TAFT GETS THE ALABAMA DELEGATES

ASSASSIN'S SHOT MISSES THE PRESIDENT OF AUSTRIAN DIET

Site Is Got For Manoa's Pump House

An exchange has been effected between the government and W. E. Wall whereby the pumping plant of the Manoa valley extension of the water works system will be built on the property mauka side of Wilder avenue and Waikiki of the Punahou College campus.

The projected plant is a necessary link in the new Manoa Valley water system and negotiations for a site have been going on between the department of public works and various property owners for some time whereby a suitable site could be found.

One of the property owners is W. E. Wall who has extensive holdings in the neighborhood, and in answer to a letter from Marston Campbell, superintendent of public works, he has consented to an exchange by which the government may have the coveted site in return for lot No. 819 on Punchbowl slope.

Mr. Wall's proposal was accepted by the land board this morning and the necessary papers will be drawn up immediately in order that construction on the plant may be commenced without delay.

One of the stipulations of the exchange is that the plant must be equipped by an electrically driven motor-pump in order to do away with as much noise as possible in the operation of pumping.

Army Waits On Politics

By J. A. BRECKONS.
(Special Correspondence of the Star.)

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Probably no appointments will be made to the grades of general officer, in which there are several vacancies, until after the primaries are over. The war department has sent its recommendations to the White House, and it has changed the slate submitted several times during the period the matter has been awaiting the consideration of the President.

Brig. Gen. William W. Wotherspoon will likely be appointed major general to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Maj. Gen. Frederick D. Grant. He reaches the retiring age on November 16, 1914.

The appointments to the grade of brigadier general in the line probably will be Brig. Gen. Clarence Edwards, chief of the bureau of insular affairs; Col. George F. Chase, of the cavalry arms, now serving a detail in the inspector general's department, and on duty at New York as inspector general of the Eastern division, and Col. Edward J. McClernand, First Cavalry. Col. Chase will reach the retiring age on July 29, 1912, and Col. McClernand on December 29, 1912, when President Taft will have opportunity to appoint brigadiers to succeed them.

Kauai Next Opening For Pineapples

The Kapaa tract on Kauai about to be opened for homesteading by the government contains the best pineapple land in the Territory, according to Land Commissioner Tucker who made a report to Acting Governor Mott-Smith in regard to the 390 acres of homestead land on the Garden Island.

Mr. Tucker declares that not only is the land the best pineapple land in the Hawaiian Islands but that homesteading conditions are the most ideal as regards climate, weather and roads.

The homesteaders at present located on Kauai are doing well and their crops are improving yearly both as to quality and quantity. There is plenty of rainfall, the exposure is ideal and the sound condition of the road beds makes the transportation problem easy to solve.

The Kapaa tract is sloping land with both a north and a southeast exposure. The land is fertile and, when the pineapple cannery is constructed, there will be large monetary returns for those who put their land into pineapples.

In the tract are 390 acres of homesteading land besides the 400-acre tract which will be leasable after June 25. It is on this tract that the pineapple cannery is to be constructed, and according to the land commissioner there are several prospective bidders who are waiting for the chance to construct the pineapple cannery which will take care of the homesteader's crops.

The homestead land will be opened some time in July or August.

THE TAFT MEN CONTROL THE CONTESTS

(Associated Press Cables to the Star.)

CHICAGO, June 7.—All twenty-four of the Taft delegates from Alabama have been seated and six at large. There were two contests each in five districts. The only contest in the Ninth was settled by a vote of 38 to 15. The four delegates-at-large from Arkansas were seated unanimously. Attorney Ormsby McHarg represents Roosevelt and ex-Senator Charles Dick, the President. On motion of Senator Borah, a roll call in the case of eight contests was defeated.

COLUMBUS, O., June 7.—President Taft writes Warren G. Harding, a former Lieutenant Governor of Ohio, asking him to present his name to the convention.

ROOSEVELT MAY COME.

CHICAGO, June 7.—Four Tafters from the first and second Arkansas districts have been seated by a vote of 49 to 2.

Senator Dixon has denied the report that he is to be supplanted as Roosevelt's manager.

George W. Perkins has arrived and says that Roosevelt will be nominated.

The Roosevelt people contend that the Taft man from the ninth district of Alabama was elected by a bolting convention. In the Arkansas cases the Roosevelt men charge the domination over the convention which sent them of the postmasters and other Federal employes solely through the distribution of patronage.

Roosevelt may be here next week

MISSED PRESIDENT, SHOT HIMSELF.

BUDAPEST, June 7.—Deputy Julius Kohuac, leader of the opposition in the lower House shot at the President, Count Tirza, during the session today and missed him. He then shot himself, probably fatally. The row was over a proposition for universal suffrage.

A SUPERFLUOUS COURT.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The Supreme Court has reversed the decision of the Court of Commerce on many decisions, holding that it must not supplant the Interstate Commerce Commission.

TRYING TO IMPEACH A JUDGE.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Representative Berger has undertaken to bring about the impeachment of Federal Judge Hanford of Seattle, who barred Leonard Olssen from citizenship because he was a socialist.

READY TO SEND 50,000 MEN TO LAND IN CUBA.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Four transports have been ordered to be in readiness to begin taking 50,000 troops to Cuba.

ABE RUEF SEEKS A PAROLE.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—Abe Ruef has appealed to the parole board for liberty but Judge Lawlor has refused to endorse his petition.

SHAMELESS IWILEI ORGY ENDED IN DEMIMONDAINE BEING FIENDISHLY BURNED

Hell broke loose in Iwilei the night before last, and Blanche Martin, chief siren of the local demimonde, is facing a charge of assault and battery in consequence while a quartet of more or less well-known local men are doing their darndest to side-step a stunt in the witness box tomorrow morning.

It appears that the night before last Blanche invited four men to dinner and a "circus" at her Iwilei abode.

The invitation was accepted and the dinner was partaken of by the quartet in question, Blanche Martin, the hostess; Felicita, alias Monkey, and another Porto Rican damsel named Waitania Figuerroa.

Wine flowed freely and all present were soon in very festive mood.

After the meal Felicita was requested to pose for a photograph in the "altogether," to which request she acceded.

A collection was taken up for her and then she was persuaded to dance for the benefit of the company in the same scanty attire.

Nothing loth Felicita jigged and pirouetted before her shameless admirers.

When she wanted to stop, however, being exhausted, she was not allowed to do so and was compelled, under threats of violence, to keep hopping about the room.

Finally she fell in a heap on the floor, worn out by her terpsichorean exertions.

Blanche Martin is then alleged to have poured a bottle of tobasco sauce over the person of the prostrate entertainer.

Felicita jumped up like a flash under the fiery goad and ran amok. Seizing a knife she is said to have frantically sought to wreak a bloody vengeance on her tormentor.

Hysteria supervened and Felicita fainted. She was picked up later in the evening and her burns dressed.

Yesterday she swore to a warrant and at an early hour this morning Blanche Martin was placed under arrest.

TO TRY MANA'S CLAIM HERE

(Special Correspondence of the Star.)

WASHINGTON, May 27. — The House committee on judiciary today reported favorably the bill conferring on the federal court for the district of Hawaii authority to adjudicate the claim of Captain Mana in connection with the loss of the schooner Moi Wahine.

JUDGMENT AGAINST BAKERY.

Judge Cooper this morning rendered judgment in the assumpsit case of A. S. Humphreys vs. J. D. Castro and others, doing business as the Excelsior Bakery. The judgment was for $769.24, together with interest, costs and attorney's fee.

NEW SOUTH WALES ASSURES A SUBSIDY TO OCEANIC LINE

Word received on the Sonoma this morning that there are already rumors going the rounds in shipping circles in San Francisco to the effect that continuous running of the Spreckels line has been assured by promise of a subsidy from the state of New South Wales, Australia, gives the release to information known in Honolulu last year when tentative arrangements were being carried out through the agency of Percy Hunter, the Australian promotion man, and the Spreckels company for the reestablishment of the line.

Hunter went to San Francisco with an offer from New South Wales to the effect that if Spreckels started the Australian run again his state would guarantee the line a subsidy. The first idea of the Australians was to establish a direct line backed by Australian capital, but owing to the coastwise laws this was of course impossible. It was then decided that an attempt should be made to get an American company to start the line and guarantee New South Wales' share to the expense through means of a subsidy.

The plan was carried out satisfactorily by Hunter and Spreckels consented to place the Sonoma and Ventura in commission again. Realizing their failure before, the Australian state insisted, however, that the vessels should be improved and that they be brought to such a state of efficiency that there would be no breaking down during the run.

Manager Fred F. Samuels of the Oceanic company will make the trip on the Sonoma next time, which will be her first to Sydney, and he will conclude the final arrangements at that end.

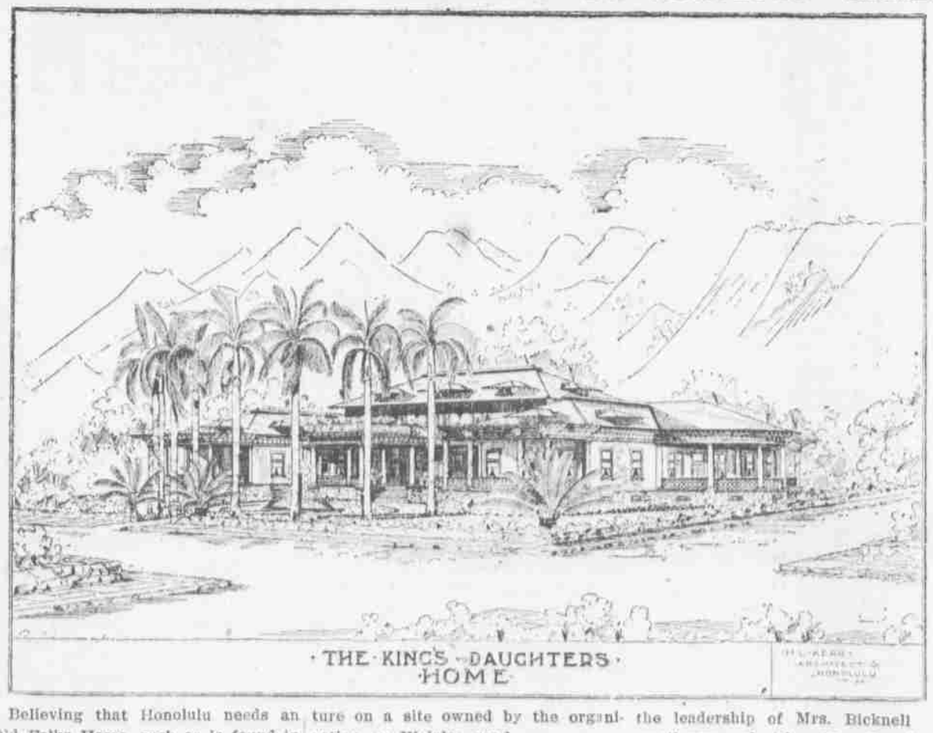
GENERAL CLOSING ON CLEANUP DAY IS NOW FULLY ASSURED

There is no doubt about Cleanup day's being a holiday—or rather a day in which the regular lines of trade will be suspended while everybody puts on his overalls and gets into the game of making Honolulu "Spotless Town." E. A. Berndt of the Central Improvement committee has a paper which he and President von Damm took turns in circulating yesterday, which is signed by all of the leading commercial houses and practically all of the retail business places, in which it is agreed to make June 20 a closed day. Most of the leading Chinese and Japanese merchants have signed the agreement also, so it is very certain that a week from next Thursday will see the business section of the town practically deserted.

"Most of the merchants were very willing to help out in this cleanup by making the day a holiday," said Mr. Berndt. "Not that any of us approve of holidays generally speaking, but if we can do a little toward guarding the town from epidemics we can afford to close a day. Every merchant knows what the last yellow fever and cholera scares cost him. In many cases it was thousands of dollars. It is economy to ake such occurrences impossible.

SPLENDID INSTITUTION PROJECTED BY HONOLULU LADIES



Believing that Honolulu needs an Old Folks Home, such as is found in all progressive and civilized communities, the King's Daughter's Circle of Honolulu has instituted a campaign to secure a fund of $60,000 with which to erect an appropriate structure on a site owned by the organization on Waialae road.

While the King's Daughters Circle has been working toward this end for some time the active campaign for contributions begins tomorrow with a "tag day" fete, when under the leadership of Mrs. Bicknell a small army of girls will sally forth to gather funds.

The King's Daughters Circle recognized the necessity of a home for the indigent old people of the com-

SCRAP STOPPED A STREET CAR

In the police court this morning Francisco Avery and Antonio Mercardo, charged with affray, were fined $5 and costs.

The men "fit" so that a rapid transit car was held up in its course.

A. L. Morrison, first mate of the American ship W. P. Frye, was fined $10 and costs for assault and battery on a member of the crew, Frank George, a Tahitian.

J. Greenland, drunk, was fined $4 and costs.

Charlie Cooke (quite another family), Nick Anderson and C. B. Bomester, drunk, were fined $3 and costs each.

The weekly meeting of the Hawaii Promotion Committee will be held in the rooms of the organization at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. Principally routine matters are scheduled.

IGNORANCE SHIES AT A HOSPITAL

To Roman Zenchenko and his wife, Russian immigrants who arrived here in the steamer Nile, a hospital is a thing of evil repute, a place where one only goes to die and then simply because the authorities insist upon it. So when Anna, their eight months' old daughter, was found to be afflicted with the measles on their arrival here, and Secretary Kearns of the immigration station ordered her taken to the Childrens' Hospital, the grief and wrath of Zenchenko and his wife knew no bounds. They stormed and threatened and called down the wrath of a hundred patron saints on Kearns' head.

Even after they had visited the hospital and seen the care which was being taken of the little one, they were not satisfied. "Better for her to die in our arms, than in that accurs-

TO ADVERTISE HAWAII THROUGH PERIPATETIC VARIETY SHOW

Hawaii is likely to come in for some excellent advertising during the next year and a half through the employment by the Pacific Coast Moving Picture Co., Ltd., of Mrs. Frances King Headlee, formerly the Coast representative of the Hawaii Promotion Committee, as lecturer. Secretary Wood has just received a letter from the company named, advising him of Mrs. Headlee's appointment at his suggestion, and further advising that an effort is being made to secure Loyd Childs in like capacity.

The Pacific Coast Moving Picture Company is a unique advertising enterprise organized by private capital in San Francisco, but having the strongest kind of backing from the Panama-Pacific Exposition authorities and transportation companies. It plans an eighteen months' advertising campaign throughout the country in behalf of the exposition, doing this by means of a corps of lecturers and moving pictures, singers and vaudeville artists. The real "graft" comes in the selling of complete coupon tickets to the exposition on the instalment plan. A corps of agents will accompany the several branches of the show, prepared to contract at an attractive figure for a ticket to the big show, covering transportation, hotel and all other expenses connected with a first class trip from any

Oceanic Australian Run Will Do Away With Many Troubles---Sonoma Has Fine Passage, is Good Boat---Many Old Faces to Be Seen---Mail For Australia

The arrival of the Oceanic steamer Sonoma this morning and the assurance given that she will be able to stand the run to Sydney, Australia, means a great deal for this port not only in a business way but also in connection with the tourist traffic.

At the present time it is well known that the Canadian-Australian people do not boost Honolulu, this fact being announced by William H. Hoogs on his return from Sydney. The agents for the line are also handicapped in so far as they cannot tell intending shippers whether accommodation can be had until the steamer is alongside the dock.

These things cause friction all the time, added to which is the fact that the boats are rushed in and out of the port and, as in the case of the Zealandia's last trip, at times do not allow any daylight for the passengers at all.

The starting of the Spreckels line again means that shippers and passengers will know well ahead of time just how much accommodation there will be and will not have to put up with the stolid silence that exists under the present arrangements.

SONOMA ON TIME.

The Oceanic steamer Sonoma arrived off port at daylight this morning after a good run from San Francisco. She had to come slowly all yesterday in order to make port at the right time, as she is now fitted up so as to make very fast running. She is in command of Captain J. H. Trask and comes up to all that has been said for her in connection with fittings.

She brought a hundred passengers for this port altogether and 2186 tons of general cargo. Five autos also form part of the cargo. The passengers were enthusiastic this morning as to the vessel and state that everything on board is fine. The general prediction is that she and her sister ship the Ventura will easily make good on the Australian run.

There were sports held every day and last night a fine concert program was carried through. The program is as follows:

WELCOME BACK McNULTY.

William H. McNulty is back in port today in his old job as purser on the Sonoma. This morning his hand was nearly shaken off by departing passengers for William is some popular and holds a reputation of being known for this trait from San Francisco to Sydney.

Take this morning for instance while he was busy telling the newspapermen what a fine steamer the Sonoma is, answering questions as to when the next car leaves for Waikiki and telling the immigration men all they wanted to know a lady passenger happened along with two bits.

"Oh, Mr. McNulty," she murmured, "have you change for this."

"Why, sure," replied William and made a dive for the safe.

"Oh, don't go to all that trouble, I can get it on deck," said the fair one.

"Not at all," responded William, "that is what the purser is on board for," and the next minute five shiny nickels reposed in her hand and Williams' popularity totem had another botch marked on it.

There will be a number of local people pleased to see him back again and his appointment will meet with approval at the Sydney end as well, for he is well liked there. Here's luck, William, may your shadow never grow less.

A ROUGH PASSAGE.

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 30.—The British bark Wiscombe Park, Capt. Jones, which left Rochester, Eng., on January 3 for Vancouver, with English cement for Winch & Co., and subsequently put into Port Stanley, Falkland Islands, has been seriously damaged, according to advices just received from Port Stanley. The windjammer met with strong headwinds and high seas in the North Atlantic, and the weather became so bad that the big combers stove in the hatchcovers and carried them overboard. Much of the cargo was damaged as a result of the water coming in contact with the cement.

When she was towed into Port Stanley on April 17 her master reported that the ship was leaking through her port topsides. While she weathered the terrific gale, which did so much damage to the sailer, 25 tons of cargo were jettisoned, and at Port Stanley she had to lighten 150 tons in order that repairs might be effected. Capt. Jones expected to leave the Falklands for Vancouver on Tuesday of last week, but whether the Wiscombe got away or not is not known.

The Wiscombe Park sailed some time last summer for this coast, but was in collision off Southampton with a Cardiff steamer and was beached. She was towed to the drydock at the English port and repaired. Before the ship reaches her destination she will have been fully a year in making the voyage around Cape Horn.

GOODBYE TO RICE.

S. F. Chronicle, June 1:—The trim Pacific Mail steamer China departed yesterday afternoon for Honolulu and the Orient under rather unique auspices. When the Chinese people wish to pay a tribute to a friend they do so in a novel manner, as was indicated by the demonstration which marked the sailing of the liner from pier 42 at 1 o'clock. Captain Emery Rice, the ex-skipper of the China, had been showered with congratulations by his white friends, but the compliment he received from the Asiatic crew of his former command, was as equally sincere and showed the esteem in which the slant-eyed sons of the Far East held the young mariner who had been their captain for over a year.

Flying from one of the after lifeboats on the starboard side was an immense flag in the Pacific Mail colors, bearing the words, "Farewell, Captain E. Rice." And as the steamer pulled out of her slip, the Celestials leaned over the rails, their yellow faces beaming moon-like smiles toward Captain Rice, who was on the pier. Then followed a series of detonations and a roar as the "No. 1" boy applied a match to a streamer of firecrackers. Captain Rice's flag waved through the blue smoke, which rose gently upward into the warm atmosphere, while the crackers flashed and spluttered.

"I kind of feel like a fish out of water," almost sighed Captain Rice, as he watched his former command pass out into the stream.

"And that's something money can't buy," he added, referring to the ovation of the Chinese.

THOMPSON GETS YACHT.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—John D. Spreckels has appointed Captain Albert Thompson to command his palatial yacht Venetia, filling the vacancy made by the death of Captain H. M. Hayward, the veteran mariner, who passed away suddenly a few days ago. Thompson has been chief officer on the seagoing steam pleasure craft. While a young man he has had long experience in both sail and steam, being a sailor "from the ground up." He was with the Pacific Mail and Matson companies for a number of years. It is reported that Spreckels is now figuring on a cruise to Alaskan waters.

ROW FOR ELEVEN DAYS.

VANCOUVER, May 25.—The splendid heroism of the five members of the crew of the ill-fated Joseph Russ, which was wrecked on Chirikof island, on April 21, in rowing for succour eleven days in two open boats, is now told in full, as the Mariposa, which arrived at Seattle, brought the log of the Dora, which effected the rescue.

It was upon the arrival of the Dora at Chignik, at 9:30 p. m., May 2, on her eastbound voyage from Unalaska to Seward, that Capt. C. B. McMullen, master of the vessel, learned of the fate of the Robinson Fish company's cod-fishing schooner. Capt. Mullen was informed by Mr. J. W. Hume, superintendent of the Northwestern Fisheries company's cannery at Chignik, that five members of the crew of the Russ, with A. E. Reeves, second mate in charge, after a frightful experience of eleven days in two open boats had rowed a distance of ninety-eight miles and, completely exhausted, had put in at Chignik two hours before the arrival of the Dora.

After taking the six men aboard to direct him in his search for the Russ, Capt. McMullen put out from Chignik at 10 a. m., May 3, for Chignik island. During the heavy southeastern gale, heavy sea and swell, the Dora arrived off the island at 6:15 p. m., anchoring in seven fathoms of water.

In full view was the schooner Russ, high on the rocks and going to pieces. The thirty members of the crew left on the island by the six men who had made the perilous journey to Chignik in open boats for assistance, were crowded around blazing bonfires, and waved frantically at the Dora, fearing that they would not be seen.

A lifeboat, manned by members of the crew of the Dora, was lowered, and after fighting their way through the heavy surf, a landing was effected. All night long members of the crew of the Dora battled with wind and wave, and at 6 o'clock the following morning the last man had been taken from the lonely island.

Capt. McMullen reported the wreck of the Russ by wireless to Seward, and the steamship Bertha of the Alaska Coast company, was held at that port until its arrival. The shipwrecked men were transferred to the Bertha, which is expected to arrive in Seattle this evening.

Members of the crew of the Russ said that J. Jorgensen, first mate of the schooner, was drowned soon after the vessel was driven on the rocks. His body was not recovered.

The Union Fish company of San Francisco offered to give employment to all of the Russ' dory fishermen at Pirate cove, but they all decided to come to Seattle on the Bertha.

Driftwood

The Inter-Island steamer Niihau arrived from ports this morning with a full load of sugar and a deck load of Parker ranch cattle.

The oil tanker Lansing gets away for Port San Luis this afternoon.

The American-Hawaiian steamer Virginian left port at six o'clock yesterday evening bound for Port Allen.

The American-Hawaiian steamer Missourian left Tacoma bound for Honolulu on yesterday.

Leaving San Francisco at half-past one o'clock yesterday the Manchuria is bound for Honolulu. She is expected to arrive here next Wednesday.

One hundred and ten days out the ship Erskine M. Phelps arrived at Delaware Breakwater on Wednesday. She made the trip in 110 days.

The British lumber vessel Ikala went out of the harbor this morning to pump out her ballast tanks. She will load 3000 barrels of oil later in the day and should get away for Australia some time this afternoon.

The Matson company has sold the five-masted schooner Wiliam H. Marston which has been a regular visitor to this port. The Charles Nelson company of San Francisco bought her and will use her in the South American lumber trade.

MIDDLEWEIGHT JACK CORDELL ARRIVED BY STEAMER SONOMA

JACK CORDELL.

Jack Cordell, the coast middleweight, arrived by the S. S. Sonoma from San Francisco this morning.

Cordell has made two visits here before. The first time he had three scraps with Dick Sullivan, and in 1910 he fought twice with Pat Cornyn, brother of Dick Sullivan. The first contest with the latter resulted in a fifteen-round draw and in the second bout Cordell obtained the decision after the same number of rounds had been boxed.

Cordell's last contest was with Tommy Tucker in Bakersfield, a battle which he won by a knockout in five rounds.

Jack has been working with a state survey gang along the Sacramento river for the past few months.

If a match presents itself he will box in Honolulu. He states that he is in good shape and that he intends to visit Australia in the near future.

BISHOP WILLIS SAW SWIMMING RACES AT KAIMUKI BOYS' SCHOOL

Now that the swimming bath at the Honolulu School for Boys is in operation aquatic exercises form an important and healthful part of the school life.

The sports for the junior boys were held on Saturday, June 1, and after much keen competition Searle I carried off most of the honors, while Searle II and Kukana were close on his heels.

Yesterday afternoon witnessed the senior division of the swimming sports, when amid wild enthusiasm some half dozen events were keenly contested. A half holiday had been granted to the school in honor of the visit of Bishop and Mrs. Willis of Tonga who called at the institution on Tuesday, and it was felt appropriate to mark the occasion by holding the sports during the afternoon.

The following is a list of events with winners:

1. Four Lengths—1, Makalena; 2, Kula.
2. One Length on Back—1, Hoapili; 2, Norrie.
3. One Length Under Water—1, Kula; 2, Mosse.
4. Plunge—1, Hoapili; 2, Makalena.
5. Plate Dive—1, Norrie; 2, Kula.
6. Relay Race—Winning team, Makalena, Kula, May I.

Chink Ball Stars Now Propose to Winter in Cuba

NEW YORK, May 24.—Seton Hall's: Martin, c; Feeney, rf; Peploski, p; Gilully, 2b; Boudon, 3b; Ash, 1b; Cronin, ss; Curan, cf; Elwood, lf.

Chinks: A. Ayau, ss; Kan Yen, c; L. Tin, 3b; A. Akana, 1b; L. Akana, lf; A. Asa m,2b; Sing Hung, cf; Ah Toon, rf; Apau Kan, p.

"Au-we-au-wa au-wek ka-hoo. Chinese ball team, wek-ka-hoo."

Amid this famous cry, which has made them one of the foremost of foreign college nines which has ever visited this country, the Hawaii University team of Honolulu jogged out on the diamond at Wiedenmayer's Park this afternoon, where it went against the representatives of Seton Hall in an exhibition contest.

Fully 500 ardent fans, including some of the yellow race from this city, spent the scorching afternoon in the bleachers and stands to see the Chinese tossers in action, and when the battle concluded all were satisfied that they had seen a combination of well experienced players despite their nationality.

Although it is their first appearance in this city the Orientals have been playing in America's national pastime for the past ten years. They have to date played seventeen games this season and have been victorious in eight, losing eight and tying in another.

The Mongolian manager gives the cold climate as the cause for several defeats, however. The Hawaiians will remain in this country until October, when it is expected they will go to Cuba to engage in several games there, and thence to their native land late in January, 1913.

A Good Game.

Umpire John Moriarity called play at 3:40 o'clock. Ayau, the first Oriental to face Joe Peploski, the pride of Setonia, skied a high one toward left, which Elwood hugged. Kan Yen hit to Gilully, who tossed to Ash for the second out. L. Tin made a beautiful try for first on his tap to Boudon and was beaten out by a hair on the latter's toss.

Catcher Kan Yen dropped Martin's easy fly and Joe was safe. Crohin's sacrifice pitched to first advanced Setonia's backstop to the middle station. Feeney bounced a hit off L. Tin's glove and Cronin tallied. As the ball rolled to left field L. Akana picked the ball up and threw low, Feeney going all the way to third. Allan Kan caught Bill off third, however. A. Akana grabbed Peploski's fly, making the third out. One run.

Second Inning—L. Akana, Asam and Sing Hung all whiffed. No runs.

Setonia went out, one, two, three, in their half of the second, fast fielding by the visitors helping in keeping the men off the sacks.

For Hawaii, Sing Hung got on when Gilully slipped up on his slow roller. The visitors' coaching at this stage was amusing. Ah Toon in attempting to sacrifice bunted on the last strike and was declared out. Sing Hung made a neat steal of second, but Apau Kan fanned. Sing Hung then pilfered third. He then had the crowd in a "swoon" when he stole home with the ball in Peploski's hand. Ayau struck out. One run.

Third Inning—After Curran fanned, Elwood's tap toward second looked a sure safety, but Asam ran off, picked the ball up with his gloved hand and made a wonderful throw to first, getting the runner. The Orientals again started the crowd with their excellent work when Sing Hung grabber Martin's fly with his gloved hand in right field. No runs.

Kan Yen started Hawaii's half of the fourth with a bouncing safety over Peploski, but Joe caught him napping off the big. L. Tin nearly beat out a slow roller to Peploski, but Joe got it to first in time. A. Akana walked on four close ones and then stole. L. Akana struck out. No runs.

Setonia went out in order in the fourth and Hawaii did likewise in the fifth. In the suburbanites' half of the fifth Ayau made a neat pickup and stop on Boudon, but threw low to first and "Boudy" took two bases. Ash hit to Asam, who relayed the pill to Tin in time to get Boudon going to third. Curran propped to Tin and Ash was out stealing by a city block. No runs.

The sensational fielding of the Hawaiians when Seton Hall batted in the sixth had the crowd on its feet. Elwood started with a liner to right, which the fielder could have caught if he tried. Martin forced him at second, however, pitcher to short. Martin was then out stealing, Kan Ken to Ayau, the former making a beautiful peg. Cronin singled to right. After making two attempts Apau finally caught him off first.

Both went out in order in the seventh and eighth rounds.

It was one, two, three again for Hawaii in the ninth, but Setonia threatened in their half. After Elwood and Martin had been retired, Cronin got his second hit to right. Feeney's liner looked good, but Ah Toon grabbed it.

In the tenth A. Akana led off with a safety over second, and then stole, no one covering the bag for Martin's throw. L. Akana, who is no relation whatever to his team-mate "A," struck out. So did Asam, and then A. Akana tried to pilfer third, but was out.

Seton Hall scored the winning run in the eleventh.

LABOR AND AMERICANS.

While it is desirable to get as many Americans into this country as we can, it is useless to expect them to come in the shape of unskilled laborers such as are needed for the hard work of the plantations. Americans supply no such emigrating class; and such of them as serve the requirements of farm labor on the mainland never have been and are not now many enough to meet the demands of the home market. In its early days the nation began depending just as we are doing, upon "hired help" from the peasantry of the old world. There were successive importations from Great Britain, Ireland, Germany and Scandinavia, and now the mainland is attracting the Latin race. Can we be blamed or called un-American for following suit?

Our imported European labor is much better and safer as a class than what the mainland is now chiefly getting by way of Ellis island. We take no lazzaroni, which is doubtless the worst of the mongreloids of Europe and will vitiate the population of the republic if enough of it comes.

As to Americans the laws of Hawaii and the activities of the Territorial government are devoted to the end of keeping up the increase of them in our census. Honolulu is attracting more Americans steadily and surely. So is the Territory. Of the American tourists whom promotion is bringing, a certain proportion buy and stay; and it is an organized effort to get more, following the method which has located so many thousands of them in Southern and Central California. The friends of Americanism here need not fear the issue, especially as a westward hegira will be assured by the opening of the canal and that of the San Francisco World's fair.

AN OBSTRUCTIONIST PROPOSAL.

Supervisor McClellan did not cover himself with glory, nor, for that matter did Supervisor Low, in trying to block Cleanup day. If the board to which these gentlemen belonged was able and willing to do this sort of work at public expense, and do it thoroughly and without politics, the course of McClellan and Low might be excused, but the Board itself has turned those members down and welcomed public co-operation, as the government of other cities, in the United States and Canada has been glad to do. While the report in the morning paper on the action of the caucus is not altogether clear, we assume that the final action, on motion of Supervisor Murray, that the city "place its wagons, mules and laborers at the disposal of the board," means the Board of Health and the Citizens' Committee in co-operation with it.

Supervisor Low, on the prompting of Mr. Milverton, called attention to the fact that the supervisors had passed an ordinance prohibiting any one from placing rubbish or garbage on the city streets and Low said that the Board "will surely enforce the law." We may well doubt it in view of the better counsel that finally prevailed. This ordinance is all right to prevent throwing refuse into the highways to thus get rid of it, but no one ever thought it could be used to block a general cleaning of the city. If the ordinance is capable of being twisted into one of sanitary obstruction, it ought to be promptly amended so that property owners, on call of the Board of Health and with permission of the Supervisors could co-operate in Cleanup day by placing their rubbish wherever the removal of it might be expedited. This should be attended to soon so that the public may feel free to assist in this work of prime necessity.

NOT A CICERO.

Congressman Littlepage was scarcely happy in calling Bryan "the Cicero of the West." Cicero was a smooth talker of no principle, whose treachery to men and causes has gone indelibly into the story of his time. Bryan has never deserved such a comparison. When Cicero spoke the audiences went away saying: "Wasn't that a bully speech?" and then forgot what he had said. But when old Dimosthenes, the Greek of convictions, got going, the folks who heard him ran out shouting: "Let's go and maul Philip!" After Bryan is heard the common people want to maul the selfish plutocrats and there is nothing Ciceronian in the impulse. Cicero would have compromised with them for five hundred drachmas and the nomination for prosecuting attorney.

THE CASE OF DR. WOOD.

We do not think that thoughtful people will feel particularly hurt if Congress manages to put the general staff of the army out of the hands of Dr. Wood and into those of a trained soldier. Every man to his trade. If the present chief of staff were surgeon general, disinterested folk would be glad to have him stay; but it does not add to national confidence in the organization of the army to have a doctor, a lawyer, a minister or an editor take active command of it over West Pointers who have been educated for that purpose.

To be the potent head of the army a man should have a special scientific training, military education, soldierly aptitude and experience and the enthusiasm of a life work. This is what West Point is for; what the people maintain that institution to make sure of. That its training counts for the greatest military success is proved by the history of the Civil War and of its most famous commanders on both sides. West Point training produced all the great generals of that trying conflict. It gave the South Lee, Longstreet, Johnson and Jackson; it gave the North Grant, Sherman, Sheridan, Meade and Thomas, and many more on each side of the struggle. Only subordinate commanders came from a civilian career; and not one of them went out of the war with a first-class military reputation. If the United States were to get into a great foreign war tomorrow, the demand would be universal that Dr. Wood should retire and that the pick of West Pointers should come to the front—a man grounded in higher mathematics, one of trained strategical mind, thorough in methods of organization, bred in discipline, a good man for planning and fighting alike, one to hold the confidence of the government and people. Nobody in his senses would entrust the national defence, honor and safety to one whose first thought might be to make a diagnosis and his latest one to write a prescription.

PARKING KALAKAUA AVENUE.

The Star believes in the parking of Kalakaua avenue, if the middle strip of grass and flowers is not made too wide, and it has no sympathy with the plea that it would "spoil the only boulevard." That boulevard was spoiled years ago by cutting out its vernal and arboreal beauty and straitening it at the expense of its graceful curves. The so-called "improvement" of those days was in the direction of the commonplace, while the one now provided for is in the direction of restoring the old charm. If Honolulu wants to have a Prado or Lunetta, like some other tropic capitals, this is the way to begin acquiring it.

It is urged that the park strip would be an obstruction to travel. It might, indeed, be bad for automobile racing and competitive joyriding; but it would not hinder the legitimate use of the highway. By having vehicles keep to the right, as viewed from both ends of the road, safety would gain and nothing desirable would be lost. And instead of a wide stretch of staring concrete made along mathematical lines—an unlovely highway fit for carts—Kalakaua avenue would be a drive to add to the pleasure of home people and tourists alike.

One who has seen flowery boulevards elsewhere could wish that the parking of the avenue were also to be made on both sides.

"A charming oasis in a desert of ocean" is a phrase which will serve promotion along with that latest one of Mark Twain, "The loveliest fleet of islands anchored in any ocean."

The Cleanup campaign will take aim at the target this evening at a meeting in the Young Hotel. Attendance on it will be some measure of civic interest and pride.

It begins to look as if Professor Severin was the "rather extravagant farce."

The Month of Brides

By WALT MASON.

The bard his soul discolses and on his winged steed rides, and sings of blooming roses, and also blooming brides; the latter, from their bowers in fine and brave array, outblush the blushing flowers upon their wedding day. With blue skies bending o'er them, no omens to annoy, they've all the world before them, a world of light and joy. The old dame smiles and blesses the brides through furtive tears, and thinks of bridal dresses she wore in long gone years. The old men sadly ponder on brides they used to know in brave days 'way back yonder—the days of long ago. They have bright skies above them, the brides who blush and bloom, and all the world to love them, and not a threat of gloom. I wish that every token of joy might be fulfilled, and not a hope be broken that gentle bosoms thrilled; the harp of life should never send forth a doleful tune, and peace should walk forever with blushing brides of June. I wish I knew tomorrow would duplicate today, that ne'er a shade of sorrow would come the young wives' way; that happiness would linger beneath the sun and moon, and guide them by the finger, the blushing brides of June.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

FOOD COMMISSIONER EDWARD B. BLANCHARD—The statement that I am lost is not true. I have found myself.

PURSER McNULTY (Sonoma)—It feels good to be back in Honolulu again and I am looking forward to the trip to Sydney also.

WILLIAM C. BERGIN—I am like the cat. I could not stay away and have become an enthusiastic member of the Come Back Club.

A. T. WISDOM—Those new Hawaiian cigars are economical because you don't care to eat half so much if you smoke one just before a meal.

JOSHUA TUCKER—They had a fine rain over on Kauai at the beginning of the week and it freshened both the looks of the fields and of all my girls over there.

DICK WARREN—A pretty nifty three-year-old pacing stallion came to the Islands recently and will be started at one of the Fourth of July meetings. A man to drive the pacer is also in town, according to reports.

TREASURER CONKLING—Mr. Wilder will probably begin the Oahu Tax Appeal hearings on the nineteenth of this month. Meanwhile I have been wallowing around up to my ears in papers, letters and divers tax matters.

HENRY CHILLINGWORTH — The soccer and baseball boys who are going to Hilo for the Fourth of July will make strong teams. The soccer aggregation will represent the McKinley High School and the baseball team will practically be an All-Honolulu nine.

SUPERINTENDENT STARRETT (Market Division)—I thought red peppers would prove too hot a dish for the fruitflies, but judging from specimens I have seen the pest seems t' thrive on them. I believe spraying would reduce the ravages of the insect.

JACK GIBSON—Honolulu may not be ripe for a big amusement park but the town would certainly support a half-mile racetrack. Such an enterprise could include some of the regular amusement park features and should be a money-maker from the start.

C. F. LOOMIS—Secretary Super of the Y. M. C. A. has been transformed into a baseball fan of the deepest dye. He writes that he attends the games in every big league city he visits and he has sent us scores of the games which he has kept in real big league fashion.

E. A. BERNDT—I hope an attempt is made to arrest everybody that puts rubbish on the streets for removal on Cleanup day—it will make things interesting. I also hope that we can keep the garbage department busy for three months carting the trash away. It will mean that we will then be sure of getting a free garbage service.

H. P. WOOD—Hawaii is getting some splendid advertising in San Francisco just at present. We have Hitchcock's painting of the volcano properly lighted, in the window of the Western Pacific Railway office, and large frames of transparencies of Hawaiian views in the windows of the Pacific Mail and of the Oceanic Steamship passenger offices, besides one of our big picture kiosks in the Ferry building. All of these displays are located in the very best parts of the city. They are not costing Hawaii anything, but the window space alone, from a display standpoint, is valued at several thousands of dollars per month.

ROSA LEE TYLER GETS HER COSTS

In an opinion written by Justice De Bolt the supreme court decides a question of costs in the suit of Rosa Lee Tyler against Hen Wise and Kate Milton, an action for wages under a vaudeville agreement. The plaintiff's exceptions to judgment for defendants being sustained, she presented her bill of costs. Defendants objected to two items, one of $25 and one of $10.60, the former for a transcript of evidence and the latter a clerk's charge for preparing the record. The court finds the first correct and reduces the second to $6.38, and leaves another item of $11.75, for circuit court costs, to abide the result of the new trial. The costs are taxed at $48.13. This is the syllabus:

"Money paid for a transcript of evidence necessary to the consideration of a bill of exceptions may be taxed as costs.

"Money paid to the clerk of the circuit court for comparing, certifying and typewriting the record on exceptions to this court may be taxed as costs."

W. B. Lymer for plaintiff; J. A. Magoon for defendant.

OCEANIC LINE

The arrangement received favorable attention in Australia, for the business men over there are beginning to realize that trade between the two countries must increase by leaps and bounds during the next few years.

Captain J. H. Trask, who is in command of the Sonoma, stated this morning that from what he has seen of the vessel this time he is sure she will make good on the long trip.

"She is running well,' he stated, "and I am sure that we shall be able to make even better time than is scheduled. We shall be able to land Australian mail in San Francisco so that it will reach London in thirty days."

SHIES AT HOSPITAL

ed place," said the father. The mother declared that she would take the child in her arms and walk the streets with it until it recovered or died.

"The child will surely die if you do not leave it in the hospital," Secretary Kearns told them. He added that it would recover if it was given proper care. The Zenchenkos finally yielded but sullenly, and have been getting up at sunrise to get out to the hospital.

This morning it was announced that the child could be removed within two days, and Secretary Kearns heaved a sigh of relief. "It has been one long fight with the parents ever since the child went out there," he said. "When the child comes back only will they be convinced that there is not a plot on foot to kidnap their little one."

ROOSEVELT RIDICULES THE ATTACK IN THE HOUSE

GETTYSBURG (Pa.), May 31.—On ly men with brains of "three guinea-pig power," according to Colonel Roosevelt can take serious heed of Congressman Fitzgerald's speech Wednesday about the Colonel. Fitzgerald read what purported to be a memorandum of President Roosevelt relating to alterations to the White House "to be permanent during my lifetime."

"Mr. Fitzgerald's accusation, or the implied accusation, is too preposterous to need any serious discussion," said Colonel Roosevelt here today.

RAPID TRANSIT PAVING DISPUTE

No judgment has been prepared by the Territory to be submitted to the supreme court tomorrow in the Territory's fight with the Rapid Transit company in regard to the paving of King street.

Deputy Attorney General Smith spent the entire morning looking up points in regard to the case as the Territory is not exactly sure in regard to its status in the case—whether it can have a judgment on the decision entered by the court or not.

The traction company claims that the decision permits of a judgment being entered either by the Territory or by the court, while the county attorney's office has declared that, owing to the omission of several vital facts in the agreed statement, no judgment can be entered.

Argument on the case will be continued by Deputy Attorney General Smith and D. L. Withington, attorney for the Rapid Transit Co., before the supreme court tomorrow.

NORRIS MIDWAY LIVENING UP

S. F. Chronicle, June 1.—Indications of continued development work on many of the properties in the Midway and Sunset fields are becoming stronger every day. Many leases now idle are to resume work next month according to the report of local supply firms and employment agencies, which are the first sources to receive news of any new work. The Norris Midway Oil Company on the flat near Maricopa is one of the companies planning new work and in addition to resuming work on the well now drilling, a new hole is to be started.

The Kern Trading and Oil Company (Southern Pacific) apparently is preparing for more development work in this locality. Locations for twenty new wells have just been staked out on the section 15 property of the company.

New owners now have charge of the Templor Ranch Oil Company. They are the Seaboard Oil and Transportation Company. The seven wells on the property will be put in producing shape as soon as possible and it is expected that much new work will be done in the future.

Interesting because it illustrates the remarkable growth of the Belridge and Lost Hill district is the fact that passengers on the McKittrick trains may now see derricks all the way to the Lost Hills on a clear day. Not long ago the territory over which this activity is evident was absolutely barren of any habitation of development whatsoever. It is predicted that a few more years' time will uncover one of the greatest light oil fields in the world.

AT THE THEATERS

FIVE BIG ACTS AT BIJOU'S MATINEE TOMORROW.

Tomorrow afternoon the big family theater, the Bijou, will present a vaudeville program that will appeal specially to the ladies and children. The vaudeville talent of the Honolulu Amusement Co.'s houses will combine and make one long program of five first class acts.

Lordy's trained dogs have got to be great favorites of the children and the youngsters never tire of seeing the clever canines in action. They will add special features to their act tomorrow for the benefit of the youngsters.

Mae Taylor, the clever little soubrette, will be heard in three new songs. She too is a great favorite with the younger element.

Knotts and Lawrence, the song and dance team, who have been drawing well at the Empire, will be seen in an original act replete with singing, dancing and witticisms.

Curran, the one-legged wonder, will amaze all by his remarkable high kicking and hand leaping stunts. He will be ably assisted by Miss Voegtler, herself a very clever acrobat, who was for a long while with the "Flying Shamrocks." Curran's leaping over chairs and tables is simply wonderful.

Probably the greatest act of them all is "The Darts Trio," who perform seemingly impossible feats on a tight wire such as dancing and skipping the rope. This act is as daring as it is clever.

With Prof. Miltuer's orchestra in popular and classic selections, tomorrow's program will furnish over two hours of genuine entertainment. There will not be a dull moment during the whole performance.

RETURN OF THE HUGHES COMPANY.

Saturday, June 15, has been selected as the day for the Hughes Musical Comedy company to begin their return engagement of two weeks and in the meanwhile the members of the company are enjoying a well needed rest, as it was all work and no play for them in their Far East tour, the people demanding so many encores that they were quite exhausted after each performance. One of the gay girlies laughingly remarked this morning, "Honolulu is such a nice place to spend a holiday; everybody seems so good and nice, and the men, why, they are simply divine."

Owing to special requests Mr. Hughes has been prevailed upon to give his shows here exactly as they were produced in the Orient, which is one performance a night instead of two, which meant that the incorporation of the two shows into one made it an over-two-hours performance. This will be very good news to the Bijou patrons as it will mean bigger and better musical comedies.

The company will show only two weeks, during which time they will put on six breezy musical comedies or a change every other night.

AT THE LIBERTY.

The "Dream Girl," staged at the Liberty theater last night, received an enthusiastic reception at the hands of the audience and press. Pretty and dainty, the piece rippled through its two acts without a hitch.

The feature of the evening was the Houn' Dog song given by Dodie Canfield. This was received so well that encore after encore was called for Lizzie Weller, the wonderful little piano player, made a first appearance and proved herself to be well up to all that was claimed for her.

This is the best thing that the Bostonians have yet done and is by far and away the prettiest thing that has been staged in Honolulu. Special scenery was painted for one of the scenes.

There will be a matinee at the Liberty tomorrow afternoon and the usual performance at night. There are only two more nights left to see "The Dream Girl," and as booking is going fast today, seats should be secured quickly.

The new songs in "The Dream Girl" were all well received and there is not a dull moment throughout the piece.

CAUTION IS URGED REGARDING MANGOES ON CLEANING DAY

The following communication is self-explanatory:

Honolulu, June 7, 1912.

Bertram von Damm, Esq., Chairman, Executive Committee, Cleanup Day.

Dear Sir: I would respectfully request your committee to carefully consider the possibility that quantities of mangoes or other fruit may be gathered and mixed up with garden trash or garbage by your labor gangs on Cleanup Day. It is altogether possible, unless preventive measures are taken, that large quantities of such mixed garbage may be placed on sidewalks or temporary dumps and left there indefinitely until sufficient garbage wagons can be secured to transport same to the incinerator. Should this last named condition occur, I desire to call your special attention to the fact that there will be much unnecessary reproduction of Mediterranean fruitfly from such gathered fruit. It is well known that maggots in fallen fruit will emerge therefrom and enter into the ground to pupate within 24 hours. If it is not expedient to cart off all such mixed garbage to the incinerator within 24 hours, every systematic effort should be made through your captains, inspectors and labor gangs to have the fruit kept in separate piles on the sidewalk or temporary dump and the same carted off first.

In view of the unprecedented mango season and of the large quantities of falling fruit which daily occur there is bound to be more or less quantities on the ground in all lots where there are mango trees, on the day you have set to clean up the city. She board of agriculture is in full sympathy with the work you have in hand, and earnestly desires from your committee as well as from the several suburban improvement clubs, such co-operation in cleaning up fallen mangoes as may be practicable. This desire particularly applies to vacant lots and those belonging to people who ordinarily have not the means to employ labor to do this special work. To this end the board of agriculture is quite willing to turn over to your committee its present force of ten (10) fruitfly inspectors on the day in question. Upon receipt of your acceptance of this offer, instructions will be given these special inspectors to place themselves on June 20 at the disposal of your committee and under its orders as either captains of gangs or such other special work as you may deem necessary.

Hoping that you will appreciate the spirit of co-operation which this communication is intended to convey and that the important detail of your general cleanup of the suburbs of Honolulu, as above referred to, will meet with the consideration it deserves.

Yours very truly,
W. M. GIFFARD,
President and Executive Officer, Board of Agriculture and Forestry.

point in the United States, the purchaser to pay for the same in weekly or monthly instalments to his local bank. The lectures and pictures will deal with scenes and attractions on the way, and side trips possible from San Francisco.

Mr. Wood states that the Hawaiian Pineapple Company, through its president, James D. Dole, is looking into the matter of advertising the pineapple industry through the company, by means of motion pictures and lectures; and J. A. Kennedy, president of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company, is also considering the proposition in connection with advertising the attractions which the company has to offer in the way of tours through the Territory. In any event, Mr. Wood states, the islands are certain to get some good advertising through Mrs. Headlee, and also from Mr. Childs, in case he is engaged.

SUGAR LOSES VALUE IN TRANSIT

The big sugar carrier, Erskine M. Phelps, which sailed from here February 16 with 5100 tons of sugar, arrived at the Delaware Breakwater on Wednesday, according to cable advices received by the Sugar Factors' Company. The Phelps's cargo lost in value $17.60 cents per ton on the voyage, or a total of $85,760.

When the ship sailed from the islands the price of centrifugals was 4.80 cents, but she got into market on a price of but 3.92 cents.

The first part of the S. S. Mexican's cargo of sugar reached market a day ahead of time, on May 28, thus bringing 4.005 cents, a better price than would have been received had it arrived a day later. The balance of the cargo, amounting to 4000 tons, was due on the 5th inst., but has not yet been reported.

KUHIO SKIPS THE CONVENTION

A special cablegram to the Bulletin from Washington says:

Delegate Kuhio has started home. He is disgusted with the Taft-Roosevelt scramble.

A. Q. Marcallino, alternate from Oahu, will take the place of the Delegate at the Chicago convention.

IKALA OUTSIDE.

The lumber ship Ikala that arrived yesterday en route to Melbourne, Australia, went outside this morning to empty the water from her oil tanks.

She will come in this afternoon and take on the extra 2000 gallons she needs for fuel and will probably get away for Melbourne late this evening or early tomorrow morning. A mail will probably be dispatched by her, closing at the post office betwee five and six o'clock.

STOCK MARKET IN WAITING MOOD

Dullness again rules the stock market. Prices are holding fairly well, after the slight depreciation of the last few days, but trading is very slack. On the board this morning but one transaction took place, and that was but 5 shares of Onomea which brought 53 1-4 per share, or 1-4 off since last sale.

Between boards Ewa sold at 33 flat to the extent of 400 shares, and there was reported sales of Olaa bonds at 97 1-2, $33,000 sold. The market is evidently waiting for something to happen.

SOCIETY

Rather unusual, but decidedly to be commended, was the oath taken by the graduates of a college in one of our largest cities. It was modeled upon an oath of ancient Attica and, among other things, the graduates pledged themselves never to bring disgrace upon their city by any act of dishonesty or cowardice. The oath read in part:

"We will revere and obey the city's laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in those above us who are prone to annul them and set them at naught; we will strive unceasingly to quicken the public sense of civic duty, and thus in all these ways we will transmit this city not only not less but greater, better and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

The oath was inscribed on sheepskin and presented to the mayor of the city. In his office it will hang, and future years will show how these graduates will live up to the vow they have taken.

It would be a fine thing for this country, if other graduates would make either to themselves or publicly some such resolutions. A fine civic and national sense is awakening and those who are coming forth from schools and colleges are the ones who must fan it, keep it alive and make it burn ever brighter and higher; and in doing this, they are working not only for themselves but for those who are to come. They are helping to leave the world better than they found it. And surely this is a task worthy the best that is in every graduate of the land. If every graduate in every city would pledge himself or herself—for a woman's influence is quite as important as a man's—never to bring disgrace upon his city by any act of cowardice or dishonesty, think what a leap ahead civic betterment would make. And disgrace can be brought by little things as well as by big—by the little political deal, by the little dishonesty in trade. In fact, every one, clerk, stenographer, dressmaker, factory worker, who adds good, clean, honest work to the world is adding just that much good, and preventing its equivalent of evil from finding place. It may seem so insignificant as not to count. But it does count. It is helping throw the balance on the right side.

So these graduates in taking the stand they have are adding a force for good to the world. And graduates elsewhere can do the same by following their example. And this will gradually spread from city to city, from town to town over this land, a power for good that will make life happier for all of us.

And though it will be contended that not all these graduates will keep their pledge, the pledge is nevertheless a good thing. For it is a force for good that will hold many to a true course, who otherwise would get into wrong channels. And as increasing numbers take such a pledge, the influence of it will be increasingly felt. And this influence will strengthen many a weak one in hours of indecision, who without it would go under. So despite the fact that some may break the pledge, it is a good thing. It turns the thoughts of graduates upon a subject worth their consideration, and centres effort there in a definite, practical way. And so the oath of ancient Attica in its modern form might well become the pledge of every graduate, as he steps forth from school to take his place in the world of work.

SUNBONNET AND PLAY APRON OF BLUE LINEN

THE SUNBONNET BABY

The sunbonnet baby is just as popular as ever. Quaint and pretty are the designs for children's sun hats, one of the prettiest and most useful being shown here. It is of blue linen to match the little play apron with which it is worn. The latter has deep pockets at the side and is strapped with very dark blue linen. A group of geese in outline is worked on the lower part of the apron.

SPRECKELS CASE IN NEW APPEAL

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—Further litigation over the will of the late Claus Spreckels will have to take place in the higher courts of the State and of the United States, the superior court having yesterday issued decrees which will have the effect of clearing its calendars of all questions involved. Judge Coffey ordered a final distribution, which was duly appealed from, according to program. Nothing is left for the local probate court to consider.

The day's events began with the filing of a petition for the distribution of the fortune left by the late Claus Spreckels in trust for Emma C. Ferris, amounting to one-sixth of the entire fortune of the sugar king. It was filed by Claus A. and Rudolph Spreckels with the probate department of the County Clerk's office about noon. By 2 o'clock an opposition to the petition had been instituted by John D. and Adolph Spreckels, and from that time on until the hour of closing Judge Coffey's courtroom rang with legal eloquence as contending attorneys presented arguments for and against the granting of the wishes of the petitioners.

Claus A. and Rudolph Spreckels appeared in the case as the trustees of the Emma C. Ferris legacy, and in their petition they asked that the trust funds be held free from any suit for any possible debts of the beneficiary during her lifetime. The property asked for included nineteen tracts of San Francisco real estate, of which the home at Sixteenth and Howard streets was one. There were also great numbers of stocks and bonds. They asked for permission not only to hold the property in trust for Mrs. Ferris, according to the terms of the will, but to sell it and buy other property, and, in fact, to exercise all the rights of owners.

Motion Is Granted.

Attorney Charles S. Wheeler appeared before Judge Coffey for the petitioners, John D. and Adolph Spreckels being represented by Edward Lynch of the firm of Morrison, Dunne & Brobeck. Judge Coffey granted the motion, thus preparing the way for the intended appeal to the supreme court of the State and eventually to that of the United States.

At 4:39 a further decree was handed down by Judge Coffey containing the following findings:

"As conclusions of law the court finds and decides that said will (of Claus Spreckels, deceased) is in all respects valid and that Anna C. Spreckels being dead the said estate should now be distributed in conformity with the provisions of said will directing its distribution in the event of her death after the death of the said Claus Spreckels.

"That John D. Spreckels and Adolph B. Spreckels have not nor has either of them any interest in the estate of Claus Spreckels, deceased."

At 4:40 John D. and Adolph B. had on file their appeal to the State Supreme Court.

KAIMUKI.

At the regular meeting of Waialae, Kaimuki and Palolo Improvement Club last night, President H. G. Davis in the chair, A. F. Clark was appointed as district captain for Cleanup day with one lieutenant and one alternate for each of eight subdivisions. It was decided to rally as many members as possible to attend Cleanup day mass meeting tonight in a body with a banner.

Matters relating to roads, lights, water, gas, fire station, rural delivery, police, etc., were discussed and it was considered a satisfactory meeting all round. After writing off uncollected subscriptions for Liliuokalani school cornerstone laying, the club has a balance of $118 in the treasury, according to Treasurer W. K. McPherson's report.

J. H. Fiddes, owing to pressure on his time, resigned as secretary. At a meeting of the directors after the club meeting H. T. Mill saccepted the office of secretary, resigning the office of vice-president, and Mr. Fiddes accepted the latter office in his place.

munity two years ago, at which time the organization secured a small house on Makiki street near Wilder avenue. Here the Circle has maintained seven persons whose only faults are old age and inability to earn a livelihood.

There are a number of other worthy and deserving old people who have no means and cannot enter this haven because of lack of room, and the fact that the King's Daughters Circle has not sufficient funds with which to maintain a larger institution. Believing that the citizens of Honolulu will respond to an appeal for aid in such a cause, the King's Daughters Circle has secured the services of H. L. Kerr, the architect, in designing a comfortable and artistic building where these veterans of a lifelong struggle may be housed and cared for in their declining years.

The building in question is planned to provide quarters for fifty inmates, in addition to rooms for nurses and other attaches.

Ample provision has been made for lanais and verandas, and the dining and other rooms for general use are centrally located in order to be of the greatest service to all. The rooms for the inmates are large and airy, amply provided with clothes' closets and toilet facilities. The general design of the edifice both inside and out is "homey" in effect and at the same time the building will form an attractive addition to the city in an architectural way.

The structure as designed provides all the essential features to insure comfort and convenience for the inmates at a minimum expenditure for maintenance.

It is the intention to house the majority of the inmates on the first floor, reserving the second for the caretakers and those few aged people still agile enough to mount the easy stairway.

The building is so planned that it may be constructed in five parts or wings grouped around a central building. This permits of any person or group of persons so desiring, erecting wings of the building as memorials to those they wish remembered.

The King's Daughters Circle is asking the aid of Honolulans for this project, not only from the standpoint of charity but from that of justice and right. It is pointed out that Honolulu has a home for aged Hawaiians and for people of other races as well as hospitals for sufferers from tuberculosis and other ills, but it has made no provision whatever for the aged Europeans who have spent their lives in faithful service and helped to secure those who now have an abundance, a part of their wealth.

It might be offered as an excuse that until recently there were but few aged and indigent Europeans in town and that they were fairly well cared for, but conditions have changed.

The aged persons who deserve a shelter and home in their declining years are many of them laborers who were brought here in the early 80's and 90's of the last century for the sugar plantations and who drifted in to town after their usefulness to the plantations had ceased. They took up various small occupations with which to eke out an existence but many of these have now grown too old to work at all. It has been deemed cruel, and in most cases impossible to tear these old people away from town and out of the circle of their friends and acquaintances to send them to homes in the country.

It has therefore been considered essential that provision be made for them here. The municipality, which generally looks after such matters elsewhere, is not in a position to do its duty in this respect.

The King's Daughters Circle has undertaken the work which the community has shirked, but the demands made upon it have far exceeded its financial strength.

Confident that when the matter is properly placed before the public there will be an immediate and generous response, the Circle has gone ahead with its plans for an institution which, like the Y. M. C. A. building, will prove another monument to the progressive spirit of the community.

LEGISLATING OUT GENERAL WOOD

By J. A. BRECKONS.

(Special Correspondence of the Star.)

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Unusual interest has been aroused in Congress and in the war department over the proposed amendment to the army appropriation bill which proposes to change the law regarding the detail for chief of staff of the army. The conferees of the Senate and House have agreed on the provision and all of the conferees have signed the report except Representative Prince, of Illinois.

Some of the friends of General Wood assert that the paragraph is aimed to humiliate the chief of staff, General Wood, and Secretary Stimson as a reprisal in disposing of General Ainsworth, the former adjutant general. It is intimated also that the recommendation made by General Wood, which was approved by Secretary Stimson, for the abandonment of practically all of the interior army posts in the United States, led the military committees of the House and Senate to the conclusion that General Wood has not that judgment and experience which the chief of staff of the army should have in order to administer the affairs of that office satisfactorily for the benefit of the army.

Critics of the proposed law have pointed out that would serve to prevent the President from appointing as chief of staff distinguished officers who, like General Grant, General Scott, General Sherman, and others, had not served ten years with troops prior to their appointment to the grade of brigadier general. This criticism is said to be unfounded, however, because there is a proviso in the proposed law which permits the President in the time of war or emergency to make an appointment without qualifications.

How the pending amendment would prevent the reappointment of General Wood, when his term expired on March 4, with other details, was shown in a news article in the Star yesterday.—Ed. Star.

MAYWED HERO WHO SAVED HER

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—In all the whirl and turmoil of strife-torn Mexico romance is not an absent factor, judging from the tale related by the refugees who arrived here yesterday morning from the lower coast on the Pacific Mailer City of Sydney.

Beauty is usually associated with romance, between the covers of the best sellers at any rate, and this essential quantity wasn't lacking in the story woven at the end of the trying voyage from the revolution-stricken republic. In fact, it was there to prove it.

The principal in the romance talked about by the Sydney's passengers was one of two dashing senoritas who arrived on the steamer. They—the senoritas—were the Misses Guadelipe and Mercedes Escobeda, and the former was the one with whom the story was connected.

Strange to say, however, she let her fellow travelers do all the talking and had nothing in answer but dimpled smiles and fascinating tosses of proud Castilian head.

Senorita Guadelipe, so the passengers like to tell, comes here to bestow her hand and favor upon the hero who not long ago rescued her from the clutches of the banditti when it is said, she had been seized and held for ransom in one of those dark mountain passes that cut gashes in the Sierra Madres.

The identity of the gallant was unknown to the Sydney's passengers and, of course, they were pining because they could not supply this interesting feature to the enchanting tale which had been the one monotony killer of the trip.

And so they had to content themselves with the picture of a bold American knight—say an ambitious and handsome young mining engineer—dashing upon his steed through the ambuscade, laying low, perhaps, with his trusty automatic, a dozen or more naughty bandits snatching up the fainting, dark-eyed beauty and riding back with her to her father's palatial hacienda, and then, as a denouement, the blushes and the promises.

The Misses Escobeda are members of a wealthy family whose estates stretch over a large area near Guadalajara. While in this city, awaiting a lull in the excitement of their country, they will visit the home of W. Loaiza, the local commission man.

And who knows but what Cupid will complete his little game begun in the haunts of the banditti?

CAPTAIN QUICK DID WRONG THING

The case of Frank Sullivan versus the ship Edward Sewall was on again for hearing in the United States district court yesterday afternoon. Attorney Little continuing his efforts to show that his client, Sullivan, is not of sound mind and consequently that the action of Captain Quick in inducing him to settle a $30,000 damage suit for $50 was fraudulent.

The tilts between Little and the attorneys for the defense, Breckons and Stanley, were frequent and sharp, and once or twice Judge Dole was called upon to administer a mild rebuke. The judge made the statement that he did not consider Sullivan crazy but almost helpless. During the examination aboard the ship he appeared almost helpless, "I consider," said the judge, "that it was wrong for the captain to go outside of his counsel and approach a man who he knew was mentally weak. I consider that that requires explanation."

The upshot of the matter was that the case was continued indefinitely to enable the defendants to obtain deposition from Captain Quick and people in Texas who knew of Sullivan having been confined in an asylum.

QUIZ ON TAXES WORRIES EXPERT

United States District Attorney R. W. Breckons evidently believes in fighting the devil with fire—to use a metaphor without intention of derogation. In beginning his side of the Mahuka site trial this morning he called to the witness stand R. R. Reidford, the star real estate expert for the respondents, and proceeded to interrogate him closely as to the taxes paid in past years on the premises now occupied by the Hawaiian Trust Company.

Mr. Reidford was asked how it was that previous to the time the Bishop Trust Company took charge of the management of the premises taxes had been paid on $15,000 and afterward on only $12,500. When the noon recess was taken Mr. Reidford was still explaining.

The case has passed the sensational stage and much of the evidence now is either documentary or deals with complicated figures based on rentals, depreciation and other things that only a lawyer, a real estate expert or a mathematician can understand at casual glance.

GO TO THE VOLCANO.

Sonoma passengers are here in time to take advantage of the low price excursion leaving Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock on the first class steamer Mauna Kea for the Volcano. Two forms of tickets are sold by the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company. One of them includes all transportation, hotel expenses and trip to the crater, and return to Honolulu for thirty dollars. This ticket provides for transportation from Hilo to the crater by train over the Hilo Railway and by Volcano House autobus from the terminus of the road. At an additional cost of three dollars the company will sell tickets which provide transportation from Hilo to the crater and return entirely by automobile. This is the result of a little rate war between the railway and the stables company. The latter, for the additional three dollars, will include a trip to the famous Rainbow Falls. The crater is unusually active just now and the low rate of fare should tempt many to take the steamer tomorrow.

NEXT YEAR'S CARNIVAL.

Some definite action may be taken at the meeting of the Promotion Committee, this afternoon, regarding the management of the 1913 Floral Parade and Carnival. It is just possible that a director may be named for the big event at this time. The magnitude of the undertaking in the past few years, with the necessity of each year excelling previous records, makes it imperative that active work be started on the project fully six months ahead.

IOLANI ALUMNI WELL STARTED

Iolani Alumni Association perfected its organization last night, when fifty-seven charter members signed the roll. Although it was and is a small school, Iolani College has started many notable men upon their careers. They are holding positions—some of eminence—all over the world, one being an engineer in Scotland, others influential men of cities as far apart as London and Los Angeles, while the list of honorary members elected last night contains more than one name of worldwide fame.

The honorary membership list includes Bishop Willis of Tonga, founder of the school, Bishop Restarick of Honolulu, Rev. Leopold Kroll, Rev. F. A. Saylor, Dr. Sun Yat Sen, first president of the Republic of China; Anthony L. Ahlo, first chief justice of the same country, and Dr. Manawao Makahua of London, England, all excepting the clerical gentlemen old Iolani boys.

It was voted by the meeting that the sum of the initiation fees of one dollar each collected from the fifty-seven charter members be presented to Bishop Willis for his work in Tonga.

After business there was a social session at which refreshments were served. Remarks were made by Bishops Willis and Restarick, Solomon Meheula, Edmund Stiles, C. K. Ai and County Attorney S. K. Kaeo of Kauai, with closing remarks by A. F. Clark, president of the association.

Iolani College was founded in 1872 by Bishop Willis, the older St. Alban's College being merged with it. Including the charter members of the alumni it is estimated there are 200 Iolani "boys" in Honolulu.

LADIES WILL BOWL TONIGHT

Punahou night will be celebrated at the Y. M. C. A. this evening by a tournament on the bowling alleys in which both men and women will engage. The principal feature will be the bowling match between the Punahou faculty and a team to be selected from the Seniors. The faculty team is composed of President Griffiths, Principal C. T. Fitz, Coach D. J. Ricard, C. E. Barter and E. T. Chase.

After the main event the women will participate and the three making the highest averages will receive prizes.

An orchestra composed of Senor Dimingo and Carlos Caceres under the leadership of Professor Anderson will supply the music. Punch will be served during the evening.

Members of the Kamehameha Alumni Association will tomorrow evening hold their reunion and dinner in the dining hall of the manual department of the Kamehameha Schools. There will be addresses by members of the board of trustees, school faculty and officers of the alumni association. This evening, at the alumni clubhouse on Fort street, will be held the annual election of officers of the association.

MUNICIPAL WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE FIGURES A SURPLUS

A financial statement was presented to the caucus of supervisors last night by the ways and means committee, showing a total revenue from all sources for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1912, of $861,934.76. From this the committee figured out the board would have a working surplus, outside fixed salaries and expenses, for new work of $144,244.07. As the rate of expenditure from all funds under the appropriation bill of the present half yearly term is $815,860 a year, the surplus for the fiscal year at the best would be only $46,074.76. When, however, it is considered that the board has a large deficiency for the present term to face and will no doubt increase the scale of expenditures in the new appropriation bill, the boasted surplus may be dismissed to the realm of imagination.

Under the new system of financing the counties, each fiscal year's revenues must be husbanded for that year's expenditures. Formerly the auditor of the Territory did the husbanding, paying out a monthly pro rata without regard to taxpaying periods and, to keep the Territory on the safe side, reserving a margin of the counties' probable dues which was paid over semi-annually in January and July. It is necessary for the boards of supervisors now to do practically the same thing. Therefore, for the half-yearly term beginning July 1 next the Honolulu board should have only one-half of the year's total revenues, which is $435,967.38 and, deducting from this the six months' total of expenditure, at the present rate, there is a surplus of only $28,039.38 to cover any increase and all extras. As, besides, it was estimated at the city hall some weeks ago that warrants were then outstanding for $30,000 in excess of the regular appropriations, it would seem that the ways and means committee has more figuring to do to show "a grand surplus for new work."

A PURE FOOD EXPERT COMING

Food Commissioner Blanchard received a letter from Washington, D. C., this morning stating that Assistant Chemist Hansen of the Chicago laboratory had been transferred to the Honolulu laboratory and was due to arrive Honolulu June 12 in the steamer Manchuria.

It is not known as yet what the exact arrangement will be, but it is thought that the work of food inspection will be divided into two department, Territorial and Federal.

MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE.

San Francisco—Arrived, June 6: S. S. Mexican, from Salina Cruz.

Eureka—Sailed, June 6: Schr. S. T. Alexander, for Hilo.

LADIES INVITED.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Central Improvement Committee held yesterday afternoon, it was voted to issue a special call for ladies to attend the Cleanup Day mass meeting this evening.

PURE MILK CAMPAIGN.

Mrs. Manuel Gomez, who was arrested last week on a warrant sworn out by Food Commissioner Blanchard for selling adulterated milk, will be brought to trial tomorrow morning before Police Judge Monsarrat.

This is the first of a series of milk prosecutions resulting from the food commissioner's inspection of local dairying conditions which is now nearly completed.

CHINESE STUDENTS.

The Chinese Students' Alliance of Hawaii will hold a reception and entertainment on Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock, at St. Elizabeth's house on King street, Palama, in honor of the Chinese student graduates from the various schools of the Territory for the present year. The Chinese consul will be the principal speaker.

The committee extends a general invitation to the friends of the young graduates to be present. It is understood that there are about twenty Chinese graduates from various schools this year.

CAN HAWAII MAKE MONEY FROM KILAUEA VOLCANO VAPOR?

Following is an article from the U. S. Geological Survey reports, which suggests the question for volcanologists of whether the "oodles" of sulphur constantly pouring up from the environs of Kilauea volcano might not be commercially utilized:

The production of sulphur and pyrite in the United States in 1911 scored a marked increase over that for the year previous, according to W. C. Phalen, of the United States Geological Survey, in an advance chapter on sulphur, pyrite, and sulphuric acid from the volume "Mineral Resources of the United States" for 1911. The report also includes a statement concerning the sulphuric acid industry, which during the year produced over two and one-half million tons of acid.

In 1911 sulphur was produced in Louisiana, Utah, and Wyoming. The principal producer was Louisiana, but in both Utah and Wyoming the output in 1911 was greater than during the preceding year. The production of sulphur in the United States in 1911 amounted to 265,664 long tons, valued at $4,787,049, a substantial increase both in quantity and value compared with 1910. It is estimated that the production for 1911 is very close to the present rate of consumption in this country. Ten years ago the United States imported practically all of the sulphur used as such in her industries, but in 1911 the importation was only 29,144 long tons. In the same year 28,103 long tons was exported. The excess of imports over exports amounted to only 1041 long tons in quantity and to $7416 in value. There can be but one interpretation of these figures—namely, that the United States is providing ample sulphur for her domestic needs. As a matter of fact, in a recent article on the sulphur industry in southern Louisiana it was stated that the output of the mines located there is limited only by the market demand.

Pyrite Industry Prosperous.

The production of pyrite in the United States in 1911 amounted to 299,904 long tons, valued at $1,162,261 an increase of 58,292 long tons in quantity and of $184,283 in value compared with 1910. These figures are the maximum ever recorded by the Geological Survey for the pyrite industry. Though low-grade sulphide ores of copper containing considerable quantities of pyrite and pyrrhotite and zinc-sulphide concentrates have been used in recent years in the manufacture of sulphuric acid, the output of pyrite has shown a great increase during the last five years, which has been a time of rapid development of the by-product sulphuric acid industry.

Large Sulphuric Acid Output.

The output of sulphuric acid in 1911 amounted to 2,688,456 tons of 50 deg. Baume acid. Compared with the figures of the censuses for 1899 and 1904, this shows increases of great magnitude. A comparative diminution in the value of the acid in 1911 is worthy of note and is of great importance, because of the extensive use of sulphuric acid in the manufacture of other products.

Utilization of Sulphur-Bearing Gases.

The gases and waste products issuing from the flues of smelters, blast furnaces, and so forth, are made up chiefly of dust, the oxides of sulphur, carbon dioxide, and nitrogen. The oxides of sulphur, on account of their deleterious action on vegetation, have caused almost endless litigation in some parts of the country where they were formerly allowed to pour forth into the atmosphere. Various methods have been adopted to overcome the evil effect of sulphur dioxide, but they have met with only partial success. In view of this fact processes have been devised whereby these waste sulphur gases may be converted into sulphuric acid or into sulphur. Sulphur gases are converted into sulphuric acid at Ducktown, Tenn., and a process of separating sulphur from such gases has recently been tried experimentally at Campo Seco., Cal.

The report on sulphur, pyrite, and sulphuric acid may be obtained free from the Director of the United States Geological Survey, Washington, D. C.

SHEEP IN CENTRAL PARK, NEW YORK, SHEARED BY EXPERTS

NEW YORK, May 23.—The city's sheep in Central park have just exchanged their midwinter garments for light clean summer suits. There are seventy sheep in the flock, and their annual shearing is one of the signs of spring. John Williams and Cornelius O'Brien, expert shearers from Ireland, handled the shears, and the task occupied four days. The largest sheep yielded fourteen pounds of wool, and the average amounted to seven pounds to each animal. The most of the clip is what is called "medium" wool and brings 40 cents a pound. The proceeds are used for the park department.

La Follette's Plucky Fight Against Hard Luck in California---How His Campaign Was Mismanaged

By ERNEST N. SMITH.

(Special Correspondence of the Star.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—Some of the details of the recent tour of La Follette are just coming out and they show that the senator made a most valiant fight in California with practically no organization and what there was of one was scarcely worthy of the name. Just because of the manly fight La Follette put up against these odds he gained many votes, and there were innumerable people who said they would like to have voted for him had they thought he stood the least chance.

It was a hard blow for La Follette when he had his organization perfected with the governor and his workers ardently campaigning for him, and then suddenly without warning have almost the entire organization jump on the Roosevelt bandwagon without so much as a farewell. Thereafter the Wisconsin senator fought a losing battle and he knew it, but he fought on through California, spreading his doctrines and principles, and without attacking his former friends who "dumped" him, though his heart must have been bitter with the unceremonious way in which he was deserted.

Whoever did run his campaign in California after that made considerable of a botch of it as the following anecdotes will attest. La Follette was scheduled to speak in Sausalito and the public notices were duly made. Sausalito is a home community strictly, but the meeting was set for 11 a. m., when it is doubtful whether ten men could be found in the entire town. As it so happened three women wanted to hear La Follette and went to the appointed meeting place. It was next door to a saloon and the doors were locked though it was exactly 11 o clock.

After some hesitation the ladies pounded on the saloon door and got out a sleepy proprietor who had the keys to the hall, but who said he didn't open up because no one seemed interested or even present. The ladies said they wished to attend the meeting whereupon the doors were opened and the three women filed in. They sat some twenty minutes and nothing happening adjourned to the sidewalk in front of the hall where they stood talking.

Soon afterwards an automobile drew up and a small man sprang out and walked toward the entrance. "Thank goodness here is one man," said one of the ladies audibly, whereupon the man turned and asked if they were the only ones present. "Just ourselves," said the ladies. "Well, I'm Senator La Follette," said the man, "and if this is all I don't think it will be worth while to open the meeting at all." The ladies filled with confusion that a national figure should be so treated in their home town prevailed upon the senator to wait a few minutes while one of them went out in the highways and rounded up everyone in sight. The senator remained and had a delightful informal chat with the remaining two ladies, during which he remarked that his entire state campaign had been arranged about as brilliantly as the Sausalito meeting.

In due time the first one of the ladies arrived, bringing a motley crew of butchers, grocerymen and such men as lingered in a home community during the day. There were too few to fill a hall so the senator mounted his machine and with a small group gathered about the tonneau he spoke for a few minutes about the progressive principles o fhis party, shook hands with everyone and departed for San Francisco.

Another unpleasant experience was had in San Jose. The "live wire" members of a Press club in that sleepy town had arranged a banquet for La Follette to be given at the conclusion of his political address. So

NEW METHOD FOR DETERMINING FAT AND SALT IN BUTTER

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture calls attention to a new test for fat and salt in butter which is described in circular No. 202, Bureau of animal industry, just issued by the department.

This test was invented by Roscoe H. Shaw, chemist in the dairy division, and is especially designed for use in creameries. The circular explains the apparatus in detail and gives complete instructions for operating the test, placing in the hands of practical creamerymen a simple, rapid, and accurate method by which can be determined the percentage of fat and salt in butter, and which in connection with one of the reliable moisture tests already in use, makes possible the complete analysis of butter right before the churn.

The new test for fat will probably not require more than five dollars' worth of apparatus beside that already on hand in most creameries. The same centrifuge is used as in the Babcock test and the same acid.

The special apparatus consists of a separatory funnel of glass with a capillary stem. The separatory funnel is essentially a cylinder holding about two and a half ounces constructed with a glass stopper at the top and a stop-cock in a capillary tube at the bottom. A special socket is necessary to to hold the funnel while in the centrifuge.

The principal steps involved in the test are: The washing out of the salt from a weighed charge of the butter with hot water, the dissolving out of the curd with hot dilute sulphuric acid, the separation of the acid solution from the fat and the weighing of the fat. When the salt test is to be made the wash water is collected and the salt in it is determined by the usual chemical reaction.

The time consumed in making the fat test is not much if any more than is required to make a careful test for fat in cream by the Babcock method. A little more time is required if the percentage of salt is wanted.

The new test has been thoroughly tried out in comparison with the official laboratory methods and is quite in accord with them in results.

COFFEE IMPORTS OF THE UNITED STATES AND SHARE OF THE WORLD'S CONSUMPTION

More than one-third of the 2½ billion pounds of coffee annually entering the international commerce of the world is consumed in the United States, its imports of that article being twice as much as those of Germany, three times those of Netherlands, four times those of France, nearly ten times those of Great Britain, and half as much as those of all Europe, next to the United States the great coffee-consuming section of the world.

The world's leading importers of coffee, according to the latest official reports of the various countries thus far received by the Bureau of Statistics, Department of Commerce and Labor, are: The United States, 875 million pounds; Germany, 404 million; Netherlands, 265 million; France, 245 million; Austria-Hungary, 127 million; Belgium, 95 million; the United Kingdom, 88 million, and Sweden, 65 million. Italy, Norway, Switzerland and Denmark also consume considerable quantities, ranging from 45 to 25 million pounds each. Of the countries on the western hemisphere, Argentina and Cuba each import about 20 million pounds per annum; Canada, about 8 million; Chile, 7 million, and Uruguay about 3 million, while Australia, the island continent, consumes between 1½ and 2 million pounds per annum. Certain of the African countries are comparatively large importers of coffee, the imports into Egypt averaging about 15 million pounds a year; the Cape of Good Hope, 20 million, and Algeria, about 15 million pounds.

While the United States is the world's largest consumer of coffee, the imports have not increased during recent years. In the fiscal year 1902, for example, the imports aggregated 1091 million pounds; in 1905, 1048 million; in 1909, 1050 million; in 1911, 875 million; and in the present year will probably aggregate approximately 800 million, or considerably less than the annual average of the period since 1900. In 1871 imports of coffee amounted to 318 million pounds; in 1881, 455 million; in 1891, 520 million; in 1901, 855 million, and in 1911, 875 million. Cocoa has to a large extent supplanted coffee as an American beverage, the imports having increased from 3½ million pounds in 1871 to over 140 million pounds in 1911.

The world's leading coffee-producing countries are, according to the Department of Agriculture: Brazil, 2¾ billion pounds in 1909; Venezuela, 94 million pounds; Mexico, 80 million; Colombia, 92½ million; Porto Rico, 45 million; Haiti, 41 million; Dutch East Indies, 35 million; British India, 28 million; Arabia, 15¼ million, and Abyssinia, 10 million. The world's supply in 1909 aggregated nearly 3 billion pounds, but in 1910 fell below 2 billion pounds, due to a decrease of about 950 million pounds in the exports from Brazil.

Brazil is now and has for many years been the chief source of the coffee imported into the United States. Of the 875 million pounds imported last year, 651 million pounds were from Brazil, as against 224 million from all other parts of the world, chiefly American countries. The second largest source of our imported coffee is Colombia, 55 million pounds, followed in order by the Central American states, 52 million; Venezuela, 40 million; the United Kingdom, 27 million; Mexico, 25 million; the Dutch East Indies, 9 million; Haiti and Santo Domingo, 4 million; the British West Indies, 2 million; Netherlands, 2 million; Aden, 1½ million; Turkey in Asia, 1 1-3 million, and Germany, 1 million pounds. Less than 15 million pounds, it will be observed, are imported from Asia, even including the arrivals from European countries whose exported coffee is, presumably, largely the product of their Asiatic colonies.

The average price of the coffee imported into the country has greatly increased in the last few years. During the present fiscal year so far as elapsed the average import price has been 13c per pound, as against 10c in 1910, and 6½c in 1903. Present import prices are still, however, somewhat below the high level which prevailed in the period 1890 to 1896, when the average import price ranged from 14c to over 16c per pound.

Domestic consumption per capita reached its highest total in 1902, 13.34 pounds, as against 8 pounds in 1891, 10½ pounds in 1901, and 9¼ pounds in 1911.

Porto Rico and Hawaii are the only portions of the United States in which coffee is produced and from which it is exported in any considerable amounts. From Hawaii the exports to foreign countries last year aggregated about 1 million pounds, and the shipments to the mainland about 2¼ million. From Porto Rico the exports to foreign countries in 1911 amounted to 34 million pounds, chiefly distributed to Cuba, 20 million pounds; Spain, a little over 5 million, and Austria-Hungary, France and Italy, each about 2 million pounds. About a quarter of a million pounds of Porto Rican coffee were shipped in that year to continental United States.

GUNBOAT YORKTOWN SAVED FROM THE JUNK HEAP

VALLEJO, May 28.—It is announced at Mare island that the old gunboat Yorktown may yet escape the indignity of the junk pile, at least that degradation will be postponed for a while at least. A board of survey has been looking over the little vessel and reports that with the exception of the boilers, which are in bad shape, the gunboat is well worth repairing and being continued on the Central American patrol.

The Housewife's Health Is Precious

The happiness of the whole family depends greatly on the health and strength of the housewife. If she is weak and worn out, fretful and nervous she cannot be the wise and patient adviser of her children, the congenial companion of her husband, the calm mistress of her many trying household duties that she was when in perfect health.

For such women nothing equals

THE MORNING CABLE REPORTS

CHICAGO, June 7.—The Republican national committee has adopted a rule providing that its membership shall consist of "one member from each State and Territory comprising the Union."

Representative McKinley, manager of President Taft's campaign in an interview, says that Taft has twenty northern delegations, ten western delegations and five from the South. Roosevelt has fourteen delegations in all. He added that a canvass of the contests indicates that the "claims put forward by Mr. Roosevelt and his managers are worthless and absurd. President Taft is sure of two-thirds of the vote of the convention."

Mr. Dixon, managing Mr. Roosevelt's campaign, says he intends to press for a decision upon the contested points, and that he believes that "victory and the nomination of Mr. Roosevelt are assured."

From Oyster Bay came the announcement that Flynn, "Boss of Pittsburg," whose efforts to beat Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania secured the State for Roosevelt, has been named as the personal representative of Colonel Roosevelt and that will assist Mr. Dixon in fighting the contests before the National Committee.

SIOUX FALLS, South Dakota, June 7.—Thomas Sterling was nominated to the senatorship from this State yesterday by a plurality of 11,100.

HAVANA, Cuba, June 7.—President Gomez issued a formal proclamation here yesterday calling upon the Cuban people to arm themselves, organize and face the national peril that now confronts the country.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—The fifth bomb in the long drawn out gamblers' war was exploded in the basement of Corbett's place here last night. The house was not damaged.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7. — Professor Severin and Mr. Hartung, of the College of Hawaii, arrived here yesterday. Professor Severin declared that unless a general quarantine is declared against all Hawaiian fruits California is in grave danger of infection by the Mediterranean fruitfly, which has gained firm foothold in the Territory and is even now completely out of hand. The campaign being waged by the Hawaiian board of agriculture and forestry is, he says, "an extravagant farce."

He asserted that infected fruit is being shipped from Honolulu constantly, and that he himself was threatened by powerful interests, that if he came to "California and told the truth he better remain here and never go back to Honolulu." Professor Severin and Mr. Hartung are to lecture upon the fruitfly before the California Fruit Growers' Association June 16.

GREAT GROWTH OF BOY SCOUTS

Three men who are experts in various lines of boys' and philanthropic work have been engaged by the leaders of the Boys Scouts of America for different branches of work. These men are Charles B. Horton, director of the Scout Masters' Training schools and camps, Frederick N. Cooke Jr., who will have charge of the business administration of the National headquarters, and Thomas B. Adams, who as financial secretary will have an important work to do.

The engagement of these three men has been made necessary by the tremendous growth of the Boy Scout movement. A great increase in the number of Scout Masters and the growth of the movement at the rate of two thousand a week has compelled the leaders of the organization to get sufficient men to handle the different problems that rapid growth always brings.

With the engagement of Mr. Horton will come an important departure in the Boy Scout work. Mr. Horton, who has had fifteen years experience as a leader of boys' work, and especially in taking charge of them in the woods, already has set to work planning for the establishment of three schools for Scout Masters for the coming summer and also for supervising the camps of boy scouts throughout the country.

James E. West, chief Scout executive, has been in conference with Ernest Thompson Seton, chief Scout, and Daniel Carter Beard, national Scout commissioner, and they have agreed to open the Scout schools. One will be conducted from July 1 to July 10, in Cos Cob, Conn., on the estate of Seton. The second will extend from July 11 to July 20 and another school at Silver Bay from August 15 to 29, in connection with the Boys Work Institute. In addition to Chief Scout Seton and Mr. Horton many other men versed in Scoutcraft will compose the faculty of the school.

Frederick N. Cooke Jr., formerly was executive secretary of the New England Headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America and spent eight months at that work last year having temporarily given up his work as associate superintendent of the Theodore Parker Memorial, a social, civic center of Boston. Because of his work with the Parker Memorial and with the Boy Scouts headquarters in Boston, he has been brought on to New York to take charge of the business administration, and his work will be to superintend the office force with the idea of increasing its efficiency.

intent were the gentlemen in charge upon getting a satisfactory banquet that they entirely forgot that the last train left San Jose for San Francisco shortly after 10 o'clock, which was a few minutes after the conclusion of La Follette's speech. The regrets were profuse when this was learned, and efforts were made to get La Follette to stay overnight in the prune belt, but this the senator could not do. No one thought of offering to send him to San Francisco later in an automobile. At the conclusion of La Follette's speech therefore he was escorted to the depot by the members of the Press club, who did not linger as the banquet was about to start and they wanted to be in on the first "round." Without even waiting therefore for the train to draw in, goodbys were said and the entertainment committee hurried back to the banquet board.

The train was two hours late, didn't get into San Jose until midnight and Senator La Follette spent the intervening two hours alone in the depot his thoughts for his company.

Henry Thomas said he was a minister detailed to do slum work.
