Chicago Mayor Faces Ousting For War Stand

National Security League Takes Steps Because of Alleged Pro-German Feeling

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 3.—The National Security League today took definite steps toward ousting Mayor William Hale Thompson from office because of his alleged pro-German feeling.

The public became interested in Mayor Thompson's sympathies when he refused to extend an invitation to the British commission to visit Chicago with the French mission headed by Marshal Joffre.

Later the school board which is under the mayor's domination refused to delete from the school text books paragraphs lauding the Kaiser.

On February 6, upon news that the United States and Germany were at war, the mayor's attitude toward the Kaiser was revealed.

Captured German Commander, After Interview With General Pershing, Realizes Futility of Teuton Cause

PARIS, France, Sept. 3.—That the Germans have not yet come to a proper realization of the strength which the United States is planning to throw on the side of her Allies, is shown in the statement made by a German officer recently captured at Verdun, when he laughed at the thought of America ever being a factor to be taken seriously in the great world war.

"It is a pity so much blood has been shed in vain," asserted the officer when interviewed by French staff officers, referring to the failure of the Crown Prince to capture the blood-soaked sector of the western line.

The captive officer was taken before Gen. J. J. Pershing, commander of the United States forces in France, who enlightened him as to the serious intent of his country to see the war through to a victorious issue. When he left he had tears in his eyes, and on bidding Pershing goodbye said: "That being the case, all is over—we have lost."

$350,000,000 IN INCOME TAXES IS PAID GOVERNMENT

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Communication Service)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 3.—Income taxes for the year ending June 30, according to the internal revenue division's annual report, totaled, for corporations, $179,572,888; individuals, $180,108,340. Hawaii's portion was $909,318 for corporations, and $363,880 for individuals.

HAWAII CAN LOOK FOR BIG TOURIST TRAFFIC IN WINTER

Now That People Know Results of Draft They Will Travel More, Says S. R. Jordan

"A big tourist travel to Hawaii is expected this winter by the traveling agencies and steamship lines on the coast," declared Sidney R. Jordan, manager of the Hawaii Tours company, who returned this morning on the Sierp after a two months' tour of the western states.

It is not the fear of the reported submarines which has kept the people off of the Pacific as much as uncertainty about the draft. People have been waiting to hear the results of the draft before they make extensive trips," declared Mr. Jordan this morning.

GERMAN PRESS STILL HAMMERS WILSON'S REPLY

AMSTERDAM, Holland, Sept. 3.—The German press continues to hammer President Wilson in the bitterest way for his recent reply to Pope Benedict's peace proposals.

The socialist paper, Vorwaerts, also comes in for a severe criticism for demanding that the nation take good advice regardless of the source and institute democratic reforms, which must be a preliminary condition to any peace negotiations.

Organs of the Conservative party claim that the Socialists have weakened the position of Germany in the eyes of the Entente Allies.

Miss Isabella Namah, president of the Kaunakapili Intermediate Christian Endeavor Society, will give an entertainment at her home in Kaplan and Prospect street tonight at 8 o'clock in honor of James Akimo, a member of the society who is to leave the coast on Wednesday morning for the steamer Maui.

U. S. Drinks Up 164,665,240 Gallons Booze

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Communication Service)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 3.—All records for the consumption of whisky were smashed during 1916-17, figures compiled by the internal revenue office for its annual report, which were made public today, show. The consumption of spirituous liquors totaled 164,665,240 gallons, and at this rate the supply of liquor on hand after the new food control law prohibiting the manufacture of whisky after September 8, becomes effective, would last the nation for two years.

Soldier Seen With German Under Arrest

Court Martial Probably Awaits Schofield Officer of Guard Who Went Golfing With Interned Prisoner

HELD under "arrest at quarters," a sergeant of the 1st Infantry, Schofield Barracks, is said to be facing investigations under charges connected with his association with one of the German officers that until today have been held as prisoners at that post.

The exact nature of the charges to be placed against the non-commissioned officer has not been ascertained by the Star-Bulletin, but his orders to consider himself under arrest were given after he had been seen on the golf links at Schofield alone with the German officer, driving golf balls, early last week, it is reported.

The non-commissioned officer was sergeant of the guard on Monday. Since that date he has not left the barracks save to take the usual setting up exercises with the men. It is said, and his belt and bayonet have been taken from him.

As the story goes, the sergeant joined the German officer first at the canteen, the two entering into conversation and indulging in a smoke and a soda.

The German was bound for the golf links, it seems, a quarter-mile or so distant. The sergeant volunteered to carry his clubs and together they wandered their way across to the grounds. It was when they had reached the grounds and were busy making practice drives thereon that they were noticed by one of the captains of the regiment.

This officer, it is said, was not the commander of the sergeant's own company—the latter being sergeant of the guard at the time. But the officer reported the matter at once, to the sergeant's company commander.

This captain went directly to the two men and is said to have taken the sergeant to task in no mincing words. The two are said to have engaged in a hot debate for a moment after which the captain ordered the non-commissioned officer to his quarters where he has since remained. It is rumored at Schofield Barracks that a court martial awaits the enlisted man.

The German officer is said to have been one of those allowed considerable freedom on parole. This was not given to all of the prisoners, by any means. There was one officer in particular who has always been trailed by a veteran soldier as guard.

Not a move was made by him without the guard close beside him. It is said that even when he went to the bathroom the guard with his rifle was a close attendant. Just why this was is not known definitely. One report which is pretty generally believed was that he was caught one night going to the bathroom with a "bug" light from a window of the guard house.

KIDDIES VICTIMS IN HUN AIR RAID

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Communication Service)

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 3.—The coast of Kent was again under fire from a lone German airplane which dropped several bombs, killing one man and wounding six women and children before being driven off by British battleplanes which rose to drive him back.

COMBINED LAND AND SEA ATTACK BY HUNS FORCES EVACUATION

Disaffection Among Troops Proves Potent Ally of the German Armies. Several Russ Regiments Voluntarily Retiring—Crossing of Dvina River By Teutons Menaces Defenders

PETROGRAD, Russia, Sept. 3.—It was officially announced by the war department today that the Russian troops defending Riga had abandoned that city.

Serious disaffection was again manifest among the Slav troops, several regiments voluntarily abandoning their positions and retiring northward.

The Press Association, giving a summary of the fighting in the northern end of the 1000 mile eastern front, says that Riga was abandoned under the combined threat of sea and land forces.

The deciding blow was struck on Saturday when the Teuton armies effected a crossing of the river Dvina, about a dozen miles south of the beleaguered city. The Slav garrison was also menaced from Mitau, 20 miles to the southwest of the gulf city, and all efforts to stem the oncoming rush of the Germans proved futile.

The Russian fleet is anchored on the right flank of Riga, and the movements of the war vessels are uncertain as much will depend on the size and purpose of the Teuton plans of offense.

NEGROES ATTACK WHITE SOLDIERS

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Communication Service)

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 3.—Ten negroes were injured in a clash here with members of the Kentucky National Guard as a result of bitter racial feeling recently developed in this state.

The soldiers are alleged to have started the trouble by showing negro pedestrians off the sidewalks. This action was resented and a riot ensued, in which several blacks were severely manhandled. Guardsmen are patrolling the city.

ITALIANS PUSHING FOE BACK

With the Return of Pleasant Weather on Western Front Germans Attack But are Repulsed

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Communication Service)

ROME, Italy, Sept. 3.—Gen. Cadorna continues to carry the fight in to the enemy territory, despite desperate counter attacks by the Austrians. Italian troops are advancing surely though slowly in the Brestovizza valley. South of Gorizia several violent counters have been repulsed, and the new positions held by Cadorna's men have been consolidated and are firmly held.

UDINE, Italy, Sept. 3.—Though vile weather prevails on the front, fighting still continues. The battling has resolved itself into hand-to-hand combats with small detachments of Austrians who have been caught in shell holes and galleries, isolated by Italian fire and unable to retreat.

The Italians are gradually straightening out their new line, and the Teuton defenders, wholly unable to advance or retreat, are surrendering wholesale.

Many counter attacks have been bloodily repulsed by Cadorna's men, and many prisoners are passing to the rear to intern camps. These seem mostly fresh troops brought up in an effort to turn the tide of battle, and are well equipped.

The attacking forces have taken a single yard of ground, taken in the last great offensive, and the morale of the Austrians in face of the terrific hammering is decidedly weaker.

BRITISH FRONT IN FLANDERS. Sept. 3.—Fine weather is prevailing along the Flanders front, and the ground is drying up fast, which will permit of infantry activities being soon renewed.

Today artillery duels are in progress, and many air raids have been conducted against enemy positions far in the rear of the German front lines.

PARIS, France, Sept. 3.—French troops along the Aisne today bloodily repulsed several stubborn German attacks, wave after wave of attackers melting under the terrible machine gun fire poured into their ranks by the French. Heavy artillery duels are in progress around Verdun.

LONDON, England, Sept. 3.—Favorable weather along the Belgian front is again reported, and hostilities were resumed today by the Germans throwing powerful counter attacks against the northern lines.

All were repulsed, however, and a successful raid on Teuton trenches was carried out at Monchy Le Preux.

GERMAN NAMED IN BERG CASE DETAINED HERE

Lieutenant Portwich Not Sent on Transport at Request of City Attorney's Office

Lieut. Portwich, former officer of the Geyer, whose name has been mentioned in connection with the circumstances surrounding the death of Miss Florence Berg, former Queen's hospital nurse, has been detained in Honolulu by the military authorities following a request from the city and county attorney's office. When the German prisoners left Honolulu this morning on the transport Sherman, Lieut. Portwich was not with them.

The discovery that letters had passed between a nurse in Honolulu and the German officer while he was a war prisoner at Schofield Barracks, gave the investigation of the Berg case a new turn last week. That the nurse was Miss Berg and that the letters had reference to her condition has been the belief of the army men investigating the case.

The officer will now be held pending further investigation of this phase of the case by the civil authorities.

Vice Rampant Here, Federal Officers Find

Dozens of Complaints Reach Marshal Smiddy Who Begins Probe; Has Warned Women to Leave Houses in Residential Districts

HAT Honolulu is teeming with commercialized vice to a degree far greater than before closing the Iwilei restricted district, and that it is rapidly spreading to the better residential districts, is the substance of dozens of complaints which are being received by federal officials and which are being investigated by U. S. Marshal J. J. Smiddy.

"Conditions are rotten—and that is the only word that expresses it clearly—and are becoming worse every day," declares one federal official. He asserts that, in his opinion, the only way to remedy present conditions will be to reopen the restricted district.

Complaints regarding the prevalence of commercialized vice have been coming into the marshal's office by the score during the last three weeks, he says. These are to the effect that houses in respectable residential districts are being rented by women, who not only ply their trade in spite of repeated judicial warnings, but who are selling liquor without licenses, and it is asserted that soldiers form the majority of the purchasers of the booze.

A complaint reached Marshal Smiddy this morning from a well-known citizen that three women, formerly of Iwilei, have established a residence in Beretania street, where they are alleged to be catering to soldiers and peddling booze. Other districts, equally as respectable, are likewise being infested by these women, the marshal has learned.

Marshal Smiddy has already made several investigations and in each case warned the women to leave the houses they were occupying. No arrests were made as no actual evidence, either of the commission of a statutory offense or the sale of liquor, was secured. Other complaints have been turned over to the police department for investigation.

"Reports reaching me are to the effect that vice is rampant and that it is breaking out all over the city," says the marshal. "It is a case where little Iwilei is established alongside of respectable homes, and where school children are constantly brought in touch with the menace. This office will do all in its power to keep the vice from residential districts, and wipe out, if we are able, the vice existing there now."

Women of the underworld, the marshal has been informed, have been renting rooms by the wholesale as rendezvous in which to ply their trade. By clever acting they have been able to fool even the owners of the houses, who do not know who they are.

"At the present time," says the marshal, "it will be impossible for this office to personally investigate all complaints, as they have come in by the dozen, but we intend to continue our investigations."

One story reaching the marshal, and which he is inclined to believe is authentic, tells of a young Hawaiian girl who married a soldier recently for the purpose of securing a marriage license as a protection against arrest in plying the trade of the underworld. The husband of the woman, who resents

SECRECY VEILS ACTIVITIES OF LABOR LEADERS

Report is Proposals Will Be Submitted to Planters' Association Soon

New plans, new ideas and new arrangements are being considered by the leaders of the Japanese association for higher wages, according to reports current in Japanese circles, but what they are no one outside of the association appears to know.

The leaders are said to have declared that unless they keep their actions unknown to the planters' association, they cannot accomplish anything, and it is now certain they will, in the future, try to keep the most important matters as secret as possible.

They intend, however, to present their proposition to the planters' association as soon as it has been approved by the so-called "board of leaders."

Fred K. Makino, R. Murakami and K. Shibayama, secretary of the association, when asked about these plans, said that they had nothing important to tell. They even admitted that they did not know when the second conference of the association will be called.

As is well known, when the leaders of the higher wage association went to Kona, Hawaii, some weeks ago, no action had been taken by the special committee which was authorized at the first conference to appoint sub-committees. In the meantime, according to reports, S. Toki, one of the members of the committee, was confined to his home with illness for a few days. Y. Takakuwa, another member of the committee, it is reported, was considering resigning his position. Dr. I. Katsuki, another member, will soon leave for Japan, where, it is said, he and his family will stay for several months. Dr. J. Uchida and M. Komeya are the other members of the committee.

Owing to business pressure, the committee did not have a well-attended meeting. The committee decided, however, to report to the second conference that it could not, after carefully considering the matter, appoint sub-committees as proposed, because it felt it did not have full authority so to do.

This explanation, which was published in all the Japanese dailies, was not acceptable to the Japanese community, it is reported.

DIVORCE SUITS IN COURT SET RECORD WITH 52 IN MONTH

Marital difficulties in Honolulu families have nearly doubled during the last month.

According to circuit court records 52 divorce suits were filed in August, which is considered a record and which is nearly twice the number filed in July. A large number of the plaintiffs are Japanese, and the ground of desertion as a cause for divorce prevails to a greater extent than all other grounds. Several cases of extreme cruelty are noted, as well as many cases of failure to provide and habitual intemperance.

"If cases continue to come in at this rate," declared Clerk Ben Kahalepuna, who enters the divorce cases, "we will have to have a new record book before the end of the year."

her actions, has been advised to get a divorce.

POLITICS HELD RESPONSIBLE FOR SYDNEY STRIKES

Labor Party Starts Tie-up to Put Nationalist Administration in Disrepute

Politics is held to be responsible for the strikes which are tying up industry and commerce in Australia, by Ivan Nelson, a prominent shipping day on the Ventura. Activities of L. W. W. agitators from the United States are also believed to be partly responsible for the labor trouble.

Most of the labor element of the better class in Australia has associated with the Liberals, and the Nationalist party and this made possible the inauguration of a Nationalist administration after the elections this spring, Mr. Nelson explains. To put this administration in disrepute, their only hope is to gain in the future, the present labor party is causing country-wide strikes, he says.

"Politics is the cause of nearly all the labor dissatisfaction," he thinks. He is confident that the labor party will never gain the power of the past and control the welfare of the Commonwealth.

Mr. Nelson is going to the United States "for a look around," as he puts it. "The affairs of Australia and America are constantly growing closer and we want to arrange for the distribution and sale of our products. Commerce, too, is tied up by a shortage of bottoms. The government has taken over many of the larger ships and we have no carriers to get our produce to England, although there are still some large ships in the Antipodes' trade," he says.

He intimates that if possible an attempt will be made in the United States to get more ships from the shipping board for the Australian-American trade. He will be in the United States for about six weeks.

C. M. Terry is another shipping man from Sydney, who expresses similar views to those of Mr. Nelson regarding the labor situation in Australia. Regarding conscription, he says: "It was foolish to ever put the question to a vote. The country ought to have done exactly what the United States did—passed legislation requiring conscription. No one is going to conscript himself."

He is a New Yorker who has been located in Australia for a number of years. His mission to the United States is the same as that of the other Sydney shipping men.

STRIKE HITS FRISCO HARD, SAYS CATHCART

John W. Cathcart, former city and county attorney of Honolulu, returned to Honolulu this morning on the Sierra after a short summer vacation in San Francisco.

"The street car strike is the most exciting thing there is in San Francisco," declared Attorney Cathcart this morning. "The street car service of the city has been practically tied up. Some cars have been running, but none were running after 7 o'clock at night. They feared trouble."

Attorney Cathcart stated that men were being brought in from the East to man the cars. The I. W. W., he said, had been the source of much trouble.

He was in San Francisco during the announcement of the results of the draft, but did not notice any tense excitement.

MAJOR LOSES LEG IN BATTLE WITH OTTOMANS

Australian Officer Tells How British Got 7000 of 18,000 Turks in 4-Day Battle

Near the unkind fate and the physical weariness of the great conflict in Europe seemed to be drawn closer this morning when the Ventura entered the harbor with a French woman widowed by the slaughter and her two fatherless girls aboard as passengers.

But it was to the uniform of a British officer that the eyes of the spectators were drawn. A man of evident physical perfection until he was deprived of a leg, but now in an emphysematous condition, although of rugged frame, was seen walking with a crutch and, at the same time attempting to maintain a military attitude. He is Maj. W. Shannon of the Australian light horse for two years did his bit at Gallipoli and in Egypt. His regiment was among the first of the Australian forces to be despatched to Europe at the beginning of the war in 1914. First he was detailed to the fighting sector at the Dardanelles, and later to Egypt. It was in Egypt that he was wounded.

With his brigade, he was on outpost duty inland about 25 miles from the Suez canal, when at night they were attacked by the Turks. Faced by overwhelming odds the British troops, about two regiments in the vicinity of the attack, were forced to withdraw, but slowly, as spread out in skirmish order it was desired to hamper the approach of the Turks until the main lines of the British would be ready to meet the Turks at daylight. Throughout the night the fighting continued, while the lines of the British were strengthened and the Turks were drawn on by the Light Horse to a battle front where the fight lasted for four days, before the Turks were routed.

It was as day was approaching that Major Shannon was wounded after the all night fight. Simply, he explains, when questioned, that "it was just a bullet that got me in the leg. An artery was severed and amputation was necessary," he says with nonchalance.

Major Shannon is en route to England where he will remain and while passing through the states he will secure an artificial limb.

With a satisfied smile, weariness and thoughts of personal suffering seemed to pass from him as he said, enthusiastically: "There must have been 18,000 of the Turks in this attack, but after four days we had 7000 of them."

ELKS HAVE ENJOYABLE DANCE AT THE MOANA

Saturday night was Elks' night at the Moana hotel and a hundred or more persons, turned out to partake of the jollity that characterized the occasion. The grounds of the hotel were brilliantly lighted, one decorative scheme being a large American flag whose brilliant electric hues gave a patriotic background to the event. The grounds were likewise festooned with Japanese lanterns while in the center was a large Elks' emblem.

Dancing was the main amusement of the evening, interspersed with several impromptu vaudeville acts of a local flavor, in one of which Captain McDuffie held the center of the boards. As the hour of 11 o'clock was sounded the lights were dimmed and the Elks' toast to the absent brethren given in impressive manner.

FAIR PASSENGER TELLS OF ESCAPE FROM HUN U-BOAT

Australian Woman on Mediterranean Trip Gets All Thrills of Exciting Chase

To be a passenger on a boat which was chased by a submarine was the experience of Miss Emily Plunkett and her mother who are passing through Honolulu today on their return to Australia.

Miss Plunkett and her mother recently went to London through the Mediterranean, returned to Australia, took a quick trip across the Pacific and are now on their way back to Australia.

"The boat was sunk by a submarine on the next voyage," stated Miss Plunkett. "When we were on her she was attacked by a submarine, but they did not get us."

"We noticed that the boat was going faster, but our inquiries were not answered. Finally all of the lifeboats were swung over the side and all passengers were told to put on life preservers."

"Thus rigged out we waited in tense anxiety for the sound of the crash. The passengers stood near the boats ready to get into them at a moment's notice, but the shock never came, and we arrived safely."

The case of Charles Pangelinan, charged with the commission of a statutory offense, is scheduled to go to trial in Circuit Judge Heen's court tomorrow morning. Attorney J. M. Monsarrat, former police judge, is counsel for the defendant.

TWICE WOUNDED, COMING HERE TO REGAIN HEALTH

Howard Wilson, Fresh From
Trenches, Will Visit Mother
in Honolulu

After being wounded twice in France where he has been doing his "bit" in the trenches with the forces of the Allies, Howard Wilson, half-brother of W. G. Chalmers of the Pacific Engineering Co., will return to Honolulu soon to visit his mother and incidentally regain his strength before going back to the war.

Young Wilson, who came to Honolulu about three years ago, went to Canada shortly after arriving here and joined the Canadian expeditionary forces. He was soon sent to France where he saw active service in the trenches. He was twice wounded, first in the neck and then in the shoulder, the last wound disabling him.

Although rendered physically unfit for further trench fighting by the Hun bullet, Mr. Wilson intends to return to Canada after he has visited with his mother for a few weeks, and take his place in the ranks of those who are doing their "bit" back of the firing line. Chalmers has a brother in the Canadian army in France.

LITTLE CHANCE OF CHEAP SUGAR SAYS SPRECKELS

There is little chance of any decrease in sugar prices during the remaining months of 1917, says the San Francisco Examiner of August 24.

It is not likely that national control of sugar will be brought about for some time.

These opinions and others about the cost and prices of sugar were expressed yesterday by Claus A. Spreckels, president of the Federal Sugar Refining Co. of New York. Spreckels, who is better known in San Francisco as "Gus" Spreckels, is here for a short business trip. Among other things he said:

"Most of the available Cuban sugar has been bought up, largely by the British. It is shipped to England raw, and I am told much of it is used there in the raw state.

"Sugar is exceedingly scarce in the United States. It will be scarce until the Louisiana crop comes in and until the beet sugar business commences to turn out this year's crop.

Prices Based on Cuban Sugar

"Sugar prices are based on the price of Cuban sugar, 96 degrees, in New York. I see by today's newspapers that this was 7.46 cents a pound. With little sugar coming from Cuba, with our own people all at the bottom of the sugar barrel—so to speak—tell me how prices can come down radically?"

"What will be done by the Federal authorities to control the sugar prices I cannot say. No one knows.

"I have heard reports that a price of about 5 cents is to be fixed for raw sugar and 6½ cents for granulated. This, understand, is the maximum.

"If this is attempted, it will be radically different from what has been done with wheat.

"The government fixes a minimum price of $2 a bushel for wheat, and if it does not sell for that much the government proposes to guarantee the price.

Transportation Costs

"On the other hand, the suggestion is made that the government fix a maximum price for sugar, not the minimum as is being done with wheat. The proposals are totally different. I am not prepared to offer any argument as to why a wheat farmer should be guaranteed a remunerative return for his wheat and no limit on the top prices, while a beet or cane raiser should have the maximum fixed for him.

"If the price of 5 cents is fixed for raw sugar, the cane sugar of Cuba will not come to the United States; neither will cane sugar come from other countries. I cannot see how the government can compel Cuban and other foreign sugar raisers to sell at the price fixed in the United States.

"Mighty little sugar is coming to this country that has to be transported a great distance. For instance, raw sugar is cheap in Java, because there are no vessels to bring it here.

"High freights are having a constantly increasing influence on all shipments, in or out. To show what freights must be paid I can instance a shipment of sugar recently made by us to Marseilles, France. The freight was 6 cents a pound, or $120 a short ton. The cargo was about 6000 tons. The freight was $720,000 for the trip.

"I am sorry to say that I cannot see any immediate relief in prices and I have tried to explain why according to the best information I can get."

SOLDIERS RESENT REFLECTION CAST ON DEAD COMRADE

Captain Keleher in Behalf of
His Men Sets Forth Facts
of Death of Victim

That statements recently published in a local morning paper concerning the death of Pvt. John T. Domaraski, Co. L, 32nd Infantry, and which attributed his death to "Demon Rum," were absolutely without foundation, is the assertion made in a letter written to the Star-Bulletin by Capt. Geo. Keleher, commanding Co. L, 32nd Infantry, and a member of the military board which investigated the accident.

The letter, which is self-explanatory, reads as follows:

"Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin,

"Honolulu, H. T.
"Sir: I am writing you this letter with a hope that you give it particular prominence, in order that the public of Honolulu may know facts instead of hallucinations as published by the Commercial Advertiser on September 1, 1917, relative to the death of the late Private John T. Domaraski, Co. L, 32nd Infantry.

"I am prompted in this action for the following reasons:

"First. I have been stationed in the Hawaiian Islands for one year and a half and have noted that your paper has always been truthful, honest and absolutely just in your items about the soldiers, sailors and marines.

"Second. The Commercial Advertiser on September 1, 1917, was not to be satisfied by writing an account, absolutely without foundation, upon the accident and death of Private Domaraski, which they attributed to 'Demon Rum's' further achievements, but they must further give their paper a name by taking this soldier's death into their editorial columns.

"Third. The officers and men of this battalion, of which I am now in command, resent this injustice and the stigma that it might possibly bear with the public.

"Fourth. This unjust defamation of the dead.

"I am in command of Co. L, 32nd Infantry, and have known Private J. T. Domaraski since he joined the company September 18, 1916. His character and service during this time was excellent. At all times he has been sober, industrious and above reproach in the performance of his duties and his conduct. I was further the president of a board of officers detailed to investigate fully into the circumstances surrounding his death. The board completed its finding and reached its conclusions today and forwarded its report to the military authorities. We had before us to testify under oath, the soldiers who were in the car, Cpl. Hodan, Battery F, 1st Field Artillery, and the conductor, engineer and brakeman of the train.

"We found the following to be facts:

"First. The approach to the crossing at which the accident occurred was such, due to trees and houses, that a train, coming from the direction that No. 30 was coming, could not be seen by a pedestrian until he was about 15 yards from it.

"Second. That Private John T. Domaraski jumped from the automobile just before the machine crossed the track but due to the proximity of the train he could not check himself or reach the other side of the track.

"Third. That this soldier's actions were not prompted by 'Demon Rum' but were those of a sober man who saw death facing him and attempted to avoid it.

"Fourth. That from the time of the accident to the time of his death he bravely faced the intense pains caused by the injuries he had received.

"Fifth. That his death resulted from the following injuries: Fracture compound comminuted both bones right leg; fracture small comminuted both bones left leg; lacerated wound just below knee 2x2½ inches; fracture compound skull outer table 1 inch above and 1 inch behind left external angular process; lacerated wound 4x2 inches inflowing skin subcutaneous tissue and left temporal muscle extending from just above left zygoma to sagittal suture; fracture small both bones left forearm; contusion 4x6 inches lower region each lateral; contusion slight 4x4 inches over right trochanter; contusion slight 8x4 inches external surface left thigh; lacerated wound 1x1½ inches above and to right of anus.

"In conclusion I will state that I defy and challenge the Commercial Advertiser to prove this unwarranted, unjust and entirely uncalled for defamation of one of our soldier dead.

"GEORGE KELEHER,
"Captain 32nd Infantry,

CHESTER DOYLE RETURNS FROM PRINCELY TRIP

"Prince of Nikko" Declares It Pays to Entertain Mainlanders; See What Happened

White spats, a checkered suit, a sky-blue tie adorned by a great ruby set in diamonds—a Buffalo Bill hat, a broad smile—this was the raiment that bedecked Chester A. Doyle, "Prince of Nikko," Japanese interpreter of circuit court, entertainer, as he and raconteur, appeared on the Sierra early this morning when the boat lay outside of the harbor.

Wearing a winning smile he tossed a card over the side of the boat to the launch below as it lay waiting for the doctor to make the rounds of the ship. Here is the card:

"Thanks, but I don't drink. No, I haven't got it. I'm NOT a wealthy sugar planter. We do wear clothes in Hawaii. We have the largest Pearl Harbor, the biggest Punchbowl, the sweetest Diamond Head in the world, and the only active volcano in captivity—and I am NOT married. I thank you."—Chester A. Doyle.

"Don't let anyone tell you that it doesn't pay to entertain people who come here from the mainland. Why it is bread cast upon the water which comes back in the way of pudding with raisins in it," declared the prince this morning.

"I was entertained for two months at the St. Francis hotel by James Wood," asserted the prince, "and did I enjoy myself? Well, I should say I was away several months and the people I have entertained here treated me wonderfully."

The Princess of Hassan, an American million-heiress who married a Turkish prince who is now fighting in Europe was among the people met by the prince on his last trip. He brings home with him an especially made wine bottle, consisting of a bottle within a bottle in which to place ice.

"The king of Siam gave me that," the prince remarked this morning.

"I was at the Bohemian Club's 'jinks,'—a wonderful affair. There were 1700 men who sat down at a banquet at one time. The show they put on was marvelous."

"The most exciting thing in San Francisco is the street railway strike. About 75 per cent of the cars are not running. The I. W. W. is raising cane in the West."

"From authentic sources I heard that five I. W. W.'s were found hanging outside of a courthouse up in Oregon one morning. They tied the ropes around their necks and threw them out the windows. It was censored and the people did not hear of it," declared Mr. Doyle.

"The boat was loaded with school children—about 164 of them and about 20 others. We had a pedagogic review every night. I am glad to get back. Goodbye! And he walked down the deck to the steward who had been caring for his new wine bottle which he carefully conveyed off the ship."

ASAHI'S DEFEAT CHINESE SQUAD

Although they were out 10 to 4, the Asahi defeated the Chinese team in the first game at Moiliili field yesterday by a score of 4 to 3. The teams played up to the fifth inning, not an error being made by either side.

Three or four of the Chinese players failed to show up, and as a result the Asahi were given the game, although they won the exhibition contest. Murakami saved Maesake for the morning game with the Filipinos and Yoshikawa pitched. Kong pitched good ball, and deserved to win. Nelson Kau, manager of the Chinese team, failed to appear.

Nealon was the hitting star of the game, getting a home and a triple in three times up. Sunn Hung and Murashige both played a good game in the field. The score:

POI PRICE MAY INCREASE FIVE CENTS SHORTLY

Reports to Food Commission Show Dealers Going Out of Business; Taro Lands Being Used for Other Purposes

That the local poi situation is serious, and that the outlook for the future from the standpoint of the manufacturers is rather discouraging, is the summary of a report submitted to the city and county physician by Edward H. Marino, meat and food inspector, a copy of which has been handed to the territorial food commission.

"The price of poi," says the report, "has been going up steadily since the first of the year, and the chances are it will keep on climbing for some time to come. It is common talk among the taro planters and poi manufacturers, that if conditions do not take a change for the better within a short time, the price of poi will go up 5 cents a pound. It is now selling at the rate of from six to six and one-half pounds for 25 cents, as against 10 pounds for the same amount last January."

"The planters are not planting as they used to as the price of labor is high and much taro land has been given up to be used for other purposes. Owing to a shortage of taro, several poi makers I had on my list have been forced to close their places of business, and these places were some of the best I had on my list."

"I also have other poi makers on my list who are making only small amounts of poi until conditions change, but if things keep on going as today, we shall see a few more go out of business. The five poi makers who went out of business represent about 3000 pounds daily, which is a considerable lot in the market, although I have 16 poi makers in the city and county representing an output of 21,860 pounds daily, and even with this amount the open market is short about 6000 pounds."

Not long ago a Hawaiian walked into the office of J. F. Child, assistant executive officer of the food commission, and complained of the high price of poi. Mr. Child suggested that he go out and endeavor to secure some reasons for the high price. He has submitted a very definite report to the commission in which he says, among other things:

"One hundred and ten acres of taro land have already been given up. That makes 27,500 bags of taro, an average of 250 bags of taro to the acre. For 27,500 bags, an average of 91 pounds of poi in a bag, that makes 2,502,500 pounds of poi short for one year, and the daily average of the shortage of poi is 6857 pounds in this city."

"But taro from the other islands and outside districts is making up a fraction of this shortage. This shortage is the main cause of high prices, plus the high labor and cost of living."

Outlining his reasons for the poi manufacturers going out of business, the Hawaiian says:

"The reasons for the small poi makers going out of business are: 'First, they have no taro of their own; second, they pay too high prices for their taro; third, they were forced to pull their taro before it was mature; fourth, they have too many credit accounts.'"

COLLEGE USHERS IN RESUMPTION OF SCHOOL YEAR

With the opening of the St. Louis college tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock, the boys and girls of Honolulu will begin to flock back to the city to continue their study. By next week all of the public schools and Punahou academy and Punahou preparatory school will again be in session.

The war will in no way affect the schools of the city as it has those of some places on the mainland. Punahou academy and the Kamehameha boys' school will continue their drilling with renewed energy and other schools will continue to keep their gardens up as before. The department of public instruction has found it difficult to get male teachers during the summer but says it will have a force next year with the usual number of men.

Two new teachers are on the staff of the St. Louis college. Brother Adolph, who is coming from Japan, where he has taught for 11 years, will have charge of the junior and senior science classes. Brother Walter, who had charge of the science courses last year, has left for Dayton, Ohio, where he will teach in the engineering school.

Brother Ernest comes direct from Dayton, Ohio, to take the place of Brother Edward, who has been in charge of the third grade of the preparatory department.

New teachers for the public schools in Honolulu and all of the islands arrived in large numbers on the Maui last week and on the Sierra this morning. They are being sent to their various schools from the department of public instruction which is unusually busy at present caring for them.

Among the new teachers to arrive for Punahou last week were: Helen C. Spalding, from Hudson, Vermont, a Simmons college graduate, who will be matron of the dormitories; Miss Alice Wolf of San Francisco, and Miss Lucy L. Doggett, a niece of Prof. Charles H. Hitchcock, from Woodmere school, Long Island.

Miss Alice L. Castle and Miss Beesie P. Wolthall, who will teach in the Punahou preparatory school, have arrived. The latter is visiting Mrs. F. C. Lyser.

Punahou opens next Monday morning although the offices of both schools have been open for over a week now for early registration.

An increase in registration commensurate with the growth of the city is expected in most of the public schools.

CHARGE FORMER SLEUTH WITH SELLING LIQUOR

John Hill, former member of the local detective force, was arrested last Saturday night by Assistant Liquor License Inspector Jack Roberts and Detective Medeiros for the alleged sale of intoxicating liquor without a license. According to police, Hill has been selling liquor for a long time without being apprehended. When arrested, three pint flasks of whisky and 32 quarts of beer were found. They will be used as evidence.

The regular monthly meeting of the Epiphany Woman's Auxiliary and Guild will be held at Guild hall, on Tenth avenue, on Tuesday, Sept. 4, beginning at 2:30 o'clock.

Give the children a chance at the big fish pond, corner Beretania and Fort streets, Sept. 8, 1917, where the delicatessen sale for the benefit of the Red Cross will be given.—Adv.

SHIPPING HELD UP BY AUSTRALIAN STRIKE; VENTURA DELAYED SIX DAYS

Despatch of Vessel Made Possible By Professional Men Working as Stevedores

Held for six days past her scheduled sailing date in Sydney by the Australian strikes, the Ventura was able to get her cargo aboard only by the volunteer efforts of professional men, business men and farmers who came into the city from outside districts and worked like day laborers to make possible the despatch of the vessel.

There were dentists, doctors, bankers and wealthy ranchers among the amateur stevedores. Several of them were worth $50,000 to $100,000, the Ventura officers claim. The voluntary work of these embryo stevedores was prompted by patriotic beliefs that the commerce of the Antipodes should not be interfered with during war time.

While the crew of the Ventura did not become affected by the strike malady in Australia, the men refused to load cargo for the ship, out of sympathy with the union workers who were on strike.

The Ventura has 41 cabin passengers and about the same number in the second cabin. There are five in the steerage. She carries 2644 tons of general cargo. Four of the cabin passengers are for Honolulu, as are 17 of those in the second cabin.

The Honolulu cabin passengers are as follows: E. Price, N. P. Price, Miss Price, and F. J. Warner. The second cabin list is given below: Miss M. Cullen, Miss P. M. Mackay, Madam M. Henry, Miss C. Henry, Miss Mona Harvey, Mrs. M. Ling, Mrs. J. J. McPhillips, Mr. Braiden, W. N. Skey, Mr. Durant, J. J. McDavitt, J. E. Anderson, E. Burke, G. A. LeGuay, W. Redman and J. Van der Lely.

Several American seamen, mostly electricians who have been on duty at Samoa, are passengers bound for the states.

BIXBY TO FIGHT IN SIGNAL CORPS

Arthur E. Bixby, formerly marine writer for the Honolulu Star-Bulletin, has followed out his announced intention of joining the signal corps of the California militia, according to reports received from the coast where he went about a month ago. The Santa Barbara News of August 15 had the following account of the former Honolulu newspaper man:

"Arthur E. Bixby, formerly employed as a reporter on The News, arrives here tomorrow from Honolulu on his way to France. He was a member of the Hawaiian Guard when the war broke out, having for the past two years been in the signal corps service.

"Anxious to see active service he secured a transfer from Honolulu to San Francisco, and at San Francisco he was assigned to a signal corps destined for service in France. He has a brief furlough, which permits a stop here of two days, and a further visit of a few days with relatives at Covina.

"From there he joins his signal corps for the long journey to France. While in Honolulu he had been connected with the Star-Bulletin, going from the News to Honolulu to take a position on the Honolulu evening paper."

Labor Leader Darrow and Our War

At all the celebrations held today, labor's part in the war will be the universal text and the thought uppermost in all minds.

The chief glory will be the splendid record of the workingmen in their appreciation of what the war means to America and their prompt and willing response to the call of the country for men at the battlefield and millions behind the line.

I. W. W. and socialist assistants of Germany are exceptions that prove the rule. Labor is with the country and manfully backing our administration in working out the many tasks which America must perform, tasks never before done in the world's history. Leaders of labor have been quick to speak out. President Gompers did not have to hesitate when the time came for him to declare himself.

And now comes Clarence Darrow, the attorney who is regarded by many toilers as one of the prophets of the laborer's cause. Mr. Darrow has been a Pacifist, but he says, "I found that my theories could not fit the facts, so, unlike most Pacifists, I have decided to accept the facts and modify my theories. I was always a Pacifist until this war. I will be again—after Germany is licked."

This day devoted to labor is an appropriate occasion to read the conclusions of Mr. Darrow, after he has canvassed the whole situation from every possible angle. There is no qualification in Darrow's support. He says:

"There will be no real peace in the world until the Prussian military power is crushed. For no reason whatsoever Germany has deliberately broken the peace of the world. She was getting ready for this for forty years, while other nations were believing in peace and carrying out this belief."

"To know whether one believes in pacifism to the limit one must put oneself in the place of Belgium and France."

"It is idle to talk about non-resistance."

"Human nature is not made that way. No people fit to survive will be trampled upon. Belgium and France had to fight, to die, or surrender—which would have been far worse than death."

"Germany—disappointed because she could not conquer the world in a few months—engaged in submarine warfare, which, under the laws of nations, was nothing but piracy and murder."

"If America had not decided this meant war and was war she would not be fit to be a nation."

"If she were controlled by pacifists who would not fight under these conditions she would not long remain a nation."

"Had she refused to fight she would have received and deserved the contempt of all right thinking people."

"Many of those opposed to this war are everlastingly pointing out the shortcomings of the United States and other allied countries. I am well aware that this country is far from perfect."

"But whatever the shortcomings of this country, it is still free and better than any other of the great countries of the world. What we have is worth preserving and it cannot be preserved unless we are ready to fight."

"No one in America believes in war as a trade or an art, but we believe in self-defense and do not believe that barbarous warriors should be left free to overrun the world."

"This war has now become a war for preserving civilization. It is a war for democracy against the most medieval autocratic government of either Europe or America."

"I do not believe in any talk of peace. We should begin to fight before we talk about the terms of peace. It is not for Germany and Austria—either directly or indirectly—to bring about peace on anything like their own terms. They made this war, deliberately, ruthlessly and should suffer the consequences."

Mr. La Follette, the kaiser's spokesman in the United States senate, had an awful shock the other day. His resolution asking the United States to define its terms of peace was immediately picked up and spread broadcast by the American Union Against Militarism, and Mr. La Follette immediately sent out word that he did not speak for the American Union Against Militarism. It would be a shame indeed to have anyone doubt his service in the interests of the kaiser hosts.

Sit in a quiet corner and ask yourself whether you have done anything worth while in this fight of ours. It is your fight just as much as it is Woodrow Wilson's.

Labor Legislation of 1916.

Perhaps the most striking legislation reproduced in the annual volume of labor laws of the United States bureau of labor statistics, which has just been issued as Bulletin 213, is the act of Congress establishing 8 hours as a standard work day for employees operating trains on steam railroads in interstate commerce. Next to this may be placed the federal statute excluding from interstate traffic the products of the labor of children employed in mines or quarries under the age of 16, or in mills, canneries, factories, etc., under the age of 14 years; the hours of labor of children under 16 years of age must not exceed 8 per day, nor may such children work between 7 p. m. and 6 a. m.

State laws affecting the employment of children are also strengthened, as in South Carolina, where the age for employment in factories is raised from 12 to 14 years, while in Maryland the 14-year limit is extended to practically all industries except canning and packing. Laws regulating the employment of women are comparatively numerous in 1916, and it may be said that laws affecting women and children constitute the largest single group of laws appearing in the bulletin. In addition to statutes, there are important orders of industrial and welfare commissions fixing wages and hours for these classes of employees, and regulating the conditions of employment generally.

Of special interest is a rule issued by the Oregon industrial welfare commission fixing the hours of labor, minimum wages and learning periods of women and minors, including males up to 18 years, in a wide range of employments. This is in compliance with the provisions of the minimum wage law of the state, which was recently declared constitutional by a tie vote of the supreme court of the United States, one justice not voting.

The effect of federal legislation on state action is apparent in the enactment of liability laws for railroad employees in South Carolina and Virginia, which follow in large degree the pattern of the federal statute on the subject. Most of the states of the union have compensation laws, reproduced up to the end of the year 1916 in Bulletin No. 203 of the bureau of labor statistics. A few states retain the liability doctrine, and the action of South Carolina and Virginia tends at least to harmonize federal and state practice, though not coming up to the compensation standards generally accepted.

As affecting the employe and the public as well, a few states have laws prohibiting the giving or receiving of tips. Such a law was enacted by the Tennessee legislature of 1915 and vetoed by the governor. This veto was subsequently held void, and the act is reproduced in the present bulletin. Tennessee is the sixth state to have a law of this kind.

The idea of a requirement of artisans of certain classes to secure license continues to spread, laws of this class relating to barbers, plumbers, horse-shoers, chauffeurs, electricians and moving picture machine operators having been enacted during the year. The physical conditions of employment also received attention in the enactment of a number of regulations affecting factories and mines; while the settlement of labor disputes is the subject of an act of the South Carolina legislature. The latter act provides for arbitration on request, and gives a board of conciliation power to make investigations on its own motion, with compulsory attendance of witnesses, including the production of books and documents; a report may be published if a majority of the board approve.

Besides the text of the laws, Bulletin 213 contains a readable review of the acts in considerable detail, and a cumulative index covering the complete body of the labor legislation other than workmen's compensation laws, as compiled by the United States department of labor, bureau of labor statistics. Only 11 state legislatures and the federal congress had regular sessions last year; 5 other state legislatures met in special session.

If anyone doubts the cosmopolitan character of the loyal Americans who are rallying to the colors, just read this list of the surnames of men accepted for the army during one day in a registration district of New York: O'Leary, Tietjen, Bohn, Ulrich, Laurence, Seidel, Derno, Bobenright, Kalz, Whalen, Crinion, Gavin, Brandenburg, Blassey, Sanckey, Holly, Hopf, Monahan, Gameters, Anglum, Korman, Tasransky, Byrne, Weber, Hardiman, Tietbaum, Cervini, McCormick, Straehl, Bozzi, Coyle, Kennedy, Garvey, Szndstrop, Kunz, Neaman, Wunner, Scalera, Reilly, Cassata, Quires, Hickey, Henry.

Do your bit in the great crisis through which this nation is now passing.

THE SUCCESS OF THE SCHOOLS.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin—
Sir: On the editorial page of the Star-Bulletin last week appeared a long statement, from Daily Financial America, entitled "New York's School Failure." Inasmuch as the present writer was associated with the New York school system for several years, and had kept in touch with recent developments there, he feels called upon to challenge the sweeping statements of this editorial. Permit him to submit the following:

1. The old cry of the critics "What's the matter with the schools?" has been worn so absolutely threadbare that it is no longer a subject for worthy discussion. Like all human institutions, the schools are subject to defects and vicissitudes.

On the other hand, there is undoubtedly no institution of the American people that has attained the same measure of consistent successes as have the schools, especially the public schools. This fact is abundantly testified by the great mass of the people themselves, as school products.

2. The editorial contains the same old story that has been going the rounds for years; the stale narrative of the astute employer and the schoolboy who could not spell. The important point concerning this story is not that the schoolboys could not write legibly nor spell correctly; the important point is that the United States, owing to her splendid school system, has a smaller percentage of illiteracy than many other nations.

Italy has over 30 per cent illiterates; Spain, 58 per cent; Russia, 61 per cent; Austria, 26 per cent; Canada, 17 per cent; Belgium, 18 per cent; Greece, 57 per cent; United States, 7.7 per cent. The achievement of literacy for the great masses, as one of the supreme tests of democracy, should not be hidden under a discussion of the defects of the few.

The employer stated that "Most of the boys were utterly useless." That cannot be true, as representing a general condition. Most boys become distinctly useful to society, in spite of their alleged mis-schooling! It should be remembered that employers have been, universally and until quite recently, the greatest exploiters of child labor, and preventers of real education, that the world has ever known.

The average man is not willing to admit the debt which he owes to the social agencies—home, school, church and state—that have chiefly made him what he is. He is unwilling to acknowledge that most of himself has been built into him by society.

The school systems of none of the states or territories have been failures. They are in no sense failures today. They are the magnificent living insignia of a triumphant democracy. They comprise our greatest hope for the future. They are more successful in this year 1917 than they have ever been before in the history of our country. It is all right to fondly reminisce about the "little red school house" and "readin', ritin' and 'rithmetick," but those are as far back as the days before the telephone and the street car and we would not go back to them if we could.

The man who shouts about the "failure" of the schools, nowadays, simply informs the world that he doesn't know what is going on. He has never been close up to the schools. He does not know how to intelligently utilize the school product.

New York's schools have not failed, though they face larger and more complex problems than schools have ever faced before.

Respectfully yours,
VAUGHAN MACCAUGHEY,

A BOOST FOR F. G. KRAUSS

Hana, Maui, Aug. 29.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.
Sir: The tillers of the soil of Hana district were pleasantly surprised by a visit from F. G. Krauss, of the station at Hailu. With a thousand and one bugs and pests and unseasonable weather, those who try to make a living from the soil have many things with which to contend. Seed is not always good. The climate is peculiar. Conditions are such as they are. There are many surprises.

It is mighty good to have a man with a level head and good, common sense, like Mr. Krauss, to give honest, intelligent advice and practical suggestions. His concern is not for show so much as for service. He is not booming some local, temporary fad but looking into the future and seeking to plan for real men and real conditions in the years to come.

He is dead right when he says that what is needed in the islands is not gardens and crops so much as a market for the things that are raised and crops that will not perish in the handling. The one thing that the station must equip itself to do is to put the man who raises the crop into touch with the man who needs the product for his personal consumption. Mr. Krauss is earnestly anxious to make his station and himself of service to the men who are coming into the island and taking up land and seeking to make a living from the soil. These men need intelligent advice. They want some person to whom they may apply for disinterested and honest advice. Mr. Krauss is the man.

HANAITE.

GOOD WORD FOR POLICE

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.
Sir: We all like to see fair play, and in the interest of fair play I hope you will give space to this communication.

There has been considerable criticism of the police of late because they have been unable to catch the automobile thieves. It therefore gives me particular pleasure to give public praise to the excellent work of our police and motorcycle officers for so quickly locating my stolen automobile and catching the three thieves "red-handed."

I reported my loss by telephone at 8:45 p. m. At 10:24 p. m. I was notified that I could get my recovered automobile at the police station. It is, therefore, apparent that the thieves were actually caught in a little over one hour after notice was given them. Surely that is good work, and their prompt location of the machine in all probability accounts for the fact that no damage had been done, which probably could not have been said about midnight if the joy-riders had been able to use it that long.

The two motorcycle officers who made the arrests are W. B. Ferry and Jas. Stuppelbeen. Thanking you for your courtesy in giving this publicity, I am,

Yours very truly,
J. T. WARREN.

WANTS NAMES OF AMES COLLEGE SOLDIERS.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.
I noticed in your last night edition "Talks About Town" that there were seventeen men recently enlisted in the army who have attended Iowa State College at Ames, Iowa. The writer is a graduate of that school, the class of 1912, and there are more of us here who get together occasionally. If these men will send their names and addresses to me we will see to it that some of this lonesomeness is driven away. It is a good idea for some of the other colleges to follow up. Perhaps they don't know how many men from their school are stationed here, I did not. Publicity would be appreciated.

Yours truly,
E. P. GIBSON.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

—ERNEST T. CHASE, principal of Punahou academy: We will lose a good many of our pupils who come from the army this year, but our total enrollment, however, will be about as large as usual.

—DUKE KAHANAMOKU: Yes, I am working hard for the races this week, but I cannot predict how they will come out. What we do is to get ready, do our best, and let the rest take its natural course.

—FRANK I. STEVENSON, Emergency hospital: The Emergency hospital force now has an official uniform which consists of khaki suit and a cap, on which we will place a plaque to designate our position. These uniforms will be ready in a short time.

—HENRY H. PLEMER, deputy sheriff of Waialua: We recently shut down a Filipino dance hall in Waialua which was running every night in the week. The noise emanating from the hall so disturbed the people in the vicinity that now we allow the hall to run only on Saturday nights.

—H. P. CAMPBELL: We have not obtained anyone to take the places of the six men from the experiment station that entered the training camp. Some of the men may be rejected from the camp after a month or so of training, so we are not planning to put anyone in their places right now.

The police ambulance was sent up to Mokuauia road and Queen street yesterday afternoon, but when it arrived no one was in sight. This is the second time the police wagon has responded without finding anyone who needed treatment at the city hospital.

Decision to change the proposed new hospital building at Schofield Barracks to concrete instead of wooden construction has practically been reached, according to Col. R. M. Schofield, department quartermaster.

Plans are about completed for starting the work on new buildings at Fort Ruger. These are to include a barracks building for one of the artillery companies, a set of officers' quarters and a new guard house.

World's Champions Will Be Seen In Action At Big Swimming Meet This Evening; First Race At 7.30

Four Big Events Scheduled for Tonight—Duke Kahanamoku Favored to Win 50-Yard Event—Norman Ross and Kruger Will Meet in Backstroke and 440—Visiting Mermaids Will Battle in 220—New Records May Be Established in Aquatics

Old Father Neptune will be in his element this evening. Thousands of devotees of aquatics will be present at the big swimming meet this evening which will bring together the sons and daughters of the god of the sea, in the first night event of the three days' meet which promises to surpass any other meet ever held in Honolulu.

Among the stars who will appear this evening in the various events are the three visiting mermaids, Dorothy Burns, Frances Cowells and Claire Galligan; the three world's champions, Duke P. Kahanamoku, Harold Kruger and Norman Ross; the young stars from Chicago, Leslie Jones and Abe Siegel, who, although not champions, promise to be heard from before many moons, and a host of local stars including Gerd Hjorth, Josephine Hopkins, Clarence Lane and John Kelli. Only Ludy Langer is missing.

Had Langer been entered in the 440 there would have been a crowd such as Honolulu has never seen before. Honolulu lovers of aquatics have been longing to watch a race between Langer and Ross. Should Langer decide to meet Ross, there will naturally be a record crowd no matter where it was held. This race would have put the finishing touches on one of the biggest events in the history of aquatics here or anywhere.

Despite the fact that the Los Angeles swimmer is not entered, the crowd should be a large one. As it is the events this evening will perhaps measure up to the best cards on the mainland, and if one takes into consideration the fact that this year Honolulu has three real champions entered in the feminine events, then the meet will be one worth while.

It will be hard to pick a feature event for the evening, although the 220 event between the three mermaids from the mainland and our local stars will perhaps be the bright outstanding feature of this evening. Then one will have an opportunity of watching a race between "Stubby" Kruger and Ross in both the backstroke and the 440 yard event. "Stubby" is a real wizard at the backstroke and should be the favorite; although Ross, Jones and Siegel are no mean opponents.

Will there be any swimmer to beat Duke in the 50? That is a question which has been asked hundreds of times, but Duke should be the favorite. All Honolulu is pulling for him to win. Duke has made swimming in Honolulu. He has made swimming on the mainland, and the greatest figure in aquatics today is expected to cross the line first in the sprint event.

Duke Favored

Norman Ross has been making excellent time for the 50 yard event, but Duke should win. Clarence Lane ought to finish well up, and although Ross is conceded by critics to be one of the greatest swimmers of all time, he will have to show startling speed to finish in first or second place. Leslie Jones may be depended upon to figure in this event, and Siegel is another star who must not be overlooked.

Dorothy Burns, who set a new American record in the 220 yard event in February, will be entered in this event this evening. The Los Angeles mermaid made the distance in 3.03. When this record was made she was forced to extend herself to win, and this leads one to believe that a new American record will be made this evening. It would not be at all surprising to see the time under three minutes. Claire Galligan has made time around 3.04, and in a recent meet at San Diego Frances Cowells made an unofficial record of around 3.03, which means some real competition among the girls this evening.

It ought to be a great race from start to finish. The line is so close that one can hardly select a winner. Anyone of the three may cross the finish line first. Dorothy Burns set a new record in Honolulu, and naturally will be a slight favorite, if there is such a thing. Claire Galligan can swim and there is no one who realizes this any more than the two coast mermaids.

In a 100 yard event the former New Rochelle swimmer, who is now looked upon as a Honolulu mermaid, defeated both the Pacific Coast girls. A blanket could have covered the three at the finish, and the same may hold good in the 220 yard event tonight.

All three realize that they will have to use all their power and strategy in this race. Conditions ought to be ideal for excellent time, and although it is too much to be hoped that they will set a world's record, it would not be at all surprising to see Fanny Durack's time threatened. Miss Durack made the furthest in 2.53, which is remarkable time, as very few men swimmers in Honolulu can finish within this limit.

The first event on the program this evening will give the swimming devotees an idea of the future greats. There will be 11 entries in the boys' race for the 100 yards. All of the boys are under 15, but this does not hinder them from chalking up fast time. Mitrie Mitchell, nee Konowaloff, has not been swimming much of late, but if he is in any kind of shape should win out by a narrow margin. Shigi Matsuguma and Preston Chapin are two other swimmers who must be figured on in this race.

Go to it, "Stubby"

Honolulu will naturally be pulling for "Stubby" to win in the 150-yard back stroke and he ought to be the favorite. Ross gave him a great race last year, but despite this fact the local natator should win out. Ross, Siegel and Jones are all excellent performers in this event, but should Clarence Lane and Buster Carter enter there promises to be a real fight for position. Kruger and Ross appear to have a slight edge.

In the 100-yard pounce event, which is the third event on the program, the lovers of the aquatic sport will again see future greats. This event promises to give a big boost for swimming, and the committees are to be congratulated for staging such an event.

Miss Law Should Win

Kathleen Law of Los Angeles, although in reality it ought to be Honolulu, is conceded to have an excellent chance to win this event. She has spent much of her time in learning feature swimming, and only recently has taken up racing. Those who have watched her in the various meets predict a bright future for her. She has excellent form for long distance swimming, and should be at her best over the 400.

Madeline Chapin will make her first appearance in a race. She has been practicing at the beach, and the Outrigger Club members believe that she will win out in the race tonight. Miss Chapin has a beautiful stroke, and should she decide to take up swimming seriously would no doubt become one of Hawaii's leading stars. Thelma Kenn, who is not yet 15 years old, will be seen in action, and should finish well up.

The 50-yard service event will bring out some fast performers. Pingry of De Russy is not entered in this event, which leaves the field open to the Alert swimmers. Murphy, O'Brien and Dodge should lead the other service men to the line, although there will be a number of stars entered in this event.

Following the 220 swim for ladies, the 100-yard novice event will be staged. There are about 25 entries for this event, and it will be hard to select a winner. A close race is expected. Gay Harris of the Outrigger Club has been swimming well, and the same holds good for Pingry of De Russy. The Hui Nalu will have three fast entries in Makinney, Markham and Steiner, with Makinney having a slight edge. Kaehu of Palama must not be forgotten as he has made excellent time in the past.

A close fight is expected between Robert K. Fuller and Lorrin Thurston in the diving events. Thurston has greatly improved and should beat out Jack Hjorth in the springboard exhibitions.

Norman Ross looks like a winner in the 440-yard event, although Kruger must not be despised. The Honolulu boy has been making good time over this distance, and may force Ross to set a new record for the distance, although Kruger is not expected to put up the race that Langer would have set against the "Big Moose." "Tough Bill" and Walker ought to have a hard race for the third position.

O'Brien is not entered in the relay for the Alert, and this may give the De Russy team an advantage, although Murphy should win from his man and Dodge and Whitlock look to be strong factors. With O'Brien the Alerts would have had the advantage, but without him De Russy has the chance to finish first. At any rate it looks like a real race from start to finish, and comes as a good closer to an all-star card.

DUNGAN ESTABLISHES NEW PROFESSIONAL RECORD IN BACKSTROKE

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 2.—Dungan, member of the Piedmont Athletic Club, made a new swimming record yesterday at a meet held at Neptune beach when he swam the 100-yard backstroke in 1 minute and 12.1 seconds.

Note: This record is the professional record for the distance. G. Richard Dungan is coach of the Piedmont Athletic Club, and as such is not eligible to compete for amateur records.

BRINZA BLANKS COAST DEFENSE TOSSERS SUNDAY

Pitcher Brinza of the 1st-32nd was right yesterday. And when you can utter that you have said a whole mouthful. The mound artist was as stingy with his hits in the game with the Coast Defense team as a miser is with his money, and as a result the 1st-32nd aggregation defeated the Coast Defense team in the Molili tilt by a score of 2 to 0.

It was a real ball game from start to finish, and those fans who missed the encounter have themselves to blame. Both teams presented star lineups, and it was hard to choose between them when they trotted onto the field.

Real Ball Game

Brinza, Too Good

Crumpler was on the mound for the Coast Defense team, and Hawaii's premier southpaw had a world of stuff, and incidentally pitched a good game against the wind whippers from the plains of Lalehua, but he was up against a hard proposition, as Brinza allowed but four bingles, scattered in as many innings, and Cummings' double was the only real hard hit for the Defense team. Brinza incidentally sent 10 of the Coasters back to the bench via the wigwag route.

The Schofield moundman had his fast ball working, and although he hurried his pitching, did not weaken and fanned five of his opponents in the seventh and eighth innings. With a runner on third in the fifth with one down, he disposed of Critchfield and Crumpler.

Johnson, who handled the keystone sack for the Defenders, was all over the field. He gave a real exhibition of infield play, taking care of ten chances without an error. Holcomb at third for the Schofield team also starred in the field, cutting off sure hits on two occasions. Two fast double plays by the Coasters saved the score on two occasions. There was plenty of pep in the game, and everything equal the tussle yesterday ought to go down as a real ball contest. Sergeant Lester will lose Stratton and Boyle, but with Ralls on hand and two or three other stars ready to play, the team should make a good showing in the future.

Good Officiating

Henry Chillingworth worked behind the bat yesterday, and his judgment of balls and strikes was the best seen at Molili this year. Aylett also followed the play well on the bases, and the officiating kept right up with the class of ball played.

Champions Who Will Swim Tonight

Honolulu swimming devotees will have an opportunity to see one world's champion visitor and three American champion swimmers tonight at the big meet. Three of America's leading mermaids will compete in the 220 yard event. The young ladies are seen enjoying a sun bath at the Hotel Piesanton. They are from left to right Frances Cowells, Claire Galligan and Dorothy Burns. All three swimmers have made time under 3.05 for the full length. Norman Ross, the world's champion, is seen here. He will compete in three events this evening, meeting Duke and Kruger.

PIRATES BATTLE CHINESE SQUAD TO 7 TO 7 TIE

Pirates Have Chance to Win But Throw It Away With Poor Base Running; 11 Innings

The Pirates and Chinese of Honolulu played for 11 innings yesterday at Athletic park, and as Barney Joy declared that his eyesight was failing to catch them, decided to call off the affair in the growing darkness, with the score a tie.

There was only a small crowd on hand, but the teams played good ball throughout. The Pirates made 17 hits during the day, and should have had the game sailed away on several occasions, but poor work on the sacks caused them to lose out in the run situation.

Kan Yen got a three-base blow in the first of the fourth which gave his team two runs. The Pirates scored six times and all was serene. The Chinese had to make things look good so they also went out and scored five runs.

Waterhouse and Swan had a merry pitchers' duel, and although the Chinese pitcher was hit harder, he kept his bingles well scattered. Waterhouse, Senny and Ross were the leading hitters of the day. The score:

JOHNNY GOT HIS GUN AND COOMBS FAILED TO WIN

Schuman Takes Game From Elgins When Williams Holds Opponents to Two Bingles

Johnny Williams, the big league star of the Schuman Carriage Co., had the Coombs' squad eating out of his hand yesterday morning at Athletic park, beating the Elgins and holding them to two hits. Schuman gathered three runs during the affair. Coombs gathered on the whole show as he fanned 13, and Kai Luke and Kan Leong were the only players to hit safely. Luck Yee also pitched a good game, but of course his work did not stand out in comparison with that of the former Detroit finger.

The game was a long drawn out affair, despite the fact that there was much good play. Mara made a beautiful play on a hard hit ball in the fifth, and Yen Chin raced over and nabbed a runner on a pretty play. Williams was good in the pitches, and whenever a run threatened he usually tightened up and retired the batsman.

DOROTHY BURNS EXPECTS WINNER TO SET RECORD

Los Angeles Mermaid Confident New American Tank Mark Will Be Made

"Dorothy Burns is undoubtedly the coming world's champion of women swimmers," said Vance Veith, swimming coach of the Los Angeles Athletic club recently. And this statement holds good in regard to the American champion who will defend her record in the meet on the harbor this evening. Dorothy Burns is popular in swimming circles, as she is always willing to meet an opponent over any distance from 50 yards to a mile. It will be remembered that the Los Angeles mermaid set three new records in one day in Honolulu last February.

By MISS DOROTHY BURNS.

The races this evening on the harbor promise to be one of the real aquatic features of the year. In meeting Miss Claire Galligan and Miss Cowells, I realize that I have work to do, and in all earnestness believe that before another sun rises that there will be a new American record for the 220 yard event. Whoever wins should have a record under three minutes.

I would naturally like to break my own record in the meet this evening, but Miss Galligan and Miss Cowells are excellent swimmers, and should one of them win out in the race this evening, I am positive that the victor will carry away a new record.

Miss Galligan has defeated me on two occasions, and these were the two defeats which I have marked up against my record. In the 100 yard championship in San Francisco Miss Galligan finished second to Miss Dornier. I was third and Miss Cowells was fourth. It was a great race from beginning to end, and only 2-5 of a second separated the three swimmers. Miss Galligan won the mile event in a recent meet. It was the first time that I had ever competed over this distance.

Swimming Best

I believe that the best training for swimming is swimming. At the beginning I used to play tennis, and walk, but when tuning up for a big race now I confine myself to the daily swim.

Racing itself is thrilling and wholly enjoyable. I believe that the first prize won in competition means more than a world's record or a national championship. My first race was on May 13, 1913, and it proved to be a good hoodoo. It was a 50 yard event, and I won out. I would like to win this evening, and would naturally enjoy setting a new American record, but if I am fortunate enough to be returned the victor, I do not believe that it will mean as much as it did on the day when I was presented with a silver medal before a small and not over-enthusiastic group of spectators.

a victory when he scored in the seventh after Malina had fouled. Charles Rice got in some excellent work in this period, and his judgment of play was perfect. He handled the play well, and built up a defense which was not expected. Dribbling the ball out, he carried it toward the goal and scored from a hard angle.

Sam Baldwin was given the ball one minute after play opened in the eighth period and scored. The hard riding contest continued, and although Kauai did not appear to have a chance to win, they continued to fight for every inch of the ground. Fleming scored another goal after a hard ride through the field, and shortly before time was called Malina hit a long one which rolled through the lattice posts.

The Lineups

Kauai—Jimmie Spalding, No. 1; John Malina, No. 2; Charles Rice, No. 3; captain; Philip Rice, No. 4. Maui—Sam Baldwin, No. 1; Harold Rice, No. 2; Frank Baldwin, No. 3; captain; Dave Fleming, No. 4. Maui Goals Period Kauai Goals

Dorothy Dix Talks

HOW SHALL WE EDUCATE OUR GIRLS?

By DOROTHY DIX
The Highest Paid Woman Writer

CONCEDING, as most people do, that marriage is the chief end of woman, and that a woman as a general proposition is happiest herself and of most use to the world when she follows the ancient avocation of wife and mother, how shall we best fit our girls for this career? How shall we educate them? What shall we teach them so that they may capture husbands in the first place, and hold their husbands after they capture them in the second place? Shall we teach them domesticity or dancing? Shall we teach them the differential calculus or the different ways of flirting? Shall we teach them how to roll their eyes effectively or efficiency in rolling a perambulator?

A Western millionairess has attempted to solve this great problem of female education by having her young daughter taught all the arts of allurements—how to dance, how to dress, how to play and sing, and coquette—without wasting any time on such prosaic matters as reading, writing and arithmetic.

This girl's parents were arraigned in the probate court of their city for neglecting her education, and in justifying their course the mother said that inasmuch as every woman of good fortune and family had to fight with chorus girls, cabaret dancers, actresses and singers, vampires and coquettes, for the interest and affection of men, a wife's only safety consisted in being able to beat professional fascinatons at their own game.

This is a novel and interesting suggestion of how to solve one of the oldest and most difficult problems in the world, but, alas, it has one fatal defect. It does not provide any way of keeping the wife perpetually young and beautiful, and this is absolutely necessary in dealing with the type of man whose ideal of a perfect home is a place that you can go to when the curtain rings in the cafes.

The theory that if you teach a girl to dance like a ballerina her husband will fox trot down the years with her without wearying, or that if she knows every move in the game of flirtation that she can keep him always a romantic and sighing lover, is a good one. The only trouble with it is that, like so many other good theories, it doesn't work out in actual practice. Facts are facts. A man's wife is his wife. Age will come. Custom will stale. And the man who finds his greatest interest in life in dancing and flirting is bound to have a change of partners somebody always younger and fresher, to give zest to the game, even if his wife is past mistress of both arts.

Equally fallacious is the idea that a man finds coquetry as alluring in the home circle as out of it. Before marriage it undoubtedly stimulates a man's interest in a girl and his desire for her if she keeps him guessing as to the state of her affection and whether she really prefers him to some other man. But after marriage, trust and faith are essential to domestic peace and happiness, and the strongest hold that any wife has upon her husband is just his surety of her unflinching devotion and the knowledge that no matter if all the world turned against him she would stand unflinchingly at his side.

Undoubtedly, however, the masculine moth is eternally attracted by glare and glitter and the girl who is pretty, and showy, and smartly dressed, and who is a good dancer, and who has the best repertoire of tricks and wiles, has men awaiting around her like bees around a honey pot, while her prim, demure, domestic, puritanical sister is left to paper the wall, with never a man in telephoning distance of her.

That's fact No. 1. Fact No. 2 is that although a man may be daunted by glare and glitter, he doesn't often desire to spend the balance of his life circling around an arc lamp. He wants the quiet, shaded candle light for the long pull of years. For it is one of the inexplicable vagaries of the masculine temperament that a man generally desires his wife to be an entirely different woman from the girl he married.

The thing that attracted him to her may have been because she was such a silly little doll baby, with those clinging ways, but as a wife he expects her to be wise and common sense and efficient. He may have fallen in love with her because she was such a good sport and so unconventional, but as his wife he demands that she shall be the pink of propriety and not give Mrs. Grundy any reason for talk.

All of this shows how difficult a task it is to decide just what a girl needs to be taught to fit her for the profession of wifehood. If we teach her how to make the most of such looks as it has pleased heaven to vouchsafe to her, how to dance, how to flirt a little and jolly a lot, we shall have taught her all that can be taught of the gentle art of catching a husband. But we will not have taught her how to keep him after she gets him.

To be a successful wife a woman needs to have a cultivated mind, to be thrifty, to be a good executive, to be domestic, to be patient and forbearing, to have all the qualities that the little painted butterfly does not possess.

Yet if we educate our girls along these lines, if we teach her how to make bread instead of cocktails, if we teach her to darn stockings, instead of dancing them out, if we teach her to shrink from being conspicuous, instead of being a goodlooker that sets everybody rubbering, why, we've simply handicapped her chances of catching a husband and making the good wife we've educated her to be.

So there you are, as the late Henry James would say. And it all goes to show that being a woman is the most complicated job on earth and requires the widest range of education that it is possible to give to any human being. It needs to take in everything real and artificial, sensible and non-sensical, profound and frivolous, and which is the more important for her to know no human being can tell.

Certainly the woman who thinks of nothing but dress and whose brains are cut on the bias and shirred in the middle, who never knows any higher longing than to win a bridge prize, and whose ideal of a perfect life is to go from party to party and theater to cabaret, is a poor, miserable creature deserving of our most withering contempt.

But on the other hand the woman who is a walking encyclopaedia with only a high browed line of conversation and who dresses like a rag bag, or the domestic woman who smells of bread and butter instead of Pala violets, or the woman whose soul is as angular as her body and who feels called on to tell a man of his faults instead of singing his virtues, is equally deserving of our censure.

Each of these types is ignorant of the fine art of being a woman, and the upshot of the whole matter is that to entitle a girl to her M. A. degree, she should be taught something of everything.

FOOD EXHIBIT TO END COURSE IN CONSERVATION

Bringing to a close the lectures and demonstrations in food conservation that have been held during the last two weeks under the direction of the women's committee of the territorial food commission, an exhibit will be held at the Y. W. C. A. on Wednesday afternoon and evening from 4 to 8:30 o'clock.

At this exhibit special emphasis will be placed on the three points brought out in the lectures—conservation of wheat, elimination of waste and use of home products.

It is earnestly urged that every man and woman in Honolulu call at the Y. W. C. A. some time during the afternoon to see this exhibit, which includes all of the work done during the course. Everything in the exhibit will deal with the three main points named.

"We believe that every woman in the territory is called for her share in this work to help the cause just as much as the men are drafted to fight," said Mrs. A. L. Andrews of the women's committee today. "Everything wasted is a contribution to starvation."

Mrs. Andrews points out that in Europe the burden of hunger is really falling more on the women and children than on the soldiers, for the weaker ones are devoting all their energies to supporting the army.

"The question has been raised," she says, "as to why these women should not take the substitutes which we are urging American women to try. There are two good answers. Many of them have had their home equipment demolished by the war and are not in a position to try the new things. Also the substitutes deteriorate quickly and are not safe to send for such a long distance and for long keeping."

To help offset the expenses of the food lessons the products that make up the exhibit will be sold to visitors. They are not to be taken away before 8 o'clock, and it is preferred that they be taken between 8 and 8:30.

CHURCH SERVICE AT C. U. TO OPEN 6TH CONVENTION

Minister David Cary Peters of the Christian church has been designated by the Inter-Church Federation to deliver the sermon at the union services to be held in Central Union church Sunday evening, September 16.

On that night the First Methodist and Christian churches will be closed and their congregations are requested to attend the services at Central Union church and join in opening the sixth annual Civic Convention.

Delegates to the convention from the other islands are due here Saturday morning, September 15, which will give them a chance to take in the aquatic sports on Regatta Day.

The following morning they will be taken on a trip around the island by the Honolulu Automobile Club, leaving the Alexander Young hotel for the Pali early that morning, stopping for luncheon at the Haleiwa hotel and returning by way of Schofield Barracks.

PAN-PACIFIC UNION AND PROMOTION COMMITTEE SHOULD WORK TOGETHER

Alexander Hume Ford tells of his work for the Pan-Pacific Union in San Francisco in recent letters to E. A. Berndt, chairman of the Promotion Committee. Mr. Ford says in part: "I have learned much this trip and one thing impressed on me is that in the future far more of your work had better be done from San Francisco."

"Our Promotion Committee and Pan-Pacific Union must work together in Honolulu and we must work together here. I think now that the Northwestern Tourist Association as well as the Central California and even seven counties of Southern California will go on with the rest of us for a Pan-Pacific Union ground floor joint display office on Market street, where we will all work together to get people to Hawaii and the Pacific. (The Pacific countries will also come in, small at first until after war)."

"Halton, Cloud and I are doing the active work on the Balboa Day Pan-Pacific banquet at the St. Francis hotel, and the convention to follow Mr. Scott is pulling cables (not wires) for the big speakers and interests to be represented."

On August 9, he writes again, saying: "We are going to have a Pan-Pacific building here on Market street. All of the foreign made organizations are coming in as units of the Pan-Pacific Union and the building that was to have been called the foreign manufacturers building will be the Pan-Pacific, with the ground floor and basement reserved for our Pan-Pacific Union. Information bureau and commercial museum, and I trust the Hawaii Promotion Committee mainland office will occupy a space in the center of our Pan-Pacific information bureau. I addressed the Foreign Trade Club (part of the chamber of commerce) last night. Mr. Scott and Mr. Halton being present. The Pan-Pacific union and San Francisco building were the subjects of discussion and approval. I am addressing similar organizations almost daily now and they are lining up.

"As I write, a phone invitation comes from the chairman of the foreign relations committee of the Commonwealth Club to lunch with him and discuss the entrance of his organization into the Pan-Pacific union. I address this club next week."

"At our Pan-Pacific conference here in September I have the first of the ten papers 'The Pan-Pacific Union,' and the president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce the last, 'A Practical Suggestion.' We get (he and I) together next week to work it all out. In the middle of the program comes 'Hawaii,' Halton speaking and boosting for Pan-Pacific effort. All of the Pacific Tourist Associations, etc., are with us."

INTERNEED GERMANS ARE OFF

One Hundred and Eighty Prisoners of War Board Transport Sherman for Transfer to War Camp in Utah

UNDER an armed guard of 150 American soldiers, 180 German war prisoners left at noon today on the transport Sherman for the mainland. From San Francisco they will be sent by train to Fort Douglas, Utah, for internment.

Of the 180 prisoners 159 were enlisted men and 21 were officers. They were removed from the former German gunboat Geier on February 3, and most of the time since then have been guarded at Schofield Barracks where the men worked the gardens.

At 8 o'clock this morning the prisoners left Schofield under guard of Co. D, 32nd Infantry, which will act as their guard on the trip across to San Francisco.

On arriving at the O. R. & L. Company depot the prisoners were assembled in marching order and marched down the streets to the waterfront. They were sent immediately to the wharf from which the Sherman was to sail. Here their baggage was arranged under close supervision of army officials and shortly after 10 o'clock they were marched on board. They were placed in quarters in the hold.

With the exception of Lieut. Portwich, who was detained by the authorities in connection with the investigation proceeding in the Nurse Berg case, all of the German prisoners formerly stationed here have now departed. A number of the prisoners taken at the beginning of war from the war-bound German freight boats had been sent previously.

With the departure today of these 180 officers another chapter is written in the history of the little Geier which came hither-skitter into port here three years ago with a Japanese cruiser on her trail. The Geier was in poor condition and was given a month to repair and leave to intern, according to the rules of war. At the end of this time she interned and vital parts of her machinery were removed to Pearl Harbor and placed under official lock and key.

On February 3, upon news that relations had been severed between the United States and Germany, the crew of the Geier sought to destroy here, pouring paint and oil into her furnaces and setting fire to it. This fire was put out by the combined work of the city department and the military authorities, and a few days later the Geier was towed to Pearl Harbor for repair.

"The district board directs that all those who have received such notification must file their papers and present addresses with the board at the capitol building, Honolulu, without delay."

PEACE PLEA IS REJECTED BY JAPANESE

TOKIO, Japan, Sept. 3.—The pope's plea for peace in the great European war will be rejected by Japan, it was officially announced today. Japan will join with the Allies in turning down the pontiff's plea. It was also announced that the German colonies in the Pacific and Africa, seized by England and Japan, will not be restored to the Kaiser's government.

Chicago Mayor Faces Ousting For War Stand

National Security League Takes Steps Because of Alleged Pro-German Feeling

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 3.—The antagonism toward William Hale Thompson took definite shape today with an announcement by the National Security League that it has taken steps to bring about the ousting of Thompson from the mayoralty because of his lukewarm loyalty to the cause of the entente allies.

In some quarters Mayor Thompson is regarded as a German sympathizer because of the numerous acts of omission and commission in an official capacity of which he has been guilty.

The public became interested in Mayor Thompson war sympathies when he refused to extend an invitation to the British commission to visit Chicago with the French mission headed by Marshal Joffre.

Later the school board which is under the mayor's domination refused to delete from the school text books paragraphs lauding the Kaiser.

HAWAII CAN LOOK FOR BIG TOURIST TRAFFIC IN WINTER

Now That People Know Results of Draft They Will Travel More, Says S. R. Jordan

"A big tourist travel to Hawaii is expected this winter by the traveling agencies and steamship lines on the coast," declared Sidney R. Jordan, manager of the Hawaii Tours company, who returned this morning on the Sierra after a two months' tour of the western states.

"It is not the fear of the reported submarines which has kept the people off of the Pacific as much as uncertainty about the draft. People have been waiting to hear the results of the draft before they make extensive trips," declared Mr. Jordan this morning.

GERMAN PRESS STILL HAMMERS WILSON'S REPLY

AMSTERDAM, Holland, Sept. 3.—The German press continues to belabor President Wilson in the bitterest tone for his recent reply to Pope Benedict's peace proposals.

The socialist press, Vorwarts, also comes in for a severe criticism for demanding that the nation take good advice regardless of the source and institute democratic reforms, which must be a preliminary condition to any peace negotiations.

Organs of the Conservative party claim that the Socialists have weakened the position of Germany in the eyes of the Entente Allies.

Miss Isabella Naman, president of the Kaunakapili Intermediate Christian Endeavor Society, will give an entertainment at her home in Kaplanui and Prospect street tonight at 7 o'clock in honor of James Akimo, a member of the society who is to leave for the coast on Wednesday morning on the steamer Maui.

'WITH U.S. IN FIGHT WE LOSE'

--Hun Officer

Captured German Commander, After Interview With General Pershing, Realizes Futility of Teuton Cause

PARIS, France, Sept. 3.—That the Germans have not yet come to a proper realization of the strength which the United States is planning to throw on the side of her Allies, is shown in the statement made by a German officer recently captured at Verdun, when he laughed at the thought of America ever being a factor to be taken seriously in the great world war.

"It is a pity so much blood has been shed in vain," asserted the officer when interviewed by French staff officers, referring to the failure of the Crown Prince to capture that blood-soaked sector of the western line.

The captive officer was taken before Gen. J. J. Pershing, commander of the United States forces in France, who enlightened him as to the serious nature of his country to see the war through to a victorious issue. When he left he had tears in his eyes, and on bidding Pershing goodbye said: "That being the case, all is over—we have lost."

MANILA, P. I., Sept. 3.—The Philippine government has decided to send President Ferguson of the Insular bank to the United States in an endeavor to protect the products of the islands from being included in any possible price fixing which the food control board may assume, and to explain conditions now pertaining to the islands.

The value of the peso has risen above par, and the exportation of the coin has been prohibited. Certificates of the face value of a peso have been authorized in order to retire the silver money.

U. S. Drinks Up 164,665,240 Gallons Booze

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Communication Service)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 3.—All records for the consumption of whisky were smashed during 1916-17, figures compiled by the internal revenue office for its annual report, which were made public today, show. The consumption of spirituous liquors totaled 184,665,240 gallons, and at this rate the supply of liquor on hand after the new food control law prohibiting the manufacture of whisky after September 8, becomes effective, would last the nation for two years.

Soldier Seen With German Under Arrest

Court Martial Probably Awaits Schofield Officer of Guard Who Went Golfing With Interned Prisoner

HELD under "arrest at quarters," a sergeant of the 1st Infantry, Schofield Barracks, is said to be facing investigations under charges connected with his association with one of the German officers that until today have been held as prisoners at that post.

The exact nature of the charges to be placed against the non-commissioned officer has not been ascertained by the Star-Bulletin, but his orders to consider himself under arrest were given after he had been seen on the golf links at Schofield alone with the German officer, driving golf balls, early last week, it is reported.

The non-commissioned officer was sergeant of the guard on Monday. Since that date he has not left the barracks save to take the usual setting up exercises with the men, it is said, and his belt and bayonet have been taken from him.

As the story goes, the sergeant joined the German officer first at the canteen, the two entering into conversation and indulging in a smoke and a soda.

The German was bound for the golf links, it seems, a quarter-mile or so distant. The sergeant volunteered to carry his clubs and together they wended their way across to the grounds. It was when they had reached the grounds and were busy making practice drives thereon that they were noticed by one of the captains of the regiment.

This officer, it is said, was not the commander of the sergeant's own company—the latter being sergeant of the guard at the time. But the officer reported the matter at once to the sergeant's company commander.

This captain went directly to the two men and is said to have taken the sergeant to task in no mincing words. The two are said to have engaged in a hot debate for a moment after which the captain ordered the non-commissioned officer to his quarters where he has since remained. It is rumored at Schofield Barracks that a court martial awaits the enlisted man.

The German officer is said to have been one of those allowed considerable freedom on parole. This was not given to all of the prisoners, by any means. There was one officer in particular who has always been trailed by a veteran soldier as guard.

Not a move was made by him without the guard close beside him. It is said that even when he went to the bathroom the guard with his rifle was a close attendant. Just why this was is not known definitely. One report which is pretty generally believed was that he was caught one night flashing supposed signals with a "bug" light from a window of the guard house.

COMBINED LAND AND SEA ATTACK BY HUNS FORCES EVACUATION

Disaffection Among Troops Proves Potent Ally of the German Armies, Several Russ Regiments Voluntarily Retiring—Crossing of Dvina River By Teutons Menaces Defenders

PETROGRAD, Russia, Sept. 3.—It was officially announced by the war department today that the Russian troops defending Riga had abandoned that city.

Serious disaffection was again manifest among the Slav troops, several regiments voluntarily abandoning their positions and retiring northward.

The Press Association, giving a summary of the fighting in the northern end of the 1000 mile eastern front, says that Riga was abandoned under the combined threat of sea and land forces.

The deciding blow was struck on Saturday when the Teuton armies effected a crossing of the river Dvina, about a dozen miles south of the beleaguered city. The Slav garrison was also menaced from Mitau, 20 miles to the southwest of the gulf city, and all efforts to stem the oncoming rush of the Germans proved futile.

The Russian fleet is anchored on the right flank of Riga, and the movements of the war vessels are uncertain as much will depend on the size and purpose of the Teuton plans of offense.

BERLIN, Germany, Sept. 3.—After a heavy artillery preparation, our troops crossed the Dvina on both banks at Ushail. Russians are in full retreat and are burning villages and farms. Russians rear guards are desperately fighting to hold back the victorious Teutons on the roads to Riga.

NEGROES ATTACK WHITE SOLDIERS

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Communication Service)

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 3.—Ten negroes were injured in a clash here with members of the Kentucky National Guard as a result of bitter racial feeling recently developed in this state.

The soldiers are alleged to have started the trouble by shoving negro pedestrians off the sidewalks. This action was resented and a riot ensued, in which several blacks were severely manhandled. Guardsmen are patrolling the city.

ITALIANS PUSHING FOE BACK

With the Return of Pleasant Weather on Western Front Germans Attack But are Repulsed

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Communication Service)

ROME, Italy, Sept. 3.—Gen. Cadorna continues to carry the fight into the enemy territory, despite desperate counter attacks by the Austrians.

Italian troops are advancing surely though slowly in the Brestovizza valley. South of Gorizia several violent counterattacks have been repulsed, and the new positions held by Cadorna's men have been consolidated and are firmly held.

UDINE, Italy, Sept. 3.—Though vile weather prevails on the front, fighting still continues. The battling has resolved itself into hand-to-hand combats with small detachments of Austrians who have been caught in shell holes and galleries, isolated by Italian fire and unable to retreat.

The Italians are gradually straightening out their new line, and the Teuton defenders, wholly unable to advance or retreat, are surrendering wholesale.

Many counter attacks have been bloodily repulsed by Cadorna's men, and many prisoners are passing to the rear to intern camps. These seem most fresh troops brought up in an effort to turn the tide of battle, and are well equipped.

The attacking armies have not lost a single yard of ground taken in the last great offensive, and the morale of the Austrians in face of the terrible hammering is decidedly weaker.

BRITISH FRONT IN FLANDERS, Sept. 3.—Fine weather is prevailing along the Flanders front, and the ground is drying up fast, which will permit of infantry activities being soon renewed.

Today artillery duels are in progress, and many air raids have been conducted against enemy positions far in the rear of the German front lines.

PARIS, France, Sept. 3.—French troops along the Aisne today bloodily repulsed several stubborn German attacks, wave after wave of attackers melting under the terrible machine gun fire poured into their ranks by the French. Heavy artillery duels are in progress around Verdun.

LONDON, England, Sept. 3.—Favorable weather along the Belgian front is again reported, and hostilities were resumed today by the Germans throwing powerful counter attacks against the northern lines.

All were repulsed, however, and a successful raid on Teuton trenches was carried out at Monchy Le Preux.

GERMAN NAMED IN BERG CASE DETAINED HERE

Lieutenant Portwich Not Sent on Transport at Request of City Attorney's Office

Lieut. Portwich, former officer of the Geier, whose name has been mentioned in connection with the circumstances surrounding the death of Miss Florence Berg, former Queen's hospital nurse, has been detained in Honolulu by the military authorities following a request from the city and county attorney's office. When the German prisoners left Honolulu this morning on the transport Sherman, Lieut. Portwich was not with them.

The discovery that letters had passed between a nurse in Honolulu and the German officer while he was a war prisoner at Schofield Barracks, gave the investigation of the Berg case a new turn last week. That the nurse was Miss Berg and that the letters had reference to her condition has been the belief of the army men investigating the case.

The officer will now be held pending further investigation of this phase of the case by the civil authorities.

PRESENT LOVING CUP TO MAJ. WALTER BAKER

Vice Rampant Here, Federal Officers Find

Dozens of Complaints Reach Marshal Smiddy Who Begins Probe; Has Warned Women to Leave Houses in Residential Districts

THAT Honolulu is teeming with commercialized vice to a degree far greater than before closing the Iwilei restricted district, and that it is rapidly spreading to the better residential districts, is the substance of dozens of complaints which are being received by federal officials and which are being investigated by U. S. Marshal J. J. Smiddy.

"Conditions are rotten—and that is the only word that expresses it clearly—and are becoming worse every day," declares one federal official. He asserts that, in his opinion, the only way to remedy present conditions will be to reopen the restricted district.

Complaints regarding the prevalence of commercialized vice have been coming into the marshal's office by the score during the last three weeks, he says. "These are to the effect that houses in respectable residential districts are being rented by women, who not only ply their trade in spite of repeated judicial warnings, but who are selling liquor without licenses, and it is asserted that soldiers form the majority of the purchasers of the booze."

A complaint reached Marshal Smiddy this morning from a well-known citizen that three women, formerly of Iwilei, have established a residence in Beretania street, where they are alleged to be catering to soldiers and peddling booze. Other districts, equally as respectable, are likewise being infested by these women, the marshal has learned.

Marshal Smiddy has already made several investigations and in each case warned the women to leave the houses they were occupying. No arrests were made as no actual evidence, either of the commission of a statutory offense or the sale of liquor, was secured. Other complaints have been turned over to the police department for investigation.

"Reports reaching me are to the effect that vice is rampant and that it is breaking out all over the city," says the marshal. "It is a case where little Iwilei are established alongside of respectable homes, and where school children are constantly brought in touch with the menace. This office will do all in its power to keep the vice from residential districts, and wipe out, if we are able, the vice existing there now."

Women of the underworld, the marshal has been informed, have been renting rooms by the wholesale as rendezvous in which to ply their trade. By clever acting they have been able to fool even the owners of the houses, who do not know who they are.

"At the present time," says the marshal, "it will be impossible for this office to personally investigate all complaints, as they have come in by the dozen, but we intend to continue our investigations."

One story reaching the marshal, and which he is inclined to believe is authentic, tells of a young Hawaiian girl who married a soldier recently for the purpose of securing a marriage license as a protection against arrest in playing the trade of the underworld. The husband of the woman, who resents

SECRECY VEILS ACTIVITIES OF LABOR LEADERS

Report is Proposed Will Be Submitted to Planters' Association Soon

New plans, new ideas and new arrangements are being considered by the leaders of the Japanese association for higher wages, according to reports current in Japanese circles, but what they are no one outside of the association appears to know.

The leaders are said to have declared that unless they keep their actions unknown to the planters' association, they cannot accomplish anything, and it is now certain they will, in the future, try to keep the most important matters as secret as possible.

They intend, however, to present their proposition to the planters' association as soon as it has been approved by the so-called "board of leaders."

Fred K. Makino, R. Murakami and K. Shibayama, secretary of the association, when asked about these plans, said that they had nothing important to tell. They even admitted that they did not know when the second conference of the association will be called.

As is well known, when the leaders of the higher wage association went to Kona, Hawaii, some weeks ago, no action had been taken by the special committee which was authorized at the first conference to appoint sub-committees. In the meantime, according to reports, S. J. Maki, one of the members of the committee, was confined to his home with illness for a few days. Y. Takakuwa, another member of the committee, it is reported, was considering resigning his position.

Dr. I. Katsuki, another member, will soon leave for Japan, where, it is said, he and his family will stay for several months. Dr. J. Uchida and M. Komeya are the other members of the committee.

Owing to business pressure, the committee did not have a well-attended meeting. The committee decided, however, to report to the second conference that it could not, after carefully considering the matter, appoint sub-committees as proposed, because it felt it did not have full authority so to do.

This explanation, which was published in all the Japanese dailies, was not acceptable to the Japanese community, it is reported.

DIVORCE SUITS IN COURT SET RECORD WITH 52 IN MONTH

Marital difficulties in Honolulu families have nearly doubled during the last month.

According to circuit court records 52 divorce suits were filed in August, which is considered a record and which is nearly twice the number filed in July. A large number of the plaintiffs are Japanese, and the ground of desertion as a cause for divorce prevails to a greater extent than all other grounds. Several cases of extreme cruelty are noted, as well as many cases of failure to provide and habitual intemperance.

"If cases continue to come in at this rate," declared Clerk Ben Kahalepuna, who enters the divorce cases, "we will have to have a new record book before the end of the year."

Her actions, has been advised to get a divorce.

POLITICS HELD RESPONSIBLE FOR SYDNEY STRIKES

Labor Party Starts Tie-up to Put Nationalist Administration in Disrepute

Politics is held to be responsible for the strikes which are tying up industry and commerce in Australia, by Ivan Nelson, a prominent shipping day on the Ventura. Activities of I. W. W. agitators from the United States are also believed to be partly responsible for the labor trouble.

Most of the labor element of the latter class in Australia has been connected with the I. W. W. and the Nationalist party and this has made possible the inauguration of a Nationalist administration after the elections this spring. Mr. Nelson explains. To put the administration in disrepute their only hope is to start a strike in the future, the present labor party is causing countrywide strikes, he says.

Politics is the cause of nearly all the labor dissatisfaction, he thinks. He is confident that the labor party will never gain the power of the past and control the welfare of the commonwealth.

Mr. Nelson is going to the United States "for a look around," as he puts it. "The affairs of Australia and America are constantly growing closer and we want to arrange for the distribution and sale of our products. Commerce, too, is tied up by a shortage of bottoms. The government has taken over many of the larger ships and we have no carriers to get our produce to England, although there are still some large ships in the Antipodes trade," he says.

He intimates that if possible an attempt will be made in the United States to get more ships from the shipping board for the Australian-American trade. He will be in the United States for about six weeks.

C. M. Terry is another shipping man from Sydney, who expresses similar views to those of Mr. Nelson regarding the labor situation in Australia. Regarding conscription, he says: "It was foolish to ever put the question to a vote. The country ought to have done exactly what the United States did—passed legislation requiring conscription. No one is going to conscript himself."

He is a New Yorker who has been located in Australia for a number of years. His mission to the United States is the same as that of the other Sydney shipping men.

STRIKE HITS FRISCO HARD, SAYS CATHCART

John W. Cathcart, former city and county attorney of Honolulu, returned to Honolulu this morning on the Sierra after a short summer vacation in San Francisco.

"The street car strike is the most exciting thing there is in San Francisco," declared Attorney Cathcart this morning. "The street car service of the city has been practically tied up. Some cars have been running, but none were running after 7 o'clock at night. They feared trouble."

Attorney Cathcart stated that men were being brought in from the East to man the cars. The I. W. W., he said, had been the source of much trouble.

He was in San Francisco during the announcement of the results of the draft, but did not notice any tense excitement.

MAJOR LOSES LEG IN BATTLE WITH OTTOMANS

Australian Officer Tells How British Got 7000 of 18,000 Turks in 4-Day Battle

War's unkind fate and the physical nearness of the great conflict in Europe seemed to be drawn closer this morning when the Ventura entered the harbor with a British woman, widow of the slayer and her two fatherless girls aboard as passengers.

But it was to the uniform of a British officer that the eyes of the spectators were drawn. A man of evident physical perfection until he was deprived of a leg, but now in an on-feebled condition, although of rugged frame, was seen walking with a crutch and at the same time attempting to maintain a military attitude.

He is Maj. M. Shannon of the Australian Light Horse, who for two years did his bit at Gallipoli and in Egypt. His regiment was among the first of the Australian forces to be despatched to Europe at the beginning of the war in 1914. First he was detailed to the fighting sector at the Dardanelles, and later to Egypt. It was in Egypt that he was wounded.

With his brigade, he was on outpost duty inland about 25 miles from the Suez canal, when at night they were attacked by the Turks. Faced by overwhelming odds the British troops, about two regiments in the vicinity of the attack, were forced to withdraw, but slowly, as spread out in skirmish order it was desired to hamper the approach of the Turks until the main lines of the British would be ready to meet the Turks at daylight. Throughout the night the fighting continued, while the lines of the British were strengthened and the Turks were drawn on by the Light Horse to a battle front where the fight lasted for four days, before the Turks were routed.

It was as day was approaching that Major Shannon was wounded after the all night fight. Simply, he explains, when questioned, that "it was just a bullet that got me in the leg. An artery was severed and amputation was necessary," he says with nonchalance.

Major Shannon is en route to England where he will remain and while passing through the states he will secure an artificial limb.

With a satisfied smile, weariness and thoughts of personal suffering seemed to pass from him as he said, enthusiastically: "There must have been 18,000 of the Turks in this attack, but after four days we had 7000 of them."

ELKS HAVE ENJOYABLE DANCE AT THE MOANA

Saturday night was Elks' night at the Moana hotel and a hundred or more persons turned out to partake of the jollity that characterized the occasion. The grounds of the hotel were brilliantly lighted, one decorative scheme being the large American flag whose brilliant electric hues gave a patriotic background for the event. The grounds were likewise festooned with Japanese lanterns while in the center was a large Elks' emblem.

Dancing was the main amusement of the evening, interspersed with several impromptu vaudeville acts of a local flavor, in one of which Captain McDuffie held the center of the boards. As the hour of 11 o'clock was sounded the lights were dimmed and the Elks' toast to the absent brethren given in impressive manner.

MISS MARIE K. HOLST WEDS VERNON GEDGE

The wedding of Vernon M. Gedge and Miss Marie K. Holst was solemnized Saturday afternoon by Rev. Leon L. Loofbourou, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church. The witnesses were Miss Mildred M. Hushaw and Mrs. Loofbourou.

After the ceremony the young couple left in the Mauna Kea for Hilo and the Volcano, where they will spend a brief honeymoon. Mr. Gedge, who is connected with Theo. H. Davies & Co., is a son of Norman E. Gedge of the Inter-Island Steam Navigation company. The bride has connected with the Trent Trust company.

FAIR PASSENGER TELLS OF ESCAPE FROM HUN U-BOAT

Australian Woman on Mediterranean Trip Gets All Thrills of Exciting Chase

To be a passenger on a boat which was chased by a submarine was the experience of Miss Emily Plunkett and her mother who are passing through Honolulu today on their return to Australia.

Miss Plunkett and her mother recently went to London through the Mediterranean, returned to Australia, took a quick trip across the Pacific and are now on their way back to Australia.

"The boat was sunk by a submarine on the next voyage," stated Miss Plunkett. "When we were on her she was attacked by a submarine, but they did not get us."

"We noticed that the boat was going faster, but our inquiries were not answered. Finally all of the lifeboats were swung over the side and all passengers were told to put on life preservers."

"Thus rigged out we waited in tense anxiety for the sound of the crash. The passengers stood near the boats ready to get into them at a moment's notice, but the shock never came, and we arrived safely."

The case of Charles Pangelinan, charged with the commission of a statutory offense, is scheduled to go to trial in Circuit Judge Heen's court tomorrow morning. Attorney J. M. Monsarrat, former police judge, is counsel for the defendant.

TWICE WOUNDED, COMING HERE TO REGAIN HEALTH

Howard Wilson, Fresh From
Trenches, Will Visit Mother
in Honolulu

After being wounded twice in France where he has been doing his "bit" in the trenches with the forces of the Allies, Howard Wilson, half-brother of W. G. Chalmers of the Pacific Engineering Co., will return to Honolulu soon to visit his mother and incidentally regain his strength before going back to the war.

Young Wilson, who came to Honolulu about three years ago, went to Canada shortly after arriving here and joined the Canadian expeditionary forces. He was soon sent to France where he saw active service in the trenches. He was twice wounded, first in the neck and then in the shoulder, the last wound disabling him.

Although rendered physically unfit for further trench fighting by the Hun bullet, Mr. Wilson intends to return to Canada after he has visited with his mother for a few weeks, and take his place in the ranks of those who are doing their "bit" back of the firing line. Chalmers has a brother in the Canadian army in France.

LITTLE CHANCE OF CHEAP SUGAR SAYS SPRECKELS

There is little chance of any decrease in sugar prices during the remaining months of 1917, says the San Francisco Examiner of August 24.

It is not likely that national control of sugar will be brought about for some time.

These opinions and others about the cost and prices of sugar were expressed yesterday by Claus A. Spreckels, president of the Federal Sugar Refining Co. of New York, Spreckels, who is better known in San Francisco as "Gus" Spreckels, is here for a short business trip. Among other things he said:

"Most of the available Cuban sugar has been bought up, largely by the British. It is shipped to England raw, and I am told much of it is used there in the raw state.

"Sugar is exceedingly scarce in the United States. It will be scarce until the Louisiana crop comes in and until the best sugar business commences to turn out this year's crop.

Prices Based on Cuban Sugar

"Sugar prices are based on the price of Cuban sugar, 96 degrees, in New York. I see by today's newspapers that this was 7.46 cents a pound. With little sugar coming from Cuba, with our own people all at the bottom of the sugar barrel—so to speak—tell me how prices can come down radically? "What will be done by the Federal authorities to control the sugar prices I cannot say. No one knows.

"I have heard reports that a price of about 5 cents is to be fixed for raw sugar and 6 1/2 cents for granulated. This, understand, is the maximum.

"If this is attempted, it will be radically different from what has been done with wheat.

"The government fixes a minimum price of $2 a bushel for wheat, and it does not sell for that much the government proposes to guarantee the price.

Transportation Costs

"On the other hand, the suggestion is made that the government fix a maximum price for sugar, not the minimum as is being done with wheat. The proposals are totally different. I am not prepared to offer any argument as to why a wheat farmer should be guaranteed a remunerative return for his wheat and no limit on the top prices, while a beet or cane raiser should have the maximum fixed for him.

"If the price of 5 cents is fixed for raw sugar, the cane sugar of Cuba will not come to the United States; neither will cane sugar come from other countries. I cannot see how the government can compel Cuban and other foreign sugar raisers to sell at the price fixed in the United States.

"Mighty little sugar is coming to this country that has to be transported any great distance. For instance, raw sugar is cheap in Java, because there are no vessels to bring it here.

"High freights are having a constantly increasing influence on all shipments, in or out. To show what freights must be paid I can instance a shipment of sugar recently made by us to Marseilles, France. The freight was 6 cents a pound, or $120 a short ton. The cargo was about 6000 tons. The freight was $720,000 for the trip.

"I am sorry to say that I cannot see any immediate relief in prices and I have tried to explain why according to the best information I can get."

SOLDIERS RESENT REFLECTION CAST ON DEAD COMRADE

Captain Keleher in Behalf of
His Men Sets Forth Facts
of Death of Victim

That statements recently published in a local morning paper concerning the death of Pvt. John T. Domaraski, Co. L, 32nd Infantry, and which attributed his death to "Demon Rum," were absolutely without foundation, is the assertion made in a letter written to the Star-Bulletin by Capt. Geo. Keleher, commanding Co. L, 32nd Infantry, and a member of the military board which investigated the accident.

The letter, which is self-explanatory, reads as follows:

"Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin, Honolulu, H. T.

"Sir: I am writing you this letter with a hope that you give it particular prominence, in order that the public of Honolulu may know the facts instead of hallucinations as published by the Commercial Advertiser on September 1, 1917, relative to the death of the late Private John T. Domaraski, Co. L, 32nd Infantry.

"I am prompted in this action for the following reasons: "First, I have been stationed in the Hawaiian Islands for one year and a half and have noted that your paper has always been truthful, honest and absolutely just in your items about the soldiers, sailors and marines.

"Second, The Commercial Advertiser on September 1, 1917, was not to be satisfied by writing an account, absolutely without foundation, upon the accident and death of Private Domaraski, which they attributed to 'Demon Rum's further achievements,' but they must further give their paper a name by taking this soldier's death into their editorial columns.

"Third, The officers and men of this battalion, of which I am now in command, resent this 'injustice and the stigma that it might possibly bear with the public.

"Fourth, This unjust defamation of the dead.

"I am in command of Co. L, 32nd Infantry, and have known Private J. T. Domaraski since he joined the company September 18, 1916. His character and service during this time was excellent. At all times he has been sober, industrious and above reproach in the performance of his duties and his conduct. I was further the president of a board of officers detailed to investigate fully into the circumstances surrounding his death. The board completed its finding and reached its conclusions today and forwarded its report to the military authorities. We had before us to testify under oath, the soldiers who were in the car, Cpl. Hodan, Battery F, 1st Field Artillery, and the conductor, engineer and brakeman of the train.

"We found the following to be facts:

"First, The approach to the crossing at which the accident occurred was such, due to trees and houses, that a train, coming from the direction that No. 30 was coming, could not be seen by a pedestrian until he was about 15 yards from it.

"Second, That Private John T. Domaraski jumped from the automobile just before the machine crossed the track but due to the proximity of the train he could not check himself or reach the other side of the track.

"Third, That this soldier's actions were not prompted by 'Demon Rum' but were those of a sober man who saw death facing him and attempted to avoid it.

"Fourth, That from the time of the accident to the time of his death he bravely faced the intense pains caused by the injuries he had received.

"Fifth, That his death resulted from the following injuries: Fracture compound comminuted both bones right leg; fracture small comminuted both bones left leg; lacerated wound just below knee 2x2 1/2 inches; fracture compound skull outer table 1 inch above and 1 inch behind left external angular process; lacerated wound 4x2 inches inflowing skin subcutaneous tissue and left temporal muscle extending from just above left zygoma to sagittal suture; fracture small both bones left forearm; contusion 4x6 inches lower region each lateral; contusion slight 4x4 inches over right trochanter; contusion slight 8x4 inches external surface left thigh; lacerated wound 1x1 1/2 inches above and to right of anus.

"In conclusion I will state that I defy and challenge the Commercial Advertiser to prove this unwarranted, unjust and entirely uncalled for defamation of one of our soldier dead.

"GEORGE KELEHER,
Captain 32nd Infantry,

COLLEGE USHERS IN RESUMPTION OF SCHOOL YEAR

With the resumption of the St. Louis college term, a morning at 8 o'clock the boys and girls of Honolulu will begin to flock back to the city to continue their study. By next week, it is expected that the students from the various schools will again be in session.

The war will not so far affect the schools of the city as it has those of some places on the mainland. Punahele, Waialeale and the Kapaemahu boys' school will continue their studies with renewed energy and other schools will continue to keep their students up as before. The department of public instruction has found it difficult to get male teachers during the summer but says it will have a force next year with the usual number of men.

Two new teachers are on the staff of the St. Louis college. Brother Adolph, who is coming from Japan, where he has taught for 11 years, will have charge of the junior and senior science classes. Brother Walter, who had charge of the science classes last year, has left for Dayton, Ohio, where he will teach in the engineering school.

Brother Ernest comes direct from Dayton, Ohio, to take the place of Brother Edward, who has been in charge of the third grade of the preparatory department.

New teachers for the public schools in Honolulu and all of the islands arrived in large numbers on the Maui last week and on the Sierra this morning. They are being sent to their various schools from the department of public instruction which is unusually busy at present caring for them.

Among the new teachers to arrive for Punahele last week were: Helen C. Spalding, from Hudson, Vermont, a Simmons college graduate, who will be matron of the dormitories; Miss Alice Wolf of San Francisco, and Miss Lucy L. Doggett, a niece of Prof. Charles H. Hitchcock, from Woodmere school, Long Island.

Miss Alice L. Castle and Miss Besie P. Wothall, who will teach in the Punahele preparatory school, have arrived. The latter is visiting Mrs. F. C. Lyster.

Punahele opens next Monday morning although the offices of both schools have been open for over a week now for early registration.

An increase in registration commensurate with the growth of the city is expected in most of the public schools.

CHARGE FORMER SLEUTH WITH SELLING LIQUOR

John Hill, former member of the local detective force, was arrested last Saturday night by Assistant Liquor License Inspector Jack Roberts and Detective Medeiros for the alleged sale of intoxicating liquor without a license. According to police, Hill has been selling liquor for a long time without being apprehended. When arrested, three pint flasks of whiskey and 32 quarts of beer were found. They will be used as evidence.

The regular monthly meeting of the Epiphany Woman's Auxiliary and Guild will be held at Guild hall, on Tenth avenue, on Tuesday, Sept. 4, beginning at 2:30 o'clock.

Give the children a chance at the big fish pond, corner Beretania and Fort streets, Sept. 8, 1917, where the delicatessen sale for the benefit of the Red Cross will be given.—Adv.

SHIPPING HELD UP BY AUSTRALIAN STRIKE; VENTURA DELAYED SIX DAYS

Despatch of Vessel Made Possible By Professional Men Working as Stevedores

Held for six days past her scheduled sailing date in Sydney by the Australian strike, the Ventura was able to get her cargo aboard only by the volunteer efforts of professional men, business men and farmers who came into the city from outside districts and worked like day laborers to make possible the despatch of the vessel.

There were dentists, doctors, bankers and wealthy ranchers among the amateur stevedores. Several of them were sworn sailors. The Ventura officers claim the voluntary work of these employers saved her from being delayed by the strike.

While the crew of the Ventura did not become affected by the strike, the men in Australia, the men refused to load cargo for the ship out of sympathy with the union workers who were on strike.

The Ventura has 41 cabin passengers and about the same number in the second cabin. There are five in the stowage. She carries 244 tons of general cargo. Four of the cabin passengers are for Honolulu, as are 17 of those in the second cabin.

The Honolulu cabin passengers are: E. Price, N. P. Price, Miss Price, and E. J. Warner. The second cabin list is given below: Miss M. Cullen, Miss P. M. Mackay, Madam M. Hour, Miss C. Henry, Miss Noma Harvey, Mrs. M. Line, Mrs. J. J. McPhillips, Mr. Braden, W. N. Skov, Mr. Durant, J. J. McAvoy, J. E. Anderson, E. Burke, G. A. Lettman, W. Rodman and J. Van der Lely.

Several American seamen, mostly electricians who have been on duty at Samoa, are passengers bound for the states.

BIXBY TO FIGHT IN SIGNAL CORPS

Arthur E. Bixby, formerly marine writer for the Honolulu Star-Bulletin, has followed out his announced intention of joining the signal corps of the California militia, according to reports received from the coast where he went about a month ago. The Santa Barbara News of August 15 had the following account: "The former Honolulu newspaper man."

"Arthur E. Bixby, formerly employed as a reporter on The News, arrives here tomorrow from Honolulu on his way to France. He was a member of the Hawaiian Guard when the war broke out, having for the past two years been in the signal corps service."

"Anxious to see active service he secured a transfer from Honolulu to San Francisco, and at San Francisco he was assigned to a signal corps destined for service in France. He has a brief furlough, which permits a stop here of two days, and a further visit of a few days with relatives at Covina."

"From there he joins his signal corps for the long journey to France. While in Honolulu he had been connected with the Star-Bulletin, going from The News to Honolulu to take a position on the Honolulu evening paper."

Labor Leader Darrow and Our War

At all the celebrations held today, labor's part in the war will be the universal text and the thought uppermost in all minds.

The chief glory will be the splendid record of the workingmen in their appreciation of what the war means to America and their prompt and willing response to the call of the country for men at the battlefield and millions behind the line.

I. W. W. and socialist assistants of Germany are exceptions that prove the rule. Labor is with the country and manfully backing our administration in working out the many tasks which America must perform, tasks never before done in the world's history. Leaders of labor have been quick to speak out. President Gompers did not have to hesitate when the time came for him to declare himself.

And now comes Clarence Darrow, the attorney who is regarded by many toilers as one of the prophets of the laborer's cause. Mr. Darrow has been a Pacifist, but he says, "I found that my theories could not fit the facts, so, unlike most Pacifists, I have decided to accept the facts and modify my theories. I was always a Pacifist until this war. I will be again—after Germany is licked."

This day devoted to labor is an appropriate occasion to read the conclusions of Mr. Darrow, after he has canvassed the whole situation from every possible angle. There is no qualification in Darrow's support. He says:

"There will be no real peace in the world until the Prussian military power is crushed. For no reason whatsoever Germany has deliberately broken the peace of the world. She was getting ready for this for forty years, while other nations were believing in peace and carrying out this belief."

"To know whether one believes in pacifism to the limit one must put oneself in the place of Belgium and France."

"It is idle to talk about non-resistance."

"Human nature is not made that way. No people fit to survive will be trampled upon. Belgium and France had to fight, to die, or surrender—which would have been far worse than death."

"Germany—disappointed because she could not conquer the world in a few months—engaged in submarine warfare, which, under the laws of nations, was nothing but piracy and murder."

"If America had not decided this meant war and was war she would not be fit to be a nation."

"If she were controlled by pacifists who would not fight under these conditions she would not long remain a nation."

"Had she refused to fight she would have received and deserved the contempt of all right thinking people."

"Many of those opposed to this war are everlastingly pointing out the shortcomings of the United States and other allied countries. I am well aware that this country is far from perfect."

"But whatever the shortcomings of this country, it is still free and better than any other of the great countries of the world. What we have is worth preserving and it cannot be preserved unless we are ready to fight."

"No one in America believes in war as a trade or an art, but we believe in self-defense and do not believe that barbarous warriors should be left free to overrun the world."

"This war has now become a war for preserving civilization. It is a war for democracy against the most medieval autocratic government of either Europe or America."

"I do not believe in any talk of peace. We should begin to fight before we talk about the terms of peace. It is not for Germany and Austria—either directly or indirectly—to bring about peace on anything like their own terms. They made this war, deliberately, ruthlessly and should suffer the consequences."

Mr. La Follette, the kaiser's spokesman in the United States senate, had an awful shock the other day. His resolution asking the United States to define its terms of peace was immediately picked up and spread broadcast by the American Union Against Militarism, and Mr. La Follette immediately sent out word that he did not speak for the American Union Against Militarism. It would be a shame indeed to have anyone doubt his service in the interests of the kaiser hosts.

Sit in a quiet corner and ask yourself whether you have done anything worth while in this fight of ours. It is your fight just as much as it is Woodrow Wilson's.

Labor Legislation of 1916.

Perhaps the most striking legislation reproduced in the annual volume of labor laws of the United States bureau of labor statistics, which has just been issued as Bulletin 213, is the act of Congress establishing 8 hours as a standard work day for employees operating trains on steam railroads in interstate commerce. Next to this may be placed the federal statute excluding from interstate traffic the products of the labor of children employed in mines or quarries under the age of 16, or in mills, canneries, factories, etc., under the age of 14 years; the hours of labor of children under 16 years of age must not exceed 8 per day, nor may such children work between 7 p. m. and 6 a. m.

State laws affecting the employment of children are also strengthened, as in South Carolina, where the age for employment in factories is raised from 12 to 14 years, while in Maryland the 14-year limit is extended to practically all industries except canning and packing. Laws regulating the employment of women are comparatively numerous in 1916, and it may be said that laws affecting women and children constitute the largest single group of laws appearing in the bulletin. In addition to statutes, there are important orders of industrial and welfare commissions fixing wages and hours for these classes of employees, and regulating the conditions of employment generally.

Of special interest is a rule issued by the Oregon industrial welfare commission fixing the hours of labor, minimum wages and learning periods of women and minors, including males up to 18 years, in a wide range of employments. This is in compliance with the provisions of the minimum wage law of the state, which was recently declared constitutional by a tie vote of the supreme court of the United States, one justice not voting.

The effect of federal legislation on state action is apparent in the enactment of liability laws for railroad employees in South Carolina and Virginia, which follow in large degree the pattern of the federal statute on the subject. Most of the states of the union have compensation laws, reproduced up to the end of the year 1916 in Bulletin No. 203 of the bureau of labor statistics. A few states retain the liability doctrine, and the action of South Carolina and Virginia tends at least to harmonize federal and state practice, though not coming up to the compensation standards generally accepted.

As affecting the employe and the public as well, a few states have laws prohibiting the giving or receiving of tips. Such a law was enacted by the Tennessee legislature of 1915 and vetoed by the governor. This veto was subsequently held void, and the act is reproduced in the present bulletin. Tennessee is the sixth state to have a law of this kind.

The idea of a requirement of artisans of certain classes to secure license continues to spread, laws of this class relating to barbers, plumbers, horse-shoers, chauffeurs, electricians and moving picture machine operators having been enacted during the year. The physical conditions of employment also received attention in the enactment of a number of regulations affecting factories and mines; while the settlement of labor disputes is the subject of an act of the South Carolina legislature. The latter act provides for arbitration on request, and gives a board of conciliation power to make investigations on its own motion, with compulsory attendance of witnesses, including the production of books and documents; a report may be published if a majority of the board approve.

Besides the text of the laws, Bulletin 213 contains a readable review of the acts in considerable detail, and a cumulative index covering the complete body of the labor legislation other than workmen's compensation laws, as compiled by the United States department of labor, bureau of labor statistics. Only 11 state legislatures and the federal congress had regular sessions last year; 5 other state legislatures met in special session.

If anyone doubts the cosmopolitan character of the loyal Americans who are rallying to the colors, just read this list of the surnames of men accepted for the army during one day in a registration district of New York: O'Leary, Tietjen, Bohn, Ulrich, Laurence, Seidel, Dorney, Bobenright, Kalz, Whalen, Crinion, Gavin, Brandenberg, Blassey, Sankey, Holly, Hopf, Monahan, Gameters, Anglum, Korman, Tasransky, Byrne, Weber, Hardiman, Tietelbaum, Cervini, McCormick, Straehl, Bozzi, Coyle, Kennedy, Garvey, Szndstrop, Kunz, Neaman, Wunner, Scaleria, Reilly, Cassata, Quires, Hickey, Henry.

Do your bit in the great crisis through which this nation is now passing.

Letters on TIMELY TOPICS

THE SUCCESS OF THE SCHOOLS.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin—
Sir: On the editorial page of the Star-Bulletin last week appeared a long statement, from Daily Financial America, entitled "New York's School Failure." Inasmuch as the present writer was associated with the New York school system for several years, and had kept in touch with recent developments there, he feels called upon to challenge the sweeping statements of this editorial. Permit him to submit the following:

1. The old cry of the critics "What's the matter with the schools?" has been worn so absolutely threadbare that it is no longer a subject for worthy discussion. Like all human institutions, the schools are subject to defects and vicissitudes.

On the other hand, there is undoubtedly no institution of the American people that has attained the same measure of consistent successes as have the schools, especially the public schools. This fact is abundantly testified by the great mass of the people themselves, as school products.

2. The editorial contains the same old story that has been going the rounds for years: the stale narrative of the astute employer and the school-boys who could not spell. The important point concerning this story is not that the schoolboys could not write legibly nor spell correctly; the important point is that the United States, owing to her splendid school system, has a smaller percentage of illiteracy than many other nations.

Italy has over 30 per cent illiterates; Spain, 58 per cent; Russia, 61 per cent; Austria, 26 per cent; Canada, 17 per cent; Belgium, 18 per cent; Greece, 57 per cent; United States, 7.7 per cent. The achievement of literacy for the great masses, as one of the supreme tests of democracy, should not be hidden under a discussion of the defects of the few.

The employer stated that "Most of the boys were utterly useless." That cannot be true, as representing a general condition. Most boys become distinctly useful to society, in spite of their alleged mis-schooling! It should be remembered that employers have been, universally and until quite recently, the greatest exploiters of child labor, and preventers of real education, that the world has ever known.

The average man is not willing to admit the debt which he owes to the social agencies—home, school, church and state—that have chiefly made him what he is. He is unwilling to acknowledge that most of himself has been built into him by society.

The school systems of none of the states or territories have been failures. They are in no sense failures today. They are the magnificent living insignia of a triumphant democracy. They comprise our greatest hope for the future. They are more successful in this year 1917 than they have ever been before in the history of our country. It is all right to fondly reminisce about the "little red school house" and "readin', ritin' and rithmetic," but those are as far back as the days before the telephone and the street car and we would not go back to them if we could.

The man who shouts about the "failure" of the schools, nowadays, simply informs the world that he doesn't know what is going on. He has never been close up to the schools. He does not know how to intelligently utilize the school product.

New York's schools have not failed, though they face larger and more complex problems than schools have ever faced before.

Respectfully yours,
VAUGHAN MACCAUGHEY,
The College of Hawaii,
Honolulu, Aug. 30, 1917.

A BOOST FOR F. G. KRAUSS

Hana, Maui, Aug. 29,
Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.

Sir: The tillers of the soil of Hana district were pleasantly surprised by a visit from F. G. Krauss, of the substation at Haku. With a thousand and one bugs and pests and unseasonable weather, those who try to make a living from the soil have many things with which to contend. Seed is not always good. The climate is peculiar. Conditions are such as they are. There are many surprises.

It is mighty good to have a man with a level head and good, common sense, like Mr. Krauss, to give honest, intelligent advice and practical suggestions. His concern is not for show so much as for service. He is not booming some local, temporary fad but looking into the future and seeking to plan for real men and real conditions in the years to come.

He is dead right when he says that what is needed in the islands is not gardens and crops so much as a market for the things that are raised and crops that will not perish in the handling. The one thing that the substation must equip itself to do is to put the man who raises the crop into touch with the man who needs the product for his personal consumption.

Mr. Krauss is earnestly anxious to make his station and himself of service to the men who are coming into the island and taking up land and seeking to make a living from the soil. These men need intelligent advice. They want some person to whom they may apply for disinterested and honest advice. Mr. Krauss is the man.

HANAITE.

GOOD WORD FOR POLICE

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.

Sir: We all like to see fair play, and in the interest of fair play I hope you will give space to this communication.

There has been considerable criticism of the police of late because they have been unable to catch the automobile thieves. It therefore gives me particular pleasure to give public praise to the excellent work of our police and motorcycle officers for so quickly locating my stolen automobile and catching the three thieves "red-handed."

I reported my loss by telephone at 8:45 p. m. At 10:24 p. m. I was notified that I could get my recovered automobile at the police station. It is, therefore, apparent that the thieves were actually caught in a little over one hour after notice was given them. Surely that is good work, and their prompt location of the machine in all probability accounts for the fact that no damage had been done, which probably could not have been said about midnight if the joy-riders had been able to use it that long.

The two motorcycle officers who made the arrests are W. B. Ferry and Jas. Stuppelbein. Thanking you for your courtesy in giving this publicity, I am,

Yours very truly,
J. T. WARREN.

WANTS NAMES OF AMES COLLEGE SOLDIERS.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.

I noticed in your last night edition "Tales About Town" that there were seventeen men recently enlisted in the army who have attended Iowa State College at Ames, Iowa. The writer is a graduate of that school, the class of 1912, and there are more of us here who get together occasionally. If these men will send their names and addresses to me we will see to it that some of this loneliness is driven away. It is a good idea for some of the other colleges to follow up. Perhaps they don't know how many men from their school are stationed here, I did not. Publicity would be appreciated.

Yours truly,
E. P. GIBSON.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

—ERNEST T. CHASE, principal of Punahou academy: We will lose a good many of our pupils who come from the army this year, but our total enrollment, however, will be about as large as usual.

—DUKE KAHANAMOKU: Yes, I am working hard for the races this week, but I cannot predict how they will come out. What we do is to get ready, do our best, and let the rest take its natural course.

—FRANK I. STEVENSON, Emergency hospital: The Emergency hospital force now has an official uniform which consists of khaki suit and a cap, on which we will place a plaque to designate our position. These uniforms will be ready in a short time.

—HENRY M. PLEMER, deputy sheriff of Waialua: We recently shut down a Filipino dance hall in Waialua which was running every night in the week. The noise emanating from the hall so disturbed the people in the vicinity that now we allow the hall to run only on Saturday nights.

—H. P. CAMPBELL: We have not obtained anyone to take the places of the six men from the experiment station that entered the training camp. Some of the men may be rejected from the camp after a month or so of training, so we are not planning to put anyone in their places right now.

The police ambulance was sent up to Mokuauia road and Queen street yesterday afternoon, but when it arrived no one was in sight. This is the second time the police wagon has responded without finding anyone who needed treatment at the city hospital.

Plans are about completed for starting the work on new buildings at Fort Ruger. These are to include a barracks building for one of the artillery companies, a set of officers' quarters and a new guard house.

World's Champions Will Be Seen In Action At Big Swimming Meet This Evening; First Race At 7.30

Four Big Events Scheduled for Tonight—Duke Kahanamoku Favored to Win 50-Yard Event—Norman Ross and Kruger Will Meet in Backstroke and 440—Visiting Mermaids Will Battle in 220—New Records May Be Established in Aquatics

Old Father Neptune will be in his element this evening. Thousands of devotees of aquatics will be present at the big swimming meet this evening which will bring together the sons and daughters of the god of the sea, in the first night event of the three days' meet which promises to surpass any other meet ever held in Honolulu.

Among the stars who will appear this evening in the various events are the three visiting mermaids, Dorothy Burns, Frances Cowells and Claire Galligan; the three world's champions, Duke P. Kahanamoku, Harold Kruger and Norman Ross; the young stars from Chicago, Leslie Jones and Abe Siegel, who, although not champions, promise to be heard from before many moons, and a host of local stars including Gerd Horth, Josephine Hopkins, Clarence Lane and John Kelli. Only Ludy Langer is missing.

Had Langer been entered in the 440 there would have been a crowd such as Honolulu has never seen before. Honolulu lovers of aquatics have been longing to watch a race between Langer and Ross. Should Langer decide to meet Ross, there will naturally be a record crowd no matter where it was held. This race would have put the finishing touches on one of the biggest events in the history of aquatics here or anywhere.

Despite the fact that the Los Angeles swimmer is not entered, the crowd should be a large one. As it is the events this evening will perhaps measure up to the best cards on the mainland, and if one takes into consideration the fact that this year Honolulu has three real champions entered in the feminine events, then the meet will be one worth while.

It will be hard to pick a feature event for the evening, although the 220 event between the three mermaids from the mainland and our local stars will perhaps be the bright outstanding feature of this evening. Then one will have an opportunity of watching a race between "Stubby" Kruger and Ross in both the backstroke and the 440 yard event. "Stubby" is a real wizard at the backstroke and should be the favorite, although Ross, Jones and Siegel are no mean opponents.

Will there be any swimmer to beat Duke in the 50? That is a question which has been asked hundreds of times, but Duke should be the favorite. All Honolulu is pulling for him to win. Duke has made swimming in Honolulu. He has made swimming on the mainland, and the greatest figure in aquatics today is expected to cross the line first in the sprint event.

Duke Favored
Norman Ross has been making excellent time for the 50 yard event, but Duke should win. Clarence Lane ought to finish well up, and although Ross is conceded by critics to be one of the greatest swimmers of all time, he will have to show startling speed to finish in first or second place. Leslie Jones may be depended upon to figure in this event, and Siegel is another star who must not be overlooked.

Dorothy Burns, who set a new American record in the 220 yard event in February, will be entered in this event this evening. The Los Angeles mermaid made the distance in 3.03. When this record was made she was forced to extend herself to win, and this leads one to believe that a new American record will be made this evening. It would not be at all surprising to see the time under three minutes. Claire Galligan has made time around 3.04, and in a recent meet at San Diego Frances Cowells made an unofficial record of around 3.03, which means some real competition among the girls this evening.

Dorothy Burns Holds Record
It ought to be a great race from start to finish. The line is so close that one can hardly select a winner. Any one of the three may cross the finish line first. Dorothy Burns set a new record in Honolulu, and naturally will be a slight favorite, if there is such a thing. Claire Galligan can swim and there is no one who realizes this any more than the two coast mermaids. In a 100 yard event the former New Rochelle swimmer, who is now looked upon as a Honolulu mermaid, defeated both the Pacific Coast girls. A blanket could have covered the three at the finish, and the same may hold good in the 220 yard event tonight.

All three realize that they will have to use all their power and strategy in this race. Conditions ought to be ideal for excellent time, and although it is too much to be hoped that they will set a world's record, it would not be at all surprising to see Fanny Durack's time threatened. Miss Durack made the furlong in 2.52, which is remarkable time, as very few men swimmers in Honolulu can finish within this limit.

The first event on the program this evening will give the swimming devotees an idea of the future greatness. There will be 11 entries in the boys' race for the 100 yards. All of the boys are under 15, but this does not hinder them from chalking up fast time. Mitrie Mitchell, nee Konowaloff, has not been swimming much of late, but if he is in any kind of shape should win out by a narrow margin. Shiel Matsuguma and Preston Chapin are two other swimmers who must be figured on in this race.

Go to it, "Stubby"
Honolulu will naturally be pulling for "Stubby" to win in the 150-yard back stroke and he ought to be the favorite. Ross gave him a great race last year, but despite this fact the local natator should win out. Ross, Siegel and Jones are all excellent performers in this event, but should Clarence Lane and Buster Carter enter there promises to be a real fight for position. Kruger and Ross appear to have a slight edge.

In the 100-yard novice event, which is the third event on the program, the lovers of the aquatic sport will again see future greatness. This event promises to give a big boost for swimming, and the committees are to be congratulated for staging such an event.

Miss Law Should Win
Kathleen Law of Los Angeles, although in reality it ought to be Honolulu, is conceded to have an excellent chance to win this event. She has spent much of her time in learning feature swimming, and only recently has taken up racing. Those who have watched her in the various meets predict a bright future for her. She has excellent form for long distance swimming, and should be at her best over the 400.

Madeline Chapin will make her first appearance in a race. She has been practicing at the beach, and the Outrigger Club members believe that she will win out in the race tonight. Miss Chapin has a beautiful stroke, and should she decide to take up swimming seriously would no doubt become one of Hawaii's leading stars. Thelma Kenn, who is not yet 15 years old, will be seen in action, and should finish well up.

The 50-yard service event will bring out some fast performers. Pingry of De Russy is not entered in this event, which leaves the field open to the Alert swimmers. Murphy O'Brien and Dodge should lead the other service men to the line, although there will be a number of stars entered in this event.

Novice Event
Following the 220 swim for ladies, the 100-yard novice event will be staged. There are about 25 entries for this event, and it will be hard to select a winner. A close race is expected. Gay Harris of the Outrigger Club has been swimming well, and the same holds good for Pingry of De Russy. The Hui Nalu will have three fast entries in Makinney, Markham and Steiner, with Makinney having a slight edge. Kaehu of Palama must not be forgotten as he has made excellent time in the past.

A close fight is expected between Robert K. Fuller and Lorrin Thurston in the diving events. Thurston has greatly improved and should beat out Jack Horth in the springboard exhibitions.

Norman Ross looks like a winner in the 440-yard event, although Kruger may not be despised. The Honolulu boy has been making good time over this distance, and may force Ross to set a new record for the distance, although Kruger is not expected to put up the race that Langer would have set against the "Big Moose." "Tough Bill" and Walker ought to have a hard race for the third position.

O'Brien is not entered in the relay for the Alert, and this may give the De Russy team an advantage, although Murphy should win from his man and Dodge and Whited look to be strong factors. With O'Brien the Alerts would have had the advantage, but without him De Russy has a chance to finish first. At any rate it looks like a real race from start to finish, and comes as a good closer to an all-star card.

DUNGAN ESTABLISHES NEW PROFESSIONAL RECORD IN BACKSTROKE
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 3.—Dungan, member of the Piedmont Athletic Club, made a new swimming record yesterday at a meet held at Neptune beach when he swam the 100-yard backstroke straightaway distance in one minute and 12 1/2 seconds. This constitutes a new world's record for the class and distance.

Note: This record is the professional record for the distance. G. Richard Dungan is coach of the Piedmont Athletic Club, and as such is not eligible to compete for amateur records.

BRINZA BLANKS COAST DEFENSE TOSSERS SUNDAY

Pitcher Brinza of the 1st-32nd was right yesterday. And when you can utter that you have said a whole mouthful. The mound artist was as stingy with his hits in the game with the Coast Defense team as a miser is with nut sundae, and as a result the 1st-32nd aggregation defeated the Coast Defense team in the Moiliili tilt by a score of 2 to 0.

It was a real ball game from start to finish, and those fans who missed the encounter have themselves to blame. Both teams presented star lineups, and it was hard to choose between them when they trotted onto the field.

Real Ball Game
Brinza Too Good

Crumpler was on the mound for the Coast Defense team, and Hawaii's premier sportspaw had a world of stuff, and incidentally pitched a good game against the wand wielders from the plains of Lilehua, but he was up against a hard proposition, as Brinza allowed but four bingles, scattered in as many innings, and Cummings' double was the only real hard hit for the Defense team. Brinza incidentally sent 10 of the Coasters back to the bench via the wigwag route.

The Schofield moundsman had his fast ball working, and although he hurried his pitching, did not weaken and fanned five of his opponents in the seventh and eighth innings. With a runner on third in the fifth with one down, he disposed of Critchfield and Crumpler.

Johnson Starred
Johnson, who handled the keystone sack for the Defenders, was all over the field. He gave a real exhibition of infield play, taking care of ten chances without an error. Holcomb at third for the Schofield team also starred in the field, cutting off sure hits on two occasions. Two fast double plays by the Coasters saved the score on two occasions. There was plenty of pep in the game, and with everything equal the tussle yesterday ought to go down as a real ball contest. Sergeant Lester will lose Stratton and Boyle, but with Ralls on hand and two or three other stars ready to play, the team should make a good showing in the future.

Good Officiating
Henry Chillingworth worked behind the bat yesterday, and his judgment of balls and strikes was the best seen at Moiliili this year. Aylett also followed the play well on the bases, and the officiating kept right up with the class of ball played.

Champions Who Will Swim Tonight

Honolulu swimming devotees will have an opportunity to see one world's champion visitor and three American champion swimmers tonight at the big meet. Three of America's leading mermaids will compete in the 220 yard event. The young ladies are seen enjoying a sun bath at the Hotel Plesasanton. They are from left to right, Frances Cowells, Claire Galligan and Dorothy Burns. All three swimmers have made time under 3.05 for the furlong. Norman Ross, the world's champion, is seen here. He will compete in three events this evening, meeting Duke and Kruger.

PIRATES BATTLE CHINESE SQUAD TO 7 TO 7 TIE

Pirates Have Chance to Win But Throw it Away With Poor Base Running; 11 Innings

The Pirates and Chinese of Honolulu played for 11 innings yesterday at Athletic park, and as Barney Joy declared that his eyesight was failing to catch them, decided to call off the affair in the growing darkness. There was only a small crowd on hand, but the teams played good ball throughout. The Pirates made 17 hits during the day, and should have had the game sailed away on several occasions, but poor work on the sacks caused them to lose out in the run situation.

Kan Yen got a three-base blow in the first of the fourth which gave his team two runs. The Pirates scored six times and all was serene. The Chinese had to make things look good so they also went out and scored five runs.

Waterhouse and Swan had a merry pitchers' duel, and although the Chinese pitcher was hit harder, he kept his bingles well scattered. Waterhouse, Senny and Ross were the leading hitters of the day. The score:

JOHNNY GOT HIS GUN AND COOMBS FAILED TO WIN

Schuman Takes Game From Elgins When Williams Holds Opponents to Two Bingles

Johnny Williams, the big league star of the Schuman Carriage Co., had the Coombs' squad eating out of his hand yesterday morning at Athletic park, beating the Elgins and holding them to two hits. Schuman gathered three runs during the affair. Coombs gathered one.

Williams was the whole show as he fanned 13, and Kai Luke and Kan Leong were the only players to hit safely. Luck Yee also pitched a good game, but of course his work did not stand out in comparison with that of the former Detroit finger.

The game was a long drawn out affair, despite the fact that there was much good play. Mara made a beautiful play on a hard hit ball in the fifth, and Yen Chin raced over and nabbed a runner on a pretty play. Williams was good in the pinches, and whenever a run threatened he usually tightened up and retired the batsman.

DOROTHY BURNS EXPECTS WINNER TO SET RECORD

Los Angeles Mermaid Confident New American Tank Mark Will Be Made

"Dorothy Burns is undoubtedly the coming world's champion of women swimmers," said Vance Veith, swimming coach of the Los Angeles Athletic club recently. And this statement holds good in regard to the American champion who will defend her record in the meet on the harbor this evening. Dorothy Burns is popular in swimming circles, as she is always willing to meet an opponent over any distance from 50 yards to a mile. It will be remembered that the Los Angeles mermaid set three new records in one day in Honolulu last February.

By MISS DOROTHY BURNS.
The races this evening on the harbor promise to be one of the real aquatic features of the year. In meeting Miss Claire Galligan and Miss Cowells, I realize that I have work to do, and in all earnestness believe that before another sun rises that there will be a new American record for the furlong event. Whoever wins should have a record under three minutes.

I would naturally like to break my own record in the meet this evening, but Miss Galligan and Miss Cowells are excellent swimmers, and should one of them win out in the race this evening, I am positive that the victor will carry away a new record.

Miss Galligan has defeated me on two occasions, and these were the two defeats which I have marked up against my record. In the 100 yard championship in San Francisco Miss Galligan finished second to Miss Dorner. I was third and Miss Cowells was fourth. It was a great race from beginning to end, and only 2-5 of a second separated the three swimmers. Miss Galligan won the mile event in a recent meet. It was the first time that I had ever competed over this distance.

Swimming Best
I believe that the best training for swimming is swimming. At the beginning I used to play tennis, and walk, but when tuning up for a big race now I confine myself to the daily swim.

Racing itself is thrilling and wholly enjoyable. I believe that the first prize won in competition means more than a world's record or a national championship. My first race was on May 13, 1913, and it proved to be a good hoodoo. It was a 50 yard event, and I won out. I would like to win this evening, and would naturally enjoy setting a new American record, but if I am fortunate enough to be returned the victor, I do not believe that it will mean as much as it did on the day when I was presented with a silver medal before a small and not over-enthusiastic group of spectators.

a victory when he scored in the seventh after Malina had fouled. Charles Rice got in some excellent work in this period, and his judgment of play was perfect. He handled the play well, and built up a defense which was not expected. Dribbling the ball out, he carried it toward the goal and scored from a hard angle.

Sam Baldwin was given the ball one minute after play opened in the eighth period and scored. The hard riding contest continued, and although Kauai did not appear to have a chance to win, they continued to fight for every inch of the ground. Fleming scored another goal after a hard ride through the field, and shortly before time was called Malina hit a long one which rolled through the lattice posts.

AN EXPERT ON COLDS

Comparatively few people realize that a cold is a signal of physical weakness. To treat a cold with weakening pills, alcoholic syrups or drugged fluids, may smother the cold but they also reduce the body powers still further and invite more serious sickness.

Scott's Emulsion has always been an expert on colds, because it peculiarly enriches the blood, quickly tones up the forces and strengthens both throat and chest. Try Scott's Emulsion Substitutes.

MAUI WINS FROM KAUAI IN FINAL POLO ARGUMENT

Match Proves to Be Thriller for Five Periods; Maui Players Score Late in Match

Ring the curtain down on polo for the year, the Maui and Kauai teams staged an excellent exhibition of the mallet game at Kapoli Park on Saturday afternoon. Maui won out by a score of 7 1/2 to 4 1/2.

A fairly large crowd was on hand to watch the exhibition which proved to be a more interesting performance than that of the day before. For the first three periods it looked like a victory for the contingent from the Garden Island, but with a half point lead Harold Rice made a pretty goal from a difficult angle in the sixth period, which gave the Mauiites a real lead. They continued to hold this lead until the end.

Kauai had the honor of scoring the first goal in the first period when after play in the middle of the ball was shot to James Spalding, who hit the ball through the lattice posts. Both Malina and Frank Baldwin were fined one-half a point each for fouls in the first period.

Malina, who had been riding well in the first period, rushed the ball up on a pass and scored a goal in two minutes. Kauai was showing good team work, and played great defensive polo until the latter part of the second period when Harold Rice and David Fleming scored goals.

David Fleming had an opportunity to score in the third period and rushed the ball up past the forwards and through the goal. After two long hits Spalding dribbled the ball up and shot a goal with a pretty angle drive. The Maui team brought the ball up to the mouth of the Kauai goal on three occasions, but great defensive work by Philip Rice saved the day.

After making three attempts to score Frank Baldwin hit a pretty backhand through the posts for a goal in the fourth period. Both teams were getting all that was possible out of their mounts, and although the Maui contingent had better mounts, Kauai was playing a heady game and kept up with the Valley Island team when Spalding shot a pretty backhand for a goal as time was called.

Malina drove the ball over the line in the fifth period, being charged with a safety. The ball was shifted back and forth and a few minutes later Philip Rice made another safety. Spalding made a beautiful ride in this period, beating his man out and scoring from the middle.

Harold Rice gave his team the edge when he took the ball out of the ruck and scored in 20 seconds. Philip Rice shifted his position on his pony, and had considerable difficulty getting back. Philip Rice was playing a beautiful defensive game, and his saves on many occasions kept up the interest in the match.

Dorothy Dix Talks

HOW SHALL WE EDUCATE OUR GIRLS?

By DOROTHY DIX
The Highest Paid Woman Writer

CONCEDING, as most people do, that marriage is the chief end of woman, and that a woman as a general proposition is happier herself and of most use to the world when she follows the ancient avocation of wife and mother, how shall we best fit our girls for this career? How shall we educate them? What shall we teach them so that they may capture husbands in the first place, and hold their husbands after they capture them in the second place? Shall we teach them domesticity or dancing? Shall we teach them the differential calculus or the different ways of flirting? Shall we teach them how to roll their eyes effectively or efficiency in rolling a perambulator?

A Western millionaire has attempted to solve this great problem of female education by having her young daughter taught all the arts of allurements—how to dance, how to dress, how to play and sing, and coquette—without wasting any time on such prosaic matters as reading, writing and arithmetic.

This girl's parents were arraigned in the probate court of their city for neglecting her education, and in justifying their course the mother said that inasmuch as every woman of good fortune and family had to fight with chorus girls, cabaret dancers, actresses and singers, vampires and coquettes, for the interest and affection of men, a wife's only safety consisted in being able to beat professional fascinatons at their own game. This is a novel and interesting suggestion of how to solve one of the oldest and most difficult problems in the world, but, alas, it has one fatal defect. It does not provide any way of keeping the wife perpetually young and beautiful, and this is absolutely necessary in dealing with the type of man whose ideal of a perfect home is a place that you can go to when the curler rings in the cafes.

The theory that if you teach a girl to dance like a ballerina her husband will fox trot down the years with her without wearying, or that if she knows every move in the game of flirtation that she can keep him always a romantic and sighing lover, is a good one. The only trouble with it is that, like so many other good theories, it doesn't work out in actual practice. Facts are facts. A man's wife is his wife. Age will come. Custom will stale. And the man who finds his greatest interest in life in dancing and flirting is bound to have a change of partners, somebody always younger and fresher, to give zest to the game, even if his wife is past mistress of both arts.

Equally fallacious is the idea that a man finds coquetry as alluring in the home circle as out of it. Before marriage it undoubtedly stimulates a man's interest in a girl and his desire for her if she keeps him guessing as to the state of her affection and whether she really prefers him to some other man. But after marriage, trust and faith are essential to domestic peace and happiness, and the strongest hold that any wife has upon her husband is just his surety of her unflinching devotion and the knowledge that no matter if all the world turned against him she would stand unflinchingly by his side.

Undoubtedly, however, the masculine moth is eternally attracted by glare and glitter and the girl who is pretty, and showy, and smartly dressed, and who has a good repertoire of tricks and wiles, has men swarming around her like bees around a honey pot, while her prim, demure, domestic, puritanical sister is left to paper the wall, with never a man in telephoning distance of her.

That's fact No. 1. Fact No. 2 is that although a man may be daunted by glare and glitter, he doesn't often desire to spend the balance of his life circling around an arc lamp. He wants the quiet, shaded candle light for the long pull of years. For it is one of the inexplicable vagaries of the masculine temperament that a man generally desires his wife to be an entirely different woman from the girl he married.

The thing that attracted him to her may have been because she was such a silly little doll baby, with such clinging ways, but as a wife he expects her to be wise and common sense and efficient. He may have fallen in love with her because she was such a good sport and so unconventional, but as his wife he demands that she shall be the pink of propriety and not give Mrs. Grundy any reason for talk.

All of this shows how difficult a task it is to decide just what a girl needs to be taught to fit her for the profession of wifehood. If we teach her how to make the most of such looks as it has pleased heaven to vouchsafe to her, how to dance, how to tear off a little ragtime, how to flirt a little and jolly a lot, we shall have taught her all that can be taught of the gentle art of catching a husband. But we will not have taught her how to keep him after she gets him.

To be a successful wife a woman needs to have a cultivated mind, to be thrifty, to be a good executive, to be domestic, to be patient and forbearing, to have all the qualities that the little painted butterfly does not possess.

Yet if we educate our girls along these lines, if we teach her how to make bread instead of cocktails, if we teach her to darn stockings, instead of dancing them out, if we teach her to shrink from being conspicuous, instead of being a goodlooker that sets everybody rubbering, why, we've simply handicapped her chances of catching a husband and making the good wife we've educated her to be.

So there you are, as the late Henry James would say. And it all goes to show that being a woman is the most complicated job on earth and requires the widest range of education that it is possible to give to any human being. It needs to take in everything real and artificial, sensible and non-sensical, profound and frivolous, and which is the more important for her to know no human being can tell.

Certainly the woman who thinks of nothing but dress and whose brains are cut on the bias and shirred in the middle, who never knows any higher longing than to win a bridge prize, and whose ideal of a perfect life is to go from party to party and theater to cabaret, is a poor, miserable creature deserving of our most withering contempt.

But on the other hand the woman who is a walking encyclopedia with only a high browed line of conversation or who dresses like a rag bag, or the domestic woman who smells of bread and butter instead of Pala violets, or the woman whose soul is as angular as her body and who feels called on to tell a man of his faults instead of singing his virtues, is equally deserving of our censure.

Each of these types is ignorant of the fine art of being a woman, and the upshot of the whole matter is that to entitle a girl to her M. A. degree, she should be taught something of everything.

FOOD EXHIBIT TO END COURSE IN CONSERVATION

Bringing to a close the lectures and demonstrations in food conservation that have been held during the last two weeks under the direction of the women's committee of the territorial food commission, an exhibit will be held at the Y. W. C. A. on Wednesday afternoon and evening from 4 to 8:30 o'clock.

At this exhibit special emphasis will be placed on the three points brought out in the lectures—conservation of wheat, elimination of waste and use of home products.

It is earnestly urged that every man and woman in Honolulu call at the Y. W. C. A. some time during the afternoon to see this exhibit, which includes all of the work done during the course. Everything in the exhibit will deal with the three main points named.

"We believe that every woman in the territory is called for her share in this work to help the cause just as much as the men are drafted to fight," said Mrs. A. L. Andrews of the women's committee today. "Every thing wasted is a contribution to starvation."

Mrs. Andrews points out that in Europe the burden of hunger is really falling more on the women and children than on the soldiers, for the weaker ones are devoting all their energies to supporting the army. "The question has been raised," she says, "as to why these women should not take the substitutes which we are urging American women to try. There are two good answers. Many of them have had their home equipment demolished by the war and are not in a position to try the new things. Also the substitutes deteriorate quickly and are not safe to send for such a long distance and for long keeping."

To help offset the expenses of the food lessons the products that make up the exhibit will be sold to visitors. They are not to be taken away before 8 o'clock, and it is preferred that they be taken between 8 and 8:30.

PAN-PACIFIC UNION AND PROMOTION COMMITTEE SHOULD WORK TOGETHER

Alexander Hume Ford tells of his work for the Pan-Pacific Union in San Francisco in recent letters to E. A. Berndt, chairman of the Promotion Committee. Mr. Ford says in part: "I have learned much this trip and one thing impressed on me is that in the future far more of your work had better be done from San Francisco."

"Our Promotion Committee and Pan-Pacific Union must work together in Honolulu and we must work together here. I think now that the Northwestern Tourist Association as well as the Central California and even seven counties of Southern California will go on with the rest of us for a Pan-Pacific Union ground floor joint display office on Market street, where we will all work together to get people to Hawaii and the Pacific. (The Pacific counties will also come in, small at first until after war.)

"Halton, Cloud and I are doing the active work on the Balboa Day Pan-Pacific banquet at the St. Francis hotel, and the convention to follow Mr. Scott is pulling cables (not wires) for the big speakers and interests to be represented."

On August 9, he writes again, saying: "We are going to have a Pan-Pacific building here on Market street. All of the foreign made organizations are coming in as units of the Pan-Pacific Union and the building that Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to women who suffer as I did." ALTON D. OAKES, Fort Fairfield.

When a remedy has lived for years, steadily growing in popularity and influence, and thousands of thousands of women declare they owe their health to it, is it not reasonable to believe that it is an article of merit?

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened and read by women only.
