A DEFINITE PLAN FOR MAKING OVER THE FISHMARKET

Failing to Have Submitted to Him a Tangible Scheme, Supt. Marston Campbell Is Having One Designed.

A plan for the transformation of the Alakea street fishmarket into a place where entertainments of all kinds can be held, is being prepared in the office of the Superintendent of Public Works. In spite of all the clamor for the fishmarket to be made a "Town Hall," and all the pressure brought to bear on the department to have the building turned over to one organization or another, no definite plan has been submitted to the department for the rearrangement or transformation of the building.

Superintendent Campbell has therefore determined to have a design prepared and submit it to the committee of which F. B. McStocker is chairman. The drawings are already nearly complete. As they are drawn they show the present building in red and the proposed changes in black.

The main entrance is to be at the makai end. The end is to be enclosed in handsome panelling with a highly ornamental Greek frieze. Box offices will be provided on each side of the central span of this end, and there is to be a space on one side of the center for automobiles to enter, their occupants to alight, and the autos to turn out. On the other side of the center there will be a similar arrangement for carriages.

The stage will be at the mauka end of the building. The back of the stage will be a series of panels in handsome Greek style. Facing the stage there will be seats rising in amphitheatre style, to accommodate a thousand, though as to this a much larger seating capacity may be provided if it is desired, and the expense is met.

The sides of the fishmarket are to be enclosed in handsome panelling with abundant means of egress and plenty of means of ventilation. The enclosing panels will nowhere reach the roof. Between the amphitheatre seats and the enclosing walls of the building there will be abundant room for promenading or anything of that sort.

Beneath the higher seats of the amphitheatre there will be plenty of room for cloak rooms and other conveniences.

U. S. S. HAWAII SOUNDS WELL

Promotionists Want Islands to Supply Name for a Battleship.

"The U. S. S. Hawaii" is what F. L. Waldron, chairman of the Promotion Committee wants to see. He is looking for some way of inducing the Navy Department to call one of the new first-class battleships after the Territory, but he will be satisfied if the name be printed on a first-class cruiser or even a torpedo boat. He brought up the matter at the meeting of the committee yesterday and planted the idea into the minds of all the other members, where it has taken root.

The desirability of having a naval vessel bearing the name "Hawaii" on her stern appealed to everyone at the meeting, but it was thought that any communications to the authorities in the matter, either requests for information as to how to begin work on getting the matter up to the attention of the Secretary of the Navy or in asking him directly to put Hawaii on the available list, would come better from either the Chamber of Commerce or the Merchants' Association, and the matter will be referred to them both.

"The Promotion Committee could stand for the christening bottle, all right," said the chairman.

MARK TWAIN'S MANTELPIECE.

Secretary Wood reported having received the following letter from the architect in charge of the building of the new home, regarding the mantelpiece offered the celebrated author as an expression of the aloha of the Islands for him. The letter said:

"Your letter to Mr. Clemens, of March 13th, followed him to Bermuda and was sent to me from there, asking that I communicate with you.

"This matter has interested me a good deal, and, as you may imagine, we are doing our best to make Mr. Clemens' new home something quite by itself. He has asked me to send you our drawings for the billiard room mantelpiece and I enclose a sketch at the scale of one inch to the foot.

"It occurs to me, however, that this is an opportunity to do something original and characteristic of Hawaii, so I enclose a second sketch showing the possibility of using some freer treatment, like the mantel shelf supported by palm trees and carved sea shells, with a panel for painting, carving, or inscription. We might go even further than this, and, if you can find some local designer and wood carver who can get up something really characteristic and interesting, you might use as decorative motifs native fish or fruit, or shells, or trees, or a map of the Islands, or incoming or outgoing (Continued on Page Two.)

WITHOUT RATS WE ARE SAFE

Dr. Currie Points Out the One Safeguard for Honolulu Against Plague.

Dr. Donald H. Currie, U. S. Marine Hospital Service, who is regarded as the best-informed man in the service in the matter of bubonic plague, addressed a large gathering in the lecture-room of the Central Union church last evening as one of the speakers in the series of talks arranged by the local branch of the Red Cross. Justice Ballou presided at the meeting and introduced the speaker, whose address on "Plague" was listened to with the closest attention.

Dr. Currie went into the subject deeply, although at no time becoming too technical in his expressions. He outlined the history of the pest which has afflicted the world since the beginning of history, the figures of the mortality quoted being appalling in their largeness, the present death-rate being an evidence of the better knowledge of the disease and the better conditions of living. The great outbreak which swept Europe in 1347 to 1351, for instance, carried off twenty-five million people, destroying one-half of the population of England and Wales.

The old writers recorded that a great mortality was observed among rats at the same time that it existed among human beings, or more often preceded the outbreak among men. They seemed to clearly understand that the rat conveyed the disease, and attempted in vain to arrest its progress by destroying these rodents by means of pet snakes, cats and arsenic. "It is not consoling," said the speaker, "to think that the destruction of the rat is also our chief defense against the disease today.

"The present outbreak began in the Province of Yunnan, China, where it had existed for several decades or longer. It began to show increased virulence in 1890 and slowly spread from there to the river upon which the city of Canton is situated and reached Canton city early in 1894, five months later appearing in Hongkong. That city, owing to its commerce, has acted as a distributing depot ever since, and from it, either directly or indirectly, it has spread to a very large part of the world's seacoast. Thus it has been reported from Japan, India, the adjacent islands, several other Asiatic countries, many ports of the African coast, Oporto, Glasgow, several ports of the eastern coast of South America, the whole west coast of the same continent, Mazatlan, Mexico, the Hawaiian Islands, Australia, (Continued on Page Seven.)

In the figures submitted to meet the charges against the government to be brought about through the adoption of the government's policy of instituting an old age pension payment, the Premier placed the cost to the country at thirty million dollars a year, estimating that five hundred thousand pensioners would come within the terms of the act.

SOME TWELVE THOUSAND DOLLARS TO BE GIVEN AWAY

There is something like $12,000 to be disposed of for some good purpose if only something like a representative number of the forty members of the American Relief Fund Society can be gotten together.

The American Relief Fund Society was organized by A. J. Cartwright and some of his fellow Americans in the old days when every non-Hawaiian nationality in the Islands had its colony, and felt its own particular brand of patriotic glow and ardor and national pride. The object of it was, as the name indicated, to secure funds and apply them for the relief of indigent or luckless Americans who needed it. At one time the society was quite numerous, and included most of the Americans here. That was in the days before we were Americans. Interest in the society began to wane before the receipts of the society did, and while there has not been a decently attended meeting of the society for a good many years; probably not since annexation, the society has accumulated the very respectable sum of something like $12,000.

At the time of the organization of the United Charities, the American Relief Fund Society affiliated with it and voted $25 a month to the United Charities to be used in relieving the needs of such as came within the benefactions of the original society.

A meeting of the American Relief Fund Society was called for last Wednesday. The treasurer (Robert Lewers) sent out postal card announcements of the meeting to every one of the forty members. Four attended the meeting. What should be done with the society and with its funds was talked over then. It was agreed that there is not the need of the society that there was at the time it was organized, and that there continued to be until annexation made the whole country American.

It was suggested that no wiser disposition of the funds could be made than to give them as an endowment for the United Charities Society. The work of that society includes every purpose for which the funds were secured. To give them as an endowment will, in the opinion of Bruce Cartwright, Robert Lewers and others of the society continue them at work for the purpose for which they were contributed. At present, except as to the monthly allowance to the United Charities, the funds are doing nothing but accumulate. To dispose of them as proposed will set them at work.

Bruce Cartwright was appointed a committee at the meeting on Wednesday

SOUTH AMERICANS SCATTER MONEY

Officers and men of the South American men-of-war now in port have been spending money as if they were bound for a trip to the North Pole or the Antarctic and would not again for several years come in touch with civilization, although they are to sail hence tomorrow for Yokohama and will keep pretty well in the civilization belt on their circumnavigation of the globe.

From Lewis & Co. alone three thousand dollars' worth of wines and liquors have been purchased and other wholesale supply houses have been visited for fancy groceries, preserves, wines, liquors and cigars.

The warships of the Brazilian and Chilean training ships Benjamin Constant and General Baquedano are musically and artistically inclined, and have laid in many phonographs and other instruments of pleasurable sound, also kodaks and cameras and all the gear that goes therewith.

The Bergstrom Music Company has sold out all or most of its large phonograph machines and is getting rid of the smaller devices. Photo supply stores have been called upon to deliver snap-boxes, wholesale, and pictures, too, have been greatly in demand. Hundreds of views of Honolulu and the islands generally, not counting several thousand picture post cards, have been bought by the foreigners.

Candy, American candy, is very popular with the men, one man alone at one place purchasing bonbons amounting to twenty-one dollars, which he says he is going to take home to his family, around the world.

Altogether the tars have spent here about $100,000, on an average of ten dollars a man.

CHE-FA BANKERS ARRESTED.

Four alleged che-fa bankers were nabbed by the police yesterday, all of them being well known from former arrests for the same thing. With the four were seized a bunch of che-fa tickets and the books kept showing the daily operations of the hui. The arrests were made through the work of Special Officer Townsend, who has been trailing the agents of the hui for the past two weeks in an endeavor to locate their principals. Those captured yesterday are believed to be the principal agent, the bookkeeper of the gang and two of the bankers, although the head one of the hui slipped from the fingers of the arresting officers.

CHANCE FOR KUHIO TO MAKE A HIT

Being Bombarded With Letters in Regard to Fees and Per Diem.

Delegate Kuhio will get nearly a hundred letters on one subject by the mail which leaves here tomorrow by the Siberia.

There is a bill in Congress to increase the pay and mileage of jurors and witnesses in United States Courts in the States of Wyoming, Montana, Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada, Idaho, Colorado, and Utah, and the Territories of Arizona and New Mexico. The bill makes the per diem of jurors and witnesses $3 a day instead of $1.50 a day, as now, and makes it cover the time necessarily consumed in going to and from the courts, instead of as now only from the time they arrive in Honolulu. The mileage is also increased from five cents a mile each way, to fifteen cents a mile for every mile necessarily traveled by stage or by private conveyance, and five cents a mile for distances traveled by railroad.

There is a movement to get Hawaii included in the amendment, so that witnesses and jurors here will get the increased per diem and mileage. To this end Delegate Kuhio's attention is being called to the bill and to the fact that it only requires that the name of Hawaii be added to the list of Territories affected by the bill to get the benefit of the increase, if the bill passes, which there is every reason to believe will be the fact. Every witness in the United States Courts has been provided with a typewritten statement of the matter and asked to sign it and send it to the Delegate. They are all doing it. Judge Dole has written to the Department of Justice, pointing out the need of this amendment in this Territory, where the mileage at present allowed by law does not pay the actual steamboat fare witnesses have to pay in coming from the other Islands.

For instance, the mileage from Hilo to Honolulu and return allowed under the law as it stands amounts to $22.90, while the steamship fare for the round trip is $25. The mileage from Kahului amounts to $9, while the steamship fare is $12. From practically all ports on the other Islands the mileage allowed by law is about $3 short of the actual fare.

Per diem also is not allowed until after arrival at the court, though witnesses and jurors often have to start from home several days before their mileage begins.

United States Marshal Hendry has taken the matter up on behalf of the jurors and witnesses, and has had prepared an extract from the Congressional Record of January 27, 1908, in regard to the status of the matter, a copy of which each juror and witness interested is asked to send to Delegate Kuhio, calling his attention to the bill and to the need of an amendment including Hawaii. The following is the quotation from the Congressional Record which is being sent:

FEES OF JURORS AND WITNESSES
The bill (S 597) amending the Act of August 3, 1892, clause 361, entitled "An Act fixing the fees of jurors and witnesses in the United States Courts in certain States and Territories" (27 Stat. L. p. 347), was considered as in Committee of the Whole. It proposes to amend the Act of August 3, 1892, clause 361, 27 Statutes at Large, page 347, entitled "An Act fixing the fees of jurors and witnesses in the United States Courts in certain States and Territories," so as to read:

That jurors and witnesses in the United States Courts, including commissioners' courts, in the States of Wyoming, Montana, Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada, Idaho, Colorado and Utah, and in the Territories of New Mexico and Arizona, Hawaii shall be entitled to receive for actual attendance at any court or courts, including commissioners' courts and for the time necessarily occupied in going to and returning from the same, $3 a day during such attendance and 15 cents for each mile necessarily traveled over any stage line, or by private conveyance, and 5 cents for each mile over any railway, in going to and returning from said courts: Provided, That no constructive or double mileage fees shall be allowed by reason of any person being summoned as both witness and juror, or as a witness in two or more cases pending in the same court and triable at the same term thereof.

ANONYMOUS LETTERS RECEIVED BY THE BOARD

The Board of Health is in constant receipt of anonymous letters alleging insanitary conditions, here and there, and making other complaints. Many of these letters indicate the existence of matters that are worthy of the attention of the board and the Health force. It is however neither dignified nor satisfactory to start investigations on the basis of an anonymous communication. If the writers of these communications would sign their names to their communications the board would give them immediate attention, and where real evils exist would abate them.

MINISTER WU TING FANG ON CHINESE EXCLUSION

When the Chinese Minister, Wu Ting Fang, recently passed through Honolulu on his way to Washington, a petition was presented to him at the Chinese United Society asking his help in securing some modification of the Chinese exclusion laws, as they apply to Hawaii. He then promised to do what he could to aid them.

By the last mail the official reply to the Chinese petition was received by the president of the United Society, and has been published this week in the Chinese daily. A translation is as follows:

Washington, D. C., March 12, 1908.
Wu, the Imperial Chinese Minister to the United States, Mexico, Peru, and Cuba, gives this reply to the petition presented by the Chinese merchants of the "Sandalwood Mountain" (Hawaii) at the Chinese United Society.

Now, the American exclusion law has been enforced very rigorously, and the carrying out of this law has sometimes been a great hardship. We cannot presume at this time to say just what shall be done. Alas! It is only the men of our "Middle Kingdom" who have been treated in this most trying manner. It is, indeed, a treatment that we would wish to change, but it is very difficult. Truly the principles of heavenly right have been lost, and it is hard for you, my countrymen. This exclusion is difficult to bear and not to the advantage of my people. I will do what I can to secure a change. This is the second time that I have passed through your Islands, and I have examined into the matter, and know what your petition states, and what you need, is certainly true. When the proper time comes, I will work hard for some modification, and will help my people from this great difficulty, so that you can then come and go with more liberty. So cheer up, be patient and happy in your occupations. This is officially sent out."

The above shows that the Chinese of Hawaii have something to look forward to in the line of some modification of the present laws, as they apply to Hawaii. Their campaign of information is coming at the right time. After patient waiting and persistent work results will follow.

steamers, or anything of this sort that you like, or possibly the surf boats of which we hear so much. It seems to me an admirable opportunity to do something which many distinguished people will see in Mr. Clemens' home. As it will be in the billiard room we could set aside the staid character that would be necessary in a drawing room and make this mantelpiece, if necessary, fantastic.

"I take the liberty of forwarding all this matter merely as a suggestion, but you will find on the sketches the exact sizes of the brick fireplace as now built and anything that fits this will do.

"The woodwork in the room is a nut brown and if you like this color on the mantelpiece, it is perfectly possible. The wall hangings will be bright red.

"As you know, the mantelpiece sets in the corner of the room.

"There is no hurry for the finished work, as a simple mantel shelf now occupies this position, which we will discard on receiving your work."

The letter and plans were turned over to Willard Brown, who has the matter in hand for the committee, it being understood that he would consult with those in a position to submit a definite plan or plans with figures of cost, after which the matter will be pushed right through.

FLORAL PARADE POSTERS.

It was decided to begin the advertising of the Floral Parade for February 22 next, several months in advance of the event, in order to give it the publicity on the mainland that it deserved but which it did not get this year. An artistic poster will be struck off to be sent all over the Union in September or October this fall and in order to secure a good design it was resolved to offer a prize of fifty dollars for the best one submitted before August 1. It was not decided as to who would do the judging, this Gordian knot being left uncut for the present.

BEAUTIFYING THE HARBOR ENTRANCE.
W. E. Brown, at the suggestion of J. R. Galt, asked what steps could be taken for the beautifying of the harbor entrance by the planting of trees and grass on the naval reserve spit and the sand island now piling up on the Ewa side of the entrance. The advisability of the improvement was agreed with but the possibility of doing anything at the present time, especially on the sand island, where a gun battery is to be installed according to the plans of Captain Otwell, was doubted. Secretary Wood will take the matter up with the proper army and naval authorities, however. During this discussion it was stated that Mr. Isenberg had offered to supply all the cocoanut trees required for the planting of the two sand flats.

GENERAL MATTERS.
Secretary Wood called attention to a communication appearing in the Advertiser of Wednesday, which stated that no effort was made, apparently, to let the outside world know that living was cheap in Hawaii and that good boarding houses could be found here. Mr. Wood stated that this was distinctly not the case, the effort of the Promotion Committee being to give the very information that the communication said was being withheld.

William Wider, who is running the moving picture exhibition at the Orpheum, stated that he would take his outfit to San Francisco and show Hawaiian views if the committee would hire him and pay his transportation both ways. This offer was turned down because of lack of funds.

KAMEHAMEHA UNDER ARREST.

Kamehameha resumed active hostilities on the Island of Oahu yesterday, and although no defenders of their native homes were driven over the Paia, one Chinese defender of his home was slammed over a washtub and retired from business for the time being. The result of the hostilities is that the Lonely One is booked for assault and battery at the police station, to appear for trial this morning.

CHILEANS IN POLICE CELLS.

Jose Orrellana and Transito Cantelana, the first of the South American sailors now visiting here to receive police attention, were run in yesterday morning and held as stragglers, their names and descriptions having been sent to the Sheriff by the Chilean commander.

THE WHOLE THREE ENDORSED M'CANDLESS

"Link McCandless is popular among the Democrats of Kauai," said the Hon. Charley Rice, who has been in the city for a short time, sailing last night for the Garden Island, in commenting on the political conditions throughout the Territory. "At a recent precinct club meeting at Lihue, McCandless got the unanimous endorsement of the club as the Democratic candidate for Delegate, the whole three voting for him."

Mr. Rice, who was the Republican whip in the House last session and one of the clearest thinkers of the assembly, stated that it is unlikely that he will be in the contest this fall, although many of his friends are urging him to stand for the Senate. The business interests in which he is involved are demanding more and more of his attention and he feels that he cannot spare the four months necessary to serve for another term—two months for the campaign and two months for the session.

Stein-Bloch Clothes FOR MEN

"All-wool" as applied to clothing, is something more than technical definition of fabrics, from the weaver's or the manufacturer's standpoint.

It means economy to the wearer; long service; continued good looks; a well-dressed air and appearance. But it has a good deal more than any commercial significance.

All-wool is the tribute a well-dressed man pays to his own self-respect; it is the standard of excellence which the conscientious maker establishes as a measure of his work. It is the best test of merit for both maker and wear-

SPORTS

OLD SPORTS

Movement Started to Bring Back Hawaiian Pastimes
Now Extinct.

The old-time sports of Hawaii are to be revived by the present generation. Charley Chillingworth is writing to Prince Cupid to have him take the lead, and John Wise is digging up the old records at the archives building. Other enthusiasts are seeking to interest the Queen, and it is expected that the alumni of the Kamehameha Schools will take the lead and carry the program through to success.

There has been a digging up of old mountain sleds—and there is more than one perfect koa specimen in the possession of those interested in the scheme. Chillingworth has dug up some old natives who remember how the thing was done and can instruct the rising generation in the sports of their ancestors. Then, too, many of the once famous games and sports now obsolete in Hawaii are still actively practiced in some of the South Sea Islands. In the coming August number of St. Nicholas Magazine, Mr. Ford will have an illustrated article on "Boys' Sports in Hawaii," showing how the sports of the Hawaiians have descended in a modified form to the school children of today in the Paradise of the Pacific. Since writing this article, Mr. Ford has spent some months in the South Seas studying various Polynesian sports below the line, and yesterday he and John Wise spent a couple of hours over old Hawaiian documents in the Archives building.

Mr. Lydecker and John Wise have dug up one very interesting document giving the list of the sports practiced by the Hawaiians before the arrival of Captain Cook. It was over this list that Wise and Ford spent most of their time and enthusiasm.

The most innocent sport named in the long list was the simple game of "Cat's Cradle," which, after traveling from India, thousands of years ago, is still played by the Solomon Islanders. From Hawaii Captain Cook's sailors took the game to Europe, where it is still popular among children.

The most dangerous sport recorded was that of halhailua, a native jiu-jitsu long ago forbidden by law because invariably bones were broken, and often death resulted. The secrets of this sport are now entirely forgotten, although when John Wise was a boy there were still living old men who remembered seeing a man held up in air by his opponent and broken in two. So intricate were the rules of halhailua that boys began their training at the age of eight, and every chief had to be an adept, for the great challenge among fighting men was to this test of skill and strength. It is claimed that there were men who were so skillful in manipulating the muscles that they could throw their opponents into cataleptic fits, from which they could not be aroused.

The pahee—or sliding sticks—described in the quaint old document came in for a heated discussion. These were described as runners five to six feet in length and four inches wide, on which the skilful ones stood, much as the Norwegians do on skis, and slid down almost perpendicular mountain-sides. In his day, the Pahee had degenerated into a stalk of the coconut leaf, and this is still in common use among the native boys of Fiji and the schoolboys of Honolulu.

Heeholua, or land sleighing, is the chief sport it is proposed to revive by the present generation of Hawaiians. These sleighs, of which there are perfect specimens in Honolulu, were built of koa wood without the use of nails and bound together with native cord made from the coconut fiber. They were perhaps eight feet long and less than a foot wide, a network of cords between the upper poles serving as a resting-place upon which the expert lay on his side as the sleigh dashed downhill over the long, smooth grass. Many were hurt in this sport, for courses were purposely selected broken by boulders and cliffs, the game being to avoid these by throwing the weight of the body upon either one side or the other of the swiftly-descending cradle. Back of Kamehameha Schools is one of the most famous of these ancient sliding-places, abandoned, while the descendants of the Hawaiian warriors now use modern wooden sleds put together with nails on which to slide down Punchbowl hill.

Another of the old sports of official record that has not quite died out is lelekawa, or the art of jumping from high cliffs into water. The highest of these was the well known rock of Pili-kea, at Hilo, some 120 feet high, the jumper having to run several paces and leap far out to avoid a futility crag. Then there is foot diving at which Prince Kuhio reputed to be very clever. The object of this sport being for the diver to jump foot foremost and to strike the water far below so as to skim just under the water.

The king of water sports, of course, in the old days, as today, was surf-boarding—these were the heenalu, or men who glided before the waves, mere novices, and the pakakanalu, or experts who took the waves on the bias, skimming along from one dying wave to another that was strong, back and forth until miles had been covered and the beach reached without a single stop. The bay at Hilo was the best suited for this, and Haoula, on Oahu below the Pail, came second.

Hilo bay was also the great racing ground of the heihel waa, or professional canoe men, they would come in—preferably immediately after a great storm, for miles before a series of mountain combers.

The kalai was the expert canoe builder of the old days, who would be welcomed most heartily today by the Outrigger Club.

The Oahu Walking Club might perhaps take charge of the reviving the profession of the kukini, or official footracer, whose marvelous feats so astonished Captain Cook. It is said that there were men in the days of Kamehameha the Great who could run entirely around the island of Oahu in half a day. Ed. Towse, of the Oahu Walking Club, has followed many of these old messenger trails and declares that they drop over precipices and make short cuts that would give palpitation of the heart to many a stout walker of today. On Hawaii, it is claimed that these marvelous foot-racers would be sent sixty miles away to secure fresh fish for the king, and return with them alive. Many were the famous racers, in the old days between rival celebrities, but there were no hundred-yard dashes. The foot-races of the old Hawaiians were the real thing and contestants sometimes dropped dead in their tracks.

Next in honor to the king's messengers, perhaps, were the wrestlers. There were the pulli, or men who wrestled by placing their hands upon each other's shoulders and then closing in, and the kulakulal, who were up in the art of catch-as-catch-can. Their object being to push each other down, very much as the Japanese wrestle today.

Then there were the spear throwers, of three grades, the laumeki was the small spear, the dodging and catching of which was Kamehameha's chief delight. There was a long spear to throw at the enemy and another ribbed with sharks teeth for close contact.

One ancient game pretty sure to be revived is malka, or the rolling of the old Hawaiian discus, or circular stone, along the ground. There is an old malka ground on the island of Maui where these old stones are still to be found. In some of the South Sea Islands, games of this sort still form one of the sports of the people.

Keapua, the old record relates, is the art of throwing dried sugar cane tops along the ground. In Samoa, Fiji and the New Hebrides, wands are still used for this purpose and it is a favorite game.

Many other old Hawaiian sports and pastimes does this old record relate as among those that antedated any introduced by the white man. Pity it is that these games that once delighted the men of Cook's ships could not be revived in time to edify the Jackies of our own fleet. If, however, Uncle Sam will send his fleet back this way next year, doubtless the Alumni of Kamehameha Schools and others will then be able to provide our sailor boys with a series of old Hawaiian sports and contests, which, if successfully reproduced, should draw many visitors to Hawaii whenever the contestants see fit to give an exhibition of their skill.

EDDIE TAIT

The proposed boxing match between Eddie Tait and Corporal Bird is off.

Last night Tait had a consultation with Dr. Wood, who told him that he would not give him permission to begin active training owing to his unsatisfactory physical condition. He told Tait to come back and see him in a month and said that he would then tell him whether it would be wise to commence active training.

Tait has not been in the best of health since coming to Honolulu and had a spell in the hospital quite recently.

It is going to be hard to find an opponent for Bird. Young Nelson, who is at present in Waikuku, would make a good match, but whether he would care to reenter the ring is not known.

It is understood that Mike Patton would be willing to go on with a heavyweight from the fleet during the visit of the men-of-war. At present there is no one here who could be pitted against him with any prospect of the match being an attractive one, unless there is a good big man at Fort Shafter.

The next boxing match at Fort Shafter will be between Platt of Co. F and Murphy, the man who hooked up with Poole at the last fistic scence held at the post.

HAWAII MAY BE CHARTERED

There was a meeting of the Trans-Pacific Yacht Committee in ex-Commodore Cooper's office yesterday morning. Present were H. E. Cooper, Charles Wilder, W. H. McInerney, R. W. Shingle and Colonel Parker.

The resignation of W. H. McInerney as chairman of the committee was not accepted.

A vote of thanks to the subcommittee on funds was passed.

It was decided that the Hawaii shall be open for public inspection all day Saturday and Sunday, when she will be moored at the Bishop wharf.

Next week the Hawaii will be taken to Pearl Harbor and anchored there.

The yacht may be chartered at any time provided a member of the committee is aboard when she goes out under sail. A competent man will be kept aboard to see that everything is kept shipshape.

Rates and other information relative to the Hawaii may be obtained from members of the committee.

SANTA CLARAS
TOLD TO COME

Series of Ball Games Between
College and Local Nines Assured.

At a meeting of the Honolulu Baseball League held yesterday it was decided to notify the Santa Clara College nine to arrive here on July 8.

Twelve players will be sent for and their transportation expenses from the Coast and back, and board and lodging while here, will be defrayed by the league.

The season ticket for the second half of the season will cost $6 for reserved seats, or 75c for single tickets. This will include the Santa Clara games and the last two rounds of the local league's second series.

Four dollars will buy a season ticket for the second half of the season admitting the holder to the two wings of the grandstand. Single tickets in this class will cost 50c each.

During the second half of the season general admission to the bleachers and for standing room will be 25c.

It was decided to notify Kelo University that negotiations relative to their proposed visit are off, as there would not be time for the local league to collect enough money to defray the expenses of the trip. Word from Kelo has been awaited for a long time, and the time between now and the date of the proposed series is too short to justify the Honolulu Baseball League considering the coming of the Kelo nine any further.

Tickets for the first and second series of league games may be obtained from John Soper, P. Gleason, F. E. Steere, E. Fernandez and John Wise.

It is hoped that there will be a strong demand for the pastebards, as the league needs money to pay for the transportation of the Santa Claras. The league has taken a sporting chance in deciding to bring the college nine to Honolulu, and it is up to all lovers of baseball to help them as far as possible by purchasing season tickets.

Short and Sweet

There will be a game of baseball today on the Oahu College campus between the Punahou and the High Schools.

The Kams' stack up against the Punahou at the ball park tomorrow. The Saints and Diamond Heads will furnish the second game.

Fred Church has presented a case of Tansan, together with the necessary ice, for the use of the players in the opening games of the Press Baseball League, which take place on Sunday. The boys will appreciate the genial Fred's thoughtful donation.

The regular monthly meeting of the Chinese Athletic Club will be held in the Chinese Y. M. C. A. this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

There are nine live minor baseball leagues in Honolulu. A. L. C. Atkinson is the father of an idea to have the winners of the various small leagues play a series of championship games among themselves at the conclusion of the senior league season.

Bill Chillingworth will probably pitch for the Diamond Heads on Saturday against the Punahou.

Governor Hughes says he'll stamp out betting in New York. However, he probably wouldn't bet on it.

Harry Thaw, in Matteawan asylum, is fighting against vaccination. The chances are, though, that Harry won't come out of the fight without a scratch.

Several polo games may be played at Moanalua during the stay of the fleet.

Commodore Alec Lyle leaves for the Coast in the near future.

Kamaloipi, who was injured in a recent baseball game between the Punahou and the Kams, is all right again and will play for the Kams in the next interscholastic game.

The first game of the Press Baseball League on Sunday, between the Advertisers and the Stars, will start at 1:30 p. m. The second game, between the Bulletins and the Mercantiles, will start fifteen minutes after the conclusion of the first game.

Sing Chong, who played short for the Chinese Athletics last Sunday, was sent to the bench by Captain Chi Bul for a bad attack of swelled head. A. Asam, who pitched for the A. A. L. A. was called on to fill the vacancy. He made good and bids fair to rival Evers for first honors in the position of short-stop.

Shooting at Fort Shafter the other day, Colonel Coyne of the National Guard of Hawaii made a score of 48 out of a possible 50 at 1000 yards. He used one of the recently-arrived Springfields.

George R. Carter, W. E. Brown, R. A. Jordan and Dr. W. R. Brinckerhoff have promised to compete in the round-the-island race for automobiles which is being planned.

During the visit of the fleet the Honolulu Baseball League will only charge admission for Saturday and Sunday games, though games will be played every day in the week.

Among the stars of the minor baseball leagues may be mentioned Makaniui, Hoopii, John L. V. Ayau, Sing Chong and Chi Bul.

Alf, and Jim Williams and Johnny Aylert will be seen in the lineup of the Saints in future.

The Kams are to have O. Jones and Bill Vannatta back in the game.

There is talk of allowing any Riverside League player to play in the senior league.

Judge Dole has been placed on the Trans-Pacific Yacht Committee.

The Santa Clara College nine is still holding its own with Berkeley and Stanford. The Santa Claras recently defeated Stanford by the score of 3 to 2.

Stockton and Fresno tied for first place at the conclusion of the first series of the California State League.

The Koa trophy won by Commodore Sinclair's yacht Lurline in the first trans-Pacific yacht race, sailed two years ago, goes to its owner by the next steamer leaving here. The trophy has been on view in Honolulu for the past year.

There is a movement on foot to have the Riverside Baseball League's games scheduled for next Sunday postponed in order to give right of way to the opening games of the Press League at the ball park.

CRICKET CLUB
NEEDS MONEY

There was a meeting of the Honolulu Cricket Club yesterday afternoon.

The principal business done was in connection with ways and means, and a plan was adopted for wiping out the existing debt and putting the club on a sound financial footing. With this end in view a subscription list will be circulated in the course of the next few days, and a liberal response is expected.

The Honolulu Cricket Club is one of the oldest sporting organizations in Honolulu and has always stood for good, clean sport.

There will be a game at Makiki tomorrow afternoon, and all interested in the game are invited to participate. The club is in communication with the fleet sports committee in San Francisco with the idea of arranging some games with teams from the men-of-war.

SEMI-FINAL
GAMES TODAY

The tournament for the Wall Cup, men's handicap singles, was resumed at the Beretania Tennis Club's courts yesterday afternoon.

The games resulted as follows:
W. L. Warren beat S. S. Peck, 6-4, 6-1.
R. Hurd beat J. Catton, 6-2, 6-1.
A. J. Lowrey beat R. B. Reitow, 6-0, 6-4.
C. G. Bockus beat H. S. Gray, 6-1, 6-3.

This afternoon the first round in the semifinals will be played, the matches being as follows:
At 4:30—S. Kennedy vs. C. G. Bockus.
At 5:00—W. L. Warren vs. R. Hurd.

LOCAL PLAYERS
WIN AT EWA

A couple of Honolulu tennis players meandered Ewards last Sunday and took the scalps of two good players of the big plantation.

The Honolulu pair were Messrs. Bockus and Cunha, and the twin who were done up were Messrs. Godfrey and Terada. The score was 6-1, 6-0, 6-3.

Next Sunday Messrs. Bockus and Cunha propose to play the Ewa champions, Messrs. McKeever and Greenfield, and all Ewa will be there to see.

SURE SHOT WAS FORMERLY VIXEN

Sure Shot, the connections of which are looking for a race at three-quarters of a mile, is Walter Macfarlane's polo pony formerly known as Vixen. The animal is said to have a fine turn of speed and a match is desired.

It was talked round town yesterday that Indigo might be matched with Sure Shot, but nothing definite could be learned.

THE COASTWISE RELIEF MEASURE.

The postponement of the Ship Subsidy bill until after the Presidential election, makes it possible that the bill suspending the coastwise passenger laws in their application to Hawaii will pass. Yesterday's despatches say that its favorable report to the House was followed by such a report to the Senate. The committee stage of the measure being traversed, much hope is felt for speedy enactment.

We are aware of the opposition to the measure by the American steamship lines, and are not out of sympathy with their point of view. They have done much for Honolulu and deserve a good return—particularly the Oceanic Steamship Company. They feel that, with the coastwise guarantees turned down, the great new Japanese liners will come in for no small part of our passenger business; and that their margins of passenger profit will be, if not wiped out, seriously curtailed. But in spite of all this, if Honolulu is to do a tourist trade it must be able to guarantee a return passage to its visitors when the visitors expect it. If it cannot do so, what tourist business we have, that which the American lines count on keeping, must fall off. On the other hand, may it not be possible that, if the passenger traffic is made free to all, it will grow to proportions that will need all the accommodations which the steamship lines can afford.

ENCOURAGING GRAFT.

That nothing has been shown against the present police management and nothing brought to light in the way of organized or palliated graft is not due in the least to any encouragement to be straight that has been shown to Sheriff Iaukea, Chief Taylor or the rank and file.

During the first month of the present administration a well-known Chinaman, Lee Let, was arrested and charged with having offered a large bribe to the new Chief of Detectives. That was fifteen months ago. What has been done by the law branch to bring Lee Let to trial? What protection has been afforded Taylor or any of his men from further advances of the bribers? None.

A few weeks later one of the detectives was thought guilty of graft. This was Eugene Duvauchelle. The Sheriff investigated the case and arrested his own man, who was later indicted by the grand jury. What was done by the County Attorney in his case? What punishment was meted out to Duvauchelle to act as a warning to others in the force who might be tempted? Nothing. During the preliminary investigation of the case the County Attorney advised even against the arrest or the making public any of the facts of the graft, and when the arrest was made in spite of this the case was not pressed.

Honolulu has allowed this without public protest. Now the politicians of both parties are counting the days until Sheriff Iaukea will be paid. It seems to be conceded that he cannot be reelected, and with his departure from the department will go Chief Taylor. For what? For being square and faithful in their duties and placing their duty to the whole people above the demands of office-seekers. Willie Crawford publicly talks about the man he is going to have elected Sheriff. And the man wanted by him and the crowd he trains with think they can elect their man, for it does not appear that Honolulu wants an honest man in the Sheriff's office.

LESSON OF THE YACHT RACE.

Our friends of the Pacific Coast are prone at times to refer to the lack of hustle in Honolulu, and discourse in a patronizing sort of a way on the enervating effects of a tropical climate. It is tourists and newcomers that talk this way in Hawaii, but in one recent instance, at least, the tortoise has beaten the hare, the "indolent" Honolulu have outclassed the "hustling" Californians at their own game of promoting.

The first trans-Pacific yacht race was conceived and worked out by the Hawaii Yacht Club, carried through by the Promotion Committee and the citizens getting in behind the club under whose auspices it was run off and working for months. The staggering setback the plan received because of the San Francisco fire merely postponed the event. In all particulars the race was successful, and one of the biggest undertakings of the sporting year.

This year the South Coast Yacht Club, with the backing of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, undertook to bring off a second race. What Hawaii had begun the people of Southern California were going to keep up. An invitation was sent Hawaii to enter a yacht, and by the time the entries for the event closed there was a new craft, built by popular subscription, at a cost of nearly $22,000, read to set sail from Honolulu for San Diego to meet the other contesting yachts. Again Hawaii had done her share, but the energies of the yachtsmen and their supporters on the Coast had not been able to induce another yacht owner to enter the contest.

Honolulu may not have to walk so fast on the streets that they must bump others out of the way; they are not too busy to cross over to the shady side or to make their June vacation last as long as the June weather of their home, but when there is something to be done, they are usually found on the scratch waiting for the other fellows to arrive.

TO CINCH THE MERCHANTS.

The studied attempt of the organ of the ring to make it appear that Achi and his little back-entry squad of job-chasers are a strong and threatening political force, has but one intent, and that is to rob the merchants. The members of the cheap cabal, which the Republican party, for some inexplicable reason, permits to mismanage its affairs, are watering at the mouth for a great campaign fund. A thousand dollars from the Queen gives them a taste of blood. They cannot hope to get their sticky fingers on much money unless they can first put the fear of political disaster into the hearts of the business men. For two or three years Robert Wilcox served as the bogey man, and in one campaign the merchants were mulcted out of more than $30,000, forty per cent. of which went to elect him and sixty per cent. of which is believed to have reached the pockets of the campaign manipulators. Then poor Notley was the Frankenstein monster that scared our rich Republicans into further largess; and now the scarecrow part is to be played, for all it is worth, by Achi. Already it is gravely said in the organ of the ring that Achi—a man who was badly beaten the last time he ran for anything, and who never made a political claim which came out white in the wash—may come within 300 votes of carrying the Fourth District on his "labor" platform, and will carry everything else by stupendous majorities. No more intolerable nonsense was ever written than this. Achi's "labor" party could be lined up in a hallway. It has but little more numerical relation to the voting strength of Oahu than the three tailors of Tooley street had to the people of England. It is all gas and bluster; but nevertheless it serves the purpose of the spotted crowd that wants to bare its arms and dip them deep into a Republican campaign barrel.

It will be worth while to watch these gold-brick politicians when they go around town hot-foot and shouting to the Republican merchants, while they point to Achi and his tattered eleven: "The foe! The foe! They come! They come!" May we not hope to hear the refreshing answer: "Let 'em come! We'll attend to them if they ever get here." And by that token we shall know that the business men of Honolulu have learned the game of politics.

BRITISH IMPERIALISM.

Keir Hardie, the English labor leader, has been on a world tour, and is home again, with some views that will give small comfort to the imperialists. He has taken particular notice of the state of public feeling in Canada, Australia, and South Africa. What struck him most strongly was that colonial loyalty was only a surface sentiment. He said that when business interest and loyalty clash it is the business interest that wins. As for tariff reform, Mr. Hardie thought that it would never tighten the bonds of empire for the reason that the colonies are not prepared to give anything. They will take any advantage, gladly, but they will make no sacrifice.

"The flag and the throne," said Mr. Hardie to the London Daily Mail, "stir a certain emotion, for they are the ties with Home, but the Empire arouses no enthusiasm at all. In South Africa, for instance, I found all the English people with large interests rejoicing that Milner's Transvaal Imperialism had been shunted, and the management of affairs put into the hands of the sensible, level-headed Dutch. For all the difference the war has made, it might never have been fought.

"In Canada, 'Canada for the Canadians' is the cry. Nothing about Canada for the Empire! In Australia there is the same spirit. They are angry at the very idea of their affairs being managed for the benefit of anyone but themselves.

"In Australia I was naturally delighted to find that the cry of 'Socialism' frightens no one, though they are well on the way toward the nationalism of industries. The working men see that protection and wage boards are mere makeshifts. They have been carried as far as they will go, and they do not go far enough. Private ownership of land and industrial enterprise in the production of the necessities are doomed."

We observe in quite another quarter that the independent spirit has taken so strong a hold on Australia that there is renewed talk of establishing a small Australian navy. Criticism of this intent, comes first, so far as we are aware, from an American periodical, The Army and Navy Journal, which says: "This interest in such sea protection is taken by some critics as an evidence of Australia's desire rather to defend her own coasts than to contribute to the common navy. To such objectors, Australia's best way to avert danger seems to be to help in maintaining the absolute supremacy of the British navy. Whether the visit of our fleet will strengthen this view or the opposite remains to be seen. Whatever the result, there is no doubt that the presence of so imposing a collection of warships will give a larger importance to the question of sea power throughout Australia and accord to this subject a higher place in the future calculations and schemes of antipodean statesmen."

CHILEAN BAND AT THE SEASIDE TONIGHT

In honor of the commander and officers of the Chilean cruiser now in the harbor, there will be given by request a special dinner and dance at the popular Seaside Hotel this evening. Excellent music will be rendered by the Chilean band at the dinner and between the dances. All the friends of the U. S. Army and Navy and of the Seaside are cordially invited. Engage your tables for dinner early.

POLICEMEN'S LONG WALK.

Two Honolulu police officers walked from Honolulu to Kaneohe on Wednesday in pursuit of four Hawaiians charged with having done up Superintendent Rider of the Kakaako Mission the day before. It had been reported that the men had gone to the Nuuanu dam, and the officers were sent after them, armed with a warrant. The men had been at the dam, but had passed on, and the police passed on after them. Along the road they kept getting information, and finally one man was captured at Kaneohe. The other three had switched off the road and were reported coming back to town by the Koko Head road, officers being put on the watch for them.

The men were fighting together in the coffee shop opposite the mission in Kakaako on Tuesday morning when Rider butted in to be a peacemaker. Then the four turned on him, and while two held him the other two kicked him.

WIX'S KAUAI SKETCHES.

Two beautiful water color sketches from the brush of Otto Wix are on exhibition in the rooms of the Promotion Committee, loaned for the purpose by Mrs. W. H. Rice of Kauai. Both are scenes taken at Kalanipuu Point, one of the many picturesque bits on the Garden Island, and in each the artist has caught the one thing that makes unique the coast scenery of Hawaii, that happy blending of colors of sea and sand and cliff and greens to describe which words can not be found. Mrs. Rice prizes the sketches highly and those who have seen them in the promotion rooms can well understand why.

THE GLEANERS' CONCERT.

Dill, Not Salt Pickles

Pick a good, smooth, perfectly-shaped cucumber, handle it carefully, pack it for curing the same day it is picked, cure it by natural fermentation, flavor it with the best dill flowers and pure spices in the right proportion, and you have a Dill pickle almost as good as Heinz. There are a few more little touches necessary to make it quite as good as Heinz. Perhaps you would prefer to avoid the trouble of making them and also have the extra touches. INDUSTRIAL COMBINATIONS

What Form They Take in the Land of the Little Brown Men.

(Advertiser Correspondence, Copyright by Frederic J. Haskin.)

TOKIO, April 20.—The domestic industrialism of Japan is a complex mixture of guilds, trade-unions and cooperative stores. There are combinations of all sorts of skilled laborers, such as plasterers, sawyers, stone-masons, barbers, iron-workers, ship-builders, and so forth. Organizations also exist among actors, gamblers, wrestlers, pickpockets, and even the beggars have had their union. The guilds are most bewildering to the foreigner because of the secrecy and deception which surround their operations. They are relics of ancient feudal Japan, and were borrowed many centuries ago, with the most of Japanese learning and customs, from China. The guilds are entirely different from the trade unions as known in Europe and America, although they use the same weapons of strike and boycott to enforce respect for their demands. They have no federation or alliances with each other, yet each individual guild is secure from attack from the outside because no other guild will encroach upon its preserves. The adoption of Occidental civilization in Japan has had but little effect on these organizations, although a few of them have been revamped along the lines of American labor unions. For the most part the guild workers are in the lower ranks of society, and to these the Western ideas adopted by the governing class have not yet penetrated.

If one decides to build a house, a contract is made with the boss of the carpenters' guild. Work is begun, and in a short time the men are likely to decide to take a holiday. Although they may remain away from work for days, even when the need for rushing the job to completion is most urgent, there is no use trying to secure other workmen to take their places. They will return in time, and until they do the builder may as well possess his soul in patience. If, in the course of six months or a year, it becomes necessary to have repairs made on the house, the men of the same guild must be called to do the work. No others will touch it.

The cooks' guild has its own peculiar way of doing business. It not only determines what particular cook shall go to a certain household, but fixes the wages that he shall receive. The cooks' guild maintains a close working agreement with the organizations that furnish the food supplies. For instance, the cook brings forward a price list from the butcher, but it is understood that the man who provides the meat must give the cook a certain commission. Unless the housekeeper is vigilant, second-class meat will be charged for at first-class prices, thereby affording still further profit for the cook. In be deceived. That there are cheats and frauds in plenty everybody knows; but it is seldom or never that any large business house is guilty of them, no matter what line of trade it follows. There can be no permanent success of any kind based on dishonesty or deception. There never was, and never will be. The men who try that are simply fools and soon come to grief, as they deserve. Now many persons are, nevertheless, afraid to buy certain advertised articles lest they be humbugged and deluded; especially are they slow to place confidence in published statements of the merits of medicines. The effective modern remedy known as WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION is as safe and genuine an article to purchase as flour, silk or cotton goods from the mills of manufacturers with a world-wide reputation. We could not afford to exaggerate its qualities or honor, represent it in the least; and it is not necessary. It is palatable as honey and contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry; and how valuable such a blending of these important medicinal agents must be is plain to everybody. It is beyond price in Insomnia, Anemia, Weakness and lack of Nervous Tone, Poor Digestion, Lung Troubles and Blood Impurities. Science can furnish nothing better—perhaps nothing so good. Dr. W. H. Duffe, of Canada, says: "I have used it in my practice and take pleasure in recommending it as a valuable tonic and reconstructive." It is a remedy that can afford to appeal to its record and represents the science and knowledge of bright and aggressive medical investigation. "One bottle convinces." At chemist.

order to escape the exorbitant charges of the butchers' guild, two hundred foreign families in Kobe organized what is known as the Kobe Meat Club, and started a market of their own. The foreign residents of Yokohama took similar action in providing a steam laundry when the washers' guild became unreasonable in its charges.

Another large source of profit to the cooks of Yokohama is the control of the supply of green groceries. It was found that nearly all the cooks insisted upon patronizing a certain market. The reason for this preference was not because the manager offered special inducements in the way of liberal commissions, but because the cooks themselves owned most of the stock in the business. Owing to the many forms of graft radiating from the Oriental kitchen, the East is a cook's paradise. Five of the richest foreigners in Korea are men who went there in the humble capacity of chefs, yet who profited so well by the practice of high finance in the cuisine that they are now rated among the bloated plutocrats of the land.

The Grand Hotel in Yokohama is the best stand in Japan for jinnieksha men, and the guild that controls the work at this place is the closest of corporations. While the rates are higher from here than from other portions of the city, the men realize additional profit from generous tips. Rich Americans will frequently give five or ten dollars when the tariff is not more than seventy-five cents or a dollar. The guild puts up a deposit of 200 yen with the hotel management to guarantee good service, and elects one of its members as doorman. If at any time a member leaves, he is permitted to take down his share of the deposit money, and to realize what he can from the sale of his membership in the guild, provided there is no objection to the successor and that he can produce his share of the deposit money. It is said that coolies pay high for the privilege of joining the little band that gets such fat pickings from the tourists who frequent the Grand, but the exact amounts that have changed hands in the sale of these memberships are not known.

There are upwards of four hundred different kinds of guilds in Japan and the long list includes, among many other novel occupations, a thieves' union. The robbers' organization does a flourishing business, but it is supposed to confine its operations exclusively to the lower classes. When one of its members preys upon a person of official position or high social standing, the police send for the boss of the guild and demand that the booty be returned. In such cases restitution is generally made without delay. That the Japanese thief is not wholly lacking in a sense of courtesy, when called to task, was illustrated in the case of a pickpocket who snatched a watch from a lady's belt. The chain ring was broken by the violent jerk. When the watch was returned, it was found the culprit had not only gone to the expense of having the damage repaired, but had sent a note of apology for the poor workmanship and the delay occasioned by having it fixed.

Sometimes the thieves make their own terms when the police call upon them to disgorge. A clever rogue picked the pocket of the American Consul General while that distinguished gentleman was taking a journey on the train. The matter was reported to the police, and they of course sent word to the guild that the money, amounting to quite a sum, must be returned at once. In the course of time the report came back that the thief had already invested the proceeds of his haul to good advantage, but would return the exact amount if allowed to keep it for three months. His guild stood as security to the police, who in turn gave their pledge to the Consul General, and at the appointed time the money was returned.

While the police exercise power over the members of the thieves' union in certain circumstances, the officials do not come into personal contact with the culprits. When some stolen article is to be returned, it may be enclosed in a package and thrown over the wall at the police station, or it may be left secretly where the owner can find it. The thieves are organized to the extent of wearing distinguishing apparel. This fact was brought out on one occasion when an attempted robbery was frustrated by the approach of some pedestrians. The footpads made off in such haste that one of them lost his shoe. The policeman attracted to the scene merely glanced at the shoe and said: "I can tell from certain marks on this that the men belonged to the robbers' guild."

The stevedores have one of the oldest guilds and one of the largest memberships. There are over 3000 of them in Yokohama alone. While their work cannot be classified as skilled labor and they have no written rules at all, yet they hold together so well that they can boast of never having lost a strike. Their guild makes good any loss that may result from careless handling of freight, and there is little friction between them and their employers, except on the question of wages. At present they get forty-five cents a day, together with their noon meal consisting of rice and fish. The last time they struck or higher wages they were given an advance of two and a half cents a day. Their employers say that they will work like beavers, but will steal anything they can get their hands on, and will never fail to lie in preference to telling the truth.

While the government gives no official recognition to the guilds, it is known to be assisting financially and supervising some of them, particularly those in the weaving industries. When left to themselves the independent concerns turn out varying styles and grades of goods, and have to find their own market, thus wasting much of

GAS ON THE STOMACH

OFTEN THE CAUSE OF GREAT BODILY DISTRESS

It Indicates a Feeble Stomach in Which the Food Lies Undigested and Shows Need of Tonic Treatment.

When the stomach is feeble the food lies in it undigested, decays and throws off poisonous gases that distend the walls of the stomach, and cause interference with the action of the heart and lungs. These gases have other ill effects. They are absorbed by the blood and corrupt it and so cause aches in remote parts of the body and the formation of unhealthy tissue everywhere. General bodily weakness and loss of weight result. The nerves and the brain are disturbed and discomforts such as dizziness, hot flashes, sleeplessness, irritability, and despondency originate from this source.

Experience shows that these troubles vanish just as soon as the stomach is made strong enough to digest the food. In other words, it needs a tonic that will rouse it to do the work of changing the food into nourishment. The tonic used ought to be one that will agree with the most delicate stomach.

Mrs. Amelia Gwinn, a nurse by occupation, lives at 3133 Vernon avenue, Chicago, Ill. She said recently: "When I was living in Terre Haute, Ind., some years ago, I was in bad health for some months and did not know what ailed me, only that I did not feel like myself. My doctor said I was suffering with indigestion but he did not cure me."

"I had severe pains in the stomach and could not digest any solid food. I had to diet all of the time and had so much gas on the stomach that it seemed at times as though my breath was leaving me. I was greatly run down in health and lost in weight."

"I decided one day to drop the doctor's medicine and take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The first few boxes helped me and I took them until cured. I gained in weight, my digestion became good and I have been in splendid health since. I am glad to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as they are worth their weight in gold."

The remedy which gave Mrs. Gwinn complete health can be obtained at any drug store or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., at 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50. Every dyspeptic should read "What to Eat and How to Eat." Write for a free copy today.

..... their energy from a lack of concerted effort. By fixing upon certain staple grades and appointing a common selling agent, the general standard of the output will not only be raised but the market can be approached to much better advantage on account of the unity of purpose.

Information about the guilds is most difficult to obtain. One hears of some high government official conferring with the leaders, and there are rumors of subsidies being granted upon certain conditions, but there can be no confirmation of these reports. Even the most ordinary matters are hedged about with such secrecy and deception that it would seem to be a country where nothing is ever known that can be kept secret; where the whole truth is never told if a half truth will suffice. All this evasion and indirection is an ingrained characteristic of the people that has its root in the feudal practices of ancient days.

In the time of the clans the members of each clique used their utmost endeavor to keep their affairs from their rivals, and to that end used every device their cunning could invent. While the need for such caution ceased with the passing of the old order of things, the hereditary traits of reticence and suspicion remain as racial faults. As a consequence, even the most trivial matters concerning the individual are still hidden under a mantle of concealment. Even the Japanese government, claiming the right to stand among the powers and asking their frank consideration, bemoans its affairs and proceeds in the same devious way as if the other nations, whose confidence and cooperation it solicits, were rival clans that must either be kept in the dark or purposely misled.

THE PINEAPPLE MEN ORGANIZE

Hawaiian Pineapple Growers' Association Is Formed.

The Hawaiian Pineapple Growers' Association was organized yesterday afternoon at a meeting held for the purpose at which all the principal growers of the Islands were represented.

The principal objects of the organization are: The development of the pineapple industry of the Islands; and the securing of greater economy and improvements in the methods of cultivation, packing, transporting, and marketing of pineapples and the products thereof.

The need of such an organization has been more and more clearly felt as the crop of the Islands has increased and questions of marketing have become more important.

The output of the Islands last year was something over 195,000 cases. This year it will be 388,000 cases. Next year it is expected that it will be well beyond a half million cases. The form of organization with the by-laws to carry it out were reported by a committee consisting of L. A. Thurston, George F. Davies and T. H. Petrie.

The following canneries were represented at the meeting yesterday:

Hawaiian Pineapple Company, Ltd., Wahiaua Consolidated Pineapple Co., Ltd., Haiku Fruit & Packing Co., Ltd., Captain Cook Coffee Co., Kanai Fruit & Land Co., Pearl City Fruit Co., Hilo Fruit Co., Hawaiian Isles Packing Co., and the Thomas Pineapple Co.

The officers for the ensuing year will be as follows: J. D. Dole, president; W. H. Baird, vice president; T. H. Petrie, secretary and treasurer, and D. B. Murdoch, auditor. The directors will be J. D. Dole, W. H. Baird, T. H. Petrie, Geo. E. Davies, L. G. Kellogg, L. A. Thurston, W. A. Baldwin, A. W. Eames and Will P. Thomas.

THE MASCOT PLEAS ALL THAT WITNESS IT

It is very evident that the public is taking advantage of the last chance to see "The Mascot" next Saturday by the manner in which the tickets are going.

Although there have been several other attractions in Honolulu lately, they do not seem to have interfered with the box receipts of "The Mascot."

That the amateurs have been able to hold their own under these circumstances speaks exceedingly well for "The Mascot," which without doubt could play to crowded houses for another week.

The performance on Saturday will be of the same high-class standard as last week's productions.

All taking part in "The Mascot" are now beginning to feel more like professionals than amateurs, and certainly their work more nearly approaches the former than the latter.

Public opinion of "The Mascot" has been most flattering, and nice things continue to be said of that production from all quarters.

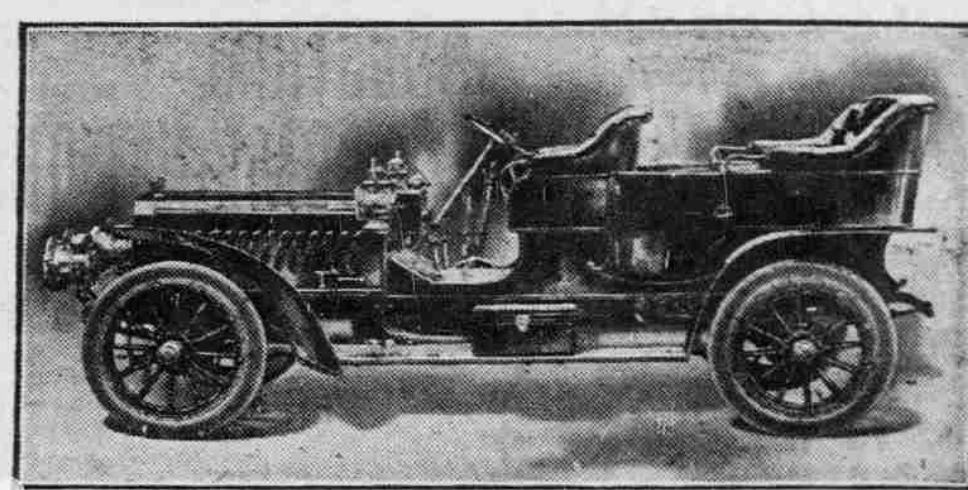

"The Mascot" has without a doubt given new life to amateur productions in Honolulu, and will long be remembered by all who were fortunate enough to have seen it. There is still one more chance for those who have not seen "The Mascot," and they will doubtless take it on Saturday. The sale of tickets is progressing rapidly at Wall, Nichols, and all are advised to secure theirs as early as possible.

WORLD'S NEWS DAILY

MARINE

Unofficially, the manager for the local agency not being available for verification last night, it is announced that the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company is about to make an important change in its local and coastal schedules.

Not long ago there were inaugurated the runs of the steamships Nebraska and Nevada between Honolulu and San Francisco direct, two other boats running between Tacoma and Seattle and Honolulu.

The new plan, according to the report, is to take the Nevada and Nebraska, the smallest boats of the American-Hawaiian fleet in this ocean, off the local run and put them in the coastal traffic between Salina Cruz, San Diego, San Francisco, Seattle and Tacoma, putting one of the big freighters on the San Francisco-Honolulu run, or perhaps putting on two large vessels.

TODAY'S PROGRAM.

A busy bunch of business is scheduled for the waterfront today and should start with the daylight arrival off port of the Oceanic steamship Alameda from San Francisco with seven days' mail, perhaps closely followed by the A. H. S. Nebraska from San Francisco, with the A. H. S. S. Alaska coming in from Seattle toward evening, and the P. M. S. S. Siberia looming up from the Orient during the forenoon.

BRITISH BARK HOLYWOOD HERE.
The tug Intrepid yesterday afternoon towed in the British bark Holywood, Captain Smith, fifty-one days from Junin ports, Peru, with fertilizer. On account of failure to perfect her health papers at the last port she was placed in quarantine here in the stream and will probably enter a slip today when the documents are straightened out. The Holywood, a vessel of 1477 tons, and formerly commanded by Captain McConnell, left Peru on March 16.

POOHING SUEY FOR ELELE.
The American bark Pooching Suey, Captain Bandfield, left yesterday afternoon for Elele, Kauai, to load sugar for around the Horn to New York. She arrived here from New York on April 18 after a voyage of 140 days. Going back she hopes to knock off about a month from her outward score.

QUICK TRIP AROUND HORN.
The British S. S. Carlton, which arrived at San Francisco a month ago, made the run from Baltimore to that port with only one stop, and that for ten minutes to enable the engineers to replace a badly behaved check valve. The voyage occupied sixty-five days and fourteen hours. She had as cargo 6330 tons of coal for the U. S. Navy. Contrary to the custom for steam vessels she rounded Cape Horn.

HOPING FOR BANGALORE.
Opinions widely differ on the waterfront as to the likelihood of the long overdue American ship Bangalore, 198 days out of Norfolk for Honolulu with coal for the Navy, showing up here. Navy men here have said that they will not give her up for fifty days yet and, on the other hand, certain pilots and skippers declare that she will never again be heard of.

The reasons for these opinions are peculiar. Backing the statement that she should be allowed another fifty days, a Navy man last evening declared that he had a "hunch" that she had shifted her cargo in heavy weather and had for many days been unable to make any progress and that much time was occupied in trimming cargo when the opportunity offered after the storm. Some of those who maintain that she will not be heard of again think she has been burned at sea and that perhaps some of her crew will turn up. They have no faith in the shifting of cargo theory, saying she would not live out a storm in which she shifted her load.

DEPUTY COLLECTOR INJURED.

Deputy Collector of Customs Charles H. Raven on Wednesday morning, about 9 o'clock, tripped on the stairs from the inspectors' office and, falling heavily, fractured his left forearm in two places. He was removed to the hospital and later to his home, where he is now resting. It will probably be two months before he is able to resume his duties.

The customs force is unfortunately just now in the matter of men laid off. Inspector M. W. Tschudi, Inspector Roger J. Taylor and Inspector Charles M. Neal being afflicted with the grip, or whatever the prevalent cold with variations is called.

FOR COALING THE TRANSPORTS.

Bids for handling the coal for the army transports were opened yesterday morning at the office of the Depot Quartermaster. In all probability McCabe, Hamilton and Renny will get the contract. There were three bids as follows:

McCabe, Hamilton & Renny: Discharging coal, 32-1-2 per ton by day 40 per ton nights, Sundays and holidays. Loading the carts from the ships

CIRCULAR TO SHIPMASTERS.
"Beginning with the month of July, 1908, it is the intention of the U. S. Weather Bureau to issue each month meteorological charts of the North Atlantic Ocean and North Pacific Ocean, and to distribute these charts free of cost to all cooperating shipmasters.

"We have at the present time 1200 observers, hailing from every port and flying the flag of every nation, and by a systematic collation on a daily synoptic chart of the meteorological data received from these vessels we are enabled to show the meteorological conditions prevailing over the oceans at Greenwich mean noon of each successive day.

"Aside from its scientific value to the students of meteorology, it is the purpose of this tabulation to furnish the navigators with a statement of the average force and direction of the prevailing winds for all coast stations and for each 5 deg. square of latitude and longitude, the average pressure and temperature and the percentage of fog being for each 1 deg. square of latitude and longitude.

"The normal pressure and temperature curves will be drawn on the face of the chart; it is by a careful study of these data that the practical navigator may be enabled to more economically and safely shape his course; it is from this chart also that he can obtain information of the character and progress of ocean storms, and of the regions of the ocean in which they are most liable to occur.

"The scope of these charts is at present confined to the North Atlantic and the North Pacific oceans, but it is hoped that an increased interest in our work, on the part of vessel masters, may in the course of another year enable us to issue charts for the southern oceans.

"The meteorological charts will be mailed direct from the Central Office in Washington, D. C., to all cooperating observers and the captain of each ship, and a number will be sent to each foreign consulate and the branch Weather Bureau stations named in Form 1201-Marine; those for the North Pacific will be mailed about the 1st and those for the North Atlantic about the 5th of the preceding month.

"The U. S. Weather Bureau also maintains, for the use of shipmasters and others, eight telegraphic stations on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, viz.: Block Island, R. I.; Cape Henry, Va.; Jupiter and Sand Key, Fla.; Southeast Farallon and Point Reyes, Cal.; North Head and Tatoosh Islands, Wash.

"These stations are equipped for signaling by the International Code and prepared to transmit, by telegraph, messages of passing vessels, Sand Key, in addition, is prepared to transmit and receive messages to and from passing vessels at night by flashlight signals (Morse Code). During the last fiscal year 27,876 vessels were reported to the agents and owners.

ALLEGED GRAFT STORY A JOKE

Vealy Yarn Laughed at by the Ones Supposed to Be Involved.

Yamashita, who was convicted in the District Court of running a blind pig and who appealed his case, is now on trial before Judge Robinson. The principal witnesses against him are Lieutenant Luahiwa, Police Officer Hose Peter and an informer, Kawamoto Kitano. E. C. Peters is appearing for the defense and Deputy County Attorney Milverton is prosecuting.

In testifying yesterday Luahiwa was rattled by the cross-examination of Peters and his answers and those of the informer to certain questions led to the introduction of the word "graft" into the case, principally through the construction put upon the informer's testimony by the attorney for the defense for the benefit of impressionable jurymen. Luahiwa testified that he had caused to be paid $70 to the informer for informer fees, the receipts for the money being produced. The money was paid the informer by Clerk Rose of the Sheriff's office, Rose being in attendance at the trial to give testimony to that effect. The informer acknowledged his signature on the receipts

FINDINGS OF FACT FOR HIGHER COURT

What Our Supreme Court Says in the Liliha Street Case.

The Supreme Court yesterday morning filed its findings of fact in the Liliha street property owners' injunction against the Rapid Transit Company. These findings of fact are for the Supreme Court of the United States on the appeal taken by the Rapid Transit Company from the decision of the court here enjoining it from changing the Liliha street schedule.

In making its findings the court says that if the question were an open one it would hold that no findings of this kind would be necessary on appeal, as in its opinion the Organic Act controls in the matter of such appeals. But as the Supreme Court of the United States in the Bierce case has given a contrary intimation, it makes findings of fact. These are eight in number. In the first three the court find as a fact: The legal existence of the defendant as a corporation; that the company operates a single track system in Honolulu and among other lines is the Liliha-Waialae line; the part on Liliha street was a part of the first line operated and has been operated continuously ever since on a ten-minute schedule; and that in 1901 the service was extended to Waialae on a thirty-minute schedule from Pawaia junction.

The others in order are: (4) Since the latter part of 1905 a car has been run every twenty minutes during the day from the junction of Wyllie and Liliha streets to the Waialae terminus the line passing through the business section of Honolulu, the center of which is Fort street, while the alternate cars constituting the ten-minute service on Liliha street stopped at River street. Connections were made with the ten-minute service on the King street line at the foot of Liliha street and the bulk of the travel transferred at this point to and from the King street line which is the longest and most important line of the company.

(5) The population of Honolulu is about 40,000.

(6) The map of Honolulu shown in evidence showing the street car system may be referred to as a part of these findings.

(7) The company proposed to change the service so as to give, with the same number of cars, a fifteen-minute service throughout the Liliha-Waialae line and procured permission from the Superintendent of Public Works to change its switches so as to give this service. Objection was made by some of its patrons. After conferences with a committee which urged a ten-minute service throughout the line the company agreed to a compromise service which should give a twenty-minute service during the entire day and a ten-minute service from 5:45 to 9 a. m. and from 4 to 6 p. m. The company applied to the Superintendent of Public Works for permission to change its switches so as to give this service. This suit was brought by the Attorney General at the request of dissatisfied residents of the district served by the Liliha street line.

(8) The evidence showed that public convenience required the continuance of a ten-minute service on Liliha street. The court is of the opinion that the eighth finding is a finding of fact, but upon the appellant's contention that it is a mixed question of law and fact, and its insistence that its rights in the Supreme Court of the United States would be prejudiced should the Supreme Court take its view of the matter, and there should be in the record no findings of fact upon which said eighth finding was based, the court makes the following findings of the principal evidential facts leading to its eighth finding.

(8a) A ten-minute service on Liliha street has been continuously maintained since the beginning of the operation of the street railway system by the company in Honolulu, to wit, since about September, 1901.

(8b) During that period there has been a steady increase in the population in the district served by the Liliha street line.

(8c) Property in the section served by the Liliha street line has been purchased and houses built in reliance upon a ten-minute service.

(8d) There is a large prospect of further increase in the population served by the Liliha street line owing to a recent sale of homestead lots at Alewa by the government.

(8e) There was testimony of individual patrons tending to show that public inconvenience would result from the proposed change.

(8f) The entire system of the company is operated at a profit.

(8g) The evidence did not show either that the Liliha street line or the Liliha Street-Waialae line was operated at a loss.

(8h) The remainder of the defendant system except the two outlying districts of Manoa and Waialae is operated upon a ten-minute service.

The case now goes to the Supreme Court of the United States upon these findings of fact for it to determine whether under the law the proceeding by the Attorney General was authorized, and whether if it were, the law and the facts justify the perpetual injunction.

THREE JURY TRIALS AT ONCE

Dole, De Bolt and Robinson Are All Engaged With Juries.

Three jury trials were on concurrent in the Judiciary building yesterday, in as many different court rooms. In each case there was quite an imposing array of counsel, and a hard fight was being put up.

Before Judge Dole, Frank J. Dillon, formerly assistant postmaster at Kahului was on trial for the alleged embezzlement of $100.00 from the money order department of the office January 25, 1907. Assistant United States Attorney W. T. Rawlins is prosecuting the case for the United States and Frank Thompson and A. S. Humphreys are defending. The case has been put over from term to term. So far only one witness has been called, Ferdinand Hons, who has been testifying to the accounts of the postoffice. The inference from Thompson's questions to the jurors on their voir dire would be that in the defense it will be attempted to be shown that Dillon was being made a scapegoat for the protection of some other persons.

Before Judge De Bolt, sitting in Judge Lindsay's court room because of its greater commodiousness and better ventilation, the suit of W. W. Bierce Company against Clinton J. Hutchins and A. B. Wood, and Albert and William Waterhouse as executors of the will of the late Henry Waterhouse was begun. This is one link in litigation that has been going on for five years. It is a suit on a replevin bond for $30,000 given by Hutchins as principal and the other defendants as sureties, conditioned on the return to the plaintiffs of a railroad built and equipped by the plaintiff for the Kona Sugar Company and sold at receiver's sale. The value of the railroad as determined by the Supreme Court in previous litigation was $22,000. With interest this now amounts to about $23,000 which is the amount the plaintiff is seeking to recover. The plaintiff is represented by C. W. Prouty of Chicago and A. G. M. Robertson. The defendants are severally represented by J. W. Cathcart, D. L. Withington and Abram Lewis Jr. A jury was secured shortly before noon, and the remainder of the day was spent in putting in evidence of the records of previous litigation upon which the present litigation rests. James A. Thompson, clerk of the Supreme Court was on the stand all day reading the records as they were called for.

The third case was the trial of Yamashita charged with illicit liquor selling January 6. The case is being heard before Judge Robinson and a jury. It is being prosecuted by Deputy County Attorney Milverton, and defended by former Attorney General Peters. The testimony in this case has all been heard and a part of the argument of counsel. The case will probably go to the jury before noon today.

JURORS GET A PAYDAY.

An order was entered in the United States District Court Wednesday by Judge Dole authorizing United States Marshal Hendry to pay jurors' per diem and mileage up to date. It is not usual to pay these things until the end of the quarter, June 30. But as a matter of convenience to the jurors this order was made.

CLAIM THE LAND.

Father Valentine and the Hawaiian Trust Company as trustees of the estate of John Ena have filed an answer to the petition of James B. Castle for a registered title to certain lands. They claim that a portion of the land of Naniupao in Manoa valley which is included in the lands petitioned for is owned by the Bishop of Zeugma and was leased in 1876 to John Ena.

The Bishop of Zeugma also files an answer claiming title to these lands as successor to Bishop Maigler, Bishop of Arathie.

THE DILLON JURY.

The following is the jury selected to try Frank J. Dillon in Judge Dole's court: Rudolph M. Duncan, Harry A. Giles, John Coffee, Charles Barton, H. R. Macfarlane, Arthur Coyne, A. C. Silva, Joseph Aka, Samuel P. Woods, William C. Wilder, A. Henry Afong, A. J. Gonsalves.

LEASE OF KOHALA LANDS.

A lease of some 500 acres of land adjoining the Kohala Ranch Company's lands in Kohala has been filed for record with Registrar Merriam. The lessors are Carrie Luhlau-Lazaro, Samuel C. Luhlau, Clive Luhlau and Alice H. Wilson, the widow and heirs of the late Rev. Samuel C. Luhlau. The lease is for five years at an annual rental of $150.

A BROKEN DOWN SYSTEM.

This is a condition (or disease) to which doctors give many names, but which few of them really understand. It is simply weakness—a break-down, as it were, of the vital forces that sustain the system. No matter what may be its causes (for they are almost numberless), its symptoms are much the same; the more prominent being sleeplessness, sense of prostration or weariness, depression of spirits and want of energy for all the ordinary affairs of life. Now, what alone is absolutely essential in all such cases is INCREASED VITALITY—vigour—VITAL STRENGTH AND ENERGY to prove that as night succeeds the day this may throw off these morbid feelings, and experience be more certainly secured by a course of the celebrated life-reviving tonic.

THERAPION NO. 3.

than by any other known combination. So surely as it is taken in accordance with the printed directions accompanying it, will the shattered health be restored, the EXPIRING LAMP OF LIFE LIGHTED UP AFRESH, and a new existence imparted in place of what had so lately seemed worn-out, "used up" and valueless. This wonderful medicament is purely vegetable and innocuous, is agreeable to the taste—suitable for all constitutions and conditions, in either sex; and it is difficult to imagine a case of disease or derangement, whose many features are those of debility, that will not be speedily and permanently benefited by this never-failing recuperative essence, which is destined to cast into oblivion everything that had preceded it for this widespread and numerous class of human ailments.

is sold by principal Chemists throughout the world. Price in England 2/6 and 4/6. In ordering, state which of the three numbers required, and observe that the word "Therapion" appears on British Government Stamp (in white letters on a red ground) affixed to every package by order of His Majesty's Hon. Com. Missioners, and without which it is a forgery.

What He Saw at Kilauea

Mr. C. L. La Rue of Sacramento, California, who has traveled extensively around the world, returned from Hawaii by the S. S. Mauna Loa Tuesday of this week; in an interview he said:

Yes, I have just been to the volcano; was it worth while? Well! I should think so; it was worth going around the world to see; I would not have missed it for any consideration; it is a spectacular performance which cannot be described; it is so awfully fascinating that one can hardly leave it; if my business would have permitted, I would have remained there a week. The wonder to me is that your Honolulu people do not make more of it; they can't realize the extent of the present activity; I understand that hundreds went up to see the flow of 1907, and that it was not a bit more attractive than Kilauea is at the present time.

Everybody returns from the volcano with the same enthusiasm and yet Honolulu has not awakened to the fact that a great eruption is taking place within twenty-four hours' travel of her gates.

AN AMERICAN CONQUEST

Merit will tell, as is proved by the continually increasing hold which it has in all parts of the universe, and its latest conquest, viz., the United States of America, will make it more widely used than any other in the world. The secret of its success is due to the fact that it is not only delicious to the palate, but that it is equally beneficial to the stomach and the entire system. From Philadelphia the superintendent writes: "For the past year we have been using Tansan Waters at the American Hospital for Diseases of the Stomach in cases of Chronic Gastric Catarrh; also in cases of deficient urinary secretion. It has proven a highly useful adjunct in the treatment of these cases. We are dispensing it as a drinking water to our private-room patients." Typhoid, Dysentery and kindred diseases are unknown to Tansan drinkers.
Ring up 191 and place order.
