FLAGS CHANGED

Old Glory Is Now the Ensign of the Hawaiian Islands.

THE OLD FLAG FOREVER.

(Frank L. Stanton).

She's up there—Old Glory—where light things are sped;
She dazzles the nations with ripples of red;
And she'll wave for us living, or drop o'er us dead—
The flag of our country forever!

She's up there—Old Glory—how bright the stars stream!
And the stripes like red signals of liberty gleam!
And we dare for her, living, or dream
the last dream
'Neath the flag of our country forever!

She's up there—Old Glory—no tyrant deed scars—
No blur on her brightness—no stain on her stars!
The brave blood of heroes hath crimsoned
her bars—
She's the flag of our country forever!

STRONG AND SOLEMN.

This town attended yesterday only to the flag-raising. It was the same in the outer settlements and districts as on this island of Oahu. There was no doing of business. There was no hurrah like on other holidays. A few people did indulge in some private merry-making after the ceremonies at the Executive building. About every person who saw the ceremonies, and probably all of the people who did not witness the transfer felt that the occasion was a solemn one. The transaction was in every way impressive and of greatest strength. Few of those who attended failed to feel emotions in action. The spectacle was one of a life time. It made a varying appeal. Old Glory has always had here the respect of all people. So has the Hawaiian ensign. Some have loved one flag better than the other. But no man who is a man escaped a pang of sentiment or sorrow when there descended from the State building for the first time the flag of a nation that has so long held an honorable and noteworthy place in the great family of the greater commonwealths. There were not many native Hawaiians present to see the Transfer of Sovereignty. There were present many men who had lived most pleasantly and happily under the Hawaiian flag and who regretted deeply not that Annexation had come about, for they rejoiced in this, but that they saw a flag of a People lowered. It was solemn, it was sad, it makes a remembrance that will dwell with a man forever.

There were two great moments of fleeting periods in the transaction. One was when the Hawaiian flag came down. The other was when the Stars and Stripes went up. The interest, the tension, was breathless. Ideas and thought images rushed and surged. With the Old Flag were endeared associations. To many who looked it had been the only flag for all life yesterday. There were others who had come to love it and cherish it and felt pain that the course of events had forced it away.

Cheers went up with the American flag. It was a more beautiful banner than ever to many and to all it told that beneath its folds there would ever be uppermost the spirit of justice to all, the spirit of liberty, of tolerance of absolute fairness to all. To see that American flag on the public buildings here was what some men had striven for for many years, was what many had worked for early and late, consistently and earnestly. They saw a first desire accomplished. But their hearts went out in sympathy to those to whom the momentous incident brought genuine grief.

The ceremony of the noon hour of yesterday was the culmination of a series of significant and purposeful acts extending over the past five years and a half. Annexation, insuring stability of Government, internal peace and commercial prosperity, was accomplished in fact by the simple ceremony with its three central figures so splendidly set. President Dole, American Minister Sewall and Admiral Miller were the principals in the happening.

Hawaiian Sovereignty was once transferred to England and was given back again. It was once transferred to the United States provisionally and given back again. It was offered to the United States nearly half a century ago. Now it is gone. Now the Government of the Hawaiian Islands is part and parcel of the Government of the United States.

A tremendous event has gone on record. Never before has the United States so acquired territory. Never before has the United States acquired such territory. The Annexation of Hawaii by the United States marks a change in the policy of the American Government. The country has outgrown the warning of Washington. For Hawaii, Annexation marks a new, smooth and certain career, though there are a number of serious problems in local government yet to be handled. There is here yet much work for those who have carried forward the Annexation movement, or perhaps it should be said the work is for all those who wish Hawaii well.

The day for the Annexation Ceremonies was cloudy till the Hawaiian flag came down and there were light showers. So soon as the Stars and Stripes were up the sun came out and for the rest of the day its rays were unobstructed by clouds.

Ceremonies for Annexation were simple and brief and when they were ended all agreed that the very best judgment had been used in deciding upon the manner in which the transfer should be made. There was no crush of attendance. Upon the grounds were several thousand people. Practically the only demonstration was three cheers for the new flag. The town was quiet all day and all evening. There was appreciation of the solemnity of the affair. Many newspaper reports of the transfer are being prepared. To be truthful these cannot describe anything in the rank of an ordinary jollification or celebration. There was realization fully of the importance of the occasion and all thoughtful people appreciated that there was vastness and meaning in the flag-raising.

THE ACTUAL TRANSFER.

At the proper time Minister Sewall, addressing Mr. Dole, said:

"Mr. President, I present you a certified copy of a joint resolution of the Congress of the United States, approved by the President on July 7th, 1898, entitled Joint Resolution to provide for annexing the Hawaiian Islands to the United States."

"This joint resolution accepts, ratifies and confirms on the part of the United States the cession formally consented to and approved by the Republic of Hawaii."

President Dole said: "A treaty of political union having been made, and the cession formally consented to by the Republic of Hawaii having been accepted by the United States of America, I now, in the interest of the Hawaiian body politic, and with full confidence in the honor, justice and friendship of the American people, yield up to you as the representative of the Government of the United States, the sovereignty and public property of the Hawaiian Islands."

In reply Minister Sewall said: "Mr. President: In the name of the United States, I accept the transfer of the sovereignty and property of the Hawaiian Government."

"The Admiral commanding the United States naval forces in these waters will proceed to perform the duty entrusted to him."

This duty was to raise the American flag.

The diplomatic corps, Government and naval officials and distinguished guests began to arrive on the platform about 11:30. President Dole, staff and Cabinet arrived about twenty minutes later. Minister Sewall, Admiral Miller and staff, Consul Haywood, Vice Consul Boyd, Col. Barber, Capt. Wadleigh, Capt. Book, Maj. Langhitt, Capt. Lydig, Capt. Griffiths, Lieut. Winthrop and others, forming a party of American officials, came next.

On the building at the time were a number of American sailors to assist in the flag-raising and to raise the standards on each of the two side towers. A. A. Czarnecki, chief quartermaster of the Philadelphia, was in charge of the party selected to hoist the American flag. John Henry Ward, George Memarrios, C. A. Corbett, Stanley Baker, W. Johnston and T. C. Bloomer were on the building. The flag-raising party was: Master-at-Arms J. T. Newcombe, U. S. S. Mohican; Gunner's Mate G. Pratt, and Machinist R. C. Reynolds, U. S. S. Philadelphia. The party lowering the Hawaiian flag were: Corporal H. T. Kilmer, O. Winkler, A. Spiller and H. Myre, all of Company F, N. G. H.

Prayer was offered, all rising. When all was in readiness, soldiers all at attention, Minister Sewall and President Dole arose, facing each other. The Transfer of Sovereignty was made. Minister Sewall presented to the President the Joint Resolution of the American Congress and said:

"This joint resolution accepts, ratifies and confirms on the part of the United States the cession formally consented to and approved by the Republic of Hawaii."

President Dole's reply, in firm tones, was formal delivery of the Government of the Hawaiian Islands to the United States of America through Minister Sewall.

The Hawaiian flag was saluted with twenty-one guns.

Hawaii Point was played by the Hawaiian Government band among the sixteen natives who were exiled.

The Hawaiian flag was hoisted down. As it was lowered, Chas. Kreuter, the Government band conductor, sounded "to the Colors!"

This was the critical moment. Many were in tears.

Admiral Miller gave the signal for the American flag to go up.

As the American flag was hoisted a trumpet from the naval forces sounded "to the Colors."

The band from the U. S. F. S. Philadelphia played "Star Spangled Banner." There were three cheers.

The American flag was saluted with twenty-one guns.

Minister Sewall made his address.

The oath of fealty to the United States of America was administered first to President Dole and then to Ministers Cooper, Damon, Smith and King by Chief Justice Judd.

All the troops marched away, followed by most of the crowd that had been on the lawns. The people slowly dispersed from the balconies and the grand stand.

THE CEREMONY.

At 10 o'clock the First Regiment began to assemble at the drill shed and marched out promptly a half hour later. In the mean time those who had secured seats on the veranda of the Executive building began to assemble.

As the King street gate was closed all entered from Richards street and Hotel street sides. The President's staff, including Col. John H. Soper, Maj. George C. Potter and C. P. Lauka, and Capt. J. W. Pratt and W. C. Wilder, were on hand to show notables and citizens to their respective places. Entrance to the balconies was through the mauka side, for convenience. Seated on either side of the official platform and both left and right of the front driveway, was a dense mass of humanity of all nationalities.

At the time of assembling, the grounds and building were in charge of Companies E and F, Hawaiian regulars. Under Capt. Zeigler and Coyne and Lieuts. Ludwig and Evansen the companies received all visitors and courteously assigned them to their respective positions. Parties in carriages were invariably directed to the rear of the building, from which they passed through to seats on the official platform or the verandas.

The Citizens' Guard was the first military body to reach the grounds. The sixteen companies, under Senior Captain McStocker, marched over from the Judiciary building and took their stand on the left of the official platform. In front were the Sharpshooters and G. A. R., to the right a police company under Capt. Kane, and on the driveway to the left of the stand was the First Battalion, First Regiment, N. G. H., under Maj. Jones. In the driveway, directly in front was a battalion of 310 men from the Philadelphia and Missouri, under Lieut. Commander Stevens. To the left of the official platform, directly in front of the grounds used for receptions to the Boys in Blue, was the Second Battalion, First Regiment, Maj. McCarthy, and to the left of these troops the guard of the day, under Capt. Coyne.

The Hawaiian National Guard met the American troops from the warships in port at the boat landing on Queen street at 11 o'clock and escorted them into the grounds, arriving there about 11:30. In the battalion of American troops were sections of heavy artillery, the remaining companies parading as infantry.

In front of the Executive building all of the Hawaiian members of the band, sixteen in number, were so overcome by the events that they retired and would not play the national anthem before the lowering. There were tears in many eyes, both native and foreign, when the flag of Hawaii came down, but all rallied and shouted a few moments later, the Stars and Stripes slowly ascended the masts to the top of the flagstaff on the central tower.

THE PRAYER.

This was the invocation offered at the flag-raising by the Rev. G. L. Pearson.

Oh Lord Our Heavenly Father, the high and mighty ruler of the universe, who hast made of one blood all nations to dwell upon all the face of the earth and hath determined the times before appointed and the bounds of their habitation, we heartily entreat Thee to graciously hear our prayer.

In thy providence Thou hast brought us to this significant time, the consummation of a great and important event. Let thy benediction be upon us and all the interests that center in this important hour. May the blessing abide with Hawaii not. Remember in mercy her institutions and all her people. Bless her president, her statesmen, her citizens and all who have contributed to her present prosperity and glory. We most earnestly pray Thee to remember her native sons and daughters. Be thou their friend and saviour and by thy providential care may all things work together for good to them. May all the people appreciate the greatness of their inheritance this day received and may all that works for justice and mercy and peace be conserved and intensified by this change of national life.

By Thy favor, Oh Lord, bless America—the Nation of thy providence, which now becomes Our Country. Bless her in this addition to her broad domain and to the number of her free and noble people. May her banner wave forever here and under its glorious fold in all our broad land may there abide our people—a people who love justice and mercy and peace. May the union of these two Republics rebound to thy honor in the well being of the people and the advancement of our national power and glory. Oh Lord remember our beloved President, his Cabinet and our National Congress and may they have wisdom and grace commensurate with their present needs. Bless our armies and navies and give them success, and grant us peace—a peace that shall secure justice to an oppressed people.

Oh Thou Eternal God, Come Thou and reign over all nations of the earth and may thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven through Jesus Christ, our Saviour. Amen.

PROCLAMATION.

The proclamation read by Mr. Sewall was:

"To the Government and the people of the Hawaiian Islands:

"By the terms of the Joint Resolution by which the cession of the Hawaiian Islands and their dependencies to the United States is concluded, it is provided that until Congress shall provide for the Government of Hawaii, all the civil, judicial, and military powers exercised by the officers of the existing Government are to be vested in such person or persons, and to be exercised in such manner, as the President of the United States shall direct."

"In the exercise of the power thus conferred upon him by the Joint Resolution the President hereby directs that the civil, judicial, and military powers in question shall be exercised by the Officers of the Republic of Hawaii, as it existed just prior to the transfer of sovereignty, subject to his power to remove such officers and to fill vacancies."

"All such officers will be required at once to take an oath of allegiance to the United States, and all the military forces will be required to take a similar oath, and all bonded officers will be required to renew their bonds to the Government of the United States."

"The powers of the Minister of Foreign Affairs will, upon the transfer of the sovereignty and property of Hawaii to the United States necessarily cease, so far as they relate to the conduct of diplomatic intercourse between Hawaii and foreign powers."

"The municipal legislation of Hawaii, except such as was enacted for the fulfillment of the treaties between that country and foreign nations, and except such as is inconsistent with the Joint Resolution, or contrary to the Constitution of the United States or to any existing treaty of the United States, is to remain in force till the Congress of the United States shall otherwise determine."

Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States of America.

SPEECH BY MR. SEWALL.

This address was delivered by Minister Sewall as the conclusion of the formal transfer:

"Fellow Countrymen:—I congratulate you on the consummation of this historic consummation, not a change, the inevitable consummation of the national policies and the natural relation between the two countries now formally and indissolubly united."

"Inevitable as has been this union, we may rejoice that it will take its place in history with the awakening of the American people to a sense of their responsibility among nations, in that

THE NEW OATH.

THE ONLY OATH.

I do solemnly swear that I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States of America against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; and that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion: So Help Me God.

splendid procession of events begun at Manila and which has now embraced these Islands in its broad sweep.

"You are no strangers to your countrymen across the sea, bound to them as you are by the achievements of their sons and brothers here, and by all the activities that make up a country's life. You are no strangers, certainly not in the momentous present. For as it comes to every nation in the dread ordeal of war to test the loyalty of all its sons and the devotion of all its friends so they have tested you, tried you and found you true—when you refused to listen to the suggestions of the selfish and timid, and at your peril, offered up all that these Islands had to offer, as a sacrifice on the altar of devotion to a country you had not yet the right to call your own."

"And your countrymen can never forget that this loyalty and devotion and the opening of hearts and house to our soldier boys that followed this, was the loyalty, the devotion and the hospitality, not of Americans, though this was sweet indeed, but of men who sought to be Americans and had been denied, of men who founded a state for the purpose of admission to the American Union and had been denied, of men who presented this strange spectacle to the world that they stood ready, as you gentlemen about me today, to give up office, and power and personal emoluments and glory, for the simple dignity of American citizenship. Even as you have given up a flag you love, and surrendered the sovereignty of these beautiful Islands, that Hawaii may take her place, however humble that place may be, in the protecting circle of sovereign American States."

"This is the consummation you witness today, which you and your children's children will have the right to celebrate, and let there be no mistake as to its meaning. It means the triumph of no party or faction among you, the opportunity for no personal glorification or personal resentment, the confirmation in power of no authority over you that shall not commend itself to the sense of fairness and of justice of the representatives of the American people, but rather the burial of past prejudices, the obliteration of narrow divisions and the ultimate political advancement of the humblest citizen over whom this flag shall float.

"But it is not for you to rest content in the enjoyment of free institutions. It is for you to help maintain them, to maintain them in the spirit they will be extended to you, in the spirit you have sought them, in the spirit of fraternity and equality, in the spirit of the Constitution itself, now the supreme law of your land, to establish justice, to ensure your tranquility, to provide for the common defense, to promote your welfare, and to secure the blessings of liberty to yourselves and your posterity."

"This is the work before you my countrymen and I bid you advance to it. Hand in hand may you go, you of the home race with those whose father's land this was, and whose generous virtues have won for them the regard of all mankind. Hand in hand may you go with them as they carry with them their unflinching love of country into the broad plane of American citizenship."

"Advance to the uplifting and up-building of this land to prove it worthy to share the Destiny of the Great Republic."

"Empire may wait indeed, but no hand save His who holds in the hollow of His hand the fate of nations can stay that destiny."

"God bless you my countrymen!"

"God bless the United States of America!"

The oath of allegiance to the United States was then administered by Chief Justice Judd to President Dole as "President of the Republic of Hawaii," now a territory of the United States, and to Ministers Cooper, Smith, Damon and King, and the ceremonies of the day were over.

COLORS PRESENTED.

After the flag raising the First Regiment passed around through King and Likie streets and formed in three sides of a square at the Waikiki end of the parade grounds. The battalion of American troops marched through King and Richards streets and formed on the parade grounds in such a way as to complete the immense square. In this position the troops presented quite an imposing sight. In the center of the square Colonel Fisher took the oath and then administered it to staff, field and line officers, drawn up together.

Just prior to this time President Dole and staff, Minister Cooper, Chief Justice Judd, Mrs. Dole and others appeared in a party in the square. Staff carried a beautiful silk American flag. Addressing Col. Fisher, President Dole formally presented the Hawaiian flag, being the Camp Hancock silk flag of 1893. Col. Fisher thanked the thanks of the Regiment and the handsome token. The flag was received by Color Sgt. D. L. Naone and was immediately unfurled in line. The Hawaiian flag had been folded and wrapped around its staff when the colors were lowered from the Executive building.

During the flag presentation Chief Justice Judd swore in the staff officers of President Dole, beginning with Maj. George C. Potter. Following this the members of all the companies were sworn in. They were drawn up in line and those wishing to take the oath were requested to uncover and raise the right hand. Nearly all the hands went up. The Hawaiian Regiment then escorted the American troops back to the boat landing.

After the ceremonies yesterday company C had a magnificent spread laid on two tables down the center of the room. Capt. Camara was toastmaster and conducted the affair in an orderly and agreeable manner.

THE "BLOUNT FLAG" IS UP AGAIN.

An Old Glory Lowered Here in 1893 Hoisted Yesterday.

When "Paramount Blount" ordered the American flag hauled down from the Government Building in Honolulu, on the 1st of April, 1893, it was taken on board the Boston and landed in the possession of Lieutenant Lucien Young, he replacing it with another. Lieutenant Young was possessed of an abiding conviction that sooner or later there would be a call for that flag to go up again, and he has carefully guarded it ever since, against the time when it would be needed. In May last he was given command of the converted Yacht Hist and ordered to Cuban waters. Just before leaving he delivered the precious flag to Mr. Thurston with the request that Mr. Thurston use his best endeavors to have it rehoisted on the same flagstaff from which it had been hauled down. Before leaving Washington Mr. Thurston saw President McKinley and told him of the circumstances concerning the flag and received the President's approval of the proposition. The Hawaiian Executive also took the same view of the matter, and consented to use this flag for the purpose indicated.

In April, 1898, the present Court House was used as the executive building, and it was from its staff that the flag was lowered at that time.

At the same time that the Hawaiian flag was yesterday lowered from the Executive Building, its companion on the Court House kept it company, and simultaneously with the rising of the stars and stripes over the former building, "the flag that Blount hauled down" rose proudly to its old position, and floated once more in the breeze from which it had been torn, over five years ago.

The historic flag will be preserved as one of the most interesting mementoes of the occasion.

Lieutenant Young has been making a magnificent record for himself in Cuba, but the knowledge that this flag has been used for the purpose for which he so long preserved it, will give him as much satisfaction as to have a successful scrap with a lot of Spanish gunboats.

JOINT RESOLUTION OF ANNEXATION.

Congressional Decree Under Which Change Was Made.

This is the "Newlands Resolution," by which Annexation was directly brought about:

"Whereas, The Government of the Republic of Hawaii having in due form signified its consent, in the manner provided by its constitution, to cede absolutely and without reserve to the United States of America all the rights of sovereignty of whatever kind in and over the Hawaiian Islands and their dependencies, and also to cede and transfer to the United States the absolute fee and ownership of all public, Government or crown lands, public buildings or edifices, ports, harbors, military equipment and all other public property of every kind and description belonging to the Government of the Hawaiian Islands, together with every right and appurtenance thereunto appertaining; therefore be it

"Resolved, That said cession is accepted, ratified and confirmed, and that the said Hawaiian Islands and their dependencies be, and they are hereby, annexed as a part of the territory of the United States and are subject to the sovereign dominion thereof, and that all and singular the property and rights hereinbefore mentioned are vested in the United States of America.

"The existing laws of the United States relative to public lands shall not apply to such lands in the Hawaiian Islands, but the Congress of the United States shall enact special laws for their management and disposition, provided, that all revenue from or proceeds of the same, except as regards such part thereof as may be used or occupied for the civil, military or naval purposes of the United States, or may be assigned for use of the local government, shall be used solely for the benefit of the inhabitants of the Hawaiian Islands for educational and other public purposes.

"Until Congress shall provide for the government of such Islands all the civil, judicial and military powers exercised by the officers of the existing government in said Islands shall be vested in such person or persons, as the President of the United States shall direct; and the President shall have power to remove the said officers and to fill the vacancies so occasioned.

"The existing treaties of the Hawaiian Islands with foreign nations shall forthwith cease and determine, being replaced by such treaties as may exist, or as may hereafter be concluded, between the United States and such foreign nations."

"The municipal legislation of the Hawaiian Islands, not enacted for the fulfillment of the treaties so extinguished, and not inconsistent with this joint resolution nor contrary to the Constitution of the United States, shall remain in force until the Congress of the United States shall otherwise determine.

"Until legislation shall be enacted extending the United States customs laws and regulations to the Hawaiian Islands the existing customs regulations of the Hawaiian Islands with the United States and other countries shall remain unchanged.

"The public debt of the Republic of Hawaii lawfully existing at the date of the passage of this joint resolution, including the amounts due to depositors in the Hawaiian Postal Savings Bank, is hereby assumed by the Government of the United States, but the liability of the United States in this regard shall in no case exceed $4,000,000.

"So long, however, as the existing government and the present commercial relations of the Hawaiian Islands are continued as hereinbefore provided said government shall continue to pay the interest on said debt.

"There shall be no further immigration of Chinese into the Hawaiian Islands, except upon such conditions as are now or may hereafter be allowed by the laws of the United States; and Chinese, by reason of anything herein contained, shall be allowed to enter the United States from the Hawaiian Islands.

"The President shall appoint five commissioners, at least two of whom shall be residents of the Hawaiian Islands, who shall, as soon as reasonably practicable, recommend to Congress such legislation concerning the Hawaiian Islands as they shall deem necessary or proper.

"Sec. 2. That the commissioners hereinbefore provided for shall be appointed by the President, by and with the consent and advice of the Senate.

"Sec. 3.—That the sum of $100,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, and to be immediately available, to be expended at the discretion of the President of the United States of America, for the purpose of carrying this joint resolution into effect."

VETERAN DEFENDERS.

Geo. W. De Long Post G. A. R., of this place, attended the flag raising in a body. These veterans, honored wherever they go, made an interesting group. They formed at their hall on King street and under the direction of Commander La Pierre marched to the Executive building grounds just before noon. Those in the ranks were:

Members—P. C. L. LaPierre; S. V. C. Geo. de La Vergne; J. V. C. J. N. Wright; Adj. J. T. Copeland; Q. M. W. L. Eaton; O. G. E. A. Strough; Guard, F. Sherman; Sergt.-Maj., Geo. Washington Smith; Wm. McCandless; Manuel Martinez; J. D. Conn.

Visiting Comrades—J. S. Reiner, Frank May, Geo. Dietz, Thos. Philip, P. Larkins, K. A. Klein, Jas. Howard, W. D. Braden.

N. G. H. RE-ENLISTMENT.

Immediately after the First Regiment N. G. H. was dismissed yesterday the work of re-enrolling the companies began. All not caring to serve further were at liberty to drop out. The result was most satisfactory. Companies A, C, F and G enlisted almost solid over again, every member of each present signing over. Forty-nine members of Company B signed over, this being about all present. Fifty-one members of Company D took the new oath and enrolled. Five Portuguese in one of the regular companies, E, refused to go on, not caring to take the oath of allegiance to the United States. Seven members of H, four of whom were natives, dropped out for the same reason.

RECEPTION AND BALL.

There was a little delay with the lights for the ball and reception last evening, but before it was too late the repairs had been made and the illumination was a grand success. There were hundreds upon hundreds of incandescent lights on the outside and several designs, including an American shield in correct colors. The interior, everywhere, was a flood of light. The decorations in the main hallway, in the old throne room and on the stairway were placed by the Misses Atong, Mrs. Hutchinson and Miss Emma Davidson, and were very tasteful. Strangely enough two of the floral banks in front of mirrors made the Spanish colors, but this was not noticed by many people.

The reception began promptly at 9 o'clock and continued for more than an hour, during which time there was a regular crush. A number of society men were drafted into service as ushers. The receiving party included President Dole, Mrs. Dole, American Minister Sewall, Mrs. Sewall, Admiral Miller, Col. Barber. The President was attended by his chief of staff, Col. Soper.

It was democratic enough for anyone, this evening function. A couple of thousand people attended. Everyone was welcome everywhere. The grounds were thronged till past midnight. The dancing, for the first hour, was confined to a small space on account of the great number of people in the hall. Music was by the Government band. Refreshments were served on the mauka balcony.

The ball was made notable by the great number of stunning party gowns in evidence.

The dancing was entered into with zest and was especially pleasant during the latter portion of the party, as the crowd had then thinned out enough to allow floor space for the ones caring most for the pastime. The floor had been carefully prepared.

FIREWORKS DISPLAY.

The fire works display last night was quite the most elaborate ever witnessed in Honolulu. Bombs and rockets were set off constantly between the hours of 7:30 and 9. To add to the effect the exterior lights of the Executive building were turned off during the display. James A. Kennedy was in charge. It is estimated that 5,000 people were in the grounds and 2,000 more in neighboring streets. Grounds and Executive building were thrown open to the public and great throngs availed themselves of the opportunity to see the latter in its ball dress.

COLORS ON SHIPPING.

Along the waterfront there were decorations on the craft in the harbor, the wharves, dredger, marine railway and the Myrtle and Healan boat houses. The big flag waved from the pole on the coal bunkers at the railway dock. Further off a bran new Stars and Stripes spread out to the breeze from Oahu prison. Only the two colliers Kate Davenport and Sea King worked during the day. They were both discharging at the Mail wharf. The Robert Lowers, Irrigard and Andrew Welch had hunting from stem to stern and the steamer Kauai was audacious enough to fly "Old Glory" at the main during the day. The Inter Island offices were covered with flags and lines to which were attached small flags stretched up to the high pole over the building. This had been done under the eye of that ardent annexationist, James L. McLean, the secretary of the company.

No decorations were on the Philadelphia or Mohican. At the appointed hour the Hawaiian flag was hoisted, a salute given and then it was hauled down again—then Old Glory went up again and another salute.

Success

Is the Butterfly which all men are chasing and which but few catch...

That is the reason why we all take off our hats to success. The Stein-Bloch Co., the famous wholesaletailors whose label you will find on all the good clothes in our store, has succeeded in doing in a large wholesale way at the minimum expense what the merchant tailor does in a small retail way at the maximum expense. Where the merchant tailor buys one suit pattern they buy 10,000. Where the merchant tailor employs one tailor they employ 1,000. These are some of the reasons why these clothes, though as good as the best made-to-measure sort, can be sold at one-half their price.

THE EVENTS IN ORDER

Chronology of Annexation in 45 Paragraphs.

DATES AND THE HAPPENING

Stirring Days of 1893 and 1895. Scene Shifts to Washington. Back to Hawaii.

The dates and events which have occurred since the struggle for annexation began, and which have had a bearing thereon, are as follows:

1. January 14, 1893—Liliuokalani attempted to abrogate the Constitution by force and promulgate a new one.
2. January 15, 1893—A Committee of Safety of the United States of America organized by citizens to devise ways and means to prevent the queen's proposed action and preserve the peace.
3. January 16, 1893—Mass meeting of citizens in Honolulu adopted resolutions demanding and condemning the action of the Queen and authorizing the Committee of Safety to "further devise such ways and means as may be necessary to secure the maintenance of the maintenance of law and order and the protection of life, liberty and property in Hawaii."
4. January 16, 1893—American troops landed in Honolulu.
5. January 17, 1893—The Committee of Safety deposited Liliuokalani, abrogated the Monarchy and organized a Provisional Government, "to exist until terms of union with the United States of America have been negotiated and agreed upon."
6. January 19, 1893—Provisional Government chartered the steamer Claudine and dispatched a commission of five to Washington to negotiate an annexation treaty.
7. February 1, 1893—Temporary American protectorate over Hawaii declared by Minister Stevens, pending results at Washington and American flag hoisted over Government Building.
8. February 3, 1893—The annexation commission arrived at Washington.
9. February 11, 1893—Annexation treaty signed at Washington.
10. February 17, 1893—Annexation treaty transmitted to the U. S. Senate by President Harrison.
11. March 4, 1893—Congress adjourned without action on the treaty, and Grover Cleveland succeeded Benjamin Harrison as President of the United States.
12. March 9, 1893—President Cleveland withdrew the annexation treaty from the consideration of the Senate.
13. March 11, 1893—Jas. H. Blount of Georgia appointed "Special Paramount Commissioner to Hawaii."
14. March 29, 1893—Commissioner Blount arrived in Honolulu on the Revenue Cutter.
15. March 30, 1893—Commissioner Blount presented his credentials from President Cleveland to President Dole.
16. April 1, 1893—American flag hoisted down from Government Building by order of Commissioner Blount.
17. May 17, 1893—Mr. Blount appointed Minister to Hawaii, and accredited to the Provisional Government.
18. August 8, 1893—Mr. Blount returned to the United States, and reported to the President concerning conditions in Hawaii.
19. September 27, 1893—Albert Willis appointed Minister to Hawaii.
20. November 4, 1893—Minister Willis arrived at Honolulu accredited to President Dole and the Provisional Government, and immediately began secret negotiations with Liliuokalani for her restoration.
21. November 11, 1893—Minister Willis reported to President Cleveland recommending restoration of Liliuokalani published in Washington.
22. November 13, 1893—Liliuokalani insisted to Mr. Willis that upon restoration of the Provisional Government, her property should be executed and their property confiscated. This caused Willis to delay restoration and seek further instructions.
23. November 24, 1893—News of Gresham's letter reached Honolulu by the Monowai.
24. November 25, 1893—Mass meeting in Honolulu protesting against assumption by President Cleveland of any control over Hawaiian internal affairs; against restoration of Liliuokalani, and pledging their "support to the best of our ability to the Provisional Government in resisting any attack upon it which may be contrary to the wishes of the nation."
25. November 29, 1893—President Dole demanded of Minister Willis his intentions toward Hawaii.
26. December 2, 1893—Willis declined to answer Dole's inquiry.
27. December 14, 1893—Willis received special instructions from Gresham by the Revenue Cutter Corwin, to proceed with the restoration.
28. December 18, 1893—Both Houses of Congress having attacked the restoration policy with great severity, President Cleveland referred the whole Hawaiian question to Congress.
29. President Dole demanded of Willis an immediate answer as to whether he was negotiating with Liliuokalani for her restoration.
30. December 19, 1893—Minister Willis demanded of President Dole "in the name of America" that he "promptly relinquish" the Government to Liliuokalani.
31. December 23, 1893—President Dole refused to comply with Willis' demand.
32. July 4, 1894—A Constitution formulated by a Constitutional Convention was proclaimed organizing the Republic of Hawaii.
33. January 7, 1895—Insurrection of Liliuokalani and her followers at Honolulu, resulting in the death of Charles L. Carter.
34. All the leaders of the insurrection were convicted by court-martial, but have since all been pardoned.
35. January 29, 1895—Liliuokalani voluntarily renounced all claim to the throne of Hawaii and took the oath of allegiance to the Republic.
36. June 15, 1897—A new annexation treaty was negotiated at Washington under President McKinley. The Senate, in special session, adjourned without action.
37. December 6, 1897—Congress convened in regular session; Senate engaged for several months in periodical discussion of the treaty. In secret session, a two-thirds affirmative vote not being available, vote not taken.
38. January 29, 1898—President Dole arrived in Washington in the interests of annexation, leaving February 6.
39. March 18, 1898—Treaty withdrawn from consideration of Senate by Senator Davis, Chairman Foreign Affairs Committee, and an annexation Joint Resolution substituted in place thereof.
40. May 5, 1898—Representative Newlands of Nevada introduced an annexation Joint Resolution in the House of Representatives.
41. June 15, 1898—Annexation Joint Resolution adopted by House of Representatives by a vote of 299 to 91, after four days' debate.
42. June 15, 1898—Foreign Affairs Committee of the Senate reported the House resolution favorably by a vote of 7 to 2.
43. June 20, 1898—Debate on Joint Resolution began in Senate.
44. July 6, 1898—Joint Resolution passed the U. S. Senate by a vote of 42 to 21.
45. July 7, 1898—President McKinley signed the annexation Joint Resolution.
46. August 12, 1898—President Dole formally ceded the jurisdiction and property of the Hawaiian Government to the United States of America.

BEAR THIS IN MIND.

It Will Save You Many a Dollar and a Lot of Trouble.

After trying remedies that helped you.

When you have tried "cures" that didn't.

When you are completely stuck and in despair.

When your poor back still aches.

Because you don't get down to causes.

Try Doan's Backache Kidney Pills.

The unexpected always happens.

If you toss all night racked with back pain.

If you cannot bend over nor straighten up.

Depend upon it, it's your kidneys.

Kidney disorder rarely leaves of its own accord.

The tenant has to be evicted.

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills do not compromise.

Or arrange for a new lease.

They cure all kidney complaints.

This is their mission and they fulfill it.

Read how they fulfilled it in the case of this Yorker, N. Y., citizen:

Mr. P. J. Sherman, of 136 New Main street, employed by Smith & Rogers, ice dealers, says: "I have been troubled with symptoms of kidney complaint for several years. I had sharp, shooting pains across my back, accompanied by a stiffness in my joints and a languid feeling most of the time. I did not notice it so much at first as long as I was kept busy with my work, but on Sundays when I sat around the house I became so stiff and sore that I could scarcely get up after sitting any length of time. I doctored and many different kinds of kidney remedies but could not get any relief. One doctor said I had Bright's disease and advised me to give up my employment but I could not afford to do this.

"I had read in our daily paper about Doan's Backache Kidney Pills and as I had to do something I had my wife get me a box at Geo. B. Wray's drug store. They relieved my trouble in a short time and they did me more good than any other remedies or prescriptions I ever took. I do not hesitate to recommend these pills to others for I believe they will accomplish all that is claimed for them."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents, or will be mailed by Hollister & Co., Ltd., Honolulu, general agents for the Islands. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

REWARD OF MERIT.

At the CHICAGO CYCLE SHOW in 1897, each visitor on entering the Show was handed a coupon reading as below:

"After viewing the exhibits, kindly fill in the name of the Bicycle which pleases you best as regards beauty and mechanical merit, and deposit the coupon in ballot box near exits. Name of Bicycle,....."

The "Shirk" received 17,489 ballots against 12,377 the next highest. When it is known that all the leading makes of wheels in the United States were on exhibition at this Show, the above speaks for itself. The HONOLULU BICYCLE CO. have secured the Agency for this strictly high grade wheel.

IT WILL INTEREST YOU TO CALL TO SEE IT.

The SHIRK is the best thing that ever happened.

SATURDAY : : : AUGUST 13.

IT IS DONE.

At noon yesterday the little drop of Hawaiian nationality merged in the vast ocean of American nationality.

The map of the world was changed in a minute particular. Several thousand square miles of land—merely a handful of earth, was covered with a new title. A small community, that has lawfully and prominently ranked as a nation among the nations of the world, quietly subsides into one of the smallest territorial sections of the United States.

It is a transaction, an evolution, for the good of all, a rectification of boundaries demanded by all existing conditions, a necessity in the readjustment of national forces. And in it the individual counts for nothing as against the benefit to the whole.

The act of yesterday was the final announcement of the United States that, after a hundred years' of growth and education, and the storing up of material, they would now share in the mission of emancipating the world from misrule and despotism.

"Territorial aggrandizement" to the thinking American has a serious meaning. It means vast and troublesome responsibilities, those that Gladstone realized, when he doubted the policy of territorial aggrandizement for Great Britain. It means the extension of good government, and wise laws, the creation of educational systems, the promotion of free thought.

It is not, therefore, surprising that there exist in our country forecasts of the future that are divergent and significant in the new departure of the Republic.

There is no better exponent of the younger, more ambitious, and hopeful outlook for the future than Senator C. K. Davis, the chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs. These are his words:

"We are entering upon a new era. The flag will not be lowered from Hawaii, and the fate of the Philippines is linked with the destiny of the Republic. This Nation in the near future is to become the leading factor in international politics. We cannot retreat to our former policy of isolation. In the domain of the Pacific, ours is henceforth the paramount Power, and we cannot escape the responsibility. The Pacific is the birthplace of the West, the farthest West, that borders on the East again, lies in our hands.

"I believe we shall be equal to this responsibility. We can take care of all the possessions we may acquire, and comfortably shoulder all the tremendous duties we may assume. We shall find the necessary resources of statesmanship, the qualities of diplomacy, the strength of rulership that is our heritage. The future broadens before us in wonderful ways, which we could not have foreseen. We may go to meet its destinies, calm, confident, secure in the might of the Nation and the justness of its purposes."

There is no better exponent of the thought of the educated, the thoughtful American, than Senator Hoar, who in his speech that approved the annexation of Hawaii, used these words of warning:

"If this country, tempted by the desire to extend the market for its manufactures or to extend its foreign commerce, undertakes to enter upon the competition with the great powers of Europe for empire in the Eastern Hemisphere, it will require very soon a reconstruction of our Constitution and an abandonment of our great principles of equality and constitutional liberty which lie at its foundation. It will change the sentiments and aspirations of the people. The controlling passions, the controlling motives, of our public and private conduct will be ambition, avarice, glory, power, wealth. The teacher of the people will no longer be found speaking of justice, freedom, kindness, love of country, love of home, public spirit, education, humanity, charity. We shall go what is alike the common way of the great empires and the great republics of the past.

"There is the moral of all human tales; 'Tis but the same rehearsal of the past, First Freedom, and then Glory—when that fails, Wealth, vice, corruption—barbarism at last.

And History, with all her volumes vast, Hath but one page."

On this soil of Hawaii will stand the outermost picket line of the great army of Occidental democracy, moving slowly to its struggle, in peace or war, with the unnumbered millions of the Orient.

America called into existence by "gentle coercion," as Seward said, the Japanese nation, that now confronts her with its vast industrial army, whose pickets are here already. The world is better for it. The sum of human good is increased.

"Territorial aggrandizement" means for America the mission of democracy and self government.

TWO FLAGS.

The ceremony of the flag raising yesterday was dignified and most suitable. To the Hawaiian born it was pathetic. To the American it offered the severe simplicity of democracy, and, besides that, it was exhilarating. The trade winds, the winds of commerce in the tropics, claimed their share, too, in the ceremony.

As the last strain of Hawaii Pono! trembled out of hearing, the wind suddenly held itself back. The Hawaiian flag as it left the truck dropped and folded, and descended lifeless and quietly to the earth. The American flag climbed slowly on its halyards, and just as it reached the truck, the trade wind breaking from its airy leash, caught it in its arms, and rolled it out to its full measure.

ABOUT IMMIGRATION.

The present issue of this paper will go to many places, and to many persons in the States, who may be looking to these Islands as a nursery of business opportunities. The Islands can maintain a much larger population than now lives upon them, after there is a better adjustment of the land, the labor, and the transportation questions. We invite rather than discourage any one who proposes to emigrate. At the same time, in order to prevent misery, and perhaps suffering, we desire to represent accurately the conditions here.

The great and profitable industry here is the production of sugar. It involves a large outlay of capital, and can be handled only by large capitalists. The rice industry is entirely in the hands of the Chinese.

The coffee industry is still in its experimental stage, but may be regarded as extremely well adapted to farmers with some means, who do their own work. Its profits have not yet been determined. As the product comes in competition with the coffee of all tropical countries, it is only safe to state that its profits will be regulated by that competition. These Islands have no monopoly in the coffee business, but the article is of a superior quality.

All of the tropical fruits readily grow here. The banana and the pine apple, the guavas do well. Whether the profits from their cultivation will yield any more than the profit from good horticultural work in the States has not yet been determined. Brains and industry and skill are just as necessary in the tropics for successful work as they are in the temperate zones. The best work produces the best results. Nature here has the trick of appearing lavish and generous, but in the end she is as exacting as she is elsewhere.

The fruits that are raised here are in competition with the fruits of Mexico, the Central American States, and the British West Indies. The bananas of Honduras and the pine apples of the markets of California with the bananas from these Islands. At present, owing to the high rates of transportation, there is no profit in the cultivation of the banana on several of the Islands. In the course of time, the freight rates will be adjusted. When it is done, there will be an outlet for large quantities of early vegetables, and the Pacific Coast will consume them. Only industrious and skilled workers will make profits out of it. The markets here are now largely supplied with apples, grapes, oranges and lemons, and even with vegetables from California, owing to the neglect of residents here to produce them. The Chinese are the chief market gardeners.

The population of the Islands is small. The supply of mechanics, of merchants, of bookkeepers, of professional men is greater than the demand. The rule of "the survival of the fittest" applies here, as it does elsewhere.

It would not be right or just to say that there are better opportunities here than there are on the vast Mainland, with its immense extent of territory, and its undeveloped resources.

If the advertisements and "inducements" offered all over the States to persons proposing to emigrate, are true, there will be no lack of business opportunities on the Continent for a hundred years to come.

Those who desire, above all things, a tropical climate will find it here in perfection.

We earnestly desire immigration from the Continent. We, as earnestly desire that no one shall charge any one here with making incorrect statements. Misrepresentations regarding "great opportunities" have caused infinite suffering in the States, during the last twenty years. It would be a crime to encourage people to strand themselves in this Paradise.

LET WISDOM NAME THE PRICE.

There is a point in bicycle value to go below which means a cheapening in quality. Modern methods and large output brings low price and high quality together in STERLING BICYCLES. THE SPICE OF LIFE

May come from many a source. We all enjoy a good laugh and when one considers how easy it is to assume duties which tend to create ill health it is not remarkable to find so many who are suffering.

MALT

Close attention to one's duties, no matter the nature, sooner or later the labors will soon become a task in this climate. You feel tired, can't eat and relish your meal; imagine you are unfortunate and long for a change.

NUTRINE

Just think a moment and consider whether the cause of your ill feelings are not due to lack of tone to your stomach, thereby overtaxing your nerve force, which eventually wrecks the whole organism.

NEVER

Try a few bottles of a true and tried remedy which has no equal as a system toner and health producer. Your physician endorses it. It will build you up and make you feel well again.

TIRES

Your druggist carries it in stock. If not ask him to get it. It has no superior. Single bottle, 35 cents. Three bottles for $1.00.

Remington Standard Typewriter!

WHAT IS IT?

A simple, compact, and durable machine, which successfully performs the work of the pen, with a tremendous saving of time and exertion.

WHAT WILL IT DO?

It produces, with speed and certainty, in clearly legible printed characters, one or many copies of any kind of writing, excepting such as must be done in books.

TO WHOM IS IT USEFUL?

To every one who has writing to do. In business circles its desirability is assured. Lawyers and journalists cannot do without it. Professional and scientific men realize its worth to them. The author and thinker find it invaluable. It conserves the most potent kind of energy—that of the brain—by reducing to a minimum the mechanical labor of writing, and distributing it among all the fingers of both hands. Writer's cramp disappears where it is used. It presents the printed appearance of the work to the mind at once.

WHO CAN OPERATE IT?

Any one of ordinary intelligence. A very few trials enable any one to write upon it readily. Thereafter it is only a matter of practice.

THE PASSING HOUR.

The secret was not in evidence.

The new oath is simpler than the old.

"One and inseparable, now and forever."

This is Flag Year in the United States mainland and in the Hawaiian Islands.

About all the Earnest Patriots got in out of the wet, even if there wasn't any rain.

The man who wanted to have general singing of "Old Hundred" had an idea that was worthy consideration.

The admonition "Do all things decently and in order" had not been given, but that was the way throughout.

Perhaps manipulation will continue, but the time for action on the line of party politics is happily postponed for a few months.

Perhaps now the judgment of men who did not think the extinction of a nationality should be turned into an ordinary celebration will be duly respected.

Now for the Commission, which may be a trifle less formal, but not a whit less earnest in transaction of business than the American representatives who acted in the Transfer of Sovereignty.

A large number of the ladies who from the first have been in favor of Annexation were present at the ceremonies yesterday and appreciated to the fullest the meaning of what happened.

Those San Francisco correspondents sending word by the mail on Thursday and giving a list of officials with a big mistake in it have not been here long enough to learn that the Advertiser generally has the news on time.

ARTHUR SEWALL, SECOND.

The Young Son of the American Minister Christened Yesterday.

The christening of Minister Sewall's baby boy at the American Legation at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon was such an elaborate and largely attended affair that it may better be termed a reception with the christening as the feature. Chaplain Frank Thompson of the Mohican performed the ceremony. Admiral Miller and Miss Newlands stood as god-parents. The child was named Arthur Sewall, after the distinguished father of the Minister. Many of the best people of the city were present. In fact the house was filled. The ceremony of the christening was performed at the first landing of the main stairway. On a small stand was placed the Bible and prayer book and a calabash of water for the baptism. When the guests had arrived Chaplain Thompson descended the stairs followed by Miss Newlands and a nurse bearing the child. They were joined at the landing by Admiral Miller, Minister and Mrs. Sewall took up a position close by the stairway. The lower rooms were beautifully decorated for the occasion with asters, gold-rod and palms. After the ceremony refreshments were served, and the health of Arthur Sewall 2nd was drunk. The Philadelphia band played on the lawn. For a short time there was also music by a string orchestra brought down by a wagonette in which were enthusiastic annexationists celebrating the Flag Raising.

Minister Sewall Remains.

Minister Sewall said last evening that he would remain here and that his duties would continue to be about the same. His position is now that of Special Agent for the United States. Minister and Mrs. Sewall will still have their home at Moana, Waikiki. Both of them are exceedingly fond of the island and Mr. Sewall is pleased indeed with the work he has been able to do here for his Government and for Hawaii.

A LARGE CANOE

Bark Iolani Picks Up a South Sea Boat.

Is 25 Feet Long and Hewn From one Log—Carried Back to Baltimore.

On board the Hawaiian bark Iolani there is a curiosity in a native canoe made by some of the Pacific Islanders. While on the voyage from Honolulu last August for Hong Kong to load matting for Baltimore an object was seen in the water to the leeward. Capt. McClure changed his course, and running close to it found it to be a mammoth canoe. He had the ship's carpenter put into the canoe, which was nearly filled with water. When once inside it was almost impossible to stand up on its slippery bottom. To make his position more exciting the carpenter was seen fighting with a large fish, which was making desperate efforts to escape from the boat. A shark hook was thrown to the carpenter, and it was not until he had stabbed the fish several times that it was conquered. When the canoe was hoisted on board a number of small fish were found swimming about. The large fish weighed seven pounds, and ended in a chowder for a meal on board.

The canoe is about twenty-five feet long, cut out of a solid log, with rearing ends, which would give the log it was hewn from a diameter of at least five feet. There is not a semblance of iron about it, but along the gunwales are holes in which lacings of hide throngs were used to hold to and for serving the oars. Places are cut out for thwarts, which were made of pieces of bamboo placed in the niches while wet and allowed to shrink. There also is a place in the bottom to step a mast.

Capt. McClure thinks the canoe belonged to some of the natives of Balintang Island, in the Bashee group, from which the Iolani was about twenty miles when the curious vessel was picked up. The presence of the fish could not be accounted for.—Baltimore Sun.

At the morning service, 9:45 o'clock, there will be special music by the choir, a Te Deum and anthem, and the prayer for the President of the United States. At the conclusion of the service Wray Taylor will play the American National anthem. At 6:30 o'clock in the evening the surplined choir will render a full choral service with processional and recessional hymns.

Last and First.

Charles Silva, a young Portuguese, has the note of being the last man arrested by the police under the Republic of Hawaii. His offense was riding a bicycle on a crowded sidewalk and he was arrested yesterday morning.

Eli Crawford, a young half caste, laborer and member of Company G, was the first to feel the stern hand of the law of Hawaii. U. S. A. He celebrated too long yesterday afternoon and was arrested for drunkenness. Officer Nigel Jackson claims the distinction of making both arrests.

Capt. Pederson Remembered.
Captain Charles Pederson of the steamer Noeai was the happy recipient at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon of a handsome silver cup presented by the citizens of Hilo in appreciation of his services in taking the first annexation news to the big island. George C. Beckley made the presentation in the presence of about a dozen friends of the genial skipper. The cup is a beauty. It has three handles. Between the first and second is an engraving of the Noeai entering Hilo bay. Between the second and third are the American and Hawaiian flags draped together, and between the third and first is the inscription, "particularizing the taken and the date."

Music Store Opening Tonight.
The Bergstrom Music Co., Ltd., will open to the public this evening the elegant and completely stocked music store in the new Progress block. A large room is occupied and there is on display the Chickering, Kimball and Kneiser pianos, besides a full line of organs and stringed instruments. The company has a number of the best agencies and is under the management and in charge of men trained to the business.

RAINIER BEER

Is a winner with the "boys." They drink as much of it as they like—without fear of having a "large" head next day. Rainier leaves no unpleasant after-effects. It's the most delightful of all fine beers. On tap or in bottles at the Criterion.

DID YOU EVER SEE A SNOWSTORM IN SUMMER?

We never did; but we have seen the clothing at this time of the year so covered with dandruff that it looked as if it had been out in a regular snowstorm.

No need of this snowstorm.

As the summer sun would melt the falling snow, so will melt these flakes of dandruff in the scalp. It goes further than this: it prevents their formation.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

It has still other properties: it will restore color to gray hair in just ten out of every ten cases.

And it does even more: it feeds and nourishes the roots of the hair. Thin hair becomes thick hair; and short hair becomes long hair.

GOING IT BLIND.

Don't go it blind and trust such a precious gift as your eyesight to nature unassisted to remedy whatever defect may exist. It's a serious mistake that may have serious results—unhealthy eyes at least—blindness perhaps. Those headaches, that dizziness, that nervousness, even indigestion may be traceable to eye ailments.

By my methods of examination mistake is impossible. Examinations free.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Take the Delinquent—Mrs. Hanna.
A salesman is wanted at B. F. Ehlers & Co.'s dry goods store.

The day fire works, with an American flag first, were fine.

Special meeting of Lodge le Progres tonight for work in second degree.

Mrs. William Haywood is expected to arrive on the Mariposa on the 17th.

"Spaniard shoot all same fireworks," was the remark of a Chinese spectator last evening.

Both the mounted police and Capt. Dillingham's Mounted Reserve looked well yesterday.

B. F. Ehlers & Co. have reduced the price on French organdies from 30 to 20 cents a yard.

Rev. C. W. Hill will occupy the pulpit for the usual service at Central Union church tomorrow.

The Oahu Cemetery Association will meet at the office of Bruce Cartwright at 11 o'clock this morning.

Minister Damon, Minister King, F. M. Hatch and L. A. Thurston were prominent at the ball last night.

Officers of the Government who did not take the oath yesterday may do so up to noon today at the Judiciary building.

A large number of Ewa people, including Mr. and Mrs. Lowrie and Mr. and Mrs. Jennings were up for the Flag Raising.

The military boys say that they will take more interest than ever in the Regiment now. Still another company is forming already.

Mrs. Alice Rix was an interested spectator at the ball last night. Mrs. C. McC. Reeve and Mrs. McCully-Higgins were present.

Photograph views of the proceedings in connection with the change of sovereignty of these Islands yesterday, can be had of J. J. Williams.

American sailors added three hard street fights to last night's program. Liquor was at the bottom of the trouble. There were no arrests.

Yesterday's official stand was decorated by George W. R. King. It was beautifully bedecked with American and Hawaiian shields and bunting.

On page 12 it is written in error that "This is the birthday of S. N. Castle." The anniversary was yesterday, Flag Day, and it was intended to so print it.

The Bergstrom Music Co., in the new Progress block, will have an opening this evening. There will be a display of instruments and a concert. All are invited.

Capt. Kekai was the lone occupant of the Station house during the Flag Raising. Policemen, clerks, and even the turnkey, were at the Executive grounds.

Hives are a terrible torment to the little folks, and to some older ones. Doan's Ointment never fails. Instant relief, and permanent cure. At any chemist's, 50 cents.

James Dodd displayed during Flag Raising Day on the corner of his Fort street premises a large painting showing President McKinley and President Dole shaking hands.

Judge Stanley, Judge Perry, John A. Hassinger and Jas. A. Girvin did the "swearing in" at the Judiciary building and Judges Wilcox and Peterson at the Police Station.

The Lehua arrived about 11 o'clock last night from Kalaupapa and Kaula. She reported all quiet on Molokai. There were no special flag raising ceremonies anywhere.

Commencing Monday, August 15, the Temple of Fashion will offer the entire stock of India Silks, all shades, at 25c per yard. Mr. Silva claims that these prices will never prevail again.

An almost boundless mob of native and Portuguese boys chased after the flags in the day fireworks set off yesterday and fought over them after they fell to the ground near the fish market.

Photographer Williams had seven cameras in operation and secured 120 Flag Day negatives. Frank Davey had a big extra force of men about with cameras and secured a large number of views.

The entire police force took the oath in the Station house yard at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Judge Wilcox administered it. J. J. Williams took a picture of the force in the act of "swearing in."

Today at 12 o'clock noon at the front entrance of the Judiciary Building will be sold a tract of land at Aiea, Kona, Oahu, containing a total area of 98 acres, lying on both sides of the present main road.

The Chamber of Commerce flag, received from the Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco, was raised over the rooms on Merchant street when the regular flag went up on the Executive building at noon yesterday.

A number of bombs were set off in the streets near the corner of Hotel and Fort last Friday. The matter was frequently reported at the Station house, but the police seemed unable to locate the real offenders.

Mr. H. Morgan, recently from Philadelphia, did himself credit at the dance last evening. Mr. Morgan is an old timer in the art of the light fantastic and intends to make Hawaii his home. His appearance and dancing was very favorably spoken of at the dance last evening.

Miss Newlands, niece of Representative Newlands, of Nevada, father of the Joint Resolution of Annexation, was at the Flag Raising yesterday with her friend, Mrs. Sewall, whom she is visiting. Miss Newlands was presented by the Annexation Club with a bouquet and a Hawaiian pin—the Hawaiian coat of arms.

FOR ONE WEEK ONLY.

WHARF AND WAVE.

The collier C. F. Crocker commences to load ballast for the coast today.

The sugar awaiting shipment on Kanai Thursday night was as follows: Kealia, 4,000; Koloa, 700; Makaweli, 1,600; Waima, 800, and Kekaha, 1,600. Weather good.

The customs inspectors and guards were excused from duty yesterday during the ceremonies at the Executive building and also in the afternoon to take the oath of fealty.

The Ke Au Hou, from Kukuha last evening, reports a smooth bar at Laie, fine weather on the windward Oahu coast, with a fresh northeast wind. There are 300 bags of paddy at Kahuku for the Waihole mill.

The Noeau reports one and three-fourths inches of rain at Hamakua during the past week and good weather along that coast. There are 4,300 bags of sugar at Honokaa and 200 bags of sugar at Kukuhaele awaiting shipment.

Joe Puni, manager of the hui now operating the steamer Iwa, leaves on the Kinau this morning for a trip along the Maui coast in the interests of that vessel, which sails on Monday next for Lahaina, Makana, Kihai and Keawakapu. The engines of the Iwa have been completely overhauled and she has a new mainsail.

A Britisher with the unusual name of Brown, is reported by Detective Alrich, to have stowed away on the troopship St. Paul, for Manila. He was employed for some time in the city as a mechanic, became penniless and some of the soldier boys took pity on him, dressed him in one of Uncle Sam's uniforms and smuggled him on board.

The little schooner Concord is at Brewer's wharf with a cargo of feed stuffs from Seattle, having arrived yesterday afternoon. She is about 85 tons burthen and was formerly fishing off the Grand Banks, then hailing from Portsmouth, N. H. She was bought last winter by Klondikers and brought around Cape Horn. The party "broke" on the Sound and the schooner was bought for the island trade by Hughes and Harris.

IN THE BUSY CITY

Honolulu as It Appears to the Eyes of Visiting Americans.

UP TO DATE BUSINESS HOUSES

Quite Like Rest of United States.
Cold Climate Progress Amid Tropical Verdure.

We reached sight of the land about 5:30 a. m. The first view was a low range of mountains looking a dim green in the early morning light. The mountains do not seem to reach a great height and are rather regular in their formation. As we get nearer the town the mountains gradually slope down, forming a gentle declivity almost into the city. The houses nestle among the trees, which have a brilliant green hue and it looks as if spaces had been opened between the trees and the houses snugly laid in there so the branches would resume their original position and partially cover the houses with just enough openings to show part of the roof, and here and there a green painted shutter at the window. As the steamer crept up to the wharf we were greeted with shouts of "Hi-Hi." Looking down we found about a dozen boys in the water with forms erect and with a considerable part of their shoulders showing. How they maintained such an upright position and stand so high out of the water with apparently no motion whatever of their hands, is more than we can understand. They were trying to induce the passengers to throw them money and as soon as a coin was thrown into the water that instant about twenty-four brown heads showed where the heads formerly stood—there was a slight ripple on the water then all was still—in a few seconds twelve heads appear again and the owner of one of them holds up his hand showing the coin between his fingers to illustrate the saying that the "sea gives up its treasures." Then the coin is deposited in his mouth as of course they do not have a pocket. The cloth around the middle of their bodies. As soon as we got off the steamer, we took a walk up town and as we got out a little it seemed to us to be the most beautiful place one could conceive. Most of the houses are set back from the street and the grounds in front are set out in tropical plants. Immense palms spread their beautiful leaves over other bushes with various colored flowers, some a bright crimson, some blue, some yellow and some white. Cacti of various forms are to be seen in every yard, while every yard the tall coconut trees spread their long branches in every direction, and looking up to where the branches start from the tree about twenty or twenty-five feet from the ground, there you would see the cocoanuts, forming a cluster all around the tree. In a great many of the grounds also on the houses, is a climbing vine with a dark green leaf and a light blue flower something like a "forget-me-not." The perfume from all these flowers was simply perfect, and as we walked along we saw a Japanese man and woman watering their plants, they were dressed in their native costume, the man and woman with the gown draped around them as we see in their pictures. We almost imagined ourselves in Japan till we were brought to our senses very forcibly by hearing a little kanaka school boy at the back of us whistling "On the Banks of the Wabash."

This Paradise is not without music. You can at all times hear a burst of song from some open shutter, or the sweet tones of the piano or some native musical instrument. Anything in the way of a musical instrument or sheet music can be had here. A large music store located in the large stone building called Progress Block is the Bergstrom Music Company. James W. Bergstrom, the manager of this Company is the son of John Bergstrom, who is well known in San Francisco in the Pipe Organ business. Mr. Bergstrom was formerly in business here for himself but has lately formed a stock company which is composed of some of the leading citizens of Honolulu. Their display room is filled with Chickering, Kimball and Kragger pianos and other musical instruments. This company make a specialty of Hawaiian instruments and music. The music department is under the management of Mr. Frazier, who was formerly connected with Sherman, Clay & Co. of San Francisco. This house is not only as thoroughly equipped as any house of its kind on the Coast, but you can rent a piano by the month, buy one on the installment plan or make any arrangement for music with this house that you would be able to do with a house of like character in the States. They issue monthly a bulletin of the latest popular music and control the trade not only on this island but ship a large amount of goods to the other Islands.

In connection with their salesroom they have a repair department, under the management of Mr. H. W. West, who has had a large experience in that line of work in Eastern piano houses and factories.

The city has the appearance of one large garden filled with tropical fruits and flowers.

The hotels have pretty little cottages attached and the grounds around them are beautiful. The principal hotel in Honolulu is the Hawaiian hotel, which is located in one of the most charming spots in the town. The people who come here with the intention of remaining usually take a furnished cottage either in connection with a hotel or in some private ground.

The morning after our arrival here we took a carriage and were driven down in the business portion of the city. The first place we stopped at was a large white coral building located in a large yard enclosed by an iron fence. This building with many others of like character near by is occupied by H. Hackfeld & Company Limited, one of the largest wholesale houses on the island. Fifty years ago Captain H. Hackfeld established himself here in a little retail dry goods and notion store. This small store gradually grew into a larger one, and during later years into one of the largest wholesale establishments in the country, with a branch European house in Bremen. They now have eight vessels plying between here and Europe, also a number of large sailing vessels between here and San Francisco. On entering, the first thing that met our eyes was a large salesroom, running the full length of the building, neatly filled with samples of dry goods of every description. To the left of this room is a large office where quite a little army of clerical force were as busy as bees. We heard the familiar cack of the Remington type-writer and learned that this company not only used several in their own offices, but were sole agents for this standard machine, which is known throughout the world as the best yet put upon the market. Mr. W. Walters, one of the company, who by the way has won a host of friends by his courteous and genial manner, personally conducted us through the different buildings and made plain the manner in which this enormous business was managed. We passed from one large building into another, and another, the floors of each filled with a different line of goods giving one the impression that they were visiting a number of wholesale houses instead of one. We walked through avenues, each side of which were barricaded to the rafters with fine European and American goods; through cellars lighted here and there with electric lamps, filled with wines, champagnes and liquors of all kinds. This firm has a branch house in Hilo also one in Kailua, Hawaii, and many retail stores on the different islands. They handle about 50,000 tons of sugar yearly and employ thousands of natives on their sugar plantations. They are also sole agents for thirty coffee plantations, and one large build coffee plantation, which contains a large coffee mill. No one should miss visiting this special part of the business. It is indeed interesting. We took an elevator and went to the top floor of the building, here we stepped off into a room directly under the roof which was the drying room. Spread out on the floor were thousands of pounds of coffee still in the parchment, we did not remain here long as it was the hottest place we have as yet found in Honolulu. The coffee coming from the other islands is nearly always damp, so it is first thoroughly dried in this room before it is discharged down on the next floor into a large hopper. On the ground floor is the coffee mill. The coffee is thoroughly cleaned from dirt and dust after it is thrown into the hopper and then passes down a chute into a huller where the parchment is separated from the bean. The bean then passes through another chute into the polisher and from there it goes into the separating machine where it is distributed and thrown into six different pockets according to the size of the bean. Attached to the pockets are bags which receive the coffee which by this time is ready for the test room. In this room you will find many Japanese women sitting before what you would first think was a sewing machine, but on investigation we found this machine to have a large muslin band on which the coffee passed back and forth before the women while they operated the machine with their feet. It was wonderful to see how quickly they would pick up the yellow bean and cast it aside while the good bean would pass on into a large bin to be put into sacks ready for the market. This company also handle rice in large quantities, being agents for several plantations.

Nowhere in the United States will you find such a well equipped wholesale house. It would take a book of many pages to even mention in a brief way the volume of business this company handles, and yet their system is such that the work is carried on with the regularity of a well adjusted machine.

The above experience was simply a commencement of our surprises at the sweet tones of the piano or some native musical instrument. Anything in the way of a musical instrument or sheet music can be had here. A large music store located in the large stone building called Progress Block is the Bergstrom Music Company. James W. Bergstrom, the manager of this Company is the son of John Bergstrom, who is well known in San Francisco in the Pipe Organ business. The city has the appearance of one large garden filled with tropical fruits and flowers.

The morning after our arrival here we took a carriage and were driven here, mostly frame and the material is all imported. The firm of Lewers & Cooke largely control the lumber and building material interest in Honolulu. On their wharf and in their warehouses you will find thousands of feet of pine lumber from the Puget Sound, redwood from Eureka, California; glass and corrugated iron from England, Germany and Belgium. They carry a complete line of mattings from China and Japan and have two large four-masted schooners, the Robert and the Isabella. These schooners on the trips to other ports for lumber and other goods carry thousands of tons of sugar. This company occupy a large building on Fort street where they have their offices and salesrooms. Here you will find a complete stock of builders' hardware, paints, wall papers and matting. The above company is composed of Robert Lewers, F. J. Lowrey and C. M. Cooke. They have a large trade also throughout the other islands.

Many new frame residences will be erected on the island especially in the suburbs of Honolulu during the next twelve months on the new electric car lines. Buena Vista, a property formerly belonging to the late John A. King, has been purchased and is to be built upon by Bruce Waring & Company. This company have also a new sub-division called Punahou tract, of about twenty-seven acres on Wilder avenue. The electric car line will also pass by on two sides of this property. This is a charming spot. The first time we had occasion to use the telephone here, we looked around for the "slot" to drop our nickel in, and were very much surprised to find there was no charge for the accommodation—quite different to the system we were accustomed to in the States.

It is rumored that in a very short time the new electric road will be erected and the horse cars a thing of the past.

They have now a fine electric plant which the Hawaiian Electric Company established five years ago. This company furnishes light to the whole city with the exception of the Government buildings. We had a very pleasant visit through their buildings and Mr. Theodore Holtman, the general manager, personally conducted us through the power house, ice-making and cold storage plants. In addition to lighting the city and homes with electricity they also furnish electric plants and generators of all descriptions and have on hand a large stock of wire, chandeliers and electrical goods.

In connection with their electric light business they have an ice and refrigerating plant. In the ice-making department they have a Fricke ice machine, capacity fourteen tons of ice every twenty-four hours and one hundred thousand cubic feet of cold storage. The ice manufactured is strictly pure as the water is boiled twice and filtered five times before freezing. How the soldier boys did enjoy this pure cold water and the Electric Company kept several clean barrels well filled with water for their use during their stay in Honolulu. The whole output of the ice plant is sold to the People's Ice Company. The cold storage is an immense building divided off into a great many separate rooms which are kept at a temperature of from 32 to 48 degrees. Here you will find real Alaska weather and wish you had your seal skin sack with you. In several of the large rooms hundreds of dressed beef were hung along on pulleys, in the other rooms were tons of butter, cheese, fruits, and poultry, and one large room is devoted to fish and canned goods. The doors to these rooms are about 18 inches thick and weigh 1700 lbs.; they are made of mineral wool.

The weather here is so warm that the ice plant is indeed a blessing, for were ice not manufactured here the cost would be so great that it would be impossible for all to keep perishable goods for any length of time. The milk and butter here is greatly affected by the extreme heat. Many have gone into the dairy business on these islands, but after the loss of much time, labor and money have given it up. There is now established here what is known as the Dairyman's Association, who have offices on Fort street. This Association supply the greater part of the population of this city with milk, cream and butter. Their plan of carrying on a dairy business is somewhat different than in the States, but as it has proven a success many of the dairymen on the Coast have adopted the plan. The Association receive all the milk delivered on the island and deliver the milk at less expense than the dairies could themselves. The cows of these dairies number about eight hundred. The milk that this association deliver to the public is strictly pure, and considering the heat and poor pasturage, compares very favorably with the product from the Coast. Rental for pasturage here is very high indeed, and the cows tortured continually by an insect called the "horned fly" soon die off. Butter is 40 cents per pound and milk 10 cents per quart, and when one considers the difficulties to be met with in this business, the above prices are very low.

There is very little feed raised here, but the California Feed Company import tons of hay and grain from the States of Oregon, California and Washington. They do a large wholesale and retail business, not only here but at Hilo, Kailua and Hoonaka on the island of Hawaii. They have a large packet schooner, the Mokulele (flying ship) which piles between these ports. Among the four large buildings which they occupy, is the old Custom House, which they use to crush their barley in, and the old armory which is used for storage and warehouse. This company have given some attention to the raising of hay on the island, but found it was not feasible. There is a caterpillar which nips the hay or grain when it is about two inches from the ground. There have been a few successful crops raised after a certain amount of rain fall but this is very rare. This company has been in existence nine years and is the only exclusive feed and grain company on the island. They have a large retail house on Beretania street, called the City Feed Store, where a large business is handled. Mr. T. J. King is manager and treasurer. Mr. Brown president, Captain W. B. Godfrey vice-president, and C. M. V. Porter secretary of the concern.

Although there is much difficulty in raising hay or grain certain fruits grow here in abundance. Heretofore the cultivation of fruits, especially the pineapple has been carried on in negligent manner, but the island people are just beginning to get a move on them and about the development of their fruit industries.

The largest fruit dealer is D. G. Camarinos of the San Francisco-California Fruit Market, who carries the largest and finest line of California fruits, also a full line of canned goods, frozen oysters and provisions. Mr. Camarinos ships to the Coast tons of the native fruits such as pine-apples, alligator pears, mangoes, bananas, coconuts, bread fruit, in fact all the tropical fruits to be found on the Islands. He carries none but the choicest California fruits and his canned goods are of the finest brands. He does the largest wholesale and retail business on the island in this line, and is well known in the business circles of Honolulu. Orders received through the telephone are promptly attended to.

Almost every residence in Honolulu has a telephone. There is only one telephone company here, "The Mutual Telephone Company, Limited" on the corner of Alakea and Merchant streets. It is the only telephone system of its kind in the world, being the single wire or what is known as the "Law" system. This system gives an excellent service to the public and the rent for a machine is so small that no one need be without one. The rate for a house telephone is two dollars and a half per month and for business houses and offices, four dollars per month, so that at that low rate everybody can afford to say "Hello" to his friends. The first time we had occasion to use the telephone here, we looked around for the "slot" to drop our nickel in, and were very much surprised to find there was no charge for the accommodation—quite different to the system we were accustomed to in the States.

One of the principal banking houses in the city is Claus Spreckels & Co., who transact a general banking and exchange business. This bank is located on Fort street between Merchant and Queen streets. The firm make loans on approved security, issue commercial and traveler's credits and buy and sell bills of exchange. The partnership consists of Claus Spreckels of San Francisco and W. G. Irwin of Honolulu. Their San Francisco agents are the Nevada National Bank of San Francisco. Mr. William G. Irwin connects with this firm is also President of the firm of Wm. G. Irwin & Co. Sugar Factors and Commission Agents, as well as representing the "Oceanic Steamship Company."

Honolulu can boast of several large business blocks and especially one located on Bethel and Hotel streets known as the Waverley Block. This is a large handsome stone building and is now occupied by the institution of the best known firms in the city. Ordway & Porter, importers and dealers in furniture and upholstery, occupy the large corner store where they have a fine display of furniture of all kinds. They have been in the furniture business here for the past five years on Hotel street. They have increased their present quarters. They occupy two floors which they use for sales and sample rooms. Here you will find furniture of up to date styles. They have thousands of dollars worth of stock, in their warehouses, all of the latest design, which they import from the leading Eastern factories, and the vast amount of furniture this company handle, enable them to sell goods at Coast prices with merely cost of freight added. The members of the firm are G. A. Ordway and K. B. Porter.

J. T. Waterhouse, importers, formerly of Queen street moved into their pretty new stores in Waverley Block last Tuesday and already their old and many new customers have visited them. This business was established by John T. Waterhouse in 1851, who died when J. T. Waterhouse, Jr. bought out the other heirs and continued the business. He also died in 1896 and the firm now is composed of his four sons: Earnest C. John, George S. and Fred. T. P. Waterhouse. In their new store they have three departments: one in the main floor is a grocery, which cannot be equaled in this city and compares favorably to the finest in the States. They have a full line of Armour's meats and canned goods, Heinz's pickles, baked beans and tomato sauce and a fine line of English goods. The manager of the grocery department is Mr. M. P. Mayhew, formerly of Seattle, Washington. The grocery department which is also on the main floor is filled with handsome pieces of toilet articles, bric a brac, Hayland ware and choice parlor lamps. The second floor is stocked with a full line of hardware; the crockery and hardware departments are under the management of John T. Waterhouse and J. W. Rodmore. Under these stores is a large basement, one side of which is filled with spices from Tiltman & Bende's of San Francisco and the balance of space is packed to the rafters with boxes and bales of new goods. Directly back of the main store in the yard is a large coffee roaster; this company are agents for several plantations and roast and deliver coffee to them. The just treatment this firm have always extended to their customers has made them very popular.

One of the oldest and largest firms here is the Castle & Cooke, Limited. Importers and commission merchants. They established themselves here a century ago and grew up with the country. They are well known throughout the Islands and as they carry a full assortment of plantation supplies to suit the various demands, control that trade on this and other Islands. Their steel plows are made expressly for island work with extra parts and their line of cultivators, cane knives and agricultural implements cannot be excelled. They have just opened in the Waverley Block a household supply department. Waverley Block adjoining their main building. In this new department they have the Garland stoves and ranges, and any one who has visited the World's Fair in Chicago will remember the exhibition of the Michigan Stove Company of the "Mammoth Garland Stove." They have a fine new line of aluminum ware, refrigerators and ice cream freezers and carry a large stock of the Wilcox & Gibbs and Automatic Silent running sewing machines.

They are agents for several plantations and do a large business in Life, Fire and Marine Insurance. Representing the New England Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Boston and the Aetna Insurance Co. of Hartford.

Having had occasion to purchase some fans we drove up to the two story building of S. Ozaki who occupies large store rooms in the Waverley Block on Hotel street and found one of the most complete Japanese outfits, consisting of ladies' embroidered tea gowns, some worth fifty dollars which are a dream being all hand embroidered, also handkerchiefs, cases, gowns, button scarfs, dollies, sofa cushions, etc. The display of Satsuma, Imai, Kutany and Cloisonne china is of the finest assortment. China sets, silks and satins of the finest quality are to be had at very reasonable prices. Mr. Ozaki came here five years ago and has been established at his present address two years. He has also two other stores here, one a wholesale liquor house, the other a provision house. At Kanai he has three stores and his goods are represented all over the Islands.

The Honolulu Iron Works was next visited. Here they employ several hundred men and by the clang of hammers and the general rush all through their works, we soon realized that we had struck the busiest place in town. It is here that the steam engines, sugar mills, boilers, coolers, iron, brass, lead castings and machinery of every description is made. It is very interesting to go through these works. We first went into a large shop where some thirty men were setting up sugar machinery and mills. Then through into another room where about thirty more men were doing all kinds of repair and job work. Then into the blacksmith's shop where twenty-five men were engaged in doing heavy work; we then went through several other shops and then into the large boiler yard where at least ninety men were busily engaged in pounding and working on immense boilers. These Iron Works compare favorably with the largest in the States, they do not have to solicit business as they have more than they can comfortably do without solicitation. They employ about fifteen men in their pattern shop and eight in their drafting room. They are the sole agents of the National Tube Works Company of New York and have a large warehouse filled with iron pipes, fittings and everything that belongs to heavy hardware. The foundry is a very busy place. Here they cast from ten to fifteen tons of iron daily. We were surprised to see the large number of Hawaiians at work throughout their plant, and on inquiry we found, that they were very proud of the fact, that they excluded entirely Asiatic labor, and employed natives wherever they could to their mutual advantage. There are more Hawaiians employed by this Company, than by any other one institution on the island, and a great many, in their opinion, are holding responsible positions being remunerated as highly as any other skilled mechanics. This company consists of but few shareholders, among whom are the owners of some of the principal plantations here. The increased amount of business has compelled their entire works to be moved to a new place. They have secured near the harbor, where, in a short time new and modern buildings will be erected and fitted up completely with all modern improvements and machinery.

The wholesale district as in other large cities is down near the water front. One of the oldest and largest firms in this locality is the firm of M. S. Grinbaum, Ltd., on Queen street. This company is what is called a closed corporation. They have been in the commission and importing business of general merchandise in the same house for the past thirty-three years. In former years they were compelled to import all their stock from Europe, but since the United States went into manufacture of goods in their line, a great many American products are found on their shelves. They have three large floors, well stocked with all kinds of merchandise, shoes, boots, hats, cigars, (Havana, Manila and American), also American toiles. This company is composed of M. S. Grinbaum, M. Louissou, A. J. Benjamin, C. Bolte and A. Gartenberg. Having been here so long they are well known and have established a large trade not only here but on the other Islands.

Another firm located in the wholesale district near the harbor is T. H. Davies & Co., Ltd. This company is the successor of the business originally established in a portion of the premises it at present occupies, by Starkey, Janion & Co. in 1847.

In May of this year Mr. Theo. H. Davies, for so long associated with Honolulu, and this business in particular, died in his home in England, and the directors of the company now are, T. Rain Walker, F. M. Swanzey and T. Clive Davies.

This company is agent for several sugar plantations, and is also intimately connected with the rice and coffee industries.

It is also agent for Fire and Marine Insurance Companies, represents Chicago is noted for its number of wheels seen daily on its streets and in the parks, but for its size Honolulu compares favorably with it. On the road to the Waikiki Beach can be seen hundreds of wheels daily. We are able to rent our favorite Chicago wheel "The Sterling" at a much lower rate than at home, from the Pacific Cycle Manufacturing Company. You can purchase a wheel from this company at the same price as you can from the Chicago firm with merely freight added. They occupy a large two story building on Fort street and do their own enameling and in fact build bicycles to order. They have quite a large force of men putting wheels together and on repair work. The Sterling has the prestige here equal to any other wheels. They carry in stock the well known Morgan and Wright tires and a full line of bicycle sundries. Mr. T. V. King, Manager of the Cycle Company very kindly furnished us wheels to visit the beach at Waikiki. What a delightful ride it is! We started early in the afternoon and passed a number of beautiful homes among them Minister Sewall's which is not far distant from Wright's Villa where we spent the afternoon bathing in the surf. The proprietor and his wife received us in a most hospitable manner and made us feel right at home. They have a large veranda overlooking the ocean which is always crowded with guests watching the bathers. This is a very popular resort and many of the fine old Honolulu remain here during the warm months, away from the noise and heat of the city. Guests can be accommodated with bathing suits and refreshments and everything possible is done for their comfort.

The evenings here are generally pleasant and the moonlight surf bathing at Wright's Villa cannot be surpassed. This place can be reached by street cars, carriages or on foot. The latter is preferred by many, and after a jaunt of this kind one has an appetite that can only be appeased by a "Dutch lunch." By the way there is no brewery here but they do not need one as Macfarlane & Co., importers and wholesale dealers in wines and liquors have on hand at all times a stock of Schlitz beer, which is made at Milwaukee famous. In Milwaukee there is a garden called "Schlitz Garden" it is a beautiful spot filled with trees, flowers, birds, music, and at all times choice cut flowers decorate the tables. No stranger ever visits Milwaukee without seeing this garden. This is one of the favorite beers here, which is not at all surprising, as it was the only one that at the Philadelphia Exposition in '76 and at the World's Fair in Chicago Schlitz beer received the first award for purity and excellence and has since maintained the lead in every competitive analysis that has been made in competition with other beers. Macfarlane & Co., are the sole agents for this beer.

Opposite the Arlington Hotel grounds is a handsome three-story apartment brick building occupied by the "up-to-date" firm of J. Emmelhuth & Co. This Company makes a specialty of porcelain and enameled bath tubs, marble and porcelain lavatories and toilet fixtures of every description. They have been in business here for the past twenty years and formerly occupied a store on Merchant and Nuuanu streets. The first floor is used as a store and salesroom, with the office in the rear. They have a large elevator run by electricity. On the second floor is a fine display of "Superior" stoves and ranges, manufactured in St. Louis, for which they are the sole agents. The third floor is filled with sheets of copper, iron and tin, and here you find a busy repair shop. The basement is filled with stock and stove repairs. They carry as fine a line of bath tubs as will be found this side of the Rockies.

Nearly every one rides either horseback or in carriages which go under the undignified name of hacks. They are drawn only by the rubber tire, built by Chinamen, Jap., Portuguese or white men. Yesterday we saw a Chinaman taking home the bundles of washing he had collected in a phaeton. A great many carriages are sold here.

The Hawaiian Carriage Manufacturing Company is a large and reliable house in this line. They are located on Queen street and occupy four buildings and employ from twenty to twenty-five men. They manufacture the goose neck dray, and carriages and phaetons of all styles. They are exclusive agents for the Rubber Tire Wheel Company of Springfield, Ohio. These rubber tires are now generally accepted as quite as much an improvement as the luxury tires were considered a few years ago, and are now placed on all the modern carriages. In the large stock room we saw a number of beautiful carriages made by this company and among them was the ex-Queen's phaeton surrey with royal blue and gold trimmings—a very handsome turnout. This also had the rubber tires mentioned. Mr. J. Wilson and Mr. Whitehouse very kindly conducted us through the buildings and explained the detail work of carriage making which was very interesting and perhaps more so to us, owing to the historical references in connection thereto. One of the four buildings which they occupy as a paint shop and wood working department was owned by a Kamehameha and is over 50 years old. As it stands there in its present condition we could hardly realize that its walls had ever sheltered the Duke of Edinburgh. The floors are now all worn eaten and nothing remains to show any signs of royalty. The part used as their blacksmith shop was pointed out to us as having been one of the cottages in connection with this renowned place and in which Princess Victoria had spent many days as a guest. The old bellows puffed too and fro over the spot where the Princess had slept, but the blacksmith went on with his work heedless of the fact that he stood on what was of historical value. The old quarters formerly occupied by the servants of Kamehameha are now used for storing wood materials. An old carriage used by Kamehameha—a relic of the past—was found in one of the buildings covered with cobwebs; it is a quaint looking old vehicle in comparison with the more modern ones manufactured by the company, and which we had just examined.

Come to Attention!

At this time, when the minds of the people are absorbed with greeting and aloha toward the army of visitors, attention should not be forgotten to personal wants. Note the attitude of the soldiers when attention is called. They are all business, so should be the civilian when attention is called to their personal needs. Newspapers are the medium of attention and thought and through them we call the public to attention. Shoes need attention, your feet need consideration. We have shoes to suit everybody in price and style. We ask your attention and patronage.

IS ON A BIRTHDAY

Play Raising on Anniversary of a Pioneer Annexationist.

S. N. CASTLE AN EARLY ADVOCATE

In Days of Kamehameha III and IV.
At Home and Abroad—Once Was Sharply Rebuked.

It is a matter of history that Kamehameha III negotiated and signed a treaty of annexation with the United States. If death had not interfered, it is likely that Hawaii would have been American territory years before the Civil War. Destiny ordered otherwise. Perhaps it has been better for Hawaii, for during all these years the country has been growing into a fitter condition to unite with the great Republic. In those days Hawaiians did not understand the full meaning of constitutional rights. Today the native is far better fitted for democratic government than in 1854. But there were a few then who believed that to be taken under the protecting wing of the great United States would benefit Hawaii in many ways, and among those was S. N. Castle, who was trust-

S. N. CASTLE.

This is the birthday of the late S. N. Castle, whose memory will be honored so long as there remains in Hawaii a vestige of sign of civilization and society. He prayed and worked and wished for flag day, and it is a pleasing coincidence that the Stars and Stripes float as the ensign of the country on the day Mr. Castle would have been 90 years of age. He may be called one of the original annexationists and at the time of his death was the man here oldest in years, as an advocate, for the good of all, of the union of Hawaii with the States of North America.

ed by the King and chiefs. He freely and openly declared his opinion, and placed the matter before the King in every light, in order that he might weigh the consequences and know what it meant to surrender his position as an independent sovereign. There were many who opposed it, and among them the young chiefs who were in the line of succession. But in 1853 Prince Liholiho admitted that the day must come when Hawaii's best interests would demand absorption by the United States, and it was only a question of time when it would come. Naturally, or the death of Kamehameha III there was a change and Liholiho desired to be King and not a pensioner of America. The treaty was recalled and Hawaii continued independent. But that Mr. Castle still retained the confidence of the chiefs, was shown by frequent conferences with him, and on the accession of Prince Lot, as Kamehameha V, he became a member of the Privy Council, a position occupied by him till increasing age induced him to resign during Kalakaua's reign.

All of this time, however, he continued an earnest annexationist, and frequently expressed his views, although recognizing that it might not be opportune at any time during the reign of Kamehameha V. That his views were always frankly expressed, without dissimulation, probably accounts for the continued confidence of the Kings and chiefs. When Kamehameha V died in 1872, not having named a successor, and Mrs. Bishop refusing to take the throne, Mr. Castle again felt that the time had arrived, when annexation to the United States should be the national policy, and so expressed himself.

In 1873, while in New York City for a few weeks, at the request of Mr. Field, the editor of the New York Evangelist, he wrote an article on Hawaii, and again presented the subject of annexation, showing that it was necessary, not only for commercial prosperity and the well being of the Hawaiians, but that possession of Hawaii was most important to America. When the paper was received in Honolulu it aroused much comment and ill feeling on the part of the Hawaiian party, which was evolving the idea of "Hawaii for the Hawaiians." Some of the papers spoke very bitterly of the Castle family, and in the Legislative session of 1874, which followed shortly, it was proposed to banish them all, but the proposition got shelved in some way.

Till death, in 1894, Mr. Castle continued an earnest and consistent annexationist, and hoped to see its accomplishment, but his eyes closed before it arrived. He joined the Annexation Club, was an earnest supporter of the present Government and did what his failing strength permitted to advance the cause which grew dearer as years whitened his hairs. But through all the years he remained a firm friend of the Hawaiians, which was shown in various ways.

A MAN OF ABILITY.

Commodore Melville, Engineer in Chief of Navy.

A Washington special dispatch to the New York Tribune pays tribute to the value of the work on the Naval Board done by Commodore Melville. The dispatch states that it would be impossible to forget that the achievements of the naval heroes of the present war were made feasible by the triumphs of engineering exemplified in American ships through the progressive character, wide experience and high professional ability of Commodore Melville, for nearly twelve years the Engineer-in-Chief of the Navy. During that period his importance in the Navy Department and his fearless actions ashore have been comparable only with those of the chief engineers at the throttle-valve in the engine-rooms of the great ships afloat, furnishing the energy for their operation and driving every mechanism upon which the activity of their effective power depends. Famous for the daring spirit and dauntless courage which marked his gallantry in the Arctic on more than one occasion, with a remarkable record of zeal, bravery and endurance throughout his active service afloat from the outbreak of the Civil War until a few years ago. Commodore Melville's greatest triumphs have been enduring monuments in the peaceful cruisers, battle-ships and other naval vessels which are propelled by the marvelous engines of his own design.

For years he has been the foremost exponent of the world over of high speed in fighting ships, and this solution of the problems of enormous power with the greatest economy have had the approval of foreign navies is shown in the avidity with which the novel features of American naval engineering have been closely imitated. The splendid triple-screw cruisers of his creation have furnished the type of engine which European navies have seized upon to the exclusion of all others in battle-ships now under construction its obvious advantages requiring no argument among the armed powers keenly competing for the supremacy of Europe.

Today Commodore Melville is fighting the battle of faster ships practically single-handed among the bureau chiefs of the Navy Department, although supported by nearly every fighting man in the service; the latter, however, are so busy just now in the Caribbean and at Manila that their counsel is not easily available. Melville has demonstrated the advantage of every knot gained in action, and the force of his proposition to make the new battle-ships two knot faster than their predecessors stands out strongly in the light of the permanent occupation of the Philippines and Hawaii. This difference of speed would enable a gain of more than fifteen hours from San Francisco to Hawaii and of more than two days from San Francisco to Manila, a difference which in time of war might prove invaluable.

Snub Not at All.

Don't snub a boy because he wears shabby clothes, says Great Thoughts. When Edison, the inventor of the telephone, first entered Boston he wore a pair of yellow linen breeches in the depth of winter.

Don't snub a boy because his home is plain and unpretending. Abraham Lincoln's early home was a log cabin.

Don't snub a boy because of the ignorance of his parents. Shakespeare, the world's poet, was the son of a man who was unable to write his own name.

Don't snub a boy because he chooses a humble trade. The author of "Pilgrim's Progress" was tinker.

Don't snub a boy because of his physical disability. Milton was blind.

Don't snub a boy because of his dullness in lessons. Hogarth, the celebrated painter and engraver, was a stupid boy at his books.

Don't snub any one; not alone because some day they may outstrip you in the race of life, but because it is neither kind, nor right, nor Christian.

HE WAS COLONEL THEN.

The Literary Digest is authority for the following: Soon after Andy Burt was made colonel of the Twenty-first colored regiment he informed his men, then at Chickamauga, that they must play ball an hour every day in order to get hardened up. "And while we are playing," said he, "remember that I'm not Colonel Burt, but simply Andy Burt." During the first game the colonel lined out what was a sure home run. "Run, Andy, run, you tallow-faced, knock-kneed son of a gun," yelled a greasy black soldier at the coaching line. The colonel stopped at first base, got another player to take his place, put on his uniform, and announced: "I am Colonel Burt until further orders."

This is the second time in the history of the United States that an army has been landed on foreign soil. The first was at Vera Cruz, Mex., in 1847.

A Model Plant is not complete without Electric Power, thus dispensing with small engines.

Why not generate your power from one CENTRAL Station? One generator can furnish power to your Pump, Centrifugals, Elevators, Plows, Railways and Hoists; also, furnish light and power for a radius of from 15 to 30 miles.

Electric Power being used, saves the labor of hauling coal in your field, also water, and does away with high-priced engineers, and only have one engine to look after in your mill.

Where water power is available it costs nothing to generate Electric Power.

THE HAWAIIAN ELECTRIC COMPANY is now ready to furnish Electric Plants and Generators of all descriptions at short notice, and also has on hand a large stock of Wire, Chandeliers and Electrical Goods.
