

THE SUGAR FACTORS APPEAL

TAX CASES TO WASHINGTON

ANOTHER MATTER THAT MAY BE TAKEN FROM HERE TO THE UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT—REHEARING IS DENIED IN THE CASES OF THE RECENT BIG TAX APPEAL COURT DECISION.

The Supreme Court has overruled motions for rehearings in the big tax cases recently decided in favor of the tax assessors, and the cases may be carried to the United States Supreme Court, as they involve large sums. There were two motions, one by Castle & Cooke, filed by Castle & Withington, and the other filed by Kinney, McClanahan & Cooper in behalf of H. Hackfeld & Co., Castle & Cooke, C. Brewer & Co., W. G. Irwin & Co., and F. A. Schaefer & Co. Another case in which steps were today taken to appeal to Washington is that of W. W. Bierce Company vs. C. J. Hutchins, trustees, in which defendants moved for formal entering of judgment against them in order that they might perfect their appeal.

In the tax cases the motions for rehearings set forth very numerous grounds on which it is claimed the court erred. The motion in behalf of all the sugar factors sets forth that the decisions were in conflict with controlling decisions in the tax cases of Brewer & Co. and that of Knudsen vs. Stolz; and that the last case decision has been given the force of a statute by the present legislature, a fact not called to the court's attention, through inadvertence.

The Castle & Cooke separate motion sets forth many pages of the Supreme Court decision which are claimed to show error and concludes as follows:

"Finally we call attention to the fact that the Court has overruled the line of decisions which we have given here without referring to them, and whilst appearing to rule on and affirm the Brewer case, has in effect overruled that case. We submit as a ground of rehearing that if that case is to be overruled it is due to the taxpayers and to the authorities that this point should be made clear and some definite line laid down."

Epitomizing the grounds relied upon the motion sets forth eight rules of statutory construction which it is claimed the court overlooked, four facts claimed to have been overlooked, and four cases in which it is claimed that contracts were overlooked.

The question involved is the taxation of contracts existing between factors and plantations, the court having held that such contracts are assessable for taxation. Each of the firms in question was taxed for its contracts or agreements with plantations, according to the income from such contracts, the whole assessable value being held to be over three hundred thousand dollars. In the motions for rehearing it is set forth that there are no contracts in many of the cases in which assessments were made and sustained and a statement is filed showing alleged failures to properly adjust the assessments according to value of the contracts.

Big List Of Unpaid Bills

GOVERNOR CARTER ASKS THE LEGISLATURE TO APPROPRIATE MONEY TO COVER ITEMS NOT PAID FOR OUT OF PAST APPROPRIATIONS—SAYS HE WILL TRY TO SEE THAT NO DEFICIENCY HAPPENS AGAIN—SAYS PUBLIC SENTIMENT IS AGAINST IT.

A message from Governor Carter was received by the House of Representatives at the opening of this morning's session. The message, which referred to outstanding bills against the Territory, ran as follows:

"Enclosed herewith is a statement of claims and unpaid bills for the previous fiscal period, that is, items which were incurred prior to June 30, 1904, amounting to $10,667.43. Every item has been carefully examined, and I recommend their payment.

"May I call to your attention the great change that has been brought about by those in charge of the various departments of the government in the matter of settlement of accounts. At the special session of the legislature of 1904, a similar act, carrying appropriation to the amount of $39,665.95 was passed. Thus for the two years ending with June 30, 1905, the total unpaid bills and claims amount to $31,332.35; while the appropriations passed by the Legislature of 1903 to settle unpaid bills and claims for the two years previous amounted to $307,797.56.

There are two important factors which have contributed to this result: "First, public opinion is now strongly opposed to any expenditures by departments, no matter how necessary, without first securing an appropriation from the legislature.

"Second, the public at large and all the department heads have been given to understand that at the close of a fiscal period, claims not presented will have to be met by those responsible for the negligence.

"Ignorance of the law by which a fiscal period is closed does not excuse a merchant from collecting his account within that period; and on the other hand, a government employee intrusted with the authority to make purchases, through whose carelessness a voucher is misplaced or lost, ought to be made to pay for his neglect.

"Most of the items herewith presented

CARTER ISSUES A PROCLAMATION

AMENDS ELECTION PROCLAMATION TO MEET AMENDMENT OF COUNTY ACT

Governor Carter has signed a proclamation amending the section proclamation recently issued calling a county election. The amendment is to make the proclamation accord with the amendments of the county act, by which the offices of assessor and tax collector and deputies thereof, were taken out of the bill, the business of those offices being left with the Territory. The new proclamation announces that these officers are not to be elected and all references to them are to be considered as stricken from the election proclamation.

As originally passed the county bill provided for county assessors and tax collectors, the offices to be filled by election. One of the grounds of Governor Carter's veto was this provision, the governor claiming that it was unwise to take this business away from the Territory. The legislature, while overriding the general veto, agreed with this view, and immediately passed an act amending the county act so that it would leave the tax business in the hands of the Territory.

Miss Katherine Doyer.

When you are sick in some part of your body it is because some organ is not doing its work properly. Every organ of the body is absolutely controlled by the nerves.

Weak, "run down" nerves tell of their condition by stopping the proper action of some one organ, or of several organs, of the body.

Medical science has for the past seventeen years agreed with the teachings of Prof. Edward E. Phelps of Dartmouth University.

Prof. Phelps was the first physician to openly declare twenty years ago that the health of the human body depends entirely upon the health of the nerves.

Prof. Phelps formulated the prescription of Paine's Celery Compound. The first druggist that this prescription was taken to was a man by the name of Paine. One of the principal ingredients of the prescription is the seed of the celery plant.

After two years' trial of the prescription by Prof. Phelps and a number of the leading Massachusetts physicians it was decided to place this prescription before the public.

The formula was sent to every registered physician in the United States. The prescription was named Paine's Celery Compound, and one of the largest and oldest manufacturing chemists in the country, Wells, Richardson & Co., of Burlington, Vt., undertook its production.

Paine's Celery Compound has stood the test of seventeen years' constant use. It has been for the past seventeen years, and is to-day, the most universally used tonic prescription in the world.

A photograph of Miss Katherine Doyer, of Brooklyn, appears at the head of this article. Miss Doyer's experience is given in her own words to illustrate the effective work that Paine's Celery Compound is constantly doing as the curative agent in the nourishing and rebuilding of "rundown" nerves.

"Some time ago I gradually began to grow weak and emaciated; my eyes became dull, my sight poor and my head dizzy. I was restless and nervous and troubled with bad dreams; I had shooting pains in my stomach and suffered nausea after eating. I consulted a physician, who said I had catarrh of the stomach. I took his prescription for nearly six months, but got no better. Hearing so much of Paine's Celery Compound, I decided to try it. It was a fortunate thing for me that I did, for inside of two months I was entirely cured and have never had a return of any nervous troubles since."—Miss Katherine Doyer, 422 Gold St., Brooklyn, N. Y., August 15, 1904.

Paine's Celery Compound is a nerve invigorator, a regulator and an ideal blood cleanser. It takes away the "wear" on the nerves and enables them to work without tearing themselves to pieces, and it prevents the unhealthy reaction of tired nerves on the entire system.

It solves the problem of how to build up the nervous system, as no other remedy has ever done.

It cures the causes of constipation, biliousness, dyspepsia, headaches, sleeplessness and every sign of impure blood. Nervousness—whether in the form of headaches, sleeplessness, indigestion, melancholia, irritability or any one of a host of other troubles—is a disease, and as such can be driven from the system by the use of Paine's Celery Compound.

Remember this,—Paine's Celery Compound is the prescription of one of the most famous physicians this country has ever known, and all reputable druggists sell and recommend it.

FRANK L. HOOFS.....MANAGER
WEDNESDAY.....MAY 3, 1905

Wall Street And The Deluge

Lawson's Frenzied Finance has been followed by a veritable outbreak of anti-Wall street and anti-trust literature of all sorts. It was preceded by Ida M. Tarbell's "History of Standard Oil," which did much more than Lawson has done yet, at least, to educate the American people in the knowledge of Rockefeller methods. Histories of trusts, articles showing the methods of high finance are in almost every magazine, and the controversy over the acceptance by the Congregational church of a gift from Rockefeller is directly due to such literature as "Frenzied Finance." The story-writers have followed suit and the favorite fiction theme is beginning to be a stock exchange.

Whether Lawson has "made good" or not with regard to his promises of the villainies he would expose, there can be no doubt that he has done Standard Oil a lot of harm. The great trust is fighting a battle for existence in Kansas, apparently a losing battle, and the federal government is taking up the war against it with an ominous showing of the most serious intent. The Beef trust, called the greatest trust in the world, is in such straits that some of its leading and wealthiest men are facing direct danger of terms in jail. According to its historian, the number of farmers this trust has brought to the verge of ruin is large enough to populate a great state and its hold on its particular situation has been so complete that absolutely the only measure of its profits was what the managers decided to be advisable.

Lawson continues to hammer away and his many imitators, in essay and fiction strike hard blows at the successful operators of Wall street, but neither he nor they have so far shown that there is any difference between the successful and the unsuccessful ones, excepting the difference of success and failure. The Wall street lamb is always a would-be wolf. Lawson's denunciation of Rogers is mainly for deceiving a lot of stock operators who were all in the same boat, trying to deceive each other. If trying by means of risk to get something for nothing is gambling, they were gambling, and most of them lost. There has been no stock exchange rule suggested, up to now, which requires those who are able to control prices and markets to limit how much profit they shall make. Such a rule is contrary to the game called business in Wall street.

In spite of these considerations, the flood of anti-Wall street literature is rising and sentiment against the street is such as to indicate that its methods must change, perhaps partly because exposure will make lambs more scarce. At the outset of his somewhat frenzied narrative, Lawson stated that he had a remedy to suggest and would eventually develop it. If he lives long enough to get to it, through his wonderful conversations with Rogers and others, which he recollects with all the details of a phonograph, Lawson's remedy will be quite as interesting to examine as any of his history.

Russian Finance

There seems to be no question as to the ability of Russia to finance the war. Even though foreign financiers should shut their vaults to her she still has recourse to internal loans and other sources of revenue. Up to the present time Russia has borrowed $400,000,000 from France and Germany and it is thought that fully $75,000,000 of this money still remains untouched. The negotiations with the French financiers for another loan of $125,000,000 have been postponed temporarily the Russians claim. It is understood that the cause for this postponement is because of the desire of the French to make the loan at 90 instead of at 95 the figure first agreed upon. But even should Russia fail to make this or any other foreign loan she will still have an enormous quantity of money to draw upon in addition to internal loans.

It is of course well known that the Russian law provides for a gold reserve of 50 per cent to keep the ruble note at its face value up to an issue of 600,000,000 rubles, or $300,000,000. After the 600,000,000 limit has been passed the gold reserve must be equal to the notes issued ruble for ruble. The bank note circulation at present is 828,000,000 rubles. This is covered by the gold reserve according to law, and there remains in the state bank and Russian treasury a surplus of $71,000,000.

If Russia wished to go to her gold reserve for war expenses she could at this rate continue the war for another year at the expenditure of $20,000,000 per month and still have $115,000,000 left at the end of that time. The amount of gold in the treasury and the state bank on the first of the year was officially reported to be 1,239,000,000 rubles.

It should be stated also that Russia's normal income and expenditure leave a trifle of 61,000,000 rubles surplus. Thus last year the income from direct and indirect taxation stamps, government monopolies, such as vodka and brandy, and the government possessions, which include railways and forest lands, totaled 1,977,000,000 rubles, against which there was a budget expenditure of 1,916,000,000. The money for the Red Cross comes out of the stamp tax, which is included in this sum.

The mythical "war chest," about which so much has been said and written, is simply the gold reserve in the treasury and has been set forth in the above statement. Of course there is a last resource which any pious Russian would be loath to touch, and that is the monastery gold, sometimes alluded to as "the holy gold fund." This is a picturesque way of putting it, but it means simply the immense quantities of gold and jewels accumulated in the churches of Russia, and which under stress of circumstances might be used for national resources.

The amount of money is enormous. It is hard to estimate it, and Russians are not prone to talk of it, but it is said to aggregate something like $550,000,000. But before that fund was touched there would be a number of expedients to be resorted to by the minister of finance in the way of internal loans and the issue of treasury bonds.

It would therefore appear that there is no immediate necessity of the war ending for lack of funds. Of course anything may happen in diplomatic negotiations, and it is always possible that, as has been suggested from English sources, Russia is really about to make peace and is merely trying to bluff out the best terms possible.

Women And Church Work

The action of the Episcopal Church Convocation last night in defeating the amendment to the canons, giving women the right to vote in Parish meetings, is clearly contrary to the general trend of thought and action among all religious bodies. The action taken comes also as a surprise in several respects, as it was recommended by a committee that has had the matter under consideration for the past year and was warmly advocated by many in the church. It is somewhat surprising, too that so many of the clergy should have opposed it, for no one knows as well as the clergy, how much work women do for the church and how much the church and church work would suffer if the work of women were eliminated. In every parish and congregation, in all denominations, the women are in large measure the life of the church work, particularly on the charitable and benevolent side of church work, and in many instances and in perhaps a majority of congregations, in the matter of financial support. Not that women themselves directly give more than men or as much—women as a rule do not directly control the purse-strings. But indirectly, through enthusiasm, their own zeal and industry, in dozens of ways, they very largely affect the finances of church work. Take for instance the Woman's Auxiliary of the Protestant Episcopal church, in various ways it contributes to the church and to church work at the rate of $400,000 a year. At the Boston Convention it made the magnificent offering of $150,000 for the one object of missions.

Rev. Dr. A. S. Lloyd, the General Secretary of the Mission Board, a man who declined the Bishopric of Kentucky in order that he might continue in the mission work, says that the women "are the hands of the church." Every parish minister knows that this is so.

Being so, it would seem as though it were the merest act of justice to give them the right to vote in Parish meetings for wardens and vestrymen. The Convention could not do a wiser thing than to reconsider the vote by which it defeated the amendment last night, and adopt it.

The Senate did a poor day's work when it knocked out the appropriation for the Band. It is a safe thing to say that one feature which impresses visitors to the islands more than people here imagine is the excellent work done by Captain Berger and his men. Possibly the value cannot be reduced to dollars and cents but it is none the less tangible.

So General Shamokski says that the Russians are going to beat the Japs after all. That is one of the items of news which might be labelled "Important if True."

The news that former Sheriff A. M. Brown was mentioned for county attorney instead of sheriff was published in this paper last week, also Brown's explicit denial that he had any such intention. The revival of the report is an effort on the part of the Administration to switch primary strength from

PLANS OF THE DEMOCRATS

DISTRICT COMMITTEES WILL GET TOGETHER AND ARRANGE ABOUT COUNTY CONVENTION.

A conference of Democratic leaders was held night before last to consider the matter of making a campaign in the coming county election. The unanimous sentiment was in favor of such a campaign being made and it was felt that the party would lose its hold if a ticket was not nominated.

Chairman W. A. Kinney decided not to call the Territorial central committee together as the county election was a matter with which that body has nothing to do. Instead he had Secretary Irving of the Democratic committee address a circular letter to the chairman of the various districts suggesting to them the advisability of the Democrats making a campaign and suggesting further that steps for calling a primary election and holding a nominating convention be taken.

For the County of Oahu it was suggested to the chairman of the respective district committees that they call a joint meeting of the committees where the details for three primaries and the convention be arranged. It was suggested that in case primaries were not called the committee was empowered to call the delegates to the former district conventions to attend the new county convention.

The general sentiment among the members of the party is that there should be new primary elections held. Up to the present time there appears to be a dearth of candidates for the various offices. The friends of Frank Harvey, who was the only Democrat elected supervisor at the first county election, are urging him to accept a supervisory nomination. The primaries may be called for a week from Saturday.

A PROBABLE VETO

Governor Carter will probably veto the item of $25,000 for expenses of defending the county government act as passed by the House yesterday, if it reaches him. The governor did not expect a bill for the expenses of the legal battle on the defensive side. Carter is inclined to think the battle is one for the attorney general's department.

JOURNAL FOUND

The original journal of the House of Representatives for the session of 1901 was found this morning, on the uppermost floor of the Capitol building, among a lot of other old papers. It was not to be found when wanted yesterday for the Meheula trial, but Judge De Bolt admitted in evidence one of the printed copies.

THE GOVERNOR AND THE JEHU

GOVERNOR IS APPARENTLY NOT AN EXPERT JUDGE OF JABS AS A MISTAKE MONDAY INDICATES

No less a personage than Governor Carter himself, is understood to have been the passenger who rode in the hack driven by George Spence Monday night and who subsequently notified the police that the hackman appeared to be intoxicated. The governor is understood to have boarded Spence's hack at the Pacific Club and from that place was driven to the gubernatorial residence up Nuuanu valley. Spence drove the hack on the wrong side of the road. From this circumstance the passenger thought the man was under the influence of liquor and after reaching home notified the police of his dark suspicions.

Spence was directed by the police to report to the police station. Spence was able to satisfy the authorities that he was not intoxicated. He explained that the reason he had driven on the left hand side of the road instead of the right hand side, was because he wished to avoid obstructions on the right hand side, caused by the excavation of the street for the mains of the new gas company. Spence was not held at the police station. He has just recovered from an operation for appendicitis.

REPRESENTATIVES GIVE TESTIMONY

MEMBERS OF THE LAST HOUSE GIVE EVIDENCE IN THE TRIAL OF MEHEULA.

All the members of the last House of Representatives except two, Beckley and Chillingworth, were examined in Judge De Bolt's court in the trial of Clerk Meheula yesterday afternoon. Testimony was given in turn by S. K. Olin, M. K. Kealawa, D. Damien, J. K. Pule, M. K. Kou, J. Nakaleka, Philip Pali, A. Fernandez, J. K. Gandall, Frank Andrade, C. A. Long, H. M. Kanio, H. W. Aylett, E. A. Knudsen, W. W. Harris, J. D. Lewis, C. H. Pulea, W. P. Hale, F. R. Greenwell, J. Kumalae and S. E. Kalama, all of them members of the House of Representatives two years ago and some of them members of the present legislature.

The testimony of the legislators was regarding the number of copies of the Hawaiian codes, English edition, they received, it being charged that Meheula's voucher for fifteen of them for members was fraudulent. The testimony showed that half a dozen copies were supplied to members. F. J. Testa, H. C. Binbe and Frank Godfrey were called to produce receipts for money paid to them for copies which they sold to Meheula. It is claimed that the copies which were supplied to members were the copies so purchased, and the prosecution is attempting to show where each copy came from and that none were secured under the voucher for the fifteen said to have been purchased.

The case went over today until tomorrow, owing to Attorney Ashford being needed in Judge Robinson's court. Judge Robinson came down this morning, though still in ill health, to finish hearing the case of Sister Albertina vs. Kalaniana'ole, which he had already begun. He will leave for the coast on the next transport.

The Meheula case will be resumed tomorrow morning and will probably be concluded during the day.

HOMESTEADERS WANT ROADS

PETITION PRESENTED IN HOUSE THIS MORNING—TEACHERS ASK A RESTORATION OF SALARIES.

A petition was received in the House this morning from homesteaders of the Palolo valley asking for an appropriation of $7,500 for the extension of the Puukela and Waimao branches of the Palolo homestead roads as recently surveyed. The matter was referred to the Committee on Public Lands and Internal Improvements.

Treasurer Campbell wrote explaining that the appropriation for the Associated charities of $150 a month was used for paying rent of $25 a month and salary of $125 a month to the lady superintendent.

A statement adopted by the Territorial Teachers' Association asking the legislature to restore salaries to their old basis was received and filed.

The House went into committee of the whole on House Bill No. 4 respecting departmental appropriations. Rice again took the chair.

The vote of yesterday striking out the $15,000 appropriation for the purchase of school books was reconsidered.

Fernandez moved that an appropriation of $14,000 be inserted for the purpose.

Consideration of the item was deferred until later in the day.

The item of $2400 for the preservation of records was reconsidered and passed. The following items were considered in detail:

Support of Lahainaluna Seminary, $15,000. Passed.
General expenses, Boys' Industrial school, $15,000.
General expenses, Girls' Industrial school, $2000. Passed.
The House took a recess at noon.

RUMOR THAT ONOMEA WAS SOLD "SHORT"

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—Quietness is still the ruling feature of the market. Sales of shares were mostly confined to small parcels yesterday and there was a very small range in the fluctuations. In sugar shares trading was light, as has been the case for the last two weeks. Prices were substantially the same as on the preceding day, and in common with the general tone of the market operations dropped slightly. All the street rumors about the recent transactions in Onomea and Paauhau sugar 90 days turn out to be wrong. Great wonder was expressed that any one would short these stocks under the present known conditions. It now transpires that there were no short sales. The sales seller 90 days were merely for account of an estate, the decedent's holdings being disposed of in this way in order to provide for the placing of quite a considerable quantity of stock so that delivery could be made at one time and also to enable the executor to make formal application to the probate department of the Superior Court asking permission to sell, basing his affidavit on the fact that the buyers were ready to accept delivery. To place the holdings in question required some time and the "seller 90 days" was utilized merely to get the buyers and secure the necessary court orders authorizing the sale of a decedent's property. So much for all the talk about what appeared to be shortening Onomea and Paauhau sugar stocks.

SECRETARY HAY'S WORK DAYS ENDED

GERMAN SPECIALIST FINDS THE GREAT AMERICAN STATESMAN IN A STATE OF COLLAPSE.

BERLIN, April 25.—Discouraging reports have been received as to the true condition of Secretary Hay, who recently arrived at Bad Nauheim, in the Grand Duchy of Hesse, near Frankfurt. The Secretary underwent his first examination at the hands of Professor Groedel, the celebrated heart specialist, Sunday. Groedel found him in wretched shape. His suffering is aggravated by a combination of heart trouble, nervous collapse and anemia.

There is ground for stating that unless a miraculous change for the better sets in, Secretary Hay can never again hope to return to activity. He is thin, weak and extremely nervous. The slightest noise disturbs him. His private secretary has frequently to stop reading the newspaper articles and dispatches aloud, because Hay is annoyed at the mere sound of his voice. The patient took his first bath yesterday and was able to walk out for a while. Dr. Groedel has prescribed an indefinite course of rigid treatment and absolute rest. The specialist is not willing to go so far as to pronounce the Secretary's condition hopeless, but is quoted as regarding it as alarming in the highest degree.

RESTORER MAY GET NEW CREW

MAY SEND LASCAR CREW HOME AND SHIP BETTER MEN AT THIS PORT.

Considerable interest is being taken at present along the water front in the crew of the cable S. S. Restorer. The vessel arrived here with Lascars. It was understood shortly after her arrival that the captain intended to send his Lascar crew back home and ship a new crew. There appears now to be a hitch in this plan. It is understood that one reason for the master not wishing to ship a new crew at this port, is the fact that he would have to pay a much higher scale of wages than is paid at the present time.

The sailors union people claim that as the vessel now a foreign bottom, is to operate under a special license from the United States government between American territory, she ought to ship a crew of citizens.

SUGAR VESSEL IN DISTRESS

SHIP HENRY VILLARD REPORTED TO HAVE PUT INTO MELBOURNE IN DISTRESS.

News of a mishap to one of the sugar fleets was received by cable yesterday in the regular report to the Marine Exchange. The vessel fortunately has no sugar aboard, but is coming to this port to load. She is the ship Henry Villard. The vessel was out 114 days yesterday from New York for Honolulu. Word was received that she had put into Melbourne in distress.

It is understood that the Villard was to come by way of the Cape of Good Hope instead of Cape Horn. She made quite a fair passage to Melbourne in case she took the African route. It is likely that at least three months will elapse before the vessel reaches Honolulu.

CHARGED WITH PERJURY. Yanaga and Makagawa were arrested this afternoon by U. S. Marshal Hendry on warrants charging them with perjury. The warrants were
