HELP THE OLD FOLKS

A Helping Hand Extended to Many Old People in Honolulu.

Be considerate of the aged. Lend them a helping hand. Make life easy for them. The infirmities of age are many. Most old people have a bad back. The kidneys are weak. Are worn out with years of work. Backache makes days of misery. Primary troubles nights of unrest. Doan's Kidney Pills will make life easier.

They are doing so for old and young. Honolulu people are learning this. Read the following local endorsement: B. E. White, Pearl City, Oahu, Honolulu, Hawaii, says: "I am ninety-two years of age and I suffered from backache and kidney disease for eight years. I have given Doan's Backache Kidney Pills a fair trial and have been so greatly benefited that I cheerfully recommend them to other kidney sufferers. Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are 34¢ per box (5¢ extra for postage) 50¢ per box (5¢ extra for postage) will be mailed on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands. POLITICS BREWING ON FIRE ISLAND

County Auto a Poor Factor in Campaign Commencement—Hilo Notes.

(Mail Special to The Advertiser.) Interest increases in politics all over the Big Island, most of it centering in the fight for sheriff as two years ago. The friends of Sam Pua say he is stronger today than he then was. His chief opponent will probably be Keolu, the former sheriff who was beaten by Pua in 1908. Fernandez, present superior from Hamakua is also mentioned as a candidate for sheriff to be supported by the money interests against Pua. There is a peculiar story going the rounds in this connection. Fernandez will not again be a candidate for sheriff but would prefer to run for the house of representatives if he can get the nomination. Another aspirant for the house is Bernard Kelekele, the famous boy orator of the Territory. Bernard is no bigger than when he was in Honolulu, so he still retains the name of Boy Orator. Desha, Parson Steve, will also be in the running for the house, as well as Alfonso. The advent of Deputy County Attorney Heen in the ranks of the Democratic party is taken to indicate an amalgamation of Democratic and Home Rule forces, by the elimination of the latter as a strong political factor and harder work for the Republicans.

Near a Frost.

The weather at the Volcano House has been simply delightful with the result that Host Demosthenes is busy with many guests. On Sunday morning, at seven o'clock, the thermometer on the veranda registered 55 degrees. At ten o'clock it was 65, with a cloudless sky and a beautiful clear day that enabled the surrounding scenery to be seen to the best advantage.

Business, Not Politics.

Sheriff Pua and Rev. S. L. Desha left Hilo in the county auto at seven-thirty a. m. on Saturday for Kau and Kona. Politics the object of the trip? Not a bit of it; the sheriff had official duties and Rev. S. L. had to clean up the business end of the Kahu convention. Five hours after they left Hilo, their auto was within five miles of the Volcano House undergoing repairs. The county machine does not always travel with speed or success. At three-thirty p. m. eight hours out from Hilo, the county auto was within two miles of the volcano, and it reached Kau very late in the night. As the sheriff was bound to go to Kona and was in a hurry to get there, he stopped overnight in Kau and Mr. Pua might have been seen going on board the Mauna Loa on Sunday, thus getting into Kona quicker than he thought the county auto could take him there.

Hilo Likes Money.

Hilo folks are naturally pleased at the appropriation of $200,000 secured for a federal building for their town, with an additional $20,000 for preliminary expenses. In getting this through congress it appears that Delegate Kuhl was very materially assisted by the congressmen who visited the Territory last year. They were so royally entertained at Hilo and the neighboring districts that they, one and all, joined with the Delegate in working for the town whose people and cordial greeting had so favorably impressed them. Incidentally this should strengthen the Delegate's political position on the Big Island, as well as guarantee votes for another appropriation for visiting congressmen. C. R. Buckland was at the head of the Hilo entertaining men and he also had much to do with preparing information for the treasury and architect's departments in Washington that sought facts through Postmaster Desha and the Hilo Board of Trade.

Big Island Personalities.

Many Hilo people visited the volcano on Sunday, the use of autos making a return trip easily possible in one day. Among those who went up the mountain on Sunday were General Manager L. A. Thurston of the Hilo Railroad, Superintendent R. W. Filler, Mrs. and Miss Filler, Supervisor Norman Lyman, Mrs. Lyman, Ted Guard, Frank Modest of Hilo, and Captain Colebrook of the Columbian.

As soon as the Climax arrived at Hilo on Sunday, Charles S. Boyd and his wife hurried up to the volcano. Mr. T. M. Flournoy, of Chicago, has been to see the volcano and has sent for his wife to join him here. She will arrive next week. Miss Thelma Murphy is developing a pair of American Beauty rose cheeks at the Volcano House. Honolulu people who were at the volcano on Sunday include Porter Aubrey, Mrs. Walter Hill, Mrs. Mary Aebuchi, Mrs. J. H. Thompson, F. S. Barrett, Miss Grace Carroll, A. A. Deane and Mrs. Deane, Misses May and Etta Poppleton.

J. O. Carter, cashier of Bishop's bank, has been enjoying a week at the volcano and another week in Hilo. When John O'Rourke arrived in Hilo on Sunday morning, on his return from the Maui races, he jumped into a hack to go up town. The hackman said: "You got out of this, you have no money for you lost all the races on Maui."

HONOLULU IS NOT BROKE YET The city and county of Oahu draw from the nation a warrant for $264,000 as this county's share of the regular semi-annual cleanup. This sum in 1909 the $34,000 for the month of July, which had previously been paid. Hawaii gets $14,000 and Kauai $94,000. The amount to be paid over to Maui has not yet been decided.

MECHANIC HITS THE DRINK EVIL

Arraigns Greatest Criminal of Society Before Facts of Its Own Influence.

John McTaggart, a mechanic of the O. R. & L. Co., is responsible for one of the severest arraignments of liquor yet to be made from the local pulpit, delivering a sermon on the evil of drink as complete as it was strong, at the Methodist church several weeks ago.

Mr. McTaggart summed up the question from the standpoint of his own trade, and speaking from his own experience, drew no influence from the "missionaries" or any other class of people, who, in their endeavors to set forth the truth of social matters for the benefit of society, have used the same facts which he used. He said, in part:

"Is it right to take from the moderate drinker his freedom to get a drink when he wishes so to do? And I say, Yes, it is right. In the first place we are taking nothing from him that is of any benefit to him in any sense. Then again we are taking from him that which is the cause of his chief danger. The moderate drinker is on the same trail which leads down to the place of the drunkard. Let me ask from what class the drunkards graduate? Why, from the moderate drinking class and there are no drunkards in this or any country but one day in the past were in the moderate drinking class. And if you will show me a man who takes a drink now and then, I will show you a man who takes a little more drink now than he did then."

A few evenings ago the Bulletin had a cartoon showing a sty with all the blind pigs well barred in and the gate fastened with a bar marked "present law." And there was Mr. Woolley with the prohibition bar trying to break down the door and turn the blind pigs loose. Why, I could take the editor of the Bulletin by the hand and lead him to a place upon the very block on which we are met together in this church tonight and show him a well kept blind pig and in fact he is not so very blind either. I said to a man some time ago, a man whose business it is to find and close such places and bring the offender to justice, "How is it that that place is allowed to run there? Don't you know it is there?" "Oh, yes, we know it is there." "Then why isn't it closed?" "Because that man has influence amongst his people and controls votes at the election and we are given to understand that we are to keep our eyes closed and our hands off."

"The devices resorted to by friends of the saloon were resorted to by friends of slavery, but Illinois raised up a son who brought out the truth and proved to the world that our country could get along better without the national curse of servitude. Abraham Lincoln has been quoted as having been opposed to prohibition. Here is a matter of history which shows us where Mr. Lincoln stood in his mature years. On the morning of the 14th day of April, 1865, just the day before his assassination, he said, 'After reconstruction, the next great problem is the overthrow of the liquor traffic.' And, although Mr. Lincoln didn't live to see the day, I think we are justified in view of the victorious trend of prohibition these latter years—in the belief that the time is not far distant when the world shall know by a nation-wide prohibition, that America can get along better, infinitely better, without the national curse of intemperance."

JAPAN PREPARES TO ANNEX KOREA

TOKIO, June 30.—There is every reason to believe that an announcement of the annexation of Korea by Japan is imminent.

In accordance with the convention recently made between Korea and Japan the Korean emperor has issued an edict delegating to the Japanese government the police administration of the country. This is the first step and the final step will be taken when Korea is practically under guard. The garrisons are being steadily strengthened.

The mass of Koreans accept the reports of the approaching annexation with indifference, but a decided spirit of unrest and activity among the anti-Japanese element necessitates precaution prior to the forthcoming announcement.

Lieutenant General Viscount Terauchi, the Japanese resident general of Korea, will leave for Seoul, the Korean capital, July 15 to confer with Emperor Yi Syek of Korea, who is reported to be in a complacent state of mind in view of the ample provision which has been made for him, his immediate family and other members of the royalty under the annexation arrangements.

The text of the Russo-Japanese convention recently made will be published soon in St. Petersburg.

The announcement of the opening of Port Arthur to the shipping of all nations commencing July 1 is published in the Official Gazette. The decision some months ago of the Japanese government to open Port Arthur as a free commercial port of entry caused some surprise, as this meant its elimination as a point of strategy for military and naval movements and its development as a commercial city.

YEAR'S IMMIGRATION AMOUNTS TO 1,035,545

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The number of immigrants admitted at all ports of the United States during the last fiscal year reached 1,035,545, according to a statement by Commissioner General Keefe today. This is an increase of 283,759 over last year.

The nonimmigrant aliens admitted, that is, those coming to the United States temporarily, reached 145,421, which is a falling off of 47,028, while the total number of all persons admitted during the year was 242,990. Last year 11,000 were admitted.

The remarkable increase in the number of those debarred is looked on from different standpoints among immigration officials. Some claim that the class of immigrants is not so high as it was a year ago.

The figures indicate a grand total of arrivals at all ports of 1,190,966, an increase of 244,421 over the previous year. During June it is estimated the immigrant aliens admitted at all ports aggregated 99,000; nonimmigrant aliens 15,000. Total, 114,000, against 2350 persons barred from admission.

IS SKEPTICAL ABOUT YACHT RACE CABLES

Vetlesen Says Wilder Would Avoid Catalina—Hawaii in Charge of Sea Jockeys.

YACHT SWEETHEART.

The only Coast entry in the trans-Pacific race. Same size and type as La Paloma.

L. M. Vetlesen does not give full credence to the Associated Press cables about the trans-Pacific yacht race. He is very skeptical as to the Hawaii getting becalmed under the lee of Catalina Island.

"Charley Wilder," he said yesterday, "discussed Captain Harris' maneuvers in the race of 1908 before the Hawaii left Honolulu for the Coast. The fatal error made before was paramount in his mind and he was determined to fight shy of Catalina Island at all events and take the southerly course."

Mr. Vetlesen further declared that both Charley Wilder, his brother and Tom King who were aboard the Hawaii, were regular sea jockeys and all of them were alert to take advantage of every puff of air.

"Another inconsistency about the cables," continued Mr. Vetlesen, "is the delay in transmitting the news. The race started shortly after noon on Sunday and it took the Associated Press until Monday morning to flash an announcement of the start down here. Then it was not until Tuesday that word came that seven hours after the start, or Sunday evening, the Hawaii was becalmed under the lee of Catalina Island. Altogether it is very mysterious and I don't take much stock in what I have heard thus far."

Mr. Vetlesen received a reply from his cable to Tommy Hobson yesterday morning confirming the reports that only three yachts started in the race—the Hawaii, the Mollison and the Sweetheart. He said that the La Valiera, of the Tacoma yacht club, and the Gwendolyn II, of the Seattle yacht club, had not arrived at San Pedro for the start as late as July the first and probably they did not show up, so the Wisconsin backed out.

The San Francisco Call under date of June 13 says:

"The hope of the Aeolian yacht club and San Francisco yachtsmen in general, the new yawl Mollison, will sail this afternoon for San Pedro to participate in the third biennial San Pedro to Honolulu ocean race, which starts July 9. Commodore Louis T.

WHY SALVES FAIL TO CURE ECZEMA

They Clog the Pores—Only a
Liquid Can Reach the Inner Skin.

Since the old-fashioned theory of curing eczema through the blood has been given up by scientists, many different salves have been tried for skin diseases. But it has been found that these salves only clog the pores and can not penetrate to the inner skin below the epidermis where the eczema germs are lodged.

This—the quality of penetrating—probably explains the tremendous success of the only standard liquid eczema cure, oil of wintergreen, as compounded in D. D. Prescription. After ten years of cure after cure the world's leading skin specialists have accepted this as the true eczema cure.

We ourselves do not hesitate to recommend D. D. Prescription at $1.00 a bottle, but for the benefit of those who have never tried the prescription, we arranged with the D. D. Laboratories of Chicago for a special large trial bottle at 25 cents on a special offer now. This first bottle ought to convince every sufferer, and, at any rate, it will surely take away the itch at once.

TO DEFEND NATION'S HONOR AT BASEBALL

All Star Aggregation of Military
Leaguers Begin Campaign
With Wasedas Today.

Manager Woodruff had his all-star aggregation of diamond lights out at Athletic Park yesterday afternoon and was drilling them into form for today's combat which will be the first of a series of three battles in which the army will have to go it alone in defense of the baseball honor of the United States in the campaign with Japan. The wily Wasedas disposed of the navy and it will take the best two out of three victories now to conquer and subdue the invaders. The soldier boys have the nerve, the high-power delivery and long-range batting propulsion to put their foreign foes down and out to the count of nine times one, two, three. If this picked team can pass the grilling test in fielding regulations and the manual of the bat and Corporal Woodruff is up in his baseball tactics enough to outgeneral the Japs in stratagem, then the military league of the Hawaiian Islands will be hailed from afar as the strong right arm of the nation's forces and Uncle Sam will probably adorn the heroes of Athletic Park diamond with leather medals for their prowess across the seas.

Williams Can't Play.

Military baseball critics say that the detail of warriors that Corporal Woodruff has selected to go into action against the Wasedas today is the strongest outfit that could be mustered on the island, although Johnny Williams, who was counted on to confuse the enemy batters with his deceptive twirls, will probably not be able to do the box. His boss, it was said yesterday, could not see it that business should at all times give way to baseball and like most high financiers he is so busy chasing dollars that he thinks this pursuit should also be Johnny's soul duty in life. Therefore it is quite likely that the military league will be deprived of its crack-jack pitcher in this the most important struggle of the year.

Williams Sure Hitter.

Peyton, of the Marines, and Hampton, of the National Guards, will probably baffle the Waseda batters. Peyton is not so worse in the box and Hampton is better, but neither are top-notchers at the bat. The Marine ranks lowest of the team selected in the column of batting averages with a percentage of only .181. Hampton is the midway hitter with a percentage of .259. Johnny Williams is not only considered the best pitcher, but he stands next to the top as a wielder of the willow with an average of .424. Lieutenant Groninger of the Fifth Cavalry team, who will not play today, heads the list with .526. O'Sullivan, of the National Guard team, who will probably play in leftfield today, holds third place in the hitting lineup, his percentage being .419. Then comes Walker, of the National Guard, with .391, but he did not show up yesterday for practice and Rentz, of the Artillery, with a standing of .335, was put down for centerfield. Rentz, however, is a good fielder if not so strong as Walker at the bat. Davis, the Marine first baseman, will hold down the number one sack and he is way up among the leaders with a hitting average of .365.

Best Second Baseman.

Walters of the Fifth Cavalry is slated for second baseman, and is said to be the best on the island to hold down this job. He can get the ball home in an awful hurry, and he doesn't let anything coming his way get past. While his batting average is only .242 at the last tabulation, he has been booming up strong at the walloping lately and is likely to get in some long-range hits.

Base Robber of Bunch.

Kistler of Fort Shafter, who is down for right field, is the champion robber of the bunch. At the last compilation by the league's statisticians he had stolen no less than seventeen bases and had come through with nineteen base hits, yet his average is only .233. The only ones who can touch him in kleptomaniac are En Sue of the National Guard and Lieutenant Hanson of the Cavalry, who will not play in the Waseda games.

McCall Is Lightning.

Shortstop McCall of the Fort Shafter team is lightning in catching and forwarding the ball, and he has made fifteen base hits and stolen six bases during the season, which gives him a percentage of .288.

Robinson, the Cavalry backstop, stands only .200 in the ranks of the swiftness, but he is a power behind the bat. No pitcher can possibly shoot a ball through him, and he is reinforced with a wide range reach. Last, but not least, it doesn't happen on his off day, is Sleep, the Marine, who will guard the third cushion in today's game. Sleep's batting average is .292.

To Reinforce Team.

The corporal in command has arranged for reinforcements to draw from in case any of those in action should fall by the wayside during the struggle. They are Lemm of Fort Shafter, who may relieve Walters at second base; this team has made fourteen base hits this season and his batting average is .244. Duty of Fort Ruger is the alternate for left field. He has hit eleven safeties and his standing is .255. Townsend of the National Guard and Brannon of the Artillery are counted on to relieve Kistler in right field. Townsend's batting average is .312 and Brannon comes next with .310. Sinclair of the Marines, Kentnor of Fort Shafter and Flores of the National Guard are detailed as alternates to serve behind the bat. Sinclair is identified with the upper ten in batting, having made sixteen base hits. His average is .372. Kentnor comes next with .344, and then Flores, who gets off at .269.

The game this afternoon will be called at four o'clock, and Manager Woodruff has issued peremptory orders that all hands show up promptly at halfpast three. Woodruff said last night that it would be no twelve or eighteen inning game today, for his lineup of experts could do it easily in nine.

THE OAHU LEAGUE WILL HOLD MEETING TONIGHT

The regular monthly meeting of the Oahu Baseball League will be held in the offices of Charles Chillingworth this evening. Matters pertaining to the series with the Wasedas will be discussed and any member of the organization who is carrying any burdens of a baseball nature on his mind is expected to apply for relief at tonight's session.

FORTUNES FOR FIGHTING.

Chronicle Headquarters, Reno, July 4.—According to the latest information that can be obtained, it is estimated by Jack Gleason that there was something like $200,000 in the house today. He figured that 10,000 people paid for their seats, and that several thousands more broke in and saw the fight for nothing.

Rickard and Gleason will probably make some money on their venture, in spite of their heavy expense. The fighters receive a purse of $101,000, which, at the last moment, at the request of Johnson, was divided 60 per cent to the winner and 40 to the loser. Johnson would draw down $60,000 as his end of the purse, $10,000 more as a bonus, and $30,000 for his moving picture rights, which would net him $120,000.

Jeffries did almost as well. He drew $10,400 from the purse, and $80,000 from the pictures, and a $10,000 bonus for signing the articles. That would mean $110,400.

Jack Johnson beat himself out of quite a tidy sum of money today by his request just before the battle that the division of the purse be made 60 per cent to the winner and 40 per cent to the loser. The original agreement called for a 75 and 25 division, and it can be seen that Johnson made a poor move, for he lost 15 per cent of the $101,000 purse.

SEVENTEEN DAYS OF POLO THIS SEASON

Interisland Tournament Will Be
Longest on Record Here—
W. Dillingham in Practise

This year's polo meet will beat the record. The schedule of matches for interisland tournament is the longest ever. Moanua Field will be the stamping ground for a series of matches covering a period of seventeen days, beginning on August tenth and ending on the twenty-seventh. Each of the four teams of the Interisland Polo League will play three games and will meet each of the other teams, so that all will have a chance at each other, and if there should be any ties they will be played off after the regular series is finished. There will be six regular matches, which will come along semi-weekly, on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

The first game, on Wednesday, August 10, will be between the Kaula team and the Fifth Cavalry. On Saturday, the thirteenth, the Kaula and Oahu teams will go to it. The Oahu team and the Cavalry are scheduled to meet on Wednesday, the seventeenth. The Kaula and Maui teams are on the calendar for Saturday, the twentieth. The Cavalry and Maui round up the ball on Wednesday, the twenty-fourth, and the Oahu team will swap swats on Saturday, the twenty-seventh of next month.

The second game of the preliminary series, between the Fifth Cavalry and the Oahu team is to be played next Saturday afternoon on Moanua Field. The Oahu team went down to minus; they were not even good for nothing in the first match with the Cavalry two weeks ago at Lihue, but now the less than nothing bunch has something added to it which may bring it up to something. Walter Dillingham was out yesterday at the regular practice of the local team. He is shy on practice, and while he may not be able to do everything, he is expected to do as much as nothing. If they can just avoid penalties they will come out better than they did before. Walter Dillingham expects to keep at it from now on and play in all the regular games.

The Reds were reinforced yesterday in their game with the blues and the result was that the two teams of Oahu players made it a tie, each making one goal.

A. D. Baldwin, a brother of the Baldwin boys here, arrived on the Wilhelmina, coming from his home in Cleveland, Ohio. He is an old polo player and turned out yesterday with the Oahu team, happened to be in town and was also induced to join the players yesterday. The Reds were Al Magoon, number one; A. D. Baldwin, number two; Charley Rice, number three, and Doctor Erdman, number four.

Those who played as the blues yesterday will form the regular Oahu team for the interisland tournament and will play the Fifth Cavalry on Saturday. They are: Doctor Baldwin, number one; Sam Baldwin, number two; Walter Dillingham, number three, and Harold Dillingham, number four. Al Magoon and Doctor Erdman will take the bench as subs.

Bill Taft, Sam Baldwin's gray horse, and Bob Atkinson's Mana, which were two of the four horses that went lame at practice last Saturday were much improved yesterday.

EWA AND AIEA TEAMS WILL PLAY AT LEAGUE GROUNDS

The Ewa and the Aiea plantation baseball teams have started a triple series for the best two out of three games and have tied, each winning a game apiece. They can't agree to play on either of their home diamonds, each fearing that the opponent's rooters may rattle their team and it was finally decided to play it off at the league grounds in Honolulu.

Both nines have been putting up pretty good ball and there is so much rivalry between them that they want to play on neutral ground. The deciding match will happen, therefore, at the league grounds next Sunday morning, beginning about ten o'clock.

KUHIO'S LETTER.

Just what Kuhio may have been thinking of when he wrote the letter to John C. Lane, published elsewhere in this issue, is hard to say. His letter, presumably, is an explanation of the fact that he did not intend to be in Hawaii to take any part in the prohibition campaign, although from letters received from him prior to the adjournment of congress, it had been confidently expected by the prohibition workers of Hawaii that he would be present in the campaign.

That he is not to be present is a distinct disappointment, a disappointment in the man as well as for the loss his absence means to the complete success of the plebiscite. Kuhio's action in this matter, in the eyes of the prohibitionists, denotes that he places political expediency ahead of conviction.

In his letter he states: "I certainly want no laws which work along race lines." What does he mean? He cannot refer to the law prohibiting the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors in the Territory, which is to follow the plebiscite victory on the twenty-sixth. That law certainly will not be one to work along race lines.

"I allowed my name to go on the committee handling the temperance side of the fight, because on the temperance question I want to be with temperance, not against it," he says, but adds, further on: "I am not a prohibitionist."

What was he thinking of? Kuhio knows that the committee of one hundred is a prohibition committee. He knows what their fight is, because it was through his own action before the senate committee that the fight was brought to Hawaii instead of being settled in congress. He knew when he wrote his letter that the committee was not a mere temperance committee engaged in academic discussions of the evils of drink, but a committee formed for the express purpose of fighting for and securing prohibition for this Territory. If he is not a prohibitionist, why did he "consent" to the use of his name? And, if he wants to "help curb the evils of liquor," why is he not a prohibitionist?

Kuhio's attitude was hard to understand before, but it is still harder to understand now.

ATTITUDES—PRETENDED AND REAL.

Janus-faced as ever, the saloon interests are making an appeal now in public for "temperance" when they want the votes of the community. What their true attitude is, when they want the money of the drinker and nothing else, is shown when they are with themselves. Then there is no "mawkish" talk of temperance, but of how to best debauch the youth of the land to increase their own sales, let the consequences be what they may.

Below is given two official statements of the liquor dealers, one now running as an anti-prohibition advertisement in the columns of the liquor sellers' organ; the other an excerpt from an address made before a convention of liquor sellers in Columbus, Ohio, when the speaker believed he was talking only to members of "the trade" and could throw off the mask of hypocrisy.

COMPARE THE TWO STATEMENTS:

AFTER VOTES.

"The rising generation should be trained to temperance and to rely on strength of character, and not be put into a straightjacket to make up for lack of character."

"Drink if you want to, but be temperate."

"And vote against prohibition."

AFTER THE COIN.

"The success of our business is dependent largely upon the creation of appetite for drink. Men who drink liquor, like others, will die, and if there is no new appetite created, our counters will be empty, as well as our coffers."

"The open field for the creation of appetite is among the boys."

"After men have grown old and their habits are formed they rarely ever change in this regard, and I make the suggestion, gentlemen, that nickels expended in treats to the boys now will return in dollars to your tills after the appetite has been formed."

COULD FINISH UP WELL.

The members of the present board of supervisors have six months of their terms yet to fill. During that period they are able to do a number of good things for Honolulu if they can spare the time.

For one thing, they might be able to repair King street and leave that important thoroughfare in at least as good shape as they found it. As it stands at present the road is practically useless. Drivers will not go over it unless compelled to. The majority of the members may feel like leaving it as it is as an example of Democratic incompetence, but the lesson would be too hard a one on the community at large.

In six months' time the supervisors could digest the building ordinance and pass it. They can hardly make any mistake. Any change from the present ordinance would be an improvement.

The question of providing the city with at least one decent street could be tackled. The old bitulithic scheme appears to be dead. Start another one. Surely the contractors and the city can come to some terms whereby Honolulu may be able to see for themselves what a real city street ought to look like. Fort street now is in a disgraceful condition. It will have to be either paved or macadamized very shortly and the board would hardly have the nerve to use macadam. If bitulithic can not be had for any reason, use some other paving material. Do something.

Out of the last eight cases of murder and attempted murder in this city, in only one was the murderer or the would-be murderer perfectly sober. In the face of facts like these, the beautiful theories of Bishop Restarick, of Bishop Libert and of Pastor Felmy fall flat. If those three gentlemen could call at the Queen's Hospital this morning and see the actual result of liquor in the shot-riddled body of the wife of Waiwale, they would probably regret the words they have spoken in aid of the saloons. It may be "personal liberty" that they had in mind, but it is "saloon liberty" that they are helping.

Theodore Roosevelt is still issuing bulletins from Oyster Bay that he has not yet decided what he will do politically. If someone would only tell him that nobody is worrying except himself it would save a lot in telegraph and cable tolls and give others, who do know what they are going to do, a chance to be heard.

Have you heard anyone yet attempt to show that the saloon is doing any good to the community? Has any good reason been advanced by anyone, either of their own free will or for pay, why the voters should not put the saloon out of business by voting for prohibition on July 26?

Captain Blanchard's appeal for teeth should not be allowed to fall into the joke column and be forgotten. When there are so many good things to eat as are displayed in the Honolulu markets and stores, to be without teeth is surely no joke.

Waiwale had been drinking before he turned his murderous gun upon his wife last night. Let that soak in.

EARTHQUAKE IN TYROL.

MUNICH, July 13.—Heavy earthquakes have taken place in Bavaria and throughout the Tyrol district. Many buildings have been damaged. At Uebersee, one person was killed and twenty injured.

BILL FOR FUNERAL.

LONDON, July 13.—The total funeral expenses show that the funeral of the late King Edward cost $200,000.

LAW AND LICENSE

SOME FUNDAMENTALS

By John G. Woolley.

(Number IV.)

I refrain from statistics. They can not be accurate. They are hard to understand. They are too cold to be convincing. I rest this case on the bare reference to things that are perfectly plain to everybody. The common, unlearned judgment of the thoughtful community supports my thesis even without the recitation of any facts at all. Enlightened imagination is as sure as science, here.

Imagine two young couples, exactly equal in age, breeding, health, wealth, culture, love, ambition and opportunity, happily married and setting out, in neighboring houses, on the journey of life. These two abstain, on principle. The beer wagon makes regular calls on these others. Which will you back for health, happiness, prosperity and peace as they go down the westward slope of the hill? It would be bad manners and bad morals to bet on such a case. No sportsman bets on a sure thing. Every trip of the beer wagon hauls away something of the hope of the road. It is a horse.

I am not saying that either home will fall utterly, or either be superlatively successful. Homes where drink was served have turned out well. And homes where abstinence was the rule have failed. But assuming equality in all other particulars, the one that bars the drink has the better equipment. The liquor traffic is against the safety of marriage.

Imagine a baby boy arriving at the same time in each of these homes. Which has the better chance for the best things in a man's life? The question admits of but one answer, save for the contingency that the beer home, or the beer club, or the beer saloon, may spoil the son of the abstainers. The liquor traffic is against the safety of boys.

Take a longer look ahead. Imagine the two babies, girls, and that the whole future of motherhood in the two lines is wrapped up in them. In which will the investment of posterity be most secure? Why, don't you know, that if one of them drink intemperately, and if she drink at all, there is that peril—and bear a daughter, she, the granddaughter, will be unable to suckle her daughter. Who, if she drink freely, will be incapable of child-bearing? Two generations of intemperate mothers close the chapter of reproduction in that line. But the collateral idlers and epileptics are not barren. The liquor traffic is against the safety of motherhood.

What great voice, in science or in statesmanship, speaks well of the saloon on the score of safety of the people?

Call up William E. Gladstone, the greatest statesman of the nineteenth century. Is the liquor traffic safe for the people? And that wonderful voice answers: "It has done more injury to England than war, pestilence and famine, all combined."

Call up John Morley, his greatest lieutenant. Is the liquor traffic safe for the people? He says: "England must put a stop to the liquor traffic or it will put a stop to England."

Call up the Lord Chief Justice of England. Is the liquor traffic safe for the people? And the astounding statement comes into this record: "If siffed, nine-tenths of the crime of England and Wales could be traced to drink."

Call up Abraham Lincoln. Is the liquor traffic safe for the people? And the deep pathos of that mighty voice replies: "The liquor traffic is a cancer in society, eating out the vitals and threatening destruction. Attempts to regulate it will not only prove futile, but will aggravate the evil."

Call up William McKinley. Is the liquor traffic safe for the people? And the most genial and charitable of statesmen answers:

"The liquor traffic is the most degrading and ruinous of all human pursuits. By legalizing this traffic we agree to share with the liquor seller the responsibilities and evils of his business. Every man who votes for license becomes of necessity a partner in the liquor traffic and all its consequences."

Call up the foremost private citizen of the world. Is the liquor traffic safe for the people? And like steel bullets from a gun comes his opinion:

"The liquor traffic tends to produce criminality in the population at large and lawbreaking among the saloon keepers themselves."

Call up Theodore Powderly, the old grand master workman of the Knights of Labor. Is the liquor traffic safe for the people? And his answer is ready:

"Had I ten million tongues and a throat for each tongue, I would say to every man, woman and child here you would a ounce of liquid hell. It sears the conscience, it destroys everything it touches. It reaches into the family circle and takes the wife you have sworn to protect and drags her down from her purity into that house of sin from which no decent woman ever goes alive. It induces the father to take the furniture from the house, exchange it for money at the pawnshop, and everything it touches, I have seen it in every city east of the Mississippi River, and I know that the most damning charge to the laborer is that which hangs from the neck of the bottle. I would rather be at the head of an organization having one hundred thousand temperate, honest, earnest men than at the head of an organization of twelve million drinkers, whether moderate or any other kind. Every dime spent in the rum shop furnishes a paving-stone for hell."

Call up John Mitchell, the present leader of the labor world. Is the liquor traffic safe for the people? And his calm, cerebral words respond:

"In various ways and on many occasions the evil influence of the saloon has been recognized and pointed out by the labor unions of the United States. While the liquor interests have sought to convey the impression that there was some common interest between trade unionism and the manufacture and sale of intoxicants, this suggestion is repelled on every occasion when the matter is presented to the labor men in its true light and when the malignant purpose of the liquor interests is exposed to view.

"I have no sympathy with the statement, so often made, that the manufacture and sale of liquor has contributed to the industrial development of the nation. On the contrary, I believe that liquor has contributed more to the moral, intellectual and material deterioration of the people and has brought more misery to defenseless women and children than has any other agency in the history of mankind."

Or face about in the other direction and inquire:

Consult the oracle of the alleys, where pauperism writhes and reeks and rots. Is the liquor traffic safe for the people? And the two great experts on the subject, The Massachusetts Bureau of Labor Statistics, and the famous Committee of Fifty, produce the figures to show that not less than thirty-nine per cent of pauperism is due to drink.

Take the wretched testimony of the brothel. Is the liquor traffic safe for the people? The answer is instant: The soul of the brothel is the drink—not lust, drink.

Call up the white slave trade that catches girls and hawks them in the dissipation market, as fishermen take fish and sell them. Is the liquor traffic safe for the people? And every dirty pander of them all acknowledges that drink is the working capital of the business.

Call up the jails, the forcing beds of crime, and put the question. Is the liquor traffic safe for the people? And the answer fifty per cent of the jail horror is the drink.

Call up the insane asylums. Is the liquor traffic safe for the people? And no man puts the figure at less than fifty per cent for the drink.

Call up the scrap-heap of broken homes and lost prospects. What is the matter here? Many things, but mostly drink.

The schoolhouse cries: Keep the saloon away from me, and even the license law agrees to do it.

The church cries save me from the sacrilege of a near saloon, and even the license law tries to do it. Election day cries save me from the open saloon. And even the license law seconds the motion. Sunday, the rest day, the day of home and worship, cries for protection from the saloon. And even the license law agrees to give it.

No. You will listen vainly for one brave, honest word, among all the voices of the century, that speaks in favor of the beverage liquor traffic on the score of safety for the people.

Write it on the workhouse gate, Write it on the schoolboy's slate, Write it in the copy book,

"Where there's drink, there's danger."

Write it in the nation's laws, Blotting out the license clause; Write it on each ballot white, So it can be read aright,

"Where there's drink, there's danger."

Write it on the ships that sail, Borne along by storm and gale, Write it large in letters plain, Over every land and main,

"Where there's drink, there's danger."

Write it over every gate, On the church and halls of State, In the heart of every band, On the laws of every land, eratic leaders, the party will nominate Wade Warren Thayer as their candidate for city attorney, the idea being that Thayer could win over the Republican incumbent and give a hard run to any new man the Republicans may put up to strengthen their ticket. They figure that Cathcart's victory last time was due to the fact that an independent split the vote against him. This year there will be no independent and the Democratic candidate will win with the same vote that put Hauka in office.

"Where there's drink, there's danger."

Fern will be the party candidate for mayor, the Democrats figuring that he will have to go up against Hustace this time.

Republican Precinct Elections.

They are having a fine little time among the Republicans down in the north of the fifth, the precinct that put a Lane ticket in nomination for precinct club officers. A meeting of the executive committee on Tuesday night turned the Lane ticket over its knee and spanked it, but the insurgents have not been altogether disheartened. They have called upon Charley Achi to and them, who in turn called upon Charley Clarke, the representative of the liquor dealers. This makes a funny combination to anyone who has followed the intricacies of fifth district politics, this Lane-Achi-Clarke liquor sellers' combine. Achi fought Lane for the mayoralty and Clarke bolted the party against Watkins, Hughes and Lane. Now all are aligned to grab the precinct control for Achi, to be delivered later to the liquor sellers.

Tomorrow night, at the elections, Achi and Clarke will be on hand in the ninth to see what they can do.

In the Maunaloa precinct there is another hard fight promised between the Lorrin Andrews ticket and the Cathcart remnants. Here Cathcart has managed to carry his club and lose his precinct in the election. This time it appears probable that he will lose even the club, although some good men have allowed themselves to be named on what is generally known as his ticket for club officers.

The Republican elections in a majority of the precincts will be devoid of any special interest, there being only one ticket in the field.

EDITORS WILL NOT COME THIS YEAR

The trustees of the chamber of commerce held a meeting yesterday afternoon, President Morgan presiding, little beyond routine work coming before them.

The matter of inviting the National Editorial Association here for its 1911 convention was again taken up and was dropped for the last time. The finance committee reported that it had investigated the matter and did not believe that the chamber was justified in asking its members for $5000 or $7500 necessary to bring the party here.

A wireless from Larz Anderson, a member of the party of Secretary Dickinson, was read, in which he expressed his thanks for the gracious entertainment afforded them by the civic bodies of the city. The message had been sent to Alonzo Gartley, chairman of the entertainment committee, but as Mr. Gartley is on Hawaii, Brewer & Co. turned it over to the chamber, for whom it was rightly intended.

A letter from George B. McLellan was also read, confirming the cable news of the money for the Malukua site being obtained and complimenting the city on the acquisition. It is about to receive in the federal building.

Mr. Bottomley, Mr. Paxton and Mr. Klump were appointed a special committee to draw up resolutions of condolence for the family of the late Alexander Young, who was a member of the chamber.

LIQUOR AGAIN IS BEHIND REVOLVER

The women smelled the reek of liquor on his breath.

Hauapi laughed and the man walked outside and disappeared.

Meanwhile the stricken woman had crawled fifty yards to the home of David Kaholekawai, climbing over an intervening wall and finally falling exhausted on the veranda.

Here the officers found her and when they reached her side with the stretcher she even tried to raise herself into it. Two trustees took charge of her and while the patrol whipped its way through the city streets to the Queen's Hospital, Officers Parish and Abreu started up the stream searching for the would-be murderer.

On the way they stopped at the house of several men further up the stream and asked them if they had seen Waiwale. They answered that they had; he had been seen heading up the stream.

Two hours later these men themselves delivered him up to the police officers, he having lain hid in their house while the officers were making the inquiries. Parish and Abreu reached the police station after the man had already been taken into custody.

Deputy Rose took the man to the scene of the shooting and started an examination at once, the prisoner showing them where he had thrown his gun and cartridges. Waiwale's guilt is proven beyond a doubt, but he will probably be held until the woman either recovers or dies, before he is charged.

According to the testimony of the witnesses, he had been drinking but was not drunk when he committed the shooting.

PROFESSOR ABE SPEAKS ON DUTY

Everybody there enjoyed the same rights and everyone was treated equally.

"In some places a traveler has to encounter many unpleasant things, but in Hawaii I feel just as I felt in England. Every day since our arrival, everyone has been very kind to us and we are shown every hospitality. The American people and the Japanese live side by side in unexcelled cordiality and in friendliness, which fact accords us the most pleasant feelings."

"Hawaii is not only the Paradise of the Pacific, but the Islands are indeed the Paradise of the World."

"Every Japanese has heard from his childhood and well knows the story of Urashima (the Japanese Rip Van Winkle) who was taken to the Palace of the Deep in return of his kindness to a turtle, one of the retainers of Princess Otohime; that he fell in love with her and married her afterward; and that he lived a very happy life in this Palace of the Deep for three years, which in fact, he afterwards found to be three thousand years upon his return to his home which he did against the prayer of the Princess; that when he opened a small lucky box given by the Princess as a souvenir, the young Japanese saw his hair turned gray and his face covered with wrinkles. to his neglect he did not find his friends any more and died with the decline of age.

"You would undoubtedly wish to go back to your native land sometime, I remind you that if you leave this paradise and go back to your land of birth you will meet the fate of Urashima."

"Do not make the mistake of thinking that you can do your duty only on the soil of your birthplace. You are doing your part and fulfilling your duty by taking up loes and shovels and by living peacefully in whatever part you may engage wherever you may go. Assimilate with the people and prove yourselves a good element in the community where you live. Aspire to shine among the people as good examples. You will then become a good citizen for the Territory and will be worthy of the pride you have in being Japanese born."

MONEY ENOUGH FOR TEACHERS

School Board Has Funds on Hand to Pay Salaries of New Schedule.

There is money enough in the school fund to pay the salaries provided upon by the commissioners of education, and yesterday afternoon the board formally approved the schedule which, except for the salaries to be paid, has already been published in The Advertiser. The salaries to be paid the teachers were at the request of the superintendent not published for the reason that many of them are so ridiculously small that the board is ashamed to have them published. The commissioners say that the next schedule may be more liberal and make an appropriation large enough to enable the board to pay teachers' salaries.

A few new teachers will be appointed later in the month, it is found that there is money enough to pay their salaries.

The commissioners stated their plans yesterday afternoon and adjourned.

TRICOLOR IN EVIDENCE TODAY

General fleet, with the Montevideo as the flagship, and it is now her duty to display the flag throughout the Pacific. The Montevideo carries thirty officers and a crew of about six hundred and fifty men.

Several plans have been broached for the entertainment of the admiral, as well as his officers, but dates have not been fixed. He will also be entertained by the French Consul, Doctor Marques.

Pete Day Today.

The cruise was so planned that the Montevideo would be in Honolulu to celebrate July 14—the French national day, the anniversary of the fall of the Bastille—and although no program has been arranged, at sunrise this morning the cruiser will be decked out with flags and bunting and put on her showiest dress. At eight o'clock a national salute will be fired, another at noon, and then, just at sunset, when the tricolor is hoisted down, her guns will again boom the long salute, and the warships in port will join in the salute at noon. This will be one of the noisiest salutes the harbor has ever heard of, but it will only equal the exaltation of spirits of officers and men.

One "Grande" Disaster.

The cruise across the Pacific was almost without incident, and it would have passed into the log as an uneventful voyage but for one disaster, which caused great distress of mind.

"It was a terrible disaster," said one of the officers. "The admiral's milk cow fell overboard."

And that was a disaster, for the admiral's coffee and tea had to be sweetened with condensed milk after that tragedy. In all probability a Honolulu house will be signed on the ship's papers for the remainder of the cruise.

Like a Double Ship.

The Montevideo has a peculiar arrangement of smokestacks. Two are forward and two aft, leaving a long space amidships. She looks like two ships joined together. She has powerful engines, comprising three sets of vertical expansion, and three screws. She has a designed horsepower of 19,500, capable of driving her at a rate of twenty-one knots. ADDITIONS MADE TO
GAZETTE PRESSROOM

Two new presses have just been installed by the Hawaiian Gazette Company—a Miehle No. 1 patented high-speed job and book press and a Miehle pony press. This makes thirteen presses in all in operation in the pressroom of the company and forms a valuable addition to the equipment.

The larger press is thoroughly equipped electrically, and has both sheet and fly delivery, with a maximum of 300 revolutions per minute, equal to thirty impressions. This, and the pony Miehle as well, is one of the latest printing presses on the market.

WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS SAY

The Park Theater.

Miss Ethel May is to sing "Christina," from the "Red Feather," at the Park tonight, and the public will have an opportunity to hear her in a song that is a fair test of voice quality. In this she takes high B flat and holds it. Miss May will appear also in a duet with Mr. Gardner, the selection being an English version of a very popular Italian ballad. The Desmond Sisters will be seen in an act that will give them unlimited scope in footwork, and Mr. Thompson will sing. Wallner has a new German musical stunt that is likely to win the goodwill of the audience. Last night Gibson got the hands and seemed to hold the attention of the big crowd better than at any time since he arrived. It will be the last time the "Visit to Bombay," a beautifully colored Pathe film, will be shown.

At the Empire.

Beginning with the performance tonight and continuing until Saturday, the patrons of the Empire will be treated to a genuine vaudeville novelty act. It is one that has created a future all over Europe, and is one of the great successes in this line of entertainment in America and Australia. Return dates for the Tilo have been the rule wherever they have appeared in this act. This team will leave Honolulu for the Makua on the 16th, so that the opportunities for seeing them here are limited. Tonight Miss Morot will sing her great Scotch song, written around a true story connected with the battle of Dargal Ridge in India. She will also sing one of her wondrous successes.

BAND CONCERT TONIGHT.

The Hawaiian band will play this evening on the Alexander Young Hotel roof garden, as follows:

Overture—Fra Diavolo.Auber
Ballet—Passing Hours.Bis
March—Glorious.Lindbergh
Selection—Paua.Lindbergh
March—Three Dances.Lindbergh
Selection—French Minuet.Lindbergh

LOCAL BREVITIES.

James C. Cole, No. 240, C. O. F., will meet in San Antonio Hall at half past seven this evening.

Paolo Rebekah Lodge, No. 1, I. O. O. F., will meet in Odd Fellows' Hall at half past seven this evening.

Secretary H. P. Wood of the promotion committee will return from Atlantic City on the next trip of the Wilkes from San Francisco.

Mrs. Bostwick has issued invitations to the members of St. Andrew's Guild for an "At Home" this afternoon from four to six at which the guests of honor will be Mrs. William Ault and Mrs. Leopold Kroll.

The territorial auditor yesterday issued warrants to the treasurers of the various counties for the amounts due after the half-yearly cleanup. Oahu gets $84,000; Hawaii, $24,000; Kauai, $10,000; Maui's extra has not been determined.

Friends of the Rev. and Mrs. Leopold Kroll will be glad to learn that the little son Adolph, who was run over by an automobile on Tuesday, is making a slow recovery at the Queen's Hospital. The little fellow sustained a compound fracture of the leg above the ankle.

All members of Hawaii Chapter, No. 1, Order of Kamehameha, and all sojourning brethren are fraternally requested to assemble in Fraternity Hall, Odd Fellows' building, on Fort street, at half past two o'clock this afternoon for the purpose of attending the funeral of their late brother, George Charles Beckley.

The city supervisors held a leave-of-absence session yesterday, at which many city employees were given vacations. Assistant Fire Chief Deering was given a leave of absence for three months, with pay, the first vacation he has had in nine years of service. Road Supervisor Wilson was granted a two-week leave. R. W. Cathcart, chief clerk, will fill his position temporarily. Leaves of absence were also granted all city employees who have been selected for the national guard rifle team to compete at Camp Perry. This was done on the request of Mayor Fern, acting on the recommendation of Acting Governor Mott-Smith.

PERSONALS.

Attorney General Lindsay returned yesterday from Kauai, where he represented the Territory in a fishery case.

FUNERAL OF GEORGE
BECKLEY THIS AFTERNOON

The funeral of the late George C. Beckley will take place this afternoon, and the remains will be accorded a masonic burial. At two o'clock there will be a private service at the home of the deceased, King street, after which the remains will be taken to the Masonic Temple, where Hawaiian Lodge will take charge and the ritual will be repeated.

The interment will be in Nuanu cemetery, where the last masonic rites will be held. The Hawaiian band will be in attendance at the grave.

The pallbearers will be as follows: Masons, Colonel Soper, Robert Hara; Kamehameha Lodge, Rev. S. L. Dosh, Carlos Long; Masters and Pilots, Capt. T. K. Clark, Captain Macaulay; citizens, Cecil Brown, Mark Robinson. The pallbearers are requested to be at the Masonic Temple at three o'clock.

WROTE FOR GAZETTE
THIRTY YEARS AGO

Writing to the Hawaiian Gazette from Concord, North Carolina, under date of June 13, Professor J. N. Ingram asks for copies of that paper for 1877 and 1878, at which time he wrote several articles for it. He wishes to use them in a lecture tour which he is now making through the States with the Hawaiian Islands as his topic, speaking on the development, the people and his own experience here. He is the author of several works on the Polynesian Archipelagoes.

Around the World.

You are likely to bump into a Honolulu anywhere around the four corners of Europe, according to Harry von Holt, who just returned from the continent. It may be in the busy section where the Bank of England looms big and gloomy, where he descended from a bus and ran plump into former Deputy Attorney General Larnach, or in a Cook's tour office, where he almost walked over Bertie Mist, who designed the last Floral Parade poster, or in any of the regular paths or out-of-the-way nooks of the continent.

One of the interesting features of the visit of the von Holts to Germany was their view of the Passion Play at Oberammergau. It was a grand sight and was well worth the long journey. The intense interest of the Oberammergauers in depicting the last days of the Christ, their devotion to the reason for giving the performance every decade, and their daily life while waiting for each decade to come, were all items of wonderment to all visitors.

"Just a week or so before the play was given they had to shovel the snow off the stage, but when we saw the initial performance, there was no snow," said Mr. von Holt. "However, I must say that the seats are rather hard and I was quite willing to hand out advice, gratis, to any people I knew were going there, advising them to take air cushions along."

Read Advertiser Everywhere.

Mr. von Holt returns thoroughly posted on all that has taken place in Honolulu since he left, for the simple reason that he got his copy of The Advertiser at every place he stopped long enough to call for his mail. The Advertiser followed him all around the world and throughout his whole trip he only missed one copy of the paper.

Before he sailed, Mr. von Holt figured out just where he would be on certain dates and left his address accordingly. Every steamer that went out of Honolulu with mail carried a file addressed to him and every file caught him where he happened to be stopping. The paper was sent to the following addresses: Redlands, California; Hotel Somerset, Boston; Hotel Manhattan, New York; Canadian Bank of Commerce, London; care of Geoffrey Brown, Nice, France; Sedanplatz 4, Dresden, Germany; care of Thos. Cook & Son, Hamburg, Germany; care of Rev. A. Mackintosh, Holme-next-the-Sea, Norfolk, England; 32 Bury New Road, Prestwich, Manchester, England; care of Cunard Line, Liverpool; Hotel Manhattan, New York; Redlands, California, and Hotel Stewart, San Francisco.

Mr. von Holt's plan of keeping up with the home news is one that other Honoluluans on the travel can easily follow.

APPEALS TO COUNTRY FOR SOME MOLARS

Now that the charitable community has financed the V. M. C. A. building, paid the salaries of the supervisors and got the yacht Hawaii out of the way—permanently, it seems—it is up to it to get a new set of teeth for Captain Blanchard, the eminent explorer and discoverer.

Captain Blanchard has issued an appeal to the Territory for a set of teeth—an earnest appeal which he considers justified by many years of service for the country and the Islands. "I have given my teeth to the country," he said, tremulously, yesterday, "and I think that the country owes me some more. I have spent them in my old age in hard service, and nobody knows how much I suffer without them. I like to eat, but my goodness! I can't."

Only the old captain didn't use "my goodness." The real colorful picturesqueness of his appeal is lost in modest black and white.

The old man is seventy-three years old, but has maintained his work to the end. As noted yesterday, he largely escaped from the mountains by falling off an inaccessible peak on a landslide, returning immediately to civilization and starting the present boom for his lost molars.

He has tried many schemes to induce them to return, but all methods have been equally in vain. Mayor Fern used his grandmother's tooth when he ran out, but as Captain Blanchard's grandmother is buried in Ireland and there is a high duty on ivory, the latter has found this means impracticable.

Incidentally, Mayor Fern is willing to collect the money to get the old man his heart's (and mouth's) desire, provided The Advertiser starts the ball rolling, and all contributions towards this object, made in charity and love, will be duly noted by his Honor.

Charles Adin says Captain Blanchard has promised five dollars as soon as the subscription is started, and he has appealed to The Advertiser to give furtherance to the movement.

Which is herewith done. A preliminary subscription list in The Advertiser's editorial staff netted two dollars toward the teeth fund, which, with Adin's five, makes seven dollars in sight.

Who is next?

ANOTHER "VAGRANCY" CASE.

Another case of "vagrancy," one of the most disgusting cases of lustful criminal assault ever recorded by the local police, has been reported, and the brute was yesterday caught in hiding at Waiman and brought to town by the sheriff and deputy sheriff. It may be feared that "there is no law under which he may be convicted," but if there is not and he reappears on Punch-bowl he will find there a law that will not only convict but hang him.

ARMY AND NAVY NEWS

FIFTH CAVALRY MAY MOVE IN JANUARY

The general staff has not yet taken up the question of determining the assignment of regiments of the mobile army to Philippine service in 1911. Nothing will be done in this matter until the return of Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood, chief of staff. The annual guessing on this subject is proceeding with its customary cheerfulness. The way these guesses are made is to place in one column service and in another the regiments which have been longest at home. The calendar of service shows that in the infantry the Seventh, Twentieth, Twelfth, Third and Twenty-first regiments will complete their two-year tour of duty in the Philippines in 1911, and the regiments in the United States whose term at home should impose upon them the relief of those organizations are the Thirtieth, Fifteenth, Twenty-fourth, Second and Eighth, in that order. Cavalry regiments completing their tours in the Philippines in 1911 are the Thirtieth, Twelfth, Fourteenth and Second, respectively, in order of expiration of tour.

Those which should succeed them, according to the schedule showing their return to this country in 1908, are the Eighth, Seventh, Fourth and Third. If the same principle applies to Hawaiian service as to that in the Philippines, the term of the Fifth Cavalry, now in Hawaii, will end in January next. By schedule, this regiment should come back before any of the other cavalry regiments doing duty in the Philippines, and thus there is ground for speculation as to whether the Eighth Cavalry would not go to Hawaii instead of the Philippines, and whether, in view of that event, the Second Cavalry would not be succeeded by the Thirtieth or Fifteenth Cavalry. Both regiments came back from Cuba in February, 1909, at the time of the return of the Army of Pacification under General Barry, and as their terms of service are about the same, the calendar gives little light upon the ultimate selection.

Orders for Officers.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Army orders—Maj. Henry D. Todd Jr. and Capt. Fred W. Sladen, of the general staff, are relieved from their present duties in connection with the war department general staff, and will proceed to San Francisco and take the transport to sail about August 5 for the Philippines. Maj. Charles H. Barth, Twelfth Infantry, and Capt. Ralph H. Vandeman, Twenty-first Infantry, are relieved from their present duties and will proceed to San Francisco and take the transport to leave about August 5 for the Philippines to join their respective regiments.

Capt. E. H. Rubottom, Ninth Cavalry, is relieved from duty at Fort Porter and will proceed to San Francisco and sail on the transport leaving about August 5 for Manila. Upon arrival at the latter place he will join his regiment.

First Lieut. S. D. Maiz, Twelfth Cavalry, is relieved from treatment at the General Hospital, Presidio, San Francisco, and will proceed to join his regiment. He will report to the commanding general, Department of Cal-

Greatest Warship.

LONDON, June 29.—Chile has commissioned Armstrong, Whitworth & Co. to lay down forthwith a world's record battleship. The vessel will be of 32,000 tons and will have a speed equal to or exceeding the fastest warship afloat. Her guns will fire shells as heavy as 110-ton guns of thirty years ago, but will have far greater range and penetration. The ship will cost $15,000,000. It is assumed that she will be completed before the 32,000-ton ships projected by the United States.

Many Are Promoted.

The retirement of Col. Robert R. Stevens, assistant quartermaster-general, has been ordered to take effect on July 31. Colonel Stevens will retire after thirty-six years of continuous service in the army. A few months ago he was relieved as chief quartermaster of the Department of California and ordered to duty in Washington. He was promoted to the grade of colonel early last month. He served with troops on the frontier in the early Indian troubles and served in the Philippines as chief quartermaster of the Second Division of the Eighth Army Corps. Colonel Stevens had charge of the construction of Fort Logan H. Roots, Arkansas, in 1894.

Fifth Cavalry Details.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Capt. August C. Nissen, Fifth Cavalry, is detailed for service and to fill a vacancy in the pay department, to take effect July 25, 1910. Vice-Captain Edward P. Orton, paymaster, who is relieved, to take effect July 24, 1910, and is assigned to the Fifth Cavalry from July 25, 1910. Captain Orton will proceed at the proper time to join the troop to which he may be assigned. Captain Nissen upon the completion of his duties with the Army Cavalry team in the national match for 1910 will proceed to Seattle, Washington, for duty. (June 15, W. D.)

Cruisers to Chile.

The first division of the Pacific fleet, consisting of the California (flagship), Washington, Colorado and Pennsylvania, under command of Rear-Admiral Sigsbee, has been ordered to sail from this port August 14 for Valparaiso, Chile, to participate in the Chilean Centennial celebration, which opens September 12. The Glacier will accompany the fleet as far as Chile, but will not go to Valparaiso.

Made a Record.

The reports of the last target practice scores made by enlisted men of the Navy, with six-inch guns, places men of the Pacific fleet in first and second positions. Seaman J. A. Sisson of the cruiser California made five hits out of five shots in thirty-three seconds, an average of 9.09 hits per minute. Coxswain E. T. O'Leary of the cruiser Maryland, who holds second place, made five hits out of five shots in thirty-six seconds. The practice was made on a rough sea with the vessel steaming at ten knots an hour.

"Here's a Million of Manners!"

Robert J. Burdette in Los Angeles Times.

MIYAJIMA, Japan.
You know the saying we have at home, "that all the dog in a man comes out on the trail." Well, that is true everywhere on earth. A man's real manners are the ones he wears on the journey. The power of habit, the influence of environment, the fear of Mrs. Grundy compel him to conduct himself with decorum and courtesy at home and among his friends. But about twenty-four hours of travel wears off the varnish and chips the veneer and gets down to the man himself.

You know, or at least you should know, that the Japanese are the politest people in the world. All the books of travel tell you so. I have said so, and I reaffirm what I have said. Even the manners of the babies are delightful for their formal and graceful courtesy. I have seen little tots of five years exchanging the low bows of salutation as graciously as their elders can do, which is saying much. The very coolies are polite and easy in their manners. You feel your own awkwardness when you attempt to respond to the morning greeting of your jirikisha man in his own way. It is as natural as breathing to him.

We got on a train at Nagoya one day to come to Yokohama. There were three in our party, a man and two women. The first-class compartment on a Japanese car is divided by four little arm seats into four equal parts. We three occupied this quartered car with three Japanese ge-men, that is, gentlemen by their dress. Each one of them spread his rug, without which Japanese of the better class never travel, thus preempting one-quarter of the compartment, and stretched himself out at full length to enjoy a long day's ride with all the comfort possible. We three Americans sat together in the quarter left to us. Our Japanese fellow travelers smoked a great deal, but as American gentlemen would blow their cigarette smoke into our faces if we were dining in a first-class hotel in Los Angeles or New York, we made no protest against the smoke. It made us feel as though we were at home, among American gentlemen, who are admitted—in the United States—to be the finest in the world. But after we had traveled ninety miles two other first-class passengers entered the compartment—a Japanese gentleman accompanied by his wife.

Their entrance caused a little stir of annoyance, such as there always is in any country, pagan or Christian, when travelers are so inconsiderate as to board a train or a ship at a way station or a port of call. The people who are already on board and in possession of all the best places, regard the newcomers as unwelcome interlopers. We feel that at least they should present letters of introduction.

The three gentlemen occupying three-quarters of the car lifted their heads from their air pillows, glanced at the new passengers to see that they were all right, and then turned, every one of them, and gazed earnestly upon us, evidently expecting us, American fashion, to squeeze a little closer together and make place for their countrymen. The scrutiny and the silence and the standing passengers made the situation a little uncomfortable. "My Lady," said "These men expect us to make room for these people."

I said: "I know it, and I'm going to let them hold their breath till I do."

So we waited. And do you know, these two people stood in the aisle among the tatpots and clogs and lunch boxes which litter the floors of Japanese cars, until the next station was reached, when the conductor came in, and being appalled to find one of the sleepers sit up and squat in his own legal allowance of corner.

And he did this with more genuineness and lower bowings and apology than I would make if I should ask King George to serenade up a place to sit where I could see the opening of Parliament.

But this explained the reason for the long side seats on the Japanese cars. It is only the foreigners who have to ride sideways. The natives spread their rugs on the seats and turn every day coach into a sleeping car. And if it should be so crowded they must sit up, they squat Buddha fashion on the seats, and ride forward, and take up more room. Their geta, or street clogs, or shoes if they wear them, are left on the floor and they put on slippers—sometimes their own, sometimes those belonging to the railway company. Now and then, at every station, for 2 cents you can buy a extra little tatpot full of green tea, boiling hot, and two little cups. And they are bought frequently, emptied and the pot and cups set down among the clogs and shoes. Boxes of lunch, the neatest little pine boxes ever, are bought, are also added to the debris on the floor. The only dirty place I have seen in Japan is the floor of a first-class railway coach, and this is never clean, five miles away from the first station. I was very sorry about that incident on the car. Because now, when people elapse their hands in ecstatic adoration of the graceful courtesy of some jirikisha man who has just charged them five prices for half a ride and gasp—

"Oh! Don't you wish we were one-half so polite a people as the common people of Japan?"

I think of that scene in the car and say:

"No, I don't."

And my heart throbs more warmly for my native land as I picture a Santa Fe brakeman of the old school yanking a train-seat hog out of four seats in a car when half a dozen women and children are standing in the aisle. And while we do smoke in ladies' faces at dinner, I am still glad that our politeness of our own land is of the heart. It would be pleasant with a little higher polish I admit. Whether the heart would stand the polish is still a question. It has been my observation that in lands where the polish and superficial refinement and gracious formality of politeness is carried to the highest degree, it is not so safe for women to travel alone as it is in the ruder United States. I have seen a Parisian—gentleman of course—make a bow that few dancing masters in America and no business man could imitate, step in front of a woman on the step of an omnibus, and, with a "Pardun, Madame!" that was eloquent with courtesy, take the last seat and smilingly watch the woman retrace her steps to the sidewalk to wait for the next bus, for it is not permitted to stand in the aisle.

The bow and the gracious apology I know an American could not make. The action he would not commit. If he did his fellow-passengers would probably hiss him, and the papers would call him a hog. Which would be very rude and very true. You can refine a rose until it is sterile—refined to uselessness.

It is "nice" to be bowed down to as though you were a prince or a duchess. There is one thing still nicer—to be treated as though you were a man or a woman. I do not like to hear my countrywomen talk so loud sometimes and with such raucous voices in a hotel dining-room that every head is raised and turned toward her in shocked amazement. But when I look at the next table and see an English woman cross her legs and smoke cigarettes between the courses with the men, while she, too, stares at "that American," I quit my blushing, because between the two I really prefer the Yell country voice. You can cure that, by death, if nothing else. Whereas the smoking may go on after death. I like the politeness, the unstudied, long studied courtesy of some countries more refined and better bred in the pleasant niceties of life than our own glorious eagle pasture. But it does grow a little tiresome when you are really busy, and have something to do, and have already bowed five times and started out of the room twice, only to be recalled by a new issue of bows and genuflections, class C, series 97. We might with great credit to ourselves take a little more time for the courtesies of existence. I wish we would.

DENY ALLEGED TALES OF BAD BEHAVIOR

Two letters have been received by The Advertiser, one from the leader of the Hawaiian quintet at the Atlantic City Boardwalk exhibit and one from H. P. Wood, both indignantly denying reports they claim to have been circulated regarding the conduct of the quintet while on its way east.

In the letter from F. J. Vierra is stated: "Having had charge of the Atlantic City quintet on its way from Honolulu, I feel it my duty to write this letter and deny most emphatically certain stories that are being circulated in Honolulu by one Edwin Rose."

"The above named has taken the liberty to state that the members of my party were 'all drunk' during our stay in San Francisco last month."

"That statement is a deliberate falsehood. The boys did not see him at all during our stay there, nor did they care to, for they are not in the habit of associating with men of his type."

The letter from Mr. Wood is a high testimonial to the behavior of the boys since they left, and he adds that their performances have been highly praised by all who have heard them, from the President down. He states that they have been under his constant supervision since their arrival on the Boardwalk and have conducted themselves as perfect gentlemen.

SAYS COEXECUTOR IS WASTING FUNDS

Ching Shai, coexecutor with Dang Poi for the administration of the estate of Dang Young, deceased, has filed in the circuit court a petition for the removal of Dang Poi, with the alternative that he himself be allowed to resign, on account of the fact that Dang Poi is wasting and dissipating the funds of the estate and refuses to deposit moneys belonging to the estate.

The petitioner claims that when Dang Young died, he left $807 on deposit in the bank. This sum Dang Poi drew out and refuses to account for, although he did pay the funeral expenses and some other accounts.

Furthermore, Dang Poi, it is alleged, has collected certain moneys belonging to the estate and has deposited the sum of $170 of the estate's funds to his own personal account, refusing to deposit the money to the account of the estate.

Chang Shai says that either Dang Poi must be removed, or he himself wants to be allowed to resign as he thinks that the continuance of Dang Poi as coexecutor will tend to waste and dissipate the funds of the estate.

EVERY MAN HIS OWN DOCTOR.

In a great many of the common ills of life the average man with a few reliable remedies at hand can be just as successful in relieving the sufferer as a renowned practitioner. Emergency remedies should be always at hand. Many times doctors' bills have been saved by having a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the home. No doctor can prescribe a better remedy for colic or diarrhoea. For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., agents for Hawaii.
