WHAT IS THIS DISEASE THAT IS COMING UPON US?

Like a thief at night it steals in upon us unawares. Many persons have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint all-gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and feel clammy. After a while a cough sets in at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish coloured expectoration. The afflicted one feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable, and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become costive; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow, the urine is scanty and high-coloured, depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste, and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population has this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. Some have treated it for a liver complaint, others for kidney disease, etc., but none of the various kinds of treatment have been attended with success, because the remedy should be such as to act harmoniously upon each one of these organs, and upon the stomach as well; for in Dyspepsia (for this is really what the disease is) all of these organs partake of this disease and require a remedy that will act upon all at the same time. Seigel's Curative Syrup acts like a charm in this class of complaints, giving almost immediate relief. The following letters from chemists of standing in the community where they live show in what estimation the article is held.

John Archer, Hartmill, near Sheffield:—I can confidently recommend it to all who may be suffering from liver or stomach complaints, having the testimony of my customers, who have derived great benefit from the Syrup and Pills. The sale is increasing wonderfully.

Geo. A. Webb, 141 York Street, Belfast:—I have sold a large quantity, and the parties have testified to its being what you represent it.

J. S. Metcalfe, 55, Highgate, Kendal:—I have always great pleasure in recommending the Curative Syrup, for I have never known a case which it has not relieved or cured, and I have sold many gross.

Robt. G. Gould, 27, High Street, Andover:—I have always take a great interest in your medicines and I have recommended them, as I have found numerous cases of cure from their use. Thomas Chapman, West Auckland:—I find that the trade steadily increases. I sell more of your medicines than any other kind.

Frickheim, Arbroath, Forfarshire, Sept. 23, 1882. Dear Sir:—Last year I sent you a letter recommending Mother Seigel's Syrup. I have very much pleasure in still bearing testimony to the very satisfactory results of the famous Syrup and Pills. Most patent medicines die out with me, but Mother Seigel has succeeded, and is still in great demand as when I first began to sell the medicine. The cures which have come under my notice are chiefly those of liver complaint and general debility.

N. Darroll, Clun, Salop:—All who buy it are pleased, and recommend it. Jos. Balkwill, A. P. S. Kingsbridge:—The public seem to appreciate their great value.

A. Armstead, Market Street, Dalton-in-Furness:—It is needless for me to say that your valuable medicines have great sale in this district—greater than any other I know of, giving great satisfaction.

Robt. Laine, Melksham:—I can well recommend the Curative Syrup from having proved its efficacy for indigestion myself.

A certain minister in my neighbourhood says it is the only thing which has benefited him and restored him to his normal condition of health after being unable to preach for a considerable length of time. I could mention also a great many other cases, but space would not allow. A near friend of mine, who is very much addicted to costiveness, or constipation, finds that Mother Seigel's Pills are the only pills which suit his complaint. All other pills cause a reaction which is very annoying. Mother Seigel's Pills do not leave a bad after-effect. I have much pleasure in commending again to suffering humanity Mother Seigel's medicine, which are no sham. If this letter is of any service you can publish it.

Yours very truly, (Signed) William S. Glass, Chemist.
A. J. White, Esq.

15th August, 1883.
Dear Sir:—I write to tell you that Mr. Henry Hillier, of Yatesbury, Wilts, informs me that he suffered from a severe form of indigestion for upwards of four years, and took no end of doctor's medicine without the slightest benefit, and declares Mother Seigel's Syrup which he got from me has saved his life.

Yours truly,
(Signed) N. Webb,
Chemist, Calne.

A TERRIBLE SECRET.

A California paper has the heading to a telegram in prominent type —"A well-kept secret, which might have been used to injure Cleveland." After all the accusations against the President elect's character through which he waded to the head of the nation, it might be supposed that what was kept back, which otherwise might have injured him, was some enormity of wickedness, beside which the hanging of his grandmother's pet cat would have been saintliness. The terrible secret, however, proved to be that the first free-trade club in America was formed in the law office of Bissell & Cleveland, Buffalo, after the Civil War, and that Mr. Cleveland has been from the beginning and is today president of the organization.
Terrible enough, but not so very much worse than the policy of tariff reform laid down in full view in the Democratic platform, nor than the pronounced free-trade speeches of Mr. Hendricks, Democratic Vice-President elect, during the campaign. The Republicans played on the anti-free trade string, as it was, for all they were able, and perhaps protection would only have received a worse blow if Mr. Cleveland's dread secret had been divulged before the election, and his party forced to the trade issue all along the line. It seems to be dawning upon the minds of a majority of the American nation that the protection of high taxation benefits the few at the expense of the many, and the little spice of free trade with the rest of creation, which may be expected during the ensuing administration, may bring clear daylight upon the subject. Possibly at next election it may be the highest political wisdom on the part of Mr.
Cleveland and his followers to proclaim upon the housetops principles that, it appears, they to some extent in the past contest locked up in their breasts as a terrible secret. If protection cannot succeed in the United States it can nowhere, for her vast extent of territory, covering almost every variety of soil and resources, yields scope for a large share of free trade within the tariff wall that forms her borders. As the country is filling up with people, however, it is becoming more and more apparent that home production cannot keep up with home demand for an increasing variety of commodities. This is, for one thing, the case with sugar, and one of the arguments used to support the renewal of old and negotiation of new treaties with sugar-growing countries.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Father Clement, of the Roman Catholic mission here, has furnished us with the interesting extracts from a report of the Plenary Council in Baltimore, which appear elsewhere.

A second trial of Bridges may or may not place him in a more favorable position toward the law. One thing is, however, established beyond the effects of any new light.
That is, that the Pistol is not a recognized agent of justice or public safety here. This fact emphasizes the responsibility of the authorities for the most ample protection of the community by day and night.

THE PLENARY COUNCIL

OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES AT BALTIMORE.

On Sunday, Nov. 9th, ult., the largest council of the Catholic Church ever held in the Western Hemisphere convened at the cathedral of Baltimore, which had already witnessed several councils, the very first of which was held in 1789. It has been 78 years since the cathedral cornerstone was laid by Bishop Carroll, the very first Bishop of Baltimore, and 63 years since the complete building was consecrated by Archbishop Mareschal. Even alongside the new cathedral of New York city, its vena-rable dignity would in no wise be diminished by the grandeur and opulence of the new structure.

The streets between the Archbis-hop's house and the cathedral were thronged with thousands of people anxious to witness the grand procession of all the members of the Council. Some streets were almost impassable. First came about 130 theologians wearing surplice, amiet, red and gold cope and berretta.
Next came 25 chanters, and then the regular and secular clergy, about 70 in number, dressed like the theologians, and about 200 seminarians wearing surplice and berretta. Next came all the prelates of the Council.
The monsignori, dressed like the theologians, were marching ahead of the prelates, and then the abbots, ten in number, most of them benedictines, many wearing long beards, and all of them having white mitres, and copes of red color. Next came the bishops, numbering over fifty and wearing rich red and golden copes, amice and plain gold mitres.
Next came the twelve Archbishops and finally the Apostolic Delegate, Archbishop Gibbons, wearing amice, alb, cinerure, red stole and red cope, on his head a white mitre ornamented with gold, and in his hand his crosier or pastoral staff. On the way to the church the chanters sang "Veni Creator Spiritus" and "Ave Maria Stella." When the procession had entered the church, and the clergymen and prelates taken their respective seats, Archbishop Kenrick, of St. Louis, began the celebration of a pontifical high mass in the presence of the apostolic delegate. The music, which was of the Cecilian and Palestrina Schools, in strict harmony with the rules of the Catholic liturgy, was rendered by two choirs, one composed of the official chanters of the council, assisted by 40 seminarians from St. Sulpice, and the other composed of 80 voices, the regular chorus of the cathedral and St. James' Church.

At the conclusion of the mass the pulpit was occupied by Archbishop Ryan. His sermon was on "The church in her council." 18 years ago. Said he:—

"Some of us here present beheld a similar spectacle in this cathedral.
The contrast in the number of prelates present is a fair index to the progress of the Catholic Church.
Forty-six then represented the Catholic Church of the United States; and now the church numbers them over 70 with a proportional advance in the religious orders and the clergy. The foundation of the social edifice seems most shaken, and men are looking for a stronger and more permanent basis for morality. They feel that the tendency is toward greater license still. I believe that the eyes of many thoughtful men of different denominations and of no denomination at all, are directed towards this council, and they are disposed to say to us, 'Can you, Catholic bishop and priests, do any thing to help to stem the torrent already so threatening?' We cannot trust men as we formerly did.
Honor, honesty, and purity seem on the wane. The church of the 1st century was the church of the 2nd, and so until the present century.
Her bishops meet in council, preserving the chain of testimony unbroken, unbroken because as the breaking of the Atlantic cable at any point would prevent the transmission of a message from Europe, so if the chain of testimony be not unbroken, we cannot know with certainty the great fundamental facts of Christianity. Look around and see it (the church) represented in part in this great council. How glorious it is! How real! How living! The church in her councils acts for the benefit of society in three different ways: 1st, by preserving the purity and certainty of great truths, which give certain motive to morality. 2nd, by the reformation of morals amongst her own children; and 3rd, by her solicitude for the poor and suffering members of society. And I believe that she never had a grander mission in all her history than she has to-day to the noble, generous and fair-minded American people. Therefore we have ground of hope that she will be a great conservative power in this young and promising republic."

After sermon the choirs sang an antiphon and a psalm. Then the Apostolic Delegate recited a prayer in Latin; the Litany of the Saints were chanted; and after another short prayer and the singing of "Veni Creator," the Apostolic Delegate declared the council opened, and all the members of the council made the profession of faith, by advancing in front of the altar, kneeling down two by two before the Bible, and kissing the open page as they made their profession. Though the labors of the plenary council shall not be made public until the whole work of the Council has been sent to Rome and reviewed there, still we know from a pastoral letter of the plenary council all the very important subjects upon which they have legislated. They are: 1st, the Vatican Council; 2nd, the infallibility of the Pope; 3rd, the trials of the church; 4th, the church and the republic; 5th, the education of the clergy; 6th, the pastoral rights; 7th, Christian education; 8th, the Christian home, i. e., what makes the home Christian: Christian marriage, the indissolubility of marriage, home virtues, i. e., Christian charity which consists in the love of God and of our neighbor, good reading, the Holy Scriptures, the Catholic press; 9th, the Lord's Day; 10th, Forbidden societies; 11th, Catholic societies; 12th, Home and Foreign Missions. The regulations made by the Council upon these numerous and vast subjects will not be made public until they have been reviewed and approved at Rome.

As a divine blessing of their labors, one offer of $300,000 has been made to them by Miss Mary G. Caldwell, a young lady of New York city, as the foundation for a Catholic University, to be established in New York city or its vicinity, under the guiding hand of the Council, for the higher education of the future ministry of the Catholic Church in the United States.

This Plenary Council does plainly show what progress the Catholic Church has made in the United States of America during the last hundred years. From a few thousand we have grown to be eight millions. Said Bishop Spalding, of Peoria, in a thanksgiving sermon, in presence of the members of the council:—

"Then (100 years ago), we were without organization. Now this solemn council, more numerous and more free than any which could be assembled elsewhere, is the most striking evidence of our perfect organization. Then we had no schools; now nearly half a million children receive instruction in Catholic schools. Then churches were few and poor, now they are counted by thousands, and many of them are monuments. Like the growth of the country, our progress has been so rapid and so manifest, that words but enfeeble the impression stamped upon all minds by the facts themselves."—[Extracts from the "Baltimore Weekly Sun."

WHERE PAPA BANKED HIS MONEY.

"Mamma, what is that building?"
"A bank building, dearie."
"Is that where papa keeps his money?"
"Yes, dearie."
"Mr. Faro keeps it, don't he, mamma?"
"Why, no, dearie! What a question!"
"Well, I heard papa say he left $1,000 at Faro's bank Saturday night, anyway."
"He did, did he?" [Aside.]
"Well, that's one safe deposit he's made anyway! I know now why he refused me a new dress, new gloves and hat yesterday. Oh, but I'll make him regret the day he was born!"
"What's the matter, mamma?"
"Nothing, dearie, only I'm going to say a few words to your papa concerning Mr. Faro's bank!"—Ashe-more Toothpick.

AN ALARMING DISEASE AFFLICTING A NUMEROUS CLASS.

The disease commences with a slight derangement of the stomach, but, if neglected, it in time involves the whole frame, embracing the kidneys, liver, pancreas, and, in fact, the entire glandular system, and the afflicted drags out a miserable existence until death gives relief from suffering. The disease is often mistaken for other complaints, but if the reader will ask himself the following questions, he will be able to determine whether he himself is one of the afflicted:—Have I distress, pain, or difficulty in breathing after eating? Is there a dull, heavy feeling attended by drowsiness? Have the eyes a yellow tinge? Does a thick, sticky, mucous gather about the gums and teeth in the morning, accompanied by a disagreeable taste? Is the tongue coated? Is there pain in the side and back? Is there a fullness about the right side as if the liver were enlarging? Is there costiveness? Is there vertigo or dizziness when rising suddenly from a horizontal position? Are the secretions from the kidneys scanty and highly coloured, with a deposit after standing? Does food ferment soon after eating, accompanied by flatulence or a belching of gas from the stomach? Is there frequent palpitation of the heart? These various symptoms may not be present at one time, but they torment the sufferer in turn as the dreadful disease progresses. If the case be one of long standing, there will be a dry, hacking cough, attended after a time by expectoration. In very advanced stages the skin assumes a dirty brownish appearance, and the hands and feet are covered by a cold, sticky perspiration. As the liver and kidneys become more and more diseased, rheumatic pains appear, and the usual treatment proves entirely unavailing against this latter agonizing disorder. The origin of this malady is indigestion or dyspepsia, and a small quantity of the proper medicine will remove the disease if taken in its incipient stage. It is most important that the disease should be promptly and properly treated in its first stages, when a little medicine will effect a cure and even when it has obtained a strong hold the correct remedy should be persevered in until every vestige of the disease is eradicated, until the appetite has returned, and the digestive organs restored to a healthy condition. The surest and most effective remedy for this distressing complaint is "Seigel's Curative Syrup," a vegetable preparation sold by all Chemists and Medicine Vendors throughout the world, and by the proprietors, A. J. White, Limited, 17, Farringdon Road, London, E. C. This Syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch, out of the system.

Market Place, Fockington, York, October 2nd, 1882.

Sir,—Being a sufferer for years with dyspepsia in all its worst forms, and after spending pounds in medicines, I was at last persuaded to try Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, and am thankful to say have derived more benefit from it than any other medicine I ever took, and would advise any one suffering from the same complaint to give it a trial, the results they would soon find out for themselves. If you like to make use of this testimonial you are quite at liberty to do so.

Yours respectfully, (Signed) R. TURNER.

Seigel's Operating Pills are the best family physic that has ever been discovered. They cleanse the bowels from all irritating substances, and leave them in a healthy condition. They cure costiveness.

St. Mary-street, Peterborough, November 29th, 1881.

Sir,—It gives me great pleasure to inform you of the benefit I have received from Seigel's Syrup. I have been troubled for years with dyspepsia; but after a few doses of the Syrup, I found relief, and after taking two bottles of it I felt quite cured.

I am, Sir, yours truly,
Mr. A. J. White. WILLIAM BRENT.

Hensingham, Whitehaven, Oct. 10th, '82.

Mr. A. J. White.—Dear Sir,—I was for some time afflicted with piles, and was advised to give Mother Seigel's Syrup a trial, which I did. I am now happy to state that it has restored me to complete health.—I remain, yours respectfully, (Signed) JOHN H. LIGHTFOOT.

15th August, 1883.

Dear Sir,—I write to tell you that Mr. Henry Miller, of Yatesburg, Wills, informs me that he suffered from a severe form of indigestion for upwards of four years, and took no end of doctor's medicine without the slightest benefit, and declared Mother Seigel's Syrup which he got from me has saved his life.

Yours truly,
(Signed) N. WEBB, Chemist, Calne, September 8th, 1883.

Dear Sir,—I find the sale of Seigel's Syrup steadily increasing. All who have tried it speak very highly of its medicinal virtues; one customer describes it as a "God-send to dyspeptic people." I always recommend it with confidence.

Faithfully yours,
(Signed) VINCENT A. WILLS, Chemist-Dentist, Merthyr Tydfil.

Preston, Sept. 21st 1883.

My Dear Sir,—Your Syrup and Pills are still very popular with my customers, many saying they are the best family medicines possible.

The other day a customer came for two bottles of Syrup and said "Mother Seigel" had saved the life of his wife, and he added, "one of these bottles I am sending fifteen miles away to a friend who is very ill. I have much faith in it."

The sale keeps up wonderfully, in fact, one would fancy almost that the people were beginning to breakfast, dine, and sup on Mother Seigel's Syrup, the demand is so constant and the satisfaction so great.—I am dear Sir, yours faithfully, (Signed) W. BOWKER.

A SKILFUL SURGICAL OPERATION.

The American Ambassador at Vienna, Mr. Kasson, has lately forwarded to his Government an interesting account of a remarkable surgical operation lately performed by Professor Billroth, of Vienna, which, wonderful to tell, consisted in the removal of a portion of the human stomach, involving nearly one-third of the organ—and, strange to say, the patient recovered—the only successful operation of the kind ever performed. The disease for which this operation was performed was cancer of the stomach, attended with the following symptoms:—The appetite is quite poor. There is a peculiar indescribable distress in the stomach, a feeling that has been described as a faint "all gone" sensation; a sticky slime collects about the teeth, especially in the morning, accompanied by an unpleasant taste. Food fails to satisfy this peculiar faint sensation; but, on the contrary, it appears to aggravate the feeling. The eyes are sunken, tinged with yellow; the hands and feet become cold and sticky—a cold perspiration. The sufferers feel tired all the time, and sleep does not seem to give rest. After a time the patient becomes nervous and irritable, gloomy, his mind filled with evil forebodings. When rising suddenly from a recumbent position there is a dizziness, a whirling sensation, and he is obliged to grasp something firm to keep from falling. The bowels costive, the skin dry and hot at times; the blood becoming thick and stagnant, and does not circulate properly. After a time the patient spits up food soon after eating, sometimes in a sour and fermented condition, sometimes sweetish to the taste. Oftentimes there is a palpitation of the heart, and the patient fears he may have heart disease. Towards the last the patient is unable to retain any food whatever, as the opening in the intestines becomes closed, or nearly so. Although this disease is indeed alarming, sufferers with the above named symptoms should not feel nervous, for nine hundred and ninety-nine cases out of a thousand have no cancer, but simply dyspepsia, a disease easily removed if treated in a proper manner. The safest and best remedy for the disease is Seigel's Curative Syrup, a vegetable preparation sold by all chemists and medicine vendors throughout the world, and by the proprietors, A. J. White (Limited), 17, Farringdon-road, London, E. C. This Syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives it, root and branch, out of the system.

St. Mary-street, Peterborough, November 29th, 1881.

Sir,—It gives me great pleasure to inform you of the benefit I have received from Seigel's Syrup. I have been troubled for years with dyspepsia; but after a few doses of the Syrup, I found relief, and after taking two bottles of it I feel quite cured.

I am, Sir, yours truly,
Mr. A. J. White. WILLIAM BRENT.

To Mr. A. J. White,

Seigel's Operating Pills are the best family physic that has ever been discovered. They cleanse the bowels from all irritating substances, and leave them in a healthy condition. They cure costiveness.

Spanish Town, Jamaica, West Indies, Oct. 24, 1882.

Dear Sir,—I write to inform you that I have derived great benefit from "Seigel's Syrup." For some years I have suffered from liver complaint, with its many and varied concomitant evils, so that my life was a perpetual misery. Twelve months ago I was induced to try Seigel's Syrup, and although rather sceptical, having tried so many reputed infallible remedies, I determined to give it at least a fair trial. In two or three days I felt considerably better, and now at the end of twelve months (having continued taking it) I am glad to say that I am a different being altogether. It is said of certain pens that they "come as a boon and a blessing to men" and I have no reason to doubt the truthfulness of the statement. I can truly say, however, that Seigel's Syrup has come as a "boon and a blessing" to me. I have recommended it to several fellow-sufferers from this distressing complaint, and their testimony is quite in accordance with my own. Gratitude for the benefit I have derived from the excellent preparation, prompts me to furnish you with this unsolicited testimonial.

I am dear Sir,

Yours ever gratefully,
(Signed) Carey B. Berry.
