HAWAIIAN LEGISLATURE.

SESSION OF 1886. ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTH DAY.

Monday, Sept. 20.

The Assembly convened at 10 a. m. Prayer by the chaplain; reading of minutes of previous meeting, which were duly approved.

Representative Kaunamano, under sus-pension of the rules, presented the following petitions from residents of districts on the Island of Hawaii, viz: 1, From Kohala, praying that the mail bag be opened at two places in the district-Makapala and Puehuehu. 2, From the district of Hamakua, praying that the mail carrier be paid $20 a week for carrying the mails between Waipio and Laupahoehoe. 3, From the district of Hamakua, with 36 signatures, praying that a law be enacted, requiring the Minister of the Interior to have plans prepared of all Government lands to be sold under the Homestead Act and posted on the Court House doors; that the land be sold at $50 for twenty acres, and that no Government twenty acres, and that no Government Pending action the Assembly at 11.55. lands be sold at auction. All referred to

Committee on Public Lands, etc. Representative Kaunamano from the special committee to whom was referred an Act to regulate a Hawaiian Board of Health, presented a report signed by him self and Kalua, to the effect that they had had the bill under careful consideration. They consider it would be proper to have some law to regulate the practice of Hawaiian remedies among Hawaiians. The bill is divided up into three distinct divisions. The committee recommend that the bill be placed on the order of the day, and carefully considered by the Assembly.

Report approved. Representative Dole, from a special committee, reported the Hawaiian version of the bill to license the brewing of malt liquors, as ready. Bill read and tabled for further consideration.

assembled: "That the sum of fifteen thousand taken on the amendment, resulting as fol-($15,000) dollars be, and the same is hereby further appropriated out of the public monies for the purpose of defraying the necessary expenses of the Legis-lative Session of the year A. D. 1886." Second reading of an Act to amend and consolidate the law relative to the Commissioners of Private Ways and Water

The 1st section, which relates to the definitions of terms used, was passed without comment.

Section 2. There shall be appointed by the Minister of the Interior in each election district of the Kingdom, one competent person to act as Commissioner of Private Ways and Water Rights; provided however, that nothing herein shall prevent the appointment of one person for two or more districts, if the same can be the inhabitants thereof, etc., etc., etc.

To this section strong objection was that, he objected to the section because it ions of the old law, and offered a new and complicated law of water controversy. It power for one man, who may act in more than one district. It provides that a resison shall act as Commissioner in any case | Appropriation Bill. where he shall have direct business relainess man fit to hold such powers as herein conferred? He believed the change of for a complicated bill like the one under consideration, would be bad and dangerous to the rights of the citizens.

Representative Dole said that the bill was drawn with the purpose of simplifywhat before was loose and vague. The Martin, viz: bench of three Commissioners was worthnot dangerous to have one case tried by covered against and expended in regard one Comissioner. In preparing the bill it was carefully considered, and revision was made by several lawyers of experience in water cases. It is considered to be as near perfect as possible. It would be for the public good to pass it, as it provided for the prompt hearing of cases giving the poor man a chance as against the rich.

Representative Thurston stated that he supported the bill and section, for as long as he had been at the bar he knew that every lawyer dreaded a water suit. There was more trouble and misunderstanding about such a suit than anything else. There was no point in Hawaiian law that needed more study, or was so uncertain, as the water law. A great deal of trouble was caused by having three Commission ers. On behalf of the bar, he hoped this bill would pass. The Attorney-General said that he had examined the bill previous to his becoming a member of the Cabinet and at the time had made the following marginal note, viz: "The law of water rights and rights of way could be amended, and with advantage. But this Act is not the healing remedy required, but rather an external counter-irritant. The general interest of the Hawaiian subject will be the best served by the quiet and solemn burial of Pending action the Assembly at 11:55 adjourned until 1:30 p. m.

AFTERNOON.

The Assembly re-convened fifteen min-utes after the hour set and discussion of the bill relating to "Private ways and water rights," was had.

Representative Castle stated that in answer to some remarks passed in debate, he would say that he had been retained as counsel by residents of Waiehu to protect their intersts in case a monopoly of water was attempted by the Hawaiian Commercial Company in that district. As yet everything had been most amicable and there was nothing, at present, indicative of any trouble. He was of the opinion that Mr. Spreckels and his agent there, Mr. G. C. Williams, had not endeavored to encroach on the rights of the people. The bill had been drawn up by him and introduced simply for the sake of simplifing matters. The Assembly having the bill under discussion could by their action, show whether they regarded it for or against the public interests. Representative Kaulukou was satisfied that Rep. Castle had paid considerable attention to the framing of the bill, but, in his (K's) opinion, the present bill was not as good as the law in existence. He favored the indefinite postponement of the Representative Aholo said in some repects one Commissioner was better than three, and in other respects three were better than one. An experiment had been tried with Road Commissioners, but did not work, and it would be the same with these Water Commissioners. He thought the interests of the people would be best

The Attorney-General moved to amend The regular order of the day now being the section by striking out the word "one" and inserting "three" in place thereof, and also striking out the following words: "Provided, however, that nothing herein shall prevent the appointment of one person for two or more districts, if the same can be done without prejudice to the rights of the inhabitants thereof."

It was in regard to certain sums of money reto the Marshal's affice, respectfully beg leave to report that they are of opinion that the sum of $362.25 should be inserted in the Apptopriation Bill in order that the claim may be satisfied. In regard to the sum of $262.25, part of the $362.25, we think that one hundred dollars thereof, for attorney's fee, should not have been paid out by the Marshal, as we consider it part of the duties of the Attorney-General to defend all suits brought against a Government officer in his official capacity. The balance of the amount is to satisfy judg-ments recovered against the Marshal and Deputy Sheriff of Makawao." Tabled for consideration

Report adopted, bill passed to engrossment and to third reading for the 23d inst. Representative Richardson from a special committee presented a report signed by himself, the Attorney-General, and Rep's. Brown, Thurston and Hayselden as follows:

Your Special Committee, to whom was referred back an Act Ito amend sections 218 and 221 of the Civil Code, relating to prisons, jails and houses of correction, on account of defects in the title, have had the same under careful consideration, and your committee, being of the opinion that the Act embraced more than one object, concluded to divide the Act into two separate Acts, which your committee do now present for the consideration of the Assembly, in lieu of said Act, and your committee recommends the passage of said two Acts in place of the Act that was referred back to them." Report adopted, both bills read a second time by title, passed to engrossment and to third readiny on Thursday the 23rd inst. Representative Dole from the Committee on Representative Castle moved as an amendment that the House meet at "9:30 each day, except Saturday, take a recess from 12 to 1 o'clock, and sit

The Minister of Interior said if the House met promptly at 10 o'clock and sat until 12, and then met at 1:30 sharp, business would be expedited. He indorsed the amendment offered by Rep. Castle. The Ministers were anxious to be on hand to time. He had been present every day during the session, had not made any attempt to shirk work, and would be there every night if the Assembly so ordered. He would amend with having the hours from 9:30 to 12 and from 1:30 to

Accepted. Representative Kaunamano said that he was not in favor of the original resolution, but of Rep. Castle's amendment. One of the first in-structions to Hawaiians by Rev. Mr. Bingham was that the night was made for rest. This Assembly was attempting to reverse that order. In 1864 they used to have night sessions, but three or four members did the talking while the rest did the sleeping. The President, the late Governor Kekuanaoa, used to fall asleep in his chair. Prince Bill and one or two of his companions would come in marry with wine, and between the sleepers and the merrymakers there was considerable noise. [Laughter.] There are young men inthe Assembly who are able to work nights, but old men, like himself, were getting feeble, and did not want to work nights. The members coming here at night might get wet and catch cold, and who was going to pay the doctors' bills? The big book says: "Watchman, what of the night?" The watchman answers: "The night is made for the devil and his imps." [Laughter.] The night was the time when deeds of darkness were committed, and they did not want anything done in this House to be so characterized. If the House met at night there would be no end to the do-mestic troubles that would follow. Members' wives would not believe that their husbands were at the Assembly; they would suspect them of going to other places. [Laughter and applause.] Every member should come to the house promptly

On motion, the amendment offered by Rep. Castle passed, and the resolution passed as Representative Kaulukou reported verbally on a bill relating to the keeping of accounts in English and Hawaiian. The committee, he said, had been unable to arrive at any conclusion, and returned the bill to the House. Report adopted, and the bill placed on the order of the day.

On motion, the report, if presented then, was made the order of the day for the 27th instant. The Appropriation bill being now reported ready for final consideration, on second reading, the Assembly resolved into Committee of the Whole, Hon. J. E. Bush in the chair.

The Secretary reported having the figures of the grand total but did not have the amounts by de-

The Minister of Interior thought he could sup-ply the deficiency as he had been furnished with totals of the various departments by Chief Clerk Hassinger. He read the amounts of the departments to the Bureau of Board of Health in the In-terior Department when he was interrupted by Rep. Thurston, who suggested that the list be given to the Secretary.

On motion, the committee recommended that the bill be reported to the Finance Committee, and, therefore, the committee rose and the chairman reported back to the Assembly the action taken, he same being approved. At 11.55 the Assembly adjourned until 1:30/s. m.

The Assembly reconvened at 1:45 o'clock and the consideration of the bill supplementary to chapter 20 of the penal code relative to gaming, on third reading was taken up; after but little dis-cussion the bill passed as follows:

"Section 1. No person, under any pretense, form, denomination or description whatsoeyer, or by means of any device or contrivance whatsoever, shall sell or dispose of, or agree or promise, whether with or without consideration, to sell or dispose of any real or personal property what-soever, to or among any person or persons whomsoever, by means of any game of chance or of any other contrivance or device whatsoever, whereby any such real or personal property shall be sold or disposed of, or divided or alloted to or among any person, by lottery or chance, whether by the throwing or casting of any dice, or drawing of any tickets, cards, lots, numbers or figures, or, by means of any wheel or otherwise howsoever.

"Section 2. Every person who shall, contrary to the provisions hereof, sell or dispose of, or agree or promise, whether with or without consideration, to sell or dispose of any lands or tenements, or any estate or interest therein of any ship or vessel, goods, wares or merchandise what-soever, shall for every such offense forfeit and pay a sum not exceeding five hundred dollars. "Section 3. Any person who shall establish, commence or be a partner in any lottery, or in any scheme by which prizes, whether of money or of any other matter or thing are gained, drawn for, thrown or competed for by lot, dice or any other mode of chance, or who shall sell or dispose of any tickets or other means by which permission or anthority is gained or given to any person to throw for, compete or have any interest in any such lottery or scheme, and any person who shall manage or conduct, or assist in managing or conduction any such lottery or scheme, shall for every such offense forfeit and pay a sum not ex-ceeding five hundred dollars, and for any second offense besides such penalty shall be liable to imprisonment with or without hard labor for any term not exceeding six months.

"Section 4. If any person, being the owner of any painting, drawing, sculpture or other work of art, or literature, or mineral speciment, or me-chanical models, shall apply to the Minister of the Interior for permission to dispose of the same by raffle or chance, it shall be lawful for the Minister of the Interior, if he thinks fit, to grant a license for that purpose, subject to such conditions and restrictions as he may think it right to impose. And if such conditions and restrictions are com-plied with, the provisions of this Act or any other law, for the time being in force, relating to gaming and lotteries, shall not apply to such owner or to any other persons who may be bona fide concerned in such transaction. Notwithstanding anything in this Act contained, and any other law for the time being in force, relating to gaming and lotteries, it shall be lawful for any association formed for the purpose of promoting agriculture or horticulture, or for improving the breed of poultry to dispose of by lot or chance any specimens bona fide shown at any show held under the control or management of such association.

"Section 5. Any person who shall have unlawfully in his possession any tool, device, implement or ticket used, or which can be used, for the drawing, carrying on or playing of any lotters, game of faro, monte, roulette, lansquenet, rouge et noir, or any other banking game played with cards, dies or any device, shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars for the first offense, and for every subsequent offense by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars and imprisonment, with or without hard labor, not exceeding three months, and such tool, device, implement, or ticket shall be forfeited and destroyed.

"Section 6. Police and District magistrates throughout the Kingdom shall have power and jurisdiction to hear and determine, subject to appeal, all complaints for the violation of the provisions of this Act.

"Section 7. This Act shall take effect and become a law from and after its approval."

Second reading of a bill to amend and consolidate the law relative to the Commissioners of Private Ways and Water Rights.

After several amendments had been made the bill was passed to engrossment and to third reading on the 25th instant.

Representative Aholo, from the Finance Committee, reported in Hawaiian and Rep. Hayselden in English the following recapitulation of items

On motion, the Assembly resolved mittee of the Whole, Hon. J. E. Bush in	$3,822,976 86 into Com-and proceeded with the consideration of the Appropriation bill.

The title, section 1, and the enacting clause were all read and passed; bill ordered to engross-ment and for third reading on Monday, the 27th

The order of the day now being moved, the con-sideration of the bill relating to lighting the city by electricity was taken up.

The Attorney General said the House had asked whether there was any legal bar in the way to prevent the Government entering into another contract to light the streets by electricity while there was already a contract. The last contract for lighting was entered into with a Mr. Fish-bourne on March 13th, 1886. It was given to the contractor without formality of submission to the Privy Council. He considered the contract, while not void, was voidable, and would not prevent the Minister of the Interior entering into another con-

Representative Brown took issue with the Attorney-General. It was not necessary to submit the contract to the Privy Conneil, as it was not within its province. All that was necessary was reference to Cabinet Council.

Representative Kalua said if the contract was made under the Appropriation Bill, the Minister had no right to make contracts beyond the bienniel period. He therefore did not think the contract was binding.

The Attorney-General said, in answer to Rep. Brown that he based his opinion in the matter on the Act of 1878 which could be found on page 611 of the Compiled Laws. Representative Baker said that he was sure that if the bill remained up for discussion it would pass but to avoid talk he concluded that he would tie a string onto its tail and withdraw it.

The Minister of Interior said the matter had arrived at that state when he could speak distinctly. The supply of water and light are the two most important needs of a city, whether large or small. In the supply of water the Government had caken charge of it for the benefit of the people and it had gradually improved antil now it stood third as a source of revenue. The Water Works were gradually increasing in value, and he felt satisfied that before long the revenue would not fall short of $50,000. The lighting of the city and houses was becoming a matter of importance. All knew the risk and danger of kerosene lamps in our houses. Every housekeeper would be delighted to find that instead of alling lamps, trimming wicks and running risk of accidents, all they would have to do would be to strike a match and at ones get a heantiful light far in advance of anothing get a beautiful light, far in advance of anything they had had before. The need is pressing. Men of enterprise were coming forward and pressing the Government. The Government appreciated the value of the housekeeper having light as well as water. He was of the opinion that there was no need of any additional legislation, the Government in his additional legislation, the Government in his additional segments. ment, in his opinion was fully authorized under the Act of 1878 to enter into a contract on submission to the Privy Council. The Government might have to ask the Legislature for means to carry it out. He thought under the circumstances the bill was hardly called for, and moved it be laid upon the table. Motion carried.

Representative Dickey rose to a question of privilege and stated that, on Friday last, during the debate on the Electric bill, he used the following words: "The appearance of the whole thing looked like a job." He desired to withdraw that statement, as upon examination he found it to be the reverse.

Hon. J. O. Dominis reported from the Committee on Eurollment that His Majesty had signed the bill fixing the fee for marriage license at $1 in place of 25 cents, as heretofore. At 4:10 the Assembly adjourned until 9:30 a. m. of the next day.

ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTH DAY.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 22. The Assembly convened at 9:30 o'clock and after prayer by the Chaplain, the minutes of the previous meeting were read by the Secretary and ap-

Representative Richardson, from a special committee, presented a report signed by himself,

Reps. Brown, Hayselden, Thurston and the Attorney-General, as follows: "Your special committee, to whom was referred an Act to amend section 2, chapter 64, of the Act, approved on the 25th day of September, A.D. 1876, relating to labor contracts between masters and servants, introduced by Rep. Palohau, have had the same under consideration, and now offer for the consideration of the Assembly a substitute bill and recommend that the former be laid on the table." Adopted: substitute bill read by title and ordered to engrossment. Third reading set for the 25th inst. The order of the day now being moved and ear-ried, the bill to amend section 780 of the Civil Code, as amended by the Act approved on the 22d day of June, A.D. 1868, relating to the number of Representatives came up for consideration.

Delay ensued on account of the reports of the committee having been mislaid, and, during the time, the bill to amend section 5, chapter 86 of the Penal Code, relating to Inspectors of elections;

appointing agents, was considered.

Representative Thurston said this bill was a step backwards in the history of legislation re-lating to elections, and he was sorry to see it sup-ported by influential members of the House. The last election had exceeded all others by far in corruption. It was owing to the present machinery running the elections. It was outrageous for men running as candidates to appoint the inspectors of elections. What would be thought of a law that would permit one of the parties in a law suit the selection of the jury, and compel the other party to abide by the decision of such jury. At the election at which he was elected, these abuses were very conspicuous. The Judge was Kupihea. The Tax Assessor was Kupihea, The Tax Collector was Nakaleka. Kupihea and Nakaleka were both candidates for election. Kupihea appointed as his substitutes the the deputy judge and an active runner, and Nakaleka appointed his clerk. One member of the Board attended to clerk. One member of the Board attended to putting the ballots in the ballots in the box, one kept two lists of the voters, showing who they voted for, and the third had charge of a deck of cards cut into quarters and numbered from one upwards. Each voter who voted the Government ticket received one of these checks, which, upon presentation at a house across the way, served the double purpose of showing how the ballot was going, and entitled the holder to be filled up with pig and poi. He hoped all would take the stand for a better election law. If they change this law and make the English agree with the Hawaiian, it would simply ratify the kind of elections held in the past, and would result in revolution or seri-ous disturbances. If people cannot have un-biased Boards it will lead to disturbance, therefore he favored disinterested inspectors of elec-

The Attorney General said that in signing the report he did not think he had committed a crime. In a recent decision of the Supreme Court in the case of the King vs. E. Kekoa, much stress was laid upon the meaning of the word "absence," Upon examination of the law it was found the word "absence" was not the Hawaiian version. The question before the House is whether the law shall be amended to make the English version agree with the Hawaiian. He had talked with men well versed in the election laws, and they were decidedly in favor of having the English version amended. He did not think that Rep. Thurston, while he might be honest in his ideas, was justified in painting the matter as dark as he had done. In answer to a question the Attorney General said that he did not think that any member of the Boards when standing as a candidate for election would appoint substitutes so as to allow of their acting as agents.

Representative Thurston said it was apparent that the Attorney-General had signed the export without knowing much about the matter. He would say that there are twenty-eight election districts, and this kind of thing occurred in twenty-six. He felt that the Attorney-General was assisting the bill through ignorance, not evil

Vote now being reached, the ayes and nays on the passage of the bill, to engrossment were taken, resulting as follows:
Ayes—Ministers (4), Kuihelani, Hayselden, Keau, Baker, Kaulia, Kaulukon, Pahia, Kaunamano, Nahale, Nahinu, Aholo, Kaukau, Richardson, Kaai, Kauai—19. Noes—Bistop, Cleghorn, Martin, Parker, Kauhi, Amara, Brown, Wight, Dickey, Thurston, Pae-haole, Palohau—12.

The bill to amend section 780 of the Civil Code to the apportionment of Representatives from the various districts was now taken up, and after the reports of committee had been read, the first section was taken up for consideration.

ative Haysel be indefinitely postponed.

Representative Dickey said that he introduced the resolution on which this law was based, because he considered that a continuation of the present condition of things was a standing defiance of the Constitution. He could not imagine how the members of the last three sessions of the Legislature could have found it consistent with their oaths to keep silence on this subject. Article 60 of the Constitution declares plainly that the representatives of the people shall be based upon the principles of equality, and shall be regulated and apportioned by the Legislature according to the population, to be ascertained from time to time by the official census. Their oaths compel them to support the Constitution, therefore it is their duty to pass a law regulating the representa-tion, as the reports of the committee have shown plainly that it is now very unequal. He believed the majority report to cover the ground fully, and to be as near a perfect plan for equal representa-tion as can be made. He therefore supported it. With regard to the election of only one member from each election district instead of electing a member of representatives in a lump by one ticket, he thought the idea was a good one. In large districts the different parts had very different interests, which should be represented by their number in the Legislature. For instance, in Honolulu, the outer portions—such as Waikiki and Palama—have receplanting interests, and Moanalua has large fishing rights to be looked after. The main center has commercial and manufacturing interests. One portion is well supplied with water, another partly supplied. It is plainly to be seen that all of these conflicting interests cannot be properly represented by a number of persons who may reside in the same part of the district. Each public interest of importance should be represented by a member elected by those interested, in order that it might be properly protected in the Legislature. The Walluka district is some-thing like Honolulu, but in a less degree; the northern end is well filled with sugar plantations, and those interested therein. The southern end is a stock grazing section. Makawao district is similarly divided in interests; the western end being occupied by the important sugar plantations of Haelo and Hamakuapoko; the Makawao and Kula end being con posed mostly of stock ranches, potato and corn farms. He thought the plan of dividing large districts into election precincts, as would best secure the protection of the interests of all classes, and would be a great convenience to voters as the voting places would be more numerous. To indefinitely postpone the section would be contrary to the oaths of the members.

The Minister of the Interior said it had been truly said that "the letter killeth, but the spirit maketh alive." The spirit of the Constitution was that there should be a proportion. The recom mendation of the committee was based on the letter of the Constitution, but it did not show that it was consistent with the spirit. He was satisfied the framers of the Constitution had no idea there would be such a large and increasing foreign nonvoting population. They never expected the tens of thousands of Chinese, the numerous Portuguese and Japanese. Now, if they were to act strictly in accordance with the Constitution that there should be one Representative for every three thousand inhabitants, it was possible there might be a district with three thousand Representatives, and only one voter in it. He had not said nor was he going to say that the non-voting foreign population should not be represented. It was a little too soon to adopt the suggestion of the majority report, and therefore he seconded the motion for indefinite postponement.

Representative Dickey said that the same difficulty spoken of as regards non-voting population provided by the law, was a good one, and one that now exists in districts in the case of voters and in-stanced that, Kanapali with its 175 voters obtained the same representation that Makawao did with its 625 voters. Was that in accord with the voting population?

Representative Kaulukou considered that Rep Dickey was not taking a proper view of the mat-ter. He considered however that Makawao ought to have two representatives and also other districts. As the desire however seemed to be to compel the swallowing whole of the bill he favored indefinite postponement and moved the previous question.

The vote on the main question resulted in the indefinite postponement of the section by a count of 16 to 6. An attempt to reconsider the vote failed and at 12 noon the Assembly adjourned until 1 p. m. AFTERNOON.

Immediately on convening in the afternoon

Representative Hayselden moved the indefinite On motion of Representative Thurston the ayes and nayes were taken on the question resulting as follows: Ayes—The Mfnistry (2), Kuihelani, Hayselden, Kean, Lilikalani, Baker, Kaulia, Kaulukou, Pahia, Kaunamano, Nahale, Nahinu, Kaukau, Kauai—15. Noes-Dare, Bishop, Parker, Brown, Wight, Kalua, Thurston, Palchau-8.

Considerable discussion ensued on a ruling of the President that another bill on the same subject could not now be considered on account of the action on the sister bill. His ruling was ap-pealed from but before vote was taken the objecting member withdrew his appeal and the regular business was proceeded with.

Representative Hayselden from a special committee presented a report signed by himself and Reps. Brown, Kalua, Keau and the Minister of In-terior, as follows: "Your special committee, to whom was referred an Act introduced by the Hon. whom was referred an Act introduced by the Hon.

J. M. Kapena, "to provide for the payment of certain bills incurred by His Majesty's Chamberlain during the coronation of His Majesty, and in finishing and furnishing Iolani Place," beg to report that they have had the same, together with the bills mentioned, under careful consideration and examination, and find that the total amount due is twenty-two thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven dollars and seventy-two cents; and your committee recommend that this amount be inserted in the preamble of and in section 1 of the bill, and that section 1 of the bill be further amended by adding to the end of the said section the following words: "being the amount several bills hereinafter set forth." With the foregoing amendments, your committee respect-fully recommend that the bill pass." Report adopted, bill ordered to engrossment and to third reading on the 25th inst.

Second reading of an Act to amend the general election law of the Kingdom by repealing the requirement of a tax receipt on voting or otherwise, following being the bill:

"Section 1. That from and after the passage of this Act, it shall not be necessary to use any tax receipt bearing the wards "Qualified to Vote," at any election; nor shall such tax receipts be furnished by any Tax Collector or Board of Inspectors of Election, to any voter, nor shall it be necessary to produce such tax receipt at the polls prior to depositing a ballot or at any other time.

"Section 2. This Act shall take effect and become a law from and after its approval, and Section 10 of the Act "Regulating the Qualifications of Electors," approved June 24th, 1868, and all laws and parts of laws in so far as they conflict herewith, are hereby repealed." Representative Kaulukou moved the indefinite postponement of the bill. (For conclusion see Page 9.)

They are good strong Plows and turn the sod better than any other plows I ever used, and I have used a good many since 1882. I have used the 16in. #### CURIOUS COURTING CUSTOMS!

Some curious courting customs prevail in Africa. In one tribe of Eastern Africa it is regarded as the ne plus ultra of gallantry for the lover to parade before the but of his inamorata astride of a huge boar. Mungo Park tells of a tribe in the interior where custon compels a woman to carry a calabash of water to the man who has expressed a preference for her. Seated on a mat before his door he washes his hands in the vessel, and then the woman drinks the water as a token of her affection. Less repulsive was the act of the lover among the ancient Persians, who burned his hand or cheek to prove his devotion, and then showed it to his lady love. If she was "willin" she bound the injured part with a silken scarf, but if obdurate she sent the man to the physi-

Among the Moravians it was the custom for the minister to select wives for the men of his generation. If a "sister had any objection to the "brother" selected for her life partner, she was permitted to state it, but it was generally overruled by the priest's eloquence. Strange to say, the historian tells us that these marriages were generally happy.

In Greenland the services of the pastor of his flock are also called in. A man who has made up his mind that his worldly circumstances warrant him in indulging in what has been called "the abstract desire of every man to furnish board and lodging to some young lady," and has decided which young lady he wishes to be taxed for, calls on the reverend father and states the case. The inquiry is made whether the girl knows of the suit, to which the man replies that he has made some preliminary love making, which was not very kindly received, but adds: "Thou knowest the ways of mankind." In Greenland, be it remarked, it is an accepted fact in social philosophy that a woman's no means yes. The priest calls upon the young woman and pleads the case of her lover, assuring her that he is a good man, that he catches many seals, etc. It is the custom for the woman to reject all proposals at first, but to yield at last an unwilling assent. If the priest thinks she is too obstinate he generally remarks: "Ah, well, it's no matter; I can easily find another woman who will have such a good provider," and turns to leave. which action brings the stubborn maiden to terms at once.

In St. Petersburg, Russia, a custom prevailed for many years though declined greatly in importance, it has not gone wholly out of use which was designed to stimulate laggards in courtship-Whit Sunday there was held in the Summer Garden, one of the city parks, a fair of all the damsels of the city who wanted husbands. Dressed in their best, with all the ornaments at command, and holding silver spoons or other ware in their hands to show that they were not wholly portionless, they stood in rows under the trees, attended by parents or guardians to insure propriety of behavior, to facilitate matrimonial bargains. The men in search of wives strolled about scrutinizing all the candidates at leisure. When a man saw one that pleased him, he usually introduced himself to her custodians, and if statement of family, business, habits and prospects were satisfactory, he was made acquainted with the young woman and invited to her residence. After this the nuptual ceremony followed as speedily as the would-be bridegroom desired.

We find a custom precisely like this still in existence in a district in the south of Ireland. There it is known as "shrafting," the name being derived from Shrove Tuesday, the day on which it is held. On that day all the marriageable young people of both sexes are marshaled on the village green by the parents, the girls in all the glory of Sunday gowns and gay ribbons, as lovely as fresh-blown roses, evidently enjoying their blushes, and the young men, also in their best attire, looking as foolish as only the male human can look on exhibition. The two sexes are stationed in line apart from each other, and the parents pass between to vouchsafe proposals or to receive them, and to haggle over marriage portions. The preferences of the young people are fully understood by the elders, and commendable effort is made to gratify them, the main object of the parents being to secure as good a set-out as possible for the young

 A California mmer having amassed quite a fortune, was returning by ship to New York to revisit old friends and find him a wife. A young woman on board the ship, serving in the capacity of nursery govern ess to the family of a merchant on board. pleased him much by her neat and modest appearance. He therefore introduced himself one day, and broke the ice of his purpose with one reckless plunge: "Madame, my name is — ; my parents and family reside in New Hampshire ; I have property amounting to $200,000, and expect to engage in business in ---. I am a perfectly temperate man, and can give you good reference to testify of my general upright character. I am unmarried and want a wife. Will you marry me?" The lady took in the character of her suitor at once. "Thank you," said she, "I will," and on landing they were forthwith married.

The Rev. Richard Hooker had no time to devote to courtship, and therefore, deputed his landlady, Mrs. Churchman, to find him a wife. She selected her daughter, Joan, but the unfortunate divine no doubt often quoted in the recesses of his soul in after years the old saying, "Marry in baste to repent at leisure." For Joan proved a terrible shrew, and led the poor minister a wretched life of it. Courting by proxy in a dangerous thing, whether a plausible old lady or a bosom friend is em-played to do it. So the Saxon King Edgar found it when he sent his friend Athelstane to report on the charms of a lady called the most beautiful in that Kingdom. and to offer her the office of Queen should she prove to be as lovely as reported. But Athelstane fell in love with her himself, and wooed and married her, and then told the King she was not beautiful at all, only being rich. When the King found out how he had been deceived Athelstane had to lose not only his beautiful wife and her wealth, but his head into the bargain.

A writer, whose veracity, however, we dare not puch for, gives the following as an actual statute recorded in the old

Saxon code, giving to the lady the privilege that she has taken such poor advantage of : "Albeit, as often as leape yearre doth occure, the womanne holdeth prerogative over the manne in matters of courtship, love and matrimonie; so that when the lady proposeth it shall not be lawful for the manne to say her nae, but he shall entertain her proposal in all gude courtesie." However, whether this law was ever placed on record or not, the practice of female proposals was never adopted, and seems never to have been more than a tradition. There have been instances, of course, of a woman who dared, but not many, as the risk of a refusal was too serious a one to run. How the Princess Louise of Savoy ever recovered from her humiliation after having offered herself to Charles, Duke of Bourbon, only to receive a grave but positive refusal, few women can understand. Ladies, however, are permitted to assist a bashful wooer.-

EST MODUS IN REBUS.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1886.

The latest news from Europe shows a strong war feeling. The combination will probably be Austria, England and Turkey against Russia. France it is said, is coquetting with Germany. This is very doubtful, the whole work of the last ten years is against such a supposition.

THE yacht race, as was almost a foregone conclusion, has been won by the May-flower. English yachtsmen will now probably cease in their effort to beat a centerboard with a cutter. We believe the thing impossible. Every credit is due for the manner in which the races were conducted. It was a fair beat and is accepted as such.

THE army bill which asks for a very mod est sum was before the House on Saturday. According to the statement of the Minister of Interior the army is to be remodeled on the plan of the Prussian army. When the House proceeded to discuss this bill matters came to a standstill because the Cabinet, tearing the confession almost | birds, but good modern weapons. of Rep. Dickey's modest question, "What | out of their hearts as it were. Question wisdom of the House could not grapple with the conundrum, so it had to be given up and referred to a select committee. was the case, why the Hawaiian army Interior would never have seen daylight; ought to have one.

left this port for San Francisco, at 6 p. m. Saturday last. His Majesty, the King, was on board to bid his envoy good-bye. Mr. Carter takes with him the good wishes of all classes, and during his stay here has received many hattering attentions, the most conspicuous among them being the testimonial presented to him by the Hono over $4,000,000. Sheer voting strength testimonial presented to him by the Hono lulu Chamber of Commerce, as reported has cut down any opposition desire for retrenchment. There are on the bill now referred to there, will represent a coin a number of items whose absence would manufactured expressly for this purpose | majority than their presence. The fact is, by the Gorham Silver Ware Company, of New York city. The execution of the order is entrusted to Mr. Joseph Brewer,

It is an old established and very useful custom in great Britain, that on the prorogation of the Imperial Parliament every member of the House of Commons hies him away to his constituency and, calling a general meeting of voters, he "gives an account of his stewardship." He strives to recapitulate the the principal events of the session, to narrate and explain them as they appeared to a member of the House, to state plainly what vote he gave on each question and what were his mo-tives for so voting. He challenge sques tion and investigation, explains absences, non-votes, or apparent inconsistency, and puts himself generally into accord with his constituents.

Our Legislators here might well adopt so wholesome a practice. It would be, for the 17th instants: instance preeminently diverting if not instructive to see such a meeting between the members and the voters for the capi-

A COMMUNICATION from Hilo relative to the assessment of taxes ought to have the attention of the Minister of Finance. If the planters have agreed to raise the value of their property, voluntarily, that should have been recognized by the tax assessor, and before raising on that advance he should have given notice to the parties interested. A little care and personal examination would do much to obviate any friction. In this country, as in all others, people are often esteemed as richer than they are. Property is really worth no more than it can fetch in the open market. There is many a plantation that if brought to the hammer, at the present time, would bring far short of what the owner values it at, and very far short of the valuation of the tax assessor. And this is true not only of plantations, but of small property as well, or perhaps it is even more true of small property. The whole system of as sessment in Hawaii requires reform, but we shall have to wait another two years before we get it.

It seems a pity that all our eggs continue in one basket, and that so little energy is shown in creating new industriss. However, Mr. Purvis, of Kukuihale, is a noble exception, and we trust that his pioneer effort in Cinchona planting will draw others to try and follow in his footsteps.

Now there is tobacco. A thorough experiment might be made, and we believe success would crown the efforts of any one who went into the matter thoroughly. Such an effort is being made in Fiji, and why not here. In the first place good seed should be obtained. The tobacco grown here is too narrow in the leaf and has very strong veins. But seed from Havana, Sumatra and Java could be obtained which would give a desirable plant, instead of the coarse native variety. The choice of land is another important thing. Tobacco requires sandy soil. A thick heavy soil will raise a tobacco containing what is technically called "grease," which gives too much weight, and interferes with combustion.

Grow a good tobacco and it will not be difficult to obtain and acquire the requisite skill to cure it. A little enterprise would probably give an industry which would immensely benefit the country and which would make use of lands which are at present lying idle. We will strive to get more definite information on the subject.

THE Bulgarian question has become more serious as it develops. Prince Alexander has been forced to resign, will he, nil he, and this in the face of a population ardently in his favor. If ever a man deserved to be popular it was Prince Alexander; he showed personal bravery in the field, he showed himself an able general, and he was an unostentations and pecuniarly careful monarch. But none of these

Prince Alexander was a they dare to perpetrate such a crime. man of too enlightened ideas, too liberal a sentiment to suit Russian purposes in the Balkan Peninsula. The pressure on him has, of course, been immensely strong and a diplomatic intrigue has ousted him. enough we do not know. Bismarck is averse to rousing up the Eastern question; Austria has been too much crippled to assert herself and Great Britain is now ruled by her mercantile in- arms stowed away in their dwellings. We Britain is now ruled by her mercantile in-terests and can do nothing for chivalry. A little outlying State like that of Bulga ria we may expect to go headlong to Hades. But though the powers may acquiesce in anxious to learn, and was taught by his the removal of Prince Alexander and the placing of a less able man in his position, they will object to Russia actually annex-summarily dismissed. His packing was ing the country. The position is a critical one still, and may so turn as to force the reluctant Western powers into war.

THE Opposition in the House may conan evil measure, and to lay bare, by mere | not mere rusty fowling pieces and worn the true inwardness of many a bill which fows: threatens the public welfare would never His Excellency, H. A. P. Carter took passage in the steamer Alameda, which in fact the Opposition have served the country well.

The Opposition have, however, been un able to curb the extravagance of those who by voting power held the purse strings, and the Appropriation Bill has reached value of one thousand dollars, and is to be tell better for the common sense of the of the firm of C. Economy, and surely economy was the watch word of the Ministy when the session began, is certainly of a very curious kind when it proposes in the next two years that the expenditures should be double the national income.

> There seems to be some doubt among a few people as to the accuracy of our charge against the Minister of Foreign Affairs relative to the faux pas he made in writing a letter of remonstrance when he and his colleagues were not saluted. We have been told that there was not a word of truth in the matter. We have also been told that the King's standard was not flying on the yacht and finally that the two events occurred on different days. In reply we quote the following items from the Bulletin of the 16th, and the Advertiser of

"This morning their Excellencies, Walter M. Gibson, Minister of the Interior and Robt. J. Creighton, Minister of Foreign Affairs paid an official visit to H. I. J. M.'s ship Tsukuba."

"His Majesty the King, accompanied by Col. Curtis P. Iaukea, His Majesty's Chamberlain, were entertained on board the yacht Brunhilde this morning by Captain Phelps and Mr. Hilliar. His Majesty went from the Iolani boathouse to the yacht, and on his arrival there, the royal standard was hoisted. The Brunhilde was decorated with flags from stem to stern. His Majesty was accom-panied by His Excellency Gov. J. O. Dominis, Maor Hayley, Hon. Sam Parker, J. H. Paty Esq. and C. O. Berger Esq."—Daily Bulletin, Scot. 16.

"His Excellency Walter M. Gibson, Premier, and his Excellency Robert J. Creighton, Minister of Foreign Affairs, paid an official visit to H. I. J. M.'s training frigate Tsukuba shortly after noon yesterday."

"On Thursday Captain J. J. Phelps entertained His Majesty the King and a number of gentlemen on board the yacht Brunhilde. The Royal party started from the Iolani Boat Club House, and on boarding the yacht the Royal standard was hoisted. The vessel was dressed from stem to stern with flags, and presented a very gay appearance. Capt. Phelps' showed the party over the yacht, and the luxurious manner in which she is fitted up was much admired."—Pacific Commercial Advertiser,

The fact is the Minister of Foreign Affairs made a gross blunder, and the whole Cabinet is mortified at its having been made. The blame for the blunder rests on the Cabinet, but they were anxious to try in an underhand way, to create an opinion that it was not a blunder, and that the Gazette's accusation was a mere piece of political spite, to make a political point against them. The effort has been thoroughly abortive, for it has caused us to publish the facts as quoted above, and we now challenge a denial of the correspondence having occurred, if the organ dares to do it. Underhand means are not the best to gain a point. The Cabinet having received a slap in the face had better have accepted it with good grace.

The question of Chinese secret societies is one which assuredly must interest all in the community. From what we can learn there seems now, not only to be a disagreement between two of the societies, but there is a strong feeling in one society against certain members of their own body who have, or are supposed to have given information relative to the smoking of opium. There is therefore, an uneasy feeling in Chinatown, and for some days past a collision between the factions has been imminent. It may come to a general fracas; and it may blow over.

What however, is more alarming than the quarrels of the Chinese between themselves, is the knowledge that they are well armed and that they dare to use their weapons in the open street. Whether the particular Chinaman who was charged with firing the shots at Mr. Fagerroos, was the man who committed the crime or not, is not material to the argument. The crime was committed by some Chinaman: he was unlawfully carrying a deadly wea-pon, and for some supposed annoyance he qualities suited the ambition of Russia. The former are the very qualities she positively hates, save in her own countrymen,

I was at Carter's reception last Thursday, as there was a general invitation I thought I might ring in. John Dare was the only Minister present, till late in the evening, then Creighton glided in. It was evidently a load off John's mind for he whispered, "So glad you've turned up, you have been enquired for." Just fancy the feelings of the A. G. when no Foreign Minister was present. Creighton must feel badly also, for no doubt, as the spokesman of the Cabinet, he would have endorsed the Hon. C. R. Bishop's speech, eulogising Mr. Carter. What a pity he did not have an opportunity to do it.

When the third reading comes up see if the Genealogy Board don't come in for $15,000 instead of $10,000. I shall be surprised. There is another little item of $100,000 which will burst upon you at an early date, at least so is the talk in the Lobby.

By the way why wasn't Gibson at the Carter reception? It was a fine affair and showed thoroughly how popular Mr. Carter must be. I guess Gibson don't like playing second fiddle any Captain Jenks has a fine collection of Australian birds. One parrot with a flaming red breast is a most striking bird. The Captain polite ly shows his collection to those who call to see it.

On Sunday an old native woman, eighty years of age, while returning from Kawaiahao Church was run over by a brake, in which were Alex. Arthur and Edward Lungley. Dr. Webb was sent for, and after examination, considered that there were hopes that the patient, though suffering from severe shock, would recover. The occupants of the brake were arrested for furious driving, and admitted to bail in the sum of $500 each.

Like many another well-meant institution in Honolulu, the Athletic Association has gone the way of all flesh. On the evening of the 21st it was decided to disband and wind up the affairs of the Association. How many things calculated to give healthy amusement to all have gone the same road. Where is the Mailie Club, the Amateur Musical Society and for the matter of that the Amateur Dramatic Society. Though the latter is not disbanded, it might as well be for all the amusement it affords.

A heavy freshet came down Nunanu Valley on Friday morning. Heavy rain fell during the night, starting about 11 o'clock of Thursday. At 5:15 of Friday morning the water came down with a sound like thunder and aroused most of the residents near the Second Bridge. The stream rose within three feet of the heavy freshet of April 1881 when it burst over the banks and rushed a perfect torrent down Nuuanu Avenue as far as Mr. J. O. Carter's residence and flooded the one mile store destroying part of the house,

Annual Camp Fire of G. A. R.

The fourth anniversary of the organization of the George W. De Long Post, No. 45, of the Grand army of the Republic, took place at Harmony Hali in King street, on Saturday evening, Sept. 25. A company of about forty comrades and invited guests assembled on the occasion, including the Commander, R. W. Laine; Senior Vice Commander, Sam'l McKeague; Junior Vice Commander Wm. H. Place; Adjutant, James F. Noble; Quar-termaster, R. J. Greene; Chaplain, Theo. H. Boehme; Officer of the Day, V. V. Ashford; Officer of the Guard, J. D. Conn; Sergeant Major, F. L. of the Guard, J. D. Conn: Sergeant Major, F. L. Clarke; Sentry, Capt. Adler; Comrades, Geo. W. Merrill, Jona, Austin, Thomas Campbell, Thomas Carey, J. A. Cruzan, C. H. Dickey, C. P. James, W. R. Lawrence, Joseph F. Lovejoy, W. M. McCandless, John Ross, Rudolph Schreiber, Geo. W. Smith, W. F. Williams, Sherman, Terrill, La Pierre and G. W. Yartrick. As guests of the occasion there were in attendance. Hon. A. F. Indd. Chief Instituwere in attendance, Hon. A. F. Judd, Chief Justice and Chancellor; Their Excellencies P. P. Kanoa, and Chancellor: Their Excellencies P. P. Kanoa, Minister of Finance; and J. T. Dare, Attorney General; Hous. W. C. Parke and H. M. Whitney; Dr. Tucser and Messrs. H. E. Avery, George Castle. Mort. Oat, H. F. Hebbard, W. Unger, George Stratemeyer, Walter Hill, of the Bulletin, Gilbert, of the Advertiser and D. Logan, of the Herald.

In the outer room was spread on a long table, the recess consisting of camp fare, baked park and repast, consisting of camp fare, baked pork and beans, coffee and hard tack, served in bright shining tin plates and caps, the dessert consisting of sandwiches and ginger ale—all which were enjoyed as remembrancers of camp life, with its joys and nardships. After the rations had disappeared, Com. Laine opened the postprandial exercises with a short address, in which he welcomed all present to this celebration of the anniversary of Geo. De Louis determined of the anniversary of Geo. De Long Post at its camp fire, held for the purpose of renewing old associations and forming new ones. This Post, is the only one outside of the United States and was formed four years ago. The King granted permission for its establishment and they were very grateful for the favor. At the National Encampment in San Francisco. reference was made in appreciative terms to the Post for its success, and to His Majesty for allowing them to form an organization of this kind, a peculiarly American association in a foreign country. His Majesty had been very kind to them on all occasions, and he was sorry he was not present. When they bought a lot in the cem-etery the King gave them five guns, one for each corner and one for the center. This society was not like the Masons or Odd Fellows. When its members die out it will die out. The only way of perpetuating its memory was by forming organi-zations of "Sons of Veterans," and he trusted that before another year they should have one here. He also hoped that they would have a "Ladies' Relief Corn," which was a very useful organiza-tion. He hoped the members would talk these projects up with the result that at no distant day projects up with the result that at no distant day they should be accomplished.

We have not space for the full report of the pro-ceedings, and insert the programme of the senti-ments proposed by Com. Lane, which were respended to as named:

"The Queen, the Heir Apparent, and the test of the Royal Pamilty." Band—"Atoha Ce."

Miscellaneous.

Arthur Kinglake, the historian of the Crimean War, was asked recently these questions: "Do you feel that if the Home Rule proposals of the retiring Government were carried into effect they would prove a final settlement of the great struggle between the two countries, or would lead to the disruption of the Empire!" "Whether the Protestants of Ireland would not under the Home Rule schemes become subject to grave persecution at the hands of the Roman Catholics!" His replies were as follow: "First-I consider that, if carried into effect, they would not establish even a momentary settlement, and that, on the contrary, they would ensure a prompt recourse to force -to force which, if resisted, would be a beginning of civil war. If folly were to go to the length of really carrying them into effect, it would not merely 'lead to' severance, but actually and at once constitute the disruption of the United Kingdom, which is the life and the soul of the Empire. Secondly-there would be either persecution or civil war, and, if persecution, the persecutors would be mainly Catholics, whilst the sufferers would be mainly Protestants; but a desire for spoliation and enmity to the friends of England would

A few weeks ago 70 years had passed since the first steamship arrived in Hamburg harbor. It was the Lady of the Lake, an English vessel, whose arrival on June 17th, 1816, caused quite a sensation. A year later the vessel went from Hamburg to Yarmouth, and for the next eight years no steamer was seen at Hamburg. In 1825, however, the English passenger steamer Hylton Joliffee and the Dutch steamer Ondermening ran between London, Amsterdam, and Hamburg. Coal steamers followed later. The first, William the Fourth, arrived at Hamburg in 1836, and eleven years later another steam collier with a modest tonnage of 243 called at Hamburg. After that steamship communication developed in all directions.

The New Berlin Exchange.

This handsome block of buildings has been erected at a cost of about 3,000,000 Mks. The buildings are well worth see ing. Flights of steps lead on three sides to the Exchange hall, in which Berlin manufacturers and buyers will in future assemble daily. The hall, which has a glass cupola, is 54 metres long, 16 metres wide, and very high, and is supported by polished pillars. There are some 200 little apartments, supplied with the electric light. Along the walls are glass cases for the reception of samples, intended for the use of those frequenters who have on "stands." On the ground floor are the telephonic arrangements. A subway leads to one of Berlin's largest restaurants, which the Victoria Brewery has leased.

Already large American buyers have taken "stands."

The New Sugar Taxation Law.

The most important part of the regulations adopted by the Bundesrath for the carrying out of the new Sugar Taxation Law relates to the establishment of bonding houses for home sugar. The condition is that the sugar shall within two years be returned to the open market on the return of the tax reimbursement with the addition of 5 per cent. interest, dating from the 1st of October following the warehousing of the sugar. All other regu-lations relate more or less to the formal dealing with the sugar by the excise authorities. So far our law has not authorised the bonding of sugar as stated above. Formerly there have only been so-called free warehouses for untaxed sugar, as well as private credit and transit warehouses The establishment of the new bonding houses will evidently be of great advan-tage to the sugar industry. When a manufacturer is in want of money it will not be needful to sell his stocks if the low prices do not suit him : he may place his sugar in these warehouses and at once receive tax-reimbursement as if it had al ready been exported. Then he can wait quietly, for two years if he likes, till prices When he takes the sugar back he returns the bounty for that part not exported in the meantime.—Kuhlow's Review.

How to Become a Millionaire.

John McDonough, the millionaire of New Orleans, has engraved upon his tomb a series of maxims he had prescribed as the rules for his guidance through life, and to which his success in business is mainly attributed. They contain so much Warner's Safe Cure | wisdom that we copy them :

Rules for the Guidance of My Life, 1804 .-Remember always that labor is one of the conditions of our existence. Time is gold; throw not one minute away, but place each one to account. Do unto all men as you would be done by. Never put off till to-morrow what can be done to-day. Never bid another do what you can do yourself. Never covet what is not your own. Never think any matter so trifling as not to deserve notice. Never give that which does not come in. Never spend but to produce. Let the greatest order regu late the transactions of your life. Study in your course of life to do the greatest amount of good. Deprive yourself of live in an honorably simplicity. Labor, then, to the last moment of your exist-ence. Pursue strictly the above rules, and the Divine blessing of riches of every kind will flow upon you to your heart's content; but, first of all, remember that the chief and great duty of your life should be to tend, by all means in your power, to the honor and glory of our Divine Creator. The conclusion to which I have arrived is, that without temperance there is no health, without virtue no order, without religion no happiness, and that the aim of our being is to live wisely, soberly and righteously.

The Indian artisans, according to The World (London), are determined to eclipse the Shah of Persia as narrators of their European experiences. Their account of their arrival and reception is already published by the enterprising editor of the Darussalianal Calcutta, who has printed a copy of his paper in gold, which the Empress Queen has been pleased to accept.

Sir Gunput Rao, the native Minister of the young Maharajah of Gwalior, does most of the government of that interesting province at present. He is exceedingly deaf, and a newspaper correspondent who interviewed the agent, inquired whether this infirmity was not a bar to his useful ness. Sir Lepel Gaiffin—who is funny, but not admirable in the eyes of Amerians-replied that deafness was so great an advantage in private society that he could not but think it might also prove of service in political life.

A gentleman once wrote to Mr. Whittier, asking if he possessed a copy of the poem call "Maud Muller's Reply." "Dear sir," answered the poet, "I never saw or head of 'Mand Muller's Reply.' I am glad the poor soul could speak for herself. Thine truly, John G. Whittier."

SCRANTON, Sept. 15 .- The work of boring through the pillar at the Carvine coal mine, where the coal was some twenty feet thick, for the purpose of ascertaining something definite as to the fate of the entombed miners, was proceeded with vigorously this morning, and the drill was not long in affecting an entrance to an opening beyond. When this was done, however, it was found that instead of air rushing out, as it had been hoped it would, gas came out.

The Equitable Life Assurance Society OF THE UNITED STATES.

From the beginning, the Equitable has been the pioneer in all reforms affecting the security, convenience, and advantage of policyholders. It was the first company to issue incontestable policies; the first to make such policies payable immediately, instead of after the delay of a stipulated number of months; the first to simplify the policy contract, and remove from the business technical and confusing complications; the first to apply the Tontine principle to life assurance; the first to issue a policy guaranteeing the payment of the entire reserve and a full share of the accumulated profits to each policy holder at the end of a stipulated period; the first to introduce the Semi-Tontine policy, which, in addition to all the ultimate advantages secured under the Tontine system, is "non-forfeiting," and has a surrender value during its earlier years.

During the twenty-six years and a half of its history, it has written $105,000,000, more of assurance than any other company during the same period!

No other company has approached the Equitable in the success achieved and surplus accumulated, and the results of management in the past furnish the best guarantee for the future, to intending assurants.

HONOLULU, SEPTEMBER 38, 1886. Locally there has been no change in the volume of business noticed in trade circles in the city, during the past week, the time and attention of business people being generally taken up with the arrangement of accounts for presentation at the end of the quarter. From abroad we have certain data relative to the sugar trade which is interesting.

Herewith we present Mesars Williams, Dimond & Co.'s latest commercial trade circular:

Herowith we present Messrs Williams, Dimond & Co.'s latest commercial trade circular:

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15th, 1886.

SUGAR-Our local Refineries made another change in prices on the 3rd inst. The American Refinery reduced the price of Granulated $\frac{1}{2}c.$ per 1b. and the California Refinery reduced all grades $\frac{1}{2}c.$ per 1b. making price of Cube Fine, Crushed, A. and Powdered $\frac{1}{2}c.$ per 1b. below the American, Dry Granulated plain, same price, XX Granulated $\frac{1}{2}c.$ below, Extra C. same price and Golden C. $\frac{1}{2}c.$ below. Since the above date no further change has taken place.

Eastern and Foreign Markets—A better feeling has been shown in both the New York and London markets.

Easters and Foreign Markets—A better feeling markets.

Beets have advanced since our last circular from 1½ to ¼ for 88 test. Cuba Centrifugals 16 test in New York have remained steady at last price, 5½ for 96 test, but Refined has advanced be, per 1b. on same grades. Latest mall advices from New York, of the 9th inst., state that Refiners limited their purchases and drew 13,500 tons from their own stocks, thus leaving the market in condition for increased demand. Meitings by Refiners and consumption continue on a large-scale, but receipts are large and the stock in all hands is 35,607 tons over last year. Refined has been in steady demand and the supply abundant. Muscovados have raised steady at 4%c. fcr 80 test. Some business has been done in Cuba cargoes to arrive at 2%c. cost and freight for 96 test.

Foreign markets being firmer have caused a moderate renewal of export demand. Imports of Beet sugar are very small and few purchases are being made. Total stocks decreased 6150 tons for the week. Our latest telegraphic advices from New York of the 15th inst, quote Cuba Centrifugals 97 per cent test at 5½c. with sales. Market dull but firm holders demand an advance but buyers do not respond. There is an improved demand for Refined, both for export and home comsumption.

London, Sept. 15th, Beets 88 per cent test 1½ with proved demand for Refined, both for export and home comsumption.

London, Sept. 15th, Beets 88 per cent test 114 with buyers at that figure. Beet crop overestimated. Continued drought in Germany is decreasing weight and juice. Cuba strong, stocks 25,000 tons over last year. European and Foreign markets strong and advancing. Commenting upon the low rates obtainable for our chief product at present the S. F. Market Review says:

"Sugar has generally been cheaper during the past year or year and a-half than ever before. It was only then in San Francisco that prices ever approximated those of the rest of the world. In Glasgow very good sugar is now being said as low as a penny or 2c. per per pound. This is owing partly to the great increase in production. The statistics show that there is a steady and large annual increase. The amount of cane sugar produced in the season of 1885-6 was 2,905,000 tons, an increase of 733 tons over that of 1854-5, and 1,078,383 tons over that of 1875-6. Cuba lead the list with 600,000 tons from the year before and 64,038 tons less than in 1875-6. There was also a decrease in the product of Java, the next greatest source of supply, of 60,000 tons from the yield of 1884-5. But in the production of almost all other cane-growing countries, there has been, as shown by the totals, a marked advance. The yield of beet-root sugar (2,014,000 this season) has fallen of 501,000 tons from the last annual report, but comparisons with the statistics of 1875-6 shows a growth of 702,689 tons in ten years. The most notable increase in any country is in the beet root sugar yield of Russia, which has grown from 222,000 tons in the season of 1875-6 and 386,000 tons in 1884-5 up to 622,000 in 1885-6."

The Water Front.

During the early part of the week the stir and bustle attending the departure of our island steamers and coasters was the only noticeable event.

The Atalanta from the Sound with lumber has on Thursday the British ship Amana, from Madeira, with 350 Portuguese immigrants arrived. On the following day they were landed at the emigrant depot, under contract with Mr. J. Simonson at ten cents a head, by the steam scow. The immigrants appear to bea fine healthy lot. There were four deaths and ten births on the outward passage. The Amana encountered severe weather in the vi-cinity of Cape Horn, which prolonged the passage.

Thursday the bark Elsinore, Capt. Jenks, arrived from Newcastle, N. S. W., with a cargo of 1,000 tons of coal for the Hawaiian Government. The Elsinore had bad weather the first part of the voyage, and was 68 days on the passage. The Elsinore left this port early in the year with South Sea Isl-anders, for their homes, and Capt. Jenks succeeded in satisfactorily landing his passengers in good

On Friday the American bark Hesper, also from Newcastle, coal laden, made the very fine run of 38 days to this port. The steam schooner Surprise, from San Francisco, made her appearance in our harbor Friday afternoon. The Surprise is an auxiliary steamer, and calculated for a freight vessel. She is a vessel of about 130 tons measurement, and will carry a large cargo on a small consumption of coal. This steamer is consigned to T. H. Davies & Co., and is offered for sale.

The Isle of Emin has completed discharging her Honolulu freight and will proceed from here to Portland.

The bark Edward May, having discharged, has fitted her 'tween decks for Chinese passengers for Hong Kong, of which quite a large number are seeking passage in this fine veesel. The Edward May sailed Saturday with 195 passengers.

The brigs W. G. Irwin and J. D. Spreckels both sailed for San Francisco about the 22d, sugar and rice laden, the latter taking a mail. The J. C. Ford has completed her loading and sailed for San Francisco on Saturday.

San Francisco on Saturday.

The fine new barkentine Planter, Capt. Perriman, after waiting in the stream for a berth, has hauled alongside the wharf makai of Allen & Robinson's, where she is discharging her cargo of lumber. The Planter is a new vessel, this being her first voyage, and her cabin is fitted up in the latest style, the vessel itself being a marvel of strength and beauty. The Planter is intended for thetrade between the Islands and the Coast.

The German schooner Mary C. Bohm, purchased by Mr. John Ena, of the Inter-island S. N. Co., has been placed on the Marine Railway and is undergoing some needed repairs below the water line. Her timeses are said to be in fine. line. Her timbers are said to be in fine condition and with the addition of a new keel, will be a

The schooner Hammonia, recently purchased by Mr. P. Butler, is undergoing a thorough over-hauling by her owner, and when completed will be as neat and jaunty a vessel as there is in the port. Mr. Allen Herbert's steam-launch, which arrived by the Edward May, has had her engine placed in position by the Honolulu Iron Works, and is working satisfactorily. On Saturday the steamer Waimanalo was on the Marine Railway, cleaning and overhauling.

Early Saturday morning the steamship Alameda, from the Colonies, en route for San Francisco, arrived. The Alameda brought a few passengers and a small treight for this port. After coaling and receiving some freight and about 25 passengers, sailed the same evening at 6 o'clock passengers, sai for the Coast.

Yesterday morning the steamer Wilmington, from San Francisco, September 17th, put in an appearance, after a run of about 10½ days. The Wilmington brings about 15 saloon and some 68 steerage passengers; in the latter are 63 Chinese. On Friday the brigantine Consuelo sailed for San Francisco with a partial cargo.

Freights to the Coast are now light; the bulk of the sugar and rice crops having already gone forward, and consequently vessels fill up slowly. This stagnation will continue until the new crop begins to come forward in November and Decem-

The American yacht Brunhilde sails to-day for Callao and home. During her stay of about three weeks in port Captain Phelps has made a host of friends and dispensed the hospitality of the yacht with no sparing hand, and leaves here with best wishes of our people for a prosperous #### and pleasant voyage home to New York Annexation of the Marshall Group.

Mr. A. Frank Cooke received by the Surprise a letter via San Francisco from Mr. Emerson, agent of the Pacific Navigation Company at Jaluit, Marshall Islands. The letter is dated June 23rd and states that the German flying equairon was at Jaluit the latter part of May and the first part of June. "These islands," the writer goes on to say, "are now formally taken possession of by Germany and a government is established. Every establishment to pay $100 a year tax, every trader ten dollars a year, each white man five dollars not tax. poll tax. Every vessel doing business on the islands had to enter cargo at Jaluit, and is obliged to clear from Jaluit. No spirits, guns or ammunition, or other combustables or explosives, are allowed to be sold to the natives in the group,"—Daily Herald.

SPECULATION, JR.

Will Stand for the Season of 1886,

at the Hotel Stables.

Terms $50.00

DESCRIPTION:

PAYABLE AT THE TIME OF SERVICE.

SPECULATION, JR., is a black horse, 15% hands high, and weighs about 1,060 pounds. He has a small head, large full eyes, clean cut throttle, handsome arched neck, strong oblique shoulders, great depth of chest, straight, strong back, smoothly coupled to long, symmetrically turned hips, a handsome croup, elegant flowing tail, powerful and well finished quarters, long, strong joints, short in cannon bones and pasterns, and the best of feet. He is indeed a horse of great beauty and rare symmetry of form; is very stylish in harness, an extra fast walker, a prompt driver, disposition perfect, and last, but not least, is very fast.

PEDIGREE:

SPECULATION, JR., was bred by E. C. Gillispic of San Francisco, Cal., and was foaled in 1878. He was sired by Colonel Spreckels' celebrated trotting stallion Speculation; he by Rysdk's Hambletoniau, the greatest progenitor of trotters that ever lived. Speculation, Jr.'s dam was sired by Easton's David Hill, the sire of Geo. Treat, record 2:2514; also, Black Swan, 2:28, and a number of other fast ones. Speculation became very noted several years since as siring the two celebrated trotters, Oakland Maid, record 2:22, and Crown Point, 2:24, two as game trotters as are often seen on a

It is a fact worthy of note that the breeding of Speculation, Jr., is almost identical with that of the great champion trotting stallion Maxey Cobb, whose record of 2:13%, made only last year, stands at the head of the list of all stallious. Maxey Cobb was by Happy Medium, he by Old Hambletonian, and his dam was by Prince Nebo, son of old Long Island Black Hawk. Speculation, Jr., by Speculation, he by Old Hambletonian, and his dam by Easton's David Hill, who was also a son of old Black Hawk, making them bred exactly in the same blood lines. This is a fact that should not be lost sight of by breeders, and to say that he will digestion. sire fast horses, when coupled with good mares, would be superfluous, as if he should fail to do so it would be strictly against the law of Nature that like produces like, or the likeness, of some ancestor. SPECULATION, JR., in addition to his fine breed ing and great individual excellence, is a fast and game. trotter himself. He has never been trained or prepared in any manner, having been kept as a private roadster by his owner, so that his speed is only purely natural and undeveloped. He was never in but one race, and that was last year. His owner started him in a matinee trot to see how he would behave in company. This was against the advice of his friends, who stated that it was dollars to a rotten egg that he would get the flag in his face in short order; but contrary to their expectations, and to the surprise of everyone, he went off and beat a large field of old seasoned campaigners with such ease, and apparently with such little effort, making a record of 2:35, that it immediately stamped him as being nothing short of a trotting wonder, and making it doubly certain that, could be have had the advantage of the long confinued, careful training from day to day, week to week, month to month, and year to year, that is given the great turf performers, he would children to the control of the contr a mile the next year in two minutes, as there really seemed to be no limit to his wonderful speed. The whole country was then anxious to learn his breeding, which was as follower By Volunteer, he by old Old Hambletonian, dam by Stockbridge Chief, son of Old Black Hawk, being identically the same combination of blood lines heratofore alluded to. A mare called Molly, by Old Black Hawk, produced by Old Hambletonian the two mares, Effic Deans, 2:25%, and Lettle,

In California we have another instance of the value of this eress in the two fast mares, Sister, record 2:21, and Huntress, 2:28%, full sisters, their sire, Admiral, being by Voluntper, he by Hambletonian, their dam being by McCracken's Black Hawk, a son of the old original Black Hawk. These mares have a full sister (younger) called Nona S., that is said to be faster than | either of them, and will no doubt be driven to a fasf record soon. Their sire, Admiral, although bred to a great many fine mares of other blood, has never produced any other trotters of records. Other instances could be cited, but these are sufficient to establish the , fact that horses possessing the blood lines of Speculation, Jr., stand at the head of the list as producers of extreme speed.

The Great Quake-Adding up the Damage-

NEW YORK, Sept. 8-A special from Charleston says: The situation is more appalling than on any since the first fatal shock. The reon any since the first fatal shock. The re-peated earthquakes here during the day have de-moralized the people, but this is nothing in com-parison to the weather. A heavy drenching show-er set in about 5:30 p. m. A steads parison to the weather. A steady rainfall of two or three hours means to thousands of helpless women and children out in the streets dis-comfort, disease and death. The city is doing all it can with the relief fund to erect temporary shelter in the parks, but up to to-might has been able to provide quarters for only about 3,600 peo-ple, all colored. Ninety tents sent by the Govern-ment are the only ones received. It is useless to endeavor to pursuade the women and children to endeavor to pursuade the women and children to return to their houses, although they might get therein shelter from the rain. No woman who was in a house during the shock of Tuesday night last could be persuaded to stop in it again while the shocks continue. With the September rains upon us there seems no hope for Charleston. Over 10,000 applications have been filed with the Relief Committee for tests to day it will take at least Committee for tents to-day. It will take at least 2,000 to supply the wants of the homeless people. Augusta (Ga.), Sept. 7.—Two slight shocks of earthquake were felt here to-day, one at 11:30 a.

m. and another at 4:30 p. m. Charleston, Sept. 7.—A very slight earthquake shock, lasting five seconds, was felt here at 11:42 this morning.

ATHENS, Sept. 7.—Several shocks of earthquake were felt to-day in this city, Kavrity and elsewhere. New Your, Sept. 3—The "Star's" Charles-ton dispatch says: Half the brick houses, which comprise over half the houses of the city, have their top story more or less demolished, but those houses that escaped are perhaps worse off for it, for nearly all that escaped the destruction of their roofs are cracked a little in front and about on a line with the middle window of the middle story, which shows they are all shaken from their foundations and loosened in every joist and joint, Certainly not one-third of those shaken can be repaired. They will have to be pulled down and reconstructed from the cellars. The loss is variously estimated from $10,000,000 up. But no living man can estimate it within $500,000 A plan to help the city that is talked about is to get a loan of $10,000,000 from the Federal Treasury by an act of Congress, at a nominal interest. There is no swell of ground in Charles top and the Belgian block pavements are raised in but one or two places. That the surface of the earth was disturbed, however, is clearly to be seen. Miles around Charleston the yawning fissures are numerous. The people are not thinking of the future. To live the night through is their sole thought. While day laborers are hard put to it for necessities, there is really no absolute want of food for ample money has been proffered to feed the whole town for one month.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY. SESSION OF 1886.

Representative Thurston was not astonished at the motion, it was in keeping with the action of the majority in the morning. They seemed to be op-posed to anything that would tend towards clean and honest voting at elections. He instanced the powers used by tax collectors, plantation managers, and others at election times by holding these receipts and compelling their men to vote as they (the holders) desired.

Representative Hayselden was of the opinion that the tax receipts system ought to be done away There was not however time this session, h thought, to made a general amendment to the election law. If it had not been for the holding of tax receipts, a good many of the members would not have seats in the House. A planter would pay $500 for a hundred of his men and put their tax receipts in his safe, and then use them to secure the election of the candidate he favored. Thurston spoke about one side doing these things, but he does not say anything about what was done on his his own side. His agents had held tax receipts.

Representative Thurston (interrupting) I wish to say that that is an absolute misstatement of facts! I did not hold any tax receipts!

Representative Hayselden, I did not say you, but said "your agents;" and I have proof that friends of yours did do so. Representative Thurston : No! lden: Well, that a entative may here nor there, what I wish to say is that I am in favor with the desire to do away with the tax re-eeipt system, but object to this bill on account of it not providing for a voter being recognized.

Hon. C. R. Bishop said the abuse of the system was the holding of receipts by candidates and others interested. He favored the Representative Richardson was also opposed to the indefinite postponement of the bill. He thought if the bill was passed it would remove a

The White Winged Racers-

THE PERST BACK.

With a steady breeze from the southward, permitting each to carry all their light sails, the Galatea was beaten 12 minutes and 40 seconds actual time, or 12 minutes and 2 seconds corrected time, the Mayflower having given her 38 seconds time allowance, according to the New York Yacht Club rules, under which the races are sailed. The contest was eminently fair for both yachts, inasmuch as half the course sailed gave almost all windward work, while the other half was with free sheets. Although the cutter was defeated, she has shown herself to be faster yacht than the Genesta in a light breeze, and one that may be very hard to defeat in a strong breeze.

The preparatory whistle screeched out its warning at 10:45, and ten minutes later came on for the start, both yachts, carrying the same sail, mainsail, club-topsail. jib and forestay sail, had been maneuvered into good positions. Mrs. Henn, in yachting costume, with a scarlet Tam O'Shanter cap, stood on the companion hatchway, her husband standing on deck, cool and confident. Capt. Stone steered the Mayflower, with Joe Ellsworth at his elbow and General Paine near the wheel. The official start was: Galatea, 10:56:11; May-flower, 10:56:12. Both yachts stood across the channel on the starboat tack and began their Locking close under Long Island shore, at 11:30 they made a stretch over for Staten Island. The Mayflower held the windward position, nd with the last ebb tide under her lee bow, she managed to keep it, and began out-footing the cutter at once.

When the Mayflower tacked to port at 11:21 she had Fort Latayeltte under her lee quarter, while the Galatea was yet under Fort Wadsworth. The Boston sloop crossed her bow fully a quarter of a mile to windward, three minutes later, and kept steadily increasing ber lead. At II:59, when the Galatea tacked to port near buoy 16, the sloop was tending her by three-quarters of a mile. Both then made short boards for buoy 85, the first timing point, the Mayflower fetching around first at 1:01:51 and the cutter at 1:07:07. They were greated with a perfect ovation of whistles from the attending steamers as they flew away with sheets started for buoy 5. The Mayflower passed it at 1:18 and the Galatea at 1:25.

To busy 85 the Mayflower had already beaten the cutter 5 minutes 17 seconds. From here to the outer mark at Sunday Hook lightship the contest was extremely pretty. The Mayflower slowly but surely outfooted the cutter, and tacking for the outer mark at 2-27-30, came grandly along for it on the port tack. As she squared away round it a few minutes later, and her big balloon topsail blossomed out of its tops, the whistle serenade that was given her could be heard for miles. The official time of turning was: Mayflower 2:35:02, Galatea 2:44:30. Both made splendid pictures as they rounded the lightship. To this point the Mayflower had now beaten the Galatea 9 minutes 20 seconds. The Mayflower, with her big balloon jib topsail bellying out in the now strong breeze, came booming by buoy 8, one mile on the home-stretch, at 3.34, just as the Galatea was passing the point of Sanday Hook. The latter passed the buoy at 3:46, and both angling over to port, came grandly down to the finish on the flood tide.

What a grand sight that finish was only an eye-witness can tell. It was the grandest marine spectacle ever seen in New York bay. Surrounded by nearly five thousand steam and sailing craft the Mayflower came tearing along through the narrow path of water, and crossed the finish line amid the firing of gans, screeching of whistles and waving of acres of bunting and handkerchiefs. The Galatea received as hearty a welcome when she arrived. The following comparative statement will show at a glance the principal dimensions of the English

THE SECOND BACK.

The second and deciding race of the interna The second and deciding race of the interna-tional yacht contest was won Sept. 12, by the May-flower in a light breeze, which barely enabled her to get around the course within the limit of time allowed. The America cap stays on this side of the Atlantic, but the conclusion is not satisfactory to yachtsmen, who generally care more about test-ing types of vessels than winning and holding caps. The two races sailed were not conclusive tests of the comparative merits of the American sloop and cutter types. They showed that in light weather the former is far superior, but there was not wind enough on either occasion to test the qualities of the yachts in "a breeze and a sea."

Sofia, Sept. 8.—[Special].—The attitude of the army remains problematical. Many of the officers refuse to let the Prince depart, partly out of personal attachment, partly because they regard the freedom of the country as incarnate in his person. They distrust Russian promises, even though they are aware, according to the explanation given by the Russians, that the attached to be provided for the regency by Russia will be sent simply to give advice. They further believe the officers who remained true to the Prince will be prosecuted. Should Alexander depart soon there will be the additional danger that the province, thanks to the distrust created by the lies of Zankoff, will refuse to believe in the Voluntary abdication, will rather lean to the view that a coup d'état like that of August 21st has been accomplished, and will therefore rise in insurrection against the regency in

The Com-mandant of the Widdin garrison telegraphs he is ready to march on Sofia to suppress any Cabinet that acquiesces in the Prince's abdication. Russia's reply is received with great distrust.

Losdon, Sept. 5.—[Special].—The British Association, which meets this year at Birmingham, has taken one of Lord Roseberry's practical steps toward imperial federation, by choosing Sir Wm. LONDON, Sept. 5 .- [Special] .- The notification that the Government has summarily recalled Sir Edward Thornton from Constantinople and ap-pointed Sir William White to be Embassador in his place, has given rise to a general feeling of relief in England. AUGUSTA (Me.) Sept. 8.—[Special.]—The second canvass of the State by the Republican Committee is nearly completed, and shows an encouraging outlook for the election next Monday. Chairman Manly says he sees no reason to change his previous estimate of a Republican majority of 6,000 or 503. That will be up to the average of the Republican majority for the last ten years. The third party (Prohibitionists,) who are doing nearly all the work on the Democratic side, will probably poll between 2,000 and 3,000. The chairman of the Prohibition Committee claims they will poll 10,000 votes. Chairman Brown of the Democratic Committee says the third party is going to give the Republicans a surprise party, and the vote will be great enough to put the Democrats in office. The Democratic Committee is not doing much work. It apparently has little money.

New Yors, Sept. 8-[Special.]—The work of getting signatures of the Henry George movement is being actively pushed. It is stated that nearly 20,000 names have been procured, and it is expected that the number will be increased to 50,000 before the nomination by the convention on September 17th. There is no doubt George will be the requirement.

Washington, Sept. 7.—Officers of the department are especially gratfied at learning that Geronimo's surrender was unconditional. Officers of high rank, however, incline to the belief that the President will never consent to surrender Geron-imo to the civil authorities, but will order his trial by court-martial, if it should be regarded as proper to try him at all. LITTLE ROCE, Sept. 7.—Returns from the State and county elections, yerterday, are meager, but are sufficient to show the election of the Democratic State ticket by a large majority, the third party movement or labor ticket getting a very small vote. New York, Sept. 6.—A Tribune special from Ottawa, says: Two officers of the British army, Ottawa, says: Two officers of the British army, Adjutant-General Black and Military Secretary Lane, have been dispatched to British Columbia to locate sites for the proposed strengthening of fortifications of Esquimalt and the weaker points of the province. Sir Adolphe Caron, Minister of Militia, on his return from England, will at once proceed to British Columbia to confer with the officers intrusted with this work. It being a dominion as well as an imperial work, both governments have agreed to co-operate in its being carried out.

San Francisco, Sept. 3.—The Democratic State Convention opened at San Francisco amid great excitement. There were three nominations for Governor, the result of the ballot, before the changes, being as follows: Mayor Bartlett, 309; C. P. Berry, 137, and M. F. Tarpey, 47.

Rockawar Beach, Sept. 1.—The three mile race between Hanian and Courtney took place at Jamaics Bay to-day, resulting in a decisive victory for the former, who distanced his opponent by seven lengths. #### Sale of the Bethel Property.

The land on which the Bethel Church formerly stood, on the corner of King and Bethel streets, was sold at public auction on Saturday last by Mr. J. Lyons, and realized $10,500, having been divided into four lots—two fronting on King and two on Bethel street. This land was originally a gift from the Hawaiian Government to the American Seamen's Friend Society of New York, for the purpose of erecting a seamen's chapel. Recently a transfer of the property was made by the above society to the Trustees of the Bethel Church, which has been confirmed by the Hawaiian Government, and under this authority the land has been sold, the Trustees having decided to erect a new church in another locality. From the proceeds of the sale the Seamen's Friend Society are to be paid $4,000 for their title to the land, and with the balance, $6,500, the Trustees intend to purchase a lot for the new Bethel Church, towards the erection of which generous subscriptions have been made by the public. The sum of $4,000, pstid to the Seamen's Friend Society, is to be invested here, and the income derived from it expended, under the direction of the above society, for the benefit of seamen visiting this port.

A Tax Payer's Complaint.

EDITOR GAZETTE:-The gloomy outlook for the future of cane planters, might have been expected to decrease the annual valuation of asessment.

Such has not been the case however, and in-stead of low returns in the Hilo section, there has been a noticeable rise from ten to twenty-five per tent in general. But when it is understood that this advance comes deliberately from the planters of the district, sanctioned and agreed upon at their annual meetindignation at the assessor is only equaled by his exorbitant and impudent demands for more.

In every case the assessment given in has been entirely disregarded, and a cool and insulting reply sent, your "Assessment is entered in the tax books as, Real Estate —— Personal Property ——," as, hear issailed a raise on the planters' returns of 50 to 100 per cent, with a refusal to give the items on which he has thought fit to put such startling advances.

Taxation will always have an unpleasant side, but we see no reason, at this time of day, in Hawaii, to resort to such sneaking methods, more especially, from Frank Austin, who ought to know from his own failure in the business of planter, that a much heavier burden cannot be borne. It is not reasonable to believe that the Govern ment, even in its poverty, and a great need, would urge its tools to do a work of this nature in a manner calculated to rouse a whole community.

The action of the planters has rendered the as sessor's work less urgent, and a prudent man in the office would have been able to push a reasonable advance on any previously given, without unneces As matters actually stand the planters have good grounds for believing that personal feeling has something to do with the matter. Kamaana. Hilo, Sept. 24, 1886.

RECEPTION AND PRESENTATION

TO THE HON. H. A. P. CARTER.

A general invitation to the friends of the Hon. H. A. P. Carter, Hawaiian Minister Plenipotentiary and Envoy Extraordinary at Washington, was given by Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Jones to be present at a reception in his honor. In response to the invitation a large number of our citizens, official and unofficial were present at Mr. Jones' residence, Nauanu Valley, last Thursday evening, Sept. 33d. Among the most prominent guests were: His Excellency Governor Dominis, Hon. A. S. Cleghorn, Hon. A. F. Judd, Chancellor of the Kingdom, and Mrs. Judd; His Excellency George W. Merrill, United States Minister Resident, and Mrs. Merrill; H. B. M.'s Commissioner Major J. Hay Wodehouse; Monsieur Henri Feer, French Commissioner and Mrs. Feer, His Excellency the missioner, and Mrs. Feer; His Excellency the Minister of Foreign Affairs, His Excellency the Minister of Foreign Affairs, His Excellency the Attorney General, Hon. L. and Mrs. McCully, Hon. C. R. Bishop, Hon. S. G. and Mrs. Wilder; Representatives J. W. Kalua and G. H. Dickey; Mr. Taro Ando, H. I. J. M.'s Consul General; Consuls F. A. Schaefer, (Italy); J. H. Paty, (Belgiom); H. Glade, (Germany); Vice Consuls F. P. Hastings, (United States); T. Rain Walker, (Great Britain); together with Members of the Privy Council, the Chamber of Commerce and representatives of the chief legal and commercial interests here.

The House was tastefully decorated with Chinese anterns, and the Band, situated under an awning, played the following selection of music: PART L.

As the guests arrived they were received by Mr. and Mrs. Jones, and were then presented to Mr. Carter who stood at the entrance to the drawing room. During the intermission in the musical programme, the attention of the Company was called by Mr. Jones and the Hon. C. R. Bishop on behalf of the members of the Chamber of Commerce, made the following address—Mr. Carter: You have been a long time absent from us, engaged in the important service imposed upon you by His Majesty the King, and the opportunities for kindly greetings during your short visit here have been very pleasant to your many friends.

The importance of the interests which have been and are committed to your care attracts the attention of all classes of this community to your-self—for they concern all—and throws upon you a responsibility which must at times have caused you great anxiety.

In representing the Hawaiian Government at Washington, you have not only the honor of a high position, but you have at the same time the satisfaction of knowing that you are treating with satisfaction of knowing that you are treating with a Government whose successive administrations have all been friendly and generously disposed toward the Hawaiian Kings and people; and that you represent a nation which appreciates and reciprocates that friendship, and which hopes that by a frank and honest presentation of all questions of mutual concern, the intimate and advantageous relations now existing will be perpetuated. The consciousness of duty faithfully done, and of successful effort are, no doubt, your best reward, your friends feel that they onerh not to let you go your friends feel that they ought not to let you go away again without expressing in some degree their appreciation of the able and prudent manner in which you have represented the interests of this country in Washington, and so, on behalf of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce, I am requested to give utterance to such expressions, and to tell you that, as a slight token of their regard, provision has been made for a service of silver, which will be sent to you from New York. And further, on their behalf and my own, I wish you a safe and pleasant journey on your return, a continuance of your King and country, and health and prosperity to yourself and family.

Mr. Carter after a moments pause replied in substance as follows. He thanked the members of the Chamber of Commerce for their expressions of approval and regard, and especially for their recognition of his efforts on behalf of this nation, and he felt it the more as he had not done all he wished to do, he had not reached the ideal he had set himself. Wherever he went he always found the most friendly feeling towards Hawaii. He had strong hopes of the present commercial relations with the United States being perpetua-ted. He would use his best efforts in the future, as he had done in the past, he was glad to know that his action as representative of the Government had met with the approval of His Majesty the King, His Majesty's Ministers, the Chamber of Commerce and his fellow citizens. It was peculiarly gratifying to him that the Chamber of Commerce had deputed a gentleman to make this presentation, who was so well known in the financial and commercial world, and with whom he had been or server of friendly relations of he had been on terms of friendly relations so many years. He thanked them for their wishes and accepted the service with pleasure and emo tion. It would be gratifying to his family to have this substantial proof of the esteem in which he was held by his fellow citizens. It would be handed down as a heir loom. His family had shared with him in the discharge of the social duties imposed upon him as the Envoy of His Hawaiian Majesty at Washington. He wished all the greatest measure of prosperity in the national affairs and in their private business enterprises.

After the presentation a period of social conver sation was enjoyed together with a bountiful supply of ice cream. By 10 o'clock the last guest had departed and a close was brought to one of the pleasantest and most successful receptions held in

A Safeguard.

The fatal rapidity with which slight Colds and Coughs frequently develop into the gravest maladies of the throat and lungs, is a consideration which should impel every prudent person to keep at hand, as a household remedy, a bottle of

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. Nothing else gives such immediate relief and works so sure a cure in all affections of this class. That eminent physician, Prof. F. Sweetzer, of the Maine Medical School, Brunswick, Me., says:—

"Medical science has produced no other ano-dyne expectorant so good as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is invaluable for diseases of the throat and lungs." The same opinion is expressed by the well-known Dr. L. J. Addison, of Chicago,

Ill., who says:-"I have never found, in thirty-five years of continuous study and practice of medicine, any preparation of so great value as Ayen's Cherry Petronal, for treatment of diseases of the throat and lungs. It not only breaks up colds and cures severe coughs, but is more effective than anything else in relieving even the most serious bronchial and pulmonary affections."

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has, in numberless instances, cured obstinate cases of chronic Bronchitis, Larnygitis, and even acute Pneumonia, and has saved many patients in the earlier stages of Pulmonary Consumption. It is a medicine that only requires to be taken in small doses, is pleasant to the taste, and is needed in every house where there are children, as there is nothing so good as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL for treat-ment of Croup and Whooping Cough.
