Pulse Beats.

Put a finger on your pulse. Do you feel the throbbing beats come strong and regular, or are they weak and uncertain? A weak pulse means a weak heart and retarded circulation of the blood. It means stomach trouble, indigestion, pain in left side, dizzy spells, shortness of breath, palpitation, fainting or sinking spells and breaking down of the entire system. If your heart is weak and your pulse irregular begin at once to guard against the coming breakdown by taking

DOCTOR MILES' Heart Cure,

The Great Heart and Blood Tonic.

"I had much pain about the heart, palpitation and irregular pulse, and for nearly three months had to be propped up in bed to keep from smothering. I had frequent sinking spells when it seemed as though my heart had stopped beating entirely and the most heroic measures were necessary to revive me. I had no appetite for food and lost flesh rapidly. Seeing that my doctors were doing me no good I took the advice of an old friend and began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. The good effects were so apparent that I kept on with it, and I am satisfied that I owe my restoration to that valuable remedy."

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold at all drug stores on a positive guarantee. Write for free advice and booklet to Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

THE ST. LOUIS EXPOSITION

SPECIAL DISPLAY ASKED FOR FROM THE PACIFIC.

Commissioner Barrett Comes Here in November—Porto Ricans Will Make a Big Showing.

The World's Fair Bulletin which is published in the interests of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition to be held in St. Louis in May, 1904, states in its September issue that extraordinary efforts will be made to secure comprehensive exhibits from the recently acquired insular possessions of the United States.

"The American people," state the columns, "are anxious to see a comprehensive and representative exhibit from Asiatic, Australasian and Pacific countries and the great percentage of attendance at the fair will care more to see exhibits of the Philippines, Hawaii and other countries of the Pacific than ever before. The situation is changed, America is looking across the Pacific as never before. Its exhibits will be more interesting today than those of Europe and South America."

Concerning Hawaii the following is written: "The Hawaiian Islands, as a part of the United States, are sure to be well represented, but they cannot make too elaborate an exhibit. The interest in these islands is second only to that taken in the Philippines. The capabilities and resources of the islands as well as their peoples and possibilities will be shown in comprehensive displays. The Hawaiian Government may appropriate money for a building, as will most of the States, and provide for extensive exhibits along various lines."

The directors propose as a unique feature an exhibit showing the progress made by Hawaii, the Philippines and Cuba in agriculture, manufacture and the liberal arts since they came under the influence of the American flag, including an ethnological congress in which representatives of the various tribes and nations of the American possessions in the Pacific with their old time and, in the case of the Philippines, present habits and customs explored.

Porto Rico has already manifested great interest in the opportunities of the exhibition for showing the possibilities of the West Indian Islands and what is being already done there.

Frederick L. Cornwell a member of the Porto Rican Legislature said during a recent visit to St. Louis that the method proposed by the Finance Committee of the Porto Rican Legislature, who has charge of the bill to appropriate money for the exposition, is to erect a building after the Porto Rican style of architecture and there show an exhaustive display of the natural and manufactured products of the island such as coffee and tobacco, sugar, manufacture, cocoa growing, the manufacture of Panama hats, etc. There will be a coffee booth where every one may obtain a free sample cup of highest grade Porto Rican coffee.

Commissioner General John Barrett will, according to present plans, leave early in November in his capacity of representative of the government and the exposition and act as commissioner to Asia, Australia and Hawaii in the interests of the exposition.

Mr. Barrett was formerly United States Minister to Siam and is now one of the five plenipotentiary commissioners of the United States to the International Congress of American States to be held in Mexico in the latter part of October.

Mr. Barrett's itinerary brings him first to Honolulu, thence to Japan, China, the Philippines, Burma, India, Australasia, and home by Samoa and Hawaii. He will appoint various assistant commissioners as he passes through and will co-operate with the various United States ministers and consuls for their active help in the undertaking.

THE HAMAKUA FIRE.

HONOKAA, September 18.—A fire was started in Kalopa on Tuesday and for a time threatened to destroy the whole settlement. Many houses were in flames with what little they carry away. This fire was put out by a Portuguese and was not an accident. There was some strong talk used against him. A good stiff prosecution of such cases would no doubt have a good effect. No one but a lunatic would put out fire in these times, and some people should be held to strict account for so doing.

The drought is having serious effects on the population of this burg. Mr. Hobson and family have gone to Hilo to reside permanently and Lehmann, the tailor, will move to the same place soon. Others are temporarily living in Waipio and other places where water can be had. Much laundry now goes to Honolulu. Mrs. Muir and children and Mrs. Broderick and children are residing in Waimea until such time as rain falls in Hamakua.

WAIMEA, September 18.—Hornor's have given some 400 head of horses into Waimea where they can get water. The last contingent was brought in on Tuesday. They are losing cattle every day, but cannot move them in here as the water supply cannot stand any more stock than it now has.

BURGLARS AT WAIHEE.

WAILUKU, Maui, September 20.—A burglar entered the residence of Prof. H. M. Coke at Waihee on Sunday evening. All the family happened to be away at the time and the robber gained admission by breaking a pane of glass in a door at the rear of the house and reaching an arm through the hole made, unfastened the lock. Mr. Coke thinks that the return of the family must have disturbed him in his work for an investigation of the premises showed that trunks had been picked open and drawers gone through, and the contents scattered over the floor generally. Luckily nothing of value was stolen.—Maui News.

COME FROM COVER.

The more the proposed license of Hamakua water rights is considered, the deeper is the impression that the representatives of the people cannot be too careful, nor make haste too slowly. No contract should be made which will tie up such extensive rights and opportunities affecting so radically such a large portion of the available agricultural area of the territory, and affecting so vitally such large interests, even for the short term of two or five years, to say nothing of ninety-nine years, without the most thorough knowledge of its possible and probable effects. Water is the life of the land, from an industrial standpoint, as righteousness is from an ethical one. The water which makes our soil fertile is the gift of God to the whole people. To conserve it, store it, and lead it to where it can be most useful is the work of man, and he who does this is worthy the fruits of his labor, his foresight and his enterprise. But from these two considerations it arises, that there are two elements in the proposed contract which if the contract is to be a wise one must be equitably adjusted, requiring not only honesty of purpose, but carefully study.

In the contract under consideration, it is proposed that the licensee and those he shall associate with him, shall take the rain, the gift of God to the whole people, which shall fall on government land, which belongs to the whole people, and adding to it the fruit of their capital and effort, their foresight and ability, make of this rain and the use of this land, a commodity to sell for their own direct benefit, and undoubtedly to the great benefit of the territory. But since the people put into this joint enterprise that which is of prime necessity, they must look to their representatives to see that in the final results they get their share of the benefits.

Among other things it would seem that if the people of the territory are thus going into a partnership, they ought to know who their partners are to be. Have those who seek this license the means in sight now to carry out their contract? Or are they merely seeking a license of great value which they can hawk around until they find the men with the necessary money to carry it out, ready to buy it? In other words is the government now negotiating for a partnership, or is it merely giving an option to scampers to make what they can out of it? Who are behind the nominal licensee?

Will it be that the parties now in interest will have to spend the two years given them to begin work, in finding some one able to begin the work to take the license off their hands? And the government at the end of the two years be asked to extend the time for beginning operations, and at the end of five years be asked to extend the time for completing them?

Who are the men who talk of putting up $2,500,000 in this enterprise? Have they the present means for carrying out the contract they propose? Or have they still to find it? May we indeed expect five years to see this work completed, or are these public utilities to be tied up as opportunities for an indefinite and much longer period, and taken from all practical control of the people for the long period of ninety-nine years after that?

The tendency of the times is for government control of public utilities. Though this territory may not be ready within five years (yet who can say that it may not be?) to undertake this water-right scheme as a public work, it ought not through any mistake now to forestall itself in this matter for a longer period.

Who are the men who will put up the money to carry out the terms of this license? Let them come from cover.

THE REASON WHY.

In the general shuffle at the end of the extra of the Legislature there were many things left out in the cold. Among them was an appropriation for an exhibit to what is popularly known as the St. Louis exhibition, but which is officially known as the "Louisiana Purchase Exhibition." There was a bill to appropriate $15,000 for the purpose, but like many other useful bills it found a home in the waste paper basket. Of course $15,000 would have been but a little drop in the bucket towards getting up a proper exhibit, but it was a nucleus, and private money would have come.

The Louisiana purchase was made in 1803, and the treaty signed on April 30, Hawaii too has to remember a very recent April 30, which actually incorporated her into the Union. It is this purchase of the French possessions that will be celebrated at St. Louis on April 30, 1903. That stroke of the pen between Thomas Jefferson and the French representative added 1,057,735 square miles to the territory of the United States, and swept away, as with a brush all opportunity of European intervention and trouble on the West.

Jefferson as he rose from the table upon which the treaty for the purchase had been signed, remarked to the French envoy "We have been long, but this is the noblest work of our lives. From this day the United States is placed among the powers of the first rank." How true and far reaching was the political credit the enormous results which have come about in the brief time.

The Louisiana purchase has produced twelve states and two territories. The states are Arkansas, Colorado, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wyoming. The territories are Oklahoma and Indian Territory. The present population is 14,572,189 and the taxable wealth of the States and territories is estimated at six billion, three quarters of a million dollars. For this extent of territory and all its prospective wealth, the United States paid $15,000,000, to Napoleon I. It was a good bargain, a shrewd bargain, and shows how farseeing the fathers of the Republic were.

As was said above $15,000,000 was the sum paid to France, or the French emperor, for the acquired territory and at the end of a century $15,000,000 is the sum already subscribed for the inception of the fair. The fair will probably eclipse anything that has yet been done in this line. It may be said that on this side of the Atlantic there have up to the present been two truly international fairs. These were the Centennial at Philadelphia, and the Columbian at Chicago. The Centennial exhibition was regarded as a wonder. The Columbian excelled it undoubtedly, and the Louisiana Purchase will excel all others, and may mark the perihelion of world shows.

Every nation and every state and territory will be represented and it is incumbent upon the people of the Territory of Hawaii to see that they are adequately represented. The trouble with Hawaii's exhibits in the past has been that they have been hastily scratched together. Instead of carefully laying out what should be sent, and emphasizing certain lines of industry, there is a general rush to scrape together, something, anything, good enough to send to an exhibition. The exhibit of a territory or a state requires thought, and should be well balanced to show the resources and the possibilities of the territory or state.

There has been such an advance in the means of exhibiting, that there is no longer any necessity of simply showing still life as it were, but the actual work or the actual scenes in action, can be put before the eyes of those who visit the exhibition. In Paris, where much attention was given to the representation of life in the French Colonies there were set scenes of colonial interiors. These gave a better idea than prize photographs. But at Buffalo there was a great improvement. The United States school exhibit applied the biograph to its needs, and gave scenes from school life, in actual action. This might be readily used to give action and reality to our exhibit. The interior of a sugar mill by day and by night might be represented, the field work could be shown, there are dozens of scenes which could be, thus portrayed but to properly portray them, group them and prepare them, takes time. The Chamber of Commerce should take time by the forelock.

The Schley-Sampson enquiry is under way by this time. The first struggle will be over Admiral Howison. Some of Admiral Howison's reported remarks would tend to show that he is prejudiced, Schley has the ablest of lawyers to handle his case, and he certainly has the good will of the whole people of the District of Columbia, and the State of Virginia, besides many other States as well.

Who won the yacht race? If we only had a cable we should know. There is great excitement in every city of the mainland and the principal newspaper offices give bulletins of the race every few minutes, and some of them have models of the yachts and move them as the telegrams come in San Francisco. Crowds hang about, watching the progress of a race which is taking place three thousand miles from them.

Carelessness has had something to do with the Hamakua fire. At least the people of the district claim it has. But when there has been such a drought on, even the greatest care will not save a forest from fire. Hamakua is suffering very seriously, and it will probably suffer for a month more, but that Hamakua is ruined is by no means true. If care is taken Hamakua will again yield fine crops. It may be thrown back a couple of years.

The tram car company is nothing unless original. Mr. Pain has turned the streets of Honolulu into a hippodrome. Some unbroken mules have been purchased, and the company's method of breaking them is to put them into a car with one of the old and worn out animals. The scenes that take place along the route beggar description. One of these unfortunate animals arrived at the terminus the other day, dripping with sweat, its mouth one mass of blood, and apparently in the last stage of exhaustion. If animals have to be broken there is absolutely no need of exhibiting the process on the street, disgusting passengers by, and frightening the passengers.

The easy way in which joss supplies medicines for his followers is truly excellent. You take your chance, and you are generally cured. It is not possible that some of mainland practitioners have a private joss of their own, and doctor their patients upon a similar principle. Yet one often hears the soft footed and velvet voiced physician say, after looking as wise as a flock of owls "Tut, tut, so you feel no better. Well, we must change your medicine," and then he disappears within, perchance consults joss, and arrives with another prescription. Of course all our island practitioners know everything and never-well hardly ever-make a mistake, at least no one ever heard any of them own up to the soft impeachment,

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

That man failed to shut the door, and the strong draft struck you squarely in the chest. A draft means a cold, a cough, pneumonia, and often the beginning of consumption itself. You shun a draft. But you can't when riding in the street-cars; either in the closed or open cars. Then keep at hand a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It will cure a "street-car cold" in a night. The moment you feel chilly or feverish, want to cough, or have any tightness in the chest take a dose. The relief is immediate. Put up in large and small bottles. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral Plaster is a great aid to the Cherry Pectoral. Placed directly over the painful lung, it draws out all soreness, relieves congestion, and imparts great strength.

IMPROVED CANE HANDLING. HILO, September 18.—The Waiakoa Mill Company has adopted mainland improved methods of loading cane on the cars from a suggestion caught by Ronald Kennedy on a plantation near New Orleans. The new method comprises a shovel similar to that used on a dredger and operated by a gasoline machine. This equipment, aided by two men picks up the piles of cane from the ground and deposits them in the cars for transportation to the mill. The cane being picked from the ground more or less dirt is taken up at the same time and C. C. Kennedy is now on a trip to the coast for the purpose of having an equipment devised and made that will lift the cane direct from the dump carts to the cars and eliminate the dirt at the same time reducing the handling.

TANDEM ON MAUI. WAILUKU, Maui, September 21.—The latest attraction at Paia for the lovers of the equine race, is a Tandem team of thorough-breds owned by Dr. W. P. McConkey. The doctor says that Tandem is the proper thing for his long drives over the rough and rugged roads of Maui.—Maui News.

NEW PLANTATION AT KEEAU. HILO, September 18.—A new plantation on a small scale, has been started under the title of the Keeau Land and Planting Co., capitalized at $50,000, the land being owned in fee simple. There is little of the stock left for subscription and the shareholders are much encouraged in their enterprise by the good showing made on the adjoining lands of the Oiaa Plantation. The company expects to have some four hundred acres of land in cane by the end of the first year. The cane will be ground at the Oiaa Sugar Company's mill and transported by the Hilo Railroad whose tracks run through the land as well as the Oiaa Company's flume. J. L. Osmer has been appointed manager and has already commenced the field work. The actual land now owned by the company consists of 200 acres, one half of which is cleared and the other forest land. Cane will be planted on the cleared land before the end of the month.

HUMPHREYS' GRAND JURY

SAYS HE DIDN'T KNOW IT WAS PARTISAN.

is Unacquainted With Two-Thirds of 'The Men Who Investigated the Legislative Bribery.

Judge Humphreys' brief, filed at Washington in the matter of the charges of the Hawaiian Bar Association against him, deals with the late legislative-bribery Grand Jury, in a short paragraph. The charge was made that Humphreys "was instrumental in drawing and allowing a partisan Grand Jury to be drawn, to serve in the Circuit court of the First Judicial Circuit over which said Judge was then and there presiding, in contempt and disregard to the duties of his high office." In reply Humphreys says: "If this Grand Jury was, in fact, a partisan body I was not at the time of its impanelment, nor am I now, aware of such fact. It does appear from the affidavit of a single person, and he one of the persons seeking to secure my removal, that a majority of the jury were Democrats. I am not prepared to challenge the truth of such a statement. Two-thirds of the jury are utter strangers to me, and I would not know them if I met them on the street tomorrow. I made no inquiry at the time of their performance of their duty, limiting myself entirely to propounding to them such questions as are usual when members of a grand inquest are examined as to their qualifications.

"The writ of venire was issued in the usual common law form, commanding the officers to summon the proper number of good and lawful men from the body of the island. The writ was delivered to the officer by the Clerk of the Court and no suggestion or intimation was made by me, or by any other person on my behalf, as to the individuals who were to be summoned or their political affiliations. This specification is unsupported by evidence, except the single affidavit referred to, and I disavow it with these observations."

The brief ends with a summary beginning with the following language: "In conclusion I beg to say that my efforts to hold court in American lines, to elect the administration of justice, to reform abuses in judicial procedure, and to prevent crime, so far as a court may reach that result through the medium of its Grand Juries, and especially my efforts to put an end to the indescribable iniquity prevailing at the present time, are established, maintained and defended by the Dole administration, has met with the unqualified approval of a very large portion. I believe an overwhelming majority of the people of the Islands. If, in fact, I am tempted to hold an American court in the midst of these conditions I am a misfit, it lies with you and the President to say whether the American idea of judicial procedure (if I have correctly pursued such idea) shall be made to conform to the conditions prevailing in the Islands, or whether those conditions shall be made to conform to the American idea of the administration of justice.

"Very respectfully, Abram S. Humphreys."

THE MISSION CHILDREN.

At the meeting of the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society held Saturday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hall, Miss Martha Chamberlain read the report for the year. Among the deaths recorded were those of Mrs. Juliette Smith Farley, sister of W. O. Smith, the old homestead in Koloa Kauai; Dr. Henry Lyman, a prominent physician in Chicago and brother of Judge Lyman of Hilo; Fred Lyman, another brother; Mrs. Sarah Clarke Lyman, and Miss Isabel Chamberlain Lyman of Hilo.

Among the marriages reported were those of Hiram Bingham, Jr., and Miss Alfreda Mitchell, daughter of Donald Mitchell, the author, in New London, Conn.; Percy M. Pond and Miss Edith O. Eldridge, in Honolulu; Benjamin L. Marx, and Miss Eloise Castle, in this city; Charles Montague Cooke and Miss Eliza Lefferts; C. H. Whitman Hitchcock and Miss Margaret Murphy, Hilo; and William L. Whitney, and Miss Sarah Mae Sutton, in Honolulu.

HER PORTRAIT.

Emma Goldman painted her own portrait with her words as she answered the crowding questions of a score of excited men, who must have seemed to her like very fiends of the hell which she believes society to be.

"The President?" she said. "He is the most insignificant and ignorant of men. Why should you make more fuss over one man than over another?"

"Society? It is a tool by which the strong oppress the weak."

"The assassination of the President? I don't know whether it was good or bad. That is for a man who did it to decide. I am not in his boots."

"An anarchist is all a man. Led by despair, he may kill."

"Do I make anarchists through my lectures?" You overestimate my influence. The police are the makers of anarchists."

HE OWES HIS LIFE TO THE FORE THOUGHT OF A COMPANION.

While on a camping trip in Webster county, Mr. S. L. Stamp, of Norman town, W. Va., had a severe attack of bloody flux. He says, "I firmly believe that I owe my life to the forethought of one of the company who had taken along a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy." Moral—Procure a bottle of this remedy before leaving home. It cannot be obtained when on a hunting, fishing or prospecting trip. Neither can it be obtained while on board the cars or steamship, and at such times and places it is most likely to be needed. The safe way is to have it with you. Thousands of travelers never leave home on a journey without it. For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith, & Co., general agents, Hawaiian Islands.
