CONSTITUTIONAL OPINION.

Judge Cooley is always quoted in our courts when any constitutional question comes into controversy there. His works are among the best thumbed authorities in the law library of the Judiciary Department. He is recognized in the States as one of the ablest living jurists. Judge Cooley has spoken on the Hawaiian annexation scheme, and he condemns it without qualification. The deliverance of the eminent judge appears in the Forum. A brief review of the paper from the Chicago Herald appears in this issue, which will give our readers some idea of the grounds of Judge Cooley's condemnation. Men of ordinary comprehension here have wondered at the plenary powers assumed by a government calling itself "provisional." Judge Cooley points out that those powers are usurped, that a "provisional government" in law is something different from what has been set up in Honolulu. A "p. g." is intended only to preserve order, pending the people's determination of a permanent form of government or their selection of persons to administer affairs under such form. It has nothing to do with far-reaching policies affecting the destinies of the present and future generations of the country's inhabitants. They seem to know more about the proper running of a "p. g." in Venezuela than in Hawaii. In that country the present "p. g." has just requested President Crespo to continue at its head until the elections shall decide whom the people want for their rulers.

Our provisional government declared at the outset that the main object of its existence was to negotiate a treaty of union with the United States. Judge Cooley, speaking from the constitutional point of view, says that it is not within the province of a provisional government to thus dispose of the country in which it is situated. Abstract principles of constitutional law, however, are probably not regarded by the present military rulers of Hawaii as of any more force than the concrete constitutional law of the land. They solemnly proclaimed at the beginning that the constitution as they found it would continue in effect, excepting such parts thereof as were inconsistent with the conditions produced by the abolition of the monarchy. Yet in their administration they have frequently ignored and violated principles of the constitution which had no essential connection with the monarchical system. Had the provisional government submitted the question of union with the United States to the ballots of the people, it would have been within constitutional lines although yielding revolutionary power. For there is law to govern revolutions, which are recognized contingencies in human affairs. Where no law of any kind is respected by successful revolutionists, there system is at an end and anarchy begins.

Judge Cooley's dissertation on annexation has perhaps more importance in the question it raises as to the limitation of the constitutional power of the United States regarding the acquisition of new territory, than in its discussion of the right or wrong of the scheme in the circumstances of its inception in the Hawaiian Islands. The constitutional-ity of annexing these islands had already been disputed by able essayists, but few if any authorities can bring more weight to bear upon this phase of the subject than Judge Cooley. His eminence as a constitutional authority is attested by the fact that many leading papers of the United States give editorials on his paper in the Forum, which are composed almost wholly of verbatim extracts from and synopses of his arguments. This shows that the arguments are regarded as so complete and conclusive that comment thereon would be both superfluous and supererogatory.

Judge Cooley on Annexation.

In the June number of the Forum Judge Thomas M. Cooley states with characteristic clearness and ability certain "Grave Obstacles to Hawaiian Annexation." After some preliminary remarks and a brief review of the events immediately preceding the offer of the islands to the United States Judge Cooley observes, in the first place, that "no attempt whatever seems to have been made to ascertain the wishes of the native population upon the subject, or of anyone else, except those who participated in the revolution. It is what those composing it designate a provisional government that comes to make us the offer."

Whence does such a government derive its authority to give away the islands and order the political destiny of their inhabitants? "It is not in general supposed to have authority beyond that of a mere temporary nature resulting from some great necessity, and its authority is limited to the necessity." Its functions are to preserve order and maintain relations with other countries until the political people can establish a permanent government and determine their own political destiny. "When, therefore, a commission starts out immediately upon the creation of a provisional government to offer its country as a gift to a foreign nation, the very title of the government seems to negative its authority. It is offering to give away what it merely for the time being is authorized to preserve and protect, and the first feeling is that there must be something here to put the nation to which the offer is made upon its guard against having such dealings with the commission as shall be of a nature to imply recognition of its legitimacy."

The provisional government sought to justify the revolution upon the ground that the reigning monarch was withdrawing from the people their constitutional participation in the government. And yet almost its first act was to offer the islands and its inhabitants to a foreign power without affording the people an opportunity to participate in this government act which was of the greatest importance to themselves. It is said that the provisional government was created for the very purpose of transferring the islands to the United States. But the purpose of those who organized the government did not confer any authority. The desire of the people was not so expressed that it would be clearly known, and there was no indication of any purpose to ascertain what their desire was. The assumption of authority to give away the islands by a provisional government composed of foreigners without consulting the people was clearly usurpation. And certain facts, such as the great haste in making the offer and the employment of United States forces to assist in establishing and maintaining the provisional government, strongly indicate that those composing the government did not really believe that they were acting in conformity to the will of the people and could rely upon them for support.

After discussing various other matters Judge Cooley takes up the question of the constitutional right to annex distant countries by treaty. Conceding the right to annex contiguous territory, occupied or destined to be occupied by people of the same race and political and social aptitudes as ourselves, and conceding also that the treaty power is not expressly limited by the constitution, Judge Cooley contends that this power is limited by clear implication. It may not be exercised inconsistently "with any provision of the constitution whether as it concerns the general form of government, the perpetuity of the union, or the protection of the rights either of states or individuals." For instance it may not be so exercised as to deprive any state of its equal representation with others in the senate. Nor can it be properly exercised in such manner as to attach to the union communities so different in race and character that they must be permanently governed otherwise than in accordance with the general scheme of our political constitution, or in such manner as to bring into the union as states such discordant elements to participate in the government as would endanger the stability of our political institutions.

But "this proposed treaty is not only one that will constitute a precedent for uniting ourselves to any country on the globe, but it is one that will justify our annexing other countries regardless of the differences of race and of the discordant elements that might be brought into the union by the act." These differences of race and discordant elements exist in the Hawaiian islands, and the element homogeneous with our own people is very small.

Judge Cooley reviews the history of Louisiana from the present time, and finds that no such precedent has yet been made. For reasons briefly indicated above he is strongly opposed to making such a precedent and such a far departure from our past policy by annexing the Hawaiian islands. He would not annex them either as a state of the union or as a territory, in the American political meaning of the word, or as a subject province to be governed in a manner not provided for or contemplated in the constitution. The temptation of those who agree with him will increase as the subject is calmly considered in all its aspects.—Chicago Herald.

Feeble and Forestalled.

The following is the San Francisco Report's notice of ex-Minister Stevens' address before the Chamber of Commerce of that city. Its estimate of attendance is liberal according to a private letter, which says that only about twenty-five persons were present. "About eighty members of the Chamber of Commerce assembled this afternoon in the hall of the organization to hear ex-Minister John L. Stevens talk about Hawaii. The ex-Minister is a very poor reader, and as he simply read his address from proof sheets, it was a very dull time of it indeed. It was unfortunate for Mr. Stevens, too, that his address was stale, as a very full synopsis of it had appeared in the Daily Report on Tuesday. He simply read the long-winded and verbose address which the Report had printed in condensed form."

Are you insured? If not, now is the time to provide yourself and family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as an insurance against any serious results from an attack of bowel complaint during the summer months. It is almost certain to be needed and should be procured at once. No other remedy can take its place or do its work. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by all dealers. Our Specie Resources.

There is now in the United States treasury a little over $700,000,000 in coin or immediately available for coinage. The bullion purchased under the Sherman act may be coined whenever there is a demand for coin. The paper currency is of four kinds—gold certificates, silver certificates, greenbacks and the treasury notes issued in payment for silver bullion. There are gold certificates to the amount of $141,000,000, which, of course, call for gold. All other obligations are payable in coin. It will be seen that there is no danger of a suspension of specie payment, though the treasury may run short of gold. The capacity of the country to absorb silver has not yet been measured. In France there is $17.95 in silver per head of population; in the United States there is $9.13; in England but $2.63. France has $21.52 of gold, the United States $10, and England $14.47. But France has but $2.60 of paper, the United States $6.25, and England $2.24. This statement does not, of course, include the immense paper currency in the form of checks, drafts and bills of credit. There seems no reason why the United States should not use as much silver as France. The American ratio between gold and silver is a little more favorable to silver than the French, but in this country the white metal is discredited by the act of the Treasury Department in paying all obligations in gold, unless silver is called for. That the gold reserve in the treasury will gradually be depleted seems inevitable. There are no Government dues payable in gold, and there is no reason to assume that the present Congress will order such a distinction between the money of the two metals. What measures the Government has in contemplation to supply the treasury with gold no one seems to have an idea. Probably when Congress meets in September the President will define his policy.—S. F. Call.

Tanning by Electricity.

Another use has been found for electricity in an important manufacturing process. Tanning in the ordinary skin pits is a very slow process, not materially hastened by chemicals since ancient times. The gelatine of the hide is very tough and long resists the action of the tannin or other chemical substances by which it is converted into leather. Experience has shown that absorption and conversion are promoted by mechanical agitation of the skins, but only to a moderate extent. Now, however, electricity and mechanical stirring are combined with remarkable results in shortening the process. It is not yet determined how this is effected, but electricity is not sufficient alone, and agitation by itself operates only a little faster than still tanning. The skin of the ox, horse, sheep or other animal subjected to tanning is full of tiny gelatinous particles, and the tannin must soak into them to complete its work. The interstices between the cells are apparently charged with tannin by the agitation, and the cells are penetrated by means of the electricity. This discovery seems to have been quite haphazard, and while the scientific are evolving an explanation, the practical tanner is making use of the method in Germany. In the United States also it should soon be applied. Perhaps the discovery may assist Californian capitalists in setting up industries which would convert hides into boots and shoes. But just as tanning is shortened in process, it may be expected that leather will be cheapened in price. Places which enjoy the benefit of water power have a distinct advantage in the new development of the ancient industry.

"August Flower"

Perhaps you do not believe these statements concerning Green's August Flower. Well, we can't make you. We can't force conviction into your head or medicine into your throat. We don't want to. The money is yours, and the misery is yours; and until you are willing to believe, and spend the one for the relief of the other, they will stay so. John H. Foster, 1122 Brown Street, Philadelphia, says: "My wife is a little Scotch woman, thirty years of age and of a naturally delicate disposition. For five or six years past she has been suffering from Dyspepsia. She became so bad at last that she could not sit down to a meal but she had to vomit it as soon as she had eaten it. Two bottles of your August Flower have cured her, after many doctors failed. She can now eat anything, and enjoy it; and as for Dyspepsia, she does not know that she ever had it."

Saturday, June 10, 1893.

A year ago the attention of a great many people here was riveted on two things: the formation of a cabinet and the Maui mule. This year events have so shaped themselves that there is no necessity for the friends of the present ministers to give luau or lie awake nights to devise means of persuading the 25th man to vote their way, or of the sporting fraternity running in a "dark horse" to beat a mule. And the attention of the people, where is it?

We imagine from the way our business has kept up during the dark days of '93 that we have had some of it. We imagine that the Hendry Breaker has drawn the attention of the plantation man to an implement that has saved him more time, more money and vexation than he ever dreamed of. The certificates we have, from time to time, published as to the superiority of this plow have attracted notice from people who plow now or who may some day give up politics and go back to tilling the soil. Nor has the Fischer Steel Range been overlooked by people who enjoy food properly cooked. It is probable that some of the best lunches given by the lady friends of the Masonic fraternity were prepared on a Fischer Range, we say "probable" because the sale of this article has been such during the past two years that nearly every one is the happy owner of a Fischer, and we mention the Masonic lunch because the four or five days when the lunch was given were just so many days of good feeling for the business men who patronized the affair, it was a change, so to speak in the regular orders of things; one gentleman remarked that he was "having Sunday dinners every day without the thought of 'hash' for the next."

The rat season appears to be on again and people are looking around for a way to get rid of the pests. We can prescribe no better remedy than the French Trap. We sold one on Thursday to a store keeper and the next day he telephoned us that he had caught eight the first time.

There is no better or cheaper trap than this because it requires no setting; it is ready at all times and it catches the rats alive and provides amusement for your terriers.

Rather more than the usual methods are being adopted by the Board of Health to keep smallpox from our midst, the Board might go a step farther and investigate the stench that exists on the lower part of Fort street near the lumber piles, whether it is a broken sewer pipe or a hidden duck pond deponent saith not but the smell is great. Perhaps the cheapest way to remedy the evil is to put in two or three Ozonators. It is for such purposes this little contrivance was invented; it may be used in the sick room or closets with beneficial results as it effectually kills the germs of disease that lurk in the air. They are of a rather serious nature but the germs and bacilli that mingle with your drinking water are infinitely more dangerous, they are taken into the stomach, the seat of nearly all ailments, the object, then of every one should be to keep them out of that important organ. The best means so far discovered is by using a filter. When we say filter we do not mean one-half the things that people inveigle you into buying as filters but an improved National Stone Filter without any charcoal or other mixtures that collect and retain the dirt. These that we have, and they are without exception the best filter ever shown here are made simply of a porous stone that collects all the dirt and disease germs as the water passes through the stone.

THURSDAY, JUNE 14.
Brit bk Routenbeck, Russell, 57 days from Newcastle, N S W.

Vessels Leaving To-morrow.

Star W G Hall for Maui and Hawaii at 10 a m.

Shipping Notes.

The steamer W. G. Hall will leave for windward ports at 10 o'clock to-morrow as usual.

The British bark Routenbeck, Captain Russell, arrived off port yesterday evening and was towed into port this morning. The Routenbeck is 57 days from Newcastle, N. S. W., with 140 tons of coal. She left Newcastle on April 19, and experienced light southeast and northeast winds till off N. Cape New Zealand, when easterly winds set in up to southeast trades. On May 27, passed Penryn Island and on June 9 sighted Hawaii. From thence to port had light baffling winds. Chief officer W. Wilson attributes the lengthy passage to contrary light winds. Not a single sail was seen throughout the passage. The bark Sharpshooter, somewhat similar in build to the Routenbeck, but smaller, left Newcastle, N. S. W., three days ahead for Honolulu, and the mate was surprised when told that she hadn't arrived yet.

PROVISIONAL LEGISLATURE.

Regular Semi-Weekly Meeting of the Councils.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock the Executive and Advisory Councils met in general session. Present: Ministers Dole (President), Damon, King and Smith; Councilors Hatch, Emmeluth, Waterhouse, Tenney, Young, Suhr, Morgan, Bolte, and Mendonca.

Minister Damon presented a report of the finance committee, recommending the payment of $319.85 to C. L. Carter, as the balance due him for services at Washington. Adopted.

He also reported a recommendation of the same committee that a suitable person be employed to examine the books and accounts of different departments of the government. In explanation he quoted a section of the Audit Act, empowering the Auditor-General to call for a submission to him of accounts, etc., by any head of a department or bureau. The Auditor-General had told him his time was too fully occupied to permit him to make a systematic inspection of public accounts. Such an examination has been held at each session of the Legislature by the finance committee, but two years was too long an interval between inspections. Under this report the Minister of Finance might if necessary employ an expert.

The report was adopted. Minister Smith reported a claim against the Road Board of last biennial period, moving that it be referred to the finance committee. The amount of claim is $34.34. Carried.

The bills to amend the law of estrays, etc., and the law of the Postal Savings Bank were read a second time and passed.

On motion of Minister Smith, the Explosives bill was taken from the table for consideration.

Minister Smith moved an amendment to the first section, making the maximum penalty imprisonment for twenty years. Carried.

The same Minister moved an amendment, changing the matter of the second section. It was to meet the ideas brought out by previous discussion. He invited remarks.

Mr. Young asked, if he had half a ton of dynamite for blasting purposes, how was he to clear himself of liability for possession.

Minister Smith thought this was provided for in the bill. It would be a very rare case where a person having dynamite for lawful purposes could not prove it for such.

Mr. Emmeluth thought the bill involved difficulties. He believed a license system would be the most satisfactory. There was a law against fishing with explosives. It seemed to him the bill opened a door to a dealer to keep a supply on hand for unlawful as well as lawful purposes.

Minister Smith considered existing legislation covered the objections.

After a little further discussion the amendment carried, substituting two sections for the second one. Section 4 passed with an amendment moved by Minister Smith, making the penalties apply to violations of any part of the Act.

With other slight amendments the whole bill passed.

After a desultory discussion it was agreed that the custody of Acts passed should be vested in the Minister of the Interior.

Mr. Bolte presented a report from the military committee, recommending the payment of $30 a month to W. C. King, for his services as drum corps instructor. It was not regarded as a salary but rather as an indemnity for incidental expenses incurred by the instructor.

Mr. Emmeluth asked if the pay of $50 each to the captains of volunteer companies was also given to cover incidental expenses.

President Dole considered it was not, but rather compensation in part for their sacrifice of time, etc.

The report was adopted.

At 2:55 the Councils went into executive session.

SERIOUSLY HURT.

Young Maertens Falls from a Tree at the Punahou Preparatory.

Willie Maertens, son of Mr. Maertens of Hoffschlaeger & Co., met with a very painful accident yesterday at the Punahou Preparatory grounds. The little fellow was playing with his fellow schoolmates when he mounted a tree. While on the tree the branch on which he was, broke and the boy was precipitated to the ground, a distance of twenty-five feet. He fell on the side of his head, injuring his skull and arm. Fellow schoolmates assisted the little fellow into the schoolroom and Dr. McGrew was called in. The doctor pronounced the injuries as serious. Later the boy was taken to his home.

The little fellow passed a bad night and this afternoon, although very weak, is still living. It is believed he is internally injured. He may live until morning, but the probabilities are rather slim, as he is lying in a very critical condition.

Dr. M. J. Davis is a prominent physician of Lewis, Cass county, Iowa, and has been actively engaged in the practice of medicine at that place for the past thirty-five years. On the 25th of May, while in Des Moines en route to Chicago, he was suddenly taken with an attack of diarrhoea. Having sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for the past seventeen years, and knowing its reliability, he procured a 25-cent bottle, two doses of which completely cured him. The excitement and change of water and diet incident to traveling often produce a diarrhoea. Every one should procure a bottle of this Remedy before leaving home. For sale by all dealers. THAT OPIUM HAUL.

The Stewardess of the Australia Receives a Heavy Sentence.

Mrs. Susie Nelson, stewardess on the S. S. Australia came before Judge Foster in the District Court this morning charged with the unlawful possession of eighty-two tins of opium which that steamer was in port in May. Port Surveyor Sanders and two other customs officers testified to having found the dope in various places in Mrs. Nelson's room on the steamer. One of the guards stated that he saw the stewardess take the packages out of a tin box and put some under a mattress. Other witnesses including Collector of Customs Castle corroborated the evidence of the Port Surveyor, the trial winding up this afternoon. Counsel for the defendant offered no defense.

Judge Foster sentenced Mrs. Nelson to pay a fine of $500 and be imprisoned at hard labor six months. C. W. Ashford counsel for defendant, noted an appeal.

POOR JACK.

Ordered to Give Heavy Bonds to Appear Against Conly.

The two sailors, Egerson and Johnson, who testified in the District Court a few days ago that they saw Patrick Conly push Stevens overboard from the bark Matilda, have been ordered to secure $500 bond each, that they will appear in the Circuit Court against Conly.

Conly, it will be remembered, was committed to the Circuit Court by Judge Foster on a charge of murdering Stevens, a fellow sailor on the bark Matilda on a previous visit.

The men are unable to secure any one to put up the bonds, and have in consequence been locked up in the Station.

More Munitions of War.

A lot of Springfield rifles and ammunition arrived by the S. S. Australia yesterday and were stored in the basement of the Executive building. Co. C held a meeting in the drill shed in the evening, and after a proposal was made for more volunteers, the company marched to the Executive building and secured a full equipment of rifles and ammunition. In the company were noticed a number of Portuguese boys in uniform. They secured rifles with the rest, so people need not be alarmed if they hear any midnight reports, unless accompanied by bullets crashing through the walls of their bed chambers.

For the Good of Others

Rev. Mr. Williams heartily endorses Hood's Sarsaparilla.

We are pleased to present this from Rev. A. A. Williams, of the Sillsbee street Christian Church, Lynn, Mass.:

"I see no reason why a clergyman, more than a layman, who knows whereof he speaks, should hesitate to approve an

Article of Merit and worth, from which he or his family have been signally benefited, and whose commendation may serve to extend those benefits to others by increasing their confidence. My wife has for many years been a sufferer from severe

Nervous Headache for which she found little help. She has tried many things that promised well but performed little. Last fall a friend gave her a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It seems surprising what simple one bottle could do and did do for her. The attacks of headache decreased in number and were less violent in their intensity, while her general health has been improved. Her appetite has also been better. From our experience with

Hood's Sarsaparilla I have no hesitation in endorsing it as a medicine."

HOOD'S PILLS are the best family cathartic, gentle and effective. Try a box. Price 25c.

LATE FOREIGN NEWS.

AMERICA.

P. G. OF VENEZUELA.

CARACAS, Venezuela, June 4.—The Constituent Assembly has completed the draft of the new constitution for Venezuela. It authorizes General Crespo to continue at the head of the Provisional Government until the Presidential election is held in the coming autumn to fill the unexpired term, and also declares his eligibility, if elected, to serve the succeeding constitutional term of four years.

CYCLONE IN TEXAS.

HOUSTON, Tex., June 4.—Spanish Camp, in Wharton County, twenty miles from the railroad was struck by a terrible cyclone on Friday night. A number of houses were unroofed and destroyed. In the village Josh Wilkins' house was blown down and his two children killed. For three miles square everything was wrecked and ruined. Three miles from the town Mrs. Simmons was killed and Wash Jenkins, a dairyman over 100 years old, was caught beneath the ruins of his cabin and crushed to death. All residences and outbuildings on the Montgomery plantation were blown away and several persons hurt, but none killed. On G. Duncan's farm houses were unroofed and two families of colored tenants badly injured, two fatally.

MONGOLIAN AGGRESSION IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., June 4.—A monster meeting of the Fishermen's Association was held here to discuss the wholesale naturalization of Japanese and Chinese, for the purpose of getting fishing licenses. Several speeches were made. It is pointed out that fishermen are gradually being crowded out by Japs and Chinese.

There are thirty-one canneries on Fraser River, and although the biggest pack on record is expected to be made this season, not one white fisherman has been employed so far by the canneries. Japs and Chinese are taking their place. Native Indians also are being supplanted by Japs. Resolutions were passed asking the Dominion Government to refuse to grant licenses to Japs and Chinese, and to issue the same only to whites and Indians. The meeting was enthusiastic, and public sentiment is strongly with the fishermen.

REVOLUTION THREATENED IN PERU.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Semi-official reports continue to reach Washington from Peru, indicating a threatening revolution in that country. A letter received from Lima to-day represents an extremely critical situation in politics, and grave danger is apprehended of a revolution before the day of the Presidential election.

At the coming election it is to be decided by ballot whether Chile is to be paid a certain portion of the revenues obtained from nitrate beds. The agitation of the question, it is said, has aroused much of the old war spirit and further complications between the two countries are feared.

Nothing can be learned at the State Department on the subject, but both the State and Navy departments are manifesting intense interest in the departure for the Pacific Coast of the United States cruisers Charleston and Philadelphia. It is probable that the Philadelphia will sail from New York on June 15 for Callao.

EUROPE.

CHOLERA SPREADING IN FRANCE.

MADRID, June 4.—Despite the denials of the French local authorities the Spanish consuls in France continue to report the spread of the cholera epidemic at several ports. Four fresh cases, they say, developed yesterday in Marseilles, two in Cette and one case in Toulouse. Between May 22 and June 1 there were fourteen cases and eleven deaths in Marseilles.

ENORMOUS ROBBERY IN MOSCOW.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 4.—It leaked out yesterday that while the Czar was in Moscow recently the church of the Chudov monastery, within the Kremlin walls, was plundered of a vast amount of plate and money. The plate had just been used in the ceremonies attendant upon the reception of the Czar and had not yet been returned to the vaults where it was usually kept. The total loss is estimated at between 2,500,000 and 3,000,000 roubles. The burglars are supposed to have entered the monastery through the roof. They are believed to have been coached previously by some of the priests. No arrests have been made.

NEW AMERICAN MINISTER TO GERMANY.

BERLIN, June 4.—William Walter Phelps, the retiring United States Minister, presented at the Castle this afternoon his letter of recall. Immediately afterward Freiherr Marschall von Bieberstein, Minister of Foreign Affairs, introduced to the Emperor Theodore Runyon, the new United States Minister. Runyon wore the uniform of a general. In presenting his credentials he made a felicitous speech, commenting on the amity between Germany and the United States. In reply the Emperor said he recognized with pleasure the friendliness of the relations between Germany and the United States and was pleased to receive such a conspicuous American citizen as Mr. Runyon. Afterward the Emperor and Mr. Runyon conversed privately on American topics for fifteen minutes.
