

SENATOR LINK IS ON THE WARPATH

PETITIONS ARE NOW IN CIRCULATION FOR THE PURPOSE OF GETTING THE GOVERNOR TO APPLY THE PROPOSED LOAN FUNDS TO THE NECESSITIES OF THE DIFFERENT DISTRICTS WHICH IT IS SAID TO AFFECT.

Governor Carter is to get a petition from every district that has an item in the loan appropriation bill, asking him to carry out the provisions of the loan bill in their entirety. The loan bill as passed by the legislature and approved by the governor called for a bond issue of $1,377,000. The governor decided to cut out all items except those which were for purely territorial purposes. Even these he cut down, and reduced the bond issue from $1,377,000 to $750,000.

Loan Act as passed by the Legislature. It is a matter of recent record that the Governor has refused to put in force the provisions of the bill as it was passed, owing to the differences made by the adoption of the County form of government. Still, Senator McCandless and many others like him, felt that there are certain permanent improvements which should be attended to and it is with this in view that the present petitions are being circulated.

Miss Muriel Campbell Is Critically Ill

COL. SAM PARKER AND FAMILY DEPART UNEXPECTEDLY FOR SAN FRANCISCO ON THE TRANSPORT LOGAN OWING TO THE SICKNESS OF MISS MURIEL CAMPBELL—HAS TO BE OPERATED ON FOR APPENDICITIS.

Col. Sam Parker and Mrs. Parker and Miss Beatrice Campbell were departing passengers today by the transport Logan for San Francisco. They left unexpectedly as they received cable information of the serious illness of Miss Muriel Campbell who is now attending school at Notre Dame in California.

Mrs. Parker was advised by cable yesterday that her daughter Muriel was critically ill with appendicitis and that an operation was necessary. The transport Logan was the only vessel leaving for San Francisco before the latter part of the week, so Col. Parker cabled to friends at Washington for the purpose of securing transportation for himself, wife and Miss Beatrice. The order for transportation arrived this morning and the party took the boat for San Francisco.

J. A. CUMMINS' DEED IS IRREVOCABLE

SUPREME COURT HOLDS THAT HE CANNOT REGAIN CONTROL OF THE PROPERTY HE TURNED OVER TO A TRUSTEE NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO TO AVOID DIVORCE AND SPENDTHRIFT PROCEEDINGS.

The John A. Cummins trust deed is irrevocable, according to a decision given by the Supreme Court this morning. In the case of John A. Cummins vs. J. O. Carter et al, a suit to set aside a trust deed, the court sustains the Circuit Court in dismissing the bill. The suit was brought to set aside a deed of $150,000 worth of property, which Cummins executed October 1, 1896, when he was threatened with proceedings for divorce and to place him under a spendthrift trust. It was alleged in the complaint that Attorney Kinney had used threats of this sort to such an extent as to constitute duress, also that Cummins had made the deed without understanding it. The decision overrules both these contentions. The deed in question placed the property

BIGGEST JOB THE UNITED STATES MARSHAL HAS HAD HERE IN SERVING SUMMONSES.

United States Marshal Hendry will start for Kauti tomorrow, to begin serving the beef trust defendants. There are defendants on all the islands. On the list are seventy-eight individuals and corporations, scattered all over the group, from Hawaii to Niihau.

Each of the seventy-eight defendants must be personally served with a copy of the complaint and order to show cause, which is returnable on January 2. The defendants are scattered all over Hawaii island, and there are some on Maui, Molokai, Kauai and Niihau. It will take a lot of traveling by the marshal or his deputies to serve them all, and the suit will be an expensive one to Uncle Sam.

DOUSE TRIAL WILL TAKE PLACE IN THE FIRST CIRCUIT INSTEAD OF ON MAUI.

Word was received by wireless at the Attorney General's office this morning that there would be a change of venue in the trial of A. Douse, the engineer of the Punene Plantation who is accused of manslaughter in connection with the death of the Japanese Yamagata.

It has been arranged that the trial of Douse shall be held here in Honolulu. It is not known so far if the application for the change of venue came from the defense or from the prosecution.

The grand jury has returned an indictment against Douse charging him with manslaughter. It is alleged that he threw burning oil on the Japanese, who afterwards succumbed.

POLICE TO GIVE ADVERTISER A CHANCE

COMPLAINT BASED ON PUBLICATION OF GAMBLING ARTICLE IN THAT PAPER ISSUED TODAY—NEWSPAPER MEN SUBPOENAED.

The police are going to give the Advertiser an opportunity of furnishing evidence against the alleged gamblers. Yesterday the Advertiser contained an account of an alleged crap game that was being run by Alec Nichols in a house owned by Philip Rivers. The house was in Kakaako close to the government stables and many people were said to have been engaged in playing. An Advertiser reporter was said to have watched the game and a list of those alleged to have been present was published.

This morning Sheriff Brown swore to complaints charging, on information and belief, that Nichols had been conducting the game, that Rivers was willingly permitting his house to be used for the purpose of gambling, and that the persons whose names were given by the Advertiser had been present at the gambling game.

Subpoenas were also issued for W. G. Smith, the editor of the Advertiser, and for Reporters A. P. Taylor, H. M. Ayres and Wilson and for Eugene Duvauchelle, who is said to be supplying the Advertiser with information regarding alleged gambling games.

PASSING OF AN OLD LANDMARK

MARTIN'S TAILOR SHOP IS MOVED TODAY FROM LOWER FORT STREET TO THE MCINTYRE BUILDING.

Martin has moved. Joseph S. Martin has moved.

Are not those statements worthy of paragraphs by themselves? Ever since Kamehameha the Great landed at Diamond Head, or thereabouts, and proceeded on his gentle little trip up Nuuanu Valley to the Paoli, Martin's tailor shop has been the very center of political life in Honolulu, and hence in Hawaii. There it has been that the Bystander has gathered his inspiration. There it has been that revolutions have been hatched and counter-revolutions have been frustrated.

Dynasties have fallen and new eras of things have been established over the talk which Martin's meeting place has furnished but—Martin has moved.

Today his doors closed, so far as Fort street is concerned and now he has all sorts of the finest kind of suitings in Rooms 2 and 3 of the McIntyre Building.

"Yes, I must admit that there was a little too much of the conversation proposition about the old place" said the genial J. S. this afternoon "the boys are all such good fellows that I don't think they know what good fellows they are. Still after all, I am in the tailoring business and that is all there is to it."

Meanwhile the heart stands still when there comes the thought that Nolte might move too!

Standing Up Quality

is what counts in a shoe. There are so many technical parts about the general make-up of a shoe that most people don't always know where to find imperfections. Let us explain these technicalities in a common sense way:

First. The inside making of a shoe. Second. The imitation leather counter.

Third. Those cut off vamps. Fourth. Poor leather in tops. Fifth. Poor lasting of a shoe.

These are some of the imperfections that are found in so many of the medium grades of shoes.

These imperfections we are proud to say, do not exist in our great "ALL AMERICA" line of shoes for men.

They have stood the test for forty years in the art of good honest shoemaking at good honest prices.

Come in and let our salesman explain in detail.

FRANK L. HOOGS, MANAGER MONDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1905

English University Life President Jordan has been giving the Stanford students some of his observations of English scholastic life and the mental attitude of the Englishman toward athletics.

regarding the Rhodes Scholarship men at Oxford. Brief reports of what Jordan says on these subjects have appeared in the San Francisco papers, but a much more appreciative account has been furnished The Star by F. Schnack, of Honolulu, who is now a student at Stanford.

"Englishmen, Dr. Jordan said, take a much greater interest in America today than formerly; among them President Roosevelt is the most popular and most discussed man of the day." "The American Rhodes scholars are holding their own. However, they contrast markedly with the English student who is an essentially social being, delighting in afternoon teas and social functions in general, whereas the American has some difficulty in disposing of his hands, or properly presiding at an afternoon tea, a banquet, or luncheon.

"Dr. Jordan also spoke at some length on athletics in England. Speaking of the national game of cricket he said: 'Besides the skill of the bowlers and batsmen, one is most impressed by the gentlemanly leisure of the game, the fielders are too polite to hurry, and if, by chance, a man is caught out on a fly, the attitude is one of profuse apology. If a bowler is too swift or a batsman, the chances are that he will retire with a bow of deprecation. When a man is out he walks with dignity to the clubhouse, notifies his successor, who steps to his place in about ten minutes. No unseemly haste and, what is better, no unseemly gaying. An English athlete is too much of a man to gully an opponent or to dispute an umpire. But the most un-American feature of the game is the afternoon tea. The play stops at about four o'clock, the players all adjourn to the clubhouse, ten thousand people are given rain-checks, and they all take the afternoon tea.'"

Bring It Before The Courts It is to be hoped that the Advertiser will not allow the alleged assault on one of its reporters to pass without attempting its civic duty of bringing the matter before the courts.

exposure of a place where gambling was carried on, let this fact be judicially established and there will be no question of where public sentiment will align itself. If the police through either corrupt motives, fear, or incompetence, took the attitude of ignoring the acts of the aggressor in a public affray, and when finally interfering, interfered on behalf of the aggressor, let these facts be judicially determined. It seems incredible that a man of Alex. Nicholas' physique, short of stature, slight of build, and so lame that he is habitually compelled to use a cane in walking, should attack a man of W. H. M. Ayres' size and build, and well known physical prowess. But if he did, Ayres is entitled to the protection of the law, and the public, before whom the affair is heralded as an act of revenge on the part of gamblers for exposure of their gambling games, ought to know with certainty whether there was such an assault, as is described, and whether it grew out of the anti-gambling crusade of the paper, or out of a private quarrel of the men engaged in it.

The Cowboy Tournament The cowboy tournament on Saturday afternoon was a success in so far as it brought out an immense crowd of people—took them into the open air and for the time being away from the sordid affairs of life. But whether the people of Hawaii and Honolulu really want to make such a tournament an annual affair, as has been proposed, is quite another thing.

There can be no doubt that under conditions which prevail on the ranches of Hawaii, roping cattle is necessary, though the undoubted tendency of progressive ranchers is to progressively reduce as far as possible the necessity for it. But where it is necessary, skill in doing it is admirable and commendable, and in any exercise of skill, emulation and competitive contests have a certain spectacular effect. But is roping cattle, separately from its place among the processes of the cattle ranch, just the thing that the community wants to take up for a public spectacle, to cultivate as a pastime, and to advertise as one of the diversions of the community, and one of the attractions it offers to visitors? Isn't it a little too much on the order of bull-fights? It may be said that it is not gory, like a bull-fight, and does not involve the suffering or loss of life to the animal which a bull-fight does. Perhaps not, but no one can claim that the poor frightened, bewildered, terrorized bullocks got any enjoyment out of the roping contests on Saturday. The sport involved very much suffering to them—more even in some cases than was at all necessary to carry out the contests, for in a number of instances the poor beasts were not returned to the corral as promptly as they might be, but were held in the strangling embrace of the lariat, or the grip of the tying rope, longer than there was any necessity for. Do we want to cultivate any public pastime which involves very real and very severe suffering on the part of animals without any possibility of their entering into the spirit or emulation of the contest? In a horse race the horse enters as thoroughly into the spirit of the contest as the man does, and besides, except in cases of accident, there is no torture or suffering to him, however strenuously he may exert himself. In polo, though horses may be hurt by accident, just as their riders may be, they enjoy the sport as keenly as their riders. In these roping contests, the horses enter into the spirit of the game, and so thoroughly as almost to redeem it as a sport. But the poor bullocks do not, and cannot. As in coursing the hounds enjoy it thoroughly, but it's death to the hares. As the better element of the community would scarcely be asked to endorse and encourage coursing as a means of attracting visitors to the islands, so, if these roping contests are looked at for really what they are, it is doubtful if any sincere friends of animals will very enthusiastically advocate roping contests as a spectacle for advertising the islands. On the ranch necessity exists for roping cattle. The skill, and the courage required in it, under the conditions of the open air, the open range, the emulation of the different men engaged in it, make it a spectacle worth seeing. But the conditions of the ranch cannot be reproduced in the purely spectacular tournament. The prime element of necessity is wanting. The victims are in strange surroundings, and in the presence of crowds of people, so that their sufferings are greatly increased. And the conditions are such that it fails to become even a real test of skill. Reviewing the whole of Saturday's program, there is no doubt but that the events most generally, most greatly, and certainly most innocently enjoyed, by the spectators, were such contests as the watermelon race, the egg race, and the handkerchief race, events which involved no suffering or torture of animals. Saturday's roping tournament was gotten up, as it were, on the spur of the moment, and the Star has no censure for those who got it up, and carried it out. But to make it a yearly event with the idea of making it an attraction for our own people and our visitors involves premeditation, and it is to be earnestly hoped that something else will be found to take its place. The death of Peter Peabody Davis recalls the brevity of Hawaiian history. He was the grandson of a man who was kidnapped from one of the very early vessels visiting these islands. This kidnapping took place before Kamehameha had consolidated the group into one kingdom—in fact before he had fairly started on his career of conquest. It occurred thirty years before the missionaries came. The lives of three persons in this family span the whole modern history of the islands. With prize-fight pictures by night, and steer roping contests by day, Honolulu gives no promise of falling interest in the strenuous life. The powers seem to have a big stick in the shape of an inter-national policeman's club, for Turkey. Mexico has become a gold standard country. If this means that the Mexican dollar is to go out of circulation it will be a very important result of monetary legislation. For nearly three centuries the Mexican silver dollar has been the currency of exchange for a widely spread portion of the commerce of the world. No matter what the mutations of government in Mexico were, the Mexican dollar has gone on as the standard medium of exchange throughout a large part of the American continent and a large part of the Orient. There have been times when Mexican dollars were in general circulation in many parts of the United States. Insignificant as Mexico has been among the influential powers the rich product of her silver mines with her mint stamp on has been accepted unquestioningly among millions of people who had no definite idea of Mexico or of her people. It is one of the romances of trade. In later years Mexico has been prevented from improving the mintage of her dollars up to the standard made possible by modern methods and modern machinery because the comparatively rude and clumsy minting was familiar to the millions who used the dollar, and they refused to accept as genuine the cleaner cut mintage of the improved methods. Mexico was actually obliged to go back to the old rude mintage in order to keep her dollars in circulation in the Orient, and silver dollars was one of the big articles of export, so that she could not afford to let them drop out of circulation. GOVERNOR CLEGHORN'S JUBILEE

There is mystery in the air, mystery everywhere but the mystery thickens when one gets up Alakea street in the neighborhood of the Pacific Club. The trouble seems to be over the entertainment which is to be provided for Governor Cleghorn in connection with the fiftieth anniversary of his entering the club. That there will be doings on a large scale is beyond question and that these particular doings will be on a scale fit-could one expect better than having one's leg cut off or than having one's vermiform appendix neatly abstracted? Still they say the Governor is not even apprehensive and his recent advices—for he is away—say that he is looking forward to the celebration with all the fortitude of a Christian martyr. This much at least is known. The Haleiwa Hotel will be engaged by the club on December 16 and there the doings will be done. There is to be a play in which many ing the importance of the occasion will easily be understood by those who have had the pleasure of being guests of the club. But the mystery—! That is the matter which is exciting contemporary thought. Dr. Humphris is chairman of the Entertainment Committee, and Dr. Murray is chairman of the House Committee and that in itself is sufficient to awaken grave apprehensions in the breasts of friends of Governor Cleghorn. With two eminent physicians looking after one's entertainment what

The transport Logan arrived yesterday from Manila and Nagasaki en route to San Francisco. The vessel met rough weather after leaving Nagasaki having to lie to for 11 hours owing to a severe storm. The vessel has the following passengers: 71 cabin passengers, 21 second cabin passengers; 149 enlisted men, Co. B, 9th Infantry; 25 enlisted men, casuals; 16 enlisted men, U. S. Navy and U. S. The most interesting group is naturally Company B of the Ninth Regiment. His Company served as the guard at the American legation at Peking. The company participated in the Boxer campaign when Col. GRAND DUKE CYRIL AND HIS WIFE

THE MAN WHOM THE CZAR HAS DEPRIVED OF ALL HIS DECORATIONS BECAUSE HE MARRIED AGAINST APPROVAL, AND THE WOMAN WHOM HE HAS WED—CYRIL WAS A SURVIVOR OF THE DESTRUCTION OF THE PETROPAVLOVSK.

BERLIN, October 5.—A dispatch to the Tageblatt from Munich today announces that the divorced Grand Duchess Victoria of Hesse and the Grand Duke Cyril of Russia were married there several days ago at the Hotel de Russie.

The marriage of the Grand Duke Cyril to the Grand Duchess of Hesse, daughter of the late Duke of Edinburgh, was strenuously opposed by the Czar.

Princess Victoria Melita, Grand Duchess of Hesse, was born November 25, 1876. She is a lady of the Royal Order of Victoria and Albert and of the Imperial Order of the Crown of India. On April 19, 1894, she was married to his royal highness Ernest Ludwig, reigning Grand Duke of Hesse and grandson of the late Queen Victoria. One child, Elizabeth, was born of the union. The marriage was dissolved December 21, 1901.

The Grand Duke Cyril was among the few survivors of the wreck of the Petropavlovsk at Port Arthur. He is the eldest son of the Grand Duke Vladimir Alexandrovitch, uncle of the Czar. He was born at Tsarskoe-Selo on September 30, 1876, and was educated for a naval career. On the outbreak of the Russo-Japanese war he was serving on the cruise Admiral Makhimoff, but volunteered for active service with the Pacific squadron. He is honorary chief of the Fifty-second Regiment of Infantry, and an honorary officer of the German navy. His brother, the Grand Duke Boris, is a Lieutenant of hussars, and attained considerable unenviable notoriety for his escapades at the front during the late war.

CUMMINS' DEED IS IRREVOCABLE

for divorce or separation or to place him under guardianship as a spendthrift and in such proceedings expose his whole manner of living, the fact being that he was then living with another woman, cannot be sustained, even if the threat of exposure in addition to the threat of civil proceedings might in itself constitute duress, when the bill shows also that the petitioner was able to resist the threats and executed the deed not because he was overcome by them but in reliance upon advice given by Cummins in the hands of J. O. Carter as trustee, for the benefit of Mrs. Cummins, since deceased, and the Cummins children. Since the death of Mrs. Cummins, John A. Cummins had married again and he wanted to make provision for his present wife, but found that he could not revoke the trust deed. Suit was begun to annul it, and is now decided, the court holding that it is irrevocable. The following syllabus of the decision shows how the court ruled: "A bill to set aside a trust deed on the ground that it was procured from the petitioner by threats made by his wife's attorneys that if he did not agree upon a separation and make provision for her she would institute proceedings at his request by his confidential friend and agent.

"A trust deed made for the benefit of the maker and his family cannot be set aside on the ground that the maker did not fully realize its scope or effect on account of his imperfect knowledge of English or legal phraseology. He was not mentally weak, no fraud was practiced on him, the deed was read to him, and he trusted his agents' advice that it was all right. It was his duty to have had it translated or explained to him or take the consequences.

"The presumption, if any, that a trust deed made by a principal for the benefit of himself and his family was procured by the undue influence of his agent, from the mere fact that the agent who had previously been in charge of the entire estate was to be trustee under the deed, is slight, and is held to be rebutted in this case by other allegations of the bill."

Smith & Lewis and L. J. Warren were attorneys for Cummins, Kinney, McClanahan & Cooper appeared for Trustee Carter, and A. S. Humphreys and Thompson & Clemons for other defendants.

HONORS TO ARMSTRONG

Islands, do hereby record our appreciation of the industry, integrity and ability which distinguished William Nevins Armstrong in all his undertakings throughout a long and well spent life and do express our deep sense of the loss which the community and the nation have suffered by his death.

"He further resolved that we tender to the members of the family of the deceased our sincere sympathy with them in their affliction.

"That these resolutions be presented to the Supreme Court of the Territory of Hawaii and motion made for their entry upon the record."

W. O. Smith was the first to second the resolutions. He said that in seconding the motion to spread the resolution upon the records of the court, he desired to pay a tribute to the memory of the departed. He had first met Armstrong in 1870. He spoke feelingly of the services Armstrong had done to the Hawaiian government, and of his high character and ability. His kindness of disposition, geniality and generous attitude towards all others were specially commented upon by Smith. "May it be said of all of us, as it may be said of him, that the world is better for his living," was the speaker's closing remark.

Judge Dole was equally eulogistic in discussing the personal character of the late lawyer and journalist. He said he had hardly ever met another man of such broad character and sympathies and possessing such ability to observe and remember all that he saw in wide and long travels and experience. It was this that made him such a good companion and adviser. His sympathy seemed immeasurable. "People speak of him as a pessimist and if he was somewhat given to pessimism it was due to his enthusiastic devotion to the cause of humanity. Society moved too slowly for him,—he was impatient for the progress of humanity. He was always hopeful and every enterprise for the benefit of humanity always found him ready to give his time and efforts to aid."

Judge Dole referred to his memory of Armstrong in Dole's own Punahou school days and to the good influence Armstrong had always exerted. "I feel that to me his place is one that will not be filled. His memory will always be helpful and inspiring."

Governor Carter said he desired to speak as one of the younger men with whom Armstrong had always had a remarkably winning way. "Barely in my experience," said the governor, "have I found a man with so little of the quality of criticism of his neighbors and so much of approval, a quality which particularly appeals to us here perhaps. He never criticized, but always sought out and appreciated the good points."

The governor spoke of seeing Armstrong quite lately in Washington, and noting that he was physically feeble than he had been, but said that his intellect was as strong as ever. He was taking a great interest in watching the progress of events and remarked how inspiring it was to him to watch the noble progress of the country and to see so much of honesty and noble effort. "He enjoyed all this," said the governor, "and I think his enjoyment of it and appreciation of it all was the one keynote of his character."

In behalf of the court, Justice Hartwell paid an eloquent tribute to the deceased and Chief Justice Frear then granted the motion to spread the resolutions on the record.

Among those present in addition to the United States Judge and the governor were W. O. Smith, L. A. Thurston, E. B. McClanahan, W. C. Aehl, C. W. Ashford, C. R. Hemenway, Judge Stanley, M. F. Prosser, Judge Lindsay, C. H. Dole, S. H. Derby, A. G. M. Robertson, J. W. Cathcart, Henry Hogan, D. L. Withington, C. F. Clemons, Anderson, R. D. Mead, Ed. Towse, A. Lewis, Jr., W. T. Rawlins, L. J. Warren, F. W. Milverton, G. P. Castle, J. O. Lightfoot.

ERSKINE M. PHELPS WAS NOT DAMAGED

IT WAS EXPECTED THAT BIG SUGAR VESSEL WOULD BE PULLED OFF MUD WITHOUT TROUBLE.

The ship Erskine M. Phelps which was driven ashore at Cavite during the recent typhoon at Manila Bay was not seriously damaged. News of the vessel was brought by the transport Logan which arrived yesterday from Manila and Nagasaki. The Phelps which is a steel vessel was caught by the wind and driven on the mud at Cavite. The Logan fared little better for the transport was swept aground against the breakwater during the height of the gale. The Logan got aground at low tide and came off at high tide without trouble. The officers of the Logan report that the Phelps had not been pulled off the ground when the transport left Manila in the early part of this month but it was thought the sailing craft which is under charter to load sugar at Honolulu for Delaware Breakwater, would be pulled off without difficulty.

August Santos a former resident of Honolulu, distinguished himself during the storm by saving numerous lives. He also helped rescue the crew of a Chinese fishing boat off Hong Kong some time ago.

Losing your hair? Do you bring out a combful each morning? Has it lost its natural brightness? Is it beginning to look faded and dead? Do you like this condition of things? Certainly not. Then stop this falling of the hair at once. Stop it before your hair is thin, short, and lifeless. Buy a bottle of

and make your hair beautiful, glossy, silky, abundant.
If your hair is gray, and you don't care to look at thirty as if you were sixty, then you should use Ayer's Hair Vigor. It always restores color to gray hair, all the deep, rich, beautiful color it had when you were young. Do not be deceived by cheap imitations which will only disappoint you. Be sure you get AYER'S Hair Vigor. Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

LANGUAGE IS THE REAL TIE

WILLARD BROWN MET OLD FRIENDS IN HIS RECENT SIX MONTHS TRIP.

"It's the language that makes one feel at home after all" said Willard E. Brown this morning after his six months trip in Europe with Mrs. Brown. "We went directly from New York to Italy, wandered around through continental Europe and then crossed the channel to England. I tell you it was good to hear the good old mother tongue again. It was my first trip to England and perhaps the accent is a bit different from that which we are used to, but it sounded good to me after a steady diet of Italian, and German, and French, and Dutch and I don't know how many grades of dialects."

Willard Brown was away just six months and eighteen days and while he and his wife enjoyed the trip immensely, they are frankly glad to be back home once more. "We crossed from New York to the Mediterranean on the S. S. Crete of the White Star line" he said "and there aboard was Captain Sealby who used to come through here on the Coptic. He acquired after many Honolulu people. Up at Rigi on Lake Lucerne, we ran across Mr. and Mrs. Turner, she used to be Miss Dowsett. Then in London at the Savoy there were W. M. Giffard, Mrs. Giffard, Miss Giffard and Mrs. Percy Benson.

In Venice we fell in with Jamie Wilder and his wife, Jamie said that he was going to come back to Honolulu and come here for good. "We crossed the English Channel from Calais to Dover in one of the new turbine vessels, making the 23 miles in an hour."

After spending two weeks in London the Browns returned by the Campana to New York and thence came directly home. NEW ZEALAND'S CHAMPION. The champion tennis player of New Zealand, A. Parker, was a passenger on the Mowera on Saturday. While here he played two games with local experts, winning both. At the Pacific Tennis club he defeated champion W. P. Roth 7-5, 6-4, 6-2. At the Beretania courts he beat R. C. Van Vleet 6-4, 6-4, 6-1. Parker's work was much admired by all who had the good fortune to witness it.

A STORY OF OLD NEWFOUNDLAND

THE GORY SCENE WITH WHICH THEODORE ROBERTS OPENS HIS STORY "BROTHERS OF PERIL."

With the following somewhat gory scene Theodore Roberts opens his story of old Newfoundland, "Brothers of Peril": "The boy struck again with his flint knife and again the great wolf tore his shoulder. The eyes of the boy were fierce as those of the bear. Neither showed any signs of pain. The dark spruces stood above them, with the first shadows of night in their branches, and the western sky was stained red where the sun had been. Twice the wolf dropped his antagonistic shoulder in a vain attempt to grip the throat. The boy, pressed to the ground, flung himself about like a dog and repeatedly drove his clumsy weapon into the wolf's shaggy side. At last the fight ended. The great timber wolf lay stretched dead in awful passiveness. His fangs gleamed like ivory between his scarlet jaws and black lips. A glimmer of white leached the quiet wilderness from the recesses of the half-shut eyelids. "For a moment the boy lay still, with the fingers of his left hand buried in the wolf's mane and his right hand a blot of red against the wolf's side. Presently, staggering on bent legs, he went down to the river and washed his mangled arm and shoulder in the cool water. The shock of it cleared his brain and steadied his eyes. He waded into the current to his middle, stooped to the racing surface and drank unthinkingly. Strength flooded back to blood and muscle and the slender limbs regained their lightness. "By this time a few pale stars gleamed on the paler background of the eastern sky. A long finger streak of red, low down on the hilltops, still lightened the wet. The boy saw nothing of the changing beauty of the sky. He returned to the dead wolf and set about skinning it with his rude blade. He worked with skill and speed. Soon head and pelt were clear of the red carcass, and, collecting his arrows and bow, he flung the prize across his shoulder and started along a faint trail through the spruces. "After walking rapidly for nearly an hour, the boy came out on a small meadow bright with fires. Nineteen or twenty conical wigwams made of birch poles, bark and caribou hides stood about the meadow. Two women who were broiling meat at the fire looked from the shaggy, blood-stained pelt to the stalwart stripling. They cried to him softly in tones of love and admiration. "Now, give me my man-name," demanded the boy. "A stalwart man, the chief of the village strode from the dark interior of the nearest wigwam. His eyes gleamed at the sight of his boy's torn arm and the white teeth of the wolf. "Wolf-Slayer!" he cried. He turned to the women. "Wolf-Slayer," he repeated. "Let this be his man-name—Wolf-Slayer."

COWBOY SHOW A BIG SUCCESS

ONE OF THE LARGEST CROWDS ON RECORD AT KAPIOLANI PARK SATURDAY.

The cowboy carnival drew one of the biggest crowds on record to Kapiolani Park last Saturday. The lack of an enclosure prevented the show from being as much of a financial success as it might have been, for hundreds of the spectators entered the ground over the fence rather than through the gates. As an entertainment the show was a great success and there is talk of making it an annual affair.

The watermelon race was the first on the program. This was a contest in dismounting, seizing a watermelon and carrying it over the course. Major Potter, won, against Harold Dillingham. E. Dunsenberger Clarence Cooke and George Angus. The race created much amusement.

The roping and tying contests, and steer lassoing were greeted with shouts of laughter. For some reason or other the steers seemed to be afflicted with tired feeling and they refused to be wild steers at all. The cowboys nevertheless did some fancy lassoing, and some very quick roping, giving an interesting exhibition of their ranch methods. Ikuu Purdy of the Parker ranch won the roping contest, roping a steer in 35 1/2 seconds. Keau of Honolulu ranch was second.

The egg race was an effort to ride over a course which included a hurdle with an egg in a spoon. The eggs were all lost at the first attempt, but some of the riders covered the ground without mishap in a second or third attempt. George Angus got the first prize and the second prize was divided between Harold Dillingham and Major Potter. Ikuu Purdy won the straight-away roping contest.

Will Bellini, and Sam Kahana did the steer riding and the crowd howled with laughter as they rode about the field.

The broncho busting proved an exciting event. Frank Vida gave a thrilling exhibition with an animal as wild as could be desired, and Sam Mauna did the same until his broncho fell. Mauna sustained a dislocated shoulder. The show was managed by Eben Low and Charles R. Frazier. The Hawaiian band was present and played between events. The officers of the day were as follows: Judges—Walter F. Dillingham, R. W. Shingle, Louis Warren. Clerk of the Court—Robert W. Atkinson. Official Starter—Altha Dowsett. Announcer—"Doc" Mansuratt. Prizes may be obtained at the office of Charles R. Frazier 122 King street.

MAUI LIMAS WERE EASY.

The baseball game on Saturday between the Maui limas and the champion H. A. team was a frost. The H. A. C's won as they wanted to by a score of 11 to 2. The teams were as follows: Limas—E. A. A TRAINED NURSE

After Years of Experience, Advises Women in Regard to Their Health.

Mrs. Martha Pohlman of 55 Chester Avenue, Newark, N. J., who is a graduate nurse from the Blockley Training School, at Philadelphia, and for six years Chief Clinical Nurse at the Philadelphia Hospital, writes the letter printed below. She has the advantage of personal experience, besides her professional education, and what she has to say may be absolutely relied upon.

Mrs. Martha Pohlman

Many other women are afflicted as she was. They can regain health in the same way. It is prudent to heed such advice from such a source. Mrs. Pohlman writes: "I am firmly persuaded, after eight years of experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that it is the safest and best medicine for any suffering woman to use. "Immediately after my marriage I found that my health began to fail me. I became weak and pale, with severe bearing-down pains, fearful backaches and frequent dizzy spells. The doctors prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I would blight after eating and frequently become nauseated. I had an acid discharge and pains down through my limbs so I could hardly walk. It was as bad a case of female trouble as I have ever known. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, however, cured me within four months. Since that time I have had occasion to recommend it to a number of patients suffering from all forms of female difficulties, and I find that while it is considered unprofessional to recommend a patent medicine, I can honestly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for I have found that it cures female ills, where all other medicine fails. It is a grand medicine for sick women."

Money cannot buy such testimony as this—merit alone can produce such results, and the ablest specialists now agree that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most universally successful remedy for all female diseases known to medicine. When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhoea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles. The needless suffering of women from diseases peculiar to their sex is terrible to see. The money which they pay to doctors who do not help them is an enormous waste. The pain is cured and the money is saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Experience has proved this. It is well for women who are ill to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. In her great experience, which covers many years, she has probably had to deal with dozens of cases just like yours. Her advice is free and confidential.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

HEARTS CURED. Almost every case of heart disease can be cured with Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. In the early stages, quickly and surely; in advanced stages, with persistent use—almost as surely. Let us send you testimonials from those cured, where symptoms were like yours. DR. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind. Fine Job Printing, Star Office.

JUSTICE HARTWELL ON W. N. ARMSTRONG

AN ELOQUENT REPLY TO THE EULOGIES PAID BY THE GOVERNOR AND OTHERS TODAY.

In replying for the Supreme Court this morning Mr. Justice Hartwell said: Judge Dole, Governor Carter and brethren of the Bar, your words have met a very quick response in the mind of the Court; it desires to join very sincerely in this tribute of affection and admiration for the character of William Nevins Armstrong.

It is rather as one of his friends that I should like to say what little I do say about him.

To those of us who had known him long the announcement of his death brought a very acute sense of personal loss. He was a man of infinite variety and yet he was delightfully human, always genuine. It was not at all necessary to agree with Armstrong's opinions, in order to be very fond of him and enjoy his society. He never was wearisome, he could not be commonplace if he tried to be and he never tried. I think that his quick sympathy with others was largely the secret of the enjoyment everybody took in his society. Old as well as young enjoyed him immensely, men and women alike. They took him into their confidences and always were glad they'd do so. He had a very critical turn of mind; he was in the habit of speaking in a disparaging way with what he would call mere idealists, and yet that superb practical idealist General Sam Armstrong, his brother, probably had no more loyal thorough admirer than his brother Nevins. His sense of humor always came to the relief on the most serious occasions, when otherwise the situation might have been almost intolerable. I think those of us who knew him well during some critical times in Hawaii can remember such occasions and like to remember them. It was very difficult for those who might sometime be recipients of Armstrong's sarcasm to quarrel with him, he would disarm them completely in the end by his humorous expressions.

To explain why his personality was so charming other than as I have tried to do, would be very hard. The man himself was difficult for me to explain. I think that Judge Dole has given his characteristics very accurately and admirably, everybody felt that he was such a delightful companion. I had myself sometimes thought that his gaiety which he carried so often might have been assumed; I did not know whether the thought had occurred to others or not, but I see that it did, that it was his way of meeting the troubles which came into his life. He was fortunate certainly that he was able to do that.

Armstrong was a very brilliant man, brilliant in his literary style and power and in almost every way; and what is much more, he was a good man.

Chief Justice Frear.—The motion is granted and it is ordered that the resolution be spread upon the minutes of the Court.

BARETE ESTATE WINS.

Humburg Is To Go To The Coast

HAS SOLD HIS HOUSE TO C. M. COOKE AND WILL REPRESENT H. HACKFELD & CO.

C. M. Cooke has purchased the residence of J. F. Humburg, at 1621 Keaumoku street near Wilder avenue in the Makiki District. The price paid has not been made public.

It is understood that Mr. Humburg will shortly go to San Francisco to reside as the permanent representative of H. J. Hackfeld & Company on the coast. He will be the buyer there for the concern and represent it in all ways.

Speaking of this some time ago Mr. Humburg said that the matter of keeping a representative at the coast was one that had been considered more or less for several years but at that time had not been definitely decided on though strongly contemplated.

Mr. Humburg is a director in H. Hackfeld & Co., and has long been identified with the house.

BETHEL STREET WILL WIDEN

UNSIGHTLY SHACKS ARE OVER THE STREET LINE NOW AND WILL BE REMOVED.

Since the announcement made by the Star that the unsightly shacks at the southeast corner of King and Bethel streets were soon to give way to a modern building of stone which McCandless Brothers are to erect some interest has been taken over the matter of just where the street line lies.

A glance down Bethel street from King will show that the frontage of several of the hideous wooden buildings abuts on the street and there is in some minds a fear that their line was the correct street line and that when the new building was put up, Bethel street, already narrow, would become narrower still.

"The line of the Postoffice is the correct line," said J. A. McCandless when asked about the matter this morning, "the buildings that you see there are at present abutting on the sidewalk space. The land that they occupy has been bought by the government and as soon as they are torn down which will be very shortly, the line of the street will be moved back. Our new building will confirm exactly with the post-office line and there will then be a good sidewalk the whole way up the Waikeiki side of Bethel street from Merchant street to King."
