

LAYSAN IS SAFE

SPECIAL TO STAR.
MIDWAY, August 19.—Iroquois visited Laysan Island on 10th. All well there.

COLLEY.

Honolulu people interested in Laysan Island and Max Schlemmer and his family thereon have cabled Midway Island for information that might have been received there through the U. S. S. Iroquois which was to call at Laysan before going to Midway, and have received the reply that the Iroquois had not arrived at Midway, with the added information that the weather was too stormy for the vessel to effect a landing or to send a boat ashore if she did arrive.

This morning, however, it was stated definitely that a cable had been received.

ANOTHER VIRTUE FOUND IN SUGAR

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 8.—Dr. Abbott, chief of the Bureau of Health, announced yesterday that he believed that the appetite for candy and alcohol are fundamentally the same, that by the development of a candy taste the body was fortified against a desire for rum, and in furtherance of his theory he had been feeding his three children each day on a regular allowance of sweets.

Dr. Chalmers de Costa of Jefferson College supported Dr. Abbott's theory and said that he found that blonde persons usually had a candy craving, while brunettes long for alcohol. This was because the latter were more vital. It also had been discovered that within recent years women eat less candy and consume more alcohol. The reverse is true in men. Dr. Abbott said: "Both sugar and alcohol are carbohydrates with the same organic molecules, differing only in arrangement, and both administer to the same organic craving. Many men are developing a taste for sweets. Candy is taking the place of a dangerous appetite. Statistics show that within three years just passed the consumption of chocolate in America has increased more than other edibles. Also the soda-water business has increased phenomenally and confectionery shops are more numerous and of greater pretensions than was dreamed of four or five years ago. On the other hand, in proportion the sale of alcohol shows a slight decrease."

Dr. Abbott's "confession of faith" was called out by an article in one of the foremost English periodicals, in which a recent visitor to the United States said the Americans were a nation of candy eaters.

THEY'RE THE BEST.

If you live in a country district, ask your storekeeper for the candies of the Alexander Young Cafe. If he hasn't got them, he'll get them for you. Insist upon these, and no others. They're the best.

GOVERNOR FREAR DROPS IN ON NAVAL STATION AND FINDS ADMIRAL READY.

GOVERNOR FREAR DROPS IN ON NAVAL STATION AND FINDS ADMIRAL READY.

Governor Walter Francis Frear made an official call on Admiral Very, Commandant of the U. S. Naval Station, at 10:30 o'clock this morning. The governor was unattended, driving to the naval station in a public hack without an aide or an orderly or an officer of any kind except the hackman. Previous chief executives have generally been accompanied by a little gold lace upon such official occasions, but Frear sounded no bugle for his approach.

The Naval Station however, always ready for an emergency, was not taken by surprise, United States marines were at hand and had their guns at the salute in a jiffy and the saluting battery gave Governor Frear the seventeen guns to which his rank entitles him. He was met at the door of the Admiral's headquarters by the Admiral himself and a pleasant chat ensued.

JAPANESE PLEADS FOR BEATEN FOE

PARIS, August 6.—If other forget it, we remember Port Arthur lost up 60,000 lives by the gun fire alone. We dug forty kilometers of parallels and expended 30,000,000 round of ammunition. European history chronicles the glorious capitulation of Port Arthur and it is so considered in Japan. That is why the emperor of Japan ordered General Nogi to treat General Stoessel with all the honors due a gallant soldier. His own country should treat him likewise.

This writes Captain Tsuneda the Japanese military attaché here, who while upon the staff of General Nogi, conducted the negotiations for the surrender of Port Arthur, in an open letter today defending Gen. Stoessel, the defender of the fortress, upon the eve of the latter's trial by court-martial for surrendering to the Japanese.

All the Russians' food, says Captain Tsuneda, was exhausted, and the 20,000 Russians under arms were, he said, in no condition to fight. Gen. Stoessel, according to the Japanese officer, might have held out for a fortnight longer, but the result would have been inevitable massacre, in which it would have been difficult to recognize combatants from non-combatants.

Hero Of Manila Bay Anticipates War

ADMIRAL GEORGE DEWEY

Admiral George Dewey is a thorough believer in the time-honored axiom that "forewarned is forearmed" and to that end has anticipated his vessels at the nearest point to Spain's oriental possessions. In addition to his proven courage and far-seeing mentality, the Admiral of the United States navy is a tactician of the highest class and a thorough believer in being prepared for any emergency. In the event of war he would be an invaluable man for his place at the head of the Naval Board.

STARTED TWO FIRES IN THE OIL WAREHOUSE

APPLY TO GOVERNOR

A NEW RULE FOR THOSE WHO WANT TO TRAVEL ON ARMY TRANSPORTS.

Governor Frear received a letter this morning from Adjutant General and Acting Secretary of War F. C. Ainsworth, requesting that in the future all applications for transportation on government army transports be approved by the Governor. Also that officials or others cabling the department in reference to the transport service or on other business, be requested to make arrangement for the payment of the return message.

It seems that the War Department had been put to a good deal of trouble in the past in ascertaining the official standing of many persons claiming the right of transportation on transports, and also that the government has been stuck for cable tolls on messages of purely private nature; hence the new instructions to govern same.

RECEIVING AND MAKING CALLS

GOVERNOR FREAR AND SECRETARY MOTT-SMITH HAVE MANY OFFICIAL VISITS.

Governor Frear this morning returned the call of Admiral Very at the Naval Station, and was received with a salute of seventeen guns. Later he received formal calls from the Chinese Consul Chang Tso Fan and his secretary, Lee Chung.

Major Dunning, of the Third Battalion, Twentieth Infantry, accompanied by his staff, paid his respects to the new Governor this morning, while Chief Justice Hartwell and Associate Justices Wilder and Ballou called at noon.

Secretary Mott-Smith returned the call of Acting British Consul Forster, Col. Hoyt, and Capt. Cronin, of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, passing through to the Philippines on the transport Crook, were among the callers at the Executive offices. As an act of courtesy Col. Hoyt volunteered to Governor Frear the services of the regimental band for a concert to be given in the Capitol grounds at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Dr. Cofer, of the Marine Hospital Corps, in charge of the Quarantine Station here, called on the Governor this morning. Dr. Cofer leaves for a vacation shortly.

DASTARDLY DEED DONE EARLY SUNDAY MORNING

FIREMEN STOP BLAZES IN THE MIDST OF THOUSANDS OF GALLONS OF EXPLOSIVE OILS, BY QUICK AND BRAVE WORK WITH A CHEMICAL ENGINE—WOODEN CASES BURNED WITH OIL INSIDE THEM.

A fire that would have broken all Honolulu records and created panic and disaster in Kakaako as well as a large part of the rest of the city, was averted yesterday morning at eight o'clock by only a very few minutes. Some incendiary started a blaze in the government kerosene warehouse in Kakaako. By the time it was reached by the fire department over a dozen coal oil boxes, with tins full inside them, were blazing. Several were burned clean through and the outside of the full tins can be seen today, burned black. Still, none exploded and none leaked, and the firemen in charge of the chemical engine, with splendid bravery, attacked the dangerous fire and put it out. It was the most exciting and dangerous work Honolulu firemen have had to do.

In the warehouse in various parts are thirty or forty thousand gallons of highly explosive gasoline. They are in iron drums, or barrels, containing about 110 gallons each. If the fire had reached them, there would have been a series of several hundred explosions which would have shook the whole neighborhood, and very likely caused loss of life.

The appearance of the burned cans as seen this morning makes it seem almost incredible that the oil did not get started. The fire had gone far enough to burn through the floor and was blazing away, up the wooden sides of tiers of full oil cases, all brightly oily, when the firemen went to work. It is evident that the heat must have been very nearly the explosion point, and one oil can started would have meant that firemen and everyone else in the neighborhood must run for their lives.

The fire was started in two places, in the Walkiki part of the premises. Down stairs was one fire and up stairs another. The one up stairs was started on the desk of C. B. Reynolds, who is in charge at the warehouse, but was at home when the fire was discovered. His books were somewhat burned and one seems to have disappeared. Bare footprints on the somewhat dirty floor show where the incendiary entered from a window from the mauka balcony.

Downstairs directly under the office, fire was started on the floor by the oil cases. It burned a hole in the floor and burned the top and sides clean off several oil cases, blackening the cans. Into the room filled with these oil cases and tins, with about fifteen of them fiercely blazing, the firemen rushed. There was a short fight, and the fire was out, but in that few minutes the firemen were in thrilling peril.

The warehouse is open and there does not seem to have been any watchman on duty. The alarm was given by natives in Kakaako, who saw smoke. It was a still alarm. The chemical engine responded and saved the day by quick work. There is no clew to the incendiary.

The reason for starting two fires is a puzzle. But for the up-stairs fire the smoke would probably not have been seen until too late. It is thought likely that the fire up stairs was started first, though it doesn't seem to have

She sails for Manila via Nagasaki at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. In the first cabin she has 76 passengers and in the second cabin she carries 39 wives, servants and children of the enlisted men. Col. R. W. Hoyt commands the regiment. This is the regiment that is said to have stirred up the Brownsville trouble, though efforts are being made to show that the companies blamed were innocent and that the shooting up of Brownsville, Texas, was the scheme of certain roughs and rowdies to drive the regiment out of town.

TAFT HAS
HARD JOB

THE SITUATION IN THE PHILIP-
PINES WHICH THE SECRETARY
IS GOING TO CONSIDER.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—The result of the Philippine elections probably will lead to legislation at the next session of Congress that will make radical changes in the local government of the islands.

This opinion was expressed today by War Department officials who have kept in close touch with Philippine political affairs. These officials declare that the result of the elections indicate clearly that the Filipinos are not prepared for even the initial step in the plan of self-government. The returns show that a very small percentage of the qualified voters went to the polls, and that those who were active in the elections represent the lowest orders of the people.

The inability of the Filipinos to realize the responsibilities of suffrage is also indicated, army officers assert, by the fact that Dominador Gomez, a notorious criminal, was elected to the Legislature from one of the most important Manila districts. Of course, Gomez will not be permitted to take the office. Even in the event that prison does not claim him, the opinion of the better element of the people, it is believed here, will prevent him from securing the office to which, according to the returns, he was elected by a fair majority.

It is believed in Washington that Secretary Taft must straighten out the political complications in the Philippines, just as he did in Cuba. The Secretary will leave for Manila September 10, and will spend at least a month in the islands. He is expected to conduct a thorough investigation of the political conditions with a view to recommending legislation to Congress.

Mr. Taft's administration as Governor General of the Philippines and his subsequent experience in directing the affairs of the archipelago make him the best equipped man connected with the administration to conduct such an investigation.

War department officials as a rule expressed no surprise at the result of the elections. The feeling at the Department has been that the Filipinos are not competent to administer their political affairs, and that Congress was entirely too liberal in its legislation affecting those people.

A few days before the election, the Manila Cable News had the following regarding the Gomez referred to in the above, who was elected from one of the most important districts, to the legislature:

"At this writing Dominador Gomez, candidate for the Philippine Assembly, is in a prison cell. He is where he should remain except for the change from a police station to Billbid. One of the men whom the wily doctor induced to go his bond refused longer to remain security for Gomez's going to jail. If his sentence of four years and more be affirmed by the Supreme Court and the 'man of steel,' as he calls himself, had to forsake the comforts of his home for a cell.

"Gomez is a nuisance, and if it should happen that the court affirmed his sentence, the public would be well rid of his presence. He does much harm. He has a following of crack-brained, half-baked enthusiasts and grafters who believe he can aid them to get offices under some form of government which Gomez promises them he will bring about. Then his open contempt for America and Americans, his revilement of the flag, and his elevation of the Katipunan banner, all go to single him out as a bold leader of the irreconcilable element.

"The larders in the field swore by him; luckily most of them are dead, and if at all conscious now swear at him. It is this class of Filipinos who appeals to. His pompous egotism, magnetic oratory, unlimited promises, and ludicrous assurance, hypnotize the ignorant and young into the idea that he is a great and powerful man.

"To them his weak and evil character, his past record, and his present position as a man convicted of fraud, make no difference. He is their idol, the man who hates the United States and its citizens, and who is not afraid to say it openly.

"If he is not squashed by law or fate, he has an eventful and harmful career before him."

SICKNESS COMES WHEN LEAST

STANDARD OIL HAS APPEALED BIG FINE

JUDGE GROSSCUP WILL SEND THE
CASE TO THE CIRCUIT COURT OF APPEALS.

CHICAGO, August 8.—The Standard Oil Company's appeal from Judge Landis' decision fining that corporation $29,240,000 is first to be reviewed by the Circuit Court of Appeals. Notice of this was filed today and the circumstances are not without precedents heretofore popular in justices' courts. Judge Peter S. Grosscup, tomorrow will admit the appeal. Moritz Rosenthal appeared before him, with a bill of 32 counts, alleging errors in Judge Landis' decisions. Mr. Rosenthal filed a blank bond.

He wanted the matter considered by Judge Grosscup at once. He had not been at home from a ten days' vacation more than thirty-six hours. His representative, Merritt Starr, associated also with A. D. Eddy, General Western Counsel for the Standard Oil Company had, on Saturday last pleaded with and begged Judge Landis to allow the trust sixty days, and it was so ordered. Thus Mr. Rosenthal's action today was startling.

Assistant District Attorney Parkin had no sooner reached Judge Grosscup's court than Mr. Rosenthal arose and in a voice scarcely audible, asked for a writ of error and a supersedeas in the cases of the Government against the Standard Oil Company. Mr. Parkin objected to an immediate hearing and after some deliberation, Judge Grosscup postponed argument until Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

RUSSIANS SLAY
JAPANESE SEALERS

ORIENTALS ATTEMPT RAID ON
COPPER ISLAND SEAL ROOK-RIES AND ARE FIRED ON.

VICTORIA, August 8.—An attempted raid of the seal rookeries at Copper Island, one of the Commanderofski group guarded by Russians, has resulted in the killing of several Japanese sealers from the schooners engaged in the raid. The two schooners taking part in the raid were the Kaika Maru and the Midori Maru. The former returned to Japan and reported three sealing boats and twelve men missing. She also reported that the Midori Maru had been anchored close to the rookeries and had been fired on by the Russian guard and her mast had been damaged by a shell from a gun.

The two schooners went to the rookeries with the intention of raiding them, but were surprised by the guards and were badly damaged. The guard has been considerably strengthened since the close of the Russian-Japanese war and the patrol fleet has been almost doubled. There were five sealers from Victoria in the vicinity of Copper Islands during the month of June, but it is not thought that any trouble has befallen them otherwise some information would have been received.

WHY SHOULD I BUY A CORONET

BECAUSE

The five dollars paid for it will bring me greater pleasure than the same amount of money spent in any other way.

BECAUSE

The enjoyment will extend to those around me and any suggestion of selfishness will be eliminated.

BECAUSE

BECAUSE

I can hear the songs of the world by the best singers of all nations and enjoy them in my own house.

BECAUSE

I need not then tie myself to the local musical organization but can hear the selections played by Souza.

BECAUSE

I can have the best dance music played for me for little or nothing, and enjoy it.

BECAUSE

A Coronet costs a tenth of the price of some of the other machines and I can spend the difference in price in records.

BECAUSE

My friends have all bought them and I want to be in the swim and have all there is in life.

A Drastic Primary Law

California has a primary election law under which a voter may not change his views after registering, and it has just been sustained by the Supreme court in all respects. The law has the features common to primary laws in other states, but was especially attacked because of the provision requiring voters to state their party affiliations at the time of registering, and to vote in the primary, if at all, in accordance with such declaration. In discussing this feature of the law, which the politicians seemed to think would kill the act, Chief Justice Beatty, author of the court's decision, says: "It is contended that the test prescribed by Section 1366A is unreasonable, because with the close of registration the elector loses his right to change his party allegiance in consequence of a change in his political convictions, and precludes him from taking part in the election of delegates to the conventions of the party with which on the day of election his more matured opinions would impel him to cast in his lot. This inconvenience certainly does result from the provisions of the act, but the Legislature, which must be presumed to have foreseen it, probably regarded such sudden conversion during a short interval, between the close of registration and the date of primary election as likely to be of such rare occurrence as not to justify the omission of a provision evidently designed to prevent unscrupulous and mercenary electors from holding themselves free down to the day of election to vote with any party, upon any corrupt motive, for the purpose of influencing the nominations of its candidates for public office, while without any interest in their success, and perhaps with an interest in their defeat. If it shall sometimes happen a conscientious voter is converted from one political faith to another between the close of registration and primary election, he may console himself for the loss of his vote by the reflection that his loss is trifling in comparison to his share in the advantage to the State of which he is a citizen, flowing from a measure which tends to prevent a grave abuse, especially in those centers of population where the primary election law is made obligatory."

Hats Off To The Firemen

The firemen who entered the oil warehouse yesterday morning and did their duty amid a lot of blazing cases of kerosene oil deserve special recognition and thanks of the community. It fell to be their duty to risk life in the performance of their duty and they took the risk promptly. It is an incident of every day throughout our country for firemen and police officers to take risks, but none the less do they deserve to be remembered for their heroism. The Star takes pleasure in telling today of the local firemen's work and in congratulating the Honolulu Fire Department on its feat. To have put out a blazing fire in the very midst of thousands of gallons of coal oil, immediately surrounded by thousands of gallons of gasoline, is an achievement which certainly calls for special recognition.

Rockefeller In A Jail?

Is John D. Rockefeller really in danger of going to prison? Can it be possible? How strange to think of the richest man in the world confined behind prison bars! Is it possible that the power of money which has been talked of so much, has been overestimated and that instead of being able to save its owner, instead of making him as we are told, the real ruler and boss of our country, it cannot even keep him out of a cell? It will be a nice spectacle for the country to see John D. peering through bars and then to remember how our Debates and others,—must Jack London be included?—have told us for a long time that money "could do anything." However, John D. isn't there yet. But his company has been convicted of an offense for which there is a jail penalty,—and more prosecutions are to come. If the prosecution has proved about 1400 cases, why not some more? It claims to have several thousand more ready, and for each one there is a possible jail penalty. The country seems to be crying for a picture of Rockefeller doing time, and Attorney General Bonaparte says there is to be no more immunity. Says the head of the federal prosecution: "In some cases it is the opinion of most of the prosecuting officers that the law can be much more clearly and effectively enforced through the imprisonment of individual defendants. The immunity given to Rockefeller and his assistants from personal prosecution when they appeared in Chicago as witnesses, will not extend to the rebates accepted from other railroads."

Is Really A War Conference

The Hague peace conference ought to be called a methods-of-war conference. Instead of talking schemes to preserve the peace, it has spent its discussion on how war shall be made, and most of the schemes suggested by various representatives seem to have had for their object the essentially warlike one of getting a rule adopted which would benefit his own country. For example Great Britain's idea of what a peace conference ought to do has been largely that it should make rules regarding preying upon commerce which would obviously be of much benefit to her when war came; Russia, remembering Port Arthur, wanted 24 hours' notice hereafter before any nation begins shooting,—and all agreed with her; powers with unprotected ports have wanted rules against bombardments. As a result, the real discussions have been about how to make war. Disarmament could get no hearing. It is predicted by one writer on the subject that the only result of the conference, aside from a lot of general discussions which have served to make the powers very suspicious of one another, will be adoption of the American suggestion of a permanent court at the Hague. It is agreed that this court can do no harm anyhow, and there is a possibility that it might at some time furnish the necessary means of arbitrating a disturbing issue.

Tales Worth Telling

A story is told of an Englishman who had occasion for a doctor while staying in Peking.

"Sing Loo greatest doctor," advised his native servant, "he save my life once."

"Really?" queried the Englishman. "Yes, me terrible awful," was the reply. "Me callee in another doctor. He give me medicine. Me velly, velly bad. Me callee in another doctor. He come and give me more medicine. Make me velly, velly better. Me callee in Sing Loo. He no come. He save my life."

COUNTING HER CHICKENS.

Lord Sholto Douglas, who was arrested through an error in Maine last month, was congratulated at a Portland hotel on the courtesy he had shown in pardoning the erring Maine police.

"Why shouldn't I have pardoned them?" said Lord Douglas, laughing. "They did their duty. I admit that their calculations were absurdly wrong. They reminded me of a young lady I used to know when I lived in the west."

"This young lady, whose family was well-to-do announced to her father one night that she was going to marry a penniless man."

"If you marry him," her father grumbled, "how on earth will you live?" "Oh," said the girl, confidently "we have figured that all out, and it is very simple. You know that black hen I bought last week?" "Yes. What of it?"

"Well, I have consulted the best poultry circulars, and they all agree that a good hen will raise twenty chicks a year. That means that next season I shall have twenty-one hens. These at the season's end, each having raised their twenty young, will give me 240 in all. The next season there will be 8,400; the next 168,000, and the next 3,360,000. Just think of that! With chickens at 50 cents apiece, we will then be worth $1,680,000. So you see, papa, you needn't worry about us."

THE LIMIT OF LAZINESS.

In order temporarily to forget all about courts and legal tomes, Merritt Starr, a Minneapolis lawyer, went for a trip to West Virginia. In one of his rambles through the country Mr. Starr came upon a tumble-down cabin, in front of which, a rudely constructed bench, sprawled a big negro lazily smoking a pipe. Not a sign of industry was visible in any direction, and Mr. Starr, curious to learn the system that enabled this dorky to live in apparent indolence, opened conversation with him and finally asked:

"What do you do for a living?" The negro grinned as he pointed to a lean and hungry-looking hog in a patch of trees on the other side of the road.

"Dar's my livin'," he replied. "But you don't seem to raise anything with which to feed the animal," pursued Mr. Starr. "How does the hog get his living?"

"Oh," said the dorky, "the hog makes out on roots and acorns."

"But," argued the lawyer, "that's a pretty slow process. You ought to have some good Illinois corn to feed him. It'll take a hog a long time to get fat on what he can pick up."

For a moment or two the negro seemed a bit dubious, but he quickly solved the problem to his own satisfaction.

"Oh, well," said he, "what's time to a hog, anyway?"

A DISTINGUISHED TRIO.

The Hon. Joseph Chamberlain is fond of relating an incident that occurred while he and Lord Roseberry were returning from the theatre one night.

While crossing the street they were accosted by a ragged boy who after sweeping the mud from their path asked for alms.

Lord Roseberry was about to give the boy a coin when an idea struck him. "My boy," said Roseberry, "if you will hit that policeman a swat on the back with your muddy broom I will give you ten shillings." Prompt to the word the boy crept in back of the officer and raising his broom struck him in the back, then turned and ran, but to the dismay of Roseberry the officer caught the boy after a chase of a few yards.

Not wanting to leave the boy in a fix Roseberry tried to fix things up with the officer, but the worthy gentleman would not listen, and took them all three up to the station.

They were then taken before the Judge of the station and after surveying them through his glasses he took down a book and turning to Chamberlain asked his name. "Hon. Joseph Chamberlain," was the reply and the judge smiled.

Roseberry responded also with his full title, "Lord Roseberry."

The boy was next and stepping to the front he drew himself up to his full height and waited for the usual question, "Your name?"

"My name," said the boy, "Well, Judge I'm not the kind as what goes back on my pals. I'm the 'Duke of Wellington.'"

To the Public:

We are just completing alterations in the premises known as the Ehlers' Block, by which our present store and the one formerly occupied by the Hobron Drug Co. have been made into one. This gives us about 6000 square feet of floor space on both the first and second floors.

Before the week is out we will have installed fixtures, etc., and removed stock into this addition. With this great increase in selling room, we will be in a much better position to serve your wants and will be enabled to carry better and more complete stocks in all departments.

Arrangements have been made for this removal in such a manner that our usual business will be carried on without in the least disturbing our customers. Do your shopping as usual this week and next week be sure to come in and view our new premises.

THE ARRAIGNMENT OF STANDARD OIL COMPANY

The Court Very Severe In Comment Upon Conduct Of Rockefeller's Trust—An $88,000,000 Fine Possible

(FROM THE DECISION OF JUDGE LANDIS IMPOSING A FINE OF $29,240,000 ON STANDARD OIL.)

"We may as well look at this situation squarely. The men who thus deliberately violate this law would society more deeply than does he who counterfeits the coin or steals letters from the mail. The nominal defendant is the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, a million dollar corporation. The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, whose capital is $100,000,000, is the real defendant. This is for the reason that if a body of men organize a large corporation under the laws of one state for the purpose of carrying on business throughout the United States and for the accomplishment of that purpose it absorbs the stock of other corporations, such corporations so absorbed have thereafter but a nominal existence. They can not initiate or execute any inherent business policy, their elimination in this respect being a prime consideration for their absorption. So, when after this process has taken place a crime is committed in the name of such smaller corporation, the law will not consider that the latter corporation is the real offender.

"Where the only possible motive of the crime is the enhancement of dividends, and the only punishment authorized is a fine, great caution must be exercised by the court, as the fixing of a small amount would encourage the defendant to further violations by esteeming the penalty to be in the nature of a license.

"The defendant argues that to hold it for 1,462 offenses would be a violation of the constitutional prohibition against the imposition of excessive fines, and it is urged that congress could never have intended to confer upon the court such power. It is the view of the court that for the law to take from one of its corporate creatures as a penalty for the commission of a dividend-producing crime less than one-third of its net revenues accrued during the period of violation falls far short of the imposition of an excessive fine, and surely to do this would not be the exercise of as much real power as is employed when a sentence is imposed taking from a human being one day of his liberty.

"The law prohibiting preferential railroad rates was passed twenty years ago. Its adoption was preceded by vigorous opposition interposed by those who had been the beneficiaries of the vicious practices it enacted.

ed to the effect that the Iroquois was sighted off Midway at 8 o'clock last night, Midway time, but that it was too rough for her even to send a boat ashore for some time.

Admiral Very, U. S. N., stated this noon that he had heard nothing from Midway or the Iroquois.

Seldom has any report excited so much interest here as that brought back by Captain Olsen of the schooner Luka concerning the alleged disappearance of Laysan Island and since the arrival of the Luka from her vain effort to find Laysan inquiries have been constant at all points where information might be had.

Everybody among seafaring men profess to hold the opinion that Olsen was off his course and that Laysan Island is all right and yet these same men will inquire diligently of the press and others supposed to know if there is any news of Laysan.

Captain Mansfield who took the Luka to Laysan when Max Schiemmer returned there, stated this morning that he was firm in the opinion that Captain Olsen had been off his course.

"If Laysan Island had sunk," says Mansfield "there would have been some sign in the neighborhood to indicate the fact. There were enough wrecks on Laysan to strew the sea with wreckage in the event of the island sinking and the birds who had been inhabiting Laysan would make the sinking of their home manifest by flocking about the spot for a time at least, in wonder, or migrating to some other island and their migration, if the island sunk about the time the Luka got there, as the Japanese crew of the schooner would have us think, would be noticed by the Luka."

It may be days, say those who have been to Midway, before the Iroquois can send a boat ashore or get beyond the reef. In rough weather great combers from 20 to 40 feet high break over the reefs and spread in suddy foam, hiding the channel. If the Iroquois has found Laysan there will be nothing of importance for her to communicate from Midway to Honolulu and she would not bother with signalling actment was designed to abolish. Immediately thereafter these same persons set about to devise means for its evasion. The records of the courts and of the interstate commerce commission show the employment of a large variety of schemes to accomplish this result. During the period since 1887 congress has repeatedly endeavored to effectively amend the law with a view to the accomplishment of its great object. Finally in 1903, the Elkins law was passed.

"The court recalls that at that time the earnest hope was very greatly entertained that at last a means had been devised that would put an end to preferential railroad rates, and yet a few months thereafter the Standard Oil Company procured 1,900 car loads of property to be shipped at an unlawful rate. And for this offense, the Elkins law authorizes punishment only by fine, an obvious defect, remedied, however, by the present law which prescribes imprisonment in the penitentiary for a like offense. However, it is the business of a judge to administer the law as he finds it, rather than expatiate on the inadequacy of punishment authorized for its infraction.

"It is the judgment and sentence of the court that the defendant, the Standard Oil Company, pay a fine of $29,240,000.

"One thing remains. It must not be assumed that in this jurisdiction these laws may be ignored. If they are not obeyed they will be enforced. The plain demands of justice require that the facts disclosed in this proceeding be submitted to the grand jury with a view to the consideration of the conduct of the other party to these transactions. Let an order be entered for a panel of sixty men, returnable at 10 o'clock on the morning of August 14. The United States district attorney is directed to proceed accordingly.

Under the seven indictments still pending against the Standard Oil Company an additional fine amounting to $88,440,000 may be levied against the company, if it is found guilty on trial. There are in these seven indictments a total of 4,422 counts, and the maximum fine on each count would be $20,000.

any message ashore for cabling to Honolulu.

On the other hand, if the Iroquois has failed to find Laysan the probabilities are that Captain Carter would endeavor to communicate as soon as possible with Admiral Very, Commandant of the U. S. Naval Station here.

The U. S. A. transport Logan is due at Laysan, providing Captain Stinson held to his avowed intention of looking up the island and it is not outside the realm of the possible that the Logan's wireless might reach the wireless at the local Naval station with any information of disaster to the island.

It seems strange that no disturbance was felt at Midway if Laysan has become the victim of any great seismic trouble.

It would seem that a disturbance great enough to have swallowed Laysan might have broken the cable between Honolulu and Midway. The cable is all right and so is Midway and since the Iroquois is now off Midway and would likely signal any important news she had ashore for cabling, no news concerning Laysan may be taken as an assurance that Laysan is where she was when last visited.

INDIANA TO RETURN

S. S. Indiana of the Indiana S. S. Co. which took 305 Japanese to Vancouver from Honolulu, arrived at her destination on Saturday morning last, according to a cable received by Fred Makino, and she is to sail without delay on her return to Honolulu where 500 Japanese are ready to leave for Canada.

The Indiana, according to present plans, is to abandon the Nome run altogether and stay in the Vancouver-Honolulu business.

MAKE MUCH OF BARNEY

COAST BASEBALL ENTHUSIASTS DELIGHTED WITH THE HAWAII MAN'S WORK.

"Barney Joy a real Hero in the Land of Poi," is the caption of a big cartoon in the San Francisco Bulletin, with Joy as the hero of a procession in celebration of his last victory. He is shown being carried by enthusiastic admirers and surrounded by various signs, some of which are: "Aloha wai-lakihi, wicki wicki and Cranberry Pie, Oatie, Goffie, Three-fingered Poi, Alligator Pears and Barney Joy." "When Barney Returns to Honolulu they'll elect him Mayor." "We will make him Custodian of the Royal Poi Pota." "Hurrah for Barney Joy, the Man who Made Danny Long Famous."

The following description of the game accompanies the cartoon: "Too bad Danny Long can't pitch big Barney Joy every day. If the big Hawaiian could pitch the same brand of ball that he has served the last two times out, he would soon have the Seals leading the race for the pennant. It was so easy for Barney yesterday that he did not seem to exert himself in the least. Six hits were all that were gathered off his delivery, while seven men fanned the air. Barney was accorded good support, and as for the hitting of the home team, well, in the last three games that has improved to such an extent that the bleacher boys are filled with amazement.

Captain Dillon of the Angel team and Umpire Derriek gave another exhibition of the Damon-Pythias feeling that exists between them. In the latter part of the first inning Spencer came to bat, taking up his position on the right-hand side of the plate.

Before a ball had been sent over he changed his position to the opposite side. Instantly Dillon rushed in from the field, declaring that Spencer was out under rule 51, section 10, where oracles that make baseball rules have declared that a man is out "if he steps from one batsman's box to the other after the pitcher has taken his position."

Derriek refused to make the desired ruling, as he did not think that Nagle was in his box at the time. The discussion grew very heated, with Dillon using many naughty words. For this Derriek ordered the Angel captain from the grounds. He retired, vowing that he would protest the game.

The Seals scored at ease, the most damage taking place in the fifth, when two double-sackers were responsible for three runs. In this inning Street singled but was forced out at second by Joy. Shaughnessy drove one to Nagle, who was the original procrastinating kid, as he hesitated where to throw the ball, allowing both men to reach the bags safely. Spencer's double to left, brought home Joy. Wheeler then followed with one of the same kind, scoring both Shaughnessy and Spencer. In the sixth the Seals grabbed their last tally, for which Strieb's wallop to rightfield fence was chiefly responsible.

All the Angels were able to gather were two tally, and from the manner in which these were grabbed, it seemed to be the opinion of the boys who con-sorted below the grandstand to dip their noses in the nut-brown beverage, that they were very lucky to get these.

SOME MORE ABOUT AUTO SPEEDING

CORRESPONDENT URGES MORE RESTRICTIONS AND BETTER ENFORCEMENT OF THE LAW.

EDITOR STAR:—I think I voice the sentiments of every reasonable person in Honolulu when I say that I have no grudge against automobilists or automobiles. In fact like most others in my position I should only be glad if I felt able to own one of the "whiz wagons" myself. Possible also my point of view might change with the possession of a 60-horse power "Red Devil" and I might be inclined to crowd the speed limit to the limit whenever opportunity offered.

I can scarcely believe, however, that I should ever sincerely acquire that feeling which seems to be the usual one with the great majority of Honolulu autoists, and was admirably expressed in the letter published in the Advertiser on the 16th inst, signed "Auto," that automobiles have some kind of superior privileges on the public highways and streets not enjoyed by other vehicles, or that the responsibility for accidents rests with the victim, who should have "looked before he leaped" in the way of my machine.

"Auto" would reverse the heretofore universally accepted rule that the right of pedestrians on streets is superior to that of vehicles. As an easterner who has had more experience in Eastern cities than I ever have had in Hawaii, I deny that the Honolulu, be he Jap, Chinaman, Hawaiian, or Haole, would be in any more peril on the streets of most any Eastern city than he is right here in Honolulu; for that he would be in any more danger, if indeed as much, of being reduced to "a few grease spots" as soon as he left the sidewalk. In most American cities the speed limit for automobiles is much less liberal than in Honolulu, and infinitely better enforced. Any one who has been in one of these cities must certainly have observed that the rights of pedestrians are recognized, and have seen horses thrown back on their haunches by a burly policeman when the driver has failed to pull up at crossings to give way to persons on foot, or a mounted police, or bicycle "cop" take after an offending chauffeur.

I know the exhilaration of fast driving, and the reckless feeling that seems to pervade the whole being under the intoxication of rapid motion, but I cannot see that that can be offered as an excuse for violating the law or that when a luckless man is halt killed it helps matters out much to express feelings of regret no matter how genuine they may be, or to shower gifts upon the relatives of the victim. But the strongest indictment seems to me to be the evident deliberate desire of the Honolulu autoists generally to place themselves superior to the law. A man is half killed by a high power machine. There are a dozen persons who have observed and remarked just before the accident that the car was running at a very high rate (it was the evident reckless pace that attracted their attention) and some of them openly express a willingness to appear at witnesses if called upon. But what happens? A quiet but none the less manifest influence at once begins to hedge the offenders about. No arrests were made. The officer of the law who has sworn to enforce the law as he finds them impartially, regardless of whom they may effect, adroitly side-steps, says he doesn't know whether the law is constitutional, or something of the kind, and finally crawls out from under all together by "referring the matter to the County Attorney for an opinion." Further comment on official sincerity is scarcely needed. The case is never heard from again, and the forgetful public soon has its attention attracted elsewhere.

But it does seem rather brutal to tell a parent, for instance, whose child may have been mangled by a flying piece of mechanism, that it should have kept out of the way. "Auto" didn't just do this, but the idea was implied.

As the Advertiser's correspondent closes, so do I, but with a different application in mind—

Yours for more precaution,
EASTERNER.

HAWAII SHOULD RUN HER OWN STEAMERS

A TALE OF SEA DISASTERS AND THEIR CAUSE—A HOODOO SAILOR WHO BROKE A MIRROR IN WALES NEARLY TEN YEARS AGO AND THE CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS THAT FOLLOWED.

Editor Star:—The question are we to insist on the modification of the coast wise shipping laws, or are we to be satisfied with the present way the steamers are running, seems to be the one question that is causing no end of talk here. It seems to me that it would be a much better thing if the people here in Honolulu would get together and take some immediate action, instead of waiting in hopes that the request that was made the other day to Secretary Straus would be granted by Congress. A number of people do not seem to realize that if their wish were granted, and foreign steamers were allowed to run here and take passengers on their ships, that the other ships flying the American flag would not stop here, and that the number of foreign ships coming in here would be entirely inadequate for the business. An official who is in a position to know what he is saying told me not long ago that the lines in business here now, would take their ships off entirely, as soon as the law went into effect, and I think that the people here, like a child with a new toy, would very soon get sick of conditions, and would beg the proper people in Washington to rescind the modifications at once. The trouble here among the merchants, planters, and business people in general is that they don't know what they do want. As Secretary Straus says "there ought to be more harmony, and some definite thing decided upon, and not so many proposals on the questions of vital interest to the community in general." With the amount of money in the Territory of Hawaii it seems to me that it would be a good thing to start a steamer line of our own here, and in that way have the sort of service we want, and be in a position to know what can be done. I have been away for three years from the Territory but in that time I have talked over a number of affairs with people in Washington who know our needs, and they are all of the same mind as I am and that is get down to facts, and not continue to soar in the clouds above, and be just as far from having what is wanted as the state of affairs are here now. Any number of good ships with all passenger accommodations, and good sea worthy ships can be bought at a very fair figure in the East, and if the business people would guarantee to give them a fair amount of freight, and assure people on the coast that they could get back when they wanted to, half the battle would be won, but no, the person or persons who have had the figures in regard to just this main and important matter, have been asleep and have let valuable chances go by. What is needed, is perfect harmony and some energy in this matter, and the sooner the better. What is needed, is to allow some of the good wide awake young men to take charge of this matter and push it to a finish, as it seems by results that the older men have allowed the matter to lie dormant, and thus the ends that were hoped to be accomplished, are as far apart as the earth from the sun. In a very few years if results so far are going to count for anything, the Panama canal will be finished, and this city and the islands in general will be greatly benefited by the number of ships that will monthly be here, and the money that will be spent by passengers coming ashore. We are anxious for Straus to help us, by having the laws changed so that we can travel on foreign ships, why don't we help ourselves instead, when it is in our power. It is not too late yet, but it strikes me that conditions will not be changed unless we help ourselves. Any one who knows anything about the feeling in Congress knows very well that it will be a very hard fight before they will consider allowing foreign ships to carry passengers between two U. S. ports, and that a number of congressmen will say with all the wealth in the Hawaiian Islands why do they not help themselves. This is the truth and the cold hard truth, and the sooner that we sit up and look at the matter in the true light the better it will be for every one concerned. What I am anxious to bring before the public is one true fact which is just this: We ought to help ourselves, and get a company formed to start a line of ships from here to the coast, and to run them ourselves and not wait in the hopes that we will get the aid we want from Congress. We are supposed to be true Americans here, and still we want foreign ships to carry our freight and our passengers. Citizens look at this matter the way it is and hope that in time Congress will see fit to pass the subsidy bill in reference to American ships, but do not be willing to sit back with our arms folded and wait for this day to come, but get out with some of the American nerve and push that we are noted for as a nation, and solve this all important matter by having a line of our own, and by the time that the bill is passed by Congress relative to our merchant Marine we will not be afraid of any other lines in the field. "Nothing that we can gain in this world is worth anything, unless we try by our own efforts to make it a success." I am nearly sure that when they look at the true facts in the matter as they are, they will agree with me that I am right when I say, that the only way to solve the important transportation problem is to have a line of ships of our own with Honolulu as the home port, and the sooner that the ships are started the better it will be for every one here in the islands, and the many people who would come, but are unwilling to be kept here with the chances of getting home on some steamer about six months afterwards. This question is one that interests everyone in business throughout the islands, and I am nearly positive that if the question of money could be raised in a very few days, and the first part of a serious obstacle would be overcome. Let me urge every one as good true American citizens to think over this subject with careful thought and consideration, and I am almost certain that after it is given serious thought that we will not want foreign ships to take the place of our own flag on the Pacific.

SPORTS

the goal was reached Krumbhaar with a beautiful back hand stroke hit the ball out of danger, but it was in Dillingham's reach and he sent it with terrible force through the posts for another goal. The next goal was fought for in Oahu's territory and many a time Fleming and Dr. Baldwin saved the day but finally Sam Baldwin with steady aim sent the ball across the line for one more goal.

In the last few minutes of play Dillingham made a fine run nearly the length of the field only hitting the ball four times and scoring again for the local team. In the last few seconds of play Sam Baldwin riding like mad behind his brother Frank scored again for Maui.

In the second period Shingle scored again for his team and a little while afterwards Fleming again scored for his team. Frank Baldwin had what looked like an easy chance to score but missed, and after a pretty ride of Shingle, followed closely by Dillingham Oahu was able to score again. Nothing very exciting happened during the rest of the period except the run of John Fleming the length of the field but his try for a goal was blocked by the fine work of Frank Baldwin, and the period ended with the score 5-4 in Oahu's favor.

The third period started with Krumbhaar making a beautiful run but his effort to make a goal was fruitless, and his team mate Fleming came to his aid and placed the ball through for another tally. A minute after play was started Shingle made another goal and missed still another chance to score. Dillingham made a dandy ride nearly the length of the field and it was at this time that he suffered a fall from his horse that resulted in his injury. Krumbhaar tied the score after a beautiful ride of the field, and a pass from Frank Baldwin.

The game at this time caused the spectators to applaud with a good deal of enthusiasm as both sides were playing a fine and steady game. The last period started with some hard fast work and within two minutes after the playing started Krumbhaar scored three times and the final score that won for Maui the championship this year was made by Frank Baldwin on a pass from his brother Sam. The remaining eleven minutes of play neither side were able to score and the game ended with the ball in the center of the field. The following is the summary of the game.

ARCHERY CLUB.

The prospects of an Archery Club being started in the near future here are very good just at present, and it is hoped by a number of enthusiasts of the game that a club will be started and a charming game will be added to the already large lists of sports indulged in here. The game which is a very mild one will be welcomed by a number of ladies here, who do not take any part in the more strenuous games that are played here, and will welcome this game with a good deal of interest.

STARTED TWO FIRES

burned as much, as anyone starting a fire among the oil on the lower floor would probably want to run from the building as quickly as possible.

Superintendent Reynolds said that morning that he was keeping the footprints untouched, to allow the police to examine them. They do not constitute much of a clue, however, and there is not much to work on.

Yesterday morning at 7:58 the fire department received a message from the telephone exchange, stating that the kerosene oil warehouse on Keawe street was on fire. Two engines, two hose carts and the chemical engine from headquarters answered the alarm, and by the time they arrived found that the building that had once been used for a leper hospital was blazing away at a good rate, and some quick work would have to be done to save the building and the oil. Between 800 and 1000 barrels of oil were stored on the ground floor and the firemen started in to remove the oil as fast as they could.

When the firemen arrived they found that in addition to the ground floor the second story was also on fire and the fact that the building was on fire in two places seemed rather suspicious to Chief Thurston, and he immediately started an investigation to find out exactly the cause of the fire. The steam engine was ready to start a stream on the building from the hydrant in front of the Union Feed Company's building, but that was not necessary as the men from the chemical engine were able to put the fire out with their machine. Between forty and fifty oil cases were burned, but the remainder were all saved. With the exception of the wall on the second story being scorched the building was undamaged, and before eight-thirty the fire was out and the men on their way home. Chief Thurston is still working on what seems to be a deliberate case of arson, and he will probably be able to solve the problem before the day is out.

Chief Thurston stated this morning that he and Chief of Detectives Taylor were working on the case, but as they had no direct evidence to work on, it would be rather hard to put the blame on any one. "It was an incendiary fire all right," he said, "as the fire on the second floor started on top of the desk in the office, while the fire down stairs was in the middle of all the cases of oil stored there. If we had arrived a few minutes later the whole building would have gone, as the explosions from the oil would have spread very rapidly, and with the dense smoke that is caused by oil, we would not have been able to get the fire under control."

TRY TO SETTLE RANGE LIGHT ISSUE

GOVERNOR FREAR IS TAKING UP THE QUESTION OF WHERE TO LOCATE SIGHT.

Governor Frear expects to take up the matter of the location of the rear Range Light, in the system of harbor lights, which has been held up on account of the differences of opinion regarding the most available place to put it, within a short time. It is probable that he will visit the proposed sites at the foot of Fort street with Capt. Otwell tomorrow morning.

By the recommendations of the Army engineers in charge of the work, the rear range light was located at the junction of Esplanade and Fort streets, but Governor Carter objected to this site on the grounds that it would interfere with street traffic, and wanted it put in a vacant lot further back. This the engineers objected to on the grounds that the tower would for the most part be cut off from view by a warehouse of the Oceanic Steamship Company, and thus make it less valuable as an aid to navigation than it otherwise would be.

It is expected that the new Governor will try to settle the matter at once, as the work on the lights has been delayed for some months already, and should be continued.

LICENSE APPLICATIONS.

The Board of License Commissioners will hold a meeting at 4 o'clock this afternoon for the purpose of granting a public hearing on the applications for liquor licenses made by four different parties. These are: Wong Chung Lung, at 1114 Maunakea street; Loo Goon, at King and Beretania; Pang Lum Mow, at Hotel and Maunakea streets, all for retail saloon licenses; and Ichiro Nishioaka, for a wholesale license at Aiea.
