

APPEAL ON STANDARD OIL BIG FINE

BOTH PARTIES WANT TO RATIFY

REPUBLICANS AND DEMOCRATS ANNOUNCE MEETINGS TO CELEBRATE VICTORY AND BOTH SIDES CHOOSE THE SAME TIME AND PLACE—DEMOCRATS GOT AHEAD BY ENGAGING THE PARK AND BAND FIRST, THEY CLAIM.

It is a peculiar election which is followed by notices from both leading parties calling ratification meetings to jollify over victory, but when both parties select the same time and place to do the jollifying, the peculiarly becomes strenuous. That is the case in Honolulu today. Republicans yesterday afternoon made announcement of a ratification meeting next Saturday night at Aala park, with band, etc. This morning those in charge woke up to the fact that the Democrats had several days ago secured a permit for the park, the grandstand and the band and this morning also, the Democrats proceeded to clinch their arrangements. "What are you going to ratify?" was asked of a Democratic leader.

"The Republican victory," was the reply, with telephatic communications indicating that the delegate, supervisors and legislators were really all that mattered. So both sides intend to celebrate victory. But, say the Democrats, it cannot be done by both at the same time and place. "We secured the permission from Dwight, chairman of the committee on parks, for the use of the Aala bandstand," said Link McCandless, "and we intend to use it. We called his attention to the Republican announcement and he told us he had given us the use and that we had a right to go ahead and use it."

ANDREWS ON WARPATH

Christian Andrews, one of the Democratic candidates for the Senate from the island of Hawaii and who was completely snowed under by the other candidates on the ticket, getting only 554 votes out of a total of 3157, has a bitter accusation to make. He charges that Secretary Mott-Smith, through malicious and deliberate intent, left his native name, Analu, off the official ballot, and calls the attention of the Secretary to the fact that his deliberate attempt which succeeded in electing the Republican candidate, Mr. Hewitt, is a felony, under the election laws. He also states that he will contest Hewitt's seat in the Senate on this ground. Oddly, however, Hewitt happens to have been defeated.

It appears that the native name appeared properly on the same ballot but that it was left off the official slip of paper and the news of this fact only reached the Governor's office today through an exceedingly belligerent letter from Andrews. He makes many charges in high-toned language, but when it is noticed that he ran behind the other candidates everywhere it seems very doubtful if the mistake was the cause of his non-election. That the mistake was a deliberate one on the part of Secretary Mott-Smith, or of any of the attaches of his office, is something that it is doubtful if the most rabid partisan would believe.

APPEALS AT WASHINGTON

POSITION OF HAWAIIAN CASES FOR HEARING IN UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT.

W. L. Whitney, the deputy in charge of the Attorney General's department, received a letter from his chief, C. R. Hemenway, who is absent in Washington, by the mail this morning. Mr. Hemenway states that the two cases of the Rapid Transit Company against Tax Assessor Holt, the case against Capt. Tullett by Holt and the Morita Kaizo and Cotton Bros. cases were set for October 26, the letter being written on Oct. 24. The Liliha street case was to come up a week later and the Lanai case was set for December 21.

MAY BE MURDER

JAP GIRL DEAD IN BATH ROOM—SHOOTER BOUND OVER—HARRISON.

Thirty-four-year-old Japanese female servant Yoshino Nakamoto, of Horoshima Ken, Japan, for years in the employ of Dr. and Mrs. A. N. Sanford, Quarry street, near Lunalilo, was last evening, upon the return home of the Sanfords, found dead with her throat cut in the bathroom.

The Sanfords left their home in the morning and the servant had been dead for several hours. Lying on her back, her head raised against a partition, one hand lay on her breast and near the body was a bloody razor. The police are wondering whether murder or suicide was done.

Coroner's jurors J. A. Williams, S. Gumpfer, Bert Colburn, Manuel Quadres, Jr., James Moenahale and J. R. Francis, assisted by Coroner Jarrett, will at 7:30 this evening endeavor to reach some conclusion.

Committing Magistrate Andrade this morning, in police court, bound over in the sum of $250 the Japanese who the other night shot a fellow countryman, wounding him in the arm, when the latter called at his house at 3 o'clock in the morning. There were three Japanese men in one bed in the house visited and it would seem that, after getting the visitor on the floor and pummeling him and then sealing him to the door, there was little or no necessity of pumping lead into him. There is probably a woman at the bottom of the case.

T. Milner Harrison's case goes over until the seventeenth of this month. Lawyer Harrison is alleged to have disturbed a house full of females in Kalia the other night. He was given his choice of going to jail in default of bail, or voluntarily abiding in the asylum for the insane. He chose the latter, but nevertheless enjoyed freedom last night. Although Harrison had a right in the Kalia resort, paying the rent and being associated with another attorney and a jeweler or watchmaker, and others, it seems that he was unduly enthusiastic in the matter of operating a high handed game.

LAST CHANCE FOR TAXES

The last occasion on which the second installment of taxes for the present year can be paid without the addition of a penalty of ten per cent will come next Saturday night. As a rule, when the fifteenth of November falls on Sunday it has been the custom of the local tax office to accept taxes on Monday without adding the penalty, but this has been found to be bad law and the local people who wish to keep square with Assessor Wilder should come around with their money on Saturday. The office will be kept open till 10 o'clock at night.

MR. FILMER HERE

George Filmer, Past Potentate of Islam Temple, Mystic Shrine, San Francisco, arrived in the China this morning. He comes here as the guest of Aloha Temple for its initiation ceremonies next Saturday. James S. McCandless is showing Mr. Filmer around town.

Ivan Johnson, the little son of Col. Sam Johnson, was badly kicked by a horse in Puna a few days ago and was brought down to this city on Saturday by Dr. Wood, who is attending him. The animal's hoof struck him in the head, but the child is getting along very favorably.

THE WEDDING'S TOMORROW.
Henry H. Williams and Miss Annie Ward tomorrow evening at 7:30 will be married in the Catholic Cathedral. Mr. Williams has for a long time been connected with the headquarters of the Department of Public Instruction.

HARR WAS MINUS WATCH

SPECIAL INVESTIGATOR FROM WASHINGTON RUNS ACROSS TROUBLE IN HIS TOURS.

It would be interesting to have Judge Dole, Rev. E. W. Thwing, U. S. District Attorney Breckons and a number of other citizens whose position brings them before the public at the present time, named before the Police Court to tell where they last saw the watch belonging to W. H. Harr, the special investigator sent to this city to look up the records of the row between Breckons and Thwing. Still this is not without the range of possibilities.

Mr. Harr yesterday afternoon had a watch. This morning Mr. Harr has no watch. He would really like to know where it has gone. No one can blame him for looking on many with eyes of suspicion. He has been sent to this city to investigate charges against the United States District Attorney, among which are those that he smokes "vile cigarettes," and goes around the courthouse in his shirt-sleeves. Surely a city where a miscreant who commits such crimes as these for years and is only brought to justice through the energy of one or two citizens, may well be one where all can be watched most carefully, especially when one has found himself minus a time piece.

Harr called on Judge Dole yesterday. He also saw Rev. E. W. Thwing, U. S. District Attorney Breckons was another man whom the special investigator saw. Many others might be mentioned but their positions hardly warrant the free advertising, which should not be dispensed with too great liberality. But where is that watch? It is a matter of moment, nay of sixty minutes to the hour and twenty-four hours per day. Mr. Harr may go without his lunch if he has no time-piece and becomes interested in tracing the devious ways of the Oriental clients whom Breckons is accused of being hand in glove with. In the stress of a dangerous time when tracing through the ashes the burned question of what brand of cigarettes the District Attorney smokes, to discover whether they are vile or not, he might miss his last car and be forced to take a hack. Where the trouble to Mr. Harr will stop and the expense from such sources to the United States will end is hard to say.

There is a possibility that Sheriff Iaukea may step into the breach and allow the services of his Chief of Refractories, Jack Kalakiele, to help out. Possibly Secretary Mott-Smith may get permission from Governor Freat to allow the services of Detective McBride to be taken from the Chinese criminological work for a short space to recover the time piece. Even the Promotion Committee might come in with an offer of reward, while the corps of detectives on the Advertiser looking for new Catholics to conquer may have a new chance to display their skill. The best is to be hoped for by Mr. Harr with such resources as these at hand.

2 p. m. Mr. Harr has recovered his watch but states he does not know where it was found. Miss Annie Ward is a very charming Honolulu girl. Her beautiful little sister, Alice, will be bridesmaid. The couple will reside in this city.

APPLIES TO HAWAII

TWO CENTS POSTAGE TO GREAT BRITAIN IS ENOUGH FROM THESE ISLANDS.

Hawaii has the benefit of the two-cent postage rate to Great Britain, just arranged. Postmaster Pratt thinks the rate does apply and according to instructions he has received, the local post office will receive and forward British letters with two-cent stamps on them.

According to an item published in the Mainland papers, the rate does not apply here, but the item in question classifies Hawaii as an outlying possession instead of as a Territory, and Postmaster Pratt thinks the error was a clerical one. "The report is probably due to some clerk who does not know that Hawaii is a Territory and classed the islands as among outlying possessions," said the postmaster. "This office has no notice that the two cent rate to Great Britain does not apply here, but on the contrary has notice of such a rate going into effect."

FEDERAL COURT CLERK VACANCY

As was exclusively announced in The Star, some four or five days ago, Frank L. Hatch, the clerk of the United States District Court in this city, has resigned, leaving his position formally on November 14. The resignation, both as clerk and as United States commissioner, was received by Judge Dole this morning, coming in the mail which arrived on the China.

Hatch will take the position of secretary with the California Retail Material Dealers' Association, a San Francisco firm, in which his wife's uncle, Mr. Dickey, is interested and of which he is president. It is generally understood that Assistant Clerk A. E. Murphy will be made the clerk of the court and that Stenographer Deas will become the assistant clerk.

APPEAL APPROVED

U. S. District Attorney Breckons has received advice from Washington approving of his action in appealing to the Circuit Court of Appeals from the decision of Judge Dole in the Augusta Walsh case. In this matter it was held by Judge Dole that trial in the Territorial courts on an adultery charge barred trial in the Federal Court on a charge of violation of the Edmunds Act. Under the law passed by the last Congress the United States may appeal in a case of this character. This was done by Breckons, though without instructions from Washington. The letters received today approve of his action and ask that he forward authorities.

BAD SYMPTOMS IN PHILIPPINES

The Cablenews-American Speaks Very Strongly on Disrespect For Authority and Law.

AN AMERICAN IS MURDERED.

Work of Band of Seventeen—Planter and Party Hacked to Pieces.

MANILA, October 11.—The Cablenews-American has the following warm editorial on the general Philippine situation:

"Americans in the Philippines have been compelled to taste a bitter cup the past fortnight. What with hospitality refused by our brothers of the battleship fleet, an expected time of joy turned into a funeral period by the specter of death, we had thought ourselves sufficiently marked out by Fate for sorrow. But now, within a week, two horrible crimes have been committed, one of the sort so repugnant to the Anglo-Saxon, and the other the murder and mutilation of an American pioneer planter, whose butchers, not content with hacking him to pieces must set their political mark upon his forehead, and fix even on his cold corpse their sign of hatred for the race that seeks to uplift them.

"It is true that these are single cases of depravity which may not be argued into proof of a general condition. But in the one case three men participated and in another seventeen. These were what are called in criminal parlance 'gang' crimes, and are always considered, especially in the Orient, to indicate a lessening of respect for the constituted authorities, a lessening fear of the law.

"We who have lived here for years know that this is the hardest thing to guard against. The Spaniards, who until a few decades ago, governed these islands with a couple of thousand soldiers, did so by making their punishment for crime swift, inexorable and severe. The American civil regime was so opposite to the Spanish system and to the military rule that it was expected it would take some years to accustom the natives to the humane and philanthropic scheme of the McKinley policy.

"We had hopes we might attain success but lately we have been going backward. It is not so much an increase in crime as contempt for our government by the minor Filipino official. One sees this on every side. It has been shown in their disregard for sanitation, in the actions of the recent session of provincial governors in which many foolish and impracticable recommendations were made, almost all solely to extend the power of the native officials and to afford opportunities for influence.

"It is shown in the actions of the prosecuting attorney of Pampanga who did not proceed against the murderers of Trotter until forced to do so. Americans who travel through the provinces say that this spirit is growing. If that is true it is one of the worst signs. It must be checked by rigorous measures. The offending officials must be dismissed and disgraced.

"America must keep the respect of the masses at all hazard and in most cases this respect is inspired only by fear of the consequences of misdeeds."

The story of the murder of the American planter was told by the same paper the day before in part as follows:

"Charles H. Trotter, an American planter, Vivente Holoed, a well known and wealthy agriculturist and land owner, and Jose Cayan, partner of the latter, have been brutally murdered by Filipinos in Gutad, Pampanga, and Fernando Cayan, a youth, has been badly wounded as a result of trouble over the possession of a tract of land claimed by the leader of the band or seventeen, a man named Vitug, to belong to his father, whom he represented.

"The telegram received by the executive secretary from the provincial treasurer of Pampanga states that the crime was apparently a premeditated murder. It appears that the band lay in wait for the party, which was looking over the land prior to clearing a part of it for agricultural purposes and as the three doomed men came out of the wood they approached them and entered into a dispute about the possession of the land.

"Trotter was armed with a revolver and was the only one in the party who had means of defense other than his fists. All the 17 men in the band were armed with war bolos.

"The dispute did not last long as from words they came to blows, Vitug striking Trotter, a signal for the others of the party to commence their bloody work. The blow struck the unexpected attack commenced and very soon Trotter was hacked to pieces, but not till he had put up a valiant fight for his life against the ruffians, four of whom he wounded.

"The Spaniards, seeing resistance futile, fled from the scene but were pursued by the armed band and overtaken at a short distance and also hacked to pieces. The fourth mem-

AN INQUIRY ANSWERED.

A gentleman at Bembel, Rhodesia, writes to inquire where Chamberlain's Cough Remedy can be procured. He says he has learned of the good effects resulting from its use and as children in that locality are often subject to coughs, he desired to give it a trial. This remedy may be procured from any store or chemist. For coughs, colds and croup there is nothing better, and as it contains no injurious substance it can be given to the smallest child with perfect security. ber of the party, a Spaniard of about 16 years of age, was left for dead."

MANILA, October 13.—Commenting on further particulars of the murder of Trotter and his Spanish companions, which show that bad feeling had existed over land obtained by Trotter's marriage to an heiress, the Cablenews-American says in an editorial today:

"It is not straining the point to say that the murder of Trotter and his Spanish companions, the recent rape and robbery of Miss Ridgway, and this sporadic ladronism which raises its head now and again throughout the islands, are the result of tardy and light punishment for crimes, and directly due to the preponderance of the subject race in law-making and law-executing positions, as contrasted with the absence in these offices of stern, sturdy, and capable Americans.

"Nor is it too much to say, as has the Cablenews said often, that this epidemic of cholera is due to lack of respect for our laws, customs and officials.

"The provincial centers from which cholera has come to Manila are filthy because the people have disregarded them by their Filipino officials, who think sanitation a bogie, and that cholera emanates from the Evil One. This has been brought about by taking away from the provinces hardworking and fearless Americans who enforced sanitary rules, and giving to the municipalities and provinces a self-government which they have abused and which autonomy has filled them with a prideful contempt for their masters.

"We have gone ahead TOO FAST. Perhaps even we have gone the wrong way. Anyhow we are in a ditch and must get out of it before we are ever again on the high road. If we do not assert the sovereignty of the United States in the Philippine Islands more strongly than we do, we are in for a dark future. There are several provinces in these islands which are nests of treason. The government knows this or must know it. It is true that by being complacent things go along more peacefully; at least there is no explosion. But we do not want peace WITHOUT HONOR AND RESPECT, and we only put off the time of the explosion and increase its force by dallying."

Mr. Bryan says that God has made the bad man so that he can't be bad long. Is this an appeal for confidence in the changed Bryan hypothesis?—Indianapolis Star.

1909 EXPOSITION WILL BE READY

GREAT WORLD'S FAIR AT SEATTLE NEXT YEAR TO SET A NEW RECORD.

SEATTLE, (Wash.), Oct. 22, 1908.—Eight months from now on the first day of June 1909, the gates of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition at Seattle will be thrown open to the public. For four months and a half the first great Pacific World's Fair will receive visitors from all parts of the globe. If the visitor comes on the last day, or in August or on the opening day, he or she will find things the same. It is the intention of the officials of this exposition to break all exposition records, to establish a precedent and have all complete and in readiness on the opening day. The slogan of the enterprise is just that "Ready-on-the-opening-day." The people of Seattle and the Pacific Northwest are accustomed to doing things and they will do this with characteristic promptness and energy.

A month ago the gates of the exposition were closed to free admission. The day was celebrated by a vast meeting of the stockholders held on the steps of the huge Manufacturers Building. The director general presented figures showing that the exposition was more than 70 per cent complete and that the remaining work was of such character that it could be rushed to the final state in a few months. To make doubly sure the director of exhibits has instructed all exhibitors that goods will be received any time after March 1st of next year, and that everything must be in place two weeks before the official opening. This certainly looks as if the promise would be realized.

Three of the great permanent buildings which will be turned over to the University of Washington at the end of the fair are finished. A fourth will be completed by January 1st. The two main exhibit palaces, the Manufacturers and Agriculture Buildings have been finished for several months. The Mining Palace and the Fisheries Building, the Hospital and the Fire Station have been in use for months. The power plant is ready to start up. Oregon finished her palatial building in September and entertained the Travelling Passenger Agents who met in Seattle during that month. California, which will have one of the largest buildings on the grounds, will announce her building completed by January 1st. The Washington State Building, which will be permanent, is going up rapidly. Contracts have been let with a time limit of February for the Arctic Brotherhood, Forestry and Women's buildings. The United States Government has its plans ready and the commissioners will let the contracts within ten days and the buildings must be ready two months before the opening. Every other building to be erected can be run up in two to three months, so there is no danger of the building side being behind.

How about the grounds? is often asked. The site of 250 acres of virgin forest has been cleared, graded, roads and paths laid out. The central court of honor with its beautiful cascades and geyser basin is almost completed and it is expected that water will be turned on the middle of November. Acres of lawn are coated with a heavy turf of refreshing green. The Sunken Gardens are finished.

Miles of sewers, water mains and electric conduits have been laid, all permanent work for the University. Gas mains are now going in and when that is once finished the contractors will start laying asphalt over the eleven miles of streets and walks. Every curbing is set and this work will not take over two months to finish. Several miles of clinder paths winding through the virgin forest, through beautiful glens and shady nooks are ready.

The green houses which have been in operation for two years have over a million plants ready for transplanting. Over 250,000 rose bushes are included in this huge number. Several thousand large tubs containing vines that will grace the pergolas of the great palaces are waiting to be placed and more are thriving under the gardeners' care. There is going to be no mistake about the decorative features of the exposition. It will be one of the most distinctive parts of the brilliant show and people will go away from Seattle next year with pleasant memories of the masses of roses, the great rhododendron banks, the fragrant flower beds of the sunken gardens, the graceful festoons of vines that are found everywhere. The eyes will not have grown tired from the glare of glass, white paint and dusty paths; the great stretches of green turf, the everlasting green of the giant firs and cedars, the green, green everywhere will afford full relief and people will more than ever realize the boast of Washington as the Evergreen State.

The 1909 exposition is going to be ready on the opening day and the visitor need not wait. It will be come early and avoid the rush.

Tom Watson has been invited to attend a meeting of the unemployed. Those who invited him must have thought election day was already past.—Florida Times Union.

SUPPLYING THE ARMY HERE.

The stationing of three or four thousand soldiers here will add considerably to Honolulu's commercial importance. The supplies for such a force will be a considerable item of trade, and they should be purchased here. Following a precedent established by merchants of Manila our merchants should be able to insure this, if any assurance is necessary. For a long time supplies for the army in the Philippines were purchased on the Mainland, under a system of bidding which put Manila bidders at a disadvantage, owing to freight conditions. A merchants' association of Manila secured an order by which the system of bidding was changed, so that allowance was made for Manila's disadvantages of distance from sources of supply, and then the big contracts went to Manila concerns.

The McKinnon killing looked like a very cold-blooded atrocity, and it is not surprising that a jury has found Wynne guilty of murder.

AN EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS SOON.

Tariff revision is not far off. An extra session of the new Congress will probably be called by Taft very soon after his inauguration in March, to take up this matter, according to Republican promises. It may be expected that in Taft's message he will recommend a reduction in the Philippine tariff schedules on some items, sugar being one of them. The new President is devoted to the Philippines apparently almost to the extent of making them a hobby. Considering his great part in the real pacification of the Filipino, in starting the Filipino on the road to self-government and independence, this is natural. It was Taft who, under great difficulties, organized the first American government in Manila; it was he who, to the uttermost disgust of many American job and fortune seekers, put into effect a policy of giving the Filipinos offices and the first opportunities, and it is due to him more than any other man, perhaps, that they now have a legislature. Taft wants to see the great experiment succeed. It will be one of his life achievements, and a unique one in history. During his term as President he may be expected to fight strongly for tariff arrangements more advantageous to the Philippines, and the first step is likely to be a recommendation of a fifty per cent reduction of tariff on Philippine sugar and on a few other articles.

ONE CAUSE OF LOCAL INCREASE IN DIVORCES.

In studying the increase of divorces here, the ministers will probably find one important cause to be in the kind of marriages which have taken place here within the past few years. The combinations of the federal immigration laws, Edmunds Act and other laws have brought about ceremonies of marriage which might naturally lead to divorce. For example, Japanese couples wedded in the immigration station, half a dozen or so couples at a time, in order to enable them to land as immigrants, are not forming the sort of union likely to be lasting. Most of the increase in divorces here is among Japanese, and marriages of this sort account in part for it. Moreover, under the influence of enforcements of the peonage laws, stoppage of the sale of women, and enforcement of the Edmunds Act, the only way to manage the peculiar sort of oriental transaction once rather common here, is by marrying and divorcing. The cause for a boom in divorces will thus be found largely in the boom in a certain kind of marriages.

In the meantime, as showing how even the noblest of reforms may work some evil and have its dark side, these various federal marriages have the effect of lowering oriental respect for the institution of marriage as understood by occidentals.

THE WONDERS OF WIRELESS AGAIN.

There has been talk of war; there have been rumors of trouble between the Yankees of the West and the Yankees of the East, but with world-encircling fleets flying the Stars and Stripes the talk has lessened, and, with the looming light of wireless wonders may there not be guarantees of understanding between the ends of the earth and the peoples who dwell thereat?

When this little island in mid-Pacific can talk to the mainland United States by ether and listen to the talk of coast wireless stations in Japan, within the hour, does not this miracle "make a noise" like closer relationship and nearer appreciation, even if only through the awe that must come with the first flush of knowledge that nations six thousand miles apart are brought into lightning touch by the greatest invention of the ages?

This is a wireless age and in the wireless world Oahu sticks up like the pinnacle of a cathedral range of giant mountains, or like the spire of a church in a little town.

EFFECT OF AUTOMOBILES ON MACADAM ROADS.

The broken-stone road of today has been of slow development. Although the methods of construction vary somewhat in different countries and different localities, the main object sought has always been the same: to withstand the wear of iron-tired horse vehicles at a reasonable cost. Until the last decade these conditions have been successfully met, and the broken-stone road was all that could be desired, says Logan Waller Page, the Government expert, in Municipal Engineering Magazine. Under modern motor traffic, however, the conditions have changed. Roads which formerly withstood the wear of horse vehicles are quickly denuded of the fine binding material, and become loose and disintegrated. On the principally traveled roads the great clouds of dust raised by rapidly moving motor vehicles are not only a great waste of the material of which the road is composed, but this dust is carried by the wind and disseminated over adjacent property to such an extent that it has, in many instances, affected the value of real estate as well as the comfort of near-by residents and pedestrians. The road surface becomes so loosened that water makes its way to the foundation, and in general the cost of maintenance has very greatly increased. The problem is such a serious one that it has called forth the best efforts of highway engineers in every civilized country. By the proper use of bituminous materials, the mechanical difficulties have in a large measure been overcome, but the cost of such treatment is so great that it is hard to believe at present that such methods can ever be generally used on the many thousand miles of rural highways affected. While the slipping of the tire, skidding, shape of car body, suction and other causes contribute more or less to the injury of the road surface, it is generally agreed that the suction of the pneumatic tire on the surface is the main cause of the trouble, but I think it can be shown that the great traction force or shear exerted by the driving wheels of motor cars is the main factor of injury.

To sum the matter up briefly, the pneumatic tire or any type of tire which propels a vehicle, must have sufficient tractive resistance to overcome the load of the vehicle. This of necessity must cause a shear on the road surface, which varies with the weight and speed of the vehicle. The broken-stone road surface has little power to resist a shearing stress, consequently the fine material of which it is composed is thrown into the air. Once lifted from the road, this fine material is subject to the effect of air currents generated by the car body, and subsequently by the wind. In this manner large quantities of the material of which the road is composed are carried from the road and must eventually be replaced, or the road will rapidly deteriorate. This action may be greatly accelerated by other causes, but in the main it is sufficient to account for the observed results. Aside from the dust carried from the road in this manner, this shearing force of the motor car has a decided disintegrating effect on the surface of the road.

THE AMERICAN DIARY OF A JAPANESE GIRL

ON THE OCEAN.

Good-night—native land!
Farewell, beloved Empress of Dai Nippon!

12th.—The tossing spectacle of the waters (also the hostile smell of the ship) put my head in a whirl before the "Belgie" left the wharf.

The last five days have been a continuous nightmare. How many a time would I have preferred death!

My little self wholly exhausted by sea-sickness. Have I to drift to America in skin and bone?

I felt like a paper flag thrown in a tempest.

The human being is a ridiculously small piece. Nature plays with it and kills it when she pleases.

I cannot blame Balboa for his fancy, because he caught his first view from the peaks in Darien.

It's not the "Pacific Ocean." The breaker of the world!

"Do you feel any better?" inquired my fellow passenger.

He is the new minister to the City of Mexico on his way to his post. My uncle is one of his closest friends.

"What if Meriken ladies should mistake me for the 'sweet' wife of such a shabby pock-marked gentleman?"

It will be all right, I thought, for we shall part at San Francisco.

(The pock-mark is rare in America. Uncle said. No country has a special demand for it, I suppose.)

His boyish carelessness and samurai-fashioned courtesy are characteristic. His great laugh, "Ha, ha, ha!" echoes one-half a mile.

He never leaves his wine glass alone. My uncle complains of his empty stomach.

The more the minister repeats his cup the more his eloquence rises on the Chinese question. He does not forget to keep up his honorable standard of diplomatist even in drinking, I fancy.

I see charm in the eloquence of a drunkard.

I exposed myself on deck for the first time.

I wasn't strong enough, alas! to face the threatening grandeur of the ocean. Its divineness struck and wounded me.

O such an expanse of oily-looking waters! O such a menacing largeness!

One star, just one sad star, shone above.

I thought that the little star was trembling on a deck of some ship in the sky.

Star I cried.

13th.—My first laughter on the ocean burst out while I was peeping at a label, "7 yens," inside the chimney-pot hat of our respected minister, when he was brushing it.

He must have bought that great headgear just on the eve of his appointment.

How stupid to leave such a bit of paper!

I laughed.

He asked what was so irresistibly funny.

I laughed more. I hardly repressed "My dear old man."

The "helpless me" clinging on the bed for many a day feels splendid today.

The ocean grew placid.

On the land my eyes meet with a thousand temptations. They are here opened for nothing but the waters or the sun-rays.

I don't gain any lesson, but I have learned to appreciate the demonstrations of light.

They were white, O what a heavenly whiteness!

The billows sang a grand slow song in blessing of the sun, sparkling their ivory teeth.

The voyage isn't bad, is it?

I planted myself on the open deck, facing Japan.

I am a mountain-worshipper.

Alas! I could not see that imperial dome of snow, Mount Fuji.

One dozen fairies—two dozen—roved down from the sky to the ocean.

I dreamed.

I was so very happy.

14th.—What a confusion my hair has suffered! I haven't put it in order since I left the Orient. Such negligence of toilet would be fined by the police in Japan.

I was busy with my hair all the morning.

15th.—The Sunday service was held. There's nothing more natural on a voyage than to pray.

We have abandoned the land. The ocean has no bottom.

We die any moment "with bubbling groan, without a grave, unknelt, uncoffined, and unknown."

Only prayer makes us firm.

I addressed myself to the Great Invisible whose shadow lies across my heart.

He may not be the God of Christianity. He is not the Hotoke Sama of Buddhism.

Why don't those red-faced sailors hum heavenly-voiced hymns instead of "swear?"—Sunday Shipno.

And now the Quakers have taken up the fight against Speaker Cannon. Naturally he exclaims, "Heaven save me from my Friends!"—Salt Lake Desert News.

A "veteran of 100 battles" fled when ordered to shovel coal. Evidently he was not accustomed to that method of firing.—Chicago Post.

AN HONORABLE HAWAIIAN DEAD

Hon. Luther W. P. Kanehili, one of the best and most favorably known of old natives, died yesterday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Pabukoa Kamana, Kalihi. He was between 60 and 65 years of age.

Mr. Kanehili formerly lived on Maui. He was a member of the House of Representatives for that island in 1890, having been elected on the National Reform party ticket. For two years he filled the pulpit of Waihee church. In the late campaign he presided at a Republican meeting at Kalihi and two or three days later was in town circulating a subscription list for the Hawaiian Board among candidates of different parties. Some days before election he was taken with his last illness.

U. S. S. CHARLESTON SAILS TOMORROW

U. S. S. Charleston, Commander Knapp, tomorrow morning resumes her voyage to Manila to become the flagship of the Asiatic fleet and to allow the Rainbow to come this way for repairs at Mare Island.

While here she accomplished a feat in coaling that looks well on local records, taking in over a thousand tons of coal in less than sixteen working hours.

Her men have enjoyed their stay in Honolulu. That there has been more drunkenness among the men of the Charleston than among men of the ships of either the Atlantic or Pacific fleets may be credited to the fact that there are a large number of green hands, or rookies, aboard the Charleston, bound to the Orient for assignments to Asiatic fleet vessels, and green hands are naturally less responsible ashore than men of experience.

THE CAMPAIGN'S CONTRIBUTION.

Campaigns not infrequently originate and leave behind them expressions that become household words. This year probably nothing better will go thundering down the ages than the "mandatory invitation" to subscribe funds.—New York Herald.

CHINA IN AND SAILS TODAY

P. M. S. S. China, Captain Friele, arrived this morning from San Francisco, docking at the channel wharf at 8 o'clock. She was looked for a day sooner, but, though the weather was good, she loafed along for some mysterious reason. The old saw of the coal not being good being given as an excuse. Unless a Pacific Mail boat can get in to port before dark she is not now allowed to enter until the following morning, according to company rules, ever since the Manchuria tried to take a short cut overland via Waimanalo.

A goodly number of returning Honolulu people came down in the comfortable ship, including Mrs. E. S. Cunha, the Misses B. and M. Campbell, Dr. Norgaard and Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Stackable and maid.

Reich's All American baseball stars are en route to Japan and Admiral Sir James Erskine, retired British Navy celebrity, accompanied by Lady Erskine and their daughter, is touring the world.

The China sails for the Orient at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

In the Federal Court this morning the charge of embezzlement against Moses Koki was continued till a week from next Monday on the motion of Attorney Prosser, who stated that W. A. Kinney, who will represent Koki, would be busy on Maui in a land case at the time when the case would be called.

U. S. COMMISSIONER

U. S. Commissioner A. F. Judd left for a three weeks' trip to Kau at noon, having presented his account up to the first of the month to Judge Dole this morning. U. S. District Attorney Breckons suggested to the judge that it would probably assist in the work of the court if another Commissioner was appointed, as, with Mr. Judd absent, the only other official of this rank is Frank Hatch, who is on the Coast and whose resignation is to take effect on November 14th.

Judge Dole agreed with the suggestion and stated that he would make an appointment during the day. He gave no intimation in regard to whom he would select, though it is likely that one of the younger lawyers may be given the position, or possibly A. B. Murphy, the present assistant clerk of the Federal Court.

So far as could be learned this afternoon the only candidates for the position of U. S. Commissioner are Judge Kingsbury and George A. Davis. The latter was one of the nominees of this position, resigning and A. F. Judd being appointed in his place.

Non-resident members of the B. P. O. Elks will confer a favor on Honolulu Lodge No. 616 if they will send in their name and address to the secretary, P. O. box 616.

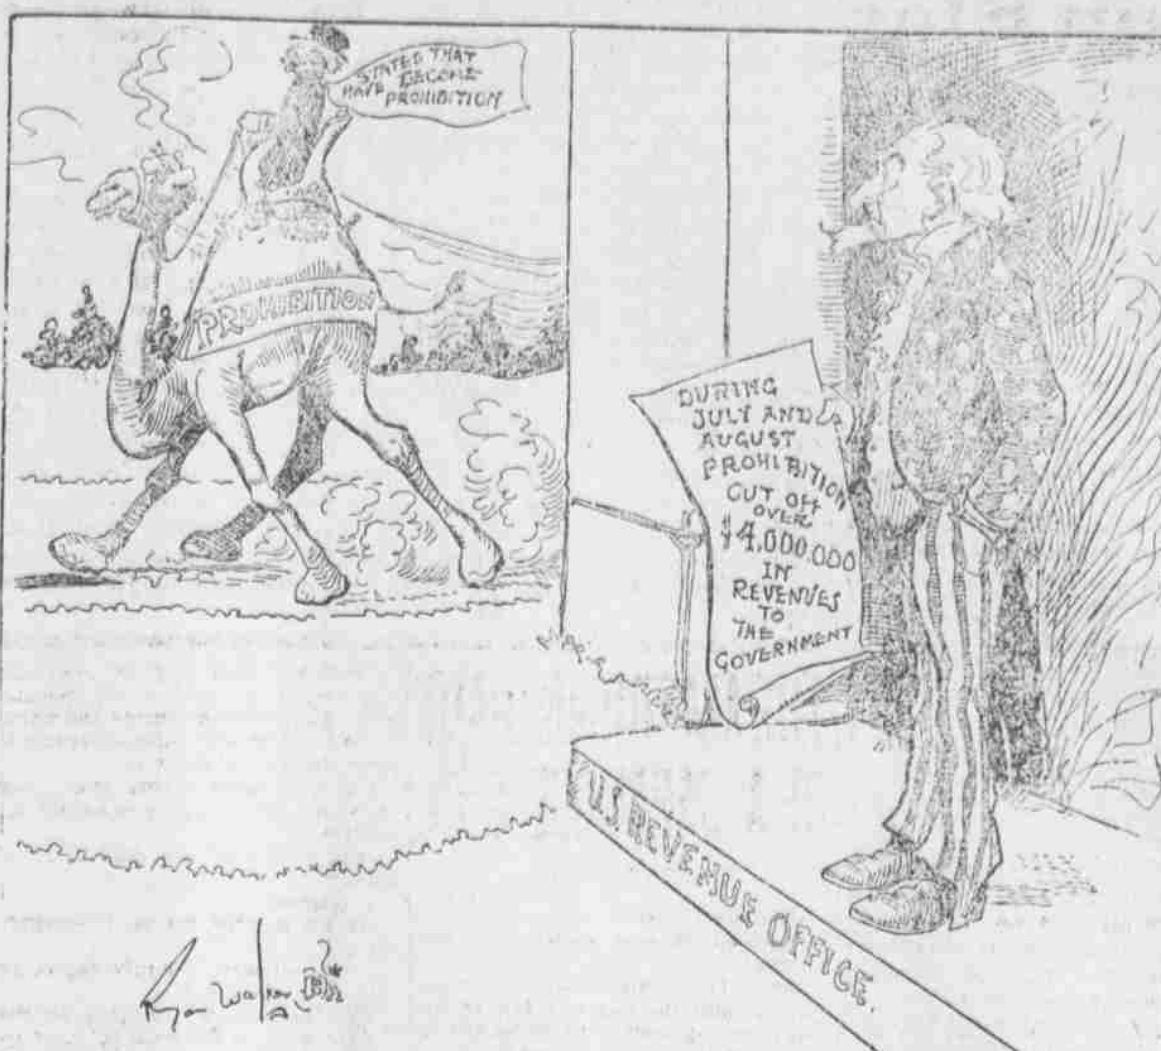

The "Punchbowl Demon" was bound over to the Federal grand jury this morning on a charge of smuggling five gallons of rice wine ashore from the Asia.

THE "MOCK MARRIAGE" IDIOCY.

Another case, this time near Pittsburg, of two vulgar fools who went through a "mock marriage" ceremony and are now consternation-stricken to find it legally binding! If they would be particularly unhappy in spending their lives together as husband and wife, there would be fine poetic justice in compelling them to do so.—New York Tribune.

If Mr. Higgen isn't to read any of those letters at all, he might practice up on "Thanatopsis" and recite that to his audience occasionally.—Washington Herald.

"PEACE DAY" TO BE OBSERVED

Preparations are being made by the International Peace Society, through Rev. Henry Judd and Rev. Frank Scudder, its representatives in this city, to hold a celebration of "Peace Day" on May 23 in the public schools. These two gentlemen called on Superintendent of Public Instruction Babbitt yesterday and explained their plans. The society mentioned has been formed to use all possible influence towards the promotion of peace, that war between nations may be brought to an end, and universal peace prevail.

REACH'S STARS PASS THROUGH

RETURN HERE JANUARY 29 TO PLAY SIX GAMES—PAT DONAHUE COMING HERE TO CATCH FOR AND COACH LOCAL PICKED TEAM TO MEET ALL AMERICANS—GIANT BALL PLAYERS—SCHEDULE OF DATES.

Reich's All American Baseball Stars arrived here this morning aboard the S. S. China, on their Orient tour. An immense crowd of local enthusiasts met them at the Channel wharf and many of the aggregation known to Honolulu found old friends awaiting them. While the band was not on hand, it was not missed, for the reception given the famous bunch was all that could be desired from the viewpoint of the fans.

Aboard the China the Reich boys and those traveling with them were the main attraction. There was calm weather en route and very few were seasick. Most of them went for a dip at Waikiki as soon as they could.

Renewing acquaintanceships is the stunt until 3 o'clock this afternoon for those of the crowd who have been here before and making friends is the logical occupation, until the China sails for the Orient this afternoon, of those who have not been here before.

The Reich visitors are John Bliss, Bill Burns, H. Danzig, Jim Delehanty, Bill Devereaux (Red Dog), Mr. and Mrs. Mike Fisher, Pat Flaherty, G. Graney, Mr. and Mrs. George Hildebrand and child, William Heilmuller, Roy McCardle and Nick Williams.

SIX GAMES IN HONOLULU.
On the return this way the Reich talent will play six games against a picked Hawaiian team. They will arrive here on January 29 and, according to present plans, will leave here for San Francisco in the S. S. Tenyo Maru on February 9, unless it is decided to make another visit to the volcano, when a steamship will be missed on that account.

CATCHER AND COACHER.
The Honolulu baseball trustees have arranged for Pat Donahue of the Boston, of the American League, to come here about a month before the Reich bunch gets here on the way back, to catch for the local picked team and to coach the Hawaiian team. The local team will have one advantage against the Reich lot in that the latter will be twenty-three days on the water and without a game of ball from Manila to this port.

Pat Donahue will take full charge of the local players, selecting a team from the best Hawaiian players.

TALLEST PLAYER IN WORLD.
Danzig has the distinction of being the tallest man playing baseball in the world. He is six-foot-six and built in proportion. The Reich boys also have the distinction of being the heaviest baseball team in the world and, again, their uniforms are perhaps the most attractive ever worn. The playing suits are white with the shield and American spread-eagle embroidered in silk on the left arm; the white caps are embroidered with the American flag; stockings are red, white and blue striped, as are the jerseys; the coat is a bright red with blue lapels, with white stars on the sleeves.

LEAVE SILVER BALL HERE.
The team carries a silver mounted ball which will be placed on exhibition in Honolulu and will be awarded the gentleman of this city who pitches the first ball in the first game of the local series. A silver loving cup, ten inches high, is carried, with crossed bats and ball, to be awarded the team making the best showing against the Reich lot during the Orient tour.

ALL AMERICAN SCHEDULE.
The schedule of games of Reich's All American Stars is as follows: Y. C. and A. C., Yokohama, Sat.

Nov. 21; Keio University, Tokio, Nov. 22; ditto, 23; Y. C. and A. C., Yokohama, 24; Waseda University, Tokio, 26; ditto, 27; picked team of Japan, Yokohama, 28; picked team of Waseda, 29; picked team of Keio, December 3; cricket match, Yokohama, date not set; Kioto, December 4; Kobe, 5; Kobe, 6; leave Japan, December 8, per Nippon Maru; reach Shanghai, December 11; play Shanghai, December 12 and 13; leave Shanghai, 15; play at Hongkong, 19; cricket at Hongkong, 21; leave for Manila, 22; arrive Manila, 24; play picked teams at Manila, December 25-31, inclusive, and on January 1, 2 and 3; leave Manila, January 5; leave Hongkong, 5; arrive Honolulu, January 29.

Joe Nealon did not come with the Reich troupe, his place being taken by Heilmuller. Danzig travels in place of Jerry Freeman.

CAPTAIN BILL DEVEREAUX.
Captain Bill Devereaux, who is familiarly known to the fans of the Pacific Coast as the "old red dog," is famous far and wide as a coacher. Devereaux has been a star in the Pacific Coast League for ten years. He has played with different clubs, and for the past five years has held down third base with the Oakland Club, California. He is a great idol of the fans of the Pacific Slope. It has been said that he is the equal of Arlie Latham, who was the king of American coaches in his time. Devereaux is an aggressive ball-player, always being in the thickest of the fight, and never gives up until the last player is out.

BILL BURNS.
Silent Bill Burns, who was with the Washington Club, is a graduate of the Pacific Coast League, being largely instrumental in Los Angeles winning the championship last year. His great work in the box attracted the attention of Manager Joe Cantillon of the Washington Club, who bought his release from Los Angeles. Burns made good with Washington right away. Though the Senators were a losing team, Burns won a large percentage of his games.

JACK BLISS.
Jack Bliss, the Reich All-Americans' mainstay behind the plate, caught for the St. Louis National League Club this year. Bliss is another instance of a college boy making good in major league company. Three years ago he graduated from the University of California. His work on the varsity gained the attention of the manager of the Oakland Club, who signed him.

JIM DELEHANTY.
James Delehanty, playing second base, is one of the famous Delehanty brothers, who are known wherever baseball is played. Ed Delehanty, who met an untimely death a few years ago, was a sensational player. Delehanty and Lajole played with the Philadelphia Club before the American League came into existence. They were renowned for their hitting, and when they were on the diamond Philadelphia was always hard to beat.

JERRY FREEMAN.
Jerry Freeman, playing first base, held down a like position on the Washington Club this year. This was his first year in the American League. He supplanted Jake Stahl, whom Washington sold to Boston. While Stahl was rated as a high-class player, Freeman proved quite his equal.

PAT FLAHERTY.
Pat Flaherty pitched for the Boston National League Club this season.

HITCHCOCK MAY GET CABINET JOB

HOT SPRINGS, Virginia, November 10.—There will be a conference between Taft and Hitchcock today. Mr. Hitchcock is a possibility for Postmaster-General in the new cabinet.

FOREST FIRES IN SOUTH.
NASHVILLE, Tennessee, November 10.—Forest fires are raging in Tennessee, Kentucky and Alabama. Millions of feet of timber have been burned and as much more is threatened.

FOR TARIFF REVISION.
WASHINGTON, November 10.—The Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee of the House had a conference yesterday on tariff revision preparatory to public hearings.

ARMY WAR COLLEGE.
WASHINGTON, November 10.—The Army War College was opened yesterday. It was addressed by Secretary Root and Generals Bell and Witherspoon.

AN ELECTOR INDICTED.
SAN FRANCISCO, November 10.—D. W. Dwinell, a Republican Presidential elector, and three others have been indicted for land frauds.

THE BATTLESHIP UTAH.
WASHINGTON, November 10.—Bids for the construction of the battleship Utah have been opened.

Like Bill Burns, he throws the ball with his left hand. Previous to this season, he wore a Pittsburgh uniform, being with the Pirates two seasons. At the close of last season, Flaherty, together with other players, traded to Boston, where he had a successful season this year. Flaherty is a gentlemanly ball player and will make many friends while touring the Orient.

NICK WILLIAMS.
Nick Williams, playing outfield, is San Francisco's regular first baseman. It is predicted that he will make his debut in one of the great leagues before another season passes. Manager Charles Comiskey, of the famous White Sox, has seen him play, and it is more than likely that he will buy his release from the San Francisco Club.

GLADSTONE GRANEY.
One of the best pitchers in the United States is Gladstone Graney who belongs to the Cleveland of the American League. Graney is a left handed pitcher and has some wonderful curves. He is very fast on his feet and makes a good outfielder. He will average about 275 in any League. He is a man of steady habits, about 22 years old and single. So watch him girls.

HAL DANZIG.
This member of the Boston Team, American League, is the tallest man in the profession, being 6 feet 6 inches in height. Danzig plays first base. It will not be long before he will be known as one of the best batters in the United States. He is about 21, single, takes an interest in his work and is a credit to the profession.

GEORGE HILDEBRAND.
George Hildebrand, who is playing left field for the Reich All-Americans, has worn San Francisco's uniform for five years. He played one season with the Brooklyn Club, before joining San Francisco. He is a finished outfielder in every respect. Few outfielders cover more ground or can return the ball to the home plate in better shape than this stocky outfielder. He is playing inside baseball all the time; while at the bat, the pitcher must put the ball over the plate before Hildy will swing at it. He may not make as many hits as Ty Cobb on this trip, but it is even betting that he will get his base on balls as often.

ROY MCARDLE.
Roy McCardle, who is playing shortstop for Reich's All-Americans, played the infield for San Francisco this year. This young player is a great fielder. Batters cannot hit them too fast down his way for him not to stop. He is a player who goes after everything that comes anywhere near him. He has a strong and accurate arm and seldom makes a poor throw to first base.

Once there was a man in Love who was Extremely Attenuated. In fact, he grew so slender that his Shadow used to fall into Cracks in the Pavement and had to be pried out.

His Daisy complained that his Knee Hurt her, and that it made her Cross Eyed, to look at him; but she Couldn't Afford to be Particular, and let it Go at That.

One day she Noticed that the Wind no longer Whistled when it Struck him, and that his Clothes seemed Filled Out. She Reproached him Bitterly. "Ah, Clarence! You love me No More!"

"No, Dearest," he said. "My Appetite is Tremendous, it is True, but I Love you Just the same. The Secret is that now I take a Glass of Primo Beer with Every Meal."

He grew Heavy so Rapidly that his Tailor had to Plan Ahead, but he was True to Daisy to the End.

Moral: Primo Beer will give you an Appetite under the most Adverse Conditions.

WYNNE'S LIFE IS FORFEITED

Slayer of Archibald McKinnon Declared by Jury to Merit

Death Penalty.

FIVE BALLOTS ARE TAKEN.

Chance for New Trial Lies in Question of Jurisdiction of Federal Court.

To the surprise of those who have been watching the trial of John Wynne

for the murder of Archibald McKinnnon, the third engineer on the steamer

Rosecrans, the jury in the case brought in a verdict of murder in the first degree, as charged in the indictment, yesterday afternoon. The jury was only out for thirty-five minutes.

In which time five ballots were taken,

though there was but little discussion of the case. When the first ballot was taken the jury was evenly divided on the three different degrees of guilt which it could mete out to the defendant. Four stood for murder in the first degree, four more believed

Wynne guilty of murder but thought that there were sufficient extenuating circumstances to prevent the infliction of the death penalty and four stood for manslaughter, which would have meant ten years in jail.

When the second ballot had been taken a change in favor of a more severe punishment was seen and then the trend of the votes seemed to be stronger in that direction. When the fourth ballot had been taken, it was seen that there was but one man holding out, while all the others were for murder in the first degree, which would mean hanging for Wynne. The vote on the fifth ballot was unanimously for a verdict of murder providing the death penalty. A suggestion was made to recommend the defendant to the mercy of the court but it found little support. The more the jurors thought the matter over, the more the brutality of the crime was realized and the less excuse could be given the mitigating effects of liquor.

The opinion was that Wynne had only taken enough drinks to steady himself for the crime which he had already decided to commit.

The argument made by Attorney

Thompson, in the effort to save Wynne from the gallows, was a masterly one.

Rarely has any local court heard a more effective address to a jury than that in which the young attorney placed before the deciding body every possible ground from the testimony which should show that his client was entitled to some clemency. It was in vain, however, the case of the prosecution being too strong to break down.

The prosecuting attorneys, Assistant

U. S. District Attorney W. T. Rawlins and Deputy Attorney General

Whitney, fought the case hard. Few loopholes were allowed the defense,

whose only hope now rests in a fight over jurisdiction. Here Thompson has a case which is apparently strong. The constitution provides that Congress has the power of punishing felonies

on the high seas, but does not give it

this power specifically in harbors, though the Federal statute under which Wynne has been indicted and convicted refers specifically to harbors, inlets and arms of the ocean.

The point taken by Thompson will be that neither Congress nor any other power has the right, in a case where capital punishment is involved, to stretch the supreme law of the country, the Constitution, by one iota.

NAILS A BIG LIE

COMPLAINT MADE TO WASHING-

TON THAT PROTESTANT TEACH-

ERS WERE BEING DISMISSED.

MANILA, October 11.—Some ill-intentioned person whose identity has not yet been discovered has written to the secretary of war stating that the bureau of education has been dropping from its rolls a number of teachers

because of their religious opinions, they being protestants. Governor

General Smith received a cablegram from the Secretary of War asking for information on the subject.

On receipt of the cablegram the chief executive forwarded it to the director of education for comment and received from him the assurance that it was an absurd rumor absolutely without foundation.

In speaking of the matter yesterday the Governor General said that the charge was absurd as the director of the bureau Dr. Barrows, was a protestant, Gilbert N. Brink, the assistant director, a protestant, and the secretary of public instruction, Commissioner Shuster, a protestant also.

THE COURT WANTS MORE ARGUMENT

More argument is wanted by the Supreme Court on the two cases mentioned below, in an order and request respectively:

Estate C. Ahi deceased, order setting case for oral argument. On Monday, November 16, 1908, the above entitled case will be set for oral argument on a day then to be fixed. The following questions are suggested for the consideration of counsel.

1. Is the order of June 10, 1904, void as the adjudication of a disputed claim (Estate of Hana, 4 Haw. 499) or valid as an order compelling an administrator to perform his trust (R. L.

Sec. 1649)?

2. Does it make any difference as to the jurisdiction of a circuit judge

whether the claim in question is a disputed claim against the decedent or whether the dispute is upon the amount due upon an agreement made by the administrator?

3. Is the question as to whether

IMPROVING THE MAKIKI SEWERS

PRESIDENT MARK ROBINSON SAYS COUNTY SUPERVISORS HAVE THE POWER.

Regarding the storm sewer catch basins which are causing many kicks from Makiki citizens, President Mark Robinson of the Board of Health this morning said that the matter of changing the catch basins was one which must be left to the county supervisors. The health authorities are doing all they can to oil the pools, he said, but if alterations in construction are necessary, they must be made under the direction of engineers.

"It seems to me that a wrong impression is created by the article in The Star yesterday," said President Robinson. "It would appear from the statements quoted that the board is not attending to these basins and that we ought to do something to change them. We are having the pools boiled regularly, and they are supposed to be cleaned out by the road department, but water gathers in them after only a very small rainfall, where the streets have oiled surfaces.

"The Board of Health cannot take the responsibility of either filling in these catch basins or making leaks in them so that the water will sink through into the black sand. The matter is one to be considered by engineers. In the meantime the Board of Health is doing all in its power."

MAKING OF LIME

SUCCESSFUL OPERATION OF WAIANAE LIME COMPANY'S KILN AT IWILEI, HONOLULU.

The rapidity with which a fine quality of lime is being turned out by the new plant of Waianae Lime Company at Iwilei will prove a surprise to all but a few of those interested in the company. The installation of the new machinery, included in which is a powerful blower that furnishes an artificial draft and raises the heat used in the burning of rock to a heat of 3000°, has done wonders, both in increasing the output of the plant and in bringing the product to a uniformity which was hardly expected by its promoters.

When the machinery was first installed the quality of the lime, while good, was inclined to vary somewhat, but, with the new machinery which has been installed, every three hours of the day the plant is turning out forty barrels of lime which hardly varies one iota in a haul from the one which preceded it. The clinkers which come through the kiln, these being particles of rock which have slipped through without being thoroughly baked, are few and can readily be picked out as they are gathered and packed into the 200 pound barrels.

The need of a lime plant in these islands is readily understood when it is stated that the annual importations from the Coast have up to this time exceeded 125,000 barrels per year. With all the coral rock to be found here, capable of making the finest quality of lime, it seemed a shame that the opportunity for manufacture here should go to waste and it is not being allowed to do so.

Sixty tons of coral from the property of the company at Waianae is being brought up each day and, when the factory is running under its present capacity, this results in the turning out of three hundred barrels of the finished product, ready for use in fertilizing and classifying on the plantations of the Territory. The process takes but three hours with the new improvements and is a most interesting one to watch.

The rock is carried up to the top of the two big kilns on a small car which is hauled by an engine, the steam coming from the same boiler used for the rest of the plant. At the top it is carefully placed in the kiln in such quantities as will keep the huge hoppers full to the very top. As the rock bakes, under the effect of the oil flame some thirty feet below, the coral turns to lime and drops down. When finally the kiln is ready to haul, the bottom is opened and down comes the forty or more barrels of lime, red hot and steaming, on the cement floor. This is carefully spread in thin layers and allowed to cool slightly before it is placed in the barrels. The heat at this time is tremendous, the men shoveling the mass working with handkerchiefs over their faces to prevent blistering.

The work is being handled by two experts brought down from the Coast for the purpose. One of these, Harry Hicks, who was formerly with the Holmes Lime Company and the Jamieson Lime Company, has full charge in the daytime, while V. E. Conkling, from the Pacific Lime and Plaster Company, has charge of the burning at night.

The officers of the company are as follows: E. H. Wolehouse, president; J. J. Belser, vice-president and manager; George Davies, treasurer; Frank Winter, secretary; W. G. Singlehurst, auditor.

FRIDAY DOOMDAY

WYNNE'S SENTENCE FOR MURDER IS SET BY JUDGE DOLE FOR THAT DAY.

Upon motion of Attorney Frank E. Thompson before Judge Dole this morning, Friday afternoon at 2 p. m. was the time set for the sentence to be passed on John Wynne, found guilty of the murder of Archibald McKinnon. Thompson also gave notice that he would move for a stay of execution and would ask for a transcript of the testimony on which he would base an appeal.

Thompson will take the case to the United States Supreme Court on the question of jurisdiction and also on another ruling of Judge Dole in which he held that it was not necessary for the government to prove the fact that the Rosecrans, on which the crime was committed, was under the American flag.

There are obstacles in the way of a deep-water channel to the Gulf, among them being Congress and a great variety of sandbars.—Chicago News.

PLANTERS IN SESSION

THE ASSOCIATION SPENDS THE MORNING AT ITS EXPERIMENT STATION AT MAKIKI.

This morning's session of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association was held at the experiment station of that body. At 2 p. m. the meetings at the Association hall in the Judd building were resumed.

In the discussion of H. P. Baldwin's report for the committee on cultivation yesterday afternoon, Dr. R. C. L. Perkins, director of the experiment station, favored burning off of cane over the stripping method for getting rid of cane-borers.

J. P. Cooke presented the report of the committee on the experiment station, fully reviewing the valuable work of that establishment for the past year.

Noel Deerr, acting director of the division of agriculture and chemistry, presented a report showing that 1662 by-products had been made in the year besides much other work.

The entomological work of the station was the subject of another report and a valuable discussion.

L. Lewton-Brain, director of pathology and physiology, read a report dealing with cane diseases, also with the causes of forest decay. There was a photograph of a dead forest on Maui to which H. P. Baldwin called special attention, with the warning that the other islands would soon produce similar depressing exhibits if something were not done to check diseases in trees.

This afternoon Mr. Deerr will read a paper summarizing mill reports, and Dr. Lyon talk on the varieties of sugar cane.

HONOLULU TO BE INVADED SATURDAY

On Saturday November 14, 1:30 p. m. Honolulu will see some strange sights. The town will at that time be like a three ring circus, for Aloha Temple, Ancient Arable Nobles, Mystic Shrine, will hold its annual ceremonial session, which will be started by a grand street parade. The parade will leave K. of P. Hall promptly at 1:30 p. m. move down Fort street to King, out King to Executive building, back on King to Alakea street, up Alakea to Beretania and back to K. of P. hall. An unusually large crop of unregenerated sons of the desert of Hawaii, Maui, Kauai and Oahu has been foregathered for this event. The flaming sun has faithfully prepared the hot sands and the Kaaba in all its glory will be exhibited to the faithful. Many new and interesting tortures have been prepared and it is safe to predict that all concerned will receive a thorough cleaning.

A special feature of the parade consists of a real live elephant and a camel, which have been imported for the occasion. Due to the generosity of Noble J. S. McCandless, these beasts of Oriental life have been secretly landed here at night time from one of the sailing vessels plying between the coast and Australia, which brought something else besides coal for the Atlantic fleet.

Aloha Temple is determined to make Honolulu sit up and take notice. Should any wild and unearthly scream emanate from K. of P. Hall on November 14, the citizens will know that Zulieka the camel is venting her wrath upon the candidates, for it is whispered about that she is to be milked by several of the unfaithful. Furthermore many of the novices will be compelled with Fatuma the elephant to make a noise like Bill Taft and the G. O. P. Allah il Allah.

The session is to end with the grand feast of the Prophet at the Young Hotel at 8 p. m. where waiting dervishes and sandal footed hours will dance to the tune of "There'll be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight."

The list of candidates for the year are as follows:
R. W. Perkins, W. D. Lowell, T. M. Chubb, J. K. Clarke, J. A. Young, James L. Young, P. C. Lydecker, John F. Child, Jorgen Jorgensen, A. J. Spitzer, P. T. P. Cleghorn, Bernard Waggoner, George H. Piltz, A. H. Jungclaus, H. N. Denison, Alfred Menefoglio, D. W. Anderson, Charles L. Bosson, Demosthenes Capilos, J. D. Deter, Ross H. Bemrose, Alfred C. Wall, Henry P. Beckley, Charles Edward Wright, Everett N. Holmes, Milton Nelson Sanders, John Kidwell, W. H. C. Campbell, W. J. Clark.

A LAND EXCHANGE

An interesting exchange of land with the Bishop estate was made this morning by Superintendent of Public Works Marston Campbell. In 1892, the Bishop estate deeded land to the Government for the building of what is known as Saratoga road, which runs from the Kalia road to the Wai-iki road. At the time the road was built a mistake was made, the location being forty feet away from the land which had been given. Now a second transfer has been made by which the Government gives the land it got before for the property on which the road is now located, thus rectifying the mistake.
