ANSHANCHAN'S BLOODY FIGHT

Official Report of the Battle Which Opened the Road to Liaoyang.

Washington, August 30th, 1904.
(Received at 5:35 p.m.)

Mr. Miki Saito, Honolulu.

Pressing engagements in the direction of Liaoyang have taken place. Our first army commenced the attack on the 25th of August. The enemy was strongly posted on steep mountain ridges twenty-three miles southeast of Liaoyang. In the night we used our army's central column and after a bayonet charge our infantry succeeded in carrying the enemy's position of that side, but the enemy's right and left wings continued to offer desperate resistance. On the 26th severe fighting was resumed, but the enemy's resistance remained unabated. At that night our right column, after a sanguinary engagement, carried the enemy's left and captured guns. On the 27th our whole column resumed the attack, and at sunset the entire line of the enemy's position fell into our hands. Our casualties were about 2000. At the same time our other armies marched towards Anshanchan, wherefrom the enemy retired without resistance. Our armies pursued while our detachment intercepted the enemy who thereupon fell back toward Liaoyang in utter confusion, apparently suffering considerable damage from our fire. We also captured eight field-guns, a large quantity of ammunition and many carts.

PRESIDING CHEF OF LYCURGUS' CIRCUIT

Judge Gear in his time has played many parts but last evening he officiated as cook in a public restaurant. He succeeded in spoiling a good steak and in other ways promoting success to crime, but he did not fail to give the dinner patrons of the Union Grill an immense amount of fun.

Hizzoner seated himself at his favorite table at 6:20 and proceeded to cuss the menu, especially the steaks. Mine Host Lycurgus genially remarked that the Judge couldn't cook better ones, whereupon Hizzoner jumped to his feet, declared he would show that restaurant what a good steak looked like and made his way to the kitchen, peeling off his coat as he went. "Hurroo," he yelled to the chef; "bailiff remove him," and upon that he got in front of the range and began piling steaks on it. The chef rescued all but one and then got out of the way. Incidentally Gear smashed an egg on the chef's head, "to baptize him," he said.

In came the waiters with their orders for customers. "Roast beef rare!" "Go to—," said the Judge, "don't you see I'm busy?"

"Two English chops and hashed brown potatoes," yelled another waiter.

"All down but nine," responded the bench affably.

"One fried oyster!"

"Tell him to get it at a church fair," said the new cook. "Say, give him a piece of pie till I cook this steak."

"Little Neck clam stew, quick," said another waiter rushing in.

Judge Gear turned reproachfully and replied: "Ask him if rubber-necked clams won't do?"

Meanwhile the Judge's steak began filling the kitchen with smoke. Looking around he espied a can of red pepper and wrenching off the top he poured the whole mess on the hot stovetop. In a minute the restaurant was well-nigh untenable. Everybody sneezed at once and the hoarse, raucous roar of the judicial cough and sneeze was heard through the general din in the kitchen. It took about ten minutes to get the smells out, whereupon the Judge came into the dining room with a steak that looked like a piece of a buggy top and tried to bite it. He wore a cook's cap and a greasy apron.

"Yes, we had a hot time," said one of Lycurgus' waiters last night, "but no harm was done. The customers seemed to enjoy the fun." Lycurgus remarked that he did not care so much about losing the steak but that Gear had used a pound of the best butter on it.

DEATH OF TURKEY'S IMPRISONED SULTAN

CONSTANTINOPLE, Turkey, Aug. 30.—Former Sultan Murad is dead.

The death of Sultan Murad removes one of the dangers of Sultan Abdul-Hamid. There is no longer the living ghost of a legitimate sultan to dog the footsteps of the ruler of Turkey. The death of Murad recalls to mind some of the worst features of life and intrigues in the imperial seraglio.

For over a quarter of a century the deposed Sultan Murad has undergone a martyrdom in prison at Toheragan more cruel than were the sufferings of Captain Dreyfus on Devil's Island. He was imprisoned on the pretext of madness. He was allowed to see, it is claimed, no other human face than that of his jailor, and not even a letter, a newspaper or a book. He was not allowed to leave his rooms and the whole period of his imprisonment consisted in burial in a living grave. On the morning of May 30, 1876, Prince Murad, eldest son of Sultan Abdul-Medjid, was proclaimed as the successor of his uncle, Abdul-Aziz, who was overthrown by a palace revolution. On the thirty-first of August of the same year Abdul-Hamid, younger brother of Murad, was proclaimed Sultan by a decision of the Minister's Council sanctioned by a sentence based upon the Koran and issued by the Shiek-ul-Islam, the supreme religious chief of Islam. The sentence was based upon the alleged fact that Murad was insane, though this had not been admitted by Dr. Lidersdorf, the famous Vienna specialist, who had been called to Stamboul to examine the imperial patient. Correspondents claim that

HAWAII'S ANNEXATION A COMMERCIAL SUCCESS

HON. P. C. JONES.

Islands Would Have Been Bankrupt If They Had Not Come Into the Union—Irrefutable Showing by Hon. P. C. Jones.

Editor Advertiser:—If the papers have reported correctly speeches that have been made on the mainland by Governor Carter and Dr. Cooper, to the effect that annexation has not proved a commercial success to the Islands, then I wish to take exceptions to their statements and show that if we had not secured annexation these Islands today would be bankrupt.

ABROGATION OF THE RECIPROCITY TREATY.

It is known that shortly before annexation, a resolution was introduced into the United States Senate to give notice of the abrogation of our reciprocity treaty, and that at a caucus of Republican Senators a resolution was passed by a substantial majority in favor of such resolution. As a result of this action, President McKinley then prepared a treaty of annexation and forwarded it to the Senate. The notice to abrogate was then dropped and annexation took place. But for such action by the President the abrogation of the Reciprocity Treaty would have certainly taken place, as nearly all the Democratic Senators were in favor of such course.

It is certain if annexation had not been secured—and it would not have been if it had not been for the war with Spain—we would today be going along without any reciprocity treaty, or at the best would not be receiving any greater benefit by reciprocity than Cuba is now enjoying. In other words we would today be paying the United States $26 per ton duty on our sugars, which is 20 per cent less than the present regular duty on sugar imported. The sugar produced in these Islands since 1899, the date when the notice went into effect has been as follows:

Crop of	1899	282,807 tons
"	1900	289,544 "
"	1901	360,038 "
"	1902	355,611 "
"	1903	437,991 "
(estimated) 1904	400,000	Total tons 2,125,991 tons.

If those two million tons had gone to the United States, and under an amended treaty we had paid $26.00 per ton duty, it would have made $52,000,000, all of which has been saved by annexation.

In addition to this immense sum, the U. S. Government has paid $4,000,000 of our 6 per cent bonds; $1,000,000 of Fire Claims, and placed these Islands in a position to sell in New York at P.A.R., their 4 1/2 per cent bonds, whereas if we had not been annexed, they could not have been sold at any price in that market, even if the bonds were at 6 per cent. Now there is no doubt but that this is true, and

BATTLE IS YET TO BE DECIDED

Russians Say Japs Have Twelve Hundred Guns In Action.

Four Hundred Thousand Men Are Fighting and a Bloody Day Expected.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLEGRAMS.)

LIAOYANG, Aug. 31.—The entire Japanese army, commanded by Marshal Oyama and including the divisions of Kuroki, Nodzu and Oku attacked Gen. Kuropatkin's position yesterday. The Japanese brought 1200 guns to bear and the contending forces numbered 400,000 men. All arms of the service were engaged and the fighting was desperate. The Russian cavalry made several effective charges. The losses of life on both sides were enormous. The Russian hospitals in Liaoyang are full.

Today the Japanese made several attempts to turn the Russian flank but were unsuccessful. They lost ten guns. Tonight (note difference in time between the eastern and western hemisphere) the artillery fire has ceased. The battle will be resumed tomorrow when the fighting promises to be of the bloodiest character. On it depends the fortunes of the entire war. Gen. Kuroki's forces took no part in today's action.

HAWAII'S ANNEXATION A COMMERCIAL SUCCESS

if $57,000,000 are not better for the Islands than the $9,000,000 (probably less) taken by the U. S. Government from Custom house receipts, then I will admit "that annexation has not proved a commercial success."

Just think what our condition would have been if we had been obliged to pay $52,000,000 duty on our sugar during the last six years: why there is hardly a plantation that would be running today, and business would be in such a condition that the custom house would hardly collect sufficient duties to pay its office force, and all business would be at a standstill, and the country would be bankrupt.

NO SPECIAL PRIVILEGES WANTED.

This country has been asking for special privileges in getting in Chinese laborers. Why should we be favored above California, where its fruit is rotting on the ground for want of labor to gather it; or Kansas and other States where it is impossible to secure sufficient labor to harvest the crop? I am not in favor of Chinese exclusion, for I believe a Chinaman has as much right to come to this country as an American has to go to China, and I do believe the time will come, and at no distant day, when this exclusive act will be removed by the American people, but I do not think we are wise in asking privileges that the mainland cannot get. Efforts have been made to get privileges not enjoyed by the States and Territories on the mainland, asking that we be allowed to ship and travel in foreign bottoms. This too is unwise and if any one does not agree with me let him read a book lately published "The American Merchant Marine from 1620 to 1902," and he will there see what trials those who have owned American vessels have gone through. We have had no difficulty in moving our crops since we have had annexation, and I cannot see why we should ask for such a privilege especially as most of the American vessels between this port and California have not paid any dividends for a year or more.

HIGH PRICED LAND FOR IMPROVEMENTS.

The United States Government has made several attempts to purchase lands for improvements and for its use, but in many instances the lands have increased suddenly to be of great value to its owners, and there is no doubt but that many improvements would have been started before this if owners of lands had been reasonable in their prices.

One thing is certain, that since annexation values have increased as will be seen by the tax receipts; the collections from taxes in 1898 were $811,818.67, while in 1903 they were $1,679,362.16 or more than double than in 1898.

It is also a fact that there is now a more permanent value to property since annexation than ever before; and while there is at present a shrinkage in the value of real estate and other property there certainly is a cause for this shrinkage.

THE CAUSE OF DEPRESSION.

Now what is the real cause for this and for the general depression in business in these Islands? Surely not because we have lost the custom house receipts, nor because we have been annexed to the United States, but it is because of the reckless speculation in stocks and the great losses sustained by many of our people.

Many rushed in and subscribed for much larger blocks of assessable stocks in new plantations, that were over-capitalized at the start, than they could possibly meet assessments on as they became due, paying as high as 50 per cent to 400 per cent over the par value, and in many instances mortgaging their homes to raise money to meet assessments, and finally being obliged to sell their homes and lose all they had. Millions of dollars have thus been lost during the last five years by our citizens and the savings of years wiped out by this kind of wild cat speculation. This is the true cause of our depression, and cannot possibly be laid to annexation.

FUTURE IS BRIGHT.

So much for the past. What of the future? It seems to me the future looks bright for us. We have many advantages here in this fair land, that no other part of the United States enjoys. Among them is a climate unequalled in any part of the world; we are free from great and disastrous floods, tornadoes and other things that cause so much disaster in other parts of the land; we have valuable sugar estates that have paid liberally in the past, are now paying reasonable dividends, and will continue to pay for years to come so long as they are honestly managed as they have been in the past, and are now being managed; we are enjoying good prices for our main product and the prospects look very bright for the future in many ways. We have good honest men here and lots of them in every department of trade and our mechanics compare favorably with those of the best; on the mainland, but we want more good men to come in and settle among us.

TOURISTS AND SETTLERS NEEDED.

The future of these Islands will be just what we ourselves make it. We want to do more than encourage tourists to visit us; we want, as your paper has been advocating, men with families to come in and take up our unoccupied lands and settle permanently in the Islands. For one I feel greatly encouraged about our future. Our native Hawaiian citizens are fast grasping the idea of American citizenship, and I feel satisfied they are as anxious to have good men in office as any, and the next election in November will prove this. We have the possibility of Statehood, and if we all stand together and work for the good of the people and of this Territory, we shall "in due time reap if we faint not."

Let us brace up, fellow citizens and show our countrymen that Hawaii intends no longer to sit down and whine and ask to be "wet-nursed" by Uncle Sam, but that we propose to show to those of the mainland that we ask no favors beyond those which all enjoy, and by diligence in business and being faithful to our duties as American citizens, we will secure Statehood.

I thank God that we have annexation and that I am an American citizen.

PETER CUSHMAN JONES.

DEATH OF TURKEY'S

Murad V. for all the time since has lived quietly in the palace of Tcheragan without giving any evidence of insanity.

WAS MURAD INSANE?

Different stories have been told of Murad's alleged insanity. Ali Nouri Bey, a Turk who has been an exile from Turkey for some years on account of his connection with a plot to restore Murad to the throne, said: "Murad came to the throne after the death of his uncle, the Sultan Aziz, who was assassinated, you know—found dead with his veins slashed open. There can be no doubt that the manner of the uncle's death shook the Sultan Murad a great deal. Then it was a bad time—just before the Turko-Russian war, Murad had some trouble with his head; and he drank too much and had delirium tremens. So the grand vizier and the other officials asked Abdul-Hamid to take the throne for a little while and it was agreed that Murad should be put away, but that his confinement should not exceed seven years. But as soon as he got in power the present Sultan made a fortress of the palace, abolished the constitution and never has allowed the imprisoned elder brother to go free." Murad's mother was a Circassian. She was allowed to stay with him at his palace prison, and died there of consumption. One recent dispatch from Constantinople stated that the place of Murad's imprisonment had

A VISITING JOURNALIST

London Editor Sees the Hawaiian Sights.

Albert C. Kelway, member of the British Institute of Journalists, formerly editor of the Church Review and managing editor of the London Sun, who has been connected with English journals, both secular and religious, for many years, is in Hawaii. He is on his way around the world and will attend the Triennial Convention of the Episcopal Church at Boston in October at which time he will report the proceedings of the gathering for the London Times. This convention is of special interest to the English people on account of the presence of a prelate of the Church of England, the Archbishop of Canterbury, at the sessions. Mr. Kelway, who is accompanied by Mr. B. Stevens of New York returned yesterday morning from the Volcano on the Mauna Loa. To an Advertiser representative he gave the following account of his tour:

"Our stop in these Islands is a part of a tour around the world which began at London on the first of April. We left New York on the 14th of May in one of the Indradevi liners for Melbourne, Australia, a trip of 52 days, the longest steam voyage now possible without stops. We did stop at St. Vincent and after leaving that place did not sight a thing until we arrived at Melbourne on the 5th of July. We encountered a tremendous storm in the Indian Ocean.

"From Melbourne we visited the famous gold mining city of Ballarat. After leaving Melbourne we went to Sydney where we first began to really see Australia. We went up into the Katoomba mountains and saw the famous waterfalls and the other natural attractions of the country. Leaving Australia we proceeded to New Zealand where we were received with great courtesy by Sir Joseph Ward, who is Postmaster General and about six other cabinet ministers combined. We spent the greater part of our time in the great Hot Springs district, making Rotorua our headquarters. The splendor of this district to Hawaii is striking.

"Unfortunately, about six weeks before our arrival the Waimangu geyser, the greatest in the world, ceased working. For six years this great geyser has been playing at frequent intervals, throwing water and rocks 1500 feet into the air. A few months ago, however, the geyser ceased. This has given rise to two feelings, one of fear, on the part of the natives especially, that the stopping of such a vent in the earth may bring the danger of an eruption of the pent up forces elsewhere and one of disappointment on the part of those who depended upon the attraction for a living. On the 9th of August there was an earthquake of considerable severity. It was felt throughout New Zealand but strange to say it was not felt at all in the Hot Springs district.

GOVERNMENT AIDS TOURISTS.

"I was tremendously impressed, both personally and from a larger standpoint with the work of the government which has taken entirely into its own hands the task of developing the tourist industry. Sir Joseph Ward is the minister in charge of the Tourist and Health Department and has a large staff of capable officials whose energies are entirely devoted, not only to making known the attractions and possibilities of the country for visitors but also to providing visitors with everything needful in the way of help and information when they arrive in the country. With headquarters in Wellington, the department has responsible representatives in every city and town of New Zealand. The visitor has only to go to the government agent in order to be placed on the right track and given all the help he can desire in planning itineraries for stays of various lengths.

"My experience with this department impressed me greatly not only with its importance to New Zealand but with the desirability of a similar department in many other countries especially ones like your own which looks particularly to the development of the tourist traffic as one means of any rate of prosperity and income.

"The literature which the Promotion Committee has put forth seems most admirable both in matter and form, but it ought not to be impossible so to develop the work that the incoming visitor might be able to obtain that personal help and practical assistance so freely given by the New Zealand tourist department and the absence of which sometimes means the loss of much pleasure to the stranger within your gates.

IMPRESSIONS OF HAWAII.

"We arrived at Honolulu by the Sierra on the 22nd of August and have since been engaged in seeing the Volcano of Kilauea and the neighborhood by the means of the double route trip. "I think the whole scene from the Volcano House is tremendously impressive. The view to the right of the house, especially as evening draws on, being very suggestive of that scene at Whakarewarewa in the heart of the Hot Springs district of New Zealand. The clouds of steam arising out of the ground in both places are in their way intensely impressive and by no means dissimilar. The situation of the Volcano House and the position of the great crater, on the other hand, remind me very forcibly of the scene at Bel Alp in Switzerland where the hotel, reached by a mule path at an elevation of some 4000 feet above the Rhone valley, stands a thousand feet above the great Aletsch Glacier (the longest in Europe and ten miles in length) in a position analogous to that of the Volcano House in reference to the crater of Kilauea. In parts also the formation of the crater is not unlike the character which some parts of the glacier assume, though it is needless to say that the temperature of these two great wonders differs very widely.

"We were, of course, disappointed at not seeing Kilauea in action although from the eastern portion of the inner crater the clouds of sulphur arising were so dense as to render it impossible to remain long on the crater's edge. It needs no very vivid imagination to picture the awful grandeur of the scene when the crater assumes the full force of which it is or has been capable. Both here and at Rotorua one is bound to admit a sense of relief on leaving the immediate neighborhood of the district where such mighty forces of nature are perhaps temporarily pent up.

DIVERSIFIED ATTRACTIONS.

"I was greatly impressed with the diversified character of the attractions in the neighborhood of Kilauea. Indeed, the fern forest which we visited on Saturday last and which is only distant a mile from the hotel will ever remain in our memories as one of the most singularly beautiful sylvan and tropical scenes that we have ever gazed upon. The beauty of this spot alone should attract all lovers of nature in her most superb forms to the Volcano district.

"The whole of our stay at the Volcano House was one of utmost pleasure and it was especially welcome to find in so remote a neighborhood an hotel, the management of which was in every way satisfactory comparing admirably with somewhat similarly placed hostels of Switzerland and other European holiday resorts. Indeed, if or when the means of access to and from the Volcano district are improved and made more possible for visitors of all kinds the popularity of this district must inevitably become very great. At present the long coach rides over tracks which in parts can scarcely be dignified with the title of roads must make the district practically unavailable for any save the stronger class of travellers.

THE COOK TABLET.

"We found tremendous interest in the trip from Honolulu to Kilauea. Speaking of this district and of Captain Cook's monument at Kealahou I am rather sorry to hear that at no distant date the original memorial to the great circumnavigator, placed on the scene of his death by British sailors in 1837, is to be removed from the island and given by its present owner to the British Museum. The memorial in question is a copper plate placed on a coconut tree by sailors of H. M. S. Imogene. It antedates the present mark by more than forty years. The year it was placed was the year of Queen Victoria's accession but the plate says "His British Majesty's Ship Imogene" for the sailors were ignorant of the fact that King William IV had been dead for over nine months. I may be mistaken but it seems to me that a relic of such value should rather find a resting place in your own Bishop Museum rather than go far from these islands."

A Wonderful Discovery

This is the age of research and experiment, when all nature, so to speak, is ransacked by the scientific for the comfort and happiness of man. Science has indeed made giant leaps during the last century, and among the by no means least important—discoveries in medicine comes that of Therapion. This preparation is unquestionably one of the most genuine and reliable Patent Medicines ever introduced, and has, we understand, been used in the Continental Hospitals by Bizard, Boitan, Robert, Veilpan, Massonneuve, the well-known Chas.aigne, and indeed by all those who are regarded as authorities in such matters, including the celebrated Lallemand, and Roux, by whom it was some time since uniformly adopted, and that it is worthy of the highest rank with, if not take precedence of, many of the discoveries of our day, about which so little ostentation and noise have been made, and the extensive and ever-increasing demand that has been created for this medicine wherever introduced appears to prove that it is destined to last into oblivion all those questionable remedies that were formerly the sole reliance of medical men. Therapion may be obtained in England, direct from the proprietor, and of the principal Chemists and Merchants throughout the Colonies, India, China, Japan, &c. Diamond Field-Advertiser, Kimberley.

OPPOSITION TO IMMIGRATION.

Recurring to Frank G. Carpenter's statement that this country "is about as well taken up as any part of the United States," it must be remembered that statistical comparisons are often misleading, because of differences in conditions, which the figures themselves do not reveal. In order to estimate correctly the agricultural and horticultural resources of any State or Territory, the population of cities and towns would necessarily be eliminated and the relative proportions of waste land, or land incapable of cultivation or reclamation, would have to be determined. Such a minute analysis is obviously impracticable in an editorial. The Advertiser illustrated its position by the Island of Hawaii. Not only in that island, however, but taking the Territory as a whole, it is certainly untrue that the Hawaiian Islands are "as well taken up as any part of the United States" or that, in them, "the opportunities of a new and rapidly developing country are lacking."

It is to be borne in mind that ten or twenty acres of cultivable land in the Hawaiian Islands in productive capacity are equal to a hundred or more on the mainland, and that, on every one of the islands, as an actual fact, capable of ocular demonstration, hundreds, in the aggregate thousands, of such vacant places exist. This alone would answer the interested objections to immigration. But, with all possible qualifications and reservations, generalized figures are even more convincing.

The United States includes 3,501,404 square miles and the population in 1904 may be roughly estimated at eighty millions. Taking the entire country, therefore, together, there is a fraction over twenty-two persons to the square mile. The more densely populated Eastern States of course greatly exceed these figures. Massachusetts for example, in round numbers has 270 and New York 121 inhabitants to the square mile, and this includes Greater New York and Boston and numerous other large cities. Ohio has a fraction over 77 to the square mile. Minnesota and California has respectively about 10 and 11 to the square mile.

The Island of Hawaii, including Hilo and all its towns, possesses a population of eleven or thereabouts to the square mile, while its area is 4015 square miles or an acreage of 2,570,000. Oahu, with only 598 square miles and containing Honolulu, with a population of 40,000 or thereabouts, greatly exceeds this proportion, but, with Honolulu deducted, possesses a fraction over thirty-two to the square mile. The entire territory, covering 6,649 square miles, with an aggregate population of over 154,000 and including all its cities and towns, which will account for more than half the inhabitants, has twenty-three or thereabouts to the square mile.

These figures do not merely confirm but demonstrate the accuracy of the Advertiser. When the other elements referred to have been considered, the urban population deducted, the relative fertility recognized, and in short all the factors in the problem duly weighed, it is simply preposterous to discourage the right kind of immigration or to palliate, much less justify, any policy of exclusion. There are no better opportunities for small farming in the world than in Hawaii. The only real obstacle is the lack of proper facilities for transportation and communication between the islands themselves. This obstacle would be speedily overcome, if the available land were opened up to settlement. The time has gone by for discussion and the right kind of action is imperatively needed.

We have said and we repeat that Americanism and not paternalism is the crying want of this Territory.

NO HARMONY WITH RASCALS.

Joseph W. Folk, in discussing measures to bring the Missouri Democracy together, uttered the pregnant sentence, "There will be no harmony with scoundrels." In that he laid down a platform upon which all good citizens can stand.

The customary start for harmony entertainments in American politics is made by the scoundrels. Beaten, exposed, demoralized, their only hope of getting back within reach of the spoils is by harmonizing with the victors. So with their eyes rolled up and the corners of their mouths turned down, they discourse of "concord and sweet sounds." "Let us have peace" they say, while their fingers itch and their mouths water. Sometimes good men are taken in by this pretence, but not a man like Joseph W. Folk.

In all politics—that is, in all American politics—the battle for good government never ends. There may be a truce now and then but it never lasts; it is sooner or later broken by a return of the spoilsman to the spoils.

ANNEXATION.
We shall reserve until later a review of Hon. P. C. Jones' strong article on the Commercial Success of Annexation and supplement it herewith with some opinions about the political success of that great measure.
In November, 1894, the writer of this topic was privileged to sit in the Foreign Office at Tokio in conversation about Hawaii with a Japanese diplomat. That official was deeply interested in the subject, having been a Consul General here at a strenuous time. This is the gist of what he said: "Japan does not feel that she is treated fairly or respectfully by Hawaii when the ballot is freely given—or leased—to foreigners of every nation resident there, except those who owe allegiance to Japan and China. An American, an Englishman, a German or any other man of white skin may have the use of the Hawaiian ballot, but a man of yellow skin cannot hope for such a favor. Yet Japan has a 'most favored nation' clause in her treaty with Hawaii and if I had my way it would be enforced. Perhaps the Government will take the matter in hand after this war. It is no more than right that the Japanese living in Hawaii should have as much to say about the conduct of their local affairs as any other foreign denizens."

Here was a dangerous issue which became acute as time passed. After the war Japan began sending shipload after shipload of "students" and "free laborers" here, the real purposes of whom could not be learned. The students did not study and the free laborers did not seek work. Indeed the market for free labor in those contract labor times was small. It was the common opinion here that Japan meant to build up her racial interests so that, if the ballot were obtained, she could control the political situation. Her attitude toward Hawaii gradually grew hostile and culminated in the appearance of an armed vessel, backing compensatory demands of a commissioner and showing its contempt for this government by refusing to give up a fugitive from Oahu prison who had escaped to the cruiser.
There is much reason to believe that Japan intended that her subjects, enfranchised as denizens, should elect the Hawaiian Legislature and President and control the treaty-making power. The only recourse Hawaii would have had was the friendship of the United States, a country soon to be engaged in war with Spain and one that might have thought twice before denying to Japan any of her rights under "the most-favored nation clause" of her Hawaiian treaty.

Annexation and that alone put an end to the alien electoral conspiracy here. It also stopped our periodical revolutions. Between the two Hawaii was in a bad way and promised to go from bad to worse. She could not have progressed an inch with such clouds shadowing her and indeed Hawaii did not progress until the American flag was raised. Commercial, political and racial safety called for that flag and it was unfurled here in the nick of time.

THE DECISIVE BATTLE.

Japan is risking her future primacy today and Russia her rank as a first-class power and her position on the Pacific. Four hundred thousand men and over 2000 guns are probably engaged. At Sedan the aggregate numbers were 340,000 or 60,000 less. Few battles have ever taken place in modern times where 400,000 men met in deadly conflict and the battle now said to be going on may be as memorable in history as Waterloo or Gettysburg.

If Kurapatkin is defeated he may expect to be pursued with tireless energy to the walls of Harbin. If Oyama is beaten he will have to retreat to his base near Port Arthur, with the Russians at his heels, abandoning Korea to its fate. Probably reinforcements are being rushed to both armies with all possible speed, so that defeat in either case need not mean disaster.

Geographies are remade by battles of such armies, destinies changed and new paths of progress opened. The whole of Asia is vitally influenced by all the phases of this war. The effect of a Russian defeat in a decisive battle would be felt in Asia Minor, in Persia, in India, in "regions Caesar never knew;" while a Japanese defeat would cause apprehension in two continents wherever the imperial designs of Russia are understood.

So far the chances favor the Japanese. Throughout this war they have carried their points one by one, both on sea and land. They have the confidence of self-knowledge, of self-respect of uninterrupted victory. They are in largest force at the point of contact and man for man they are better soldiers than the Russians. They ought to win.

There are no signs of the abatement of the drouth which has begun to affect pasturage and may soon lessen the reservoir supplies. A two-inch rain would be a benefit which nearly everybody would appreciate but which does not seem to be in sight.

One settler in a country is worth more to it than ten tourists and so far as Hawaii is concerned he is easier to get.

And the wastebasket confesses it.

LATE POPE'S TOMB IS NOW COMPLETED

ROME, Aug. 6.—Pope Leo XIII.'s permanent resting place in his favorite Church of St. John Lateran has been completed. The monument is the work of Lucchetti, a Perugian sculptor, and cost $35,000, the whole sum being contributed by the cardinals created by him, the present pope, and many in the sacred college.

It is erected over the entrance to the sacristy of the left of the main altar. The tomb proper, which is surmounted by a full-size statue of the late pope in a recumbent position, will rest just above the door. An arch ornament in the mosaic figures surmounts the tomb, under which are the statues of St. Thomas Aquinas and of St. Francis d'Assisi, at each side of the sacristy door.

The monument occupies a position symmetrical with the tomb of Innocent III, built by the late pope on the opposite side of the choir.

Leo XIII.'s body will soon be transferred from its temporary resting place in St. Peter's to the new one. The transfer will be made some night, but the date is kept secret for fear of disorders such as happened when the body of Pius X. was transferred to the Church of St. Lorenz in 1885. The Italian authorities already have been informed of the time and have promised to take special measures to protect those accompanying the procession across the city.

REMARKABLE FEAT.

A most peculiar wager was made on Saturday night at a well-known but rather sedate club, where a struggle for one another's money by means of cards or in other ways is not the constant habit of its members. The contestants were Dr. M., a physician celebrated for his diagnosis of psychological problems, and Lawyer C., a man of much subtlety. According to the conditions of the wager, which was started after an argument upon analyses of how the brain of the average man will work under the same circumstances, Lawyer C. was to place a penny under a coffee cup seven times in succession, but he was required to make the "heads" or "tails" uppermost as he willed, and not to leave it to chance. Dr. M., after audibly making his guess, was allowed to note the lawyer's selection at the end of each trial. The doctor bet $10, $20, $40, $80, $160, $320 and $640 successively upon the seven trials that he could call the turn, and he won all his bets. A large crowd watched the struggle between the two acute intellects, but the perfect silence which attends a game of chess was preserved. At the conclusion of the contest, which lasted exactly one hour, Dr. M. remarked that he would publish in pamphlet form his train of reasoning upon each of the seven trials. A remarkable feature of the affair was that Lawyer C. placed the penny with the Indian's head uppermost on each occasion.—Philadelphia Record.

WALKING LIBRARY.

A man was taken to constabulary headquarters in Manila, P. I., whose body was an art gallery. He was not an unprepossessing native, but he had too many incriminating documents worked into his cuticle to be allowed to roam around in a wild state, so he was arrested as a suspicious character. He gave his name as Sylvester Gomez.

Over his heart he had worked a conventional figure of an altar, with a cross superimposed. On his right breast was a human heart, inverted surrounded by a cross, with three letters above. It is believed that this fantastic design is the reminder of some vow that he took during the insurrection. Three more letters and a cross were tattooed in the hollow of his back. He said these were never known to fall to keep off diseases, and, indeed it must be confessed that he seemed to be an extraordinarily healthy animal.

Then there were long disarrangements of the alphabet across his breast and all down his arms. They looked as if somebody had attempted to write a lot of seditious newspaper headlines in Tagalog and had run short of copy paper, and so had to use Gomez for a writing tablet. He explained that these would keep off bullets, and they looked as if they would.—Manila (P. I.) Cable News.

Daughter—"Doctor, father has been acting so queerly lately. Will you please examine him and see if he should be put in an asylum?" Insanity expert—"What is he doing now?" Daughter—"He's reading the Sunday colored comic supplements." Insanity expert—"Give me the commitment papers and I'll sign 'em."—Judge.

The elder Miss Spinster (appearing at the back door)—"Tell me, my good man, are you the person who called here last week?" Knight of the road—"You don't mean the bloke who you give the 'omade pie to? No, mum, I ain't 'im." "E left me 'is ole toes when 'e pegged out, that's all."—Judge.

MAUI DEMOCRATS FUSING WITH THE HOME RULE MEN
New Blood Showing Itself in Home Rule Management—Republican Delegates Leave Valley Island for Hilo in Good Strength.

MAUI, Aug. 29.—Saturday evening, the 27th, the Home Rule precinct club of Walluku which, by the way, is the most prominent one of the kind on the island, held a meeting in the skating rink for the purpose of electing four delegates to an island or rather (representative) district convention at Walluku called for September 10 to nominate candidates for two senators and six representatives.

The following is the vote cast for the different nominees:

Peruvia Goodness, 47; T. B. Lyons, 45; Chas. Kanaeholo, 37; Sol. Kaialole, 35; Ukikiaola, 33; G. M. Keoke, 28; C. Louis Kookoo, 26; Hon. S. E. Kaiue, 24; J. K. Kahookole, 12; N. Kallioha, 6; Sol. Kawaihao, 6; W. Kaohela, 5.

Messrs. Goodness, Lyons, Kanaeholo and Kaialole were elected.

The result of the election is important as showing that new men and some of them Democrats are taking the lead in Home Rule circles.

Peruvia Goodness, the son of the late Wm. Goodness, is just 21 years of age and this of course is his first plunge into politics. T. B. Lyons is the prominent Democrat.

Leaders of the old regime such as Hon. S. E. Kaiue, C. Louis Kookoo, Sol. Kawaihao and others seem to be losing favor. As Mr. Kaiue is in the field for re-election to the Senate, the result of the primary argues ill for his chances.

Candidates mentioned for the Senate on the Home Rule-Democratic ticket are, S. E. Kaiue, Wm. White, J. L. Coke, Thomas Clark, and John Richardson.

It is rumored that the Democrats are willing to fuse with the Home Rulers as regards the legislative ticket if the latter will place J. L. Coke on their slate as one of the two candidates for senator. They ask for only one senator and in return will support six Home Rule representative candidates and the other (Home Rule) senatorial candidate. Charles Kanaeholo was the presiding officer at the precinct meeting of last Saturday.

DEPARTING DELEGATES.

By the Kinohi of the 30th the following Maui, Molokai, and Lanai delegates will depart for Hilo to attend the Republican Territorial convention.

Messrs. S. E. Kalama, W. T. Robinson, W. J. Coelho, Geo. Dunn, David Taylor Jr., Guy Goodness, John Makahilo, Wm. Searby, W. E. K. Maikai, M. Daponte, J. Hapai Nui, J. H. S. Kaleo, J. Kinamu Kapiol, Moses K. Nakuina and Chas. Gay.

Those sending proxies are J. P. Cooke, James Scott, W. P. Hala, N. W. Aluli, Hugh Howell and two from the Molokai Settlement held by J. McVeigh.

Maui seems to be doing her part to prevent the Hilo assembly from being a paper convention.

On Tuesday afternoon before taking the steamer a meeting of delegates will be held at tax office Walluku to elect a permanent chairman of the delegation and to choose six members of the Territorial Republican committee, one of whom to be on the Territorial executive committee.

CHEAP WORK COSTS
GOVERNMENT $1500

The concrete foundation of the government crematory has crumbled under the weight of the stack and building and will have to be replaced at a cost of approximately $1500. The concrete was laid some three years ago but the work left uncompleted until a few weeks ago when the resumption of the enterprise found the iron work and lumber much deteriorated from exposure. The foundations were, however, deemed secure until they started to crumble under the weight of the superstructure. It is said that the total damage is not yet discovered as Superintendent Holloway has some tons of pig iron now in place to see just how far the foundations will sink. Beneath them are supposed to be large piles driven down to coral but it is feared that this part of the specifications may not have been properly carried out.

POET M'MAHON TO GO TO MEXICO

Stenographer P. Maurice McMahon of Judge Gear's court has resigned and will shortly leave for Mexico where he is to publish advertising literature for the government of that republic.

Mr. McMahon has achieved some celebrity as a writer of poems, most of them based on local and South Sea subjects. Some of these have been published in book form while others have from time to time been published in the Sunday columns of this paper.

There is a test case against McMahon in the courts, brought by Auditor Fisher, and alleging that as he is being paid as a stenographer for evidence transcripts he is therefore with his court salary drawing two salaries, contrary to the statute.

London's Railway Travel.

Editor Advertiser.—The enormous passenger traffic carried on by the local and other railways serving the needs of Londoners is set forth in a recent paper read before the R. S. S. by the statistic officer of the London County Council. Therein is shown that, in 1902, six hundred millions (600,000,000) passengers, about eight times the population of the United States, were carried by said railways which covered a little over 600 miles, and, mirabile dictu, without death from accident. PICTORIAL CAVALRY UNDER FIRE: A NEW MOVING TARGET ADOPTED BY THE GERMAN ARMY.

In order to test the number of successful hits made by a force of riflemen upon a body of charging cavalry, a target has been invented which consists of a number of life-size figures painted on a movable screen. This screen is connected with an immense beam securely fastened to the ground. By means of ropes passed over pulleys, inserted in the beam, the target is attached to a team of horses. The team is then set at full gallop, thereby drawing the target nearer to the beam, the infantry firing meanwhile.

A. W. CARTER'S STIRRING ANSWER TO SAM PARKER

He Exposes the Alleged Inwardness of the Pauhau and Hamakua Ditch Deals--Epitome of a Long and Interesting Paper.

Among all the phases of the Parker Ranch case which have thus far been presented, there has been no answer by A. W. Carter on the merits, to the many charges made against him. Mr. Carter has at last filed an exhaustive answer, in which he meets every charge made and tells the story of his relations to the Parker Ranch and its two owners, Samuel Parker and his minor granddaughter, Annie T. K. Parker.

LOW'S MOTIVES SELFISH AND DISCREDITABLE.

A number of the formal allegations of the bill which J. S. Low has brought asking for his removal as guardian of the minor, are admitted.

He denies that John P. Parker, father of the minor was intimate with Low or interested in the minor, until very recently when for motives of self interest and out of no regard to said minor or his relations with her said father the said J. S. Low has taken a great but wholly discreditable and selfish interest in the affairs of said minor and in her property rights; that said J. S. Low is representing and has personal and property rights which are hostile to and in conflict with the person and property interests of said minor, and which are necessarily involved in these proceedings; and that these proceedings were not instituted for the benefit of said minor and are not for her benefit but were instituted to serve the interests of said next friend and third parties, and that he is a mere interloper, intruder and volunteer in assuming to act as next friend or otherwise in behalf of said minor.

LOW SEARCHING FOR AMMUNITION.

Third. He admits that Low has examined the accounts of the guardian of said minor, on file in this court, but charges that he was not induced by anything he found in the records of the estate to bring these proceedings but that he had already determined upon bringing the proceedings, and was merely looking for material to fortify him in carrying out a plan already formed to attack this defendant as guardian of said minor, and to secure his removal, if possible. That he, Carter, has made no charges against the minor's estate, except the regular statutory commissions fixed by law.

A HALF MILLION ESTATE.

That the services rendered by him to said minor are well worth the commission charged; that the estate of said minor is worth more than half a million dollars; that the bulk of said estate consists of the right or share of said minor in said Parker Ranch; that said Parker Ranch consists of some 270,000 acres of land, an area more than two-thirds as large as the Island of Oahu of this Territory, and of over 30,000 head of cattle and horses.

That large portions of said Parker Ranch consisted of leaseholds at the time defendant assumed guardianship of the property of said minor; that great care and foresight have had to be and will have to be exercised to secure renewals thereof upon favorable terms to said minor, and to prevent other interests from acquiring the same. That at the time defendant assumed said guardianship said ranch would have been seriously crippled, if said leaseholds were to pass to others.

CARTER SECURED WAIKOLOA FOR THE RANCH.

That he acquired one such leasehold, the land of Waikoloa of 96,000 acres, which would have crippled the ranch if it had been lost, purchasing it at a very low price; he claims that his services in the acquisition of Waikoloa land alone was reasonably worth the entire commissions received by him from said minor's estate since his appointment as guardian thereof.

THE PUULOA SHEEP STATION.

He also acquired for the ranch the Puuloa Sheep Station, including a claim to a leasehold interest in certain portions of said land of Waikoloa and also including some fee simple lands within the confines of said Parker Ranch, particularly the land of Ouli, consisting of 3632 acres, a long narrow land running unbroken from the sea beach east of Kawaihae across said Parker Ranch for a distance of 11 miles and practically cutting off the Kohala section of said ranch from the balance of the same for a reasonable price, a larger amount being offered therefor shortly after by E. P. Low, which has further led to the security of said Parker Ranch.

PROTESTS AGAINST LOW'S FALSE CHARGES.

He protests against reflection upon him for the acceptance of the commissions conferred upon him by law; and charges that J. S. Low's claim that he was moved to institute these proceedings partly by reason of excessive commissions charged against said minor, is false, and has no foundation in fact.

DENIES THAT THERE IS A PARTNERSHIP.

He denies that the ranch is a partnership, and says that the lands of said ranch are held some of them in fee exclusively by said minor, some in fee exclusively by said Samuel Parker, and others in fee by both said minor and said Samuel Parker as tenants in common, and that all of these lands have been used in common by the said minor and said Samuel Parker for the pasturing of the livestock owned in common by both of them.

LOW A TOOL AND ACCOMPLICE OF PARKER.

That the allegation of a partnership has nothing to do with Carter's fitness as a guardian and served no purpose or object in promoting his removal as guardian, and offers no support to and has no bearing upon the accusations elsewhere contained in said petition. He says that said paragraph was inserted in said petition by the lawyers or said J. S. Low, to-wit, Messrs. Magoo & Lightfoot, and was sworn to by J. S. Low by way of admission against the interest of said minor and in the interest of Samuel Parker, the client of said Magoo & Lightfoot in other issues now pending against said minor; and that Low in inserting said admission was acting merely as the tool and accomplice of said Samuel Parker and his said attorneys, and against the interests of said minor.

RANCH COMMISSION IS REASONABLE.

He says that the court after full consideration allowed him 3 1/2 per cent of the income for managing the ranch, as against 5 per cent allowed to trustees who were previously carrying it on.

MAGNITUDE OF THE BUSINESS.

That it has been necessary for defendant to acquaint himself with every part and portion of said ranch, and he has familiarized himself with the conditions by spending many months upon said ranch, acquainting himself with the boundaries of the various lands and the qualities of different sections thereof and with the character and quality of the livestock upon the same. His duties as agent of said ranch also require his presence in Honolulu and the seeking of a profitable market for the livestock and that he has had to familiarize himself and to keep constant watch of the condition of the markets not only in Honolulu but on the Island of Hawaii as well.

That the size of said ranch and the demand for the discharge of active duties in Honolulu as well as upon said ranch making necessary a sub-manager on the ranch and an accountant and business assistant in Honolulu, who is paid by defendant from his own means.

PARKER WANTED F. W. CARTER.

Defendant admits that for several years last past his brother, F. W. Carter, has been sub-manager of said ranch under salary, but denies that said F. W. Carter is incompetent, or has mismanaged the affairs of the ranch.

That he has natural aptitude for the business and was appointed at the urgent request of Samuel Parker, as shown by a letter written to defendant by Parker.

That defendant preferred to appoint L. von Tempky and offered the position to him, and only after von Tempky had declined the offer, and upon Samuel Parker's urgent request did he appoint F. W. Carter.

That after F. W. Carter had for some time held a subordinate position and had demonstrated his ability to manage said ranch properly and in a progressive way in accord with the plans and wishes of this defendant and of said Samuel Parker as evidenced by his hearty approval of the work then being done by said F. W. Carter, who has performed his duties in a proper, skillful and faithful manner.

That F. W. Carter has been for many years on or connected with livestock ranches and made a study of the methods of breeding and handling livestock and conducting ranches, upon many of the finest and best conducted ranches in Oregon, Washington and California.

GREAT INCREASE IN CATTLE.

That under the management of said F. W. Carter, the ranch has been greatly improved and its affairs conducted in a far more businesslike manner than they ever were before; that at the branding of cattle upon said ranch for this year, to-wit, the year 1904, 5054 head of cattle were branded whereas the highest number ever branded upon said ranch before said F. W. Carter took charge was 5578, which shows a gain of over 44 per cent.

He denies that F. W. Carter is lazy and indolent, and says that he is out daily upon the ranch and has a knowledge and familiarity with the stock in all sections of said ranch that has only come from continuous personal inspection of all quarters of said ranch.

DENIES CLASHING OF INTERESTS.

He denies that his interests in the American Sugar Company, carrying on business on the Island of Molokai, clash with his duties with reference to the Parker Ranch; and as guardian of the minor.

FORESTRY AND WATER.

That he has done all possible in the way of securing proper forest reserves, and was in negotiation with the government for such purpose when this litigation interfered with the negotiations.

GREAT DEVELOPMENT OF RANCH.

That as manager of said ranch he has been compelled to take into consideration the fact that said ranch was owned not only by said minor but by said Samuel Parker, over whom he had no control.

That said Samuel Parker's requests for money have retarded the development of said ranch more than was for the good of said ranch; that many of the improvements that have been made have been reluctantly acquiesced in by said Samuel Parker.

That very substantial improvements have been made upon said ranch, to such an extent in fact that the methods of conducting said ranch have been revolutionized within the past four years, and the development during the past four years has been steady and uniform and has brought about great and beneficial results greatly increasing the value thereof.

That he has improvements as fast as the circumstances warranted, as he thought best, that the resources of said minor should be husbanded against possible difficulties that may come about through a dual ownership in said ranch and the necessity for having a large fund of money on hand and available to purchase lands connected with the Parker Ranch that may come upon the market, and he points out that but for this policy he would not have had the ready money to purchase the fee simple of Waikoloa.

Defendant denies that he has failed to keep the buildings upon said ranch in repair. He denies that he has maintained a pond in an unsanitary, filthy or unhealthy condition, or that said pond is a standing menace to the health of livestock, but says that said pond is an important source of water supply for the livestock of said ranch, large numbers depending upon the same for water; that he has built up the banks of said pond and greatly increased its capacity, so that it holds sufficient water so as to carry a supply of good and wholesome water through the dry spells which therefore reduced the amount of water in said pond to the point where in fact it did become unhealthy and injurious to livestock; and that by reason of the improvement of said pond the same has never failed since to furnish an adequate and wholesome supply of water even during time of drought.

Defendant denies that he has laid water pipe lines on the lands of said ranch in an improper or unskillful manner, or that the same are frequently out of repair or broken, but that he has caused a large amount of water pipe to be laid over different sections of said ranch bringing into use an area of some fifteen thousand acres of fine fattening land theretofore wholly devoid of water excepting in case of excessive rains.

DEW FOR DRINKING WATER.

That when he took charge of said ranch the cattle had to depend upon dew to quench their thirst while depasturing upon said fattening lands, and that when through drought or high winds this source of supply was cut off large herds of animals there depasturing would have to be removed from said fattening lands to save them from dying of thirst and driven a distance of twelve to fourteen miles to get to the nearest available water, many of them dying; whereas, since the introduction of said pipe line cattle can now be pastured permanently upon the said lands and kept in good condition.

That the laying of said pipe line has already brought ample returns for and has fully justified the outlay thus made.

He denies that he has failed to properly care for the carts, tools, or implements or other personal property of the said Parker Ranch.

A SYSTEM OF SPYING.

That for many months prior to the institution of these proceedings relatives and partisans of said Samuel Parker have been upon and over said Parker Ranch hunting for this, that and the other thing upon which to base a claim or a complaint against this defendant; that none of these complaints came before this defendant or were presented to him, though during all such times said Samuel Parker remained very friendly to this defendant, and was praising up the conduct and work of said F. W. Carter and the work of this defendant in connection with the Parker Ranch; that said Samuel Parker himself occasionally referred to complaints and back-biting against this defendant and said F. W. Carter brought to his notice by third parties in and around said ranch, but always belittled such action and continually advised defendant to pay no attention to the same and assured this defendant that he was no party to such complaints or such conduct.

RELATIONS WITH LABOR ARE GOOD.

He denies that he or his agent have given frivolous or contrary orders to the men or that much valuable time has thereby been wasted.

That at the time of the institution of this suit the relations between the management of said ranch and the labor thereon were cordial and satisfactory, nor had the labor at that time ever been more efficient upon said ranch, and that there is no justification whatever for the accusations made to the contrary.

ACCOUNTS ARE FULL AND COMPLETE.

He denies that he or his said agent have pursued unsystematic business methods with reference to said ranch, and says that the system of reports embodied in the books of said ranch and thus made a matter of record are as complete as those kept by any ranch in this Territory.

That when he took charge of said ranch, the books were kept in a very primitive manner and were wholly inadequate, but that the books now kept upon said ranch are as complete in every detail as the books kept by any well ordered sugar plantation, showing in detail the cost of every operation and the apportionment among the different accounts of all the different items of expenditure in the conduct of said ranch, and are otherwise full and complete in every particular.

DRIVING OF STOCK.

Defendant denies that he has improperly herded or driven the neat stock, but he has decreased the herding and driving of said stock by adding to the number of branding pens and otherwise; that formerly cattle, including young calves, would be driven a distance of twelve to fourteen miles; but defendant has established two additional branding pens materially lessening the distance stock has to be driven for branding and other purposes; further the driving of cattle has been materially lessened by the establishment of additional paddocks.

DR. M. G. McLAUGHLIN, 906 Market St., San Francisco.

CARE OF STOCK.

Defendant denies that he or his said agents have confined the neat stock on said ranch in improper places where they have had neither food nor water or that in consequence of having been placed in improper places large numbers of the same have died; or that he or his agents have improperly or through neglect failed to brand a large number of the stock on said ranch or have not taken proper precautions to prevent inbreeding, defendant claiming that the drives on said ranch for branding purposes have been particularly and exceptionally careful and thorough.

IMPROVED STOCK.

Answering the charge that defendant has not prevented inbreeding, he says that most of the breeding upon said ranch when he took charge of the same was promiscuous both among the horses and cattle, and that the herd was run down from inbreeding and failure to introduce new and blooded stock; that within about one year after taking charge, defendant imported a herd of forty-two blooded bulls and fourteen cows, consisting of the following breed: Short Horn, twenty-four bulls and four cows; Holsteins, two bulls and four cows; Herefords, sixteen bulls and six cows.

That the foregoing importation was several times greater than the combined introduction of blooded stock upon said ranch for many years prior thereto.

That defendant began the upbuilding and breeding of a thoroughbred herd of Herefords which now comprises a band of high bred stock unsurpassed in this Territory; that defendant in the management of said ranch has aimed to work off the inferior animals and to preserve the more promising stock for breeding purposes as aforesaid, and to this end has caused to be spayed large numbers of inferior cows to fit them for market and has caused to be captured and handled large numbers of wild cattle; that there are large numbers of young animals of a blooded strain now about ready for market or shortly to come in; and much of the old and worthless stock has been worked off. To aid and assist in the foregoing plan, defendant has constructed four traps upon Maunakea which have worked successfully, and in one of which, at its first trial, over 250 head of wild cattle were driven and caught in less than half a day, and said traps have materially lessened the labor and expense of capturing wild cattle and horses.

IMPROVEMENT OF HORSES.

That one of the first acts under his management was to have a general drive of the herd of horses at large upon the ranch, at which drive 168 inferior studs were found and altered, and the best mares suitable for breeding were sequestered in different paddocks where they have been bred to different imported stallions.

That instead of perpetuating and increasing a herd of inbred and inferior horses there are today upon said ranch, bands of fine and thrifty colts which are being handled by systematic training and according to approved and modern methods of breaking horses; that said ranch will within a short while be equipped to supply at reasonable terms and with large profit to said ranch a large part of the horses required for the foregoing purposes within the Territory.

Defendant denies that he has improperly altered bulls or spayed cows on said ranch whereby large numbers or any number have been injured or died.

INCREASE OF CATTLE.

That the cattle upon said ranch have increased in numbers very materially; the cattle counted at the annual drives being as follows:

1901.....	17,860
1902.....	20,836
1903.....	24,553
1904.....	26,407

The foregoing counts are exclusive of wild cattle except such as may incidentally be gathered in among the tame cattle at the annual drives.

Defendant denies that he has slaughtered animals in a barbarous, disgusting or unsanitary manner.

He denies that driving or caring for the neat stock on said ranch has been more in the nature of a sport than of

THE DAIRY.

He denies that the dairy has been conducted in an improper, unskillful or unintelligent manner or without proper inspection; that the chief purposes of maintaining the present dairy is for the domestication and taming of calves; that a number of improvements have been made at the dairy, particularly in piping water from spring for a distance of approximately 3 1/3 miles; that the dairy is being conducted as the great bulk of ranch dairies in this country are being conducted.

He denies that the dairy has been conducted in an unsanitary or offensive manner.

He denies that he has failed to make proper provision for treating sick and diseased animals.

LANTANA EXTERMINATION.

He denies that he has failed to take proper precautions to prevent the spreading of noxious shrubs or has spent money recklessly without proper consideration and with little benefit for that purpose; and says that more has been done upon said ranch in the way of preventing the spread of noxious shrubs thereon than was done prior to his management.

FOREIGN GRASSES.

That since taking control of said ranch defendant has kept up continuously the introduction and spreading upon and throughout said ranch of imported nutritious grasses of many varieties; that tons of seed have been imported for this purpose and sown throughout the ranch as aforesaid, with the result that there are now growing thriftily and successfully upon said ranch a great variety of most valuable grasses which have already reached and improved thousands of acres of said pasture, and are still spreading and increasing, with the result that already the lands carry and maintain many more head of stock than they could prior to the introduction of such grasses.

RANCH TAKES MOST OF CARTER'S TIME.

That the business of the ranch has so monopolized the defendant's time that he has been compelled to give up the practice of his profession as a lawyer, and since taking charge of said ranch has engaged in no litigation whatsoever and received no emolument or fees therefrom.

THE HORSES.

That when he took charge of said ranch there were large herds of horses which were not worth the pasturage they consumed; that these were sold off at the best market rates available.

DEVELOPMENT OF HORSES.

That the herd of horses has been improved and are better broken, better trained, safer and more valuable than they were when defendant took charge and control thereof.

That during the last two years 320 horses have been handled, of which 135 have been thoroughly broken, tamed and made available for sale, or use as saddle and carriage horses; ninety-one have been half broken and ninety-four halter broken.

He denies that he has failed to properly tame the neat stock on said ranch and asserts that at no time in the history of said ranch, has the stock been tamer or more easily handled than at present.

COUNTING THE STOCK.

He denies that he has failed to make accurate counts of the stock or failed to make complete drives of said stock; that prior to defendant's taking charge it was not customary to count cattle in the annual drives, but that thereafter defendant required a count to be kept, and at the present time an account is kept of the cattle and horses driven each year, and that the drives have grown more and more complete and exhaustive each year; and are well and properly conducted.

NEW PADDOCKS.

Defendant denies that he has projected the construction of a paddock and the laying of a pipe line at a large expense, which will be of little value to said ranch and not commensurate with the outlay that will be incurred; but says that he was about to construct a much needed fattening paddock of 2400 acres and lay water thereon at a cost of $2400.

WILD DOGS.

He denies that he has failed to take proper measures to exterminate wild

A Life Saved

Never give up. No matter how ill you are, Ayer's Sarsaparilla has cured some terrible cases, and it will cure you.

Mr. Thos. H. Cashel, Barrell Creek, Dripstone, New South Wales, writes:

"I feel it my duty to let suffering people know what a wonderful blood-purifying medicine is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. My illness began with sharp pains in the limbs, while I was handling wet wool. After a day or two I could not walk, and suffered terrible pains. My face turned nearly black, large red blotches came out all over my body, and then I became delirious. I was in two hospitals for some time, and everything was tried, but I grew weaker and weaker, and became convinced that nothing could be done for me. I had heard so much about Ayer's Sarsaparilla that I thought I would give it a trial as the last hope. After taking one bottle I thought I felt a little better. So I procured another bottle, and then another, and still another. I gradually improved, and in due time left my bed for the first time in six months. I am now in good health, and I say to every one that Ayer's Sarsaparilla saved my life."

dogs and says that the poisoning of these dogs has been pursued systematically ever since he had charge of the ranch, and the wild dogs on the ranch have been very materially reduced.

F. W. CARTER NOT A DRINKING MAN.

He denies that F. W. Carter has been under the influence of liquor or incapacitated from properly attending to the work of said ranch from the effect of liquor, or that he has absented himself from the work of the ranch for the purpose of gratifying his own personal pleasures, or otherwise; and says that it is well known that said F. W. Carter is not a drinking man and that the accusation by J. S. Low is wilful and malicious and utterly unjustified by the facts.

THE PAAUHAU LAND DEAL.

Defendant denies that he has failed to protect the interests of said minor with reference to the proposed sale of the land of Paauhau owned by said minor and the granting of a right of way for the Hamakua Ditch Company across the same. This land consists of a block of 8000 acres owned exclusively by said minor of which 1700 acres is cane land.

He utterly denies the assertion of said J. S. Low, pretended next friend of said minor, that unless said cane lands are sold now that great or any injury will result to said minor; that said block of cane land is vitally essential to said Paauhau Plantation Company; that the lease of the same for $1,500 per annum, not $1,200 as alleged by said J. S. Low, will expire in about seven years, and about the time that said minor comes of age. That the landing and many permanent improvements of said Paauhau plantation are on said land of said minor. Further answering defendant says that he has considered it his duty as guardian to refrain from converting real estate of said minor into personalty unless some essential reason arose therefor.

PARKER WANTED TO SELL OUT.

That recently defendant did conclude and plan to sell said land because the interests of said Samuel Parker in the Parker Ranch were on the market for sale, and offered to defendant as guardian of Annie Parker. That within two months prior to the bringing of these proceedings against this defendant said Samuel Parker became urgent and persistent in his representations that he would sell and desired to sell his interest in said ranch; he entered into negotiations with the Paauhau plantation to sell the cane lands of Paauhau, subject to approval of the court, so as to raise money with which to buy out Samuel Parker thus consolidating the minor's interests in the Parker Ranch. The Paauhau Plantation Company offered for said cane lands the sum of $40,000; which defendant immediately declined and told them he would name a figure at which he would sell. Thereupon defendant went to the Island of Hawaii and made a personal and extended study of the said lands and offered to sell the same at an upset price of $124,000, provided always said S. Parker and this defendant came to an understanding whereby defendant for said minor acquired the interests of said Samuel Parker in said Parker Ranch. He denies that said Paauhau Plantation Company accepted his offer of $124,000, but says that it refused to consider the purchase of said lands for said price of $124,000 and offered $57,000 therefor which was refused by defendant.

The plantation finally informed defendant that they would be willing to bid that figure on condition that defendant would abandon the condition that said sale to the Paauhau Plantation Company should be dependent upon the sale by Samuel Parker or his interests in the Parker Ranch to said minor, but this defendant refused to withdraw said condition.

OFFERED TO BUY OUT PARKER.

That thereafter defendant having in the meantime thoroughly considered the question upon data and information available to him finally made an offer to said Samuel Parker of a specific amount of money for his share in said Parker Ranch, which offer was made some days before J. S. Low began proceedings against this defendant to remove him as guardian of said Annie T. K. Parker; at that time this defendant having no notice or information whatsoever of any such intended step or of any dissimulation on the part of Samuel Parker with this defendant as guardian of said minor or in his relations with said Samuel Parker himself. That said Samuel Parker declared that the price named by this defendant was wholly inadequate, and offered to name his price, stating that he would return in two or three days with his figures; that defendant and said Samuel Parker thereupon parted amicably, but said Samuel Parker never returned and from that day to this has never been near this defendant, his departure being followed up immediately by notice to defendant to surrender said ranch to him, the said Samuel Parker, and by his appointment or attempt to appoint E. P. Low manager of said ranch.

CONDITION WAS IN INTEREST OF MINOR.

He denies that the condition whereby the sale to Paauhau should depend upon the consummation of the sale by said Samuel Parker of his interest in the said Parker Ranch to said minor was imposed with the expectation that influence could thereby be brought to bear upon said Samuel Parker to sell his said interest in said Parker Ranch for less than its actual value, but says that said condition was imposed, because there was and is no occasion or sale of any of the real estate of said minor unless the proceeds can be used to conserve, consolidate or protect her interests in the Parker Ranch.

THE HAMAKUA DITCH MATTER.

That in reference to the application of the Hamakua Ditch Company to this defendant for a right of way across Paauhau, defendant says:

That one, J. T. McCrosson, one of the promoters of said ditch company, came to this defendant shortly before this defendant gave Samuel Parker a figure that he would give for said Samuel Parker's interest in said ranch, and asked defendant for a right of way across Paauhau for the ditch that the Hamakua Ditch Company contemplated building; that this was the first time defendant had been approached for any such object by any one and said defendant declined to consent as he was then negotiating for the sale of Paauhau and did not care for that reason to go into the question of the right of way for the ditch and for the further reason that the right of way should not under any circumstances be granted hurriedly or without investigation, and that if Paauhau was to be retained by said minor and was not sold to the Paauhau Plantation Company that said right of way would have to be carefully worded so as to secure to said land of Paauhau full and ample rights to water from said ditch; so that said land of Paauhau could not be cut off from rights to water in said ditch and thereby handicapped in its value as against other neighboring lands which might secure water right in said ditch to the exclusion of the said land of Paauhau; and this defendant submits that he would have been foolhardy and utterly reckless of the rights and interests of said minor to have acquiesced to the demands of McCrosson for immediate consent to the granting of said right of way, and unwise for him to even open negotiations with said McCrosson until the ultimate disposition of Paauhau had been determined, as if Paauhau was sold to the Paauhau Plantation Company they would be the proper parties for McCrosson to negotiate with, and if said land was not sold to the Paauhau Plantation Company, then that this defendant would have to make a careful study of the whole situation before he was in a position to negotiate with said McCrosson, and to state upon what terms and conditions and with what safeguards to the land of Paauhau said right of way would be granted.

VALUE OF PAAUHAU.

Defendant denies that $124,000 is a very high price for said land of Paauhau. Samuel Parker having told defendant that he had sold lands that were inferior and cut up by gulches, including such gulches, at the rate of $70.00 per acre; and Wundenberg, Parker's agent, called the attention of the defendant to the fact that cane land in the Hilo district had recently been valued by intending purchasers at $100.00 per acre.

That there will be no trouble at the proper time and place to secure $124,000 for said land.

PARTITION NOT INJURIOUS.

He denies that a partition in kind of the Parker Ranch will be ruinous or at all injurious to the interests of said minor.

That the lands comprising the Parker Ranch have an area of 270,000 acres more or less, and not of 360,000 acres as alleged in said amended petition, of which 136,434 acres are owned by said minor and said Samuel Parker in fee simple; that 10,265 acres are owned by said minor individually; that 6061 acres are owned by said Samuel Parker individually; that about 117,000 acres are leasehold under several different leases.

This defendant admits that said Samuel Parker has raised a question as to whether or not said minor has any interest in certain of said leaseholds, and has claimed at times that he owned the same, but this defendant is advised that such claim is without merit.

He denies that it is impossible to divide said lands owned by said parties as tenants in common so that each can have her or his full, fair share thereof, and contends that the ranch is capable of being divided into two complete ranches made up of all kinds of lands necessary to make a thorough-going ranch complete in every detail; defendant denies that said lands are very largely devoid of water and says that there is an abundance of water upon the Parker Ranch to supply the entire ranch or to supply two ranches if the same is sub-divided into two ranches; that this water will have to be piped or stored, but that is frequently the case on other ranches; that if said ranch is held intact as one ranch water will still have to be piped to lands that have no water now, and water has been piped for ten miles with great profit to all concerned, and there is much more land that should have water piped to it, and that whether the ranch is divided or not and in either event the water can be so piped profitably and successfully and is no great undertaking.

That expert stockmen agree that there is ample land enough to accommodate two ranches and that many substantial stockmen are prepared today to say that not only would the division of said ranch not entail loss to said minor but that it would be a positive benefit to divide the same up into two ranches.

That there are large areas of said lands which under intensive farming can be made to produce very much more in the way of supplying and raising stock than they do now; that it is impracticable for this defendant to attempt at present nor will it be practicable for many years to come to develop said lands upon said lines.

That said ranch if cut into two ranches, will produce fully as much income as said ranch now produces, and will become more valuable; but that it would be disadvantageous to the minor to have it sold as a whole.

HAMPERED BY SAM PARKER.

That this minor's estate has been conserved and developed until she on her part is well equipped to expend large sums of money in the further development of said ranch, but said Samuel Parker is not so equipped with ready money, so that said ranch has had to follow, in the matter of improvements, the hailing gait of one who is more interested in getting an immediate income to spend than in developing said ranch and putting in permanent improvements; and the interests of said minor have suffered very materially for this reason, and she will be very much better off with a half of said ranch in her own hands and subject to development without having to consider any longer other interests and the views of a co-owner; but that as said co-owner has forced the issue by proceedings either directly brought by him or instigated by him and his following, this defendant submits that the time has come when the division should be made.

STATISTICS SHOWING DEVELOPMENT OF RANCH.

He submits certain tables, records and statistics concerning the management, development and improvements of said Parker Ranch during the period that defendant has had charge and control thereof, showing that defendant has increased the paddock fences by 40.37 miles and increased the paddock area from 22,528 acres to 35,109 acres.

Statistics are also submitted showing the receipts, disbursements for operating expenses, for permanent improvements, dividends paid, number of cattle sold, amount received therefor, average price per head and number branded.

That since he has taken charge of said ranch the number of steers available for market have been steadily increasing until there are now over 3000 head of steers upon said ranch either ready for market or coming in and available for that purpose in the near future; while when he took charge of said ranch, the supply of steers was so small that he could not keep up the sales of cattle to the number for the years previous without including therein heifers and cows that should have been retained for breeding purposes.

RECORD IN MURDER TRIAL MISSING

Important papers, the loss of which may mean a new trial with consequent expense to the Government, are said to be missing or stolen in the Funokochi case and as the Attorney General's department is after the responsible individuals and the case is a serious one, interesting developments may follow.

Funokochi was convicted of murder in Hilo and further charge with conspiring to murder in a second case. Attorney Biting was appointed for him as counsel and the record of the conviction on the first charge brought from Hilo. These papers were, it is said, returned to Hilo but they are now not to be found while Funokochi's attorney now asks for a new trial as the records of the former trial do not exist.

Attorney General Andrews comments forcibly on the failure of those charged with the safe keeping of the papers to keep their trust. He does not think a new trial should be granted as the defense not the prosecution asked for the records and not getting a copy of them are responsible for the risk.

PARKER CAUSE CELEBRE CONTINUES

The ramifications of the Parker cause celebre occupied the time of Judge Gear again yesterday. The long list of attorneys pro and con argued technicalities, the lawyers listening to the phases of the case with absorbed interest.

A motion for a bill of particulars as to charges made against Carter in his management of the ranch affairs was taken under advisement as was a discussion over exception made to the alleged scandal and impertinence said to be contained in affidavits filed by Parker, Wundenberg and Low.

Halulu's Death.

A coroner's inquest yesterday afternoon disposed of the death of Halulu the prisoner who fell from the prison wall on Monday. The verdict read:

"That the said Halulu came to his death at Honolulu, on the 20th day of August, 1904, from hemorrhage of the brain caused by an injury to the head due to a fall while fighting with one Wahlanu, the said Halulu then and there being the aggressor."

Wife Asks for Divorce.

A libel for divorce was yesterday filed by Mabel Philip against Joe Philip. The couple were married in March, 1896, at Kohala, Hawaii. Libellant alleges that libellee refuses to provide support for her and her children though able to do so and asks for an absolute decree, custody of the children, temporary and permanent alimony.

Unrecorded Deaths.

President Pinkham of the Board of Health is quoted as saying that he fears complaints from South Kohala concerning deaths and burials without certificates contain a good deal of truth. Mr. Pinkham complains that the medical allowances are too small for the work in such districts to be properly attended to.

Eyes Examined

There is no calling where accuracy and skill are more in demand than that of the optician. One familiar with the construction of the eye knows that there are many eye defects which can not be accurately estimated or corrected by the use of test letters and cards alone.

For this reason we use, in our eye examinations, the several different methods that long experience has taught us bring best results.
