HILO CLUB IDEA

An Ultimatum From a Hawaii Island Organization.

WANTED LITTLE FOR JUDGE

Resolutions Sent to President and Ministers—"Act of Unfriendliness"—Mr. Smith Replies.

There were not many "documents in the case" for the appointment of the new Hawaii Circuit Judge. Gardner K.
Wildor, who was selected by the President, had the endorsement of many citizens of Hilo and of Honolulu friends. Word came from several of the outer districts of Hawaii favoring the candidacy of Mr. Wildor. But one objection was filed. This was an ultimatum rather than a protest or endorsement. Here it is:

Hilo, H. I., Oct. 24th, 1898.

To the President.

At a meeting of our Club, on the above date, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted.
"Resolved, That this Club having in mind the necessity for the selection of a sober, honorable and capable man to fill the vacant Judgeship on Hawaii, most heartily endorses Gilbert F. Little, Esq.; a leading and eminently capable, member of the bar, of Hilo, for the position."

Resolved, That the failure to select
Mr. Little, for the place under the circumstances, would be regarded by the people of this Island as an unjustifiable, act of unfriendliness."

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, be transmitted to the President, and to the members, of his Cabinet."

GILLSON BELL, Secretary.

Attached to this document is a seal about the size of a green mango. Secretary Gillson Bell may be a very prominent citizen of the Republic, but his name does not appear in the advertising columns of any of the Hilo papers, nor is it printed in the last directory compiled for the big and little Islands.
He is a trifle lame on punctuation, but has a very pretty signature. The communication from the Executive Chamber of the McKinley Club of the Island of Hawaii does not give the names of any of the officers of the club save that of secretary.

This nice recommendation of Col.
Little was sent to President Dole and to all the members of the Cabinet. W.
O. Smith, the Attorney General, makes it a rule to answer all communications and, of course, has replied to this one.
In the course of his note to Mr. Bell, the Attorney General remarks that
"That in view of representations made by many of the responsible people of Hawaii, the statement would appear to be unauthorized." "The Statement" refers to the second "resolved." This note from the Attorney General to the McKinley Club of the Island of Hawaii was forwarded by the Kinai mail yesterday.

After a Legacy.

Demetrios Seferis is the name of a young Greek who has been in one of the prominent King street fruit stores for a number of years and returns to his sunny home in Sparta and returns the steamer this afternoon as quick as he can make the trip. A little fortune of two francs a month from funds left him in the Bank of Athens awaits him there, being left by a parent who died some months ago.

New Foreign Office Book.

An order will go forward by the Foreign Office today for a new Foreign Office Hand Book for Hawaii. A large edition will be printed. The work will be illustrated by no less than eighty views of various towns, islands and businesses. The photographs are all from Honolulu galleries and will be reproduced by the half tone process.
A California printing house has the contract.

The New Camp

The battalion of Engineers under the command of Maj. Langford has been relieved from further duty at Camp McKinley, and are now employed building the new barracks to be used by the New York regiment on the Ka-pahulu road.

The buildings will be ready for occupancy about the middle of November, when Camp McKinley will be abandoned.

Italians to Come.

Minister Damon has heard again from Mr. Benton, who is in Italy recruiting laborers for Oahu and Maui.
Mr. Benton cabled that he had established satisfactory relations with the Italian Government and had located at Milan for the purpose of reaching the peasants of Northern Italy. It is understood that the Italian Government is very much in favor of having numbers of its citizens emigrate especially to Hawaii. The officials have investigated carefully and have come to the conclusion that the poor people now able to barely eke out existence will not only live well in Hawaii but will find the climate even better than that of their native country. It is expected that a considerable party of Italians for Hawaii will leave Milan during this month.

THE NEW BONDS.

Difference of Opinion on the Legality of Issue.

Details on the sale of $400,000 of new Government bonds will not be settled till this morning, when there will be a special cabinet meeting for that purpose. One man in Honolulu has tendered for $300,000 of the issue. An agent from the Coast has asked for a large sum. There are subscriptions in for $24,000 in small denominations.
There were not the number of applications for small or divided bonds that were expected.

It was stated yesterday that a local attorney had advised a resident capitalist who was inclined to invest in the bonds that the issue was illegal. "The man who wants $300,000 of the issue does not share in this belief. The agent for Coast people will receive from Attorney-General Smith for the Cabinet an opinion on the legality of the issue.

Thirty Will Leave.

Thirty enlisted men of the First
New York under the command of Maj.
C. J. Chase, who recently resigned his commission as Major in the United States army, will leave on the Australia for San Francisco. One of the men, Sergt. A. E. Winter has been discharged by telegraphic instruction from the Secretary of War, and the others have been granted furloughs on surgeons' certificates of disability.

On the Australia came orders from Washington to discharge Private William Odell. Company M, First New York. Private Odell has been sick in the military hospital for several days, and when discharged therefrom will be handed his papers. He has secured a position with the Hawaiian Electric Company. Odell, prior to his advent in the army, was connected with the Brush Electric Company of Albany, N. Y.

Twenty-Fifth Annual.

Thos. G. Thrum is putting in an immense amount of work on his forthcoming Annual, a standard Island publication circulating all over the world and treasured in every Honolulu library. The next number will be the twenty-fifth and it is the intention of Mr. Thrum to make it notable. For a quarter of a century now Mr Thrum has gone along quietly getting out every twelve months a valuable book remarkable in many respects.

Pali Road.

It is the purpose of the Interior Department to award the contract for the new Pali road to Mr. Dwight, whose bid was the lowest. There is not sufficient money in the appropriation to carry out the work as planned. For this reason the start on new construction will be made some distance beyond Mr. Schaefer's place, thus shortening the new line. There will be no change in the building specification.

CANE AREA TO BE EXTENDED

Between 5,000 and 6,000 Acres of New Land—Pumps Ordered.
Mr. Lowrie to Take Charge.

Whatever may be the course and movement of Hawaiian Commercial (Spreckelsville Plantation) stock in San Francisco, there is marked activity in the security here in Honolulu.
The last quotation from the Coast (San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange) was $45.50 on the 22nd of October. A week or ten days before that, when the stock was $42.50 bid and $43 asked in San Francisco, a sale was made here at $45. This transaction was in 530 shares and the purchaser was a man identified with one of the large plantations on this Island, but not the manager of the estate with which he is connected. It is a somewhat peculiar, but perhaps a perfectly natural fact that a considerable quantity of the stock has come to this market. It has been brought by men who anticipated a change and an advance from the knowledge of likelihood of the property or control of the corporation changing hands through the operations of the Spreckels boys on the Stock and Bond Exchange at San Francisco.
None of the stock bought on the Coast by Jas. B. Castle and his associates is on the market here. It is not probable that any of it will be for perhaps years. It is the "swinging" block and will be kept intact for more reasons than the ordinary business causes or speculations might suggest.

A sale of Hawaiian Commercial was made in Honolulu yesterday by Broker Harry Armitage at $50 a share. This is the first local transaction in the security representing the mammoth Maui estate since the sale at $45. An advance of five points from trade to trade is unusual, to say the least. The stock has a decided upward tendency.
It is now known positively that W. J.
Lowrie, who has brought Ewa plantation up to its wonderful standard, is to be manager at Spreckelsville. It is the expectation that Mr. Lowrie will in due time bring the yield of the Hawaiian Commercial estate up to 40,000 tons of sugar in a season. The outlook is now clear for 30,000, which will be the greatest on the Islands, though the new Oahu is expected to go over 25,000 tons in a few campaigns. H. P. Baldwin, one of the most successful plantation men of the Islands, is a large owner with J. B. Castle in the controlling interest of Hawaiian Commercial and is to be identified in some measure with the management. Mr. Baldwin has his headquarters on Maui, where he keeps eyes on a couple of plantations. The stock in these estates is away above par. Hawaiian Commercial was at one time sold at $65 and there does not seem to be any reason why it should not a gain go to that figure, and it may go above it.

One plain warrant for the rapid or sudden rise in the value of Hawaiian Commercial stock lies in the fact that the cane growing area of the estate is to be largely increased. The company owns between 5,000 and 6,000 acres of rich land just above the line of the big ditch and extending up to an elevation of 450 feet. This land has not heretofore been cultivated. Pumps have been ordered for the irrigation of this new tract and it will be planted so soon as possible. There is an unlimited supply of water available.
Altogether, the change in the outlook for Hawaiian Commercial is most favorable and if any amount of the stock gets down here there will be lively trading in it.

Bodies to Be Shipped.

The funeral of Charles Carter, private Co. G, First New York was held from St. Andrew's Cathedral yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. Karl Schwarz, chaplain of the New York Regiment.

Company G of which deceased was a member attended in a body. The regimental band led the procession. The remains were placed in a vault in Nuuanu cemetery beside those of Private Thompson. Both bodies will be shipped to the Coast on the Australia today.

Baptism of Ex-Queen.

The correspondence between the Bishop of Honolulu and Rev. Alex Mackintosh still continues. The threat of revocation of license yet hangs over Rev. Mr. Mackintosh, though the Bishop has permitted a stay of proceedings for reasons best known to himself. The latest communication out is addressed by the clergyman to his superior. It contains a recrimination. The Bishop on other than a holy day. The specific case is not mentioned, but it is known that the individual received into the church on the tabu day was no less a personage than Liliuokalani.

Rev. Mr. Mackintosh says to the Bishop that if the license is called in the courts will be asked for an injunction to stop effect of the order.

NOVEL EXPENSE PLAN.

Soldiers Will Bear Half of Cost of
Trip to Hawaii

A rather peculiar financial arrangement has been made between Companies K and M, First New York and the military authorities at Camp Mc-Kinley.

The two companies have arranged to make a trip to the Island of Hawaii and will charter a sailing vessel in which to make the journey. The soldiers are to bear one-half of the expenses of the trip and the Government the balance.
They have drawn their week's rations and will go in light marching order.
The companies will take a practice march from Hilo to the Volcano. They will return to Honolulu in three weeks and may visit some of the other Islands.

After Opium.

Customs guards are now stationed at the boat landing and all of the crew of the troopship Arizona are promptly and thoroughly searched upon arriving there. Last night a number of customs officials were dodging about the waterfront and certain vessels are being carefully watched. A plausible theory is advanced as to the successful landing of opium from vessels in the stream. It is this: At night a rope is taken ashore by a cautious swimmer from one of the vessels and, when the sea wall is reached, the package of opium is attached to the line and dropped overboard by confederates on the vessel being sufficiently weighted so as to sink just below the surface of the water. It is then hauled to and under some of the wharves. Prime Hongkong opium is reported to be quoted just now as low as $22.50 per pound.

Waterfront Rights.

The Supreme Court of Wisconsin held, in the recent case of Madison vs.
Mayers, that the right to erect wharves in shoal water far enough out into a lake to reach water navigable for such boats as might properly be used thereon belonged to the owners of land abutting on the lake although the title was in the state.

MAN CAST AWAY THIRTY YEARS

A Pearl Seeking Expedition.
Amongst the Blacks of Australia—Story of Rescue.

In the Wide World Magazine for September there begins a narrative which is described as the story of the most amazing experiences a man ever lived to tell. M. Louis de Rougemont, the hero of this extraordinary story, is a Frenchman, born at Paris in 1844. When he was nineteen years of age he went to the far East to make his fortune, and in 1863 invested his little money with a pearl-fishery adventurer who sailed from Batavia. Louis de Rougemont and his partner, Peter Jensen, sailed in 1863 in a forty-ton schooner named the Velleland, to go on a pearl-fishing expedition with a crew of Malays off the south of New Guinea.

Despite the occasional attacks of devil-fish as terrible as that described by Victor Hugo and the constant presence of sharks, which used to be hunted and captured by the pearl-fishers, the trip was extremely successful. At the end of the season in 1864 the take of pearls was valued by Captain Jensen at $50,000. They had a very fair share of adventures while pursuing their calling in the New Guinea waters, and on one occasion had to use the argument of grapeshot in order to allay the animosity of the natives, after which fishing off New Guinea became impossible. Off they went, therefore to some hitherto unexplored fishing grounds, the precise locality of which M. de Rougemont does not know. There they obtained three magnificent black pearls, a treasure which led Jensen to continue fishing two months after he ought to have stopped and gone home. The season ends usually in May. He went on fishing till July.

One morning Jensen and eleven of the crew left the ship in the little boats for the pearl fishery, leaving De Rougemont and a dog alone on board the ship. A great storm arose, which swept the ship away, carrying De Rougemont and the dog with it. Of Captain Jensen and the Malays nothing was seen or heard again. For several days the vessel drove before the wind, and when the storm abated De Rougemont tried to steer her westward with the aid of long steering oars, for the rudder had been smashed in the storm. After thirteen days he approached the Australian coast and ran into a narrow strait between Melville and Bathurst Island. There he was attacked by natives, but hoisting the mainsail he stood for the open sea, where for four days he sailed alone without incident. But on the fourth day the vessel struck a coral reef and remained fixed.

He made a raft and succeeded in reaching a small sand-bank which rose a few feet out of the waters of the lagoon. It was 100 yards long, 10 yards wide, and only 8 feet above the sea at high water. Upon this sand-spit De Rougemont lived for the next two and a half years. He rescued sufficient salvage from the wreck to provide himself with a sleeping place and with food. Early in his sojourn on this desolate sand-spit he discovered a singular hole in the sand about two feet deep. On scratching the sand he came upon human remains, and in an hour unearthed sixteen complete skeletons. Plenty of sea-birds visited the island, whose eggs supplied him with food. In his youth he had taken a keen interest in archery, and he had with him a bow and arrows, with which he was able to secure birds for his table. A fire he made by striking a steel tomahawk against a stone once, and having once obtained fire, he never allowed it to go out during the whole time he remained on the island.

He went about perfectly nude, but landed from the ship the greater part of the cargo, including its valuable pearl shells, of which they had over thirty tons on board, the value of which he computed at several thousands. The pearls of course he removed and buried in the sand, where they remain to this day. By way of amusement he built himself a house of the pearl-shells, the walls of which were 7 feet high, 3 feet thick, and 10 feet long. Finding a stock of seeds in the captain's cabin, he planted them in a soil prepared by mixing the sand with the blood of the turtles which he killed, and very soon had crops of corn, from which he was able to obtain straw to thatch his house. He caught plenty of fish, and further supplemented his store by robbing the pelicans of the fish which they brought to land for their young ones. He made a hammock out of shark's hide and generally behaved himself after the fashion of Robinson Crusoe. He had an English Testament which he read aloud until he nearly went mad by worrying himself over theological difficulties. He then set to work to build a boat out of the remains of the ship. He succeeded after seven months in building a heavy sailing boat 12 feet long by 4 feet wide. He launched it and then discovered that he had built it on the wrong side of his island, and that the boat was floating in a lagoon from which there was no access to the open sea. During all this time his dog was his only companion, and by continually talking to him he found him not a bad substitute for a human being. It was seven months after he had been cast away that he first saw a sail on the horizon. Although in the course of two and a half years five ships passed the sand-spit, he failed utterly to attract their attention. Water he never lacked for; when rain-water gave out he condensed sea-water in his kettle. Seeing that pelicans were in the habit of visiting the island and flying away into unknown space, he conceived the idea of utilizing them as messengers. He scratched a message with a sharp nail on the tin disk which forms the bottom of tins of condensed milk. This message he prepared in English, French, Dutch, German and Italian. He fastened them round the necks of the pelicans by means of fish gut and shark hide. The birds flew away and never returned to the island. Twenty years afterward, on his return to civilization, some old inhabitants of Fremantle told him that a pelican carrying a tin disk round its neck, bearing a message in French had been found many years previously by an old boatman on the beach near the mouth of the Swan river.

On one occasion his island was visited by a flock of parrots, who ate up nearly all his green corn and then went off. He made an almanac with piles of shells, keeping account of the years by making notches on his bow. After two years he heard his dog barking wildly on the beach. Rushing down to the shore he saw a catamaran nearing the island upon which several human beings were lying prostrate. When the catamaran came near to the island he saw that it was surrounded by sharks and carried four black persons—a man, a woman and two boys—all lying prostrate from exhaustion. He drove off the sharks, beached the catamaran, and carried the blacks into his hut. After considerable efforts he succeeded in reviving them. They were very frightened, imagining that they had died and were in the presence of the Great Spirit. He lived with them some time on the island and succeeded in teaching them some English. The man was always sullen and superstitious, so that De Rougemont found it necessary to keep a strict eye upon his movements and to deprive him of spears and other weapons with which he might take his life. After they had been six months on the island they succeeded in dragging the heavy boat across the sand-spit and launching it on the opposite side. They then took on board a liberal allowance of food and water, buried the box of pearls deep in the sand on one end of the island, and leaving the hut of pearl shells intact, they set sail in the direction indicated by the native woman, who was the most intelligent of the quartette. On the fifth day they sighted a small island, and on the tenth day they reached the Australian mainland.

His native fellow-passengers at once landed, and by means of smoke signals announced their arrival to the tribes in the vicinity. An immense crowd speedily assembled and behaved as if he were a god. They then provided him with a wife, a young woman who remained his wife for one day only. On the following day he effected an exchange with the man who had been cast ashore on his island. The man was glad to obtain a younger wife, while De Rougemont was delighted to obtain a companion with whom he could converse in English and who regarded him with dog-like fidelity, which more than once saved his life. The locality where he landed was the Cambridge Gulf, on the north-north-west coast of Australia. The natives possess a certain degree of civilization, he settled down among the natives, who held him in high honor. His description of his life among the black men has hardly been commenced, and the story is to be continued month after month until it is finished.

This story of a European who has lived thirty years among savages in a country that has hitherto never been explored is one without precedent or parallel. The editor of the Wide World Magazine declares that he has satisfied himself by the closest investigation of the absolute accuracy of all the statements made by M. de Rougemont.

(It only remains to add to this remarkable and thrilling story that it is a fabrication. Investigation has established beyond a question that De Rougemont is an imposter.)

BUT TWO REMAIN

Civilization Killed Some Bushmen Here Once.

Toured America and Europe—Money Made With Them—Shipped Home From London.

A London dispatch says: On the steamer Duke of Portland which sailed from here for Brisbane, Australia, were the survivors of the aboriginal Australian blacks who for years had toured America and Europe. There are only two of them, a man and a woman. A special house was built for them on deck.

The original band numbered a score or so. They threw the boomerang, danced and sang the corroboree. A showman named Cunningham, got the permission of one of the Australian governments to take these blacks to the World's Fair in Chicago. He made money out of them in a subsequent tour of America and Europe, but one by one the aborigines died. The habits of wearing clothes and sleeping in beds and eating city food was too much for them.

The two survivors, who are now on their way home, were found in the East End of London. They were without money, and had been thrown out of their lodgings into the street. They had been in London a few days only.

Their manager deserted them in Sweden, after paying their passage from Stockholm to London. The Agent-General of Queensland, Sir Horace Tozer, came to their aid and secured their passage home.

Cunningham had his show in Honolulu when en route to the States and gave several entertainments.

FOR RETENTION.

Prominent Men Who Favor Holding the Philippines.

DES MOINES (Ia.), Oct. 21.—Congressman Hull, chairman of the House Committee on Military Affairs, said in a camp-fire speech here tonight: "We must keep the Philippines for the advantage of commerce. Our standing army must be increased to 100,000 men, 40,000 for Cuba, 25,000 for the Philippines, 5,000 for Porto Rico and the remainder for coast defense."

OMAHA, Oct. 21.—At the Liberal Congress of Religion Dr. John Henry Barrows of Chicago, made an address upon "Greater America and Her Mission in Asia." He pleaded for the retention of the Philippines as "a trust for civilization," declaring that Hawaii and the Ladrone and the Philippines are stepping stones for the civilization of Asia with American ideas.

A Military Incident.

One of the volunteer officers, now stationed in Honolulu was given a lesson a short time ago in the time honored unwritten law amongst soldiers. The officer in question was standing in front of his tent with the stub of a cigar in his mouth, when a private belonging to the regular army passed by and failed to give the customary salute. The officer felt the slight and called the soldier. The private saluted and when questioned said that a soldier was not supposed to salute an officer if the officer had a cigar or cigarette in his mouth, that he had been "called down" twice in his career as a soldier for doing so and did not propose to be caught the third time. The officer looked a bit confused and dismissed his instructor.

Has Been in Manila.

Mr. Jennings, of the Hawaiian Trading Company in years ago made several business trips to Manila. He says that when affairs are settled in the Philippines there will be fine openings on Luzon and several other islands for men enterprise and capital. Mr. Jennings mentions tobacco, sugar, indigo and hemp as articles in which money can be made. The natives have so long been oppressed that they have no ambition, but it is believed that under liberal rule they will take active interest in the material welfare of their country. There is plenty of labor in Manila and the soil is fertile. Mr. Jennings, who of late years has been a financial factor, at one time published a newspaper in the State of Nevada.

Wm. Richardson.

The late Wm. Richardson, whose death is recorded elsewhere in this issue, was an excellent and faithful coachman, in which capacity he served several of the best families in Honolulu, notably Mrs. Macfarlane, F. M. Haten and W. C. Wilder. Some time ago he had a stroke of paralysis and was removed to the Queen's Hospital, where he died. "Billy" Richardson, as his friends called him, was on account of his upright character, popular everywhere. He belonged to the Sons of St. George, under whose auspices he will be buried today.

Reefton, New Zealand, Nov. 23, 1896. I am very pleased to state that since I took the agency of Chamberlain's medicine the sale has been very large, more especially of the Cough Remedy. In two years I have sold more of this particular remedy than to all other makes for the previous five years. As to its efficacy, I have been informed by scores of persons of the good results they have received from it, and know its value from the use of it in my own household. It is so pleasant, to take that we have to place the bottle beyond the reach of the children.

W. N. ARMSTRONG - EDITOR

WEDNESDAY : NOVEMBER 3.

THE WAR INVESTIGATION.

The sober testimony taken by the War Investigating Committee is in many respects quite in contrast with the hysterical reports of the yellow journals regarding mismanagement in army affairs. Unfortunately, in many cases, those who have made charges against officers have made them on hearsay evidence. Many of the "reliable" reports about shameful neglect prove to be no more reliable than the ordinary but exasperating Honolulu gossip, which tones up the moral body for a while, and then, like other food or drink is absorbed into the system and disappears.

It was reported to this paper recently, and very circumstantially that a sick soldier had waited for treatment all day at the general hospital, but had not received it. In order to test the truth of this statement, we traced up its sources, with no little trouble and expenditure of time, and finally discovered that it had no foundation. The excellent management of the hospital, overburdened as it is with work, made us hesitate to believe the rumor.

No one denies that the quartermaster, the commissary, and the medical departments of the army need reconstruction. These departments were quite sufficient for an army of 25,000. They are utterly inadequate for an army of 278,000 men. The people, through Congress, refused to provide for any emergencies. The people having forced the army into a "hole," do not propose to take their share of the blame for doing it.

The testimony before the War Commission is doing much good. Under oath, and subject to rigid examination, the truth comes out. The medical officers state that it is the common practice for volunteers to refuse to obey the orders of their officers, in sanitary matters. It is an incident of engaging in war with volunteer troops. When Capt. A orders Privates B and C who are his social and business equals at home, to clean out sinks, B and C feel that Capt. A is "putting on airs." They feel that the captain, instead of ordering them to do it, should lend a hand himself. When an entire company is ordered to muster shovels and clean sinks, there is, at first, a live sentiment that such a service is beneath the notice of those who have enlisted to plant the banner of Freedom in the Islands of the Pacific.

But the American soldier is too intelligent not to see, after a while, what his duty is, and then he sees that he can discharge the humblest duty, and yet plant the banner of Freedom.

We suspect that much of the trouble in Camp McKinley is due to this cause. The colonel of a volunteer regiment must have a rare faculty, if he can enforce sanitary rules at first. His patience is sorely tried. To discipline his officers and men for failing to do their duty, is impracticable. He must slowly educate them.

Of course, there is a great difference in regimental commanders, in this respect. Every hour of the Civil War showed the remarkable difference in the conditions of regiments, substantially in the same environment. The character of the regimental commander was clearly reflected in his officers and men, after due time had passed for educational work. The great armies of the Civil War did not find out how to take care of themselves until the second and third year of experience had passed. The sacrifice of human life in learning the business of war, was vastly greater than any of the human sacrifices offered up by the heathen in these parts, on the helms.

A STRANGE STORY.

We republish in another column the substance of a remarkable story of a modern Robinson Crusoe, printed in the Wide World Magazine for September. The editor of the magazine tells the public that after the closest investigation, he is satisfied that the statements made by M. De Rougemont are absolutely accurate. The story is one of marvelous interest and is now being read and republished in every part of the world. It will also be translated into many languages, unless widely contradicted.

By the last steamer from Sydney, however, we have received a copy of the Australian Financial Adviser, which declares the story to be only a "blooming fake." It says that the school children of Australia will laugh at the ignorance of the author of it, regarding Australian geography, and the manners and customs of the aborigines.

It says that the Sydney detective police have clearly shown that M. De Rougemont is in fact a man named Grien, who for years acted as a canvasser for photographic enlargement in Sydney. Mr. Harry Stockdale, who has an extensive knowledge of the territory referred to in the story, and of the customs and habits of the Australian natives categorically contradicts the tale. M. De Rougemont describes the drinking cups of pure gold used by an interior tribe. Mr. Stockdale says that in no part of the Australian continent has there ever been the slightest evidence of the use of worked or wrought metal by the aborigines. Not a single relic of this kind has ever been found. He asks the author how it is that he did not manage to bring away just one of the cups of pure gold, or secrete on his person a few of the wonderful pearls he had in his possession. Why did he not tell some of the Australians about his extraordinary find? They are ready for any ventures and would have invested all the capital needed for securing these treasures.

"Way," he asks, "does this man go to London and sell his story to a magazine, for a small sum, when, if it was true, the wide awake Australian would have 'syndicated' him to his heart's content? M. De Rougemont tells the exciting story of his fight with the natives near Melville Island, and the volleys of boomerangs that struck his little vessel. This cold blooded critic replies that the natives on those islands, and for hundreds of miles inshore nearest to these islands, have no boomerangs, and use the spear only. Then he shows that the account of navigating his small vessel through the channels he mentions is false, because the Royal Navy Surveyors, have reported that the channels between these rocks and shoals are too intricate even for a small vessel.

The English public will be shocked when they read this Australian reply to the story of the modern Robinson Crusoe.

Our readers are referred, as a parallel case of fraud, many years ago to the great "Moon Hoax" which deceived the scientists and scholars of Europe for some time.

While the author of this Australian story is as daring as Louis Stevenson, the error he has made is in declaring it to be a true account. He failed to understand that the globe trotter has covered much of the earth, and the beaten tracks are everywhere.

THE PASSING HOUR.

Not much has been said in print lately about a larger harbor for Honolulu, but the necessity for more wharfage is apparent every day.

"The Play's the thing," and it is believed that Nance O'Neil is the player for whom the Honolulu lovers of the dramatic art have been waiting a long time.

Oahu College is a superior vehicle for spreading the fame of Hawaii. There is nothing of the brass band method about this institution, but it is doing grand work and lasting work right along.

It will be wisdom on the part of the Public Works Department, placed in the predicament of finding the appropriation too small for the Pali road, to shorten the new line instead of having heavier grade or a cheaper job of macadamizing.

It can be readily said with the gentlemen in the military camps at Diamond Head and Kapiolani park that it is a shame a few men will so conduct themselves as to give the impression that soldier hoodlumism is common. Ordinarily the men are well behaved and courteous.

If the McKinley Club of Hawaii is not overloaded with advice for the coming year, it is suggested that the organization get in out of the wet, oil the wheels, eat some cracked ice, quit remembering cheap ward club job chasing rules and take comfort from the truism that when man wants little here below and goes after it right he generally gets it.

It appears from the latest letter of Rev. Alex. Mackintosh that "Alfred Honolulu" has not always followed the letter of the Rubric. It may be confidently assumed that "Alfred Honolulu" will resurrect a Rubric that he compiled long ago for himself alone and has had carefully stowed away against a show of resistance to his gentle and loving theological strabismus.

It is said that quite a number of Hawaiians wish to join the army with Gen. King for service in Manila. It is hoped that there will be inquiry into the home connections or responsibilities of each man before there is thought of enlisting him.

It might be well also to recall to the natives the probability that when the change of citizenship here is completed by Congressional action there may not any longer be available a fund for returning to their homes Hawaiians stranded abroad.

A cablegram from London to New York says that an Irishman in the British Metropolis smashed a window that contained a cartoon picturing the mastery of Kitchener over the French on the Nile. It is added that the Irishman shouted "Vive la France" and when arrested declared that were he a Frenchman he would have dynamited the place. This story altogether is too funny for Punch, from which publication the cartoon had been clipped.

Paying for Ships.

Philadelphia advices say that nearly $1,000,000 in gold coin was paid out of the Sub-treasury there recently on the largest check ever presented there for sight payment. The check was drawn to the order of the International Navigation Company by the Treasurer of the United States for the amount of $1,475,000. This sum is the rental for the four ocean steamers of the American Line chartered by the Government at the beginning of the Spanish war. The amount is approximately $12,000 a day, or $3,000 for each vessel.

Troopships in the Pacific were secured at an average of $1,000 per day to take troops to Manila.

MERIT VS. TALK.

It is all right to claim this wheel or that wheel as the "only best" but the only practical and sure test is merit. Merit wears indefinitely while talk wears itself out. The STERLING BICYCLE shows its merits daily by the way it stands up under hard usage. Pacific Cycle & Mfg. Co., agents.

HOLLISTER DRUG CO.

Real Merit

Is the characteristic of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it is manifested every day in the remarkable cures this medicine accomplishes. Druggists say: When we sell a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla to a new customer we are sure to see him back in a few weeks after more—proving that the good results from a trial bottle warrant continuing its use. This positive merit.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

possesses by virtue of the Peculiar Combination, Proportion and Process used in its preparation, and by which all the remedial value of the ingredients used is retained. Hood's Sarsaparilla is thus Peculiar to itself and absolutely unequalled in its powers as a blood purifier, and as a tonic for building up the weak and weary, and giving strength to the nerves. DESTRUCTIVE PLANT DISEASES

Danger to Hawaii—Strict Quarantine Regulations Advocated.

Tropical Production.

(New York Sun).

TO THE EDITOR OF THE SUN—

Sir: I deem it of the highest importance that the prospective planters in our new territories be brought to realize the importance of the fact that they are entering a field untouched by the hand of the plant breeder. Tropical plants when once brought under the rational culture which has prevailed in the temperate zones for centuries will compete for supremacy on a scale that is scarcely dreamed of by the unsuspecting farmer and fruit grower. The deciding factor will, I surmise, be proper quarantine regulations of the strictest type to prevent the introduction of that horde of destructive disease which is already making its appearance in other tropical regions.

which diseases are as easy to introduce as the cholera or bubonic plague, and are far more difficult to eradicate. There are now to my personal knowledge, waiting to be imported into our new possession, a serious coffee disease in Guatemala, which would almost certainly ruin the prospects of coffee growing in Hawaii or Porto Rico; a serious insect disease in the Philippines, which already threatens the industry there, or at least causes serious damage; two or more diseases in Java of a dangerous character, and a destructive moth which attacks the fruit of the coffee plant in Reunion. The Fiji Islands have a banana disease which would prove anything but an acceptable heritage to our banana plantations. Japanese corn or maize harbors a serious mildew, and its mangoes, those peaches of the tropics, a species of most destructive curculio.

The vanilla disease of the Seychelles Islands should be by all means kept out of Porto Rico and Hawaii, where this new culture has every prospect of success, and the rice insects of India, as well as the Japanese serch disease of sugar cane, would be anything but acceptable accessions.

If the Americans planters could look into the future and realize the development in tropical agriculture which their advent will initiate and the dangers and stupendous difficulties from the introduction of these plant diseases, they would insist upon the passage of the strictest laws of plant quarantine for the island possessions and the guarding of all avenues of importation by trained experts.

Proper plant quarantine and systematic plant breeding are the keys to the solution of the problems of tropical agriculture for the colonies. Baron von Eggers and Sir Henry Norman, both representative students of tropical agriculture, the one a German, the other an Englishman, have foretold the revolution which tropical agriculture will shortly work. Neither, however, has fully set forth the dangers of plant diseases or the possibilities of plant breeding.

A NEW PRINCE

Stirps for the Captain of a Clipper in Island Line.

Capt. G. H. Johnson, of the bark S. C. Allen, the vessel that has broken the record of the season for quick passage from San Francisco to Honolulu, has hanging in his cabin the copy of a testimonial given him by the eleven passengers whom he brought to the Islands on the fast voyage. The Allen sailed from San Francisco on a Friday, and thirteen people sat down to meals. One of the passengers, more superstitious than even the skipper, announced that the combination of Friday sailing and a gathering of thirteen around the table would surely insure disaster. When the superstitious passenger was landed in Honolulu eleven days after leaving San Francisco, he headed the list of subscribers to Capt. Johnson's testimonial. The testimonial reads as follows:

"Appreciating to the fullest extent your excellent seamanship, your uniform courtesies and the kindness of spirit with which you have guided us on this voyage, and for eleven days caused us to feel at home aboard of your staunch bark, we take this means of expressing that appreciation, at the same time dubbing you the 'Prince of Captains.'" The testimonial is signed by the eleven passengers, and occupies a place of honor on the wall of Capt. Johnson's cabin.

Read the Hawaiian Gazette (Semi-Weekly).

HOW HE DIED.

Details on the Suicide of Chaplain Freeman.

Advices from the Orient brought by the Zealandia give details of the suicide of Chaplain Freeman of the cruiser Baltimore while the Zealandia was in Nagasaki harbor. From the time Chaplain Freeman took passage at Manila on the Zealandia until the vessel reached Nagasaki he had been under close watch. Every night he was given a sedative to cause sleep, but on the night of the tragedy he managed to deceive the physician and escaped taking the opiate.

Chaplain Freeman slipped from his stateroom to the deck and remained secreted from observation until just before the watch changed at 4 a. m. Chaplain Freeman had secured a strip of sheet read, with which repairs were being made on the deck of the Zealandia. He wrapped this about his waist and while the watch was changing managed to reach one of the ship's boats hanging in the davits.

A quartermaster observed the chaplain in the boat and made a rush to secure the unfortunate man. Freeman cried out, "Send my money to my wife and cable her the result of this."

The chaplain then dropped into the sea and sank from sight. A diver was sent down but could not find the remains. The next day they were recovered by a fisherman in a drag net.

Guncotton.

OAKLAND, Oct. 22.—News has just reached this city of another frightful disaster, which occurred at the Judson Powder Works, just across the line in Contra Costa county, between 8 and 9 o'clock this morning. The guncotton plant went up in smoke and two men employed in that department are said to have been blown to atoms.

William in Turkey.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 21.—The Emperor and Empress of Germany, with the Sultan, reviewed 15,000 Turkish troops today from a window of the Yildiz Kiosk. They saluted the flag of each regiment. Emperor William wore the uniform of a German General, with several Turkish orders. The Empress wore the Chefakat order and the Sultan the Order of the Black Eagle.

AN ESTATE CASE

Judge Stanley's Ruling on Petition of Trustees.

May Be Exempted From Recording
Statement—Discussion of Point.
Deposition.

In the matter of the estate of Kalua Kapukini, w., a spendthrift, petition of same for discharge of guardian and settlement, case was partly heard before Judge Perry yesterday and will be continued today. Alfred J. Magoon, guardian; Humphreys & Gear for petitioner.

In the Circuit Court, First Circuit, in probate, in the guardianship of the Richardson minors before Judge Perry, October 31, W. O. Smith, guardian in person presented master's report and the accounts of 1897 and of 1898, together with brief statement. Accounts approved and report confirmed, with allowance of $15 fee to the master.

In the same Court, in equity, Victoria Ward, plaintiff, vs. C. S. Desky and E. Peck & Co., a corporation, defendants, Charles S. Desky by his attorney, Philip L. Weaver, makes motion that a commission be issued, directed to Gorham D. Gilman, at Boston, Mass., authorizing him to take testimony of William R. Castle, (at present sojourning in the city aforesaid), necessary for the proper trial of the issues in the above entitled cause. To be heard on the 3rd of November, before Hon. A. Perry.

In the Circuit Court, in the matter of the estate of M. McNerny, deceased, petition for order exempting the executors and trustees from accounting, etc., upon the ground "that all the parties interested believe that it would be detrimental to the best interests of the business if the affairs of the said business were made a matter of record," a decision was rendered on Monday by Judge Stanley, the greater portion of which is here given verbatim:

"We have no statute which compels the court to require an accounting, annual or otherwise, from Trustees. On their being nominated by the court as Trustees in accordance with the terms of the will, they would be required to file bonds of sufficient amount; and in my opinion the court could sua motu require an accounting whenever the circumstances demanded it, and the beneficiaries could demand an accounting whenever they so desired. According to the dictum of Whiting, J., in re Bishop Estate, 11, Ha. 36, our procedure and practice would appear to be that the probate court in which a will containing provisions for trustees to hold and manage the property bequeathed for trust purposes, has been probated, retains jurisdiction over such trusts and requires annual accounts of the trustees to be rendered and passed upon. Frear, J., and Carter, J., who sat with Justice Whiting on the case expressed no opinion as to the practice. Such a practice may be sound in the majority of cases, but if, as in the present case, mischief would result from following it, the court has in the absence of statutory requirements, wide latitude to depart from it. Under the circumstances, when the executors are discharged, I think that the petition should be so far granted as to exempt the petitioners from filing accounts, unless the court should, owing to altered circumstances, require an accounting on the beneficiaries under the will should demand it."

In the Supreme Court, M. F. Scott of Kailua, Kona, Hawaii, plaintiff, vs. Joseph Loulu, alias Jos. L. Wahinekapu of same place, defendant, execution for $123.87, judgment, interest, costs, etc., return of writ duly executed has been made to the Clerk by Chas. F. Chillingworth, Deputy Marshal of Hawaii.

Off for Manila.

The U. S. Transport Steamships Valencia and Senator steamed away for Manila yesterday afternoon, carrying the Oregon, Washington, California Artillery and other troops for the scene of the triumphs of Admiral Dewey and the land forces under Generals Merritt and Otis. Great crowds gathered at the wharves to see the Senator and Valencia leave and many were the warm alohas given the passengers. The forces on the transports were given money yesterday morning and spent lots of it making final purchases for the long trip.

Police Court.

Lee Sing, the Chinese butcher was yesterday found guilty of having opium in his possession and fined $150. L. A. Thurston who appeared for defendant gave notice of appeal to the Circuit Court, First Judicial Circuit.

Ah Wun was found guilty on the same charge and fined $50.

Chan On and Young Fook were fined $50 each; charged with gambling.

Antone Joseph, alias Macarbo charged with abduction was discharged as no one appeared to prosecute.

Remington Standard Typewriter!

WHAT IS IT?

A simple, compact, and durable machine, which successfully performs the work of the pen, with a tremendous saving of time and exertion.

WHAT WILL IT DO?

It produces, with speed and certainty, in clearly legible printed characters, one or many copies of any kind of writing, excepting such as must be done in books.

TO WHOM IS IT USEFUL?

To every one who has writing to do. In business circles its desirability is assured. Lawyers and journalists cannot do without it. Professional and scientific men realize its worth to them. The author and thinker find it invaluable. It conserves the most potent kind of energy—that of the brain—by reducing to a minimum the mechanical labor of writing, and distributing it among all the fingers of both hands. Writer's cramp disappears where it is used. It presents the printed appearance of the work to the mind at once.

WHO CAN OPERATE IT?

Any one of ordinary intelligence. A very few trials enable any one to write upon it readily. Thereafter it is only a matter of practice.

Your Teeth need ATTENTION

The benefit promised from the use of good tooth powder is lost through the use of Poor Tooth Brushes.

There is as much in the brush as the dentifrice. The bristles must be permanently set and they should be of the right sort. We have solved the problem with our genuine

ALOHA TOOTH BRUSHES

made especially for us and stamped with our name. There is no brush to be found in Honolulu that has met with such as this. Dentists recommend it for its quality. It penetrates the space between the teeth and in conjunction with Aloha Tooth Powder and Wash prevents the formation of tartar.

THE ALOHA

is sold only by us and has no equal.
