WIDEST PATROL SINCE SPANISH WAR IN FORCE

(The following news was received last night after release by the censor.)

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Feb. 4.—The most comprehensive patrol of the Pacific Coast since the Spanish-American war has been inaugurated. It is reported unofficially that destroyers have been ordered to many points to protect the coast.

It is understood that the gunboat Annapolis has been ordered to cooperate with the British cruiser Rainbow in watching the fleet of eleven German merchant vessels interned at Santa Rosalia.

German Act at Hoboken

NEW YORK, N. Y., Feb. 4.—The crews of German boats tied up at Hoboken are reported to have wrecked the machinery of the boats, according to a German sailor who was taken off today with others.

Marines have been placed aboard.

Trouble in Philippines

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 4.—The crews of the German ships interned or war-bound as refugees in various Philippine ports have attempted to destroy the machinery of the ships.

The authorities have taken steps at 23 ports throughout the Philippine Islands to end the work of wreckage.

EARLY HOUR RIDE ENDS IN DEATH

One Japanese, Kawamata, lies in the morgue with bruises dashed out and another, Shirona, is unconscious and probably dying at the Queen's hospital as the result of a joy ride the two took on Nuuanu avenue this morning.

In a car registered under the name of I. Ono of Leluchua the two Japanese, one a wash boy for the A. B. C. taxi stand and the other similarly employed by the Beretania taxi stand, came to grief.

They went up Nuuanu street, evidently taking a look at the Fall, and came down about 3:30 at a terrific rate, struck a wet strip of road above Wyllie street, skidded about 250 feet and turned turtle in front of Albert Horner's residence.

When emergency hospital attendants arrived in the ambulance they found Kawamata dead and hanging in the air from a broken piece of the auto top which had caught and suspended him. Shirona was lying in the street writhing in pain. He was rushed directly to the Queen's hospital.

The auto turned completely over, righting itself on the four wheels, smashing the top, the windshield and generally damaging the tonneau as it turned.

Deputy Sheriff Asch is investigating the accident and may hold the inquest some time Tuesday.

He says from what he can learn the Japanese victims did not exactly steal the car but had been in the habit of sneaking out in the early morning hours with some car in their stands for a spin.

The deputy remarks that the sight which he was called upon to witness when he visited the tragedy shortly after it had occurred was the most ghastly he had seen for some time.

In this instance the car was taken from the A. B. C. stand, according to Asch.

NEW HARBOR RULE WILL CONTINUE IN FULL FORCE

At 10 o'clock this morning Acting Collector of Customs Raymer Sharp announced that the rules enforced last night by which no vessels were permitted to leave this port would be enforced again tonight and until further orders. Everything in the way of shipping will be stopped after dark this evening.

"We will leave the refugee German steamers where they are at present—subject to change at a moment's notice," he added.

GUARD FIRES AT NIGHT PROWLER

Some person or persons prowling about the tanks in the Standard Oil Company's yard at Iwilei shortly after midnight this morning drew a rifle shot from the corporal of the guard stationed at that place and brought more soldiers from the Capitol grounds in quick order.

No one was captured, although footprints were traced by officers for some distance from the tanks, and no clue as to the identity of the prowling party has yet been secured.

Men of Company K, 2nd Infantry, were on duty after midnight this morning, and it was a corporal from this company who fired the shot when he had called upon the man to halt and was rewarded with the sound of fleeing footsteps.

The shot fired soon had other soldiers coming on the run and a rapid search was made, but nothing as to the man's identity could be discovered. Lieut. George M. Halloran, accompanied by a small band of men, left in a motor truck from the Capitol grounds soon afterward.

During the early part of the night no disturbance was noted, according to officers of the camp, although a report was about this morning that German sailors from the refugee ships had been discovered hiding about the coal piles at the wharves.

This was absolutely denied, today by officers of the camp. They said the only sailor picked up last night was a carpenter, who had been out on leave for the day and evidently did not know of what had happened during his absence.

Toward morning a little excitement occurred at Pier 17, when a rowboat at that place attempted to land at the wharf, and was told to move on by the sentry on duty. Those in the boat attempted to argue the matter, it is said, but finally rowed on out into the stream. Who the parties were was not determined.

"The morning the acting collector of the port considered bringing the refugee German schooner Hermes to a more convenient dock near the other refugee German merchantmen. The Hermes is now in Rotten Row, where she has been tied up for more than a year, on the makai side of the harbor, near the Inter-Island steamer Kilanea and other reserve boats of that company."

Air-cooling methods of the rapid-fire guns now in use have proved inadequate, and the soldiers seem to think that water-cooling is superior.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Feb. 5.—Wall street began today in a more serious mood than at any time since the beginning of the war. The attendance at the stock exchange session, in spite of a heavy storm, was larger than for many days. The tone of the opening minutes was strong with a gain of from one to four points in Smelters, Lackawanna Steel and Utah Copper. United Steel made an initial gain of two points. Bethlehem (old) rose 15 points, while Bethlehem (new) was off three points.

GEIER BAND IS AT FORT RUGER

Members of the brass band that has been stationed on the German gunboat Geier were moved to Fort Ruger yesterday afternoon as a part of the division of prisoners for that post. They marched through the street carrying their band instruments with them.

It was stated today that all the Germans taken over by the army yesterday are in guardhouses and under guard. They will be allowed exercise every day, but in general their imprisonment will be close.

Virtually they are prisoners, though they were taken yesterday under the status of "interned aliens."

SIGHT JAPANESE WARSHIP CLOSE TO OAHU IS REPORT

Passengers Arriving This Morning Tell of Vessel Believed to Be One of Squadron Sailing East From Japan

A squadron of Japanese cruisers is now cruising in Hawaiian waters according to the information brought by one of the passengers on the Shinyo Maru which arrived this morning in Honolulu.

One of the passengers on the steamer went on deck early this morning, and accompanied later by other passengers saw the outline of a vessel steaming between Kauai and Oahu.

As the ship drew nearer the passenger and later it was learned that this was one of the cruisers which are now on their way to Vancouver.

Japanese residents of Honolulu state that the Tokiwa, Iwata and Nishin left Japan some time ago for Vancouver, and it was believed that they were after a German raider in the Pacific. According to a prominent Japanese navy department after hearing of the break with the United States and Germany ordered the three cruisers to Honolulu to protect Japanese shipping.

It is the belief in Japanese circles that the three cruisers were ready to protect the Nippon Maru, which left Honolulu yesterday, and the Shinyo Maru, now in port, in case the Geier made an attempt to leave Honolulu harbor.

There have been a number of rumors that Japanese warships were in the vicinity.

NO INTERFERENCE FOR GERMAN FIRMS

It was emphatically asserted by the U. S. attorney's office today that should war be declared between the United States and Germany there will be little or no interference with the business of any German firms in the territory, other, perhaps, than the enforcement of certain necessary restrictions.

It was pointed out that German merchants in London were allowed to continue business under certain restrictions after the outbreak of the European war.

German firms here would have certain rights which are controlled by treaties in times of war, the attorney's office further explains. However, it is pointed out that, in the event of war, no able-bodied Germans would be allowed to leave the islands.

EIGHTY-FIVE ARE IN DETENTION

At 12:30 today the U. S. immigration station counted the men detained there from the refugee German merchant vessels and found the total to be 85. The count taken Saturday by the local agency, H. Hackfeld & Company, Ltd., showed 87 men.

Included in the total number eating lunch at the station today, 85, are two Filipinos and five Chinese, four of whom came to Honolulu in the vessels when they sought refuge here in 1914.

One of the men at the immigration station is a German from the Locksun, who visited the Hermes and was brought to the station last night with the Hermes' crew.

Of the Pommern's crew of 25, 22 were arrested and taken to the immigration station. Of the Prinz Waldemar's crew of 22, 15 were arrested and turned over to the immigration authorities. Those not arrested but detained are Chinese and Filipinos, who only face charges of deportation. The Germans arrested will be tried on charges of destroying the machinery of the steamers.

According to figures supplied today by F. W. Klebahn, manager of the shipping department of H. Hackfeld & Co., the local agency for the eight German merchant vessels in port, the status of them and the number of men in their crews on Saturday was as follows:

Setos, Kosmos line, Capt. H. Carstens; net tonnage, 3380; captain, five officers, six men in crew.
Pommern, North German Lloyd; Capt. H. Minssen; net tonnage, 4086; captain, six officers, 13 men in crew.

INFANTRYMEN MARCH FROM FORT SHAFTER TO TOWN

Members of the 1st Infantry, Schofield Barracks, marched yesterday from that post to Fort Shafter, covering the entire distance by foot.

Several officers of the army called attention to this fact today, commenting upon the splendid showing made by the men on this hurried notice. It is considered that they made creditable time considering the heat and the small amount of marching to which they have been subjected of late.

The regiment arrived about 5 o'clock in the afternoon and pitched camp on the target range at Fort Shafter.

MEN INTERNED; GEIER AND LOCKSUN ARE MOVED

Germans Now Under Arrest Will Be Held Till Further Orders

Action By Federal Grand Jury Possible in Case of Teuton Crews Who Deliberately Wrecked Machinery of Vessels—Events of Yesterday Summarized

Officers and men of the German refugee merchant vessels are now in the custody at the federal immigration station opposite the channel wharf, where they will remain until further developments in the situation between the United States and Germany.

Late Sunday afternoon immigration inspector Richard L. Halsey was advised by Washington to concentrate the men of the refugee ships at his station. The first crews to be taken to the station were those from the Pomern and Prinz Waldemar. These men were arrested Sunday by Marshal J. J. Smiddy on charges of attempted injury and destruction of their vessels at this port.

A few hours after the arrest of the Pomern and Waldemar men, 43 in all, arrangements were made by Attorney John A. Matthewman of the law firm of Thompson, Milverton & Cathcart, legal advisor for H. Hackfeld & Co., to secure their release on bond.

Commissioner George S. Curry fixed bond for the officers in the sum of $2500 and for each member of the crew in the sum of $1000. George Rodiek, German consul, and J. F. C. Hagens, vice-president of H. Hackfeld & Co., were to be surety. The receipt of the advices from Washington by Inspector Halsey did away with the bond arrangements, however.

The detention of the men at the immigration station relieved Consul Rodiek from the solution of a problem that had caused him no little worry. It is understood. Had the men been released on bond they were not to be allowed to return to their ships and the problem of taking care of them ashore is said to have worried the consul.

On Sunday evening the U. S. attorney's office told the Star-Bulletin that the officers and crews of the other refugee vessels had surrendered themselves voluntarily and without necessity of arrest, for detention at the immigration station with the other officers and men.

The next development in the arrest of the Pomern and Waldemar men probably will be a preliminary hearing of their case before Commissioner Curry. At that time it will be determined whether the officers and men shall be held to the federal grand jury.

Decision Reached Sunday Afternoon. "If we receive certain assurances we desire from the German consul we will proceed no further. But unless the crews are taken off the remaining refugee ships under such assurances, I'll put every man under arrest."

This decision was reached late Sunday afternoon by U. S. Attorney S. C. Huber after Acting Collector of Port Raymer Sharp had informed him that the refugee vessels other than the Pomern and Prinz Waldemar had been examined and found to be damaged as regards destruction of boilers and pipes, and after the officers and crews of the Pomern and Waldemar had been placed under arrest by Marshal J. J. Smiddy. This was also prior to the receipt of advices by Halsey.

Further investigation by the customs officers disclosed that while the boilers and pipes of the other steamers had been ruined, no attempt had been made to prepare the sea-cocks for opening.

Attorney Huber intends to confer with Consul Rodiek and receive his assurance that the men on the other refugee vessels will be taken off, thus doing away with any danger of further damage to or destruction of the vessels. Huber declares the officers and crews will immediately be placed under arrest if such assurances are not forthcoming.

Twenty-two Men Arrested. The officers and crew of the Pomern, 22 in number, were arrested by Marshal Smiddy and Deputy Marshal Otto F. Heine Sunday afternoon and taken to the federal court at 12:30. They were marched through the streets in a body. The marshal experienced no trouble or delay in making the arrest. The 18 officers and crew of the Prinz Waldemar, including six Filipinos employed aboard the vessel during the last month, were arrested about an hour later.

While aboard the Waldemar, when under guard, Marshal Smiddy went below to have a look at the boilers and machinery. He noticed that one of the sea-cocks was open and that the water was slowly entering the ship. He went up on deck and informed a sergeant of infantry of his discovery, but the sergeant said he had no instructions to watch below. The marshal then instructed him to have the sea-cock closed as the ship was in danger of sinking. The sergeant carried out his instructions. On his return to his office the marshal reported that the boilers of the Waldemar had been badly damaged by building a fire under them after they had been drained of water.

One of the members of the Pomern crew, after his arrest, was found to be suffering from a dislocated shoulder. According to the captain the accident to the man occurred on Saturday, but that the man made no complaint until Sunday. He was sent to the Queen's Hospital upon the approval of U. S. Attorney Huber.

"Strict Accountability" Here. In an interview with the Star-Bulletin Sunday Attorney Huber made it very plain that the officers and crews of the other refugee vessels will be immediately arrested if investigations disclose any depredations as may be in violation of the laws of the United States, and especially of those laws under which the men of the Pomern and Waldemar have been arrested. After Collector Sharp and his men assumed custody of the German refu-

CHURCHES OFFER SPECIAL PRAYERS ASKING GUIDANCE

With diplomatic relations severed and America on the verge of war with Germany, special prayers for the success and guidance of the home administration in the delicate situation it now faces were offered yesterday in the Central Union, Methodist and Christian churches.

Minister David Cary Peters of the Christian church set aside his regular sermon for a few moments to comment on the good that is certain to result from actual warfare. It will mean, he asserted, a new appraisal of life and the realization to all concerned that a national civilization without godliness is bound to collapse. He ended his brief remarks by offering prayer for the success of the American nation in which the hope was expressed that the administration use the utmost wisdom in handling the problem it now faces.

Reference to the great spiritual awakening that the war has wrought in the European countries was made by Rev. Leon L. Loofbourow of the Methodist church. He pointed out that the people of the nations of Europe have ceased to think of money, dress, theaters and other similar things and have come to think more and more of the real things in life. The minister added that, should the United States engage in war, some of the results now being shown in Europe would be shown in this country. He pointed out that the European people have come to think less of the show things of life. If war has done this for them, it might do it for the American people, he said.

Dr. J. H. Williams, who delivered the sermon at Central Union church, referred briefly to the possibilities of war, but in his prayer he asked for the guidance of the home administration in any steps it may find it necessary to take.

BOILERS BURNED OUT ON REFUGEE STEAMERS HERE

Hot Fires Under Empty Boilers Cause Ruin; Other Machinery is Also Wrecked

As published in Sunday's 1:30 extra of the Star-Bulletin, boilers and engines of all the refugee German merchant steamers in port have been completely ruined by the vessels' crews, most of the destruction having been wrought, probably, from Friday to Sunday, as soon as the international situation became serious. On one boat it was done a week ago.

Beginning at 7:30 Sunday morning, U. S. inspectors of Hulls and Boilers Joseph J. Meaney and Thomas J. Heene, accompanied by customs inspectors and armed soldiers, boarded every merchant steamer in port and made a thorough inspection of the boilers, engines and other machinery. They finished in the afternoon.

Find Scenes of Wreckage. What they found was complete ruin. Boilers had been burned out by blazing fires after the water had been drawn, engines had been put out of commission by damaging steam chests and cracking cylinder heads. Gauges and cocks had been battered by heavy hammers, holes pierced in pipes by heavy picks, valves smashed, dynamos wrecked, engine telegraphs ruined, navigating instruments thrown overboard. The vandalism was thorough.

Some Specific Instances. On the biggest merchantman, the Pomern, boilers were totally ruined and machinery battered. A sea-cock had been prepared for opening by removal of the nuts of all studs, but one. Opening of the cock would have sunk the ship.

Engine damage was worst on the Prinz Waldemar. Her engines are practically a total loss. The Setsos was the only steamer on which the work of destruction was half-hearted or interrupted before completion. Her boilers had not cooled completely when the inspectors boarded her. Her engines were undamaged.

Work Done a Week Ago. On the gasoline schooner Hermes the crew said they had disabled her engines a week ago. The steamers damaged are the Pomern, Prinz Waldemar, Staatsekretar Kraetke, Setsos, Loongmoon, Holstia, Gouverneur Jaeschke and Hermes.

Telephones Taken Over. Military authorities took over all telephones on the waterfront Sunday morning for their own use after the Geier fire. Last night all docks were closed to the public by order of the harbor board. They will continue to be closed at night. The board had its boats and watchmen patrol the harbor last night and all craft were kept away from the German ships. Extra men were on guard in addition to customs, army and navy patrols.

OYSTER BAY, Long Island, Feb. 5.—Former President Roosevelt telegraphed to President Wilson the offer of his own services and those of his four sons in the event of open hostilities breaking out between this country and Germany.

FEDERAL COURT WILL WAIT ACTION OF IMMIGRATION OFFICIALS ON SHIP CREWS

If Officers and Crews of German Merchantmen Be Ordered Deported Legal Proceedings for Destroying Property to End

With Honolulu harbor protected so far as it can be, in that no alien German seamen are on the waterfront in a capacity where they might inflict damage, and with the crews of the German refugee vessels interned at the federal immigration station, the local U. S. attorney's office does not anticipate any further action with regard to the German seamen.

"No action will be taken by this office against the crews of the other refugee vessels while action by the local immigration officials is pending," U. S. Attorney S. C. Huber said this morning.

Immigration Inspector R. L. Halsey's instructions from Washington late Sunday afternoon were, in substance, to take charge of all German seamen at this port. These instructions were carried out Sunday night.

Marshal J. J. Smiddy, accompanied by customs and immigration officers, marched the men to the immigration station. They went willingly and the officers experienced no trouble handling their charges.

The officers and crews of the Geier and her collier, the Locksun, were not molested. These men are now in the custody of the naval authorities. A few of the seamen from the refugee steamers who were about town Sunday evening and could not be found by the officers were sent to the immigration station when they reported back to their ships.

While at the immigration station the interned Germans will be fed and cared for at the expense of the U. S. government department of commerce and labor.

Filipino's Given Liberty. Six Filipinos, arrested with the officers and men of the Prinz Waldemar, have been given their liberty. This was done because they were neither seamen nor apprentices. They did not sign articles to work on the Waldemar and did not come under the classes named in the statutes, which are masters, seamen and apprentices.

In the event that the officers and men interned at the immigration station should be ordered deported, the charges against the men of the Pomern and Prinz Waldemar undoubtedly will be dropped, the U. S. attorney's office said today.

But should war be declared between Germany and the United States, the office further reported, they will be held here as foreigners. If there is no war and an agreement is reached between the two nations, the officers and men will be released.

Date Set for Hearing.

U. S. Commissioner George S. Curry has set February 12 as the date for the preliminary hearing of the officers and crews of the Pomern and Prinz Waldemar, who are charged with having attempted to seriously damage or destroy their vessels at this port. Whether the hearing is held depends largely upon action taken by the immigration authorities, federal officials report.

U. S., HOPING FOR PEACE, TAKES NO ACT OF WAR IN STRAINED SITUATION

(Associated Press by Commercial Cable)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 5.—Although diplomatic relations with Germany have been severed and the world is a-tiptoe awaiting the final crash that will precipitate the United States into war, President Wilson and his cabinet officials still cling to the hope that actual hostilities can be avoided. While strenuously preparing to meet war if it comes the president is also striving still to bring about peace.

Indeed, spokesmen for the administration in Congress and elsewhere are declaring today that the rupture with Germany is the greatest of all the peace moves which the president has yet made, and reiterating their belief that Germany, having been warned of the folly of her endeavor to intimidate the United States will be willing to keep her pledges to this country and carry on her submarine warfare against the Entente Allies as her government pledged itself to do.

President Wilson, it was asserted yesterday, still looks hopefully toward the other neutral countries. He has sent to the American diplomats in all of these countries instructions to explain the attitude of the United States to the authorities in the capitals where they are stationed, and to invite all the neutral nations to join the United States in this protest against the threat of ruthlessness made by Germany.

While clinging to the hope of peace the president and his advisors are still keeping a keen eye on the possibility that the rupture with Germany will lead to open war, and neither he nor the other members of the administration are abating in the least their efforts to be prepared to take part in the conflict should that duty be forced upon the country.

May Convey American Ships. The question of conveying American ships through the submarine zone by American ships of war was taken up and discussed in various official circles here yesterday, but nothing definite was decided upon. The first impression was that it would be better to permit them to continue on their lawful way unprotected, but this may be changed as time and events prove otherwise.

The general assumption on the part of those who are advocating that they be allowed to go unprotected by cruisers is that Germany has had her warning, and knows now that any overt act on her part will mean that the United States will be added to the list of her foes and will model her conduct accordingly.

Ambassador Is Packing Up. Count von Bernstorff, the former German ambassador, is still busy packing his belongings and getting ready to leave the country as soon as the state department shall be able to secure him safe conduct through the

MEMENTO OF GEIER AFFAIR IS ADDED TO POLICE COLLECTION

As an interesting memento of a now historic event in Honolulu, Capt. McDuffie of the detectives has in his office, among a grand assortment of pistols, axes, knives, opium outfits and what-nots, a metal piece of a nautical instrument which was thrown to the wharf of Pier 16 Sunday when one of the sailors on the Prinz Waldemar ran amuck in the chart room shortly before the refugee ship was placed under the guard of U. S. regulars.

The "chief" says his little souvenir of the wreck of the refugees is the rim of a compass and was thrown from the bridge by a German sailor who was intent on wrecking the ship as much as possible before the soldiers came aboard. Several pieces of apparatus were thrown overboard but most of them fell in the water. Soldiers saw the wrecking and hurried on board to stop it.

McDuffie says the man was under the influence of liquor and apparently became temporarily crazed when he saw the soldiers coming.

NATION SOLID BEHIND WILSON, SAYS MARSHALL

(Associated Press by Commercial Cable)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 5.—Vice-President Marshall, in a statement commenting upon the address of President Wilson, in which the chief executive announced the severance of relations with Germany, declared that the nation is absolutely as a unit behind the president.

"If President Wilson finds it necessary to deliver another and more important address," said the vice-president, "he will then and there discover that the sentiment of the country has crystallized behind him. For months he has struggled manfully to keep his nation out of the vortex of the European war, and now that there appears the possibility that this break with Germany may lead to other and worse things, the nation will show that it appreciates his motives and trusts confidently in his sound sense."

NAVAL OFFICIALS, HANDLING HARD SITUATION, APPLY CENSORSHIP

Hawaii is under the strictest military censorship the territory has ever known.

Cable and wireless plants are under the complete control of the naval authorities and the rules enforced are more rigid even than those applied here in the first days of the European war in 1914. At that time, with the German gunboat Geier and the German merchantmen fleeing to this port, the naval censors took charge, but though the wireless service was largely restricted, there was comparatively little restriction on cable service.

The censorship went into full effect about 11 o'clock yesterday. At that time correspondents of mainland news agencies and large papers were filling rush messages to their mainland offices, both by wireless and cable, and efforts were also being made by the Honolulu papers to get news from the mainland.

That the censorship was operating first became evident when the Associated Press news from the mainland was delayed while it was being passed here. However, it was not until long afterward that local correspondents of mainland agencies learned that every message they had filed in the morning was held in the telegraph offices.

Telegraph Offices Cannot Give Information. Efforts to learn what had been done with these messages were met at the telegraph offices with flat refusals to discuss the matter. The correspondents were also refused permission to telegraph their mainland offices that the censorship here did not allow news to be sent. Meanwhile, either "flash" messages before 11 o'clock had succeeded in getting through, with the meager facts that the Geier was burning, or else information had been given out to the press by the navy authorities in Washington of the Geier incident, for immediately the Associated Press cabled its day and night details. These could not be sent and at that time it appeared that not even notification of the censorship was allowed to go from Honolulu to the mainland, except through military messages.

Not until night were the correspondents allowed to send the bare notification of the censorship being in operation.

At this time also the suddenly applied rules were relaxed sufficiently to allow cable and wireless messages to tell senders of messages whether or not the messages had been allowed to go.

No complaint whatever has been made of the activities of the news correspondents here. The naval authorities state that their action is taken in line with military necessity. Censorship is Naval.

The censorship is under the supervision of the naval officers here, as it was when applied in the early weeks of the European war. At that time the wireless offices were supervised by naval men, who took desks in the wireless offices and passed immediately on messages. The cable office did not have such supervision.

The theory of the censorship in the wireless offices was that no news whatever of the movement of ships at sea or other naval information was to be allowed to go out by wireless for fear it would be picked up by one of the belligerents and turned to military use, which would have been a violation of U. S. neutrality.

How Regulations Worked Out. Observance of this theory led to interesting situations at that time. News of a naval battle on the Atlantic was allowed to come by cable, but not by wireless. Virtually no news was allowed to come by wireless which in large numbers from Japan, China and the Philippines, where they were employed or in business when the war began.

Some of the naval reserve went on from here who had the funds and others who found they could not get to Germany came back from the mainland.

Two escaped army prisoners from Fort Shafter were captured and arrested about 7 o'clock this morning on Liliha street by Sgt. S. E. Poaha. The men were R. Hobart, Company I, 32nd Infantry, and George Guffer, Troop H, 4th Cavalry. They have been turned over to the military authorities. Desk Clerk En Yiu Kau assisted Poaha.

CENSORSHIP ORDERS SHOW LOCAL RULES

The following official instructions to the manager of Commercial Pacific Cable Company show the rules enforced by the naval censors:

"OFFICIAL INSTRUCTIONS" "1. For the present. Give precedence to all government messages, Army and Navy first (incoming and outgoing) from Honolulu."

"2. Report government messages promptly day and night, making arrangements during all hours of the night to have your cable station deliver incoming messages by telephone to proper government addresses. For incoming official government messages for Pearl Harbor call No. 39, Pearl Harbor, at all hours, day or night."

"3. Submit all PRESS to censor, incoming and outgoing. 4. Press from mainland will be submitted to Pearl Harbor before releasing to newspapers."

"5. Messages in plain English of a personal and non-official character will be passed, incoming and outgoing. 6. By direction of the commandant."

"B. F. TILLEY, Lieutenant, U. S. N., Aid."

Nor was news allowed to be sent by wireless from Hawaii concerning the movement of vessels, either naval or mercantile, on the Pacific. The censors said that some of this information might be turned to use by one of the belligerents. Though the concerned shipping on the Pacific method of sending messages was strictly supervised, there was no absolute stopping of news despatches such as has been the case here since yesterday morning. Correspondents were allowed, if they wished, to explain the situation to their mainland offices.

The Mutual Wireless is under the naval censorship also and must observe virtually the same rules.

All messages, either filed here for sending abroad or received here for delivery locally, must be referred at once to the naval censors, who are under the direction of Capt. George R. Clark, commandant at Pearl Harbor. The messages must be telephoned to Pearl Harbor and there officially approved or to the naval station in Honolulu for similar approval.

News Sent Out Today. During the morning the censor passed the following message for the Associated Press on the mainland: "Navy took charge of crew and officers of Geier and Locksun and turned them over to the army for transfer of place of internment. The crews being divided between Schofield, Shafter and de Russy. The flag and pennant were left up and a small number of crew left on board in accordance with internment regulations. On going on board it was found that Geier's machinery and half the boilers had been disabled. Today the Geier will be taken to Pearl Harbor, followed later by the Locksun. Injuries were caused partly by fire and partly by smashing machinery."

So far as is known this is the only message concerning the German ship incidents which has gone to the mainland for more than 24 hours, outside of the official despatches of the navy and army.

Some of the naval reserve went on from here who had the funds and others who found they could not get to Germany came back from the mainland.

Two escaped army prisoners from Fort Shafter were captured and arrested about 7 o'clock this morning on Liliha street by Sgt. S. E. Poaha. The men were R. GUNBOAT GEIER TAKEN TO PEARL HARBOR BY NAVY

Vessel Smolders at Dock All Day Sunday; Officers and Crew Taken to Camp?

Catching from the superheated boilers which were being burned out and ruined by order of her officers, the fire on the interned German gunboat Geier Sunday was something which the vessel's commander and crew had not anticipated when they started to destroy the four boilers.

This important fact developed today. It shows the Geier outside to have been a ship in the concerted action taken by the commanders of the German merchant and naval vessels in port, to disable them completely in case they should fall into the hands of the United States.

Boilers Filled With Fuel. Sunday morning the Geier's four boilers were crammed full of fuel and lighted. The fire grew hotter and hotter so that in time half the boilers were so superheated that the heat radiation began scorching the asbestos paint coating covering them. The scorching asbestos sent out the smoke fumes which resulted in the calling of the fire department by Capt. William R. Foster. The intense boiler heat then ignited the wooden covering of the steel deck.

Thurston Goes Aboard. Fire Chief Charles H. Thurston and his assistant, W. W. Blaisdell, boarded the Geier early Sunday afternoon with a crew from the Central station and extinguished smoldering flames on deck with chemicals. No water was used.

Although the ship was fired in no other place than the engine room where the boilers were burned out and absolutely ruined the intense heat generated by the redhot metal spread to the steel deck over the engine-room which in turn set fire to a three-inch wooden deck which covered the steel.

The firemen stayed on the ship until 8 o'clock in the evening applying chemicals, tearing up the planking and throwing it overboard or piling it along the sides.

Blaisdell says the engine-room looked as if a cyclone had struck it. Not content with the damage done to the boilers the wreckers had attacked the engines with sledge-hammers, doing irreparable damage and leaving what had shortly before been a handsome array of shining machinery a shattered mass of debris.

The German gunboat Geier, which was totally ruined so far as immediate service is concerned when her boilers were burned out Sunday morning, was transferred this morning from her berth near Pier 7 to the government navy yards at Pearl Harbor by the U. S. tug Navajo. There she will be kept indefinitely.

In a succession of exciting events, from the time smoke was first seen issuing from the Geier's stack early Sunday morning until she was towed from her moorings today those who gathered along the waterfront by hundreds on Allen street from Fort to Alakea witnessed some stirring events.

Smoke Noticed Early. Capt. James Gregory of the I. I. steamship Kinai is the first known to have seen smoke issuing from the Geier's deck about 3 o'clock in the morning but thought nothing of it at the time. Later, shortly after 7 o'clock, two government officials saw the smoke and noticed a smell as if of burning metal and they notified the navy department.

It was nearly 10 o'clock when from the harbor master's office a call was sent to the fire department; the police simultaneously rushed to the scene in answer to the fire whistle and in a very few minutes the vicinity of the Geier was a jumbled mass of rushing humanity.

Crowd is Forced Back. The police held the crowd back as much as possible and the fire department stood by to go aboard the Geier at the proper order. The U. S. tug Navajo hurried back to the Geier and offered to tow her out into the harbor but was refused a tow line from the Geier's crew.

Navy, army and customs officials, after a joint conference, ordered troops to the scene and the crowds were given additional thrills when the khaki boys came on the double quick from all sides; received orders to load and hurried to commanding positions with guns leveled. Orders were given to arrest and disarm any Germans who might come ashore. Later military officers in charge went on board and arrested the entire crew after Capt. Grasshof of the Geier had officially surrendered his ship to the United States, and then began the task of removing all the German officers and men and marching them to places of detention at the army posts under guard of regulars.

JAPANESE NEWSPAPER LIKES NEW ATTITUDE OF AMERICAN NATION

"Japanese are very grateful for the attitude of the United States," says Y. Soga in an editorial in the Nippon Jiji today. "We sympathize with the United States and hope that the change of position from neutrality to a belligerent nation will result in an early peace for the nations of the world."

"War will end sooner if the United States continues to take the stand that has been outlined. Japanese in America must change their attitude toward the United States, inasmuch as the two nations will be fighting a common foe, should war be declared."

"It is to be hoped that Japanese in Hawaii will not show enmity toward Germans and Austrians in petty things but rather keep the attitude of a great nation. If the time comes when the Japanese residents of Hawaii are needed they must stand up for the United States, as this is not only an obligation but the United States would be joining the Allies in the common cause of overthrowing militarism. Japanese in Canada have given their lives for that country, and in an emergency it is certain that the Japanese of Hawaii will do the same for the United States."

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1917.

NO "OVERT ACTS" YET COMMITTED.

The absence—up to this writing—of any overt acts of war on the part of Germany, and the evident intention of the United States to exercise every conceivable forbearance in handling German subjects and property in this country give ground for hope that actual hostilities may be averted.

With this, the reported yielding of the German government to the demand for the release of American sailors on the Yarrowdale is a ray of light through a clouded sky.

It was this formal demand which the United States voiced in breaking diplomatic relations with the German government. What effect the yielding of Germany on this point will have on the general situation remains to be seen. A mere surrender of the Americans who were taken to Swinemunde as prisoners of war scarcely begins to meet American demands. But it is an indication that Germany may meet those demands—at least far enough to prevent acts that would necessitate a declaration of war.

Our chief demands, of course, are not for the surrender of the American sailors on the Yarrowdale. They are that Germany shall adhere to her pledges against ruthless submarine warfare, and shall adhere to other assurances safeguarding American and neutral rights on the seas.

Observers point out that even the wrecking of the machinery in German merchant-ships here and the burning of the Geier are very far from hostile acts. It does not, of course, require imagination to show that those acts potentially imperilled the safety of the port. The fires might have gotten beyond control; adjacent wharves and nearby shipping endangered; possibly an explosion from overheated boilers threatened. No one outside the Germans has known how far what was done menaced the port, nor what else might be planned to disable the ships or for other purposes.

As events so far have turned out, the wrecking was only partial and no damage to other property was done. Hence the supposition that the Germans are under orders to commit no acts of hostility, even while putting their ships out of business for early operation.

The extreme care and deliberation exercised by all American officials here—federal, territorial and local—and their method of handling the German crews and ships possibly indicates that their orders from Washington are for the utmost circumspection in dealing with the situation.

From the completion of events more hope is expressed today than either Saturday or yesterday that the break in diplomatic relations is not the first step in plunging the United States into the exhausting world-war. But this hope should not for a moment relax the determination of Americans to aid their government in carrying through its admittedly difficult task.

"EXTRA!"

These are busy days indeed for Honolulu newspapers, and presumably for newspapers all over the United States—though the telegraphic news which is able to come through by cable and wireless has said virtually nothing regarding what is happening in other cities.

Never before in territorial history have there been so many "extras" and never before has there been such a clamor for news. The telephones in the newspaper offices are ringing almost constantly with inquiries as to when the next extra will be on the street.

Early morning extras are comparatively rare here and Sunday extras even more so but Saturday and yesterday they were frequent. On Saturday the Star-Bulletin began with an edition which was on the street just before 7:30, giving Honolulu its first news that Uncle Sam had broken diplomatic relations with the German government. In putting out this extra, the Star-Bulletin had to set speed records to beat its morning contemporary, which was also rushing out the news, the two papers having received ed its simultaneously over the cable from the Associated Press office in San Francisco. On Saturday the Star-Bulletin issued three extras, and the astonishing local events yesterday caused the issuance yesterday of two extras. In issuing the morning special, the Star-Bulletin was again able to give Honolulu first news of very important events—the burning of the Geier, the wreckage of machinery in the German ships and the suspected attempt to sink the Pomern.

"The speedy publication of the facts on the part of the Honolulu newspapers has aided materially in keeping poise in the community. You are to be congratulated for stopping silly rumors," said a man yesterday.

That fact the newspapers have recognized, especially in their Sunday extras. Sensational as were some of the events of yesterday in this city, they were not half so sensational as some of the wild reports which came to the newspaper offices—reports which if allowed to become current for a few hours might have led to dangerous incitement.

In keeping the community informed and giving the facts and the official action taken, the balloons of vague conjecture and senseless, jingoistic canards were repeatedly punctured by the extras.

The censorship has been such that much of the telegraph news ordinarily published cannot now be secured and to this extent the papers are unable to give their customary full foreign service, but this fact, we feel assured, is understood by the community.

NO OCCASION TO WORRY.

Though the spectacular and exciting events of yesterday brought Honolulu to a realizing sense of what war may mean, these are still the "Isles of Peace" and no visitor need think of shortening his or her stay because of fear that Hawaii is unsafe. The possibility that a German submarine will operate in the Pacific is so remote that it need cause no worry, and the possibility that such a submarine could interfere with transportation between here and the mainland is still remoter. The possibility that German activities locally will occasion any real unpleasantness is even remoter than that. The rumors and reports are exciting and at times sensational but cause no inconvenience and hardly any unpleasantness. No place in the United States is better guarded than Oahu, with its thousands of regulars, its militia and its efficient coast defenses. Indeed, this reassuring situation was realized on Saturday almost as soon as the first impulse to hurry home arose, and the visitors quite universally now are preparing to stay here and enjoy themselves as they originally planned.

DISTORTION AND JINGOISM.

(FROM DAILY FINANCIAL AMERICA.)

The explanation given Daily Financial America by Mr. George W. Chester, Brazilian vice-consul in New York, of the importation by Brazil of Japanese laborers, seems quite completely to clear up the misapprehension concerning that matter created by sensational reports published in certain newspapers. It is evident that this importation of Japanese labor represents no covert attempt on the part of Japan to colonize in Brazil, for the shipment of men from the Orient is being carried out through contract with the Brazilian government. The purpose is to make use of Japanese experts and Japanese labor familiar with the work to develop rice-growing in Brazil, which has been importing this staple to the value of several hundred million dollars annually.

Brazil is endeavoring not only to develop a rice-growing industry on a scale which will make its people more independent of a foreign supply of this foodstuff, but is also seeking to enlarge in a scientific manner the growing of fruits. To this end the Brazilian department of agriculture recently engaged the services of six American experts in fruit-raising.

It is unfortunate that efforts of this kind by Brazil should be utilized by jingoistic circles in the United States to foster suspicion between this country and Japan.

TO THE GENERAL PUBLIC OF THE TERRITORY OF HAWAII:

You are requested to comply with the text and spirit of the following cablegram from the Honorable Robert Lansing, Secretary of State.

LECHUS E. PINKHAM,
Governor of Hawaii.

8 o'clock p. m., 2nd February, 1917.

Washington, D. C., February 3rd, 1917.

His Excellency Governor of Hawaii,
Honolulu.

In view of the severance of diplomatic relations between the United States and the German Empire I venture to request your good offices to the end that special precaution be taken to see that no acts of hostility are committed against German officials within the limits of your State (Territory). In the event of a hostile act that while diplomatic relations with Germany have been severed the two countries are not in a state of war. It is with a view to avoid complications in this critical situation that I am calling this matter to your attention.

ROBERT LANSING,
Secretary of State.

STILL NEED $700 FOR Y. W. BUDGET

Less than $700 must be collected by the Y. W. C. A. to complete the budget of $17,000 which was planned at the beginning of the campaign. To date the largest amount given by a corporation was $500, which was contributed by Alexander & Baldwin. Of this amount $300 is a yearly contribution, and $200 was given as a special gift for this year.

It is not expected that the report on the actual amount received will be given out until the end of this week as a number of business firms who are expected to contribute will hold directors' meetings late in the week. A few campaign workers have been calling on some of the people who gave last year but the teams have practically given up the work on a large scale.

The committee is not certain that the full $17,000 will be raised by the last of the week, but is confident that by the end of the month the entire amount asked for will be in the hands of the treasurer. The workers have been tireless in their work and the committee in charge has only pleasant words for the help that has been given by the members of the association and their friends.

LETTERS

THE BENEFITS OF A SCHOOL SURVEY

Honolulu, Hawaii, Feb. 2, 1917.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.
Sir: In the last number of the educational magazine, entitled, "School and Society," there is a very interesting article on the "Fruits of School Surveys," which might be of interest to your readers. I should advise any one interested in the subject to read this article.

The article is based upon a letter sent out to 25 superintendents in localities where surveys had been made. Eighteen replies were received and the author summarizes the benefits which the superintendents felt were received from the surveys. Some of the more important of these were as follows:

1st. The interest of the public was aroused in the school systems and in almost every case this resulted in more adequate financial support for buildings, equipment and teachers' salaries. To quote from the article: "It is dawned upon school people that the greatest function of the school survey is to acquaint the community with the status of its schools."

2nd. The interest of the teachers in their work was increased and the schools became more efficient for that reason.

3rd. The administrative control and conduct of school business has been greatly aided.

One statement in the article is of particular interest: "Even after the needs of a school system have been pointed out by the survey, the program must be carried out very largely by other agencies than those that made the investigation. These agencies should come in for a few, if not for most, of the credit for results. No one can contend that survey fruits will follow automatically upon recommendations without subsequent expenditure of energy by school officers and other members of the community whose schools have been surveyed; but calling the attention of the school staff and the community to the school needs of a community in the striking, convincing manner possible to the survey, makes the school improvements that follow" the fruits of the survey.

The author declares from the reports of these 18 superintendents that school surveys are emphatically justified by the interest aroused and the results which have come from them in these communities. It must be remembered that many of these surveys were not federal surveys, and if the results of these surveys were worth while how much more worth while will be a federal survey.

Very truly yours,
ROBERT D. WILLIAMS.

BREAKFAST PREPARATION CAUSES ALARM OF FIRE

A fire alarm turned in about 5 o'clock this morning to the effect that a ship at Pier 18 was on fire, shot the lights of refugee German steamers gave up in smoke and more excitement similar to that caused by the burning of the Geier, through Chief Thurston's mind, but when the Central fire department crew arrived at the scene they were disappointed—or, more correctly, relieved.

It seems that some early morning riser saw flames shooting out of one of the ships and conceiving nothing else than a fire hurried to turn in an alarm. It developed that the galley cook was getting breakfast and was just throwing in another shovel of coal to throw the heat into the pan-cakes when the flames from the fire box shot out for an instant in the early morning dusk.

REPUBLICANS OF COUNTY FORGET PLATFORM RULE

Republican leaders on Oahu are evidently asleep at the switch, according to other Republicans who do not aspire to be leaders.

Under the party rules the county committee have called for nominations for a county convention last week and the nominations should have been voted on next Saturday. The delegates thus elected should make up the county committee and county platform convention.

This is a preliminary to the spring municipal election. Up to now Honolulu city elections have been held at the same time as territorial elections, but the system was changed by the last legislature, which appears to have thrown the wheel-horses of the G. O. P. all out of stride.

The Republican territorial committee is reported to have set a meeting for tonight and some method of getting around the oversight will probably be devised.

TOURISTS BEING TAKEN CARE OF BY HOTELS

"Tourists are gradually being accommodated by the various hotels of the city," said A. P. Taylor, secretary of the Hawaii Promotion Committee, today. "We are having a few complaints, but on the whole the tourists are satisfied as they realize the situation."

One gentleman who has traveled much was complaining this morning about his accommodations and said that he did not expect such trouble in America. He told of his troubles in Egypt at one time, securing accommodations, but expected more of an American country.

Tourists calling at the Hawaii Promotion Committee this morning said that they did not worry about a war scare, and it is not thought that any of the present crop will leave Hawaii on account of the happenings of the last few days.

MAN IS KILLED; DRIVER IS HELD

L. L. Schmidt, a taxi driver, was charged with manslaughter today by Deputy Sheriff Asch and released on bonds of $1000 as the result of an accident Sunday afternoon on Ala Moana road when a Chinese, Wong Fat, received injuries which caused his death at the Queen's hospital later in the day. An inquest will be held Tuesday morning.

The defendant was first charged with heedless driving, but this accusation was stricken from the police calendar this morning when the more serious charge was preferred.

According to the police story of the accident Schmidt came down Richards street, turned on to Ala Moana road, discharged some passengers and then backed his machine to the curb.

In doing so he backed into the victim and the rear wheel had passed over the prostrate body before Schmidt could stop.

The injured man was hurried to the hospital by Schmidt. Schmidt was formerly an employee of the Schuman Carriage Co.

RANCHMAN URGES GOVERNMENT GET BUSY TO PRODUCE MORE FOOD

Foreseeing a possible food shortage in Hawaii, A. B. Leckenby, the veteran manager of the Kahana ranch, on windward Oahu, this morning gave orders to plant 12 acres to sweet potatoes. Simultaneously he suggested a plan for greatly increasing the food production of the islands.

"There is a large amount of land, much of it government land, on which crops could be successfully cultivated and sold with profit at present high prices," he said. "With prices going higher, it is absolutely necessary for the territory to produce more."

"But government action is needed. Governor Pinkham has often spoken of the problem of diversified crops here, and I propose a practical way to carry out his ideas. It is for the government to take hold of agriculture, place competent men in charge and allow men and women to begin raising vegetables on land now unused."

"For instance, in the Waimea section, Kaula, there is a fine tract of land which was homesteaded a few years ago. The late Mrs. B. M. Allen gave a large sum of money to George Allen to start the project. It went by the board for some reason or other, but the land is still there and so is eight or ten thousand dollars' worth of valuable machinery, including a big caterpillar tractor."

"This tract could be farmed now with profit. There are many other unused sections where the government could also encourage agriculture."

"I know that we could feed a good many thousand more people here by turning attention now to vegetable gardening. I would be willing to give all my time to the work, free of charge."

Leckenby has been ranching in the islands for nine years and has been an agriculturist all his life.

LEAHI BENEFIT WILL DRAW MANY

Visiting fashion will make the big dining room of the Moana Hotel at Waikiki a brilliant sight next Saturday evening on the occasion of the benefit concert to be given in aid of the humane enterprises of the Leahi Home. The object of the benefit and the prominence of the artists who are giving their services have a dual attraction which is causing the seat demand throughout the local hotels to be already pronounced. Local society is also planning to attend the concert in large numbers.

Manager Moroni of the Moana will turn over all the proceeds to the home to help finance its new enterprises for 1917 in the combat against tuberculosis. The home is the leading unit in the territory-wide campaign against this disease which is telling heavily on the native population.

Signor Wanrell, Mrs. Riley H. Allen and Miss Bernice Holmes were the leading figures in one of the most noticed of last year's concerts, the climax of a long list of local successes which had been earned by each. Probably no combination of local talent has been happier than this, for these three singers represent the best of the mainland artistic colonies here, in favor of Hawaii. All have national reputations and have been applauded in many other cities of the country.

Their program has behind it years of experience in the operatic stage and splendid musical ability on the part of each.

A FRIEND'S ADVICE

Woman Saved From a Serious Surgical Operation.

Louisville, Ky.—"For four years I suffered from female troubles, headaches, and nervousness. I could not sleep, had no appetite and it hurt me to walk. If I tried to do any work, I would have to lie down before it was finished. The doctors said I would have to be operated on and I simply broke down. A friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and the result is I feel like a new woman. I am well and strong, do all my own house work and have an eight pound baby girl. I know Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation which every woman dreads."—Mrs. NELLIE FISBACK, 1521 Christy Ave., Louisville, Ky.

Everyone naturally dreads the surgeon's knife. Sometimes nothing else will do, but many times Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved the patient and made an operation unnecessary. FLOATS DISPLAY NOT AT CAPITOL

With the possibility confronting him that the encampment of troops in the Capitol grounds may interfere with the placing of floats there for exhibition after the Carnival parade, Alexander Hume Ford has decided to arrange for another place than this for their location.

It was said today that the floats may be placed in the vicinity of the "Old Plantation" on King street, although this has not been definitely decided. Ford was warned of the possibility of troops being encamped by the governor. Governor Pinkham said today:

"The Hawaiian department notified the governor that it wished to occupy a portion of the Capitol grounds. Hence as a matter of courtesy he called in Alexander Hume Ford and stated this fact."

"Mr. Ford, instead of keeping to his original plan of locating his floats against the fence, seemed to think he had the privilege of occupying the whole ground as he saw fit."

"The governor advised him, in order to make sure, to see the mayor about the use of Thomas Square. What conclusions were reached are not at present within his knowledge."

PLAY CRAP GAME ON WATERFRONT

Observers who saunter along the waterfront just before a ship is due to arrive can usually see a "crap" game in progress and some have often expressed the wonder that the police did not attempt to stop the gambling. Harbor Policeman A. E. Carter, who broke up a big game this morning and played one man, a Japanese named Mukai, under arrest with the evidence, has an explanation to give of the "bone" rollers' presence. Mukai was fined $5 in police court this morning. "They have their games down there—I know it," said Carter when asked if there was not a lot of gambling going on "on the front," "but how can I stop it or any policeman for that matter? They have their spies and watchmen posted by the dozens, and the minute I turn off Alakea or Fort street the word goes along from mouth to mouth and everything is as peaceful as a country graveyard when I arrive. This morning I changed my tactics and got one man out of a big game. "I sneaked along the Pommern to the back of Pier 7 where they were playing and made a dash into their midst before they were warned. I knocked Mukai down, right over the dice and the money. All the rest got away."

JAPANESE IS ACCUSED OF VERY UGLY CRIME

Two painful bites on his body, a breathless chase a few feet ahead of an infuriated Chinese and death and escape from an infuriated husband was the lot of I. Okabe, a Japanese, who tried to assault Tokanaka Shingun in Moiliili Saturday afternoon. Okabe is now in custody charged with a statutory offense. He will probably be arraigned in police court Tuesday.

Capt. McDuffie of the detectives, who is gathering evidence in the case, says that when the woman was attacked by Okabe, she offered violent resistance and succeeded in biting her molester twice.

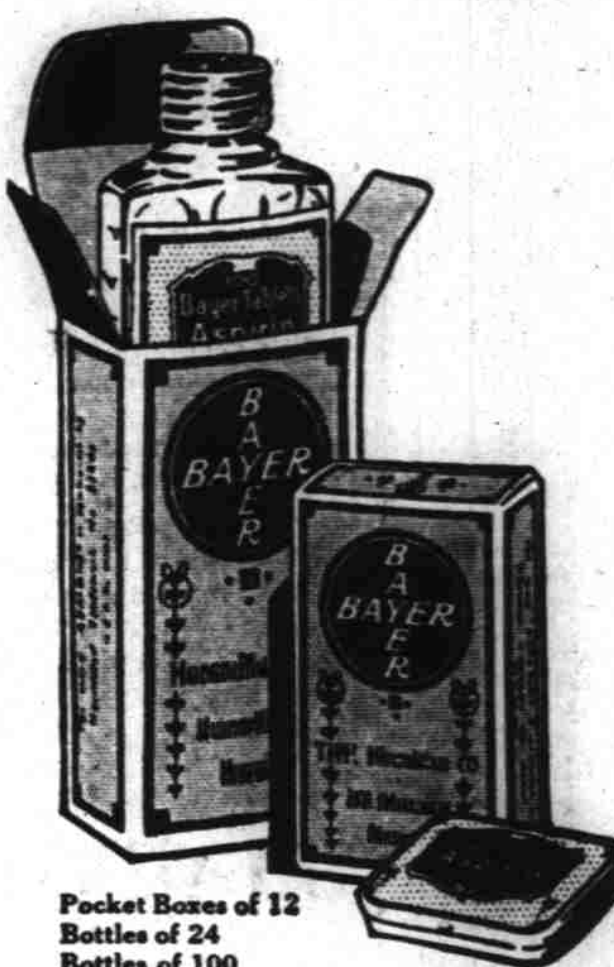

In an effort to subdue the woman, Okabe cut her twice on the head with a knife, but took to his heels when her shrieks brought assistance. She was later treated at the emergency hospital.

A Chinese who saw Okabe leaving on the run took up the chase and nearly caught him. When the husband was informed of and learned the identity of Okabe he sought him out, weighing in his mind whether to take the man to the police or to deliver punishment himself.

While the husband was deliberating Okabe escaped. He was later caught by the police.

A petition for the probate of the will of the late Susan Dorcas Heapy has been filed in circuit court. The estate is valued at about $1000.

CLARK RESIGNS AS CLERK OF FEDERAL COURT OF HONOLULU

George R. Clark, federal court clerk, has handed his resignation to Judge H. W. Vaughan to take effect on February 20. Clark, who is a Republican, says his relations with the judges and other officials have been cordial and that he is resigning because he believes the judges will desire a Democrat at the head of the clerk's office.

Clark's resignation has not been accepted, but it is understood it will be. It was reported that Clark would seek the position as clerk of the senate in the next legislature, but he says he will not do this as he understands O. P. Soares, Republican, has practically been selected.

It is understood there are several applicants for Clark's position. Judge Vaughan may wait until the arrival of the new federal judge before appointing Clark's successor.

Among recent arrivals in Honolulu are Dr. Katherine Cherrill and Dr. P. H. Pennock and wife who have decided to make their home here. Both doctors are osteopathic physicians and will practise their profession here.

LURLINE LATE;
4:30 TOMORROW

Nearly 12 hours late, the Matamoras will not arrive off port until 4:30 tomorrow afternoon instead of at daylight, according to a wireless received by Castle & Cooke today.

Capt. Arthur L. Soule in his wireless this morning reported that strong southerly winds and head seas were delaying the Lurline. There are 44 cabin and two steerage passengers, 119 packages of express matter and 6527 tons for Honolulu.

The principal items in the steamer's cargo for Honolulu as given in his wireless report today are:

Automobiles: 29, mules, 27; hay, 20 tons, 1718 and 1212 bales; flour, 6000 cases; pommes, 16; sheep, 4; box shooks, 2738 bundles; cement, three lots, 2197, 6399 and 7067 bags; fertilizer, 4765 bags; steel, two lots, 1649 and 1938 pieces; castings, one 4-ton, one 5-ton; rails, 490; lumber, 36,448 feet of pine; bricks, 36,000.

Kahului cargo is 1447 tons, including a horse and 6004 bags of cement. The Lurline will dock at Pier 15 about 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

RECENTLY ARRIVED STOWAWAY IS FOUND SECRETED IN POMMERN

Found crouching in the forecabin of the big German merchant steamer Pommern at 9 o'clock last night by one of the soldiers guarding the vessel, Carl Kessler, or Kressler, was arrested and turned over to U. S. Marshal J. J. Smiddy. Later he was removed to the immigration station with the other sailors for detention.

Of special significance is the fact that the German when found was within a few feet of the control rod reaching down from the forecabin to a sea-cock in the forepeak of the Pommern. Had he been able to open the cock by turning the rod the freighter could have been sunk at the pier.

Kessler is the same man who arrived as a stowaway on the Oceanic liner Sierra from San Francisco October 23 and was put ashore here. According to the story he told Harbor Officer A. E. Carter at the time, he had been employed by the German consulate in Sydney as a "runner" and had been imprisoned in a German detention camp there until he became sick and was sent to a hospital. The man was given a job here aboard the Pommern a few days later.

SUNOMA WILL BE HERE AT 8 A. M.

A wireless received today by the shipping agent of C. Brewer & Co., Ltd., Ltd., the local Oceanic liner Sunoma will arrive off port at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning from San Francisco.

It is presumed she may have encountered rough weather, as the hour of her arrival is an hour and a half later than schedule. The liner will dock at Pier 6 and leave at 6 o'clock tomorrow night for Pago-Pago and Sydney, taking the next mail for American Samoa and Australia.

Passengers aboard the Sunoma for Honolulu are much more than usual, 149. There are 770 sacks of mail, 810 tons of general cargo and 14 tons of express matter for Honolulu.

STOWAWAY TAKEN ON TO MAINLAND

Deciding to take him on to San Francisco for further investigation, the federal authorities here gave orders to Capt. Carleton of the U. S. army transport Sheridan to keep George Kraft, a German or Hollander stowaway who stowed away at Manila on board the transport and to turn him over to the immigration station there. The Sheridan left at 5 p. m. Sunday.

Kraft was held in detention here on the vessel all day Sunday. He is believed to be another German consular attaché such as the one who arrived in San Francisco as a stowaway on the transport Logan in January and there produced credentials showing him to be an official of the German government. He was released, but if Kraft tries the same stunt he may be held as a prisoner of war.

The Sheridan's stowaway, dressed in a soldier's uniform, went on at Manila. He told officers of the transport on Sunday that he started from Batavia, Java. Kraft had plenty of money, 1055 Philippine pesos and $235 gold being found on him. His papers show he traveled extensively in British India, particularly Penang and Singapore.

Article published recently in connection with its comment on the speech of Ambassador Gerard before the American Association of Trade and Commerce. "It must always be recalled," says the writer, "to the German 'Yankee haters' that their standpoint is legally wrong. The Hague convention distinctly permits neutrals to make deliveries of ammunition, and Germany's representatives at this convention expressly opposed changing this clause."

SHERIDAN GOES ON TO 'FRISCO

Taken to first cabin, 26 second and 260 steerage passengers from Honolulu to San Francisco, the U. S. army transport Sheridan, Capt. William A. Carleton, resumed her voyage to San Francisco at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon. She had arrived in the morning from Manila and Nagasaki. Passengers disembarking here from Manila included Mr. and Mrs. C. Henning, a Philippine insular employee; Col. William E. Tucker, U. S. A., retired, and Passed Assistant Surgeon, William Angwin, U. S. A., with Mrs. Angwin and family.

Work of discharging and loading the vessel was rushed by stevedores at the request of the depot quartermaster's office.

The office expected the transport to leave San Francisco today for this port, Guam and Manila. She is due to arrive February 12.

The German or Hollander stowaway, George Kraft, was taken on to San Francisco for investigation. He stowed away at Manila.

SHINYO TO SAIL AT 9 TOMORROW

Bringing 78 first cabin, 8 second and 260 steerage passengers to Honolulu the T. K. K. turbine Shinryo Maru, Capt. S. Togo, arrived this morning from Yokohama, half a day ahead of time and will steam for San Francisco from Pier 7 at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning taking the next mail, which will close at the postoffice at 7:30 a. m.

A lovely voyage was reported by Purser J. P. Bourne and Dr. P. Bass, the Shinryo's surgeon. There was one case of measles and one of chickenpox among the steerage, the surgeon vaccinating everyone in the steerage.

Through passengers on the liner are 143 first cabin, 59 second and 249 steerage. Cargo brought to Honolulu was 1490 tons. Chief Steward J. J. Richards reported all kinds of social events on the voyage over, including moonlight dances, a cabaret show and other stunts.

FOR THOSE WHO SUFFER PAIN IN STOMACH, BACK OR JOINTS

(By Samuel Hamilton, M. D.)
In recent years investigation by means of X-rays, the observations of scientists such as Cannon, Grutner, Parkov, Fowler, Hawk, prove that an abundance of water is necessary in good bodily housekeeping. To drink a pint of hot water before meals is good practice, and those suffering from a catarrhal condition of the stomach will find benefit in adding about 10 grains (one-sixth of a level teaspoonful) of baking-soda, drinking it an hour before each meal.

If your kidneys are sick, or you suffer with lumbago or rheumatism at times, pain in the back or back of the neck, take a little Anuric before meals. Anuric (double strength) can be found at any good drug store, and was first discovered by Dr. Pierce of the Surgical Institute in Buffalo, N. Y.

When run-down, when indoors have brought about a stagnant condition in the circulation—most everyone is filled with uric acid—especially is this so of people past middle age. This uric acid in the blood often causes rheumatism, lumbago, swelling of hands or feet, or a bag-like condition under the eyes. Backache, frequent urination or the pains and stiffness of the joints and high blood-pressure are also often noticed. Everyone should drink plenty of pure water and exercise in the open air as much as possible. I have found that Anuric is an antidote for this uric acid poison and that it will dissolve the accumulation of uric acid in the body much as hot water dissolves sugar.—Adv.

CHICAGO, Ill.—Because it carried too much stuff about "warm, lingering kisses" and had a naughty cover, the "Helluva" number of the Northwestern University Candle has been suppressed by the faculty.

One verse that stirred the profs is this: "Her lips both shaped by Cupid's bow With most ecstatic passion quiver."

RID STOMACH OF GASES, SOURNESS, AND INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapiesin" Ends All Stomach Distress in Five Minutes

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you mustn't injure it with drastic drugs.

Pape's Diapiesin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; its certain unfailing action in regulating diet, sour, gassy stomachs; its millions of cures in indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other stomach trouble has made it famous the world over.

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments, and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eruptions of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapiesin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.

ALL VAUDEVILLE ACTS MAKE GOOD

There was slender opportunity for patrons of the Bijou theater Saturday evening to voice dissatisfaction at the latest bill of vaudeville and photodrama being served at that house. In fact there was every opportunity for the heartiest of applause and each of the five big acts was greeted with a salvo and recalled for "more of the same kind." Then there was the picture, "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," a screen dramatization of Robert W. Service's gripping poem of the same name. To those who are familiar with the works of Service all that is necessary is to state that the photoplay is just what would be expected.

The Lampinis, billed as comic wizards, have an act that is hardly to be compared with anything that has been seen in Honolulu in a long time past. They are wizards and their wizardry is comic. The act should be seen to be fully appreciated. Grace Watson, "The Buster Girl," is chock-full of song and dance and is a delightful little entertainer. Walter Weems, a burnt-cork humorist, has a line of patter that is new and refreshing. Jamie Kelly is good and Jack Merlin, "the talkative trickster," is just that.

SPENDTHRIFT IS COME-BACK HERO

"Artie, the Millionaire Kid," a five-reel Vitaphone feature, is getting big laughs at the Hawaii theater and they are well earned. It is a classy comedy with Ernest Truex, a big New York star, and Dorothy Kelly in the leading roles.

The story deals with a light-hearted youth whose father turns him out of home after his return from college with the degrees G. B. and P. D. Q. Before turning loose "the kid," father adds the degree of N. G. Dad owns a railroad and the son develops considerable of a peeve, making the threat, when invited from home, to return in a year with sufficient funds to buy the old railroad. The funny thing about the story is the fact that Artie "makes good" and in the making there is none of the ridiculous rising to fortune but the plot is worked out along common sense lines.

Artie gets a little inside information relative to a piece of land his father is desirous of securing for the development of his road. Artie also gets an option on the land with the result that he cleans up a cool million with father in the role of "goat." Artie also meets and marries a beautiful woman as the result of being kicked out with degrees only.

HONOLULU PEOPLE GET INSTANT ACTION

Those who have used it in Honolulu are astonished at the INSTANT action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ika. Because it acts on BOTH lower and upper bowel, ONE SPOONFUL Adler-ika relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. It removes such surprising foul matter that a few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. The Hollister Drug Company.—Adv.

CROSS, FEVERISH CHILD IS BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If Tongue is Coated Give "California Syrup of Figs"

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic-remember a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

FENCING SCENE IS ONE OF BEST

Jesse L. Lasky has sent to the Liberty theater for the early part of this week another of his all-star casts in "The Victory of Conscience." The list is headed by Lou Tellegen and includes Cleo Ridgely, Elliott Dexter, Thomas Delmar, Laura Woods Cushing and John McKenna. As a romantic actor Lou Tellegen has had little trouble in upholding his reputation since he toured the United States with Sarah Bernhardt on her actual "farewell" tour. He became a great favorite on that trip, being overshadowed only by the great woman in whose support he appeared. As a swordsman Tellegen is reputed to be the peer of any in his native France. Elliott Dexter also has a reputation for handling the foils. The duel scene in the Liberty feature brings this pair together and it results in one of the best dueling scenes ever photographed. The story has a decidedly Frenchy twang, dealing with the theft of a little dancing girl. After numerous ramifications "conscience" takes a hand and the dancing girl (Cleo Ridgely) becomes a nun and the gay young blade of Paris enters a monastery.

FIVE DONKEYS WILL MAKE FUN FOR MANY CHILDREN

That Kapiolani park will be presented with five instead of four donkeys by Julian Monsarrat was the word received Saturday by Ben Hollinger, chairman of the park committee of the board of supervisors.

In increasing the number Monsarrat writes: "Am shipping five so that if at any time there is a split in the Democrat cabinet a tie vote will not block progress." The donkeys will be used to give rides to the children of Honolulu.

It is believed by everybody that it is a good thing to have the donkeys at the park in order that the Republican party, in the form of Daisy, the elephant, may not have the entire say.

So tremendous has the munitions industry of Great Britain become that now, at one spot, which in 1915 was a peat bog, there stands a settlement employing 25,000 men.

DENIES RUSSIA WILL MAKE PEACE WITHOUT OTHERS

Russia will never conclude a separate peace with Germany. There is absolutely no truth in the report. Russia is united as a nation to see the war through to the end, one, two, five years if necessary.

This is the opinion of Nikolai Ter-pine, official of the Russian government here today on the Shinyo Maru en route from Petrograd to the United States and Canada. Terpine's mission is to organize the banking methods by which money from Russians in North America is to be sent through to their mother country.

Does Not Foresee End
"We do not predict when the war will close," said Terpine today with a shrug of his shoulders. "We believe that Germany is desperate, and that her back is to the wall, but we also know she is determined to fight to the very end."

"It is largely a psychological matter, depending upon the length of time the German people themselves are willing to stand by the orders of the military. This cannot be forever; there is bound to be a breaking point when the populace will no longer sacrifice themselves to the slaughter."

Changes Opinion on Wilson
Russian people regarded President Wilson's peace note as one favoring Germany, he says, but now they believe it was written for the purpose of finding exactly how various nations stood on the situation.

The Russian government has 5,000,000 men at the front now, with 3,000,000 additional scattered here and there about the empire. All classes of men are united in this war, which they consider as the last great war in Europe. The war with Japan was not looked upon as a national conflict, but only one involving the eastern districts of Russia. Japan has proved a worthy ally in this war," he says.

Greetings to Gen. Johnson
Mr. Terpine brought greetings today to Lieut. Gen. Samuel I. Johnson from Capt. Eugene Koukaine and a magazine containing a lengthy article upon the general's achievements here. He called upon the general today at the armory.

An armed guardman at the armory entrance held up the official until a representative of the Star-Bulletin, having learned who he was and seeing the predicament in which he was placed, had notified officers inside the building who immediately ordered his admittance.

TRENT TRUST COMPANY EMPLOYEES TO BANQUET AT TRENTOWN TONIGHT

This evening at Trenttown the employees of the Trent Trust Company will give a banquet to Richard Trent and G. T. Weber, the men who evaded the scheme which made Honolulu's only tent city a reality.

As Trenttown at its opening was dedicated with a bag of nails, the only decoration of the table will be that emblem of progress. The favors will be small bags filled with candy and nuts. Five places under the letters of the phrase "Trenttown, Honolulu's Tent City" will be cut in two, half of which will be placed on the table and the other halves handed around to the guests to be matched. A special cake has also been prepared in the shape of a house. Following the dinner music and dancing will be enjoyed.

A series of electric buttons, the correct combination of which to produce results is known only to authorized persons, features one automobile start-up.

Col. Joseph E. Kuhn, recalled from his post as military attaché at Berlin to become director of the war college, was assigned to active duty at the border with the First Engineers.

WRECKERS TAKE LAST BASEBALL BATTLE FROM 32ND; SCORE 3 TO 2

Hits Bunched on Mashaw in Eighth Inning and Victory Won in Ninth

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Feb. 4.—The final battle of the 25th vs. 32nd Infantry series on Sunday, February 4, resulted in a victory for the Wreckers after a hard-fought pitcher's duel between Mashaw and Jasper, the 25th grabbing the long end of the game by a magnificent ninth-inning rally, 3 to 2.

The 32nd Infantry had a two-run lead up to the eighth stanza, Mashaw being only nicked for one lone single up to that frame, but with bunching of the few other hits, a pass, sacrifice and an Alphonse and Gaston sketch by Chief and Holcomb the Wreckers were enabled to tie and win the contest.

Both pitchers were in excellent form and received grand support from their teammates, the infielders especially being on their mettle and gathering in what seemed sure hits. Notwithstanding the fact that some of the troops are absent from the post a large crowd was out to witness the contest. Mr. Evans umpired his first game at the post and his announcements prior to the start of the game and his all-around good arbiting during the pastime made a decided hit with the fans. It is a long time since such a good band of umpiring as that furnished by Evans has been seen at the post.

There was some dissatisfaction on the decision of Hollingsworth in the ninth when the Wreckers had a man on third and Jasper knocked one to Chief who fired it to first for what seemed a sure put out, but Mr. Hollingsworth ruled otherwise. That decision gave the 25th Infantry the game.

A brief summary of the scoring follows:

The 32nd Infantry drew first blood in the third when they scored one tally, Chief singling to center, Gollah making a bum heave to infield, Chief advancing to third, scoring a few moments later when Mashaw sacrificed to the first base man. The baby regiment made its second and final run of the game in the fifth when Stratton singled to center, but was forced at second by Hollis, who was advanced to the keystone sack by Chief's sacrifice towards first. Mashaw responded with a fine drive to left center, advancing Hollis to second, who scored on Buckland's hot slam to the middle garden. This was all for the 32nd Infantry, they gathering but two hits the remainder of the game.

The Wreckers scored in the eighth when Fagin singled through short, advancing to third on Jasper's sacrifice, a hit and run play, and scoring on Smith's dribbler to the pitcher's left. The 25th scored their grand rally in the ninth when Johnson singled to center, both Chief and Holcomb going after the pill and both declining. Gollah received credit for a hit on close play, Buckland to Stratton, Johnson advancing to third, from whence he scored on passed ball. Gollah also reached third, having previously pilfered second. With the score a tie and Gollah on third, Mashaw settled down and the next two men were disposed of on easy infield outs, but Fagin saved the day when he lined one to Chief, who played it safe and threw it to first for what appeared an easy out, but an apparent unjust decision by Hollingsworth calling the runner safe, permitted Gollah to bring in the winning run.

TREES TO PALL TO BE THINNED

Because the trees along Nuuanu avenue to the Pali have grown so thick that the many beautiful views formerly obtained are fast becoming obscured, Mrs. J. M. Dowsett, Mrs. F. J. Lowrey and A. F. Wall for the city planning commission, and Mrs. Loris Thurston, president of the Outdoor Circle, with C. S. Judd, superintendent of forestry, visited several places where the trees will be thinned, when they drove to the Pali Saturday.

The work will start this week under the supervision of Judd. Special care is to be taken to see that too many trees are not cut at first as it is the intention of the commission to give the best possible views with the least cutting. If it be found later that more trees should come out further work will be done.

The city planning commission met this morning but no business of importance was taken up as it is waiting for the city engineer to finish the map of the city which he is working on for the commission.

Prominent Farmer in Canada Describes His Escape from the Operating Table.

In a letter to friends at Saskatoon, Mr. F. Gifford, of the Ball Rock Farm, Maymont, Saskatchewan, Canada, says: "Thanks to Fruitola and Traxo I am alive. I lay on my back for sixteen days, suffering the agonies of a dozen deaths. I began taking Fruitola and was relieved of a great many gall stones. My health is now fully restored."

Fruitola and Traxo are compounded from the original Edsall formulas at the Pinus Laboratories in Monticello, Ill., and can be purchased in Honolulu of Benson, Smith & Co., wholesale distributors, and leading drug stores; a doctor's prescription is not necessary. Fruitola is a pure fruit oil and acts as an intestinal lubricant and disintegrates the hardened particles that cause so much suffering, discharging the accumulated waste to the sufferer's intense relief. One dose is usually sufficient to indicate its efficacy. Traxo is a tonic-alternative that is most effective to rebuild and restore the weakened, rundown system.

A booklet of special interest to those who suffer from stomach trouble can be obtained by writing to the Pinus Laboratories, Monticello, Illinois.

Under the auspices of the Woman's Guild of St. Andrew's Hawaiian congregation a concert of Hawaiian music will be given in Davies memorial hall at 8 o'clock Friday evening, February 16.
