HOW DID REGO THEY MANAGE SCHEME WITHOUT HELP?

Rather a Puzzling Problem Presents Itself to the Federal Authorities for Solution in This.

Now, how could Manuel A. Rego, postmaster at the fourth ciass office at Koloa, pass money orders of the value of $27,356 through the postoffice at Honolulu without collusion on the part of somebody not in the Koloa office?

That is the question whose solution in now engaging the attention of the local Federal officials. That they will solve it, goes without saying. That is their trade. That things will be doing when they solve it, likewise goes without saying. And then Rego may have company over in Oahu jail.

Rego was formally taken into custody yesterday upon a charge of defrauding the United States Postoffice Department and had his examination at once before Federal District Court Commissioner Judd. Attorney Humphreys represented him, but advanced no defense at the moment. The only witness examined at the heating yesterday was Postal Inspector Hare, who went down to Koloa to look into the matter, and with whom Rego came back to this city.

.Mr. Hare testified that when he first discovered the shortage, Rego said that it was an apparent one, merely, due to the fact that Spalding, his deputy, had not made up his books. He wanted a few days' time in which to write up the books, when he said it would appear that there was nothing wrong. Hare replied that he would go ahead upon things as they were, and then Rego admitted that he had taken the money, but said that he had banked it at arrival. Honolulu, with the Bank of Hawaii and Bishop's bank, and that he would restore it.

"Very well," answered Hare. "Give me a check for it."

The check was given, and then Hare said that he would telegraph the banks to see how much money was held by them in deposit to the credit of Rego. The message was sent, Rego offering no objection, and no answer was received from the Bank of Hawaii, although Bishop & Co., replied that it held $1100 to the credit of Rego's account.

When he was confronted with these messages from the banks, Rego said that he had taken the money, and used it in his business. And then he was brought to Honolulu-or, to be exact, was asked to

"There is a Honolulu end to the Baldwin poisoning case," said Representative Sheldon of Kauai yesterday. Representative Sheldon, by the way, is the man who was put on the Republican Nobles Petition the Czar to Give ticket in Koloa when Manuel Rego, now in jail for issuing fake money orders while he was postmaster, declined to make the race.

"The local police are extremely reticent about the case," Mr. Sheldon went on, "but they admit that they have sent down to Honolulu to arrest a third man, having two in custody now, and say that when they get this man they will have all the Japanese who are implicated in the matter. It seems that when the discovery was made that poison had been put in the drinking water used at the house of Manager B. D. Baldwin of Makaweli plantation, the effects of the Japanese cook at the Manager's house were searched and poison of a similar character was found in his possession. The poisoned water and food were sent to Honolulu for analysis. The police working on clews that they refuse to talk about, followed the arrest of the cook by taking a sugar mill hand into custody and there was a third man arrested at that time, but he was subsequently discharged. Now they are searching Honolulu for the third man."

This is believed to be the man who bought the poison here and sent it to his confederates in Kauai. When they get this man, the chain will be complete.

"The motive?" resumed Mr. Sheldon, "I cannot say. Maybe the Japanese disliked Baldwin because he was a man who made them live up to their contracts. The police are reticent as to that, also. No; I do not believe the attempted poisoning is an aftermath of the recent strike on the plantation.'

Advices from Kauai are to the effect that the whole island is stirred up over the Baldwin case, and it is even said that Will Baldwin, who preceded B. D. Baldwin in the management of Makaweli, was a victim of slow poison. At all events, for a long time before he left Makaweli, Will Baldwin was ill, and did not fully recover his health until he left Kauai. It is thought that the plan of the poisoners was to administer minute doses, so as to cause lingering death in such a way that no suspicion would be directed toward them. Hugh Morrison, manager of Makaweli just previous to Will Baldwin, was taken deathly sick and kept failing in health until at last he was obliged to resign his situation and leave for the Coast in search of health, where he died a short time after his

B. D. Baldwin, as well as some of his family, has been unwell for some time. In fact, a few months ago Mr. Baldwin was critically ill and everything goes to show that the Baldwins have been taking poisons into their systems for many months, and it is said that these poisons have been given them by two Japanese employed at Makaweli, namely Nomi Nizo, a cook employed by Mr. Baldwin, and Yonemoto, a man employed in the mill.

Sheriff Coney went to Makaweli last week and arrested Nomi Nizo and Yonemoto and took them to Waimea, where their case came up in Judge Hofgaard's court last Wednesday. The case was postponed until February 11th, as a Japanese who is an important witness in the case is now in Honolulu.

This story of the Honolulu witness is the police story, given out is thought so that the man who is really wanted will not be put upon his guard. A Kauai officer is now here looking for this man, and will take him at once to the Garden Island if he can be found. There are conflicting stories as to the character of the poison used, one saying that the cook at the plantation house was seen putting arsenic or something of that kind into the drinking water used at the house, while still another is to the effect that the plantation chemist found that Mr. Baldwin had been taking bichloride of mercury into his system.

come to Honolulu, and he came.

That was all the testimony adduced at the hearing, and upon the attorney for the defendant stating that he had nothing to advance at this time, Commissioner Judd committed Rego to Oahu prison for trial in default of ten thousand dollars bail. He was at once taken to the jail and is there now.

Behind this there is a story that will make good reading when it comes to be told, although the officers are not yet ready to tell it. As to Rego, he used to be king of Koloa, but his throne has been tottering for a little time past, so it is said. There was a time, not long ago, when nothing was done at Koloa without Rego's consent, and when nothing was even attempted until his advice had been asked and his approval secured. He had the only business house in the place, he was the postmaster, the plantation people allowed laborers to trade where they pleased, and he had much cane planted out on contract. Indeed, he has that yet.

This, however, was not allowed to go on. Hackfeld & Co. opened a store of their own at Koloa, doing a rushing trade, and of course all that they did was taken from Rego. Then, although Rego was still to all appearances prosperous, it is said that certain large creditors in Honolulu began to press him, and he felt a need for ready money. He could not realize on his cane contracts, although there was every reason to believe that they would have paid him out if he could have realized. It is believed that he saw the chance to borrow money from Uncle Sam by his crude system of fake money orders, intending to pay it all back when his returns came in, and that it was by some such course of reasoning as this that he was led astray. He had been king so long, that he took a desperate chance when he saw himself being driven to the wall by adverse circumstances. Evidently, he did not realize that the arm of Uncle Sam is longer than the arm of any creditor and that wrong done to the Federal Government cannot be "squared."

Whether action for forgery will lie because of the signature to fake order assignments of the names of people who had no knowledge whatever that their names were being so used, is a question for the lawyers to determine. Rego is in jail, unable to give a bond that is not half as large as the sum of his sbortage, and he may have company-unless the game he worked was so crude that it was allowed to go on because of its very crudity, nobody believing that a sane man would attempt anything so foolish. However, while the game was crude, that is probably not true. The government surrounds its money order system with safeguards against just such crude work as that done by Rego. If it did not, the money order system would not be so popular as it is. It is because of the feeling of absolute security that people send money by postal pines with his secretary, Mgr. Petrelli, passed through Honolulu order.

AUBURN, Cal. Feb. 7 .- The Weber trial has begun.

> On the evening of November 10 last, the home of Julius Weber, a weathy retired brewer of Auburn, California, was burned. In the ruins were found the bodies of Mr. Weber and his wife, their daughter, Bertha Weber, and their youngest son. All had been shot to death. Suspicion pointed to the older son, Adolph Weber, and he was arrested charged with the murders on Nov. 12. He attempted to prove an alibi but his story was refuted by witnesses. He is also charged with robbing the Auburn Bank; a pail of gold, supposed to be a part of the booty taken from the bank a month before, being found under the barn. Young Weber seems to have been addicted to the dime novel habit and is thought by some to be mentally unbalanced.

HAWAHAN GAZETTE, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1905 .- SEMI-WEEKLY,

At the monthly meeting last night of the Pepublican Territorial Central Committee the offensive amendment to the by-laws, wherein it was desired to was largely attended and proved very have Governent officials kept from particinating in party management or going as delegates to nominating conventions, was withdrawn. But another one was substituted, wherein no member of the Executive Committee of the Territorial Central Committee may be indorsed for a Government position boys and girls, most of whom remained during his term of office. In other words, "the boot is on the other leg." The section proposed to be amended, seemed to bring the matter which of the Republican party, was the one first paper of the evening. of the Republican party, was the one which Mr. Adams and charles Clark were most desirous of having passed.

Mr. Adams proniptly withdrew the section, but he substituted the other. Mr. Adams has the proty of Mr. Cooke of Maul, which island is generally supposed to be in favor of permitting Government officials to serve on the various organizing and executive committees, yet it was understood that Mr. Cooke, personally, was opposed, and in present in the study of insect life, at using his proxy last night Mr. Adams had a formidable weapon of termusion to carry his own measure through.

Section 14 of Article 6 was therefore amended to read:

"No member of the Executive Committee of the Central Committee shall intensely interesting and able practical be indorsed or recommended for appointment to any Government office during the term for which he was elect-ed, and no Government official shall be urging people to become interested in elected or appointed as a member of said committee, or hold the proxy of any member of said committee."

The committee then adouted the following resolution passed by the Fifth ject. He traced the history of the fruit, District Committee at a meeting held on January 4.

"Resolved, That it is the sense of the Executive Committee of the District Committee that all proposed rules and but it came rather in several importaregulations covering Government of- tions. Mr. Davis was of the opinion ficials being excluded from the Central Committee, be presented to the members of the Republican party and be a very profitable export. He told of voted on by them at the next primary election, and the majority vote will decide its adoption by the party."

Another Interesting amendment adopted was that no member of any nominating computtee shall hold more than one proxy. The sub-committee presenting the entire set of amendments had originally proposed a minimum of two proxies.

Senator Hewitt's amendment to Section 2 of Article 5, providing that "no of the Government (not including members of the Legislature) shall be eligible to be a member of the executive committee" was lost. Hewitt's amendment regarding membership on the :entral committee was also lost, Another amendment adopted was to the effect that at primary elections no one shall be permitted to stand closer than ten feet to any one marking his ballot. This practically puts the professional politician out of business.

This took the form of an informal talk by D. L. Van Dine on the subject of "Insects," illustrated with lantern slides. No attempt was made to make the talk technical, but Mr. Van Dine showed pictures of different classes of insects, of beneficial and harmful insects, and the more common appliances for the extermination of pests An endeavor was made to interest those least, enough study to enable them to distinguish the harmful from the harmless. Representations of the common house and store pests were shown, as well as agricultural pests and their remedies. Altogether the talk was an presentation of a subject much neglected by the layman. Following the talk at least the rudiments of entomology. The next topic of discussion was the avocado or alligator pear. Mr. Henry Davis read an able paper on the sub-

Mr. Davis told of his own experience in growing the trees. He was followed by Mr. Brigham, who showed some specimen models of the fruit that he had raised. He laid special emphasis on the need of careful cultivation and fertilization.

One member was of the opinion that trees did better at sea level than at 1000 feet elevation. It was stated that pears had been shipped to New York and had arrived in good condition, and that they had been kept in cold storage for seven weeks here. Alexander Craw said that the fruit had often brought twenty-five cents aplece in San Francisco and urged its cultivation as one of the best things a small farmer could do. He advised that only about a half an inch of stem be left on each fruit and that the fruit be cut from the tree and not pulled.

Wong Kai Kah returns to China filled with the hope that there may be closer business relations between the United States and the Empire, and that there will be a remodeling of the exclusion laws whereby the merchant class may be permitted more freedom in their movements to and from the United States. He, personally, is not an advocate of an invasion of Chinese laborers into the United States to compete with American mechanics, but he pleads for more advantages to the class of Chinese who will serve to upbuild America's commercial supremacy.

The distinguished visitor is a gradu-ate of Yale, class of '84. He visited his alma mater last June at commencement time, when a reunion of his class was held. He is having his sons educated in the United States, the oldest having attended an Indianapolis public school for a year. Both boys now speak excellent English, dressing in the height of Broadway's fashion, and both hope to follow in their father's footsteps by attending Yale. Neither of the boys wears a queue.

"The St. Louis exposition has given our merchants a new idea of the greatness of the United States," said the envoy while taking his ease on the Hawallan Hotel lanal. It might be well to state that Mr. Wong Kai Kah speaks English fluently and purely. One hearing Mr. Wong without seeing him might mistake him for a Cambridge bred Briton.

"Our merchants are interested in American manufactures and all the varied industries of the United States," he continued. "They now have some idea of the origin of what they have been buying and selling in China. The Chinese pavilion was visited by thousands and great interest was manifested in it. They wish to go there to see at first hand the goods they wish to purchase. They want to see where and how they are manufactured. That is much better than buying from samples shown them by traveling drummers. It is said they take away money all the time. And so do they leave money, for they buy merchandise to be shipped to China. Chinese merchants travel all over Europe purchasing merchandise, and they see what they want. To permit our merchants to have this privilege will be to increase the commercial supremacy of the United States."

> Mr. Wong praised Honolulu. It was a beautiful and progressive city and had a glorious climate. He had enjoyed a drive about the city and hoped he would be able to call here again in the near future.

Prince Pu Lun, he said, was in China and in excellent health. Two things had especially impressed the Prince while in the United States. The schools and the newspapers, which he said were the twin factors in making the United States so great.

SPOT ON A SHERIFF OUT OF LUCK

Is a fine that has been paid into the hands of a Sheriff a government realization, belonging to the Territorial Treasurer, or has a Circuit Judge power to order it refunded to a prisoner upon motion of his attorney? Inci-dentally, is a sheriff who does not obey the order of a Circuit Judge right up-on the hour liable to fine for contempt?

This last is a lesser question, but all three have arisen in a recent court proceeding before Judge Parsons at Hilo, and may be tested if a way can * three cases, the Territory vs. Kuokoa, the Territory vs. Kaiwi and the Territory vs. Peter Kanakaole, all the defendants being convicted in the Dis-trict Court of Puna, were appealed to the Supreme Court and the appeals were dismissed. Instructions were Court their fines. This was upon January 21. The men were taken into custody on an order of Judge Parsons, paid their fines to Deputy Sheriff Fetter, and were discharged. A week later, on January 28, Carl Smith, attorney for the three men, raised the point that the District Court, under a ruling of the Supreme Court, could not convict men of infamous crimes, and Judge Parsons issued a second order that the fines and costs paid by the three men should be turned into court instead of being remitted to the treasurer. Sherin Andrews was at this time on board the Mauna Loa, returning from Kallua to Kau on his way to Hilo. He was telephoned at Kau that there was something doing in the case, but the telephone worked poorly, and the Sheriff could not make out very clearly just what was the matter. He instructed Fetter to hold the money until next day, when he would reach Hilo. On arriving at Hilo, he found that the case had been set for trial on the following Wednesday, the Judge in the meantime having cited Deputy Fetter, who had obeyed his superior officer, to appear for contempt for not having been ordered to do. The Judge allowed Sheriff Andrews to appear in behalf of Fetter and of himself, and discharged Fetter on the showing made-but fined Andrews himself fifty dollars for contempt in not having paid the money into court himself at the time he had been ordered to do so. Andrews, un-fortunately, had been cited to appear at three o'clock, and it was four be-

WITNESS GIVES BAIL FOR APPEARANCE

A wireless message received from Hilo yesterday stated that Dr. Y. Nagal, the Japanese physician wanted as a witness in the Moriyama murder case, who had been ordered home by the Mikado to join the army, had appeared before Judge Parsons at Hilo and given cash bail in the sum of $500 for his appearance in court when wanted. And that probably closes the international incident, leaving the doctor free to go home to Japan and fight if it pleases him-or rather to minister to the needs of others who fight.

However, that does not altogether meet the desires of the Attorney General's office, perhaps, Dr. Nagai, it will be remembered, is the principal witness in the murder case that will soon come to trial in Hilo. The doc-tor was called to attend the man murdered, and before he died it is stated paid the money into court, as he had that Moriyama told the doctor the name of the man who had killed him. The importance of the testimony of the witness will be appreciated, therefore. In fact, without his testimony it is extremely likely that the case against the murderer will fall to the ground. And, even if he has given bail, there is nothing to prevent the Japanese physician forfeiting it if he sees fit; it is not a large amount. He will certainly forfeit it if a stray bullet should happen along his way.

Dr. Nagal will be in Honolulu on the next Kinau and it is just possible that he will find the Attorney General's office here prepared to take some further action in the matter.

SULTS FROM IMPOVER-ISHED BLOOD.

"Governor Carter has not referred any letter to me concerning the prisr, Kaina Anton, convicted of arson at Kailua," said Attorney General An-drews yesterday. Sheriff Henry is a high-minded gentleman with the sense of his duty strongly upon him. Mr. Mills is-well, Mr. Mills is Mr. Mills, However, as I said before, no letter has been referred to me. When it is, if it is, I shall give my opinion upon the matter."

'It simply isn't true." said Chester A. Doyle, referring to the charges of cruel treatment of Anton in prison. Doyle worked up the evidence against Anton, and secured his conviction of the crime of arson.

PROGRESS BLOCK UNCER HAMMER

The Progress block, whose erection standard of business architecture in Honolulu, passes under the auctioneer's hammer at 12 o'clock today. James F. Morgan is authorized to sell the building and premises under foreclosure of mortgage. The building is three-storied and constructed of Hawalian stone, having stores on the ground floor and an assembly hall with stage, lobbles, balcony, etc., on the third floor. Office rooms occupy the middle floor. The first passenger elevator ever erected in Honolulu is in this building, serving the Model block aligned therewith as well. The sale will be held at Morgan's auction rooms.

Mr. Morgan also sells at the Judi-ciary building at noon property on the Walkiki road under foreclosure in the suit of W. F. Allen vs. George Hag-

G. Krauss of Kamehameha schools. By means of lantern slides and description the showed some of the great dairies of California and told of the possibilities for the industry in Ha-

"There can be no session of the Supreme Court on Monday," said Governor Carter yesterday, "for the reason that there will not be a full bench. Judge Hatch is out, and the nomination of Wilder has not been confirmed by the United States Senate. I have sent a cablegram to the Attorney-General of the United States calling his attention to this state of facts, and I am in hopes that he will send it up to the Senate Judiciary Committee on Monday morning and have Mr. Wilder's nomination confirmed at once. Otherwise, there may arise a serious block in the judicial business of the Territory."

And the Governor is in the right. The Supreme Court of the Territory of Hawaii is a pretty busy body, and should not be permitted to get behind with its work. There is, however, a certain routine in the matter of appointments at Washington that is never departed from. If the nomination of Mr. Wilder had been made during a recess of the United States Senate, then, of course, he would have taken office at once, and the Senate would have taken sistant to the Engineer of the Tweifth up the matter of his confirmation at the next ensuing session. The Remedy That Makes New Blood, Banishes Weakness, Headaches, Indigestion and Nervous Troubles.

Hundreds of women suffer from headaches, dizziness, restlessness, languor and timidity. Few realize that their misery all comes from the bad state of their blood. They take one thing for their head, another for their stomach, a third for their nerves and yet all the while it is simply their poor blood that is the cause of their discomfort.

If one sure remedy for making good, rich blood were used every one of their distressing ailments would disappear. as they did in the case of Mrs. Elia F. cleared the main track, when the Stone, t/ho had been aning for years and was completely run down before she realized the nature of her trouble. "For several years," said Mrs. Stone,

"I suffered from general debility. It began about 1596 with indigestion, nervousness and steady headaches. Up to 1900 I hadn't been able to find any rellef from this condition. I was then very thin and bloodless. An enthusiastic friend, who had used Dr. Williams's Pink Pills, urged me to give them a trial and I finally bought a box.

"I did not notice any marked change gan to feel better all over and to have hopes of a complete cure.

"I used in all eight or ten boxes, and when I stopped I had got back my regular weight and a good healthy color and the gain has lasted. I can eat what I please without discomfort. My nervousness is entirely gone, and, while i had constant headaches before, I very rarely have one now. I cheerfully rec-ommend Dr. Williams's Pink Pills to women who suffer as I did."

Mrs. Stone was seen at her pretty ome in Lakewood, R. I., where, as the result of her experience, Dr. Williams's Pink Pills are very popular. These fanous pills are sold by all druggists. MERCHANTS (From Saturday's Advertiser.) The Merchants' Association has instructed its tax committee to act as a joint committee with others to be appointed by the Planters' Association of Legislature? Yours truly, and the Chamber of Commerce in an endeavor to frame a tax scheme that will meet with the approval of the commercial community and of the general public, and do away with the evils of the present tax system. The secretary was instructed at a meeting of the merchants held yesterday afternoon to notify the other bodies of the action taken, and request them to appoint the required committees.

The Merchants' Association met for the purpose of considering the tax report presented by its committee, Mesars. James Wakefield, H. F. Wichman and T. J. King, although Mr. King did not sign the submitted report. The meeting yesterday was not, at the first, a large one, although a number of members dropped in while it was in progress President Smith called the meeting to order, and regretted that the importance of the subject matter under discussion had not called out a fuller attendance. He said that the report of the tax committee had been published, and had caused considerable comment favorable and otherwise, and that in this relation one of the members of the committee had in his possession a letter from Mr. Bowen, of Castle & Cooke, which he thought might be read as the best method of bringing the whole subject or the report before the meeting. The letter was accordingly read by Secretary Trent, as follows: Honolulu, February 2, 1905.

Mr. George W. Smith, President Merchants' Association-Dear Sir: Referring to the report or your committee appointed to deal with the "Suggested Amendments to the essary. Present Law Providing for a Tax on Real and Personal Property," I write as follows:

1. A Minor Criticism - Paragraph No. 9 of the report should be placed as No. 4, because the "Definition" of "Personal Property" should come before any law upon the subject.

2. Definition of Personal Property In the definition of personal property, there should be no reference to "public stocks and bonds," other than of specific exclusion character. The law should clearly state that all property must be material and tangible, and, as such, both real and personal, should be taxed wherever found, always exlusive, however, of notes, mortgages, deeds, or other title papers, book accounts, stocks and bonds, which, in the law shall be specifically regarded as only evidences of property and therefore non-taxable.

3. Doubtful Character of Paragraph No. 10-Of course, No. 10 is intended be considered by a joint committee, as as a protection to Island merchants. proposed by Mr. Bowen. Its full aim need not here be gone into. But, no matter how desirable, or just, it may be, its place in the law comes more under the department of income taxation than under the property tax not give revenue enough, then certainly provisions. But, even so, its feasibility the people would have to stand another would certainly be tested, along con- tax. He asked Bowen what difference

How would it do to invite the Chamber of Commerce and Planters' Association to join in the study, and arrive at a mutually agreedupon basis to submit before the session

CASTLE & COOKE, Ltd. By its Treasurer, W. A. BOWEN.

Immediately upon the conclusion of the reading Mr. Wakefield, for the committee, said that no attempt had been made in the report to draft a tax law. It was, in fact, no part of the business of the committee to frame a law. What had been done was merely to afford the members of the Association some suggestions in the line of securing better conditions, and he would now suggest that the report be taken up and the sense of the meeting had upon it by sections.

President Smith said the report would be so taken up, and read Section One of the report as follows:

1. Real Property. Except as herein provided all real property within the Territory of Hawaii, shall be subject to a tax of 1 per cent on the cash value of the same.

Mr. Bowen, upon the conclusion of the reading, said that if his suggestion to refer the whole taxation problem to a joint committee should be favorably considered, then it might be well to refer this section to a joint committee. If the idea of "Aggregate Values" were done away with in the tax law, it might then be found that one per cent tax would not be enough to run the government. Still, we should all strive for the one per cent rate. In fact, if we should recommend anything else, we would be apt to find that we had raised were referred to a larger committee of the joint bodies, it might be that they remarks of Mr. Bowen were pertinent, but in his view, in the government found that it needed more than one per cent to run upon, then it should reduce its expenses, as the businesses were sometimes compelled to do.

Mr. Bowen raised the point here that if the matter was to be referred to a wise to discuss this report at all, as tee of the Merchants' Association to adherence to this declaration.

Mr. Wakefield thought that discus sion would be valuable as a guide to the committee, while binding the association to nothing.

Mr. Hocking said that the Tax Assessor had told him he wanted to raise the tax rate to one and one-half per cent. He thought that the report should

(Mail Special to the Advertiser.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 23 .- The hitch in the appointment of Mr. J. G. Pratt as postmaster at Honolulu was interesting news if there was not a provision for taking to the Delegate, who stated today that he intended to keep on in his support of Postmaster Oat for the place.

support of Postmaster Oat for the place. "It is plain to me," added Delegate Kuhio, "that Pratt cannot be appointed postmaster. If the inspector has reported against now be appointed postmaster. If the inspector has reported against him, the President will not nominate him. It may be a hardship for Pratt, because I doubt whether he ought to be blamed for those real estate transactions."

The Delegate referred to the unsuccessful efforts to bring him to support Pratt and spoke of an interview some time ago with President Roosevelt.

"The President patted me on the back," said the Delegate, "and suggested that I consult with Governor Carter about the appointment of a postmaster for Honolulu, I assured him that I had consulted with Mr. Carter about it before I left Honolulu, but that Carter had refused to indicate to me whom he favored for the nomination

"We talked on about it for a moment or two," added the Dele-"Then the President patted me on the back again and suggate. gested that I write to Carter about it. Well, I thought it over and decided that it would be better to write to the President instead of mission to submit section ten to a comto Carter. So I put in writing for the President my views on the Honolulu postmastership."

It is learned from other sources that after the President had received this letter from the Delegate, he advised Secretary Atkinson of what had been done and the Secretary put on file with the President a reply, in behalf of Governor Carter.

There is also reason to believe that Governor Carter has been fully advised as to that correspondence, and that he has written a letter to Delegate Kuhio, setting forth in terse sentences his views a considerable storm. If the matter of the Delegate's refusal to work in harmony with him for the advantage of the Territory.

When the nomination of Mr. Arthur Waal to be postmaster at Lahaina was recently made and referred by the Senate to the Committee on Postoffices and Postroads, a Senator of that Committee asked the Delegate what he knew about Waal and his fitness for the office. The Delegate said today that he replied he knew nothing about Waal and was not aware as to whether or not he was fit for the place.

Mr. Pratt is simply awaiting the arrival of the inspector's report from Honolulu. When that is in, he will insist on having a hearing, and on stating his side of the case. It is not unlikely that other papers will come here from the island, showing the kind of man Mr. joint committee, then it might not be Pratt is and the esteem with which he is held in that community. Mr. Pratt has taken the matter up with some Senators, among them having a tendency to bind the commit- Senator Perkins of California, who has promised to aid him in every possible way. He and Delegate Kuhio called to see Senator Foraker, as was stated in my last letter. WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 23.-Delegate Kuhio was asked today about the object of his cablegram to Honolulu, requesting information regarding sentiment with reference to the purchase of the Young building.

"All there was to that," he replied, "was that I had been urged Assessor." Mr. Bowen thought that the section vas fair, nevertheless, and as this was or seemed to be the general opinion, it was permitted to stand, Section seven created a lot of disussion, as it provided for stock taking for the purposes of taxation. It was deemed hardly possible to compel a man to take stock at a certain time each year at the convenience of the Tax Assessor, while it was argued that stock at a fixed time merchants could let their stocks run down just be source of supply such a contingency was not at all likely to happen.

Section eight was discussed, covering pretty nearly the same ground as secion four, excepting that it was the penalty section, and the consensus of opinion seemed to be that it should stand.

Section ten, embodying an attempt to get at absentee concerns trading through local agents, was the last, and Mr. Trent moved that it be dropped because, as he explained, no such section could ever be enforced. The courts vould hold it in conflict with the provisions of the Inter-State Commerce law.

Mr. Berry thought a flat mercantile license would reach the matter, so far at least as the small Asiatic deal ers were concerned,

Mr. Bowen thought it might be as well to try and collect a tax from such dealers, and Mr. Wakefield asked perits constitutionality.

"Let it go to the joint committee," Paid President Smith.

"What I want to know is," asked Wakefield, "whether the sense of this meeting is favorable to the section?" 'Certainly," answered the President,

Mr. Hocking moved that it was the sense of the association that Sched-ule I of the present tax law be repealed, this being the section compell-ing merchants to make returns from their books to the Tax Assessor. The motion carried.

Then, on motion of Mr. Bowen, sec onded by W. W. Harris, the whole matter of the tax law was referred to a joint committee to be appointed by the Merchants' Association, the Chamber of Commerce and the Planters' Association. The same committee was designated to act, the secretary being instructed to notify the other commer-cial bodies of the action taken, and the meeting adjourned.

THE BRIGHT SIDE

of life. It is a feeling common to the majority of us that we do not get quite the amount of happiness we are entitled to. Among the countless things less miserable ill health takes first place. Hannah More said that sin was generally to be attributed to biliousness. No doubt a crippled liver with the resulting impure blood, is the cause of more mental gloom than any other single thing. And who can reckon up the fearful aggre-gate of pain, loss and fear arising from the many diseases which are familiar to mankind; like a vast cloud it hangs over a multitude no one can number. You can see these people everywhere. For them life can scarcely be said to have any "bright side" at all. Hence the eagerness with which they search for relief and cure. Remedies like WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION have not attained their high po-sition in the confidence of the people by bald assertions and boasting advertisements. They are obliged to win it by doing actually what is claimed for them. That this remedy deserves its reputation is conceded. It is palatable as honey and contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, Ex-tracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. Nothing has such a record of success in Scrofula, Influenza,

Throat and Lung Troubles, and emaciating complaints and dis-the foundations of strength and vigour. Its use helps to show life's brighter side. Professor

The Hawailan Government band will be in attendance during this time. A general invitation to the public has been extended by the Consul and Mrs. Chang Tso Fan.

"Konohi! Konohi."

The gladsome Chinese New Year's greeting was heard thousands of times yesterday and last evening as Chinese and foreigners made the rounds of the club houses and large stores in Chinatown! Doing "konohi" has become a popular fad among residents and has spread to the hotel guests and tourists and has become a special feature of interest to all strangers.

All day long the Chinese bands clashed their barbaric music, and yet the strangers found a certain fascination in it, and also discovered that there is a rhythm, which, if carried out fully would produce excellent two-steps for those who are fond of the deux-temps. The club houses were clothed in their gayest attire. Festoons of greens were ound in and out of the verandas on which Chinese bands were stationed. and great painted balls of mesh lights inside swayed in the breeze. The main assembly rooms were hung with their richest gold-embroidered cloths, the predominating colors being red and gold in contrast with the beautiful, shiny ebony furniture.

In all of them there was a warm hospitality, and Chinese and foreigners alike were treated with the utmost deference and honors of the clubs were paid to the full.

The Quon On Society on Smith street showered upon its guests every form of hospitality. Fine punch was quaffed there last night by several score of foreigners, as well as by a throng of Chinese. Lum Chuck, the president, and Goo King, the vice president, the latter, the well known Young Hotel second steward, had their hands full entertaining strangers, who came from the hotels, The appearance of the club rooms was particularly praised by the visitors, for the club house is well furnished.

Then the Ying Yee Society on Hotel and Maunakea street found considerable favor. The new, large, commodious club house on Achi lane off Hotel street, lighted by a mass of electric lights, was a center of attraction. The spacious assembly hall was thronged until a late hour and the big red visiting cards of the Chinese and the small_ er white ones of the foreigners, formed a great heap. From all the clubs the visitors carried away as souvenirs the single style of red visiting cards. Tonight the clubs will again hold

HONOLULU HARBOR AND LEPROSY BILL

(Mail Special to the Advertiser.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 23 .- The Delegate saw President Roosevelt last Thursday and talked with him about the Honolulu harbor appropriation and also about the leprosy bill, although very much less about the latter measure than about the former. The President had assured him that he (Roosevelt) would consult with anybody Kuhio might suggest.

To this end the President wrote a note, which Kuhio took to Secretary Taft, requesting him to use his utmost efforts toward helping along an appropriation for Honolulu harbor. AL the Thursday conference the President, at the Delegate's suggestion, agreed to have a talk with Chairman Burton about the appropriation. At that time the chairman was expecting to bring the bill out daily, but it was believed that the President's interest in the projects, when made known to Mr. Burton in such a way, would enable him to handle it better with members of his committee.

Delegate Kuhio has also interested the President further in the leprosy bill and the President will talk with certain of the House leaders, including Colonel Hepburn, chairman of the House Inter tate Commerce Committee.

But we could do a nore than we are doing to make our periods of good times last longer and to keep values and incomes from falling abnormally low by making the soil produce everything that it has capacity for and which our people could sell at a profit. Hawali can be made a great exporter of sisal, rubber and tobacco, to say nothing of pineapples and coffee; and it can do far more than it is doing to feed itself. To this proposition the planters, in spite of the pretentious and now defunct Pinkham report, have given their formal assent; and if the proper efforts are made to people the vacant lands, all will be well with Hawali. The place will go along like other fruitful parts of the Union, piling up wealth, giving everyone some show to get it and envying no colony on earth.

In this line the next Legislature ought to provide a fair sum, which, with the Federal fund, would place an agricultural school on its feet. The Territory, which is diversifying its industries and means to develop along American lines hereafter, needs to train people in tropical farming more than in any other one thing, save the ethics of government. She was compelled to leave the hotel and secure cheaper lodgings. Becoming desperate, she sought legal advice. Attorney E. M. Watson filed papers against Nelson, charging him with nonsupport and the result was that the husband was sent to jail. He remained there four days, unable to obtain bail. It was believed at the time he was endeavoring to leave town without his wife's knowledge. While Mr. Watson was in Waialua Mrs. Nelson visited her husband at the jail and weakened. The result was Nelson's liberation, and there was believed to be a reconcillation. At this time Tidcombe met Mrs. Nelson and to him she probably confided her woes. Tidcombe had a few of his own. Mr. Nelson presented himself in the cabin of the purser late the evening of the vessel's arrival from the Colonies and said he and his wife had to get away. To remain here, he said, their small resources would dwindle away. The purser informed him there was no room on the vessel. Finally however, the wife was given a settee in a room occupied by a mother and three boys, while Nelson was accommodated with a blanket in the dining saloon. On arrival at the coast Mrs. Nelson obtained money from relatives, which Nelson promptly secured and again deof 1905. Representatives Moses Nakul-na and W. J. THEY STILL TALK OF NATIVE COMBINATION

"If there is a combination of native members of the House, Carlos Long will be more apt to be the beneficiary of it than Holstein of Hawaii."

Thus said a statesman who is supposed to be and is well on the inside, yesterday. As a matter of fact, it does not seem that Holstein has a very promising prospect of wielding the gavel. Holstein cannot command the full strength of the delegation from his own island, and no man outside of Oahu who comes in with a delegation partly opposed to him will be in the running at all when it comes to a show down.

As to the matter of a native combination, although such a purpose has been frantically denied by men who pose as leaders among the Hawaiians, the talk of such a combination is in the air, like smoke, and gets denser. Under this smoke there is this much fire, at least, that Long probably represents whatever element of hostility to Governor Carter there is in the House-and according to advices from Hilo there is opposition, at least on the big island. Waether there is any more under it will be developed within a few days now, as twenty members of the House are now in Honolulu. The Kauai men missing will be here on Wednesday, and the others a little later in the week. The members who have not reached Honolulu yet are:

Maui-Pali and Haia.

Hawaii-Carl Smith, Holstein, Greenwell, Pulaa, and Kaniho, the solitary man in the legitimate opposition.

Kauai-Knudsen, Rice and Mahikoa.

There are enough Republican members here to hold a caucus, but it is not at all likely that one will be held, at least a decisive one, until all the Republican members reach Honolulu. And even at that there is still talk that the Speakership contest may be left to be decided on the floor in open session. Perhaps that would be better than to hold a caucus, and then get thrown down on the floor, as happened last time. However, the machine men fight away from any suggested departure from the regulation caucus idea.

As to the Speakership, Holstein is believed to be out of it, and the Maui scheme to control is really the most dangerous factor of the present situation, although Coelho will not be able to control Maui in his interest. The Maui plan, in fact, as told by a leader from that island is merely to hold the balance of power in order to have weight in appropriation legislation, and not with any idea of putting a Maui man in the chair. If Harris and Knudsen can pool their strength, the solution of the Speakership problem would not be far to seek.

As to the smaller positions, there are a lot of people who are casting covetous eyes upon clerkships and things. If there is a native combination, then John Wise will probably be its choice for clerk, and John Wise is also thought to be well on the inside of the Holstein fight. Among the other candidates for this position are Charles Wilcox of Maui, who was evicted from office some time ago, Ed. Woodward and D. Kalauokalani.

J. D. Avery would like to be stenographer, while the chaplaincy has any number of aspirants. Among those who would be willing to pray for the legislators daily are S. Kapu, of Lahaina, Rev. D. Kaai of Pukoo, and Rev. S. K. Kaailua of Keanae. For Sergeantat-Arms there are J. H. S. Kaleo of Hana, Joel Nakaleka of Molokai. For Messenger the candidates are Antone Recard of Lahaina, M. K. Kekua of Nahiku and Horace Kekumu of Keanae. The candidates for Janitor are Lui Papalimu of Kipahulu and J. K. Naholo of Keanae.

"There are other things to be aldered," said B. F. Dillingham to a reporter for the Hilo Herald while he was visiting the Island of Hawali recently, in the course of a talk on the efforts of the planters to introduce labor suitable for their cane fields. There are other things than labor to be thought of, although that is perhaps the most important. I have not gone carefully into this colonial scheme but from what I have heard of it from those who seem to know something about it I am convinced that it would be a pretty good thing for Hawaii.

But there is one thing to be considered. The trust may want to put the Philippines and Hawali on the some level with Porto Rico and events may shape themselves so that Cuba would be brought into the scheme. Cuba ir an independent sovereign state at present but you cannot tell how long it will remain. If we could have some guarantee that the tariff would not be put on our sugar and if we were allowed to regulate our labor laws, it seems to me that with sugar at the present price, and I do not think it will grow lower, there would be some mighty good times in Hawaii." Asked about the effect of the Pinkham report Mr. Dillingham said he considered Mr. Pinkham's report a masterly argument in which the rights of citizen labor were not encroached "As I understand it," he said, "The Pinkham commission was established for the purpose of ascertaining the exact labor conditions of these is-lands. If citizen labor was being ignored by the plantations or if the citizens in the opinion of the trade unions, were not being given the proper consideration then it was to be ascertained and an agreement made. They were to set some point at which citizen labor was to meet plantation labor and decide upon a policy that was to be carried out in the future. In order to do this there was a necessity for ascertaining the extent to which people, especially citizens, had gone into the business of small farming. I would not pretendato say to what extent the commission went into the matter but the press has condemned it for its apparent neglect to try out every man who had planted a garden. # PRESIDENT TURNS DOWN JUDGE GEAR'S AMBITIONS

(Mail Special to the Advertiser.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 23 .- Judge George D. Gear's career on the Hawaiian bench appears nearing its termination. The inquiries of his friends here last week as to his prospects were met with discouragements on every hand. It was found that his case had already been double-crossed from the White House. President Roosevelt has learned of Judge Gear's methods of dispensing justice and decided that he wants no more of him. That is the word Delegate Kuhio gives out after some opportunity at investigation.

While claiming to be an organization man, it appeared that Judge Gear had not consulted Governor Carter or Secretary Atkinson about his renomination. The news that Judge Gear has been seeking information of the outlook through other than organization channels came to Mr. Atkinson since his arrival here.

Delegate Kuhio today admitted that Judge Gear stands no show of a renomination when his term expires next spring. "The President does not appear friendly," added the Delegate. "It is simply absurd for the Judge to expect another term."

Mrs. Gear, while stopping at the Raleigh Hotel here last week, went to President Roosevelt for knowledge as to her husband's chances. She was referred to the Attorney General, Mr. Moody, who, after looking at the papers, found indications of White House disapproval of the Judge. No one, of course, wanted to be other than courteous to Mrs. Gear. Every possible attention was shown her. At the same time Mr. Moody told Delegate Kuhio he could give her no encouragement.

The Delegate escorted her to the White House and also to the 'Attorney General's office. "I was pleased," said he, "to be of any service to Mrs. Gear, and gladly went with her, but at the same time I am sorry she undertook to look up the case. It is difficult business for a woman. It is plain to me that the President intends to appoint some one else to succeed him."

Subsequently it was learned that Delegate Kubio had indorsed Judge Gear for renomination. He assured Mrs. Gear he had done so and would work to help him.

The campaign for the vacancy will probably be in full swing next week or soon thereafter, when Judge Gear is himself coming to Washington. Mrs. Gear, who was received very cordially by friends here, including those from Hawaii now in the city, has preceded her husband by only a few weeks and is going on to New York to be with her parents a few days before they sail for Europe. Then she returns to this city to meet the Judge.

It seems that the Judge's plans will be for either a renomination or an investigation of conditions in Hawaii. He will make strong representations regarding the guardian case, which will probably be heard by the Supreme Court here week after next, and will assail Governor Carter's attitude toward the judiciary, pointing out that Judge Hartwell of the Territorial Supreme Bench is the Governor's kinsman, and claiming that the program is to appoint Magistrate bond. Judd, another kinsman, to his (Gear's) place. Some of the Judge's friends in the Senate have an easy fudge Gear lived for a time, that kins of California, in whose State Judge Gear lived for a time, that been informed of Judge Gear's side of the case. Then, the fact that been informed of the late Senator Gear of Iowa, will be used to in-

Representations are also made here that, much as Judge Gear would like a reappointment as a vindication of the attacks against him, he is not very desirous of it from a financial standpoint, but might prefer to return to San Francisco and practice law. It is said that he could make an excellent legal connection there with Attorney Herrin of the Southern Pacific. At least, that is the Washington talk. None the less, he proposes to press his fight earnestly when ERNEST G. WALKER. he arrives in town.

Postal Inspector Hare came back yesterday from Kauai, where he had been called to look into the condition of the postoffice at Koloa, kept by Manuel A. Rego, with John P. Spalding as his deputy.

BIG SHORTAGE

"There have been no arrests made, as yet," said Mr. Hare yesterday.

Nevertheless, there is apt to be something doing, and that soon. It seems that there is a shortage of not less than $27,000 in the Koloa office, astounding as the statement may seem as being made concerning a fourth-class office, worth not more than $800 per year, in normal conditions, to the postmaster.

Rego was and is a kind of mercantile king of Koloa and, conducting the postoffice in connection with his other business, probably found it a valuable asset in several legitimate ways. He had Spalding, moreover, as his deputy to run it for him.

Now, Koloa has always been a point from which the Japanese on several Kauai plantations shipped money home by postal money order, and from which traveling salesmen from Honolulu made remittances to their houses in the same way. And, according to the story told by Rego to the postal inspector, a Japanese in his employ was also accustomed to drum up money order business among the Japanese about Koloa. This story was told several months ago to account for the business, even then deemed unduly large.

However that may have been, the scheme by which the Koloa postoffice achieved its present startling shortage was simple almost to crudity. In fact, the work was exceedingly coarse. Somebody -Rego says it was Spalding, and Spalding says it was Regowould take the name of some prominent citizen of Kauai and issue a money order payable to that name. Then a letter of instruction to pay would be sent to the Honolulu office, although just how this end of the scheme was successfully worked until the shortage became as large as it did has not He did everything to make our stay been made clear at the present stage of the investigation.

Anyway, the orders were issued and paid, to the extent of not less than $27,000. ' Rego claims that he is entirely innocent of any lighted. One can go away from the wrong in the matter, the office business having been in the hands of Spalding, his deputy. On his part, Spalding asserts that he is House, will advertise the Islands and entirely innocent of any wrong-doing, claiming that his immediate draw people here. Through the efforts of the It is a rich country and filled with a Delegate and myself a special report on these bills, ahead of the regular order, is promised for early this week by the lighthouse board. I confidently forecast a favorable report by the board on both measures. "The Honolulu newspaper files indicate that the Federal building situation is not understood there. Chairman Gillett has practically served notice that only the smaller propositions will be considered in the bill this session. To some of the Honolulu people here he has said frankly that an appropriation for the purchase of a site is the most that could be secured for Honolulu this year, with no certainty of that. Any appropriation of $1,400,000 to purchase the Young building seems quite out of the question. 'Delegate Kalanianaole and I have been following up the members of the River and Harbor Committee both day and night for the lights attached to them, as if they were past week, as the bill is to be completed within a few days. Wednesday last the Delegate had another talk with the President and secured from him personal letters to both Chairman Burton and Secretary of War Taft, bespeaking prompt action for Honolulu Harbor. Friday last the Delegate and I had a talk at the War Depart ment with the Secretary and Gen. McKenzie, and as a result Secretary Taft sent the chief of engineers, Gen. McKenzie, to consult with Chairman Burton. Friday evening, by request of the chairman, I had a conference with Mr. Burton and General McKenzie, going over the plans and figures in detail. It developed again that the one great obstacle has been the enactment against appropriating for any project not previously ordered by Congress. To meet this the Delegate sent another letter to the committee, along the line of own member for that important office. Whether they will stand Mr. Burton's suggestion, pointing out that the work of the Honolulu for him through thick and thin, or succumb to the wiles of the Oahu Harbor improvement was begun under the Republic of Hawaii, and The committee took up the Honolulu matter at its all-day session Saturday (this letter is written Monday), and it is understood Lewis doesn't believe much in the claims of Kauai for the that Mr. Burton appointed a subcommittee of three to report on speakership. Even Holstein may not get the Hawaii delegation's the Honolulu Harbor very soon, for the guidance of the general comsupport. There is no certainty that the Hawaii members will choose mittee. It now looks very much as though Honolulu Harbor would to remain steadfast by their champion, for if concessions are granted achieve the distinction of being the single harbor in the entire coun-highly satisfactory, effecting a cure in charging coal; schoorer Rosamond at to Hawaii in the way of liberal appropriations, especially for roads, try to get into the appropriation bill without a previously-ordered ERNEST G. "Can anything good come out of Nazareth ?"

"Come and see." With this biblical passage Mr. J. T. Wilkinson of Vancouver, B. C., an old newspaper man, tells the story of his wn experiences in coming to Hawaii and visiting the wonders of the volcano Kilauea.

"Can anything good come out of Ha-waii? I would add," said Mr. Wilkinson last evening at the Hawaiian Hotel. "I came here to see and I will say that nowhere have I been so impressed with natural wonders as or my recent trip to Kilauea. I wouldn't have missed it for anything and you may be sure I will be a promotion committee for the Hawaiian Islands when I reach the coast again.

"I have never before in my life found to much true, sincere hospitality to the stranger as here in the Hawalian Is lands. I have traveled all over the world and my comparison is therefore a strong one. It is good to come to these islands just to find the hospitality.

"I came here from Alaska, where the hermometer was twenty, thirty and forty degrees below zero. I came to Hawall and in the middle of January find a beautiful, baimy summer in fair islands of the sea. I find myself in the midst of a flower garden, with soft zephyrs prevailing. It is the place to come to when the wintry blasts of the mainland drive one to seek a climate less rigorous.

"My visit to the volcano is something to remember. I had been told that it might not be worth while to see now because Kilauea was not active-that the channels were choppy and I had hands, but the experience is worth something. When we reached the Volcano House we were received with open arms by Demosthenes Lycurgus, pleasant and it was so. We had per ple in our party from many sections of the United States, and they were de Volcano House feeling satisfied. Lycurgus, as mine host at the Volcand served by Demosthenes.

"But the volcano! That vast dead sea of lava, which once heaved and bil-lowed and then became cool with the billows still in place, is grandeur by itself. Think of riding for miles acros a stretch of java in an old crater and knowing it was once a seething mass of molten mother earth. Kilauea may not now be very active, but there is heat enough from the cracks to drive one away. We scorched cards over the cracks and some lighted cigarettes. I have stood on the brink of Vesuvius but its grandeur is puny beside the magnificent vistas afforded at Kilauea. "Then I had an opportunity to see at first hand the magnificent stretches of ane and agricultural lands and the great cattle ranches on the western coasts and slopes of the Island of Hawait. I had the pleasure of driving part of the way with Judge Sanford B. Dole. Then I saw something of the home life at Robert Hind's, at Olding's, at Sam Parker's great ranch, with its thousand and thousands of acres and thousands of cattle. "Why, I am very certain that Kuhio has not indorsed Judge Gear," Mr. McClellan replied. "I think he does not want to be drawn into that controversy. He went with Mrs. Gear to see differ Senator Foraker. Senator Kearns was also seen. I suppose it is generally understood that the papers in the Department of Justice were found to bear a double cross, which indicates the President's intention not to reappoint him."

The House has passed the bill relating to the exercise of the powers of judge in the Territory of Hawaii. It was introduced last December by Chairman Jenkins of the Judiciary Committee, who also drew the report. Only one amendment was made by the Committee, that being a provision that the judge designated to act in the place of another judge on the district bench, shall not be "so related, interested, absent, or incapacitated" as was the judge whose place he is to fill. The bill passed the House without debate. The committee report was brief, simply citing how the bill had originated in a request from the United States District Attorney at Honolulu.

HAWAII FOR CONCESSIONS MAY RESIGN SPEAKERSHIP

Representative "Jim" Lewis of Hawaii arrived from Hilo on the Kinau on Saturday and is waiting for a caucus of legislators to be called.

The "blacksmith statesman" from Hilo is here to advocate first of all the claims of Holstein for the speakership. Naturally, says Lewis, the Hawaii legislators would make a selection from their members and let Harris wield the gravel, is another story to come. that the present project is a continuation of that work. It is more or less a safe guess that Harris will take precedence over Holstein.

"The drives over the Island of Hawaii form a series of continual changes and surprises. There are flowers, a wealth of varied vegetation and fields of cane, stretching for miles and miles. warm hospitality, which I, as a stranger, can never forget.

"The stranger coming here, the one who wanders about the earth, merely tills the soll on his first visit, speak ng figuratively. After an absence he feels the desire to revisit the islands and see the crop.

"This is my second visit to the Islands. It has been a delightful one In some way or another some amuse ment or entertainment has been on countered at the hotels and in other places to fill up one's time pleasantly. "While in Kohala I attended a reception to a minister. That was one of the biggest surprises of all. There I found at night dozens of carriages with waiting in San Francisco for the theater to let out. And then the way the people dressed for the reception. might have imagined myself back in the midst of a big mainland capital. I never for a moment imagined com ing in contact with anything of the kind on the slope of a mountain, of what appears on the map of the Pacific Ocean to be a tiny pinhead dot of an island."

When This Information May Prove of Infinite Value.

(From the Sydney, N. S. W., Herald.) It is worth considerable to any citisen of Honolulu to know the value and use of a medicine, for if there is no occasion to employ it, in the mean-time, frail humanity is subjected to so many influences and unforseen contingencles that the wisest are totally unable to gauge the futurs. undoubtedly adopted. The object is to have the buying and selling of listed securities done, as far as possible, at the regular sessions of the Exchange. W. A. Love of Halsted & Co. had the following to say on this subject yesterday: "Members, at the session this morning, anticipated the recommendations of the committee by transacting most of their business at the session of the Exchange. There seemed to be new life at the board, though comparatively little business was done. The effect of the change is going to be that stocks will be sold at the market price of the hour. Sellers will, therefore, get the full benefit of whatever the market price will be, and buyers in all cases will get the benefit of any weakness in a particular stock.

"If the public will work with the members in this matter and be willing to allow a little leeway in transacting their business at the Exchange sessions, they will be better served in the long run. Brokers have been handicapped in the past by customers calling to do business in their offices right away. What we want is the support of the public and we will have a market here which will represent the value of the stock at the hour of exchange.

"There has been no foundation, in fact, for reports of causes for Investigation existing. No charges at all have been made. The public have really had no cause of complaint about the quotations. It will have been noticed that all sales reported between boards were invariably at a figure corresponding to quotations on the Exchange. The Exchange has always been a place where we have met and found just what stocks have been offered at, and sales at the board have been based on those figures. Still, by having all the business possible done on the Exchange-exceptions being allowable on some large transactions and in cases of peremptory orders by customers-we hope fully to satisfy the public. We are going to try this as an experiment, and see how it will work."

A piece of formal business done by the Kihei Plantation Co., of absolutely no present significance, has occasioned inquiry. Two years ago the company reduced its authorized capital stock to $2,500,000, as its share certificates on their face have ever since snown. Yet through oversight the charter, as so amended, has rot until now been registered. There is nothing new, therefore, in the status of Kihei.

ARIZONAN IN FROM COAST

The big freighter Arizonan of the American-Hawailan line came into into pany's pier in the berth vacated a few minutes before by the liner Nevadan. The steamer left San Francisco at the same time as the Pacific Mail liner Manchuria which arrived here Friday morning. The Arizonan did not hurry but arrived on schedule time. She struck better weather than any of the vessels arriving from the coast the past two weeks. There was some wind and a long swell, but on the whole the weather was very good. Evidently the big storm has blown over. The officers of the steamer say that if she had been loaded they would not have felt the swell at all. The Arizonan brings only 600 tons of freight consigned to various firms in Honolulu, Kahului and Hilo, This is all through freight from New York as none was loaded on the way. Over two thousand tons of freight for Southern California points was put out at San Diego and the balance was discharged at San Francisco. The line has just made San Diego a regular port of call and is working up Southern California trade. The steamer will load a big cargo, consisting of 11,400 tons of sugar at Honolulu, Kahului and Hile,

MOVEMENTS OF OCEAN LINERS

It has been a long time since there have been so many ocean steamers calling at this port as have been in and out during the last week, and this week will show no diminution in the The next boat to arrive will traffic be the Oceanic liner Ventura, which is due from the Colonies this morning and should get away for San Francisco early in the afternoon. The next boat will be the Moana of the Canadian-Australian line which will arrive from Australia and Fijl on her way to Victoria and Vancouver tomorrow morning. The Occidental and Oriental lines Doric is also due from San Francisco tomorrow and probably will arrive in the afternoon. She will bring mail from the States and will take the next mail to the Orient.

The Oceanic liner Sonoma has been delayed by the non-arrival of the English mails and will not arrive here until Thursday morning in all probability. A cablegram to her agents states that she got away fourteen hours late, between 4 and 5 Friday morning. She will bring a few hours later mail than the Doric, which sailed on time at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The "All Red" liner Miowera is due from Victoria on her way to the Colonies Saturday. Next Monday the Pacific Mail liner Siberia will get in from the Orient. She will bring the officers of the liner Gaelic, which has been taken off the O. & O. line.

The next one of the American-Hawallan boats to arrive will be the Ne-

WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN.

(For Week Ending Feb. 4.)

Honolulu, T. H., February 6, 1905.

GENERAL SUMMARY.

The past week has been marked by a continuance of temperatures decidedly below the normal, in addition to which generally cloudy conditions have prevailed in all sections of the Group. The rainfall over windward Hawaii has been copious, except in portions of the Puna and Hilo districts; but drought conditions continue in all leeward sections. In Maui, abundant rains have been northeast winds: young cane growing general, the drought having been broken and the harvesting of slowly: grinding steadily day and night.-McBryde Sugar Co. cane having been resumed in the Kipahulu district. Oahu and Kauai have had light showers during the week, but more rain first part of week, but much needed would be beneficial to both islands.

Growing crops have made little or no progress during the past week, vegetation in general being practically at a standstill. Ing first part of week, but followed by Pastures in the Kona and Kau districts of Hawaii are drying up light showers; rain in mountains make for want of rain, and on account of this and the continued cold very good growth during January,--weather, a marked falling off in the condition of grazing stock in Geo.
