon to arrange a schedule of games.

Last year the present seniors won the interclass soccer and baseball contests, losing out on the track. The final ball game was a dandy and was won by the then juniors, 1-0.

The boys are very much stirred up over the color series, and there should be a big turnout tomorrow afternoon when the first game of the season starts. The match should be interesting, as it will give a line on some of the material for the grammar school team.

E. G. Bartlett, chairman of the athletic committee, and the captain of the teams not playing will umpire the ball games, while in soccer the captain of the team not playing will referee the match. The games are played Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Soldiers Have Very Light Schedule—Only Two Big Games So Far.

The Army and Navy athletic representatives have at last come to an agreement as to the date of the annual football game. It has been decided that the game be played on the Saturday before Thanksgiving Day, November 25. The place where the contest is to take place has not been decided yet, but it will probably be at Princeton this year, as the University of Pennsylvania, which has always allowed its grounds to be used, will not have completed its own season when the game is pulled off.

The football coaching staff at the Naval Academy has been completed by the selection of Midshipman C. Q. Wright, acting captain during the latter part of last season, and H. S. M. Clay, who led the team the early part of the season. It has been the custom for some years to have the captain of the academy football team help with the coaching the following season. The coaching this year will be in the hands of younger men than ever before, the head coach being Ensign D. L. Howard, who was graduated in 1906.

This annual football match is a very interesting sporting event to the men of the army and navy, and the game is always hotly contested.

WEST POINT, N. Y.—Only two big games appear on the army football schedule this year, which is the lightest the cadets have had for some time. Of the eight games listed, Yale and the navy are the only two big ones on the West Point program. The soldiers were disappointed in not securing their annual game with Harvard, but owing to the lateness of Harvard's decision not to come to West Point this fall, they were unable to fill the date reserved with another big team.

Georgetown will make its initial appearance on the West Point gridiron November 4. The first game will be with University of Vermont, October 7. The West Point team has secured the services of Harry Tuthill of the Detroit Americans to train them this season in place of James Temple, who has resigned.

KAOO HAS NOT SIGNED UP YET

Marathon Champion Does Not See Coin and So Stays Out of Race.

The chances of Kaoo meeting Jimmie Fitzgerald over the full Marathon course are very slim. The "Waialua Horse" started in training a few weeks ago on hearing that a certain promoter was to put up $3000 for him, win or lose, but he says the man has failed to come through with the coin up to this time. He stated yesterday that unless they come around and show the money while talking about it, and deposit it where he will be sure to get it after the race, he will not meet the Canadian. To run a man like Kaoo, who is fifty years of age now, and who is the champion Marathon runner of the island, should receive much attention by the promoters. Kaoo has been stung enough, and he is now getting wise. No money, no race, is about the way he has fixed the proposition.

Jimmie Fitzgerald says fifteenth of October or nothing with Kaoo. This goes to show that if the Hawaiian champion will not sign up to run Jimmie on that date, the Canadian will give up hope of meeting Kaoo in the long-wanted race. Fitzgerald will then turn to run King a return race over the five-mile course, after which he will start for the Coast, where he is expected to meet Longboat. He has been asked to go to several cities in the States to meet different men, and will soon leave Honolulu, probably without meeting the champion Marathon runner. Jimmie states that he likes Kaoo and says he is a nice fellow, but he would like to have a go at him for once.

* * *

Joe Jackson continues his terrific clubbing and at the rate he is going at present will soon pass the great Tyrus and lead the junior league batters. The Cleveland youngster shows no let-up, either in hitting or base-stealing, and is now going at a faster gait than any batsman in the country. Cobb would certainly be peeved should the Napoutfielder carry off the honors, as the Georgia Peach was never a good loser.

HIGHS TURN OUT FOR PRACTICE

Football Candidates Turn Out In Large Numbers; Good Results Are Expected.

Football among the big schools this year is not creating much interest at the present time. The Kams would liven things up if they put a team in this year, but as they have failed to come through, interest will probably turn to the "cow" College, Punahou and the crack High team.

The Oahu College boys are on the shelf at the present time, as they took it for granted that the Kams would meet them on the gridiron this year, but since such plans have failed, the Punahous are seriously considering whether they should meet the "cow" college team or not.

Highs Turn Out.

Captain Bill Rosa of the High football squad issued the call for football candidates Tuesday afternoon and he was pleased to see a big turnout of both old and new players. The freshman class is well represented in the candidates that are turning out at present. On the first day there were at least twenty-five players on the grounds when practise began. Yesterday afternoon the number decreased somewhat, although there was a good crowd on hand.

The boys are starting out in the first step of football practise by throwing the ball around and jumping on it. Bill Rice was around yesterday and gave the players a few points.

The prospects of the Highs having a strong football team are bright, and the boys are confident that they will make good this year. Among the players who have been turning out regularly are some new recruits who are anxious to get into the game. E. Parker, who has been away to England for a number of years, is back to finish up his senior year. Aldrich is a football player who has returned from a high school in California. Carter and Lightfoot are two new men turning out, and they will no doubt find a place on the team. Jack Gait is stated to be one of the best players on the team this year. The team should be a strong one, and the College of Hawaii men will have to work a little harder in order to win this year.

The college team will commence training next week, as the boys are waiting for the track meet Saturday to be pau before they tackle the game. It is hoped that Oahu College will meet the Hawaii boys on the football field this year, although there is a rumor going around that they are not expecting to play them.

AUSTRALIA LIKES THE BASEBALL GAME

The Young Australian Club boys, who are touring the States at present, were outplayed in a game of baseball on September 16, at Recreation Park, by a picked team of San Francisco schoolboys to the tune of 15 to 10.

The Australians showed but little knowledge of the finer points of the game. They were absolutely unable to field the ball, but hit well, this latter probably due to their cricket experience.

The Coast lads started off in No. 1 by chasing ten runs across the plate before the second man had been retired. Two players in succession then purposely struck out. In their half of the first frame the Australians came back and counted nine times, much to the delight of the big crowd, which remained for the concert affair.

Williams, on the mound for the Antipodes lads, retired the whole side, unassisted, in the third inning, whiffing three men in succession, after the infield behind him had allowed the bases to become choked. He registered six strikeouts in the four innings. It took the lads just forty-two minutes to play the first inning.

Batteries—San Francisco, Armstrong and Schmidt; Australians, Williams and Styles.

Australia is taking great interest in the American game, and it won't be very long before the baseball game will be played all over the country there. The Young Australia League, which has a membership of 3000 boys, has adopted the game. The game was carried to Australia two years ago, when the Columbia Park boys paid a visit to the Antipodes. It has been proven that baseball provides good practise for the colonials' national game of cricket.

TO REVIVE WHALING

New Methods Will Be Employed—Oil Used By Rope Walks.

How whaling has been renewed in the South Pacific Ocean is told in the Daily Consular and Trade Reports by Vice-Consul-General Henry D. Baker, on special service in New England:

The marine department of New Zealand has just granted concessions to a Norwegian whaling company to make use of one or more ports in the Auckland Islands, Stewart Island, Chatham and Bay of Islands. It is anticipated that the industry will give employment to over 200 men.

The Bluff, in the South island of New Zealand, will be the headquarters of the intended operations. The vessels to be apportioned to New Zealand are at present in active operation off the South African coast, and consist of a large steamer of 5000 tons and two auxiliary steamers.

A project is also on foot to establish the whaling industry in Akaroa harbor, near Lyttleton, in the South island, where whales at present are sighted daily. A meeting has been called for the organization of a local company to undertake this project.

Previous to securing the concessions from the New Zealand government a representative of the Norwegian company was quoted as follows by the Otago Times:

"The company already has three stations in southern waters—at Durban, in Cape Colony, and at the islands of South Georgia and South Shetland, to the south of Cape Colony. Operations have been carried on there with much success for some years. The whales are chased in loigboats driven by steam.

"A considerable amount of British capital is invested in the company in South Africa, and it is proposed to invite New Zealand residents to take a monetary interest. The system proposed to be introduced into New Zealand has been in use in Norway for about 25 years."

A Hobart newspaper states that this same company is asking the Tasmanian government to grant it concessions at two ports—Port Davey, on the south coast, and one on the east coast at a point yet to be fixed—for a term of 20 years.

The possibility of turning whales to good commercial account, with equipment which would permit of far more success than in the old days of sailing ships, has for the last two years been given much attention in New Zealand. Last year a first-class whaler, built in England, arrived at Auckland, and is now engaged in operations around the coasts of New Zealand, the Auckland Islands, Campbell Islands, etc. The tonnage and dimensions are 127 tons gross and 44 tons net register, 93 feet over all, by 19 feet beam. It is fitted with the most modern appliances, including a harpoon gun at the bow.

The whales caught off New Zealand yield on an average of 60 to 100 barrels of oil a whale. The oil and other products from the whale are all sold locally. The oil is much used in the rope factories of New Zealand, as it keeps the fibers from separating or becoming decomposed in salt water; it is also used for making candles and soap.

It is said that there are now more whales off the coast of Tasmania and New Zealand than there were even during the period about 30 years ago, when numbers of American ships hunted in these waters. At that time Hobart, in Tasmania, was the chief center of the industry.

Until about 1890 scores of ships set out from Hobart in quest of whales, sperm oil at that time ranging from $400 to $500 per ton. But with the discovery and development of the American oil wells the price dropped to $200 a ton and then to $100. The industry then ceased to pay and became entirely extinct about Tasmania. The coopering trade and shipwrighting at Hobart also declined. An American steam whaler put into Hobart some 20 years ago for repairs, and this was the last boat to call in connection with this industry.

Several months ago a school of 37 whales was washed up and stranded on the northwestern coast of Tasmania. A company was quickly organized at Launceston to take advantage of this and ambergris to the value of about $40,000 was obtained.

ITALY AWAITS TURK'S ANSWER

(Associated Press Cable.)

ROME, Italy, Sept. 27.—No answer has yet been received from Constantinople to the ultimatum sent Turkey to permit a protectorate over Tripoli, with war as an alternative.

The troops are rapidly mobilizing at the ports of embarkation and the transports are concentrating as fast as possible. A strong squadron will convoy the transports.

Turkish Troops Landed.

TRIPOLI, Sept. 27.—The first Italian squadron of warships reached the harbor here today, and it is asserted that the second squadron is awaiting at home ports the convoy of transports ready to carry 60,000 troops from Italy to this province.

The Turkish steamer Derna came into the harbor shortly after the arrival of the Italian squadron and landed a number of soldiers and officers and a great quantity of arms and ammunition. No effort was made to interfere with the landing of the Turkish troops.

Rushing Troops to Ports.

MILAN, Italy, Sept. 27.—Troops are mobilizing by brigades, and all coast-bound railroads are crowded with military trains.

The northern port of embarkation is Genoa, while the southern troops will join the transports at Naples.

Talk All of War.

The greatest enthusiasm prevails and the talk is all of the war, as though it had already broken out. It is understood here, from the meager news dispatches permitted, that every available warship has been concentrated for operations with a battleship squadron cruising between the route from Italy to Tripoli and Turkey's naval base.

GIRL CHARGED WITH POISONING SISTER

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 27.—Miss Annie Crawford has been arrested here charged with causing the death of her sister, Elise Crawford, by poisoning to get her life insurance.

The authorities are investigating the suspicious circumstances of the death of another sister, Mary Crawford; her father and her mother, all of whom have died suddenly within fifteen months.

MOB BUYS STEEL STOCK.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 27.—Wild scenes occurred on the stock exchange today, when United States Steel Corporation stock became active. The bears are heavy losers.

During the first half-hour after the opening $275,000 worth of this stock changed hands, and it was then that the bears lost, but in the afternoon gained control of the market.

Almost all day the floor of the exchange and the curb were dominated by a howling mob of brokers. The total sales for the day were $1,726,500 in this stock alone.

PRESIDENT GREETED WITH ENTHUSIASM

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Sept. 27.—President Taft today spoke in Topeka before a most enthusiastic audience. He arrived in this city this evening and tomorrow leaves for a tour of Iowa and the far West.

In Iowa the President will speak from his train at Council Bluffs, Denison, Fort Dodge, Webster City, Iowa Falls and spend the night at Waterloo.

FLAMES SWEEPING CITY.

WICHITA, Kan., Sept. 27.—Fire is sweeping through the wholesale district of this city and is threatening the retail district. The loss is already estimated at over $500,000.

During the battle with the flames the walls of one of the blazing buildings fell outward and buried four firemen under them.

GOVERNMENT BUYS RISDON IRON WORKS

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 27.—The United States government has closed a deal for the Risdon Iron Works of this city and will move the entire plant to the Mare Island Navy Yard.

According to a cable received at the office of Castle and Cooke, the Matson Navigation steamer Wilhelmina sailing from San Francisco at noon yesterday will bring freight amounting to 4600 tons for this port and 350 tons for Hilo. She is presumed, also, to have a heavy list of passengers.

KAHN CONFIDENT IN FLY FIGHT

California Congressman Certain Quarantine Can Be Made Success Here.

(Special Bulletin Correspondence.)

HILO, Sept. 25.—Among the most important statements made by Congressman Julius Kahn, while visiting Hilo, was one to the effect that upon his return to Washington he would take up the matter of the extermination of the Mediterranean fly from the Territory with Secretary Wilson of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and work with every effort to have the Federal government take a greater part in the prevention of the spread of that and other pests in the Islands. He stated that he had no patience with the statement made by the Territorial men that they could not expect to keep the Mediterranean fly out of this island and that he did not consider this a matter in which Hawaii alone was interested, but os one which was of extreme importance to the entire Pacific Coast. In speaking of this matter he said:

"The talk of your Territorial men to the effect that it can not be kept from this island is ridiculous. We have seen in California what a strict quarantine can do in cases of this kind. In Mexico, just across the border line, is a worm which has effectually destroyed the orange industry. We enforce the strictest kind of a quarantine against oranges from Mexico, and the result has been that the pest has never entered California, and while our greatest industry in the southern portion of the State is in growing oranges, it has been preserved only by the means of quarantine. If we can enforce a quarantine like that with the long border line to cover, there is no reason that a similar quarantine can not be enforced on this island, where you have comparatively few vessels which might bring in the pest and they arrive at only a few points."

JUDGMENT ON RESERVED QUESTION HANDED OUT

Judge Perry yesterday gave an opinion on the reserved question that was sent up to the Supreme Court in connection with the case of the Kaneohe Rice Mill Company against Edward M. Holi et al. He gave out that—

"Partition—trial of title.

"A bill for partition can not be made the means of trying a disputed legal title.

"If, in a suit for partition, an issue is in good faith raised concerning the extent of the petitioner's interest in the land, the proper course is to suspend the bill and give the petitioner an opportunity to sue at law."

ANOTHER ATTEMPT MADE BY MRS. GEORGE BECKLEY

The next step in connection with the attempt of Mrs. George Beckley to get her money was taken yesterday in the Circuit Court, when Robert W. Shingle filed suit for her as her next best friend.

The Supreme Court gave a decision during this week that as she was a minor she had no power to sue for herself.

An effort is being made to recall Mayor Murdock of Parkersburg, Va., where the commission form of government has been in operation less than two months.

HARBOR BOARD HAS BUSY DAY

When the board of harbor commissioners got down to work yesterday after making some public denials of any connection with the Foster case, it found a big lot of stuff to consider.

In connection with the idea that the harbormaster must necessarily be a shipping man, the attorney-general yesterday gave out an opinion that although he was supposed to berth all vessels there was no need for him to actually do it himself. Assistants could be appointed to do the work.

The attorney-general has also been asked by the commission as to whether masters bringing in their own vessels should have to pay the usual pilotage fees. The commissioners believe that the system of charging pilotage fees, whether they are brought in by the captain or a pilot, is in vogue everywhere else and should be enforced here.

The matter of sailing vessels being given a flying berth—that is, having the tug cast off before they reach the wharf and allowing them to berth under their own momentum—is to be looked into.

A notice prepared by Chairman Campbell, and which is to be printed in Japanese and sent to all the owners of sampans, gives the full rules and regulations laid down for the handling of sampans in the harbor. It was stated at the meeting that at the present time they are a nuisance.

A suggestion is also on foot to make the preference rights to the wharves worth $200 a month. Campbell stated that he had been discussing the matter with several of the agents and they expressed the idea that preference rights should be worth something.

NO CASCARET USER EVER HAS HEADACHE

A 10-cent box will keep your liver, stomach and bowels clean, pure and fresh for months.

Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver, delayed fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Salts, cathartic pills, oil and purgative waters force a passageway for a day or two—yes—but they don't take the poisons out and have no effect upon the liver or stomach.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poisons in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means inside cleanliness and a clear head for months. Ask any of the millions of Cascaret users if they ever have headache.

MERCHANTS TO "SEE HONOLULU"

Directors Agree That First-Hand Knowledge of Health Status Is Desirable.

Directors of the Merchants' Association yesterday took up informally the health conditions of the city and the proposed tours for business men and agreed that it was up to them to make a first-hand inspection of the insanitary spots that lie within the city limits.

Discussion between President E. O. White, Secretary Brasch and Fred L. Waldron at the meeting brought out an unofficial indorsement of the position that business men should know exactly what the health conditions of the city are in order to cooperate with the Board of Health. Secretary Brasch particulari ymade a strong plea for more accurate and thorough observation of business men on the senitary status of Honolulu.

Further impetus was added to the plans for a commercial building here, to house the Chamber of Commerce and other commercial bodies, when President E. O. White yesterday afternoon appointed a committee of five to act in conjunction with the committees already named by the Chamber of Commerce and Commercial Club.

The Chamber of Commerce committee has been named ever since President Spalding took office, one vacancy still existing on it. The other members are W. R. Castle, chairman; F. J. Lowrey, H. P. Wood and James F. Morgan, if he will consent to serve.

President Waldron of the Commercial Club named that club's committee yesterday as follows:

F. C. Smith, chairman; F. W. Macfarlane, James L. McLean and George W. Smith and H. F. Wichman.

A directors' meeting of the Merchants' Association was called yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and Mr. Waldron urged that the Merchants' Association take up the matter of getting a building. President White thereupon, after consulting with the other directors present named on this committee, Fred L. Waldron, chairman; G. Fred Bush, E. H. Paris, Norman Watkins and George H. Angus.

The building will be designed to furnish a home for the Chamber of Commerce, Merchants' Association, Commercial Club, Promotion Committee, Stock Exchange and other public and semi-public organizations. It is left to the joint committee to work out plans for financing the building and securing a site.

This commercial building idea has been under way for several years and James F. Morgan at one time had the plans practically complete, but the business men to whom they were submitted did not see fit to carry them out at that time. However, the demand for such a building is steadily increasing and it is expected that the present movement will be carried through to success.

The Makawell baseball team, which won the championship in the Kauai baseball league this season, has received two silver cups, which were delivered by Sheriff Rice, vice-president of the Kauai Athletic Association. The Makawells only lost four out of eighteen games played—three at the beginning of the season and the other the last game played.

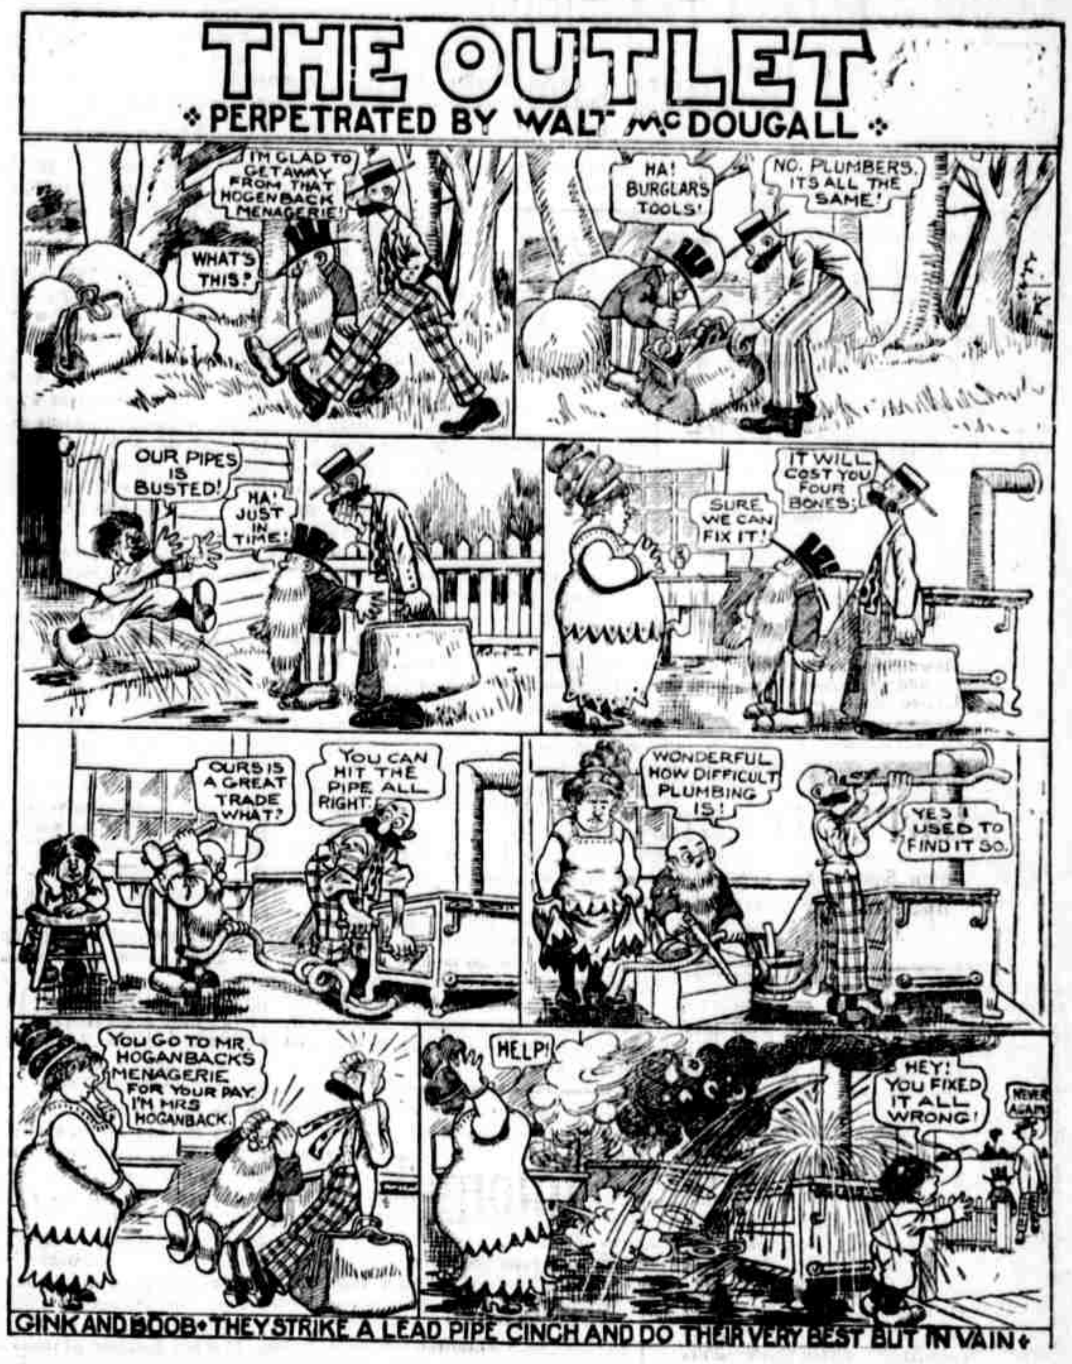
Vallejo, Sept. 19.—A school of aerial navigation will be opened at the Mare island navy yard, according to the present plans of the Navy Department. This course will be taken by every line officer attached to the Pacific fleet, and will be conducted by some of the best known aeronauts before the public today. The object of the school will be to promote the efficiency of the aeroplane as a scout in time of war.

In the new navy regulations, which have been received at Mare island, provision has been made for a systematized effort to make useless the use of airships by a possible enemy, and in the target practice to be held this fall the cruisers will be equipped with special guns, designed to destroy aerial craft. Kite targets are now being put in shape for the tests.



ARMY AND NAVY

BY C. S. ALBERT.

(Special Bulletin Correspondence.)

VALLEJO, Sept. 19.—Although no definite date has been fixed when the Pacific fleet will be doubled by the addition of the cruisers Washington, Tennessee, Montana and North Carolina, the Navy Department and the Mare Island officials are quietly preparing for the reception of the visitors to Western waters.

Word comes from Washington that the Navy Department will have an augmented fleet in the Pacific station this winter and that an innovation in target practise will be introduced shortly after the war maneuvers off the Hawaiian coast are completed. The old and useless battleship Iowa, now an unimportant member of the reserve Atlantic fleet, is to be sent round the Horn and will act as a target for the cruiser guns in much the same manner as the San Marcos or old Texas served for the dreadnoughts on the Eastern Coast.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 8.—A general maneuvering grounds, where the regular army and the State militia troops may mobilize and practice mimic warfare and afford sufficient opportunity for experimenting in all kinds of firearms and ammunition, have been recommended in a report of Secretary of War Stimson. The site of land which the report says is "well suited and of ample size for the establishment of the small arms range, and sufficient to accommodate the national match," consists of about forty thousand acres in Tennessee, near Tullahoma, in the most central part of the State. The proposed site would cost the Government about $500,000. The report says:

"The site is very thinly settled and is sufficient in extent for all purposes. Suitable camp sites are available. Water is available, and suitable in quantity and quality, and spurs from the railroads are very easy of construction and can be carried directly into the main camp." It concludes its recommendations by saying that "the climate, water supply and other conditions likely to affect the health of the troops are excellent."

Officers to Learn Riding.

Gen. Wood, chief of staff, and the officials of the War Department generally express much gratification over the courtesy extended by the French government whereby three officers of the United States Cavalry will be permitted to take a year's course of instruction in equitation at the cavalry training school at Saumar, France.

This school is considered one of the best in the world, and foreign countries vie with one another in securing permission from the French government for their officers to be given the privilege of its thorough course of instruction in equitation.

The French government is becoming more and more exacting in granting this privilege, so that this government is particularly fortunate this year in being permitted to send three officers—the largest number that the United States has ever had at one time at this great school.

The sending of American officers to France for instruction of this kind was begun soon after our Civil War in the case of two or three officers, but was not really taken up systematically until 1903, since which year our army has had one or two officers representing it each year.

"Officers of the United States army have done well abroad," said Gen. Wood, chief of staff, "and it is only a question of time when, with improved mounts and the finished instruction developed from contact with foreign methods, they will excel in competition with officers from all over the world. There was a time when, with our immense frontier, the American nation possessed numberless natural riders, whose daily routine of duty was performed on horseback.

"Self-satisfied Americans like to believe that this state of affairs still exists, but with the advance of civilization throughout the great West, the advent of the bicycle and automobile and the consequent decrease in the number of saddle horses bred throughout the country, there has been a constant deterioration in the art of equitation in the United States, until at the present time the American nation can hardly be called, as formerly, a nation of riders.

"More recently, however, a reaction has set in, both as regards the breeding of mounts suitable for the saddle and in horseback riding as a form of recreation. Americans are taking an increased interest in the subject throughout the country, as attested by the great horse shows held from time to time, the increasing popularity of polo and the fact that our officers are entering into competitions abroad, with corresponding visits from European officers to our horse shows in New York and Chicago."

New Cavalry Experiments.

By direction of the Secretary of War, experiments with a new cavalry organization will shortly be made at all regimental posts. All cavalry regiments are to be formed in double rank formation, with each troop having not less than ninety-six men in line. The regiments are to be composed of six troops.

When the Secretary issues his order he will accompany it with a bulletin which brings to the consideration of cavalry officers the salient features connected with the proposed reorganization. It will be set forth that the cavalry is an auxiliary arm of the service, and the reasons will be given for that view of mounted troops. Considerable data will be furnished in the bulletin to show that the ratio of sabers to bayonets, especially in relation to the requirements of larger commands under war conditions in the organization of field and division armies.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 19.—Army orders: Capt. Samuel C. Vestal, First Leiut. Frances M. Hinkle, Second Lieuts. Charles E. Ide, George F. Moore and Jason McV. Austen, Coast Artillery Corps, will report to Lieut.-Col. John C. Brooks, Coast Artillery Corps, president of the examining board, at the Presidio of San Francisco for examination for promotion.

Capt. Edwin W. Rich, Medical Corps, in addition to other duties, will assume charge of the medical supply depot, San Francisco, during the absence of Col. William W. Gray, Medical Corps.

A board of officers, to consist of Maj. Edwin J. Timberlake, Capts. Harry P. Wilbur, Charles A. Clark, Coast Artillery Corps; First Lieut. Adam E. Schlanser, Medical Corps, and First Lieut. Joseph L. Sanford, Medical Reserve Corps, is appointed to meet at Fort Ruger, Hawaii, for examination of officers of the Coast Artillery Corps.

Second Lieut. Frederick A. Price Jr., Coast Artillery Corps, will report to Maj. Edward J. Timberlake, Coast Artillery Corps, Fort Ruger, Hawaii, for examination for promotion.

CLARK'S REPORT FAVORABLE TO RUSSIAN IMMIGRATION

Russian immigration to Hawaii is taken up at length by Dr. Victor S. Clark in the fourth report of the commissioner of labor on Hawaii, copies of which have just been received here. He draws from the results of immigration of Russians in the past that those who remain will rise to responsible positions on plantations, and further that another limited immigration may be desirable.

The history of the Russians' coming and the subsequent developments are told in the report as follows:

"The first Russians brought to Hawaii belonged to a peculiar religious sect and were given homes upon a tract of public land on the Island of Kauai. They soon became dissatisfied and left, and as there is no one to tell their side of the story, the only account of their leaving that survives represents them as impracticable, distrustful, chronically complaining—and above all things as unresourceful, unable to adapt themselves to new conditions and new habits of life. These last are not the traditional characteristics of the Russian peasant in his own country; but no part of all Russia affords a precedent for starting a homestead in Hawaii.

"The Russians arrived in heavy Siberian clothing and with the habits of diet and living of a cold country. They clung to the things to which they were accustomed with a peasant conservatism. This very greatly interfered with their ability to work and lessened their general comfort.

"These conditions, coupled with the irritability usually attending a severe process of acclimatization and adjustment to the changed environment of an entirely foreign country, soon bred dissatisfaction. There was no well-grounded complaint that the wages and hours of work on the plantations were not as represented by the government agent in Siberia; but the price of food and clothing was said to be much more than the Russians expected. The cost of living of an Oriental or Hawaiian laborer, or possibly of an American working man, allowing for lessened expense for fuel and clothing in the tropics, is not much more in Hawaii than it would be upon the mainland or than probably it is in Eastern Siberia. But it costs more to live like a Russian in Hawaii than it does in Harbin or Vladivostok. Therefore, the 44 roubles ($22.66) a month did not go as far as was anticipated, and doubtless many of the families that went to the plantations from Siberia had little surplus after settling their bills at pay day.

Educated Men.

"Among the Russians were some men of education who were entirely out of place as unskilled manual laborers in any capacity, and who could have found a useful vocation only in some American city like New York having a large Russian colony. These people soon drifted back to Honolulu and mingled with the arriving immigrants, picturing to them work on the plantations as a life of slavery. The conditions they described either were nonexistent, grossly exaggerated, or principally of their own making. Their real grievances were mostly due to the difficulties and misunderstanding that always arise when immigrants are adjusting themselves to new conditions in a strange country, and dealing with people speaking a different language. Some of their disillusionment was not unlikely caused by overcolored accounts of the advantages of Hawaii, spread among them by unscrupulous recruiters of their own nationality, who were employed by the Hawaiian government agent in Siberia to secure immigrants. In a nutshell, many of the immigrants thoroughly disliked the work they had come to do, and found themselves in the situation of having nothing else to turn to. From these discontented fellow-countrymen newer arrivals got the idea that they would not like plantation work, and with a vague, and to them real enough, but, in fact, wholly unjustified, suspicion that coercion would be used to make them work in the cane fields if they went to the plantations, remained idling in Honolulu. The situation was aggravated by the fact that contagious diseases appeared among them, causing several parties to be kept in quarantine for some weeks, at great expense to the Territorial government. During this period of idleness the immigrants were played on by the influences of discontent. They were led to believe that in some way, through penalties enforced by the immigration law, each could get $1000 and free passage back to Siberia. Some of the shrewder ones had already formed the project of going to California, where they had fellow countrymen and knew wages to be higher, having had their fare paid by the Territory as far as Honolulu. Many were not destitute of funds, and those who desired to save steamship fare or backed money shipped as sailors on the steamers or sailing vessels for San Francisco or around the Horn. A census agent enumerated fourteen men, newly arrived from Siberia, who a few days after the date of census taking were thus bound for New York on a single ship.

Erect a Camp.

"All this time several hundred Russians were working to all appearances contentedly on the plantations, on the railways, in lumber camps and sawmills, and wherever elsewhere there was an opening for their services. Six hundred or more camped in the open fields in the outskirts of Honolulu, accessible to water and free fuel, and with true muzhik knack at pioneering, erected temporary but, for the season, fairly comfortable shelters. This became a show place for Honolulu, as lively at times as a country fair. The Russian men secured enough work on the wharves and through the city to support their families. A number were employed by local building and dam contractors. Some unmarried women found employment as household servants. There was no evidence of suffering among them, though this camp life would not be permanently satisfactory or desirable.

Trouble With Union.

"The Russians fraternized with the Chinese and Japanese, and their intimacy with the latter gave rise to the suspicion and rumor that Japanese agents, desiring to prevent at the outset an inflow of labor likely to compete on the plantations with their own countrymen, were using personal influence and giving financial support to Russian agitators to prevent immigrants from going to the plantations. But when the new arrivals began to work on the wharves, taking jobs from the Hawaiians, who had hitherto monopolized this kind of labor and who have a large longshoremen's union, they came into conflict with that nationality, and to a less extent with the Portuguese. As the Hawaiians are politically dominant and constitute the police force of Honolulu, there were elements of possible trouble in this situation. P was accentuated when the arrest of some of the Russians for vagrancy and minor offenses caused a small riot at the police station. However, no very serious results followed, and except for this one incident no disturbance of the peace occurred.

Fine Physical Race.

"The Russians were physically as fine appearing people as ever came to Hawaii. They brought families, some provisions of money, clothing and household equipment, and were provided to make homes wherever they settled. Most of them were industrious and law abiding. As a class, however, they may be said to lack individual initiative, follow any fluent leader like a flock of sheep, are suspicious and credulous, and are perhaps naturally less quick to catch on than are the Japanese. But the difficulties which these first immigrants experienced in Hawaii are not novel. The Norwegians, the Germans and even the first Japanese and Portuguese went through similar experiences."

Will Be Desirable later.

Summing up his remarks on the subject, Dr. Clark concludes as follows:

"Probably, if enough of the present immigrants remain in the Territory to learn the language and ways of the country and to become acclimated, they will soon rise to be plantation overseers and mechanics, will become small landholders, and altogether will form a most desirable element of the population. If a few hundred of these older residents were scattered throughout the Territory at present they would bridge over the gaps of misunderstanding between residents and newcomers, show the immigrants how to adjust themselves to Hawaiian conditions and prevent most of the difficulties that have occurred. And if such a population remains from the immigration of 1909 and 1910, a fair prospect exists that at some future time another limited immigration from Siberia will be desirable. Several of the Russians who have come to Honolulu within the past few months have already applied for citizenship. As has been the experience with much assisted immigration in the past, but few of these people were originally farm laborers, and when they arrived in Hawaii agricultural work was as novel to them as it would be to city mechanics and factory operatives from the United States."

GEN. WOOD'S PLAN FOR TROPIC POSTS IS BITTERLY ATTACKED

The New York Post has come out in bitter arraignment against the plan of Major-General Leonard Wood, chief of staff, to establish permanent regimental stations in the tropics, and as Hawaii is to figure largely in that plan the following denunciation of the Post is of vital interest:

The latest scheme to upset the army is the plan of the chief of staff to establish permanent regimental stations in the tropics. The idea is to select certain organizations for home stations and some for posts in the Philippines, Hawaii and along the Panama Canal. As the plan is given out in Washington, its details are as follows:

The organizations will remain at these stations, and only the personnel will be changed. This will make it possible to have gradual changes, as the tours of duty of individuals expire, and will avoid the necessity of transporting an entire regiment, with officers and men, animals and full camp and garrison equipment, as is now the case. There will be, it is estimated by General Wood, a material saving in this item of cost, and it would have the further advantage of equalizing the foreign service among the officers. There would always be an experienced regiment in each locality. There might be a disadvantage in the transfer of officers from one regiment to another and the separation of an officer from a regiment with which he has been connected and with which he desires to continue for service for sentimental reasons. But General Wood believes it would be possible to reassigned him to his old regiment periodically. There is little likelihood that there will be a reduction in the military force in the Philippines, which now amounts to about thirteen thousand men. The movement of this body of troops every two years means considerable expense; and if it can be reduced by the plan which General Wood is now having considered by the General Staff, it is proposed to adopt it. Individuals would not have longer to serve in the Philippines or other foreign stations than they have now, although it is proposed to increase this tour of duty from the present two years to three years. It has already been virtually increased to two and a half year, on account of the need of troops in Texas.

The only thing to be said about this plan is that it would be the final step toward breaking up regimental esprit de corps. In his report on the troops in Texas, just out, General Duncan complains bitterly of the damage done by the constant shifting of officers. What will happen when regiments are constantly receiving men and officers, letting others go, and changing nearly as a whole every two or three years? There will thus be certain exiled organizations through which officers will drift, spending one, two or three years, as the case may be, as they are promoted, retired, invalided, detailed or transferred. It would be hard to devise a more ingenious scheme to prevent solidarity in the service and to make foreign service more disliked than ever. The General Staff would seem to be engaged in a competition to see how many more changes it can turn out this year than last. Like the home battalion system, and many another, this plan will go by the board within a year or two, if it is once adopted. And what would happen if a bigger emergency than the Mexico situation were to necessitate a sudden decrease in the Philippine garrison, and in those of Hawaii and the canal? Is it not supposable that if there had been 6000 men in Panama last February at least 1000 of this number would have been ordered to the Rio Grande to help out in forming the maneuver division?

LAND BOARD APPROVES SUB-AGENTS' REPORTS

Further steps to secure the services of a stenographer and the ratification of the agents' reports and suggestions in connection with various leases on the other islands as published in the Bulletin yesterday afternoon were the main items that came up for discussion at the meeting of the land board held in the capitol yesterday afternoon.

A stenographer is to be secured, the board finally making up its collective mind and stating that the expense would be offset by the value of having a definite record of the proceedings.

The suggestions of sub-agent Thomas White in connection with the Moaula and Palima lands was approved. It will be remembered that he suggested that the amount of the former lease should be raised from $900 to $1443.80. In the case of his suggestion that $75 a year and a ten-year lease be granted in the case of the Manuka lands instead of what was offered the board also approved it.

The two exchanges of property between the Territory and Frank McLntyre of Kuakini street and the Atherton estate at College Hills were both approved.

Governor Frear took up the matter of commissioners of boundaries for the Fourth District in Hawaii with Judge Wise during his trip and has persuaded the judge to keep the lid down for the time being.

Talks on Advertising

IN historic Faneuil Hall, in Boston, August 1, 1911, the largest convention of advertising men that has ever assembled met to exchange ideas.

The convention was planned by the Associated Advertising Clubs of America, embracing representatives of newspaper, magazine, outdoor and street-car advertising. More than two thousand advertising men were there.

If you will look back ten or fifteen years you will remember that the advertising man as he exists today was unknown then. Now, throughout this wonderful country of ours, some of the brightest minds are engaged in the business of advertising.

The keynote of the Boston convention was the general spirit of uplift in advertising lately so noticeable in all advertising mediums. The gospel of better and cleaner advertising dominated the convention. The responsibility of advertising mediums to their readers was acceded, and a determination was made to exclude from decent publicity mediums any advertising that bordered on the fake or swindle or immoral, thereby promoting a feeling of absolute confidence on the part of the public in the merits of all things advertised.

The Boston convention was an important success and its influence will be felt throughout the entire country.
