STORY OF THE RIOTING AND PILLAGING IN PEKING IN JUNE.

As Told in a Diary of Events Written by a Chinese Official of the Six Boards.

Graphic Description of the Burning and Pillaging by the Boxers and Imperial Troops—How the German Minister Met His Death.

THE Japan Gazette of August 8th, published at Yokohama, contains the following, which it is claimed was especially translated for the North China Daily News:

We take the following graphically written "Diary of Events in Peking" from the Universal Gazette, written by a Chinese official holding a high post in one of the six boards in Peking, embodied in a letter to his family living in the vicinity of this port. The words in brackets are added by us to make the meaning of each passage clear:

"To give you all at home an idea of the trend of events which have led to the present debacle in Peking, you must know that the Boxer organization had its origin in Shantung province. The object of the Boxers was the indiscriminate massacre of Christians, the burning down of churches and the killing of all foreigners. These Boxers organized themselves into bands, erected altars to mark their gathering places and set up a certain personage as the author of their sect, whom they worshipped. These Boxers claimed that they could bring down the gods to dwell in their persons and, imbued thereby, claimed that they could use their weapons with great rapidity on their enemies, make themselves invulnerable against bullets and shells and even further declared that they had the power to stop the rifles and big guns of the enemy from firing upon them. It seems that the whole country believed in these declarations and crowded to join the Boxers, youths and laas being especially conspicuous in numbers. Then news reached us, in the middle of May last, that the Boxers had seized the city of Chochou (some fifty miles southwest of Peking), murdered the officials there and had begun tearing up and destroying the railway. Our emperor, upon hearing of these outrages, desired to suppress these Boxers, but the high ministers in power at court were devout believers in the potency of the Boxers and strongly opposed their extermination. By the 15th of June the Boxer outbreaks had begun to tear up and destroy the railway between Peking and Tientsin, and from that day also began to enter the city walls of Peking, crowding in at the rate of over 1,000 a day. Altars (gathering places for recruits, etc.) were erected by them all over the city. At this time also their activities began to be directed against Christians and their churches outside of Peking, burning of the latter having been left until none of us could escape, standing. As many of us poured amongst the Christians, we were taken into the capital, taking refuge in the legations situated in the T'ung-chiao street (otherwise known as Legation street). This state of affairs, I may say, existed in the capital during the first days of June, from which time I began to jot down the following diary of events as they occurred before my own eyes and were personally experienced by me:

"13th June, 1900.—About dusk, while in the university (of Peking), I saw four places on fire, whereupon I immediately returned to my house, subsequently learning that all the churches and mission properties inside the city had been set fire to and entirely destroyed, the configuration of the Lamplight Market (Night Bazaar) having been especially destructive, lasting into the next day.

"14th June.—I passed the Panahih residence this morning. The building in the rear of that is now the headquarters of Tung Fu-hsiang and his Kansu troops who, I may state, had already entered the city a few days previously. (The Kansu troops, since their arrival from Kansu in the autumn of 1898, had always been kept encamped outside Peking and prohibited from entering the city walls). Tonight there was a huge commotion and rioting, mostly in the eastern and western great thoroughfares, after which a great fusillade of rifle firing succeeded. This was due to those places being near the Austrian legation, the inmates of which, hearing a great commotion the room we were in, with pale faces and excited manner, and said that government troops had begun to plunder the neighboring houses. A bullet penetrated a window of the room we all were in and we looked at one another with pale and scared faces. At this moment Mr. Ma's house was set fire to and began to burn fiercely, soldiers were thick in front, right so no left of our street, all intent on pillage; I dared not leave our place, as already three corpses were lying about at the front door. After a while the sounds of pillage gradually died out in our vicinity and, taking advantage of the lull, my cousin and I tried to escape to the Grand Secretary Sun Chia-mai's house (now retired). We had gone but a few steps from our house when we were suddenly stopped by some soldiers, who presented their rifles and threatened to shoot us. By this time all the front gates of houses in the neighborhood were standing wide open and we speedily sought refuge in one of them. When the looting soldiers began to disappear I determined to return home again on foot. I beheld numbers of corpses strewn the streets, and getting to my house learned that all our neighbors had lost some of their number by the bullets of the plundering soldiers; I also learned that the mother of Wen, the censor, had also been killed during the riot by some soldier's sword.

"As for these riots and looting, it was entirely unexpected by every one here, for although we knew that robbing and outrages were frequent both inside and outside Peking, our quarter being surrounded by a cordon of government troops we thought ourselves perfectly safe from any such thing. We had sought safety in flight and removal elsewhere. Hence this calamity came down like a thunderstorm in a clear sky. On the contrary, many families had sought safety by moving into our quarter. What was our astonishment then that the trouble should have sprung from regular troops, who indeed, proved to be more savage and more formidable than even the local outlaws and ruffians. I hear also that the residence of the Grand Secretary Hsu Tung and the palace of Prince Su were also plundered and that after being looted clean they were set fire to. The troops seemed to fear nothing. The troops who commenced the pillaging were the Kansu men of Tung Fu-hsiang. The troops belonging to Jung Lu's own personal command (the Middle corps of the "Wuwei" army). Grand Army of the North) came on the scene to restore order and preserve the peace; but instead of doing this they actually joined the Kansu men in getting loot. Eventually it was found that Jung Lu's own army were the greatest sinners in this respect.

"23rd June.—Early this morning Jung Lu arrived in person at Grand Secretary Sun's residence to investigate the matter of the recent outrages and pillage. At about 10 o'clock he went to the Legation street on fire. I mounted the top of Ma Kung-cheng's house and had a good view of the conflagration, the flames spreading along and looking like a long fire dragon.

"24th June.—Commencing from today the sound of rifle firing has never ceased, springing up on all sides, that in the direction of the bridge over the Imperial canal (Yahowaiso) being the most severe. The British and German legations, and this has been the place of concentration of all the foreign troops there. When the fighting between troops and Boxers against the foreign troops first began a large number of native Christians made a sortie from the legation with the object of escaping. They were all armed with rifles and weapons and struck at whomsoever opposed them. Many of the regular troops and Boxers then chased the Christians and went about hunting for them so that no one could venture on the streets. No mercy was shown to the Christians and wherever found they were at once killed. Some of the houses searched were also set fire to afterwards and the Christians taken out and led to the Lamplight Market, where they were burned to cinders.

"27th June.—Today the British legation was taken and the foreign troops took refuge in the Tangtze Hutung (lane). The houses in Chiaoing street had by this time all been burned down to the ground, scarcely any being left standing. At night the firing suddenly became silent, I wonder why?"

LIBEL SUIT AGAINST REPUBLICAN DISMISSED.

Judge Wilcox Sustains Contention of Lack of Jurisdiction.

AS SET FORTH BY DEFENDANT.

PROSECUTION ADMITS IT CAN NOT COMBAT SUPREME COURT DECISIONS.

But Makes a Strong Plea to Have the Editor of The Republican Held to the Circuit Court.

"The contention of the attorneys for defendant that this court does not possess jurisdiction in this case is sustained. The further motion that defendant be discharged is granted. Only the other day the attorney-general of the Territory, the highest legal advisor of the land, appeared in this court in the case of Barney, who had been arrested for the murder of Lorbeer, and held that Barney should not be arraigned in this court or held to the grand jury by this court; that the grand jury was in session and it would return a presentment or indictment in the case. Under this advice from the attorney general I do not see how I can bind defendant in this case to an appearance before the grand jury. The complaint is therefore dismissed and the defendant discharged."

Such were the remarks of Judge Wilcox of the District Court yesterday morning in dismissing the charge of libel preferred by W. A. Kinney against the editor of The Republican.

There was the usual number of Monday morning cases in the police court. The calendar being cleared of these before the libel suit was called. Mr. Kinney was assisted in the prosecution by Messrs. McClanahan and Bigelow, with Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth and Cianahan as counsel. Messrs. F. W. Hankey and J. Alfred Magoon appeared for the defense.

The defense waived the reading of the charge, agreeing to its being deposited with and filed by the clerk. They moved to dismiss the complaint on the ground that the original complaint charged the general crime of libel and the second or amended complaint, which specified the grounds of libel, was not sworn to. Judge Wilcox overruled the motion and Mr. Hankey then presented the following plea in bar to the jurisdiction of the court:

"Now comes the above named defendant in his own proper person and by A. Magoon and Frederick W. Hankey, his attorneys, and protesting that he is not guilty of the offense charged in the complaint, but reserving his plea thereof; pleads to said complaint that it appears upon the face thereof that this honorable court is without jurisdiction in said case for the following reasons:

"First.—The complaint herein charges an infamous crime for which defendant can be arraigned or tried only upon presentment or indictment by a grand jury.

"Second.—That the punishment and penalty which may be visited upon conviction are, and each of them is, infamous.

"Third.—That the offense charged is such that the defendant is entitled to a jury trial, as guaranteed by the constitution of the United States, in the first instance, without resort to an appeal, and that this court is not empowered by law to grant defendant that right.

"Therefore defendant alleges that this court has no jurisdiction of said complaint or cause and prays that the same be dismissed and the defendant discharged."

In support of this plea Mr. Hankey presented an extremely able argument upon the constitutional questions involved. He contended first that the crime of libel was an infamous offense from the fact that under the penal code of Hawaii it was punishable by imprisonment in the Oahu prison. He presented numerous authorities as to what constituted an infamous offense.

Then he contended that the United States constitution guaranteed a jury trial by a grand jury by a grand jury; that such trial could not be had in the district court of Hawaii and no matter even if such trial could be secured on appeal it must be granted in the first instance; that the proper method of procedure and the only one under which defendant could be prosecuted for criminal libel was by a presentment by a grand jury. He cited the case of Callen vs. Wilson in the 12th United States Reports, in which the United States supreme court held in 1853 that a person accused of an infamous crime was entitled to trial by jury in the first instance. This decision was rendered in a case appealed from the supreme court of the District of Columbia, the defendant being first tried in the police court, which corresponds very closely to the district court of this Territory. He was not indicted by a grand jury nor was he granted a jury trial in the first instance, although he could secure a jury trial on appeal. The court held as stated that he must be granted a jury trial in the first instance.

This decision was reaffirmed by the 17th U. S. case 1, rendered in 1858, the Callen vs. Wilson case being specifically referred to by the court as a case in point. This decision also referred to what constituted an infamous crime.

"This plea of Mr. Hankey, by stating

FIGHTING FOR THEIR LIVES IN THE INTERIOR OF DISTURBED CHINA.

Terrible Experience of a Party of Missionaries of the Presbyterian Church.

Cut Down by Swords in the Hands of the Boxers—Robbed, Beaten and Maltreated by Hordes of Howling, Fanatic Yellow Devils.

ON board of the China is a party of missionaries driven out of China by the Boxers. The party comprises the Rev. J. Goforth, Mrs. Goforth and four children. Mrs. Simmon, Miss Pyke, Miss McIntosh and Miss Dow, M. D. They are members of the Canadian Presbyterian mission. Mr. Goforth has been in China twelve and a half years and speaks the language fluently. The party was stationed at the N. H. Huan mission. The missionaries had a terrible experience. Mr. Goforth told his thrilling story to a Republican reporter last night. He wore a bandage around his head in consequence of a sword wound received in an attack upon his party by Chinese bandits.

"All was quite peaceful in the city when we left on the 28th of June," said Mr. Goforth, "but there were rumors of fighting in the north, especially amongst the people of the outlying market towns. We had official protection and the officers seemed desirous of aiding us. We were told, though, that if the Boxers came our safety could not be guaranteed, willing they were to do so. It was just at this time the consul advised us to go to Chinanfu, as there was a steamer lying there chartered to take off refugees. As soon as we heard this we asked the prefect to let us have an escort.

"He treated us very discourteously, leaving us waiting in an outer room and would not receive us. There were crowds of natives outside peering at us. Only the gatekeeper sent a friendly disposition, taking a message into the prefect's office. He came back saying the prefect refused to be any more of our friends.

"We told him we knew the prefect and that he must grant us an escort, and that we would return to the prefect's night that we were coming. When leaving I said, 'The foreign powers have seized Taku and a settlement of this trouble must come. Next day he sent over, saying we could have all we wanted, but that the carters would not go to the northeast. He said, 'If you go to the south I will give you a good escort, but only to Fanching; I can only send word from place to place. He sent soldiers and deputies to Wehsienfu and but for them we should have had a very hard time. When stopping at an inn, after the deputies left, the natives threw stones over the inn-yard.

"We got soldiers and deputies at Wehsienfu and from there to the south of the Yellow river we had perfect peace. The Hausze refused and sent some underlings with us instead of deputies. At the Yellow river I met Mr. Jameson, the engineer, and we had the benefit of his escort, otherwise things would have gone hard with us. This was now the 1st of July. We traveled together and when we reached Nanyang prefecture, Mr. Jameson was anxious for the safety of himself and us, as he had not sufficient force to protect us all, said he had heard the district was disturbed and that he would try to make thirty li (a li is a third of a mile) overnight. We went to stay at Hsintien, a market town. He would go on to Nanyang, the prefectural town, and get troops to guard both parties.

"We decided to divide our party, taking separate roads. Mr. Jameson offered his escort to help us and said he would get another for us. In this Mr. Jameson failed, the prefect saying they were at war with other countries and could get nothing to do with any of us. We only heard this next morning. About two hours after arrival on the evening of the 7th our innkeeper brought in a report that there were seventy armed men coming to take the inn and all we had. These men asked for money and were refused.

"Word was sent to the mayor that he held him responsible for us that night and he sent a man off with one of our men to the native magistrat, and we sent a letter by the men to Mr. Jameson telling him of the state of affairs. We barricaded the inn gates with carts and all sorts of things and collected stones, etc., for our defense inside the yard. All passed quietly that night. Our messenger came back from the prefecture saying Mr. Jameson had had no success there and we as he did; there was no hope of help from him; that he would make our way the same from him.

"The Hsien magistrate did send out a few unarmed men, and after we had asked for men fully armed, and our carters refused to go on until we guaranteed to pay them for all their losses. This delayed our start until 5:30 a. m. Then the mayor of the town ordered us to go, saying he would send an armed escort down to see us thirty li from the place. He knew he was sending us into a trap and showed his duplicity very clearly. When we started the streets were crowded with people and the walls were swarming with them. Outside the outer gate there were at least 15,000 spectators. Presently we saw two bands of several hundreds, armed with swords, spears and guns, one lot standing in a place waiting for us to come to them and the other was along the wall ready for a rear attack. There was nothing for it but to go on.

our little band numbering eleven adults, five men and five children. We had only three revolvers amongst us.

"The whole crowd came on with a rush. They began pelting stones at our covered carts, but fortunately we had them lined and covered with rugs on account of the heat and none of the missiles came through. Falling in this, they cut our animals across the back with swords and when they were all tangled up we had to defend ourselves. I got nine wounds on my arms and hands, the only serious one being on the head at the back of the skull. That knocked me over for a while; I also got eight blows with clubs, one paralyzing me, and I felt pretty well all gone. They also attacked the cart where my wife and 8-month-old child were. One ruffian made a desperate stab at my wife, but she warded the blow with a pillow. Another cut was made, but she stopped it with a quilt. My little boy of 9 had many narrow escapes; also my little girl of 6. Taking my wife and family away from the cart we left the horde to plunder it.

"Some of them followed us into the open, saying: 'We'll not let you go further south; we will kill you.' The little girl got a heavy blow on the breast from a large piece of dried earth. My wife pleaded to them, speaking of their usual kindness to children, and that seemed to have good effect, as they then left us. We next reached a village where we were a good deal better treated, the people giving us medicine for our wounds and also food and clothes for the children. One of my four little ones was away in another cart and these people at once said they would find her and bring her back. They were Mohammedans, those folk. They were alarmed at our presence and wanted us to leave, saying we all would be killed. The men, however, said they would fight for us.

"Regarding another member of the party, Mr. Griffiths, Mr. Goforth said: He had a revolver and it was broken in his hand by a stone at the first of the attack. He then got all in a club, and with his back to the cart, fought like a hero, keeping the swordsmen at bay although being badly cut. Mr. Griffiths used his revolver to frighten the mob and he, too, was severely injured. Dr. Leslie, who was most seriously injured, also had a revolver, his wife had been very ill for some time and he was guarding her when a fellow sneaked up with a sword and nearly severed his right hand, rendering it, by the way, useless for life, as the main tendon was severed. He was cut, too, on the knee and the tendon of one leg was cut through, making him lame for life. As for myself, I got a blow across the neck with a sword and a blow on the head with a very blunt one. At first I thought my head was split off, and for a day or two after found it painful to speak above a whisper. Dr. Leslie's wounds are healing now, and I expect my head to be well in a month. At first I thought I might have a chance to go up north with the army as interpreter or chaplain, but that hope is gone and I am going home invalided.

"At one time when Dr. Leslie and his wife were going along in their cart a man came up and attacked them with a sword. The doctor had only one cartridge left in his revolver, and as there was nothing else for it, he shot the man in the head, killing him. The rest of our party, consisting of three men and three women and a child of 1, had gone on ahead and they were held up by robbers. The women put their rings and watches on strings around their necks and inside their dresses and the ruffians tore their clothes open and searched for jewelry off with a truly brutal force. They actually started to tear the women's skirts off, but a remonstrance as to the harmfulness of such conduct by one of the party caused them to stop this. From the villagers on he way they begged food and drink, but none would help them. I sent word to the brigadier general of one of the towns for help and he sent out fifteen horsemen, but he really did us more harm than good. He told the people in a low voice that there was war going on and that they had no right to protect us, and then he went off to the city, leaving us to come on as best we could. This officer was the Chental Yin and his position might very easily have resulted in a massacre.

"I might mention, by way of illustration, that the Mohammedans in the village we had been at told us they knew the trouble was coming, but they dared not tell us of it. From the way the people gathered around as spectators when we were first attacked it seems to me that robbery was not the real object at all, but that we were to be killed."

ONE HORSE KILLED.

Effect of a Team Running Away With an Ice Wagon.

One of the ice wagons of the Oahu Ice and Electric Company met with a disaster yesterday about noon. The driver, who was delivering ice at Mr. S. N. Carle's Mianco place, Kakaia, placed his coast on the street. The truck blew the coast from the seat, striking immediately set off at a furious gallop, and despite the efforts of the driver ran down the driveway to the main road. By the time they reached the road they were going so fast that they were unable to escape the wall on the opposite side of the street, and crashed into it, breaking one horse's neck and throwing the wagon on the top of the other one.

Owing to the unskillful telephone system, word did not reach town of the disaster for almost an hour. As soon as help arrived the remaining horse was taken to the stables. The driver was uninjured, save some severe bruises.

OLAA ASSESSMENTS.

Mr. Dillingham Says They Will Be Scarce in the Future.

B. F. Dillingham and his friends feel happy over his mission to the states. He returns with all the money necessary to carry on the many enterprises very closely to his interest. He states that when the Olla assessment is paid at the end of the month there will not be another assessment for several months to come.

Mr. Dillingham while away, spent several weeks on the Atlantic coast, after an absence of several years. He declares that he is an American first, and last and all the time. He predicts the triumphant re-election of President McKinley.

INDICTMENTS FOR A SECOND TIME PRESENTED.

MOTIONS BY COUNSEL FOR DEFENDANTS TO QUASH THEM PROVE FUTILE.

Frank Barrat, Charged With Furious and Headless Driving, Tried a Second Time and Convicted—Court Notes.

In Judge Humphrey's court yesterday morning a second indictment was presented against Ah Chong for opium selling. Motions to quash the indictment and also a demurrer were overruled. The defendant, being arraigned, pleaded not guilty. De Bolt and Robertson and Wilder for defendant.

In the case Ishi Kuguchi and Ishi Hanzaburo, assault with deadly weapons, defendants pleaded not guilty.

George D. Gear was appointed in lieu of W. A. Kinney to defend Kane, charged with highway robbery. Kane, it is charged, lassoed a Chinaman and purloined the Mongolian's change and beer checks. Kane reserved his plea until today.

John Antone pleaded not guilty to passing a forged instrument. Kaulukou and Bittling for defendant.

Kaulukou and Bittling, attorneys for Kii, charged with malicious burnings, moved to quash the indictment. The motion was overruled and defendant pleaded not guilty.

Frank Barrat, charged with furious and headless driving, was tried a second time before the following jurors: A. F. Wichman, H. G. Blatt, C. B. Ripley, E. A. Dexter, B. S. Cunha, M. K. Kokobaki, W. C. Wilder, Jr., Wm. Chung Hoon, Wm. M. Graham, Frank Vida, F. H. Armstrong and G. W. Hayelden. In the first trial the jury disagreed.

The jury, after being out some time, returned a verdict of guilty.

Judge Humphrey said that the defendant was a man of large family which relied on him for support. The defendant received a small salary for his services. In view of these facts the judge fined Barrat $15 and costs.

Rose Miner has filed for divorce against Dr. Frank Leslie Miner. She alleges brutality.

Judge Hardy of the Fifth Judicial Circuit, Kaula, has rendered a decision in the case of Pehelo Akau vs. Iakoua. Kahau and Noy Kulihi a bill in equity to set aside admitting the alleged will of Kamaleulu to probate.

The allegations of the plaintiff were admitted by the defendants in their demurrer. Kamaleulu died intestate, possessing certain lands and without issue. His heirs were his widow, nephew and three grand-nephews. Takoua, a grand-nephew, procured a fraudulent will, which was admitted to probate.

Judge Hardy sustains the demurrer on the ground that an equity court has no jurisdiction to revoke a will. Several authorities are cited in support of the judge's contention.

CANE SUGAR TO BE DETHRONED.

Ever since it was founded The Republican has been urging the cultivation of diversified crops in Hawaii. It has, so far as it could, pointed out the profits to be made from raising small fruits and vegetables for the markets of the mainland. Now that the duty is removed, all these products can be landed at San Francisco at a large profit. It has pointed out the fact that alfalfa and other food products for animals which are now shipped from the coast can be raised here to the immense profit of the grower.

In the face of the great prosperity of Hawaii as a sugar producer it is making a broad assertion to say that what is now Hawaii's great staple and source of profit will within a few years be her ruin if conditions do not rapidly change, but such is the fact, nevertheless. We do not wish to see an alarmist, but the time is fast approaching when Hawaii must turn her land to the cultivation of other crops than sugar cane. Sugar cane will always be a staple in this Territory because of the peculiar fitness of the soil, but some of the land must be devoted to other products.

As cotton was king in the South before the civil war, so is sugar king in Hawaii now. The result of the South only having one product was quickly seen when the war came on and the ports were blockaded. A southern writer in the Century in 1888, in describing the conditions in the South in the second year of the war, said that even the salt wells had not been developed and salt became a luxury. Rich as the South was in natural resources of iron and coal, the mines had not been developed, and not until 1864 was a small iron furnace in operation where Anniston, Ala., now stands. Factories of all kinds had been neglected and wagons and gun carriages were hard to secure. The South felt the effect of having given over all her energies to the cultivation of cotton to the exclusion of other industries.

The Republican publishes on another page today a summary of the sugar beet crops in seventeen states of the union as compiled by the Louisiana Planter. They show that the sugar beet industry is going ahead with leaps and bounds. The time is fast approaching when the United States will produce all the sugar it uses, aside from the manufacture of certain grades of candies, from the beet. The August number of the Beet Sugar Gazette contains letters from correspondents at twenty-five different factories in the United States from twelve different states, all of which speak in glowing terms of the good crops this year and the promise of more farmers in the vicinity to go into the cultivation of sugar beets.

These factories are located in districts where sugar beets will pay better than any other crop. They have not the advantages possessed by land owners in Hawaii, who can supplant sugar cane with oranges, limes, bananas, grapes, lemons, avocado pears, guavas and other fruits, not to mention garden vegetables which will yield as handsome, if not better, returns than sugar cane.

The Gazette further shows that new sugar factories are to be established in five states, notably North and South Dakota, Wisconsin, Michigan and Oregon. With all this growth in the beet sugar industry in the states growers in this Territory will do well to begin devoting some of the land in their possession to the production of other crops. Experiment with them, if nothing else, so as to take up what promises to be the most profitable when the day comes for a change, as come it will.

ONE OF HAWAII'S BLUE LAWS.

There will be much work for the first legislature of Hawaii and it would seem at this time that with the great amount of needed legislation it would be well for the governor to call the legislature in extra session at the earliest possible date following the regular election in November. The Republican's correspondent at Walluku calls attention to the fact that one of the old blue laws of Hawaii is still in force on the statute books. Had this matter been called to any one's attention in the ordinary way it would not have been believed, for such a law would have seemed too preposterous for belief. Yet it is on the statutes and an attempt has been made to enforce it.

The particular blue law referred to is to be found in chapter 56 of the Penal Code of Hawaii and reads:

"Upon the sworn complaint before any judge of a court of record, or district magistrate, by any party, that his wife has, without cause, forsaken his bed and board and refused and still refuses to cohabit with him, . . . such justice may issue a warrant to apprehend and bring before him the party so complained of. . . . If the offending party refuse to return and perform the duties of the marriage contract, she may be punished by imprisonment at hard labor for a term not exceeding one month, in the discretion of the judge."

It remained for a Japanese slave driver to endeavor to enforce this law against a wife, who had run away from his ill-treatment and worse. What must have been the nature of the mind of the man who introduced such a law into a legislature or the minds of the men who voted for the passage of such an infamous measure? It will be the duty of the first legislature to quickly wipe from the statute books not only this law but all others of a similar nature. Let it go forth that the days of blue laws in Hawaii have gone never to return, just as they have in other sections of the United States.

What with the powers of the district magistrate, circumscribed as they evidently are, under the constitution of the United States, it will be necessary for the first legislature to at once proceed to pass legislation providing for county and municipal governments, for jails and workhouses and for the turning of the Oahu prisons into a penitentiary, which it already is, so far as its rules and regulations and the treatment of prisoners confined there can make it. As was pointed out in the libel case against the editor of The Republican, argued in the district magistrate's court yesterday, the Supreme Court of the United States makes a distinction between jail and workhouse sentences under city or county ordinances and sentences of a court to a penitentiary. The whole system of government in Hawaii is contrary to the American and to the English systems in that it centers all the authority and power in one centralized government, making no provisions for local self-government. This is Hawaii's misfortune and though she may suffer from it for the present, it will all be righted at the proper time and in the proper way. The events of the past week in the district magistrate's court have demonstrated as nothing else could the need of local self-government for Honolulu.

The Republican's first libel suit was short lived. It was thrown out of court by Judge Wilcox yesterday for want of jurisdiction, the complaint dismissed and the editor of The Republican. Now that it is out of the way, we give in another column the history of one case in court from the official records which will give readers an idea of the old way of doing things. The records afford many more such illustrations of the conduct of affairs.

Judge Estee is following distinguished precedent in refusing to naturalize men who cannot read or write the English language. The great Roger A. Pryor, formerly of Virginia and more recently a judge of the Supreme Court of New York, resolutely refused to naturalize any one who could not read and write the English language while he was on the bench in New York.

And so brother Kinney would like to have the grand jury take up his fight now, eh? Well and good. But we opine to the opinion that the straightforward business men composing the grand jury will conclude that it is a good idea for any man having a grievance to pay the expenses of his own litigation and not force the taxpayers of the Territory to pay his fiddling bill for him.

Several months ago it was claimed that the civic federation was at work on a city charter for Honolulu for presentation to the first legislature. Is it possible that the result of the Republican primaries last May caused some one to pull the strings which called off the civic federation from its work?

Judge Estee does not believe a man who has lived here five years and can neither read nor write the English language is good material for an American citizen. Right you are, judge, and The Republican wishes there were more like you on the bench.

And so Policeman Hanrahan is not an American citizen and has not been, despite his service on the police force since June 14th. Wonder how many illegal arrests and how many illegal prosecutions the gentleman has made in that time?

There may have been a time when the "naked form divine" of the natives may have pleased casual visitors to this coast. It does not do so any longer. The beaches ought to be cleaned of that sort of thing.

Some good work is being done in the re-paving of streets in the business district under Superintendent McCandless' direction.

The number of modern new buildings now in course of construction in Honolulu is evidence of the prosperity of the city.

Inter-island transportation should be lowered. The certain increase in business would warrant it.

ONE OF THE OLD BLUE LAWS CALLED INTO USE.

JAPANESE HAS HIS WIFE ARRESTED ON A CHARGE OF DESSERTION.

A Trial Before District Magistrate Robertson at Walluku That Attracts Attention—Defendant Discharged.

(Special Correspondence.)

Walluku, Maui, Aug. 18.—A case occurred in Walluku this week which clearly shows that there is still one old missionary blue law disgracing the statute books. It seems intolerable that any woman of whatever nationality should be forced by law to live with any man, even though he be her husband, for a single hour longer than she wants to; yet chapter 6 of the Penal code of this Territory gives the right to a husband to have his wife cast into prison for thirty days at hard labor if she leaves him and refuses to return, and for a second offense he may have her imprisoned for a whole year at hard labor.

A Japanese woman at Pala recently left her husband, as she asserts, because he had repeatedly beaten her, and she showed the marks on her person. This woman, she claimed, was because she would not consent to earn money for him by prostitution. She went out to earn her living by nursing in a family some miles away, and as soon as he found out where she was he had her arrested and brought before District Magistrate Robertson at Walluku, who said he had the law required her to go back to her husband or go to prison. She replied that if she were kept ten years in prison she would prefer that to any more of the life she had been leading with that man.

Judge Robertson examined her and caused some independent inquiry to be made into her case. A. N. Kopekai, though just back from his trip to Philadelphia and loaded with arrears of business, volunteered to defend the woman for nothing, and did so, though the case occupied nearly two days of court fighting in court. The husband's attorney, Mr. Cooke, to save his case, but the honor and the fee were declined. However, he secured the services of an attorney and put up a strong fight for the recovery of his estate. Luckily the judge was a man and he found enough evidence on the side of the woman to warrant him in refusing to return her to her legal owner, although it was known that probably a preference on her part for another man had something to do with her rebellion against her legal lord and master.

The decision of the judge came as a great surprise to the husband's party, and an immediate appeal was noted and perfected and a strong attempt was made to have the woman kept in jail until the December term of court at Lahaina. Mr. Kopekai, however, stood manfully to his guns and threatened all kinds of things if his client was not liberated, which she finally was, and she is now with friends and free.

Captain Bamberg of the Salvation Army and others took a strong interest in the case and it has been quite a cause celebre in this quiet old town. The act of congress that admitted Hawaii as a Territory wiped out quite a number of the objectionable and un-American laws, but chapter 56 was evidently overlooked and should have immediate attention from the next legislature.

To compel a woman to live with a man she deserts, under penalty of imprisonment, is undoubtedly unconstitutional, yet as the law stands any ignorant magistrate can still impose such sentences, and the sufferer, to obtain redress, would have to face the expense and trouble of an appeal to a higher court and meanwhile, perhaps, stay in prison for months waiting till the appeal could be heard.

Truly, the paternal missionary fathers made some curious statutes. Just think for a moment of any Japanese procurer being able to invoke the law of the land to aid him in his nefarious proceedings.

WHY HILO REALLY LAUGHS.

The Capital of Hawaii Island Grows Sarcastic.

(From the Hilo Herald.)

The auditor general of the Territory, H. C. Austin, doesn't feel like passing (favorably) upon a bill of about seventy dollars, incurred by the health department here in attempting (quite unsuccessfully) to guard against the plague in Hilo. It seems that the bill was incurred in employing a Kanaka (quite unworthy individual, of course) to remove various forms of filth on lower Front street. Whether the auditor general will in course of time and under the influence of a sufficient number of cocktails, prepared in the cocktail shaker previously furnished out of board of health funds, consent to pass a bill of this magnitude, contracted for such an irrelevant purpose as removing filth from lower Front street, is still a matter of doubt. The more optimistic and childlike believe that he will. The department in general at Honolulu seem inclined to look with suspicion upon any expenditure for objects not advertised in the government sheet. That is, they look thus upon them when they concern any portion of the Territory outside of Honolulu. Otherwise they find difficulty in auditing them—soon enough. It seems rather strange that when the money bags of the treasury were exhausted (and nobody knows how much more) to keep an army of loafers on alleged sanitary duty in Honolulu for months, that a small bill like this for preventive measures in Hilo is refused on the ground of no funds.

AND HILO FILES A KICK.

Thinks Honolulu Gets More Than Its Share of Filth.

The Hawaiian Herald says: "When one considers the fact that Honolulu has spent more money on public improvements during 1900 than for four years previous, loose stones which have been lying in front of the post-office for eight months past rise as a mountain before the eyes of the Hilo taxpayers."

THE SUGAR BEET AND ITS CULTIVATION.

Great Increase in Acreage Throughout
the Union.

FACTORIES IN MANY STATES.

FAST BECOMING ONE OF THE LEADING CROPS OF
THE FARMER.

Summary of Crop Reports From Seventeen States Show That Production This Year Will Be Very Large.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Aug. 9.—That the beet sugar industry is growing by leaps and bounds is well shown by a summary published in the last number of the Louisiana Planter. This summary is made up from the crop reports of seventeen states, and not only shows that beet sugar will soon be an important factor in the American market, but that the farmers are reaping unknown profits from its cultivation.
The various summaries for the states are:

OHIO—The bulletin lately issued by the Ohio agricultural experiment station gives a full account of the experiments in beet raising in that state up to date. By these experiments it is demonstrated that the northern portion of the state is the most advantageous for the raising of the beet. The best results were obtained in the early April sowing which proved to be the best sowing period. However, the farmers will have to experiment still further and show that a competent supply of beets will be assured before capital can be attracted to the cultivation of the beet. The experiments in the new beet factory at Fremont is progressing rapidly and all the outside buildings are finished, while the steel frames of the main buildings are completed and the brick work progressing rapidly. It is anticipated that the factory will be ready early in September. The beets for the factory are doing excellently, although a little backward in growth, but increasing rapidly in size the past few weeks. The company has 2,000 acres of beets planted, of which 2,000 acres have a splendid stand and the rest is said to be fairly good.

UTAH—This state turns out annually about 10,000,000 pounds of white sugar.
The factory at Lehi is equipped with 22 miles of piping, through which the beet juice is pumped from the various sub-stations near the beet farms to the factory. The piping between the main junction and main station and Lehi will probably be used also for transferring irrigating water to Lehi, where it is very scarce.

ILLINOIS—The Illinois Sugar Refining Company has this year about 7,000 acres of beets contracted for their factory at Pekin, 2,000 acres of which are in the states of Indiana and Iowa. The Pekin factory has been equipped with a glucose plant and will manufacture that product during the months when the factory is not handling beets. The addition of a glucose plant has given rise to an erroneous report that the factory would abandon beet sugar. Mr.
Herget, the vice-president of the company, has stated that instead of abandoning beet sugar manufacture they intend going into the business of an increased scale and already have plans on foot for an increased acreage next year. The season has been very favorable for the growth of beets, with enough rain and cool nights, and the crop is now laid by. The Pekin factory will commence the manufacturing campaign about September 10th. The new superintendent of the factory is Prof.
State Agricultural College. An experiment has been made by the Illinois Sugar Company, with the results in favor of the Americans, although experienced Russian beet growers have brought from Nebraska for the work and it is reported that next season American labor will be exclusively used. Mr. Pulaski is experimenting with sugar beets and the crop is found profitable in that section.

NEW YORK—The Sugar Beet Sugar Works have applied for space at the Pan-American Exposition for an exhibit. From North Lyons comes the report of an advanced crop. The Wayne County Sugar Beet Company has been organized with a capital of $25,000. The company's object is to purchase, raise and deal in sugar beets and other farm products. The Hon. Gen. Genthman says in regard to this corporation that it is a question whether the state will tolerate a corporation acting as middle man between the factory and grower, the real intent of the sugar law to encourage farmers and a corporation raised beets for the factory a very prominent crop in Wayne county, and the crop is reported as having been extensively benefited by the recent rains, and a good harvest anticipated.

MICHIGAN—The installation of 24
new osmose plants for the Michigan Beet Sugar Company at Bay City has been under the supervision of Mr. Holly Vallez, the superintendent of the Lehi, Utah, sugar factory. The machinery was manufactured in Utah under the direction of Mr. Vallez. He reports the crop prospects as being extremely promising in Michigan. It is said that the farmers in the vicinity of Bay City had considerable trouble in securing sufficient help to weed their beets. The state of Michigan is producing itself on its great progress in the sugar industry, having made 110,000 tons of beet sugar this year, while two years ago the industry was but in its infancy. The state produces 75 per cent of its home consumption of sugar.
A combination hay and sugar beet was on hand on the market in Bay City.
The Bay City Sugar Company has also adopted the osmose process and is shipping its dried pulp abroad for cattle food. The farmers furnish beets to the Pioneer Sugar Company are desiring $4.50 per ton in stead of $4, as arranged for in previous contracts. Another factory may be erected in West Bay City. The average succharine test of Michigan beets last year showed them to be a little above 13 per cent. The beet farmers in Kalamazo and adjacent counties are confiding on big profits this year from the beet crop in Michigan. The factory at Marate City is hastening towards completion, and under various of machinery have already arrived on the ground.

INDIANA—The farmers in White county have a large acreage of beets this year, owing to the failure of the crop in that county is good.

COLORADO—The prospects for the beet crop at Rocky Mountain are reported to be auspicious, and to be the most ever known by the American beet sugar Company in its long experience.
The company has already ordered one farmer to plant for his crop of beets on thirty acres of land, beets sown in length are already being planted in from the beets as specimens. On account of this one project, the company is willing to advance the cost of the beets, necessary to raise their beets, and every week brings additional reports of crops forwarded to the company. Sugar City, just laid out six months ago, has now a $20,000 hotel and over one hundred new houses during the past two months. There is a large demand for mechanics for the factory of the National Beet Sugar Company at Sugar City. From $20,000 to $30,000 is monthly paid out for labor, the company and the factory contractors between them employing more than 1,000 people, and more are wanted. The Colorado Sugar Manufacturing Company has announced that they have been circulating that the best stands of beets has invariably resulted from masculine irrigation planning. The beet farmers report the crop in the vicinity of Los Alamitos as now progressing nicely since the beets have been irrigated from the same works, and that the farmers anticipate a big harvest.

CALIFORNIA—The beets in San Joaquin county have been sown by a single and will only yield half a crop, and this is due to the fact that the beets are being sown in the same manner as in the past. It is reported that in the best growing sections in the state, with the exception of Washington and California, are irrigated. It is estimated that the factories will only run from one-third to one-half their usual time on account of the shortage of beets. In San Joaquin county this is the second year the farmers have experienced this trouble, and they are beginning to be discouraged to continue in beet culture. The latter part of August will probably see the California factories in operation.
The Cinnio crop will be handled at Oxford. It is proposed to import some assessors from Manitoba into southern California, the assessors being considered by the Cinnio Mills as the best and thorough beet cultivators. The stocking department of the 21st industrial reported that the harvest of the beet crop would commence at Lodi and Newport the following week, and that a very short yield would be had, due to the drought. Less than half a crop is expected. The Anaheim Gazette says that it is four years since a good beet crop has been made in orange county.
The factory at Los Alamitos has not yet put one profitable run in its five years existence, the season of 1905-06, which was the best of the beet crop in the county. Twelve thousand acres of beets were expected in the early part of the season, but the estimate has now been greatly reduced owing to the drought. The factory at Cinnio has had unlucky for the past three years.
The beet fields that have been irrigated present a wonderful contrast to the unirrigated ones, and it is thought that the plan will become generally used. Weirs are used for irrigating these beets in the neighborhood of Los Alamitos that have been fortunate enough to get water.

NEBRASKA—The beets in the vicinity of Omaha have been and are. The factory near Hastings is reported as appearing badly cultivated, although the land was good and the culture would have been profitable. The factory industrial has 4,000 acres of beets under contract and a full run is expected.
The pulp will be disposed of to stockholders in the vicinity. The beet crop in the neighborhood of the Norfolk factory is reported as in excellent condition, and in many sections laid by.
The Norfolk News urges farmers to take a more active interest in beet culture, as there are not enough beets used in the state to keep the factories busy, and the News feels that Nebraska will lose its standing as a beet sugar state unless early action is taken to increase the acreage. The factory at Grand Island will not run this year, owing to a shortage in beets.
The factory at Norfolk has been improved and is now thoroughly fitted with the modern machinery, and is capable of handling more beets than it is present in sight. The News says that it is already noticeable that the company seems to be paying less attention to the Norfolk factory, and the beets are being placed in other sections, and it is feared that the Norfolk factory will eventually be shut down if the farmers do not bestir themselves.
The farmers' lack of interest is partly attributed to a feeling among them that the sugar company has not treated them fairly.

MINNESOTA—The beet crop in southern Minnesota is reported by Mr.
Heden, vice-president of the Minnesota Sugar Company, as having been underlucky helped by the late rains, and that a good crop is now assured.

WASHINGTON—The acreage in beets for the Waverly factory is larger than last year, and it is estimated that the yield per acre for this season will probably be double last year's. The weather conditions for the last month have been reported as being ideal for sowing and cultivating, and an agreeable lack of weeds is noted, which absence is attributed to the good cultivation of the past year. The Tacoma factory says that there are grounds for hoping for the erection of a sugar factory in Tacoma by eastern capitalists. It is said that one of the advantages of the factory there would be that it is not engaged in manufacturing beet sugar, it could be employed in refining raw sugars from Hawaii and the interior.

OREGON—The prospects for a large crop in the Grand Ronde valley are this year very fine, and a three months' run is predicted for the factory there.
The farmers' three years' experience in beet culture has given them increasing knowledge and proportionately increased their interest in the work. The first year the La Grande factory ran it handled 8,000 tons of beets. Twelve hundred tons were worked last year, and this year 20,000 tons is the estimate. The Yamhill County Reporter is dividing all who intend going into the culture of sugar beets in southern Oregon for the new factory at Newberg to and their boys to La Grande this summer for employment there, so that they may gain practical experience in the beet fields. The beet contractors at Newberg are making contracts with the farmers on a small scale six acres by the acre, with but one contract larger than 100 acres and two for fifty acres. It is proposed next season to have a larger factory at Newberg.

tent in Boise and Fayette valleys, the beets to be sent to the factory at La Grande, Oregon, for working, and in this manner a practical test may be made and the quality of the beets found out and the farmers given the necessary experience before a home factory is erected. According to the Boise Statesman there is no other section of the country where the soil and sunshine conditions are so perfectly adapted to successful beet raising as in the Boise and Fayette valleys.

KANSAS—The testing for the sucrose content of the beets raised in the Kaw valley will be made in about a month by Mr. Richard Hoodless, who is promoting the culture there and has met with wonderful success so far as tonnage goes.

IOWA—Beets in Webster county are reported as already weighing from one to three pounds each, and there being still quite a time for growing,
the season being only about half over,
the outlook is very promising.

SOUTH DAKOTA—There is a report of a beet sugar factory at Aberdeen being established by eastern capitalists.
NORTH DAKOTA—There are beet fields in Stark and Logan counties that for two years have yielded beets testing 21 per cent sucrose. It is reported that a beet sugar factory will be erected at Oakes as well as Jamestown.

It Saved His Baby.

"My baby was terribly sick with the diarrhoea, we were unable to cure him with the doctor's assistance, and as a last resort we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mr. J. H. Doak, of Williams, Or.
"I am happy to say it gave immedi-relief and a complete cure." For sale

ALONG THE WATER FRONT.

The China, From the Orient, Arrives Before Her Time.

OFF FOR COAST THIS AFTERNOON.

BRINGS MANY PASSENGERS ON THEIR WAY HOME FROM CHINA.

The Barkentine Wrestler Storm-Tossed—Torpedo Boats at Play—Shipping Tars—Busy Sunday—News Notes.

The China, from the Orient, arrived last night, one day ahead of schedule time. She left Yokohama on the 11th and took a little over nine days to make the trip. She brought a good many passengers for the coast, but only two for this port. She has about sixty-seven tons of freight for here and started in this morning to take coal. She will take 375 tons and it will be late this afternoon before she gets away. She will take about sixty passengers from this port for San Francisco.

Among the freight on the China for this port is a Japanese fishing boat. It came with every detail complete. In outline it resembles the boats built here by the Japanese fishermen. In construction it is greatly superior. There is not an iron nail in its construction, it being fastened entirely with wooden pegs and rivets. It is quite large, being about thirty-five feet long and six feet beam and about four feet deep.

WRESTLER STORM-TOSSED.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 20.—News was brought by the steamer that the American barkentine Wrestler had a narrow escape from being wrecked on her voyage from the Chemanlius Mill to Sydney with her lumber cargo. On July 5th last, when off the coast of Australia, she encountered a series of heavy gales, lasting four days, which caused the deck to lift and the vessel to lie on her beam ends. The crew had to heave much of her deck load overboard to trim the ship. The sea was breaking right over her, staving in the cabin doors and flooding the cabin, damaging all the stores. It also stove in and filled the fore-castle, carried away the jib stay and all the ribs of the jibboom, tore a boat off the after davits and started the after part of the deck house and flooded the sail room. The water got below and the crew, when they finally reached port, were exhausted by continuous work. To add to the discomfort the fresh water became so impregnated with salt that the men could not drink it. All speak of the Wrestler as a remarkable sea boat and say that otherwise she would never have made another port.

NOTES.

The Woolahra takes ballast for stiffening today. The thanks of the Republican are due Parker Jerome of the China for news favors.

The China has a very valuable cargo for San Francisco. It consists principally of silk and tea. The W. H. Bowden finished discharging this afternoon. Her place at the railroad wharf will be taken by the J. F. Brown.

So far but one damaged barrel of cement has been taken from the Duna-regan. It will take about ten days longer to discharge her.

The China was delayed on entering the harbor last evening by the breaking of her rudder chain. It took about half an hour to repair the break.

Wedding of Geo. B. Kluegel and Miss Nellie McIntyre.

George B. Kluegel yesterday became the husband of the accomplished and popular young lady, Miss Nellie McIntyre.

The wedding took place at the residence of Mr. Robert Lewers, on Ke-walo street, the bride being a friend and intimate of the Lewers family.

There was a prodigality of flowers and the wedding took place under a bower of them. The ceremony itself was simple. Mr. Robert Lewers gave away the bride. Miss Harriet Lewers was the bridesmaid and Mr. Arthur Wall was the best man.

Rev. John P. Erdman performed the ceremony. He stood in the bay window at the north side of the parlor. Over his head were festoons of maize, making the window appear very picturesque. It was here that he received the contracting parties. On his left golden shower, palms and maiden hair were banded up and arranged very tastily. Maiden hair and carnations were also piled on the piano, producing a very striking effect.

Those present at the ceremony were Mrs. P. G. Taylor, Mrs. Alice Brown, Misses Lulu and Jane Winne, Miss Harriet Lewers, Mr. Robert Lewers, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Winne and Messrs. Harry Penhallow, Arthur Wall, John P. Erdman, Ed Taylor and Henry Taylor.

The bride's costume was a very simple and tasty affair of white chiffon over white satin. The yoke and sleeves were tucked. A tulle of white chiffon was worn draped from the shoulders and added a very pretty effect to the gown. The whole dress was trimmed in passementerie, the skirt being ruffled in a very artistic manner.

The bridesmaid was in low neck, the gown being made of white organdy over blue silk. There was a lace bolero over pink satin, adding a very tasty effect to the dress.

In the interim, while the guests were waiting, after the ceremony, the Hawaiian sextette rendered an excellent program.

Miss Harriet Lewers and Mrs. George Paris received the guests. The following were the friends who congratulated the young couple: Mr. G. H. Kluegel, Mrs. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Winne, the Misses Winne, Master Winne, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, Mr. Ed Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Thurston, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dillingham, Mr. Arthur Wall, Mr. Walter Wall, Dr. Alfred Wall, Miss Alice Wall, Mr. Fred C. Smith, Mrs. Angus, Misses Angus, Mr. George Angus, Fred Angus, Charles Wright, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Paris, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Paris, Miss Paris, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Ewing, Mr. and Mrs. John Waterhouse, Miss Grimwood, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Gifford, Mr. and Mrs. Myers, Dr. and Mrs. G. Herbert, Dr. and Mrs. C. Wood, Dr. and Mrs. F. R. Day, Dr. and Mrs. A. Sinclair, Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Cooper, Miss Vestal, Miss Johnson, Miss Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Brown, Mrs. James Morgan, Miss Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lucas, Mrs. Alice Brown, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lowrey, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Damon, Miss Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Graham, Mr. C. Bellina, Mr. Geo. Mariner, Mr. Belsor, Percy Pond, Mr. H. Penhallow, Dr. Murray, Mr. Walter Dillingham, Mr. James Judd, Mr. and Mrs. Wichman, Mr. Perkins, Prof. Will Brigham, Mr. Guy Dennison, Miss Reynolds.

Miss Nellie McIntyre, the bride, is a well known trained nurse and is an accomplished young woman. The groom is a son of Charles F. Kluegel, a civil engineer on the Oahu railroad, and a young business man of this city.

THE DOVE OF PEACE ON FEDERAL RELATIONS.

Superintendent of Public Works McCandless Will Prepare a Comfortable Home for Judges.

In his absence Superintendent of Public Works McCandless had a change of heart. He has had a conference with Judge Estee and will do the work that the judge wants in the main courtroom, save supplying the matting and desks.

Judge Estee is delighted with this change, and yesterday was in a rather happy frame of mind. "I have just had a consultation with Mr. McCandless and am glad to say that he has determined that he can make the repairs to the courtroom that are in the main desired. That is, he will put in doors and railings and all that, and I hope to hold court in there this week."

Meantime, Judge Estee is unpacking his library, and under the personal direction of Miss Ryan, his private secretary, who is herself a most capable lawyer, the books are being arranged on the recently improvised shelving. The judge's library is a large one, including most of the reports of the states and all of those of the federal courts and will be found valuable to local practitioners. The judge hopes to be comfortably located in his new offices by the end of the week.

The rooms for United States Marshal Bay are being put in shape, being now in the hands of the painters, and will be ready in a few days for occupancy. District Attorney Baird's rooms are in statu quo, Mr. Baird being ill.

THE LAUPAHOE TROUBLES EXPLAINED.

The Hilo Tribune has the following correspondence, which seems to be self-explanatory.

Mr. Editor: Sir—Please allow me to make the following correction to your statement of the "Laupahoehoe Trouble."

The facts of the case are these: The Japs have been very surly and wanted impossibilities granted them. The manager of the plantation (L. S. C.), C. Menden, gave them the ultimatum of either going to work or to leave the camp and plantation premises and to go away. They had agreed to go to work on the Monday when the trouble occurred. Mr. Shore, the head overseer, went up to the camp to see if they had gone to work, and when he got there they refused to work and immediately after assaulted him with hoes, clubs and cane knives, inflicting some very nasty wounds upon his body, and he then escaping got out of the house and notified the manager of what had happened. The manager then telephoned to me and I went up to the scene and swore in a posse, surrounded the premises and took some twenty odd men into custody and brought them to Laupahoehoe jail. On the following day I arrested nine more men implicated in the assault upon Mr. Shore.

On Wednesday we tried them in court with the following result: Twenty-four convictions out of thirty arrests as follows: The ringleaders were sentenced to eighteen months hard labor, of whom there were two, one for one year, one for nine months, five $50 each, one $25 and the rest $10 each.

On the following Friday a general strike on the plantation took place, which fortunately ended without any serious consequences, as the strikers were told to either leave the plantation premises or go to work. They all went to work, thereby ending the strike.

Am pleased to say that at present there are no appearances of any dissatisfaction, and everything has again quieted down to the general routine. Hoping you will find space in your paper for the above, I remain yours respectfully, L. S. SWAIN, Deputy Sheriff North Hilo, Laupahoehoe, August 13, 1900.

HILO HAS NO USE FOR IDLE JAPANESE. THINKS THE VAGRANCY LAWS SHOULD BE ENFORCED AGAINST THEM.

The Second City Would Like to Be in Closer Touch With the Powers That Be—Mail Facilities Improving.

HILO, Aug. 18.—The Herald today has the following: "From nearly every plantation comes the report that the laborers have become surly since their contracts were cancelled in many instances they have given up work and settled in near-by towns doing principally nothing. For several years Honolulu has been infested by hordes of oriental laborers who live upon fallen women; this has not reached that stage yet, but is rapidly getting there and the people ask for a remedy or a preventive. There is a vagrancy law on the statute that is almost a dead letter, whereat it was enforced to limit the towns would be rid of the looting element and the plantations would have all the laborers they require. There is work and plenty of it for every Japanese who crowds into the alleged hotels on front street and some effort should be made to convince them that they are liable to prosecution unless they show some means of support. In order to obviate difficulty with the laborers many of the plantations are entering into contracts with them for growing cane on the cooperative plan and in one instance the terms are exceedingly favorable to the contractor, but even with this they do not seem anxious to enter into an agreement. As a rule the laborers were brought here for a specific purpose and they should be compelled as far as possible to live up to their part of the agreement."

The Hawaii Herald has a kick against Honolulu politics. The Herald says: "Honolulu seems to be hacking away at local politics with the regularity of clockwork. The press seems to be divided on the subject of local self-government, and the probabilities are that the opponents of the measure will win out. With everything in their own hands and an active council of state to authorize the expenditure of monies, a body which has come into existence without warrant of law, the people of Honolulu have a species of self-government that outsiders would be willing to travel miles to see. In Honolulu the defects are constantly before the heads of the government and a button is touched, and presto the scene changes, for improvements are made as required, here in Hilo the public is without a council of state and without a head of a department having authority to order repairs or improvements made. Hilo citizens marvel at the absence of the head or superintendent of the public works department during the investigation of wharf matters. It is now nearly two years since a representative of the department has been in Hilo and in the interval one bridge and a tow path have been constructed at considerable cost to the government. What this island needs is local government and the need is made stronger by the apparent indifference of the heads of departments at the capital. Hilo seldom asks for anything without receiving the merry na'ha! from those who have the power to grant it."

The postal service on Hawaii, said the Tribune, has not reached a point where island mails by an intermediate steamer may be dispatched overland the moment of arrival. On general principles the kick of a contemporary on this subject is correct, but in the particular instance referred to Mr. McKay had the Maui steam twenty-six miles additional in order that the mail might be landed at Laupahoehoe for Hilo. The steamer arrived at 2 a. m. and the mail left by regular carrier six hours later. This is a vast improvement on the old style, when a mail was occasionally landed at Pepee, Keo and brought into Hilo later by private enterprise. After January 1st the service will no doubt be as good if not better than it is on the mainland in places off the beaten paths.

Rev. Mr. Austin, pastor of the Foreign Church of Kohala, is the guest of Mr. Crusan. He will preach in the Foreign church next Sunday. Fujihara, the man to be executed September 21, has a death watch on him at all times. He expresses himself as entirely satisfied with his surroundings and says he is well treated. Mrs. John U. Smith succeeded Mrs. Nova Galbreath as worthy matron of the Order of Eastern Star in Hilo. Dr. Elliot's residence, Riverside park, makes a fine improvement to that part of town.

W. S. Terry will build a modern residence on his lots near R. T. Forrest's home. Chief Justice Frear and wife came overland from Mahukona and are guests at the Hilo hotel. L. T. Grant and party returned from the Volcano Tuesday afternoon. Chief Engineer Klingel of the Hilo R. R. Co., has gone east to remain about three months.

Rev. E. B. Hughes of Hillsboro, Ore., who was a passenger on the Falls of Clyde, has been a guest of Mr. Crusan. He preached an excellent sermon in the Foreign church last Sunday evening. On Wednesday morning Mr. Hughes started on a horseback trip around the island, expecting to be absent fifteen days. On his return he expects to visit Maui and Oahu.

The Japanese charged with assaulting the head luns at Laupahoehoe plantation have been convicted. Their sentences range from thirty days to eight-months imprisonment, with fines from $10 to $50. One man was bound over for trial. Mr. Crusan was a messenger by the Kinau yesterday for Maui, where he will spend a week and then go to Honolulu, where he is to supply the pulpit of the Methodist church for several Sundays in exchange with the Rev. G. J. Pearson, D. D., who will preach in the Foreign church, Hilo. The Japanese woman who was stabbed in Oahu last week Thursday night, by her husband, died on Saturday. The same saved the police the trouble of arrest by going to the nearest officer and surrendering herself. A model for all wife-killers to follow. Says the Tribune: A. F. Linder, who was head luns at the American Sugar Company's plantation up to the time that work was suspended there, arrived in Hilo by the Kinau and leaves soon to assume the position of head luns with the Kona Sugar Company. Miss Thedt, who has been engaged as nurse at the Hilo hospital for some months, returns to the Coast by the Falls of Clyde.

A Minister's Good Work.

"I had a severe attack of bilious colic, got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, took two doses and was entirely cured," says Rev. A. A. Power, of Emporia, Kan. "My neighbor across the street was sick for over a week, had two or three bottles of medicine from the doctor. He used them for three or four days without relief, then called in another doctor who treated him for some days and gave him no relief, so discharged him. I went over to see him the next morning. He said his bowels were in a terrible fix, that they had been running off so long that it was almost bloody flux. I asked him if he had tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and he said, 'No.' I went home and brought him my bottle and gave him one dose; told him to take another dose in fifteen or twenty minutes if he did not find relief, but he took no more and was entirely cured. I think it the best medicine I have ever tried." For sale by all dealers and druggists. Benson, Smith & Co., general agents, Hawaiian Territory.

To Those in Quest of A RUG...

To Intending Purchasers of Rugs we would state that just before the change in tariff we received a large and varied assortment of

Japanese Rugs

By purchasing these Rugs before the change, a saving of about fifty (50) per cent. was effected, which our customers are to profit by, as we do not intend, at present, to increase the price but will sell them, while they last, at the old figure.

Under these conditions, a buyer here can now purchase these Rugs for much less than they are sold for on the mainland.

We have made a display of these Very Handsome Rugs in our large, central show window, where their beautiful designs and harmonious coloring is sure to attract attention.

ONE SUIT THAT DRAGGED ALONG FOR NINE YEARS UNDER OLD COURT METHODS.

Should the old court methods change? That is a question to be answered by the facts; by the records. What is and has been the record of the calendar until Judge Humphreys took his seat? Take for instance the case of Mary C. Aldrich against Priscilla E. Haasinger. This is a case that originated in 1891. It was so ancient that even the records were set aside and its starting point was a mere surmise, save in the memory of the venerable clerk of the court. Originally it was the case of Mary C. Aldrich against W. James Smith. It was instituted on November 19, 1891, by injunction proceedings signed by Sanford B. Dole as justice of the Supreme Court. It seems that by will the original defendant "conveyed all right, title and interest in and to that certain piece or parcel of ground" situate in Honolulu, Island of Oahu, on Beretania avenue, "as recorded on September 12, 1868, on pages 227 and 228," the "same to be at all times available for a homestead or place of dwelling for any and all of my blood relations of or within the second degree of consanguinity." The instrument went on further to say that Blackstone's definition of consanguinity of blood should rule. This case went over, by one action of delay unto another, remaining on the calendar and undecided until a few weeks ago. Meantime the estate was improving in value and the excuses for delays seemed to increase with the relative increase in value. Thurston & Frear appeared for the defendant and originally C. W. Ashford for the plaintiffs. With the death of Smith the title of the suit was changed. It was in court nine years and would probably still be there but for the energy and push of Judge Humphreys. This is a sample case of the tedious and inexcusable delays that have characterized the proceedings in the local courts. And yet it has been said recently "the same cordial relations do not exist between the court and bar as formerly." Perhaps not.

OWNERSHIP OF THE LINCOLN BLOCK.

Suit Has Been Brought to Quiet Title to the Property.

IN NATURE OF AN ACCOUNTING.

GROUNDS ON WHICH S. C. ALLEN IS MADE DEFENDANT TO ACTION.

H. E. McIntyre Claims Right to the Block by Means of a Bill of Sale From Lincoln.

H. E. McIntyre has brought suit against S. C. Allen for an accounting. Plaintiff sets forth in his bill that on or about the 11th day of November, 1887, George W. Lincoln executed and delivered to defendant a certain document purporting to be an absolute bill of sale from Lincoln to defendant of a certain two-story brick building and leasehold premises situate on the mauka side of King street, between Fort and Alakea streets, adjoining on the Waikiki side the McIntyre premises, but which document was in fact only executed and delivered for the purpose of securing to the defendant the payment of a certain sum of money then due from said Lincoln to defendant.

That defendant entered into an agreement with Lincoln, wherein defendant agreed to, and with said Lincoln, that after full payment of all moneys and interest due Allen from Lincoln defendant would refund to Lincoln all moneys collected from said brick building and premise over and above said indebtedness, with interest, and also to cancel the document referred to, making the same null and void.

That on the 11th of November, 1887, defendant took possession of the building and has ever since continued in possession in receipt of the rents and profits of the building.

That plaintiff is informed and believes the fact to be that said Lincoln has long since well paid to defendant whatever sum of money was due to defendant.

That under and by virtue of a certain document, dated July 23, 1900, Lincoln, for the sum of $1, sold, transferred and assigned to plaintiff all his right, title and interest in and to the said building and premises.

That plaintiff has requested defendant to render an account, showing the total amount of the indebtedness, the amount paid by Lincoln to defendant and the amount of rent collected from said building, and showing the balance, if any, due to the plaintiff, but defendant has failed and refused and still fails and refuses to render said account.

That plaintiff is ready, willing and offers to pay to defendant any balance that may be found due him under said agreement after such accounting.

That said account is of a complicated character, extending over a period of years, and that the facts concerning the same are exclusively within the knowledge of defendant.

Wherefore plaintiff prays: That an account may be taken of what is due to defendant for principal and interest on said mortgage purporting to be a bill of sale, together with the rents and profits of said building, which have been received by the defendant.

That it may be decreed that upon the plaintiff paying to the defendant the sum, if any, which shall be found due, the plaintiff shall be given possession of said building.

Of Interest to the Ladies...

Few women care for the hair as they should. When the hair begins to come out they are alarmed. It would be much better if they give it more attention when it is in a healthy condition. The first requisite in the care of the hair is a GOOD TONIC. Just the kind we keep. Our Hair Tonic will kill dandruff. Stop the hair from falling out. Cure itching of the scalp. Make the hair soft and glossy. It keeps the hair and scalp in a healthy condition. Try a bottle and give it a trial.

THE COUNCIL OF STATE DID HOLD A SESSION.

SECRETARY RYAN OF LAND DEPARTMENT RENDERS DECISION ON LEASES.

Report of the Hawaiian Exhibit at Paris—Licenses Granted at Waimea—a Protest Wins.

There was a meeting of the council of state yesterday morning in the governor's office.

A letter was read from Assistant Secretary Ryan of the land department, in regard to the right of purchase of land. The secretary held that although the Territorial Act limits the lease to five years, these leases do not come under that head, as they are simple installment purchases.

A letter was read from W. G. Irwin, giving a satisfactory account of the Hawaiian exhibit at the Paris Exposition.

Action on the Leslie land matter was deferred until some time in the future. A letter from A. B. Hewitt, of Waimea, Kanai, was read, applying for a light wine and beer license. The application was granted.

H. I. Harrison of Lahaina, applied for a saloon license. On a protest being read from the citizens of Lahaina, the application was denied.

It was moved that the attorney general be instructed to ascertain for the council whether or not the legislature has the right to meet to fix a new rate of taxation, as the present amount of money is not sufficient to carry the government until January.

An application was received from Victor Hoffman, manager of the brewery, to run a pipe from the brewery to Kowalo ditch. As there was nothing but clear water from the drains passing through the pipe, the application was granted.

Those Plague Bills.

Auditor Austin states, that owing to the forced revision of the plague bills no bills will be paid for quite a while. He hopes though that he will be able to pay all the bills up to April by the end of September.

AMUSEMENTS.

The change in program at the Orpheum last night was well received by a fair sized audience. The first part entitled Uncle Rufe's Christmas, being well presented, in which Ben Wise did justice as Uncle Rufe. Jerry Mills sang a new song, which took the house. The Trocadero Trio, Jerry Mills, Chas. F. Alexander and Vincent Bradley in a sketch "In Trouble," was well presented and received. The show closing with a scenic entitled "Sweet Mollie O."

Refused Naturalization.

Jose Fernandez, an applicant for citizenship, was refused naturalization by United States District Judge Estee yesterday, because he could not read or write the English language.

FIGHTING FOR THEIR LIVES IN CHINA.

a missionary, describing Tientsin when it was besieged:

"Soon our command became a perfect hotbed. Our Chinese neighbors, whose houses surround our wall, people who had long known us and to whom we had often shown kindness and given aid, hid loop-holes in their houses and prepared their roofs, probably weeks before, and had armed themselves that they might take part in the massacre of foreigners when the time came—another fact that shows how long and carefully this had been planned. During Monday forenoon we were assailed by a shower of bullets whenever we put our heads outside, and there was a constant spatter of lead against the houses, as well as through the windows. The marines tried in vain to locate our hidden foes, but, being unable to do so, they decided that they must vacate the premises and join the line defence further down, and we were forced to follow their example. By a back gate we reached the French concession, and although our neighbor enemies kept up a steady fire and the bullets came uncomfortably close, they proved bad marksmen and none of us received a wound."

THE PLAGUE BILLS.

They Are Now Under Consideration by Auditor Austin.

Secretary Wilcox has approved and sent to the territorial auditor bills to the extent of $18,000. There are about $6,000 more bills under consideration before the board, but they have not been signed as yet, and their fate is problematical. It will most likely take the auditor a month to pass upon the bills that have been submitted to him already.

SOME NOTES FROM HILO.

Furnishing of the Japanese—The Mission of Mr. Cruzan.

The Herald, of Hilo, says: "I hadn't figured it out," answered the Early Riser, "but from what I read in the papers it would seem that Honolulu is getting more than it had hoped for, and Hilo is getting less. You remember the howl that went up from Hilo when the council of state appropriated only a few thousand dollars for Hilo improvements, and as a result of that howl the sum was increased to $245,000. There were some people here in Hilo who winked the other way when the larger sum was granted, and well they might, for the ministry went out of existence after authorization was granted for Honolulu and before Hilo got a bean. Now we will have to wait until after the next Legislature meets."

"It is a peculiar state of affairs," remarked a gentleman from the mainland, "and I do not see how you stand it. I spent a month at the capital and I have been here two weeks. It looks to me as though Hilo is going to be a big town after a while."

Chinese Returning Home. Sixty homesick Chinese applied to Commissioner Wray Taylor for permission to return to the flowery kingdom yesterday. Mr. Taylor looked wise and eyed them with suspicion. After finding that all were good Bow Wongs he gave them the desired permission. They will leave on the Gaelic.
