AN ISLAND
FOR SALEWhat Lanai Has to Offer the
Buyer.A ROYAL DOMAIN
ON THE MARKETIt Can Be Made to Pay Both in Cash, Health and Pleasure.

WHEN on Saturday there is offered for sale in front of Aliolani Hale the portions of the island of Lanai which constituted the undivided two-thirds interest of the estate of the late Walter Murray Gibson, there will be before investors one of the most alluring propositions, perhaps, ever offered in Hawaii, one which may be counted from every side a favorable purchase.

In no more than two or three instances in the Territory have the men of means taken to building up for themselves estates, where there is offered every opportunity for rest and recreation, as well as pursuits which furnish mental invigoration. In this respect the Parker estate and the Moanala holdings are almost apart, and yet on the entire Pacific ocean there is not such an opportunity for a fine homestead as is offered in Lanai. While the fee lands comprise but a modest part of the whole island the other holdings are such that a majority of the acreage may be consolidated without much difficulty. Once this done there would be in the possession of the fortunate holder something which would appeal to both the material and artistic side of the lord of the Jemene.

Holling lands, without sheer cliffs and great gulches, comprise the raggies, on which now feed 18,000 sheep, 250 head of cattle and almost the same number of horses. This is capable of such increase in the opinion of experts that within five years there would be a return of not less than $100,000 a year from the stock alone. There is no range in the entire Territory so well grassed for there is scarcely a single plant of lanana on the island. Water in plenty can be had and the absence of neighbors with brands, which makes it impossible that there may be any mixing or mavericks appeals forcibly to the cattle grazer, while wild dogs being unknown there is no loss from four-footed thieves.

So much for the business end of the investment, the pleasurable side of the ownership of such an estate is a thing of even greater prominence. At an elevation of 1800 feet is the anch house, looking to the sea, where the cool breezes fan the tired one and the mosquito has never penetrated. Surrounding it is a grove of trees and there is quite a variety of fruit on the island—oranges, lemons, limes, figs, papayas, mangoes and peaches, while berries and small fruits would undoubtedly thrive and furnish delights for the eye and palate.

Over the hills, too, roam herds of wild goats and numbers of wild boars and in the underbrush nest quail and pheasants, all possible there because the gofer and mongoose has not yet made his appearance and by care may be kept away for all time. Hunting is there, true pleasure, for the hills are never precipitous, the runs are well known and riding is more easy than on any other ranch in the islands.

While the present business portion of the proposition rests on the presence of herds, there is on the windward side of the island no lack of vegetable growth and should the price of sugar warrant a good plant could be created. There grows wild, a species of sisal which furnishes a fibre for which a substantial offer has been made by eastern cordage manufacturers. Then too around each cabin door grows sugar cane, without irrigation, which rivals some of the best product of Maui.

Taken altogether there is in Lanai great possibilities, something on every side, which promises much for the investor, be he grazer, rancher, farmer, hunter or tired man in search of a home away from turmoil and trouble of every day life.

BETHEL STREET
ORATORS OPEN UP

Electioneering Corner of 1900
the Scene of Wordy Activity.

Not since the eventful fall of 1899 when the orators of the various political parties almost daily held down the four corners of the intersection of King and Bethel streets, has any political excitement equalled that which took place on the makai-waikiki side yesterday at noon. An old Home Ruler, the one who started the revolution of '95, engaged in a spirited wordy encounter with a young Republican, and became so exasperated with the young man's parrying of his questions and statements that a dense crowd of idlers congregated about to watch the fun. The old man had an umbrella in one hand and a handkerchief in the other, and both were waving energetically while he spouted. One of his arguments against the Republican party was that if the Republicans won out in the November election the Rapid Transit would put on separate cars for the Hawaiians and haoles, a statement which amused even the stray Home Rulers in the crowd.

WILL GIVE UP
THE HILO HOTEL

W. C. Peacock & Company Will Not Renew the Lease.

With the closing of the lease upon the Hilo hotel, which expires the middle of the month, W. C. Peacock & Company will cease to operate that hostelry. The hotel has not proved a profitable investment and the simultaneous expiration of the lease and the license makes it wise for the firm to close out its interests, which include the furnishings. The furniture has been offered for sale and will be disposed of at the hotel, August 15th. It is understood that a syndicate stands ready to take over the hotel and has tried to purchase the furnishings at a figure much below the valuation put on them by the present owners. It is said that Robert Scott, formerly of the Hawaiian hotel here, and more recently of the Hilo hotel, is at the head of the company, and will be the manager of the hotel. In case the furniture is not bought the hotel will be furnished new, the estimated cost being in the region of $7000.

CLUB HAD A LIVELY MEETING

The Portuguese Political Club held a lively meeting last night. There was a large attendance. Seventeen persons were proposed and elected members of the club. Major Camara was in the chair and Louis R. Medeiros acted as secretary.

A motion made by M. C. Pacheco and supported by Frank Andrade that the admission fee be reduced to twenty-five cents brought about a debate. J. M. Vivas opposed this proposition and insisted upon speaking in Portuguese saying that he wished to say things that he did not think that newspaper reporters and outsiders should know. A spirited discussion ensued. M. C. Pacheco and A. E. Correa insisted that English should only be used in discussion of the club and they were supported in this view.

On Saturday afternoon at Lusitana Hall the club will hold a meeting at which the following will speak: J. M. Vivas, Rev. J. F. Durao, Frank Andrade, M. C. Pacheco, M. A. Silva, Louis R. Medeiros, A. E. Correa, Maj. Camara and M. T. Furtado.

WILCOX HAS SOME
BRAND NEW FAKES

Says City and County Government
Would Give Hawaii U. S. Senators and Representative.

Moses Nakuina Profanely Abuses Missionaries and Kalauokalani Declares That America
Has a Home Rule Party.

WILCOX, Cayless, Kalauokalani, senior and junior, Moses Nakuina and Poepeo formed a group which flung Wilcoxisms about with ready tongues last night in the big lot back of Liliuokalani's premises in Kapalama. All appealed to the natives to vote for the Home Rule ticket as being their only road to salvation, and each appealed in his own familiar way for the county bill without which the country would go to ruin. County government, they said, meant Hawaii's admission into the union of States with two senators and one representative in Congress. Wilcox said, with the utmost ease, that Arizona, Oklahoma and New Mexico were soon to have county governments, and that this would give each of them two senators and a representative. Hawaii should follow suit and she too would enjoy the same privileges. One of the sensations of the evening was the appearance of Moses Nakuina, who has recently been connected with the Republican party, and who is identified with a large number of evangelical movements and with the Hawaiian Board of Missions, who said in the loudest voice he could command that the "missionaries were d—d fools."

Another point which all the speakers tried to impress on the audience, was that whenever the Republicans or Democrats should approach them with money before election, they should take it and promise to vote for them, but when election day came they must put their ballots in the box for Wilcox and the Home Rulers.

The meeting was largely attended, although Nakuina, who did not suspect the presence of reporters, said that if anybody asked how many were at the meeting to tell them that there were not more than a dozen auditors, so that the other parties would not know they had any strength in the district.

Wilcox was the last speaker of the evening and he finished shortly after 11 o'clock. He began by referring to the time thirteen years ago when he and many others met in the same lot, shouldered guns and marched to the palace to fight for their rights and against the enemy, which he said was the same today as then—the same enemy "that is trying to pull you down and Wilcox down." He said it was a mistake for the natives to run to the Republican party for they would only be there to be spit at. The "enemy" had tried to kill Wilcox, had sent him to the "reef" but they could not get rid of him.

"The natives have praised me higher than the king," said Wilcox drawing himself up and trying to look the part. "Why? Because I did the right thing for the country and people. The people have not made up their minds to let me alone. When they try to run Wilcox down it is to run the people down. That is their meaning. They are trying to take the natives into their hands that are blind and send a delegate to Washington who will take our votes from us. They want a delegate they can hook by the nose and lead about like a cow in a rice field. We must win at the ballot box so that we can rule here. If we don't get a two-thirds majority in the Senate this time and fall to get county government, why the people in the United States will lay the blame on us and say that we are not capable of self-government. Dole wants to run the government by himself—that's the reason they don't want county government. If we have county government they cannot run the Rapid Transit all over the city as they are doing. Who are the owners of the Rapid Transit? The very people who are ruling you. Don't believe the Republicans here. They are not the same as the Republicans on the mainland—they are Dole Republicans, and they are trying to run you down. Their newspapers do not have so much to say about me now? Why? Because they are up against it. When it comes election day take their money, because they have it to burn; put it in your pockets and then vote the Home Rule ticket."

EWA PLANTATION REDUCES ITS DIVIDEND ONE-HALF

THE sensation on Broker's Row yesterday and in sugar circles generally was the announcement that beginning on August 31 next the Ewa Plantation Company dividends would be cut exactly in half. Heretofore the plantation has been paying a dividend of one per cent a month, or twenty cents a share, equal to $50,000 per month. The new schedule cuts the dividend down to one-half of one per cent, or ten cents a share, equal to $25,000 per month. The new arrangement was made at a director's meeting held yesterday forenoon.

to be bothered with little fire claims."

Wilcox rambled over the same ground as before, calling on the natives to vote for him and all Home Rulers and by doing so and making county government a certainty they would all be rich and could vote for all the officers in the territory and have a finger in the pudding.

Kalauokalani, Jr., made some remarkable and picturesque statements. He said that America was first governed by the Home Rule party, not Republicans and Democrats. There was really only one party in the United States now—the Home Rule party. If it were not for the Home Rule party in the United States there would be no Democrats or Republican parties. County and municipal government in the United States was erected by the Home Rulers. The Home Rule party in Hawaii was the same as in the United States. When Porto Rico was taken over by the United States a Home Rule party was organized and the same thing took place in the Philippines. Attorney-General Knox had said to Wilcox, "Why don't the Republicans and Democrats help the Home Rulers along in Hawaii?" said Kalauokalani, opio. The chairman of a committee whom the speaker forgot to mention by name, had said if Wilcox brought in a municipal and county bill he would not recognize the Republicans or Democrats as they were only robbers and thieves.

Moses Nakuina said he had been a Republican for two years. The reason he left the party was because his son (Fred Beckley) "had fired a bullet at the Republican party and they got satisfaction out of him by firing him out of office." He then went into Hawaiian history of the past thirteen years, asking if it was the Home Rulers who had required the king to sign a new constitution, overthrown the Queen, secured annexation, etc. He answered in the negative. He said it was all the "missionary party."

"They cried for annexation, and they got it," he said. "They said we would all have plenty of money. But have we got it? No. Then they did not want annexation and then they tried to take away our votes. They are the biggest damn-fools out, these missionaries. I wonder if any newspaper man is around here tonight; anyhow, do not tell anybody there was a big meeting; just say there were about a dozen around, that's all."

Kalauokalani regretted that the author of the "kill the snake" motto was not alive to be present at the meeting. He said the annexationist had promised to let them shovel money because it would be so plentiful, but they were only shovelling muck. He announced that on August 16 a meeting would be held in Lahaina to pick off the senators and representatives, when they returned there would be a big meeting here and then they would take in Kauai again.

Cayless talked county and municipal government and abused Governor Dole and made some statements as to what he had heard the Governor say in Washington and his alleged repudiation of them. He said the cry against Wilcox did not mean the delegate, but that it meant the people, the people that he, Cayless, so dearly loved after a four years' residence here. Cayless derided Commissioner Pratt of the Chamber of Commerce for his attempts to secure the passage of the fire claims bill. He said that in a conference given Wilcox and Cayless by the United States Treasurer at Washington, the latter said that if he could not help Wilcox with his fire claims bill he would not help anybody else. To him these things went to show that Wilcox was a big man in Congress.

He said there was one way to "fire" Governor Dole out of office, or practically leave him nothing but his title and salary, and that was for the Hawaiians to vote the Home Rule ticket. By doing so they would take away every official appointed by him, and appoint them themselves. Then they would make the Governor take off his hat to them, while they kept their own.

Samoan Martyrs.

The heroism of the sailors and marines of the American and British navies who met death in the Samoan uprising in 1899 was commemorated yesterday by the unveiling of a handsome mural memorial tablet in the little chapel of the naval station at Mare Island. Officers of the United States navy and the marine corps and civil functionaries of the British government participated in the ceremony, giving it somewhat of an international character, and coupled with tearful tribute to the heroism of the dead was much of heartfelt praise for the bravery of the living and mutual congratulation that such good feeling between the two navies and the two countries exists.—San Francisco Call.

HERRIMAN
WAS THERE

Assisted in Escape of Evangeline
Cisneros.

WAS AN OFFICER
ON THE SENECA

From Bridge He Saw Cuban
Heroine in Boy's Clothes
Coil Her Tresses.

THAT Captain C. F. Herriman, the popular commander of the Oceanic steamship Alameda, was instrumental in the dramatic escape from Havana to the United States of Evangeline Cisneros, the Cuban heroine, will surprise the majority of the Honoluluans who have deemed it an honor to take passage on his vessel between San Francisco and Honolulu. It was due as much to Captain Herriman as many others that the victim of Spanish misrule was enabled to escape to the freedom offered by the United States, but the Captain was not present when the romance ended in the heroine's marriage with a handsome American who also helped her to escape.

Captain Herriman, before coming to the Pacific Coast, was an officer in an Atlantic coast fleet whose vessels plied between New York, Havana, Tampico and Vera Cruz, Mexico. He was the first officer of the steamship Seneca, sister ship of the steamship Vigilance, which was fired on by the Spanish batteries off Havana harbor, in the summer of 1896. It was during this period between 1896 and 1898, when the Spanish war commenced, that the events leading up to the imprisonment of Evangeline Cisneros, daughter of the President of the so-called Cuban Republic, were shaping themselves. The story of Evangeline Cisneros' capture by Spanish officers, her ill-treatment at their hands in a town far away from Havana, her conveyance to the Cuban capital and imprisonment there in a common jail the receptacle for Havana's worse criminals, male and female, and her escape through the medium of Americans whose dramatic and courageous efforts in her behalf gave the incident universal prominence, do not need repeating.

It was when the pretty little Cuban was smuggled aboard the Seneca which was lying out in Havana harbor, that the gallant Alameda's commander became interested. He was on the bridge, it being dark at the time, when another officer called his attention to a strange scene below in a cabin, the interior of which could be seen from the bridge through an open skylight. When Captain Herriman gazed down into the lighted room, he saw a small figure clad in men's clothes, but stranger of all this "man" had an abundance of glossy black hair which fell below the waist. The young "man" was in the act of coiling up the mass of hair into a tight roll which "he" tightened with numerous hair pins and then drew over it a slouch hat. This time the figure looked more like a man, but a very small one. Both officers looked at each other inquiringly, and both seemed to understand that there was something important in the incident, but as the Seneca was about to weigh anchor, they gave their undivided attention to navigation and dropped all thoughts of the good looking young "man."

Later on during the voyage Captain Herriman became acquainted with the young "man", but as Evangeline Cisneros, for she had resumed the raiment of her sex.

Theresa to the Rescue.

"No regret over Judge Humphreys' move," so says the missionary P. C. A. Of course the P. C. A. pretends to know all they think they do but they are left in that idea I presume they are glad. I want to tell you all this that Judge Humphreys is respected by the Department of Justice at Washington, D. C., and has numerous friends there also even the President is kind to him.—Home Rule.

LUNA GETS SIX MONTHS

Wm. Schneider Is Convicted of Assault.

RAMMED SUGAR
DOWN JAP'S THROAT

Answer in Libel Case—Gear Will ing to Hear Jury Waived Cases at Night.

William Schneider, a luna on one of the plantations on this island, was found guilty of assault yesterday and sentenced to prison for six months at hard labor. The complaining witness is a Japanese, and the case was a peculiarly aggravated one. Schneider, according to the testimony, poured sugar down the Jap's mouth, and nearly choked him to death. When the Jap objected he went to his room and returned soon with a portion of a pick handle, with which the Jap was cruelly beaten, the injuries causing him to be laid up for three months in a hospital.

A motion for a new trial was made on the ground that the verdict is contrary to the law and evidence. Schneider was released until Thursday in order that he might secure a $500 bond on appeal.

ANSWER TO LIBEL SUIT.

An answer making general denial was filed yesterday by the Hawaiian Gazette Co. to the complaint of the Bulletin Publishing Co. It is further set up that the defendant "among other defenses will rely upon justification and will prove the truth of any and all articles published by it concerning the plaintiff."

McKEE MAKES ANSWER.

An answer has been filed by James S. McKee in the suit of Queen's Hospital vs. Waikiki Land and Loan Association et al. setting up a $6,000 mortgage as a prior lien upon the McCully tract. Waivers are shown also from the Queen's Hospital and Mrs. McCully-Higgins to the amount of his mortgage.

COURT NOTES.

Judge Gear announced yesterday that he was willing to hold court at noon, and in the evenings to accommodate attorneys wishing to have tried jury-waived cases.

Judge Robinson yesterday sustained the demurrer in the case of Fannie Strauch vs. P. Lauka; suit to compel the specific performance of contract to sell real estate.

Judge Robinson also denied the motion to strike out the depositions of the Hogan troupe in the case of Carlos A. Long vs. C. Macfarlane et al.

Judge Humphreys approved the master's report in the matter of the Dowsett Estate, and T. I. Dillon was allowed a $125 fee as master.

In the matter of the estate of James Gay, J. W. Jones was allowed a fee of fifty dollars as master.

The will of the late F. B. Auerbach was admitted to probate yesterday. A. Lewis, Jr., was appointed administrator with bonds of $12,000.

J. O. Lightfoot was appointed administrator of the estate of J. K. Kanamano.

J. A. Magoon was authorized, as administrator of the estate of F. S. Kekili, to sell valuable Waikiki beach property in which deceased had a half interest.

Henry E. Highton has applied for admission to practice in the Circuit and Supreme Courts of the Territory. In his petition Mr. Highton says he was born July 31, 1836, in Liverpool and was educated in that city, studying law under the Honorable Oscar L. Shafter, of San Francisco. He has been admitted to practice in California and Nevada courts. The application is endorsed by Judge Estee, Judge Gear and Judge Humphreys.

An answer has been filed in the case of Frank Godfrey as Trustee vs. John Kidwell making general denial.

The Two Mile Clause.

In an opinion given yesterday to Treasurer Wright, Attorney General Dole holds that the "two miles" clause, which provides that no retail liquor license be issued for a place within two miles of the business of anyone already holding a license, means that it should be taken by the usually traveled road, even though it be the longest way.

THE TEST THAT TELLS

You Can Get All the Convincing Proof You Want by Reading Honolulu Papers.

When the reader wants any article of value he naturally prefers to deal with some one he can depend upon.

If mixed up in any law suit, a good, responsible lawyer is generally the first necessity sought.

If lost on a prairie, directions from a settler could be relied upon; those from a stranger would be doubted.

The test that tells the tale of merit is the test of friends and neighbors.

Honolulu people endorse Doan's Backache Kidney Pills.

Can you ask for better evidence? Read this case:

Mr. James C. Stevens, of this city, informs us: "I was troubled with an ache in the small of my back for a long time, and such was the condition of things until I tried some of Doan's Backache Kidney Pills, which I obtained at the Hollister Drug Co's store. A short treatment gave me the desired relief, and I am satisfied that they are a good remedy for backache and deserve to be recommended."

Mr. Stevens is one of our own citizens. Is not such testimony stronger than that of someone living in the States?

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are sold by all chemists and store keepers at 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50, or will be mailed on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

Cooper Has a Clutch.

Dr. Charles B. Cooper, past exalted ruler of the Elks of Honolulu, will be the delegate from that lodge to the convention in this city in August. Dr. Cooper was the first exalted ruler of the Honolulu lodge. He is a Mason and a Shriner, one of the most prominent physicians of Honolulu, and by those who know him is said to be a "jolly good fellow." Dr. Cooper formerly lived in Butte, Mont. He has what local Elks call "the clench on the prize for the Elk who comes to the convention from the most distant lodge."—Salt Lake Tribune.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Another junket to Hawaii will fill in the summer solstice for a number of national legislators—senators this time. That elastic fund known as "the contingent fund of the senate" is to foot the bill. There was a meeting the other day, attended by those members of the committee on Pacific Islands and Porto Rico who are in the city, and it was decided that Senators Mitchell of Oregon, Burton of Kansas, Foster of Washington and Blackburn of Kentucky should go. They will leave on the City of Peking, sailing from San Francisco on August 26, and will remain in the islands about a month.

Two or three years ago there was a trip to Hawaii for the purpose of investigating the weighty affairs of the little islands. That time it was a house committee. Uncle Joe Cannon and Berry of Kentucky were the heroes of that journey. They went on the theory that "when you are in Rome you must make it howl." They lived like Hawaiians, squatted about a calabash and scooped up the succulent poi with their fingers, wore leis about their manly shoulders, and more leis around their sombreros, and learned to say "aloha" at meeting, parting and between times. So far as the history of the junket records that was about the extent of the investigation made by the house committee. It is true there were quaint pictures of hula-hula girls circulated sub rosa in the cloakrooms, but that was something unofficial.

The grave and reverend senators who represent Kentucky, Oregon, Kansas and Washington are going to Hawaii imbued with sterner resolves. Officially they know nothing of hula-hula dancing, nor for them the toothsome poi, the lightsome leis and soft-accented alohas of greeting and farewell! Theirs is the stern investigation of irrigation problems, crown lands and harbor improvements.

Though the contingent fund of the senate were twice as elastic and mysterious as it is, not one of the senators upon whose shoulders is shifted the responsibility of visiting Hawaii would think of engrafting upon the fund any item not strictly in accordance with the traditions of the senate. The public may rest assured that there will be no items like this: "Poi and trimmings for party and friends, $175," or "Exclusive use of Waikiki beach, party and friends, with champagne afterthoughts, $250." Every item, it is safe to say, will pass muster before the committee to audit and control the contingent expenses of the senate. This committee is composed of stern-eyed men like John P. Jones of Nevada, John Kean of New Jersey, Hernando DeSoto Money of Mississippi and Thos. M. Patterson of Colorado.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

THE NEWSGATHERERS.

Strangers in Honolulu are apt to make the remark that the local press gives a surprising amount of news, considering that this city has no cable communication with the rest of the world. But as a matter of fact this result is reached because of the absence of cabled messages and not in spite of it. Lack of a world news service throws the Honolulu papers back on their own field where news is gleaned with an assiduity unknown in any mainland city of similar population. We may add that the work is done with fewer men than is customary on the mainland. Five writers in all prepare the daily paper. In the twelve-page daily, and sixteen-page Saturday Advertiser, but the fourteen-page daily Chronicle of San Francisco requires in the city editor's department alone, including the city editor and his two assistant editors, not less than eighteen men. Four of the twelve pages of that paper are given to telegraphic news, one to editorial and one to the work of the commercial editor and his assistant, leaving but six pages, less the space given to advertising, to carry the work of eighteen editors, reporters and special writers. It may be judged from this that Honolulu reporters have to hustle, and the pages of the Advertiser, for one, show that they hustle to some purpose.

Yet it must be confessed that there is enough news left unpublished in Honolulu to keep a paper as large as the Advertiser filled; and that being true it follows that enough news never sees type in San Francisco to fill a dozen papers of the size of the Chronicle. A good newspaper is not better known by what it prints than by what it leaves out of print. Of matter not deemed available to a Honolulu paper the islands, with their diversified interests and especially diversified population, are peculiarly rich. In the one item of society alone—following the theme through all its racial ramifications, high and low—is contained enough of sensation to fill the yellowest of journals. But a moral and conservative public has to be thought of and so a very definite line has to be drawn. Badness cannot all be kept out but the worst of it is, and the public is never the wiser. It is comforting to the day workers on the press to know, however, that they collect and print enough news in this small and lonely group and especially in this little capital to excite the surprise and admiration of every looker-on.

On some accounts it is to be regretted that the journals of the time cannot fill in all the details of the passing show; for out of the bits of news and picturesque description here and there collected and sent to print, people will one day try to make the full mosaic of history. But historians have long since learned to fare badly at the hands of news-gatherers; not that the data given are deceptive but because they are not full enough. We can conceive some writer of the annals of San Francisco, fifty years hence, contending that, at the beginning of the century, San Francisco, though in constant touch with ports which had the bubonic plague, was itself free from that malady. He would satisfy himself as to the truth of his postulate by a careful reading of the files of our San Francisco contemporaries, wherein nothing whatever is said about deaths from the Asiatic scourge. Yet every man in San Francisco, who knows anything, is aware of the presence of the plague. History may not be made up as Carlyle said of "lies agreed upon," but it is made up of the information which the people of the past thought expedient to write and print.

WIRELESS DEVELOPMENTS.

That Signor Marconi has deliberately taken off his laurel wreath, gained as the inventor of wireless telegraphy and put it on the head of the man who should have worn it in the first place, is a most unusual circumstance. Yet this is precisely what has taken place. It appears in the dispatches that the official journal of the English patent office, on July 16, announces that Guglielmo Marconi, who, on September 10, 1901, had filed a patent in his own name for the invention of wireless telegraphy, now seeks leave to amend the application by converting it into an application for a patent for an invention communicated to him from abroad by the Marquis Luigo Solari of Italy. An interview with the Marquis Luigo Solari, who is an Italian naval officer, follows and confirms the fact stated by Marconi; though the Marquis, with commendable civility, denies that it was by the use of his coherer that Marconi succeeded with his Newfoundland experiments.

It would be interesting now to hear from Solari's predecessors. Tesla will, of course, claim everything, but no one bothers much with Tesla any more. Edison, however, has some claims of moment; for the device he sold the patent of to the Western Union Telegraph company twenty years ago carried messages thirty feet where they transferred themselves to the wire beside the track. It is quite possible that the principle on which he worked would, if the Western Union had not smothered it, have resulted in a more advantageous system than the one which now bears Marconi's name.

If King Edward was really crowned on the 9th there will be a lot of gloomy their own country.

A letter from Col. Lauka on the subject of city and county government will appear in tomorrow's issue.

"The Republican and Democratic parties amount to nothing on the mainland," said a Home Rule orator last night; "the Home Rule party there is the strongest in the field." Evidently one does not need a cable with which to get the latest news.

When the new lifting pump is in motion considerable land, some of it the most desirable of any for the homes of white people unused to the tropics, will be brought into the real estate market. All that has kept it out hitherto is the absence of water.

There is a disposition in the East to poke fun at the coming commission, but it is shown by anxious persons who would like to visit the Paradise of the Pacific, themselves. What a pity that there isn't room for all. Hawaii has no favorites and is willing to be investigated—at the usual prices for board and lodging—by all comers.

Last night, at the Wilcox meeting, the Hawaiians were told that, in getting city and county governments, Arizona, Oklahoma and New Mexico had acquired the right to send two Senators and a Representative to Washington. "We can do the same," said these remarkable publicists, who apparently have not learned that States, not Territories, are thus represented in Congress.

With sugar at its present price, boom dividends cannot be looked for even from so fine a plantation as Ewa. Less money coming in means smaller profits to divide. So instead of $50,000 per month the stockholders will get $25,000, which, in most mainland places, would seem very satisfactory indeed. As a slight fractional rise in the price of sugar would serve to restore Ewa's old dividend, the stockholders will have a consoling hope in the fluctuations of the market.

A COLD AT THIS SEASON is most annoying, and should not be neglected. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will relieve the lungs, make expectoration easy, effect a quick cure and leave the system in a healthy condition. It always cures and cures quickly. Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., wholesale agents, sell it.

Dancing on Schooner Herman.

Captain Brown and the passengers of the treasure schooner Herman entertained a party of about twenty people aboard the vessel last night. There were a half dozen young ladies in the party, and with Ellis' quintette furnishing the music, dancing was enjoyed on the schooner's deck. Refreshments were served in the cabin.

A FOOLISH OLD IDEA.

It was once thought that a medicine was all the more beneficial for having a nasty taste and smell. We now know that such an idea is perfect nonsense. There is no more reason why medicine should offend the senses than why food should do so. Therefore, one of the greatest chemical victories of the past few years is what we may call the redemption of cod liver oil. Everybody knows what a vile taste and smell this drug has in its natural state. No wonder most people declare they would rather suffer from disease than take cod liver oil, and the emulsions are quite as foul and abominable as the plain oil, no matter what may be alleged to the contrary. Now it is one of nature's laws that a medicine which disgusts the nose and the palate, and also sickens the stomach, can have no good effect as a medicine, because the system cries out to be delivered from it. In WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION the desired miracle is wrought, and we have the valuable part of the oil, without the other. This effective modern remedy is palatable as honey and contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. The palate accepts it as it does sugar, confectionary or cream. Taken before meals it goes to the very secret stronghold of digestive disorders: prevents and cures Nervous Dyspepsia, Scrofula, Throat and Lung Troubles and all diseases due to impurity of the blood. Dr. G. C. Shannon, of Canada, says: "I shall continue its use with, I am sure, great advantage to my patients and satisfaction to myself." Has all the virtues of cod liver oil; none of its faults. Effective from the first dose. Sold by all chemists.

All Stuffed Up

That's the condition of many sufferers from catarrh, especially in the morning. Great difficulty is experienced in clearing the head and throat.

No wonder catarrh causes headache, impairs the taste, smell and hearing, pollutes the breath, deranges the stomach and affects the appetite.

To cure catarrh, treatment must be constitutional—alterative and tonic.

"I was afflicted with catarrh. I took medicines of different kinds, giving each a fair trial; but gradually grew worse until I could hardly hear, taste or smell. I then concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after taking five bottles I was cured and have not had any return of the disease since." EUGENE FORSTER, Lebanon, Kan.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Cures catarrh—it soothes and strengthens the mucous membrane and builds whole system.

Eye Accuracy

If there is one business more than another requiring careful and accurate attention, that business is the fitting and making of glasses to correct visual defects, and that such care is given in my optical department is fully evidenced by the constantly growing clientele.

As already advertised, I am now devoting my entire time to the optical department, making that a leading feature of my business, watching each detail, from the fitting to the finishing of glasses, so no error can creep in.

If a perfect knowledge of the eye and its needs, applied in a conscientious manner will give perfect results, you may safely entrust your difficult optical work to this department.

YANKEE SKIPPER WAS FOOLED

He Wanted to Do Some Work With Revolver Real Badly.

Captain McClure, of the ship Fort George, which made such a long passage from Honolulu, was out in South Australia at the same time as a certain Yankee skipper who was recently in this port.

According to the story, the Yankee skipper visited Adelaide, South Australia, and was met at Port Adelaide by the American consul, Mr. Chas. A. Murphy. Murphy and the skipper went in to the bar to get a drink. They were waited on by a pretty barmaid and without any ado the captain "went a courtin'." He asked the girl to marry him, and a couple of days later the knot was tied. The Port Adelaide waterfront thought the affair a great joke, and sent the particulars of the hasty wedding to an American newspaper man who was conducting a small newspaper in Adelaide. An article appeared in this paper roasting the skipper and making the captain's romance out as "courtin', engaged and married in two days."

This struck the skipper's eye and he started at once from the port to Adelaide, a distance of seven miles. He called upon Consul Murphy, exhibited a copy of the weekly paper and a revolver, and told him that he was going to shoot the Yankee editor.

When the captain left the consul's office that official hastily telephoned to the editor warning him of what was to come. The editor was in his private office but immediately went to his manager, told all employees that he must not be referred to during the day, and peeling off his coat, started working at the business office counter the same as any clerk he employed would. Shortly the skipper entered.

"Where's that Yankee editor? Unless you want to get hurt you better send him along about as quick as a gale of wind," shouted the irate man of the sea.

The wily editor announced that he was the "editor's secretary," and invited the captain to step into the editor's private office. Once inside the sanctum the "secretary" was all smiles and very sorry that the "editor" had not come down to the office yet. He asked the skipper to make himself at home and he, the "secretary," started on his regular editorial work.

For eight solid hours the "secretary" entertained the old sea dog with newspaper yarns and talks about America, saying that he had once "been there himself." The captain seemed to like the "secretary" and confided to him that he had a big "Smith & Wesson" which he would show the editor as soon as he arrived.

When closing time came the "secretary" said: "Well, skipper, I'm afraid our editor's off on a jamboree and may not put in an appearance for a day or two."

"Well, it's too d—d bad, but I guess that drink has saved his skin. Come 'n have one on me."

They meandered into a bar. "Well," said the skipper, "here's hoping the poor cuss never crosses my track."

The real Yankee editor drank his silence, but with a smile lurking about his lips.

The captain's ship sailed early the next morning. The consul and the editor had a laugh over their "butchers" — the Australian word for "schooners" — and that ended the incident.

HO, FOR LIFE ON MERRY ISLE

Young Island May Yet Become a Honolulu Pleasure Resort.

Tourists, when arriving in the port of Honolulu, do not meet with a very fine view along the waterfront. Old hulks lying in the row with the greater part of the hulks submerged, old tumble-down houses on the wharves, and big piles of coal in their rear, with roads leading from the wharves, don't give the front door to the entrancing islands a very good appearance. Yet one of the first moves to change this condition of affairs may be made within the next year. Young Brothers have plans to make their island a thing of beauty and a joy forever to people who enjoy salt water and waterfront scenery.

If the electric system is extended to the waterfront, they may change the whole aspect of Young Island by removing the present marine plants and erecting a pretty little casino on the island. The best of refreshments could be served. There would be a dancing hall. A launch service from Fort Street would be utilized to carry visitors over to the place, and Hawaiian music would be wafted all along the water by a string band stationed in the casino. Just imagine how nice it would be for one on a stifling hot night to take a seat on a veranda chair, sip lemonade, listen to the music, puff at your cigar, and watch the brilliant lights of Honolulu, the black outlines of ships, masts and spars, and far in the distance the serpent-like lights of Pacific Heights. And not one mosquito—for the breeze carries them off, as the island is right in the path of every tremble of the air.

It sounds like a dream, yet is a business proposition many people would like to see realized.

Milk Below.

RICH LAND

Central Kona FOR SALE

By order of REINNE RODANET, Trustee, I offer for sale those certain parcels of land situate at Onouli, South Kona, Island of Hawaii, described by Royal Patent (Grant) No. 112 to F. G. Schulze, and containing 174 acres, Royal Patent (Grant) No. 1262 to A. A. A. and containing 789 75-100 acres, situate at Keopuka and Onouli, Island of Hawaii.

This is a tract of land of over 100 acres, situated in the most fertile and richest portion of the Island of Hawaii. It faces the new Government road, extends to the sea, and is five minutes' walk from Keopuka Bay, by way of the old Government road which runs through the property. Portions of the land are already under cultivation.

This tract is so situated that it is about midway between Kailua and Hookena, and five miles from Nagee-poo, three most important ports of the Kona district. It has sufficient elevation, ranging up to fourteen hundred feet, to be particularly beautiful, and its soil is well adapted to the growth of sugar cane, coffee, fruits, dairy, or for the promotion of diversified farming.

Occipants of this land have easy access to several ports for export, and with the advent of the Kona Railroad will find themselves in close communication with the thriving City of Hilo. This, of course, affords a splendid opportunity for the exporting of turn products to the California market.

With the revival of the Kona Sugar Co., considerable portions of this land can be successfully planted to sugar cane.

This is one of the most splendid opportunities for a good investment that has been put upon the market for a considerable period of time.

"PROXY" JAILED FOR CONTEMPT

A Fish Dealer's Representative Learns a Thing in Wilcox's Court.

"Shimamoto!"
A Japanese arose from the crowd of spectators in the police court yesterday morning and came forward before Judge Wilcox. A charge was read against Shimamoto, to the effect that he had been selling salmon without a license, the law providing a special license to dispose of that particular kind of fish.

After the Japanese had been questioned for some time he was asked whether he were the defendant in the case. The Japanese answered in the affirmative. Later he stated he was only the book-keeper, and it finally developed that he was not Shimamoto at all. Shimamoto had sent a "proxy" to represent him. Judge Wilcox intimated that proxies were allowed in political committee meetings, but there was a different rule in his court.

"I will commit you to jail for four months for contempt of court," said the magistrate, and the astonished "proxy" was taken below, quite bewildered by the change of circumstances. A bench warrant was issued for Shimamoto and he will be given an opportunity to explain this morning before his honor as to his failure to answer the summons in person.

MERCHANTS' FAIR PAVILION SOLD

The Structure Goes to H. Ludloff at a Round Figure.

With a large attendance upon the auction sale, the building which served to shelter the Merchants' Fair, was sold yesterday at noon by Auctioneer Morgan for $800. This result was attained only after some vigorous crying of the structure and some quick and hearty bidding. The principal attendants upon the sale were Chinese and Japanese builders, attracted by the idea of bargains. The bidding started at $400 and jumped rapidly until it reached $700. From that point the advance was slighter and it was not until the bid of $800 was made by H. Ludloff, that the Orientalists stopped and permitted the building to go to the dealer. It will be removed at once, as there is demand for the clearing of the ground. The result of the sale is highly satisfactory and the chances are that there will be, to return to the Association, a profit from the holding of the Fair, whereas it was supposed that there would be a deficit which would call for an assessment.

The Princess Babs.

About the Board of Education, we want them to be taught properly and not only be taught, if he is a boy, to raise his hat to the people and then say, I am all right, I am well educated because I know how to take my hat off to the people; and, if it be a girl, she nods her head and says, Now I am well educated because I nodded to the people. We want every Hawaiian child to know their own language and not to forget it; we want every child to be educated and be well versed in everything. Talk about the schools would go into politics; it is already in politics. I presume they are not aware of it. Don't bite your own tongue. It is too bad about the Territory going to ruin on account of the Home Rulers getting into power. How absurd! How jealous! If they get in, it's O. K. Bah! Bah! Bah!!!—Home Rule.

CHOLERA INFANTUM should be guarded against, and prevented by treating the child at the first unusual looseness of the bowels. Mothers can not be too careful about this, especially in hot weather. They should have medicine ready for such an emergency. No better remedy is prepared than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Every household should have a bottle at hand. Get it today. It may save a life. Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., wholesale agents, sell it.

SAYS LOCAL ELKS ARE RICH PLANTERS

Salt Laker Says Honolulu Lodge Is Wealthiest in the Order.

SALT LAKE, July 27.—J. A. Anderson Jr., of 838 Bribham street, who has recently returned from Honolulu, said yesterday afternoon that he looked for two delegations from the Sandwich Islands to the Salt Lake grand lodge and reunion. There are two clubs in those new possessions of the United States. As the Stars and Stripes travelled toward the rising sun the ritual of the order kept pace. The result is there are three lodges in the far away lands of Uncle Sam. One is in Honolulu, Island of Oahu, and another in Hilo, Island of Hawaii. The third is in Manila.

Mr. Anderson said that before he left Honolulu the members of that lodge had secured a Salt Lake club numbering fifty, with fair prospects of doubling it by the day of embarkation. It was just before he left Honolulu that the Hilo lodge was chartered, and its corps of officers installed. He says it would not surprise him to see a delegation from that lodge as well.

Mr. Anderson says the Honolulu lodge is probably the richest in the order. Almost all the members are very wealthy planters on the islands. They are a jolly, good-natured lot of fellows, Elks to the core. They own their own lodge hall, and are now engaged in constructing an addition to it, in which will be a suite of lodge rooms.

Contempt for Electric Car.

He was a Portuguese and had just come over from Kauai, after years of work there. The only street cars he had ever seen in his life were little toy things in Madeira, which moved at the rate of one mile an hour, compelled by law to never carry more than four passengers at a time, and each drawn by two Azores oxen. So when he struck Honolulu the other day he expressed extreme contempt for our "keers." He got a good-sized "jag" on, paid his nickel, and at a quarter to twelve Saturday night started to ride out Puna-hou way. He only got as far as opposite the palace when he decided to go back to town to get another drink. Not being acquainted thoroughly with our breed of electric cars, he stepped off, "jus' a' samee Funchal." He landed on his head, and didn't have much to say for a few minutes. In fact, he didn't speak until he arrived at the Queen's Hospital. There it was found that the quantity of drink he had previously consumed had prevented him from getting badly hurt, and his friends took him away. He refused to tell his name.

Jared G. Smith has received a letter from D. L. Van Dine, who is investigating the blight on Maui, saying that in his opinion the pest attacking corn in the Kula district is the plant louse. The potato blight is a fungus disease.

A compromise with the Honolulu Plantation Co. is still pending.

Attorney General Dole has been requested by Attorney General of United States to go to Washington at the expense of the Federal government to participate in the argument in the Oskiki Mankichi case, and has been appointed a special assistant in the department for that purpose. Solicitor General Richards, and probably Attorney General Knox, will also appear for the Territory. Mr. Couder of New York will appear for Mankichi.

Bishop Restarick met with the clergy of the Episcopal church yesterday forenoon, but no business of any particular moment was brought up. The meeting was a social one and intended as a means of bringing the bishop and his ministers into closer acquaintance. As has been previously announced there will be no changes in the present organized system of the church respecting its ministers, the only exception being that the bishop becomes dean of the cathedral.

He Always Runs.

The cry of the Honolulu Missionary Republicans and Jockey Democrats is anything to defeat Wilcox. They are not for principles but for personality this time. Delegate Wilcox is ready to make the run with any candidate they put up, even if it is the Devil himself.—Home Rule.

Supply May Ship Here.

Comdr. Wm. Eldridge Sewell, U. S. N., has been detached from duty at the Portsmouth navy yard and directed to report for assignment as commanding officer of the U. S. S. Supply. This vessel will sail for the Island of Guam, where she is to be stationed as supply ship and rendezvous. She was formerly the Illinois, and was bought from the International Navigation Company in April, 1898, for $325,000, is a fine vessel of 4,460 tons displacement, and has a bunker capacity of 467.5 tons of bituminous coal. Her present quarters have been fitted up with special reference to service at Guam, and all modern conveniences have been installed for the unique service intended—Army and Navy Journal.

The Globe Navigation Co.

Some one industriously scattered a story among business houses on the water front yesterday that the Globe Navigation Company of Seattle had decided to withdraw its service to this port. The story is absurd as the Globe Company has only recently secured a contract from the Government to carry coal to this port. This company is said to have purchased two new steamers of 12,500 tons register, each with which to inaugurate a service between Seattle and Manila. The S. S. Tampico is due at this port again on August 20.

Rates for Lumber Cargoes.

The latest reports from Tacoma state that charter rates for lumber cargoes from the Sound to Hawaiian ports are steadily decreasing and the latest rate offered was only 16¢. As an example of how lumber rates have decreased since 1881 it may be mentioned that in that year when Captain Burnham, now general manager of the American-Hawaiian steamship line, went to Tacoma as master of the bark Pactolus he got a rate of $22 per thousand for a cargo of lumber to Melbourne. The best rate a vessel can now get is less than half this amount.

FAT NERVES.

A whirl of excitement was recently caused in the scientific world by the news that the mystery of nerve action has been solved.

It is announced that healthy nerves are fat nerves—and that it is the fat in the core of the nerve which is sensitive and by hardening and softening creates nerve action.

Maybe this explains why Scott's Emulsion has always been such a remarkable remedy for nervousness.

Scott's Emulsion feeds thin nerves with the best of all fats, the pure cod-liver oil and strengthens them with the best of nerve tonics, the hypophosphites.

For all forms of nervousness and neuralgia take Scott's Emulsion.

PLANS FOR MORE WATER

Gravity System Is Sought by the Engineers.

NATURAL SITE FOR RESERVOIR

Superintendent Brown Has in Mind Greater System of Impounding Dams.

PLANS for water supply which will mean ample protection for the city in the event of fire, either day or night, and which as well will mean an immense saving in the expense of the collection and distribution of the supply, will be submitted to the next legislature, and efforts made to secure the inauguration of the work upon plans which will take several years to complete.

The first point in the working up of the new plans involves surveys looking toward the conservation of the water supply which now goes to waste from the Nuuanu valley, and which often in twenty hours' time, means the running out to sea of enough water to supply the city for a year. There is at a point above Lanakaha a natural site for a reservoir. The elevation is 595 feet above the electric light station, which means about 1,000 feet above the sea. There is an opportunity there for the collection of a supply sufficient to enable the city to feel absolutely safe from famine and in the event that the collection of too great a supply in one reservoir might cause fears for the safety of the people who live below the level of the dam, there could easily be arranged a series of small reservoirs which could be connected with each other and the reservoir below by 18-inch pipes and thus furnish water and power sufficient to greatly improve the present service.

Should there be made dams at the points selected by engineers who have viewed the situation with a purpose of determining just what could be done for the city in the way of a gravity supply, the water being drawn from the upper levels would furnish at the light station sufficient power not only to make electricity to give twice as much light as is now utilized, but at the same time furnish power for the running of the pumps now used for the low level service, and which could then be used for fire service directly.

The plans for the bettering of the supply of water have been engaging the attention of Superintendent Andrew Brown for years. He has seen the need of improved supply and as well of better methods for distribution. One of the essentials in his opinion is to make use of the natural advantages in the way of impounding the storm waters for the purpose of supply, and thus saving the enormous amounts expended for coal, which often costs the Territory the high price of $10.00 a ton. The next thing in his opinion is the laying of water pipes where there are none, and the relaying of pipes in places where the first system has been outgrown by the city. There is one street in the city which has no water pipes, Vineyard, and there are many parts of others which are without this protection.

It was in his report of 1899 that Superintendent Brown called attention most forcibly to this condition of affairs. At that time he asked for an appropriation of $120,000 for the purchase of 50,000 feet of eight-inch and 25,000 feet of six-inch pipe, and $8,000 for the purchase of 120 fire hydrants. This was three years ago and the growth of the city since that time has been great and along lines which make the taking of steps to protect it from fire even more imperative. The plans of Superintendent Brown contemplate the replacing of all three-inch pipes with six-inch and the four-inch with eight. This would ensure ample supply of water at every point of the city. The present pipes in some instances are so small that the fire engines cannot secure water enough to supply their pumps when there is a fire and thus there is great danger where there should be ample protection.

Should this system be put into operation there would be a constant pressure of seventy pounds to the square inch kept in the mains and this would be met by the Fire Commission installing, in the outlying suburbs of the city, where there is now nothing to do but wait for the arrival of an engine. When there is a fire reported, hose carts could operate against a small fire with the same facility and success as does a fire engine at the present time. The recent additions to the buildings of the city so many shacks, built for oriental occupancy and the fact that these are being erected all over the city, is responsible for the anxiety on the part of the commissioners for safety through better supplies to fight the element.

But while Superintendent Brown has these plans for economical and full supply of water in mind, he at the same time is moving with the facilities at his command to furnish as good protection and supply as possible. As soon as the Kalihini reservoirs are in shape, with the string of storage dams at that point, on Punchbowl slopes and at Diamond Head, there would be held at a height of 170 feet above the low lands, a supply of some 4,000,000 gallons of water, for the reservoirs are always filled before the pumps stop at night, which would insure the pressure required to give perfect fire protection all over the city. These reservoirs are at the same level and will prevent any danger from water shortage. The first signal of fire means the opening of the gates, turning into the mains in the region where it is needed a full supply of water, and within a few minutes there is an added pressure from the starting of the pumps, which work directly into the mains.

The improvements planned and needed are in the line with those already made, in that the fire signal system is now working well.

LIQUOR MEN WILL COMBINE TO DEFEND THEIR BUSINESS

Within the next five days a thoroughly organized Liquor Dealers' Association may be formed and officered and measures taken by it to protect its vested interests in the Territory. By the protection of its interests is meant legislative action which will insure to its business investments against the encroachments of organizations which would do entirely away with the liquor business.

It is possible that J. G. Rothwell of the firm of Peacock & Company, may be called upon to become the president of the organization and he will doubtless accept the position. The association is intended to play the defensive part against the Anti-Saloon League which the former claim is attempting to secure prohibition for the Territory by legislative action next year.

A prominent member of the liquor dealers stated yesterday that it was not the part of the liquor people to play the aggressors as a general thing, but the time had come when they felt compelled to protect themselves, and not to lay back permitting their opponents to be the only active ones.

"This organization has practically been forced upon us," said he, "and it is time for us to defend ourselves. I am not making this statement wholly on our own account but to show that in defending our interests we are defending general commercial interests of the Territory. I state this as a fact, that if the liquor dealers are jeopardized, it will hurt many other lines of business. Business interests here are peculiarly dovetailed and I am stating just what is a fact that if one part of business is injured, it will in proportion affect other business interests.

"I know the attempt will be made by the Anti-Saloon League to force us out of business and establish prohibition laws in this Territory. As we have been in business here for twenty-five years and our investments reach out beyond the liquor business, we feel that it is our right to look out for ourselves by organized means. It has come to be a question of politics, and that being the case, we can interest ourselves in politics also. There are votes in our organization and votes can be controlled. A question of a few votes in this community will swing the pendulum one way or another. I think it is safe to say that we can muster one thousand votes. That number of votes will be a tremendous factor in the result of elections, at least in this city."

COST HIM $600 TO AUCTIONEER

Japanese Fined Heavily for Playing Auctioneer Without a License.

It cost just $600 for a young Japanese named Matsuda to learn that he is not at liberty to stand on the counter of a friend's store and auction off merchandise for his countrymen. If he had been an American citizen he could have taken out an auctioneer's license for just what it cost him to learn the size of the fee, but even after putting up the $600 he is no better off than before, for an auctioneer's license cannot be granted to a foreigner.

Matsuda came into court yesterday on a charge of auctioneering without a license, the complaint being sworn to by License Inspector Batchelor, who arrested him last week in a store on Nuuanu street. Mr. Batchelor was passing the store during the afternoon and noticed a large crowd bidding on merchandise offered for sale by Matsuda. It developed that the storekeeper was on the verge of bankruptcy, and he at first proposed that his creditors take out goods pro rata to meet their obligations. This was not considered business-like, and the happy thought was hit upon for Matsuda to play the role of auctioneer, which he did to his sorrow.

NEWS OF THE WATERFRONT. THE SEVEN-MASTED SCHOONER.

AS THE NEW SHIP WILL APPEAR UNDER FULL SAIL.

QUINCY, Mass., Aug. 2.—The mammoth seven-masted schooner Thomas W. Lawson, the largest sailing vessel ever built, was successfully launched from the yards of the Fore River Ship and Engine Company at 2:40 this afternoon. The monster ship took the water gracefully, going down the ways as easily as a vessel one-quarter her size. Over 10,000 people witnessed the launching. An enormous fleet came down from Boston, while the shore along Downer Landing Park was literally packed with humanity.

The Lawson, designed by Bowdoin B. Crowninshield, has been under construction for about eight months. She was christened by Miss Helen Watson. The Thomas W. Lawson measures 403 feet over all, but her steel spike bowsprit is 85 feet long, and from its tip to the end of the aftermast boom is nearly 500 feet. On the waterline her length is 363 feet, while her beam measurement is 50 feet; her depth 34 feet 5 inches, and her loaded draft 26½ feet. When launched she drew about 10 feet of water. These dimensions give the seven-master a cargo capacity of about 11,000 tons. From the masts, which are to be 155 feet high, will be stretched 43,000 square feet of canvas. The lower masts are steel cylinders, 135 feet long and 22 inches in diameter, each weighing 17 tons bare and nearly 20 tons when rigged. The topmasts are Oregon pine spars, 58 feet long.

"To manage this enormous rigging the Lawson is provided with six steam engines. Steam is supplied by two boilers set in the deck houses, the after boiler, besides taking care of its share of the hoisting machinery, being connected with the steam steering gear, which will be used to guide the vessel in difficult channels or in very heavy weather.

Not only is she built of steel—even her decks are steel plates, the upper deck being overlaid with wood and caulked, as on a wooden vessel—but she has a double bottom, 4 feet deep, divided by collision bulkheads into four compartments, so that the outer plating might be torn open over half her length along her keel without her sinking.

THE TROUBLES OF CAPTAIN BROWN

Says Reporters Have Faked All Kinds of Yarn About Herman.

"There may be and probably is treasure in the South Seas but the devil himself couldn't find it," said Captain Brown yesterday. The Captain has been besieged for the past four months by reporters and all sorts of people who want to know all about his trip and he is now getting tired of this although he has made a unique collection since he first commenced getting ready for the mysterious cruise.

The Captain now has what he calls a "Liar's Bible." This is a scrap book filled with newspaper clippings concerning the Herman. He characterizes it as the biggest collection of yellow lies that have ever been printed about any one thing. According to the Captain imagination has run riot in every newspaper office of each seaport he has been in.

The Captain says that reporters go down to see him and that a conversation something like the following occurs:

Reporter: "How'dy do Cap'n. I represent the Daily Know-it."

Captain: "Pleased to meet you, Mister."

R: "What's all this yarn about you chasing after gold sharks and angel winged whales in the South Seas?"

C: "It's a fake from start to finish. I've denied it dozens of times. This schooner is owned by myself and I am taking a few friends on a pleasure cruise. We go to Honolulu, Tahiti, then back towards China, through the Torres straits to Singapore, then around the Cape of Good Hope and on to New York. That's the whole story. Have a cigar?"

R: "Thanks, looks like a rattling good Havana. Well, I am glad to be set right over this fake treasure story. Good-bye."

After such an interview the Captain says he can't sleep until the paper containing that reporter's article is printed. He has seen some funny things at sea and some funny things on land yet he says he gets all the excitement of life out of what the newspapers say of him. After the above interview the Frisco newspaperman stopped at the first saloon after leaving the schooner, hunted up an old sailor who had been in the South Seas on a whaling trip, paid for two five cent beers and got the "true information" concerning the treasure hunting Herman. With bated breath and beery accents the sailor told him that many years ago Captain Brown sailed the ship Melton Park around the Horn to New Zealand. On the return trip he had three passengers. A frightful gale came on and Captain and passengers thought the ship would be lost. In the midst of the gale they made a vow that if the ship weathered the wild fury of the elements they would make a voyage to the South Pole. The vessel got out all right and a few months later Captain Brown and his friends fitted out a South Pole exploring expedition. This was done quietly and a few weeks later the little craft wiggled through the ice and found a land of green hills, sparkling brooks, and fine tropical flora, surrounded by a calm sea at the spot where the south pole should be. Strangely enough they found the pole itself and discovered that it was sticking a few hundred feet out of the ground and was of pure gold. They saved off portions of it—enough to fill the schooner, and set sail for New York. Then after again getting through the ice the vessel had a succession of storms which drove her up into the Marshall Group where she went on a reef, stove a hole in her bottom and sank in forty fathoms of water. All except Brown were drowned. He escaped and is now taking the schooner Herman to get the treasure.

Such in brief was the story that appeared on the following morning and Captain Brown says its only a "mild sort of sample" of what other reporters have written.

"They're all pretty far off the mark," says the Captain significantly, "but bless my soul I am pleased to see 'em come aboard with those little innocent faces which are so soon to change into that of dissipated liars because a schooner happens to be sailing for an unknown destination."

And Captain Brown got up and paced the deck—possibly anxious to learn what the Advertiser reporter would add to his scrap book.

WHEN IROQUOIS LOST HERSELF

The recently announced arrival of the U. S. S. Mohican at Dutch Harbor, Alaska, in desperate straits for lack of fuel and provisions, recalls a similar experience which befell the Iroquois during the cruise of that vessel from Honolulu to the Gilbert Islands, via Samoa. In the attempt to make the voyage under sail alone the Iroquois lost her reckoning, and for more than three months her whereabouts were entirely unknown. When the vessel finally appeared, it was at Port Townsend, Wash., instead of on the equator among the islands of the Gilbert group. It appeared on investigation that during this remarkable experience the ship was unable to obtain a sight of the sun for eighty-five consecutive days, with the result that her navigator was completely befogged as to his latitude or longitude, and the ship drifted hither and yon, first in one direction and then in another, the coal supply of the Iroquois not being sufficient to encourage the attempt to steam to its destination. The weather grew colder and colder, the fuel supply grew scantier each day, and the supply of drinking water, dependent as it was upon steam, began to fail, and this, with the diminution of food, made the situation decidedly uncomfortable. When at length the harbor of Port Townsend was made, the snowflakes were flying and the shivering crew of the Iroquois was about to abandon all hope of a rescue. Comdr. Joshua Bishop, U. S. N. (now retired), was in command of the Iroquois during that memorable cruise.—Army and Navy Journal.

A Sailor's View of It.

A sailor who came aboard from New York on the ship I. F. Chapman got the news for the first time on Saturday after nearly four months' stay aboard ship.

"Say," he asked, "how's the war doing? Are the Filipinos done fighting yet?"

"Pretty near," said the Customs man who was watching and see that nothing branded "made in Germany" walked off the Gerda.

"Well," said the sailor, "I'm sorry to hear it. If them beggars have stopped fighting they won't make good citizens. You are the people we want as free and independent Sunday-go-to-meeting citizens are them that got some backbone. If they don't fight it kinder indicates that they ain't got much nerve and no patriotism. Give me the feller that sticks out until he has pawed his sea boots before he'll ship with us. He'll make a good citizen. The Filipinos won't be any good as straight-out an' out citizens until they kill enough regular citizens to make 'em believe that they're about the same as a citizen. You smoke a bit on that."

Why Jap Cooks Are Employed.

"I'll tell you why so many Jap cooks are now employed on sailing vessels," said an old skipper yesterday. "It is because the captain and the shipping master each get $5 from the Jap for getting him his job and the Jap is willing to do dirty work that no white man would do."

The Steamer Noeau Has a Big Crowd of Enthusiasts on Board.

"Hi there! Shift Deacon Testa over on the other side or your boat will keel over!"

"Don't let Mamma's Baby fall overboard."

"Don't lose Mr. Brown's dog."

"All aboard!"

A shout rent the air. Three whistles were screamed. The ropes were loosed from the wharf and the steamer Noeau left the dock.

"There's a ham with a rope tied to it in a box in the cabin there, and Brooks will show you how to use it for seasickness after you get to sea," shouted a man on the wharf. "Some friends of Chillingworth have sent it to him."

It was an assembly of business men—or sports—under the guidance of Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth bound for Maialaea Bay to see the Maui races and root for the Honolulu Athletic Club's baseball team in a match against the Maui boys.

The party left Brewer's wharf at 6 o'clock last night on the steamer Noeau. There was a big crowd to see the boys off. From general indications the party will have a merry trip across.

The baseball team is as follows: A. R. Cunha, c.; B. Joy, p.; P. Gleason, 1b.; J. A. Thompson, 2b.; S. Leslie, 3b.; J. Williams, ss.; J. Hansmann, lf.; J. Aylett, cf.; A. Lewis, rf. Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth's party included: F. M. Brooks, Lorrin Andrews, E. E. Thompson, J. H. McDonough, Mr. Waldmeyer, Geo. Macy, Eugene Devauchelle, F. K. Makino, Fred West, Guy Livingston, H. Roth, J. S. McCrossen, R. W. Breckons, newspaper reporters and others.

As the steamer left the jolly crowd on board piled up on the bridge and amidst the waving or hats nearly a half hundred male voices broke out with the pretty Hawaiian song "Aloha Oe," which was later taken up by the party on shore.

The Noeau should have reached Maialaea Bay about 3 o'clock this morning and from there the party will go across to Kahului, reaching that place in time for the races and the ball game. The party will leave Maialaea about 11:30 tonight and reach Honolulu early Wednesday morning.

His Way of Identifying.

A Chinaman who keeps a fruit stall on the water front has a great way of telling the nationalities of sailors who patronize him. He only needs to see them coming to tell them. "Melicans have face all clean, German he have plenty whiskers when come first ashore but he cut him right off. Allysame Norwegian but he have short hair and only little bit whiskers. Frenchman he try hard but have only little tiny bit hair sticking out on chin. Allysame my way telling."

Captain Burnham May Come Here.

It is said that Captain Burnham, general manager of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company, will soon make a trip to Hawaii. He recently made a tour of the Pacific Coast. While at Tacoma he stated that all of the company's vessels which visit the Pacific Coast will call at Tacoma as he thought the business between the Sound and Hawaii was large enough to warrant it.

Bangalore Goes Wednesday.

The American ship Bangalore is now out in the stream preparing her gear for the trip to New York, and will probably sail Wednesday. All of her crew has not been secured yet and yesterday was spent in the work of bending on her sails. The appearance of the ship reflects considerable credit on Captain Blanchard as she is as well cleaned up and painted as any ship which has left the harbor for months.

ON THE FASHIONABLE BOULEVARDS, all classes of work mingle together, but the discerning eye readily distinguishes the O'Brien & Sons', San Francisco, and Babcock Co.'s New York vehicles, by that subtle air of fashionable elegance that is not mere outer ornamentation or novelty but is a happy combination of many details in harmonious relationship. It represents the experience gained by years of improvement.

TO ENJOIN COLLECTION

Income Tax Law In United States Court.

A NEW ATTACK ON CONSTITUTIONALITY

Injunction Asked Because of Allegation That Territory is Unable to Repay Money.

Suit to enjoin the collection of the income tax for 1922 was begun yesterday in the United States Court. Thos. Fitch, representing the following plaintiffs, made the application to Judge Estee for an injunction against Treasurer Wright and Collector Pratt:

W. C. Peacock & Co., Ltd.; Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd.; Lewis & Co., Ltd.; Honolulu Brewing and Malting Co., Ltd.; The Hollister Drug Co., Ltd.; M. S. Grinbaum & Co., Ltd.; Kash Co., Ltd.; The Manufacturers' Shoe Co., Ltd.; W. W. Dimond & Co., Ltd.; Wall, Nichols & Co., Ltd.; Bulletin Publishing Co., Ltd.; Lee Toma & Co., Ltd.; Oahu Carriage Mfg. Co., Ltd.; Wing Wo Chan & Co.; Pacific Land and Improvement Co.; Yee Wo Chan Co.; Wing Wo Tai & Co.; Kwong Yuen Hong Co.; Greenwood, Richardson & Holloway, Ltd.; all of the foregoing being corporations under the laws of Hawaii Territory; S. Roth & Co.; E. A. McInerney; M. McInerney; James J. McInerney; Edward N. McInerney, as trustee for Ella McInerney; Clinton B. Hutchins; L. B. Kerr; George W. Smith; F. J. Church; Edgar L. Lewis; H. T. Lewis; F. M. Lewis; A. Hocking; J. J. Williams; H. F. Wichman; J. H. Schnack; Aug. E. Dreier; A. Gantenberg; E. W. Jordan; E. R. Bath; F. J. Wilhelm; W. W. Dimond; James Steiner; Emmett May; A. V. Gear; James L. McLean; Thos. E. Wall; Fred Philip; Fred Harrison; W. C. Peacock; W. H. McInerney; J. G. Rhwell; E. S. Cunha; T. G. Farrier; Yim Quon; W. B. Knapp; David Dayton; Wing Wo Kwal; M. Phillips; Mrs. S. Phillips; M. Green; S. Lesser; William Green; Theo. Wolf; and all others similarly situated, having a common and general interest in the subject matter of this action, who may by leave of the Court be joined as parties plaintiff herein, complainants.

The attack in the United States Court is upon a different line than was pursued in the Supreme Court a year ago. The plaintiffs will it is said rely upon the theory of double taxation, contending that though States may levy such a tax, Territories have no more power than is given by Congress and the constitution. The United States Supreme Court, it is said, has decided that Congress had no power to levy tax upon incomes, and a Territorial legislature can have no more authority than the body from which it derives its life.

The petition filed yesterday is on behalf of J. G. Rothwell and the other plaintiffs named above; it being set out that they are corporations and residents of the Territory, and that W. H. Wright is Treasurer and J. W. Pratt, assessor, both charged with the collection of the income tax under Act 20, enacted by the legislature of the Territory, session of 1921.

It is further set out that at the time of the enactment of the law it was unconstitutional, being also in violation of the Organic Act. It is alleged also that Rothwell returned $9150 as income in 1921, which was derived from property which has been otherwise assessed. The gross income of the petitioner is $2,147,000, and the income tax on that amount amounts to $8056.68. The injunction is asked because the complainants fear that if they pay their tax to the Territory they cannot get it back, because it would have been paid out, the expenditures of the Territory being largely in excess of the receipts.

ATTACKED WIFE WITH SCISSORS

Chester Doyle yesterday arrested a Japanese at Waikiki against whom a complaint had been sworn to by his wife, charging him with an attempt to murder her on Sunday night. About 10:30 p. m., the Japanese went to his home on the Ena road near the Beach road, Waikiki, and without any intimidation to his wife that he meant harm, suddenly thrust at her with a pair of scissors. In defending herself the woman was cut about the neck, face and arms, and had it not been for her agility and strength the infuriated husband would probably have killed her. She ran away from the house screaming, and the neighbors were aroused. The husband left the house soon afterward and was not found until yesterday afternoon. He was released on giving $500 bonds.
