LIQUID SUNSHINE AND LEIS FOR TOURISTS REPUBLICANS CONGRATULATE KUHIO

New Land Found South

VALPARAISO, Chile, Feb. 12.—The French expedition, in command of Captain Charcot, who has made extensive explorations toward the South Pole, arrived here today. The Charcot party went as far south as seventy degrees. New land was discovered west of South Alexander Island.

Sea Is Giving Up Its Dead

PALMA, Minorca, Feb. 12.—The full horror of the foundering of the French steamer Chanzy came home to the people of this section today, when the bodies of the passengers and crew began coming in with the tide and were thrown up on the rocks and ocean beach. The single survivor of the one hundred and forty people who went down with the ship tells a harrowing tale of the disaster. Guards have been placed along the coast to rescue the bodies and protect them from mutilation as far as possible.

DESHA EXPLAINS HIS OPPOSITION

More Light Is Shed On Opinions Of Hilo

The Hilo Tribune has the following to say on the subject of a Republican campaign manager: The political tempest which stirred the quiet of Hilo a little over a week ago has now subsided, the feebag which was created when it was announced that Lorrin Andrews had been appointed the Republican campaign manager having disappeared almost as quickly as it appeared. As a matter of fact, while there was undoubtedly great disappointment amongst Buckland's big following, the bitterness which gave itself vent in the expressions that the committees should resign in a body was not caused by the fact that Andrews had been appointed per se, but was occasioned by the belief that the Honolulu leaders had decided an important matter, and one in which the Hilo leaders had made manifest their greatest interest, without deferring action until the advice from Hilo had been received. In the meantime considerable interest has been shown locally in the question as to what was really the nature of the opposition on the part of Desha to the appointment of Buckland. Desha returned from Honolulu last Wednesday, and he has given the following statement in regard to the matter: "I would rather that nothing were said about this whole affair, but I have been accused of double-dealing and untruth, and there have been so many rumors and contradictory reports that I think it best for all concerned that it is set straight once and for all. "When I came to Honolulu I was asked by some of the members of the Republican Central Committee to attend the meeting of the committee which was being held to discuss the matter of the appointment of a campaign secretary and to promote harmony in the party. I came to the meeting late, and when I got there

ROBERTSON CABLED TO QUALIFY AS JUDGE

New Federal Judge Is To Take Oath Monday

REPLY RECEIVED TO DOLE'S CABLEGRAM

Grand Jury Will File Report, Including Indictments Against the Japanese Poachers, on Robertson Taking Office.

A. G. M. Robertson will take the oath of office as a United States Federal Judge Monday morning, having received a cablegram this morning from Attorney General Wickersham, stating that Robertson's commission as the Second United States District Judge had been signed by President Taft and instructing him to qualify. The failure of the Washington authorities to act with more speed in having Judge Robertson's commission as Federal Judge signed by President Taft has resulted in the failure of the United States Grand Jury to report. This is because of the adherence of United States District Attorney Breckons to the idea that without two judges under commission to sit on the Federal bench the United States District Court is in questionable legal standing, and he accordingly had expressed doubt on the validity of any act taken since Judge Woodruff left the Territory. It is stated that when the Grand Jury reports Monday morning it will have true bills against the Japanese poachers arrested at Laysan Island by the revenue cutter Thetis in addition to the true bill that will be returned against Anderson Grace, the negro who has confessed to the murder of Watchman Miah at Watowai. There will also be a number of indictments returned against Japanese who have been charged with the commission of various offenses against the United States laws. United States Judge Dole plans an extended vacation as soon as Judge Robert settles himself on the bench, and is arranging for a trip to Europe.

CLEVELAND ARRIVES WITH 760 PASSENGERS

They're following the man from Clark's, that wonderful man from Clark's—at least, seven hundred and sixty of them are, in the large tourist party which drew up alongside the new Alakea street wharf this morning as passengers on the palatial Hamburg-American liner Cleveland, and there broke the first portion of a cruise and four which will cover a total of nearly twenty-four thousand miles by sea and land.

The second Clark party to call at Honolulu within a month is the largest yet. And still, Purser Buege declares that the Cleveland sailed from San Francisco at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of February 5 with sufficient accommodation for a score or more travelers had they been available. "We had a fine trip down with the exception of the first two days," declared Captain Dempwolf this morning. The Cleveland's skipper beamed a broad-gauged Tutonic smile when asked what was done concerning the alleged violation of the coastwise shipping laws. "That's a matter that is strictly up to Washington and the owners of the Cleveland" was about all that could be gleaned from the German officers.

THE HAMBURG-AMERICAN LINER CLEVELAND.

The Promotion Committee had arranged with a boy of pretty young ladies to distribute leis and floral tributes. It was a noticeable fact that few if any of the Cleveland party were overlooked. The ladies numbered the men in the Clark party by an even hundred, there being 430 women and 330 men. In the party are but six to arrive there on February 25. The Cleveland was in touch with affairs of the world through her well-equipped wireless apparatus. Western people predominate the Clark party. From the great plains and prairies of the Middle and Western States a large number of the tourists have been drawn. It was also a noticeable fact that but comparatively few young people were included in the touring party. The great majority appear to belong to what is known in the United States as the "great middle class," comprising leading business and professional men, farmers and ranchers, who by dint of early practise of frugality and economy have accumulated a modest store of this world's goods and have reached that stage of their lives when they propose to enjoy some of the fruits of their industry. Contrary to expectations, the Cleveland brought no mail, the consignment intended for the islands being given to the United States transport Sheridan, which is due to

CLEVELANDERS POST NOTICES

Following are a few of the notices, both humorous and pathetic, which are posted in the "Lost and Found" cabinet on board the Cleveland: "Want to sell across India No. 5, $110 each. Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Sigel, Room No. 109." "I want ticket to Benares and Agra for lady, C. D. Clark, Room 268." "Lost a belt with gold buckle. Return to Room 331." "Lady wishes to exchange a Darjeeling ticket for one to Benares. Inquire at Room 104." "Wanted by a lady the side trip to Benares. Apply to stateroom 580." "Lost, a gentleman's derby hat and a pair of glasses. Please return to room 489." "Lost, one gold pin representing a honey bee. Leave Mr. Clark's office. Stateroom 70." "Lost, nose-glasses with the name Perle L. Sagebell on the outside case. Any information kindly notify Room 251." "A lady and a gentleman wish to purchase a ticket each to Benares. Apply to Room 125." "Lost, brown grip, marked Eleanor A. Clancy, Room 60. If found in any other room, will passengers please give it to the steward." "Wanted to exchange Nikko Party No. 5 for Party No. 1, or vice versa. A. G. S., cabin 127." "Wanted by a lady, ticket to Darjeeling. Notify Mrs. K. Murray, room 555." "Several other notices, stating that parties had lost medicine bottles, cloth caps, hair-pins, etc., are to be seen in the forward companionway of the main deck. Eddie Fernandez returned from Kauai this morning. He has been on the Garden Island for some time but will probably settle in Honolulu now.

SPECIAL ELECTION IS REPUBLICAN DEMAND

Executive Committee Has Cabled Opinion To Kuhio

STRONG RESOLUTION CARRIED AT MEETING

Members Believe Prohibition Sentiment Should Be Determined Before General Election in November.

The executive committee of the Republican Territorial central committee this morning went on record as favoring the idea of a special election, to be called immediately, to determine the sentiment of the people of Hawaii on the question of prohibition. A resolution was adopted to that effect and a cable sent to the Delegate to Congress, informing him of the stand taken by the executive committee. In addition to declaring its stand for a special election to be called immediately so as to not interfere with the general election, the executive committee endorsed the two Republican candidates for the Circuit Bench named by the Bar Association, Henry R. Cooper and William T. Rawlins. The resolution adopted was as follows: "Resolved, by the Executive Committee of the Territorial Central Committee of the Republican Party of Hawaii that the services rendered in Congress by the Honorable J. K. Kalaniana'ole, Delegate to Congress, to have the voters of the Territory settle the question of prohibition for Hawaii thus maintaining our home-ruled principle of territorial status, hereby receives the approbation of this Committee; "Resolved, further, that the following cablegram be forwarded to Hon. J. K. Kalaniana'ole, Delegate to Congress, at once: "Respectfully approved, Committee urges immediate special election to avoid interference in November election. Letter follows: "CASTRO "Secretary Republican Party." "Resolved, further, that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Honorable J. K. Kalaniana'ole. "JOHN C. LANE."

WORLD'S FAIR COMMISSIONER HERE

C. H. Koster To Interest Nations In 1913 Exposition

Amongst the distinguished visitors who landed today from the Cleveland are Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Koster of Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Koster is the foreign commissioner-at-large for the New York World's Fair to be held in 1913, and is making a trip around the world to interest the various nations in this forthcoming exposition. Mr. Koster visited the Bulletin office and also the Promotion Committee. The World's Fair to be held in New York City in 1913 is in commemoration of the three hundredth anniversary of the settlement of the Island of Manhattan by the Dutch. Every nation will be represented, as well as all sections of the United States. The features and exhibits will embrace all branches of the arts and sciences, industries and commerce. It will afford a wonderful opportunity for the display and sale of merchandise, inventions and manufactures from all parts of the world in the greatest market of the world. The principal exhibition buildings as now proposed will number seventeen, and will be assigned as follows: Pure food, machinery, transportation, electricity, varied industries, fine arts, liberal arts, agriculture, education and social economy, manufactures, mines and metallurgy, States of the Union, State of New York, automobiles, aeronautics, history and arts. The size, plan and scope, architectural beauty and dignity of the New York World's Fair will be the importance of its object and of the city of New York. Special attention will be given to foreign exhibits. Following is a list of the officials of this 1913 world's fair: J. F. Graham, president; S. V. Hoffman, Dr. G. Scholer, W. O. Homan, C. H. Koster, Col. A. McArthur, T. G. Bergen, H. McElroy, vice-presidents; G. N. Moran, secretary; J. McCaldin, treasurer; Charles H. Koster, foreign commissioner.

TWO GAMBLING LOTS ARE ARRESTED

McDuffie and Staff Get Pai Kau Players Last Night

Chief McDuffie and his staff were very busy last night chasing up the pai kau players who have been celebrating the Chinese New Year all over the city. First a visit was paid to a house on Liliha street, and sixteen Celestials were gathered in. The evidence grasped by the police officer consisted of the usual dominoes, dice and money. Cash to the amount of $5 was found on the gambling table and the case was so clear that Judge Thayer had no hesitation in finding the accused guilty and fining them $5 each. Then the Chief led his sleuths out to Walkiki, and away at the back of Kapiolani Park, another bunch of nine pai kau players was located. The detectives had an awful time tramping through mud and water before they reached the house in which the game was being carried on, but eventually got there and pinched the bunch. Among those caught enjoying themselves in honor of the Chinese New Year was C. K. Charlie, the well known Marathon runner. Charlie made no bones about the matter. "Sure," he remarked, "I went to have a game, all same haole. Why not? This our New Year time, no pikika, five dollar poho alright." Judge Thayer listened to the evidence and then found the accused guilty. A fine of $5 each was the sentence, and the bunch paid up. Chief McDuffie has not lost a gambling case so far, and he always makes certain of having a dead-on-ashut case before he takes anybody to court.

IN BUSINESS CIRCLES

Prohibition has stirred the business section as well as the community generally more than any other single thing the past week. Prohibition would seem to be very little of a business problem for anyone, but the persons engaged in the liquor trade or owning stock in some liquor trading or manufacturing corporation. That is where things are not what they seem.

Prohibition means very much to the business of these islands since, if it is enforced, the inhibition of the use of what are classed as intoxicating liquors will give rise to another source of friction and discontent among the laboring population. Hawaii's chief industry employs a class of people who use intoxicants in one form or another as they would food. They have been born and bred to the use of drinks that are alcoholic. They would no more understand the prohibition of this than they would rice or black bread. Consequently prohibition would cause discontent, not among drunkards, but among sober and temperate working men.

That is one reason why business men don't like the prohibition agitation, and wherein it seriously interferes with the stability of business of the Territory.

Another all-important point involved in prohibition as it has been presented is the fact that it threatened to be a law passed by Congress, which meant Federal interference with matters of local administration; that is, an invasion of the rights of self-government.

This would be mighty bad business. If it started with the liquor traffic it might extend to other lines, particularly to matters of governmental administration that would result in the big people as well as the hot polio of the islands being governed rather than governing. That would hurt business.

These are the two principal sources of business excitement in connection with prohibition, aside from the personal differences and prejudices that always enter an attempt to settle the problem of what to do with the liquor traffic.

Popular Move.

An atmosphere of general satisfaction pervaded the downtown district on Friday noon, when the Bulletin extra, with its Washington dispatches, gave the first announcement of the Senate committee's conclusion to refer the prohibition question to a vote of the people of the Territory. This preserves the principle of home rule and non-interference, although it will create some right hot campaigning, should Congress finally pass the proposed joint resolution.

Stocks Quiet.

Stocks, as usual, are the pool about which most all public attention swirls. The market has been very quiet, when the price of sugar is taken into consideration, but very firm. During the latter part of the week prices sagged off from an eighth to a quarter in many instances, but there was nothing like a depression. Buyers appear to be holding off in expectation of a shading down in the price of sugar. The only thing in this line was a drop of centrifugals from 4.15 cents to 4.11, which wasn't enough to help the prophets of a slump, especially in view of the revival in the price of beets.

Sugar Prices.

The Bulletin on Wednesday published a statement from the sugar circular of the Federal refinery, showing that the shortage of European sugar supplies will be extreme and the refiners of that part of the world must draw on the sources of supply usually reckoned in the exclusive field of America. This means just one thing—firm and advancing prices from this time on.

One of the most conservative men of the Territory remarked that the average price of sugar for the season's crop promised to be 4.25. To glance over the prices prevailing for the last three years, this must be regarded as a conservative estimate. Figures of former years show that the season of low prices for raw sugars ended between February 10 and 15. From that time on it was a steady advance, holding to a considerably higher level through the latter part of February and into March, after which it jumped irregularly, but always advanced.

Comparison of this year's prices with those prevailing at the same date last year brings out the fact that we are now getting over seven dollars a ton more than last year, and this on the total crop of the islands represents a matter of four millions of dollars. Present prospects are that the difference to the advantage of Hawaii will be larger rather than any less. The statistical position should certainly create confidence and promote activity in the sugar stock market, if it be possible for anything to stir the town.

Stock Trading.

The stock list of the week started off with a sale of ten shares of Hawaiian Agricultural at 255, an advance of five dollars a share over the last previous transfer.

When things like this happen almost every month or so in connection with Hawaii's sugar stocks, the standing mystery is why anyone in Hawaii should put their money in anything else than these local sugar securities that can not be equalled or improved upon in any investment or speculative market of the world.

Ewa's Crop Estimate.

Ewa sold at 24.25 the early part of the week and sagged to 34 on Thursday and Friday. Someone started the report that Manager Ren-ton had changed his crop estimate on account of the low sugar content of the juice. This statement has been officially denied to a representative of the Bulletin. Manager Ren-ton has not changed his estimate. It may be that some broker has changed it for him, to promote a little trade.

Hawaiian Commercial has remained very quiet and very firm at 39.25. Honokaa stockholders held their annual meeting this week and elected officers. The report has not yet been made public, but the plantation is known to be in good condition. Nearly five hundred shares sold on Thursday at 23.25, but dropped off an eighth on a ten-share lot sold on the board Friday.

Hutchinson has made a very good showing selling at 18.25 and 18.37 in very small quantities, and not very active bidding.

Oahu Dividend.

Oahu has wandered between 35.50 and 35.25 on very slight trading. Stockholders of this plantation are expecting an increase to the two per cent. dividend next July or before, and even an extra before on account of the settlement of the damages of the strike that were guaranteed by the other plantations of the islands, and should be paid in the not far distant future.

Onomea is strong at 55, a large part of the buying in this stock being from San Francisco.

A few shares of Paauhau have sold at 29.25, the present ruling figure. Pioneer sold at 215, and on Friday 217.50 was bid, with holder asking 220.

Wailua dropped off from the sale at 130 last week, and a few shares went at 129, but, as usual, practically none of the stock is coming out, and after the bidders dropped to 127.50, they rallied again with no result. Reports from this plantation continue to be very favorable, and it is hard to make the crowd feel that the one per cent. a month is not coming this year.

McBryde and Oiaa.

The two cheap stocks have furnished the largest trading so far as the number of shares is concerned. McBryde sold at 7.50, sagged to 7.25 and then revived again. One of the interesting rumors of the week is that Politz bought the two thousand shares of McBryde which sent the stock to eight dollars after a talk with H. P. Baldwin who had just returned from a tour of inspection. Mr. Baldwin spoke so enthusiastically that Politz bought and expects to double his money before the end of the present season. A great many investors are buying in this stock and "soaking it away," "forgetting they have it for a while," but "satisfied that it will be one of the money makers in a short time."

Oiaa, after slumping immediately following the flotation of the new bond issue, took a sudden spurt on Thursday of this week. Several hundred shares sold at 6.50 and then advanced to 6.75, where the buying stopped for a while, although the market was reported to have been cleaned of the 6.75 stock. Buyers of this stock are satisfied that with any kind of luck at all, this plantation should join the dividend class much sooner than McBryde possibly can. Its crop this year should be twenty thousand tons, and the expense of harvesting will be less than ever before. The plantation will save fifty thousand dollars in interest by reason of the new bond issue and its crop will go on the market late in the season when the highest sugar prices are ruling. It is not anticipated that the forthcoming annual report will show anything very remarkable for the year just past, except the important consolidation of the indebtedness, but one can easily draw from it the promising prospect resulting from reduced expenses, better care and plenty of labor in handling the present crop. Some people have formed the habit of knocking Oiaa, while others lose no opportunity to speak evil of it because they predicted its failure and have been disappointed. Those who have studied the figures and watched the plantation believe the "turn" has come.

Brewery Slump.

Outside the sugar, Brewery stock has been watched with great interest. As soon as the prohibition talk started the stock slumped and a few shares sold at 18. Rumors had it that you could get all you wanted at 10 to 15 but none of that came into the open market. The stock did however drop to 18 and rallied to 19. It will probably soon return to its usual figure and someone will have made a neat clean-up.

Oahu Railways sold at 142.50, which now appears to be the stable figure for the stock. Previous sales have been made at 145.

Bonds.

Some twenty-five thousand dollars of bonds have been reported during the week. The largest amounts have been Oiaa 6s at 95. Hilo Railway Extensions sold at 95.50 and one Wailua 5 came out at 100.75. Hawaii Irrigation sold at 101.

Dividends.

Dividends paid out have been the regulars of Paauhau, Hutchinson and Wailuku, totaling in all about eight thousand dollars.

More Immigrants.

Good prices for raw sugar are not the only reassuring features of the situation for Hawaii. The steady influx of immigrant laborers from the Philippines and home builders from Hawaii has put the plantations in a better condition as regards labor than they have been for a long time. Upwards of two thousand people will land in the islands to occupy homes and take up work on the sugar plantations within the next thirty days. Special Agent Atkinson reports over sixteen hundred Russians on the way and Filipinos are arriving by every steamer from Manila. The workmen are contented because they are better paid than ever before, and the plantations are able to keep up their full area in a first class state of cultivation.

Building For Philippines.

Much comment has resulted from the contract given the Honolulu Iron Works for the construction of a complete sugar mill turning out a refined product for the Mindoro Development Company. This enterprise represents the advance of men whose names appear among the officers of the Sugar

Men's Suits at $20

After all it's the tailor who makes a suit a success or a failure. The most fascinating style would be a fizzle if there were not careful needlework underneath.

That is the reason why our Suits at $20 are better than the suit you buy in town for more money.

They are perfect in every way. "If not you can have your money back."

Trust into the Philippine field. It is stated, however, by the Iron Works people that this is not a Trust enterprise. One of those interested is Charles Welch, who has important financial connections in Hawaii. This new mill is to cost about five hundred thousand dollars. It is to be built at the local works and furnish employment for our own citizen labor. The purpose of the promoters is to produce a refined product that will compete with the Hongkong sugar in the Manila market. The contract was given the Honolulu Iron Works practically without competition on account of its excellent record in constructing sugar mills that run well from the start.

City Engineer Gere has raised a point with the Mayor and City Supervisors that all plans for the plotting of new suburban districts should be submitted to and approved by the city authorities. This is a very sensible rule to enforce, if the people wish their city to develop according to a well-framed plan.

Honolulu is growing and an increasing number of people are not only buying lots in the suburban districts, but building homes and preparing to create the most attractive surroundings. All the real estate agents report very healthy trading and a steady improvement, since the recovery from the period of quiet always following the holiday season. Kaimuki residents are looking forward to the speedy fulfillment of the Rapid Transit's promise to provide for a ten-minute service in that section. The material is on the way and the work will soon be begun putting in the required increase of switches.

Tourists.

There is a steadily growing demand for the smaller furnished and unfurnished cottages in sections that might be classed as semi-suburban. This demand is coming from the new residents coming in and also from the tourists that have been dropping into the town by every incoming steamer.

A good share of the tourists don't want elaborate accommodations; they seek comfort and home-like surroundings, as for instance the Burdettes who came from Los Angeles. They wanted a furnished cottage and couldn't get it. They are not the only ones.

All the moderate priced apartment and boarding houses of the city are reported as comfortably filled, and the Promotion Committee is asking for those who have rooms and board to file their names at the rooms. Hardly a steamer comes in that a search does not have to be made for accommodations. The hotels are also well filled, although they could take more at times.

Hawaii's promotion work at the Seattle Exposition is evidenced in the large numbers of people coming from the Northwest on the Canadian-Australian steamers. The last incoming Moana left almost her whole passenger list here, and the railroad officials of the Northwest are beginning to give serious attention to the Honolulu business. This is proving the best tourist season of Honolulu's history and each following year will be better.

Manager Kennedy, recently returned from the Coast, announced that the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company has purchased a new freight steamer, the Cascade, formerly operated along the Coast by C. R. McCormick & Co. The Cascade is 515 tons gross and 339 net tonnage, and will be run in the inter-island trade exclusively as a freighter.

Tuesday afternoon the cruisers of Admiral Schreyer's fleet left the harbor after a week's stay in this port. Officers and enlisted men of the fleet were tendered several social functions by business men and society people and all appeared to enjoy themselves, though there was much work as well as play on board the ships.

Another judgeship is vacant and the Bar Association unanimously endorsed Judge H. E. Cooper for the position. The community is fortunate in securing Mr. Cooper's consent to become a candidate, and it is expected that he will be appointed if the President follows the practically unanimous sentiment of the people here.

The Federal Grand Jury has been investigating the case of the Japanese bird poachers brought to the city by the revenue cutter Thetis. It seems that the Japanese had local friends who will probably be implicated. There is no prospect of the affair becoming an international incident.

Queen Liliuokalani created a surprise this week by revoking the deed of trust by which a large share of her property was disposed of and put in the care of C. P. Iaukea, W. O. Smith and A. S. Cleghorn as trustees. The demand has been made for the trustees to surrender the property, and the case will go to the court. The Queen's memory is very bad and this fact will probably figure in the court proceedings. If the trust deed is invalidated, the Queen's property will pass to Prince Cupid and the children of the late Prince David.

The Bulletin's Washington service announced that the Great Rivers and Harbor bill reported from the House Committee, carried the desired amount for continuing the improvements of the Honolulu and Hilo harbors and also one hundred and fifty thousand dollars for the Kahului harbor work. This guarantees three good merchant harbors in the islands. The next will probably be an appropriation for some harbor improvement on the Kauai coast.

The Sugar Factors Company reports that by January 31 sixty-one thousand six hundred and sixty tons of Hawaii's crops had been shipped. About 16,700 tons have been sent out since then, and all of this has or is reaching the market above four cents.

The Mutual Telephone Company held its annual meeting during the week. It is making good progress toward the installation of an efficient service.

SATURDAY FEBRUARY 12, 1910

All that I am, and all that I hope to be, I owe to my angel mother.—Abraham Lincoln.

To Cleveland tourists: It always clears up in Honolulu.

Delegate Kuhio keeps right on getting most everything for Hawaii that he goes after.

If Mr. Woolley and the Civic Federationists are agreeable to popular government, then we are all happy.

"Thank the Lord for Darwin and Jesus and Lincoln and other kind, 'weak' people.—E. S. Goodhue.

With Honolulu United, the mosquito must go. That campaign is not involved in the prohibition issue.

Delegate Kuhio clearly led the way and forced the issue for the preservation of popular government in Hawaii.

Honolulu has one particular message for the guests arriving by the steamship Cleveland: Come again when you can stay longer.

This is the one hundred and first anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, the greatest American our country has ever produced.

Don't think that the last call for your car in the Floral Parade has been sounded, though you may be frightfully behind time.

Even Congress appears to have disagreed with the Governor on the fine points of the appeal to Congress for a prohibition law.

Honolulu was never nearer to being unanimous than it is on the appointment of Judge H. E. Cooper to the Territorial bench.

If it be the Hawaiians alone whose interests are at stake in this prohibition business, why not let them vote on it by themselves?

From all accounts, Honolulu is the best place on earth for people to land to gain favorable first impressions of a trip around the world.

No one can defend the evils of the liquor or any other traffic. It is merely the question of how best to lessen the evil that is recognized.

Hon. P. C. Jones declares that he has retired from active business. That's all right, but Honolulu knows he will keep busy just as long as there is a P. C. Jones.

Honolulu is sometimes ridiculous. To look at the stock sheet, one might suppose the people were fearing a spell of hard times and are therefore keeping out of the market.

They needn't feel badly about the Wilhelmna grounding on the first voyage. Old ladies used to say that a child would die a fool if it didn't meet with some mishap early in life.

It doesn't matter much whether Peary gets to be a rear-admiral or has to be satisfied with a medal. He has first lien on the North Pole, and neither Cook nor Congress can rob him of that.

That special correspondent who saw Chauncey Depew and cabled to the morning paper must have become tangled in one of Chauncey's jokes. He certainly fell down with a frightful bump.

Information on the appropriations proposed for Honolulu, Hilo and Kahului harbors came to the public through the Bulletin's Washington correspondent. If you want the news you must have the Bulletin.

That was a heart-rending ocean horror off the Minorea Islands. But Honolulu didn't stop to notice a little thing like the destruction of one hundred and thirty-nine men, women and children. It was threatened with prohibition.

Thurston can usually be depended upon to collect an array of suppositions put in such a prejudicial form and containing so much of misrepresentation that it immediately arouses the opposition of fair-minded men.

Though Congressman Hayes has secured a favorable report on his Japanese exclusion bill, no one is worried over any possibility of its being of more value than to furnish an opportunity for speech-making.

You may be sure of one thing. If any opponents of prohibition turn loose rivers of "free booze," most any prohibitory proposition will win hands down. With the traffic decently regulated, the vote will be as overwhelmingly in the other direction.

Let no one forget that the most ardent advocate of prohibition is the one responsible for designating local self-government as a fetish—"an object of worship by savages." There you have the real wolf, covering himself with the sheep's clothing of the grave moral problems involved in how best to handle the liquor traffic.

Attention of this paper has been called to the fact that the organ of government by commission made no mention of the fact that this is the anniversary of the birth of the greatest American. What could you expect from a crowd doing all it can to see that government of, by and for the people shall perish from the face of that portion of the earth designated as the Territory of Hawaii?

This forecasting what the special prohibition election will be like is in the same class with the prediction that business organizations would vote overwhelmingly for prohibition by Congressional enactment and that yarn about how the Senate committee was going to report favorably on the Curtis bill. They don't know anything about it until the resolution is put through Congress.

There are many white men in the islands ready to help the Hawaiian majority throw off the liquor yoke, but the majority of the whites will be found, very probably, opposed to the enactment of any prohibition law, either by Congress or by the Legislature. The white man is not the great sufferer from the liquor traffic in these islands; the white man is the great gainer, so far as money and lands are concerned. The liquor traffic is a white man's traffic; in its abolition in Hawaii, Hawaiians have nothing to lose and the preservation of themselves as one of the world's races to gain.—Thurston's Advertiser.

You will notice that L. A. Thurston's paper raises the race issue "right off the bat."

Let us hope that it will be possible for the voting population of these islands to face the issue as American citizens.

Abraham Lincoln at one time worked at the humble profession of a lawyer, and although not acknowledged as one of the brightest in that class of work, he usually came out on top in most of the cases in which he was engaged, through saying something witty at the proper time. One instance will suffice for the many which brought him victory.

In addressing a jury in a suit against a man named "King" Hart for seizing a piece of land from the plaintiff, Lincoln's client, he opened his remarks with "We don't believe in kings in this country. We refused that doctrine nearly one hundred years ago, but we have a doctrine in this country that we do believe in, and that is the Monroe Doctrine. When the kings of Europe attempt to seize land in this hemisphere, we apply the Monroe Doctrine to them and they experience a change of heart. Why should we not apply the same doctrine to American kings?"

It is needless to state that this great man won his case.

How well this applies to the present position in which the country finds itself. Gifford Pinchot has issued the warning that the raid on the public lands of our nation amounts to a threat against the right of the people to rule. Our resources are passing into the hands of the money kings.

It is needless to say that the people will win their case, as Lincoln won his.

It is well, also, that citizens of Hawaii should recall the utterance of this great man, who gave his life in the struggle that has been the struggle of the ages—"that government of, by and for the people shall not perish from the face of the earth."

Such a struggle is going on in Hawaii today, and it should be faced as Lincoln faced it—calmly, honestly, without malice, but determinedly, and backed by the bulldog tenacity of a Grant, who was ready to fight it out on this line if it took all summer and demanded of his enemy unconditional surrender.

CHURCH NOT IN PROHIBITION FIGHT

At a meeting of the congregation of Emmanuel Lutheran Church last night the address of Rev. Paul Kretzmann, pastor, was formally adopted as setting forth the position the church will take in the fight to make Denver a "dry" town says a Denver exchange. Neither prohibition or a "wet" Denver are favored by the church, but the "happy medium."

Furthermore, the address stated that the economical side of the question must be considered—the increased taxation which prohibition will necessitate. "Prohibition breeds sneaks and hypocrites," he declared. "I wish to make three points clear," said Dr. Kretzmann. "We stand not for the condition of the saloons that exist today. We stand not for strict prohibition, but for the moderate use of liquor. We believe that under proper regulations the saloon could be made as clean as a soda fountain."

He said further: "Prohibition breeds sneaks and hypocrites."

"The fight for prohibition in our city is on. If we look at the combatants we may distinguish three classes or parties. There is, in the first place, the aggressive party—the prohibitionists—who do not hesitate acting under the pretense of religious fervor to disseminate and enforce views which are diametrically opposed to individual rights, sanctioned by God Himself, and which can but produce hypocrites and sneaks if put into execution in the manner in which the prohibition party has always pursued."

"Then there is the saloon class, that party which for filthy gain would encourage immorality."

"Then there is the True Temperance party, whose members, standing between fanaticism on the one side and debauchery on the other, keep their sanity and sense of well-balanced justice and true temperance in the community without impairing the God-given rights of the individual. Does Not Consider It a Church Fight."

"We, as members of the church, would ordinarily not make this the topic for discussion in a gathering which at least has a religious aspect. We know, or ought to know, what the Bible says about temperance, true temperance and false temperance, and we carry out these instructions in our lives as citizens of the State. But the church has now entered the fight and has organized unions and leagues to abolish the liquor traffic, to prohibit the selling and buying and the use of liquors entirely. And the churches with their prohibition societies are expecting us to side with them in this issue."

"More than that, from their literature, sermons and other appeals, it is evident that a great many prohibitionists do not hesitate to make veiled or open insinuations as to the sincerity of our Christianity if we refuse to march with them under the white banner. We shall, therefore, discuss the question from the Bible standpoint and from the standpoint of individual liberty."

Will Necessitate Increased Taxes. "As for the general aspect of the movement, it is well worth considering the increased taxation which actual prohibition will necessitate. The fanatical members of the National Prohibition party would be very much embarrassed if they should ever be asked to name a substitute and equivalent for the income which is represented by the internal revenue taxes."

"Where would the president get the money for new Dreadnoughts, for the salaries and wages in feet and army, for the thousands of men and women employed in the civil service, for the pensions amounting to $150,000,000, if

HERZER RECITAL.

Lovers of the voice beautiful have seldom been entertained as they were last Tuesday evening by the series of songs given in the ballroom of the Young Hotel under the management of Hugo Herzer, at which song recital he presented to the public of this city eighteen vocalists whose voices, when raised in song, would be extremely hard to equal, let alone surpass by any vocalist from the mainland who has so far visited these shores.

Mrs. Herzer entranced her listeners with two selections, "Micaela Aria," (Carmen) by Bizet, and "The Nightingale Has a Lyre of Gold," by Whelpley.

Miss Irmgard Schaefer was as near perfect as possible in the three selections given.

The closing number, a selection from Verdi's opera "Ernani," was the captivating selection of the evening, the whole number of singers appearing collectively.

ORDINANCE NO. 12.

AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE CARRYING OF PASSENGERS FOR HIRE IN LICENSED VEHICLES, PROVIDING THE RATES OF FARE FOR THE CARRYING OF PASSENGERS IN SUCH VEHICLES AND PROVIDING FOR PUNISHMENT FOR VIOLATIONS OF THE PROVISIONS OF THE ORDINANCE.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PEOPLE OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF HONOLULU:

Section 1. Every licensed carriage or vehicle, except as otherwise provided in this Ordinance, used for the carrying of passengers for hire in the City and County of Honolulu shall be numbered, and such number shall be placed in a conspicuous place on both sides of such carriage or vehicle. Such numbers shall be in figures not less than one and one-half (1 1/2) inches in height. All motor vehicles shall be numbered as provided in Ordinance No. 11 of the City and County of Honolulu. It shall be unlawful for any person to carry passengers for hire in the City and County of Honolulu, unless licensed so to do as by law required.

Section 2. Every licensed carriage or vehicle for carrying passengers running at night, except motor vehicles, shall exhibit two lights, one on each side near the driver's seat, with the number of such vehicle plainly shown on the glass of each lantern in black figures not less than one and one-half (1 1/2) inches in height. All motor vehicles running at night shall exhibit lights as provided by Ordinance No. 11 of the City and County of Honolulu.

Section 3. Every licensed vehicle and every horse and harness used in connection therewith shall, when in service, be in a suitable and safe condition. No animal harnessed to any licensed vehicle shall be left on any stand or public highway, within the City and County of Honolulu without a proper attendant or without being properly secured.

Section 4. Every licensed driver for hire shall have a silver or white metal badge, with his number plainly designated upon such badge, said badge to be worn upon the left breast of the driver so as to be distinctly seen.

Section 5. It shall be the duty of every owner and driver of a licensed passenger vehicle to keep at all times a copy of this Ordinance and rates of fare in a leather pocket firmly attached to the center of the back of the front seat of such licensed passenger vehicle, with the words "Rates of Fare" impressed on the front of said leather pocket in letters not less than one-half (1/2) inch in size. Every such driver shall, in addition thereto, keep on his person at least one copy of this Ordinance and rates of fare.

Section 6. It shall be unlawful for any licensed driver for hire, when in charge of a licensed carriage or vehicle, to be intoxicated, or to use insulting or abusive language, or to demand more than the authorized fare, or to neglect, upon demand, to show a list of the duly authorized "Rates of Fare," or, not being engaged, to refuse any fare. In computing rates of fare, fare may be charged from the time of leaving the stand to the time of returning thereto.

Section 7. The rates of fare for the carrying of passengers for hire in licensed vehicles in the City and County of Honolulu shall not exceed the following:

The first question is generally, "I wonder how the tourists will like it?" Let's get up something for ourselves and see how we will like it. If this county fair proposition is carried out as suggested by Inspector Brown it will be repeated each year thereafter, for the people will find it the best entertainment they can get for their money. Will somebody give it a boost?

There is another feature which is found in every city of the mainland, but which Honolulu lacks, and no good reason for the delinquency, either, and that is the establishment of public tennis courts in Kapiolani park.

The game of tennis is one of the leading sports of the world today. It is a game that old and young, rich and poor, boys and girls, ladies and gentlemen can indulge in, and to one who has been accustomed to see such institutions in all cities with parks the size of Kapiolani it does look a little queer.

Talk about boosting for a town. There is a laudable out in the west end of this city who would be a most valuable acquisition to the Promotion Committee if she would only let me give her name so that they could get on the track of her and make her an offer to join the force of boosters.

The lady has a lady visitor from the mainland who is also a booster for her own town, but she ran up against a tartar when she started to make comparisons to the local lady booster.

The mainland lady is from St. Louis, by the way, and the other evening she started in to compare her home city with Honolulu, in which the Paradise of the Pacific was sort of getting the worst of it, when the local booster, who had stood it as long as she could, jumped in with "Why, St. Louis hasn't any capitol like Honolulu."

"No, that's true," admitted the lady from Missouri, "but—"

"No, but—"

"And it hasn't any climate like ours," claimed the local booster.

"And it is not so clean and sweet with flowers and lawns as Honolulu."

"I'll admit that, but—"

"And it hasn't any beautiful mountain background, and extinct volcanoes right at the back door."

"Oh, I know that, but—"

"Well, what has St. Louis that might put it ahead of Honolulu?"

"Why, er—it has—well, er—it has nicer peanut stands on the corners," said the loyal St. Louis woman, triumphantly.

Our idea of a close friend is one who is willing to loosen up occasionally.

SEATTLE ANGRY AT HARRY LAUDER

BETTER ATTACK BY A SEATTLE PAPER

Declares He Insulted Audience and Used the Shorter and Uglier Word—Objected to Remarks.

Harry Lauder, the famous Scotch comedian, did not meet with any great degree of appreciation during his appearance at Seattle.

The following account in a Seattle paper indicates that Lauder hasn't a warm place in the hearts of Seattle people:

"After his management had 'pulled off' one of the biggest hold-up games ever perpetrated on the people of Seattle—after he had been entertained lavishly by the Seatchmen of this city—Harry Lauder, the much overrated Scotch comedian, last night insulted his audience, insulted his countrymen, applied the 'shorter and uglier word' to those who were trying to hear him and incidentally made a solemn ass of himself on the stage of the Armory.

Not only was the three-patroling portion of Seattle annoyed by the people sent here by William Morris, the independent vaudeville man, but after being insulted and buffeted about and made most uncomfortable by the worst management ever seen at a theatrical attraction in this city it was made to swallow Lauder's silly insults and pretend to like the dose.

"Perhaps one-fifth of the great audience, estimated at four thousand, that gathered to hear him, could hear distinctly what he said. Not more than one-fourth could see him.

"At half-past eight last night three thousand people were still outside the Armory, wading about in the mud and trying to wedge into the tunnel-like entrance. It was after nine before the last group had been moved in the crush to get through the one narrow entrance provided for Lauder's people. Scarcely the first words had begun and the great audience had started. One by one, however, every eye of the audience found that they had paid their money for nothing—excuse us—for Lauder's great profit could not be seen. Harry Lauder was sitting and talking away with a big, wide, white smile, as if he were the only person in the world who could do it. He was giving up seventy-five cents, one dollar, two dollars each for society cards in a very short time.

"The first words he provided a splendid opportunity—bill—that goes without saying on the dramatic page of this issue. The Times calls how fitting—but that's not for now.

"It was a perfect and spontaneous crowd and cries of 'Lauder!' from the submerged four-fifths were a joyous time in coming. When they came Lauder got angry. He stopped and scolded. Then says he:

"I'm not going to speak one bit louder—if you're deaf that's your own fault." When Lauder spoke without accent and the attention of the crowd was strained to the utmost he could be understood. With a snarl he resumed his performance and, in passing it may be said that he probably gave the first few rows a very pleasant evening.

"At intervals the cries of 'Lauder!' were repeated. At the finish of the bill Lauder came down to the footlights, tightened up his belt and waded in. Here is what he said:

"I have appeared all over the United States—in halls as big as this—and this is the first time I have been interrupted. Now I want you to understand that my reputation extends further than the back of this hall! I didn't come to this country to entertain a few Seatchmen—it wouldn't pay me. I am an actor and a singer—I am not a roarer and I didn't come here to roar and I am not going to roar. If I can't be heard it's because you don't listen.

"I won't be dictated to by the people in the back of the hall that paid only fifty cents for their seats. I asked them if they heard me and they shouted 'No!' Then 'noes' was his!

"Now I will sing a little song and then when I get to Auld Lang Syne I want you all to join me."

"Shocked at Lauder's impudence and ignorance, dumb at his insults, the audience sat for a few seconds in utter silence as he began to sing. Then slowly the poor swindled crowd commenced to seek the exits and when Lauder reached Auld Lang Syne at last, few were left to join him.

"And for unwittingly assisting in last night's grand larceny the Times apologizes to its readers."

BURDETTE'S FIRST IMPRESSIONS
ROBERT J. BURDETTE, IN THE LOS ANGELES TIMES.

We discovered Honolulu at daylight this morning. The pineapples which form the basis of proof will arrive by express. The inhabitants were not at all shy about being discovered. In fact, they assisted at the operation. The native Hawaiian is warranted not to be shy. And the Americans shrink from publicity about as much as they do in the States, which is impossible. And the English residents—well, an Englishman you know, is about as shrinking as a dovetail sign on a London bus. So it was really no trouble at all to discover the islands, even without the aid of gumdrops, after we had found the people.

It was like coming home. For Bryant, formerly city editor of the Pasadena News, on his way out to Manila to take a desk on the Times, of that city, was a fellow-passenger. Dr. Paul Adams of Los Angeles sent us a welcome. Arlie Elder, formerly of the good old Times, now on the Advertiser of this city, came aboard before the health officer could get out to us. I think he swam off. And Mrs. Grace Tower Warren, once of the Pasadena News, met us at the plank and welcomed us with the beautiful garlands—lets, they call them—to hang about our necks according to the pretty custom of the Lotos land.

Say, man, you should see the Commentator wreathed with a lot of fragrant blossoms. He slid out of the automobile every time it passed a photograph gallery and posed for Narcissus. It is pretty impossible for any woman to look so vain as a man is when he tries hard to hide it. For the more he essays to conceal his vanity, the more glaringly it shows. While she, valiant of her plumage than a peacock of his voice, covers the fact under such a veil of shrinking, blushing modesty as deceives the very elect and fools the defeated.

A bountiful shower came up over the mountain peaks and scattered itself like a celestial sprinkling cart over all the island of Oahu as we came into the harbor. No more grateful welcome could have been devised for a group of wayfarers from California. When it cleared away, which was in about ten minutes, we asked a man about what he thought the precipitation might be. Before he could reply it began to rain again. When that shower passed on we began to make a Los Angeles guess at the rainfall. Just then another shower came up and fell down. Then we quit guessing at the rain gauge and began counting showers. But this grew monotonous.

The sun shines here also. There is more sunshine than any other sort of weather. Indeed, it only rains when it isn't doing anything else. Nobody minds the rains. We have seen but one person since we landed carrying an umbrella. And that was a soldier. They must have enlisted him in Massachusetts.

Even on a gray morning, with two or three showers falling out at sea where they won't do the least bit of good, and half a dozen sweeping over different parts of the island, where they are as common they are no more considered or noticed than a big-drum at a wedding, the next impression of Honolulu is one of delight—of tranquil content. Then, as the sun comes out and lights up the sea and sky with rainbows so brilliant that they seem to shine with a glory of their own, one wonders if there can be any place more beautiful. If it were not so different, it would remind you of Pasadena. But the Pacific ocean is a little too near by, also. Here in Honolulu it comes right up everything in the whole Hawaiian group or the atolls. But we will live here leisurely for the rest of the winter. It wouldn't be at all surprising therefore, if we never went outside of the city limits of Honolulu. Why should we, when we can go anywhere we want, any time we please? Possibly that's one reason so many men put off getting ready to go to heaven. They think they have a whole lifetime to attend to that. However, it very frequently happens that the man who has three hours to spare is the fellow who misses the train at last. While the man who is scared to death with the fear that he has missed it gets a move on and makes it. Therefore it behooves us, as the Arab says, to "up and Beoulin." True, the Arab doesn't say anything like that, but that is because the bounding beggar doesn't know the rich resources of his language for American puns.

Don't get the idea that there are no hustlers in Honolulu. It takes only a glance to see that it is a six-cylinder to the shore. At Los Angeles, you know, it stops at San Pedro. Or, rather, it did, until we annexed it. Now, of course, it comes right up town. When it rains.

For a resting place for tired brain and worried nerves, one can say in the first half-hour—and we have now been here nearly twice as long as that, that Honolulu has Venice backed off the Bialto. For Venice does not begin to be restful until you have Baedekered the last church of St. Chandah, which is not until near the close of your second visit. Whereas Honolulu says to you when you land: "Sit down right where you are. This is as good as any place on the island." And it is.

A friend said: "Of course you will go and see the volcano?" And the Commentator said: "There is no 'of course' about it. I have lived in Pasadena eleven years and haven't seen the Ostrich farm yet." There are thousands of Californians who have never seen Yosemite by the big trees. And other thousands who have never seen Mt. Shasta. We visit only the places that reward great effort and sacrifice of time and comfort. The places and things we can see any day we never see. If we were going to remain here for two weeks we would keep on the high gear night and day and see everything—a wireless and electric city. The Commentator does not wish to create the impression that people here do not work. He only says it is a shame to work where it is so much easier not to. That it, if it is easy "not to." A little while ago a faint voice, half smothered in a wallowing place of cushions, called to him: he said, "It's easy enough to work. That's so easy I'm ashamed of it." "I don't see how you can work!" but it's fearfully hard to do anything.

Work isn't the only thing. Sawing wood is work. But no matter how well or how badly you saw, whether you work like a tramp or like a wood carver, a cord of wood will only pay you five dollars. The hardest work in the world is doing nothing. And there isn't a town in America where you can get a salary for it. And if you did, you'd want a boy to help you.

ARMY AND NAVY

An order has been sent out to fleet commanders requiring them to order every vessel eligible for target practice to take up and go through the regular practice within three months after each ship is put in commission. The order is a confidential one, but it is understood to set forth the evils of the interminable delays that sometimes occur in getting ships ready for duty. Last year there were some striking cases of this kind, generally said to be due for the most part to dissatisfaction with yard management under the Newberry reorganization, and in some instances extending to several months of waiting. It is expected that under this order the Michigan will enter on gun practice within the next two months. It is urged that officers and men should, within the period named, be able to shake themselves down to work and go through target practice. It is pointed out that the New York last year, when freshly in commission and ordered to the Mediterranean at the time of the massacre in Armenia, went through her target practice within three months after she was placed in commission and made an excellent record.

The recent trials of wireless equipment on the scout cruisers Salem and Birmingham preliminary to the installation of the latest instrumentation to be devised, and in connection with a tower 1000 feet high in the vicinity of Washington, D. C., was not entirely successful, nor was it a failure. The two vessels took station at sea 1000 miles apart, and the nearer one to the Atlantic coast 1000 miles from Brant Rock, where the new instruments have been made and are being tested. Communication was established, but there were frequent breaks and owing to the rough weather, not only the wireless operators, but others on board were so sick that it was impossible to do anything like satisfactory work. Further tests will be made this winter when one vessel will be stationed 1000 miles off from the South American coast and the other near Trinidad. Later, another test is to be made with one vessel on the coast of Africa and the other 2000 miles out from the Atlantic coast, as we have previously noted.

The Navy Department has entered upon the method of recruiting by correspondence. Lists are made up of eligible young men in various parts of the country, and they are invited by letter to consider the idea of enlisting in the Navy for the advantage there may be of service to them from seeing the world and learning useful lines of work, including electrical and machine work. Capable and trustworthy men already in the service are relied on to give names of friends they may know at home or in various parts of the country who might like to take up the idea of serving in the Navy. The plan has been in operation for short a time to indicate how it is likely to work, but there is confidence that it will prove an inexpensive and useful method of recruiting.

It is proposed to establish four inspection districts for the Marine Corps one to include everything from Portsmouth to Philadelphia, inclusive headquarters either at New York or Philadelphia; one from Norfolk south to New Orleans, headquarters at Norfolk; one at San Francisco, for the Pacific coast and Pearl Harbor; the fourth at Manila, for the Asiatic station. There are now six adjutant inspectors of the Marine Corps. Two will remain on duty at headquarters in Washington and four will take station at the headquarters of the respective inspection districts.

Six Weeks' Summer Trip to States

With a Five Day Visit In YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK

VERNAL FALLS, IN YOSEMITE PARK.

Five popular women of Hawaii will be the guests of the Bulletin for a six weeks' trip to the mainland during the summer. The chief points of interest to be visited during this trip will be the Yosemite National Park, San Francisco, and places of interest near the great California metropolis.

At least five days will be spent viewing the wonders of the great national park, every point of vantage for the visitor being visited by the Bulletin party. On the way to the park and on the return from there, the party will stop at the Hotel Manx in San Francisco. In all from one to two weeks will be spent in San Francisco and vicinity. During the time they are in San Francisco the Bulletin party will visit everything of interest in the city. Mr. Arrol, assistant manager of the Manx who this spring spent several months in Honolulu will personally look after the welfare and enjoyment of the party, both in the hotel and about the city. This attention will not be merely a general one, but a most particular one. He will prepare for every day's visit there, pleasing means of entertainment, as only a hotel man can who knows his city as Mr. Arroll knows San Francisco.

BULLETIN READERS TO SELECT PARTY

The young ladies and the chaperone who go on this trip will be selected by the Bulletin readers in a great double voting contest.

Differing this year from contests of any previous year the chaperone for the party will not be selected by the Bulletin or by members of the party. She will be elected by popular vote as are all the other members of the travel party. The position of chaperone this year will also differ from that of any other trips as she is to be paid for the time she spends with the party in addition to the pleasures of the summer's trip.

Contestants securing one of these trips are not compelled to take the trip at any particular time, and they may go singly or in groups, and they may, if they desire, exchange the Yosemite-California trip for another of equal value. The Bulletin, however, gives the opportunity for all to travel together, if it should be desired.

THOSE ELIGIBLE TO ENTER CONTEST

The contest is open to every woman of good character now residing in the Territory of Hawaii. The only requirements in exception to that of character is that the trip contestants—the young lady candidates for the party must be single and the chaperone candidates must be matrons.

The contest for the election of the young ladies will be conducted as during the last contest. The Islands will be divided into districts, and the young lady residing in one of these districts must be entered as candidate from that district but she may be voted for or receive votes from any of the districts.

The candidates for chaperone will be candidates-at-large and will be nominated and voted for in all parts of the Islands.

HOW TO ENTER CONTEST AND SECURE THIS TRIP

LANGFORD AGAIN TO BOX FLYNN

FORTY-FIVE ROUNDS SHOULD DECIDE THE MATTER

"The Fireman" May Be Matched
With Bill Lang in Near Future.
—Australian Will Be Tough Proposition.

Sam Langford has been matched once more with Jim Flynn, and the contest is to be over a forty-five-round course. The account of the first meeting between the two is not yet at hand, and until the Const files arrive it is hard to say whether the other go was fixed or not.

Owing to the fact of the return match being made so soon, and also remembering that Langford was a red-hot favorite for the fight, it may have been another case of the negro's friends making easy money by instructing the dandy to lie down to Flynn.

That would explain Langford's defeat, and the return match may end in a very different manner to the go of a couple of days ago. Langford must be a bit better than the fight with Flynn would indicate, and the meeting on March 17 will prove once and for all what class the colored man is in.

But, then, how could a man named Flynn lose a fight on St. Patrick's Day? That, indeed, would be a peculiar thing, and all the Irish blood in the country will rise up and say it is another injustice. It is hard to imagine how Langford can get the better of Flynn under the circumstances, and it would appear that the negro will get his good and hard on the eventual day.

W. W. Naughton can not be fooled on the fight proposition, and his report on the scrap between Langford and Flynn should be to hand soon now. Then the whole matter can be understood, and if it was one more case of the public being stung, the matter will be made clear and the next fight can be summed up for what it will be worth.

The contest will never go the full forty-five rounds, and when that number of spasms is mentioned in a match nowadays, it practically amounts to a finish fight.

Should Flynn win the second match, his stock will go up a lot and maybe it will be Mr. Bill Lang, the Australian boxer, who will next meet the American. The Antipodean is said to be starting for the States in the near future, and whether beaten by Tommy Burns or not, he appears determined to try his luck in the land of the Stars and Stripes.

SURFING.

CLARK TOURISTS WILL SEE GOOD SHOW

WAIKIKI BEACH WILL BE SCENE OF STUNTS

Surfboards and Canoes to Be Seen in Action—Luau Cooking Demonstrated—Band Will Play.

If the rain will only hold off this afternoon, there will be some great doings out at Waikiki by the Outrigger Club. The Clark tourists will see some of the most novel stunts that have ever been pulled off anywhere.

The first event will start at three o'clock, and by that time the Cleveland excursionists and the general Honolulu public will be on hand to watch the remarkable performances of the surfboard and canoe boys.

Everything points to a fine afternoon's sport, and as the surf will be good around about three o'clock, the present bunch of Cleveland passengers should be treated to a much better surfing exhibition than the former crowd got a few weeks ago.

The Outrigger grounds will be occupied by the members of the Kamehameha Aquatic Club, and they will give exhibitions of the Hawaiian methods of cooking taro, pig and other delicacies. The visitors will be able to see exactly how things are prepared for a luau, and there is no doubt that they will be agreeably surprised if they get a taste of the various dishes.

Governor Frear, ex-President Dole and the officers of the Outrigger Club and Ladies' Auxiliary have been invited to welcome the Cleveland people at the big luau of the club.

Moving pictures will be taken of the scene, and the different events will all be snapped by Pathe Freres' representative, M. Bonvillian. The Hawaiian band will play during the afternoon at the Outrigger Club and, taking everything together, a most enjoyable time should be spent at the beach.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS WILL TACKLE COLUMBIA BUNCH

Track Meet Will Be Held on Tuesday, February 22, and Good Day's Sport Is Anticipated.

On Tuesday week the Columbia Boys and the athletes of the High School will meet on the field of battle, and races over all distances will be run. The track meet promises to be one of the best and most exciting that has ever been pulled off in Honolulu.

The much-traveled ones will have to be very good to have a chance of defeating our crack schoolboys, and it is hard to imagine that the Coast lads can produce anyone that can make Rice, McCandless and Co. extend themselves. However, the unexpected often happens, and if the visitors do manage to beat our champions there will be no one who will begrudge them their victory.

The baseball game should be a beaut, and in it the Columbia Boys should have a better chance than in the track meet. The mainlanders are said to play a great game, and in that case the local scholars will have to play in their very best form to win.

SHORT SPORTS.

The inter-school three-mile race will be run this afternoon, and the course will be from the aquarium to the High School building. The Kama and Highs will compete and a close race is sure to result. Maruichi, the game Japanese runner, will go close to winning, although Rice should make him extend himself. The start will be at half-past three o'clock and a big crowd with bikes, autos and rigs is expected to follow the race.

The annual dinner of the Hawaii Yacht Club will be held this evening at the Young Hotel, and all those who have not yet secured tickets are requested to call and get same from C. S. Crane at the Gazette office.

Tonight the Kalihii and Palama basketball teams will play a game at the Palama gymnasium and it should be a slashing go from start to finish.

The Pacific Tennis Club will hold a meeting today and all the arrangements for the annual tournament will be made.

HANDBALL.

SENIORS INCREASE LEAD IN GAMES

STUDENTS LOSE TWO MATCHES BY BIG MARGIN

Lewis Beats Biart, 45-28—Blanchard
Accounts for Ah Pau Lo, 45-14
Much Interest Is Taken in the Sport.

Only two games were played in the Y. M. C. A. handball tournament last night, and two others had to be postponed owing to the illness of the men who were billed to play.

In the first game Blanchard had an easy job with Ah Pau Lo, and the seniors made a big gain through the match going to their man by a score of 45 to 14. Blanchard was too good for his opponent, and the senior bunch looked very cheerful when the result of the game put them ahead in the tournament by 63 points.

Then the second game, between Lewis and Biart, came up for discussion, and the joy of the seniors can only be imagined when their man, Lewis, won easily by a score of 45 to 28. Biart played a good game for a beginner, and surprised the other members of the team who were looking on. He should do much better later on, when he has had a little more experience.

Lewis plays a strong game, and he went right out at his top pace when the game started. Biart played a plucky game, but was outclassed. He had hard luck in running up against such a hard man in the tournament.

The second victory yesterday gave the seniors an additional lead, and they are at present no less than 80 Waity Building, 74 S. King St.

points ahead of the students. However, the students are by no means out of the race, as now that most of the best senior players are finished their games, the school bunch will have a good chance of winning some matches by a big margin, and thus reduce the lead of the seniors. The present handball tournament is one of the best, if not the actual best, ever brought off in Honolulu, and the amount of interest taken in it is astonishing, to say the least of it. Some fine players have been discovered, and as the game can be played night or day, there would seem to be every prospect of the boom extending all over the islands.

A DAINTY TOILET ARTICLE.

Every lady who desires to keep up her attractive appearance, while at the Theater, attending Receptions, when shopping, while traveling and on all occasions should carry in her purse a booklet of Gouraud's Oriental Beauty Leaves. This is a dainty little booklet of exquisitely perfumed powdered leaves which are easily removed and applied to the skin. It is invaluable when the face becomes moist and flushed and is far superior to a powder puff, as it does not spill and soil the clothes. It removes dirt, soot and grease from the face, imparting a cool, delicate bloom to the complexion. Sent anywhere on receipt of Five Cents in stamps or coin.

WITH THE AUTO PEOPLE

The Schuman Garage received a beautiful Locomobile ex Lurline, and the car has been sold to Harold Rice, the well-known Maui polo player. The car is a beauty and has attracted a lot of attention from visitors to the garage.

The Velle car is also causing many favorable comments and Mr. Cutting, the representative of the Standard Motor Company, San Francisco, is in town, and he intends leaving on the Mongolia on February 17. Mr. Cutting is no stranger to Honolulu, as he lived here for many years before going to the mainland.

A new 1910 model of the Locomobile has just been received at Schuman Carriage Co. This car has been the occasion of a great deal of admiration by those who know the good points of an automobile.

Like any perfectly designed, perfectly built piece of machinery, the Locomobile costs more than the cheap kind, but automobile owners have long since learned that the well-built machine is by far the cheapest in the end.

Even though you do not expect to buy an automobile, the Schuman Carriage Co. will be pleased to show you the new model Locomobile and all the other fine cars in their establishment.

The Schuman Garage expects the Studebaker Flanders to arrive soon, and many intending purchasers are anxiously awaiting the machines.

Manager Seymour Hall of the Associated Garage reports one of the busiest weeks he has seen at the garage. The proposed additions can not be got under way too soon, as the place is crowded with machines and the repair shop is kept going all the time.

Three Hudson Twenty cars arrived and all have been delivered to the buyers. Arthur Rice took one, H. L. Kerr another, and the third went to Mr. Macfarlane. These Hudsons are finished in "battleship grey" colors, and they certainly present a beautiful appearance.

Several Chalmers-Detroit are expected to arrive on the next Alameda, and they are all sold to arrive. There is a great demand for the Kiesel Kar, and the hill-climbing capabilities of the machines are well recognized now.

The von Hamm-Young Garage presents a busy scene at present, and the extension of the building comes not a moment too soon. Manager Bodge is up to his eyes in work, and the whole staff of experts is kept going hard to keep up with the repairs.

A Pope-Hartford 40 touring car has been transformed into a delivery wagon for the Young Cafe. It is a four-cylinder car and is the only up-to-date wagon of its kind in the city. The car looks as if it had been originally built for the purpose it now is intended for, and the change is a remarkable one.

C. Reynolds has purchased a 7-passenger Packard from the von Hamm-Young people, and intends to use it in the rent business. It is a white car and is certainly a beauty to look at.

Clarence Cooke received a fine 7-seated Packard ex Lurline, and the car has been doing fine work around the city. A 2-cylinder Buick was shipped to a plantation man on Kauai during the week.

The Cadillacs are selling very fast, and no less than fourteen of the machines have been delivered to fill back orders. These cars are great favorites both in town and country, and it is impossible to keep up with the demand for them.

There is a beautiful Baker Electric on show at the von Hamm Garage. It is shaft driven, and finished in the best possible style. Quite a number of these cars are now in use in Honolulu.

A new make of automobile, the "Everitt 30," has been introduced by the von Hamm-Young people. It is a car that sells for $1700, and is built by the Matzger Motor Car Company, Detroit, Mich. The car possesses many new ideas that improve it in many ways. The piston and connecting rod may be removed without disturbing the crank shaft. Automobile men will see how much this means, and there is no doubt that it is a great advantage.

Returning from Detroit and New York with enthusiastic reports of automobile conditions throughout the East, Gus Costigan, president of the Pacific Motor Car Company, has arrived in this city after a business trip to several of the large motor car factories. Costigan, who went to Detroit for the purpose of securing the Eastern agency for the E. M. F. line of automobiles, in an interview yesterday said:

"I found the manufacturers all working overtime on their new models and, judging from inquiries from prospective agents throughout the country, the coming season will be the largest in the history of the industry. At the E. M. F. factory they are behind in orders. According to their plans, the E. M. F. factory will turn out 35,000 E. M. F. and Flanders machines during the coming season. We will get from 1000 to 1500 of these machines for this territory.

"Joseph Ollier, formerly of the Ollier and Worthington, one of the best known automobile men in the country, will arrive in this city Monday and will have charge of the country business of our new lines of popular priced cars. The Pacific Motor Car Company will be the distributing point for these cars for the coast, and this department will be in charge of Ollier.

"We will receive the first shipment of 1910 Flanders and E. M. F. cars Friday, and will be in a position to place agencies and deliver cars immediately after their arrival. The first shipment is coming by express."

That the airship is taking a strong hold on the attention of local automobile agents is shown by the general discussion along automobile rows as to the possible speed and durability of the monoplane. Practically every automobile dealer in the city is either planning to represent an airship agency, or is seriously considering purchasing one of the heavier-than-air machines for sport. A. J. Smith, local agent for the Elmore, has even made an airship a feature of his display in the Oakland show. The aeroplane, which is a small model, attracts as much attention as any other exhibit in the show.

One of the biggest real estate deals of the year and one with far-reaching effects was made a few weeks ago, when it became known that the Detroit United Railway has disposed of the property including site and buildings of the Woodward avenue Detroit car house to the General Motors Company for the use of the Cadillac Motor Car Company, the factory of which is located next to the barns.

The D. U. R. property has a frontage of more than 300 feet on Woodward avenue, being intersected by Amsterdam avenue and runs through to Cass avenue. At present the car barns are located south of Amsterdam avenue and the car yards on the north. While the contract has not yet been agreed upon by President Jere C. Hutchins, of the D. U. R., and W. C. Durant, of the General Motors. The consideration involved is not known, but the property is regarded as very valuable.

It has been known for some time that the Cadillac company was crowded for room and the acquisition of the new property will permit it to expand.

Aside from the sale of the property the important factor is that the D. U. R. will move its Woodward line car house to Highland Park, where the company purchased a tract of 20 acres on the west side of Woodward, just north of the new factory of the Ford Motor Co. This purchase was made more than a year ago on the anticipation that the time would come when the barns would have to be moved. It is understood that new barns will be erected during the next summer.

Proof that there will not be an overproduction of automobiles during the coming season was received by Calvin Sib of the Pioneer Automobile Company in the form of a telegram from E. P. Brinegar, president of the local concern, to the effect that the Carl Page Automobile Company of New York have sold their allotment of Chalmers-Detroit cars to April 1st, and are offering premiums on the Chalmers 30 and 40 horse-power cars to be delivered during February, March and April. In his telegram Brinegar also stated that he had made efforts to secure additional cars for this territory from the agents in Washington, Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago and Omaha, but to no avail.

"Instead of the manufacturers turning out more cars than the agents can dispose of, this telegram shows that the market will be more than strong enough to place every motor car manufactured during the coming season," said the sales manager of the Pioneer Automobile Company. "We have placed our agencies throughout the country in such a way that every one of them will be taken care of as well as possible, and each agent will receive his demonstrating cars as per our arrangement with them. I expect to see a shortage of cars next season, and that the agents throughout the country are of the same opinion, is shown by their refusal to dispose of any of their regular allotment to Western agents."

The magnificent trophy offered to the winner of the New York to Paris automobile race was presented at a banquet given last week at the Automobile Club of America to E. R. Thomas, president of the firm which entered the victorious car in the contest.

The New York to Paris trophy is the largest of its kind ever made. It stands 6 feet 6 inches in height and weighs slightly in excess of 1800 pounds. The materials used in its construction are all native to the four nations represented in the race—the United States, France, Germany and Italy. The pedestal is of green Italian marble, imbedded in which are bronze plates depicting interesting and momentous scenes and episodes of the famous contest. One of them shows the start from New York. Another is of the street immediately in front of the office in Paris of "Le Martin," as the mud-stained, travel-scared victor pulled up there. Still a third shows the cars which took part in the race in the order in which they finished.

The aviation race meeting which begins tomorrow at Tanforan is attracting a great deal of attention from the motorists of this city, and it is expected that several thousand motor car owners from the cities around the bay will journey to Tanforan to witness the contests. I. J. Morse of the Locomobile Company said yesterday that he thought the time not far distant when an automobile agent would have to sell aeroplanes, and declared that he was going to attend the coming aviation meet to prepare himself on the details and other requirements of demonstrating the heavier-than-air machines.

Locomobile Touring Cars

A congenial party, the freedom of open country, and a perfect motor car, make automobilizing the greatest of pleasures.

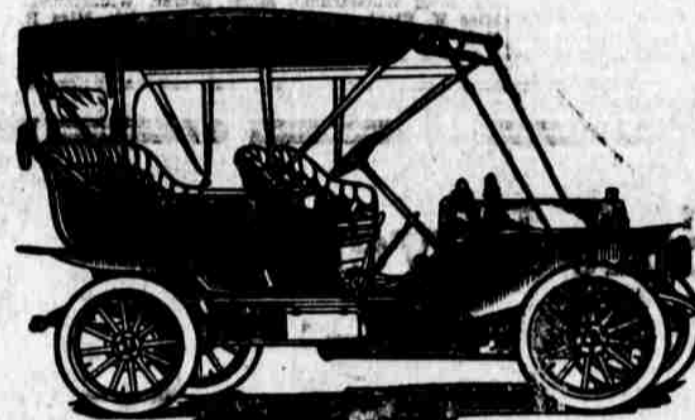

The Locomobile is a perfect motor car in every sense of the word. Perfect because it embodies all the superior qualities conceived during eleven years specializing in automobile construction.

Comfort is a quality very highly developed in the Locomobile. Deep cushions, big, strong springs, and certain features of the shaft drive system, make it ride delightfully. Correct distribution of weight makes it hold the road well and ride steadily.

This is the car which has attained on the Mainland such an enviable reputation as the best hill climber and the fastest car on the level—it has beaten time and again cars of twice and three times its cost.

Records show that the up-keep of the Buick is much lower than most cars; repair bills on the model "17" amount to next to nothing.

Do you wonder why Mainland people are crazy over these cars and that it is almost impossible for us to get delivery of them?

A carload arrived a few weeks ago and was sold at sight; a second carload has just arrived and is forming the chief topic of conversation at the garages.

Be sure to see the Buick and have demonstration before you decide on the purchase of your car.

SOCIAL CHATTER AND HOME TALK

AFTER seven days of merry-making—days replete with pleasure to the participants and to the bestowers of hospitality as well—the fleet has sailed from these shores and Honolulu will return to its normal social state and think over the pleasures that are past and dream of the day when the United States government decrees that the fleet shall again visit the islands of the mid-Pacific. Honolulu unquestionably did herself proud in the manner of her entertaining. From the Admiral to the seaman was marked with the desire to give pleasure and show honor to the men who are so valiant and intrepid when danger menaces us. From the time of the arrival of the "Men of War" Honolulu has been indefatigable in making it a delight for the men. Every sort of an entertainment was given, and to the credit of the promoters of the dances given at the hotels for the sailors it was distinctly with a desire to give the men a happy remembrance of the sort of people who are happiest when making others happy. The Merchants' Association did their part in giving the two balls for the petty officers and to the men of the fleet. Both reflected the good fellowship which the representative men who constitute this association feel toward the strangers whose home is on the deep blue sea. The commander-in-chief of these men was touched and gratified by the kind attention to "his boys" and the boys themselves appreciated the good times given them, and will always carry an aloha for the "City of Rainbows," and it is hoped that on each succeeding visit of the Pacific fleet good cheer will be as liberally dispensed.

Judge and Mrs. Ballou's Dinner.

The beautiful home of Judge and Mrs. Sidney Ballou was the setting for a delightful dinner Thursday evening. The table was in pink and green, a profusion of pink begonias and maiden-hair fern enhancing the beauty of the table, with its glittering silver and sparkling cut glass. Covers were laid for ten. After dinner the party repaired to the drawingroom, and enjoyed the novelty of a wood fire, which was burning in the large and artistic fireplace. During the evening the hostess played several musical numbers that were heartily appreciated by the guests. Among Judge and Mrs. Ballou's guests were Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Turner of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. David Rice of Boston, Mass., Dr. and Mrs. Burdette of California, ex-Governor Clegburn and Lieut. Chilton.

Mrs. Charles Crane's Bridge Party.

A number of guests enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Crane Tuesday afternoon at a bridge party, given in honor of her mother, Mrs. Jennings, prior to her departure for Kaula. The house was exquisitely decorated in scarlet poinsettias and palms and hanging baskets of ferns. All the guests were warm personal friends of the guest of honor, and a number were tourists, who Mrs. Crane and her mother had known on the Coast. Delicious refreshments were served and after the latter part of the afternoon was devoted to music. Mrs. Crane sang several vocal selections which were enthusiastically encored by the guests. Mrs. Lewis of Salt Lake, who is a brilliant pianist, performed several instrumental pieces. Among Mrs. Crane's guests were Mrs. Jennings, Mrs. Lewis of Salt Lake City, Mrs. Henry Williams, Mrs. Harvey of Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Dugan and Mrs. Raben of California, Mrs. Smith of Springfield, Ill., Mrs. F. Busey of San Francisco, Mrs. Smith of Salt Lake and others.

Dr. and Mrs. James Judd's Dinner.

One of the most charming little dinners of the week, was the one given by Dr. and Mrs. Judd at their beautiful bungalow, overlooking the sea. Red was chosen as the color scheme, the central table decoration, the place cards, even the salad was arranged to carry out the color scheme. After dinner a musicale evening was enjoyed, this entertainment being contributed by the guests. Among those who enjoyed this young couple's hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Prosser, Miss Prosser of New York, Miss Thatcher of California, Mr. Henry Wichman and Doctor Ramus.

Palolo Club.

The Palolo Social Club held its regular meeting at the residence of C. J. Schoening, in Palolo Valley, last Thursday evening. After the usual number of games of pedro had been played, in which the first prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. Patten, refreshments were served. These were followed by the first part of a minstrel show, composed of Messrs. Ormiston, Foster and Merrill. This latter part of the entertainment was a sort of surprise to many of the members of the club and surely fulfilled its mission from the way the "funny men" were encored.

Dinner on South Dakota.

Lieut. Commander Chester Wells and Lieut. Jackson entertained at an elaborate dinner, in the wardroom of the South Dakota on Monday last. The long table at which eighteen guests were seated, was bedecked with mignon roses and maiden-hair fern. During dinner the ship's orchestra played. The two hosts entertained complimentary to Captain and Mrs. Marx and their niece, Miss Katherine Stephens, and Mrs. C. Hoedefeld and Miss Anne Tucker of this city. Later the guests attended the ball at the Royal Hawaiian hotel.

Kunahu Boat Club Dance.

The dance given Monday evening by the Kunahu Boat Club was a great success. The affair was given in honor of the officers of the Pacific fleet and was greatly enjoyed by those who participated in the affair. The pretty hall, where the dancing took place, presented an attractive appearance and in its gala garb of pennants, palms and Chinese lanterns. Among those instrumental in giving the hop were Miss McCarrison, Misses Spalding, Wickstrum, Miss Mincer, Miss K. Stephens, Miss Sara Lucas, Misses Catton, Miss Pratt, Miss Langton, Miss North, Miss Fisher, Miss C.

Hall, Misses Angus, Miss Cooper, Miss Girvin and others.

Admiral Sebree Entertains.

Last Monday, Admiral Sebree entertained at luncheon on board the U. S. S. California which is now the flagship of this distinguished personage. This function was given in honor of Lt. and Mrs. Ward, U. S. A. of Fort De Russy. The former is a cousin of Admiral Sebree. The luncheon was perfect in all its details and the decorations were unique and beautiful. After tiffin the entire party attended Governor and Mrs. Frear's reception at Arcadia, which took place from 4 to 6.

Mrs. Renton's Bridge Luncheon.

Mrs. George Renton's luncheon at her home at Ewa, given on Thursday last, was one of the pleasant affairs of the week. The party left on the 9:15 train, arriving in time to try the fresh water swimming pool that has just been finished. After an ideal plunge and swim, luncheon was served and the remainder of the day devoted to bridge. Among those present were Mrs. Z. K. Myers, Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. Carl Hazens, Mrs. J. Morton Riggs, Mrs. James Dougherty, Mrs. Theodore Lansing, Mrs. Clifford B. High and others.

Dr. and Mrs. Judd's House Party.

Dr. and Mrs. James Judd will give a week-end party at the Judd country place, Kealahoi. The party will motor over the Pali this afternoon, arriving in time for dinner. This beautiful home is situated on the windward side of the island, possesses a fine swimming pool and is well equipped for entertaining. The party will return to town Monday.

Tea On Board the U. S. S. California.

A delightful tea was given Saturday afternoon aboard the U. S. S. California, by the wardroom officers. The guests were invited for 4 o'clock. During the tea, which was served on the quarterdeck, the ship's orchestra played. After refreshments the rest of the afternoon was devoted to dancing. Among those present were Mrs. Doedefelt, Miss Constance Restarick, Miss Belle McCarrison, Miss Helen Girvin, Miss Sara Lucas, Lieut. Jackson of the South Dakota, and the wardroom officers of the California.

Mr. Walter Dillingham's Dinner.

Mr. Walter Dillingham entertained in honor of Miss Alice Hedemann and Mr. Harold Castle Thursday evening. Pink roses were used as decorations, combined with smilax. Those present were Miss Alice Hedemann, Miss Vera Damon, Miss Beatrice Castle, Miss Irene Fisher, Miss Julia White, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dillingham, Mr. Harold Castle, Will Roth, Dr. Hedemann and Walter Dillingham.

Mr. Jack Young's Dinner.

Mr. Jack Young gave a jolly little dinner Monday evening. Covers were laid for ten, and the color scheme was pink and green. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Will Young, Miss Wickstrum, Miss Constance Restarick, Miss R. Catton, Miss Belle McCarrison, Mr. J. Young, Lieut. Hooper of the South Dakota, Lieut. Glassford of the West Virginia and Mr. Irvine of the California.

Captain Carpenter's Tea.

Captain Carpenter of the U. S. M. C. and who is stationed on the U. S. S. Tennessee was the host at a most attractive tea, given on board his ship, Sunday. The affair was given in honor of the local Marine Officers and their wives and friends.

Mr. Dillingham's Dinner.

Mr. Walter Dillingham made a genial host Saturday evening at his home on Benetania street. Lieutenant Commander Olmstead of the U. S. S. Tennessee was the complimented guest. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dillingham, Mr. and Mrs. George Peavy of Minneapolis, Mrs. Murphy, Mr. Olmstead and others.

Dr. and Mrs. Cooper's Dinner.

Monday evening Dr. and Mrs. Charles Cooper entertained in honor of Lieutenant Commander Olmstead of the navy. The table was bedecked in roses and smilax. After dinner the party motored to the Royal Hawaiian hotel, and attended the hop, which was given that evening in honor of the officers of the Pacific fleet.

Governor and Mrs. Frear's Breakfast.

Governor and Mrs. Frear entertained delightfully at breakfast Sunday morning, in honor of a number of the officers of the Pacific fleet. Covers were laid for twelve, and a delicious repast was served.

The Outrigger Club are busy in their efforts to provide entertainment to the visitors on the Cleveland, who have arrived in Honolulu, and whose stopover privilege will be limited,—a form of entertainment, both unique and exhilarating. The dexterous manner in which the Club members handle a surf boat, or use the board to ride the waves, will be a revelation to those who have never seen, or experienced the sport, one great feature will be the pictures taken on the platform erected on the reef for the placing of the moving picture machine, and as the surfers rush by, it will be a scene not soon forgotten. Cups will be awarded to the ones doing the best surfing stunts,—to the girl, boy or man. The Kamehameha Aquatic Club will send its women crews of paddlers; six paddling canoes and sailing canoes. The Hawaiian men, women and children of the Club will prepare pol, Hawaiian style, and a pig will be lunched, in honor of Frank Clark, and Governor Frear, who will present the cups to the successful surfers. Surely no more seemly entertainment could be offered to the globe-trotters who are in search of amusement, and are encircling the world to find it.

The Columbia Park boys plan to entertain Honolulu, at the Hawaiian Opera House, on the evening of February seventeenth, in a vaudeville show, and on the eighteenth of February, an old-time minstrel performance in the "Way Down South" style, which will at once appeal to the fun lovers, and on the following night more vaudeville, but a change in the program. A good sized house should greet each performance, as the shows promise well.

The Royal Hawaiian Hotel was in gala dress on Monday evening, February 7th, to "speed the parting of guests" and to present a sample of one of the dances enjoyed in days of yore to the guests of the Young and Moana Hotels, given by the management of the three hotels, and it is rumored that a series of these dances may be given. If the tourists continue making their trips here, and the Honolulu folk desire to entertain them and give a good impression of their ability and comfort of giving entertainments the Hawaiian Hotel with its ample accommodations, beautiful lanais, excellent floors and tropical surroundings, is an ideal place to enjoy the mazy dance. The brilliant lights as they shown from every post and tree in the grounds as well as from the attractive hotel with its circular lanais filled with fair women in their choice gowns of exquisite coloring and dainty accessories was certainly a lovely sight to look upon. From the time Kaula's Orchestra played the first strains of his inimitable music until the last notes were heard there was no cessation to waltz or two-step. Many strangers from different parts of the world and less favored climate, were present and enjoyed the novelty of dancing in the open air, and to the kamaaina it was a renewal of the good old times.

The citizens of Honolulu are again in touch with a large percentage of the outside world. The mammoth steamship Cleveland is in port with its seven hundred passengers, who intend to enjoy each moment of the precious time allotted them. New faces meet you at every turn and the streets present such an unusually busy aspect that you wonder what all this activity means. It is a pleasing sight, one to gladden the heart of a true kamaaina when they hear these new people express their admiration of this beautiful city, wondering at its up-to-date appearance, its fine buildings, luxurious hotels, well groomed men, tastefully dressed women, all looking as they are, to the manor born, for the rapid strides of this growing city has impressed them, and who can wonder. The glorious mountains overlooking the broad expanse of ocean, the blue skies, balmy air and the tropical plants the wealth of verdure, the open air life—health giving—and an ever source of happiness contrast it with the rigors of the climate they have left, then they cease to wonder why Honolulu is called the Paradise of the Pacific.

Lieutenant Commander Holden A. Evans, Naval Constructor, U. S. N., of the Mare Island Navy Yard, California, and Miss Frances Ingersoll, daughter of Mrs. Harriet Hildreth, were married at the residence of the bride's mother, on Wednesday, February second. Mrs. Evans is a native of Boston, and received all of the educational advantages which that historic and cultured place is so able to give. She was graduated from Wellesley, and went to Europe to study; spending several years in Switzerland and also studied for a time in Paris. Upon her return, she went to California, and met her affinity, Lieutenant Commander Evans. As he was a frequent visitor at the home where she stopped, they met often and the friendship and admiration which was mutual, soon ripened into a warmer feeling, and the acquaintance ended in Cupid tying the knot, which was a fitting termination to the little romance.

A very handsome dinner was given on Sunday evening, February 6th, on board the U. S. S. West Virginia. The complimented guests were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Afong. The hosts were Lieutenant Harigan, Lieutenant Commander James, Lieutenant Glassford and Lieutenant Spears. Dinner was served in the ward room. The decorations of purple asters and smilax made a beautiful effect. After the dinner an impromptu musicale was given by a quartette of male voices—Mr. Dougherty, Mr. Clarence Waterman, Mr. Hartigan and Mr. Donovan each possessed of a fine voice. Several solos were rendered, which added greatly to the pleasure of the evening. Eighteen guests were present.

On Monday, February 7th, Lieutenant Commander Morfett gave a four o'clock tea on board the U. S. S. Maryland in honor of Mrs. Harvey Murray, Mrs. James Dougherty, Mrs. Edward Watson and Mrs. Frederick Damon. After tea the ship's band played, and a dance on the quarter deck finished this pleasant afternoon function. As usual a number of pretty gowns were seen, as we all know that the young matrons and maidens of Honolulu are always at their best at an afternoon entertainment, and their pretty frocks enhanced their fresh young beauty. About thirty town folk enjoyed the hospitality of Lieutenant Commander Morfett.

Hugo Herzer's song recital, given in the ball room of the Alexander Young Hotel Tuesday evening, February 8th, when he presented to an appreciative audience eighteen vocalists of rare ability who were in excellent voice and rendered the music in a manner which gave unlimited pleasure to the audience, which was manifested by the frequent applause calling for repetition of a number of the selections. Mr. Herzer's success as a musical director and instructor needs no comment, and Honolulu considers itself fortunate in having such an able and talented musician as a resident.

Haleiwa had a record day on Sunday, a regular procession of motors going around and across the island for lunch at this cozy country place. It is hard to make a stranger believe that Haleiwa is really a public hotel. Among the townfolk who were at Haleiwa was the J. A. McCandless, Jas. A. Kennedy, the Misses McClellan with Mrs. Wadhams and some officers of the fleet, C. P. Morse, A. J. Campbells and many others. Haleiwa is quite gay with tourists, who delight in finding such a well-appointed hotel in the country.

The engagement of Theodore Roosevelt Jr., was announced at a formal dinner given the tenth of February, to Miss Eleanor Butler Alexander, the beautiful young daughter of the American Embassy, at Paris, and a prominent lawyer. The family are leaders in New York's exclusive set, and the young fiancée is greatly admired for her beauty and charming personality.

Molokai has selected Miss Mary Kaco, to represent the Princess of that island, which will give great satisfaction, as the young girl who is to be well equipped, and have a mount worthy of her fine horsemanship, will not only give an added touch of beauty to the parade, but fill her home island with pride in its selection. On Monday evening, February seventh, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Afong gave a beautifully appointed dinner at the Alexander Young hotel, in honor of Lieutenant Commander Barnes and Lieutenant Hartigan. Roses were used unstintingly in the table decoration. A very pleasant evening was spent, and later, the dance at the Royal Hawaiian hotel claimed them.

Mr. and Mrs. George Angus will leave next month for a trip through Europe. This will be a business and pleasure trip combined. Mr. Angus is one of the headmen in Davies & Co., being head of the hardware department. Their first stop will be in New York, later they will visit some of the principal cities of Europe. Lt. Lewis of the U. S. M. C., has received orders for the Philippines, and will be detached shortly from for his new station the last of February. Lt. Lewis has many friends in these islands, who are sorry to have this gallant young officer leave the island.

Wednesday Miss Vera Damon entertained delightfully at tea, in honor of Miss Alice Hedemann. Among those present were Mrs. Damon, Miss Vera Damon, Miss Julie White, Miss Mae Damon, Miss Margaret White, Miss Beatrice Castle, Miss Irene Fisher, Mrs. Frederick Damon.

Mrs. Samuel Wilder and her mother will leave next month for England, where they will visit Mrs. Atkinson's two daughters, who are living in England. Later in the spring, they will journey to Oberammagan, to witness the Passion Play.

The Commercial Club is giving a dinner this Saturday evening, February twelfth, in honor of Doctor Robert J. Burdette, of Pasadena, and to Ellis J. Westlake, of Minneapolis. Both guests are fine speakers, and will make addresses. Dinner dress is prescribed for this occasion. The many friends of Lieutenant and Mrs. Pinkerton will be sorry to hear that the former has been ordered to the Philippines where he and his charming wife will reside for the next two years. Lt. Pinkerton belongs to the U. S. Marine Corps.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Edgar Robinson, nee Jaeger, have returned from their honeymoon trip and are domiciled at their attractive home on the corner of Punahou and King streets, where they will receive their friends.

Lieut. Colonel Hunter has just received his promotion to a Colonel. Colonel and Mrs. Hunter will leave shortly for Fort Riley, where the gallant officer will be stationed.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Gray were passengers on the Kinau, Tuesday, February 8th, for Kaula.

Mrs. Macfarlane left on Tuesday, February 8th, for Kaula.

"Well, why were you so busy to put a string of logs down both sides, with teams between them to load the logs in the deeper water?"

"It would," said Orde.

"Why isn't it done, then?"

"Who would do it?" countered Orde.

"If duty did it, for instance, then all the rest of the drivers would get the advantage of it for nothing."

"Get them to pay their share."

Orde grinned. "I'd like to see you get any three men to agree to anything on this river."

"How many firms drive logs on this stream?"

"Ten," replied Orde without hesitation.

"How many do they employ?"

"About 500 men."

"Now, suppose," Newmark leaned forward—"suppose a firm should be organized to drive all the logs on the river. Suppose it improved the river with piers and dams, so that the driving would be easier. Couldn't it drive with less than 500 men and save money?"

"If might," agreed Orde.

"If such a firm should be organized to drive the logs for these ten firms at so much a thousand, do you suppose it would get the business?"

"It would depend on the driving firm," said Orde. "You see, mill men have many men there now, and what it costs for wages, grub, tools. We'll just have to figure as near as we can to the actual cost and then add a margin for profit and for interest on our investment."

Amanda now announced dinner.

Newmark looked puzzled and as he arose glanced surreptitiously at his watch. Orde seemed to take the summons as one to be expected, however.

In fact, the strange hour was the usual Sunday custom in the Redding of that day and had to do with the late-church freedom of Amanda and her like.

"Come in and eat with us," invited Orde.

But Newmark declined.

"Come up tomorrow night, then, at half past 6 for supper," Orde urged him. "We can figure on these things a little."

Chapter 9

"I THINK I'll go see Jane Hubbard this evening," Orde remarked to his mother as he arose from the table.

Every Sunday Jane Hubbard offered to all who came a "Sunday night lunch," and the refreshments were served by the guests themselves. Orde found about the usual crowd gathered. Jane herself, tall, deliberate in movement and in speech, kindly and thoughtful, talked in a corner with Ernest Colburn, who was just out of college and who worked in a bank. Orde, standing in the doorway, looked upon quite the usual thing, only he missed the Incubus. Searching the room with his eyes, he at length discovered that incoherent, desiccated, but persistent youth vis-a-vis with a stranger. Orde made out the white of her gown in the shadows, the willowy outline of her small and slender figure and the gracious forward bend of her head.

"So you're back at last, are you, Jack?" drawled Jane in her lazy, good natured way. "Come and meet Miss Bishop. Carroll, I want to present Mr. Orde."

Orde bowed ceremoniously. The girl inclined gracefully her small head with the glossy hair. The Incubus, his sallow face twisted in a wry smile, held to the edge of his chair with characteristic pertinacity.

"Well, Walter," Orde addressed him genially, "are you having a good time?"

"Yes, indeed!"

His chair was planted squarely to exclude all others. Orde surveyed the situation with good humor.

"Going to keep the other fellow from getting a chance, I see?"

"Yes, indeed!"

Orde bent over and, with great ease, lifted Incubus, chair and all, and set him facing Mignonne Smith and the croquet ball.

"Here, Mignonne," said he, "I've brought you another assistant."

He returned to the lamp to find the girl, her dark eyes alight with amusement, watching him intently.

"Walter is a very bright man in his own line," said Orde, swinging forward a chair, "but he mustn't be allowed any monopolies."

"How do you know I want him so summarily removed?" the girl asked him.

"Well," argued Orde, "I got him to say all he ever says to any girl, 'Yes, have got to have their logs. They can't afford to take chances. It would not pay."

"Then that's all right," agreed Newmark, with a gleam of satisfaction across his thin face. "Would you form a partnership with me having such an object in view?"

Orde laughed.

"I guess you don't realize the situation," said he. "We'd have to have a few little things like illustrating books and rugs and a lot of tools and supplies and works of various kinds."

"Well, we'd get them."

"How much are you worth?" Orde inquired bluntly.

"Twenty thousand dollars. How much capital would we have to have?" asked Newmark.

Orde thought for several minutes.

"We would need somewhere near $75,000," he estimated at last.

"That's easy," cried Newmark. "We'll make a stock company—say 100,000 shares. We'll keep just enough between us to control the company—say 51,000. I'll put in my pile, and you can pay for yours out of the earnings of the company."

"That doesn't sound fair."

"You pay interest," explained Newmark. "Then we'll sell the rest of the stock to raise the rest of the money."

"I must have something to live on," said Orde thoughtfully at last.

"So must I," said Newmark. "We'll have to pay ourselves salaries, of course, but the smaller the better at first. You'll have to take charge of the men and the work and all the rest of it. I don't know anything about that. I'll attend to the incorporating and the routine, and I'll try to place the stock. You'll have to see first of all whether you can get contracts from the logging firms to drive the logs."

"How can I tell what to charge them?"

"We'll have to figure that very closely. You know where these different drives would start from and how long each of them would take?"

"Oh, yes."

"Well, then we'll figure how many days' driving there is for each, and indeed, so you couldn't have any more conversation from him. Besides, I want to talk to you myself."

"Do you always get what you want?" inquired the girl.

Orde laughed.

"Any one can get anything he wants if only he wants it bad enough," he asserted.

"Some people," she amended. "However, I forgive you. I will even flatter you by saying I am glad you came. You look to have reached the age of discretion. I venture to say that these boys' idea of a lively evening is to throw bread about the table."

Orde flushed a little. The last time he had supped at Jane Hubbard's that was exactly what they did do.

"They are young, of course," he said, "and you and I are very old and wise."

"Now, tell me, what do you do?"

"What do I do?" asked Orde, puzzled.

"Yes. Everybody does something out west here."

"I'm a river driver just now."

"A river driver?" she repeated.

"Why, I've just been hearing a great deal about you from Mrs. Bagges."

"Oh!" said Orde. "Then you know what a drunken, swearing, worthless lot of toughs we are, don't you?"

"There is Hell's Half Mile," she reminded him.

"Oh, yes," said Orde bitterly. "There's Hell's Half Mile! Whose fault is that? My rivermen's—my boys? Look here! I suppose you couldn't understand it if you tried a month. But suppose you were working out in the woods nine months of the year. Suppose you slept in rough blankets on the ground or in bunkies, ate rough food, never saw a woman or a book, undertook work to sense your city men up a tree, risked your life a dozen times a week in a tangle of logs, with the big river roaring behind just waiting to swallow you; saw nothing but woods and river, were cold and hungry and wet and so tired you couldn't wiggle. And then suppose you hit town, where there were all the things you hadn't had, and the first thing you struck was Hell's Half Mile. Say, you've seen water behind a jam, haven't you? Water power's a good thing in a mill course, where it has wheels to turn, but behind a jam it just rips things. Oh, what's the use talking? A girl doesn't know what it means. She couldn't understand."

"I think I begin to understand a little," said she softly. "But they are a heartless class in spite of all their courage, aren't they?"

"Heartless!" exploded Orde. "There's no kinder lot of men on earth. There isn't a man on that river who doesn't chip in five or ten dollars when a man is hurt or killed, and that means three or four days' hard work for him. And he may not know or like the injured man at all. Why?"

"What's all the excitement?" drawled Jane Hubbard behind them. "Can't you make it a to be continued in our next? We're most starved."

"Yes, indeed!" chimed the Incubus.

The company trooped out to the dining room, where the table, spread with all the good things, awaited them.

To Orde's relief no one threw any bread, although the whole-hearted fun grew boisterous enough before the close of the meal.

In spite of her half scornful references to "bread throwing" Miss Bishop joined with evident pleasure in the badinage.

After the meal was finished Orde, with determination, made his way to Miss Bishop's side. She turned to the piano, struck a few chords, and then, her long hands wandering away and softly up and down the keys, she smiled at them over her shoulder.

Song followed song, at first quickly, then at longer intervals. The girl still sat at the piano, her head thrown back. Orde finally saw only the shimmer of her white figure and the white outline of her head and throat. At last her hands fell to her lap. She sat looking straight ahead of her.

Orde came to her.

"That was a wonderfully beautiful thing," said he. "What was it?"

She turned to him, and he saw that the morning had gone from her eyes and mouth, leaving them quite simple, like a child's.

He hesitated and stammered awkwardly. "It was so still and soothing. It made me think of the river, sometimes about dusk. What was it?"

"It wasn't anything. I was improvising."

"You made it up yourself?"

"It was myself. I suppose. I love to build myself a garden and wander on until I lose myself in it. I'm glad there was a river in the garden—a nice, still, twilight river."

At this moment the outside door opened to admit Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard, who had, according to their usual Sunday custom, been spending the evening with a neighbor. The company began to break up.

Orde pushed his broad shoulders in to screen Carroll Bishop from the others.

"Are you staying here?" he asked.

"I'm visiting Jane."

"Are you going to be here long?" was Orde's next question.

"About a month."

"I am coming to see you," announced Orde. "Good night."

He took her hand, dropped it and followed the others into the hall, leaving her standing by the lamp. She watched him until the outer door had closed behind him. Jane Hubbard, returning after a moment from the hall, found her at the piano again, her head slightly one side, playing with painful and accurate exactness a simple one finger melody.

Reaching his home, Orde walked confidently to the narrow stairs and ascended them. Subconsciously he avoided the crawling step, but outside his mother's door he stopped, arrested by a greeting from within.

"That you, Jack?" queried Grandma Orde.

For answer Orde entered. He made out the great square bed and divided the tiny figure of his mother.

"Mother," said he abruptly, "I've met the girl I want for my wife."

Grandma Orde sat up in bed.

"Who is she?" she demanded.

"Her name is Carolyn Bishop," said Orde, "and she's visiting Jane Hubbard."

"Yes, but who is she?" insisted Grandma Orde. "Where is she from?"

Orde stared at her in the dim light.

"Why, mother, best if I know that!"

THE next evening on reaching home Orde found that Newmark had preceded him by some few moments.

After supper Orde led the way up two flights of narrow stairs to his room.

"Well," said he, "I've made up my mind today to go in with you. It may not work out, but it's a good chance. I don't know who you are nor how much of a business man you are, but I'll risk it."

"I'm putting in $20,000," pointed out Newmark.

"And I'm putting in my everlasting reputation," said Orde. "If we tell these fellows that we'll get out their logs for them and then don't do it I'll be dead around here."

Newmark pursued the subject. "I've no objection to telling you about myself. New York born and bred, experience with Cooper & Dunne, brokers eight years. Money from a legacy. Threats dead. No relatives to speak to."

Orde nodded gravely.

"Now," said Newmark, "have you had time to do any figuring?"

"Well," replied Orde, "I have a rough idea." He produced a bundle of scribbled papers from his coat pocket. "I take duty as a sample, because I've been with his outfit. It costs him to run and deliver his logs 100 miles about $2 a thousand feet. He's the only big manufacturer up here. I suppose it costs the other little firms from two to two and a half a thousand."

Newmark jotted down figures.

"Do those men all conduct separate drives?" he inquired.

LADIES OF HAWAII WILL VISIT YOSEMITE

Will Travel Several Thousand Miles and See Some of the Wonders of the World at the Expense of the Bulletin—Popularity Will Decide Their Selection.

Five popular ladies are to visit Yosemite National Park this summer as the guests of the Evening Bulletin. The party is to be selected by the readers of the Bulletin in a great double voting contest.

Initial announcement of this contest is made today and precedes by almost a year the intention of the Bulletin management at the close of the last contest, but the patronage of the Bulletin during 1909 was so great that it is possible to make this offer.

What Trip Offers.

The trip that is afforded to the successful candidates is the best that could be selected. The chance to travel at others' expense is the most alone is usually considered by most people here a fortunate event, but add to this the fact that this Bulletin party is to be given an opportunity to visit one of the greatest attractions in a State famed for its scenic offerings, the trip is indeed an enviable one. But added still to the trip to the coast and the five-day visit to the great Yosemite National Park is a week or more to be spent in San Francisco and vicinity. Here the pleasure-seeker of the casual world need not a visit to a city famed for hospitality and entertainment. In the vicinity of San Francisco are to be met attractions that it takes many days to see. Most prominent among these is the ascent to the top of Mt. Tamalpais, from the peak of which can be seen miles and miles of beautiful California and San Francisco bay. Another trip that new attracts the world tourist is a visit to the Greek Theater at the University of California in Berkeley. Here one sees the greatest amphitheater in the world modeled on were the columns of the ancient Greeks. But space cannot now be spared to tell of all that the members of this party will see during this trip. You see perhaps more interested in just how this party is to be selected.

How Selected.

The plan for the contest is one that is familiar to most of the Bulletin readers, as it does not differ materially from the contest conducted last year, in which young ladies were selected for a trip to Seaside. The districts will be divided into four districts and from these districts the readers will indicate by popular vote their choice of candidate. The district boundaries and the number of voters, subscribers are entitled to will be found in a page advertisement in this paper.

Chaperone a Constant.

The selection of a chaperone by popular vote is a new feature this year, but it is believed that it will meet with the approval of the readers as soon as they understand the plan of selection. With every vote coupon issued for the trip contestants, an attached vote coupon of an equal number of votes, will be given to be cast for one of the candidates for chaperone. These candidates will be candidates-at-large and can be nominated from and voted for in any part of the Islands. In this way the Bulletin will conduct a double voting contest, and by this means readers will reflect with their votes the young ladies to compose the party and also the chaperone to accompany them.

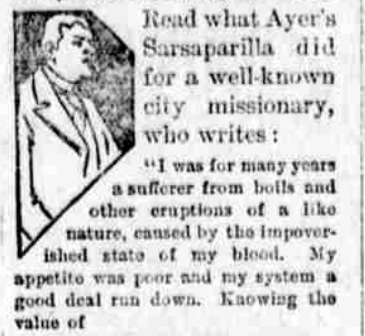

Will Be Paid Salary.

The lady selected as chaperone for the party will be a regular paid employee of the Bulletin from the time she leaves Honolulu with the party until they return to Honolulu. In addition to all her traveling expenses she will receive fifty dollars per month.

The Nominations.

Weakened Vitality Impoverished Blood

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

Read what Ayer's Sarsaparilla did for a well-known city missionary, who writes:

"I was for many years a sufferer from boils and other eruptions of a like nature, caused by the impoverished state of my blood. My appetite was poor and my system a good deal run down. Knowing the value of by observation of the good it had done to others, I began taking it. My appetite improved almost from the first dose; then my general health improved, and now it is excellent. I feel a hundred per cent. stronger, and I attribute this result to Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I recommend with all confidence as the best blood medicine ever devised."

As now made, Ayer's Sarsaparilla contains no alcohol.

There are many imitation Sarsaparillas.

Be sure you get "Ayer's."

AYER'S PILLS, the best family laxative.

contestants and for the candidates for chaperone are printed in today's paper and will be run from day to day until in March, when the nominations will be closed.

If you know an estimable woman whom you would like to see win the pleasure of this trip clip out the nomination blank and send it at once to the Bulletin. The nomination blank alone will entitle her to three thousand votes. If the reader is a woman who would like to enter this contest she need not wait for some one to nominate her, but may fill out the nomination blank and send it in. The self-nomination will entitle her to just as many votes as if someone else had nominated her.

Advantage of Early Nomination.

While delay does not necessarily prejudice failure in this contest it cannot be denied that the candidate who early makes known her intention to be a candidate will have an advantage that they who hesitate, will later have to overcome.

Watch the Bulletin for further details concerning this contest, or call at the Bulletin office and let the contest manager explain what is necessary in order to be one of the winners. But, terribly, all that is needed to win is a pair of scissors, a lead pencil and energy. Come in and let the contest manager tell you how to use these tools—that you all possess.

Queen of Mexican Actresses Endorses Pe-ru-na.

A Letter to the Peruna Drug Mfg. Company From the Popular Mexican Actress, Virginia Fabrega, Is Given Below.

Mrs. Virginia Fabrega Heartily Approves of Peruna As a Tonic.

Remedios Theatre, Virginia Fabrega, City of Mexico, Mex. To the Peruna Drug Mfg. Co., Columbus, Ohio, U. S. A. Gentlemen—Your medicine, Peruna, having been recommended to me by one of my friends in this city, I want to let you know the splendid results it has produced for me. As you will understand, a professional life, such as mine, is a heavy strain upon even the strongest constitution, and, in addition, my health was threatened by symptoms of catarrh. I took two bottles of your great remedy, Peruna, and was surprised at the marvelous results. Not only did my catarrh disappear, but I felt an increase in health and strength in my constitution such as I have never felt before. I cannot praise your remedy too highly and shall have great pleasure in recommending it to all my friends in Spanish America. Yours very gratefully, Virginia Fabrega de Cardona.

PERUNA relieves catarrh, not only by its tonic effect upon the whole system, but by eradicating the poison of catarrh. No better tonic than Peruna was ever devised. In some cases of chronic catarrh, all that is needed is to tone up the system, increase the appetite and improve the digestion, when the vital forces alone are sufficient to overcome the catarrh. Peruna not only does this, but neutralizes the catarrhal poison and cleanses the system from all taint. Among the first effects noticeable when Peruna is taken are better appetite, better digestion, better sleep.

ADMIRAL RANK NOT FOR PEARY

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 11.—Commander R. E. Peary is not likely to receive the rank of rear-admiral in recognition of his services to science in discovering the North Pole. The House Committee on Naval Affairs is unanimously opposed to granting Peary the increase in rank.

Representative Roberts of Massachusetts declared today that Commander Peary has done nothing to entitle him to receive such signal recognition as is provided in the bill which passed the Senate. He declared that the discovery of the pole has benefited nobody and that there is no reason why Peary should be rewarded for his achievement.

The granting of the rank of rear-admiral to Peary would upset all precedent. Peary is a civil engineer with the rank of commander, and not a line officer. Raising Peary to the rank of rear-admiral would necessitate creating a supernumerary in the grade.

MAINLAND DOCTOR FOR MOLOKAI. DENVER, Feb. 11.—Dr. Stover started today for Hawaii to make experiments in treating the lepers of Molokai.

President Mott-Smith states that he is totally in the dark as regards Dr. Stover.

BOULE BOLE STILL LOST. PORTA VERNAS, Feb. 11.—The Charcot expedition which started for the Antarctic in search of the South Pole, with the hope of placing the French flag upon the south end of the earth, arrived here today. The expedition failed to reach the pole.

HEERMANN CASE TO JURY. PORTLAND, Feb. 11.—Francis J. Heney today closed his argument in the Heermann case. The jury will receive its instructions from the judge tomorrow.

ELI PASSES HOUSE. WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 11.—The diplomatic and consular bill passed the House today.

PALACE SQUARE IS IN DANGER

Pillikia Makers Active—Innocent Man Is Arrested

Contrary to expectation O'Tole, who had been detailed by Chief McDuffie to take on a commanding position in the lefty havers of a neighborhood, overlooking Jimmy Wilder's house, made an arrest last evening. The person arrested disclaimed all knowledge of the pillikia makers, and upon a searching investigation he was pronounced not guilty and was accordingly released. In making the arrest, O'Tole received a slap on his wrist by the supposed culprit and he felt this to have been so unexcused for that he has resigned and will return to Lualaba, there to take up his duties in connection with the propagation of Christian knowledge amongst the inhabitants of that island.

McDuffie followed a suspicious character last evening and overheard a remark which said suspect made to a prominent official of the Floral Day Parade. The substance of which was that something unusual was being planned for Palace Square. The suspect gave McDuffie such a stony look that that upholder of the law bent and is now in hiding in the neighborhood of the aforesaid square to find out if possible what was meant when these two men thought that Palace Square would be a suitable place for building a volcano.

Why should this historic spot be turned into a molten bed of lava, and red-hot ashes? This question will be asked by readers of the Bulletin many times before the parade takes place. The only answer to this is that it is another of Jimmy Wilder's plans for breaking up the parade. If the procession passes by this square and the volcano, even though it is an artificial one, is made to vomit fire and smoke the horses would become frightened and unmanageable and in all probability but, thus converting an orderly procession into a seething mass of kicking hoofs, flying splinters and shrieking humanity.

If this is another of Jimmy Wilder's plans, then the sooner Chief McDuffie places a cordon around the home of that artist man the quicker these pillikia makers will be brought to justice.

Cadwallader of Watta, Cal., who is here on a visit, finding himself short of cash, has applied to Chief McDuffie for the position of night-watchman in the neighborhood of the Wilder home. As there are no saloons in this neighborhood and Cadwallader's nose looks normal in size and color, McDuffie has promised that gentleman from Watta an opportunity of displaying his professional skill.

If the authorities prove unable to cope with the situation, then the people of this city will take matters into their own hands and enforce the law, just as the common people will stand up for their rights and demand that the breweries and wine shops of the Territory shall not be closed because a few have not cultivated a thirst, and are jealous of other people being able to assimilate alcoholic beverages, when their own stomachs revolt at the thought of fermented liquors finding a way into the inner recesses of their delicate fabrics.

The public will watch with increasing interest the way in which Cadwallader will acquit himself. That he will be tempted, even bribed, is evident, from the number of empty flasks that have been found in the ash-bins of several Honolulu houses. Some fair charmer may come along and prove too much for this Californian. Cadwallader has been put on his mettle; the public shall be his judge.

ATHLETICS AND TREES

The present discussion concerning Honolulu's need of a public athletic ground for school boys and girls has involved a confusion of purposes that is apparently rather widespread. This applies especially to the "Thomas Square debate."

On the one hand the urgent demands from many sources for adequate public athletic facilities for boys and girls are not only proper but are indeed a municipal obligation to the physical needs of the city's youth.

On the other hand the adult population has the right to beautiful parks and driveways, to stretches of cool green shade and fragrant well watered turf, and this right is prebent in our overcrowded municipality.

There are these two distinct civic obligations—of equal civic importance. Honolulu should provide, as other cities of her size and wealth have already amply provided, for the full and harmonious bodily development of her citizens-to-be. This function, once accomplished, through the occupations of the home is now the responsibility of the schools and the civic community. General athletics, securing general physical well-being are to be encouraged rather than the isolated and monopolized team "sports" now in vogue.

Honolulu should awaken, as every progressive community has awakened, to the value of her park spaces, and her spots of beauty. So much of the city proper is ugly that we should exceedingly cherish the green places of restfulness.

These two responsibilities lie upon the entire community. They should be sustained, not by the private philanthropy of a few, but by the civic conscience of the people. VAUGHAN MACCAUGHEY, College of Hawaii.

HOW A HYPNOTIST MADE A FORTUNE.

The Secret Methods by which Dr. X. La Motte Sago, the Greatest Hypnotic Scientist of the Age, Created a Tremendous Sensation.

He Firmly Believes Hypnotism a Public Benefit—Has Donated $10,000 Toward the FREE Distribution of a Handsomely Illustrated Book Containing His Views and Suggestions on How to Acquire This Mysterious Power and Use It in Business, in Society and in the Home.

While the Special Edition Lasts a Copy of This Remarkable Book Will Be Sent Free to Any Interested Person.

Dr. X. La Motte Sago made a fortune out of hypnotism. He probably knows more about the subject than any living man. His methods are radically different from any ever before presented. By his new system he hypnotizes people instantaneously. He tells you how to exert tremendous silent influence without making a gesture or saying a single word. He gives the only real, practical methods for the development of the power of personal magnetism that have ever been published. During all the time Dr. Sago was before the public he made it his business to note carefully the effect of hypnotism upon the human mind. He became convinced that this mighty mysterious power could be utilized to the advantage of ambitious men and women who wished to better their condition in life.

To demonstrate the correctness of his ideas when he retired from public life he founded a college where hypnotism, personal magnetism, magnetic health, etc., might be taught along the definite lines he had laid down. The result is that the college has grown to be the largest of its kind in the world. Thousands of successful students in all parts of the globe are living witnesses to the wonderful power and the great practical benefits to be derived from Dr. Sago's methods. The doctor has recently written a book entitled "The Philosophy of Personal Influence," in which he tells in plain, simple language just how to acquire hypnotic power and the various uses to which it may be put. Among the many interesting things upon which the book treats are: How to develop magnetic power and influence people without their knowledge; how to cure bad habits and obstinate chronic diseases; when medicine and everything else in this line fails; how to implant a command in a subject's mind that he will carry out in every detail a month or a year hence, whether the hypnotist is present or not; how to hypnotize people at a distance; its value in business; marvelous scientific tests; how to prevent people from influencing you; hypnotic power more fascinating than beauty; the use of hypnotism in the development of mental faculties; controlling children, removing domestic troubles, etc.

The college which Dr. Sago has founded proposes to give away $10,000 worth of the above books absolutely free so long as the special edition lasts. Any person who is in earnest can get a copy merely by writing for it. The book is handsomely illustrated by the finest half-tone engravings. It tells you how the marvelous power of hypnotism has been used to cast a secret magic spell over people without their knowledge, and how they have been for months and in some cases even years obeying the royal will of another. It gives you the secret of the development of what Senator Chauncey M. Depew calls the money-making machine. Don't think because you lack a fine education and are working for a small salary that you cannot better your condition; do not think that because you are now successful in life that you cannot be more successful. Dr. Sago's book has been read and his methods are to-day being used by many of the richest men in the world. They know the value of personal influence, of hypnotic power. If you are interested write to-day to the New York Institute of Science, Dept. 204 H, Rochester, N.Y., U.S.A., and a copy of Dr. Sago's book will be sent you by return mail absolutely free. This is a rare opportunity to learn the uses and possibilities of the most wonderful, marvelous and mysterious power known to man. The book is enthusiastically endorsed by the most prominent business men, ministers of the gospel, lawyers and doctors. It should be in every home; it should be read by every man and woman in this country who wants to better his condition in life, who wants to achieve greater financial success, win friends, gratify his ambitions and get out of life the pleasure and happiness which the Creator intended he should enjoy.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

ABSOLUTELY PURE & UNADULTERATED TRADE MARK

THIS TRADE MARK SIGNIFIES PURITY—EXCELLENCE—HEALTH. Medicine for all Mankind

Mr. Horace R. Butts, Providence, R. I., a U. S. Army man, many years ago on account of the hardships of army life had dyspepsia and stomach trouble so bad that he could scarcely eat. He took Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, which gave him immediate relief. He recommends it as an invigorating stimulant and body-builder.

"I have used Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for many years and find that it is all that it claims to be. During my twenty-four years of service in the U. S. Army I was being constantly transferred from place to place. As a result of changing climate and water, my stomach and digestion failed me completely, so I was scarcely able to eat a thing. On the advice of a friend I purchased a bottle of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, and immediately good results followed. This was eighteen years ago. Since then I have not been without it. I recommend it to all who are in need of an invigorating stimulant and desirous of building up the system."

CAUTION.—When you ask for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It's the only absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey and is sold in sealed bottles only; never in bulk. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y., U. S. A.
