400 REFINERS GO OUT ON STRIKE

YONKERS, N. Y., July 25.—Four hundred employees of the Federal sugar refinery have gone out on strike today, calling for higher wages.

The Federal refinery is the concern with which the "opposition" Spreckels interests in New York have been allied. The American Sugar refinery has been having trouble with its men, and the discontent now appears to have spread to the establishments of its nominal competitors.

BRITISH TO BLUEFIELDS

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 25.—The British cruiser Scylla has been ordered to Bluefields, Nicaragua.

DISGRACED MAN NOW MURDERER

EL PASO, Tex., July 25.—Frank Lawton, one of the negroes who was dismissed from the army in connection with the Brownsville affair, committed a horrible murder here today and is in prison.

Lawton fatally shot his wife and his mother-in-law, and having finished his family, made an attempt on the life of the postmaster of the city. He was captured and put in prison.

EARTHQUAKE WRECKS MINE

(Special Bulletin Cable.)
ROCK SPRINGS, N. Y., July 25.—Serious and severe shocks of earthquake were felt here today. The shocks were so heavy that the walls of the nearby coal mines were wrecked and work by the coal miners was abandoned till repairs are made and the debris cleared away.

LOCKER DEAD

LONDON, July 25.—Admiral Locker is dead.

SWEETHEART IN SECOND PLACE

At half-past ten o'clock this morning the Sweetheart docked alongside the Alakea street wharf and completed her long voyage from San Pedro to Honolulu. Her log showed that she covered 2135 miles on the run down, and her biggest run was 200 knots, which was done on the second day out from San Pedro.

The Sweetheart averaged 164 knots per day, and made a fine showing on the run down. She is only 54 feet over all, is 47 feet on the water line, draws 10 feet aft and 4 feet forward. She is 15 feet on the beam and carries the largest spread of canvas of any boat of her size. No less than 4000 square feet of sail were spread on her, and she waited through the water in beautiful style.

Commodore Smith of the South Coast Yacht Club is owner and master of the Sweetheart. He was seen on board the Sweetheart by a Bulletin representative this morning, and on being congratulated on the great showing he had made in the trans-Pacific race, said: "I am very glad the race ended as it did. The Hawaii boys are the best ever, and although I, in a way, hoped that we should cross the line first, I repeat that I am delighted to think

Bartlett Challenges Thurston

To the Public:—I will donate five hundred dollars to the Children's Hospital if Lorrin A. Thurston can prove or in any honorable way support with fact his declaration made from the platform on Sunday evening quoted in his paper as follows:

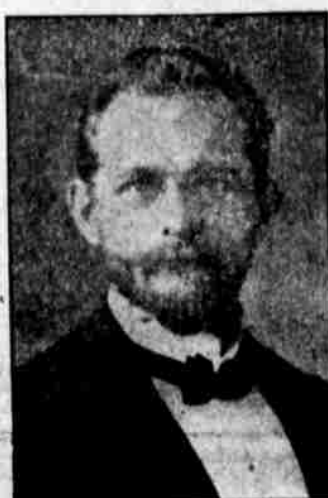

I understand that the liquor men have sent barrels upon barrels of liquor to Kaneohe, to Waipahu, to all the outside districts, so that every voter next Tuesday can have free drinks.

I challenge Lorrin A. Thurston to prove that the liquor interests have sent out any whiskey or any intoxicating liquors of any kind to the outside districts or any other districts, or promised delivery of free drinks to the voters on next Tuesday or any other day.

Lorrin A. Thurston, in making this assertion, uttered a deliberate falsehood.

FOURTEEN CITIZENS WHO HAVE CONTENDED FOR HAWAII AGAINST BLIGHT OF PROHIBITION

The last gun in the campaign of the anti-prohibitionists against Woolleyism and the saddling of Hawaii with the blight of a Thurston-Woolley law, will be fired tonight at Aala Park. It will be a big gathering, and on the night before election day will show with finality the sentiment of the public.

The speakers will include some of the most prominent and well-known Hawaiians who are ready to declare the causes that bring them into opposition to the plans of Thurston and Woolley.

Mayor Fern, Samuel Dwight, H. M. Kanho and C. W. Ashford will speak and show the Hawaiians the train of evil results that would follow in the wake of a misstep into the path to which Thurston has been beckoning them. Berger's band and Kaai's quintette club will be in attendance.

BLIND PIG KILLS WHERE LICENSE SAVES

One of the best practical evidences of what prohibition does in the injury of young men through the increase in the number of swine joints and evil blind pig dens, is contained in an article from the Victoria Daily Colonist of July 2.

The article shows where the moral conditions of the community have grown steadily worse through the wiping out of the license laws, and the expense of conducting the government has increased.

The article follows:

"BLIND PIGS" THE CAUSE OF RUIN

Young Acquires Downfall to the Influence of Dens Where Drugged Liquor Was Sold—Fighting the Evil.

Edward Leighton, a youth of eighteen, who made mad for the nonce by indulgence in potations of fiery wood alcohol and tobacco juice in one of the many "blind pigs" that have proven the curse of Prince Rupert in its no-license days—stabbed Lillian Cal.

Making speed averaging seven and a half knots and having covered a distance of 215 miles since leaving Honolulu, the United States naval vessel, the Prometheus, towing the disabled cruiser Chattanooga, and the Cleveland, conveying the two vessels to the Coast, have been heard from through wireless.

Rear Admiral Corwin P. Rees of the local naval station is in receipt of extremely gratifying advices from the cruiser Cleveland.

The last bulletin, issued at 9:15 last evening, was to the effect that the vessels were moving along in good form and making satisfactory headway.

The three vessels, passed within five miles of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha

vert, a young woman friend, yesterday reached the penitentiary at New Westminster, to which he has been sentenced for three years by His Honor Judge Young.

The prisoner made a full and piteous confession, ascribing his action wholly to the influence of the vice stuff designated as liquor which had been sold to him by one Teddy Krus-ner, proprietor of a soft drinks shop, who, like many others, has been taking advantage of human nature and the absence of licensed and regulated hotels in the G. T. P. city, to carry on a secret and illicit traffic incomparably more harmful to the community and more difficult to control in its relation to the breeding of crime in secret.

This phase of the liquor traffic problem was very energetically and pertinently commented upon by Judge Young in passing sentence.

"I only regret," said his honor,
"that there is not sufficient evidence now before me to convict this man Krusner, for in my opinion a severe punishment ought to be imposed upon him. I realize that it is exceedingly difficult for the officers of the law to keep a strict watch upon these steal-thy drinking places, and I hope that they will be even more active in doing so in the future. As for Krusner if he has any conscience at all it should be a punishment for him to reflect upon all the misery and suffering that his dealings have undoubtedly brought about."

The Blind Pig.
The experience of the police at Prince Rupert during the no-license period preceding its incorporation as a city with self-governing powers, and its adoption of the license principle as generally prevailing in this province, is not one that is likely to be cited by advocates of change in British Columbia's system of dealing with the liquor traffic.

Despite the utmost activity of the police, "blind pigs" and "holes-in-the-wall" have sprung up and flourished until ferreted out by the law, these vice resorts, hidden away from the public view, dealing in alcohol drugs and poisons of the vilest description, and subject to none of the official supervision and surveillance inevitable under the license system, have proven breeding places of disorder.

According to Superintendent Hussey "blind pigs" offers opportunities in crime and difficulties for the police which are happily uncommon in the extreme in British Columbia. In Prince Rupert alone no less a sum than $5,100 was recently collected in fines as the result of a special campaign against these underground boozing dens, to deal with which a special force of outside detectives had to be employed, sent north from this city.

At least three crimes of serious character are directly traceable and these it is said would in every probability have never been possible under ordinary circumstances had the common license and regulation system of the province prevailed.

SAM DWIGHT AGAINST PLAN OF WOOLLEY

"I believe the present liquor law is a good one, and it should be given a trial. Prohibition is unnecessary." Samuel C. Dwight, one of the most conservative Hawaiians, made the above statement this morning in a most emphatic manner. He believes that prohibition would not prohibit and therefore it is unnecessary to agitate such an issue.

He stated that the only thing for the authorities to do so far as liquor is concerned is to enforce the law, the good law now on the statute books.

OAHU RESULT AT 8 O'CLOCK

From 8 o'clock tomorrow morning until 5 in the afternoon, the voters of Hawaii will be registering their wishes in the ballot boxes as to whether prohibition or no prohibition is to rule.

During the time the polls are open every saloon in the whole Territory will be closed, so drastic are the provisions of the liquor law.

When seen this afternoon, Secretary Mott-Smith stated that he expected the full returns from Oahu to be in by 8 o'clock in the evening easily, with perhaps the exception of one or two precincts where the telephone was not in good working order.

The people of Honolulu will know before they sleep the results of the ballot all over Oahu, and in many cases the returns from the outside will be in.

Secretary Mott-Smith expects that all returns from the other islands will be sent in by wireless and most of the returns should be in Honolulu by midnight, although probably the corrected vote will not be available before early Wednesday morning.

There is no holiday declared for tomorrow, as there is no provision in law for a holiday.

However, all voters may leave their work at any time to go to the polls and cast their ballot, and no employer can say them nay.

There is a heavy penalty which can be imposed upon any employer who keeps any voter in his employ from attending the polls, and an employee can leave his work at any time between the hours of 8 in the morning and 5 in the afternoon for the purpose of voting.

This morning the ballot-boxes for use in Honolulu were taken from the storeroom at the Capitol and distributed to the different precincts, and now everything is ready for the opening of the polls tomorrow.

TEMPERANCE TELLS SOME LIVE TRUTHS

Editor Evening Bulletin:
—As election day approaches, one who wishes to take a conscientious stand on the liquor question and vote intelligently is obliged to make a decision. The arguments assimilated from the deluge of newspaper articles and posters pro and con of the liquor question tend to clarify the misty atmosphere somewhat. As for myself, I believe in and advocate temperance. Beer is a good thing, undoubtedly, and so is wine, when taken moderately. I can see no possible wrong in them. In fact, I believe that the temperate use of beer and wine is beneficial to health.
The kernel is found in Paul's advice to Timothy—"A little wine for thy stomach's sake."

Let us take some of the leading arguments of the prohibitionists.
"The Hawaiians are doomed unless the saloons are killed." Now, are they? Not if the saloons are properly regulated. Swipes, and other forms of illegally manufactured "rot-gut," will surely take the place of pure liquors dispensed in the saloons.
"A Hawaiian woman killed by a drunken husband," say the prohibitionists. Do they mean to say that prohibition would do away with this? I can not help looking forward to a scene which prohibition would bring about. The papers then would have too frequent headings reading something like this: "Swipes-Mad Hawaiian Kills Wife and Children."
"Swipes-Soaked Native Runs Amuck." Prohibition will not bring about a change for the better—it will only substitute chaos for control.

"Prohibition will prohibit; that's why the saloons are against it," say the prohibitionists. This argument seems to bear no weight. Of course, the saloons are against prohibition.
It will prohibit those who have their savings invested in the brewery realizing anything for their stock. It will prohibit several hundred honest and sturdy workers finding employment. But it will not prohibit the liquor traffic. And it is the liquor traffic that the prohibitionists want to prohibit. The traffic will go on just the same—illegally for the poor Hawaiian, who will drink filthy swipes in place of good beer; legally for the white man, who will send to the Coast for his supply, thereby creating the intent of the law and sending his money out of the country.

BOXERS POST FORFEIT COIN

As an earnest of the coming boxing contest between Pat Cornyn and Jack Cordell, which is to come off on Saturday night next at the Aloha Park, forfeit money to the amount of $150 is to be deposited as a guarantee of good faith by the two principals and the promoter, Larry Twomey.

This amount is placed in the hands of the Sporting Editor of the Buletin and in the event of default by anyone of the three, the money will be divided among those who keep their part of the agreement.

Cordell and Cornyn have agreed to box straight Queensberry rules, and to take sixty per cent of the gross gate receipts. A referee will be appointed during the week and the bout promises to be one of the best pulled off in the territory for some time.

THURSTON TRICK IS UNDERSTOOD

*Editor Evening Bulletin:
—Permit a recent arrival in your unique but flourishing city to make a few remarks concerning last night's concourse in Aala Park. Inasmuch as the Bulletin appears to be the representative of public opinion, inasmuch as it is evidently neither swayed by politics against the interests of the Hawaiians nor moved by fanaticism, you may find room for an independent impression, while, if you print this letter, it will save me writing a lot of letters home. So you see I am selfish, though I assure you I am sincere.

Last night's so-called prohibition rally was the first amusement I had attended in Honolulu. I call it amusement because, moving among a crowd, I gathered the impression that most of the people there, men, women and children, were out for the curiosity and entertainment of the thing. I was informed that it was a prohibition meeting, but failed to find the prohibition sentiment, unless it was up on the platform among the hundred or so seated under the lights. It was a remarkably orderly crowd and full of good humor; the Hawaiians seem to love a speech and, among themselves, they kept up a running comment, quietly and inter-estedly. My Hawaiian friend interpreted for me.

"They say," said he, "that if Thurston is sincere, why did he wait so long, after getting everything he wanted out of the Hawaiians, before telling them that they cannot take care of themselves. The Hawaiians feel perfectly able to take care of themselves and they resent what they have reason to believe is a trick to subdue them politically and cut them out of the right to vote at all. They do not like being spoken of as people who drink too much, drinking no more and doing less wrong than other races of the population. This is by long odds an anti-prohibition crowd and the voters here, two or more to one, will vote 'No.'"

Thurston is a speaker, but he neither inspires nor convinces. I can not feel that the man is sincere. I wish I had a vote so that I could vote against prohibition tomorrow, for wherever else I've been I've found prohibition a failure.

MISSOURI.

Every American citizen should go to the polls and vote, Tuesday. Vote
No.

The prohibitionists point with scoorn to our saloons. Well, who points with pride to our soap and pickle factories? Yet these are very good things in their way. Who points with pride to our rows and rows of Japanese shacks around the plantations? I have never seen the man who does. Even the liquor man doesn't point with pride to the saloon: it is only one of the common-place institutions that go to make up our every day existence.
Mankind erects churches, art gal-eries, monuments, capitols, etc., to point with pride to. The soap factory is for manufacturing an article to clean his clothes. The restaurant and saloon are for the purpose of refreshing the inner man.

After all is said on both sides, I believe the liquor people have made their campaign more temperately and sincerely than the prohibitionists, and I believe the voters of the Territory will defeat the prohibition fallacy overwhelmingly tomorrow.

After the deluge I will gladly be found on the side of a strict and thorough regulation of the liquor business. TEMPERANCE.

ALTHOUGH THE Pacific Mail

will be several days late in arrival at San Francisco it is not believed that the delay will great enough to interfere with the departure of that vessel received state that the Mongolia is said to have suffered no damage but will be drydocked at San Francisco for survey. Pacific Mail officials say that they have repeatedly requested the Japanese government to put a golia grounded. The end of the shoal is marked by a buoy which Captain Kitt would have seen had he postponed his departure from Shimidzu until daylight. There is no light on this buoy. Kitt evidently believed that he had cleared the point and changed his course too soon, as subsequent events proved.

THE FREIGHT list of the Inter-

STOCKS QUIET

FROM the appearance of the stock sheet today it would seem that the election tomorrow is having some effect on the local stock market, although fairly good business was done right up to last Saturday.

At session sales Oahu Sugar was the only stock that showed, and then in three small lots totalling but 30 shares and ranging in price from $1.625 to $1.875, ten of the twenty shares going at $1.75.
Between boards 100 Hutchinson changed hands at 17.50. This is a trifle below the price brought at the last preceding sale of this stock.
Twenty Oahu Sug. moved at $2.25, H. B.
& M. is still moving at 10.50, twenty shares changing at that figure between boards.

OZAWA WOULD PRACTICE LAW

Will Be Second Japanese To Appear Before Local Courts

Should Arthur K. Ozawa pass the bar examination and be admitted to the practice of law, he will be the first Japanese to pass such examination and to the second Japanese to practice before Territorial courts.

The other Japanese who practiced here was Katsura Kelloro, who was admitted to practice August 27, 1886, upon a certificate from the University of Tokyo. He died here March 25, 1891.

Katsura was a Japanese subject, however, and Ozawa was born in Hawaii thirty-three years ago of Japanese parents.

The applicant who has just filed his petition for admission is a graduate of the law school of the University of Michigan, from which he received his degree last month. On June 28 he was admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the State of Michigan.

Ozawa has as backers on his petition for bar admission the names of Frank Thompson and C. P. Clemens, who have known him for several years.

SHOE DEALER IS DIVORCED

This afternoon Annie Smith was granted an absolute divorce from her husband William H. Smith, manager of Manufacturers' Shoe Company, the ground being extreme cruelty.

Mrs. Smith was the only witness upon the stand and the conclusion of her testimony of the way in which her husband had struck and otherwise abused her the decree was granted, no contest being made by the husband.

The restraining order of the court issued several weeks ago to prevent the husband from disposing of certain stock was rescinded as the parties had settled money matters outside of court.

If you are doubtful about where you vote on Tuesday, look it up today. Vote on Tuesday.

OWNERS TO BE NOTIFIED

From Washington As To Condemnation Of Mahuka Site

Asked today if property owners on the block destined for the Federal building had received any notice of the intention of the government to take the whole block, Governor Peary said that he supposed some notice had been received from Washington by the property owners.

There is nothing for the Territorial government to do in the matter, the Governor said. It is up to Washington. Investigations are understood to be under way now, although Castle & Cooke are continuing in the remodeling of their new offices on the corner of Fort and Merchant streets, in a building which is on the land to be used by the Federal government.

The notice of the Federal government's intention to occupy the tract will come from the Secretary of the Treasury or the Attorney-General at Washington, and would not necessarily pass through the hands of Territorial officials.

RECREATIONS

THE PARK THEATER

There will be an entire change of bill at the Park tonight. The remaining stars from the previous weeks are Miss Ethel May, the sweet-voiced singer, and George Gardener, who has given the public some of the best Irish ballads heard here in years. The Crotons, marvels of strength, will make their initial bow this evening and show what muscular development is. They are the wonders who made a hit throughout Europe and Australia. Dyso, the two-headed ventriloquist, the policeman with two heads and four eyes, will also appear for the first time. There is a rumor that being doubly blessed with singing qualities he will be put on the trail of Grace. There will be a new line of pictures just received from the States.

CIRCUS AT PRINCESS RINK.

"Can he learn to talk?" would not be an unusual question to ask after seeing the performance of Prof. Antonio. Ting, the dog with an almost human mind, now exhibiting at the Princess Rink. Tiny's first thinking part is with numbers. On the floor of the arena are thrown a lot of numbered cards. Members of the audience call for certain numbers and at the word of the professor the dog at once picks them up. Single numbers, double and a three figure number are all managed with equal precision.

The acrobatic and dancing turns by the dogs and donkeys fully deserve the ovation given the animals last night. Tyler, the balancer, and moving pictures complete a splendid bill. A special matinee will be given next Saturday for ladies and children.

THE RETURNS

Returns from the plebiscite election will be displayed by the Bulletin in front of its offices on King street.

The probabilities are that the total vote will be known by nine o'clock at the latest as there will be none of the delays of a regular election with many different names to be canvassed.

The polls close at five o'clock and the returns should begin to come in by half past five or before.

Watch the bulletin boards at the Bulletin office.

I seek the truth, all the truth, nothing but the truth. We must proclaim it fearlessly.—Henri de l'Épinois.

Go to the rally tonight, and vote
Aole-No on Prohibition tomorrow.

Vote Aole-No. The issue is whether Hawaii wants a Prohibition that has never proved anything but a failure.

A vote against Prohibition is a vote for the present license law framed of, by and for the citizens of Hawaii. Vote Aole-No.

THE SITUATION.

The closing day of the campaign to saddle this Territory with the blight of Prohibition has the only expressed hope of the Prohibitionists resting on the secret vote of men who, while opposed to Prohibition, may vote for it in order that the anti-Prohibition majority may not be rolled up so large that the people personally engaged in the liquor traffic will strike for a wide-open town.

Such a position taken by such voters is a dangerous one under any condition, as they are voting against their convictions. It is also entirely wrong, as the liquor interest and every other interest must be controlled by and will respond to public sentiment. The man who wagers his conviction on the way the other fellow will vote wakes up to find that he has done Every man opposed to Prohibition should vote No.

The general conduct of the campaign has been a credit to those in charge of the opposition to Prohibition.
The meetings have been orderly and all sides have had a fair hearing.
At no time have the liquor interests endeavored to influence the vote with the gin laws and free liquor that have on more than one occasion marked the political operations of people prominently aligned with the Prohibition forces. All the anti-Prohibition voters will go to the polls with clear heads to vote for law and order.

Self control has been in evidence along the line with the exception of the reckless statements of the Prohibitionists in their attacks on Bishop Rearick, and other citizens of less prominence but of equal integrity, who have exposed the false morality of Prohibition and stand out for a law that will regulate and inspire respect for all laws.

What is wanted at the polls tomorrow is that every man shall register his conviction for or against practical, not theoretical, Prohibition for these islands.

The canvass of the voters shows that the majority is against the Prohibition force whether it have the name of Woolley or any other name attached to it.

Hawaii can control its liquor traffic and on the question of Prohibition it will vote Aole, No.

PROHIBITION'S INSULT TO HA- WAIIAN-AMERICANS.

Prohibitionists in their campaign have made a direct appeal to the race sentiment of the Hawaiian-American.
If they could win the Hawaiian by firing his mind with race hatred they have left no racial stone unturned.

But the Hawaiian stands or falls in the present day by his ability to conduct himself as an independent, self-respecting, self-reliant American citizen. He is on the same footing as all other American regardless of their race, and he will be judged by the same measures and standards.

If the Hawaiian-American voter of these islands registers his conclusion on the side of the cause that Woolley represents he will give his sanction to the evil things Woolley and others said of the Hawaiians while campaigning in Washington.

He will practically shout "sukoa" to the assertion of Woolley that the "native population needs and deserves powerful intervention." This means an attack upon the equality of the Hawaiian with other Americans. It is a declaration of inequality. It gives a semblance of truth to the comparison that Woolley made between the American Indian, always treated by the American as a weakling to be cared for, and the Hawaiian who at the time of annexation passed into full fellowship, equal rights and equal privileges, with all American citizens of the mainland.

The Thurston-Woolley campaign for Prohibition has been conducted in a manner to place the Hawaiian-American in such a position that he cannot vote for Prohibition without registering his seal of favor upon, and his acceptance of, the degraded position to which the comment of Woolley in Washington assigned him.

The American nation gave the Hawaiian-American full citizenship, honoring him with recognition of his ability to take a position of equal rights with Americans of every other race or previous nationality.

The American people placed confidence in the Hawaiian's capacity to resist temptation and develop all the better qualities of human nature while controlling any tendencies to excess and error.

Is this the Woolley, the Prohibitionist?

Their whole scheme of action is based on the presentation of the Hawaiian to himself and to all others as unequal, as weak, as requiring to be cared for rather than powerful and thoroughly capable in his exercise of the responsibilities of citizenship.

Hawaiian-Americans have been quick to perceive the treachery of Woolleyism and the insult implied in the appeals that are being made in behalf of the leaders of Prohibition.

For this reason every indication points to a solid majority against the Prohibition scheme. The independent, free thinking, progressive and self-respecting citizens of this Territory will not down a sneaking and treacherous program for robbing them of their good name and their liberties.

What the Prohibition leaders and the Government by Commission crowd want to do is to get a vote for Prohibition, by hook or crook, and then hold up a record and say, "Why look here. We have the approval of the Hawaiian behind all the evil we have spoken of him."

The vote will be Aole, No.

BOMBAST THAT FAILED.

If one might judge from the absence of applause following the announcement by L. A. Thurston that Delegate Kuhio intends to vote for Prohibition on Tuesday, the people either have mighty little interest in how the Delegate votes or less confidence in Thurston's ability to speak the truth.

Thurston very apparently saved this declaration for his closing peroration and expected to make a hit.

It fell as flat as could be imagined, and Kakuia went back to his corner wondering why.

It is not surprising to learn that the Delegate authorized neither Thurston nor anyone else to speak for him.

PROHIBITION DESTROYS HOME INDUSTRY.

I understand that the wine dealers of California have sent $200 down here to fight this campaign for probi-bition.—Advertiser report of Thurston's speech.

The morning mother of blind pigs is wrong as usual. Thurston said $2000.

If such a sum was sent to the islands by the California wine dealers, it does not compare in size with the sums that have been expended to finance Woolley, his trip to Washington and the whole scheme of agitation to thrust upon the Territory of Hawaii a law that it did not ask for and a law that it does not want.

Hawaii has an efficient license law and if the California wine dealers contributed money to support that law

Vote Against Prohibition

When you receive your ballot at the polling place on July 26—the day of the plebiscite to determine whether Hawaii is to continue under the best liquor law in the United States or be afflicted with a Woolley-made Prohibition statute—the voting form will appear with two blank spaces.

To vote against the proposed Prohibition law place a cross mark in the square opposite the words "NO" and its Hawaiian equivalent "AOLE," as represented in the following:

YES ☐
AE ☐
NO ☒
AOLE ☒

THIS IS A VOTE IN SUPPORT OF THE EXISTING LIQUOR TRAFFIC CONTROL LAW, ADMINISTERED IN EACH COUNTY OF THE TERRITORY BY A BOARD OF FIVE COMMISSIONERS, APPOINTED BY THE GOVERNOR OF HAWAII.

It is to their credit, for California wine makers and dealers would, every one of them, profit by the Thurston-Woolley Prohibition that contemplates ruining the wineries built up in the Territory and ruining the homesteaders who have made a fair return for their labors in growing grapes, but allowing purchases to be made on the Coast.

California wineries will be helped and Hawaii wineries ruined by the Prohibition Thurston wants.

THURSTON AND WOOLLEY.

"It is not Woolley and Kakuia" was the oft repeated sentence used by Lorrin A. Thurston in his speech before the people assembled at Aala Park Sunday evening.

Well if it isn't Woolley and Kakuia, who under the sun is it?

The Prohibitionists themselves are so much convinced of the lack of confidence that the voters have in Woolley that they kept him home from the island tour that was announced.

The citizens of this Territory through their duly elected representatives in the Legislature declared that they wanted none of the Woolley game that Woolley was working in Washington.

The Delegate to Congress did not call for the scheme that Woolley was working in Washington.

If the people through their representatives in the Legislature and through their representative in Congress did not call for the Prohibition legislation, there is no one else to carry the responsibility than Thurston and Woolley. No one else wants it.

And if they have a righteous cause, if they have an honest, and pure purpose that they are presenting to the people, why should they be ashamed to accept the fatherhood of it and the full responsibility for it?

If Thurston was sincere in his appeal to the Hawaiian-Americans why should he not come out and accept the challenge, why should he not admit that he and Woolley are the factors who cooked up the game and worked the campaign?

Why, if he is engaged in an honorable presentation of a worthy cause to

WE will not have "blind

THURSTON'S APPEAL TO H- WAIIAN-AMERICANS.

should commend itself to the good will of the voters of this Territory?

What has Thurston ever done for the Hawaiian-American that should trust or hate?

has said in public meeting "It is my tered a confession.

Everyone with any sense has known that Thurston was responsible as owner for the outrageous attacks on the Hawaiian-American consistently made through the columns of the morning paper, but he consistently tried to "lay it off" onto whatever editorial goat he happened to be riding.

But Thurston's fellow citizens one day in a public meeting told him what they thought of him. Their "calling a spade a spade" opened up the true Thurston so completely that he went into a towering rage and while thus off his guard admitted that the "Advertiser is my paper," and that he controlled its utterances.

This same Advertiser, "my paper," has devoted the years of its existence since annexation to attacking and insulting the Hawaiian-Americans of this Territory.

Oil Investments

As shown by the official statement of the San Francisco Stock Exchange, over $1,400,000 were paid by the listed oil companies for June. Some remarkable records have been made by some of the oil companies promoted by C. J. Illinois Crude, for instance. This company has paid $9400 an acre in dividends already and is producing now about 50% more oil than it did a couple of years ago.

Through our long experience in California oil we are able to select only good companies for our hundreds of clients. We may mention Premier, Sexton Six, Palmer, Yellowstone, Crescents, etc., which are all heavy producers. Amongst the low-price stocks we RECOMMEND THE IMMEDIATE PURCHASE OF SHARES OF THE "VENTURA OIL DEVELOPMENT CO.", which, according to present indications, will become our banner company.

The shares are offered now AT 15 CENTS EACH, but the price will be ADVANCED ON JULY 22. Make therefore your investment now, and reap the benefit of the advance in price. We have sold a great many shares, and we want you to join us in the road to success.

Mr. J. Oswald Luttet has just received good news from Lakeview Oil Co. Another big oil gusher has come in within a half mile of their property.

Clyde Wright met with a painful, and what might have been serious, accident yesterday. While setting the bowl in the lavatory of his new house in Palolo, the heavy tank dropped from its brackets striking Wright on the head, cutting a gash in his scalp three inches long. He was taken to town in Mr. Wood's auto and had the wound sewed up.

Every American citizen should go to the polls and vote, Tuesday. Vote No.

In response to a cable just received by Mr. Luttet, stock in Lakeview Oil Co. No. 2 will positively be 30 cents per share after July 31. Another big gusher having come in within half mile of Lakeview No. 2. It is a nine to one proposition in your favor, don't neglect it. Come and see me at once. J. Oswald Luttet, next to Convent, Fort St. Phone 690.

that the Honolulu yacht won the race. We had good weather all the way down, and the crew simply was great.
The cook looked after them, and the consequence is that they are as fat and well as if they had been staying at a first-class hotel on shore. We never saw a sign of the Hawaii or the Moillon from the time we left the Coast; in fact, we saw no sail or steam vessels the whole way down. The first ship we saw was off Diamond Head, when the Chiyo gauru passed us. It is good to be here, and from what I can see of the place from the yacht's deck, Honolulu is indeed a lovely place."
As soon as the Sweetheart docked, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Hazard boarded the yacht and met their husbands. The first act of the ladies after saluting their lords and masters was to decorate every member of the crew with beautiful yellow leis.
W. A. Brunnick is again in Honolulu. He is well known here, as he came down on the Gwendolyn two years ago. Mr. Brunnick designed the rig and sails for the Sweetheart, and he is delighted to be once more in Hawaii. The crew of the yacht will take her back to San Pedro in a few weeks, but Commodore Smith will return on a steamer earlier.
The course taken by the Sweetheart after she had run down to 27° latitude, was in a direct line to Honolulu, and the chart shows an almost straight line across the ocean. The Sweetheart ran into some mists off Moakai and lost at least five hours making about in the channel. Ours for that delay, the yacht would have been closer to the swail at the finish. The Sweetheart passed the finishing line at Diamond Head at 5:32:42 1-2, chronometer time, which is 9:20:11 local time.
The Hawaii won the race with the easiest of ease, and finished over five hours to the good outside the time allowance given the Sweetheart.

PILGRIMS VISIT MARONI SHRINE
Prohibition And Politics Find No Haven There

Lale was host to a gathering of several hundred people on Saturday and Sunday. Sixty-three years ago, a little band of 143 people under the leadership of that matchless organizer of men, Brigham Young, arrived at Salt Lake City, Utah, after a journey fraught with perils. The expedition reached the beautiful valley of the great salt sea on July 24, 1847, and since that time the date has been religiously observed by adherents of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints the world over. It is known in the annals of the history of the Mormon church as Pioneer Day.
Lale, the little settlement of neat white painted homes of happy and prosperous Hawaiians, did the honors on Saturday to a large number of visitors.
Saturday was a day of more or less rejoicing. Sunday morning was given over to the religious phase of the anniversary of the arrival of the Mormons in "Beautiful Deseret."
Memories awakened through the invasion of Lale will go clattering down the corridors of time, creating a racket likened to that made by a hunted canine doing a spirited marathon, with a battered tinware fluttering and trailing after his capful appendage.
The way to Lale is not one that might generally be considered strewn with floral tributes. Lale is on the map all right but quite another thing to get there as a trio of "young lions" of the local press can most eloquently testify.
Besides the newspaper men, Lale drew a number of well known politicians. Mayor Joseph J. Fern was on hand with his red automobile. His Honor left Honolulu early on Saturday morning and remained there throughout the celebration and the final festivities. Incidentally Mayor Fern looked over "his fences." He left orders for the repairs of such fractures in his political bulwarks that appeared to presage any doubt as to his chances for reelection.
Lorrin Andrews, arrayed in costume that would awaken memories of the near approach of the yacht Hawaii, was found to be a quiet worker in the vineyard. His faithful lieutenant, "Gene" Buffandeau, also mingled with the throng and the interests of the Grand Old Party now and then received a well directed boost.
"Jim" Quinn, self-confessed "Father of Good Roads," could no more let a gathering of the size of the Lale luau pass without his being present than he could appear at the meeting of the county fathers without his famous green waistcoat.
Quinn was willing but his machine was weak and the combination resulted in "Brother Tom" being requisitioned and it was the dark complexioned car of juggernaut that finally landed the Quinn brothers and their party at the Mormon settlement.
There is reported to have been a vast consumption of gasoline soda pop and also an assortment of edibles that to enumerate would resemble a font of pious type.
"Herr" Berger and an aggregation of thirty musicians showed up upon the scene early on Saturday morning. The Territorial band possessed many admirers at the Mormon settlement and this brought about a musical marathon that did not cease until the midnight hour.
For those so inclined, there was the tripping of the light fantastic at the school house. An orchestra assisted in making the place extremely popular with young men and maidens, old men and matrons.
Saturday witnessed the pulling off of an interesting program of outdoor sports. There was everything from the chasing of the greased pig of commerce to the gathering in of the elusive egg by the means of a small spoon. The fat men vied with the small boy in the race. The fats having one advantage in that they were not handicapped by having their feet swathed in the folds of a sugar sack.

Bishop Woolley was absent, being away on the island of Hawaii. However this did not in the least mar the occasion. The gathering was a success and the Mormon laity vied with each other in their proffered hospitality.
To those who visited the settlement in their own conveyances the congratulations of a "united press" is offered.
Three "wise men" from the "east side" essayed the trip by train on Saturday afternoon and arrived at the windward metropolis of Kahuku at sundown. Heretofore Kahuku has generally occupied a place on the island map as the home of a sugar mill, Augustine J. Coombs, wireless Operator Maddams and seventeen million mosquitoes.
The Associated and Amalgamated order of Scribes soon brought to light another industry and it proved no puny infant. There is a transportation trust and it fell to the lot of the newspapermen to break a lance with just a very plain ordinary and unvarnished Chinese chop house proprietor. Chew Hop not only operates the only grill that grace or disgrace, as the case may be, the Oahu railroad terminus but he apparently holds an electric welded and copper riveted monopoly on the East, Furious and Very Urgent Hand Car Line that under ordinary stress of circumstances affords a means of transportation between Kahuku and Lale when the "Jim Castle" palatial coaches are quietly reposing at Kahana and not due to resume business for twelve hours.
Three scribes wanted a hand car. They didn't exactly want it but they needed it in their business. Negotiations were opened and gentlemen who at one time might have been a trust buster in San Juan, Porto Rico, acted as mediator. He soon developed a tendency to provide transportation when Celestial cupidly stepped in and commenced to mix matters. By actual count fifty-seven assorted and unsavory specimens of plantation laborer were on hand to share the four-by-nine coach engaged by the purveyors of publicity. Negotiations were brought to a standstill and other and far more effective means of transport was finally provided. Suffice to say that Quinn's stock as a road builder has gone up several points as a result of the expedition to Lale.
"Cap" Winters is a veteran and in the employ of the Oahu Railway & Land Company. Winters puts in considerable spare time collecting revenue for the bloated corporation. He also acts as a host for those strangers who find themselves seeking quiet and solace and freedom from turned by a visit to Kahuku. Winters and several of his colleagues possess a habitation that may never again shelter as interesting and appreciative company as it did on a recent Saturday evening. As a life saver "Cap" Winters is certainly entitled to the stove lid medalion.
A little but untutored hand of prohibitionists also called in upon Lale late Saturday afternoon. Several speakers attempted to throw a few oratorical fits but the people gathered there were not pining for dry political enlightenment. It was a day of merry-making and the Prohibition band wagon soon took up the trail for the leeward side of the island without having created a ripple in the present agitation against the full gin bottle.

Thurston and his paper have been the ones of the Government by Commission scheme, by which the citizens of the Territory are to be robbed of the right of franchise, and governed by such men as Woolley and Thurston going on to Washington to misrepresent the islands and the people before Congress.
Thurston's paper, having a trail of community slander as long or longer than the years the Territory has existed, now voices Thurston's plea for the favorable vote of the electorate of these islands, an electorate which Thurston and "my paper" have labored to restrict and disfranchise. This combination with such a

For the first time since last October, the big Japanese liner Chiyu Maru will pay a visit to Manila, the capital of the Philippine Islands.

Vessels of the size of the Chiyu and Tenyo Maru have not been diverted to the Philippine port for many months, and in some quarters it has been said that the larger vessels in the joint trans-Pacific service maintained by the Pacific Mail and the Toyo Kisen Kaisha have been substituted by smaller steamers owing to an alleged insufficient depth of water to be found at the new Manila wharves.

The Chiyu arrived at her berth at Alakea wharf at 10 o'clock this morning after the completion of a fine run down from San Francisco. Being a vessel of foreign registry, the Chiyu brings no freight for Honolulu. In her spacious hold there are at least three thousand tons of supplies and munitions of war destined for the military and naval base in the Philippines. Among this freight is a quantity of small arms and ammunition.

If such a thing as a divorce with the Pacific Mail and the Japanese line as the star performers is imminent, the officers on board the Chiyu Maru profess absolute ignorance concerning the much-mooted separation. They claim that the first intimation that such a move was pending came through a wireless received the other evening from Honolulu.

Four cabin passengers will leave the Chiyu Maru at Honolulu. Sixty-nine first-class travelers are proceeding to the Far East, and these include a sprinkling of missionaries and Philippine Insular government employees returning from leave of absence.

In the Chiyu steerage there is a motley and assorted array of Asiatics. Of a total of 159 passengers traveling in this class, 87 are Japanese, 51 Chinese and 21 Indians.

The invasion of the Hindoo or what is now termed the "Unbleached Briton," has stirred up a great rumpus along the Pacific Coast. The Chiyu Maru is carrying back to Hongkong twenty deported East Indians. They have been found suffering with an infectious disease, mainly owing to their filthy habits and mode of living. While large numbers of Hindoos continue to migrate to the United States, of late a large percentage have been turned back by the Federal quarantine and immigration authorities.

The little yacht Sweetheart was sighted by the Chiyu officers at an early hour this morning. She displayed flags denoting that she expected to arrive off port before noon. Pursuer "Billie" Chapman is said to have fairly outdone himself in providing entertainment for the passengers. On last Friday evening Chapman and his able henchman, "Tommy" McCombe, arranged a program of vaudeville and athletics that will go down the annals of T. K. K. history as a nine-time winner. Japanese wrestling, jiu-jitsu, juggling and other forms of indoor games assisted in a very pleasant evening being passed.

Each day deck sports were the rule, and one enterprising photographer has perpetuated the various events and has met with much success in the disposal of the souvenirs.

Among the few important through passengers is the Honorable Wilhelm Becker, said to be Vice-President and member of the Prussian Diet. He is accompanied by Mrs. Becker and will make a round-the-world tour before returning to Cologne.

Bishop E. E. Hoss is a well-known missionary who leaves the vessel at Kobe and transships for steamer to Korea.

MORE PINKHAM CURES

Added to the Long List due to This Famous Remedy.

Camden, N.J.—"It is with pleasure that I add my testimonial to your already long list—hoping that it may induce others to avail themselves of this valuable medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered from terrible headaches, pain in my back and right side, was tired and nervous, and so weak I could hardly stand. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored me to health and made me feel like a new person, and it shall always have my praise."

—Mrs. W. P. VALENTINE, 902 Lincoln Avenue, Camden, N. J.

Gardner, Me.—"I was a great sufferer from a female disease. The doctor said I would have to go to the hospital for an operation, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured me in three months."

—Mrs. S. A. WILLIAMS, R. F. D. No. 14, Box 39, Gardner Me.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, indigestion, dizziness, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result is worth millions to many suffering women.

and Miss Wilson will remain over at Honolulu and spend a couple of weeks in visiting the points of interest throughout the islands.

Fritz Materna is a prominent business man, with headquarters at Shanghai.

Having completed an enjoyable visit to the mainland, E. C. Jones, a newspaper man and writer of note, is returning to Japan, where he will resume his duties on the Advertiser, a leading English publication at Tokyo.

F. E. Chapin, formerly engaged in the legal profession at Washington, D. C., is going to Japan and is now known as an advisor connected with the Japanese legation.

Among the Manila-bound passengers is Judge James Ross, who is returning to his duties on the bench after a brief visit to the homeland. The local postal officials received 239 racks of mainland mail. The vessel brought files of the San Francisco dailies dating as late as July 19.

The Chiyu Maru will be dispatched for Japan ports, Manila and Hongkong at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. About ten passengers have booked for passage to the Orient.

NOTHING more will be done in regard to building additions to the Moana Hotel until the result of this prohibition agitation is decided. Prohibition is a mistake for this country and will hurt our prosperity. The present liquor law is a good one, and is entitled to the support of the people. Let them have higher license if they want it. In my opinion, prohibition is wrong. Tourists do not want to be tied down by any such piece of legislation as a prohibition law. They won't come and that is all there is to it.

"AERO-CAR-BOAT" FLIES

Strange Convertible Machine Goes Through Army Tests.
Berlin, July 9.—In the gray dawn of a morning Berlin was traversed by one of the queerest vehicles ever built—an aeroplane convertible at will into a motor car or a motor boat. Its journey was made as an automobile, and it was driven by the inventor, Herr Fritz Grawert.

The machine, which is intended to serve as an engine of offense in war, has behaved more successfully on terra firma than it has so far done in the air. It was taken to the military airport station at Tegel, where it is to exhibit its versatile accomplishments for the benefit of the army authorities. Major Gross, commander of the aerial fleet, said today that he was favorably impressed with the Grawert's possibilities.

Yacht Hawaii Is Sailed To Glorious Victory

THE HAWAII UNDER SAIL

HAWAII WINS OCEAN RACE

Honolulu's Representative
First Without
Handicap

Just fourteen days, three hours and twenty-three minutes after she sailed from San Pedro, the yacht Hawaii reached the finishing point off Diamond Head yesterday afternoon and sealed her victory over the Sweetheart and Mollilo.

The pride of Honolulu has won a trans-Pacific race after two attempts; she fully justified the trust that was reposed in her and Captain Wilder and his crew are all to be complimented on the grand showing they made. The Hawaii gave big handicaps to the other two yachts and she clinched the victory by reaching Honolulu well ahead of her rivals and they, notwithstanding their handicaps, could not foot it with the local boat.

The Sweetheart was sighted at 8:30 this morning and by that time she was a long way out of the race. Her handicap was of no avail to her; she would have had to be in by midnight last night to have a chance of winning from the Hawaii.

The Hawaii was sighted off Koko Head at 2:30 yesterday afternoon and at once the whistle was sounded to let people know that it was the home boat that was leading. A rush of townspeople took place and soon Alakea wharf was crowded with people who were anxious to greet the yachtsmen who had brought the local boat in first after the long ocean run from San Pedro.

The Hawaii made good time from Diamond Head to the entrance to the harbor, and the Kalumani II, which had gone out to meet the trans-Pacific racer, did not reach the finishing line in time to see the Hawaii cross it. Commodore Jaeger had a large party on board the Kalumani and the trim launch ran down and saluted the Hawaii.

The yacht looked well and there was no sign of rough weather to be seen; the crew were all in good health and Prince Cupid looked the real thing as he leaned over the rail and waved to people he knew on the Kalumani and other small boats that quickly got underway and went out to meet the yacht.

Captain Wilder brought his boat to the entrance of the harbor and then the health authorities inspected the crew. Everything was found to be O. K., and soon the Hawaii was brought alongside of the Alakea street wharf, where a huge crowd had congregated to welcome the trans-Pacific racer.

Captain Wilder stated that the yacht had come along at a twelve-day rate of speed up till Thursday last, when the wind dropped and the Hawaii drifted about in a calm for forty-eight hours. The breeze freshened up on Sunday morning and then the yacht made excellent time to the finishing line.

According to the log of the Hawaii the yacht was becalmed off Catalina Island from 3 till 4 o'clock on the first day out. The cable received in Honolulu was, therefore, correct.

The Hawaii made 185 miles in the first twenty-four hours; the best distance done was 205 miles in twenty-four hours, and the lowest was 105; the average run was 155 miles.

The Sweetheart was allowed a handicap of seven and a half hours and the Mollilo received eight hours.

The crew of the Hawaii had a great time on the Coast and were entertained everywhere. The South Coast Club was thrown open to them and they made their headquarters there.

The reason the Whimsie did not start was that her owner is only a lad, who fussed a lot over details, and who, although the South Coast Club offered to finance the trip, would not come up to the scratch at the last moment. The other yachts that were supposed to be in the race could not secure crews for so long a voyage and they had to withdraw from the race.

Sunday, July 10—11:49 a. m. Slipped our mooring and standing out for breakfast. 12 noon: Starting gun is fired and we cross the line a few seconds later. The Mollilo is to leeward and leading by a few yards. The Sweetheart is a little astern and to windward. Set course S. by E. Soon after crossing the line the wind freshened and we overhauled and passed the Mollilo. The Sweetheart dead astern. Wind very light from west, with smooth sea. 2 p. m.: We are still in lead and heading to clear Catalina Island about five miles to eastward. 3 p. m.: Wind has dropped, leaving us with just steerage way. Sweetheart overhauls and passes us to leeward. The Mollilo comes up and hangs under our lee. We are carrying all possible sail, with balloon jib. 4 p. m.: The Sweetheart is half a mile ahead and picks up a breeze, while we are drifting along in almost a flat calm. Skiddadair comes alongside and says good-bye. Soon after 4 p. m. we get the wind and begin to pull away from the Mollilo. 5 p. m.: We are laying over to a good breeze and are overhauling the Sweetheart fast. 6 p. m.: We are alongside of the Sweetheart. We give the boys three cheers and then say good-bye. We are now well past Catalina Island and approaching San Clemente Island. 7 p. m. We are leading the Sweetheart about two miles and the Mollilo by three miles. Wind is holding and it looks as though we are going to slip past the island in good shape. 7:30 p. m.: We are now abeam the south end of San Clemente Island, fifteen miles to eastward. 8 p. m.: The Sweetheart is hull down astern, about five miles, and the Mollilo is only a speck on the horizon. Changed course to S. by W. 12 midnight: Wind still holding fresh from the west, with smooth sea.

Monday, July 11—4 a. m.: Wind still holding westerly, and we are logging nine knots. 8 a. m.: Wind not so unchanged. Take in balloon jib and fisherman's stay sail, and set No. 2 jib topsail. Changed course to SW. by S. Weather cloudy, with high fog. Unable to get morning sight. 12 noon: Wind still westerly. Changed course to SW. Let fairly good sight at noon. Lat. 10 deg. 50 min. 30 sec. N. 4 p. m.: Let sight for long, worked back to noon, 115 deg. 32 min. 30 sec. W. Distance made, good 185 miles. 8 p. m.: Wind hauls to NW, and freshens somewhat. Course changed to SW. by S. 12 midnight: Wind still holds NW, with an increasing sea. Has been very cold all day.

Tuesday, July 12—4 a. m.: No change in general conditions. 5 a. m.: Sky overcast with high fog; unable to obtain morning sight. Wind and sea about the same. 12 noon: Lat. 28 deg. 52 min. N.; long. 122 deg. 45 min. W. Distance made, good 205 miles. 3 p. m.: Wind has hauled to northward. Took in No. 1 and set No. 2 jib topsail. 4 p. m.: Let fisherman's stay sail. Too cloudy for afternoon sight. Logging nine to nine and seven-tenths knots. 9 p. m.: Took in No. 2 jib topsail and set balloon jib. 12 midnight: Wind light, NW; smooth sea.

Wednesday, July 13—4 a. m.: Wind still light, NW; smooth sea. (Continued on Page 12)

FORT SHAFER NEWS FIELD AND BARRACKS.

There will be three companies of the battalion to take a three day practice march on Tuesday, July 26. Companies E, F and G will be the companies to go. The companies will hike to Pearl City and camp there for the three days. Maneuvering in the meantime.

On Detached Service.
 Captain W. H. H. Chapman, 20th Infantry, First Lieutenant William H. Smith, Medical Corps and a detachment of four men of the 20th Infantry started on a trip last Tuesday on this island for a period of seven days.

Private Marion M. McGee, Company F, 20th Infantry, is detailed on extra duty as teamster in the Quartermaster Department, relieving Private Glenwood St. Bower, Company G, 20th Infantry. Private McGee will report to the Quartermaster for instructions and Private Bowers will report to his company commanders for duty.

The handball game is getting to be the real go at this point. Much interest being taken. Some of the men are improving wonderfully at the game.

ROYALTY IS MERE FAD

ENGLAND DOES NOT THINK MUCH OF PUTTING UP MILLIONS EVERY YEAR FOR SHOW.

Just now while the British royal family is prominently in the thought of the people of all nations, one of the interesting features from the American standpoint, is the cost of royalty in dollars and cents.

The British people pay annually to the King and Queen $2,350,000; to the Prince of Wales, $100,000, plus an income from the revenues from the Duchy of Cornwall, amounting to approximately $300,000 a year. The Princess of Wales receives $50,000; Princess Christian, $30,000; Princess Louise, the Duchess of Argyll, $30,000; Duke of Connaught, $125,000; Princess Beatrice, $30,000; Duchess of Albany, $30,000; Duchess of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, $15,000. Then there is paid to trustees for the king's daughters, $90,000, making a total of $2,910,000.

The king in addition to his regular annuity above enumerated receives $500,000 per annum revenue from the Duchy of Lancaster. In addition to this it is the custom to settle dowries on the children of the royal family when they marry, the last of the princesses to marry having received $150,000 by parliamentary grant.

Royalty costs something and a great many Britons are of the opinion that it is not worth what it costs, particularly in view of the fact that the British system is well high complete with the royalty left out, and with that exception and the hereditary feature in the House of Lords, is nearly as democratic as our own country.

Royalty is maintained in England at this enormous expense and burden on the people as a matter of sentiment and for the sake of royalty, not because it is considered by Englishmen essential to the welfare of the people of England or a necessary part of the governmental structure. The British king is really less potent in governmental affairs than is our President.

From what can be learned from court attaches, Alexandra does not intend to return to Denmark, as was first reported, but will remain in her residence at Buckingham Palace for a year, afterward going to Marlborough House, which she intends to remodel on an elaborate scale, adding a magnificent ball room.

WIDOWED QUEEN HOLDS ON HARD

Will Not Give Way to New Queen—King George Getting Somewhat Crusty Over State of Things.

LONDON, June 25.—The deferential press has not yet dared to give printed publicity to the condition, but everyone knows that matters are not progressing amicably between King George and Queen Mary and Queen Alexandra. The latter has developed such a hysterical desire to continue as reigning Queen instead of Queen Dowager that the patience of the King toward his mother is being rapidly exhausted, while Queen Mary's attitude is practically one of open revolt.

Contrary to everybody's opinion as to the ethics of the matter, Alexandra continues to occupy Buckingham Palace, leaving that dowdy place, Marlborough House, for the London residence of the King and Queen. This action is contrary to all precedent, as Alexandra ought rightfully to have retired to Sandringham.

But this is only the slightest of the many things that have tried the patience of George and Mary, both of whom at first bore Alexandra's behavior with patience, but who are now tired of the situation, particularly as Alexandra continues to dominate court affairs as if she were still the consort of the throne.

For instance, the order decreeing strictest mourning at Ascot emanated from Alexandra, and moreover was against the express wish of the King. Alexandra went so far even as to endeavor to get the Ascot meeting abandoned entirely, but the King put his royal foot down on this and uttered an emphatic "no." He compromised, however, on the mourning question.

Another trait of Alexandra's which is causing George and Mary unconcealed annoyance is the persistence with which the widowed queen rushes into print with messages addressed to her "beloved people." These strange documents are couched in terms so naive and childish that considerable surprise is expressed that the responsible authorities allow them to be issued. It is well known that during King Edward's reign Alexandra constantly issued "messages" of this sort which Edward never allowed to pass for publication until he had carefully toned and pruned them, to Alexandra's great indignation.

King in Awkward Position.
 This restraining hand having been removed, Alexandra has utilized her period of bereavement to send out numerous uncensored and unedited messages. The King and Queen are placed in a decidedly awkward position and wish they could stop this practice, but do not wish to hurt the feelings of the royal widow.

The original of one of these messages that issued immediately after Edward's death, the one in which the phrase "out of the depths of my broken heart" is used, was advertised to be sold for a charity fund.

When King Edward died, Queen Alexandra announced that she wished to be known in future as the "Queen Mother," but she never uses that self-selected and sentimental title, but always employs the queenly and almost imperial signature "Alexandra."

Moreover, there are indisputable signs that the press agent is not unknown to Buckingham Palace. The daily papers abound in references to the widowed queen, her latest photographs occupy conspicuous pages of the illustrated weeklies, and while Queen Mary makes no concealment of her preference for things essentially English, Alexandra's name has appeared prominently in the list of gift makers on the occasion of recent international weddings where the brides were American girls.

Designs Her Own Flag.
 Alexandra's determination to maintain her supremacy was shown recently when she flew from the flagpole of Buckingham Palace a new flag she had designed, consisting of the British and Danish arms impaled. It is twice the size of the royal standard which the King is entitled to fly, and makes the flag of the English monarch look small in comparison.

SINKING SHIP DROWNS MANY

TOKIO, July 24.—The steamship Tetsurei Maru, bound from Kobe, Japan, to Dairen, Manchuria, has been sunk off Chindo, Korea, with appalling loss of life. Of the two hundred and forty passengers, only forty are known to have been saved.
All the others are missing, though there is hope that some of them may yet be saved.

Warships have been sent to the rescue, in the hope of picking up some of the missing passengers. It is known that six lifeboats, filled with passengers, left the vessel just before she sank, and it is possible that they may have been picked up or that they may have reached land somewhere and not have been reported yet.

The captain and the entire crew of the Tetsurei Maru were drowned, indicating that they heroically stuck to the doomed vessel in order to give the passengers a chance to save themselves in the lifeboats.

Of the passengers saved, six were traveling first class. Included among these was W. C. Cunningham, British Vice-Consul at Osaka.

VICTIMS OF DEADLY CYCLONE

MILAN, Italy, July 24.—A disastrous cyclone swept through the district west of this city yesterday, devastating a number of towns and bringing death in its wake. In the towns of Saronno, Rovellaso and Lonate Pozzolo, twenty-five persons were killed by falling walls and the greater part of the buildings have been wrecked. There are many deaths at Busto, the village being practically wiped out.

MILAN, July 24.—The list of those who perished through the cyclone that last Saturday devastated the region to the west of this city has now reached sixty. Hundreds of others were injured. The property loss will run into the millions.
The residents of several entire towns are homeless, their houses having been destroyed by the terrific wind.
Rescue work is going on throughout the storm-wrecked sections, and trains with food and medical supplies are being sent out from here.

TORRID HEAT IN STATES.

EL CENTRO, Cal., July 24.—Ten deaths as a result of the week have been reported from Imperial Valley.
The intensely hot weather which has prevailed since the first of the month continues without a break.

Torrid Middle West.—The heat records throughout all the Middle West have been broken by the weather of the past week. There has been much suffering and considerable damage to the crops from the unprecedented weather.

ROBBED IMMIGRANTS.

NEW YORK, July 24.—A carload of immigrants were held up and robbed near the outskirts of the city last night by four bandits. The holdup men have escaped, but a vigorous pursuit is being made. Rewards of five hundred dollars each have been offered for their capture.

COLONEL BOWEN REPRIMANDED

MANILA, July 24.—Colonel William Bowen, Twelfth Infantry, U. S. A., has been convicted before a court-martial of showing disrespect to his superior officers. He has been sentenced to be reprimanded and to be deprived of his command for three months.

HEAT AND PTOMAIN POISONING

JOPLIN, Mo., July 24.—The health authorities have been called upon to treat seventy-five cases of more or less severe ptomaine poisoning during the past week. The physicians attribute the large number to the unusual atmospheric conditions which have prevailed.

TAFT HURT IN GOLF GAME.

ELLSWORTH, Me., July 24.—
President Taft met with an accident on the golf links here yesterday, spraining an ankle during his game.
The accident will have no serious results.

RETURNED FROM MOUNTAIN TRIP

Wills T. Pope, Will Cooper and F. M. Fultz returned to Honolulu last evening after a day's trip through the mountains in the neighborhood of Makua.

The party left Saturday morning and went as far as Makua on the railroad, striking in from that point to the mountains, visiting one cave and camping Saturday night on the ridge of the range nearly back of Makua.

Yesterday they took a long hike along the ridge of the mountains and finally came out at Mokuleia, where train was taken yesterday afternoon for the return to Honolulu.

Several interesting photographs of the country were taken on the trip.

Mr. Fultz, who accompanied the two Honoluluans, is superintendent of schools at Santa Barbara, and has done much climbing along the Pacific Coast.

He is on a visit to Hawaii and will lecture on Yellowstone Park next Friday at the Normal before the summer school.

VIOLATED PURE FOOD ACT.

Under date of May 23, Secretary of Agriculture Wilson issued a notice of the seizure of 5000 cases of pineapple belonging to the Hawaiian Development Company of Honolulu several months ago, as it was misbranded under the provisions of the Pure Food and Drug Act.

This pineapple was shipped to California and was there seized, afterward being released upon guarantee that it would not be sold.

The product was misbranded in that it was said to contain two pounds of pineapple to the can, when as a matter of fact the pineapple in each can weighed but one pound six ounces.

PROHIBITION NOT FOR THEM

Leading Hawaiians Tell Immense Throng Some Truths

"This Woolley-Thurston prohibition scheme is a mystery,"—J. M. Poepeo. "The Hawaiian are poor today because the Territorial government spent the people's money for the Russians to come here and do nothing."

—G. K. Keawehaku. "If Thurston and his crowd love Hawaiians, why did they overthrow Queen Liliuokalani from the throne?"

—H. K. Kaniho. "Voting power is our last hope. Do not give it to Thurston and Woolley, who are trying to mislead the Hawaiians."

At the meeting of the anti-prohibitionists at Aala Park last Saturday night, the leading speakers made the above statements to one of the largest gatherings that ever assembled there. They were most enthusiastically applauded as they told their stories. They declared their intention of voting against the prohibition tomorrow. They said that they did not want to be misled by Woolley and Thurston, whom they think are trying to disfranchise the Hawaiians of their liberty as electorate. They said they were going to mark "Aole" which indicates that they want to run their local government, and not to allow them to be misled by Woolley and Thurston.

Poepeo stated that there was a mystery in the whole thing, which he himself could not fathom, but which he thought would sure come to grief, because Thurston was at the bottom of prohibition. He said that the Hawaiians were not dying because of liquor. He read the report of the Board of Health covering the causes of death. Keawehaku, one of the ablest Hawaiian speakers stated most emphatically that the Hawaiians were poor because all the public money has been spent foolishly towards bringing the Russians, the Filipinos and other good-for-nothing immigrants here, who turned out to be useless laborers. He remarked that the Hawaiians could have been given employment with that amount of money, had the government officials been more careful in spending it.

"The government was quick enough to spend the money for those Russians and Filipinos," but forgot to remember that they—Thurston and others, had "Aole" for the Hawaiians, before whom they come now and ask them to vote for prohibition.

"This is a trick," he continued. "They have lived together with Hawaiians and yet they have done nothing to eliminate their hardships. The Hawaiians in plantations are not provided with good and livable quarters and yet these plantations made everything comfortable for the Russians, who upon their arrival here, refused to work in plantations."

"This indicates positively that Thurston and his crowd, have no 'Aole' for the Hawaiians—'Pololei,' shouted the crowd. The speaker was repeatedly applauded.

Kaniho, the "Cannon ball of Koloa," delivered one of the best speeches of the night. His sound logic against prohibition won for him the kokua of the audience. He told his interested hearers to vote "Aole," and they assured him right there and then that they would vote accordingly tomorrow.

He pointed out to the crowd that it was not prohibition that Thurston and Woolley were working for; but rather to disfranchise the Hawaiians. His remarks were kokuaed by the audience. Wise, claimed that Thurston and Woolley had no love for the Hawaiians, because it was Thurston that deposed the Hawaiian Queen. "This action of Thurston who is leading the prohibition scheme will not be forgotten by the voters at the ballot box tomorrow."

He urged upon the crowd to vote "Aole" in order to perpetuate their rights upon the land and to vote down Woolley and Thurston and others who are trying to belittle the Hawaiians.

The speakers were most enthusiastically applauded when they concluded.

Tonight another mass meeting will be held at Aala Park and able speakers will tell Hawaiian voters a few truths regarding the evils of prohibition.

PLENTY OF BASEBALL PLAYED ON SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

There was baseball galore on Sunday, and at the Athletic Park no less than three games were pulled off during the day. In the morning the Oahu Juniors had a game, and the Palamas beat the Anahis by a score of 6 to 5. It was an interesting struggle, and was anybody's game up till the first half of the eighth inning. The score was tied then, with five each, and it was in the eighth that the Palamas added one more run to their score. The Anahis could not do anything in their ninth, and the game ended in victory for the Palamas by a score of 6 to 5.

In the afternoon there were two games, and while one of them—that between the Marines and C. A. Cs.—was fierce, the game between the Wasedas and Portuguese was all right. The Japanese visitors beat the P. A. Cs. by one to nil, and it was an interesting go right through. The Chinese handed the Marines a pack, age to the tune of 13 to 4, and there was nothing to the game.

Marines vs. C. A. C. The Marines were represented by a bunch of players who seldom if ever appear in the "big" games. The regular half-wet nine had gone to Lilehua to try and beat the Fifth Cavalry, and a scrub team faced the Chinese. The result was that the Marines had no chance of winning, and the game only made people laugh.

The C. A. C. started right out in their first and made two runs. The Marines also got going early and hit up three in their second. With the exception of one in their sixth, that was all the scoring they did.

The C. A. C., however, were in a spring mood, and they proceeded to make three more failures in the third. Then they failed to score in the fourth, but in the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth the Chinese added one, two, three and one runs, respectively.

Adams and Kimmel formed the battery for the Marines, and it was a very different one to that which usually does the work for the half-wets. However, the men did their best under the circumstances, and nothing else could be hoped for.

Ah Toon held the big milt for the C. A. C., and the pitching was done by two men—Ayan and Amoy. The latter used to pitch great ball some years ago, but has not done much of late in that line. Apau, the regular pitcher of the team, held down first and did good work.

Wasedas Beat Portuguese. The big game of the day caused a lot of excitement, and right through the hour and a half of play the fans were kept going at full pace with their rooting. And the noise the Japanese and Portuguese fans made was the real dope in the way of rooting for sure. Every bit of play was watched intently, and the cheers that went up as each man was snuffed out at first, second, third or the home plate, must have been heard at Wai-kihi.

The only score made was in the fifth inning, when on a wild throw of Freitas, Mikami got safe to second and then was brought home on a two-bagger hit by Yamawaki. It was hard luck for the Portuguese, and the odds are that the game would have been another eighteen-inning one, only for the wild throw.

Oh, the big fellow who generally plays at first for the Wasedas, did the twirling for the visitors, and he showed what a good all-round man he is in any position. Yamawaki did the catching, and he was quick as a cat behind the plate.

When the Wasedas scored their solitary run in the fifth inning the Portuguese fans were not very disgruntled. They figured it out fast that their team would get things going soon, and at least tie the score. There was nothing doing, however, and for nothing during the Wasedas held the P. A. C. down to no score.

It looked at times as if the Portuguese would score, but something always happened to stop the desired run being made, and the hopes of the fans were dashed to the ground. The game ended in a blaze of glory for the Wasedas, who at last broke the run of bad luck they have been encountering.

SATURDAY GAMES. Wasedas Beaten. On Saturday afternoon, the Wasedas once more went down in defeat, and this time it was to the Marines, who beat the Japanese by a score of 5 to 3, after a game that kept the fans excited all the time.

The Wasedas were first to bat and they did nothing in the run-getting line. Neither did they make a tally for seven innings. It was in the eighth that the Japanese got going properly, and they made two runs, which they followed up with one more in the ninth.

The Marines hit up four runs in their first inning, and then did nothing for four innings. Then the half-wets made one more in their sixth, and the finish of the game showed the score to be 5 to 3.

Oahu College Defeat J. A. C. Nine. The first game on Saturday was played between the Oahu College Alumni and the champion J. A. C. team. It ended in a victory for the ex-students, who beat their opponents by a score of 7 to 4. Hampton and Winne formed the battery for the Alumni, and Kealoha and Brito did like duty for the Japanese Athletics.

FORT RUGER AND MARINES LOSE IN MILITARY GAMES

Guards Have Hollow Victory Over Artillerymen—Fifth Cavalry Too Strong for Marines.

There were several games in the Military League series on Saturday and Sunday, and one of them, that between the Fort Ruger and N. G. H. teams, resulted in a regular slaughter. The Guards won by a score of 12 to 0 and the way the men scored was too quick to follow with the eye. The game was played at the league grounds, and a fair sized crowd of military fans was present.

On Sunday at Lilehua the Marines got a wallop from the Fifth Cavalry and the tally at the finish was 4 to 2. The half wets were thought to have an excellent chance of beating the horsemen but the good thing was beaten.

The regular Marine team that plays at the Athletic Park went to Lilehua, but they were not strong enough for the Schofield Barracks men. Peyton and Sinclair formed the battery for the Marines, and they did their best to hold the Cavalry down, but with no success. It was a sad and sorry bunch that returned to Camp Very and told their mates of the beating they had got from the Cavalry.

DOTS AND DASHES.

Company C defeated Company D at the Marine Camp by a score of 11 to 3; there are now three teams—A, B, and C, tied for the first place, and Company D is last.

Maddison, who is to box Sarconi, is said to be a real good man with the mitts and the Bugler will have to be in great shape to have a chance of winning.

St. Louis College will soon have a baseball nine in commission once more, and the Saints mean to challenge any team in Hawaii.

The Hawaiian Electric Co. base ball nine defeated the Wichman bunch at baseball yesterday by a score of 14 to 4.

Jack Cordell and Pat Cornyn are in active training for their bout on Saturday night next and a real good go is expected.
