THE MISTAKE OF LENIENCY.

If the revolution of January 17th had been as thorough as the revolution in Brazil and Chile or as that of France in 1871, there would now be no debatable issue between royalty and liberal progress on these islands. That matter, at least, would have been definitely settled. An end would have come to plots and pretenses, of royalist leagues and intrigues, and the only grave question left before the people would have been as to the form of popular administration and external alliances. The right of the revolutionists to rule so long as they could hold their ground would not be seriously questioned anywhere.

Suppose Brazil had kept its Emperor, paid him a salary and let him be a center of plots against the new republic? Would not foreign powers have inferred that the new authorities were too weak to enter upon full control of the land and that they feared the effect of decisive measures upon their own political fortunes? If Napoleon III had been permitted to return to Paris after Sedan and had lived there in his own house, surrounded by his mischievous clique, laying plans to confuse his adversaries, would the credit of the republic have been worth a nickel in any market of the world? It is said that a woman who hesitates is lost. Is not the revolution that compromises with the enemy at least in danger of being lost?

Here in Hawaii, the mistaken leniency which enables the old Queen to hold court and work the wires of politics right in the face of the Provisional Government, has left a most incongruous spectacle. The stranger within our gates is often puzzled to know which of the contending parties is in power. He sees an American Commissioner arrive to enquire, among other things, whether the revolution represents an overturn of monarchy, and a popular uprising against the person of the monarch, and behold! the royal carriage of State is ready for the Commissioner to ride in if he will, and the royal Chamberlain, representing a Queen who still draws pay from the treasury, makes an official call upon him. Nor is that all! Royalist leagues organize in open day to oppose the new government, royal adherents are in office, royal colors are worn on the streets, royalist newspapers stir rebellious blood against the Provisional regime, and the henchmen of monarchy make their dangerous cabals. What respect, let us ask, can the world have for a revolution which stopped, as if in fear of results, of its own complete success? What will Congress think of taking a country upon the offer of a government whose right to cede it is disputed on this very ground by the imperious voice of a monarch whose title to authority finds tacit admission in the fact that her name has not yet been stricken from the salary list or her supporters thrust out of office? Is it a mere truce with monarchy that now exists? If it is, then the United States would be right in considering the claims of the royalists in any matter which concerns the common weal? Is it a compromise with the Queen? Then where are we left when the Queen chooses to withdraw from compromise? Is it, on the other hand, the result of triumphant revolution that we have? If that is so then why in heaven's name is royalty allowed to dispute the government's rights, interfere with its plans, block its progress and scheme to crush its power?

O for the iron Cromwellian hand! O for the stern menace of a Gambetta or a Fonseca! O for the edict that would bundle the enemies of the country out of it and punish treason,—not sprinkle it with rose water.

BOURBON THEORIES.

In this paragraph of a letter to a New York paper, Guardian Davies sets down a curious idea:

Princess Kaiulani is, by constitutional right, successor to the throne, and that right can only be cancelled by the vote of the Hawaiian nation or by the default of the Princess herself.

This is the ancient Bourbon plea that a successful revolution makes no legal change in the status quo ante. It is what led Louis XVIII to take no account of the Napoleonic empire and to write his reign down, when he first came to the throne after Bonaparte's fall, as being in its "twentieth" year. The laughter of the world deterred most succeeding Bourbons, official and lay, with the one exception of Guardian Davies, from committing the same folly. In the case of the guardian, the full tether of the Bourbon pretence seems to have been reached.

How like a voice from the tomb of the French kings comes this refrain: "Kaiulani's right can only be cancelled by the vote of the Hawaiian nation or by default of the Princess herself." If that is true, then Dom Pedro is yet the real sovereign of Brazil, and Leo XIII is the temporal monarch of the mythical Papal States. Fortunately for good government the truth is not in it. By all modern precedents, in spite of the fact that the strange leniency of this government has allowed the ex-Queen to keep up a share of royal pretence here, Kaiulani's "rights" are now null and void. There is no longer a royal constitution here and no throne to succeed to, and what is more there won't be.

THURSTON'S ALLEGED LETTER

John F. Colburn tells the public by word of mouth that he has a letter from L. A. Thurston in which the Commissioner says that annexation, without the help of the royalists, is doomed.

Various people have wanted to see such a compromising message but Mr. Colburn will show the date line and the signature. Inasmuch as the statements which Mr. Thurston is said to have made would, if published, inspire the "Queen's" friends and depress her enemies, the refusal of such a faithful royalist as Colburn to give them out in black and white is strong evidence that the letter will not bear the construction which he wants the public to place upon it.

That some sort of a missive from Mr. Thurston is in Colburn's hands, the STAR knows very well; but we are warranted in the belief, while the ex-Minister of the Interior pursues his inexplicable course, that it is a very harmless and non-committal writing indeed.

ALL FOR THE ASKING.

Annexation means:
Homes for Hawaiians, located, under homestead law, upon the crown lands.

Votes for Hawaiians, guaranteed by the United States Constitution, a charter which neither the President or Congress can alter or abrogate at will.

Prosperity for Hawaiians, to be had from the influx of capital and the revival of trade.

Respect for Hawaiians, such as is due all who live under the flag of the richest and most powerful nation.

Will some one tell the natives what royalty offers them as an offset?

The Bulletin seems to have determined that the Annexationists shall not deprive it of a pet issue by arguing in favor of the suffrage. It much prefers to have the reformers take the opposite side and leave it undisturbed to make out a case against them. As a favor to a dying friend the STAR might be in a mood to withhold for a few days its own expression of equal rights sentiment, but it fears that the Annexation party, as a rule, cannot be restrained. The latter appears to have made up its mind to give the Hawaiians a chance at the ballot box whether the Bulletin likes it or not.

The continued talk about restoration insults Hawaiian intelligence. It would not be made except in the faith that the natives could be fooled by it. The idea that the United States, after sending an envoy here to assure the Provisional government of its friendship, would then declare war on it in favor of a rotten ex-monarchy and a battered old Queen, is unworthy of serious thought. The reasonable native must feel like kicking a politician who comes to him with such a puerile deliverance as that.

If the plotting Queen and her evil clan of intriguers were banished by the first steamer, there would be peace now and annexation soon. No other country in the world would let its enemies stay on its soil to scheme against its government. In any other land the Queen and her advisers would have been lucky, when a popular revolution burst, to escape its fury with their lives. What has become of the instinct of self-preservation in these islands, anyway? Has it run to seed?

When the roar of indignation at the act of pulling down the stars and stripes comes back on the trade winds, there will be no further doubt in the Hawaiian mind as to the strength of annexation sentiment in the United States.

The old slogan might be repeated these days for the benefit of the Queen and her advisers: "If you don't like this government, why can you pack up and get out?"

There are still some good offices filled by men who help support seditious leagues and newspapers. Turn the rascals out!

It is time to stop warming vipers at the Provisional hearth.

BISHOP WILLIS' VIEWS.

A Correspondent Subjects Them To A Calm Analysis.

EDITOR STAR:—In reading the many contributions to our local dailies on the absorbing question of Hawaiian politics, the writer feels constrained to regret the very plain dishonesty and lack of manly sentiment in the discussions of Civil Rights, which characterize the utterances of the pro-Royalists. It will readily be conceded by every judicial mind, that the advocacy of the "past regime" by its paid agents, sycophants and such like, must in this liberal age, and among tolerant men, be granted a certain degree of charitable forbearance by the healthier body politic; but when men like Bishop Willis, who pose in every community as leaders of thought, and in moral ethics the exponents of what is pure and lofty in the moral and mental life of man—does it not seem fitting that they should know truth wherever met and not contend against it? Should not they possess every day common-sense as much as, or more so, than their ordinary and less lettered brethren? Does Bishop Willis' self-confidence urge him to formulate a new infallibility, as instance his enunciation in the Bulletin of the 11th inst., "Missionaries and their families to the third and fourth generation should abstain from meddling in revolutionary proceedings in the countries to which their fathers were sent." How refreshing, how novel and pharisaical a doctrine, how saving, by inversion if applied to Egypt to-day.

Can the learned divine broadly assert, apart from physical nature, that succeeding generations, to the fourth degree, must accept and abide in the condition, constraint and disability, which as progress is perpetual, their forefathers lived under? In other words that a carpenter's descendants should not aspire above carpentry—that the moral, mental and political aspirations for progress and development of mankind can be retarded or checked by his philosophy? Such doctrine is preposterous, and coming from an admittedly educated source is simply disingenuous.

It is not the purpose of the writer to challenge controversy with the Bishop, but his proposition is broadly stated thus: I am a man of learning as the world knows. I admit that the logic of facts and common sense must govern all matters pertaining to human affairs. I know that all healthy minds will readily gauge the true inwardness of my position, yet as an Englishman in whom monarchy is inborn and ingrained, and as an adorer of royalty I must stand by my colors.

To conclude, Mr. Editor, if we must have royalty, I for one would say, let it be of the ring of sterling metal, but of no baser sort; yet far better than all a commonwealth of those who have toiled and bled, who have planted and watered and reclaimed these islands from the savage hand of man and nature, to whose industry and zeal every stone and every tree is a monument, whether they be in the first or fourth degree from the missionary fathers. Thanking you for your space. TRUTH.

New Ideas!

A merchant is nowhere unless abreast of the times.

We have gotten several new ideas through the observation of Mr. T. J. King, while on the coast and we propose not only to profit by them ourselves but to give our customers the benefit of the low prices that shall henceforth prevail in our establishment.

As time rolls on, we shall gradually unfold our new ideas to the mutual benefit of our customers and ourselves.

Wholesale and Retail Druggists and Tobacconists.

Believing that business will be better in the near future, we have not hesitated to keep our stock full in all lines. Take collars for instance: We have almost everything you could wish for. If you wear a standing collar, just come in and take a look at our "Narenta" or "Ardonia," or if you prefer a turn down collar, try the "Winnipeg" or "Goswell;" we have have lots of others, and can't fail to suit you. Cuffs in abundance, links or otherwise.

Neckwear in profusion, scarfs windsors 4-in-hands, and a special lot of "Boys' Bows;" suspenders in great variety, leather and woven ends, good strong, serviceable goods.

We might go on indefinitely, but space is valuable, and to enumerate everything we carry would fill a pretty fair sized Book. If there is anything you want in the men's line, just drop in and see us, and if we can't suit you, we don't believe any one can.

If you should want a pair of nice shoes, let us try a hand at fitting you. Did it ever occur to you

How much a man is like his shoes; For instance, both a suit may lose. Both have been tanned; Both are made tight by Cobblers; Both get left and right; Both need a mate to be complete; And both are made to go on feet.

They both need healing; oft are sold, And both in time will turn to mould. With shoes the last is first; with men The first shall be the last; and when The shoes wear out, they're mended new; When men wear out, they're men dead too.

They both are trod upon, and both Will tread on others nothing loth. Both have their ties, and both incline When polished, in the world to shine; And both peg out. Now would you choose To be a man, or be his shoes.

Are we to be, or not to be, a part of the Great Republic, seems to be the burning question of the day, and one we had rather leave to wiser heads than ours to solve; and while great statesmen are wrestling with this momentous question, we want to have a little "pov-wow" with you on some other subjects, that concern you as well as ourselves.

Has it not occurred to you that you've been wearing that old hat long enough! In these progressive times if you intend to be "in it," you've got to keep pace with fashion. No matter how otherwise well dressed you may be, unless your hat is the correct thing you bear a shabby appearance.

We have already laid in a stock of the Latest Hats of the coming Spring and Summer styles, in hard felts, soft felts and straws, and including a line of the celebrated "Fidora" Hats, at present all the rage in the United States. There is therefore, no necessity for you to hang on any longer to that old Tile that bears such a strong resemblance to the hat "your father wore."

Neckwear in profusion, scarfs windsors 4-in-hands, and a special lot of "Boys' Bows;" suspenders in great variety, leather and woven ends, good strong, serviceable goods.

DR. GOTO'S MISSION.

HE TALKS ABOUT HIS TREATMENT OF LEPROSY.

Some Interesting Experiments to be Made at Molokai—A Remedy of Herbs and Salts.

Dr. Masanao Goto, the eminent Japanese leprosy specialist, is preparing to make another visit to the leper settlement on the Island of Molokai. The doctor will leave Monday next for a month's stay together with Mr. David Dayton representing the government board of health.

Dr. Goto who has been secured by the Hawaiian government to treat the lepers under restraint has made a life study of the disease and its treatment as his father Shobun Goto had before him, and professes to have an infallible remedy, a portion of the ingredients of his medicine being secret. That the doctor is convinced of the value of his remedy is plain, and that his desire to further his knowledge of this most loathsome of diseases is quite as apparent by his accepting the work here instead of remaining in Japan where his services are in great demand at the leper hospitals.

As to the doctor's treatment of leprosy it looks very simple. He uses four kinds of medicines, demanding of the patient only abstinence from liquors, and insisting on the plentiful use of good nutritious food.

The medicines used are made from the oil of Tai Fushi seed, procured in China, and the bark of the Hichiyao a Japanese shrub tree, in connection with certain mineral and vegetable salts, the nature of which is kept secret. The internal medicines are given in the form of pellets while the same ingredients in different proportions and added to a sulphurated bath are used for outward application, the patient being required to bathe freely three times each day with this wash, to take the pellets at certain intervals and to rub the stiffened joints freely after bathing. That is the entire formula.

Dr. Goto is very enthusiastic in his work, and loves to converse on the subject. He says: "The internal remedies persistently combat the germs until they are destroyed, while the bath cleanses and heals, and good food produces new blood and strength, which is health. If the ravages of the disease have lost to the patient a finger or other member, that cannot be replaced; but the stiff joints will be loosened through the benign influence of new blood created and the healthful condition of the patient by the building up and rejuvenating of the blood tissues."

Upon this trip to Molokai Dr. Goto will remain there a month, and besides treating the patients will superintend the reconstruction of the Kalapapa hospital for males. Arrangements will be made to conduct some important scientific investigations also; and at the next visit these inquiries will be carried out as far as possible.

Among the more important experimental studies will be the planting of the bacilli of a leper into poi and other food in the effort to discover if the disease may be thus transmitted to others. It is the doctor's theory that food is the most common as well as most potent factor in the communication of leprosy—the word communication being used in contradistinction to inoculation or absorption by Dr. Goto, who believes nothing short of the eating of infected food or long fleshy contact can pollute. That the children of lepers if taken from the parents in time may be entirely free from the disease is another belief of the doctor's, who agrees that the child of a leper is not more apt to inherit or imbibe that disease from the parent than one borne by a common sumptuous.

Dr. Goto believes, however, as does Dr. N. B. Emerson who has made a thorough study of the lepers of these Islands and has written some valuable papers on the subject, that the most subtle infection comes from kissing, as the germs of leprosy invariably infect the nose and mouth through the mucous membranes; hence the necessity for separating the child from the mother who would naturally coddle and kiss her babe. In fact it is the belief of both these gentlemen that only through these sources are the matured bacilli, such as would infect, spread abroad.

A study of the secretions of lepers will be made and comparisons with the same from healthy patients will be noted.

Dr. Goto says there are nearly eleven hundred lepers now under government restraint on Molokai, among whom are a score or so of whites, several of the latter being women, whose cases are of such a light character as to assure their being cured within a few months.

"I require a year, as a rule, to cure a case of leprosy," explained the doctor, "sometimes it requires a longer time; but in such instances as these white women, a cure should be effected within six months."

Dr. Goto has been secured by the Hawaiian government to take charge of the medical department of the leper colony for the coming year, and in that time the doctor proposes to work some wonderful effects and, to use his own words, "show the world that leprosy may be effectually cured."

Business Depression.

Business is greatly depressed in this city owing to the uncertain political status. It would be much better, however, if people would buy of their home merchants instead of sending to San Francisco for about half of what they want.

Going to School.

A. F. Judd, Jr., and James R. Judd will leave for Yale College in July next. Albert has already passed his eighteen examinations without conditions, and James has passed about half of his and will stand for the remainder soon.

CHINESE CUNNING.

The Che Fa Gamblers Discharged for Want of Evidence.

Ah Pon and Ah Gun, the Mongolians arrested yesterday afternoon for conducting a che fa game in Chinatown were discharged this morning owing to lack of evidence. The gamblers were too slick for the officers, successfully making away with all direct evidence by throwing the tickets and other paraphernalia into a cavernous water closet; hence nothing was left for Assistant Marshal Brown but to enter a nolle prosequi.

An intelligent Chinaman, in an interview with a STAR representative this morning, said: "It is a deplorable fact that a half dozen lottery games conducted in Honolulu, each of which draw both in the afternoons and nights. Of course their work is conducted with the utmost secrecy and protected by a well organized sentry force who are on the alert scenting danger with the appearance of an officer in the vicinity of a spotter in their midst, and in either event giving alarm to their employers in a rapid and mysterious way."

"Opium smoking? Yes, more than there is in China with a district of the same population, but with all the precautionary measures applied, the stringency of the laws and the watchfulness of the officers the smoking of opium is not abated, and it would be difficult to stamp it out, as many Chinese have become so addicted to the habit as to be calloused toward fear of the laws against its use."

In discussing the che fa case disposed of this morning Asst. Marshal Brown said: "This was simply a repetition of the usual precautions exercised by the mongolians. In some instances they have made ready and at hand large flaring iron pans which contain waste saturated in coal oil and into which everything that might be introduced as evidence against them is dumped when it requires only a moment to ignite and destroy the whole. In other instances chutes into which their paraphernalia is dumped takes it out of the reach of the official grasp."

"The Chinese are very cunning and in their gaming seldom divulge secrets to any except those who are financially interested, hence it is very difficult for others to detect clues sufficiently tangible to convict."

As a matter of fact, lottery, Fan Tan and other games are as persistently conducted as opium is universally smoked, and it would be the greatest folly to expect to stamp either out, entirely, so long as the secret alleys exist in Chinatown or the secretion of the Chinaman obtains.

THEY LIVED A CENTURY.

Death of Two Aged Hawaiian Women of This Island.

C. B. Reynolds, Executive Officer of the Board of Health, yesterday issued burial certificates for two aged Hawaiian women, who died within a few hours of each other.

One was Haleola, who resided in Manoa Valley, and the other was Mahaloa, who lived at Kalia, foot of Queen street. Both were over one hundred years of age at the time of their death and both were living in the reign of Kamehameha I.

FINDING BETTER QUARTERS.

The Annexation Club will Move to Fishel's Building.

The Annexation Club has secured new headquarters in Fishel's building on Fort street, where it will occupy the rooms of the former fire police. The Club will move into its new quarters on the 24th instant. The government holds a two year's lease on the rooms and Mr. Fishel has given his consent to allow them to be sublet to the club.

The New Organ.

The erection of the new organ for the Central Union church is progressing rapidly under the skillful direction of Linus Clark. The pedal action, bellows and wind chests are all in place, and Mr. Clark is now putting in the keyboard parts. The workmanship is of the very best, and when completed the instrument will be an ornament to the church.

A Lesson to Renegade Americans.

"My politics stop at the borders of my country. Within its limits I will contend earnestly for those domestic policies which I believe best calculated to advance its prosperity and to increase the welfare and happiness of its people. But outside of those limits I follow the flag—in the right always, I hope, but I follow it wherever it may be."—Ex-Secretary Tracy.

Gabriel's Messenger.

A passenger on the Alameda for Sydney, who claimed to be a messenger from the angel Gabriel, spent a few hours in town while the leper colony was being closed, and he hoped to have John E. Bush's assistance in spreading the doctrine that the world would reach its millennium soon after the Chicago fair.

A Chance for Comic Opera.

"No, I shan't write a Hawaiian play," said Bronson Howard, the dramatic author to a STAR man. "I couldn't do the life and politics justice here, even in a comedy. What is wanted is comic opera of the Gilbert and Sullivan kind. There is fine material for it in the recent political situation."

Jockey Club Meeting.

The Hawaiian Jockey Club will hold a meeting Monday next when arrangements will be made for the holding of the June races. Horsemen are taking quite an interest and realizing that the time is short and their efforts to secure successful meet will be redoubled.

The Tantalus Road.

The road to Mount Tantalus is in fair condition, except up the ridge dividing the Pauoa and Makiki valleys where several landslides have occurred. Workmen are now making repairs.

THEIR APRIL MEETING.

The Fire Commissioners Transact Routine Business.

At the April meeting of the Board of Fire Commissioners, Andrew Brown was elected chairman.

A communication was received from Attorney General Smith expressing the opinion that there was nothing under section 23, rules and regulations of the department, to prohibit members from signing the roll of the Annexation Club and becoming members thereof.

A communication was also received from the ex-fire police regarding the sentiment of their claims.

The Chief Engineer announced that he had discharged two firemen from further service for incompetence.

B. Gallagher was discharged from further service for misconduct.

The Commissioners recommended Thos. Murrey for driver of engine No. 2, and he has since been appointed.

The Chief Engineer was authorized to inspect the property offered for sale by Engine No. 1, and report if there was anything which the department would likely wish to purchase.

The Commissioners will meet again on the first Thursday in May.

THE POISONING CASE.

Professor Lyons Making a Quantitative Analysis.

The report current last night that more men at the barracks had been poisoned proves unfounded. In the evening one man, who had been attacked with sickness the night before, was again seized with pain. He was attended by Dr. Rodgers who says the sickness was the result of the first poisoning, and was not serious. All the men are up for duty this morning except two.

Prof. A. B. Lyons, government chemist, made a preliminary examination of the stomach contents of the sick men yesterday, and is at present engaged in making a quantitative analysis, which will occupy several days. The Marshal yesterday placed in his hands remnants of the food eaten by the poisoned men.

PRIVATE CARLSON WORSE.

Private G. Carlson of Company A was one of the two soldiers who were unable to report for duty this morning. During the day he has grown rapidly worse and this afternoon was removed from the Government Building to the Queen's Hospital.

CURRENT FALSEHOODS.

More Royalist Canards Officially Contradicted.

Attorney General Smith this morning stated to a STAR reporter, there was no foundation for the rumor that Commissioner Thurston had written to the Provisional Government suggesting the appointment of six natives to position on the Advisory Council in place of six of the present members.

Another report, circulated on the streets yesterday by certain prominent politicians, to the effect the Provisional Government was now carrying on actual negotiations with the ex-Queen, regarding the political situation and the way to mend it, is declared by the same official to be deliberately and absurdly false.

Feminine Politics.

At the meeting of the Hawaiian Women's Patriotic league yesterday, a memorial to Commissioner James H. Blount, asking him to restore the "Queen," caused more than the usual amount of debate owing to its wording. According to some its construction was undiplomatic which was an egregious fault, while to the extreme royalists, the older women, the absence of Liliuokalani's name was an evidence that something was concealed in the word pile. Expressing their opinions openly that an effort was being made to ignore the ex-Queen in favor of some one else, the young "princess," probably, the meeting was continued under the most stormy conditions.

During the melee a score of the older women were on their feet at once and the President, Mrs. Macfarlane secured order only by adjourning the meeting.

In Judge Foster's Court.

Tom Ling and Ah Chuck were yesterday fined $100 and costs each for selling liquor without a license. Appeals were noted.

The cases of Ah Pon, Ah Gun and E. St. Clair came up this morning and were nolle prosequi.

The cases of J. H. Love and F. M. Ulukou were remanded to April 15th and 18th respectively.

Judgment was given against J. F. Bowler for $96.35, including costs, for rent due James Campbell.

In the case of Mrs. J. H. Bruns vs. C. J. H. Soper, garnishee, judgment was given for the plaintiff $23 and costs.

New Sidewalks.

The old tile sidewalk in front of Dr. McGrew's residence, laid eighteen years ago, is being torn up. A new granite walk twelve inches lower and a foot wider will replace it.

Arrangements are under way with property owners to extend a similar walk on each side of Dr. McGrew's, to the Arlington house and past the Y. M. C. A. building respectively.

NEWS IN A NUTSHELL.

Opium flash lights were seen last night on the Punchbowl cone.

The annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. will be held at their rooms this evening.

It is requested that all communications for the Board of Fire Commissioners be left at the Bell Tower.

The opium smokers are being summarily dealt with. Ah Chow was yesterday fined $50, the third within the week.

The Raymond tourists are enjoying themselves with daily visits to the various points of interest in and around Honolulu.

Professor Berger will take charge of the music in the rendition of the "Floral Queen" to be given at the Kawaiahaeo church on the 22d inst.

The Red, White and Blue League, after adding materially to its lists of signers, adjourned last evening to Wednesday evening next.

Another shipment of Japanese immigrants will be due here the latter end of this month or the first of next. They are all spoken for by the planters.

Two of the stowaways landed by the Alameda will be returned at the expense of the Oceanic Company to San Francisco; they are now on the Mary Winkelman.

Upon the return of F. M. Hatch, C. A. Brown will bring suit to recover $998.75, salary alleged to be due him during his suspension from the office of tax assessor.

C. E. Williams and Captain Clinie have arranged for a race to take place next Saturday at the Kapiolani Park track. The former will drive Capt. Jack and the latter Joe Duke.

Superintendent of the Water Works Andrew Brown is making some important improvements in the service, not the least of which is in putting in a number of additional fire plugs throughout the city of Honolulu.

Wants to Come Here.

A rumor comes from New York that E. Ellery Anderson, author of the forthcoming tariff bill, would like to be Consul-General to the Hawaiian Islands, vice Severance, whose term will shortly expire. Mr. Anderson is not pressing his case owing to the likelihood of annexation coming.

Bishop Willis' Move.

His Lordship the Bishop of Honolulu, has issued an Episcopal letter, intended for private distribution among the members of the Second Congregation of St. Andrew's Cathedral, which is designed to bring about the union of that body with the Bishop's own flock.

Deserters Arrested.

Two Japs were arrested under the desertion act this morning upon warrant issued on complaint of the superintendents of the Olowalu and Hecla plantations from which the men had taken French leave. They are in the bastille.
