SOCIETY OF THE WEEK.

LUNCHEON AND DINNER PARTIES WERE NUMEROUS.

Birthday Parties and Other Social Functions—News of the Engagements Creates Much Interest.

The week that is just drawing to a close opened very brilliantly with a bicycle party given by Mrs. F. M.
Swanzy. Luncheons and dinner parties were rather numerous during the week, while dancing was not at all idle. Three elaborate birthday parties were given and numerous other social functions took place. Two engagements—Miss Grace Dickey to Harry Waterhouse, and Miss Bernice Halstead to Dr. R. H. Reid, previously announced in The Star—also helped to keep things lively in social circles.

Next week the smart set will be very busy. Aside from the usual parties and social functions will transpire the Cooper-McGrew nuptials. It is whispered about that a number of young ladies will present a minstrel show in the very near future. A number of social entertainments are being arranged for next week complimentary to the party of San Francisco society people who are sojourning in Honolulu. Miss Harriet Lewers will give a dinner at her home, "Halekulani," Waikiki, to a number of her friends to meet Dr. R. H. Reid and Miss Bernice Halstead of Wailua. A special dinner, band concert and hop will be given at the Hawaiian hotel on Saturday evening.

There has been no rest during the week for the coterie of Californians who are in Hawaii for a five weeks' jaunt, whose personnel includes Mrs.
J. C. Kirkpatrick, Miss May Hoffman,
Miss Helen Smith, Miss Newlands, Southard Hoffman and Mr. Boardman.
On Saturday afternoon they were American man-of-war Alert.

Mrs. Wm. G. Irwin gave a dinner for the party on Saturday. Miss Clara Fuller, Miss Bessie Spaulding, Lieut.
Lansdale and Lieut. Safford, of the Alert, were also present.

Monday evening Mrs. F. M. Swanzy's bicycle party complimentary to them took place. A ride from the Swanzy home to the Irwin residence in Waikiki and back had the effect of putting the entire party in the best of spirits. A musicale, followed later by a dance in the drawing room, made up a most delightful evening. A delicious supper was served. Scarlet carnations, yellow flowers and an abundant of palms harmonized by artistic decorating throughout the house, gave a most pleasing effect. Those on the spin to Waikiki were: Mrs. Gunn, Miss Millard, Miss Hoffman, Miss Smith,
Miss Neumann, Miss Stansbury, Miss Lita Wilder, Miss Fuller, Miss Young,
Ned Macfarlane, S. Hoffman, Mr.
Boardman, Robert W. Atkinson, W. C.
Parke, C. H. W. Norton, W. H. Cornwell, H. W. Mist, J. O. Carter, Jr., G.
C. Potter and Armstrong Smith. At the house were: Mr. and Mrs. Herman Foeke, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Miss Newlands, Miss Mary Carter, Miss May Damon, the Misses Zoe and May Atkinson, Miss McGrew, Miss Bessie Dickson, Miss Adele Widdfield, Dr.
Cooper, Dr. Murray, A. St. M. Mackintosh, Oscar Herold and B. L. Marx.

On Tuesday night the party were informally entertained at a canoeing party in Waikiki by R. W. Atkinson, Lieut. Lansdale and Lieut. Phelps.
E. C. Macfarlane gave a canoeing party in their honor on Wednesday afternoon. Tea was served at the Kitchen home. Thursday the jolly pleasure seekers went over the pali to Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Macfarlane's place "Ahi-manu," to remain until tomorrow evening.

The gathering of the Vice Versa club members took place on Monday evening at the home of Miss Lottie Pameloe. There were several substitutes among the gentlemen players.

Miss K. Ward captured the ladies' trophy and Edwin Paris, by his expert playing at euchre, came into possession of the gentleman's prize. The club meets fortnightly.

The marriage of Miss Kate McGrew to Dr. C. B. Cooper on Wednesday evening of next week at the Episcopal church is the leading society event thus far of the new year. Miss May Damon will be one of Miss McGrew's bridesmaids, in place of Miss Bessie Spaulding, who has been sickly for some time past. The other bridesmaids are Miss Adele Widdfield, Miss Gay, Miss Emily Halstead, Miss Gay, of Kauai, and Miss Fuller. Dr. Raymond will be best man. Dr. Cooper and his bride (as it will be then) are booked to sail on the Monowai on April 1 for San Francisco, on their honeymoon.

Miss McGrew and Dr. Cooper were entertained at dinner on Wednesday evening at the Waikiki home of President and Mrs. Dole. Those at the table were Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Ballou, Mrs.
O. P. Emerson, Miss May Atkinson,
Messrs. Andrew Adams, B. L. Marx.

At Miss Clara Fuller's luncheon on Saturday for Miss McGrew were present: Miss Edith Mist, Miss Sadie Carter, Miss Adele Widdfield, Miss Bessie Spaulding, Miss Dickson, Miss Damon,
Miss Lewers and Miss Pauahi Judd.

A party given on board the British bark Routenbeck last evening by Capt. Rodgers was a thoroughly enjoyable affair. About twenty-eight couples were present.

Minister of Finance and Mrs. S. M.
Damon will entertain at a chowder party at Moanalua this afternoon. The guests will go down by special train.

Mrs. Fuller, wife of Capt. John Fuller, which were present twelve ladies. The luncheon was complimentary to Mrs.
Webber, of Massachusetts, and Miss Maxwell.

Mrs. J. S. Walker is with the Hoffman party at H. R. Macfarlane's "Ahi-manu" home. She will return to the city tomorrow.

Miss Emily Halstead of Wailua, is a guest of Mrs. Hobron.

PETITIONS TO MINISTER THE MAUI MURDER CASE

DIVERGING VIEWS ON ROADS IN KONA DISTRICT.

The Coffee District Receives a Good Supply of Rain—Citizens' Guard for Kona—Road Work Progressing.

Kona, Hawaii, March 18.
After several weeks of absence the rain god has paid a well received visit to Kona. The down pour on the evening of the 13th being especially heavy, and, at Hookea, retarding the freight landing operations.

The Japanese landing puzzle has been the incentive to the mooted foundation of a Citizens' Guard company from both districts of Kona. A paper is being circulated and it is likely that in a short time the desirable adjunct to property defence will be in evidence—if needed.

Japs are taking up land, generally by lease, very rapidly in S. Kona. The average rental per acre being four dollars—high perhaps, but coffee lands are not being pushed by owners even at this pumped-up rental.

J. Gaspar has built a large and commodious warehouse and is laying a tramway from the new landing at Kealakua Bay to new road.

Howard Bryant and F. Puetow, rode over from Kohala on the 14th and are visiting the Greenwell family at Kalu-Kalu.

C. G. Gilhus, who recently resigned from Paia plantation sub-management is now here and making preparations for building upon his coffee plantation —started last year.

Thos. Hinds is hauling lumber for a new residence at Kaawalo mauka; he has about fifty acres cleared and seed beds planted.

School house at Alae is not yet occupied, minor matters remaining to be completed by the contractor.

In spite of the growlers and threats of damage suits for mythical injuries and wounded vanity, and in this connection the following are to be noted:
One has seen eighteen days of life and has two signatures; the other obtained over forty signatures in a few hours.

PETITION.

"The present condition of the road being built in Central Kona makes it dangerous to the traveling public. At the hills of Onuhi and Hokokano the pass is so narrow as to render it unsafe to life and property.

"We, therefore, residents of Central Kona, respectfully demand that a safe pass be made for the public during the construction of said road.

"Trusting the above will meet with your immediate attention."

"J. D. Paris, Richard Roe."

"Hon. J. A. King, Minister of the Interior."

"The undersigned inhabitants of Kona, Hawaii, respectfully petition you to ignore any protests in the matter of retarding or hindering the contractors now engaged by your department, upon or in public road work construction in Kona.

"And assure you that still further extension of traffic facilities is desired by all fair minded residents.

"We feel it is a duty to our section to aid the difficult work now in progress and to repudiate the attacks on progressive measures—resorted to by a few shell-back opponents."

"J. Todd, A. L. Greenwell, Thos.
Hind, J. D. Ackerman, R. Wasman, H.
Weeks and thirty-five others."

Contractor McDougal, who has about five miles of road building on hand, says that he has done and is still willing to do anything reasonable in way of temporary passages—and 99-100 of Kona people support his statement.

C. D. Miller, now manager at Kala-hiki plantation has begun drastic reforms and in so doing has rooted up a large number of weakly coffee trees planted by his predecessor. He says their location is wrong and is now building on mauka lands of about 1300 feet elevation.

J. Batchelder, the official weigh-man, is around Kona testing scales.

"LIGHT RUNNING DOMESTIC."
Every lady has heard of this world renowned sewing machine. They have the lock and chain stitch attachments, with all the very latest improvements.
L. B. Kerr has been appointed sole agent for the Islands, as well as for the "Wheeler and Wilson" machines, and keeps a full supply of machine fittings, needles, etc., etc.

FINE SHIRTS.

Best American and Japanese make of shirts at K. Furuya's.

Success in business depends upon success in advertising.

"NOW IS THE TIME."

At this season of the year good housewives are thinking of replenish-ing their stock of bed and table linen, and for their special benefit L. B. Kerr has imported a large and varied lot, which he will sell at prices that no competition can come near.

Hawaiian

Electric

Company.

The cleanest, brightest safest and really, in the long run, the cheapest and best light for use in the family residence, is the incandescent electric light. Safe; nothing could be safer. A few days ago a prominent gentleman of Honolulu came rushing down to the office of the Electric Company and said: "Give me figures for wiring my house, and I want it done at once; no more lamps for me. Last night a lamp tipped over and it came so near setting fire to the house and burning my children and I take no more risks." This is the sentiment of quite a number in the past few weeks, who have ordered their houses fitted with the perfect light. Just think it over and make up your mind that you want the best and safest light; send for the Hawaiian Electric Company and tell them what you want.

We have a complete stock of everything in this line and have just received a lot of the very latest designs in chandeliers.

A SPASM OF SENSE.

Now, let's have a short spasm of common sense. If people who have been chronically sick are so soon and so easily cured by Wampole's Preparation, why were they not cured by some of the medicines they took before? Because medicines are like novels and songs; once in a while a good one in tons of tons of poor ones. That's the reason and its reason enough. But what is this preparation made of that it should do what others cannot? The answer is simple and straight. It is made from fresh Cod Livers, the Hypophosphites, and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry Bark, combined in a new and scientific way. It isn't a lot of incongruous ingredients shaken together, but chemically united, so as to make one thing of unprecedented potency. It is no antiquated mixture—fit to upset the stomach of a Greenlander, but Cod Liver Oil (so far as that goes) with the taste and odor completely taken out of it.

Is pleasant to the palate as spiced wine, and it cures Fevers, Scrofula, Bowel Complaints and Wasting Diseases, by expelling the deadly germs and filling the blood with rich and healthy elements, such as nature requires. Try it and see what a remedy, that is ahead of the age, can do for you. Gives results from the first dose. Sold by all druggists.

THE HAGEY INSTITUTE

THE SOCIAL CLUB A FEATURE OF THE ENTERPRISE.

New Patients Constantly Taking the Treatment—Boon to Men Who Drink—Happy and Prosperous Graduates.

It has been some weeks now since the Hagey Social Club was formed and the good influence which it has had on the men about town is well known to nearly everyone.

There is not an evening in the week throughout the entire month but what a bevy of men could be found gathered at the club rooms. Some are engaged in playing cards, some are playing billiards, while others are grouped about in the reading room. Then again, there are many who like to gather on the lanai and chat with friends. Any of these amusements prove a great pleasure to those men who are fatigued with the day's work or troubled with business cares. An evening passed at the club house, nestled cozily on the Arlington grounds on Hotel street with its doors always open to all—and mind, there are many members who do not take the treatment—is a satisfactory rest for them.

A thing that is very pleasing to the management of the institute is that patronage still continues good. From fifteen to thirty patients are continually undergoing treatment. There are now two patients from the United States and one from Australia, which proves that the institute can receive a good patronage from the States when that business may be sought for.

Out of the first class of patients who received the treatment during the month of November, the total number of them are in good physical condition, are at work and receiving good salaries and wages. Besides this they are decidedly firm in their esteem and regard for the work of the institute.

A number of applications have been made and some acted upon for honorary membership by individuals who have entered the institute, not for treatment of any disease, but because they are thoroughly in sympathy with the work. Their presence and interest in the institute is very beneficial to the patients.

A considerable amount of interest is manifesting itself daily throughout the Chinese colony in the city. The work done in the institute for Chinese who have either taken or are at present undergoing treatment for the opium habit, has met with the most favorable results.

Everything at the Hagey Institute these days is progressing to the perfect satisfaction of the patients and management.

Deafness and Sensitiveness.

A medical scientist having observed that deaf mutes never suffer from sensitiveness—a fact which is perfectly well understood by those who have had charge of these unfortunate—the inquiry was naturally suggested to his mind, why this immunity from this distressing malady? After varied and exhaustive experiments it was decided that the absence of sensibility in the auditory nerve was the occasion of the entire freedom of deaf mutes from sensitiveness. He says: "In deaf mutes there is absolute deafness, or very great reduction in hearing, dependent upon the destruction or serious impairment of the function of the peripheral distribution of sound perceptive elements of the auditory nerve, in which process the semicircular canals are included. Both physiological experiment and pathological observation point to that part of the inner ear known as the semicircular canals as exercising a controlling influence over the maintenance of the erect posture and the sense of equilibrium. As these functions are frequently disturbed on shipboard by the rapidly changing motion of the ship, it seems probable that this has much to do with seasickness, if it is not the sole cause of it. A remedy which has been effective in a number of cases is an anesthetic applied to the inner ear by dropping. A preparation of cocaine is suggested.

Idle Waiting.

A late president of one of our colleges once said: "The habit of standing idle, waiting for dead men's shoes, kills the life in many a rich man's son. It is a paralysis of body and mind. I can pick out nearly every boy in this college whose idea of life is to spend the money which somebody else has earned. His looks, his acts, his talk, are infected with a dry rot." This was a harsh expression. But it represented useless lives, that lacked the vitality and healthful moral vigor that make men worthy of the highest respect and useful members of society.—Youth's Companion.

THE MODERN WAY

Commends itself to the well informed, to do pleasantly and effectually what was formerly done in the crudest manner and disagreeably as well. To cleanse the system and break up colds, headaches, and fevers without unpleasant after effects, use the delightful liquid laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs.

"Put Me Off at Buffalo"

The title of this well known song as well as the song itself emanated from the brain of an employee of the Buffalo Brewing Company. This excellent beer is on draught at the Cosmopolitan, Pacific, and Royal saloons. The interchangeable check system is found very valuable to patrons.

A neat advertisement is always attractive and will attract purchasers to your store if you put it in The Star.

AYER'S ARGUMENT.

If there is any reason why you should use any sarsaparilla, there is every reason why you should use Ayer's. When you take sarsaparilla you take it to cure disease; you want to be cured as quickly as possible and as cheaply as possible. That is why you should use Ayer's: it cures quickly and cheaply—and it cures to stay. Many people write us: "I would sooner have one bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla than three of any other kind." A druggist writes that "one bottle of Ayer's will give more benefit than six of any other kind." If one bottle of Ayer's will do the work of three it must have the strength of three at the cost of one. There's the point in a nutshell. It pays every way to use

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

The Mud Diet of Londoners.

There is nothing like dealing with large figures, and no doubt the statement by a scientific person that Londoners drink in the course of a year 1,000 tons of mud will appear to many to disclose a terrible and most dangerous state of things. Nothing could be further from the truth. A thousand tons of mud would mean perhaps about half a pound of mud to each person. It will be certainly not too much to assume that each half pound of mud does not contain more than two ounces of solid matter, probably much less.

Now, it is certain that in the course of three or four windy days in March each person in the air all day will draw in fully an ounce of dust, as much as he will swallow in water during six months. A railway traveler who takes a few hours' journey in dry weather has but to look at the state of his coat and of the carriage seat to form an idea of the amount of dust that must have entered his mouth, the most of which on touching the palate and tongue is converted into mud and swallowed. Thus, then, it will be seen at once how infinitesimally small and how absolutely innocuous is the daily portion of this 1,000 tons of mud swallowed by Londoners and how little cause there is for alarm in the array of figures piled up by the scientific investigator, who may frighten weak minded people, but they do not in the slightest degree affect the ordinary man or excite in him any feeling whatever, save indifference.—London Standard

ADVICE GIVEN CONGRESS

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE SUBMITS STATEMENT ON TARIFF.

Establishment of a Permanent Bureau by the Government Favored—Business Men and the Tariff—Experts.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The National Business Men's League, composed of non-partisan business men throughout the United States, has submitted to the Ways and Means Committee through John W. Ela of the Chicago General Council a statement embodying the views of the league with regard to the kind of tariff law they think should be enacted. Auxiliary counsels of the league are being formed rapidly in various States, and the membership already includes more than 1000 prominent and successful business men.

In the memorial they say: "While we understand that it is your intention by this revision to obtain more revenue and to protect American labor, we ask that its benefits and its burdens be spread as equally as possible and so as to foster general rather than special interests. We believe that the country has now had sufficient experience with tariffs to furnish a basis upon which revisions may be made more scientifically than heretofore. We will furnish you statistics as soon as we are able to get them into proper form.

"The league being in favor of taking the tariff out of politics, favors the establishment of a new department of the Government, to be designated as the Department of Commerce and Industry, and of a tariff bureau in that department, which, after the present revision, shall investigate and report on all complicated changes in the tariff before action by Congress; and we believe that this bureau should be composed of non-partisan experts of such character and reputation that their report on each schedule or subject investigated by them, will be conclusive as to facts and influential in decision.

"In such cases there would be few occasions for general revisions of the tariff which accompany the periodical upsetting of the business of the country for months before and afterward, and the tariff would gradually become a matter of economic science."

THEY GO.

The "students" have set out to return to Japan and the Government has justified itself in the eyes of the people. Not only has the Government acted rightly, but it has done a stroke of good policy, for this Japanese question was one in which people of such divergent views were interested, that many and many a new friend will have been obtained. A strong policy gains friends and wins the respect of foes. The crisis which had arrived demanded determined measures, a shilly shallying style of policy would have practically wrecked the Government, now it stands forward as a body which is by no means headstrong, but, on giving careful consideration, is determined to protect its people under the law and its officers have shown that they do not shrink the responsibility of their acts.

The weak-kneed, amongst the community, and the disgruntled will now run clanking about the awful things Japan will do. She won't do anything. Her Government, undoubtedly, will enquire into the case, but that will be all. The Hawaiian Government has the points of the argument and will be able to sustain them. The refusal to receive the "students" is no high-handed proceeding, but a strict enforcement of the immigration law, which was being ostentatiously evaded. Right is right and the country never so small no secondary or even great power can coerce it in these days.

One thing that has been clearly developed during this investigation, is that the fifty dollars clause in the immigration law has been over and over again evaded. The Government has stopped the influx of what is practically a pauper immigration. It will now be the duty of the Government to search out and punish those who have been engaged in the nefarious traffic. Of course the "students" are not guilty of any crime. They are rather sinned against than sinning. They were persuaded that they could leave the land where wages were ten cents a day and work by no means certain, to come to a land where, after a time, a dollar a day might be earned, and work was plentiful. The prospect seemed like leaving the desert to get into the Garden of Eden. But some one must have induced them to come. Some one must have painted the glittering picture before their eyes. Those who have acted fraudulently on the Japan side of the Pacific will undoubtedly be attended to by the Japanese Government, which is amply able and willing to look after its own sinners. The Hawaiian Government must attend to those at this side, and it is to be hoped that they will suffer the full penalty of the law, which is severe enough if the full amount of the fine could be collected. It is one hundred dollars for every fraudulent immigrant. In this case, as there are four hundred of them, $40,000 would be the somewhat comfortable fine, and in default there is a year's work on the roads. The law is very clear.

The result of the affair is eminently satisfactory. It has established a precedent and it has strengthened the hands of the Collector General of Customs. It has shown how careful the officials must be in admitting immigrants and how thoroughly they must be in their guard against possible fraud. Finally, it has decided, once for all, that the Government of this country does not propose to allow its Hawaiian, American, Portuguese and other European subjects to be driven to the wall by an influx of Asiatics, who would have undermined every path of labor, and in the end would have overthrown the Anglo Saxon civilization so carefully and so lovingly established here. The Government, as has been already said, has justified itself before the people.

GREECE.

The situation in Europe seems to be of a somewhat more peaceful aspect than it was a fortnight ago, but it is not by any means in a settled condition. The powers seem bent on granting autonomy to Crete, which, apparently, will neither satisfy the Cretan Christians nor the Cretan Mohammedans. For, as under Turkish rule, the latter bullied, browbeat and persecuted the former, so do they expect to be bullied, browbeat and persecuted in their turn. The Cretan Christians see that they are not strong enough to stand alone. Moreover, being people of Hellenic race, they naturally desire to become an integral portion of the Hellenic Kingdom, and thus increase its power.

King George of Greece has certainly made a success of his reign. The throne of Greece had for years been an uncomfortable seat and not a Prince in Europe wanted it. George accepted it on a guarantee from three powers that if there was a revolution and he had to fly, he should have an income of £18,000 for life. Three men of war of the contracting powers were always in the Piræus and the royal yacht was ready to steam out at any moment.

From those days all has changed. King George is a popular sovereign, as popular as any in Europe. The Greeks feel that their power is increasing and they want to increase it more. Should there be a general partition of Turkey, Greece would certainly have a share, and the provinces she would get are filled with people of her own race. This explains why the whole nation has been ready to answer the call to arms. Under King George's rule the Greeks have become united and the spirit of Marco Bozzaris and other patriots seems to have arisen once more among them. Hellenism has been brought back to vigorous life and has to be reckoned with in all consideration of the Eastern question.

Thus it is that Greece has been a very disturbing element in the diplomatic relations of the powers. But, as Mr. Balfour says, the dismemberment of Turkey will never be settled by the diplomats. It must eventually come to an appeal to arms. Russia wants Constantinople. England does not want Constantinople, but it dare not let Russia have it. If the Turk would only behave himself things might go on as they are for a few years longer, but he won't behave himself. He has gone from bad to worse until his case has become fairly putrid. Every power wants to avoid war, but with the fall of the Turk and his relegation to Asia, war is inevitable. The diplomats and their protocols and minutes will be thrust aside and the rifle and bayonet will settle the question for the next hundred years.

Attention has often been called to the condition of the Judiciary Building. It seems to be nobody's business to look after it, and the consequence is it is extremely dirty and altogether no credit to whosoever ought to take care of it. There is one thing about it, however, or some day there will be a fire and countless valuable documents will go up in smoke, and endless trouble will ensue. Near the makai door, right hand side, there is a hole in the wooden floor, about two feet square. Into this the janitor, for there is a janitor who sweeps and apparently does nothing else, daily sweeps the accumulation of paper and dust. People are constantly passing in and out. One of these days, a lighted cigar, cigarette, or a match will be thrown in there and—puff—away will go the building in smoke, leaving only the bare walls, and people will be wondering how on earth it took fire and will be hunting up incendiaries and electric light wires and what not. It is useless to shut the stable door when the horse is stolen. The Star throws out the recommendation to whosoever the business of looking after the building is entrusted.

HOW TO CURE RHEUMATISM.
Araga, Coos County, Oregon, Nov. 10, 1893.—I wish to inform you of the great good Chamberlain's Pain Balm has done my wife. She has been troubled with rheumatism of the arms and hands for six months, and has tried many remedies prescribed for that complaint, but found no relief until she used this Pain Balm, one bottle of which completely cured her. MARCH 19, 1897.

Nothing is so satisfactory and brings over a man that contented, happy feeling as to know that the little helps and conveniences of life are made especially for his comfort.

A recent invention is the Cigar Rest and Ash Tray, so constructed that it can be attached to a desk or table. Smokers will find it a very valuable device. A spring, similar to that of a clip, is forced on to the projection of the desk or end of the table, thereby making it secure. The cigar holder part is grooved just the shape of the cigar and allows the ashes to drop into a cup-shaped receiver, thus doing away with the detestable and unsightly cuspidor. There is nothing clumsy about it, it being made for that one purpose. It is handsomely nickel-plated and the price is 50 cents.

Bachelors and others who are fond of mixing their own lemonade or liquors will find that our shakers or mixers fill a long felt want. We have in stock several sizes to select from, according to the number of drinks desired to mix. There is hardly a drink mixed that is not better relished if a little ice is used, and for that reason you should buy an ice pick or Gem shaver. We have them.

Every now and then the police become very vigilant looking for dogs whose owners do not admire them sufficiently to pay the tax and present them with a collar with the license attached. We have a large assortment of dog collars in full nickel or leather with nickel trimmings, with or without padlocks.

"Built in Hawaii," "Assembled" Wheels, etc.

Honolulu is full of fads, and the latest is, Built in Hawaii Wheels. Quite a number of dealers are advertising such wheels for sale, and tell us that they are "all right," as they are "built" of parts carefully selected from all the "leading" machines in America. They also tell us that the "Built in Hawaii," "Assembled" wheels cost at least $20 more than any High Grade bicycle made. When you come to consider that $20 would be a good profit on a High Grade wheel, you can see for yourself that they either have a very poor idea of the price of a High Grade wheel, or that they are just in the business for the benefit of their health and sell at cost. The CLEVELAND is not an assembled "Built in Hawaii" wheel. No; we would be sorry to say it was. It is constructed in one of the largest factories in the world, sold all over the world, and acknowledged the leader of all bicycles. It is Honest Value.

Arctic Sea Temperatures.

In The Geographical Journal, which publishes the proceedings of the Royal Geographical Society, Professor H. Mohn discusses the scientific results of Dr. Nansen's north polar expedition, and particularly the temperatures of the water. In the circumpolar sea Nansen's expedition found below the 100 fathoms' level a temperature above the freezing point, also by about half a degree—i. e., nine-tenths of a Fahrenheit degree—and, so far as may be gathered from the available information, this temperature extends to the very bottom. However, on the north of Spitzbergen, that passage from temperatures above the freezing point to temperatures below it took place at a depth of 500 fathoms, and the warmer temperature was maintained to the bottom. The unexpected discovery of a deep sea containing water whose temperature is above the freezing point, in the vicinity of the north pole promises to explain a great deal of the life of the globe in a quite different way from what has hitherto been considered as the right explanation. And, by the way, it is worth noting that just as Nansen's greatest discovery in Greenland—namely, that its interior contains one of the poles of cold of the earth—was made notwithstanding that his thermometers were not able to show the lowest degrees of cold, so also the sounding apparatus taken on the Fram was far from being able to measure depths of 2,000 fathoms. But Nansen is the man to create means where there were none, and the sounding apparatus which was made proved to be of the most modern sort. It was made out of iron wire taken from an iron cable.

The Causes of Paralysis.

In a late number of a French medical journal a writer of note gives some facts on paralysis and its exciting causes which throw new light on the subject. He says that overexertion and inaction after a life of activity are the most prolific causes of this disease. In patients who have been busy during the greater part of their life time, and who, having made fortunes, retire to take life easily, paralysis is among the most hopeless of maladies to combat. Persons who are fairly active, without being subjected to undue mental or physical strain, are not likely to have paralysis. It is extremes of bodily or mental fatigue which are the predisposing causes.

The monkhood is considered in Switzerland an emblem of danger. It is said that this symbolism abides only in the Protestant cantons.

AN IMPORTANT LETTER

SHOWING HOW A SUFFERER FROM SCIATICA WAS CURED.

A Correspondent With Permission from the Author—Makes the Letter Public—It Will Be Gladly Read by Other Sufferers from This Painful Malady.

From the Orillia News-Letter.

The following letter has been forwarded us by the Coldwater, Canada, correspondent of the News-Letter, which we have great pleasure in publishing:

Coldwater, Sept. 25th, 1896.

A few weeks ago I became very unwell from an attack of Sciatica, and remembering that a while ago a well-known friend of mine, Mr. C. T. Hopson, of Fesserton, a few miles from here had been a great sufferer from this painful complaint, I thought it would be well to consult that gentleman as to the medicine he gives credit to for his relief and cure, as I was aware that he was now well and hearty and had ever since been in steady work among lumber—his regular business. He gave me the information required, and wrote out the following testimonial which he desires to have published in any way I think proper, hoping that it will meet the eye of many sufferers like myself who are anxious to get relief. I therefore forward it to you to publish:

Fesserton, Sept. 18th, 1896.

It is with the greatest pleasure that I testify to the marvelous benefit and cure that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills effected in my case. In the year 1892 I was taken very bad with sciatica. I was treated at different times by two doctors but dispensed with their services, as I found I was not getting the hoped for relief. I then tried different remedies advertised as cure for sciatica, but with no better result. Then I tried strongly recommended electrical appliances, but still to no purpose. I did not improve any and the pain was excruciating, and I began to lose all hope of ever getting better. I could not sit down or move about without suffering intense pain, and the only relief I could get was when I lay down with my legs stretched straight out and then the pain was somewhat less. I was in this position one day when I picked up a newspaper lying by my side and there I read of a man cured of sciatica by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Always having some more interest in proprietary medicines, and in view of the experience I had already had, I would not have tried them but for the fact that my wife insisted on going at once and procuring some. She got a box and persuaded me to take them. By the time I had finished the box I believe I felt better, so I kept on taking the pills and by the time I had taken six boxes I was entirely cured. I had been laid up for four months before taking the Pink Pills, and I shall continue to take them occasionally as I know them to be an excellent medicine. I shall never cease recommending them.

Yours truly,

CHARLES T. HOPSON.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic medicine, enriching the blood and strengthening the nerves, thus reaching the root of the disease and driving it from the system. They are beyond doubt the greatest medicine of the 19th century, and have cured in hundreds of cases after all other medicines had failed.

SUGAR FLEET.

Three vessels of the sugar fleet cleared this morning and will sail this afternoon if the wind is favorable. The Andrew Welch has in her 26,500 bags, valued at $93,461.42, the major portion of which goes to Welch & Co., and the remainder to Williams, Diamond & Co. The schooner Fred E. Sanders, Capt. Carlson, has 11,610 bags, valued at $41,962.44, consigned to Williams, Diamond & Co. The schooner Jessie Minor, Capt. Whitney has 5550 bags, valued at $24,914, consigned to J. D. Spreckels Bros. & Co. The big ship Semantha will probably get away Monday.

SULLIVAN WILL CHALLENGE.

CARSON, March 5.—A dispatch received here last night from New York saying that John L. Sullivan had declared his intention of again entering the ring and had challenged the winner of the big fight on March 17, caused a good deal of merriment. Both Corbett and Fitzsimmons are amused over the prospect of being challenged by Sullivan. They are inclined to look upon it as a joke.

CHURCH AND STATE.

PARIS, March 6.—In the Chamber of Deputies today, M. Michelin, Socialist, representing the Fourteenth district of Paris, introduced a measure to separate the Church from the State, and moved urgency for it. M. Darlin, Minister of Justice, opposed the urgency proposition and it was defeated by a vote of 323 to 152.

ALL ALONG THE DOCKS

WEATHER HAS MODERATED, ON THE KAUAI COAST.

Martha Davis Brings Heavy Cargo—Wool from Lanai—Mahukona Shipping—Vessels Off for San Francisco.

The Portland liner Mount Lebanon got away late yesterday afternoon. The schooner Grace Kimball arrived at Kahului on the 17th, fourteen days from San Francisco.

The schooner Aloha is receiving her first lot of sugar this morning. It comes out of the Waialeale.

The bark Highland Light went alongside the Pacific Mail dock this morning and commenced discharging her cargo of coal.

The Kauai got in bright and early this morning with 7011 bags of sugar. She reports that there are about 8000 bags left on Kauai.

The Kaena completed her maiden trip under her new master, Capt. Smyth, this morning, and brought in 575 sacks of sugar, besides a general cargo.

The Mauna Loa got in late yesterday afternoon with 3371 bags of sugar, 216 bags of coffee, 59 bags of awa and 26 head of cattle. She had a rather rough trip.

Reports from all sources show that the weather has moderated very materially along the coast, and many ports, inaccessible for several days, can now be reached.

The steamer Mokoli, Capt. Neilson, dumped 27 bales of Kahoolawe wool on the dock this morning. Mrs. Mary Ailau and Mrs. J. Dudit were cabin passengers, with four on deck.

The James Makee brought in 2500 bags of sugar and 230 bags of rice this morning. Capt. Tutlet reports that the weather on the Kauai coast has moderated very much and that nearly every port is now accessible.

The Waialeale is in port again, after a rough week of it on the Kauai coast. Capt. Parker don't exactly like being made a hero of for saving Purser Crane's life last Tuesday when the two were upset in the surf, but he has to stand it. Purser Crane is sticking close to the steamer. The Waialeale brought 2951 sacks of sugar. Her only cabin passenger was V. von Hamm.

The American bark Martha Davis, Capt. Soule, arrived in port late yesterday afternoon, after a smart run of fifteen days from San Francisco. She brings 1200 tons of general cargo, including 100 cases of powder. G. W. Mayhew is the only cabin passenger. Capt. Soule looks as healthy and happy as ever, and laughs at the report that he will soon leave the sea and enjoy domestic bliss ashore.

The Japanese steamship Sakura Maru is still anchored outside, where she will remain until tomorrow morning, when the immigrants will be taken to the quarantine station and the vessel will be cleaned and fumigated. She is fifteen days from Yokohama and brings 400 tons of freight and 317 passengers for this port. The examination of the immigrants will commence at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The brigantine Consuelo, Jacobsen master, arrived at Mahukona on the 13th inst, fourteen days from San Francisco, to Hawaiian Railway Co. Cargo: lime, kerosene oil, bran fertilizer and groceries. Consignees: S. G. Wilder & Co., Halawa plantation, Niihau Mill Co., Kohala Sugar Co., R. Laing and I. H. Mackenzie, and sailed for San Francisco on the 17th inst, with 450 tons of sugar, valued at $24,579.86.

Shippers: Castle & Cooke, Halawa plantation and T. H. Davies & Co.

INVENTION OF A SAVAGE.

A Strictly Scientific Way of Creating a Fire.

It has been less than 100 years since civilized humanity used many old devices for the purpose of obtaining fire. In this country, then, claiming to be "civilized," the tinder box, with steel and flint, was the apparatus most generally used. However, if there was no tinder box in the house, the old flintlock musket, with a few grains of powder in the pan, together with a few shreds of paper or greased rags, was considered a household necessity. Rubbing sticks together until they were fired by friction was the method used by the savages of that time in nearly all the lands of the globe.

There was one singular exception, however, to all of the above, as well as many other of the more common methods of "striking light," and that method was practiced by a rude tribe of savages inhabiting eastern Tibet. Curious as it may seem, those rude savages obtained fire on strictly scientific principles, which involved a wonderful knowledge of the properties of compressed air. The apparatus used consisted of a wooden cylinder 2½ inches long by three-quarters of an inch in diameter, which was closed at one end. Into this cylinder—which tapered off at one end until it was not larger than a common lead pencil—was fitted an airtight piston, which had a large, flat knob at the top. The other end of the piston was slightly hollowed out, the indentation being intended for the reception of a small piece of tinder, or punk. When this apparatus was in use, it was held in one hand, the piston being inserted with the other and about half way down. A very sharp blow was then given with the palm of the hand on the top of the large or knob end of the piston. At the same instant the fingers were closed around the knob and the piston instantly withdrawn. If everything had worked to perfection, the scientific savage was usually rewarded by finding that the tinder had been lighted, and a fire was assured.

Sir William Gill, the English scientist, who investigated this queer mode of striking a light, says that "it requires skill to use this fire producing apparatus, as well as a knowledge of the properties of compressed air."

Long before bicycles were thought of the name Remington stood for all that was good and reliable in the manufacture of steel parts. You can make no mistake in buying a Remington bicycle, for you buy the result of 80 years' experience. '97 models are the banner wheels of the year. Liberal options on saddles and tires. We wish to call particular attention to the Ladies' Remingtons—with full nicked guards—the richest and daintiest wheel on the market.

Singer Machines

The International Jury of Experts at the World's Columbian Exposition reported on this machine as follows:

"It has a positive motion obtained without gears or levers, avoiding vibration or torsion, and producing a uniform stitch at all speeds. This combination enables use of a shorter needle than is practicable on other 'liberator' shuttle machines. The peculiar formation of shuttle-race prevents catching or rubbing of thread between shuttle and race and enables easy delivery of thread, which is perfectly controlled by evenly balanced tensions."

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

For Colds, Coughs, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Influenza, and Incipient Consumption, no remedy approaches Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has long been the most popular and successful anodyne expectorant in Pharmacy, and is everywhere approved and recommended by the Faculty. It soothes the inflamed membrane, breaks up irritating mucus, allays coughing, and induces repose. As a family emergency medicine, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral takes the lead. For the relief and cure of croup, whooping-cough, sore throat, and all the pulmonary troubles to which the young are so liable, it is invaluable. No household is quite secure without

THE LARGEST STEAMSHIP.
The shipbuilding firm of Harland & Wolff, Belfast, is now building for the White Star line what will be the largest steamship in the world. It will totally eclipse the famous Great Eastern, until now the largest vessel afloat, and will be sixty-five feet longer than the great new German liner now in process of construction in Germany. This marine monster will be launched next January. In length it will be over all 704 feet, or more than an eighth of a mile, with a gross tonnage of 18,000. Speed will not be lost sight of, and sacrifice has been made in breadth of beam to make the new vessel a flyer. She will be named the Oceanic, after the steamship of that name which has for the last twenty years been running to the Orient. The Oceanic was the pioneer vessel of the White Star line and was always so lucky that the name is taken as a mascot. The new Oceanic will be fitted up in a manner in keeping with her ponderous bulk. She will be lighted by electricity and fitted with a complete fire alarm, telephone and ventilating system.

In the fall of 1893 a son of Mr. T. A. McFarland, a prominent merchant of Live Oak, Sutter County, Cal., was taken with a very heavy cold. The pains in his chest were so severe that he had spasms and was threatened with pneumonia. His father, gave him several large doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy which broke up the cough and cured him. Mr. McFarland says whenever his children have croup he invariably gives them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it always cures them. He considers it the best cough remedy in the market. Have you a leaky gutter? If you have, make it perfectly clean and dry, apply a good coat of No. 3 P. & B. Paint over the leaky spots; then take a piece of stout Manila paper, or a piece of common cotton cloth, paint it well on both sides; lay it over the first coat, giving the whole a final coat, and there will be no more leak there. Or if the whole gutter is bad, make it clean and dry, and apply a paste of P. & B. Paint and Portland Cement.

CARTER'S WHITE

IS STRICTLY PURE.

The Carter White Lead Company stands ready at any and all times by practical tests to prove that the Carter Lead will cover one-fourth more surface, and do it better, than any brand of lead manufactured by what is known as the old Dutch Process, and also to prove its superiority in body whiteness and durability.

We invite practical painters to make independent tests by carefully measuring surface and weighing the leads to be tested and then comparing results, which will in every instance prove that

Carter Lead will cover one-fourth more surface

The superiority of Carter Lead is due to improved methods and the putting into use the very latest machinery by which a perfect corrosion is obtained, and, consequently, when you purchase a keg of Carter Lead you get a keg of Lead that is perfectly corroded.

A keg of Carter White Lead is All Paint.

The new plant recently put in operation in Chicago is the largest in the world and the combined output of the Chicago and Omaha factories places the Carter Company in a position to fill all orders promptly.

There is more Carter White Lead sold than any other brand manufactured in the United States.

Ten Good Reasons

why you should

Use Carter Lead.

- 1st. The Carter White Lead is absolutely pure.
- 2nd. The Carter White Lead will cover one-fourth more surface and thereby save you 25 per cent.
- 3rd. The Carter White Lead will last much longer and look better than any other paint.
- 4th. The Carter White Lead Company is independent of all trusts.
- 5th. The Carter White Lead is much whiter than any other lead offered.
- 6th. The Carter White Lead is much finer and superior for inside or flat work.
- 7th. The Carter White Lead will take more oil than any other lead.
- 8th. The Carter White Lead is superior in body.
- 9th. The Carter White Lead works smoother under the brush.
- 10th. Twenty-five Test Boards painted during the year 1896 substantiate all of the above reasons.

This White Lead has been tried in Honolulu, and all that is claimed for it has been proven true.

AMONG THE HILLS.

Rosa Giovanni sat at the door of the ash man's hotel and looked at the faraway hills.

Rosa loved the hills as she loved God, and thought of them as she did of heaven. She had heard that God was great and strong and sheltering; so, she knew, were the hills. And heaven! That was far, very far, away, and it was hard to reach; but, oh, it was so beautiful. And the more she dreamed of it the more she came to believe that heaven was somewhere among those hills.

Rosa was the ash man's daughter. She lived with the ash man and his wife and their many weaned, brown children in the basement of a gray house on a gray street in the gray city of San Francisco. The poor little room in the basement had nothing bright in it. It, too, was dull and gray, like the house and the street, and when the cold fog rolled into the crowded room, as it always did in the evening, it settled about the faces and forms of the children and made them look pale and wretched.

"Evermore! Evermore!" Rosa had heard the word at Sunday school, and it haunted her. She asked the good sister what it meant, and she had smiled kindly and said it meant "always, eternally." Rosa looked at the sister thoughtfully, with her big, solemn eyes. "We have evermore babies at our house," she said.

And so it was. When Rosa, the little elder sister, had taught the last thin, brown baby a little patois and encouraged it to take a few steps, another wailing stranger would demand those offices. Rosa loved the brood of little ones, but she tired sometimes of their weak cries, and her thin arms and narrow shoulders ached from the burden of carrying them to soothe their cries, and her head ached woefully.

Rosa was a dwarflike girl with a well developed head, pale, olive skin and big brown eyes that would not permit you to forget her. There was a haunting earnestness, a wistful questioning in them, that you recalled sometimes in gay crowds where the hungry orls were out of place. They followed and troubled you as does the gaze of a dog that had lost its owner. There was an animal's pain in them and a human unrest. They reminded you of the eyes of a woman whom you can never forget, one who had looked upon the woes and meekness of life until she prayed to die. It was with such a prayer in her eyes that Rosa Giovanni looked at the faraway hills.

The two smallest brown babies were asleep. The others were playing in another room with children who were old enough to care for them. So the small, brown hands were idle for once. They lay crossed in the lap of the dreamer.

The great, green hills! How fresh and beautiful they look! Had not Nina, the neighbor, told her it was there the flowers grew, the dewy, delicate flowers which she had seen a countryman of hers selling at the place where many streets crossed? She had caught the breath of some of those flowers once, and it was sweet—as sweet as heaven, and the hills. Ah, to have some of them in her lap at this moment! To press her hot forehead against their cool softness and so forget that it ached so terribly. The half-closed eyes opened widely. She stared in a wild way at the hills. A resolve was being born, a resolve that sprang from her ignorance and pain. She looked at the hills. They were not far. Some one had said they were far away, but they had come closer to her. They seemed to be opening their soft, green arms to her. She would go. She would come back again to the brown babies, but she must seek that coolness and rest and the flowers.

She ran up the narrow street and among the cars and wagons at the crowded crossing. Nobody noticed the ragged little figure, for the haunting eyes did not seek their faces and challenge their curiosity. Those strange eyes looked past the hurrying people to the strip of velvety green beyond the roofs. She sped along the street, stopping not for questions. She could not be lost. Did she not know where she was going and was it not to the hills, which her eyes never left for a moment? She shivered, but not from fear. The fog had wrapped her about in its stealthy embrace, but she thought: "The hills will take care of me. They are warm and kind."

Her breath came shorter. She was tired, but not as when she left the cellar of the gray house, for she was not coming nearer to that way line of green at every step? Once she fell, but she drew herself up again and walked on more slowly this time. But the feverish light in her eyes had become a fierce flame. Her cheeks burned. The hills were coming closer. She could not walk much farther. They knew it, and they were coming to her.

"I found her lying across the curb. She was stretching out her arms on the sidewalk and saying something like: 'Ah, good kind hills! I've found you.' She must have been there an hour or two, for she was cold as the stones of the sidewalk."

The big policeman put the stunted form into the matron's arms. "Poor little lamb!" she said. "She was used to sad sights, but tears filled her eyes as she looked at the drawn, dark features and warped body."

After they had laid her in the snowy bed she opened her wandering eyes upon rows of clean cots, whereon she saw the faces of children. She looked at the motherly face bending above her, then through the window at the sunshine falling upon a waving line of green.

"It was true," she said, and the worn little face took on its last child's happiness. "Heaven is here among the hills."

The matron drew a sheet over the smiling face and they placed a screen about the cot.—Ada Patterson in St. Louis Republic.

An Interesting Cinder.

In the repository of the Royal artillery at Woolwich a large number of old, which is a very great curiosity, having been produced by the burning of £1 Bank of England notes when they were called in and cash payments resumed.

The issue of £1 notes had been for some time previous to their being called in at the rate of 100,000 daily. To burn this immense mass of paper money an oven was constructed, and the process of destruction was carried on, under the direction of officers appointed for the purpose, for 13 months, the issue of notes to the oven being exactly 144,000 daily. The cinder of the notes, which is of a purple hue, is enclosed in a glass case.—Strand Magazine.

THE TURKEY BUZZARD.

Ugly as He Is, He Figures In a Legend of Jamaica.

There is an odd little legend still told in the beautiful island of Jamaica attributing to a wizard the peculiar and ugly appearance of the turkey buzzard, which was once, so the legend asserts, a bird of rare grace and beauty.

Between this particular wizard and the turkey buzzards there had been a feud of long standing, but one day the former announced his intention of making peace with his winged enemies and invited them all to a banquet to cement the pleasant relations that were to exist in the future. The turkey buzzards readily accepted the invitation and assembled in due time at the abode of the wizard, where an immense cauldron, carefully covered, was boiling. Raising the cover, the host invited his guests to take a look at the contents, whereat each guest obeyed his invitation.

In an instant the cover descended on the heads of the unsuspecting turkey buzzards, who found to their cost that the cauldron was filled with boiling tar. With frantic struggles the poor deceived birds freed themselves from their painful positions, for they had thrust their heads deep into the mixture, expecting to taste unusual dainties provided for the occasion. Homeward they flew, smarting with pain, the glossy plumage that once adorned their backs and heads remaining in the cauldron, to the wizard's great delight.

The turkey buzzard is most repulsive in appearance, its featherless neck having a plucked effect which no doubt gave rise to the legend here told. As its name denotes, the buzzard is not unlike a turkey, but its dusty, unkempt appearance is a great contrast to our well groomed, dignified kings of the barnyard whose namesakes they are.

The turkey buzzard has, however, one point of beauty that deserves mention—his flight. He is the embodiment of winged gracefulness. He spreads his wings and floats, seemingly motionless, a black object against the azure of the southern sky, too far away for the watcher to note his ugliness. Without a motion of the wings he rises or ascends at will, a pair of dusty pinions resting on the sultry air. You watch him breathlessly until he descends, when the spell is broken, for repulsive and ungainly he stands revealed—the scavenger of the tropics.

Yet this poor, ugly, ungainly bird has his uses. Without him the south would be a sorry victim to fevers and diseases bred from foul festering under the fierce tropical sun. As a scavenger he is invaluable, and the law protects him as he plies the calling for which he was created.—New York Home Journal.

TWO LIZARDS.

One Was Mild and Gentle, the Other Fierce and Untamable.

My first two lizards had been captured, one in the Spanish Pyrenees and the other at Tarn, in France, where I called them the Spanish and the French lizards, but afterward gave them the names of Pedro and Pierre. I was surprised on the very first day that I occupied myself with their education to observe the absolute contrary of their characters and dispositions. Pierre, won over at once by the honeyed dainties I offered him, soon became accustomed to let himself be handled without trying to bite or run away, and to hide himself in my clothes, preferring the back where it was warmer. Pedro, wild and untamable, if one tried to catch him, withdrew into a corner and then stretching his paws in front of him, his eye glistening and his mouth wide open, hissing, springing at the hand that came near him, and, if he bit it, holding it firmly and causing the blood to flow, revealed a resolution that even impressed the young men in my laboratory.

I made a cage for the lizards of iron wire, open above, and having a large room in my country house into which the sun shone all day on three sides I put them in it. Pierre soon learned to leave his cage, to climb up to the windows by some rags I had hung to them, and passed from one to another, following the sun. In the evening he returned to the cage. Pedro, more stupid, tried vainly to get out of his prison, and when I put him on the ledge of a window in the sun let himself be overtaken by the shade, persisted for hours in efforts to get through the glass and finally went to sleep where he had been left.—"Affections and Jealousies of Lizards," by J. Delboeuf, in Popular Science Monthly.

The Mummy of a Pharaoh.

The greatest discovery of mummies ever made in Egypt was in the year 1881, when the remains of 30 royal personages were brought to light at Dier-el-Bahari, Thebes. One of these was proved to be the mummy of King Ramesses II, the third king of the ninth dynasty and the pharaoh of the Jewish captivity. This mummy was in a perfect state of preservation. The mummy case itself was of sycamore wood, plain and unvarnished, and without a spot or stripe of paint, something reckoned as unusual. The case was, however, carved to represent Ramesses in the position of Osiris. The crossed arms rested upon the breast. In the right hand was the royal whip and in the left the royal bow. The features were most delicately carved in the soft wood, and the whole was surmounted with the crown of upper and lower Egypt and surrounded by a carved representation of the uraeus serpent. The name of Ramesses was written in plain black characters upon the case, which bore no other text or representation whatever, strongly contrasting with the exaggerated dedications noted on almost all the other cases found in the same pit.

The mummy itself was carefully wrapped in rose colored and yellow linen of a texture finer than the very finest India muslin. In the different folds of this linen several dried lotus flowers and leaves were found. In the folds of one of the bands which passed across the graveclothes to keep them in shape was a folded papyrus bearing inscriptions which informed the reader that this, the mummy of Ramesses II, was concealed in the pit, where it was found at a time when a foreign army invaded Egypt. This quaint bit of information, which was probably written 2,000 or 2,500 years ago, is as plain as though it had been penned but yesterday.—St. Louis Republic.

Selecting Furniture.

The size and uses of a room must determine the kind and amount of furniture to be put into it. Furniture should be beautiful in itself and beautiful as considered in connection with everything else in the room. A piece of furniture good in design, material and workmanship is always beautiful when appropriately used. Let us be the first consideration. Make no purchase hastily. Have a definite idea of what is both suitable and good, of the needs of the room and the sum you can afford to expend. Prefer hard wood and good workmanship every time to cheap decorations. If you must economize closely, let fashion be neither the first, second nor third consideration.

RESEARCH CLUB.

Paper on Single Tax Question Read by Mr. Farmer.

The discussion of the Single Tax question was taken up by the Young Men's Research Club, which met with Rev. and Mrs. D. P. Birnie last evening. Edward Farmer, a teacher at Kaili-aina read the paper and the question was afterward briefly reasoned by those present, including Rev. D. P. Birnie, Tax Assessor Jonathan Shaw, Wood of Kamehameha, E. Benner, Mr. Case, Dr. High, J. T. Crowley, Ed Towse, William Travis, Charles Bon, W. J. Cranwell and others.

The single tax was rather unpopular with the young debaters. Many admitted that the theory was good but that it was not at all practical. Though many instances were cited in these islands both for and against the idea, the single tax question was considered in a much broader sense.

The club will meet with Rev. Mr. Birnie next month, probably on some Tuesday evening. Professor Wood will be the author of the paper, which has for its subject "The Probabilities of the Japanese and Chinese Races Dominating in the West." The recent Japanese difficulties in Hawaii will be involved in the discussion.

HILO HUMOR.

What is the matter with that man? I have seen him in all the four ends of Hilo within the past hour. He is a stranger in town trying to find a vacant house to move into. Last night he rented a mango tree, but that has since been secured on a long lease and he is again on the hunt.

MAY BE SARCASM.

There is some talk of starting a Portuguese paper on this island and the projectors are examining the plant used by the "Herald" with a view of buying it.—Hilo Tribune.

Benson, Smith & Co. desire us to publish the following extract from a letter of Chas. M. Gutfeld, of Reedley, Fresno County, Cal., as they handle the remedy referred to and want their customers to know what a splendid medicine it is:

"It is with pleasure I tell you that by one day's use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy I was relieved of a very severe cold. My head was completely stopped up and I could not sleep at night. I can recommend this remedy." A cold nearly always starts in the head and afterwards extends to the throat and lungs. By using this remedy freely as soon as the cold has been contracted it will cure the cold at once and prevent it from extending to the lungs. For sale by all druggists and dealers; Benson, Smith & Co. agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

Delicate Dishes.

If you get your money's worth you get your money back. We do not sell goods that are not worth the money. We buy right. That's the first thing. You buy right when you buy from us.

Lots of good things to eat on the Routenbeck, and they came to us. From us they go to you at the lowest prices you ever heard of. Copeland's English Peas are a delicacy not often found in this market. We have a stock of them, and they have proven to be the finest ever sold in Honolulu.

English packers also put up another delicacy for the table: Cod's Roe. These fried in cracker or bread crumbs cannot be detected from the fresh article and they make a delicious entree. The price of the goods is nothing compared with the quality.
