EDITORIAL NOTES.

The reference in our editorial of Tuesday to the Saturday Press was aimed at the daily, which we believe was never edited by either of the gentlemen mentioned in Mr. Thurston's communication of yesterday.

If the ministers wish to keep their fat offices up in which they are supposed to be battering in luxury, let them give us some street crossings. Every time the street is crossed we hear mutterings of cursings, and the cause of reform lose a vote.

Isn't it a little queer that the Mechanics Union, which is supposed to stand on its merits as the party of honest labor, should be represented by Hoapili Baker who confessed in open Court a little while ago with edifying frankness that he was a palace hanger-on, who never did any work. A man who exercises with his tongue to the exclusion of all other forms of exercises, is a wolf who does not even take the trouble to array himself in sheep's clothing and anything but a proper and dignified representative of laboring men. It has been the misfortune of laboring parties in America to fall into the hands of the "walking delegate," and to be disgraced or betrayed by leaders, whose want of intelligence or honesty, or both, made them unworthy of their cause.

A cable special to the New York Mail and Express from Cairo of November 26th says: Confirmation has been received in this city of the report that the Mahdi is perfecting a plan in conjunction with the Emir, by which they shall make a combined invasion of Egypt. Captain Wissman has entrusted Dr. Ehlers with command of the expedition which is to open the caravan road from Pangaria to Kumanjaro. He may, however, go himself to accompany the expedition.

Two Houses Or One.

MR. EDITOR: Referring to your editorial discussion of the necessity of providing for the appointment of Nobles "in some manner which would make them the exponent of the more conservative sentiment of the community, not for the sake of property holders, but for the benefit of all," let me say that this is a question which has been found to be of vital interest in every representative form of government. While no one pretends that ownership of property, or the capacity to earn $600 a year, is necessarily a measure of one's intelligence, or is a thoroughly satisfactory requirement for an elector or legislator, the difficulty is to find any satisfactory requirements. Educational qualifications are easily reduced to an absurdity, and, moreover, those who can read and write may be the reverse of conservatives, while it is essential to good government that in some way there shall be a check upon ignorant or hasty legislation.

I venture to suggest that the day is not far distant when the question will be discussed in this country of the advantage of having a legislature composed of two separate bodies, and that such a measure would prove to be of general benefit. The lesson which history teaches is that assemblies having but one house tend rapidly to become either the tool of a single despot or of the still more despotic and irresponsible multitude.

If the law-making is done by any one man or single body of men, unchecked and uncontrolled by others, the result is absolutism, either of the one or of the many, or else is anarchy. How then can the law-making power best be checked or controlled? Judicial restraint often is or may be most valuable; but that may itself be legislated away by amending the fundamental law, which creates its power, if in no other way. The law-making powers should be so decided as to check and control each other. An assembly composed of but one house, especially if its members are all upon the same footing in respect of qualifications and tenure of office, is practically independent, and all independent power soon becomes absolute and tyrannical. It is simply suicidal, with a single house system, to abolish all distinctions between the legislatures.

The provision in the constitution of Kamehameha III which required that the Nobles and Representatives sit in separate houses, was set aside in the constitution of Kamehameha V, which made but one house, for the alleged reason, I believe, that otherwise public business might come to a standstill. While I doubt whether this was the reason for the change, and am of the opinion that it was made in order to nullify the power of free and intelligent representatives of the people, yet even if it were true that with two houses many important measures would be defeated which with a single house would be carried, I contend that a dead lock, or no law-making at all, is better than excited, ill-considered legislation, done under undue pressure and in haste.

Whenever Hawaii shall return to its earlier system of an assembly composed of two houses sitting separately, it is possible that a longer tenure of office for the members of the upper house will secure conservative members, even with no property qualifications. Each house then has its natural and healthy division into two parties, and there is not the danger which now exists, of a division between property owners and the large portion of every community who have nothing to lose, and, as they think, everything to gain by radical changes. The latter condition of public affairs is sure to damage any community, and to give ample opportunities either for demagoguism or absolutism, or if you please, for the rule of an oligarchy.

It is a fair question whether the time has yet come for the change I suggest. When that change shall be made, local self-government may perhaps be adopted, so that as far as frame-work goes, the governmental edifice will be in proper trim.

There are public questions of keen interest, and it is well to have them discussed on their merits. I trust and believe that intelligent Hawaiians, especially the young Hawaiians, of whom not a few are students of history, will prove themselves capable of sustaining a free, representative government, and appreciative of its blessings.

It may be that I am wrong in saying that in the long run the Hawaiian voters, with all their lack of experience and traditions in self-government, will show that they can reason and act and vote wisely, and not be misled by personal prejudice; but such is my opinion.

A. S. HARTWELL.

A dispatch from Sydney dated the 26th ult. says: In his speech at the opening of Parliament, the Governor, referring to the subject of colonial federation, said that all the colonies had shown the friendliest disposition, and there was every likelihood that the cordial discussion now being carried on would lead to a patriotic agreement on the question. New Zealand is the only colony likely to hold aloof for a while.

Dom Pedro ex-Emperor of Brazil is in St. Vincent, Cape Verde islands and will soon be in Portugal. He has nothing to say regarding his being deposed. Everything is reported as quiet at Rio de Janeiro.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO LETTER.

Per S. S. Rio de Janeiro, San Francisco,
December 3, 1889.

(From our special correspondent.)

Sugar.

The market for sugar remains steady and unchanged. The receipts from all quarters are light and the demand is only fair. Spreckels' new refinery at Philadelphia is ready for business and cargoes are arriving from Manila and elsewhere. Steam was got up in the boilers on the 27th ult. Sugar Trust stock has dropped to $56.

Meeting of Congress.

Congress met on December 2d, and in the House Thomas B. Reed, of Maine, was made speaker; Edward McPherson, clerk; Alfred Holmes, sergeant-at-arms; C. A. Adams, doorkeeper, and William H. Wilbur, a blind preacher and a Democrat, chaplain. The Senate met and the new Senators from the Dakotas and Washington were sworn in. On the 3d the President's message was read, in which the policy of the Government in relation to the Pacific islands and steamship subsidies was distinctly enunciated. The legislation which is proposed this winter is of utmost value to the Hawaiian Islands. Not only will the navy be increased, but provision will be made for the coaling stations at Pearl River, Pango Pango in Samoa, and the proposition to have a Minister Plenipotentiary at Honolulu meets with much favor. The estimates of Secretary Windom for the appropriations required for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1890, have been filed. He estimates that $341,428,977 will be needed. The appropriations for the present fiscal year were $323,495,935. The principal increases in the estimates are for pensions and public works, the former exceeding the appropriations of the present year by $8,827,816, and the latter by $6,996,272.

San Francisco News.

The steamer Gaelic arrived here on Dec. 1st, and was sought to be intercepted outside the Heads by the United States revenue cutter Bear in search of contraband opium. The Gaelic's commander refused to be boarded, and the two steamers had a race into port, in which the Gaelic was the winner.

California has been endeavoring for the past two years to gain control of the raisin market of the United States, and has succeeded so well that the imports of Spanish raisins has fallen off from 1,000,000 boxes to 112,000 boxes in the past two years. It is believed that the California product will eventually replace the Spanish raisin in its home territory. The Supreme Court has affirmed the death sentence of Thomas Bowman who murdered Samuel Dunn, in cold blood.

The Board of Health is just now very much agitated over the fact that for human beings to occupy, and an effort will be made to compel the Board of Supervisors to provide suitable quarters for patients infected with contagious diseases. Travelers just returned from New Mexico and Arizona report that smallpox is appearing in those sections.

Following the death of Mrs. Charles Crocker, widow of the late Charles Crocker, the railroad magnate, comes an incorporation including the interests of the various heirs. The capital stock is $7,000,000, divided into 70,000 shares of $100 each, of which C. F. Crocker owns 19,999, Geo. Crocker 10,000, W. H. Crocker 19,999, Harriet V. Alexander 10,000 shares, and others.

The Boston baseball club is in this city playing exhibition games. The British Columbia salmon packers have sent a deputation to Ottawa to demand the removal of the Chinese tax restriction. They claim that it threatens the destruction of their industry.

The Oregon Improvement Co. has mortgaged all its property to the Farmers' Loan and Trust Co. of New York for $15,000,000.

The Supreme Court, on November 30, reversed the decision of the lower court which made Richard Jessup, the illegitimate son of Gersham P. Jessup, heir to the estate of $100,000.

During the first ten months of the year the arrivals and departures of passengers at this port aggregated 23,921, of which 11,850 were arrivals and 12,571 departures. The arrivals from the Hawaiian Islands numbered 1,833 and the departures 733. From Australia and New Zealand 1921 people arrived and 1316 departed for the same countries.

General American News.

Judge Anderson, of the United States Court of Utah, has decided that alien Mormons who have been through the Endowment House at Salt Lake and sworn vengeance on the United States cannot be naturalized.

A Mormon colony which has been established in Manitoba, near Winnipeg, is causing much uneasiness among the Canucks. The colony has 20,000 acres of land, all belonging to the church.

On the night of November 30th the great building of the Minneapolis Tribune was burned. The fire broke out while all hands were at work and eleven lives were lost. The property loss was $500,000.

The Idaho territorial insane asylum was burned Nov. 25th, and eight lives lost.

Fifteen masked robbers boarded the Santa Fe route train at Serwyn, Indian Territory, Nov. 26th, took possession and stole between $20,000 and $30,000 from the express car. They have been captured.

Geo. H. Pendleton, ex-Minister of the United States to Germany, died of apoplexy at Brussels, Nov. 24th. He was formerly United States Senator from Ohio.

The English syndicates are still active. One proposes to consolidate all the calico works of Massachusetts; another which has 57,000 acres of land in the Mojave desert, Cal., proposes to make the tract a blooming oasis by irrigation which is an entirely feasible scheme; a third has just consolidated eight wheat elevator companies of Chicago into one, the cost being $2,000,000.

Foreign Affairs.

In the German Reichstag November 26th Herr Bambrger and Dr. Wandhorst severely criticized the colonial policy of the country particularly in regard to Samoa.

London is still shocked by its new West End scandal. A purse has been made up for the defense of editor Parke of the North London Press who exposed the scandal.

Henry M. Stanley is within a few days march of the east African coast. He has sent word ahead that he has decided to tell the story of his great march to Albert Nyanza and to the relief of Emin Pasha in book form and he has sold copyright for $40,000. The book will be called "How I relieved Emin."

Public Hall, Church, Boarding School Hospital, Dwelling where a good force water is obtainable should be provided with one or more

"Paragon" Hose Reel

With 100 feet Hose, which is one of the best protections against fire.

By actual experiments water can be turned on, 100 ft. Eureka Mill Hose pulled off, and a stream put on a fire in thirty seconds.

Insurance Companies have recognized the great advantages and protection when this system is always ready for use by making deductions on rates of premiums for their risks.
