MARINES READY, MAY STORM JAIL

United States Ambassador to Mexico to Rescue of American Citizen.

THREATENS TO TAKE ACTION.

Tampico May Be Scene of Open Defiance of Governor of State.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
MEXICO CITY, September 23.—(Special to The Advertiser)—The United States ambassador, Henry Lane Wilson, today declared he would not long defer definite action in the interest of W. C. Nichols, a citizen of the United States, a fruit-grower, now in Tampico jail.

HENRY LANE WILSON
United States Ambassador to Mexico, who threatens to land marines to save Americans from jail.

States, a fruit-grower, now in Tampico jail.

Governor Guerrero of the State of Tamaulipas has not replied to the United States ambassador's demand for Nichols' removal from the jail, and Mr. Wilson today said in the event of further delay, his action would be in line with the determination he announced on Saturday to secure Nichols' release from jail, even if it should become necessary to land marines from the cruiser Des Moines, now in Tampico.

The ambassador has been advised that Nichols is ill and that his life is in jeopardy as a result of his confinement. The charge against him is the killing of a bandit, Caballos, who had been wanted by the authorities for months.

STRIKE CLOSES THREE THOUSAND BUTCHER SHOPS

NEW YORK, September 23.—About three thousand kosher butcher shops are closed in New York today as a result of a general strike of the union butchers. The strikers demand a twenty per cent increase in wages, a twelve-hour day and recognition of the union.

STEAMERS COLLIDE, 115 PASSENGERS SINK TO DEATH

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
PARIS, September 23.—(Special to The Advertiser)—One hundred and fifteen persons were drowned today on the Northern Dvina River, Russia, as a result of a collision between two steamers, according to a dispatch from St. Petersburg to the Information News Agency.

The steamer Obnevk, with 150 passengers on board, was proceeding along the river when she collided with another steamer moving in the opposite direction. The Obnevk filled rapidly and sank in a few minutes, only thirty-five of those on board being saved.

CLASSIFIED SERVICE FOR POSTMASTERS

WASHINGTON, September 24.—(By Associated Press Cable)—President Taft is expected to issue an order at once placing all fourth-class postmasters into the classified service. This order will affect at least 36,000 postmasters throughout the country.

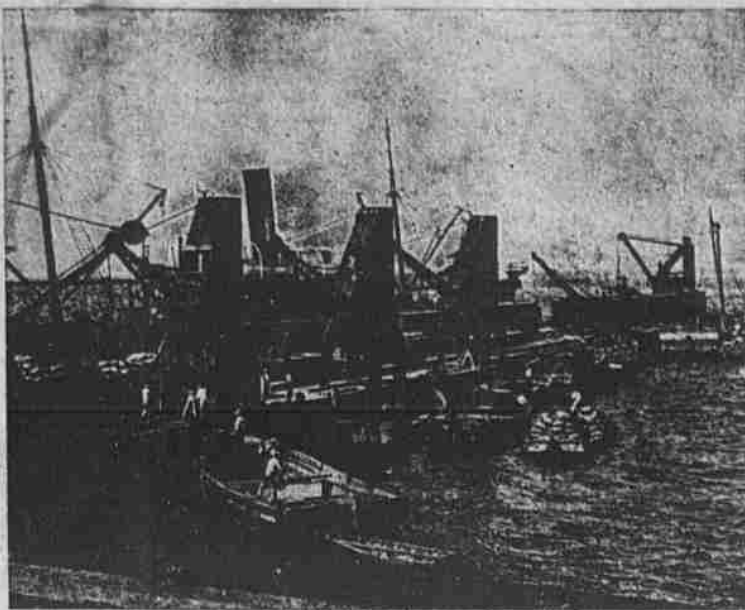

SISTER OF KING DEAD.

MADRID, September 23.—(By Associated Press Cable)—Princess Maria Theresa, sister of King Alfonso, is dead.

RIGHT IN NEW YORK TOO.

NEW YORK, September 23.—(By Associated Press Cable)—Automobile bandits held up a procession as broad daylight in a crowded street today and took $100,000 from it.

STARS AND STRIPES SAVED FROM THIEVES

Governor Wilson and Friend Stop Midnight Raid by Flag Bandits.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
SEAGIRT, New Jersey, September 23.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Governor Woodrow Wilson was alone in his study about one o'clock this morning reading a book which he had taken up after everybody in the house had gone to bed save himself, when three men in an automobile tried to steal the big State flag which flies from a seventy-five-foot pole in front of the house. The thieves might have taken the flag for all Governor Wilson cared, so deeply interested was he in his reading, had not Dudley Malone of New York, who was spending the night in the Governor's house, been awakened by the automobile chugging. From his bedroom window he saw the three men jump out and run to the flagpole. As they began to loosen the balyards, Malone raised his window and yelled. Immediately the men turned and fled. Malone's shout brought Governor Wilson to the door. The two men pulled the flag down and took it into the house.

FEAR THE LOSS OF THREE SAILING SHIPS

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
SYDNEY, Australia, September 23.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Great anxiety is felt here for the safety of three sailing ships outward-bound from Sydney and Newcastle, and reinforcements have been made at a high figure.

The bark Fido, 159 days out from Sydney to Falmouth is quoted at five guineas per cent; the Celtic Glen, eighty-seven days out from Newcastle to Iquiqui, ten guineas; ship Mount Carmel, 103 days from Sydney to Iquiqui, ten guineas.

ANOTHER REBEL GENERAL GLAD TO BE ARRESTED

TUCSON, Arizona, September 23.—(By Associated Press Cable)—The rebel general, Emilio Campa, and his staff have been arrested here. They fled across the line to escape the pursuing federals.

STANDARD OIL SAID TO BE VIOLATING LAW

NEW YORK, September 23.—(By Associated Press Cable)—Kenneth Adams, assignment clerk of the Standard Oil Company in New Jersey, testifying at the dissolution suit brought by the United States against the Water-Pierce Company, declared that this corporation was still assigning territories to subsidiary companies in violation of the federal law.

AMERICAN MARINES RESCUE FOREIGNERS

WASHINGTON, September 23.—(By Associated Press Cable)—Word received by the government today from Rear Admiral Southard, commanding the United States forces in Nicaragua, was to the effect that the marines had forced their way to Granada and relieved the French Golego, which has been isolated for fifty days.

DUKE KAHANAMOKU IN SAN FRANCISCO

May Swim in the Championship Races Before Returning to Honolulu.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
SAN FRANCISCO, September 23.—(Special to The Advertiser)—After spending more than a month since his return from the Olympic games in Stockholm, Sweden, in visiting friends in the Eastern and Middle Western States, Duke Kahanamoku, the famous Hawaiian swimmer, who won the 100 meters and the 200 meters races in the international contests, has reached San Francisco on his way home, and probably will spend several days here before sailing for the Islands.

It is possible that Kahanamoku may be induced to remain here long enough to give an exhibition swim in the championship swimming meet of the Pacific Association of the A. A. U., which takes place in the Olympic Club rooms Friday evening.

War On Verge of Breaking Out In the Balkan States

SALONICA STREET AND HARBOR SCENE,
Where wagonloads of war material for Serbia have been held up by Turkish Government.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
LONDON, September 23.—(Special to The Advertiser)—The relations between Turkey and Bulgaria have suddenly become decidedly critical. Twenty wagonloads of war material transhipped at Salonica for the Serbian government, according to a dispatch from that city to the Times, have been stopped by Turkish authorities.

Another dispatch to the Times is to the effect that an engagement is now taking place between the Turks and Serbians. All indications point to a unanimity of sentiment that Bulgaria is on the eve of a war with Turkey. Unless the conference which the Russian foreign minister, M. Bazonoff, is having here with British statesmen, are fruitful, the war party is likely to gain the upper hand.

The army is already taking active measures. Railroad tracks are guarded throughout their whole extent, detachments of soldiers are stationed at the bridge and regulation commissions are examining the frontier towns. Preparations have been made to require ample provisions.

FOUR-CORNERED PRIMARY FIGHT

Massachusetts Will Select Two Candidates for Governor Tomorrow.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
BOSTON, Massachusetts, September 23.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Each of the four aspirants for the Democratic and the Republican nominations for Governor were confident today of success in the state-wide primaries tomorrow to select all candidates for the November election, excepting presidential electors. Governor Eugene N. Foss, Democratic candidate, said he not only would defeat District Attorney Joseph Pelletier of Boston for the nomination, but he would be reelected for a third term in November. Mr. Pelletier declared he would defeat the Governor by twenty-five thousand votes. For the Republicans, Joseph Walker, former speaker of the house, claimed two-thirds of the Republican votes. Edward Everett C. Benton, Mr. Walker's opponent, says he felt sure of victory.

Unwarranted Power.
(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
SARATOGA, New York, September 23.—(Special to The Advertiser)—The Republican State convention, which is to meet here Wednesday, is to be an open one, it is said by the leaders on the ground. William Barnes, Jr., of Albany, chairman of the State committee, said today that he had no idea who would be nominated for Governor. "The assertion that I personally either have the power or the inclination to influence the majority of the delegates in behalf of any particular candidate is unwarranted," he said. "No man in the Republican party in this State has such power."

SUICIDE PACT STORY MAY BE A "FAKE"

LOS ANGELES, September 23.—(By Associated Press Cable)—The story of a suicide pact in which Miles Folson and Miss Thelma Bartee of this city were supposed to have joyridden to their death by intentionally driving over a high cliff, turns out to be a hoax and the police are investigating.

DIVE INTO SEA TO SAVE WOMAN

Doctor James and Chief Officer Hunter Plunge From the Steamer's Deck.

DR. W. P. JAMES,
Who risked his life to save a Japanese woman from drowning yesterday.

Diving from the forward deck of the P. M. S. S. Korea as she lay off the reef in quarantine, Dr. William F. James, superintendent of Quarantine Island and Chief Officer A. T. Hunter of the vessel itself, yesterday afternoon risked their own lives in an effort to save that of Sei Shibata, a Japanese immigrant woman, who attempted suicide by drowning.

The utmost excitement reigned on the big vessel for the hour during which time she was delayed as the struggling men swam back towards the ships until they could be picked up in the launch and brought to the steamer. The woman's leap to the watery grave she had picked out for herself at the threshold of her new home, was made so quickly that even those who stood on the same deck did not know what had happened.

Doctor James had just lined up the two hundred Filipinos on the port side of the forward deck when the woman jumped. The immigrants he was handling saw the crew on the opposite side run to the rail and heard the scream of a cabin passenger. They commenced to break from the line and the quarantine official attempted to get them back for muster again.

As the excitement increased, however, the Filipinos got beyond his control and made a break for the starboard rail. He went with them to learn the cause of the excitement and the first thing he saw when he looked over the side was the struggling body of the woman, with her hair streaming out on the water. The next moment he went overboard after her.

Everything after that happened so quickly that last night the doctor did not remember whether it was from the forward or the after deck that he had jumped.

The second after Doctor James had struck the water, Chief Officer Hunter went over the side and the two struck out for the would-be suicide, neither knowing at the time whether the woman had deliberately sought her own life or had fallen overboard.

Hunter had gone down the side on a rope, but slid too quickly and the friction tore the flesh from both hands, making nasty wounds that were so deep that his hands became numb, but he did not feel the sting until the excitement was over.

Doctor James reached the woman first and supported her until Chief Officer Hunter got there when they started to swim towards the looming hull of the vessel, whose rail was lined now with tense excited faces.

From the ship's deck the three figures in the water seemed very small. The water was quite smooth and warm and with the tropic shore for a background and the breakers rolling over the reef close at hand there was nothing after the first exciting moment to indicate that two men had staked their lives on a moment's impulse or that a woman had been plucked back from the very brink of the grave she sought.

The Chinese crew lowered ropes and ladders over the side and towards these James and Hunter swam with the woman between them. Both men were fully dressed. The customs launch Waterwitch finally worked over to them and they were pulled aboard, little the worse for their adventure, for the woman recovered shortly afterwards in the ship's hospital to which she was taken at once, and Hunter's sore hands will heal quickly.

The woman is said to have a husband waiting for her here and it had been noticed that she acted morosely during the voyage. Several times she complained to Doctor McAllister, the ship's surgeon, of illness. Just a few minutes before she jumped overboard, as it is generally conceded by the officers that she did deliberately, she was seated at the door of Doctor McAllister's cabin eating an orange that he had given her.

"There was nothing the matter with that orange, either," remarked the surgeon, quizzically, after the woman was on board again and under his care in the hospital.

SENSATIONS AT HEARINGS BY FISHER

Secretary Rebukes Witness for Language Used Toward Planters.

FREAR'S ACTIONS ARE UPHELD

Investigator Denounces Method of Operation of the Tax Laws.

(By Kahuku Wireless)

HILO, September 23.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Secretary Fisher and his party reached Hilo today after an exceedingly pleasant trip over the Big Island, during which he inspected the Volcano of Kilauea and the pit of Halemaumau, where little fire was visible. However, the Secretary expressed his pleasure at seeing the burning wonder and said he had greatly enjoyed his trip.

A hearing took place soon after the arrival of the Secretary, which was crowded by plantation men and settlers, homesteaders and politicians from all over the island. The greatest interest is being shown in the investigation being conducted by Secretary Fisher and the general impression is that the administration of Governor Frear has been in every way sustained by the evidence adduced at the various hearings throughout the island.

At the hearing today A. G. Curtis, storekeeper and postmaster at Oloa, was the main witness and was emphatically rebuked by Secretary Fisher for the extravagant language he used in speaking of the plantation interests.

Strong Words Spoken.

The special words spoken by Mr. Curtis which called forth the rebuke from the Secretary were where the witness asserted that the interests represented by the sugar planters had a stranglehold on the settlers and homesteaders and in their methods of dealing with these men exhibited a "swinish greed." Conditions on the Waiakoa plantation were brought to the notice of Secretary Fisher by Mr. Curtis. During his examination he asserted that the sanitary conditions there were bad and that the plantation should remedy the evil conditions in this respect regardless of the fact as to whether the life of its lease on the lands was a long or short one.

Mr. Irwin presented the Hualakau plantation cases, agreeing with his cross-examination that the stand taken by Governor Frear in regard to these cases was praiseworthy.

The sensation of the hearing, however, was the denunciation by Secretary Fisher of the operation of the tax law, insofar as the failure to make returns from public documents is concerned.

Testimony Favors Governor.

During the trip of Secretary Fisher and his party around the Big Island hearings were held in Kona, Waena, Waiohine, Pahala and at the Thompson homestead settlement and considerable testimony taken. At the latter place the settlers were emphatic in absolving Governor Frear from all blame for the trouble the homesteaders have had with the Hutchinson Plantation, stating that they were the joint victims of corporate duplicity. The testimony was all distinctly in favor of the stand taken by the Governor in connection with homestead cases.

The trip has been an excellent and instructive one and all members of the party are in the best of health.

ROOSEVELT SAYS PEOPLE SHOULD PLAY IN THE GAME

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
PITTSBURGH, Kansas, September 23.—(Special to The Advertiser)—A large crowd gathered in the public square here today to hear Colonel Theodore Roosevelt speak.

"Do you want an umbrella, Colonel?" a woman called out. "The sun is mighty hot."

"Oh, no," said the Progressive party leader; "you'll have to use a club to kill me."

In his speech, Colonel Roosevelt defended the recall of judicial decisions. He also referred to his tilt last spring with Representative P. P. Campbell, of Kansas, who expressed the opinion that the Colonel was "appealing to the bleachers."

"To use language that has been given some fame in your own district," said Colonel Roosevelt, "we intend that the people shall not merely sit on the bleachers and look at the game. We intend that the people shall be in the game. We believe it should not be a game between two gangs of professionals, but that the people should have the say as to who shall play."

Thousands Witness and Cheer Honolulu's Greatest Regatta Day-- Records Broken--Hawaii and California Break Even in Main Events

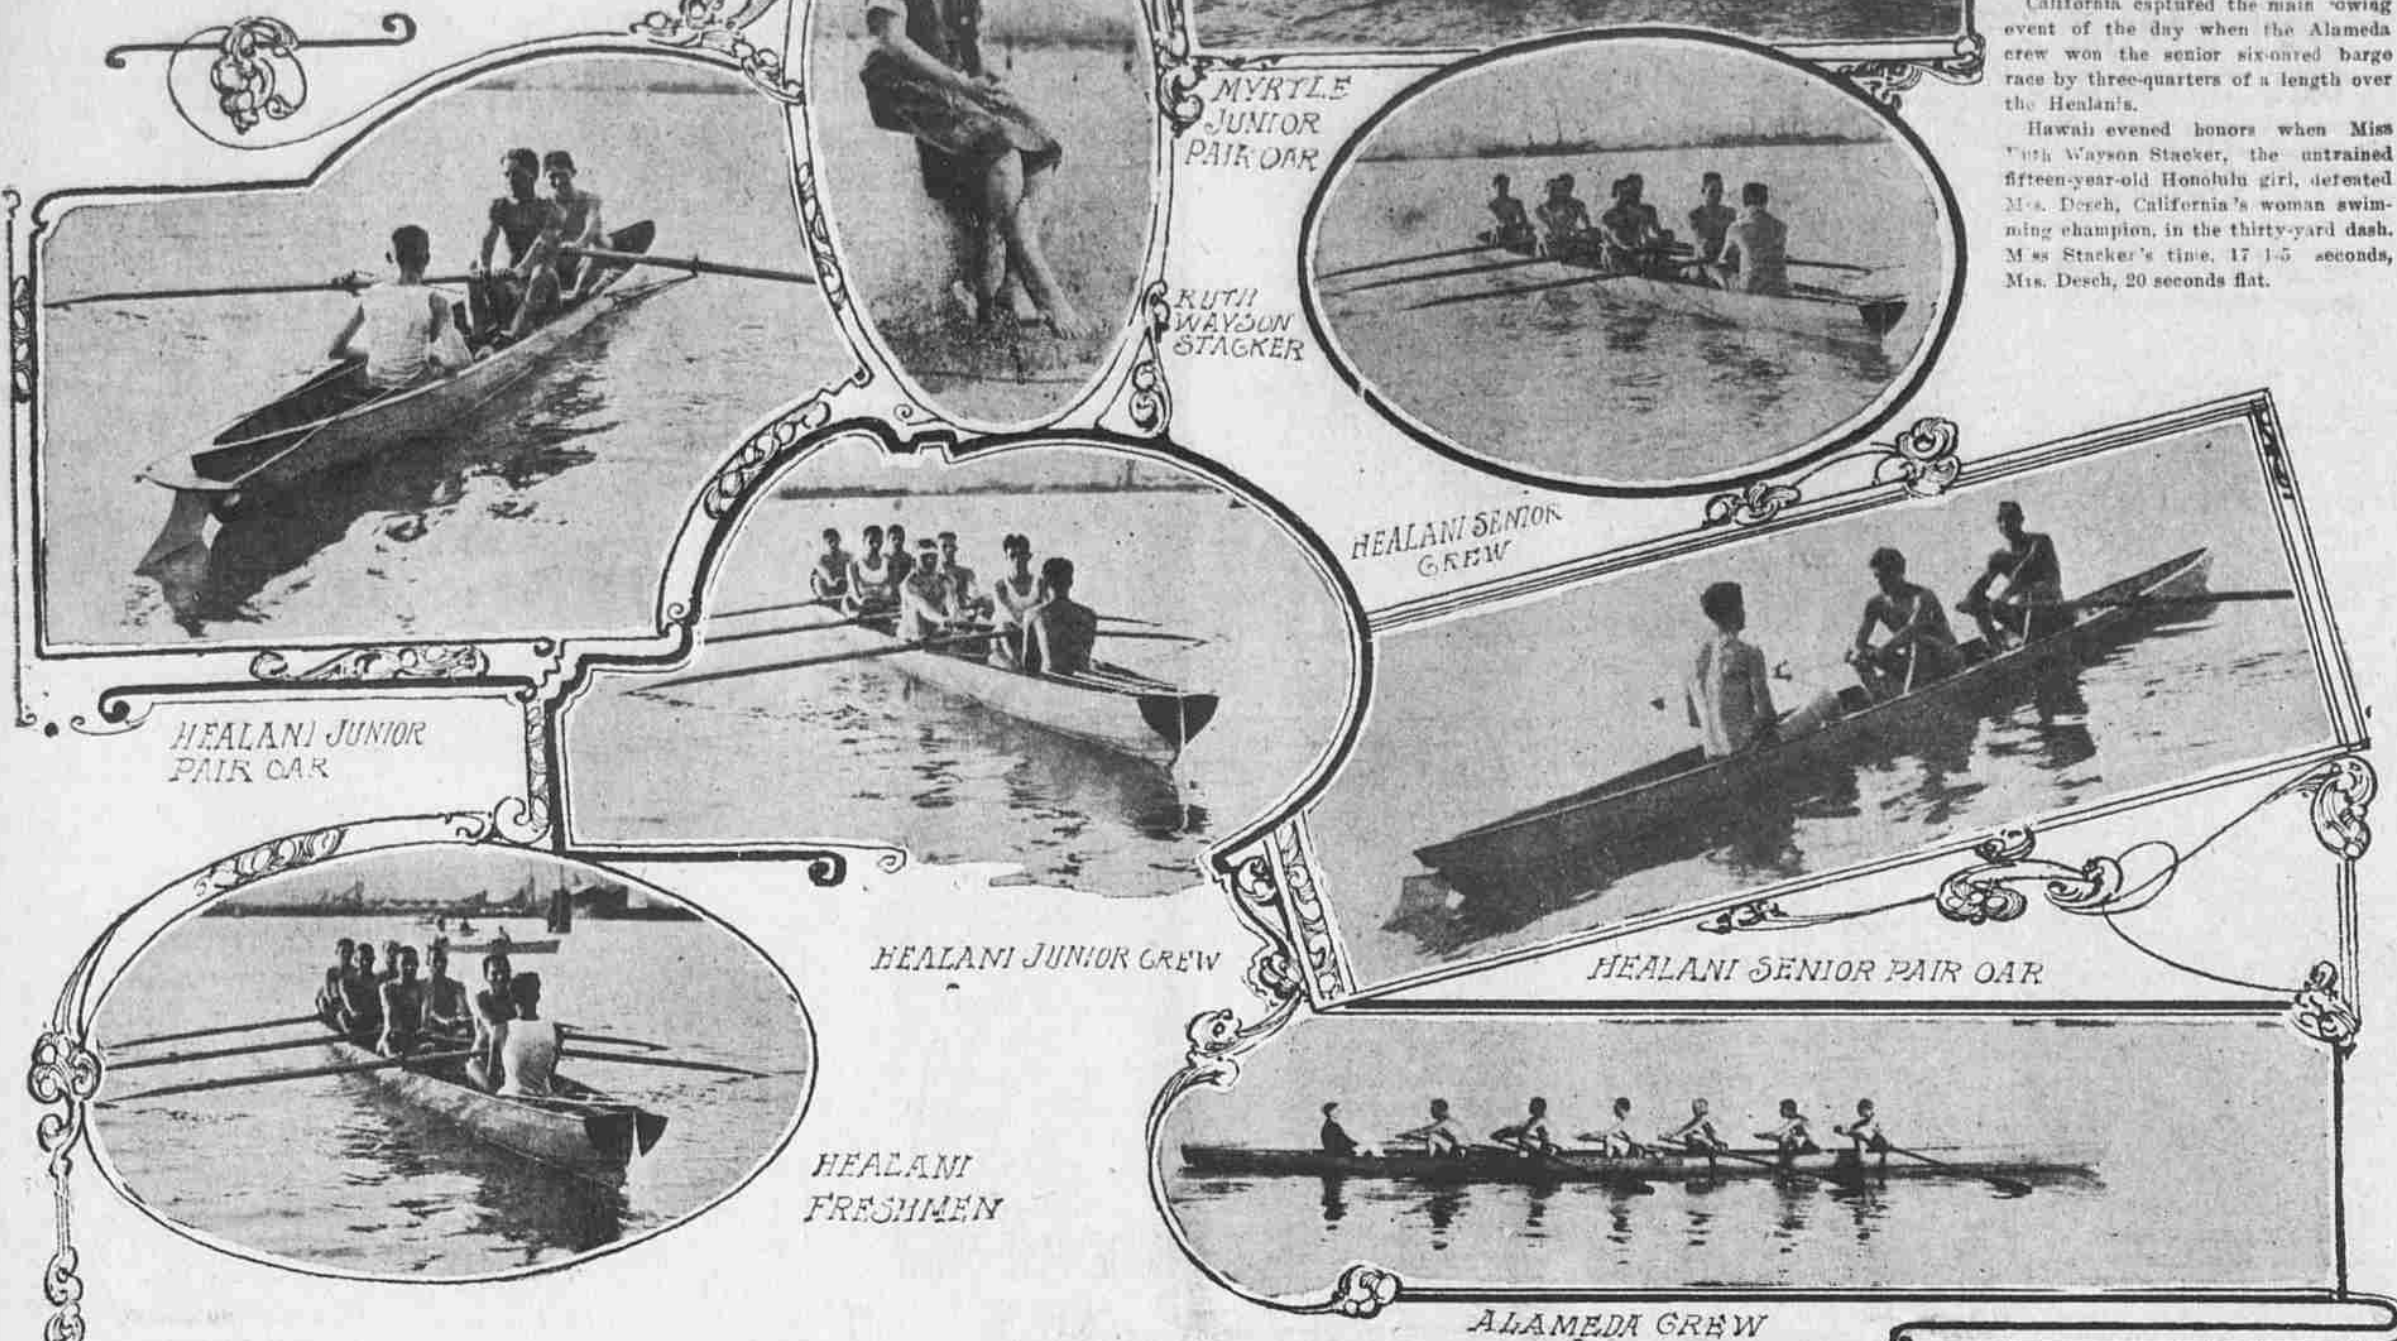

Dense Ranks of Interested Humanity

HAWAII BREAKS EVEN WITH GOLDEN WEST

Honors are even between Hawaii and California.

California captured the main rowing event of the day when the Alameda crew won the senior six-oared barge race by three-quarters of a length over the Healanis.

Hawaii evened honors when Miss Ruth Wayson Stacker, the untrained fifteen-year-old Honolulu girl, defeated Mrs. Desch, California's woman swimming champion, in the thirty-yard dash. Miss Stacker's time, 17 1-5 seconds, Mrs. Desch, 20 seconds flat.

Honolulu's seventeenth annual Regatta Day is now a matter of history and it must go down as the biggest and most successful ever celebrated in Hawaiian waters.

No greater interest has ever been shown than was exhibited in the numerous and exciting rowing and other events of yesterday. From a purely local affair of former times, the day this year assumed a national aspect for the first time, and the coming years will see this come more and more true in the best sense of the word.

The presence of the celebrated rowing crew from Alameda, California, reputed to be the best and fastest on the Pacific Coast, added increased interest to the day. Mrs. Desch's entry, in a special race with Miss Stacker of Honolulu in the thirty-yard swim, won by the local young lady, attracted femininity in greater numbers than ever as spectators of Honolulu's big annual aquatic day. The fact that Mrs. Desch, known as the Pacific Coast woman swimming champion, lost to the Honolulu entry was in itself sufficient compensation to local pride for the loss of the main rowing event to the crack crew of the Golden West. In more than one sense Honolulu and California broke even.

Thousands Out to See.

The whole waterfront was lined with thousands upon thousands of men, women and children of all stations and classes in life; the rich and the poor, old, middle-aged and young, cheered and waved their favorite colors side by side. The boat-houses were packed with people in holiday attire, as was the Channel wharf and other wharves along the waterfront which commanded a view of the race course. Ocean-going and coasting steamers, launches and boats of all descriptions by the hundreds, were filled with spectators. Even the Rapid Transit people awoke to the occasion and put a car on the short line that runs from opposite the Honolulu Iron Works to the Myrtle boat house, and this consideration saved hundreds upon hundreds of people a dusty walk to points of vantage.

It was a fine day throughout and no accidents were recorded, the nearest that came to the line of near-catastrophes being when Judge A. A. Wilder lost his big megaphone overboard, while George Turner's hand-some sombrero took a sudden dip and dipped into the briny deep.

Holiday Decorations.

Flags and bunting of every kind floated to the harbor breeze from the boat-houses, steamers, sailing vessels and small craft of all descriptions on the bay, while dozens of deep-toned and shrill steam whistles made things certainly noisy and ears uncomfortable around the finishing of the races. The steamer Sierra, which was tied up at her wharf getting ready to sail during the afternoon for San Francisco, was filled with people and, when the Alamedas won the main event of the day, her tooting pipe blew for all it was worth—a signal to all resident and visiting Californians that the sons of the Golden Gate had carried their colors to victory and glory.

There were slight drags of time after the first race was called on and for a time this condition of affairs existed, but Judges Charles F. Chillingworth and A. A. Wilder, long before the program had gone half way through, succeeded in bringing the entries to time in this particular, so much so that a good many races were pulled off eventually in admirably quick order.

Good Starts and Finishes.

The starts were all good and no complaint on this score was made or heard and so were the finishes even though a number were very close. The only slight disagreement which arose during the day was when the judges decided a dead heat on the finish of the Freshman six-oared barge race between the Healanis and Myrtle crews. It was a dead heat and the decision was proper. There was nothing else to do but decide as the judges did and they were unanimous—the representatives of the Healanis agreeing without hesitation to the decision. The judges would have ordered the race to be run over if the respective clubs had agreed to it, but while the Healanis were willing, the Myrtles were not, and that ends it for the year.

There was a trifle of a reprieve tilt between Judge A. A. Wilder and Bert Lightfoot of the Healanis over the dead heat race though this was long after the matter had been decided by the judges.

Judge Wilder Knew.

Senator Chillingworth was charged with being a "Punene man, anyway," by some one, though the Punenes were not concerned in the races at all, not having a crew in it.

After some words between Lightfoot and the judge, Mr. Wilder, in his usual grave but decisive manner, turned on the Healanis man and said: "Say, you were only a kid going around in short pants when I was running Regatta races in this harbor." This terminated the incident with a laugh, but not on the judge's part.

The Alamedas only competed in the senior six-oared barge race and won that, as everybody now knows and as a good many more felt sure the visitors would, long before the day.

Healanis Cause Surprise.

The big surprise of the day, however, was the way the Healanis walked away from their old-time rivals, the Myrtles. Healanis came in second in the main event; first in the senior pair-oar race, junior six-oared barge race and junior pair-oar race, while the best the Myrtles could do was to bring about a dead heat in the Freshman six-oared race with the Healanis and play second fiddle in all other races where these two clubs competed.

Fair Showing.

This is the second year for the Punenes, their first appearance being made here last year. Withal, the Maui visitors showed considerable improvement and will be in line for a better showing a year hence.

easily showed their superiority and greater familiarity in the handling of the outrigger craft than other entries. They won everything in sight and would have scored more victories had there been other races in which they could have entered.

The Outrigger Club was not represented officially in yesterday's races. The other novelty races of the day were not bad and added interest to the day's program through filling gaps in the time necessary for the trained rowers to rest and prepare for their races.

Judge Wilder's Suggestion.

Judge A. A. Wilder, who was an indefatigable worker yesterday on the waterfront is of the opinion that canoe whaleboat and other novelty races should be run over shorter courses.

"It is nonsensical to make the canoes go over such long distances and, for that matter, other races other than the regular racing shells. A canoe race affords a pretty sight and when run over a short course, say three or four hundred yards, brings out all the speed and catching phases and naturally excites out of the native boats."

This is a suggestion those interested and in charge of rowing races here should take up and act upon. It is true that some of the novelty races were too long and at times appeared monotonous. The officials of the event were responsible, in a measure, for the success of the day and they arose to the occasion in good style. The Hawaiian band also added to the feature side of the day by playing popular airs at short intervals on the Channel wharf where the largest gathering of people congregated in one body.

The Officials of the Day.

Judges—Sam Walker, Charles F. Chillingworth, Arthur A. Wilder.
Starter—George Turner.
Timekeepers—Ben Hollinger, F. C. Bailey, Gus Schaefer.

"I think I'll stick to the American flag and the grand old forefathers of the Republic. Things are too mixed in my district this year."—Kansas City Journal.

Story of the Races.

The races started promptly on time, at half-past nine o'clock, as exclusively announced in The Advertiser yesterday morning. This was a pleasing surprise to the thousands who, as a rule, are used to seeing everything in Honolulu start from half an hour to an hour later than announced.

An Easy Win.

The first race to be run, No. 5 on the program, was the twelve-oared cutter race, prize $50 trophy; course, from judges' boat to spar buoy and return. The entries were—1, Navy Cutter No. 1, entered by S. J. Lyle, and 2, Navy Cutter No. 2, entered by J. E. Hill.
No. 2 won easily, by about six lengths and with time to spare; time, 13 min. 49 sec.

Senior Six-Oared Barge (Sliding Seats).
Prizes: First, Hawaiian Rowing Association Perpetual Challenge Cup and Wall & Dougherty Cup; second, $15 trophy.

Course—From line between Railroad wharf and Sorenson's wharf to and around flag opposite Spar buoy, keeping the same on port side in turning, thence back to judges' boat. Boats to keep their own course throughout the race.

Entries—1, Alameda, entered by Alameda Boating Club; 2, Iwalani J, by Healanis Yachting and Boating Club; 3, James L. Torbert, by Myrtle Boat Club; 4, Punene, by Punene Aquatic Club.

Considerable time was lost in starting the race, the officials not being certain as to just where was the starting point. This was finally decided when a chart was produced and the line pointed out. The boats got away with the sound of the starter's pistol and never anywhere was a prettier and fairer start ever made. Down the course sped the boats, all apparently in even line until the Healanis pulled a trick away from the bunch and cheers from the hundreds at that clubhouse rang over the bay. The turning points were rounded and on the return course the visiting Alameda crew began to show their prop- er class and gradually forged ahead of the Healanis until the finish when but three-quarters of a boat length showed light between the boats. The Alamedas finished first, in 13 minutes and thirty-five seconds. The time was ten seconds better than that made last year. The Punenes and Myrtles finished together in a dead heat.

Six-Paddle Canoe (Championship).
Prizes—First $20.00 trophy; second $15.00 trophy. Course—Spar buoy to judges' boat.

Entries—1, White Bird, by Solomon Mokumahi; 2, Lei Hima, by Lei Aloha; 3, Aa, by Hui Nalu; 4, Lio Keokeo, by Hui Nalu; 5, Fort de Russy, U. S. Engineers; 6, Kalei, David M.

Aa finished first in 7 min. 15 sec., or 15 seconds faster than last year. Lio Keokeo second; White Bird third; Fort de Russy fourth. Lei Hima and Kalei were withdrawn from the race and did not compete.

Freshman Six-Oared Race.

(Sliding Seat.)
Prize, $25.00 trophy. Course—From judges' boat to and around flag opposite Spar buoy, keeping the same on port side in turning, thence back to start.

Entries—Iwalani J, by Healanis Club; James L. Torbert, by Myrtle Club.

It was absolutely the prettiest race of the day, both getting away together at the report of the pistol and going over the course "neck and neck" as one would say at a horse race. The finish was so close that the judges called it a dead heat. There was no possible way to see any advantage at the finish. Time 11 min. 7 sec. The time was made last year in 11 minutes flat.

Whale Boat (Four Oared).

Prize, $20.00 trophy. Course—From judges' boat to Spar Buoy and return.

Entries—1, Pilot Boat No. 1, entered by J. Manuwa; 2, Pilot Boat No. 2, by J. Kelikahi.

These boats were off about as leisurely at the start as when they finished. In fact, time seemed no essential to the crews. There was no great excitement over the race and even the time was not taken. Last year the whale boats finished in 19 min. 26 sec. Yesterday the time looked more like 25 min. than anything else.

Senior Pair-Oar (Sliding Seat).

Prize, $15.00 trophy. Course—From Buoy No. 10 to judges' boat.

Entries—Roger's Boat, by Healanis Club; Walker's Boat, by Myrtle Club.

This was an easy race for the Healanis, who won hands down, the Myrtles not proving dangerous at any stage during the race. At the finish the judge's pistol went on a strike and the pairs went past the finish line and kept on into the wharf slips up near the naval station. It was well that concrete wall stopped them, otherwise they would still be rowing with, no doubt, the Healanis still in the lead. Time, 1 minute and 26 seconds. Last year's time was 1 minute and 54 seconds. The writer has some doubt as to the correctness of the time announced in yesterday's race, however.

Junior Six-Oared Sliding Seat Barge.

Prizes—First, $25.00 trophy and H. F. Wichman & Co.'s Cup; second, $15 trophy. Course—Same as in Freshman Six-Oared Barge race.

Entries—1, Iwalani J, by Healanis Club; 2, James L. Torbert, by Myrtle Club; 3, Punene, by Punene Aquatic Club.

The Healanis again had no difficulty in winning from the Myrtles, finishing in 10 min. 54-5 sec. Last year's time was 11 min. 21 sec. The Punenes finished a bad third and last, though they gained considerably on the Myrtles toward the end of the course.

Four-Paddle Canoe (Modern).

Prizes: First, $15 trophy; second, $5 trophy. Course—Spar Buoy to judges' boat.

Entries—1, Good Times, by Solomon Mokumahi; 2, Kanaiaupuni, by Keowemahi; 3, Lei Hima, by Lei Aloha; 4, Maikai Fine, by David M.; 5, Lanakila, by David M. Kanaiaupuni, finished first with Good Times, second and, seeing that the boys got twenty dollars out of the race altogether, it is to be supposed there were considerable more good times afterward than the entry of that name indicated. SWIMMING---RACING---AVIATION AND REGATTA SPORTS

HONOLULU GIRL WINS RACE FROM CALIFORNIA'S CHAMPION

Swimming Contest Takes Place Before Immense Crowd and Miss Stacker Makes Fast Time for Thirty Yards.

California's champion woman swimmer was humbled in the water of Honolulu channel yesterday noon when an Island girl took the honors from her in a thirty-yard race. Miss Ruth Wayson Stacker, a more slip of a girl, defeated Mrs. Terie Desch, the champion of the Pacific Coast, the time being 17 1/5 seconds as against 20 seconds for the Coast champion.

The result of the race was a surprise to the mass of people who were fortunate in witnessing the struggle, although not much of a surprise to the friends of Miss Stacker, and particularly her trainers, the members of the Hui Nalu Club, which has already turned out the champion swimmer of the world in the person of Duke Kahanamoku. It was the more surprising because Mrs. Desch is a trained swimmer, a woman of mature build, while Miss Stacker is still but a girl in her teens and lacked the mature physical development of her competitor.

It was a splendid race and one of the most exciting events of the day was shown.

Mrs. Desch has a fine record on the Pacific Coast and won her laurels in many a hard fought battle with other experts of her sex. Clad in a single swimming garment Mrs. Desch was a splendid figure as she stood upon the float and waited for the signal to start. The slender girl who stood beside her was all activity as she also waited for the same signal. Upon the float with them were Mr. Friesel, the announcer, and Ernest Kopke, a former champion swimmer of Honolulu, as starter.

The Race Itself.

Mrs. Desch and Miss Stacker made the plunge together, coming up almost instantly. Miss Stacker just a shade ahead in getting to the surface. Miss Stacker used the crawl stroke, while Mrs. Desch employed the double overhand. For the first three strokes, the swimmers were even, and then the Island girl began to forge ahead. From the moment she struck the water until she passed under the wire Miss Stacker raised her head out of water but once to breathe. Mrs. Desch raised her head but once and then she was fully a length behind Miss Stacker. When Mrs. Desch passed under the wire and stopped stroking she was a few feet away from Miss Stacker. She swam over to the winner of the race and shook hands heartily and congratulated her, and then swam with long even strokes out to the yacht Charlotte C, where she was hauled aboard and covered with a sweater.

Miss Stacker was picked out of the water by the Hui Nalu canoe boys, who had also asked for the honor of taking her from the boathouse to the float.

Wins by Hard Work.

Dan Koaewannahi was Ruth Stacker's first trainer. On entering the customs service recently he had no further time to devote to his pupil, when Curtis Hus-tace and Newt Cottrell took up the work a few days ago and finished their lessons in a manner that made the Hui Nalu club feel certain that she would be victorious.

The champion and her friends yesterday expressed their appreciation of the honors in offering the use of their boathouse to Mrs. Desch and Miss Stacker. Without the convenience of the place the girls would have been at a disadvantage.

When the race was finished it was announced that the time was 18 seconds flat. It was stated afterwards that a careful taking of the time made it 17 1/5 seconds. Eighteen seconds is a little over Miss Stacker's best time in trials, and it was thought that in yesterday's race she had at least equalled her tryouts.

Mrs. Desch Dives.

Following the race, and after resting for some time, Mrs. Desch gave an exhibition of fancy diving off the Myrtle boathouse platform, which was a revelation to the spectators. Her work showed her to be thoroughly at home in the water and no feat appeared to be too difficult for her to do. She is a graceful and prepossessing young woman and her efforts were greeted with long applause.

HE DID NOT FLY, BUT TRIED HARD

Japanese Aviator Fails to Get Off the Ground—Crowd Is Disappointed.

"Too much Johnson" was one cause of the failure of Professor Doi, the Japanese aviator, to rise from the ground at Kapiolani Park yesterday afternoon, and another cause equally exasperating to the eight thousand people massed in the park was his lack of an engine with power sufficient to give enough revolutions per minute to carry the biplane off terra firma. Whatever the cause, the much-advertised flight of the only Japanese aviator was a dismal failure and the machine, partially wrecked and held together in parts with yards of strong wire, rested under a tent in the park, guarded by the owner and maker, there to be dismantled and sent on to Japan.

Professor Doi says he made a flight in California with the same biplane and engine and rose 700 feet. He says the engine caused the propeller to make enough revolutions to change the machine into an artificial bird. He says also that at no time yesterday did the engine respond properly and at no time were there sufficient revolutions to cause the machine to do anything but skate along the turf. The only time it rose was when it bumped over a gully.

The first attempt for a flight was made along the race course in front of the grandstand. At the conclusion of the machine's swift run down the hardened road it turned and swung into the crowd of people massed against the police ropes, coming to a sudden stop when the front wood guys attached to the lifting plane struck the radiator of a Hymobile auto in which Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lyon were seated. The auto withstood the shock but the biplane suffered. There was a scraping of piano wires and a crashing of wood and when the machine was drawn back it looked hopeless. So did the aviator, but he gave orders and immediately a number of workmen set to work to repair damages and announcements were made that in half an hour he would again attempt to fly.

Several attempts were made, the last ending in a dramatic collapse of the propeller which split into several pieces and flew over the heads of a crowd, luckily without injuring any one. With a last sad smile the professor viewed the wreckage, dropped his hands at his sides and then looked dubiously at chauffeur Johnson, whom he blamed to a large extent for his failure. Johnson, on the other hand, attempted to show that the professor had done something with the machinery which he shouldn't have done and that was all there was to it. The propeller had just gone pout! and Doi alone was to blame.

Crowds Wait and Wait.

At two o'clock yesterday afternoon the grandstand was partially filled with spectators. It looked like a gathering at an international meet with Japanese predominating. The side of the race course was massed with people, while dozens of autos found convenient places to line up. It is estimated that the promise of an air flight brought seven to eight thousand people to the park. By three o'clock the park had an immense assemblage.

The aluminum-painted biplane stood upon the roadway in front of the grandstand. The professor and assistants fastened piano wire guys, cleaned the engine, tightened screws here and secured wires there, and fussed about a whole lot. Finally the professor ordered several men to hold the machine and the propeller was given a turn.

With a whir it revolved rapidly, but it was plain it was not revolving as rapidly as did the propeller on Bud Murs' machine. The professor was not satisfied. He did something to the machinery and tried again. The result was no better. Several white machinists were on hand to give advice about the engine, and then the irrepressible Johnson batted in.

He told the aviator that his engine was too light. It wouldn't make his machine fly, and he didn't believe the aviator had ever flown, anyway. Without asking for leave, Johnson began tinkering with the machine. He removed cups and caps and screwed this and loosened that, let gasoline drip out and put more oil in and did a heap of talking.

Kills Engine Only.

Any one who thought he knew something about aviation, even though he had never seen a biplane in flight, had some advice to give. At last the professor mounted the seat, set the machinery whirling and gave a signal to release the machine. Down the roadway it went, gradually veering in toward the grandstand. The crowd massed behind the ropes saw that it was coming their way and began to fade away. The professor killed his engine. The machine slewed around and swung into the crowd, but the little Hup was there and stopped further damage. No one was hurt.

Then an hour was used in fixing up the broken parts of the machine, while Johnson took the engine apart and put it together again, offering to take $20 to put the engine in condition to "go," and doing more talking. Doi seemed helpless under the advice of the big chauffeur. Then the machine was taken off the roadway to the grassed-over section, and was let loose again. It sped over the turf and again stopped. Not an inch had it gone above the ground.

Another attempt was made and that too was a failure. Here again Johnson enters. He screwed up the cap near the propeller against the wish of the aviator. He said that it would mean a back fire and the propeller would break. "What if it does back-fire once or twice?" said Johnson. "Let it go." Not satisfied, the professor started the propeller, and after a few revolutions it flew into several pieces and dropped over the heads of the crowd, the only parts of the machine that had risen in the air during the day.

The police kept the curious crowds away from the machine, and while a number asked for their money back, the remainder of the crowd good-naturedly took the situation as it was and sought the cars and went home. They had spent the afternoon looking at something and all were not dissatisfied. There were some cries of fake, but it is believed Professor Doi made an earnest effort to make a flight. He failed and that is all there is to it. Many others have failed.

Fine and Lanakila also rowed but history does not disclose how they finished. Lei Ilima was withdrawn before the race started.

Four-Paddle Canoe for Women.

Prizes—First, $10 trophy; second, $5 trophy. Course from Buoy No. 10 to judges' boat. Same entries as in previous race. The ladies broke no records but finished in good time without much talking, which was strange. Kannaia-puni and Good Times finished respectively first and second.

Junior Sliding Seat Pair-Oar.

Prize, $15 trophy. Course, from Buoy No. 10 to judges' boat.

Entries—Rogers' boat, by Healan club; Walker's boat, by Myrtles.

The Healan club again captured this race from the Myrtles, winning by about a length. Time, 1 minute and 30 1/2 seconds. Last year's time was 1 minute and 59 seconds.

Four-Paddle Canoe.

Prizes—First, $15 trophy; second, $5 trophy. Course—Buoy No. 8 to judges' boat.

THE FATHER OF REGATTA DAY

HON. A. G. M. ROBERTSON, "Father of Regatta Day."

It was through the influence of Hon. A. G. M. Robertson, now chief justice of the supreme court of the Territory, that Regatta Day was established as an annual public holiday. The suggestion was first made by him at a smoker given at the Healan boathouse on May 16, 1896, and it was enthusiastically endorsed by the members of the Healan and Myrtle clubs there present.

As a member of the legislature which was in session at that time, Judge Robertson secured the passage of the law which sets aside the third Saturday in September as Regatta Day.

Judge Robertson was an interested spectator yesterday at the races and so were Judge S. B. Dole and General Macomb.

Entries—Aa and Lio Keokeo, both by Hui Nalu; won by Aa by about a foot and a half. No time taken.

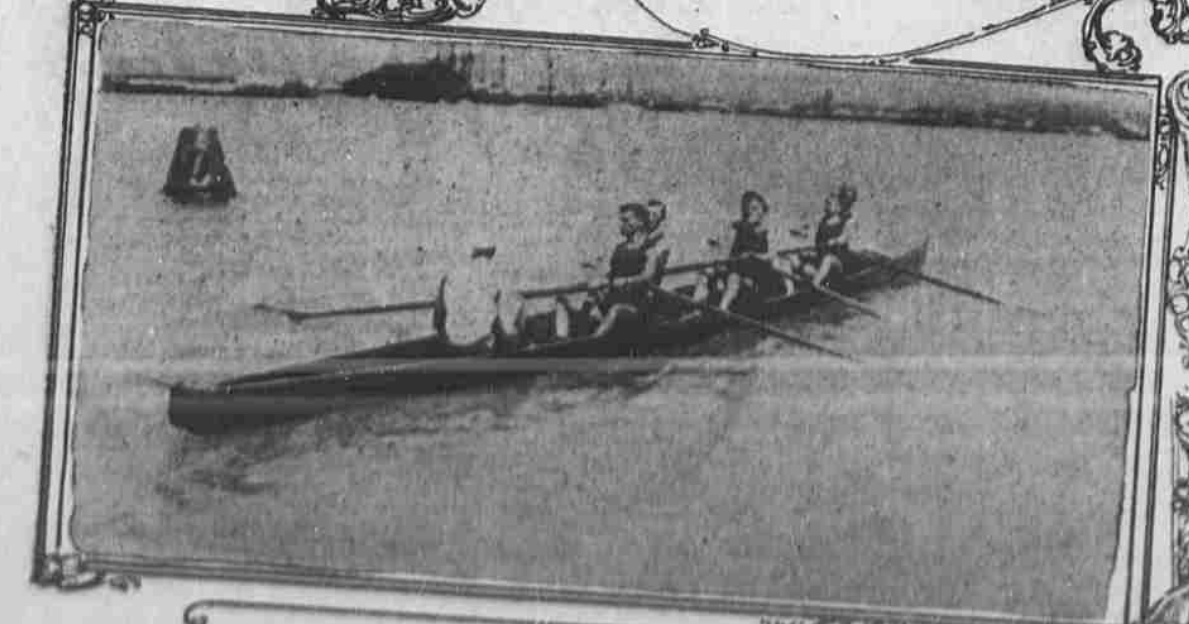

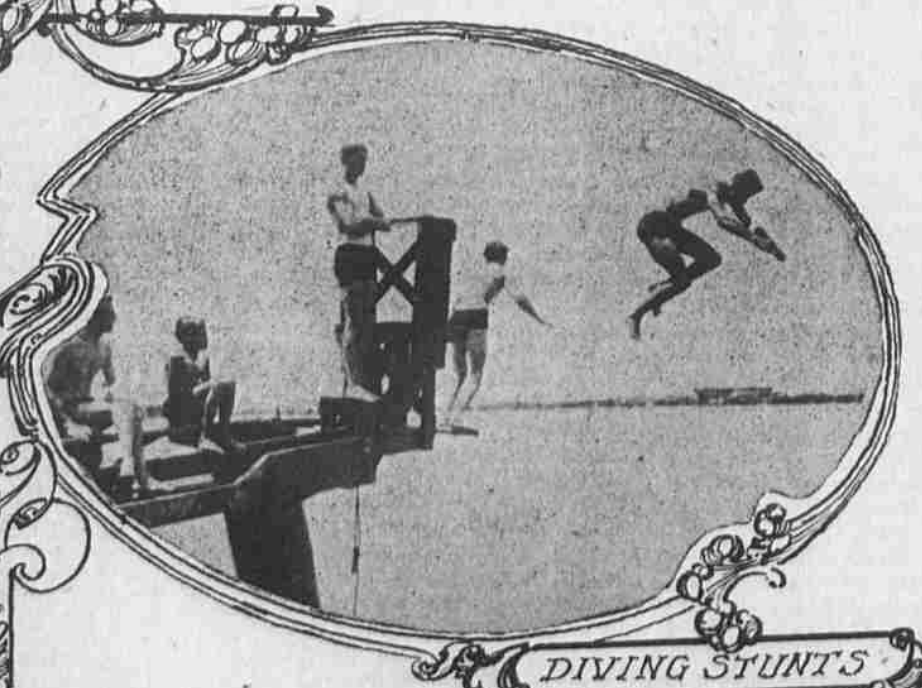

This practically concluded the day's program, though there were Pearl and Wren races and a sailing canoe race as well as several Japanese power sampan races scheduled for the afternoon, but as some of the entries were not located in time, this part of the program was lost in the shuffle and no record of what really happened could be obtained up to a late hour last night.

WHOOPIING COUGH.

It is in diseases like whooping cough that the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy are most appreciated. It quiets the tough mucus and aids expectoration. It also renders the fits of coughing less frequent and less severe depriving the disease of all dangerous consequences. For sale by all dealers, Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., agents for Hawaii.

TUESDAY SEPTEMBER 24

WHERE THE CONVENTION MISSED ITS CHANCE.

Since the hurly-burly attending the Republican county convention has subsided and it has been possible to scan the ticket which was formulated by the delegates there is rapidly crystallizing an opinion that the convention missed its opportunity and succumbed to the man with a pull. Incidentally the convention also missed its chance to show its independence and take a stand for the most experienced men and those who have "made good" in office by not nominating William Jarrett for sheriff and Rose for his deputy, and thus taking the wind out of the Democratic sails. Both are good men.

As to the ticket itself there are such elements of weakness that it hurts the ticket as a whole, and the fact that there was so much of political chicanery from start to finish, especially in regard to the proposed nominations from the first precinct, that the ordinary citizen voter is apt to choke before swallowing the straight ticket. On the other hand there are a number of excellent nominations, those men who would be a tower of strength on any ticket. Colonel Parker is a strong candidate for mayor, so is George Smithies for treasurer, and E. H. Paris for supervisor is the strongest of all the candidates for this position, if his record as a straightforward business man is counted.

And now there is a complication in the political situation, for Charles Hustace Jr., yesterday announced his candidacy for the mayoralty as an independent. It is this element which will undoubtedly make the road of Colonel Parker a hard one, for Mr. Hustace has many backers and in the fourth district has a considerable following, politically as well as socially, and his appearance in the political ring makes for the success of J. J. Fern. Anyway it will be an interesting fight until the very last ballot is cast.

WHERE ARE WE AT, POLITICALLY?

"Where are we at?"

This is a question which is being asked by many politicians in this progressive city of ours and by still more voters. It looks as though the city and county was being split wide open politically and all trace of party lines lost sight of. That there is a great deal of dissatisfaction manifested at the ticket as nominated by the Republican county convention is a fact that can not be ignored, and should not. The day is past when the voters of a municipality can be expected to vote a strict party ticket along national party lines. All over the country it is becoming recognized that municipal affairs are not to be confused with the great principles which underlie the existence of the great national parties.

It is now up to the self-styled Committee of Fifty to come out into the open and make their announcements of candidates who have accepted nominations and also set forth their platform.

Meanwhile the question is still being asked: "Where are we at, politically?"

THE EXAGGERATION OF REFORM.

Whenever there is a reform movement under way, either in a municipality or nation wide, our faults, methods, system and, in fact, almost everything connected with our political life and manner of living is more or less denounced by the reformers. It is always well to have someone occasionally tell us that we are not angels, otherwise we might become too proud with a penchant for larger sized headwear, but on the other hand the enthusiastic reformer is more than apt to go so far as to convince us that we are really not so bad as we are painted; consequently we tend to sit back and tell ourselves that all these reformers being liars in a more or less degree, they don't deserve any consideration at all and we relapse with an easy conscience into our former political and other-to-be-deplored habits.

Every few years there is a great reaction—politically—against Tammany Hall, in New York, and the good citizens appoint a committee of seventy, or some other number, and sweep the city clean, then go back to their homes feeling that the country is safe once more and forget all about it for as many years as it takes Tammany to recover from the shock and play the game openly again. Then the people are much surprised to find that all has to be done over again. That is something like the conditions which prevail in the Territory. Every once in awhile a great howl is made against the plantations; every once in awhile a terrific yell is let loose over our alleged political corruption, but really things are not so bad here as an ordinary observer would be inclined to hazard from what he hears.

Along this line it is interesting to hear from the other side of the country, on the Atlantic Coast, and the following extract from a letter written by an old Honolulu resident, now for many years domiciled in New York, will seem familiar:

"The country is in the midst of Reform, just now, and a stranger would think we were the worst villains in the world; but things go on about as usual. We are being overrun with about six thousand Goths and Vandals from the scum of Europe, every day; and to stand on lower Broadway and see this swarm of humanity, each carrying his bundle of evil smelling clothes and a fine sample of cutlery, makes one wonder if they can ever become Americans. I suppose you in the Islands pat yourselves on the back and glory in the fact that you are doing missionary work among the heathen; but any self-respecting kanaka would take to the woods if he had to associate with our heathen."

READING BETWEEN THE LINES.

A statement was issued yesterday by representatives of the first precinct of the fourth district, Kaimuki, in which the stand taken by the delegation in the Republican county convention is explained in full, or at least so fully that one can read between the lines and see where the business men of the city, who first started out to dominate the convention and endorsed certain candidates, had to make a deal with the political interests of certain precincts to save themselves from an ignominious defeat, apparently, at the hands of those very elements against which they took up the cudgels in the first place. To do this certain alleged liquor interests are asserted to have come out decisively against the nomination of Emil A. Berndt for supervisor, compelling his former friends to repudiate him at the crucial moment.

It is understood that since this action was taken by a certain element of the business men of this city some of the influential ones have declared to friends that they felt rather ashamed of themselves, but that it could not be helped. As it is, the business men appear to have surrendered their self-respect to the domination of the garbage manipulators and the brewery interests and to have permitted Kakaako to use them as catspaw to the wheedle the people of this city into electing certain men to office who would not be placed in any responsible position by the very interests who have foisted them upon the voters. These proposed officers will be called upon to handle nearly two million dollars of Territorial county funds during the next two years.

While the records of all the candidates have not been looked up it is asserted that one of them is at this time under the guardianship of High Sheriff William Henry as a spendthrift who is unable to care for his own property, consequently he must be an expert at caring for the people's money. Others are reported to have been under a cloud at some time or other with a police record and these are now being looked into and if authenticated will be published. Meanwhile nearly four hundred voters in Kaimuki are wondering why they were "punished."

EVERYBODY BOOST FOR EVERYBODY.

After mighty hard work by the promoters of the convention about half a hundred business men of Honolulu will start tomorrow for Hilo to attend the conference of the business organizations called by the board of trade of Hilo. This is a showing by the business element of the capital city of the Territory which should be greatly improved before the boat leaves her pier here. The action by the Hilo board of trade is one which should be commended by all; the energy shown by our sister city in this respect proves its progressiveness; the conference is one which should redound to the benefit, not only of Hilo, but of every business man on the Islands, and especially to those of Honolulu, the great distributing port of the Territory. It is up to the business men of this city to sacrifice, if need be, some of their time, even some of their possible profits, to attend this conference and get in line for a closer cooperation between the business interests of the Islands and to energetically boost for each other and general prosperity.

LIQUOR INTERESTS DOWNED
E. A. BERNDT FOR SUPERVISOR

Statement of Conditions in Convention is Made.

Induced to Run, Then
"Thrown Down" on Raw Deal.

Owing to the misunderstanding which generally prevails regarding the stand taken by the delegates from the first precinct, constituting Kaimuki, in the Republican county convention and the loyalty with which they supported Emil A. Berndt as a candidate for supervisor, the chairman and leaders of the delegation yesterday issued a statement explaining why they could not in honor sacrifice Mr. Berndt at the dictation of the convention majority, although he was perfectly willing to withdraw his name at the last as a step toward party harmony.

E. A. Douthett was the chairman of the Kaimuki delegation and T. Church, with the chairman, formed the official steering committee of the precinct Republican club. According to the delegation, represented by its officers, the situation was as follows:

Months ago, when the movement for a business men's ticket was first broached, a number of business men, the majority of whom became later members of the steering committee of their various precincts, appealed to Mr. Berndt to stand as a candidate for the board of supervisors, asserting that he would have the support of the business interests of the country and that he was the kind of citizen timber which the people desired to have in the board for a business administration of the funds of the city and county.

At first Mr. Berndt refused to permit his name to be given. He stated that he was already giving his time to the work of the harbor commission as its secretary and his duties as the manager of Dimond & Company were such that he did not well see how he could give up more of his time to public service.

But the committee came to Mr. Berndt again, when they were practically officials representing their precincts, and made a plea that for the good of the city he permit his name to go before the convention as a candidate for supervisor. He finally consented and was told to get his precinct solidly behind him and the convention would do the rest.

With his usual energy Mr. Berndt started in to clinch his precinct, and did so, with the help of his friends, by a vote, approximately, of two to one. Not only this, but the Democratic precinct club also endorsed him as a supervisor, subject to action by the convention, by a unanimous vote. This decidedly disposes of the excuse given by some of the convention delegates that Mr. Berndt is a weak man in his precinct. There is no one stronger as a candidate, say his supporters.

Meanwhile the steering committee of other precincts held joint meetings, and without in any way inviting the representatives of the first precinct to attend their caucuses took independent action, and at the last minute, namely Tuesday evening before the convention was held, informed the steering committee of the first precinct that Kaimuki would have to withdraw Berndt and failing to do so they would refuse to support Towse or Alfonso for the house. Naturally the committee wanted to know why. No satisfactory reason was given at the time and the committee absolutely refused, stating they would stand by Berndt and go down to defeat in the convention if need be.

Liquor Interests Dominate. Later it was discovered that the brewery interests in the two Democratic precincts of Kakaako, and the garbage bunch, declared that they would not stand for Berndt. In fact it is reported that Charles Bartlett, manager of the brewery, stated that he would not run on the same ticket with Berndt, and emphasized his demand that Berndt be "thrown down" with some exceedingly forceful language.

Thus it was that the business men who first induced Mr. Berndt to run as a candidate, against his wishes, later were bluffed by the liquor interests into making the deal with the very men they in the first place started out to fight in the interests of clean government, and broke their pledges to Mr. Berndt in favor of a raw political deal to "save their face" and power in the convention, which was threatened by the delegates from the two Democratic precincts, assisted by three Republican delegations which were in on the deal, and in close touch with every move since Mr. Berndt consented to run for supervisor. What the final developments may be are still uncertain, but Mr. Berndt asserted positively yesterday, that although others may break their pledges, he will abide by his as a delegate to the county convention, and will absolutely refuse to permit his name appearing on the so-called citizen's ticket as a candidate.

MUSCULAR RHEUMATISM.

Stiff neck, lame back, lambo, pains in the side and chest, all indicate muscular rheumatism. There is no more satisfactory remedy for trouble of this kind than a free application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, massaged well into the skin. Many severe cases that have defied all other treatment have yielded to the soothing effect of this liniment. For sale by all dealers, Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., agents for Hawaii.

ARMY OFFICERS WHO WILL COME
FOR MANEUVERS

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

SAN FRANCISCO, September 23.—(Special to The Advertiser)—A detail of officers from the Presidio will leave for Honolulu on November 5, where they will serve as umpires in the combined army and militia maneuvers of the Department of Hawaii.

They are: Maj. R. H. Noble, Twelfth Infantry; Captain Morton H. Smith, Twentieth Infantry; Captain H. J. Brees, Cavalry; Lieutenant Maxwell Murray, Coast Artillery Corps, and Captain Douglas McCaskey, First Cavalry.

Major Julius A. Penn, First Infantry, which is stationed in Schofield Barracks, Honolulu, arrived in San Francisco today, en route to the station of his regiment.

RICH MEN INDICTED
IN DYNAMITE CASE

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

BOSTON, Massachusetts, September 23.—(Special to The Advertiser)—The fourth arrest following the alleged dynamite planting by the textile interests in the recent Lawrence strike has been made with the taking into custody of William H. Rice, a wealthy quarry owner of East Milton. Rice was arrested on an indictment charging him with illegal transportation of dynamite.

The same grand jury has issued indictments, for implication in the same plot, against William M. Wood, president of the American Woolen Company; Frederick E. Atteaus, president of a large mill supply concern, and Dennis J. Collins, a Cambridge dog fancier.

FEW MONTHS' BRIDE
COMMITTS SUICIDE

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

CHICAGO, September 23.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Mrs. Gertrude Johnson, aged twenty years, a bride of six months, committed suicide by inhaling illuminating gas in her home, 1712 Burling street, when her husband failed to return home.

"I stayed out until three o'clock Sunday morning and my wife was so depressed that she killed herself," said William Johnson, the husband, when informed by the police of what had occurred.

28-INNING GAME

ROXBURY, Massachusetts, September 19.—Baseball fans here have temporarily forgotten all about the big league pennant fight, and are devoting their time to discussing the twenty-eight-inning game here yesterday between the St. Philip Athletic Club team and the St. Philip's church nine. The game occupied four hours and a half. There were few hits, and up to the twenty-sixth inning the score was 2 to 2. In that inning each team scored a run. The twenty-seventh inning saw no change, but in the twenty-eighth the Willows won by making two runs on a long hit to midfield.

DOCTOR ASKS UNUSUAL FEE.

LONDON, September 7.—Maisonier, the famous painter, was asked recently for an unusual fee by a doctor.

The painter sent hurriedly for the doctor, who was greatly annoyed on his arrival to find that his patient was not Maisonier nor a member of the family, but a pet dog. But he swallowed the slight and bided his time until the question of fee arose. Then he quietly deprecated any suggestion of taking the artist's money.

"No," he said, "my garden gate wants painting; come and do that."

Excelsior Lodge T. O. O. F. meets this evening at half-past seven o'clock.

INVESTIGATION OF CONTRIBUTIONS

Great Financiers Will Testify Before
Committee About Campaign Funds.

By Ernest G. Walker.

(Mail Special to The Advertiser.)

WASHINGTON, September 8.—Developments are constantly pointing to the importance of New York and of New York people, as the campaign progresses. There is the matter of investigating campaign expenditures, for instance. Most of the magnates of the metropolis, who have had anything to do with campaigns and campaign contributions, are to be invited or summoned to Washington for late September when Senator Clapp's committee begins anew its hearings. Colonel Roosevelt is expected to be present.

Smart lawyers are already at work gathering data upon which to cross-examine him. Lists of witnesses are being carefully prepared, on one side with a view to supporting the Colonel's contention that he would not accept the contributions of the big trusts in the 1904 campaign, and that there was nothing reprehensible in his campaign contributions for the nomination last June. On the other side there are activities to bring prominent men who will confound the Colonel's contentions.

It is now proposed that J. Pierpont Morgan will be one of the witnesses before the committee. He is only one of many great financiers who will be brought from the Wall street section to help throw some light upon these controverted topics. A son of the late Cornelius N. Bliss, who was the treasurer of the Republican national committee in 1904, is another of the witnesses from whom much is expected. There are rumors that, as executor of his father's estate, Mr. Bliss has a statement in the elder's own handwriting, which bears upon this question of whether the big trusts, good and bad, were coerced by Roosevelt into contributing to his 1904 campaign.

If such a statement is in existence, as it probably is, the publication thereof will be a real sensation. Mr. Bliss would not have written it unless there was something important to be said. The explanation is that he anticipated a great public upheaval at some date over the matter of campaign contributions. That he was an upright man whose word could be depended upon absolutely is generally accepted. The business world had great confidence in Cornelius Bliss. Colonel Roosevelt in a recent statement declared that Mr. Bliss was a man of the highest probity.

Standard Oil to the Fore.

John D. Archbold of the Standard Oil Company, who has already testified, will be back from Europe in time to testify again and will be summoned by the committee for a cross-examination on matters that have developed since he testified. William Rockefeller, one of the Standard Oil directors who had cognizance of the great contribution to the 1904 campaign, is also to be heard.

Senator Penrose is saying nothing just now, but is known to be making ready for the hearing, which is of moment to him and his political future, because of Progressive charges that he improperly received $25,000 from the Standard Oil Company for the 1904 state campaign in Pennsylvania. William R. Hearst, who claims to have additional knowledge about campaign contributions for the last ten years, is likely to have an opportunity to testify before the senate committee.

All in all the sessions of this committee in Washington, now hardly two weeks away, promise to arouse the country. Much gossip and many rumors as to what was what in that 1904 campaign and in subsequent campaigns will be found groundless but there are large possibilities. It may easily happen that this investigation will become of commanding interest and overshadow campaign activities in the States.

Senator Clapp, as chairman of the investigating committee and ardent champion of Roosevelt, appeared reluctant to approach the great task. He has conferred with Roosevelt latterly, however, returned to Washington and announced that the investigation is to be wide open and thorough. He wants to get at the truth and is himself proposing that all the big names, associated with popular comment about campaign contributions, be put down upon the witness list. The coming of such men, if they do come, will alone make the investigation conspicuous.

Fullest Investigation.

The administration is encouraging the fullest investigation. President Taft has nothing to lose by it. Colonel Roosevelt is about the only man who can be materially injured by the disclosures. For the moment he is making something of a virtue of the Penrose disclosures. Emphasizing his denial of knowledge, were used in his campaign, the Colonel proclaims the disclosures as evidence of the iniquity of the Republican party.

which he is now trying to relegate to the background.

President Taft has inside knowledge about some matters affecting the 1904 campaign. It is regarded as significant that some of his closest political friends are aggressively for the investigation. Presumably Secretary of State Knox will be one of the witnesses before the senate committee. He knows something about letters by Colonel Roosevelt, as President, regarding the Standard Oil contribution.

Outside of this committee hearing, Washington has little to look forward to in the way of proceedings which will attract general attention.

All members of the cabinet are either out of town or coming here for only a day or two at a time. The President has just been in Washington for twenty-four hours to receive the chemists from all nations of the world, who were about to assemble for an international congress. A great deal of government work is being attended to, but most of it is of routine character and will continue to be till after officials return here to resume their duties for the winter.

SUGGESTION MADE FOR WELCOMING DUKE

Champion Swimmer Will Arrive Here Next Monday—Many to Greet Him.

Duke Kahanamoku will return to Honolulu on the Wilhelmina, arriving October 1. This information was sent Lew G. Henderson, Duke's former manager, by cable and it is now up to the friends of the Hawaiian champion to get busy and arrange a fitting reception for him.

Hawaii owes much to Duke Kahanamoku for the manner in which the world's swimming champion upheld the honor of Hawaii and gave the islands some of the most desirable publicity they have ever received.

From letters and clippings received here, the Duke, as he is familiarly called in Europe and on the mainland, has become a popular idol. At Atlantic City the crowds hung thick about him every time he showed himself and the same thing happened at the other fashionable summer resorts that the boy visited.

With all the notoriety afforded him, Duke has had all the reason in the world to feel his oats, as it were, but the favorite of the European crowned heads has not been affected by his successes and is no more inflated today than he was the day before he established his first record in Hawaii.

It has been suggested that the Hui Nalu and Outrigger clubs bring as many of their available craft as possible into the harbor and that on the morning of Duke's arrival a big turnout meet the Wilhelmina at quarantine. Besides the canoes and rowboats there are a number of power craft that can turn out and if this could be done it would tend to give Duke an impression that Hawaii is glad to have him return.

HAS DOUBLE OFFER FOR STREET PAVING

Supervisors to Decide Between Ohia Block Road and Bitulithic.

The offer of the bitulithic company to lay a bitulithic pavement from the Ewa end of the Queen street bridge around the turn and down the road to a point opposite the Ewa end of the Hackfeld wharf, caused the Hawaiian Development Company to make a counter offer of $3 a square yard for laying a concrete base with ohia block surface on a basis of 2110 square yards.

A letter to this effect was read at the meeting of the board of supervisors yesterday noon. The company, through its manager, Samuel Johnson, stated that the blocks were already on hand and if given a chance to demonstrate the worth of ohia blocks as a street paving material, they would ship the blocks here in order to give them a further seasoning.

The manager in his letter stated that the street in question, if laid with ohia blocks, would be excellent for a test of wood blocks for paving. The letter was referred to the ways and means committee.

The bitulithic company's offer was made on the ground that if the bitulithic pavement was carried around to the Hackfeld wharf, the Oahu Railroad company would probably give a contract for laying bitulithic on the remainder of the road as far as the railroad wharf shed No. 1.

STARTLING PLOT TO MURDER RULERS

Khedive and Lord Kitchener, of Egypt, Proposed Victims of Conspirators.

NATIONALIST LEADER CAUGHT

Many Arrests Made and Papers Discovered Which Prove Conspiracy.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

LONDON, September 22.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Startling news came to a London news agency today in a special cable dispatch from Cairo, Egypt, telling of the discovery of a widespread conspiracy for the assassination of the Khedive of Egypt and of Field Marshal Lord Kitchener, British agent for Egypt.

The discovery follows the arrest in Constantinople of Sheikh Shawish Abdel Aziz, editor of the Hilaal Osmoni, and Egyptian nationalist leader, who is charged with being one of the conspirators for the accomplishment of the assassinations.

Following the discovery of the plot extraordinary activity has been shown in the Egyptian branch of the "black hand" society.

Many other arrests have been made and incriminating documents secured proving the widespread ramifications of the plot.

NEW YORK, September 22.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Elisio Sander, the Philippine and Barcelona (Spain) bank director, is sizing up the political and financial situation in the United States.

Sander says President Taft's re-election will mean a great increase to commerce and trade between San Francisco, Honolulu and the Philippine Islands, which are now flourishing, and capital can readily be secured which means further developments for the islands.

For the moment there is financial distrust, fearing the November election, and free trade, which is certain to throw commerce back to the old channels between Spain and France; for instance, in cotton goods, which trade is already in our hands. The Americans also are breaking up big business to the Orient.

Sander says the sugar trade, which is now booming in the Hawaiian Islands, will all be lost if there is a Democratic victory in November.

Sander adds that, for political reasons, the election of Woodrow Wilson as President of the United States, is likely to have an even more serious effect on the Philippines, as William Jennings Bryan, many Democratic United States senators and representatives in congress have promised, and Manuel Quezon, Philippine Delegate in Washington, and leading politicians of Manila demand immediate independence.

If there is a failure to make good this promise it will certainly result in rebellion worse in every respect than the Katipunan insurrection.

Sander extols that best friend of the Filipinos, the master mind who did great work in the islands, President Taft.

NEW YORK, September 22.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Among the passengers who arrived today on the steamship Baltic from Europe was Miss Felice Lyne, of Kansas City, Missouri, the American opera singer, who has done three remarkable things.

First, and most wonderful, she snatched Oscar Hammerstein, the well known impresario, in the face with a bound score of "Faust." Second, she carried London by storm with her wonderful voice. Third, she received the fervent congratulations of Queen Mary.

"Why did I hit Hammerstein?" the little singer asked. "Because he insulted me when after I had made a hit as Marguerite in 'Faust' he tried to humiliate me by giving the role to Berthe Casar, a French prima donna. I just did what any American woman would have done. I hit him with the first thing which came handy, and it happened to be the libretto of the opera itself."

"Oscar Hammerstein is a dead duck in London. All his big talk disgusted the English people, and if he should go back there audiences would stone him out of the city."

DUBLIN, Ireland, September 22.—(Special to The Advertiser)—If the home rule bill passes during the present session of the British Parliament, John Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalist Parliamentary party, will formally declare the Irish Nationalist party in session in a convention to be held in Dublin for the formation of the new Irish Parliament.

Premier Asquith has offered the Irish leader a place in the British Cabinet. Mr. Redmond, it is believed, will accept, and may succeed the Liberal chief as the first Irish Premier of the British Empire.

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS OVERTURNS A SLATE

Jarrett Forces Beat Opponents
Two to One—McCarthy
For Chairman.

The Democratic delegates to the county and district convention held their final caucus last night, preparatory to the opening of the convention this morning and prepared the machinery of their male-power steam roller.

The anti-Jarrett forces made a futile attempt to control the caucus and nominated Jack Kalakela as chairman. To measure the strength of the Kalakela backers, the Jarrett men nominated Col. McCarthy and the result showed the Jarrett forces in control of the delegates present by a two to one majority.

In the interests of party harmony it was finally decided late last evening that McCarthy should accept the convention chairmanship, and not Rivenburgh as at first intended. Several of the party leaders spoke on the necessity of putting up good men for office, more especially so since the internal squabbles among the Republicans would give the Democrats a good opportunity of electing some of their candidates.

Keawehaku, the Jarrett hater, as he styles himself, spoke against the present sheriff, saying that Jarrett believed in the civil service for the police department, his idea being to bar Hawaiian policemen from the force.

Keawehaku also said that the anti-Jarrett men would have lots of fire on hand tomorrow, this statement drawing a remark from the Jarrett men to the effect that there would be plenty of water on hand to put it out.

VICE PRESIDENT IN POOR HEALTH

Sherman Unable to Take Part in National Campaign as Others Are.

By Ernest G. Walker.

(Mail Special to The Advertiser.)
WASHINGTON, September 22.—Disquieting talk is heard about Vice President Sherman. He had a spell of very poor health some years ago. At that time there were grave fears lest he might not recover. He was, however, restored to good health and for a long time appeared in good physical condition. There has been a recurrence of his malady. Along in June he quit his duties as presiding officer of the senate. Since that time he has been at Utica or in that vicinity and is under the physician's care.

Much reliance has been placed upon the Vice President for the Republican campaign. He is an excellent speaker. His power with audiences is exceptional. Furthermore he is a splendid practical politician. He knows how to analyze the conditions. As he travels from place to place, he confers with men who are conducting the campaign. He speaks the language of the men who undertake such work. He knows how to get along with them, how to ascertain what they know about public sentiment and how to encourage them to intelligent efforts for winning votes.

All in all Vice President Sherman should be one of the most valuable allies of President Taft between now and the November voting. Governor Marshall is out upon the stump as Wilson's running mate. Governor Hiram Johnson is faring forth into the East now as Roosevelt's running mate. It is generally conceded nowadays that the vice-presidential nominee is needed for a lot of very tedious work. Marshall and Johnson are living up to these requirements and Vice President Sherman would be doing likewise if he could.

Present reports from Utica are that his health is not likely to permit of any such activity during the campaign. It was with difficulty that he attended the public ceremonies for his own notification and there is probably some truth in intimations that he is disposed to retire from the ticket. If he decides to do that—it is declared that he will not—the Republican national committee would have to designate his successor as nominee on the ticket with Taft. The committee was empowered by the convention to act in case of such an emergency.

Guild Might Be Named.

There is mention of ex-Governor Curtis Guild of Massachusetts as the possible successor of Mr. Sherman if the latter finally decides to retire. Mr. Guild, now ambassador to Russia, is on his way back from St. Petersburg. His return trip, however, is believed to have no connection with the vice-presidential situation. Some time ago Mr. Guild expected to come to America in the early autumn to consult with the President about diplomatic business, chiefly about his efforts to negotiate a new treaty of commerce and amity with Russia, covering the troublesome passport question.

Ambassador Guild is a forceful public speaker, who would be able to cope successfully with any of the other vice-presidential nominees. He is popular, was conspicuous as a personal and political friend of Roosevelt, and is a good politician.

The illness of Vice President Sherman is also very disappointing to the Republicans in their New York campaign. He is very influential in that State, especially in the counties outside of the city. His personal following in North and Central New York is probably larger than that of any other Republican. Mr. Sherman has been in New York politics for years and has the confidence of all the organization men. His renomination was due, in no small part, to the expected strength he would lend to the Taft ticket in New York State.

Campaign in New York.

The campaign there is taking on lively proportions already. The Progressives have already nominated for governor, Oscar Straus, secretary of commerce and labor in President Roosevelt's cabinet. Mr. Straus also served long as minister to Turkey and later as ambassador to Turkey. He is one of the influential members of the Bull Moose party. It is conceded that he should poll a very big vote in New York State. On all sides he is commended as a man of ability and honesty. His candidacy will appeal to men of the Hebrew race, which constitutes a great percentage of the voting population of New York City.

Normally Mr. Straus should draw much from the Republican strength in New York, especially if the two old parties nominate undesirable candidates. The primaries for these nominations have not been held. It is uncertain whom the Republican nominee for governor will be. The Democrats have been planning to renominate Governor John Dix, but the opposition to him within the Democratic party is formidable. He has been associated much, while governor, with Tammany Hall and there is a very great sentiment against giving him another term.

This opposition to Governor Dix may prevail. It has been strengthened by the disclosures of graft, following upon the investigation of the Rosenthal murder. Tammany dominates New York city's government. Hence the disclosures accentuate the outcry against Tammany domination of the governorship.

Ex-Secretary Straus can be counted upon to make an aggressive campaign and Colonel Roosevelt will stump the State both for himself and the Progressive candidate for governor. That makes a complicated situation and assures even a more spirited struggle than over for the control of that great commonwealth.

REFUSE TO LET THEIR NAMES BE USED

Some of Those Proposed as Candidates on Citizens' Ticket Balk.

HUSTACE STICKS FOR MAYOR

Secrecy by Committee Tends to Make the Situation Uncertain.

(From Monday Advertiser)

Much uncertainty prevails in political circles regarding the proposed Citizens' ticket. The list of tentative candidates named by the leaders of the Citizens' Committee of Fifty, which is promoting this municipal ticket, will, apparently, be shot full of holes before the committee has a chance to hold a mass meeting to place the nominations formally before the people.

The general talk yesterday on the street was that this movement is being agitated by a "lot of sore-heads," but the members of the committee which put forward the names Saturday night as possible candidates were none of them men who had been "turned down" by the Republican county convention.

Meanwhile some of the candidates named have come out in statements emphatically refusing to permit their names being used as candidates on this Citizens' ticket.

Castro Not a Candidate.

Expressing himself as not being in accord with the talked-of Citizens' ticket and refusing absolutely to allow his name to be used as a candidate for the senate on any such ticket, A. D. Castro last night said:

"As far as I am concerned, I am too much of a party man to go beyond the pledge I took before the convention. While I realize and recognize the fact that the party-made mistakes during the last convention, I feel, however, that since I submitted myself to the rules, to the methods employed, as well as to the procedure of the convention as a whole, I must accept the verdict as rendered."

Hustace Stands Pat.

Refusing to allow his name to be considered for any other office except that of mayor, Charles Hustace, Jr., last evening said:

"I am out for the majority and nothing else. I intend to make a hard, but clean fight to secure this office and will not consider being sidetracked for any other office, as suggested in the citizens' ticket."

"I also believe it foolishness for any one to think of opposing the choice of the Republican convention in its legislative ticket. The consensus of opinion is to the effect that the selections made are in general good. Any opposition to this ticket ought to be throttled, more especially so if those making this opposition were defeated candidates at the hands of the convention."

Affonso Sticks by Pledge.

G. F. Affonso, who was a candidate before the Republican county convention for a nomination as representative, will not permit his name to be used as a candidate by the Citizens' committee. Speaking of his stand in this regard last evening Mr. Affonso said:

"When I went into the convention as a delegate I went pledged to the support of Emil Berndt as a candidate for supervisor. I was also a candidate for the house and I took the pledge in the convention to abide by the rules and the results of the convention's deliberations and nominations. I intend to stand by this pledge as I stood by the first and will remain with the Republican party."

Several others of those whose names appear in the list of nominees by the Citizens' committee are reported to have declined to permit their names to be placed on the ticket as candidates for any office. Among these it is asserted that John Lane refuses to be a candidate on the ticket.

FERCE FIGHTING IN WHICH WOMAN IS CAPTURED IN FIELD

Federal Troops and Indians Defeat Large Force of Mexican Rebels and Executions May Follow Battle.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
DOUGLAS, Arizona, September 21.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Anticipating an attack by rebels, nearly the entire garrison at Agua Prieta was used for outpost duty last night. The federal columns under Colonels Alvarado and Munoz, which were out of communication with Agua Prieta for several days, have arrived in Fronteras, where they combined with Colonel Obregon. There are now about 600 federal troops in Fronteras, and a force of 1700 rebels in a striking distance of Agua Prieta. They were reported last night at Consuecos Springs, twelve miles south-east of the town.

General Rojas, federal leader, sent word to the federal commander that he expected to have a force of 2400 men and he would take Agua Prieta within a few days.

The two-days' battle at the San Joaquin Ranch ended in a complete victory for the federals commanded by Colonel Obregon, who took prisoner Major Benjamin Aranda, who served under General Francisco I. Madero, Jr., in the revolution last year. Under the suspension of guarantees Aranda and the other prisoners may be executed.

Complete details of the fight transmitted in the official report of Colonel Obregon show that the first battle was the most important fought since the rebels moved into Sonora from Chihuahua.

Woman Is Captured.

Obregon reported that he attacked Salazar's force of 550 rebels with a force of eleven officers and 181 men, including twenty-five rurales and the remainder Yaqui Indians. They fought from three o'clock Thursday afternoon until dark, when the rebels were driven to the hills after a fierce hand-to-hand fight. Early yesterday morning General Salazar attacked the federals but was repulsed and eleven prisoners were left in the federals' hands, including a woman, reputed to be General Salazar's wife.

General Salazar's rebels are reported to have burned a bridge on the Nacozari railroad, fifteen miles south of Agua Prieta, at the same time cutting the telegraph wires.

Released and Arrested.

MARFA, Texas, September 21.—(By Associated Press Cable)—General Orozco, the rebel leader, has been released by the U. S. authorities, having been declared innocent of any violation of the neutrality laws in coming into the United States.

A fresh sensation in the Orozco case came this afternoon when Orozco, who was released this morning with his son, was rearrested and charged with murder by the federal officials.

LOS ANGELES, September 22.—(By Associated Press Cable)—Consummation of their romance in death was the fate which overtook Miles Folsom and Miss Thelma Bartoe, of this city, yesterday; death in such a form that it is believed there was a suicide pact between the two young people who took a joyride to the grave intentionally.

So far as can be discovered Mr. Folsom and Miss Bartoe felt that the romance of their life and love had been blighted and that it was best to end all together. In an automobile they went for a ride and deliberately ran the machine at full speed over the high cliffs near Santa Monica and were instantly killed.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

KANSAS CITY, Kansas, September 21.—(Special to The Advertiser)—"The tail said it was irregular for the dog to wag it," said Colonel Roosevelt today, in reply to statements that the Progressives had bolted from the Republican party. "In Nebraska for instance, in the primary last spring, Taft polled about one-sixth of the Republican votes. Yet our opponents called themselves regular, but they called the eighty-three or eighty-four per cent of the voters bolters."

Colonel Roosevelt came into Kansas to remain here for two days, campaigning here today and resting tomorrow. He says that he had received reports of political conditions from the East which were encouraging to him.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

DULUTH, Minnesota, September 21.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Duluth's street car service was confused today as a result of the strike. Some cars ran without headlights, while some took sudden turns up avenues not marked on their signboards. Still others were so badly off schedule that the "walking clubs" again sprang into favor.

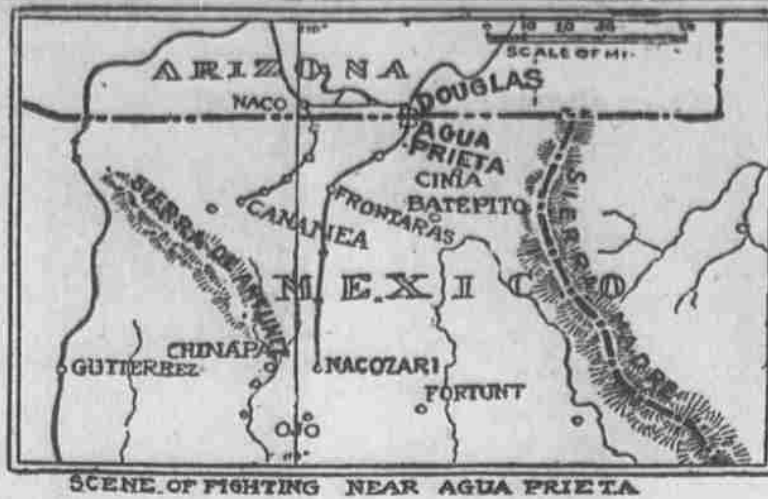

Aside from attacks by boys with slingshots on strike-breakers and the peering of one motorman, which resulted in the arrest of a strike sympathizer, the situation was quiet.

BOSTON, Massachusetts, September 21.—(Special to The Advertiser)—A secret indictment was returned today by the Suffolk county grand jury, which has been investigating the alleged illegal distribution of dynamite in Lawrence during the textile strike last January.

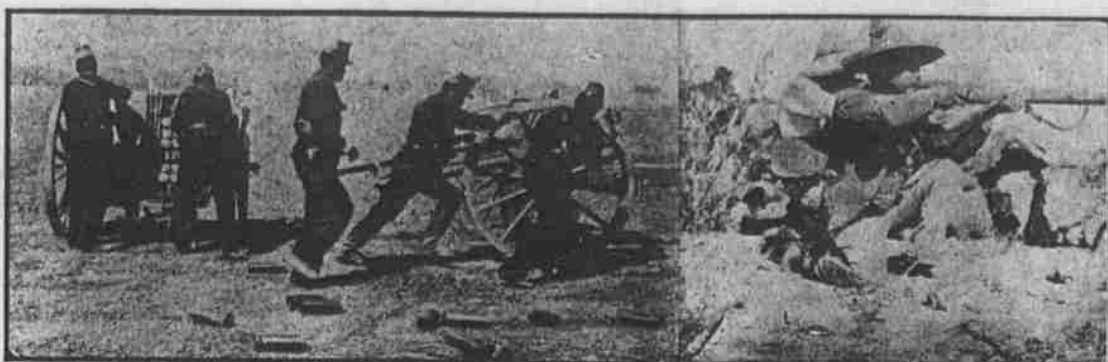

After reporting, the grand jury was excused until September 29, when it will resume the investigation.

U. S. WARSHIPS QUICKLY SUPPRESS INSURRECTION

STRIKING MINERS ARE STRONGLY ENTRENCHED

Hold Fortifications Near Mine Ready to Attack Any Strikebreakers.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

BINGHAM, Utah, September 21.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Three hundred strikers appeared in the fortification on the mountainside known as the "Shooting Gallery" from which the firing was done toward the Utah Copper mine on the first day of the miners' strike here.

The men are supposed to be a part of the force which came down from the breasted to hear the address of Governor William Spry on Thursday. The fortress was deserted yesterday, and it is supposed that its reoccupation is due to the predictions that nonunion men would be put to work by the Utah Copper Company today.

Superintendent Schilling of the company did not confirm the predictions. He said this morning: "We will do nothing today." More deputy sheriffs were sent out to the Bingham and Garfield Railroad this morning to strengthen the patrol established, the theory being that the line might be blocked to prevent the importation of strikebreakers.

All Is Now Quiet.

BINGHAM, Utah, September 21.—(By Associated Press Cable)—The striking miners who have armed themselves to enforce their demands for an increase of wages are still entrenched but there is no firing on the militia or mine officials.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

VIENNA, Austria, September 21.—(Special to The Advertiser)—The existence of a quadruple military alliance between Bulgaria, Serbia, Greece and Montenegro, which is an offensive combination dangerous to the peace of the Balkans, is reported today.

KNOX SAILS TODAY.

TOKIO, Japan, September 21.—(By Associated Press Cable)—Secretary of State Knox, who has been here as the United States representative during the funeral ceremonies of the emperor, will sail for the United States next Sunday on the cruiser Maryland, stopping at Honolulu en route.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

WASHINGTON, September 21.—(Special to The Advertiser)—A delayed telegram from United States Minister Weitzel, received today, contains reports of the Nicaraguan revolutionists again using lake steamers and bombarding San Jorge and other towns on Lake Nicaragua in the neighborhood of Rivas.

An attack on Rivas from the north by General Zeledon's column has been completely repulsed by the federals with considerable losses to both sides. It was believed today that for additional force Rear-Admiral Southernland has been obliged to go as far north as Leon, where there is a garrison of bluejackets and marines. It is thought he may have found necessary more artillery than the two three-inch guns which he had with him. The only recourse would be to dismount some of the smaller caliber guns on the gunboat Annapolis in Corinto. Officials of the State Department in Washington are confident Admiral Southernland will get to Granada, even though he may have to fight his way through the insurgents. They believe that, once in Granada, the admiral will seize some of the lake steamers and send his dispatches out by way of Rivas, and thence by short overland trips to San Juan del Sur, the cable station.

Three Marines Wounded.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, September 21.—(By Associated Press Cable)—Three U. S. marines were slightly wounded here last night when the corps was fired upon by revolutionists. Considerable excitement prevails, but the situation seems to be growing better.

The insurgents who attacked the U. S. marines were drunk, it turns out, and the commander's apologies have been accepted by the Americans.

John Ah Sing was arrested last night for an assault on Loy Chuck in which the latter was slightly injured.

LODGE MAKES A CLEAR-CUT ISSUE

Opens Taft Campaign in Ohio With Emphatic Plea for Constitution.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

COLUMBUS, Ohio, September 21.—(Special to The Advertiser)—United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts opened the Republican national campaign in Ohio today with an unqualified defense of the Taft administration and a plea for the re-election of President Taft.

SENATOR H. C. LODGE

Who officially opened Taft's campaign in Ohio yesterday.

"I come to urge upon you to do everything in your power in this, his own State, for the re-election of Taft," said Senator Lodge. "I believe that the election of the Republican candidates from highest to lowest, was never more important than at the present." Throughout the pre-convention canvass Senator Lodge had held aloof from factional quarrels, because of his peculiarly intimate relations, personal and official, with Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and his friendly relations with the Taft administration.

Today's speech was his first formal utterance on national issues as already defined in Chicago and Baltimore. Senator Lodge did not mention the Progressive party or Colonel Roosevelt by name, but by implication he opposed the policy of the recall of judges, and devoted a third of his time to what he said was a proposition to tear down the constitution of the United States, "to convert it into a statute changeable by the whim of the moment."

Debs Would Like to Argue.

BEVERLY, Massachusetts, September 21.—(Special to The Advertiser)—An invitation to President Taft to enter into joint debate with Eugene V. Debs, the nominee of the Socialist party for President, was declined today by "Summer White House" officials here.

The invitation suggested that the oratorical encounter take place in Philadelphia on the night of September 28, and assurances were given that 20,000 persons would come to hear it. The President's declination was based on the fact that he has announced his intention of taking no speaking part in the campaign.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

DUBLIN, Ireland, September 21.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Mrs. Mary Leigh, the suffragette, was released from Mountjoy prison today on account of ill health, due to her refusal to eat and having to be fed forcibly. Mrs. Leigh was sentenced on August 7 to five years' imprisonment on a charge of having wounded John Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalist Parliamentary party, with a hatchet which she threw at Premier Asquith's carriage during the visit of the premier to Dublin.

Officers of Honolulu Lodge, Loyal Order of Moose, together with some thirty members of the local herd, went down to Lihue yesterday and installed Moose Lodge No. 1042—composed entirely of United States military officers and men. The party from the city returned in the late afternoon train.

MORE FATALITIES AMONG AVIATORS

Two German Officers and One Irish Birdman Drop to Their Death.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

FRIEBURG, Saxony, September 21.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Two German military officers were killed while flying near here today. This makes the third double fatality in Europe within the present month in which members of army flying corps were the victims.

The machine, which was of the monoplane type, was being piloted by Lieutenant Berger, who was carrying Lieutenant Junghaus as a passenger in a flight from Chemnitz to Berlin. When passing over this city, the machine suddenly plunged from a high elevation to the ground.

The aviators were instantly killed and the monoplane was smashed to atoms.

ROME, Italy, September 21.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Another ten-hour battle, resulting in the Italian occupation of the oasis of Zanzur, twelve miles southwest of Tripoli, is reported to the Italian war office, by General Rogni, under date of yesterday. The Italian losses are given at 200 men killed and wounded. The Turks and Arab losses were large, but General Rogni does not specify the number.

PEKING, China, September 21.—(By Associated Press Cable)—The Chinese republican government has categorically and definitely refused the proposed joint loan of fifty million dollars in which the six powers were participating. The refusal, while couched in polite language, intimated unmistakably that the terms proposed by the powers, in their plan to secure the loan, are not acceptable to President Yuan Shih-Kai and his cabinet.

HAS LORD'S PRAYER TATTOOED ON CHEST

MUNCIE, Indiana, September 7.—When Sergt. Joseph R. Finney, in charge of the army recruiting station, began examining Joseph A. Benson, who wished to become a regular soldier, the recruiting officer found that he was examining a living edition of religious works, a world's geography reduced to the smallest amount of surface in the way of maps, and a farmer's guide, to say nothing of an art gallery of a kind, all tattooed on the prospective soldier, who passed the examination successfully and who was duly enlisted.

The Lord's prayer, inscribed in large blue letters, down his chest; the globe, with sixteen United States battleships surrounding it; a chicken, a hog and various wild animals. The continents and seas on the globe were accurately marked off to correspond with Mercator's chart of the globe's projection.

WOMAN SERVES AS ANCHOR FOR BALLOON

CHICAGO, September 10.—Horace B. Wild and John DeCourcy, his engineer, started out last night from Woodlawn in a 125-foot dirigible balloon. They were sailing toward the downtown district when a water plug blew out and they found themselves in serious trouble several hundred feet in the air. Their cries were heard by Mrs. Walter R. Smith, who was on the roof of a shed behind her home. She caught a glimpse of a long trail-rope, hanging from the balloon and dragging against buildings. As the rope dangled near her she seized it and anchored the balloon with her 185 pounds. She was dragged from the roof and against a fence, but held fast. The craft settled down among some telegraph wires, suffering no further damage than a broken rudder.

The Bystander
A Combination to Win.
Religion and Politics.
Ostrich Milk.
Joe Fern's Idea.

Really, the more I contemplate the local political situation the more impressed I am with the wonder of it all. In the first place the business men, through a small committee, arrange for a meeting and make certain endorsements. Then they were lost sight of for a time, but bobbed up serenely in the county convention with enough votes at command to steamroller their candidates into the nominations. But were these the same candidates endorsed at their earlier meeting? Not according to record. Evidently some anticipations were "left up in the air."

However, now come along a new factor in local political affairs. It is authoritatively asserted that a citizens' ticket is to be placed in the field, one which will contain the names of only handpicked candidates, men with scintillant records—not haules—guaranteed to make good in office. Such a ticket in my humble opinion is too good yet for this community, but then again, it might help to educate us politically toward a standard of municipal efficiency which would cause the rest of the United States to take notice.

Such a ticket backed by a combination of the honest voters in the community, irrespective of national party lines, would probably be a winner. Of course, not being a politician, I may be all wrong from a political precinct style, but just as a suggestion I would be glad to see a Citizens' ticket in the field composed of the best men on the Republican and Democratic tickets, with, possibly, two or three independent nominations for supervisor. With the clean, strong men of both tickets, men like Sheriff Jarrett and Deputy Sheriff Rose, David Kalanokalani and James Bicknell, Colonel Parker, or E. H. Paris, the Citizens' ticket should be a winner, for undoubtedly such a ticket would hold the balance of power. It reminds me of the only way it was found possible to beat Tammany Hall in New York in the "good old days, the warm old days and the days of the open ballot."

One of The Advertiser's subscribers writes to me asking a few questions with a combined moral, political and religious twist. Here they are:

"The argument may be used that because Mr. Bartlett is in the brewing business is no reason why he, as supervisor, should work in the interests of the saloons. This reminds me of the remark of Secretary Fisher on the first day of the Kuhio-Frear investigation, when the subject of contracts for cane between independent planters and the mills was under discussion.

"The question was asked, 'Are not the independent planters at the mercy of the mills when it came to the renewing of the planting contract?' The reply from Mr. Swanzy was, 'Not necessarily.' Mr. Fisher then asked if men were different in Honolulu from those in the United States and elsewhere. 'If they being in a position to dictate their own terms or let the cane rot in the ground would not naturally make terms leaving a minimum profit to the planter and a maximum to the mill.'

"Are the agents and managers of sugar estates interested in immigration and legislation favorable to the industry? Are the merchants interested in legislation favorable to the minimum rates on transportation and in the tariff question? Are the mechanics and laborers in favor of the eight-hour system and maximum wages?

"What would the agents say of a supervisor elected to represent their interest who voted for or used his influence toward free sugar? What would the merchants say of a man elected through their influence who used his influence in tinkering with the tariff so as to admit of an open competition with the cheaper markets of foreign countries? What would the artisans of our country do to a man who was elected to represent them and voted for the repeal of the eight-hour law and minimum wages?

"Now, I feel like asking Mr. Fisher's question again: 'Are men different in Honolulu?' It is argued that Mr. Bartlett is in for a business-like economic administration of affairs. The Good Book that takes no notice of fame or politics, which has been a light and a guide in the world for thousands of years, says, 'Where a man's treasure is there will his heart be also.' Is that true today? and in Honolulu? Then where will a man's heart be who has his capital invested in breweries and saloons? who himself and associates have their names on the applications for licenses for saloons twenty-nine times and once as bondsmen for a Sake Company?

"A saloonkeeper can not gain admittance within the sacred walls of Free Masonry, Odd Fellowship, or Good Templars. How about the men who make it possible for the saloonkeepers to continue their work of misery, degradation and crime, who back them up? Do they represent the best interests of any community?"

"Dear Editor," writes a worried correspondent of The Advertiser, "I noticed in your paper the other morning about a new island industry of raising ostriches for the milk. While I do not think it would be a paying business I would be very thankful if the editor would kindly tell me where ostrich milkshakes can be found."

Alas, the correspondent who interested Advertiser readers anent ostrich milk did not produce his credentials. The information asked can not be given. I can not, either, inform the man who pleaded with the "Dear Editor" whether it would be good for babies, as he also wished to know, or whether it would be good for foot races or give infants the long neck of intelligence. If it would we would feed it to the correspondent. Any one who could crack this joke, we dare say, would do a greater service to the world by dining exclusively on ostrich milk.

To tell the truth the editor has a right to resent that anyone make light of such a portentous affair. We are confidently led to believe that ostrich milk will be made a campaign issue by the citizens' party if by no other, and before a year is passed we will hear it argued pro and con in the sacred halls of our legislature together with why the board of health shouldn't have any more money.

Ostrich milk, we wish to inform our correspondent, will become the burning issue of the campaign. The caliber of our present tickets in the field lead me to expect that the issue will be handled with due seriousness.

I have not been invited to attend the Democratic caucus this morning at Mayor Fern's house whereat will be framed the slate which the Democratic party will offer for my consideration during the coming campaign.

Mayor Fern will speak. Last year Joe had an idea which he expanded into a speech to the effect that he ought to be reelected and this year I understand that he has another one. I have been expecting to see him wheel them down the front steps of the city hall in a baby carriage like twins.

His second idea is that he ought to be reelected again.

SHERIFF JARRETT.—In case I am induced to retire in November, I will not start a soda water stand. I will be a small farmer.

DEPUTY SHERIFF ROSE.—I have bought a pair of shoes for de-feat of Charlie Coster who, I am led to understand, will oppose me for reelection as deputy sheriff.

COLLECTOR COTTRILL.—I attended the conventions this week to see how things are done here, and I can safely say that I learned many things in politics, although I do hail from Ohio, where politics is known from A to Z.

PRESIDENT TAFT AGAIN DEFIES CONGRESS

Orders Secretary MacVeagh to Get Budgets for All Expenditures.

TAKES A POSITIVE STAND

Declares Resolution by House of Representatives Is Unconstitutional.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
BEVERLY, Massachusetts, September 20.—(Special to The Advertiser.)—President Taft last night made public a letter to Secretary of the Treasury McVeagh, taking open issue with congress on the question of a federal budget, and directing all heads of government departments or independent officers of the government, to make their estimates of revenue and expenditures for the fiscal year in conformity with the budget plan.

The President's letter to the secretary of the treasury said that the clause in one of the big supply bills passed by congress in the closing of the last session practically forbidding the use of a budget system was unconstitutional.

President Changes Plans.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
BEVERLY, September 20.—(Special to The Advertiser.)—Plans for President Taft's stay here were altered today, and it became known that the President probably will remain in Beverly only until October 20. He had intended staying in Farmington until a few days before the election and then closing up his summer home, traveling to Cincinnati to vote.

According to the new plan, the President will leave Beverly with Mrs. Taft for Hot Springs for a long stay, probably remaining there until a few days before congress convenes in December.

Wilson League Organized.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
COLUMBUS, Ohio, September 20.—(Special to The Advertiser.)—Coinciding with the opening of the Democratic National campaign in Ohio today, Governor Woodrow Wilson gave his approval to the formation in New York of the Wilson National Progressive Republican League. The Governor and Rudolph Spreckels of California, now in New York in charge of the movement, exchanged telegrams today, that of Spreckels notifying Governor Wilson of the opening of the headquarters in the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company Building in New York.

To this, Governor Wilson replied:

"Your telegram telling me of the formation of the Wilson National Progressive Republican League gave me the deepest gratification and encouragement."

Roosevelt Emphatic Again.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
HASTINGS, Nebraska, September 20.—(Special to The Advertiser.)—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt opened his campaign in Nebraska today.

"In this district, or in any other district," he said, "the only way in which the Republican party can show itself true to Abraham Lincoln is to support the Progressive party. Boies Penrose of Pennsylvania and William Barnes, Jr., of New York, and your own Victor Rosewater were engaged in the Chicago convention in settling the Republican ship. They cared not a bit for the principles of the party. All they wanted was to keep the power for their own purposes, and if they could not keep it without ruining the party they were going to ruin the party. The bosses know that Mr. Taft is a dead cock in the pit, and they are turning to Mr. Wilson."

"I will admit that the bosses don't like me. What's more, I will make them not like me more before I am through."

DOUGLAS, Arizona, September 20.—(Special to The Advertiser.)—It is reported here that the entire Mexican federal command under Colonel Obregon was wiped out by the rebels in the battle at San Joaquin ranch, seventeen miles south of Douglas, this morning. These not killed were taken prisoners by the rebels.

The rebels are reported to have attacked the federalists while the latter were gathering up their wounded and trying to ascertain the rebels' losses in yesterday's battle, which were reported to be heavy.

The rebel force is much superior in numbers to that of the federalists. No word has been received from either

Colonel Munoz or Colonel Alvarado. It was believed in federal headquarters in Agua Prieta that both were killed. The scene of the fighting was about seven miles from Frontiers, the nearest telegraph office.

HONGKONG, China, September 20.—(Special to The Advertiser.)—A Portuguese force with many guns today left Macao, the Portuguese possession in China, with the object of surrounding the island of Coloman, a piratical stronghold, which on former occasions has been the scene of severe fighting.

This Portuguese military move is part of an agreement between the Macao residents and the Portuguese government for the extermination of piracy, now in full swing on the Canton river.

COLOMBO, Ceylon, September 20.—(By Associated Press Cable.)—A mail coach proceeding along the road near here yesterday was attacked by a wild elephant. The animal in its fury smashed the vehicle into kindling wood, after pulling the driver from his seat and stamping him to death.

The passengers escaped by taking refuge in a culvert, managing to get far enough in to avoid the groping trunk of the animal.

BINGHAM, Utah, September 20.—(Special to The Advertiser.)—The 5000 miners on strike here for higher wages were impressed by the addresses delivered to them yesterday by Gov. Spry and others and remained quiet last night, but this morning they began to assemble at the railroad station and in a little while three hundred of them were discussing the report that the Utah Copper Company was going to put a number of strike-breakers to work at the steam-shovel pits today.

Bloodshed is feared if an attempt is made to import strikebreakers.

The Greeks claim to have advised that L. G. Skifiris, an employment agent, had been engaged by the Utah Copper Company to import strikebreakers.

SALT LAKE, Utah, September 20.—(By Associated Press Cable.)—The Western Federation of Miners, which is backing the strike at Bingham, where 1000 armed miners are entrenched, is considering the advisability of extending the strike to the mines of the Consolidated Companies in Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico, which would result in adding 5000 men to the army of strikers.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 21.—(By Associated Press Cable.)—Dispatches from Nicaragua tell of the attack by the rebels there upon the city of Granada, one of the principal cities of the country. The fighting methods of the rebels are stigmatized as barbaric.

It is asserted that severe fighting between the American marines, in command of Rear-Admiral Southernland, and the revolutionists is now in progress.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
SAN JUAN del SUR, Nicaragua, September 20.—(Special to The Advertiser.)—Nicaraguan revolutionists yesterday attacked and captured the town of San Jorge on Lake Nicaragua, five miles east of Rivas, while the rebel gunboats bombarded San Jorge.

A force of insurgent soldiers attacked Rivas, cutting telegraph wires to San Juan del Sur and gradually forcing the government troops to fall back. When the rebel attack slackened, the government forces captured a rapid-fire gun and used it with such good effect that the rebels were forced to retire.

The fight lasted five hours and both sides suffered many casualties.

WASHINGTON, September 20.—(Special to The Advertiser.)—A delayed cablegram from Rear-Admiral Southernland, dated Managua, Nicaragua, September 17, indicates that a skirmish was fought between the United States naval forces and the rebels at Barranca, fourteen miles south of Managua, and an equal distance from Granada, which the naval expedition was seeking to relieve.

The bluejackets and marines were fired on by the rebels. The rebels refused Admiral Southernland's demand to clear the way southward and he sent for reinforcements from Managua.

SMALL FARMERS ALL
FAIL IN MAUI SECTION

Superintendent Starrett Tells About Their Troubles; Lack of Water.

(Mail Special to The Advertiser.)
WAILUKU, September 20.—Superintendent Starrett, of the marketing division of the territorial department, spent some days on Maui recently. He traveled all over the Kula district, and he has a sad tale to tell regarding the state of affairs on the mountain side.

"The small farmers are up against it, good and hard," remarked Starrett, "and quite a number of them have had to leave their farms and go to work on the plantations. The district looks awful and all dried up. One would not think it was the same district that I visited some months ago."

"The corn crops that looked so promising have failed, and it is pathetic to see the fine promised crops withered and dead. Most of the ears reached half maturity, and then stopped on account of the lack of moisture."

"There has been no rain, and the pipe line just gives enough water for domestic purposes. Some of the people claim that, sometimes, they run short of drinking water. They fill small reservoirs whenever they can, as they know there is a shortage at times."

Unsuitable Variety.

"The variety of corn now planted takes six months to mature, and that is too long—under the present conditions. There is for, say, three months, sufficient moisture to take care of the growth. Then a dry spell comes, and the tall variety of corn, which needs so much moisture to take care of the stalks, withers and the ears fail to mature."

"It is terribly hard on the farmers, and I am advising them to go in for onions instead. Onions can do well with little rain, and a splendid variety can be raised. The white Bermuda onion is making a name for itself on Maui, and I have seen some splendid lots of the vegetables."

"The onion will be the salvation of Kula—until irrigation is possible. If water could be brought to the Kula district, the place would grow anything. The soil is the richest I have seen, and the district would flourish like a garden if water was applied."

Reverting to corn, Mr. Starrett said that he was going to introduce a new variety of seed.

Fine Seed.

"I have some seed now that will give a crop ninety days after it is sown," he remarked, "and that is just what is needed for Kula. The stalk of this variety of corn only attains a height of three feet. That will enable the farmers to grow corn that will obtain sufficient moisture, even at Kula."

The sample ears of the new variety of corn look splendid, and Mr. Starrett is very sanguine about the success of future crops.

The superintendent departed for Hana on Thursday last. He is to look into the difficulties of the small farmer in that district.

DREDGING WORK TO BE VERY EXTENSIVE

WAILUKU, September 20.—Sounding operations will be in full swing before long in Kahului harbor. The placing of stakes is being gone ahead with, and Mr. Willard is busy on that work. Next week Mr. Howitt will be also on the job, and things will then go ahead rapidly.

At present the engineers are placing stakes on the Waialeale side of the harbor. This is necessary on account of the dredging that is to be done in the future.

Up to the present time, no proper chart of the soundings of Kahului has been made. Such a chart is very necessary and the federal authorities are going ahead with the work.

The dredging of the harbor will do an immense amount of good, and the projected new wharf will be made a possibility by the deepening of the harbor.

GIVES LIFE TO SAVE
FIRMS FROM RUIN

NEW YORK, September 11.—Nathan Giff, a manufacturer of boys' clothing and treasurer of two silk manufacturing concerns, who committed suicide at a downtown office Monday, took poison because he saw that the failure of the two companies was a matter of hours and he believed his $100,000 life insurance might be enough to satisfy the bills. This is the statement made by his lawyer in a declaration to the creditors. Petitions in bankruptcy were filed yesterday against both companies. Giff's own business has been good, but his lawyer said that he had guaranteed three-quarters of the debts of the two concerns of which he was treasurer, and that this used up a great deal of capital required in his own business.

CITIZENS' PARTY
TICKET NOW READY

Committee of Fifty Organized to Select Candidates
Does So.

NAME MANY STRONG MEN

Convention and Mass Meeting
Will Probably Be Held
Very Soon.

(From Saturday Advertiser.)

Here are the candidates proposed by the Citizens' Committee, which held an informal meeting late last night. The tentative nominations are subject to acceptance by those named and of ratification by the full committee and a mass meeting of citizens:

Treasurer, Bruce Cartwright Jr. Clerk, David Kalaokalani. County Attorney, W. T. Rawlins. Auditor, George P. Thielan. Sheriff, W. W. Harris. Deputy Sheriff, Solomon Mahelona. Senators, A. D. Castro, John Lane, John Hughes. Representatives, Ed Towse, Eben Low, Charles Huestace Jr., Frank Archer, G. P. Affonso and Clifford Kimball. Supervisors, W. A. Bowen, Daniel Logan, James Quinn, Emil Bernad, E. I. Spalding, Abram Fernandez, and Col. C. W. Ziegler.

The question of making a nomination for mayor will be left to a mass meeting of citizens.

As a result of the ticket put in the field by the Republican party at its county convention, which is asserted to have been the fruit of political chicanery and wire-pulling, a complete legislative and county ticket will be placed before the voters in November by a committee of fifty citizens, who claim to have approached and to now represent two thousand voters on the island of Oahu.

The movement of the Citizens' Ticket started six hours after the last convention adjourned and has run silently and secretly until it is now announced that this new party is ready to hold its convention and a meeting of the Committee of Fifty will be held not later than Wednesday night to set the date.

No names on this inside committee have been made public. It is confidently asserted that men from each precinct in both districts have been sounded and have come in on the deal and that the influence carried by the members of the steering committee and by the people behind them is calculated at two thousand votes at the present time. This is one-third of the island's total vote.

The "street" was yesterday afternoon inclined to scoff at a movement making such powerful claims of strength under such anonymous form. Satisfactory proofs were produced, however, that the member of the Committee of Fifty are highly influential and politically powerful in most cases.

This new party without a name will not nominate candidates for Delegate to Congress, according to the statement of one member of the committee yesterday. Its work will be confined to political decency on this island and in the legislature. It will not go beyond the bounds of Republicanism in any place where it touches national politics.

LEAVES NO CLUE
FOR HIS SUICIDE

William Vida Shoots Himself
Through the Head and Dies Instantly.

(From Monday Advertiser.)

Leaving nothing to indicate the reason for his act, William C. Vida, reformed gambler, shot and killed himself yesterday morning at ten o'clock in a bathroom at the Majestic Hotel, Fort and Beretania streets. "Suicide" was the verdict arrived at last night by a coroner's jury after a consideration of the testimony of roomers at the hotel, whose stories left no doubt as to the nature of the tragedy.

Closely around ten o'clock a shot alarmed roomers in the hotel, among whom were G. W. Gordon, Mrs. Cora A. Blaisdell, the proprietress, George R. Wyman, Miss Evans and others, all of whom were called as witnesses at the inquest last night. The shot was easily traced and the bathroom door was found to be locked. Mr. Wyman climbed to the transom and saw the body lying on the floor. The door was then forced open as quickly as possible, but death had occurred almost instantaneously and the man was past aid.

Only one thing points to a possible motive for the suicide. The dead man's brother testified last night that Saturday Vida had complained of being a "little sick." Outside of that the reason for Vida's death remains a mystery.

A local man, Vida's career has been followed by the public more or less completely through police reports, for the career that he ended yesterday has

TAX APPEAL BOARD
UPHOLDS TERRITORY
In Three Important Cases All
Decisions Are Against Plantations.

(Mail Special to The Advertiser.)
HILLO, September 20.—It is improbable that the history of taxation in the Hawaiian Islands records a more complete victory than that which Tax Assessor Forrest won this week, when the West Hawaii tax appeal board decided in favor of the Territory in the three appeals taken by the Hawaii Mill and Plantation Company, the Hind Plantation Company and the Hind Estate. The board, which consists of G. P. Tulloch, P. P. Woods and W. H. G. Arneemann, decided in the government's favor in each of the three cases, sustaining the assessments in the two latter cases, and erasing it down comparatively little in the first case. By this decision the government will gain an increase of taxes on nearly half a million dollars worth of property, provided the supreme court sustains the appeal court, Mr. Hind having noted an appeal.

Each one of the cases was decidedly friendly in character, in marked contrast, for instance, to the case of the Paauhau plantation. The officers of the government speak in high terms of Mr. Hind, and the entire matter is based simply on a difference of opinion.

The Hawaii Mill return was originally $700,000. The assessment was made on a $1,300,000 valuation, whereupon an appeal was taken from a valuation of $800,000.

In the brief submitted to the appeal court through Attorney Wilder, the Territory stated its position very clearly. Says the brief in part:

Some Profits Shown.

"The capital stock of Hawaii is $300,000. Its net profits for the last seven years have been $1,380,742, or an average of $197,249. This amount, if capitalized on a fifteen per cent basis, would amount to a valuation of $1,315,000, or $15,000 over the assessment. It will also be noticed that the profits have been steadily increasing. For instance, in 1905 they were $87,800 and in 1911, $298,100. This occurred, too, in face of the testimony about increase in the cost of labor, loss of lands and other matters which Mr. Hind referred to."

The Territory in its brief also called attention to the difference presented by the figures in the tax return and the figures in the corporation exhibit, both filed by the same concern.

"The corporation exhibit for the year ending December 31, 1911, showed assets at $1,750,000," says the brief, "and yet the assessment is only $1,300,000. To be sure there are about $255,000 of stocks and holdings in other corporations, but when that is deducted there are still assets amounting to $1,225,000, which is practically the assessment."

Assessment Held Reasonable.

In the matter of the Hind Plantation Company, Ltd., the return was made at $17,000, while the assessment was for $43,000. The latter figure was sustained by the tax appeal board. The government's stand was, in Wilder's brief, summarized as follows:

"This concern owns 965.82 acres of land, of which about 850 acres are in cane and the balance pasture. This assessment was clearly justified. The cane land is undoubtedly worth $50 an acre, which would make $42,500, practically the assessment, and leaves out altogether the 115 acres of pasture land, which must be worth something."

In the case of the Hind Estate the government was again sustained. The Territory's points are summarized in the brief, as follows:

"This property consists of 234.25 acres of land, returned at $1200 and assessed at $875. It was assessed at an agreed valuation for 1911 of $5280. There are about sixty acres of cane land, which, figured at $50 an acre, would make $3000, and certainly the 174 acres of pasture land are worth $875. This assessment was undoubtedly justified. But in any event, the burden is on the taxpayer to show that his return is correct."

"When we refer to cane land as being worth $50 an acre, we do not mean that that is all that it is worth, because it is much more than that. We simply mean to say that if it is put in at the low figure of $50 an acre, even then the assessments are justified."

Francisco da Costa, one of the old kamaihais of Honolulu, died last evening at the home of Joseph Clark, 1715 South King street, aged eighty-two years. Mr. Costa was born at St. Michaels, Azores, but came here as a young man. He worked here for many years as a shipbuilder. The funeral will be tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock from Silva's undertaking parlors. He left no near relatives here.

been lurid. A favorite in school and showing every promise of becoming a successful man, gambling and drink gained control of him and his name frequently appears in police records for conducting or playing at notorious gambling houses in the city.

Vida had been married four times and has children living, most of whom have been adopted by other people. One of his wives committed suicide in the Arlington Hotel leaving a note asking him for his conduct and ascribing her death to him.

His own death yesterday was totally unexpected and created intense excitement in the local hotel where he has recently been living quietly with his aged mother. When his body was found it was almost entirely undressed, the revolver he had used lying beside him on the floor. He had apparently been sitting on the chair when he pulled the trigger, the bullet penetrating the roof of the mouth and lodging in the brain. Death must have come instantaneously for there were no signs of any subsequent struggle. The inquiry last night lasted but a half hour.

AUTOMOBILE BLOWS UP AND IS BURNED

Shortly after midnight yesterday morning a fine five thousand dollar automobile blew up on Piikoi street, near the fire station. Before the chemical engine from the station could reach the machine it was partly destroyed by the fire which followed the explosion of the gasoline tank.

J. C. Cunningham, chauffeur for the Auto-Livery Company, is reported to have been the driver of the machine. It was while he was trying to fill the tank and while the engine was revolving, that the engine back-fired and the explosion followed. It is understood that the machine was heavily insured.
