THE DAILY

PACIFIC COMMERCIAL ADVERTISER

Six Pages.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1893.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

The ADVERTISER admits the debt of "nearly four million dollars" owed by Hawaii, as alleged by the Bulletin. This debt was contracted under the monarchy, and will be paid by the Provisional government—unless Claus Spreckels or Theo. H. Davies should bob up serenely, when restoration is accomplished, and save the country the responsibility. The public will not hold its breath in the meantime; it might be fatal.

We are just afraid our "ancient enemy" the Bulletin has missed its "tumble" about the annexation fight taking place from this end of the line. The annexation scheme is not as "dead as a door nail at Washington," and perhaps when the Bulletin is better posted it will say less. The United States is not "robbing Hawaii of its autonomy," but is aiding to establish good government here. Suppose in this endeavor the Great Republic comes into conflict with other powers? Suppose the interests of England should be enlisted diplomatically against the acquiring of these islands by the United States? Suppose that a compromise should be insisted on by England which would replace Kaulani on the throne and conserve the interests of the English colony in Samoa? Suppose that this state of affairs would be maintained by Germany? Suppose all these things and how does the present situation stand? Russia and America would stand and fall together in the Pacific and in their battle for supremacy they would very probably have the silent if not the active friendship of France.

It is pretty certain that Admiral Skerrett never used the words attributed to him in the Bulletin, viz.: "I don't see much harm in shooting off your gleeful gratitude. But, my dear fellow, really international etiquette doesn't require that sort of acknowledgment of diplomatic courtesy." The entire sentence was doubtless fabricated in the Bulletin—beg pardon—in the legal annex further along Merchant street. Well, there is consolation in the fact that the "flag of Canada" can never wave over Hawaii.

Now it is funny that the decrepit fad of a compromise should be revamped at this stage of the annexation movement. Compromise? When were the men who constitute the Provisional government ever known to compromise when a principle was at stake? "Compromise" is a word that has been stricken from the Hawaiian political dictionary by the Provisional government, and—well, the American colony is back of the government.

President Dole has returned to town after several weeks' absence. He comes to his official duties renewed in health and determined in spirit. He is probably the most popular man in Hawaii today. Even his political enemies have no stone to cast against him. His personality has had much to do in carrying the annexation cause toward success, and, perhaps, to his sterling integrity and uprightness of character we owe much of the favorable opinion now entertained of us at Washington and in the world at large. With such men as President Dole at the helm of Hawaii there is little danger of the cause of annexation becoming stale. The sacrifices which have been made by the president have probably not been fully appreciated by the public and perhaps will not be until the boom of stable government is assured us. Then the name and figure of President Dole will stand out in Hawaiian history.

GRATIFIED BLUEJACKETS.

The Sailors of the Cruiser Boston Surprise At White

At White, the water-front boniface, is wearing a $300 watch and chain, presented to him by the crew of the cruiser Boston, through the agency of the Examiner. White is a sort of "Jackies'" friend, especially when the government vessels are away from home. He sends them the daily papers with unfailing regularity, executes all their little commissions, and, if they are on long station in unproductive climes, varies the monotony of their hard bread and salt horse diet with contributions of fresh vegetables whenever transportation permits. His daily paper subscriptions amount to twenty Examiners, ten Chronicles and five Calls, all of which are sent to the fore-castles of such naval vessels as have crews on them from this port. This summer the vessels on his list were the Alliance, Boston, Philadelphia, Petrel, Ranger, Mohican, Rush, Corwin and Bear, and it required no small expenditure of time and money to keep track of their movements and supply them with reading and other much-appreciated time-killing matter. He has been doing this sort of thing for years, and the bluejackets on the Boston seem to have concluded that his broad-gauge philanthropy deserved some substantial recognition. When the Australia arrived from Honolulu last week she brought the following self-explanatory letter:

U. S. S. BOSTON,
HONOLULU, H. I., Sept. 13, 1893.
To the Editor of the Examiner.
DEAR SIR: We, the members of this ship's company, are so impressed with the kindness of Mr. Al. White of your city in keeping us constantly and generously supplied with the daily papers—and particularly the Examiner—during our long absence that we wish in some way to testify to our appreciation. Mere words, no matter how expressed, would not sufficiently convey the thanks of men situated as we are, thousands of miles from home and many of us without friends able to remember us, for Mr. White's thoughtfulness. His necessary budget has whittled away and our tedious hour on ship duty expressed appreciation in the purchase of a watch and chain, and we wish him to wear them in remembrance of those whom he has made happy on this ship.
We desire to add to the token our best wishes for his future happiness and prosperity, and we wish that the world held more men like him.
From his true friends,
THE SHIP'S COMPANY
OF THE U. S. S. BOSTON.

The watch is a heavy gold hunting-cased, split-second timer, engraved to suit the ideas of the donors. On one case is a faithful reproduction of the cruiser, with the inscription, "Presented by the crew of the U. S. S. Boston." and the ship's motto, "Ever Ready." On the back case is Mr. White's name, etched over a sailor's design of clasped hands, an American eagle and the shield of the Union. It is as handsome a recognition of friendship as has ever been seen on the water front, and White is deservedly proud of it.—S. F. Examiner.

OUR REPRESENTATIVES IN HAWAII.

Something About the New Minister and Consul General.

In the present delicate state of our relations with Hawaii anything bearing on the subject makes interesting reading for the people. Consequently they will want to know something about Albert S. Willis of Kentucky, who succeeds Mr. Blount as our minister there, and Alvin Mills of Virginia, who accompanies him as consul general at Honolulu. Both these gentlemen go to their new positions fully equipped with information in regard to the intentions of our government with respect to Hawaii, and the importance and delicacy of their duties can hardly be magnified.

Mr. Willis will be remembered as an old member of the national house of representatives, in which body he served five consecutive terms, beginning with the Forty-fifth and ending with the Forty-ninth congress. He was a man of considerable influence in Democratic party councils and held the important position of chairman of the rivers and harbors committee during his last term. He is a native of the Blue Grass State and was born in Shelby county Jan. 23, 1843. After preliminary attendance at the public schools he graduated from the Louisville high school and then taught school for four years, studied law and was admitted to practice in 1869, since when he has been continuously engaged in the duties of his profession. He was elected attorney for Jefferson county in 1870 and re-elected in 1874, holding the office till he was elected to congress the first time.

Mr. Mills, the new consul general, is a resident of Lynchburg, Va. He was born in England and is about 37 years old. Up to 1870 he was a congressional reporter and after that was connected with several committees of the house and senate. Mr. Bayard, while secretary of state, appointed Mr. Mills his private secretary, and Mr. Blaine transferred him to the consular bureau as clerk in the correspondence division. When Mr. Blount was sent as special commissioner to Hawaii, Mr. Mills accompanied him as disbursing officer, and the familiarity thus gained with Hawaiian affairs is supposed to have led to his appointment as consul general. October 9, 1893.

Merchants of Honolulu have waited the arrival of the P flug er with the same anxiety as the Victorians will scan the horizon for the masts of the Miowera. The absence of cable delays the transmitting of accounts of the disaster. Had the Pfluger gone down between Bremen and Honolulu, the loss to the merchants and people who are interested in ranches in the Hawaiian Islands would have been incalculable. Last week there was practically a wire famine in this country, today there is a feast and we have it spread all over one of our warehouses. The thousands of coils of black and galvanized wire which we have just received will relieve the market and the managers or owners of ranches on the islands can go ahead with their fencing as before. We have turned over the building of fences during the past few months, by the introduction of a patent locked fence. The materials for making it is sold by us with plain every day wire. By the use of these patented arrangements a man can construct a stronger fence for less money than by the old fashioned methods. Practically you dispense with constantly rotting posts; where in the old style you set posts five or ten feet apart, by the new way you place them fifty and have a fence so strong that it will resist the attacks of a whole herd of cattle. In the matter of repairs to old fences, one man can take materials enough on his horse to put miles of it in good order. For the past three months, not a week has gone by without our receiving orders from managers of plantations for this style fence. The popularity is growing and we are sole on these islands.

"A VISION OF BEAUTY"

is a joy forever," and a pure and natural complexion charms all beholders. Ladies will find in CAMELLINE, a California discovery, a toilet article for the improvement and preservation of the complexion, refreshing, agreeable, and certified by the highest scientific and medical authority as being absolutely free from injurious substances.

NOTE FROM WELL KNOWN SOCIETY LADY.

Honolulu, September 3d, 1893.

Dear Sirs:—I acknowledge with thanks the receipt of a bottle of Camelline. The advantages in this climate of the use of a soothing, harmless, preparation for the skin is known to most ladies; but fortunately many of the articles sold for that purpose produce unpleasant results. Camelline is certainly a most elegant and agreeable addition to the toilet, and my own observation and the high scientific testimony as to its merit satisfy me that its popularity is well deserved.

Very truly yours,

Mrs.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

The drum corps had practice last evening.

G. R. Grau has lost a black and white spaniel dog.

Cod fish balls and stew at the Boston lunch rooms today.

Ordway & Porter received a large consignment of furniture by the S. N. Castle.

A. B. Loebenstein and C. McLenon registered at the Hawaiian hotel yesterday.

J. F. Hackfeld has resumed the office of acting vice-consul for Russia and Belgium.

F. A. Hardcastle is at the Hawaiian hotel.

There was a battalion drill of part of the government forces yesterday afternoon.

Two more natives were arrested yesterday for indulging in the fascinating game of che fa.

A native named Maleka was fined $200 and costs yesterday afternoon for selling swipes.

A quarterly meeting of C. Brewer & Co., Ltd., will be held today at 10 A. M. at the company's office.

The Temple of Fashion will be closed today preparatory to the special bargain sale of tomorrow.

The execution sale of the property of Samuel Parker will be held today at noon in front of the police station.

E. Mossman, a hack driver, was arrested yesterday afternoon for having che fa tickets in his possession.

The Anchor saloon says it takes schooners over its bar without any pilot, but the schooners are of "Fredricksburg."

The Kilaua Cyclorama Co. will hold its annual meeting at the office of Lewers & Cooke on Friday, October 27th.

D. W. Roach has quite a novelty in the shape of a barber pole, and has the honor of having the largest one in town.

No bananas were shipped to San Francisco by P. G. Camarinos on the Australia, as stated in the Advertiser yesterday.

The annual meeting of the Paia Plantation Co. will be held at 10 A. M. Monday, October 30th, at the office of Castle & Cooke.

The annual meeting of the Haiku Sugar Company will be held on Monday, October 30th, at 10 A. M. at the office of Castle & Cooke.

By a mistake, it was announced yesterday that B. F. Ehlers & Co. would close their store today. The doors will be open as usual.

A special meeting of Hawaiian Lodge No. 21, F. and A. M. is called for this afternoon at 3 o'clock, to attend the funeral of Mr. S. M. Carter.

The case against the native woman, Mrs. Stevens, charged with selling "swipes," and arrested last Saturday night, was dismissed yesterday by Judge Robertson.

It is commonly reported that Talolo, the Samoan youth who came here as attendant on Robert Louis Stevenson, from Samoa, will call on ex-queen Liliuokalani today.

A meeting of the Honolulu Library and Reading Room Association will be held this evening at library hall, for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year.

T. H. Rowland, captain of the Myrtle base ball club, leaves for Hilo today by the Kinu, to assume charge of the telephone central office at that place. H. Crane will captain the Myrtles for the balance of the season.

In another column appears a sketch of the Hon. Albert S. Willis, American minister to Hawaii. It gives his political and congressional record. A short sketch of Ellis Mills, the coming consul-general, also appears.

J. K. Kanepun, one of the four native singers whom Mr. G. C. Beckley took to the World's Fair, has written to his friends here stating that they were to leave San Francisco for Chicago on September 22. He speaks very highly of the kind treatment accorded them at San Francisco.

Fast and Furious Driving.

The case of H. Welch, the Nuuanu avenue street car driver, was on trial last yesterday morning in the district court. He was held to answer in the circuit court on the charge of furious and heedless driving.

The Lunalilo Estate.

The accounts of the trustees of the estate of King Lunalilo have been approved by the supreme court with the exception of $1 overcharged commission. The trustees are Henry Waterhouse, W. O. Smith and Mary Parker.

Over $300,000 of glass house property went up in smoke last season.

SAMUEL M. CARTER DEAD.

He Passes Away Yesterday After a Long Illness.

For the second time this week it is our sad duty to chronicle the death of a well-known and long-time resident of Honolulu. Yesterday afternoon, at 5:30 o'clock, Mr. S. M. Carter passed away after a long and painful illness, at his home on Nuuanu avenue.

Mr. Carter had been ill for the past five years and more. During that time he has grown steadily worse, and his illness has baffled all his medical advisors. For the last three years his death has been considered a matter of a short time only, and it was only a wonderfully strong constitution that has put off the fatal moment for so long a time.

Mr. Carter was the son of Joseph O. Carter, now dead, and Mrs. Hannah T. Carter, who survives her son. His mother came here in 1833, and was the first white woman married here outside of the old missionary families. She is at present one of the oldest residents of the islands.

Mr. Carter was one of five children, Joseph O., H. A. P., Alfred and Samuel Carter and Mrs. Robert Lewers. The only ones who survive him are J. O. Carter and Mrs. Lewers. He leaves a widow and seven children, as follows: Frederic W. and John Carter, Mrs. Olin Kightly and Mrs. J. O. Young, all of Seattle, and Alfred, Ethel and Florence, of Honolulu.

Mr. Carter was a man beloved by all who knew him. Especially during the past few years, when he has been so ill all the time, his cheerful and uncomplaining nature has endeared him to all who come in contact with him, and he will be greatly missed by a large number of friends. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock P. M. from his late residence.

PARKER'S FENCING CLASS.

The Police Receiving Daily Instruction With Wooden Swords.

The cement-covered yard of the police station presents quite a warlike appearance every afternoon now. A squad of policemen practicing fencing and staff exercises is an unusual sight in any place, but the government here evidently want New York's "finest" to take a back seat in the matter of strong and skillful men.

Captain Barker gives some of his men this work every day, and most of them are becoming quite skillful in the use of the foils. Wooden sticks are used, having leather guards to protect the hands.

The exercise is beneficial to the men in many ways, strengthening their muscles, improving their quickness of sight, making them more alert and active on their feet, and often, in a free fight, giving them a decided advantage when the matter comes to the use of clubs. It is much to be hoped that all the members of the "force" will become expert in carte and tierce.

An Official Call.

Captain Barker and officers of the U. S. S. Philadelphia, will make an official call on the president today at 10 o'clock at the executive building. An invitation to attend was extended to all the members of the council yesterday afternoon.

Two companies of military, under command of Captain's Good and Ziegler, will be drawn up at the gates of the executive building to welcome the visiting officers. The band will also be in attendance.

The Church Social.

The regular monthly social held in the parlors of the Central Union church was well attended last evening. A very good programme was furnished, and after it was finished a delicious supper was served. Quite a number of strangers were present.

The following programme was rendered:

- Vocal Solo.....Mr. Ruevsky
- Reading.....Mrs. Frear
- Vocal Solo.....Mrs. Warner
- Duet.....Mandolin and Guitar Messrs. Ordway and Hennessy.

HOW TO FLOAT HER.

McRae Has a Scheme That He Thinks Will Work.

A man named McRae has a plan to float the Miowera off her perilous position on the reef, and he is confident that it will work. It is to use Samson poles on the stern of the vessel, and to fill the forward compartments with water, thus raising her stern, and thereby floating the wreck into deep water. The plan is under consideration by the agents.

Over $300,000 of glass house property went up in smoke last season.

WHARF AND WAVE.

DIAMOND HEAD, Oct. 12, 10 P. M.—Weather, hazy; wind, light east.

The schooner Robert Lewers was docked near the Fort street wharf yesterday to unload her cargo of lumber.

The steamer Kinu leaves this afternoon for windward ports.

The bark Harvester is expected to arrive at Hilo from San Francisco the latter part of this week.

The schooner Halekalea left yesterday afternoon for Fanning's island, to be absent about one month.

The schooner Liliu was moved to the Oceanic steamship company's wharf yesterday. She will leave tomorrow for the Gilbert islands.

Captain Johnson of the Speckle-barkentine Lurline has had John Joseph, a sailor, arrested for refusing to obey orders while the vessel was on her last voyage from the Hawaiian islands. Joseph claims that he was ordered to work overtime when there was no necessity for it and he refused.—Examiner, Sept. 30.

SITKA, Alaska, Sept. 22.—In the case of the British steamer Conquian, which was seized last year for violation of the customs laws, Judge Trout has rendered a decision declaring the vessel and cargo forfeited to the United States.

As to Headlines.

It is evident that the great sensational dailies of the Pacific Slope have much yet to learn in the matter of great headlines, though on extra occasions, it must be admitted, the "top-headlines" of the Monarch have accomplished decidedly startling results. But, after all, we must turn to the great blanket-sheets of the pork metropolis if we would see "headlines as is." The Cincinnati Enquirer publishes with religious regularity the sermons preached by Rev. Dr. Talmadge. On a recent Sunday Dr. Talmadge took the story of the life of Jephthah as a text, and delivered an inspiring discourse. The following Monday the sermon was published in the Enquirer, under the annexed headlines:

Jeph—The Old Freebooter—At an Early Age He was Forced to Rough It—He Held Up the End of His Staff in Great Shape—And Soon Sewed up the Gates of Twenty Cities—On His Return From Victory He Kept a Promise—He Made Sacrifice the First Person Seen in His Door—He Laid—Holy Horrors—It Is His Fair Daughter—But Jephthah Was a Man of His Word and the Beautiful Young Girl was slain.

Dr. Talmadge was so pleased that he wrote to the religious editor of the Enquirer complimenting him on the effort.—[Newspaper man.]

HAMAKUA NOTES.

Mumps and Grippe Still on Deck—General News.

HONOLULU, Oct. 6.—The police were on the alert, and captured ten contract Japanese of the Honokaa Sugar Company at gambling on Saturday last. Although there were seven men representing the law, the Japs tried their best to evade the police. The lights were extinguished, and a hand to hand scuffle ensued, which resulted in victory for the authorities. They were turned into the jail that night, but on Monday, four Japs were acquitted.

The prayers of the good Hamakua people were finally heard, and a little rain was granted them. Rev. Mr. Callender, pastor of the Anglican church in Hamakua is to leave quite soon for old England, to take a much-needed rest. Bon voyage and his friends' best wishes.

La grippe and mumps are still waging war against the peaceful Hamakuans, and still claim as "prisoners of war" a large number of young and old people. Government physician Mr. C. B. Greenfield is getting on for the better, and it is hoped he will soon attend to his calling.

The main government road is kept very clean and clear of rocks and stones; two cantoniers are constantly employed between Kapule and Kalapa.

The government should be notified of the fact that the Honokaa homestead's roads are kept in a very bad condition—in fact two of the main roads are impassable for any sort of vehicle, while the longer road has been made principally at the cost of the poor homestead holders. A petition was recently sent to the government to construct a road through two lots; it is signed by all the influential people of the town and all the homestead holders except two, through whose lots the road is petitioned to be constructed. J. C. Copp of Makawao, Maui, is expected here in a week or two to pay a visit to his daughter, Mrs. W. B. Hardey.

Paahau sugar plantation paid off their Japs this month sooner than was expected; generally they were paid one or two weeks after the 1st.

Our mail service from Honolulu is very satisfactory; but the service to Honolulu is not at all satisfactory. For instance, the other day there were opportunities to send three mails, but only two were utilized, viz., the Kinai and the Waialeale, both leaving on the same day. The Clarendon left a day after, but took no mail. Why not have sent by her a day later, and thus offer an opportunity for out of town people to prepare their correspondence?

A new bridge over the Kalapa gulch is nearly completed. It is partly of stone and partly of wood, and bids fair to stand a long time. During rainy weather persons crossing the larger gulches imperil their lives.

COFFEE "BLACKBIRDS" DYING.

The Gilbert Islanders sold as Slaves in Mexico in a Fair Way To Be exterminated.

The Colima arrived from Panama this morning with no news of revolutions or other south coast disturbances. Wafer reports that the planters are making preparations for a good coffee crop and that the picking will commence in December. The Gilbert Islanders wiled away from their homes and carried to the plantations by the Montserrat two years ago are proving a sad failure as laborers. The plantations are at an average elevation of 3000 feet and the islanders do not seem to be able to acclimate themselves to residence away from the sea and its level. They have been terribly thinned in numbers by disease, and another year or two will see the unfortunate slaves almost if not completely exterminated. The planters were delighted with them at first, and something of the hard bargain made with the blacks by the black-birding Captains Ferguson and Blackburn may be imagined when it is stated that the planters are now figuring that they will come out even on the expenditure if only five per cent. of the islanders live out their terms of service—San Francisco Examiner, Sept. 29.

Reception on Board.

The second of the series of five receptions being given on board the U. S. S. Philadelphia will take place tomorrow afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock.

If the rage for newspapers of an extraordinary size continues, a society for the prevention of cruelty to newspaper carriers will have to be organized.

MOODY AND SANKEY.

STORY OF HOW MOODY DISCOVERED THE MAN TO HELP HIM.

It was at a Meeting in Indianapolis that the Voice of the Great Singer Was First Heard by the Striving Evangelist—Their First Work.

It was at Indianapolis in 1870 that these two men first made each other's acquaintance. Mr. Moody was already displaying that zeal in evangelistic work which subsequently made him famous, though then his efforts and his reputation were confined largely to Chicago. Mr. Sankey's home was in Newcastle, Pa., where he was then serving as an internal revenue officer. His father was a banker and active in politics and held under Lincoln's appointment the important position of collector of inland revenue for four large counties in western Pennsylvania. Young Sankey was then a Christian, having been converted a number of years before during a Methodist revival, and his talent of song had already begun to be used for his Master.

Coming to Indianapolis to attend as a delegate from Newcastle the national convention of the Young Men's Christian association, Mr. Sankey attended one morning a 6 o'clock prayer meeting, held in the basement of the First Baptist church, led by Mr. Moody. The singing dragged, and Mr. Sankey, at the suggestion of a minister who was seated beside him, started up the familiar hymn, "There is a fountain filled with blood."

It went well and was followed by songs equally successful, and Mr. Moody became so interested that he looked about to see whence the new impetus in singing came. After the meeting closed, with characteristic quickness of vision, Mr. Moody, hardly waiting for an introduction, said to Mr. Sankey: "You're the man I have been looking for for the last eight years. Come and lunch with me." The invitation was accepted, and later in the day the two men got together, and the subject of future combination of forces was talked over in downright earnest. Mr. Moody pressed upon Mr. Sankey the duty of at once joining him in Chicago, but in Sankey's mind there were some practical objections arising from his business and family connections. "I am a government officer," he said to Mr. Moody, "and may find it difficult to get released." "There is a better government to serve than this," was the reply that flashed instantly out. But, persuasive as Mr. Moody was, he did not carry his point then and there. Mr. Sankey took several months in which to consider the matter.

The very afternoon, however, the first Moody and Sankey public meeting was held, with no advertisement except the singing as led by Mr. Moody's newly found friend. It was an outdoor gathering, and the masses were there. Mr. Moody brought out a box from a store to a favorably located street corner, meted it, and there a short but fervent service of preaching and song was held. At the close of this open air meeting the two evangelists headed a procession for the Academy of Music, where the convention meetings were held, singing as they marched with the crowd into the Academy of Music, the convention having adjourned to that place.

"How to Reach the Masses" and gone to supper. When the delegates got back to the academy building, they found it nearly half full of the very "lapsed masses" about whom they had been discussing. Mr. Moody cut short his second address, dismissed the audience and went out with Mr. Sankey to get something to eat. Mr. Sankey was greatly impressed with these two meetings and said to Mr. Moody, "You are reaching the masses while other people are talking about them."

After the convention was over Mr. Sankey went back to Newcastle and talked the question over with his wife and family. He did not see his duty clearly all at once, but Mr. Moody kept writing for him to come to Chicago and at last persuaded him to go out for a week to look the ground over. Arriving in Chicago in the early morning, he went first to Mr. Moody's house, reaching there just as family prayers were being held. Almost before Mr. Moody introduced him to his family he asked him to sing a hymn and thus contribute his part toward the informal service of praise. Then the two men went out into the streets of the city visiting the sick and unfortunate.

That day must have been a notable one in the personal history of the two men, who afterward commanded the eager attention of great audiences on both sides of the sea. On this occasion, as two ordinary missionaries, they went about from house to house, singing and reading the Bible and speaking the word of cheer and hope wherever it was needed. This was their first day's labor together. Evening meetings were held during the week in the Illinois street church, of which Mr. Moody was the head and leader.

On Sunday a large meeting was held in Farwell hall, and as the organist happened to be absent Mr. Sankey had to sing without instrumental accompaniment, not having even a small cabinet organ there. The effect of the service upon the people there was so marked that Mr. Moody turned to the singer and said, "You see I was right." There were that night not less than 100 inquiries. The earnest preaching and consecrated song had gone home to many a heart. From that time until the present these men have been collaborators, and the story of their career here and in Great Britain is so familiar that it need not again be rehearsed.—Congregationalist.

Keeping the Congregation Awake. Lapetus, chaplain to the Danish court (1692), noticing that a large part of the congregation fell asleep during the sermon, suddenly stopped, and pulling from his pocket a shuttlecock commenced to play with it. This strange device, we are assured, had the effect desired.—Temple Bar.

HE WAS AT WORK.

But His Occupation Did Not Entitle Him to Free Seats at the Theater.

He was what Steve Rowan would call "a shlim bit av a tur-reeky," and he stood near the box office of the Columbia, first looking at his last half dollar clutched in a grimy palm and then shooting an occasional glance at the main door, through which the strains of the opening overture could at times be heard.

His clothes were loud enough to serve as a World's fair hotel fire alarm, and the checks were too large to be honored by anything smaller than a first national. They were of the latest Kerry cut and hadn't been long enough in this country to kill the smell of the bog. He wanted to see the performance, and he hated to part with his money, so he waited and got into an argument with himself.

First he thought he would, and then he guessed he wouldn't, and while he thus hesitated a trim little woman tripped across the foyer. She sailed along like a clipper ship with a free wind and port in sight. There was a distinctive air of the "profess" about her, and she carried her nerve in the outside pocket of an Eton jacket. He watched her and listened with astonishment when she opened her face and addressed the man in the box office.

"Hello, Harry!"
"Howdy, Mag."
"Gimme two seats, will yer, Harry?"
"Are you working?"
"Sure, me and Jess is doin a turn at the Olymp."

The checks for seats were handed out, and Mag calling Jess the two went inside, while the "shlim bit av a tur-reeky" moved a peg or two closer to the box office.

Another form appeared in the doorway. It was a man in the middle, and his buzzard hat rested on the back of his head. His trousers were freshly creased and sharp enough to pare corns. It shuffled up to the box office much after the manner of a crawfish in a net, and the little Irishman could scarcely prevent himself from laying violent hands on it and musing it up. In a low tragic voice it said:

"Hello, Harry."
"Hello, Fatsie, old boy."
"Favor me with two, old fellow?"
"Are you working?"
"Well, I should say I am."
"Where?"
"Me'n Ed's doing a Henry Irving burlesque at the Park."

Again two pasteboard checks were handed out, and with this time the "turkey" on the outside was becoming frantic. It was coming easy for everybody but himself, and he resolved to hazard a chance and keep his half dollar. He took a fresh bite of plug, gave his trousers an extra hitch and approached the window on tiptoe. He peered cautiously around the edge of the narrow opening. Harry was still there, checking up the house. He hesitated only for a moment, and then he blurted out:

"Hilloo, Harry, could yer?"
"How are you, sir?"
"O'm wur-kin."
"Are you my friend?"
"Yis."
"Where?"
"Shlock yar-ids."

And when the doorkeeper was through with him and the patrol wagon had gathered him in he sadly wondered at the eternal unfitness of things and why all men are not born equal.—Chicago Mail.

The Cause of Waterpouts. A waterpout is a meteorological phenomenon of peculiar character, which is occasionally observed on land, but usually occurs at sea. It consists of a cone shaped pillar of condensed vapor, which descends, with the apex downward, from a dense cloud and at sea attracts a somewhat similar cone in a reversed position from the surface of the water. The two may not inaptly be compared to a gigantic hourglass. The cause of this phenomenon is supposed to be the gyratory movement of the air with such swiftness as to produce a vacuum in the axis of rotation, and the contact of the lower extremity of such an axis with water would effect the elevation of a column of the latter to a considerable height. The most probable solution of the phenomenon is that waterpouts originate in adjacent strata of air of different temperatures, running in opposite directions in the upper regions of the atmosphere. They condense the vapor and give it a whirling motion, so that it descends tapering to the sea below and causes the surface of the water to ascend in a pointed spiral till it joins that from above.—Brooklyn Eagle.

India For the Indians.

A Madras native gentleman was once asked by Lord Roberts what he thought of "India for the Indians." He replied, "Go to the zoological gardens and open all the cages. You will then see what would be the end of India for the Indians. There would be a grand fight among all the animals, with the result that the tiger would walk over the dead bodies of the rest." On being asked whom he meant by the tiger, he replied "The Mohammedan from the north." The moral of this allegory of my friend, who was certainly one of the most enlightened and best informed men I have ever met with, was that India could not be left to herself, and that a supreme power was necessary to hold together the varied and various races.—London Spectator.

People Who Do Not Whistle.

Arabia must be a heaven for those whose lives are made a burthen by the whistle. The Arab maintains that a whistler's mouth cannot be purified for 40 days and nights, and they assert of the whistler that satan has touched his body and caused him to produce the offensive sound. Then there are the natives of the Tonga islands, Olynesia, who hold that it is a sin to whistle, as it is an act disrespectful to God. Even in some districts in north Germany the villagers declare that if one whistles in the evening it makes the angels weep.—Exchange.

Finance Department, Oct. 11, 1893.

On motion of Mr. Waterhouse, seconded by Mr. Morgan, the report was ordered filed.

The minister of finance then read the following report received from the postmaster general:

HONOLULU, Oct. 12, 1893.

His Excellency S. M. DAMON, Minister of Finance.

SIR:—I have the honor to submit herewith my report of a tour of the island of Maui, made for the purpose of examining into the postal service. Leaving Honolulu on September 26th, I landed the following morning at Keanae, where I found the postal agency in the hands of Mr. D. W. Napias, whose residence where he handles the letters is a short distance from the boat landing. After giving him instructions as to the handling of the mails, etc., and getting information from him as to the arrival and departure of the mail carrier, I again embarked on the steamer for Hana.

There the postal and money order department is in the hands of Mr. J. Grunwald. After an examination, found his accounts were kept according to instructions. Gave him orders as to the handling of the mails, etc., and instructed him in the rules of the money order department, as to the issuing and paying of orders. I also gained some information from him as to the time of arrival and departure of the mail carriers to and from Kipahulu and Paia.

My next visit was to the post and money order office at Hamao, where Mr. W. von Gravenmeier is postmaster. Found everything in good order. I next came to the post and money order office of Kipahulu, conducted by Mr. A. Buchholtz in an efficient manner. This office receives mail both by way of Hana and Ulupalakua.

My next stopping place was at the residence of Mr. C. Andrews, who has charge of the postal agency at Kaupo. After giving him the usual instructions I started on a long ride through Kaupo and Kahikinui to Ulupalakua, where the postal agency is conducted by Mr. L. Harbail. I remained over night, and next morning after giving him the necessary instructions for the working of his office, I rode on to Keokea and Wai-hoa, where the agency is conducted by Mr. Matka and Mr. Naaleono respectively, and on to Makawao. Here the post and money order department is in charge of Mr. J. G. Anderson. Examined into the manner of keeping accounts and instructed him as to the handling of mails, etc. Enquired into the arrival and departure of mail carriers, etc.

Found his accounts kept in good order. This office has a local mail every day from Waikuku and way stations. After resting a night I next visited the postal agency at Pauwela under the management of Mr. D. W. Kukupa, and then on to Huilo. This office is conducted by Mr. J. R. Smyth. It was formerly a money order office, but since the abandonment of the Huilo plantation this system has been discontinued.

My next visit was to the post and money order office at Hamakua, where Mr. W. F. Mossman is acting postmaster. Gave the usual instructions and found the books kept as ordered. The next office visited was at Paia, Mr. J. W. Colville, postmaster. It is also a money order office. Found everything in good running order. Being the terminus of the Kahului railroad it makes up and dispatches daily mails to the various points beyond.

On the morning of the next office to visit, Mr. H. Center, postmaster. Found everything in good running order. After giving the usual instructions as to handling of mails, etc., I proceeded to the Kahului office where I found Mr. Carley acting as postmaster. This is also a money order office. Found the books correct after examination, and kept in accordance with instructions from the general office. Gave orders as to the handling of mails and other details of office work. This office has thirty lock boxes. Two mails are dispatched daily from here to Sikeleville and Paia, and three times to Waikuku.

Leaving Kahului I then visited the post and money order office at Waikuku, where Mr. W. A. McKay is postmaster. This is the largest office on the island and distributes mail to all quarters of East Maui. The accounts were found to be kept in accordance with the rules of the general office. Left instructions as to the manner of handling the mails. There are seventy lock boxes here, most of all of which are rented.

Wahee was next visited where I met Mr. C. M. Walton, the postmaster, who conducts his business at the office of the plantation in a satisfactory manner. This finishing up East Maui, I next took the S. S. Mikabala at Maunaloa bay and landed at Lahaina, where the post and money order office is conducted by Mr. T. C. Forsyth. The office is situated in the government building or court house, where it has been located for years. It has 120 lock boxes, which at one time—when Lahaina was in its prime—were always rented, but now one-third answers the purpose. Found the accounts kept according to instructions. Left the usual instructions as to the handling of mails, etc.

I then went over the mail route from Lahaina to Honokahau, stopping at Honokahau on the way. These agencies are conducted by Mr. D. Kakaia and Mr. J. A. Kakaia respectively. Found postal affairs in good order.

In conclusion, I desire to state to your excellency that my visit to the island of Maui, will, I feel sure, have a beneficial result as to the future working of this branch of the public service.

I have the honor to be, sir, Your obedient servant, JOS. M. OAT, Postmaster-General.

Minister Damon stated he had no doubt the trip of the postmaster general had resulted in good to the service and had greatly facilitated the delivery of mail on the other islands.

The minister then said that he had ordered all the bills for August to be paid, and that at the present time only the bills for the month of September remained unpaid.

He wished to speak of the matter of public printing, and had prepared the following resolution:

RESOLVED: 1st. It shall be the duty of the head of each department or bureau to designate one person, who may be himself, whose duty it shall be to attend to all newspaper advertising which may be required in said department or bureau. 2d. All government advertisements shall be made out on, or attached to, a printed form in substance as follows:

Publisher of..... You will please publish in Hawaiian government account the following advertisement in the..... Said advertisement to be inserted..... Times, commencing..... and charged to the department (or bureau) of..... Honolulu..... 189 (Signed).....

3d. A duplicate of the above order, with the ascertained cost of the advertisement, shall be kept on file for comparison at the time of payment. 4th. Newspapers shall be notified by the minister of finance of the passage of this resolution, and informed that the government will not be responsible for any advertising done other than in accordance therewith.

Mr. Waterhouse said he was glad the minister of finance had called attention to the matter of printing, as the same question had been considered in the printing committee. Minister Damon thought, perhaps, it was best to let the matter be decided by tenders.

Mr. Brown said he should support the suggestion of Minister Damon, that the printing be awarded by tenders. He cited cases where there were differences in the prices of printing which sometimes amounted to as much as 75 per cent. He alleged that bills were lowered after presentation, and intimated that the newspapers were protecting one another.

Minister Damon said he would not like to go to the extent of having all government advertising done by tenders, as that would involve several matters of expediency which would have to be taken into account. He did not think any radical change should be made at present.

The resolution passed. Attorney-General Smith spoke of certain cases on the island of Maui, where the ends of justice had seemingly been defeated at different times by the delays caused by the inconvenience of location. He moved the following resolution:

RESOLVED, that the matter of the propriety of altering the law, so that both of the terms of court of the circuit court of the second judicial circuit be held at Waikuku, Island of Maui, be referred to the judiciary committee for consideration and report.

Referred to the judiciary committee, as requested. Attorney-General Smith said that at 11 o'clock tomorrow Captain Barker and officers of the U. S. S. Paula, dep't would make an official call on President Dole and the ministers.

Mr. Brown introduced an act to extend the time of the Oahu Railway and Land Company for constructing the railway around the island of Oahu.

Mr. Brown also introduced an act which provided that the Hawaiian government guarantee 4 per cent in interest on the bonds of the company, amounting to $900,000.

On motion of Mr. Brown the crown lands bill was again deferred. Mr. Emmeluth asked for information on the bill introduced by the attorney-general relating to the marking of cattle. The bill was read a first time and referred to the judiciary committee for amendment.

Vice President Hatch said the committee on education, appointed by the councils to investigate the condition and working of the board of education, would meet President Dole at 10 o'clock tomorrow at the foreign office.

At 2:32 p.m. the councils went into special session.

46,000,000-CANDLE LAMP.

A Powerful Beacon Light to Be Erected on the French Coast.

The engineer-in-chief of the French lighthouse service proposes to outdo all previous achievements in brilliant lighthouses by constructing a beacon-light with a lantern of 46,000,000-candle power. It has only been a few months since this gentleman completed the most powerful lighthouse, which, up to that time, had been constructed. It is at the Cape of La Heve, less than three miles from Havre, and marks the northern entrance of the estuary of the Seine. Its illuminating power is equal to 23,000,000 candles, and its light is visible at a distance of 140 miles in clear weather.

The new lighthouse, which will be located some ten miles from Quimper, at a projecting headland bearing the name of Penmarck, will not send its light ray much farther than that of La Heve. The maximum distance in clear weather will be about 150 miles, but the intensity of the pencil of light being doubled, the amount of light at the same distance is likewise doubled.

This enormous intensity of light is obtained by an arrangement of the lenses of the lamp. In the ordinary lamp the lens, consisting of a number of rectangular panels, are placed in steps in such a manner that the source of light occupies the principal focus of each of them. The rays of light then emanate from this part of the apparatus in a horizontal pencil. By reducing the number of panels the quantity of light received by each is consequently correspondingly increased.

At La Heve there are four panels, the total light emitted by the lamp being triple the amount received in apparatus with twelve panels. It is proposed in the new lighthouse to employ but two panels, each of them occupying a half square. Each lens will, therefore, receive half of the total light emitted by the lamp and consequently will emit a pencil of rays of a power double that furnished at La Heve.

Like the lighthouse at La Heve, the new lighthouse will be lighted by electricity. The lamp will be fed by an alternating current of 100 amperes at its maximum.—Am. Ex.

"August Flower"

Mrs. Sarah M. Black of Seneca, Mo., during the past two years has been afflicted with Neuralgia of the Head, Stomach and Womb, and writes: "My food did not seem to strengthen me at all and my appetite was very variable. My face was yellow, my head dull, and I had such pains in my left side. In the morning when I got up I would have a flow of mucus in the mouth, and a bad, bitter taste. Sometimes my breath became short, and I had such queer, tumbling, palpitating sensations around the heart. I ached all day under the shoulder blades, in the left side, and down the back of my limbs. It seemed to be worse in the wet, cold weather of Winter and Spring; and whenever the spells came on, my feet and hands would turn cold, and I could get no sleep at all. I tried everywhere, and got no relief before using August Flower. Then the change came. It has done me a wonderful deal of good during the time I have taken it and is working a complete cure."

Music

In the Air

And also at the Music Emporium of the Hawaiian News Co. In the past month, we have made many improvements and additions, both as to variety and quality of stock and general arrangement of the department.

Our latest importations in the Piano line consists of the celebrated make of "Everett" of Boston and "Schillier" of Chicago; unequalled for brilliance of tone and perfection of action and considered by all connoisseurs of the music art as superior instruments in every respect. Three of these Pianos just to hand by last steamer; also cabinet Organs for parlor, church or schools; every instrument fully warranted for five years. The installment plan for the sale of Pianos and Organs inaugurated by us five years ago, has proven a great success as many a home in Honolulu can bear testimony. We shall continue same and increase our facilities in this branch as the trade demands.

Just landed—a new line of piano Stools in various styles, prices from $1.75 up; also genuine made American Guitars, elegant tone and well finished $7.50; cheap German make as low as $4.

Special Order Department—for Sheet Music and Music Books—if you will hand us your orders and same cannot be filled from our large assortment in stock, we will book it in our "special orders," which go forward to the publishers every mail; in this way we will save you much trouble as well as money, as we make no charge for postage.

It is our aim to keep in stock everything connected with the music trade; parties out of town will find it to their advantage to deal with us and not send their orders abroad.

MR. CHAS. E. NAYLOR, San Francisco, Cal.

DEAR SIR: We have used the CALIGRAPH in our establishment for a number of years. It has given satisfaction to us and is popular with our students. Our machines have cost little or nothing for repairs, and are at all times ready for business.

This writing being done on No. 21037, a machine we have used constantly for about four years. "It's a thing of beauty" and from present indications "will be a joy forever."
Yours respectfully,

FASHIONS

ATHLETICS AND FASHION.

Tasteful Garments of Special Import For Women's Outdoor Sports.

The woman who objected to being hanged because she had no hanging dress was within her rights. To most women a dress for an occasion is equal with an occasion for dress. It is sentiments like this that make the wheels of commerce move.

ON THE WING.

Among garments of special import are those for riding, boating, yachting, lawn tennis, the bicycle, climbing, hunting and now golf. Let no one conceive that these costumes are interchangeable, except perhaps a lawn tennis costume may take part in golf. On the contrary, each has some special distinguishable quality fondly conceived to be essential.

The colors in almost all dresses for athletic sports are limited to cream, blue, brown and gray. The assimilation of these with the browns and grays of the earth and the blue of the sky is chosen with that inherent sense of the fitness of things that even barbarous nations share. It is only in the order states of civilization that we choose colors harshly and inappropriately. A writer in the New York Sun, whose observations of fashions among athletes are recorded in the foregoing, illustrates a bicycle costume that deserves attention. This is of Havana brown cloth, with short jacket opening over a shirt of pink. The sleeves are of consideration, being long and full with cuffs.

Parisians have adopted bicycling in a much more thorough way than our American women. The French girl who rides a bicycle does not attempt to retain the long skirt, but she wears a stylish knickerbocker suit of some kind, and women riders have become so numerous on the broad, smooth avenues of the outskirts of Paris that no one pays any particular attention to them.

Correct Masculine Attire.

Shirtings will be severely plain. The correct thing for evening dress will be plain white linen, with preferably two studs, although no objection is raised to wearing three. In collars there is little change, the turned over points being still most desirable. A new shape just put on the market is quite high, with the points slightly turned and but little space between. In cuffs square ends only are permissible.

There has been a marked tendency of late years to discard the broadcloth for dress suits, and this is still noticeable, worsteds and vicunas being the most popular materials. But broadcloth will always be worn, especially by mature men. The dress coat will have slightly longer tails, the waistcoat will be cut more V shaped than formerly, and the trousers of course will be slightly slimmer in fit than those worn during the day. Silk waistcoats will be popular.

Trousers will have a slight spring this season, but whether they will be well received remains to be seen. The authority on which these statements are made comes from the New York Herald, that individual source is likely to govern these matters to a great extent, and with regard to the size certainly a man's legs have something to do with it. But for the average well dressed man from in front without revers, but trimmed across with brandebourgs or rows of braid. Brown, red, blue and black are the colors of such coats.

Capes will continue in favor and will be of varied lengths—short capes for young women, longer capes to the hips for the middle aged, with still longer circulars for the elderly.

A Growing Craze.

The growing craze throughout Europe for toilet articles of ebony, and ebony and silver in combination, has already produced a demand for these goods in our own country. Here this hardest and heaviest of woods is employed for two general purposes, articles of the toilet and for the library table. The toilet table nowadays is a comprehensile assortment of articles. In its briefest form it includes combs, brushes, and hand mirror. Then comes a long array of buttonhook, shoehorn, powder-potatum boxes, etc.

EBONY AND SILVER IN COMBINATION.

In the accompanying cut, borrowed from The Jeweler's Circular, is an example of this combination of ivory, lusterless wood, with graceful polished devices in silver. It meets one of the requirements of taste that belong peculiarly to our age, which delights in quaint and unique contrasts.

The Question of the Hour.

Are you going to keep up with the times and have your House lit up by Electricity, or are you going to keep right on in the same old rut and burn oil simply because you have grown use to the uncomfortable heat, the strong odor, to say nothing of the danger from explosions, and bother of cleaning and filling your lamps, ordering your oil, etc.? Which is the easiest, to have a switch at the head of your bed and turn on a 16c.p. lamp when the baby begins to talk politics at 1 A. M., or to get up, fall over three chairs and pull off half the wall ornaments feeling for the match safe and then be told, just as the lamp is well lighted, to "please put out the light, baby is alright now?"

In a few short months the

Hawaiian

Electric

will be able to furnish all the Light and Power the City of Honolulu will require, and, as we now have some six large wiring contracts to begin on, as soon as the Australia gets in with a big lot of assorted wire, we would call the attention of those wanting ELECTRIC LIGHTS in their Houses at an early date to the advisability of having the wiring done soon.

As only a limited number of good house wire men are to be had, contracts for wiring will have to be taken up in turn in the order received.

After the Australia gets in we will have a complete line of everything needed to wire any building, including Electroliners, Brackets, etc., and a large assortment of plain and fancy Shades.

Leave your order early and have the satisfaction of having your House ready for the lights when the current is turned on from the New Station now under way.
