All Passes Off Happily and the Queen Is Well.

A Brief Glance at a Portion of the Celebration—No Accidents Happen and Still the World Wonders.

LONDON, June 22.—The Queen breakfasted at 9 o'clock this morning, and informed her physician that she was not fatigued by yesterday's ceremony. Already at this hour, in the great quadrangle of Buckingham Palace there were many signs of the coming ceremonial. Gorgeously attired servants gathered near the scarlet carpeted staircase which was lined with rare flowers, while the strains of the national anthem, as a band passed the palace, announced that the Colonial procession had started. At the same time the special envoys who took part in the procession began arriving in the great quadrangle.

United States Special Envoy Whitelaw Reid was the first to appear. He drove in, accompanied by one of the royal equestrians, the latter being all gold with scarlet feathers. Reid was quietly attired, wearing an Inverness coat, a white tie and opera hat. A moment or so later General Nelson A. Miles, representing the United States Army, rode up on a splendid horse and in full uniform. After leaving the quadrangle General Miles took his place in procession with the naval and military attaches, in alphabetical order, beginning with Australia and ending with United States. General Miles representing the United States Army, rode with General Le Gren, representing the President of France, those two officers bringing up the rear of the portion of the procession formed by the military attaches.

LONDON, June 22.—All London is congratulating itself over the complete success of yesterday's splendid pageant and is receiving with satisfaction evidence that the historic tableau presented at St. Paul's commands the sympathetic attention of all nations. With all the painstaking effort that was made to convert it into an imperial fete, with Colonial Prime Ministers as conspicuous figures, the personality of the little lady in black, with gray hair and gracious smile alone possesses magnetic qualities and commands the homage of her subjects and the respect of foreign nations. It is a revel of loyalty rather than of imperialism that is now in progress, and it is doubtful if the complex problems of the Imperial Federation are much nearer a practical solution than they were before these splendid functions were opened.

The most interesting scene to-day has been the progress of the houses of Parliament to Buckingham Palace. In accordance with an ancient tradition, Speaker Gully was conveyed in state in an antique coach so cumbersome that dray horses were employed to draw it, and as it rumbled along it seem to invite the fate of Holm's famous "shay."

LONDON, June 23.—This day was one of the most fatiguing of the week for the Queen, the official program demanding the reception of several distinguished bodies of official personages and the reception of addresses at Slough, Eton and Windsor.

The chief event of the day and one of the most interesting of the entire week was the presentation to

INTERCEPTED TELEGRAMS.

S. M. D. to S. B. D.—"Told Salisbury that if Great Britain would not oppose annexation Hawaii would cede to Great Britain Necker Island. He seemed pleased,—and I smiled."

— to — Washington, June 23d. "I have positive assurances from — that no attempt will be made to confirm the Hawaiian Treaty of Annexation at this session."

CROSSED WIRES.

W. R. C. to W. O. S.—"What's the news Billy?"

W. O. S. to W. R. C.—"Unsatisfactory, Billy. We failed to connect. Our plan was dropped on to, and we're in a mess. Come and see me right away."

SAVED.

THE INDEPENDENT's predictions and information have proved correct. In spite of the efforts of her betrayers, Hawaii still remains unannexed and independent. The delay granted to us enables us to consummate the plans we have outlined for the completion of a victorious campaign in the Fall. We extend our deepest sympathies to the bragging press of the annexationists for their grievous disappointment. We never holloa that we are safe until we are well out of the wood, and we'll admit that our fight is not yet actually won, but we have the best of it at present.

NOT ANNEXED.

The news received by the Mariposa this morning, shows that Minister Sewall is not yet a Governor, and that, if he is correctly reported by the official organ, he is out of gear.

The Hawaiian Islands were not "annexed" on "Thursday," and many a Thursday will go by before the "glad" news arrives which will launch Dole-Smith-Cooper into political obscurity.

We cannot believe that the American Minister has been guilty of such a lack of tack and of good common sense as to express himself in the manner referred to by the Advertiser.

Most assuredly THE INDEPENDENT remembers His Excellency and his friend Mr. Bowen (of the New York World) in 1893. But yet we give him credit for having sufficient common sense, not to state that "Hawaii will be annexed on Thursday."

As a matter of fact Hawaii isn't annexed, dear fellow!

WHAT "THE INDEPENDENT'S" CORRESPONDENTS SAY.

"From the New York Evening Post you will learn that a week before the Annexation Treaty was signed President McKinley was dead against annexation. It is whispered that the Ex-President Harrison and Ex-Secretary of State John W. Foster contingent insisted that the treaty must go to the Senate in retaliation against President Cleveland's course in withdrawing the first treaty, and to mark the Administration's condemnation of Cleveland's policy in Hawaiian affairs."

"You will see by the S. F. papers of the 24th June that Senator Morgan has brought in a bill to annex the islands in the event that the Senate should fail to ratify or discuss the Annexation Treaty. The bill is on a par with all the other matter that comes from Mr. Morgan. Fortunately the Senate has a habit of letting Mr. Morgan do his talking and then proceeding to the real business of the Senate."

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

We congratulate the Executive and the Cabinet that they have won their fight and lost annexation. How is that for high?

Dole is not going as Senator to Washington. Sewall is not yet our Governor. Owen-Smith will not be elected Pound-Master, and Cooper will hang on to his job until the Japs and "we" Hawaiians make him feel uncomfortable. All of them are good "stayers."

Was it an omen when the Mariposa's boat leaped over the Police boat, this morning, containing Attorney General W. Owen Smith? Was it a pointed moral of the United States nearly grabbing and sinking Hawaii and her safely slipping from under. THE INDEPENDENT's aloha for W. O. possibly saved his life.

The City of Peking sailed about 10 o'clock this morning. It is stated that she was detained by the Government and others interested in annexation matters at a cost of $1000, but possibly this statement is about as correct as the one that President Dole had his proclamations all ready for issuance in connection with the Senate and Annexation.

The Hawaiian National Protest.

To Hon. JOHN SHERMAN, Secretary of State, United States of America,

Dear Sir:—On behalf of the Hawaiian Patriotic League, on behalf of the Hui Kalaiaia, organizations of the native and part native people of the Hawaiian Islands for the restoration of Constitutional Government, and the perpetuation of the independence under their own rulers of the Islands, and by commissions duly executed by such organizations conferring upon me authority as well as in my own right as a representative of the people of Hawaii, I herewith hand to you the duly executed protest of Her Majesty Liliuokalani, by the grace of God, the reigning sovereign of those islands on the seventeenth day of January, A. D. 1893, at which date she yielded her property and authority as our Queen to the forces, diplomatic and naval of the United States of America.

In the name of said associations of the people, and in the name of the majority of the voters registered at the date of such submission of our cause to the Government of the United States, I do hereby support and confirm each and every representation of the said protest of our said Queen Liliuokalani, do add thereto the protest of the people I represent against the consideration, ratification or enforcement of a certain treaty as therein stated which purports to cede the territory of the Hawaiian Islands to the United States of America, and for the reasons stated to you in such protest made on our behalf by our aforesaid Queen Liliuokalani.

Done at Washington, this 17th day of June, 1897.

JOSEPH HELELUIE.

The Mariposa slipped into Honolulu harbor early this morning in the handsome time of 6½ days from San Francisco. The big steamer is taking on 200 tons of coal and will leave for the Colonies sometime this afternoon; her sailing hour being nominally fixed for 2 o'clock.

Dangerously Hurt.

A very lively blaze started in among the rookeries on Maunakea street shortly before daylight this morning, which after the salutary destruction of one or two of the dens, was controlled after an hour or more hard fight by the gallant fire boys. Unhappily John Clark, Assistant Chief, fell from the burning building and a pipe penetrated the lower part of the abdomen inflicting very serious if not fatal injuries.

The surrounding streets were crowded with Asiatics and their hastily removed baggage. An alarm about 2 o'clock a. m. was practically unnecessary.

Frank Butler, the Australian murderer, after a three days trial was found guilty of the murder of Capt. Lee Weller. He again attempted suicide.

"They didn't have all this slang and idleness in my day," said grandma. "When a girl meant 'no,' she said 'no,' and she put in her time knitting." "And now," said Gladys Elyth, "instead of knitting and saying 'no,' the girls are knowing and saying 'nit.'"

What the St. James Gazette says about the undue elation of the Japs since the war with China is perfectly true, but it is not credible that they would run amuck with the United States over so small a matter as immigration to Hawaii. If they do they will be apt to learn a lesson that will last them until well into the middle of the next century.

They are impervious to the glare of sunshine or to the downfall of rain. You see them covering beautiful girls in all the society illustrations of the life of the haut ton, while for scoring tents in match games they are unrivalled.

The Folding Lounge is another of those cool conveniences so necessary for summer weather. Made of wood, iron and cane you can arrange it in almost any position to suit the comfort of the human anatomy. The Annexation Treaty In the Hands of a Sub-Committee.

A Thorough Study of the Situation to Be Made, and, the Matter Will Probably Go Over to the Next Session—Japan Protests.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The Cabinet was in session fully two hours to-day. The Hawaiian treaty was discussed at length, and it is stated as a settled fact that the Administration does not now entertain any expectation of getting a vote on the treaty in the Senate before the December session of Congress. It is stated that Commissioner Calhoun's report as to the condition of affairs in Cuba was not laid before the Cabinet.

Neither the Chinese nor the Portuguese Minister has made a protest against the Hawaiian treaty of annexation, nor has either of them received any instructions on the subject from his Government. Viscount de Santa Bryso, the Portuguese Minister, says he has no doubt but that the Portuguese colony in Hawaii will be as well protected under the United States laws as under the present regime on the islands, and he sees no reason why Portugal should lodge a protest against the treaty.

The Chinese Minister is inclined to think that the clause in the treaty excluding the further immigration of Chinese to the islands is unnecessary, as the exclusion act would apply to them if our jurisdiction were extended to Hawaii. China has assented to the policy of exclusion, and he sees no necessity for comment on that score. There are about 25,000 Chinese in Hawaii.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—A protest from the native Hawaiians who are under the influence of Europeans and Orientals against annexation of their islands to the United States is expected to reach this country by the next steamer from the islands. From the moment of the first publication in the Chronicle that the treaty of annexation was coming, activity among opponents to the plan has been marked. One of the principal arguments of J. D. Spreckels, who opposes taking the islands, is that the sentiment of the population is not favorable to annexation. Adherents of McKinley's policy to believe that instructions have gone the islands setting forth the necessity for action at once, and that a petition of the kanakas against absorption be hurried to Washington. Friends of the treaty fear this and admit it might be instrumental in changing the minds of many Senators and Representatives who now favor annexation to prevent Oriental domination of the group.

With this view and the further one that an outbreak is feared, speedy action is now being urged. It is said that information here leads to the belief that the Japanese will make an attempt to instigate a rebellion in case Congress takes no decisive steps. A resolution of Senator Morgan introduced to-day undoubtedly had for its purpose the pressing of the matter to a speedy conclusion. A majority vote only is needed to make a law of the resolution, while a two-thirds vote is necessary for the treaty.

But the opposition is so strong that there is little hope of passing anything on the subject this session, while the opponents of the treaty are growing more confident that they can defeat action next fall as well. Both Senator Perkins and Senator White say nothing will be done this summer.

Japan's protest, while very emphatic, is not giving any alarm to the Administration for the reason that international law is that with acquiring territory all treaties fall. Only the most urgent protest on the strongest grounds could prevent following this precedent, and Japan has no such case. What is feared most is Japanese influence in the Senate. It is rumored that Japanese officials have canvassed the Senate, with the result that they now claim they can prevent a ratification of the treaty by the present Senate.

Senator Morgan to-day introduced a bill for the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands. The bill provides that the islands shall become a Territory of the United States in accordance with the terms of the recently negotiated treaty. The date set for the extension of the laws of this country over the islands is the 4th of March, 1898, but it is specifically provided that they may be put in force at an earlier day if Congress so directs.

Senator Morgan said that his bill was intended to carry the annexation treaty into execution in case it should be ratified by the Senate, or to provide for its ratification by the joint action of the two houses in case the Senate should refuse to act.

THE TREATY IN COMMITTEE.

Japan's Protest Not Likely to Cause Any Serious Complications.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The Hawaiian annexation treaty formed the principal topic of consideration by the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations at its brief session to-day. The treaty and accompanying papers were read and referred to a sub-committee consisting of Senators Foraker, Davis and Morgan, with instructions to investigate the entire question and report to the full committee. The papers read included the protest made by Japan against the annexation. The document did not call out much comment, but all that was said was of a character to indicate that the members of the committee did not regard it as likely to lead to serious complications, though requiring the most respectful consideration.

The sub-committee will consider all the complications likely to grow out of annexation, including those referring to the trade relations of the island. This will involve a study of all of Hawaii's treaties with other countries. The inquiry will require considerable time, and no effort will be made by the full committee to take the subject up until the sub-committee shall be able to report on all the details. The realization of this fact has led the members of the committee to conclude that it is improbable that the committee as a whole will be able to pass upon the subject during the present session. The complexion of the committee is believed to be eight for ratification and three against it. There is a possibility that the number of those in favor of it may be increased to nine.

It may be stated as extremely probable that the matter will be held in abeyance by the sub-committee until Congress convenes in regular session next December, for the double purpose of permitting the committee to make its investigation as thorough as possible and to permit the executive to exert its best efforts through the use of diplomacy to persuade Japan of the unwisdom of her course. It is understood in this connection that this delay is in accordance with the wishes of the Administration as intimated to members of the Senate.

The opinion was expressed in the committee that a document of the character of that filed by Japan would, if presented by a nation more nearly the equal of the United States, lead to very serious difficulties, but there is general desire to extend unusual consideration toward the Asiatic state, not only because of the uniformly friendly relations existing between that country and this, but also because it is felt that Japan's success in her war with China may have had the effect of arousing a spirit of combativeness which is not warranted in the opinion of the members of the committee by her relative size and importance as compared with the United States.

Government to be Questioned About Hawaii

LONDON, June 23.—In the House of Commons to-morrow Ernest William Beckett, Conservative member for the Whitby division of the north riding of Yorkshire, will question the Government as to whether it is aware that "Queen Liliuokalani has been deposed by a small body of Americans who, without right or title, have assumed sovereignty over Hawaii, and now to save themselves from the resentment of the people, have requested the American Government to annex Hawaii, and if Great Britain proposes to allow this most important coaling station to pass into the hands of the United States without opposition."

PAUNCEFOTE ON HAWAII.

Says England and America will Not Quarrel.

NEW YORK, June 23.—Sir Julian Pauncefote sailed for London to-day. When questioned as to Hawaii, he said to a reporter: "My hands and tongue are off Hawaii, as well as off Cuba. I can handle neither question, and certainly would not discuss either topic. One thing about Hawaii may be said, though. England and America are not likely to quarrel over the matter, and it is my profound hope, they will never quarrel on any other."

AMERICA'S ANSWER TO JAPAN.

A Strong Argument is Almost Completed.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The State Department has practically completed its reply to the Japanese protest against the Hawaiian annexation treaty. The reply is understood to be a strong legal defense of our position, which, without in any sense abating our claims, does not disdain to support them by much citation of precedent and international law.

W. W. DIMOND'S

Against Japanese

Merchants the Anglo Saxon dealers in Honolulu have had to compete in the sale of fine china and lacquer ware; until now we could not compare with them in the purchase of these lines, consequently the trade has been exclusively handled by Japanese merchants.

Some time ago we saw an opportunity to procure these goods at low prices and in exclusive designs, decorated especially for us, we are enabled to-day to offer the finest grades of Japanese porcelain tea, breakfast and after-dinner coffee cups in strictly European patterns. The price ranges from a quarter to a half what French ware is sold for.

Lacquered trays sell from 25 cents to 50 cents. Beautiful paper napkins 20 cents a hundred; never have been sold for less than double in any Japanese store. The finest made are sold by us at 35 cents a hundred. Assortment of stock in this invoice comprises after dinner cups and saucers, moustache cups, tete a tete sets, chocolate cups, breakfast coffee cups and saucers, bon bon sets, individual sugar and creamers, mush sets, cracker jars, rose jars, chocolate pots, tea caddies, bread and milk sets, odd plates, vases, tea pots, bread and butter plates, jugs of all sizes.

the Queen of congratulatory addresses by both houses of Parliament, which occurred at Buckingham Palace this morning. Nearly half a century has passed since the House of Commons visited the sovereign in a body, the last occasion being the presentation of an address acknowledging the declaration of war against Russia, and not since the early forties, when addresses were made congratulating the Queen on the failure of attempts at assassination, has she received the two houses together.

The empire had passed in review and the head of it all was now to see her majesty. The royal procession proper was interwoven with crowds of dignitaries of all sorts. First came the aides-de-camp to the Queen, these being headed by the Prince of Wales and the Dukes of Cambridge and Connaught and the Earl of Wemyss. Then followed all the Lord Lieutenants of London, headed by his grace, the Duke of Westminster, K. G., in a Lord Lieutenant's dress. The Duke was followed by a glittering cavalcade of officers, the headquarters' staff. To them succeeded field marshals.

Next came officers of the auxiliary forces in attendance on His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales—equerries, gentlemen in waiting and military attaches, a brilliant lot of gentlemen with a glittering array, uniformed in all the dress of the courts of Europe, and wearing all its stars. Then a complement from the Kaiser, a detachment from the First Prussian Dragoon Guards.

After the Germans came the most brilliant group of all the soldiery. The officers of the imperial service troops from India in their uniforms, a mixture of the English regular army and native dress, were brilliant to a degree not to be witnessed outside of countries where barbaric splendor and ingenuity in embroidery is the rule.

The crowd now began to show more eager interest in the approaching vehicles as they were nearer and nearer to the Queen. Five road landaus painted like those which had just vanished, only horsed by four horses, appeared first. The appearance of these landaus heralded the Princes and Princesses of the blood.

Then the first part of the sovereign's escort rode into view, the Second Life Guards. As their well-known brilliant uniforms appeared the whispering ran electrically, "she's coming." The Guards were soon succeeded by the escort of British and foreign Princes. This brilliant escort was composed of the flower of Europe's thrones.

Following the Princes came the guard of honor—twenty-two officers of native Indian cavalry corps, men of fine physique, picturesque uniforms and strange faiths. But for these the crowd had few eyes, for the Commander-in-Chief, who followed behind them, none. They could see the Queen's horses—it was the Queen at last.

A cheer broke forth that seemed to shake the ground, renewed again and again as Her Majesty's carriage approached. The famous eight Hanoverian horses of cream color, with long tails, white, cold, almost fishlike, and pink noses, their manes richly woven with ribbons of royal blue, were passing. For once since the Prince Consort's death the Queen permitted the mourning band to be removed from the men's arms—there was no note of sorrow.

Beside Her Majesty rode the Prince of Wales; opposite Her Majesty rode H. R. H. Princess Christian.

At the Law Courts the Queen was met by the Lady Mayoress, who presented her majesty with a basket of flowers. The flowers were gorgeous orchids in a silver filigree basket, the handles being surmounted by a lover's knot on which was engraved "To Her Majesty Queen Victoria, presented by Helen Faudel-Phillips, Lady Mayoress."

Her majesty smiled, was evidently greatly pleased and looked fresh and bright. She wore no spectacles, took the flowers, passed them to the Princess of Wales, and put out her hand to the Lady Mayoress to kiss. The latter, undoubtedly agitated by the splendor of the occasion, shook her majesty's hand instead of kissing it.

In the meanwhile a distant band had struck up the national anthem and the crowd joined in singing "God Save the Queen," which was sung by thousands of voices surrounding her majesty until she was out of sight.

As her majesty entered the gates of the palace at 2 o'clock a distant gun in Hyde Park announced that the procession was over. The sound of the bells was answered by cheering. The Queen reached the palace on her return from the procession at 1:45 P. M. She was very much pleased and smiling and was not fatigued.

The whole affair passed off without a hitch. There were no serious accidents, although a number of women fainted and a man fell out of a tree on the Mall. The Queen witnessed this and promptly sent one of her equerries to inquire as to the man's condition.

President McKinley's Greeting to Victoria.

LONDON, June 21.—President McKinley has sent the following personal letter to Queen Victoria, which was delivered to her by Whitelaw Reid, special envoy:

To Her Majesty, Victoria, Queen of Great Britain and Empress of India.

Great and Good Friend: In the name of and on behalf of the people of the United States, I present their sincere felicitations upon the sixtieth anniversary of your Majesty's accession to the Crown of Great Britain.

I express the sentiments of my fellow citizens in wishing for your people the prolongation of a reign illustrious and marked by advance in science, arts and popular well being. On behalf of my countrymen, I wish particularly to recognize your friendship for the United States and your love of peace exemplified on important occasions.

It is pleasing to acknowledge the debt of gratitude and respect due to your personal virtues. May your life be prolonged, and peace, honor and prosperity bless the people over whom you have been called to rule. May liberty flourish throughout your Empire, under just and equal laws, and your Government continue strong in the affections of all who live under it.

And I pray God to have your Majesty in His holy keeping.

Your good friend,

WILLIAM MCKINLEY.

By the President:

JOHN SHERMAN,

Secretary of State.
