

Carter and the Constitution

AUTHORITY ON THE CONSTITUTION DEFINES THE REASON FOR PROHIBITING OFFICERS OF THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT FROM ACCEPTING PRESENTS FROM FOREIGN PRINCES—DISTRICT ATTORNEY RECKONS HAS A NOVEL VIEW OF THE SITUATION.

That Governor Carter violated the constitution of the United States, innocently of course, in accepting the present of a splendid silver punchbowl from Prince Fushimi of the Japanese Imperial house is the general opinion among members of the legal fraternity in Honolulu. That the Prince was quite guiltless of any intention to embarrass the Governor is of course certain but the Constitution is a very serious matter and the words respecting the acceptance of presents are unequivocal. They were quoted yesterday but will bear repetition. Article I, Section 9 runs thus: "No title of nobility shall be granted by the United States: And no person holding any office of profit or trust under them, shall, without the consent of the Congress accept of any present, emolument, office or title of any kind whatever, from any King, Prince or Foreign State."

That eminent authority on the Constitution, Tucker, in commenting on the section gives the following opinion: "The latter part of this clause was intended to exclude everything like foreign influence in the form of express bribery or gifts, which, though more insidious, are not less hurtful in respect to anyone holding an office of profit or trust under them, that is, the United States. What persons hold offices of profit or trust under the United States has been already considered somewhat when it was found that Senators and Representatives are not officers of the United States but delegates and representatives of the several states. But the President, vice-president and other officers, such as judges, public ministers, the heads of departments, and all subordinate officers, are persons holding offices of profit and trust under the United States. However indelicate therefore it may be for members of either House of Congress to accept presents from any foreign state, they are not prohibited from doing so by this clause of the Constitution."

United States District Attorney Breckons when asked if he was going to take any action in the matter did not appear to think that the shattering of Section 9 by his Excellency the Governor was a very serious matter after all. "I am not going to take any action for the present," he said laughingly, "as soon as I can find any statute which will force the Governor to pass the silver punchbowl over to the District Attorney I will take immediate steps to enforce the law."

NOTHING WAS DOING TODAY

MEETING OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE THIS MORNING WAS CHARACTERIZED BY BREVITY.

There was a very brief session of the Chamber of Commerce this morning. The regular quarterly meeting took place but absolutely nothing in the way of new business was transacted. President Tenney was in the chair.

The general summary of the proceedings of the board of trustees during the last quarter were read. President Tenney stated that the matter was up for discussion. The most important measure was that of securing an appropriation from Congress for deepening and improving the local harbor. Every thing apparently that could be done to further this object had been done by the trustees but the late newspaper reports did not give a very encouraging report of the prospects.

The president suggested that as the legislature was to meet before the next meeting of the body the matter of suggesting needed legislation might be considered. Nobody had any suggestions to make, so the meeting adjourned.

EIGHT SETTLERS ON NEW TRACT

FUPUKEA AND PAUMALU TRACTS WILL SOON BE TAKEN UP BY PRACTICAL FARMERS.

As Commissioner Pratt of the Public Lands Department foretold people who are looking for farming locations have not been slow in taking advantage of the opening of the Fupukea and Paumalu tract on the northwestern coast of the island. Of the nineteen farms laid out by the department eight have already been located according to the returns in the Land Office this morning. The locations are as follows: Mrs. E. B. Shaw, 127.8 acres, J. T. Hot, 92.2 acres, W. P. Thomas, 85 acres, E. K. Ellsworth, 180.8 acres, L. C. Clark, 175 acres, A. A. Wilson, 134.5 acres, W. Weinrich Jr., 131.88 acres, E. H. Wood, 12.3 acres.

Work has been begun by several of the new settlers and a thriving community will soon be established.

SWAYNE IMPEACHED

THIS IS THE FIRST TIME IN NEARLY A CENTURY THAT IMPEACHMENT PROCEEDINGS HAVE BEEN BEGUN AGAINST A MEMBER OF THE FEDERAL JUDICIARY—THE CHARGES AGAINST SWAYNE ARE THAT HE IS A GRAFTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 18.—The House has agreed to impeach United States Judge Swayne of Florida and has appointed a committee to present the details of the charges against him to the Senate.

Judge Charles Swayne, of the Northern District of Florida, is to be impeached before the bar of the Senate by the House of Representatives for "high crimes and misdemeanors." The investigation against Judge Swayne laid bare a large number of extremely damaging allegations, with reference to his judicial conduct of the business of his court. It was shown that he had not resided within the State as required; that in his decisions and action in several railroad receiverships his course was open to grave question; that while a railroad was in the hands of a receiver, he had been given by the receiver, his own appointee, free transportation in a private car for himself and his friends, including a trip to the Pacific, and lastly, that in his accounts to the Government for his expenses, while he took oath that they were $10 a day, evidence before the committee showed that they were from one-third to one-half of this. His "misdemeanor, corruption and tyranny as a judge," to quote the definition of Representative Gillett, of California, forms the basis of the impeachment, but the precise charge on which the committee limits its demand, and which the House has sustained, rests upon his expense account. It is not probable that he would have been cited before the Bar of the Senate for this alone, but it constitutes, under the statutes, a crime as well as a public scandal. It is seventy-four years since the House has impeached a member of the Federal Judiciary. Then Judge Peck, of Missouri, was presented for misconduct in disbaring a lawyer. The Senate refused to convict him, 21 to 22. Judge Chase and Judge Addison, of Pennsylvania, and Judge Pickering, of New Hampshire, are three other judges who were earlier impeached in the history of the Federal Government, but of these only the last was convicted.

Judge Charles Swayne was born August 10, 1842, at Guyencourt, Delaware, and was appointed Judge in 1889. He is a graduate of the law department of the University of Pennsylvania, and for some years practiced law in Pennsylvania. He went to Florida in 1885, in 1888 was defeated for election to the supreme court bench of that state. In his biography furnished the publishers of "Who's Who in America," he says that he was extensively endorsed for supreme court justice in the autumn of 1897 after the death of Justice Field.

FISHERIES INJUNCTION

OAHU RAILWAY COMPANY SECURES TEMPORARY ORDER FROM JUDGE DE BOLT TO RESTRAIN JAPANESE FROM TAKING FISH FROM WATERS AT PEARL HARBOR CLAIMED TO BE CONTROLLED BY PLAINTIFF.

A temporary injunction was granted this morning by Judge De Bolt in favor of the Oahu Railway and Land Company against 24 Japanese to restrain the latter from poaching and fishing in the waters of Pearl Harbor controlled by the plaintiff.

This action brought by the Oahu Company to secure a restraining order against the Japanese is quite an interesting suit as it is the first action of the kind instituted as the result of a recent decision by the Supreme Court regarding fishery rights.

H. M. Von Holt caused the arrest of some Japanese sometime ago for poaching mullet from private fisheries at Pearl Harbor and they were fined $50. The decision was appealed to the Supreme Court and that body handed down an opinion that while a person infringing upon the alleged fishery rights of another could not be convicted of any criminal offense, nevertheless the owner could institute action for civil redress. In the present action for an injunction the plaintiff has followed the lines laid down by this opinion by the Supreme Court. An injunction was asked for according to the complaint, as the defendants were innocent and any judgment secured against them could not be collected. The court will be asked to make the injunction perpetual.

The plaintiff represents that rental of $2,000 a year for its fishing rights could be secured as mullet abounds in those waters. The defendants were alleged to have taken $500 worth of such fish from the waters controlled by the company.

A STRONG MARKET

WAIALUA REACHES $80 FOR THE FIRST TIME FOR OVER THREE YEARS—THERE IS A STRONG DEMAND FOR IT—A BUYING MOVEMENT HAS BEGUN IN SAN FRANCISCO—NEARLY THE WHOLE LIST SHOWS STRENGTH.

Waialua went up to eighty dollars today, under a brisk demand that has been growing stronger for some time and sending it up first by five dollar advances and then by two and a half dollar jumps.

This is the first time this stock has been sold at this figure since about September, 1901, when it got on the stock market toboggan and went down in the quotations at the rate of five dollars a throw.

There was considerable trading in this stock during the past twenty-four hours, Halstead & Company, and Robert W. Shingle being the principal sellers.

It was a bull day on the Stock Exchange. There was a firm tone to the market and most of the stocks on the list were strong. Twenty-nine dollars was bid for Ewa without bringing any of it out. Ooakala was dealt in considerably at figures at about the highest point heretofore reached during the present activity.

Kihehi was sold at $13; Ooakala as high as $8.125. More than 500 shares of McBryde changed hands at $8.50. Kabuku showed an advance to $28.50. Hawaiian Commercial sold for $82.50; Inter-Island Steam Navigation sold for $122.50 on the board, and Oahu Railway bonds at $104.

Advices from the coast are that the strong buying movement in Hawaiian stocks which was suggested in The Star some days ago as probable from the sharp advance of these securities in the market there, has taken place and is in progress.

The Henry Waterhouse Trust Company this morning received the following San Francisco quotations by cable: Hawaiian Commercial, $82.50; Makaweli, $36.50; Honokaa, $22.50.

WILL FORCLOSE ON FISHER

PROCEEDINGS COMMENCED IN RELATION TO THE LOT AT FORT AND BERETANIA STREETS.

Proceedings were commenced today by W. O. Smith as executor under the will of the late Maria L. Hoffman against J. H. Fisher and Nettie Fisher his wife, for foreclosure of mortgage. The property in question is at the corner of Fort street, Beretania street and Chaplain lane having an area of 692 square feet.

The land was mortgaged for $14,000 on May 28, 1901 with interest at 7 per cent, as collateral security for certain notes but there has been no payment of principal and none of the interest since 1902.

DR. PARKHURST STIRS UP THE NEW YORK POLICE

WILLIAM McADOO.
COPYRIGHT 1904 BY JESSE HAD DORLAND.

NEW YORK POLICE COMMISSIONER WILLIAM McADOO.

NEW YORK, January 5.—Following close on the heels of Dr. Parkhurst's scathing letter denouncing rampant vice in New York, Police Commissioner McAdoo made fifteen transfers of captains today, the most thorough shaking up of the police force that has occurred in years. Nine transfers are in Brooklyn and six in Manhattan.

All the transfers were made, according to a statement by the Commissioner, "for what is believed to be the best interests of the police service." In every instance the transfer was made in a precinct in which poolrooms and disorderly houses have been running unmolested. The precinct of Captain Husey was made the particular target of attack by Parkhurst, and Husey was one of the captains transferred.

There are strong indications that

Parkhurst has only just begun his campaign and that it will develop most unpleasantly for the criminal element and grafting police officers. Much talk was heard at State headquarters today about sending a committee from Albany to investigate this city's government, but men who are in the confidence of Odell said no decision in this direction had been reached yet.

It was acknowledged by headquarters' politicians that Mayor McClellan, by taking a position in favor of municipal ownership of lighting plants, had made less effective that attacks on Tammany which followed Commissioner Oakley's agreement with the lighting companies. Still, it was said, a legislative committee might be sent to the city to make an all-round investigation.

RHENISH MINERS HOLD MEETINGS

ARE DETERMINED TO ENFORCE
DEMANDS FOR SHORTER HOURS, AND A STRIKE IS PROBABLE.

Associated Press, Morning Service
ESSEN, Germany, January 18.—A body of 125,612 men are engaged in the strike.

BERLIN, Jan. 7.—Meetings of the representatives of 200,000 miners employed in the mines of the Rhinish Westphalian coal syndicate are being held throughout the district regarding the silence of the members of the syndicate on the workmen's request for a different system of measuring the hours of work. The mines are under individual company management, the whole allotted product being marketed by the syndicate.

Two hundred and fifty men in one mine refused to work today, but a general strike is not yet imminent, although the miners are embittered by the long controversy. The miners ask that the hours of work shall be measured from the time of arrival at the pit's mouth until they reach the pit's mouth on returning, instead of from reaching the work gallery until ceasing work.

The men affirm that it takes often forty-five minutes each day going into and leaving the deep-sunk shafts and long galleries, so that a nominal eight-hour day becomes a day of nine and a half hours. They asked, for the first year, a nine-hour day, for the second year eight and one-quarter hours and for the third year and thereafter eight hours, calculated between getting into and coming out of the entrance.

The miners aver that the diggings are more unhealthy than ever and that 55 per cent of the men are diseased. According to official reports the average life of miners is less than formerly. The miners' leaders urge moderation and the observance of order. The public generally is deeply interested in the result of the dispute.

The coal syndicate's contract, which went into effect in April, 1904, for twelve years, fixes the allotment of each mine for the entire period. The result is that the powerful mining companies are mining economically, buying up the weaker ones and closing them, supplying their allotment from new shafts of the large mines. The workmen of the small mines are

FORMERLY PRACTICED HERE.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 6.—In the passing of Dr. Jennie Brooks Hildebrand a notable woman has gone to rest. She died Tuesday morning of pneumonia at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Mate H. Cartwright, 141 Julian avenue. Dr. Hildebrand was the first woman to secure a license to practice west of Chicago. Left a widow over forty-five years ago, with a family dependent upon her, she decided to study medicine, which she did successfully at the College of Physicians and Surgeons in Philadelphia. Completing her course there, she went to Kansas for her first practice which in those days meant riding about in the country on horseback all hours of the day and night. About fifteen years ago she came to California, and since that time has practiced in this city and Honolulu.

Dr. Hildebrand who was born in Covington, Ky., in 1833, was the daughter of Phillips Brooks, the uncle of the famous Bishop and the man for whom he was named.

Surviving Dr. Hildebrand are her children, Mrs. Mate C. Cartwright, Mrs. W. C. Renick of Kansas City and Stanley A. Hildebrand of Sacramento.

SAN FRANCISCO CONTRACTS.

The American-Hawaiian Engineering and Construction Company has secured through its San Francisco office the contract to build the Hahnemann Hospital, in San Francisco, at a cost of $110,000. It has secured another contract, likewise, for the construction of a building on the coast to be put up at a cost of $482,000.

HEART TROUBLES.

Don't sleep with your troubles. If you have palpitation, short breath, pain in chest, side and shoulders, choking sensations, fainting spells, difficulty in sleeping on left side, and you feel anxious about it, don't sleep until you have procured a bottle of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, and you can rest assured you have a never-failing remedy for your affections. If first bottle fails to benefit, money back.

Dr. Jaeger's Pure Sanitary Woolen Underwear

A great deal of the sickness prevalent during this cold spell could be prevented by wearing Dr. Jaeger's pure and sanitary woolen underwear.

It prevents ingress of draught at front or back and is of double thickness over chest. It keeps the skin at an equable warmth in any weather.

It is a common mistake that woolen underwear is not necessary in Hawaii. Perhaps in no other place in the world can light woolen undergarments be worn with more beneficial results. Dr. Jaeger's woolen underwear is endorsed by the world's leading physicians. Sold by

Hindu Coolies In Fiji

An interesting account comes from Fiji of the movement of coolies from India to and from that colony. These coolies are imported under contract mainly for work in the cane fields. In 1903, 1844 immigrants arrived from India in three ships. The passage money per statute adult was £5 17s. 6d., and the actual total cost £14 10s. 2d. per adult allotted. In 1901 the total cost was only £12 17s. 10 1/2d., although the passage money was £6 10s. In 1902 the cost was £12 10s., with the passage money at £8 10s. In 1903 therefore the cost per head, exclusive of passage money, was £8 18s. 8d., as against £4 9s. in 1902. This is more than double, and certainly seems deserving of some explanation. The proportion of females to 100 males was: Adults, 38.61; children, 86.23; total, 40.45. This is a smaller proportion than the average. In 1903, 579 persons emigrated to India, the contract rate of passage money being £5, or £3 less than the previous year. The Indian population on December 31, 1903, was estimated as follows: Adults, males, 11,760; females, 5,036; children, males, 2,472; females, 2,232; total, 21,500. The total death rate is 2.52 per cent, and the birth rate 4.35 per cent.

As these Indians serve out the terms of their contracts, many of them remain in Fiji, becoming independent cultivators of the soil, cultivating bananas, rice, maize, and as at Navua and some other places cane. In the district of Navua the immigrant population is estimated at 2,503 souls, 2,984 acres are owned and leased by immigrants, on which are numerous settlements. Large crops of cane (2,249 acres), bananas and rice are grown. The Fiji Sugar Company, Limited, purchase the cane supplied under agreement. During 1903 the free Indian settlers in the district sold to the Tamunua Mill no less than 42,618 tons of cane, for which they received a sum of £20,686. In the districts of Rewa and Navua a large number of wooden dwellings have been erected, and there is every evidence of prosperity and well-being. So much is this the case that very few free immigrants care to accept employment on estates, even at high wages. Mission schools have been opened in these districts by the Wesleyan Mission, and large numbers of children attend them.

The free population in the vicinity of Suva is about 1,728 souls. They grow rice largely, and also vegetables for the Suva market which command a ready sale. In 1903, for the first time, Indian immigrant settlers applied for and received allotments of immigrants, viz: At Navua, two employers, Rewa, one, and the same employers have applied for allotments in 1904.

In Macata there is a "free" population 740 men, 380 women, 500 children, in all 1,720 souls. Number of allotments of houses, 630 in 15 localities, including the four Government settlements at Bouball, Bulleka, Raranikawai, Wainikoro. Total area estimated to be in cultivation for February, 1904, 1,660 acres, all in rice, maize, beans, etc.

Lawson And What Is Said About Him

The mainland periodicals both religious and secular, and not alone the dailies but the weeklies and monthlies, continue to discuss Thomas Lawson and "frenzied finance." The range of opinion regarding him and his motives is as varied as those which have been held regarding Joan of Arc, and the variety of these may be gathered from a recent incident that occurred in France. Some miscreant desecrated a memorial monument which had been erected to her memory, whereupon the Catholics came and strewed flowers about the monument, and worked themselves up into a great state of fervor because she is a canonized saint. The next day the agnostics and the rationalists came and strewed flowers, and made speeches, because she was a patriot and a heroine of France. There hasn't as yet been any canonization of Lawson, nor any widely felt opinion that he is a patriot in any excessive degree. As to his being a hero, wait till his enemies make a stock market martyr of him, and then there may be some who will claim that he is a hero.

But there can be no question as to the variety of opinion expressed. Some of the articles about him take him with a seriousness that is almost as amusing as the lofty denunciation of him as a charlatan which other periodicals indulge in. For instance, the New York Times, refused to accept his advertisements, on the ground that it would not be a party in any way to his methods. Some of the more serious of the weekly or monthly reviews, express the view that this is rather childish inasmuch as there can be no doubt that he is a very important factor in the stock market, and that therefore what he says and what he does is one of the elements of the stock market whether he seeks to deceive by what he says or not; and therefore any journal which pretends to keep its readers informed on the stock market situation, as the Times does, has no right to withhold as important a matter as this. Many papers to whom they were not sent as advertisements, published them anyway, on the theory that under the circumstances they had become news.

Except those periodicals which affect to ignore him, or to treat him as a mere accident, a charlatan who without merit of ability has been made the figure of the moment by one of the fantasies of the market, there is practical unanimity in the expressed opinion that Lawson is a strong testimonial to the power of publicity. Whatever the means used, whatever the power gained, whatever the use made of that power, Lawson is what he is, because of the publicity he has given himself. The general opinion goes even farther than this, and holds that though there may be questions of good taste involved, he has not attained his publicity by any but legitimate means. There has been no suggestion of corruption of the press or of other means of affecting public opinion, as there was in the career of almost everyone of his prototypes. He has used the newspapers by having something of news to give them, or by honestly and openly advertising something that he wanted brought before the public. In this he adopted simply the same methods that the soap manufacturer does. He had an article and he bought space openly and publicly in the public journals to tell the public about it. What he said may have been false or intended to deceive, but if it was he did his own lying and did not corrupt others to do it for him. His methods of publicity, including his Frenzied Finance articles have been legitimate methods. And they have been effectual.

On the question of whether he is a man of commanding ability, or a mere charlatan there is a more equal division of sentiment. Analysis of his "Frenzied Finance" articles figures largely in the diverging views on this subject. To some the "Frenzied Finance" articles promise a great deal more than they realize. There is hint and innuendo and promise of exposure, but the exposure, the facts, never come. Yet for all that, a profound effect is produced as the New York World says:

"Lawson's statements have been accepted not because Lawson made them, but because they dovetailed with things the public already knew. 'Frenzied finance' was not altogether a mystery when Lawson began his revelations. A little light had been turned upon Amalgamated and a great deal of light upon the Ship-Building swindle. Even Bay State Gas was not completely hidden in darkness, and the public was more or less familiar with the thing that Lawson calls 'the system' long before the Boston speculator became a popular contributor to a ten-cent magazine.

"Most of the exposing has been done not by Lawson, but by the men who are trying to head him off. There has been little definite information

In his magazine articles, but a great many hints, and it is the hints that are producing the consternation. It would seem that the cause of all this celestial fire among the potentates of 'high finance' is not so much what Lawson has already said as the knowledge of what he might say if he wished. No wonder 'the system' is excited!"

The effect produced on the men attacked is another phase of the matter that is carefully studied. Men wonder why, if what Lawson says is not true, that they do not bring action in the courts to vindicate themselves. This view is illustrated in the following editorial expression of opinion, all from journals of reputation:

"It is not possible to conceive that after the publication that is now before the world," declares the New York Press, "somebody must not go into court. In court there must be established proof of allegations which in truth amount to the world, or proof of slander and lies. It must be shown whether the charges are Lawson libel or Lawson dynamite." If the Lawson charges "are allowed to pass without prosecution, a powerful presumption of truth is raised in the public mind," observes the Springfield Republican, and the New York Times argues that "if the public concludes that for reasons of his own Mr. Rogers does not care to sue Mr. Lawson for libel, it will put upon the action he has taken a not unnatural construction, and he will have himself to blame for it." "There is a deep-seated impression," remarks the Richmond Times-Dispatch, "that the capitalists are afraid to bring him to book, for in doing so they would be compelled to bring themselves to book." The Atlanta News the New Orleans Times-Democrat, and a number of other papers have considerable faith in Mr. Lawson's avowals; and the New York Evening Post warns the "complacent capitalists" that although they may treat Lawson cynically or flippantly, he still remains an obnoxious foe to be reckoned with, and he is making a tremendous impression upon the people at large. The Post adds: "So long as financiers of repute lend their names and influence to speculations that may properly be characterized as 'frenzied,' just so long will 'Down with the grafters of Wall Street' be a potent battle-cry, just so long will the utterances of a Lawson be flame to the flag."

Perhaps, the "system," as Lawson calls it, and the men who are behind the system plan a more effective revenge than any libel proceedings civil or criminal would give them. Lawson himself has intimated as much, and the history of Standard Oil as written by that careful and temperate historian, Miss Ida Tarbell, is full of illustrations of the fate that comes to the man or the institution that stands in the way of Standard Oil, and doesn't get out of the way in time.

Governor Carter isn't the only man affected by Article 1, Section 9 of the constitution. When General Grant was president, he was offered presents of everything from peacocks to jewels, by crowned heads and their official representations. Sometimes the offers were side-stepped by diplomatic agencies, and other times the consent of congress was given to his accepting the presents. Governor Carter is in good company.

The schoolmaster is abroad in Washington and Secretary Atkinson is giving lessons in high finance. This is what he did he told a gifted correspondent:

"As I have already explained to the officials in Hawaii it is always an advantage to sell bonds above par. It fetches more, as the dealers in bonds say, whereas a bond that sells under par must be disposed of at a relative disadvantage. I have also tried to explain in Hawaii how important it is to sell all the bonds. The buyers want control of the particular issue in question and are willing to pay more provided they are to have such control than they would otherwise be willing to pay."

It is a lucky thing that Governor Carter and Treasurer Campbell have Jack in Washington to keep them well informed. It is understood that the Secretary's next lesson will be on the absorbing subject of "Why two and two make four."

The suggestion of a matron for the police station, made at the meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union yesterday, is a good one. Years ago the employment of matrons to look after the girls and women arrested in Chicago by the police, was secured by the Women's Christian Temperance Union there, and there are now very few cities where the practice does not prevail.

There used to be guns on Punchbowl. The Queen in her book tells how her father, whom she claims was himself one of the big guns of the country in those days, used to take care of them and fire salutes with them.

CHARGE AGAINST SENATOR MITCHELL

ALLEGED THAT HE ACCEPTED $2-000 TO USE HIS INFLUENCE TO SECURE LAND PATENTS.

PORTLAND, Or., January 13.—S. A.
D. Pater, recently convicted in this city, with Horace G. McKinley, Daniel T. Tarpley and Mrs. Emma Watson, of conspiracy to defraud the United States Government of public lands, made a statement to the Telegram today in contradiction to statements in-sued by United States Senator John H.
Mitchell, indicted on Saturday last by a federal grand jury on evidence similar to that presented at the criminal trial of the persons recently convicted.

Pater's statement follows:
"When I said that I gave Senator Mitchell $2000 to use his influence with Binger Hermann to expedite those land claims in 11-7. I told the truth, and Senator Mitchell knows it.

"I gave Senator Mitchell $2000 to get these patents through and I will say that never regretted telling anything
so much in my life as the fact that Mitchell took the money. I never told a living soul in my life before gave the details to Mr. Henry. I never told it to McKinley or Tarpley, my partners in these deals. I kept an entry book, in which I made entries of every cent spent in connection with getting these lands to patent. All the costs of filing were entered, as well as railroad fares etc. The only entry I made of this money given to Mitchell was $2,000."

McKinley may have had an idea of his own as to where the money went but I never told him.

"Mitchell had no intention of using me as to the fraudulent character of the entries to this land.

"I never so much as intimated it to him. But when Hermann gave me to understand that the land was down and out and that the matter would have to be referred back to the Oregon City land office I went to Senator Mitchell and told him that these patents
would have to go through for the reason that if they were referred back to the original office they would be rejected. I told him that the entrymen were scattered and that it would be impossible to get them together again.

"I laid two $1000 bills on the table.
Mitchell said that it was too much. I was desperate over a desire to get the patents through, and told him to take it and do what he could to influence the Commissioner (Congressman Hermann)
to take the claims up and get the patents issued. I knew that as a United States Senator, Mitchell would have a lot of influence with the Land Office, and I was willing to pay that amount to have the patents issued.

"I knew the special agents had made a report on the lands, but of the nature of the report I had no means of knowing and I was at a loss to know why Commissioner Hermann threw the claims out. I don't know to this day why he did it, but when he told me the last time I was before him that the lands would have to go back to the Oregon City office I went to see Mitchell at once. All I know about Hermann is that after the money was paid to Mitchell and I had given him that inducement to make a good hard talk, that Hermann changed his mind. Why he did it I don't know, and would not presume to say.

FLINT CARRIED AWAY FORE TOPGALLANT

VESSEL ARRIVED YESTERDAY
AFTER AN EVENTFUL PASSAGE
TO THIS PORT FROM FRISCO.

The bark W. B. Flint, Captain Johnson, made a much slower passage this time than is usual with her. She arrived yesterday afternoon from San Francisco 28 days out. The vessel had quite an eventful voyage losing a fore yard during a gale. She is now discharging 400 tons of cargo for Honolulu and will sail for Eleale within a couple of days. She will discharge 500 tons of cargo at Eleale and then go to Makawell and discharge 600 tons more.
The vessel will load sugar for San Francisco at Makawell. While in Honolulu she will have a new yard made.

Captain Johnson makes the following interesting report of the passage:

"Bark W. B. Flint left San Francisco December 22. The first three days out had moderate winds from west to northwest and mostly pleasant weather afterwards for several days had variable winds and weather. December 29, Lat. 20:30 north Long. 133:00
west in a fresh strong wind carried away fore upper topsail yard. Since then have been under jury rig in foremast, which has retarded vessel somewhat.

"From January 5 in lat. 22:00 north or about 640 miles east of Honolulu until sighting Maui have had a constant succession of winds from southwest to west northwest with very rough sea from same quarters. On the 6 and 7 January had a heavy gale from west northwest also on the 15th inst. had a heavy gale from southwest to northwest had to heave the vessel to under lower topsails shipping much water on deck.
"On the 16th inst. took the northeast trades off the east end of Maui which carried the vessel to port."

NO EXPENSES FOR MAGOON

JUDGE ROBINSON DENIES MOTION TO TAKE MONEY FROM
PARKER ESTATE FOR TRIP.

Judge Robinson this morning refused to entertain the motion made by Attorney J. A. Magoon this morning for an order on A. W. Carter as trustee for the Parker Estate, for a reasonable sum of money to pay his Magoon's expenses as attorney to proceed to Washington and appear before the Supreme Court of the United States.

The motion was made by the minor Annie T. K. Parker through her next friend and guardian ad litem J. S.
Low represented by Magoon. Attorney Ballou was present for A. W.
Carter and argued against the motion,
questioning the jurisdiction of the court.

Judge Robinson expressed his great reluctance at acting in the matter as it was a case which Judge Gear had heard entirely. He denied the motion without prejudice on the ground that the Supreme Court of the United States had issued a restraining order
on the Circuit Court of Hawaii.

The Parker ranch case is before the Supreme Court of the United States in the form of an application for a writ of error and also for a permanent writ of prohibition on Judge Gear in the case.

MINSTRELSY FROM THE BR NY DEEP

UNCLE SAM'S BLUE JACKETS TO GIVE AN ENTERTAINMENT AT THE OPERA HOUSE TOMORROW.

Honolulu is to hear some minstrelsy that has evoked plaudits in all the big cities of the Orient. The minstrel troupe aboard the New Orleans will give an entertainment at the Hawaiian Opera House tomorrow evening. The troupe is made up of the best talent
from all the ships of the Asiatic fleet, the fleet that was here a year ago. Most of them are service expired men who are on their way home. It is said for them that their minstrel first part is second to none in the professional minstrel line.

In this part the "Emperors of Fun and Mirth," Fuller and Hetherington are the end men, and J. F. Foster, late of Haverly's Minstrels, is the Interlocutor.

Some of the best talent in the company are such well known artists as "Filipak" the baton swinger; Oppen-man and Bright, musical artists; and the "Harmony Four" Morris, Bright, Dickerson and Phillips.

The New Orleans minstrels have given performances in Shanghai, Hong Kong, Manila, Cebu, Yokohama, Kobe, Nagasaki and Tokio and everywhere were pronounced an excellent organization.

The troupe is under direct management of R. P. Crandall, Surgeon, U.
S. N.

RUBBER PLANTATION ON MAUI.

The Nahiku Rubber Plantation Co., Ltd., owns 600 acres of land at Nahiku
and is now incorporating. R. H.
Anderson, manager, is now on the land,
and has set out a nursery of over an acre, which will produce plants enough to plant 150 acres with 400 trees to the acre. These plants will be set out as soon as large enough to transplant.
The remainder of the 700 acres is to be set out with rubber as soon as clear.

ADVERTISING TOUR TO HAWAII

A NADVERTISEMENT THAT AP-PEARS IN THE LITERARY DI-GEST—PARTY DUE FEBRUARY.

The Literary Digest for December 31 contains a quarter of a page advertisement of "Gates" annual tour (under personal escort) to Hawaii and the Volcano of Kilauea: "An ideal winter voyage to the land of perpetual bloom."
The remainder of the advertisement
is as follows:

Leaves San Francisco February 11th.
Returning leave Honolulu February 23.
Arrive San Francisco March 6.

The ocean voyage from San Francisco to Honolulu, a distance of 2,053 miles, will be made on one of the fast express steamers of the Oceanic Steamship Company.

The cost of the tour, which includes every needed expense, will be $250 from San Francisco.

York. Chas. H. Gates, Toledo, Ohio.

JURY SECURED TO TRY GENEAU

THE TWELVE MEN WHO WILL DE-CIDE WHETHER THE SAILOR IS TO LIVE OR DIE.

After the prosecution had exercised all six of its peremptory challenges and the defence had used all but one of the twelve allowed it by law, a jury was secured in Judge De Bolt's court this morning for the trial of E. Geneau, the U. S. sailor who is accused of the murder of "Useless" Harris, the negro prize fighter, on the night of June 30 last.

The following were the twelve men
finally passed and sworn: M. J. Bissell, Charles Lambert, M. Brusch, J.
W. Rankin, T. R. Lucas, E. Ingham, F.
W. Beardslee, C. S. Desky, Gerrit P.
Wilder, B. J. Wright, J. C. Denney
and W. A. Hall.

Several of the jurors, in anticipation of being locked up for a night or two,
expressed a desire to have opportunity for arranging their business affairs.
Judge De Bolt pointed out to them that the law was that they must not separate after being sworn until they had reached a verdict, but Attorney General Andrews for the prosecution and Attorney E. A. Douthitt for the defence both waived the provision. Judge De Bolt addressed himself to the defendant personally and Geneau at once answered that he had no objection to the members of the jury separating in the meantime.

Attorney Douthitt stated that he would want the evidence of Captain Niblack who is at present away on a cruise and the court promised to bear
the matter in mind.

A recess was taken until 2 o'clock
when the hearing of testimony began.

BISHOP RESTARICK ON HIS WAY HOME

HIS SON ARTHUR IS MUCH IM-PROVED—EXPECT TO ARRIVE
BY MANCHURIA FEBRUARY 3.

Mrs. Restarick yesterday received a cable from her husband, Bishop Restarick from New York, saying that the Bishop would sail from San Francisco with their son Arthur by the Manchuria, January 28, due in Honolulu
February 3.

Arthur is very much improved, though still very weak. It is his physician's opinion that he will improve much morrapidly in this out-of-door climate with its abundant sunshine, than in Boston
with its severe climate and impossibility of being out of doors at this season of the year.

Contrary to the first information received, the release of Arthur Restarick
while on his way across the continent, from the hopeful condition of improvement he was in after his first visit to Boston in October, was not due to a fall.

Bishop Restarick was to have started from Boston January 16.
The new Episcopal bishop of Hankow, with his wife, will also be passengers on the Manchuria.

SCHWEITZER IS RECEIVER.

L. Schweitzer was this morning appointed receiver of the bankrupt estate of I. Livingston under a bond of $3000. He will close the store and take stock at once.

JAPANESE HELD.

Sugoyi Kasu and Yagouchi, two Japanese who were arrested in the Kalihi valley last evening at the instance of the Inland Revenue department on the charge of having a still in their possession, were brought before U. S. Commissioner Judd this morning and were held for examination tomorrow morning.

ed. Dr. Waterhouse, who is largely interested in the enterprise is now in Nahiku, looking over the plantation.
This enterprise is being engineered by Honolulu brains and financed by Honolulu capital, and it is sincerely
to be hoped that the people of Maui will improve the opportunity while there is yet good land available, and organize a rubber plantation on East Maui with local capital.—Maui News.

If your hair is too long, go to your barber. He has the remedy—a pair of shears. If your hair is too short, go to your druggist. He has the remedy
—a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor.

Ayer's Hair Vigor
Is a Hair Food.

It feeds the hair. The hair grows long and heavy because it gives to the hair just what it needs.
If your hair is turning gray, it shows
there is lack of hair nourishment.
Give your hair this hair-food and it will take on new life. Soon all the deep, rich color of youth will return to it.
We are sure you will be greatly pleased with Ayer's Hair Vigor as a hair-dressing. It makes the hair soft and smooth, and prevents splitting at the ends.

THE RUSSIAN INFANTRYMAN

IS BEATEN ON ALL OCCASIONS AND WITHOUT PROVOCATION BY HIS OFFICERS IN SPITE OF THE LATE UKASE BY THE CZAR—
NO PENSIONS ARE PAID SOLDIERS' WIDOWS, AND DESERTIONS
ARE VERY NUMEROUS.

The following is a continuation from yesterday, of an article by an Italian officer with the Russian Army in Manchuria, written for the London Times.

I have spoken before of the slight interest the officers take in their men; what is still worse is the habit they have of striking them. This does not come from brutality, but from custom, and is a relic of those days of serfage when the master had a right to beat his peasant as long and as severely as he pleased. Flogging as a punishment has been recently abolished in the Russian army. It will be remembered that on the birth of the heir to the throne the Czar issued a ukase to this purpose. But ill-treatment of soldiers by officers continues in spite of all attempts to put a stop to it. I have often witnessed disgusting scenes of this kind, as the number of officers who beat their men is enormous. The officer does not even confine his ill-usage to men of his own company, but indulges in this habit with any soldier for the simple reason that he is a soldier. In Hai-cheng, I remember, a soldier whose face was being belabored by an officer's fist flew to me for protection. I was the only civilian there, and nobody else, not even a superior officer, would have dared to interfere. The officer's wrath fell, of course, on me, as the quarrel which followed only enraged him the more, the result was that he drew his revolver and fired at me; happily the shot went astray and the next moment he was seized, disarmed, and conveyed away by the gendarmes, who till that moment had viewed the scene with the greatest indifference. The worst of all this is that such unjustifiable proceedings arise nearly always from motives which have nothing to do with the service. It is also very curious that the men never offer any resistance. They apparently receive blows with indifference, and probably in a good many cases much prefer them to disciplinary punishment; but many resent such treatment, and when any opportunity occurs desert. The list of deserters is as heavy in the infantry as in the cavalry, and there are always soldiers who are missing from the companies, although they are often not reported to the general staff in St. Petersburg. I remember an interpreter in the Eastern Army telling me that he had once been ordered to approach a village near the Japanese lines and gather some information from the inhabitants. He was given two soldiers as escort, and they reached the place safely and learnt all they wanted. When he started for the return, his two comrades advised him to "go to the Japanese"; "there we shall be very well off and all these hardships will come to an end." He declined, however, to do this, and, returning alone, reported the adventure to the general, and was commanded to maintain absolute silence about it. The number of deserters would be much larger but for the fear of being killed in cold blood by the Japanese, as in many regiments the idea was industriously circulated that the enemy did not take prisoners. Desertion was, till recently, favored by the further fact that, while officers' widows were entitled to a pension, nothing of the sort was provided for the non-commissioned officer or private; and as many of the men who fought at the beginning of the war were reservists possessing wives and children they were naturally loth to give their lives for a Government that made no provision for their families. This fact, besides encouraging desertion, favored the discovery of diseases more or less imaginary, with the result that a large percentage of the reservists had to be rejected by the doctor and sent home. Even now the remedy which has been found is not a radical one, for the pension to the soldiers' widows, decreed by the Czar in the same ukase in which flogging in the army was abolished, is not provided for in a special law, nor has the amount of it been clearly settled, nor is there any fund as yet out of which the pensions can be paid. All is very vague, so that it is more than probable that if ever these widows receive the pension it will be only after a very long time and that the sum will be ridiculously small. I cannot insist enough on the importance of this point, as it had an effective influence on the spirits of the soldiers, which were always depressed, whatever efforts were made by the superior officers to revive them.

The weak point, however, of the Russian infantry is the officer. If the soldier is an armed peasant, the officer is an armed bourgeois, who has taken up the military career for the purpose of earning a living. I have found very few officers really fond of their profession, few possess either ambition or the desire to do their duty, as they know that promotion in the Russian army is not obtained by merit but by favor. The only thing to which they are sensible is money, as the officers' pay is miserably inadequate, amounting in the case of a lieutenant to about ten pounds a month, and this in war time, when the pay is doubled. The vast majority of these officers are grossly ignorant, especially of military science; the cultured are a very small minority. A Russian infantry officer does not convey to you any idea of smartness, although some of the young ones are handsome and attractive men, but those ranking above a captain are generally stout, portly gentlemen, with long beards, mostly grey; they usually measure a good deal round the waist, and cut but a poor figure, even on horseback. I was speaking of their ignorance, but this is even more conspicuous in the colonels, lieutenant-colonels, and majors. Many of these gentlemen cannot read a map, or locate a position on it, or measure a distance, or guide their men through cover, or direct a regular and well-protected trench to be dug, or even choose a position. The principal reason of the frightful losses the Russians have always sustained in the few attacks they made on the Japanese positions lies in the fact that, as often as they occupied a position, they found it was subject to a cross-fire from the enemy. This happened at the battle of Wafangkan, and on both occasions when Keller attacked Kuraki near Landianshan. Half of the men are lost in occupying the positions, as the Russians move heavily and are not so clever as the Japanese in taking cover, and the other half are lost in positions which cannot be maintained. This is a process which has been repeated more than once, nor do I think the Russians have profited by the lesson. When positions were occupied at Yantzing (near Motien-fing), Colonel B., of the 22nd Siberian Regiment, could never distinguish on the map the right wing of his own army from the left, nor even locate the position of his own regiment. At the battle which took place there some of the officers were totally unable to give the range to their men, while others gave ranges which proved to be hopelessly wrong. As with the cavalry, personal courage is much more appreciated than skill and science, and the idea is still entertained by many of the officers that they must try to come to close quarters with the enemy, as they have no doubt that the superior physical strength of their soldiers will give them the victory.

HOUSE PARTY AT KEALUA.

One of the most pleasant house parties ever given on Kauai was that of the Spaldings' and Fairchild's, they having entertained at their homes at Keala a number of young people from Honolulu during the holiday season. The merry party amused themselves by horse back riding, pig hunting, trap shooting, horse racing, tennis, polo, dinner parties, dancing and shooting the shoots at Waipaho. Besides the regular guests a number of young people from Lihue were constant visitors. Among the party were the Misses Lady and Alice Macfarlane, Miss Genevieve Dowsett, Miss Violet Makee, Miss Jenny Giffard, Miss Nellie Kitchen, Miss Helen Kimball, Mrs. Kimball, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rice, Messrs. Rufus and James Spalding and A. H. Rice, and Dr. Pitman—Garden Island.

WILL PRINT BOTH BILLS

COOPER AND WATSON'S COUNTY ACT AND McCANTH STEWART'S TO BE PUT IN TYPE.

The County Act Commission met last evening when N. Fernandez was present for the first time in the place of F. W. Beckley, resigned. It was decided that the bill prepared by Commissioners Watson and Cooper as well as that of Commissioner Stewart should be printed. The following order for the printing was made:

"The clerk will receive and open at the office of the Secretary in the McIntyre building on Wednesday, January 18, 1905, at 4:30 o'clock p. m., bids from all parties interested for printing, binding and delivering in pamphlet form the proposed county act drafts. Tenders to be made on basis of price per page for 50 and 200 copies, small, or equivalent type, 24 ems measure, 14-lb. A-book paper. Bidders to deliver work on or before the 26th inst. Bill to be approved by the Governor in writing and recommended to be paid out of legislative appropriation fund. Commissioner Stewart being given the floor to speak to a question of privilege, said:

"I do not want any action taken by the Commission, but it seems to me that my official self-respect requires me to enter my protest against a report of the proceedings of the last meeting, which appeared in the Advertiser of the 12th inst."

"In this report, this expression, among others of a like nature, is put into my mouth: 'Suttenly not, Suttenly not!'"

"Now, the report of our proceedings, so far as my connection with them was concerned, was, in parts, untruthful, and, throughout, unfair; and, more, it was in violation of the courtesy which the Advertiser owes the Commission."

"Even if that paper has decided to attempt without cause or provocation to ridicule me in season and out of season, when it comes in here to report our proceedings, my official connection with you gentlemen, should protect me from its injustice and indecency."

"With the exception of its last report, the paper has treated my utterances and doings here reasonably fairly. The report, against which I am now protesting, was made by one, Mr. Sol. Sheridan, who appeared here for the first time as a reporter."

"He is a comparatively new man in this community, and seems to have a poor idea of the standard of fairness which prevails everywhere among many men, even among the people in his native Southland, who make manhood synonymous with square dealing."

"But the writer doubtless thought that such a style of reporting would commend him to his employer, Mr. Thurston, not knowing that his employer told me on a day within the last special legislative session, that he disapproved of the mean references to my race and color, which appeared in the columns of the Advertiser."

"It is not my habit to notice newspaper scurrilities—I invariably pass them in silence; not because I fear controversy, but because it is the rule of my life to endeavor to ascend as high as any man can, but never to descend as low as some men do."

"I simply ask that this protest be entered on our records."

LAW DEPARTMENT MAKES A REPORT

ATTORNEY GENERAL ANDREWS SUBMITS AN ACCOUNT OF THE WORK DONE BY HIS OFFICE.

The report of Attorney General Andrews for submission to the Legislature shows that the law department of the Territory has been kept busy and that it has met with considerable success in its cases.

The records show that in the past two years the Attorney General's department has carried forty-seven cases to the Supreme Court in behalf of the Territory, and of this number thirty-five have been won. In the same time there have been instituted 143 civil suits in behalf of the Territory, of which 78 were fishery cases coming as an inheritance from the administration of Attorney-General Dole.

There have been, in the past two years, 500 criminal cases tried in the courts of the Territory. Of these trials 386 have resulted in conviction, against only 123 ending in acquittal.

The figures show, further, that in the past two years the attorney general has given 571 opinions to Territorial officials, against 341 given by his predecessor in the same time. He has had 914 oral consultations, giving opinions at the same time, has drawn 174 leases and contracts for the Territory, and has tried over four hundred delinquent tax cases in the courts of Oahu.

According to investigation made by Deputy Sheriff Henry Vida, D. L. Akwai a well-known Chinese has taken French leave. He is understood by the police to have decamped from Honolulu shortly after Christmas. He went to Japan according to the information secured by the authorities. Akwai does not appear to have skipped because of being involved in any criminal transaction but simply it seems because the burden of his debts became too heavy for him to bear. He appears to have kept his departure a secret.

He was understood to have decided to stop in Japan until he had settled up some business connected with an estate of a Chinese, in which he had become in some way involved, while in Honolulu he would continue to his native land of China. He is said to have made over his property in the Hawaiian Islands to his wife who is still living in Honolulu.

The way that the police happened to be officially acquainted with the absence of Akwai was by Deputy Sheriff Vida searching today for Akwai to serve a summons on him in a suit by Lewers and Cooke to recover $1,595.39 for an alleged balance due.

DAVIS DIVORCE SUIT.

Proceedings for divorce were instituted this morning by Mrs. Cecelia Los Davis against her husband Thomas Davis of this city. She avers that the married Davis in March 1887 at Koloa, Kauai. During 1903 and 1904 in Honolulu he treated her with extreme cruelty on different occasions, once being convicted in the police court for an assault on her. He has also failed to provide her with the necessities of life and has left her dependent on the charity of friends and relatives. She prays for complete divorce, attorneys fees and alimony.

NEW ORLEANS TO TAKE MAIL FRIDAY

NAVAL VESSEL WILL GET TO SAN FRANCISCO AHEAD OF ROSECRANS WHICH GOES VIA HILO.

The cruiser New Orleans will probably be given the next mail to San Francisco and according to the present outlook, mail sent by her will get up to San Francisco ahead of the mail sent by the S. S. Rosecrans today by way of Hilo.

The New Orleans is under orders to sail at noon on Friday for San Francisco. She will get away from the wharf about 1 p. m. Captain Harber expects to go up in six days and certainly not over seven days. According to this reckoning he will get into San Francisco at least a day ahead of the Rosecrans. Captain Harber will undoubtedly consent to carry mail from Honolulu.

In addition to mail by the New Orleans and Rosecrans, there will probably be an opportunity to send mail to San Francisco by way of the S. S. Nebraska next week. The Nebraska sails this afternoon for Kahului and will leave that port for San Francisco on Tuesday. The steamer Likiep leaving Honolulu at 5 p. m. on next Monday will get over to Lahaina in time to have mail transferred overland to catch the Nebraska. The next regular mail steamer will be the S. S. Korea leaving Honolulu on January 27 for San Francisco.

IRVINE'S ROUT IS COMPLETE

BISHOP TALBOT WHO WAS AC-CUSED BY DR. IRVINE GIVEN A VOTE OF CONFIDENCE.

PHILADELPHIA, January 2.—The developments today in the controversy between Dr. I. N. W. Irvine, the deposed priest of the Episcopal church, and Bishop Ethelbert Talbot of the diocese of Central Pennsylvania indicate that the case of Dr. Irvine against the Bishop has entirely collapsed. J. Frederick Jenkinson of Philadelphia assistant counsel for the presenters, is said to be on his way to Philadelphia with a statement from Bishop Tuttle, presiding Bishop of the Episcopal church, asking leave to withdraw the presentment and requesting permission to make a new presentment.

The vestrymen of St. John's Church, Huntingdon, Pa., held a meeting tonight and unanimously adopted a resolution affirming confidence in Bishop Talbot. A statement signed by the six vestrymen whose names appear on the Irvine presentment was forwarded by W. B. Bodine at Philadelphia. It makes the specific declaration that their signatures were obtained by deceit after they had positively refused to sign a presentment against Bishop Talbot.
