TIME EXTENSION FOR WHITEHOUSE

Cannot Complete Dam on Time Because of Continued Drought.

The long continued drought in Nuuanu valley is now seriously holding back the work of completing the Nuuanu dam, so seriously that the Superintendent of Public Works is commencing to figure on an extension of the time in which the contractor has been given to complete the big work.

"If there is no rain within a very short time we will certainly have to allow Whitehouse more time, an extension on the contract period," said the superintendent yesterday. "That would be only fair. We cannot expect him to be responsible for the lack of water with which to commence his sluicing operations."

As a matter of fact there has been no sluicing at all. Just as soon as the four pumps were installed and the pipes laid up the side of the gulch to the sluicing ground, the water supply failed. There was just enough in the temporary reservoir at the time to test the pumps and find out that everything was in good working order, so good in fact that it was found that three pumps would do all the necessary work, leaving one of them always in readiness to start up in case of a breakdown of any one of the other three.

Much is dependent on the water supply for these pumps. The work of filling in the whole back of the dam, the long slope, has been left to sluicing. One of the big storms which came in quick succession last spring and damaged the work and delayed it, would be a great thing now, when everything is in readiness to cope with the biggest flow of water that might come down. "If we could have had one of those storms when the pumps were ready we would have had twenty thousands yards of fill in by this time," says the superintendent. "Just look up Nuuanu valley now. Wouldn't that make you mad? From the look of the clouds up there you would think it was raining, but it is only 'making foolishness' as the Hawaiians call it."

SCHUYLER PLEASED.

J. D. Schuyler, the engineering expert, who visited the reservoir site a short time ago for the third time, has written to Mr. Campbell, expressing his approval of the way the work is going on under his plans. The letter was written while aboard the Manchuria en route from Honolulu to the Coast. The expert said, in part:

"I thoroughly enjoyed my visit to the dam and was greatly pleased to see the decided improvement made in the general appearance of things, and the business-like aspect which the works are now wearing."

WILL LAY OFF THE MEN.

At the present time the contractor, L. M. Whitehouse, has about seventy men at the dam, but unless weather conditions are more favorable for a prosecution of the work by the end of the week he will lay off half this number, employing the rest in the quarries. There is considerable work yet to do around the spillway, but he wants to keep this for spare periods during the sluicing.

MONEY AVAILABLE FOR WALLACH, BUT---

Friends of J. Lor Wallach, now incarcerated for lack of the necessary coin to pay a $400 fine for practicing medicine without a license, claim to have raised the amount necessary to bring about his liberty. They are hesitating to use it for the purpose for which it was raised, however, fearing that their "doctor" would no longer be at liberty than further prosecutions would be instituted against him.

Wallach has been far from having an easy time of it on the reef. For a while he passed the time by volunteering for the park cleaning gang, having a ride out to Kapiolani every morning and spending the sunny hours raking up leaves and watching the peacocks. Then he contracted a fever and was sick for some weeks, being only now convalescent. He is not yet able to work, however.

The hook worm agent is pining for the flesh pots and liberty. He has informed the High Sheriff that he has lost all ambition to shine as a healer and is ready to go back to the machine shop and earn his bread by the sweat of his brow hereafter, eschewing all phases of the Esculapian art.

SPERRY TO MOTT-SMITH

Commander of Atlantic Fleet Makes Many Valuable Suggestions.

Following is the letter received by Acting Governor Mott-Smith from Rear-Admiral Sperry, commander-in-chief of the United States Atlantic fleet:

Office of the Commander-in-Chief, United States Atlantic Fleet, U. S. S. Connecticut, Flagship, San Francisco, Cal., May 31, 1908.

My Dear Mr. Mott-Smith.—Your letter of the 14th ultimo has not been answered principally because I only became commander-in-chief on the 15th instant, and up to that time could not speak with authority.

In relation to police arrangements, there can not possibly be any confusion. There is a well organized system of fleet patrol in charge of officers, the senior of whom reports to the head of the police authorities in the port visited, and under his direction exercises a general supervision over all the men on shore, taking charge immediately of any man who shows the slightest evidence of being under the influence of drink, without in the least interfering with the police authority of the local force. Although we have at times landed as many as three or four thousand men per day, there has never been the slightest trouble, and I do not anticipate any in Hawaii. I enclose herewith copies of fleet special orders issued in San Francisco, which will give you an idea of the organization of the fleet patrol and the scope of its work.

You will find that within the last ten years the class of men in the service has totally changed, and there is nowhere in the world a body of working men equal to them in good character and intelligence.

The essential points in handling the men are:

(a) That not less than six convenient boat landings shall be provided, each of which will permit a 40-foot steamer to come alongside with room for convenient handling.

(b) The men have no desire to loaf in drinking saloons or other disreputable places, but they do desire to see the sights, and to that end it is desirable that, as far as possible, leaflets should be prepared and supplied to them, showing the excursions which may be made in the vicinity, the means of conveyance, and the lawful and proper fares. The principal location of trouble, if any, is at the dock, and to avoid this every possible facility should be prepared to enable the men to land and disperse quickly and to embark speedily on their return.

As for the nature of the entertainment to be supplied to the men: They are healthy, intelligent and normal young Americans, and the entertainments supplied should be such as befit that class of our fellow citizens. Several times I have been asked, particularly by the secretary of the executive committee of Hawaii on reception of the Atlantic fleet, whether or not the hula should be given as an entertainment for the men, and it seems hardly necessary to say that my answer has been an emphatic negative. It is my understanding that that dance is now, and has been

HOW FLORIDA STOOD TEST

Monitor Caught Heavy Blow From Twelve-Inch Projectile.

OLD POINT COMFORT (Va.), May 27.—The biggest naval gun, the heaviest projectile and the highest explosive known, combined with close range and deadly aim, were today allowed to work their full havoc on the turret plate of the monitor Florida. The result is declared to be a victory for turret construction, and this notwithstanding the eleven-inch hardened steel plate was blackened, broken, the seams of the turret sprung and the rivets and screws loosened and twisted.

It was not five minutes after the terrible impact that the finely balanced mechanism of the turret was being worked with perfect ease, and the twelve-inch gun on the left side was trained at will. Inside the turret where stand the gunners and gun crew the havoc was much less apparent than from the outside. Examination showed that of the many delicately adjusted instruments for fire control, sighting and operating the turret, few if any were out of working order.

"If this had happened in battle the Florida would be fighting yet," said one of the Rear-Admirals, with enthusiasm.

NEW MAST STANDS TEST.

Then followed a futile attempt to destroy the newly-designed woven wire fighting mast on the stern of the Florida. After five shots of the guns had gone through it the mast stood firm. Forty shots would not bring it down, and no enemy would waste ammunition and time shooting at it," was the expert comment.

It was predicted that all new ships will be equipped with battle masts of this description.

The scene of the demonstration was Hampton Roads. The Florida, which had been in the hands of experts for some time, lay with steam up, her nose pointing out through the Virginia Capes near Thimble Shoal Light and about four miles from Old Point Comfort. Just 342 yards on the inside of the Florida lay her sister ship, the Arkansas.

"This is such a test as would never occur in actual warfare," remarked a Rear-Admiral, as the big party of officers boarded the Arkansas. "The aim will be perfect; the distance is so close that the impact will be at its full velocity and the part of the Florida to be hit is weakest."

A strip of canvas was stretched between two masts on the turret of the Florida. The Arkansas fired a twelve-inch projectile at the canvas to get the range. There was a crash, a roar, the monitor kicked back in the water and sprang up again, and when the canvas target came into view it had a hole through its lower half. Then the turret of the Florida was swung around so that her guns and those of the Arkansas looked squarely at each other.

TURRET WITHSTANDS SHOCK.

At 10:42 the "big noise" came, two crashes so close together that they sounded like one. The twelve-inch projectile had hit its target. It was a crash, a flash and a cloud of yellow smoke quietly drifting away over the top of the Florida. What was left was a big black wound. Just to the right of the right gun there was what looked like a hole. The officers went to the Florida, but before they got there her crew of twenty or thirty "tars" from the receiving-ship Franklin, officered by Commander John G. Quimby, commanding; Lieutenant Joseph K. Tussig and a gunner, had come up from the hold and were looking over the damage.

The plate had been broken through from the gun port to the edge just above and just below where the shell struck. The broken piece had been driven into the turret several inches, but not the thickness of the plate, so that no hole was actually made.

Officers entered the turret at once and its mechanism was operated, the turret being swung completely around each way and the left-hand gun trained.

SHOTS FIRED AT NEW MAST.

But the turret bore evidence of a fight. The paint along the seams had disappeared, many of the seams were sprung, bolts were loosened and slivers of the plate lay around. A board dummy on the inside was intact and the opinion of officers was that even with the terrific impact the gunners in the turret would not have been injured. The mechanism in the turret bore no evidence of damage.

Attention was next turned to testing the fighting mast. The first shot at that structure was fired from one of the four-inch guns of the Arkansas, and, besides piercing an iron-plate target at its base, it cut one of the supporting pipes and injured others. The second hole was from the same gun and cut two tubes a little higher up and on the other side of the mast. The third shot missed, and then the order was given to fire a four-inch explosive shell high up near the top of the mast. This shook the structure and tore asunder a number of the tubes, but the mast seemed as stable as ever. The fifth and last shell was a solid shot from the big twelve-inch gun, aimed so as to hit the mast on its outer rim on the side leaning toward the water, the structure having purposely been tilted at an angle of ten degrees to make it easier to fall. This shot tore holes through many of the supporting tubes, but the mast still stood firm.

The advantage of the mast is declared to have been fully demonstrated. Its points are that it is practically indestructible with shot or shell, and has the still further advantage of weighing half as much as the old mast.

The Florida was taken to Norfolk Navy Yard to be fitted with a specially-built bulkhead into which a Whitehead torpedo is to be fired within ten days to demonstrate whether bulkheads of this type may not be profitably used to protect the hull of the ship.

TARGET WORTH OVER MILLION.

The Florida is one of a class of four monitors built for coast defense work. She was built at Elizabethport, N. J., being completed in 1903. The cost of her hull, machinery and armor was $1,307,130, and added to these expenditures was $211,048 for armor and armament. She is 232 feet long, fifty-four feet beam, draft 12-1-2 feet, displacement 2755 tons, horsepower 2400, speed 12 knots, coal capacity 400 tons. She has one mast and one smoke pipe. Her armor is eleven inches thick amidships, tapering to five inches at either end. She has a protected deck of armor one and a half inches in thickness. The armor of the barbettes and turret is eleven inches thick, and that of the conning tower eight inches.

Naval officers say that none of the vessels of this class has ever done anything since they were commissioned except show their utter worthlessness. The type has been set down by general consent in the Navy as a failure, and the only use suggested for these monitors is that they might be assigned to coast defense in time of war.

HIGH OFFICERS PRESENT.

Practically every bureau in the Navy Department is represented at the tests of firing upon the Florida.

The attacks upon the monitor are in direct charge of Rear Admiral Newton Ellison, chief of ordnance. This bureau also is represented by Commander W. I. Chambers, assistant chief, who made the preliminary arrangements. Other officers making observations were Rear Admiral Robert Clover, president of the Board of Inspection and Survey; Rear Admiral W. L. Capps, chief naval constructor; Captain Raymond F. Rogers, chief intelligence officer; Lieutenant Commander George B. Bradshaw, inspector of target practice; Naval Constructor R. H. Robinson, formerly on the Connecticut, and Professor Philip Alger, a member of the Board of Naval Ordnance.

Secretary Taft for the Army detailed Captain Hermann W. Schulz to observe the test. But the interest of the Army is further manifested by the presence of Brigadier General Arthur Murray, chief of artillery; Brigadier General Crozier, chief of ordnance, and Brigadier General W. W. Witherspoon, president of the Army War College.

BOARD OF HEALTH SUPPLIES.

The lists of needed supplies, accompanied by requests for bids, have been sent out by the Board of Health to the local merchants, to be tendered on by the 15th inst. The bids will be opened and the figures tabulated in time for consideration at the meeting of the Board either on the 17th or the 18th.

CUBAN-AMERICAN SUGAR COMPANY GETS COLONIAL

Negotiations were concluded yesterday between the American Sugar Company, said to be the largest producer of raw sugars in the world, and the Colonial Sugar Company, by which the latter concern with its extensive properties in Cuba and Louisiana, including a modern refinery, was transferred to the Cuban-American Company. The deal involves approximately $2,000,000. Of this amount about $1,000,000 will be given the Colonial company in stock in the Cuban-American Company. As a result of the transaction, the capital stock of the Cuban-American Company, which is now $12,000,000, will be increased. It is also reported in usually reliable quarters that the Cuban-American Company has in view the acquisition of further properties in Cuba.

The Cuban-American Sugar Company was incorporated under the laws of New York in September, 1906, for the purpose of taking over the capital stock of the following companies: Chappara Sugar Company, Tinguaro Sugar Company (old Cuban-American Sugar Company), Cuba Sugar Refining Company, Unidat Sugar Company and Mercidita Sugar Company. The properties of the company are located in Matanzas province, Cuba, and have an annual production of 115,000 tons of sugar. The officers and directors are as follows: R. B. Hawley, president; Nathaniel Tooker, first vice president; Thomas A. Howell, second vice president;

James H. Post, treasurer, and Henry A. Clark, secretary and assistant treasurer. Besides these gentlemen the directorate includes F. T. Mollenhauer, George R. Bunker, John Farr, Pearl White, George C. Koppe, F. D. Canfield, E. A. Longa, M. G. Menocal, H. Culloch and Fred G. Howell.

The Colonial Sugar Company, which was incorporated in June, 1907, is a consolidation of the Gramacy Sugar Company, the Gramacy Finance Company and the Damuji Company. It has a refinery located at Gramacy, La., with a capacity of 1500 barrels per day of standard refined sugar; a central factory capable of crushing 75,000 tons of sugar per season, and four sugar plantations, approximating 6800 acres, with a productive capacity of 75,000 tons per annum. Near Cienfuegos, Cuba, the company owns nearly 55,000 acres of land, of which 13,000 are under cultivation, together with machinery capable of crushing 250,000 tons of cane during the season; a railroad fifty-five miles in length, a rum distillery, horses, oxen and mules and all the necessary equipment of a fully-equipped plant. The authorized capital stock is $3,000,000, of which about $2,700,000 is outstanding. The president of the company is John Farr, who succeeded M. R. Spelman, who was one of the original promoters of the company. The directorate includes among others: Stuyvesant Fish, H. W. Poor, J. C. Atwater, G. G. Thorne and A. H. Larkin.—N. Y. Commercial.

SPORTS

MASCOTS OF
'RIGGER CLUBDoings of Junior Members of the Sporting Seaside Organization.

The Outrigger Club has adopted a mascot—a pair of them, in fact. Every day tiny Marie Brooke, of the Seaside Hotel, trots over to help superintend the erection of the grass houses that the Outrigger Club is putting up. Sometimes she takes with her her tame sparrow, and the two, the sparrow perched contentedly on Marie's shoulder, watch the progress of the work.

Tame sparrows, by the way, have become quite a specialty of the Seaside Hotel. Daily these intrusive little birds perch on the chairs of the guests at dinner, and noisily demand crumbs of bread. One young sparrow has taken a violent fancy to five-year-old Marie Brooke, and follows her everywhere, perching on the foot of her bed at night and on the back of her chair at table during meal hours.

Master Arthur Brown, the young son of the Commissioner of Immigration, who occupies one of the hotel cottages, also has a pet sparrow, a pert young bird that followed him home one day and almost pecked out the eye of a member of the family.

When Burton Holmes first visited the Seaside and suggested the formation of the Outrigger Club, he became a slave to little Marie, and declared that she should become its mascot, and so she has—and Marie, by the way, has just written a very cute letter to her moving picture admirer.

The Outrigger Club grounds in their present state of building operations are, of course, the frequent lounging place of all the urchins of Waikiki. Prince David's little son and daughter, who are the guests of Major Purdy, are daily visitors, and spend much of their time playing under the grass roofs of the native Hawaiian houses.

Master Arthur Gilman is also a frequent visitor, and has the honor of placing in commission the first of the fleet of outrigger canoes belonging to club members.

Dr. Humphris bought a small canoe the day he paid his dues and became a member—but alas! the canoe leaked, lacked a coat of paint, and was divorced from its outrigger. Dr. Humphris can decline the splenic coil backward, but when young Gilman began talking to him about putting on new yakas and an ama, the Doctor discreetly said, "Do so, my boy, and you are a partner in my boat."

So for a week there was boiling of pitch and tying of outriggers, then Sunday the Doctor was taken out for a trial spin in the deep. He behaved splendidly, so did the canoe, until the little captain decided to give his partner—what is technically known among the boys of Waikiki—a diploma, so he suggested that the Doctor sit further forward, selected a big wave, and down shot the canoe until she touched coral. Then there was a half-mile swim in to shore. Tom Sawyer couldn't have managed the thing better himself, and the only fly in the ointment to Master Arthur was the fact that meanwhile his chum, Harold Hustace, was doing the "Joe Harper" act, much to the delight of Ruth Soper, who under his tutelage is learning to ride the surfboard like a professional. Ruth is the leader of a little group of Punahou schoolgirls who have taken up surfing since the Outrigger Club was formed, and insist that they will have a club and clubhouse of their own if the boys' club dues do not admit girl members.

Ruth's ambition is to stand on the board and Harold is sure that she will in two more lessons.

Little Margaret Center, the charming fancy dancer, is another dainty youngster who comes to the beach frequently to take surfing lessons from the club members. In fact, it will not be long before quite a number of young girls will be able to stand on the board, something that has not been seen at Waikiki for several years.

Crews are beginning to form for canoe practice, and the expert surfboarders are also beginning to practice up the old stroke. Master Harold Hustace won the cup at the last surfing contest, but his brother Curtis, Atherton Gilman, Lane Webster and several newcomers in the field are among those named as possible winners of the first club contest.

Balls, dances, smokers and concerts are already being discussed under the open grass roofs of the Outrigger Club, and Mrs. Arnold, who now presides over the destinies of the Seaside

Hotel, but was once protegee of Queen Emma and used to stand on the surfboard with her in the good old days, is taking a deep interest in the club that now owns the land once possessed by the Queen. Mrs. Arnold and little Marie discuss quite seriously sometimes a great luau that is to take place on the grounds of the Outrigger Club, when it is expected that the club mascot will be permitted to remain up long enough to assist the friend of Queen Emma, who is to prepare the feast. There are happy days at the seaside just now, and more new boards were tried Sunday than ever before.

KAMEHAMEHA
DAY RACES

There will be three or four match races at Kapiolani Park on the afternoon of Kamehameha Day and those interested are trying to arrange a program which will fill in the time from 3 to 6 p. m.

Makakaala and the bay surprise party which defeated the black last Saturday will hook up again over a quarter of a mile.

There will also be a three-cornered race at a quarter between Judge Andrade's sorrel horse, E. H. Lewis' Shamrock and a sorrel runner from Hawaii. George Ward's Kauai horse will run a half with Duke Spencer Jr., and there is possibility of a return match between Indigo and Sure Shot at three-eighths of a mile. Indigo, it will be remembered, beat Sure Shot by a neck at the same distance a week ago.

Another event may be an automobile race with speed counting all the way. An effort is to be made to induce the Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Co. to offer some purses. The crowd which will attend the races will certainly be large enough to warrant the company expending a little in the way of purses.

MAY EAT PIES
ON DIAMOND

The proposed pie-eating contest is taking shape and a number of local newsboys have already gone into training for the great event.

The contest will probably be held at the baseball park some Saturday before the first game. Whether the Rapid Transit Co. will issue passes for the pie-eaters is not yet known.

The S. P. C. A. are taking an interest in the affair and it is understood that they will protest against pies being used made of fruits with stones in them, such as mangoes, plums and apricots. It is feared that the hurried demolition of pies made with the fruits mentioned may lead to unpleasant results, should the stones be swallowed in the excitement of the contest.

It is rumored that the Bulletin team will compete under the name of the Elephant Ears, while the Star aggregation will go in under the title of the Open Mugs. The Advertiser team will be called either the Gobblers or the Silt Mouths.

J. W. W. Brewster will act as manager of the Star pie artists and Sporting Editor Moore of the Bulletin will coach the Vealies in the art of getting away with the pastry.

"Beans" Singer has kindly offered to provide all the pies needed at cost.

STEVENS-DURYEA "SIX" VICTORIES

NEW YORK, April 16th, 1908.

In this year's Fort George hillclimb contest the best climber in the stock car division evolved in the Stevens-Duryea "Six" which, piloted by P. J. Robinson, captured not only the $3000 to $4000 gasoline event, but the six-cylinder cup as well.

FURTHER VICTORY

HARTFORD, May 16th, 1908.

In the 174 mile endurance run of the Automobile Club of Hartford, over Hartford-Waterbury route, the light "Six" with 4 passengers averaged 15 1-7 miles per gallon of gasoline, winning the gasoline consumption test for cars over $3000.

These victories were won over the best imported and American cars.

Here is the light "Six."

Base Hits

Reuter was in fine form Saturday, with speed to burn.

Lota and Bruns acted the part of tumblers in their mix-up at first.

Fern was all there with the willow, doing much to bring the game home for his team.

Mackenzie, for his first season in the big league, is doing well, especially in his hunting.

Soares changed positions with Barney, and then retired with a nasty gash on his "meat hand."

Olmos seldom misjudges a ball, but was certainly off when taking Henderson's pretty hit in the third.

Leslie was wild and in poor form to relieve Chillingworth, who was doing nicely at the time of his release.

The Kams, have that winning streak again, and with a little encouragement there'll be no holding them at all.

Kia put a stop to the Jewels' chance of winning by making one more of his impossibles, retiring the side at a critical moment.

Davis redeemed his bad throwing by planting one over in the Japanese village outside the fence and romping home in grand style.

Evers' one-handed stop in the eighth was of the kind that come in books only. No one even thought he'd try for it, yet he got it.

The fans are alive with interest now, in expectation of what will happen when the Diamond Heads and Kamehamehas meet next Saturday.

George Kluegel was in his usual position on the Ewa bleachers, but was in poor voice for coaching. "Doe" Monarrat filled the gap acceptably.

Kia's hit came near to being the longest hit on record in this ground, the ball going up against the fence near the score board, with a good roll still in it.

Barney was there in blue as usual, and the league is five bones richer. Silence is golden in some cases, and Barney was all the former throughout the game. Like the parrot, however, he thought a whole lot.

Saturday's games were full of surprises for the fans who have been following the games this season, the biggest surprise of all coming in the setback of the Jewels. Recovering from a bad inning of errors and poor throwing, they played a beautiful uphill game, and should have won.

Bert was slow in getting the boys under way. Several of the players have barely time to reach the grounds, at times, to appear in the first game, and therefore a little leeway should be given them.

NO HOLIDAY

LEAGUE GAMES

At a meeting of the Honolulu Baseball League held yesterday in the offices of "Lee Let Off" Thompson, the following were present: E. Fernandez, D. P. R. Isenberg, F. E. Steere, J. Wise, W. Vannatta and Patrick Gleason.

The object of the meeting was to decide whether or not to play next Saturday's league games on Kamehameha Day which falls on Thursday next. The schedule had been left open for this day.

After considerable discussion it was agreed not to play any league games on the holiday.

The Diamond Heads wanted to play on Thursday but an objection was raised by Punahou who are short of pitchers.

Wise of the Kams said that his team was willing to play on Thursday provided the teams would agree to use only one pitcher in the Thursday and Saturday games. This, however, was not satisfactory to the Puns.

A motion by Gleason that one of Saturday's games be played on Thursday and the other on the regular scheduled date was lost.

There will be an exhibition game at the park on Thursday between picked league teams, commencing at 3:30 p. m.

REAL GAME
ON SATURDAY

There will be a game of cricket at Makiki on Saturday between full teams selected by the captain and vice captain of the Honolulu Cricket Club.

Last Saturday the play was of a practice nature, but this week a real game will be played which promises to be very interesting, as a number of the best players in the club have promised to turn out.

The game will start at 2:15 p. m. punctually and there will be the usual hot-weather refreshments for the players.

Lockboxes in the postoffice are not plentiful enough to supply the demand. We have always declared Honolulu a good boxing town.

New York's biggest policeman is going to become a butcher. It is presumed that he has discovered that the butcher business beats police duty a block.

ROAD BUILDING.

The most significant tendency of government in these Islands is the activity displayed in road building. Everywhere throughout the group, though not everywhere with either the same sincerity or intelligence, this road building is the tendency. The past two or three years has shown greater progress on every Island in this direction than any preceding decade did.

There was lately published a gratulatory account from the Garden Island of the work that has been done on Kauai, and that is being done. Old roads are being straightened, their grades corrected, proper drainage given, and macadamized. Probably Kauai has gone at its road building more intelligently and economically—not necessarily more cheaply—than any of the other counties. The creation ultimately of a rational road system that shall fully meet the needs of the Island has been the basic consideration. Some of the districts having equal claims have had to yield precedence in point of time, and this has been done. For a sufficient time for something worth while to be accomplished, all the money available for road building has been spent on one side of the Island. When something had been accomplished there, another side of the Island had its turn. But in both instances the work was done with consideration for ultimate results. So that while the road built is of the greatest usefulness locally, it is also an integral part of a more comprehensive system.

On this Island, though particular influences and particular localities have caused much deviation from the general purpose, the general purpose is well considered and is kept definitely in view with results that five years ago would not have been dreamed possible.

On Hawaii, though the road-building instinct seems to have been active enough, it does not seem at this distance to have been as wisely directed as elsewhere. But at the same time much has been accomplished.

Maui has felt the same impulse. Here the urban influence has been strong, and Wailuku, which two or three years ago was without either streets or sidewalks, now has them both, and in a degree not to have been validly expected only a short time ago.

This road building is one of the great factors in development, and what has been done is a splendid basis for efforts making, and that ought to be made, to bring here the American farmer and all that that means, both economically, socially, and politically.

LOCAL VS. OUTSIDE LABOR.

If there is unattached citizen labor enough in the Territory to fill the Federal contracts at Honolulu, we hope it will be employed. The men on the ground should have the first chance; THOSE AT A DISTANCE SHOULD BE DRAWN UPON ONLY WHEN THE SUPPLY IS LACKING HERE. That is a simple matter of neighborly fair play; for a community that will not look out for its own is "worse than the infidel."—Advertiser.

People who can read and understand the English language cannot find in the above, or in any following passage of the editorial of which it was the introductory paragraph, the slightest hint of a desire on the part of this paper to substitute Asiatic for white labor. What this paper stands for is preference in public contracts to the unattached citizen labor of Hawaii, and this is apparently opposed by the two evening papers and by a few merchants. We wish them joy of their opposition to it; it will do them no good to have it said that they want to thrust our own unattached citizen laborers aside to make room for strangers.

The Advertiser recognizes in the above paragraph the fact that some labor must be imported; but remembering, as it does, the trouble caused by the previous San Francisco recruitment, it is in no mood to be pleased at the prospect of having local labor either submerged by it or infected by it with ultra labor union doctrines. Not long ago an agent of the Federation of Labor was out among the Japanese of the plantations trying to organize them into a strike union. He represented one wing of the San Francisco labor army. The other wing questioned his mission, as it was opposed to all Asiatics. Which wing would, in the event of a large San Francisco labor influx, get the upper hand here?—and what would become of the domestic and economic peace of this community in either event?

Local labor first, all the unattached citizen labor that can be had! After that, the importations. It is a principle this paper has steadily stood for ever since the attempt of the Lord & Belser crowd to boycott the merchants; and it is a principle we shall not abandon at the request of people who do not know what we are talking about or who purposely misquote us. We repeat what we said yesterday: "Honolulu wants no anti-Chinese, anti-Japanese politics; it wants no strike infections spread; it wants no more graft in public affairs than it has in hand. And the city feels no admiration whatever for the California type of white labor as a class, however satisfactory some individual elements in it may be."

We might add that this lack of admiration is folly shared by the rebuilders of San Francisco, who have had all the $8 per day bricklayers and $9 per day plumbers forced upon them by union rules that they crave.

THE FLEET'S RECEPTION.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the reception and entertainment of the fleet, and a program is being outlined which should give the sailor boys the time of their lives.

After all, however, it is the personal attention paid the men which counts most when an estimate of the hospitality of the town is being made. The official program of entertainment is excellent in its way, but the community must not let its duty toward the visitors end there.

Every man in the town should appoint himself a committee of one to do what he is able toward making the naval guests feel at home. There are many ways in which this may be done, as, for instance, by personally furnishing information about Honolulu, by invitations to participate in surfing and other sports, and by keeping, to a certain extent, an open house for Uncle Sam's boys.

If these things be done, in the years to come when the official program of the fleet's entertainment has been long forgotten, with the memory of the sweet charms of Waikiki and of the Pacific's flowery paradise, will come a recollection of the wholehearted friendship extended the men of the Atlantic squadron by the white and brown population of Hawaii nei.

Politics in the road department was all right for Johnson, but is all wrong for Cummins—that is, according to the way the Advertiser looks at things.—Star.

That is a cheap remark. The Advertiser opposed Colonel Johnson when he ran the road department as a political machine, and on the day after the last election urged his dismissal. The Colonel then pledged himself, if reappointed, to keep the department out of politics, and he kept his word and got, in return, the Advertiser's hearty support. Also the public's. Mr. Cummins may or may not profit by these circumstances.

The Bulletin, which mis-stated the testimony in the Lee Let case from the first, now quotes to criticize yesterday's labor editorial in this paper, leaving off the first or keynote paragraph, which would have spoiled the point it was trying to make. It is persistent dishonesty of this sort with its readers which accounts for the utter lack of influence of the Bulletin upon public opinion here. It cannot tell the truth about any matter that enlists its prejudices, and even if it tried to it would probably fail from lack of practice. There is small wonder that such a sheet has to buy its readers with lottery prizes.

The arrangements making to welcome Secretary Garfield, the distinguished son of one of our martyr-Presidents, are dignified and in no sense extravagant. The Secretary will have an agreeable time, and will have a chance to see what is worth seeing in the Territory, and to learn what is worth knowing about economic and administrative conditions.

In the resume of what the Republican National platform will contain we fail to note a pledge in favor of paying the Queen for the Crown lands. Meanwhile that $1000 check the Queen gave Delegate Lane must look like a lost Pleiad to her.

The acquittal of Lee Let will strike the town as a miscarriage of justice; but as such a result is not uncommon in semi-political cases, there will be no surprise.

When a State has a battleship named after her, she ought to raise enough recruits to man it. That would suit the navy better than punchbells.

THE FRIEND DOESN'T LIKE SOME OF THE REFORM METHODS

Following is the leading editorial in this month's issue of The Friend:

LAW OFFICERS AGAINST THE LAW.

The Friend believes in private boxing for those who like it. Friendly contests like those between the army and navy are not forbidden by law and are encouraged by the authorities. Against nothing of this kind kept within the bounds of manliness and decency do we protest. We think it would have been wiser just at this juncture not to have raised beforehand the issue of legality in connection with the prize-fights of last Saturday evening. We are not in sympathy with the persistent campaign in the newspapers maintained by one of the reformers of the city. With the exception just noted the objects of that campaign have our loyal support. What he was hitting ought to have been hit. But the way of it seemed needlessly irritating to many worthy citizens.

So far so good. But when the legal issue was raised against the recent prize-fights, when a committee representing an organization of responsible citizens pointed out to the District Attorney that a perfectly plain and just law of the United States was to be violated, asked him to prevent this violation by serving notice that offenders would be prosecuted, were met with the frank admission that he could prevent the breaking of the law, but would not, when one principal in the affray called upon him to learn whether he would be prosecuted and was assured that the officer sworn to execute the law would protect him in breaking the law and when that officer deliberately profaned his office and the people of the United States by declaring, "I am Uncle Sam in this Territory," and by adding that he also would break the law by attending the fights, he insulted the entire Nation and should be admonished accordingly.

This is said in perfect kindness to the District Attorney. Personally he is popular and justly so. We like him. He has done many fine things and has shown high public spirit in much that he has done. All this gives to his defiance of law a quality correspondingly dangerous. In our population there are enough lawless elements already. Our Asiatic fellow-residents hail from lands where the form of government is so repressive that our liberty is taken often to mean license. Our public servants should lean more strictly to the extreme of faithful observance of law even than on the mainland.

It is reported that the District Attorney claims that the Nation's law against prizefighting in the Territories and the District of Columbia was aimed at a single brutal prizefight which it was feared would be held in a certain Territory, hence its intent was not to apply generally or to fights in which no brutality should appear. If this be a true statement of his opinion, which we do not quite credit, we believe it a mistaken point of view. We well remember when Congress passed the law in question. It is true that the occasion for the passage of the law was given by a proposed encounter between two notorious bruisers. There had been brutal exhibition after exhibition in various parts of the Union, felt to be so demoralizing to the public, so fraught with gambling menace and so stimulating to numberless like gladiatorial shows between lesser pugilists though not a whit less brutal, that State after State outlawed prizefighting by prohibiting fights with an admission fee or with prizes. We recall the excitement in Massachusetts at the time of the passage of the law was given by a proposed encounter between two notorious bruisers. ROYALTY FAILS TO PAY ITS BILLS

LISBON, May 25.—The royal household of Portugal is being besieged by creditors, and the newspapers of Lisbon are filled with libel suits brought by tradespeople against its members. The courts already have awarded a butcher $210 and costs, the amount of an unpaid meat bill against D. Maria Pia and the Duke of Oporto.

The situation arises from the fact that the members of the royal household have not received a single penny from the State since King Carlos and his son were assassinated four months ago, because the new civil list cannot be approved until after the financial accounting of the reign of the late King Carlos is completed, and this is held up by threatening revelations from Senhor Carvalho, who was Minister of Finance under ex-Premier Franco, regarding moneys which went to members of the present government.

Alfonso Costa, the Republican leader, has publicly proclaimed his readiness, if the government sincerely desires it, to go to the bottom of the regicide plot and furnish the names of the monarchist politicians implicated.

THE COMING OF THE BIG FLEETHaskin on the Meaning of the Cruise of the Battleships.

(Advertiser Correspondence, Copyright
by Frederic J. Haskin.)

LOS ANGELES, May 26.—Without having met an enemy, without having fired a shot in anger, without having encountered anything more dangerous than salutes and dinner parties, the fleet under the command of Rear Admiral Evans came to the ports of the Pacific Coast States to receive a welcome more enthusiastic in spirit and more catholic in extent than ever fleet received before. If it had returned unscathed from a victorious sea battle, the million throats could not have swelled the volume of cheers that greeted it. The cities from San Diego to Seattle could not have increased the show of bunting, the myriads of flowers, the multiplicity of entertainments for officers and men. Why did this peaceful cruise create such wonderful interest?

It was because the people of the Pacific slope had feared the coming of another navy flying the flag of the Rising Sun. The fact that the great fleet had come from the waters of the Atlantic to the Pacific seaboard and had arrived in better fighting condition than when it set out, seemed to these people to be a guarantee of peace and protection. With every cheer there was a deep breath of relief. If the people who live to the east of the Hudson river fail to understand why the Pacific Coast feared the aggression of an Asiatic power, the people who live to the west of the Great Divide are equally unable to understand why the Pacific Ocean should be looked upon as "foreign waters."

But the influence of the cruise of the great fleet does not end with its relief of fears of attack. It has given the people of the Pacific Coast States a sense of sharing in the destinies of the future of this great nation which they did not possess. It has been welcomed as the first act of the long-predicted campaign for the supremacy of the United States in the Pacific Ocean.
It is looked upon as an earnest for the future that the Pacific fleet of the American navy will be treated with as much consideration as the Atlantic fleet, that the Pacific Coast will be considered as much a part of the United States as the Atlantic seaboard. The influence of the fleet, think these Western patriots, will more than overcome the influence of Eastern statesmen and editors who seem to look upon San Francisco Bay as a foreign port.

The half million dollars spent by the people of the Pacific cities in entertaining the officers and men of the fleet, the two million dollars spent by people of the interior who came to the port cities to join in the welcome, the many thousands of dollars spent in private entertainments, aggregate a princely fortune. But dollars and cents can not measure the real extent of good accomplished by the cruise of the fleet in allaying the apprehensions of the people of the Golden West.

A little more than a month from now
the great fleet will sail from San Francisco to visit the ports on the other side of the Pacific. It will be welcomed with even greater enthusiasm
by the people of Hawaii and the Philippines, whose safety and protection it guarantees. Honolulu already looks forward to its coming as the greatest event since annexation of the islands to the United States. It is construed by the Hawaiians as evidence that at last the United States has come to a realization of the importance of the Pacific, and that Hawaii is the key to the supremacy of that great ocean.

But the full measure of the active influence of the cruise of the fleet will be noted in the foreign ports at which the great ships will call. That influence reached those ports long ago, months in advance of the coming of the ships. It will remain, potent for American welfare, long after the schoers of the saluting guns have died from the ears of man.

In Japan the fleet probably will receive a welcome which will equal, if it does not surpass, any of the official receptions of the whole cruise. The polished and cosmopolitan diplomatists, ministers and military officers of the Empire will employ every art of a people trained for two thousand years in courtesy to make the stay of the American seamen pleasant. And what is more important, the Japanese foreign office will carefully abstain from writing any notes to the American Government in the arrogant tone which was employed in discussing the San Francisco incident. The influence of the fleet has already manifested itself in the diplomatic communications of the Mikado's ministry. Its full force will be felt later on.

In China the influence of the fleet will be wholly different. Already the Chinese look upon the coming fleet as a physical guarantee of that territorial integrity which John Hay preserved eight years ago. Then China feared European nations whose mutual jealousy prevented war. McKinley's Secretary of State saved China by diplomacy. Now China fears the insidious encroachments of Japan. The Chinese believe that the demonstration of force made by the presence of the American fleet will operate to deter Japan from carrying out its designs. The Chinese newspaper press, which has come into existence since the Boxer trouble of 1900, has told the people all over the Empire that the American Emperor has sent his great fleet to protect China from the Mikado.
Americans at home may smile at this childlike faith in a Chinese-American alliance, but the Chinese take comfort in it. Furthermore, they will cite some corroborative testimony in the form of Secretary Taft's Shanghai speech. That speech had much wider circulation
in Asia than it had in America.
The Chinese fear the Japanese. Japan is threatening Chinese territory on the Korean border. Japan is ignoring the Chinese rights in Southern Manchuria. Japan is putting obstacles in the way of Chinese railroad construction. Japanese ships are bringing Japanese army rifles into China to arm Chinese revolutionists. The genuine reform party in China looks to the United States as its best friend.

It is the nation that returns unearned indemnities, the only great power that has not tried to grab rich Chinese territory, the great power which prevented others from grabbing. The United States battleship fleet will have the effect in China of bringing the Chinese to a realization of the great power of the American Nation. All Chinese are from "Missouri." They want to take a "look see" before they accept any tale. The fleet will give them concrete material upon which to base a continuance of their faith in American good intentions.

In the Philippines the fleet will have the influence of assuring the Filipinos of a determination on the part of the United States to protect its insular possessions from foreign aggression,
and of the ability of the United States to cope with all domestic insular questions. The Filipinos probably need no additional testimony on the latter subject, but, nevertheless, it is agreed that the coming of the powerful fleet to Manila will mean much for the future of American prestige. The comparison which will be made between the fleet of today and the collection of ships which Dewey commanded in those waters ten years ago, will be a striking object lesson in progress.

In Australia—there's still another story. Australia is a long way off from these United States. There isn't any direct communication and the people of the two countries are not well acquainted. The Australians are British colonials, and like their brothers in every clime, they are undoubtedly imbued with a deep-set prejudice against America and things American.
On the other hand, they are of the same blood, have the same traditions,
the same language and the same pride of race. As a matter of fact, Australia copied American civic forms in organizing its commonwealth government.
Australia has gone much farther afield from old British precedents in economic government than America.
The only real difference is that Australia still sticks to cricket and tea, while America has deserted in favor of baseball and ice water.

Australia is fearful of Japanese encroachment, is determined not to receive Japanese immigration, has set up the standard of "a white man's country." All this in spite of the fact that Australia depends for protection upon the English navy, and England and Japan are tied fast in an offensive and defensive alliance. Therefore it was of great significance when Premier Deakin spoke of the influence the coming of the fleet would have in cementing the ties of friendship existing between the American and Australian nations, with never a word about King Edward and his Dominions Beyond the Seas. Australian cities will welcome the fleet with heartiness, and the influence its visit will have will be writ large on the pages of the future.

The British merchant in the East,
the corner stone of English prosperity and English empire, has never been an enthusiastic friend of the United States. The English in England may talk about "Hands across the sea",
but when John Bull ships himself
"somewhere east of Suez" he is apt to forget about the blood that is thicker than water. The American traveler who has been bullied in the English clubs along the shores of the China sea and the Indian ocean can vouch for that.

But just now this same British merchant is metaphorically up on a chair, waving the Stars and Stripes and yelling for "Teddy." Why? It is because he is every day coming into contact with the unscrupulous competition of the Japanese in business, and he is disgusted with the Anglo-Japanese alliance. He sees the cocky Japanese coolly relying on the protection of British guns while he is flinching British guineas. It makes his English blood boil and he is "mad clean through." In the great show of strength the United States is making by the cruise of this fleet, these Britons think they see the power that will clip the wings of the ambitious Little Brown Men.

Coming home by way of Suez? That's the program. Nobody in the Orient believes it yet, and if one ventures to suggest that the trip back to the Atlantic will be made, he forfeits the respect of his fellows. The Chinese the Australians, the American and British merchants of the East, the Americans of the Philippines, Hawaii and the Pacific Coast states are all praying that the fleet will remain on the Pacific station "for keeps." Of all the interests in the Pacific there is but one which hopes to see the fleet go back to Hampton Roads on schedule time and that one is Japan.

SELF CURE NO FICTION!

MARVEL UPON MARVEL! NO SUP-PERFED NEED NOW DESPAIR, but without running a doctor's bill or falling into the ditch of quackery, may safely, speedily, and economically cure himself, without the knowledge of a second party. By the introduction of the New French Remedy, THERAPION, a complete revolution has been wrought in this department of medical science, whilst thousands have been restored to health and happiness who for years previously had been merely dragging out a miserable existence.

THERAPION No. 1, in a remarkably short time, often a few days only, effects a cure superficial injections, the use of which does irreparable harm by laying the foundation of stricture and other serious diseases.

THERAPION No. 2, for impurity of the blood, scurvy, pimples, spots, blotches, pains and swellings of the joints, gout, rheumatism, secondary symptoms, etc. This preparation purifies the whole system through the blood, and thoroughly eliminates all poisonous matter
from the body.

THERAPION No. 3, for nervous exhaustion, impaired vitality, sleeplessness, and all the distressing consequences of dissipation, worry, overwork, etc. It possesses surprising power in restoring strength and vigor to the debilitated.

THERAPION is sold by the principal Chemists throughout the world. Purchasers should see that the word "Thera-pion" appears on British Government Stamp in white letters on a red ground, and that every package is signed by the Hon. J. H. Hon.
Commissioners, and without which it is a forgery.

Malthoid
Roofing

Mr. W. T. Somes, Proprietor of Bimini Hot Springs Hotel, Los Angeles, Cal., U. S. A., writes as follows: "Our hotel building, a flat roofed structure covered with Malthoid Roofing, is situated quite near the large Bimini Bath Houses that burned so fiercely the night of November 15th. The wind carried blazing shingles and red hot cinders in showers to my building, where they simmered on the Malthoid Roofing and went out, doing no damage beyond a number of small blisters raised on the surface of the roofing. We have had one rain since the fire and the roof is tight."

HIS HOUSE NOW BLOCKS ROAD

Hodson Wants Wolters to Move
His Dwelling Off Public Highway.

The injunction proceeding, brought by A. Hodson against William Wolters was taken up before Judge Lindsay yesterday continuing throughout the day. Thompson & Clemons appear for the complainants and W. W. Thayer for the defendant.

In this case the complainant, who associates his wife with him in the complaint, alleges that Wolters has built a house across one of the streets in the Kapahulu Tract, the street upon which he, the complainant, lives, thus shutting off egress to his property. He asks the court to enjoin Wolters from thus squatting on the public highway and to order him to move the buildings as misplaced.

As the road has not been taken over by the Territory, the carrying out of the injunction proceedings devolves on the private parties interested.

This was the only matter before Judge Lindsay yesterday and the case will probably take two or three days for hearing.

KOKI CASE ABOUT ENDED.

The defence in the Koki postoffice embezzlement case, which has been dragging through the Federal Court, rested yesterday, after putting on two final witnesses in the morning. These were George Bell and William Kaanaana, to prove the ownership of a piece of land and the realty interests held by the defendant at Waimoa.

The prosecution summoned Edwin Paris, in rebuttal, to show that the standing of Koki financially was not strong. Here the prosecution rested.

The attorney for the defence, W. A. Kinney, move that all the books and documents filed be struck from the records, but the motion was denied, as was also his motion to strike out all references to the amount of money the defendant had on deposit in the Honolulu banks.

The jury was excused from attendance during the afternoon, when argument on the instructions to be given was had. The instructions will be read to the jurors this morning and the matter will be left in their hands.

Yesterday all the witnesses were paid off.

TERRITORY LOSES DITCH RIGHT.

In the Court of Land Registration on Monday, Judge P. L. Weaver rendered a decision in favor of Frederick C. Miller to title in certain Pawa property at the corner of Makiki and Dominis streets. In this case the Territory had opposed the petition and claimed a right-of-way through the lot for the Makiki ditch, basing its claim on the fact that the said, right-of-way had been used with the knowledge and acquiescence of the petitioner for more than thirty years.

There was no other objection to the granting of the petition.

COURT NOTES.

A petition for probate of the will of the late John Marks Alexandre, who died on June 3, was filed yesterday by Joseph Gomes. The petition will be heard before Judge Lindsay on Monday next.

W. W. Chamberlain, administrator of the estate of Mamie L. Burke, deceased, has petitioned for an allowance of the final accounts and his discharge. He charges himself with $12,160.25 and asks to be allowed $9772.76. The petition will be heard by Judge Lindsay, June 20.

Robert Makahalupa was appointed a District Magistrate for South Kona by Chief Justice Hartwell on Monday. He succeeded W. J. Yates, resigned.

Weekly Weather Bulletin

For the Week Ended June 6, 1908.

Honolulu, June 8, 1908.

GENERAL SUMMARY.

The mean temperatures were 0.9 deg. to 1.4 deg. lower than those of the preceding week in the Kau, Kona and the western portions of the Hilo and Puna districts of Hawaii, and in the Hamakua and the southern portion of the Koolau districts of Maui, and 2.2 deg. lower in the north-central portion of the peninsula of Maui; and 1.0 deg. to 1.5 deg. higher in the Honolulu, Waianae and Koolauloa districts of Oahu. In the remaining districts of the section the changes did not exceed 0.8 deg. and were generally lower on Hawaii and Molokai; in the Koolau and Kona districts of Kauai, and the Ewa and northern portion of the Koolauloa districts of Oahu.

The rainfall for the week was below the average of ten or more years at all stations in the section having such records, excepting at Kilauea, Kauai, where there was an excess of 0.01 inch. The deficiencies, in inches, in the several districts were: Hawaii—Kohala 0.26 to 0.52, Hamakua 0.48 to 0.75, Hilo 0.88 to 1.54, Puna and Kau 0.14 to 0.39, and Kona 1.21; Oahu—Waianae, Ewa and Koolauloa 0.09 to 0.18, Honolulu 0.37, and Koolauloa 0.39 to 0.92; and in the Kona district of Kauai 0.14 to 0.62.

The rainfall was light throughout the section, there being but two stations on Hawaii, three on Maui, and one on Kauai reporting more than 1.00 inch as the total for the week—the maximum amount being 2.00 inches at Hana, Maui. No rainfall was reported from the Kula and Waiau districts of Maui, the Waianae district of Oahu, and the southern portion of the Hamakua, the extreme northern portion of the Hilo, and the eastern portion of the Kau districts of Hawaii, and but a trace from west-central Molokai. Rain is greatly needed in several sections of the islands.

The total rainfall, in inches, for the week in the several districts was: Hawaii—Kohala 0.28 to 0.47, Hamakua 0.00 to 0.04, Hilo 0.00 to 1.37, Puna 0.39 to 1.75, Kau 0.00 to 0.59, and Kona 0.12 to 0.43; Maui—Koolau 1.05 to 1.27, Hamakua and Hamakua 0.49 to 0.89, and Hana 2.00; Oahu—Koolauloa and Koolauloa 0.06 to 0.34, and Honolulu and Ewa 0.01 and 0.02; Kauai—1.05, Puna 0.10 to 0.59, and eastern Kona 0.21 to 0.34, and southeastern Molokai 0.51.

The rainfall was less than that of the preceding week at all stations on Molokai, at all on Oahu and Maui reporting any, at all in the Kohala, Hilo and Hamakua and the central portion of the Kona and the western portion of the Puna districts of Hawaii, and at scattered stations on Kauai. The greatest deficiencies occurred in the Koolau, Hamakua and the Hana districts of Maui, southeastern Molokai, and the central portion of the Koolauloa district of Oahu, and ranged from 1.76 to 3.28 inches. The only other stations reporting deficiencies exceeding 1.00 inch were two in the Kohala and two in the Hilo districts of Hawaii, where the deficiencies were from 1.07 to 1.19 inches. The greatest excess over the preceding week was 0.70 inch.

The trade winds were generally well established over the section, and as a rule were quite strong.

The following table shows the weekly averages of temperature and rainfall for the principal islands and for the group:

	Temperature.	Rainfall.
Hawaii	70.1 deg.	0.44 inch
Maui	73.2 deg.	0.63 inch
Oahu	75.8 deg.	0.11 inch
Kauai	74.5 deg.	0.38 inch
Molokai	72.4 deg.	0.26 inch

Entire Group. 72.6 deg. 0.41 inch

At the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau in Honolulu clear and partly cloudy weather obtained, with traces of rain on two dates and 0.1 inch on the 6th, 27 below the normal for the week, and 0.3 less than during the preceding week. The maximum temperature was 80 deg., minimum, 70 deg., and mean 76 deg., which was normal, and 1.0 deg. higher than last week's. The mean daily relative humidity ranged from 62 per cent to 71 per cent, and the mean for the week was 65.9 per cent. Easterly winds prevailed on the 31st and 5th, and northeasterly on the remaining dates, and for the week, with an average hourly velocity of 10.4 miles. The mean daily barometer ranged from .02 to .07 inch above normal, and the mean for the week, 30.08 inches, was .05 inch above normal.

The fine American schooner Geo. E. Billings arrived from Newcastle yesterday after a good run of 47 days with a large cargo of coal for T. H. Davies & Co. for Eleele. Captain Birkholm reports an uneventful voyage with fine weather nearly all the way. The Billings is one of the largest five-masted schooners ever at this port, her tonnage being a little over eleven hundred. She sailed for Eleele last evening about sundown, after entering at the custom house here.

The departure of Colonel Sam Johnson for Hilo yesterday was quite the event on the waterfront, and there must have been several hundred people at the Mauna Kea to see the popular citizen off for his new sphere of usefulness in the forests of Puna and Olaa. Sam was certainly loaded down with the leis and alohas of his army of admirers, and had to make several trips up the gangway to deposit his wreaths and return for more. The local "polities" were all in evidence, seemingly to make sure that Sam had gone. Some looked glad to think of the good luck that had fallen to the old Road Supervisor; others looked sorry, as if they would miss the genial smile and cheery way of their good boss.

The Mauna Kea and the Mauna Loa, the two big passenger boats leaving at noon yesterday, were both well filled with passengers. Formerly, when it was nip and tuck between the old Kinau and the Mauna Loa, the balance of the trade in the passenger business was always in favor of the Mauna Loa when the two boats left together. Now it is different, and the old boat played second fiddle to her larger and faster rival. The Mauna Loa still has her staunch adherents, but they are of the kind who are blind and deaf to everything said or done that does not boom their old favorite.

Captain Thompson, of the steamer Hall, was in command of the Mauna Loa yesterday when she left port. It is Captain Simerson's turn for a watch below, and he will enjoy a well-earned two weeks' vacation, remaining in this city for the time.

PACIFIC MAIL STEAMSHIP CO.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—The annual report of this company for the year ended April 30, 1908, has been made public. It shows gross earnings of $4,336,312, as compared with $4,839,244 in 1907, and expenses of $4,367,635, as compared with $4,294,548 in 1907. After charging off $397,494 for depreciation, a deficit is shown for the year of $428,817, as compared with a surplus in 1907 of $130,405.

President E. H. Harriman says in his report: "Compared with the operation of the preceding year, the receipts from operation of steamers decreased $520,514, and receipts from all other sources increased $17,582, a net decrease of $502,932. There was a general falling off of business, and the shrinkage in the coffee crop of about one-half the usual crop, the restriction of Japanese immigration, the extreme enforcement of

MAUNA KEA EXCURSION.

It is understood that the Mauna Kea has been chartered for the Fourth of July by a local lodge for a trip to Hilo. Some of the passengers will stay at Hilo for the races, while others will make the Volcano trip. The steamer will leave here the evening before the holiday, arriving at Hilo early on the morning of the Fourth. She will remain there until the evening of the day after the holiday, and leave there in time to arrive here early enough for the excursionists to get to their work.

CHANGE ON HILONIAN.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—First Officer C. A. Russel, formerly of the steamer Hilonian, which arrived yesterday, has been appointed superintendent at Hilo for the Matson Navigation Company. Second Officer Peterson was promoted to succeed Russel.

The Hilonian, with the balance of the guns and carriages of the Diamond Head battery, is due this afternoon from San Francisco.

HONOIPU AND DEFENDER.

The schooner Honoipu left for Hana last evening to take 450 tons of sugar. After loading at the Maui port she will proceed to Honoipu and take about 650 tons to complete her cargo, and then depart for San Francisco. The Defender will put her sugar into the Columbian and then go to Honoipu, where she will get sugar for stiffening and leave for the Coast. Both vessels belong to Hind, Rolph & Co.

CRUISER ST. LOUIS.

The cruiser St. Louis, which is reported to be coming here to take the Secretary of the Interior back to San Francisco after his tour of the Islands, has, until recently, been one of the ships of the third division, second squadron, Pacific fleet. Captain Albert Gleaves was last in her when she was at Puget Sound navy yard. It is not definitely known when she will arrive here.

BIGGEST CARGO.

The A. H. S. S. Alaskan, which arrived at San Francisco on May 27, took the largest sugar cargo into that port which has been received this season. Her cargo amounted to 134,400 bags of sugar, weighing nearly ten thousand tons. The Alaskan had a very tough time of it on the trip up, and made the run in nine and a half days.

IN AND OUT.

The liner Manchuria sailed from San Francisco yesterday, and is due to arrive here early Monday morning next. The Alameda from this port on the 3rd arrived in San Francisco after a trip of less than six days yesterday forenoon.

NO MORE BLIND NOLLE PROSSES

Hereafter there will be no nolle prosses made on the go-it-blind principle in the district courts. Chief Justice Hartwell has prepared a letter to be sent to the various district magistrates through the Attorney General's Department, which is self explanatory. The letter states:

"I am instructed by the Chief Justice to request district magistrates, in every instance in which sentence of any person convicted of a crime or misdemeanor before them is suspended upon the motion of the Attorney General or his deputy or other duly-qualified prosecuting officer, under the provisions of Sec. 2882 R. L., or in which a motion to enter a nolle prosequi is granted, to note in their record of the case the reasons upon which the motion is based.

(Signed) "HENRY SMITH,
"Clerk of the Judiciary Department."
"Dated, Department of Judiciary, Honolulu, June 8, 1908."

CARRIE NATION SAVED FROM A PRISON TERM

PITTSBURG (Pa.), May 27.—Mrs. Carrie Nation of Kansas, arrested here yesterday charged with disorderly conduct for scolding and embarrassing four men in public, was fined $25 and costs, or thirty days in the workhouse, today by Magistrate Brady. She refused to pay her fine, and as she was led back to the cell department, she cried out in the courtroom: "I would rather go to jail than go to hell."

Several members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, who were present, passed a hat to collect money to defray her fine. They were successful and Mrs. Nation was released a few moments before the train left for the workhouse. "Pittsburg needs more disorderly people like me," she said as she left the police station.

NEW DEPARTURE FOR PUBLIC WORK.

Superintendent of Public Works Campbell is making a new departure in the specifications he is having drawn up for the tenderers on the work of building the shed for the Alakea street wharf, a departure that will give the various trades a chance to bid on the work to be done in their own particular line. The painting, plumbing, carpenterwork, stonework, etc., is all segregated, and tenders will be invited for each of the separate items. There will be nothing to prevent anyone from bidding on the work as a whole, however.

The plans and specifications will be ready to advertise very shortly.

SPALDING MUST ANSWER AT ONCE.

The Acting Governor has written to Manager Fairchild of the Mahee Sugar Company insisting on an immediate and direct answer to the proposal of the government regarding the exchange of the Kapaa lands. He demands an immediate "yes" or "no" reply to the offer, in default of which the trade will be declared off.

THE MAN OF THE HOUR WELL WORTH SEEING

There were not many present at the first presentation of "The Man of the Hour" last night at the Opera House. There should be a crowded house for the second presentation on Thursday evening. The work of the players deserves this, the performance being one of the best amateur shows of its kind ever given in the city and better by all odds than a good many of the productions of some of the professional companies which appear here. There was not much applause either through any of the four acts nor following them, but the attention of the audience was tense at all times and during the best scenes, when the climax had been reached, the audience was too interested in the movement of the story to remember to applaud. This was apparent from the front but less so to those on the stage who thought the audience a cold one. This was far from the case, however.

With so many clever amateurs in the cast it would be difficult to select anyone for especial mention. A. E. Murphy, as Richard Horrigan, the political boss, had a part difficult enough to bring out the best that was in him, while W. D. Adams, as His Honor, was as strong and well sustained a character as has been presented here. The scene at the close of the second act, with the Boss and the Mayor in an open declaration of war, was particularly well acted, the second strongest scene of the play being also shared by Mr. Adams, with him on the stage being Mrs. Bennett, the Mayor's mother, with sympathy and feeling. G. C. Potter also had a big share in the acting, his playing of this Irish alderman bringing that part up to one of the principals.

Miss Nellie McLain, who took the lead among the ladies of the cast, looked decided well and carried through her part with a dash that won recognition. Mrs. M. H. Webb was unable to do justice to herself, a severe cold preventing her from speaking clearly. This is hoped will have passed off by Thursday, when she can appear to better advantage.

Others in the play were good. W. L. Warren always is and it has never been found necessary to praise J. A. Wilder, whose work has always spoken for itself. Mr. Wilder appeared embarrassed last night, if such a thing can be possible, due to the fact that he was at liberty through sufferance and under charge and escort of a bailiff of the court, who lurked behind the scenes and who started towards his ward every time the word "bribery" was whispered on the stage, which was frequently. Mr. Wilder is a juror and had been looked up for the night with the rest of the good men and true, being released for the play only after much hard work on his behalf and considerable wire pulling.

L. S. Connors doubled and did well in two minor roles.
The complete cast was:

for many years, prohibited by law, and while it may be decently performed, the public belief would be quite to the contrary if it were given, even if it were not forbidden.

It is of the greatest importance that a place should be supplied as near the landing as practicable, where the men may find shelter while waiting for their boats. If there is not, they are apt to sit down in a saloon and, to pay for the seat, take a drink they do not want. Such places have usually been provided under the supervision of the Y. M. C. A. In this connection a copy of a letter from the Y. M. C. A. of San Francisco is appended to show the extent to which the men appreciate and take advantage of such accommodations.

It is hardly necessary to say that the sailors are not looking for anything more than transportation, meals and other things which they require at a fair market rate. They are free handed and generous, and nobody need lose any money by reason of the accommodations which I suggest, but it is certain that they will bitterly and properly resent any discrimination against them on account of their uniform, or any attempt to impose upon them excessive charges. The transportation lines along the Coast towns have very frequently made the uniform of the sailor a free passport on all their lines, and the men have been very much gratified thereby, not because of the trifling expense saved to them, for which they care nothing, but because of the recognition of the dignity of their service. The transportation companies on the Coast have received their reward in the immense receipts from travel induced from far back in the country in order to view the fleet, but no such compensation is possible in Hawaii, as I understand it, and the matter is only mentioned in order to show you the standing which has been rightly accorded to the men where it was possible.

The fleet is expected to arrive at Honolulu, Thursday, July 16, sailing for Auckland on the 23rd. One of the four divisions will proceed at once to Maui and anchor there to take coal from colliers. Three divisions will proceed to Honolulu, one going inside for coal immediately and the other two remaining outside, but minor details have not yet been arranged. They will be commanded as soon as practicable by the commandant of the naval station, who will be requested to consult with you or with the proper representatives of the Territory.

Through Governor Freat, a request has been received from the Leper Settlement, Molokai, to have the fleet pass

VERDICT GIVEN FOR LEE LET

The Jury Declares He Is Not Guilty of Giving a Bribe.

Lee Let, who has been on trial for six days, charged with having bribed Chief of Detectives Taylor to allow a gambling hui protection, was declared "not guilty" yesterday afternoon by a jury of his peers, who deliberated four minutes after they had heard all the evidence and the arguments. On the first ballot they stood ten to two for acquittal.

In charging the jury, Judge Robinson instructed them if they decided that Lee Let had given Taylor the money received to influence him in working the prosecution of such gamblers as might be arrested, so as to bring about their acquittal or the imposing of small fines, they should acquit the defendant. This had probably considerable to do in bringing out the verdict rendered, as it was one of the points dwelt strongest on by the attorney for the defendant, Frank Thompson.

The case went to the jury at half past two, after the attorneys had summed up their cases. Deputy Attorney General Larnach made a good presentation of his case, drawing attention to the patent absurdity of a man with the business training of Lee Let loaning money to a comparative stranger without security or receipt, as Lee Let had sworn was the case. He reminded the jurors that it had been over a year since the money had been given, during which time the minor details of the affair might be very naturally forgotten by the witnesses, accounting for the minor differences between the testimony presented. Larnach asked the jurors if they believed that Taylor would have manufactured a case against Lee Let and left out testimony that would have made it so much stronger. He reminded them that in this trial there was no one to be judged but Lee Let. It was not a case of himself against Thompson, of Taylor against Lee Let or of the Advertiser against anyone. It was the Territory against Lee Let.

In presenting his side of the case the attorney for Lee Let pointed out inconsistencies in Taylor's testimony as compared with that of Ayres. He referred to the three witnesses for the prosecution, Ayres, Taylor and Matheson, as one holy trinity and to Laukea, W. A. Kinney and Walter G. Smith, as another holy trinity, stating that in this case there was politics and Advertiserism.

"Everybody in the Territory knows that it was the Advertiser that defeated A. M. Brown and elected Laukea the Sheriff of Oahu," he said, waving a copy of the Advertiser, which he referred to generally throughout his address as "the" paper.

Thompson referred at length to the amount of the bribe offered, $1400 a week. He had computations to show that this was as much as would be received by investing all the funds on deposit in Bishop & Co.'s bank in government three; he compared it to the salary of the President of the United States and figured what percentage of the receipts of the Territory it represented.

To the instructions of the court, Thompson took exception specifically and as a whole.

The verdict within a few minutes, as announced by Wm. A. Hall, the foreman, came as a surprise, not that the guilt of the defendant was expected to

THE WORRIED WOMEN.

They say men must work and women must weep; but alas, in this too busy world women often have to work and weep at the same time. Their holidays are too few and their work heavy and monotonous. It makes them nervous and irritable. The depressed and worried woman loses her appetite and grows thin and feeble. Once in a while she has spells of palpitation and has to lie up for a day or two. If some disease like influenza or malarial fever happens to prevail she is almost certain to have an attack of it, and that often paves the way for chronic troubles of the throat, lungs and other organs; and there is no saying what the end may be. Let the tired and overladen woman rest as much as possible; and above all, place at her command a bottle of WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION a true and sure remedy for the ills and maladies of women. It is palatable as honey and contains all the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. Search the world over and you will find nothing to equal it. Taken before meals it improves the nutritive value of ordinary foods by making them easier to assimilate, and has carried hope and good cheer into thousands of homes. It is absolutely reliable and effective in Nervous Dyspepsia, Impaired Nutrition, Low Vitality, Wasting Conditions, Melancholy, Chlorosis, Scrofula, and all troubles of the Throat and Lungs. Dr. J. J. Boyes says "I have found it a preparation of great merit. In a recent case a patient gained nearly twenty pounds in two months' treatment, in which it was the principal remedial agent." It carries the guarantee of reliability and cannot fail or disappoint you. At chemists be declared, but it was thought that there would have been some hesitation shown in accepting Lee Let's story in preference to Taylor's and that there would be some delay in arriving at any verdict.

MRS. CRANE'S SEWING BAGS.

The ladies of the Methodist church in an effort to increase the building improvement fund have made a number of sewing baskets, or rather bags, which the Coyne Furniture Co. has mounted on koa stands, nicely polished. The bags have outside pockets and are fitted with necessary hooks on which may hang the implements of the worker. The bags are on sale at the store of the Coyne Furniture Co., Ltd., in the Alexander Young building, at a price far below their actual value. They are of a size that will permit being packed in a trunk, making a worthwhile souvenir of the islands.

REV. DR. HIRAM BINGHAM.

The Friend—a few weeks ago Dr. Bingham was prostrated by a severe attack of bronchitis which, for a time, threatened most serious consequences. While still very weak, tidings came from Boston that the prudential committee of the American Board wanted him to hurry East in order to supervise the printing of his new Gilbertese dictionary, a monumental work. This summons, reinforced by a quickening word from his son, Prof. Hiram Bingham 3rd, of Yale, and by the reflection that his college class was to have its fifty-fifth anniversary reunion during June, proved a most effective therapeutic suggestion. The spirit of the "most famous class of '53," which five and a half decades ago prompted the notable "Bingham kick" that sent the football clear from Chapel street to the State House steps, rose in all its boyish might and the Doctor's cold was banished to death in the fervor of expectation. Dr. Bingham, accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Coan, left for the mainland on the Alameda June 2, full of the joyous expectation of a frolic with "the old boys" and of a lively tussle with printers' devils. Long life to the hero of the Gilbert Islands!

YOUNG PEOPLE'S UNION.

The annual meeting of the Young People's Union was held the other evening in Kaumakapili church, and was well attended by the various societies of the city.

The program as planned and fulfilled was most interesting. Rev. Mr. Oleson gave the address of the evening in his own happy way, the theme being "The Successful Endeavorer." The need of purpose, of common sense and of service in all Christian work was emphasized.

After the responses to the roll-call, the banner was awarded for the third time in secession to the Makiki Japanese church for the largest percentage of attendance.

The nominating committee reported the names of the following persons, who were duly elected for the coming year: President, Miss Florence Yarow; vice president, Rev. C. H. Min; secretary, Mr. J. C. Ewing; treasurer, Miss C. A. Moyer.

The incoming officers were welcomed to the platform by the retiring president, and an impressive installation prayer was offered by Rev. J. W. Wadman.

The convention then closed with the doxology and Mizpah benediction.

OAHU COLLEGE PLAY.

Mrs. Steele Mackaye belongs to a family distinguished in the literary world, and particularly interested in the drama. In an April number of the Literary Digest there is a most interesting article by her son, Percy Mackaye, which is of value to all interested in the betterment of the drama. Among his plays are "Sappho and Phaon," given in New York with Madame Bertha Kalich in the role of Sappho. "Jeanne d'Arc," produced by Mr. E. H. Southern in 1906, is another of his plays. He is a graduate of Harvard, 1897, and at his graduation was one of the speakers, his commencement part being entitled "The Need of Imagination in the Drama of Today."

SAVITAR NOT A RACE HORSE

The Y. M. C. A. are planning to make their next monthly social meeting a radical departure from the usual order. The committee which has the affair in charge have arranged to hold a monster social meeting on the Dillingham lawn, to which all members of the Y. M. C. A. are invited to come.

This social, which has been dignified with the mysterious name of "Savitar," is to be given next Monday evening, in the full of the moon, and all indications point to a most successful affair.

There will be music and refreshments, funny stunts, harkens, freaks, side-shows, moonlight, and ladies, and anyone who doesn't have a good time will establish a reputation as a grouch that will dog him to the grave.

Every Y. M. C. A. member is expected to bring a lady. No admission will be charged, as the affair is strictly for the purpose of entertaining the members and getting them better acquainted with each other.

FLEET CONCERT.

All members of St. Andrew's cathedral choir are particularly requested to attend choir rehearsal this evening, as special work will be given to the part songs to be sung at a proposed concert at the Seamen's Institute during the visit of the Atlantic Fleet.

DEVELOPING AND PRINTING.

Particular people come here with plates and films. We do better work than elsewhere. R. W. Perkins, Hotel street.

MISSIONARY FROM
TUNG-CHOW WILL TALK

Honolulu is promised an unusual treat this evening in the address at Central Union chapel by Rev. Ernest C. Cooper of Tung-chow, China. Tung-chow looks simple enough, but it isn't. It follows the rule of most Romanized Chinese names in not being called what it looks. It is pronounced Rinzo. It is one of the centers of the great Hunan province, nursery of more leading men than any half a dozen other provinces in the empire. Its people have until recently royally hated foreign devils, and led the missionary devils a specially lively race. Hence Mr. Cooper ought to be able to tell a good story of his eighteen years in that rabid district. At present Hunan leads the empire in reform, hence foreigners are well treated there. In the capital of Hunan, Yale University recently established its first Chinese child, called Yale, or "China's Yale." The public are cordially invited to be present and hear Mr. Cooper at 7:30 this evening.

MANY SURPRISES IN STORE.

The hundred children who are to sing and dance for the benefit of those who attend the children's fancy party at the Moana Hotel next Saturday night are training every day for the great event, and are much encouraged by the progress they have made toward perfect, graceful movement.

There will be many surprises in store for the audience, and the entertainment will be full of interest to all who are attracted by graceful, artistic dancing and singing and harmonious action.

Some very talented little people will appear in the specialties, of which there will be quite a number, and the whole exhibition will be well worth seeing. Mrs. Gunn has had great success in curbing the youthful enthusiasm and ebullience of spirit that sometimes appear, as well as in eliminating the bashful microbe, and the training the children have received has been very good for them.

Tickets for the entertainment are on sale at Benson, Smith & Co., Chambers drug store, and H. F. Wichman.

CALIFORNIA THEATER.

At the California moving picture show, on Hotel street, opposite the Young Hotel, there is a complete change of pictures and illustrated songs. Tonight will be shown "The Quack Doctor," "A Jealous Wife," "The Colonial Soldier," "Love's Chances," and "The Absent Minded Professor." This is an unusual collection and mirth-provoking in the extreme. The admission is ten cents for adults and five cents for children.

LEAVE QUESTION TO UNCLE SAM

A committee from the Merchants' Association called upon Civil Engineer Parks, who has charge of the Pearl Harbor work, yesterday morning, regarding the question of a labor supply for that work. After stating to Mr. Parks that the Association wished him to employ only citizen labor, he said in reply:

"The subject that has been brought before the public is one that should not be discussed under any conditions, as it is one that would possibly cause some international questions if the matter was taken up too much by the press. You gentlemen can rest assured that the people in Washington know exactly what they are doing in this matter of labor, and you can feel certain that they have taken the matter into careful consideration long before it was finally passed in Congress.

"I appreciate that your association is doing what you can for this Territory, but you must also feel that the officials in Washington are also looking out for you in this work that will soon be well under way at Pearl Harbor. In a good many cases different commercial bodies have thought that they were doing good deal of good by passing resolutions which were forwarded to Washington, but they have been doing harm instead of good. I am not here to make statements, and I am not here to give advice, but I think you can all see the grave features of this labor question if it is given very much publicity. There are people in this room who know exactly what I mean, and I do not intend to express myself any more on the subject, but I do want you all as well as the citizens of this community, to realize that the government is looking out for your interests.

"I myself would like sometimes to say certain things that I am unable to say, because I am bound to keep quiet by the blue book regulations of the Navy, but you will find that before Pearl Harbor is completed everyone will be satisfied."

Following this interview the committee passed the following resolution: "The Public Affairs Committee finds that the Pearl Harbor labor question requires no further consideration by the Merchants' Association."

AN AIRSHIP READY FOR GOVERNMENT

XENIA (O.). May 27.—The Wright brothers, who for six years have been perfecting an aeroplane, and recently tested it at Kill Devil Hill, N. C., have ended the secrecy maintained throughout the experiments, and today made the unqualified statement that their airship was a success; that their fondest expectations are realized, and that the machine is ready to be turned over to the government for trial preparatory to sale.

Orville Wright said: "Our experiments were entirely satisfactory. We accomplished all we expected to. The accident to the flyer at Kill Devil Hill was not of a serious nature. We did not make any attempt to go a long distance or attain great altitude. We know exactly what the machine will do in that respect. We were testing some new steering levers and proving its carrying capacity. This we have done to our satisfaction.

"We have until September 28th to deliver the flyer to the government, but we are ready now. The government test will be at Fort Meyer. We are to furnish a flying machine that will carry two persons and attain a speed of forty miles an hour in a still atmosphere. We have the machine to fill that bill."

The test is to be a flight of one hour.
