SHIP COMES IN DISTRESS

THE PARAMITA REACHES PORT AFTER A SEVERE BATTLE WITH THE ELEMENT OF THE SEA—ALMOST DISMASTED IN A HURRICANE THAT SWEEP OVER THE PAUMOTU ISLANDS—NEARLY SENT TO THE BOTTOM OF THE OCEAN.

Brained and battered and torn and broken the American ship Paramita came limping into port this morning. Down in the South Seas the same hurricane that devastated the Paumotu islands over a month ago, caught the Paramita and all but sent her to the bottom. None of the seventeen men aboard her had the slightest hope that she would ever get out of the hurricane alive. But she did live through it and the men say it was because she was a staunch vessel, and luck did not entirely desert them.

How the vessel ever escaped destruction is remarkable. From statements of every one aboard the vessel the fury of the hurricane was almost beyond comprehension. It was impossible for the men to stand up on the decks and face the wind and at its height the wind swept away the masts of the vessel as they stood without a strip of canvas spread on them.

The Paramita left Newcastle, New South Wales for San Francisco December 1 with 2,000 tons of coal aboard, consigned to J. J. Moore and Company. The meridian was passed in 17 days at Latitude 22 1/2 south. Usually the weather with light variable winds was the order for the first part of the trip. But on January 9 at 8 p. m. she struck a moderate gale from the southwest which increased accompanied by a heavy sea. The wind split the foremast staysail, the main staysail and the mizzen lower topsail. At 6 a. m. the following morning captain Backus wore ship and ran to the eastward for 24 hours in the hope of escaping the gale. The storm center was coming up too fast however for the Paramita to escape so on Sunday morning the gale had increased and they were ship aground. At 4 a. m. Sunday January 11 the full

THE TWO LANGUAGE QUESTION "EASY" OUR TROUBLES BEFORE CONGRESS

DICKEY RAISES IT IN THE SENATE AND IT IS SETTLED BY A WORD TO THE INTERPRETER.

The question of the "language of procedure" came up this morning in the senate, and it looked for a time as though the whole language question was to be threshed out right at the beginning of the session. But it proved to be only a momentary matter and was off before many of the members had recognized that it was a great chance for time killing debate.

The subject was brought up by Senator Dickey, rising to a point of order. His point of order was that Senator J. T. Brown had introduced a bill making his introducing remarks in Hawaiian which had not been translated into English by the interpreter. President Crabb suggested that as the bill was in English that covered the issue. But Senator Dickey argued not; that the entire act required the proceedings to be conducted in the English language and the introduction of the bill was a part of the proceedings as well as the bill itself.

Nearly every senator was on the alert to see what Senator Dickey's point would lead to, but when the Senator explained that all he had raised his point for was so that the interpreter would not fail to interpret in the future any remarks made in Hawaiian which were a part of the proceedings as distinguished from a part of the debate, they settled back. President Crabb remarking in effect that "that was easy" directed the interpreter to watch the proceedings to comply with the point of order raised by Senator Dickey.

QUEEN LILIUOKALANI'S CLAIMS AND OUR ELECTION LAWS CONSIDERED IN THE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Senator Blackburn has introduced an amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill, making an appropriation of $200,000, "in full satisfaction of all claims presented against" of ex-Queen Liliuokalani of Hawaii.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Representative Graham of Pennsylvania, from the Committee on Territories, today favorably reported the bill to modify certain sections of the election laws of the Territory of Hawaii with amendments. The bill provides, among other things, that election officials shall be appointed equally between the two political parties. Provision also is made for an official ballot, giving the names of candidates, the office to which nominated and political party.

HONOLULU NOT A JAY TOWN

MRS. E. P. DOLE DECLARES IT IS A CHARMING CITY—HER ALLEGED WINE APPETITE.

SAN FRANCISCO, February 19.—The divorce granted in Honolulu to ex-Attorney-General E. P. Dole from his wife, formerly Miss Eleanor Gallagher of this city, has brought forth an interesting assortment of charges on both sides.

"I had no idea that Mr. Dole would testify to such absurd things," she said. "My one idea was to be free, so I allowed him to get the divorce on the grounds of cruelty and incompatibility. My attorneys advised this, and the reason that I would have had to remain in the islands a year before I could bring suit. If I had been there to contest it, it would never have been granted, and Mr. Dole only dared to perjure himself because I was so many miles away.

"The thing that hurt me most in his statement that I urged him to use his office to enrich himself. That is absolutely untrue, and probably it was said with a view of shielding himself in the event of any trouble he may have. As a matter of fact Mr. Dole was forced to resign. The Honolulu papers stated he was 'kicked out of office' on the view of the fact that he weighs over 290 pounds and is the picture of health, his plea of ill-health is rather absurd. However, this is irrelevant, and I only want to criticize his statements concerning me. They are not true and no one understands better than Mr. Dole my attitude towards him. It is true that on the steamer going down to the islands my manner was cold and distant. It is also true that to some of his friends I was not cordial; but these things were not without cause. It is not true that I called Honolulu a 'jay town.' I have a much finer term than that, and was delightedly entertained. On the contrary, I think it a charming city. Neither is it true that I called him a 'beast of a missionary.' I'm sorry I couldn't call him a missionary. He was so far from being one. He poses as a tea-totaller, but he drinks his whisky every morning and always has it in his room.

"The occasion he mentioned on which I suggested having champagne for dinner, he stated that it would be impossible because people would learn that he drank.

"Mrs. Dole testified that my manner to Mr. Dole was contemptuous in the dining-room of the hotel, but Mr. Dole indulged in the most distressing conversation at table. He would suddenly declare at dinner that on Molokai people went about with baskets picking up the finger-worms and friends there and he would say 'Which would you rather be an ell or a toad?' Naturally I would ask him to desist. For Governor and Mrs. Dole I have the warmest friendship, and they have been my friends in this matter. They were not among those who criticized me.

"I was at their home ill shortly after our marriage, and I returned to my mother in this city a physical wreck after two months. It was only because she urged me that I returned to my husband, but I found it impossible to live with him, and after arranging for the divorce, I again came home to remain.

"I cannot retaliate in the manner Mr. Dole has chosen, but if he makes any further accusations I shall not hesitate to bring a suit for libel. I have suffered enough at his hands, and it is time to turn."

Mrs. Dole was Miss Eleanor Gallagher, daughter of Mrs. Bernard Gallagher of this city. She is many years younger than her former husband, whom she met during a visit to the islands two years ago. Before her marriage she was a teacher in the Cogswell School.

SAVINGS BANK.

Many people start in to save by fits and starts. They make deposits in a savings bank for two or three months and then stop and get into their old habits of spending what they earn. The Pioneer Building & Loan Association by requiring a monthly deposit of the same amount each month breaks them of the spending habit as they soon come to look upon their payments as a monthly expense that must be met. The interest earned for 1902 was 11 1/2%. The 26th series of Stock is now open for subscription. One share requires a payment of $1.00 per month and when it matures is worth $20.

ESTATE CASE.

Judge Gear yesterday rendered a decision throwing out of court the case of the H Brown minors against C. A. Brown and others. This is the suit in which the plaintiffs sought to reopen the probate of the will of the late John H. Brown, claiming that the Supreme court in which the will was probated was illegally constituted. Gear sustained a demurrer.

AFTER THE BOARD

REPRESENTATIVE KUMALAE OBJECTS TO THE WORK OF SANITARY INSPECTORS AND CHARGES THAT SILENCE MONEY IS BEING COLLECTED—THE HOUSE VOTES A SPECIAL COMMITTEE TO TAKE UP THE MATTER AT ONCE.

Kumalae offered a resolution that the Board of Health regulations be submitted forthwith for revision and that a committee of three be appointed to go over them. Kumalae proceeded to attack the present rules which he said imposed a hardship on poor people. "Agents of the Board are going from place to place now," he said, "and enforcing rules upon poor people which they cannot carry out without losing their homes. Yesterday an official of the Board told me an old lady wanted to see me. She told me that she would have to dig cesspools and make connections that would cost her $300 and that the Board's agent had stated that if she could not do it the best thing for her was to sell her home. There are others who are treated likewise. These officials want to get her land for less than she wants to sell and they are trying to force her to sell out. It is time for us to adjust these matters and see that proper regulations are made for the poor people.

"Many agents have been going round and forcing people to put up silence money. One called on me and told me to make some changes. He did not know I was a representative, but when I refused, and he found out I was, he dropped the matter. I told him that if I had violated any law to let the law take its course. These officials are going around among the poor threatening them with the loss of their homes."

Harris thought action was premature before the appointment of committees and proposed to refer the matter to the proper standing committee about to be appointed.

Kumalae's motion finally prevailed, and Speaker Beckley appointed Kumalae, Gandhall and Aylett to constitute the committee called for by Kumalae.

Kuphea offered a resolution to send for a list of all the public lands of the territory which are held by corporations. The House voted to refer the matter to the regular committee on land matters, when such committee should have been named.

W. W. Harris gave notice of intention to introduce an act for the protection of life and property from steam boilers and engines and to provide for the examination and licensing of engineers; an act to provide for the registering and confirmation of land titles, and an act to regulate the erection, alteration and repair of buildings in the Territory.

Kumalae gave notice of acts to extend School street, to improve Sheldon street, to provide right of action for damages for wrongful death, to remove all lumber yards from the Honolulu fire limits, to prohibit cremation without consent of relatives of persons deceased and to appropriate money for the expenses of issuing fire claims bonds.

J. K. Paele gave notice of an act to provide for the education of some youths of the islands in the United States, an act to prevent the cremation of deceased persons without the consent of their relatives, an act to repeal sections 872 and 873 and 889 of the penal code, relating to cemeteries and quarantines, and an act to repeal the stamp tax act.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13.—The bark Martha Davis, Captain McAlmon, after starting for sea yesterday morning, bound for Hilo, returned to land a sailor named Charles Hene, who broke his leg as the result of a fall on board the bark. SUSTAINED
BUT CRITICIZED

SUPREME COURT DISCUSSES AN APPEAL AGAINST KALUA BUT SAYS THE JUDGE ERRED.
The Supreme Court has rendered a decision sustaining Judge Kalua of Maui in an appealed criminal case, but marking incidentally that the judge's charge to the jury was not what it should have been. The points raised on appeal, however are not the ones which the higher court thinks call for a reversal of the decision.
The appeal was by Cheong Jim Kong a Chinese, who was found guilty of an assault on Officer Santos, Kihei.
Kong was one of a party of Chinese whom Santos disturbed in a gambling game. Several Chinese were captured and Kong led a rescue gang, attacking Santos, while the latter was blowing his whistle for assistance. It was charged in defense that Kong didn't know Santos was an officer and that he had entered the Chinese establishment without having any search warrant.
The Supreme Court says that the jury found against Kong on both these issues of fact, and that the jury finding will not be disturbed.
"While the charge of the court is not what it should have been," says the opinion of the Supreme court, "the defects in it are not raised by the exceptions and cannot be reviewed at this time." The bill of exceptions is therefore overruled and the sentence of the lower court is affirmed. Kong was sentenced to one year at hard labor.

tainment offered for today.

feree. The following are the teams:

SATURDAY FEBRUARY 21, 1903.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.

On tomorrow will occur an anniversary that possesses great significance to Americans—Washington's Birthday. The Fourth of July has perhaps a greater significance than marks the twenty-second of February, but when the services done the nation by George Washington are recalled, the glory of his name rises above that of any other American and higher than the acts of any set of men of his time.

There is unfortunately a disposition upon the part of some of the present generation to regard the twenty-second of February with indifference. Such conduct is deplorable. It is a day that should be accorded a respect, a reverence, second only to that shown the Liberty, for George Washington was the maker of this great nation.

There has never been a more truthful estimate of Washington than that which Lord Bacon gave of Augustus Caesar—"If ever a mortal had a great, serene, well-regulated mind, it was Augustus Caesar." The career of Washington is but a series of victories of such a mind over difficulties that would have engulfed any but him.

Measured by the achievements of others of the world's great men, Washington's military victories were small. Had the theater of his operations been of a larger scale, he might have attained the fleeting glory of a conqueror.

Unlike most of the world's greatest warriors and rulers, Washington's greatness shone constantly the brightest in time of defeat. At an early age through the sheer force of his personality and courage he brought the remnants of the Colonial troops from the awful slaughter of Braddock's blunder.

But the final defeat of the British did not bring peace for Washington. Disintegration seemed inevitable for the new nation. It was through the diplomacy of Washington that the danger was averted and a union of the States effected that stands today for the liberty of mankind.

He was born in Virginia, February 22, 1732; he died December 14, 1799. The nation will never see his like again.

THE HAGUE FOR HAWAII.

Governor Dole's message to the legislature is a careful resume of conditions with which legislation has to do, together with a conservative, but hopeful outlook for the future. While it is wholesomely optimistic, it is ruggedly frank. It takes stock of what is, and points out what may be.

Perhaps one of the most interesting features of the message is that in relation to the so-called British claims. So little has been said about these of late, that a good many people had forgotten that they existed. However, there is no hope that any claimants before a legislature will ever forget their claims.

use to submit their claims to such arbitration, or to abide by the decision of the commission if they do.

As a proposal to settle these claims and at the same time get some good advertising, some world-wide advertising for the territory, why not have these claims submitted to The Hague Tribunal? If they can be gotten before that august court? Being claims against a territory which is without national sovereignty it may not be possible to get them before that tribunal.

By what he said in his message on the subject, Governor Dole has enrolled himself in the small farmer class along with Farmer Jared Smith and Farmer Walter G. Smith.

If, as it is stated, the fire claims bonds can be taken up here at par, it would seem that any plan to dispose of them at a discount in New York ought to be very thoroughly considered, and the reasons for it be both conclusive and well understood, before it is adopted. S. M. Damon has been quoted as stating that he believed the bonds could be taken up here.

Beckley shows enough good judgment and knowledge of the duties of his position to be a Republican.

It is announced that the thermometer at the residence of H. M. Whitney registered 52 degrees at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning. All who know him are sure that even at this Mr. Whitney did not get cold feet.

Mr. Testa says that if the Hawaiians in the House recede their names should "be emblazoned with coruscations of mud." None of the members knew the risks they ran when they accepted nominations for the legislature.

If Mrs. E. P. Dole is quoted correctly in any of the numerous purported interviews with her published in the San Francisco papers, she herself would probably make the best witness as to whether there was any collusion in the late attorney general's suit for divorce.

Incidentally it might be remarked that secret balloting for a Speaker and other officers of a House of Representatives is a spectacle that would make many Mainland politicians of experience rub their eyes. Perhaps the members could get along better if they were a bit more open.

It is hard to understand why the Republicans in the Senate in framing their rules should have put it out of their power on a party division to limit debate and secure action. The party is responsible for whatever legislation is accomplished, and it will be responsible if the time of the Senate is wasted and frittered away in idle chatter or dilatory tactics. It is all very well to be magnanimous, and to assume that the other side will not waste time in that way. But the other side did do that very thing at the last legislature. It would have been much better for the Republicans to have framed the rules so that as a party they could control the progress of business in the Senate.

Do you not find that at this season the grass grows almost as fast as you can cut it, and that your yard man is complaining of a broken down Lawn Mower that he is obliged to use? Do you realize the time that is saved by using the proper tools? We would like to explain the mechanism of our special mower demonstrating the simplicity, durability and easy method of sharpening.

When you purchase one of our machines send your yard man in and we will explain fully to him how to operate oil and sharpen, so that you will have no annoyance or expense later.

Electricity

It occurred in a class in physics in a "prep" school. The student in question had never felt the warm blood of ambition coursing through his veins and looked with superb indifference and contempt on the subject of study of any kind. In fact his study bump was flat. The subject before the class was electricity. Prof. Snyder propounded the question to the youth, "What is electricity?" The young man arose, scratched the place where his study bump ought to have been, gazed blankly into space, and replied: "Don't know!" "Right! Right!" exclaimed the professor. "First question you have answered right since I have heard you recite. Mark you perfect! No one knows what electricity is!" The same student was asked later in regard to the Douglas and he readily replied: "The Douglas Patent Closet is guaranteed against leakage and the annoyance of running water. Bath, the plumber, installs the Douglas."

introduced in the Senate. Senator Isenberg introduced a bill providing for a fish commission which should study the necessary laws for the protection of fish. He also introduced another bill prohibiting the use of nets in fishing with a mesh smaller than one and a half inch; prohibiting the use of giant powder and otherwise providing protection for the food fishes of Hawaiian waters. Isenberg also introduced a bill providing for the examination of trawls, plants and that sort of thing to prevent the introduction of other pests.

Other senators introduced the bills of which they had given notice yesterday.

Senator Isenberg also introduced an act to regulate the commitment of persons to the insane asylum, to insure the discharge of persons from the asylum in case of being competent, and to permit the government to bring action against the property of an insane person to defray the expense of commitment and the payment of expenses for maintenance in the asylum.

Senator John T. Brown introduced a bill regulating the payment of taxes, but this act was laid on the table to be considered with the county government act.

Senator McCandless introduced an act to amend certain sections of Act 9 of the Session Laws of 1901.

IN DISTRESS

6 feet high and for hours that place including the donkey engine room was flooded.

The vessel was helpless. The men did not dare go forward to cut away the wreckage. So wild was the hurricane that no one could stand upright on the deck. Mate C. Johnson was in the wheel house with William Smith an able seaman who was at the wheel. A tremendous sea boarded the vessel from the starboard side, smashed in the door of the wheel house, broke the house and swept an ax which the mate had pitched out into the sea. The wreckage against the mate's foot making a deep gash to the bone. Glass was broken and the binocular case was smashed. The same sea swept along forward washing out the lockers in the bow of the vessel, broke water casks and did other damage.

The wreckage was every where about the vessel. There seemed little chance of getting it cleared away for a greater danger was reported. The vessel had been strained by the buffeting and she was leaking. All hands available were put to work on the pumps as the donkey room was flooded and steam could not be gotten up. When the crew started the pumps Sunday afternoon there was 15 inches of water in the vessel's hold. They pumped until Monday afternoon and when exhausted and were falling away unable to continue, there was 8 feet of water in the vessel, so fast had the seas gained on them. Finally steam was gotten up in the donkey engine on Monday afternoon and the engine went to work pumping out the vessel.

The vessel was in latitude 7.51 south long. 150.40 west when she was struck by the hurricane and disintegrated. The position was about 350 to 500 miles to the northwest of the Paumotu Islands. The hurricane that devastated those islands reached them on January 12 two days later than the storm struck the Paramita. The general character and direction of the two storms indicated however that the vessel fell in some part of the same storm that swept across that portion of the Pacific.

Although the donkey engine got to work Monday morning and the men were able to get a few hours cessation from that kind of work, the vessel was far from being out of danger. The tarpaulins had been swept away from the main hatch and the men say they could not get the hatch for some time after they asked for the canvas for such purpose. The seas continued high and were getting up constantly. The men were awash much of the time. Second Mate John Brock nearly lost his life while sitting on the after part of the vessel. A tremendous sea boarded the vessel dashed him to the deck, picked him up and jammed him against the rail nearly breaking his neck.

It was not until the following Sunday January 18, that the gale moderated to any extent. The wind had during that period worked to north west and finally ended with moderate weather by blowing from the northeast. Work of clearing away the wreckage and getting up a jury rig occupied the greater portion of the time. The mizzen yards that remains were put on the fore mast to which was added the mizzen topmast. After the vessel had been rigged up the donkey engine broke down repeatedly and the men had to man the pumps. On January 21 they pumped all day and every time the water level had been at the pumps until yesterday.

Water began to show signs of running low. In fact the donkey had to be run on salt water as a large part of the fresh supply was lost when the sea smashed in forward. January 23, the rain water and on the following day they went on daily allowance of water. Provisions held out well however. Potatoes went short a few days ago and sugar gave out yesterday.

When the vessel was first rigged up Captain Backus intended to make San Francisco. He thought that it would be easier to make Honolulu so he arrived off the port this morning. The advent of the vessel caused quite a sensation until her identity became known. It was at first reported that she was the missing ship Florence, or else the ship Benjamin F. Packard. The identity of the Paramita was not suspected at first as she was not coming to this port. The vessel is leaking slightly. Captain Backus has called his people in San Francisco for orders. He was last here in the ship W. F. Weltzman while mate Johnson was here in the ship Reeper several years ago. The Paramita is moored in the stream.

About the only complaint the crew has to make against Captain Backus is that he failed to have a sufficient supply of tobacco on hand. The result of this shortage was that they have been without tobacco for almost 40 days. In addition to her other repairs the Paramita will have to undergo repairs to her bulwarks. About twenty feet on the port side was washed away by the sea. Her hull was battered and torn in numerous places by the rigging before the debris could be cut away.

INGENUOUS DEVICES.

M. L. Myers, assistant to the general manager of the Baltimore and Ohio, has invented a number of devices for detecting bad places of tracks. The appliances are fitted in an ordinary coach, and are worked partly by power from the axles of the car and partly by electricity. They include: Indicator of the square of track; indicator for car swings; indicator for low joints and indicator for the elevation of curves.

A CAUSE CELEBRE.

Mrs. C. C. Chaffee, 88 years old, died in Springfield, Mass., February 17, of old age. She was at one time the owner of Dred Scott, the slave over whom the famous legal controversy was waged which practically annulled the Missouri compromise. To Mrs. Chaffee he had been left a slave by her first husband, Dr. Emerson of St. Louis, and she had practically given him his freedom after moving to Springfield to live.

A lawyer brought suit on the claim that Scott had been freed by being taken into a free state. He hoped by this to gain Scott's freedom and obtain fourteen years' wages for him. The local court decided in his favor, but in three succeeding courts up to the United States Supreme Court, it was declared that the negro's ownership was not affected by his being taken into free soil. Immediately after the suit had been decided in her favor Mrs. Chaffee liberated the man.

ENTHRONED AS ARCHBISHOP.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—Dr. Randall Davidson was enthroned today as Archbishop of Canterbury in Canterbury cathedral with much stately ceremonial. The cathedral was filled to its capacity with church dignitaries and civil, naval and military officials in full robes or uniforms. The procession, which preceded the Archbishop to the altar, took twenty minutes to pass up the nave. After the presentation of the mandate for the Archbishop's enthronement the Archdeacon of Canterbury placed the primate on the throne. The ceremony was concluded with the Archbishop taking the customary oath and the usual promise of obedience on the part of all the clergy.

At luncheon, after the ceremony, the Archbishop of Canterbury, replying to the toast to his health, commented on the increased world-wide interest in the bishopric. He said that while the congratulations to his father-in-law, Archbishop Tait, were confined to this country, the first news of his (the speaker's) appointment which reached him was contained in a congratulatory message from Bishop Doane of Albany, N. Y. The news reached America before it arrived at the village where he was staying.

A MILLION DOLLAR FINE.

By the decision of the Court of Appeals of New York in a suit begun by the State to recover penalties from the Arctic Freezing Company of New York city for the possession of game out of season the lower Court is upheld and the original fine of more than $1,000,000 against the company is sustained.

In 1891 State Game Protector Overton entered the New York cold-storage establishment of the Arctic Freezing Company and forcibly seized 42,000 birds. Under the law Overton held that the company was subject to a fine of $25 for each bird in its possession during the closed season. In this way it was liable, he claimed, for over $1,000,000. The company contended it did not know and was not supposed to know the character of the merchandise consigned to it by commission merchants and others.

As a matter of fact, the boxes and crates were marked as "broilers" or "Philadelphia squabs." The company made a strong fight, in which it was joined by the commission men, and the result of the long litigation is to uphold Overton's construction of the State law and to sustain him in his determination to collect the immense fine imposed.

BEN BUTLER'S DINNER.

It Will be Served Tomorrow at the Palace Grill.

"What shall I have for Sunday dinner," is a question that puzzles every housewife. Under its new management the Palace Grill, on Bethel street proposes to solve this question for Honolulu people. And besides new management every thing else about the Palace Grill is new, such as table linen, silverware, kitchen furniture and all that goes to make a restaurant clean and attractive.

When General Butler was Governor of Massachusetts he gave a dinner that became famous as Ben Butler's dinner and many a noted man has since had the same dinner prepared for him. The man who prepared Ben Butler's dinner is now connected with the Palace Grill and he proposes to duplicate Butler's dinner on Sunday, February 22 (Washington's Birthday). The bill of fare will include Cape Cod oysters, Cape Ann Clod-fish, Chicken Halibut, Crimped Salmon with Lobster sauce, Poached Muller, Roast Turkey, Roast Beef and Lamb, and Poached Spiced Beef along with all the best vegetables which accompany a first class dinner; and the dessert will include that fine old New England dish, Blue Berry Pie, together with Green Apple Pie, Plum Pudding, Roll Pudding, Cap Cod style and Boston Ice Cream. And the best and most important of all is that this famous Ben Butler dinner will be served for only fifty cents. It will not only be the best dinner to be had in Honolulu but the cheapest.

CURIOUS DROWNING.

A curious accident occurred recently at Oldshoe, near Hamburg. A two-wheeled, one-horse conveyance containing two men and three children turned over in the darkness into a ditch, which contained less than three feet of water. The cart held down the passengers, they were unable to get out, and all were drowned.

DIAZ'S SUCCESSOR.

It has been claimed that Jose Yves Limantour, who is expected to succeed Porfirio Diaz as president of Mexico, is ineligible to the office, it being alleged that he is not a native of Mexico. Semi-official denial of these statements is made. Senor Limantour's parents were French, but he was born in the City of Mexico, December 26, 1854.

IN TRAINING.

The young Duke Charles Edward of Coburg and Gotha, son of the duchess of Albany, is in training to be ruler. He will spend several months as a clerk in the government offices at Berlin, then perfect himself in French, and study the system of government and administration of Gotha. Then will follow the study of law at Bonn university.

MEMORIZING VERSE.

It takes 25 per cent more time to memorize a poem by taking it verse by verse than if the whole be read repeatedly.

CURIOUS AFFLICTION.

An English clergyman is afflicted with a habit of hushing his words. He once astonished his congregation by saying that some one present doubtless had in his heart "a half-warmed fish." He meant to say "half-formed wish." A hymn beginning "Conquering kings their title take" was turned into Kinkering Kings their titles take," and the 51st psalm was announced as "fusty-fifth."

WHOSE FAULT IS IT?

The world is full of disease and pain. Whose fault is it? Everybody's; therefore often the fault of the sufferers themselves. But the pressing question is,—what to do, how to relieve, how to cure. What would become of us if means were not found to destroy disease? Why, then, of course, disease would destroy us and the world would be depopulated. Until we learn how to prevent disease, we must be thankful for the means of abating and curing it after it has seized upon us, and stands, like a savage with uplifted axe, ready to take our lives. Especially do we need some sure and speedy form of treatment for those complaints which are universal,—which arise in every country and climate. We allude to such ailments as Neryons and General Debility, Hystreria, Scrofula, Chronic Diarrhoea, Asthma, Throat and Lung Complaints, Blood Impurities, and the ills of women and children. For these WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION comes as near to being an actual specific as any medicine yet discovered. It is palatable as honey and contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. You may almost say that it is life itself embodied in a single article made by human hands. Dr. J. L. Carrick says: "I have had remarkable success with it in the treatment of Consumption, Chronic Bronchitis, Catarrh and Scrofulous Affections. It is of special value in nervous prostration and depraved nutrition. It stimulates the appetite and the digestion, promotes assimilation, and enters directly into the circulation with the food. I consider it a marvelous success in medicine." Every dose effective. "It cannot disappoint." Sold by all chemists.

Are you ever nervous? Do you lie awake nights, suffer from despondency, and often feel discouraged? It's a terrible life to lead. Don't suffer in this way any more. Get strong and well.

Follow the advice of Mrs. Thomas Ditchard, of Adelaide, South Australia. She sends us her photograph and says: "I had a terrible illness which left my nerves all a-trembling. I had severe headaches, indigestion, sleeplessness, and my nerves were just as weak as they could be. I then tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla and I began to improve at once. My appetite returned, my digestion improved, and my nerves became strong and steady."

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—Nine officers and directors of the Retail Coal Dealers' Association of Illinois and Wisconsin, lately indicted by the special grand jury which was called to investigate the fuel shortage and high prices, were today fined $100 each on a formal verdict of a jury in Judge Horton's court which found them guilty of conspiring to do an illegal act in restraint of trade. This is the first verdict in the coal case.

BACKSET FOR SCHLEY

Associated Press Cable, Morning Service.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The enemies of Read Admiral Schley scored again today in the House Committee on Naval Affairs. The bill to give the man whose partisans have claimed for him the credit of the naval victory at Santiago, during the Spanish war, the pay of an active Admiral was called up at a session of the committee, and was tabled there. This, in effect, kills the bill at this session of Congress.

TROUBLE BREAKS OUT.

Associated Press Cable, Morning Service.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Feb. 20.—News has been received here of a desperate battle which has been fought between Turkish troops on their way to Macedonia and Macedonian revolutionists, aided by Albanians, in the European province of Albania. The casualties in the encounter were heavy. Ninety Turks were killed and the insurgent loss was heavy. The mountain passes are filled with snow and communication with the scene of the battle is difficult.

BOSTON, Feb. 20.—Fear is expressed here for the missionaries and teachers in the schools of the American Board of Missions in Albania. It is feared that the troops sent from southern or Asiatic Turkey to fight against the insurgents will, in case of victory, attack the schools and missions as they have great hatred for them. In the mission-fields covered by the American Board in Macedonia and Albania all the workers are Americans or natives who have been educated in American schools.

MAZATLAN'S PLAGUE INCREASING.

Associated Press Cable, Morning Service.

MAZATLAN, Feb. 20.—Bubonic plague continues to rage with daily increasing virulence in this city, despite the utmost efforts on the part of the central government to stamp out the disease. One death was reported today, and forty-two new patients were taken to the lazaretto. The business of the city is at a standstill, and the strictest quarantine is being enforced.

HISTORIC VILLA BURNED.

Associated Press Cable, Morning Service.

FLORENCE, Feb. 20.—In a fire which broke out in the forest of Vallambrosa today, the historic Villa Medici was totally destroyed.

The Villa Medici, built by one of the family of that name which played so prominent a part in the affairs of Italy and of Florence, particularly in the Middle Ages, was one of the famous buildings of the old world, and one of the show places of Italy. The art treasures in the villa alone were of fabulous value, although Napoleon enriched the gallery of the Louvre from it, and their destruction will be a loss to the world of art that will be irreparable.

FIGHTING IN VENEZUELA.

Associated Press Cable, Morning Service.

CARACAS, Feb. 20.—The allied powers have failed to return to Venezuela the ships taken at the outbreak of the present trouble, and have failed also to make compensation for the vessels destroyed in the first engagements of the war, when the combined fleets of England and Germany opened fire on the Venezuelan vessels. This has caused the greatest indignation to be felt throughout the country, and has no doubt tended to strengthen the cause of the rebels against Castro. Today a force of rebels attacked the government troops at Uracluca, only twenty miles from Caracas. The fighting was desperate for three hours, the rebels coming on boldly again and again. They were finally beaten and driven back, but it was only by the hardest kind of fighting. The rebels left many killed and wounded upon the field.

A GRAND JUROR WHO DISAGREES

FINAL REPORT PRESENTED AND GEORGE MARKHAM WANTS TO FILE A MINORITY REPORT.

The Grand Jury submitted its final report to Judge De Bolt at noon today. George Markham, one of the jurors, did not sign the report, and asked the permission of the court to turn in a minority report. Judge De Bolt stated that he might be allowed to file his report on Monday.

The jurors returned sixteen indictments, all of which were placed on the secret file, the parties not being in custody. One of them is said to be against Yin Quon, who was charged with perjury and forgery as a result of evidence given before Judge Robinson in the trial of an ejectment suit. W. A. Kinney, of counsel in the case, appeared before the jurors this morning, and gave testimony on which an indictment against the Chinese is said to have been found.

The written report of the jury was a brief one. It stated that 62 cases had been brought before the jury, involving the examination of a hundred witnesses, and that in 54 of the cases bills had been returned. The jurors referred to the large number of burglaries and expressed the view that the police work done would mend matters, and they expressed their appreciation of the courtesy and ability shown by Deputy Attorney General E. C. Peters. George Markham rose and asked the court if a minority report was allowable. The judge offered to take the report if Markham had it ready, but Markham said he could not prepare it at once. He was finally allowed permission to file a report on Monday and announced that he would do so. Markham's expected report will deal with the acts of government officials, it is stated, and may also contain some roasts of the Rapid Transit for running cars too fast. The Home Ruler is said to have wanted to investigate the Territorial officials generally, but the other jurors would not take his lead. The other members of the jury all signed the report that was handed to Judge De Bolt by Foreman W. W. Dimond. In discharging the jury Judge De Bolt warmly thanked the members for their work, referring especially to the prospect of good results from the active investigation of crimes of violence.
